The Rialto theatre at Leominster, totally destroyed by fire which swept through the centre of that town, is to be rebuilt at once by A. McAvoy, the owner. When completed, the new theatre will be named the Plymouth. Plans are already being drawn and the theatre will be considerably larger than the former Rialto.

R. Wolfe has been appointed manager of the Olympia theatre, Cambridge.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Esther Keller of the Pathe exchange, to Arthur Fallon, cashier at the Fox exchange.

The Metro exchange is undergoing renovation, redecorating and enlargement of the office space.

Salt Lake City

SUNDAY picture shows for the first time were held at Malad, Idaho, Oct. 16th, the city council having, in response to a petition signed by considerably more than a majority of the voters of the town asking for Sunday shows, passed an ordinance permitting the holding of shows on Sunday. The license for operating picture shows in Malad was raised to $250.00 per year when the ordinance was passed permitting Sunday shows, it is announced here.

Local Branch Manager Dave Farquhar of the Warner Brothers office is leaving this week with Salesman Ed. C. Mix to make the Yellowstone branch of Idaho. Geo. Cloward is leaving the office shortly for Southern Utah.

The Rialto Theatre here, under the management of Lawrence Rancall, is having a new "Storm Front" put in which is being made of California stucco.

J. Frank Shea, new district manager of F. B. O. Pictures Corporation, was recently in Salt Lake City, inspecting the local office force, which is under the jurisdiction of Fred Lind. Shea has now left for Denver to visit Sid Weisbaum and his organization.

The Isis theatre, under the ownership and management of "Dad" Rand, has had a new "Synchroverter Motor Generator Set" installed in his house.

George Allen, of the Liberty theatre at Nampa, Idaho, and I. H. Harris of the Burley theatre at Burley, Idaho, have recently improved their projection by installing De-Lite Gold Fibre Screens.

F. L. Larsen, manager of the Egyptian theatre at Boise, Idaho, is also installing new equipment.

O. J. Hazen, representative out of the local National Theatre Supply office, returned this week from an extensive sales trip throughout Idaho.

Within the next few days it is expected that J. T. Sheffield, owner of the Columbia Exchanges in Salt Lake and Denver, will be in this city.

Among recent exhibitor visitors seen along the row were: J. W. Simmons of the Orpheum theatre at Oakley, Idaho; Walter Mendenhall of the Pinney theatre at Boise, Idaho, and the Perry Brothers of the Egyptian and Ogden theatres of Ogden, Utah.

John Rugar of the Egyptian, Orpheum and American theatres of Park City, Utah, has also been in attending to his bookings this week.

A new baby girl is said to be brightening the household of Manager Charles Walker, of the local Fox exchange.

Special Representative Ben F. Rosenberg of the Fox organization is expecting to make a trip into the territory from this office with Manager Walker.

E. J. Drucker of the De Luxe Feature Film Corporation is leaving the Salt Lake office for a trip into the Yellowstone branch of Idaho very soon. Miss Barton is now in charge of the booking at this exchange in the place of Miss Bearson, who resigned. George Jensen has recently been assigned to cover the territory out of the De Luxe office, it is stated.

Russel Egner, special home office representative for Metro-Goldwn-Mayer, is conducting a sales meeting at the exchange in this city. Manager L. C. Wingham and his staff came in to attend the conference.

Minneapolis

WILLIAM BERG, a Minneapolis contractor, has started work on a new theatre at 3020 Hennepin avenue. This theatre will cost around $25,000 and will compete with the Lagoon theatre, a F. & R. house in the same neighborhood. F. & R. recently announced that the Calhoun Terrace, a third theatre in the neighborhood, would be redecorated and reopeued. It has not been used as a movie theatre for some years.

O. A. Lee expects that his new theatre at Fifty-fourth street and Thirty-fourth avenue south, Minneapolis, will be ready for opening in two or three weeks.

Joseph M. O'Brien has purchased the Camden theatre in Minneapolis from Nick and Hattie Lewke. The Camden is a neighborhood house and has a seating capacity of 350.

J. W. Dodge has taken over the Grand theatre at New Ulm, Minn., and will remodel the house. It was formerly owned by Ted Melzer.

The American Amusement Company opened its New Broadway theatre at Albert Lea, Minn. The theatre was rebuilt at a cost of $50,000.

Frank C. Torrelle has purchased the lease and equipment of the Bay View theatre at Wayzata, Minn. The house will reopen soon.

The Gem theatre at Caledonia, Minn., has been purchased by Robert Zieman from Elmer Peterson.

Chicago

THE Capitol Film Exchange, headed by Henri Ellman, has taken over the lease of the second floor of the Scown Film Building, which has been occupied by the Producers Distributing Corporation. It is not known just when Capitol will move into these quarters.

Fischer's new Orpheum Theatre, as Burlington, Wisconsin, is scheduled to open on Saturday, October 29th.

Charles Ford, of the Daily News Screen Service, and popular along film row, is confined to a hospital with an attack of pneumonia. At the time of writing, Mr. Ford was reported as doing well.

Archie Spencer, who has been associated with Great States Theatres, new theatre department, for sometime past, has resigned from that organization and, it is reported, is acquiring an interest in several down state theatres.

John Cooney, father of Con, B. J. and J. J. Cooney, of the well-known exhibitor firm of National Playhouses, Inc., passed away in this city on Sunday. Many friends of Cooney Brothers, both on film row and throughout the territory, sympathize with them in their loss.

Leo Terry is officiating as guest organist at the big new Coronado Theatre in Rockford for the next two weeks. Following his engagement at this house, Ray Turner, of McVickers, will handle the Coronado organ for a limited time.

"Wings" is scheduled to open at the Erlanger Theatre on October 30th, and will be the first feature picture ever shown in this house. It is understood another road show picture may follow "Wings" at the Erlanger later in the season.

Jules J. Rubens, of Great States Theatres, Inc., is planning for an extended vacation which he will enjoy in Europe, and is scheduled to sail November 10th for Italy. He will be accompanied on the trip by his brother, L. M. Rubens, of Joliet.

Tom Watson has sold his Superba Theatre, Freeport, Illinois, to W. B. Jury, a former operator.

The Auditorium Theatre, at Palatine, has been acquired by W. C. Brinkoff, who plans to reopen the house, which has been closed for sometime, at an early date.

Another theatre which will offer pictures to its patrons, after having been closed, is the Opera House, at Batavia, which is now being remodeled by Joe Burk.

Carl Laemmle, Jr., stopped off in Chicago for several days, and made his headquarters at Universal's local exchange. Mr. Laemmle was en route with a party of actors and directors, to the West Coast, where he will remain for some time.

Among the visitors on film row last week, we noted E. H. Eulhorn, of Downers Grove; Adam Dernbach, of Wheaton, J. C. Miller, of Woodstock; and Mrs. Gracy, of Crystal Lake.

W. D. and Mrs. Burford have left for an extended vacation. The popular Great Lake States official is now in California, and expects to go through the Panama Canal on the Steamer Finland, visiting Havana and Florida points before returning to Chicago.

Col. Cole, Dallas exhibitor, and head of the Texas Theatre Owners Association, stopped off last week for a visit with Jack Millller and other Chicago friends. The colonel had attended the Federal Trade Conference in New York City and the convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Michigan, at Jackson, Michigan, and is now on his way to Dallas.

Harry Scott, short subject sales manager of Pathe, made his headquarters at the Chicago exchange this week. Mr. Scott is making a swing around the principal exchanges stimulating interest in Murdock Month.

Manager Parrish, of the Milford Theatre, Milford, Indiana, who took the fight for Sunday opening into the courts, was convicted by a jury of keeping his house open on the Sabbath.

F B O is making considerable addition to its exchange, in order to provide for the increased handling of films made necessary by growing business. The rear half of the building at 906 S. Wabash, adjoining the present exchange, has been taken over, and is being remodeled to provide additional shipping and inspection rooms, vaults, etc. The entire front of the building will also be cleaned.

C. E. Beck's new Lawndale Theatre, on West Roosevelt Road, got away to a magnificent start when it opened last week. Mayor Thompson welcomed the house on behalf of Chicago, and so great were the crowds that a detail of seventy-five police was necessary to handle them. Big business not only marked the opening day, but the Saturday and Sunday crowds were very heavy; on Sunday, particularly, there was a large hold out for several hours. The house has a seating capacity of 2,000, and is a fine de luxe theatre. While Mr. Beck has operated four small loop houses successfully for sometime past, this is his first venture in the de luxe field, and outside the loop.

It is understood that Charles F. House is to assume the lease of the Midway Theatre, Rockford, on January 1st. Mr. House is associated with Cooney Brothers, management of the West Englewood.

South East

LOUISVILLE theatre managers who acquired the interest of Switow brothers in the Riviera, Starland and Granada theatres in a transaction closed recently were in Anderson inspecting the local property.

Col. Fred Levy, president; Leo F. Keiler, vice-president, and D. I. Breaseau, auditor of the Anderson Theatres Corporation, new owners of the property, spent the day in Anderson as guests of Harry Palmer, local manager of the three theatres.

Col. Levy was well pleased with Anderson. Mr. Palmer states that numerous changes are promised here.

As a result of the deal closed last week by which Col. Levy and Messrs. Keiler and others acquired the interests of the Zwitows in Anderson property, the Anderson theatres become allied with the Principal Theatres Corporation, a large syndicate.

The new Carolina theatre, Fayetteville, N. C., opened Monday night, October 17, to a vrey enthusiastic audience. This is one of the most modernly equipped and beautifully decorated theatres in the Southeast, and is owned by the Publix-Saenger theatres.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Kincy, Greensboro, N. C.; Eugene Street, and manager Capitol theatre, Salisbury, who had charge of the opening. W. H. Porton, manager of the Broadway and Savoy theatres, Fayetteville, is to have charge of the new Carolina.

Rufus Davis, of the National theater Supply Company, is in the Presbyterian hospital, Charlotte, as the result of an accident in South Carolina, when his car turned over Monday night.

T. B. Kehee, owner Show Shop, New Bern, N. C., is the first exhibitor in the Carolinas to sign a contract for the Sentry Safety Device.

C. L. Massey, owner Playhouse theatre, Salem, N. C., has opened up a new colored house in the same town.

J. W. Medlin, who formerly owned the Victory theatre, Smithfield, N. C., and other Eastern Carolina houses, is now owner of the Westminster theatre, Westminster, S. C.

R. T. Wade, owner of Palace theatre, Morehead City, N. C., spent Sunday and Monday in Charlotte.

R. T. Good, who formerly sold Arctic Nu-Air fans in North and South Carolina, is now covering the territory for Universal Film Exchange.

J. E. Simpson, owner Lyric and Ideal theatres, Gastonia, N. C., visited Charlotte recently.

E. L. Hearn, of the Alameda theatre, Albemarle, N. C., was in Charlotte last Tuesday.

D. W. Townsend, formerly owner of the Princess theatre, Fayetteville, N. C., is now operating the LaFayette theatre, Fayeteville, as a road show house.

Oscar Oldknow, of Atlanta, vice-president of the National Theatre Supply Co., spent last Sunday in Charlotte.

J. W. Prevo, owner Palace theatre, Thomasville, N. C., was in Charlotte Wednesday.

[illegible] manager [illegible] Concord theatre, Concord, N. C., and the Lexington theatre, Lexington, N. C., is spending several days in New York, arranging road show bookings for the Carolina Theatres, Inc.

Henri Brunet, of the Pathe home office, was a visitor in Charlotte for a few days.

P. F. Rosian, of New York, is now booker for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, succeeding M. Van Dyke, who left this week for Chicago, to take over the duties for the Fox office there.

W. P. White, Charlotte, manager of National Theatre Supply Co., made a trip into South Carolina last week.

G. H. Hughes, manager Grand theatre, Greer, S. C., was seen in Charlotte during the week.

O. R. Browne of Aranson and Browne, Raleigh, N. C., is spending several days in Salisbury, N. C., supervising the erection of [illegible] Strand theatre.

EMPIRE LABORATORIES INC.
723 Seventh Ave., N. Y. Quality Bryant 5437-5736-2180
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING MOTION PICTURE FILM

Kansas City

A KANSAS CITY theatre this week is undergoing the unique experience of operating under a temporary name. It is the house at Thirteenth and McGee streets, formerly known as the Garden and which reopened recently with a feature picture and vaudeville policy, having a seating capacity of about 2,200. The West States Amusement Company, operators of the house, completely remodeled the house last summer and did not desire to continue the associations that went with the old name. It was decided to open the theatre under the name of Uptown. But Universal plans to use that name for its new theatre at Bradoway and Valetine road, Kansas City, which will open New Year's Eve. Universal obtained a temporary restraining roder against the other house to prevent it using the name Uptown. While the case is pending the house at Thirteenth and McGee will operate as "Kansas City's Wonder Theatre." Last year the house, under the name of the Garden, attracted wide attention by showing first run pictures of major companies and seven acts of vaudeville for 25 cents. The same policy and price will be in effect this year.

Following the acquisition of the Newman and Royal theatres, former Publix houses of Kansas City, by Loew's, Inc., stage programs at the Newman will be abandoned, it is understood. M. B. Shanberg, who will be managing director of the Midland theatre, new $4,000,000 Loew house which opens in Kansas City October 28, as well as the newly acquired Newman and Royal, said that the policy of the Newman would probably be changed to long run, or de luxe, pictures, while the Royal, which heretofore has played long run pictures, probably would change its policy to feature pictures at bargain prices, although the scale has not yet been determined.

Samuel Carver, manager of the Liberty theatre, who has a lease from United Artists, denied that the Liberty would be closed. The report had gained credence because of the Alliance with United Artists with Loew's in Kansas City. The Liberty's lease is until next June. There will be no change in the personnel of the theatre's management, according to word from New York. Conductor Rubinoff, formerly of Loew's State in St. Louis, will be the director of the 30-piece orchestra at the Midland. "The Road to Romance," starring Ramon Novarro, will be the opening picture at the Midland. Hundreds of nominations are pouring into the Midland theatre daily in conjunction with the nomination of movie stars to make personal appearance at the opening of the theatre.

Kansas City ministers were meditating this week over a front page story in daily newspapers concerning a talk of the Rev. Walter E. Bentley at the seventieth anniversary of St. Mary's Catholic church.

"The theatre is one of the greatest forces in modern civilization and if the church would only learn from the theatre the great lesson of dramatization there would be a sweep of evangelism throughout the world," Father Bentley said. "Religious truths should be presented more forcibly through a picturization of Biblical teachings than by merely 'preaching from a pulpit.' Persons learn more from seeing that from hearing.'

With the heavy construction work on the Uptown theatre, new Universal house of Kansas City, which will open New Year's Eve, practically completed, a large crowd of artists soon will be at work on creating within the great steel and brick shell of the theatre an Italian garden. It will be a garden in effect only, of course, for that will be the theme of the interior decoration of the theatre. The Uptown, seating 2,200, will be the largest suburban house in Kansas City and will have a first run policy. John Eberson of Chicago, theatre architect, will supervise the finishing and decoration in the theatre.

The Aladdin theater, new suburban house of Kansas City, opened its doors this week. It has a seating capacity of 1,000 and cost $100,000. The house, which is owned by G. M. Baltis, will be managed by William Parsons, formerly of Joplin, Mo.

Stanley Koch, George Breneman and Clyde Badger of Kansas City tried out a new system of synchronization at the Alamo theatre, Kansas City, last Sunday night. The instrument, which was invented by Koch, is built along the lines of a phonograph, in that it produces the music from records. There are two turntables, motor driven, which enable the operator to cue the picture.

The following openings and changes in theatres in the Kansas City territory were announced this week: Orpheum, St. Joseph, Mo., reopened; Liberty theatre, Mexico, being remodeled by Manager W. F. DeFerenne; new lenses installed in machines at Palace theatre, Kingsley; Strand theatre, Elk City, Kans., recently purchased by O. H. Eversole, has been remodeled; management of the Harmon theatre, Milan, Mo., taken over by V. C. Rose.

M. C. Sinfit, city salesman at the Kansas City Warner Bros. branch, has been promoted to branch manager, succeeding Harry Strickland, who has returned to his former home, St. Louis.

Charles Oliver, booker at F. B. O., branch, went to Springfield, Mo., this week to attend the funeral of his father-in law.

Missouri is now being covered for the Liberty Film Exchange of Kansas City by H. Gregory.

A. C. Nathan is a new addition to the Warner Bros., branch sales force, covering Southern Kansas.

Russell Borg, Educational branch manager, and W. P. Bernfield, Educational salesman, were hustling in the territory this week.

C. E. "Doc" Cook, formerly manager of the M. P. T. O. Kansas-Missouri, and more recently special representative of Pathe, has succeeded R. R. Thompson as representative for the First National branch.

Atlanta

OCTOBER 13 proved a fatal day for two Alabama theatres when the Riverdale theatre, Riverview, Ala., and the Star theatre, Parish, Ala., were completely destroyed by fire. Each house, besides suffering loss of projection machines through severe damaging, also burned several feature pictures. The Riverdale theatre building was completely burned, thus destroying the manufacturing center school, also. The building was owned by the West Point Manufacturing Company, of Riverview.

Hampton Liggett, manager of the Eastman theatre, Eastman, Ga., which is owned by his mother, Mrs. F. L. Liggett, was married October 9 to Miss Helen Brack, of that city. Mr. Liggett is one of the youngest theatre managers in this section, being only twenty years of age. Mrs. Liggett has assumed the duties of organist at the Eastman and Mr. Liggett will continue his managerialship.

The Empire theatre, Birmingham, Ala., which for over a year has been running first run moving pictures, will begin its new policy of stock next week. The theatre was remodeled and opened for the purpose of showing motion pictures exclusively, but announced several months ago negotiations were being made to put in a muscial stock company.

W. G. Minder, Southeastern division manager for Tiffany, left his Atlanta office last Sunday for New Orleans, to spend the week.

Mrs. Anna H. Sessions, who is contemplating opening the Biscayne-Plaza theatre, Miami, Fla., at an early date, was recently in Atlanta completing arrangements and plans.

J. W. Mangham, Jr., Atlanta manager of Bromeberg Attractions, spent last week in the Alabama territory.

W. G. Carmichael, manager of United Artists Atlanta branch, made a trip into Florida last week.

Thomas A. Branon, Atlanta manager for Eltabran, made a visit to Savannah, Ga., last week.

R. B. Wilby, of the Wilby chain theatres, Atlanta, returned to the city last week after making a trip through North Carolina.

Twenty-two cases were considered and disposed of at the meeting of the Atlanta Joint Board of Arbitration, held last Tuseday in the offices of the board at 101 Marietta street.

J. H. Butner, manager of Educational's Atlanta branch, has returned from a visit in Alabama.

The Atlanta branch of F. B. O. expects to move into new and larger quarters on Film Row about December 1st, it was announced early last week by C. L. Peavey, head of the exchange here.

Among the out-of-town visitors to Atlanta exchanges last week were: Mack Jackson, Strand theatre, Alexander City, Ala.; "Eddie" Watson, of the Strand, Montevalle, Ga.; John Evins, Lucas theatre, Savannah theatre, Savannah, Ga.; Charles Powell, Grand theatre, Moultrie, Ga.; Hugh Manning and J. C. H. Wink, of the Manning and Week circuit; A. H. Yoemans, Rose theatre, Dublin, Ga.; Paul Engler, Famous theatre, Birmingham; Joe Wheeler, Capitol theatre, Montgomery, Ala.; C. E. Long, Grand theatre, Cedartown, Ga.; Oscar Lam, Rivoli theatre, Rome, Ga.; Ben Joffe, Palace theatre, Ensley, Ala.; M. B. Darley, Rivoli theatre, Ybor City, Fla., N. W. Remondy, Scenic theatre, Lake Wales, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thornton, Pastime theatre, Carbonhill, Ala.; R. P. Henn, Bonita theatre, Canton, Ga., and Mrs. Dorothy Strauss, Doradelle theatre, Copperhill, Tenn.

Philadelphia

FRANK W. BUHLER, managing director of the Stanley Company of America, has returned from Marysville, Mo., where he was called by the death of his mother, who was 84 years old. Mr. Buhler received many messages of condolence and sympathy from his friends in the industry.

Jacob G. Wolf, owner of a number of motion picture theatres in Philadelphia, died recently at his home on South 60th street, after an illness of five months. Under the firm name of Wolf & Berger, he was associated in a recent consolidation of theatres.

Denver

E. R. WOOD, owner of the only movie theatre, the Isis, of Rolly, Colo., and also owner and editor of the only newspaper of the little city, is having a blue law fight all of his own which is causing considerable interest all over the state. The reformers of Holly petitioned the town council to stop the Sunday evening exhibition of motion pictures. The petition was not acted upon. Mr. Wood then came out with an editorial headed, "Attend Church Sunday Night if you do not Spend the Evening at the Show." In the face of the protest of fellow townsmen, Mr. Wood gave two performances Sunday evening to crowded houses.

E. D. Yost, affiliated with the Universal Chain Theatres, was a Denver visitor for a few days last week. He is on a long trip throughout the United States and Canada and is looking over the theatres in each big city which he visits. Denver impressed him sufficiently to hint that later he may return and build. He stated that Denver theatre business compares well with conditions on the Pacific Coast.

Harry E. Huffman, Aladdin theatre manager, will soon have a new thrill for Denver theatre goers. Two truck loads of Movietone apparatus arrived last Friday afternoon for installation.

The Bluebird, for many years one of Denver's most popular suburban houses, is undergoing a complete renovation. Interior lighting effects with many colored lights on dimmer controls, stage curtains and complete redecoration will make the Bluebird one of the nicest neighborhood houses in the city.

Harold Rice, well known theatre manager in these parts and recent assistant manager of the Colorado theatre, has accepted a position as manager of the Bluebird theatre, one of the Aladdin Amusement Company theatres. The Bluebird is located at Colfax and Adams streets.

Invitations and announcements have been received along film row informing their recipients of the opening of the new Egyptian theatre in Scottsbluff, Neb., by Wm. Ostenberg, Jr. The new theatre is said to be a beauty with a seating capacity of 1,100 comfortable seats.

Jack Krum, United Artists branch manager, spent most of last week down around Albuquerque, N. M., visiting exhibitors.

R. J. Morrison, manager of Fox here, returned last Saturday, after a sales trip on the western slope around Glenwood Springs.

W. H. Burnaugh, a new comer among the exhibitors here, has taken over the operation and management of the Pearl theatre, out on the south side of the city. The Pearl was under lease by the Midwest Theatres Company and kept closed for a long time.

J. Frank Shea, district manager for F. B. O., arrived in the city Monday, Oct. 17th, from Salt Lake City, for a visit with S. D. Weisbaum, local branch manager of the F. B. O. organization.

Russell Enger, home office representative for M-G-M, spent last Saturday holding a sales conference with sales representatives of the local branch office of his company.

W. R. Sample and Tom Vilnave are Denver visitors in the interests of the Rex and American theatres of Casper, Wyo.

Fire prevention week was observed by Denver exchanges in a suitable manner. Staff meetings on fire prevention were held by all branch managers. The Safety Committee of the Denver Film Board of Trade held a rigid inspection of all exchanges.

J. T. Sheffield, owner of the Columbia Exchanges of Denver and Salt Lake City, left Monday noon for a visit with his branch office in Salt Lake City.

Charles Gillen, well known film man, has been appointed manager of the local branch of Deluxe Feature Film Exchanges.

Charles R. Gilmour, Warner Bros. manager, returned Sunday after a week's visit with exhibitors over on the western slope of Colorado.

Sam Cain, Universal branch manager, left on a sales trip to Wyoming last Friday, expecting to be gone for a week.

Harry Nolan, Denver's veteran exhibitor, is in New York City on a three weeks' business trip.

Des Moines

THE theatre at New Market, Iowa, owned by Lace and Shreck, has been closed.

The Gem theatre at Sheldon, Ia., which has been closed while it has been completely redecorated, has been opened again. September 30 was the opening date. Kehrberg Brothers are owners of the Gem.

A change of ownership was reported by the Des Moines Film Board of Trade in the theatre at Pringhar, Iowa, which was previously owned by Mr. Aldinger and is now under the management of Frank J. Neal.

E. W. Ballentyne, from the home office of F. B. O., was in Des Moines last week and left from here for St. Louis.

Waller and Michael at Jefferson are to have opposition opening up there very shortly when the new theatre owned by Mr. Woltz will be completed. Mr. Woltz is to have a modern theatre of 300 seats, fully equipped in every way, and the opening was announced as planned for this Saturday.

Visitors in film row were Stephens and Puffer of Webster City and Mr. Hendricks of Mt. Vernon as well as Mr. Iverson of Radcliffe. And, oh, yes, the proud new daddy, Clarence Lacey of Anita.

Holstein, Iowa, is to have its second picture house soon. A number of business men from Correctionville, Iowa, are erecting the new house. The theatre building is a new construction and the theatre will seat 300. The opposition house in Holstein is owned by Mr. Recknagel, who also has theatre interests in Fonda, Iowa.

Miss Lucy Hayes, stenographer at the office of Famous Players, suffered a loss last week with the death of her father, one of the old residents of Des Moines.

First National has a new poster clerk named Harry Lombard. He came from the office of A. H. Blank. He follows Leo Wiedertz, who resigned from his position with First National.

The bowling team is coming right along, having just started a week or so ago. Jimmy Shea of the F. B. O. office is one of the most enthusiastic backers of the bowling tournament, but the leading team comes from First National. Elmer Tilton, manager for First National, is also quite a booster for the game and one of the big scorers. His team is made up of himself, Paul Grove, Mayo Beatty and Gene Melone.

Wedding bells again chime along film row and this time it is one of the men who is passing the cigars and candy. J. E. Melone, cashier of the First National office, was married last week while on his vacation trip. He married Miss Sarah Early, a Des Moines beauty, and they went to Colorado on their honeymoon tour.

Clearance Lacey, exhibitor at Anita, Iowa, is the father of a baby boy. The youngster arrived last week and M. Lacey states that he is to be installed next week as the new manager of his theatre at Anita, the Rialto.

Ted Yarowsky has bought the girl a ring and they are to be married on Thanksgiving Day. Ted is in charge of the independent poster company, which has its headquarters at 608 High street.

W. J. Miller, theatre broker, has been traveling quite extensively through Illinois and Iowa, looking over theatre enterprises.

Mr. Iverson of the Opera House at Radcliffe announces that he will open up his theatre there again.

St. Louis

BIDS will be taken from contractors shortly after November 1 on the construction of the new Missouri theatre building in Columbia, Mo., the architectural firm of Boller Brothers, Kansas City, Mo., has announced.

The theatre will be part of a 7-story store and office building that will cost $500,000. The auditorium will seat 1,600 persons.

C. Pittman has leased the American theatre, Martinsville, Ill

Miss R. Jones has purchased the Gayety theatre, St. Elmo, Ill., from Emery Sheperd.

It is reported that the West End Lyric has been transferred from the Grand Avenue Theatres, Inc., to the St. Louis Amusement Company.

The Grand Avenues Theatres, Inc., is controlled by Skouras Bros and William Goldman, while the St. Louis Amusement Company is owned by Skouras Brothers and Harry Koplar. It is believed that the Kings theatre will also shortly pass under the St. Louis Amusement Company banner.

The Princess Theatre Company has purchased the Princess theatre, Memphis, Tenn., from William Shapiro.

Public theatres has sold the Capitol, Royal and Gem theatres in Little Rock, Ark., to N. F. Wortheimer.

S. T. Echols is the new owner of the Pine Lawn theatre, Pine Lawn, Mo. It formerly was owned by Allison & Hugenoit.

The Meteor theatre, Bentonville, Ark., has been [illegible] to M. W. Lightman by Harry Kelly

FEATURE RELEASE CHART

Productions are Listed Alphabetically and by Months in which Released in order that the Exhibitor may have a short-cut toward such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming.
(S. R. indicates State Right release.)

Refer to THE MOTION PICTURE NEWS BOOKING GUIDE for Productions Listed Prior to March

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Arizona Whirlwind, The	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	4134 feet	April 1
Beloved Rogue, The	John Barrymore	United Artists	9380 feet	Mar. 25
Birds of Prey	Priscilla Dean	Columbia Pictures	6008 feet
Blazing Days	Fred Humes	Universal	4639 feet
Blind Alleys	Meighan-Brent-Nissen	Paramount	5597 feet	Mar. 11
Broncho Twister The	T. Mix-H. Costello	Fox	5435 feet	April 1
Cabaret	G. Gray-T. Moore-C. Conklin-M.Palmer	Paramount	6947 feet	April 8
Casey at the Bat	W.Beery-S.Holloway-Z. Pitts	Paramount	6040 feet	April 15
Enchanted Island	H. B. Walthall	Tiffany	4857 feet
Evening Clothes	A. Menjou-L. Brooks-V. Valli-N. Beery	Paramount	6287 feet	April 8
Fashions for Women	E Ralston-E. Hanson-R. Hatton	Paramount	6296 feet	April 15
Fighting Love	Goudal-Varconi-Walthall	Pathe-De Mille	7019 feet	June 3
Fourth Commandment, The	B. Bennett-M. Carr-R Agnew-J. Marlowe	Universal	6863 feet	Oct. 30
Heaven on Earth	C. Nagel-R. Adoree	M-G-M	6301 feet
Hey Hey Cowboy	H. Gibson-K. Key	Universal	5378 feet	April 15
High Hat	Lyon-Brian-Hardy	First National	6190 feet	May 13
Is That Nice?	G. O'Hara-D. Hill	F. B. O.	4501 feet
Love Makes 'Em Wild	J. Harron-S. Phipps-A. Housman	Fox	5508 feet	April 29
Love of Sunya, The	Gloria Swanson	United Artists	7311 feet	Mar. 25
Man From Hardpan, The	L. Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5814 feet	Mar. 11
Moulders of Men	C. Tearle-M. Morris	F. B. O.	6442 feet	April 1
Mr. Wu	Chaney-Adoree-Forbes-Dresser	M-G-M	7603 feet	June 3
Mysterious Rider, The	J. Holt-B. Jewel	Paramount	5957 feet	Mar. 25
Mystery Club, The	M.Moore-E.Roberts	Universal	6969 feet	Oct. 16
Night Bride, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford-R. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	5736 feet	April 15
Notorious Lady, The	B. Bedford-L. Stone	First National	6040 feet	April 22
One Chance in a Million	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas	5000 feet
Orchids and Ermine	C. Moore-J. Mulhall	First National	6734 feet	May 6
Outlaw's Paradise	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pictures	4500 feet
Perch of the Devil	P. O'Malley-Busch	Universal	6807 feet	Feb. 4
Price of Honor, The	Revier-McGregor	Columbia	5936 feet
Princess from Hoboken, The	E. Burns-B. Mahaffey-E. Clayton-L. Telegen	Tiffany	5419 feet
Princess on Broadway, The	P. Garon-J. Walker-D.Dwan-H.Miller	Pathe-De Mille	5705 feet	Mar. 11
Resurrection	La Rocque-Del Rio	United Artists	9523 feet	April 1
Riders of the West	Ben Wilson	Rayart	4834 feet
Saddle Jumpers	Dick Hatton	Rayart	4482 feet
Salvation Jane	V. Dana	F. B O	5490 feet
Sea Tiger, The	Sills-M. Astor	First National	5623 feet	May 6
Sensation Seekers, The	B. Dove-H. Gordon	Universal	7015 feet	Jan. 28
Set Free	Art Acord	Universal	4634 feet
Slide, Kelly, Slide	W.Haines-S. O'Neil-H. Carey-K. Dane	M-G-M	7865 feet	April 1
Sonora Kid The	T. Tyler-F. Darro	F. B. O	4565 feet	Mar. 11
Tearin' Into Trouble	W. Wales-O. Hasbrouck	Pathe-De Mille	4483 feet
Telephone Girl, The	L. Gray-H. Blinn-Bellamy-Baxter Allison	Paramount	5455 feet	May 27
Terror of the Bar X	B. Custer-R. Blaine	F B O.	4982 feet
Venus of Venice The	C Talmadge-Moreno	First National	6324 feet	May 13
Wanted—A Coward	L. Rich-R. Frazer	Sterling Pictures	5 reels
What Every Girl Should Know	P. R. Miller-I. Keith	Warner Bros	6281 feet	June 24
When a Dog Loves	Ranger (Dog)	F. B O.	4390 eet
Whispering Sage	B. Jones-N. Joyce	Fox	4783 feet	April 15
White Flannels	L. Dresser-J. Robards-V. B. Faire	Warner Bros	6820f eet	April 1
White Gold	J. Goudal-G .Bancroft-K. Thomson	Pathe-De Mille	6108 feet	Mar. 25

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Love Funny?	Alberta Vaughn	F. B. O.	4745 feet
Afraid to Love	F. Vidor-C. Brook-N. Trevor-J. Lee	Paramount	6169 feet	April 22
Arizona Bound	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	4912 feet
Backstage	Collier Jr.-Bedford-A. Vaughn-E. Percy	Tiffany	5,784 feet
Beauty Shoppers, The	M. Busch-W. Crane	Tiffany	5669 feet	July 22
Bitter Apples	M. Blue-M. Loy	Warner Bros	5463 feet	May 6
Broadway Drifter, A	G. Walsh-D. Hall	Excellent Pictures	5512 feet	April 1
Brute The	M. Blue-L. Hyams	Warner Bros.	6901 feet	April 29
Children of Divorce	Bow-Ralston-Cooper-E. Hanson	Paramount	6662 feet	May 6
Convoy	D. Mackaill-L. Gray-Collier, Jr.-L. Sherman-I. Keith	First National	7724 feet	May 20
Cyclone of the Range	Tom Tyler-E Tarron-F. Darro	F. B. O.	4818 feet	May 6
Fighting Comeback, The	B. Roosevelt-C. Horton	Pathe-De Mille	4415 feet	April 1
Frisco Sally Levy	S. O'Neil-C. Delaney-R. D'Arcy-T. Holtz	M-G-M	6900 feet	April 22
Hard Fists	Art Acord	Universal	4387 feet
Held By the Law	M. De La Motte-J. Walker	Universal	6929 feet	Mar. 25
Horse Shoes	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5668 feet	April 15
Knockout Reilly	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	7080 feet	May 6
Little Adventuress, The	V. Reynolds-V. Varconi-P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	6200 feet
Long Pants	Harry Langdon	First National	5550 feet	April 8
Lost Limited, The	R. Howes-D. Farley	Rayart	5264 feet
Lovers?	Novarro-Terry	M-G-M	5291 feet	June 10
Madame Wants No Children	M. Corda-H. Liedtke	Fox	5415 feet	April
Matinee Ladies	McAvoy-McGregor-Hopper	Warner Bros	6352 feet	April 22
Naughty Nannette	V. Dana-Ed. Brownell	F. B. O	5051 feet
No Control	P. Haver-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille	5573 feet
Paying the Price	M. Carr-P. Bonner-M. Bonner-D. Selman	Columbia Pictures	5558 feet	June 10
Pleasure Before Business	P.O'Malley-V.B.Faire	Columbia Pictures	5559 feet	July 17
Rambling Ranger, The	Jack Hoxie	Universal	4439 feet
Red Clay	W. Desmond-M. Day	Universal	4626 feet
Ridin' Rowdy, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr	Pathe-De Mille	4794 feet	April 22
Ritzy	B. Bronson-J. Hall	Paramount	5306 feet	July 1
Rookies	K. Dane-M. Day-G. K. Arthur-T. O'Brien	M-G-M-	6640 feet	May 6
See You in Jail	J. Mulhall-A. Day	First National	5800 feet	April 2
Senorita	B. Daniels-J. Hall-W. Powell	Paramount	6634 feet	May 20
Sinews of Steel	A. Vaughn-G. Glass	Lumas	5700 feet
Smoking Guns	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pict. (S. R.)	4500 feet
Somewhere in Sonora	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5718 feet	May 6
Special Delivery	E. Cantor-Wm. Powell-J. Ralston	Paramount	5524 feet	May 6
Spuds	L. Semon-D. Dwan	Pathe-De Mille	4930 feet	April 15
Taxi, Taxi	Horton-Nixon	Universal	7173 feet	Feb. 18
Three Hours	C. Griffith-J. Bowers	First National	5774 feet	Mar. 26
Thunderbolt's Tracks	Jack Perrin	Rayart	4846 feet
Too Many Crooks	M. Davis-G.Bancroft-L. Hughes	Paramount	5399 feet
When Seconds Count	Billy Sullivan	Rayart	4803 feet	July 1
Whirlwind of Youth, The	L. Moran-D. Keith-L. Kent	Paramount	5886 feet	June 17

MAY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
All Aboard	J. Hines-E. Murphy	First National	6300 feet	April 1
Babe Comes Home	Babe Ruth-A. Q. Nilsson-L. Fazenda	First National	5761 feet	July 8
Broadway Nights	L. Wilson-S. Hardy	First National	6765 feet	July 8
Broncho Buster, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4687 feet
California	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4912 feet	July 8
Captain Salvation	L. Hanson-G. Fawcett-P. Starke-E. Torrence-M. Day	M-G-M	7395 feet	July 8
Catch As Catch Can	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas
Climbers The	I. Rich-F. Stanley	Warner Bros	6621 feet	May 13
Cradle Snatchers	L. Fazenda-J. F. McDonald-D. Phillips	Fox	6281 feet	June 10
Don Desperado	L.Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5804 feet	May 6
Down the Stretch	Agnew-Nixon	Universal	6910 feet	April 22
Eyes of the Totem, The	W. Hawley-T. Santschi-G. Hughes-A. Cornwall	Pathe-De Mille	6128 feet	May 13
Fighting Hombre The	Bob Custer	F. B O.	4624 feet
Grinning Guns	J. Hoxie-E. Gregory	Universal	4689 feet	May 6
Heart of Salome	A. Rubens-W. Pidgeon-H. Herbert	Fox	5617 feet	June 17
Heart of the Yukon	A.Cornwall-J.Bowers	Pathe-De Mille	6562 feet	May 27
Heart Thief, The	J. Schildkraut-L. de Putti-T. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	6035 feet	July 1
Hills of Peril	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox	4943 feet	May 13
His First Flame	H. Langdon-R. Hiat	Pathe-De Mille	4660 feet	May 20
Irish Hearts	McAvoy-Robards	Warner Bros.	5597 feet	June 10
Is Zat So?	O'Brien-Perry-Lowe	Fox	6950 feet	May 27
Love Thrill, The	La Plante-T. Moore	Universal	5285 feet	June 17
Lost at the Front	C. Murray-C. Sidney-N. Kingston	First National	5255 feet	June 24
Lure of the Night Club, The	Viola Dana-R. Ellis	F. B. O.	5770 feet
Million Bid, A	D. Costello-W. Oland-McGregor-Blythe	Warne Bros	6310 feet	June 24
Mother	B Bennett-C. Kent-Kent-M. J. Scott	F. B O.	6934 feet	Mar. 18
No Man's Law	Rex (Horse)-T. von Eltz-B. Kent	Pathe-De Mille	6903 feet	April 29
Outlaw Dog, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.	4727 feet	April 8
Outlaws of Red River	T. Mix-M. Daw	Fox	5327 feet	May 6
Pirates of the Sky	C. Hutchinson-W Hawley	Pathe-De Mille	4828 feet	May 20
Poor Girls	D. Revier-E. Burns-R. Stonehouse	Columbia Pictures	5428 feet
Prairie King The	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5689 feet
Rich But Honest	N. Nash-C. Holland-J. F. McDonald	Fox	5480 feet	May 20
Rich Men's Sons	R. Graves-S. Mason	Columbia Pictures	5854 feet	Oct. 7
Rough House Rosie	C. Bow-R. Howes-D. Gilmore	Paramount	5962 feet	June 3
She's My Baby	M. Harris-R. Agnew	Sterling Pict.	5249 feet
Silent Avenger, The	Thunder (Dog)	Lumas	5690 feet
Silver Comes Thru	F. Thomson-E. Murphy-Silver King (Horse)	F. B. O.	5476 feet	June 3

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Snowbound	B. Blythe-Agnew-L. Rich-G. Fawcett	Tiffany	5182 feet	Aug. 5
Splitting the Breeze	Tom Tyler	F. B. O	4930 feet
Tenger Hour The	Lyon-Dove-A. B Francis-M. Love	First National	7400 feet	June 17
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Tillie the Toiler	Davies-M. Moore-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6160 feet	June 17
Tip Toes	D. Gish-W. Rogers	Paramount	6390 feet
Tracked by the Police	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros	5823 feet	May 13
Vanity	L.Joy-A.Hale-C.Ray	Pathe-De Mille	5923 feet	July 1
Wedding Bills	R. Griffith-A. Sheridan	Paramount	5869 feet	July 22
Winning Oar, The	George Walsh	Excellent Pict	5750 feet
World at Her Feet, The	Florence Vidor	Paramount	5691 feet	Aug. 26
Yankee Clipper, The	W. Boyd-E. Fair	Pathe-De Mille	7920 feet	April 15
Yours to Command	G. O'Hara-S.Palmer	F B O	4734 feet

JUNE

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Avenging Fangs	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille	4335 feet	June 3
Beware of Widows	La Plante-B. Washburn	Universal	5670 feet	May 6
Black Diamond Express, The	M. Blue-E. Murphy	Warner Bros	5803 feet
Bulldog Pluck	Bob Custer	F. B. O.	5013 feet
Callahans and the Murphys, he	S. O'Neil-M. Dressler-L. Gray-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	5875 feet	July 22
Circus Ace, The	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox	4810 feet	June 24
Claw The	Kerry-Windsor	Universal	5252 feet	June 3
Closed Gates	J. Harron-J. Novak	Sterling Pict	5515 feet	June 3
Clown, The	D. Revier-J. Walker-W. V. Mong	Columbia Pictures	5470 feet
Code of the Cow Country, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4512 feet	July 15
Dance Magic	A. Truex-B. Lyon-P. Starke-S. Hardy	First National	6588 feet	Aug. 19
Dearie	I. Rich-Wm. Collier, Jr.-E. Murphy	Warner Bros.	5897 feet	June 24
Drums of the Desert	W.Baxter-M. Millner	Paramount	5907 feet
Fast and Furious	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal	5684 feet	July 22
ramed	M. Sills-N. Barr- N. Kingston	First National	5282 feet	July 1
Frontiersman, The	T. McCoy-C. Windsor	M-G-M	5875 feet
Good as Gold	Buck Jones	Fox	4545 feet	June 17
Hands Off	Fred Humes	Universal	4773 feet
Ladies Beware	G.O'Hara-N.Luxford	F. B. O.	4900 feet
Land Beyond Law, The	K. Maynard-D. Dwan	First National	6167 feet	July 15
Meddlin' Stranger The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	June 10
Men of Daring	Hoxie-E. Gregory-F. Ford	Universal	6159 feet	April 1
Mountains of Manhattan	D.Devore-C.Delaney	Lumas	5785 feet	June 3
Naughty But Nice	C. Moore-D. Reed-H. Cooley-K.McGuire	First National	6520 feet	July 22
Pals in Peril	Buffalo Bill, J	Pathe-De Mille	4710 feet	July 15
Rolled Stockings	L. Brooks-J. Hall-R. Arlen	Paramount	6249 feet	July 29
Romantic Age, The	E.O'Brien-A.Vaughn	Columbia Pictures	5267 feet
Rubber Heels	Ed. Wynn-T. Todd-C. Conklin-L. Gray	Paramount	5614 feet	July 15
Secret Studio The	O. Borden-C. Holland-M. Livingston	Fox	5870 feet	June 24
Simple Sis	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	6218 feet	June 17
Slaves of Beauty	O.Tell-H.Herbert-M. Livingston-E. Foxe	Fox	5412 feet	June 10
Sunset Derby, The	M. Astor-W. Collier Jr.-R. Lewis	First National	5000 feet	Aug. 5
Tale of a Vanishing People		Tiffany	6500 feet
Thumbs Down	C. Hale-L. Boyd	Sterling Pict	4723 feet
Time to Love	R. Griffith-V. Veronna-W. Powell	Paramount	4926 feet	July 8
Tired Business Man, The	Hitchcock-Mehaffey-Gow and-Quimby	Tiffany	5607 feet
Trunk Mystery, The	Hutchinson-Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4334 feet	July 1
Unknown, The	L. Chaney-J. Crawford-N. Kerry	M-G-M	5517 feet	June 24
Western Rover, The	Art Acord	Universal	4404 feet
What Happened to Father	W. Oland-F. Fairbanks	Warner Bros	5567 feet	July 1

JULY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Colleen	Bellamy-MacDonald-Cohen,McNamara	Fox	5301 feet
Cruel Truth, The	H.Hopper-C.Howard	Sterling Pictures	5167 feet	Aug. 12
Devil's Saddle, The	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5488 feet
Fighting Three, The	J. Hoxie-Hasbrouck	Universal	4108 feet	May 9
For Ladies Only	J. Logan-J. Bowers	Columbia	5507 feet
For the Love of Mike	F. Sterling-G. Sidney-B Lyon-C. Colbert	First National	6588 feet
Galloping Thunder	B. Custer-A. Sheridan	F. B. O.	4691 feet
Heart of Maryland, The	D. Costello-J. Robards-H. Costello	Warner Bros	5868 feet
Hero on Horseback, A	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5551 feet
His Dog	J.Schildkraut-J.Faye-R. Edeson-S. Rand	Pathe-De Mille	6788 feet	Oct. 28
Kid Sister, The	M. de la Motte-Mc-Gregor-A. Christie	Columbia	5477 feet
Ladies at Ease	P. Garon-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	5800 feet
Lady Bird, The	Compson-McGregor	First Division (S. R.)	6568 feet
Last Outlaw The	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	6032 feet
Little Firebrand, The	E. Thornton-L. Tellegan	Pathe-De Mille	4615 feet	Dec.12 '25
Lonesome Ladies	A. Q. Nilsson-L. Stone	First National	5718 feet	Aug. 12
Manpower	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5617 feet	Aug. 12
Married Alive	Livingston-M. Moore Tellegan-C Adams	Fox	4557 feet
On Ze Boulevard	L. Cody-R. Adoree-R. D'Arcy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M	5671 feet	Aug. 12
Prince of Headwaiters, The	L.Stone-L. Tashman	First National	6400 feet	Aug. 26
Range Courage	Fred Humes	Universal	4388 feet
Skedaddle Gold	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4562 feet	Aug. 12
Tartuffe, the Hypocrite	E. Jannings-L. Dagover—W. Kraus	Ufa	6053 feet	Aug. 5
Ten Modern Commandments	Esther Ralston	Paramount	6497 feet	July 22
Tom's Gang	T. Tyler-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	4954 feet
Twelve Miles Out	J.Gilbert-E.Torrence-J.Crawford-B.Compson-E. Percy	M-G-M	7899 feet	Aug. 5
Two-Gun of the Tumbleweed	Leo Maloney	Pathe-De Mille	5670 feet	July 23
White Pants Willie	J. Hines-L. Hymans	First National	6409 feet	Aug. 26
Woman Who Did Not Care, The	L. Tashman-A. Rankin	Lumas	5996 feet

AUGUST

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Adam and Evil	L. Cody-A. Pringle-G. Lee	M-G-M	6667 feet	Aug. 19
After Midnight	N. Shearer-L. Gray	M-G-M	6312 feet	Aug. 26
Alias the Lone Wolf	L. Wilson-B. Lytell-W. V. Mong	Columbia	5831 feet	Oct. 7
Beau Geste	N. Beery-Colman-N. Hamilton-Forbes	Paramount	9879 feet	Sept 11
Blood Ship, The	H. Bosworth-J. Logan-R. Arlen	Columbia	6843 feet	Aug. 5
Border Blackbirds	L. Maloney-E. Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5326 feet	Sept. 9
Breed of Courage, The	Ranger (Dog)-J. Morgan	F. B. O	4910 feet
Bugle Call, The	J. Coogan-H. Rawlinson-C. Windsor	M-G-M	5821 feet
Bush Leaguer, The	M. Blue-Hyams	Warner Bros.	6281 feet	Sept. 9
Chain Lightning	B. Jones-D. Ellis	Fox	5333 feet
Country Doctor, The	R. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille	7500 feet	Sept. 9
Covered Wagon, The (Reissue)	Wilson-Kerrigan-Torrence	Paramount		Oct. 28
Coward, The	W. Baxter-S. Lynn	F. B. O	5093 feet
Desired Woman, The	I. Rich-W. Russell-W. Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros.	6408 feet	Sept. 16
Eager Lips	P. Garon-B. Blythe-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	6206 feet
Face Value	J. Mower-F. Ridgeway	Sterling Pict	4393 feet
Fighting Eagle, The	La Rocque-P Haver	Pathe-De Mille	8000 feet	Sept. 2
Fireman Save My Child	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	5399 feet	Oct. 21
Great Mail Robbery, The	T. Van Eltz-J. Morgan	F. B. O	6507 feet
Hard Boiled Haggerty	M. Sills-M. O'Day	First National	7446 feet	Sept. 9
Hidden Aces	C. Hutchinson-A. Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4620 feet	Sept. 2
Hula	C. Bow-C. Brook	Paramount	5862 feet	Sept. 16
Interferin' Gent, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4864 feet	Sept. 9
Madame Pompadour	D. Gish-A. Moreno	Paramount	7180 feet	Aug. 12
Metropolis	Special Cast	Paramount	8039 feet	Mar. 18
Missing Link, The	S. Chaplin-R. Hiatt	Warner Bros.	6435 feet	May 20
Mockery	L. Chaney-R. Cortez-B. Bedford	M-G-M	5957 feet	Sept. 2
Not for Publication	R. Ince-R. Lease-J. Mendez	F. B. O	6140 feet
Paid to Love	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-W. Powell	Fox	6888 feet	Aug. 19
Painting the Town	G. Tryon-P. R. Miller	Universal	5909 feet	July 1
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4497 feet
Poor Nut, The	J. Mulhall-J. Winton-J. Arthur-C. Murray	First National	6897 feet	July 29
Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary, The	M. Robson-H. Ford-
Return of Boston Blackie	Strongheart (Dog)-C. Palmer	First Division (S. R.)	5865 feet
	P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	5844 feet
Rose of Kildare, The	O'Malley-H. Chadwick-H. B. Walthall	Lumas	6875 feet
Rose of the Bowery	E. Murphy-J. Walker-C. Kent-M Harris	A. C. A	5446 feet
Running Wild	W.C.Fields-M.Brian	Paramount	6368 feet	June 24
Satin Woman, The	Mrs. W. Reid	Lumas	7000 feet	Aug. 5
Say It With Diamonds	B. Compson-E. Williams	First Division (S. R.)	6041 feet
Service for Ladies	A. Menjou-K. Carver	Paramount	6170 feet	Aug. 26
Singed	B. Sweet-W. Baxter-M. McAllister	Fox	5790 feet	July 22
Smile Brother Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6 reels	Sept. 9
Soft Cushions	Douglas MacLean	Paramount	6838 feet	Sept. 2
Stolen Bride, The	B. Dove-L. Hughes	First National	7179 feet	Aug. 26
Stranded	S. Mason-Collier, Jr.	Sterling Pict	5443 feet	Sept. 16
Swell Head, The	J. Walker-E. Gilbert	Columbia Pictures	5484 feet
Three's a Crowd	H. Langdon-G. McConnell	First National	5668 feet	Oct. 1
Topsy and Eva	Duncan Sisters-G. Gowland-M. Daw	United Artists	7456 feet	Aug. 19
Tumbling River	T. Mix-D. Dwan	Fox	4675 feet	Aug. 26
What Price Glory (road show)	McLaglen-Del Rio-Lowe	Fox	11109 feet	Dec. 4
When a Man Loves (road show)	J. Barrymore-D. Costello-W. Oland	Warner Bros	10049 feet	Feb. 6
White Pebbles	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4485 feet	Aug. 19
Woman's Law	P. O'Malley-L. Rich	Peerless Pict (S. R.)	6000 feet
Your Wife and Mine	P. Haver-S. Holmes-B. Tennant-W. Mcdonald	Excellent Pict	5867 feet

SEPTEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Almost Human	V. Reynolds-K. Thomson-C. McDowell	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Angel ot Broaway, The	L. Joy-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille
Annie Laurie	L. Gish-N. Kerry	M-G-M	8730 feet	May 27
Back to God's Country	R. Adoree-R. Frazer	Universal	5751 feet	July 29
Barbed Wire	P. Negri-C. Brook-E. Hanson	Paramount	6951 feet
Big Parade The (road show)	Gilbert-Adoree-K. Dane-T. O'Brien	M-G-M	12550 feet	Nov. 28
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox
Border Cavalier, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4427 feet
Born to Battle	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Boy of the Streets	J. Walker-M. Bennett-B. Francisco	Rayart (S. R.)	5059 feet
Broadway Madness	M. de la Motte- D. Keith	Excellent Pict	6945 feet	Oct. 14
By Whose Hand?	R. Cortez-E. Gilbert	Columbia	5234 feet
Camille	N. Talmadge-A. B. Francis-G. Roland	First National	9692 feet	May 6

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Cancelled Debt, The	R. Lease-C. Stevens	Sterling Pict	5200 feet
Cat and the Canary, The	L. La Plante-F. Stanley-C. Hale-T. Maryhall-G. Astor	Universal	7790 feet	May 26
Chang (Jungle Film)	Special Cast	Paramount	6536 feet	May 13
Clancy's Kosher Wedding	G. Sidney-M. Gordon-S. Lynn-R. Lease-W. Armstrong	F. B. O.	5701 feet	Aug. 26
College	B. Keaton-A. Cornwall-G. Withers	United Artists	5362 feet	Sept. 23
Cruise of the Helion, The	E. Murphy-D. Keith-T. Santschin	Rayart (S. R.)	6089 feet	Sept. 30
Drop Kick, The	R. Barthelmess-D. Revier-B. Kent	First National	6802 feet	Sept. 30
Finnegan's Ball	B. Mehaffey-Landis	First Division Pict	6200 feet
First Auto The	B. Oldfield-P. R. Miller-R. Simpson	Warner Bros	6767 feet	July 8
Flying U Ranch, The	Tyler-N. Lane	F. B. O.
Gay Retreat, The	G. Cameron-S. Cohen-T. McNamara	Fox	5524 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Gay Paree, The	Sherman-Bedford-McGregor-Blythe	Tiffany	5233 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Rio, The	Carmel Myers	Lumas	6990 feet
In a Moment of Temptation	C. Stevens-C. Keefe-K. Guard-G. Withers	F. B. O.
Isle of Forgotten Women	Tearle-Sebastian	Columbia
Jaws of Steel	Rin-Tin-Tin-H. Ferguson-J. Robards	Warner Bros	5569 feet	Sept. 30
Joy Girl, The	O. Borden-J. McDonald-N. Hamilton-M. Alden	Fox	6162 feet	Sept. 23
Life of Riley, The	C. Murray-G. Sidney-S. Hardy-J. Marlowe	First National	6712 feet	Sept. 16
Lightning	J. Ralston-R. Fraser-M. Livingston	Tiffany	6049 feet	Sept. 30
Lone Eagle, The	R. Keene-B. Kent	Universal	5862 feet
Loves of Carmen	Del Rio-McLaglen-D. Alvarado	Fox	7 reels	Oct. 7
Magic Flame, The	Colman-Banky	United Artists	8300 feet	Sept. 30
Mojave Kid, The	B. Steele-L. Gilmore	F. B. O	4912 feet	Aug. 12
Nest, The	P. Frederick-H. Herbert-R. Dwyer	Excellent Pict	7393 feet	Oct. 14
Nevada	G. Cooper-T. Todd	Paramount	6258 feet	Oct. 28
Old San Francisco	D. Costello-C. E. Mack-W. Oland	Warner Bros	7961 feet	July 8
One Round Hogan	M. Blue-J. J. Jeffries-L. Hyams	Warner Bros	6375 feet	Oct. 7
One Woman to Another	F. Vidor-Von Eltz	Paramount	4022 feet	Sept. 30
Out All Night	R. Denny-M. Nixon	Universal	6170 feet	Oct. 7
Out of the Past	R. Frazier-M. Harris	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5701 feet
Painted Ponies	H. Gibson-E. Claire	Universal	5415 feet	Aug. 5
Prince of the Plains	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)	4134 feet
Ragtime	J. Bowers-M. de la Motte	First Division (S. R.)	6700 feet	Sept. 9
Red Raiders	K. Maynard-A. Drew	First National	6280 feet
Rush Hour, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille
Sailor's Sweetheart, A	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	5685 feet	Oct. 14
Sally in Our Alley	S. Mason-A. B. Francis-R. Arlen	Columbia Pictures	5892 feet
Slightly Used	M. McAvoy-C. Nagel-B. Agnew	Warner Bros	6412 feet	Sept. 30
Smile, Brother, Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6548 feet
Soda Water Cowboy, The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille		Sept. 9
Stark Love	Special Cast	Paramount	6203 feet	Mar. 11
Swim, Girl, Swim	B. Daniels-G. Edorle	Paramount	6124 feet	Sept. 16
Tell It to Sweeney	Conklin-Bancroft-Brian-Lden	Paramount	6 reels	Oct. 28
Their Hour		Tiffany
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Two Arabian Knights	W. Boyd-M. Astor-L. Wolheim-I. Keith	United Artists
Two Girls Wanted	J. Gaynor-G. Tryon	Fox	6293 feet	Oct. 7
We're All Gamblers	Meighan-M. Millner	Paramount	5935 feet

OCTOBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
American Beauty	B. Dove-L. Hughes-V. L. Corbin	First National	6 reels	Oct. 21
Back to Liberty	G. Walsh-D. Hall-E. Breese	Excellent Pict.
Ben Hur	Novarro-McAvoy-Bronson-F. X Bushman-C. Myers	M-G-M	12000 feet	Jan. 16
Beware of Married Men	Irene Rich	Warner Bros
Blondes By Choice	Claire Windsor	Lumas	6987 feet
Body and Soul	A. Pringle-L. Barrymore-N. Kerry	M-G-M
Boy Rider, The	Buzz Barton	F. B. O	4858 feet	Sept. 30
Breakfast at Sunrise	C. Talmadge-D. Alvarado	First National
Broadway Kid, The (tentative)	George Jessel	Warner Bros
Celebrated Woman, A	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Cheating Cheaters	B. Compson-K. Harlan	Universal	5623 feet
Chinese Parrot, The	M. Nixon-H Bosworth	Universal	7304 feet
College Widow, The	D. Costello-Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros	1616 feet	Oct. 28
Combat	G. Walsh-G. Hulette	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Comrades	G. James-A. Sheridan	First Division (S. R.)
Crystal Cup, The	D. Mackaill-J. Mulhall	First National
Death Valley	C. Nye-R. Rae-R. Wells	First Division (S. R.)	5882 feet	Aug. 12
Dog of the Regiment, A	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros
East Side, West Side	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-J. F. McDonald	Fox
Fair Co-ed, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Figures Don't Lie	E. Ralston-R. Arlen	Paramount
Forbidden Woman, The	J. Goudal-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille
Gambler's Game, The	Tom Tyler	F. B. O
Garden of Eden, The	C. Griffith-C. Ray-L. Sherman	United Artists
Gentleman of Paris, A	A. Menjou-S. O'Hara-A. Marchall	Paramount		Oct. 14
Gingham Girl, The	L. Wilson-G. K. Arthur	F. B. O	6310 feet	July 29
Girl in the Pullman	Marie Prevost	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
Grandma's Boy (re-issue)	Harold Lloyd	Pathe-De Mille	4750 feet
Gun-Hand Garrison	Tex Maynard	Raycraft (S. R.)	4879 feet
Highschool Hero, The	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	Fox
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
In Old Kentucky	J. Murray-H. Costello	M-G-M
Jake the Plumber	J. DeVarska-S. Lynn	F. B. O
Jazz Singer, The (Vitaphone)	Al Jolson-W. Oland-McAvoy	Warner Bros	8 reels	Oct. 21
Jesse James	Fred Thomson	Paramount	9 reels	Oct. 28
Les Miserables	Special Cast	Universal	7713 feet
Light in the Window, A	Walthall-P. Avery-C. Keefe	Rayart (S. R.)
Lingerie		Tiffany
My Best Girl	M Pickford C Rogers	United Artists
No Place to Go	M. Astor-L. Hughes	First National
Now We're in the Air	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount
Obligin' Buckaroo, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Once and Forever	P. R. Miller-J. Harron	Tiffany
Pajamas	O Borden-L. Gray	Fox
Pretty Clothes	J. Ralston-J. Walker-G. Astor	Sterling Pict
Publicity Madness	L. Moran-E. Lowe	Fox
Ranger of the North	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O
Reno Divorce, A	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros.
Ride 'Em High	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Ridin' Luck	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)
Rough Riders, The (general release)	F. Hopper-N. Beery-Bancroft-M. Astor-Mack-Farrell	Paramount	7 reels	April 1
Sailor Izzy Murphy	G. Jessel-A. Ferris	Warner Bros	6020 feet	Oct. 28
Seventh Heaven	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell-D. Butler-G Brockwell	Fox	8500 feet	June 10
Shanghai Bound	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount
Shanghaied	P. R. Miller-R. Ince-G. Astor	F. B. O	5999 feet	Aug. 26
Shootin' Irons	J. Luden-S. Blane	Paramount
Silk Stockings	L. La. Plante-O. Harlan-J. Harron	Universal	7 reels	Aug. 26
Silver Valley	Tom Mix	Fox	5011 feet	Oct. 14
Spring Fever	Wm. Haines-J. Crawford-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6 reels	Oct. 28
Straight Shooting	Ted Wells	Universal	4251 feet	Aug. 19
Underworld	C. Brook-E. Brent-G. Bancroft	Paramount	7453 feet	Sept. 9
Very Confidential	Madge Bellamy	Fox
Way of All Flesh, The	E. Jannings-L. Dagover-B. Bennett-P. Haver-D. Keith	Paramount	8486 feet	July 8
Wheel of Destiny, The	F. Stanley-G. Hale	Rayart (S. R.)
Wine (re-issue)	Clara Bow	Universal	7 reels
Wise Wife, The	P. Haver-T. Moore	Pathe-De Mille
Wolf's Trail	Dynamite (Dog)	Universal	4167 feet
Woman on Trail, The	Negri-Cortez	Paramount
Wreck of the Hesperus, The	A. Hale-V. Bradford	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels

NOVEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Bandit's Son, The	B. Steele-A. Sheridan	F. B. O	4789 feet
Becky	S. O'Neil-O. Moore-G. Olmstead	M-G-M
Bowery Rose	P. O'Malley-G. Hulette	Excellent Pict
Cheer Leader, The		Lumas
Discord	G. Ekman-L. Dagover	Pathe-De Mille	9 reels
Dress Parade	W. Boyd-B. Love	Pathe-De Mille
Flying Luck	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
French Dressing	B. Lyon-C. Colbert	First National
Galloping Fury	H. Gibson-S. Rand	Universal	5503 feet
Garden of Allah, The	A. Terry-I. Petrovich	M-G	8200 feet	Sept. 16
Gorilla, The	C. Murray-F. Kelsey-D. Revier-T. Marshall	First National
Grass Widows		Tiffany
Gun Gospel	K. Maynard	First National
Harvester The	N. Kingston-O. Caldwell	F. B. O	7045 feet
His Foreign Wife	W. McDonald-E. Murphy	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Hoof Marks	Jack Donovan	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Hook and Ladder, No. 9	D. Ellis-E. Hearne-C. Keefe	F. B. O	5240 feet
Judgment of the Hills	V. Valli-F. Darro	F. B. O	6481 feet	Aug. 19
Let 'Er Go Gallagher	Junior Coughlan	F. B. O
Lure of the South Seas, The		First Division (S. R.)
Main Event, The	Vera Reynolds	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
Mile-A-Minute Love	R. Denny-B. Kent	Universal
My Friend From India	F. Pangborn	Pathe-De Mille
One Glorious Scrap	Fred Humes	Universal	4172 feet
Polly of the Movies	Jason Robards	First Division (S. R.)
Private Life of Helen of Troy, The	M. Corda-L. Stone-M. O'Day	First National
Quality Street	M. Davies	M-G-M
Roarin' Broncs	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Rose of the Golden West	G. Roland-M. Astor	First National		Oct. 7
Sadie Thompson	G. Swanson	United Artists
Skyhigh Saunders	Al Wilson	Universal	4393 feet
Small Bachelor, The	Beranger-O. Harlan-B. Kent-C. Geraghty	Universal	6218 feet
Tempest	J. Barrymore-Verona Wolheim	United Artists
Temptations of a Shopgirl	B. Compson-Garon-A. Kaiz	First Division (S. R.)
Thirteenth Hour, The	Bonaparte (Dog)-J. Gadsen-L. Barrymore	M-G-M
Turkish Delight	R.Schildkraut-J.Faye	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Web of Fate	Lillian Rich	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5800 feet
Women's Wares	Brent-Lytell-L. Kent	Tiffany

DECEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Afffime in the Sky	S. Lynn-J. Luden	F. B. O.
Blue Danube, The	L. Joy-R. La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Bridal Night, The	Norma Shearer	M-G-M
Buttons	Coogan-Hanson-Olmstead	M-G-M
Desert Pirate, The	T. Tyler-D. Thompson	F. B. O.
Devil Dancer, The	G. Gray-C. Brook	United Artists
Five and Ten Cent Annie	Louise Fazenda	Warner Bros
Fruit of Divorce	Percy Marmont	Lumas

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Good-Time Charley	W. Oland-H. Costello	Warner Bros
He's My Man	Phyllis Haver	Pathe-De Mille
Home Made	Johnny Hines	First National
Hypnotist, The	L. Chaney-C. Nagel-M. Day-Walthall	M-G-M
Irresistible Lover, The	Norman Kerry	Universal	6958 feet	Sept. 16
Lovelorn, The		M-G-M
Man and the Moment, The		First National
Man's Past, A	C. Veidt-I. Keith-G. Siegmann	Universal	6135 feet	Sept. 16
Power	William Boyd	Pathe-De Mille
Rebecca O'Brien	May McAvoy	Warner Bros
Rip Van Winkle	Rudolph Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille
Slingshot Kid, The	"Buzz" Barton - J. Morgan	F. B. O	4886 feet
Sorrell and Son	H. B. Warner-Nilsson-A. Joyce-Wolheim	United Artists
Streets of Shanghai		Tiffany
Swift Shadow, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.
Valley of the Giants	M. Sills-D. Kenyon	First National
You'll Never Get Rich		First Division (S. R.)

JANUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Alias the Deacon	J. Hersholt-J. Marlowe-R. Graves	Universal	6869 feet	Oct. 21
Caravan Trail, The	K. Maynard-E. Gregory	First National
Coney Island	Lois Wilson	F. B. O.
Creole Love		First Division (S. R.)
Dead Man's Curve	Fairbanks, Jr.-S. Blane	F. B. O.	5511 feet
Divine Woman, The	Greta Garbo	M-G-M
Driftin' Sands	Bob Steele	F. B. O
Fires of Youth	John Gilbert	M-G-M
Dove, The	N. Talmadge-G. Roland-N. Beery	United Artists
Louisiana	B. Dove-M. Astor-N. Beery	First National
Love in a Cottage		First Division (S. R.)
Man Crazy	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Noose, The	Richard Barthelmess	First National
Ramona	D. Del Rio-W. Baster	United Artists
Romance (tentative)	R. Novarro-M. Day-R. D. D'Arcy	M-G-M
Shepherd of the Hills, The	A. B. Francis-M. O'Day-J. Boles	First National
Texas Steer, A	W. Rogers-L. Fazenda-A. Rork	Sam E. Rork (producer)
United States Smith		Lumas
West Point	William Haines	M-G-M
Wizard of the Saddle	B. Barton-D. Thompson	F. B. O.

FEBRUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Age of Sex, The		First Division (S. R.)
Algerian Nights		First Division (S. R.)
Bare Knees		Lumas
Down Went McGinty	C. Murray-G. Sidney	First National
Napoleon (French Film)	Special Cast	M-G-M
Over the Andes	D. Fairbanks-E. Southern-L. Valez	United Artists
Passion Island	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
Sailors' Wives	Astor-Hughes	First National

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Brunettes Preferred		First Division (S. R.)
Buck Privates	de Putti-McGregor	Universa.
Circus, The	C. Chaplin-M. Kennedy	United Artists
Darling of the Gods, The	Special Cast	United Artists
Free Lips		First Division (S. R.)
Harold Teen		First National
Hell Ship Bronson	Mrs. Wallace Reid	Lumas
Man Higher Up, The		Lumas
Once There Was a Princess	Billie Dove	First National
Pair of Sixes, A	Johnny Hines	First National
Red Signals	W. McDonald-E. Novak-E. Williams	Sterling Pictures	5032 feet
Royal American, The	Ken Maynard	First National

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Belle o Avenue A		First Division (S. R.)
In the First Degree	A. Calhoun-G. Hughes-B. Washburn	Sterling Pict	5428 feet
Surrender	M. Philbin-I. Moskine	Universal

Coming Attractions

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Abie's Irish Rose		Paramount
Ace High	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Adventurer, The	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Air Raiders, The	Al Wilson	F. B. O
Alex the Great		F. B. O.
Avenger, The	Bob Custer	F. B. O
Baby Mine	G.K. Arthur-K. Dane	M-G-M
Bad Little Good Girl		Chadwick
Balaoo	E. Lowe-G. G. Katsonaros	Fox Films
Barnum (road show)	Wallace Beery	Paramount
Beau Sabreur	E. Brent-G. Cooper-G. Bancroft-N. Beery	Paramount
Beggar of Love	P. Negri-K. Thomson-J. Hersholt	Paramount
Better Man, The		F. B. O.
Betty's a Lady	J. Ralston-C. Ray	Universal
Big Game Hunt, The	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount
Big Gun, The	George Lewis	Universal
Big Sneeze, The	W. Beery-F. Sterling-Z. Pitts	Paramount
Black Ivory (road show)	M. Blue	Warner Bros
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox
Blood Will Tell	B. Jones-K. Perry	Fox
Boss of Rustlers Roost, The	D. Coleman-E. Gilbert	Pathe
Boy of the Streets, A	J. Walker-B. Francisco-M. Bennett	Rayart (S. R.)
Branded Sombrero, The	B. Jones-L. Hyams	Fox Films
Brass Knuckles	M. Blue-B. Bronson	Warner Bros
Breed of the Sunset		F. B. O.
Bride of the Night	C. Farrel-G. Nissen-M. Busch-M. Loy	Fox
Brides Will Be Brides	Laura La Plante	Universal
Broadway After Midnight	P. Bonner-C. Landis-G. Hughes-B. Tennant	Krelbar Pictures
Butter and Egg Man, The	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Call of the Heart	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb-J. Alden	Universal
Cancelled Debt, The	Rex Lease	Sterling Pict
Certain Young Man, A	Novarro-Adoree-W. Marshall-G. Astor	M-G-M
Chicago	P. Haver-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille
Chicago After Midnight		F. B. O.
City of Shadows, The	J. Luden-S. Lynn	F. B. O
Code of the Range	Jack Perrin	Rayart (S. R.)	4747 feet
Cohens and the Kellys in Paris, The	G. Sidney-J. F. McDonald-V. Gordon-K. Price	Universal
College Hero, The		Columbia
Cossacks, The	John Gilbert	M-G-M
Count of Ten, The	C. Ray-J. Gleason	Universal
Crashing Through	J. Padjans-S. Rand	Pathe
Crimson Hour, The	L. de Putti-I. Moskine-N. de Brulier	Universal
Crowd, The	J. Murray-E. Boardman-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Deer Drive, The	W. Baxter	Paramount
Dirty Work	Johnny Burke	Pathe-De Mille
Don Juan (road show)	John Barrymore	Warner Bros	10018 feet	Aug. 21
Down Grade, The	Wm. Fairbanks-A. Calhoun	Lumas
Down Our Way	V. Valli-F. Darro-O. Caldwell	F. B. O
Drums of Love	E. Taylor-D. Alvarado-M. Philbin	United Artists
Empty Saddle, The	Fred Humes	Universal
Enemy, The	L. Gish-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Eternal Silence, The	Bushman, Jr.-N. Hamilton-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fangs of Destiny	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb	Universal	5 reels
Fangs of Fury	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille
Fangs of Justice	Silverstreak (Dog)-J. Walker-J. Marlowe	Bischoff Prod. (S.R.)	5000 feet
Finders Keepers	Laura La Plante	Universal
Flag Maker, The	C. Ray-B. Love	G. K. Spoor-J. S. Blackton (producers)
Flower of Spain, The	Coleman-Banky	United Artists
Foreign Legion, The	N. Kerry-L. Stone-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fortune Hunter, The	S. Chaplin-C. Horton-H. Costello	Warner Bros
Four Flusher, The	G. Lewis-M. Nixon	Universal
Freckles		F. B. O.
Gay Defender, The	R. Dix-T. Todd	Paramount
Gentlemen Prefer Blondes	L. Brooks-F. Sterling	Paramount
Get Set—Go	George O'Hara	F. B. O.
Ghost Ship, The	D. Sebastian	Tiffany
Girl From Chicago, The	C. Nagel-M. Loy	Warner Bros
Glorious Betsy	D. Costello-C. Nagel	Warner Bros
Good Morning, Judge		Universal
Grand Army Man, The	Alec. B. Francis	Fox
Grand Flapper The	H. Herbert-O. Tell-E. Foxe-M.Livingston	Fox
Grandma Bernie Learns Her Letters	R. Walling-F. Reicher	Fox
Ham and Eggs	Fazenda-H. Conklin-T. Wilson	Warner Bros
Harp in Hock, A	Schildkraut-Coghlan-M.Robson-B.Love	Pathe-De Mille
Heroes in Blue	J. Bowers-S. Rand	Rayart (S. R.)
Her Summer Hero		F. B. O
Hitting for Heaven (tentative)	E. Jannings-F. Wray	Paramount
Holy Terror, A	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox
Honeymoon Hate	Florence Vidor	Paramount
If I Were Single (tentative)	May McAvoy	Warner Bros
I'll Tell the World	Colleen Moore	First National
In Name Only	O. Moore-H. Costello-K. Perry	Warner Bros
Irish Destiny	D.O'Shea-P.O'Rorke	Dr. I. J. Eppel	7 reels	April 29
Jenny Lind		M-G-M
Jungle Rose	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
King of Kings, The	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	13500 feet	April 29
Ladies of Leisure		Tiffany
Ladies Must Dress		Fox
Ladies Must Love	Rod l a Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Lady Cristilinda	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell	Fox
Lady Be Good	Mackaill-Mulhall	First National
Legionnaires in Paris	Al Cooke-Kit Guard	F. B. O.
Legion of the Condemned, The	G. Cooper	Paramount
Life's Crossroads	G. Hulette-M. Hamilton	Excellent Pict
Light in the Window, A	H. B. Walthall-P. Avery	Rayart (S. R.)
Lilac Time	Colleen Moore	First National
Little Buckaroo, The		F. B. O
Little Yellow House, The		F. B. O.
Love	G. Garbo-J. Gilbert-L. Barrymore- D. Sebastian	M-G-M

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Love Me and the World Is Mine	Philbin-Kerry	Universal
Loves of Ricardo	George Beban	F. B. O.
Macushla (tentative)		Fox
Madamoiselle From Armentieres (English Film)	E. Brody-J. Stuart	M-G-M
Man Who Laughs, The	C. Veidt-M. Philbin	Universal
Meet the Prince	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Message to Garcia, A	Special Cast	M-G-M
Midnight Rose	L. de Putti-K Harlan	Universal
Million Dollar Mystery, The	J. Kirkwood-L. Lee	Rayart (S. R.)	6022 feet
Moon of Israel	M. Corda-A. Marchal	F. B. O.	6680 feet
Mother Machree	B. Bennett-V. McLaglen-N. Hamilton-E. Clayton	Fox
My Wife's Honor	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
Naughty Marietta	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Night Life, The	A. Day-J. Harron	Tiffany
Nineteenth Hole, The (tentative)	H. Langdon- G. McConnell	First National
Noah's Ark (road show)	Special Cast	Warner Bros.
Old Ironsides (road show)	Special Cast	Paramount	12 reels	Dec. 18
On the Stroke of Twelve	E. Torrence-J. Marlowe-D. O'Shea	Rayart (S. R.)
On to Reno	M. Prevost-C. Landis	Pathe-De Mille
Open Range	L. Chandler-B. Bronson	Paramount
Ordeal, The	Garbo-Chaney	M-G-M
Paris or Bust	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Patent Leather Kid, The (road show)	R. Barthelmess-M. O'Day	First National	12 reels	Aug. 26
Perfect Gentleman, A	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5626 feet
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille
Phantom of the Range, The		F. B. O.
Quality	Gardner James	Inspiration Pict.
Rachel	P. Negri-G. Cooper	Paramount
Racing Romeo, The	"Red" Grange-J. Ralston	F. B. O.
Rawhide Kid, The	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Red Hair	Clara Bow	Paramount
Red Riders of Canada, The	P. R. Miller	F. B. O.
Renegade, The		F. B. O.
Ridin' Like Fury	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Romantic Rogue, The	Reed Howes	Rayart
Romeo and Juliet	N. Kerry-M. Philbin	Universal
Rose-Marie	R. Adoree-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Roulette	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros.
Saddle and Spurs	"Buzz" Barton-L. Eason	F. B. O.
Say It With Sables	C. Windsor-R. Howes	Columbia
Serenade	Adolphe Menjou	Paramount
Sheiks and Shebas	Junior Stars	Paramount
She's a Sheik	B. Daniels-R. Arlen W. Powell	Paramount
Shield of HonorThe	R., Lewis-D. Gulliver-N. Hamilton	Universal
Silent Hero, The	Napoleon (Dog)- R. Fraser-E. Murphy	Rayart (S. R.)
Show Boat		Universal
Side Show, The	Fields!Conklin!Brian	Paramount
Silver Slave, The	Irene Rich	Warner Bros.
Song of Steel		Tiffany
South Sea Love	P. R. Miller-L. Shumway-A. Brooks	F. B. O.	6388 feet
Span of Life, The	Lon Chaney	M-G-M
Speed Boy, The	Dick Talmadge	Universal
Speedy	Harold Lloyd	Paramount
Speedy Smith	Billy Sullivan	Rayart (S. R.)	5005 feet
Spotlight, The	E. Ralston	Paramount
Squads Right		Tiffany
Steamboat Bill, Jr.	Keaton-E. Torrence	United Artists
Stronger Will The		Excellent Pict.
Student Prince, The (In Heidelberg)	R. Novarro-Shearer-J. Hersholt	M-G-M	10 reels	Oct. 7
Sunrise	Gaynor-G. O'Brien-Livingston	Fox	12 reels	Oct. 14
Survival of Slim, The	W. Wales-P. Montgomery	Pathe
Symphony, The	J. Hersholt-Nixon-G. Lewis	Universal
Tea for Three	L. Cody-A. Pringle-O. Moore-D.Sebastian	M-G-M
Thanks For the Buggy Ride	L. La Plante -G. Tyron	Universal
Thirteenth Juror The	F. X. Bushman-Nilsson	Universal
Thunder Riders	Ted Wells	Universal
Tillie's Punctual Romance	C. Conklin	Paramount
Times Square		Tiffany
Trail of '98	K Dane-P. Starke-R. Forbes-Del Rio	M-G-M
Uncle Tom's Cabin	Special Cast	Universal
Under the Tonto Rim		Paramount
Victory	George Bancroft	Paramount
Viennese Lovers	Philbin-Hersholt-R. Keane	Universal
Waiter from the Ritz, The	R. Griffith-A. Day	Paramount
Wall Flowers		F. B. O.
War Birds		M-G-M
Watch My Speed	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal
We Americans		Universal
Wedding March, The (road show)	von Stroheim	Paramount
Western Suffragettes	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Wheels of Destiny, The	G. Hale-E. Hilliard	Rayart (S. R.)
When the Law Rides		F. B. O.
White Eagle, The	Buck Jones	Fox
Who's Your Friend? (tentative)	R. Dix-W. Powell	Paramount
Wild Beauty	Rex (Horse)-J. Marlowe	Universal	5192 feet
Wild Geese		Tiffany
Wild West Show, The		Universal
Wind, The	L. Gish-L. Hanson	M-G-M
Windjammers of Gloucester The		F. B. O.
Wings (road show)	C. Bow-B. Rogers	Paramount	12 reels	Aug. 26
Wolf Fangs (tentative)		Fox
World's Illusion, The		M-G-M
Wyoming	T. McCoy-W. Fairbanks-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
You Will Marry Me	Clara Bow	Paramount

Comedies and Short Subjects

EDUCATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
At Ease	Lloyd Hamilton	Sept. 4	2 reels	Sept. 2
Back Home	Curiosities		1 reel	Sept. 23
Batter Up	George Davis	Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 16
Brave Cowards	Dunham-Bradley	July 17	1 reel	Aug. 19
Builders of Bridges—When Twilight Comes	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Brunettes Prefer Gentlemen	Jerry Drew	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 28
Bubbles of Geography	Hodge-Podge	Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 19
Burning Timber — Rough Country	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 7
Capers of a Camera	Hodge-Podge	July 17	1 reel	Sept. 9
Careless Hubby	Dunham-Bradley	June 5	1 reel	July 1
Cry of Winter, The—Hot Place, The	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Sept. 18	1 reel	Sept. 2
Dead Easy	Bobby Vernon	July 17	2 reels	Aug. 12
Delving Into the Dictionary	Hodge-Podge	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Dog Days—The Sun and the Rain	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Dummies	Larry Semon		2 reels
Eats for Two	Dunham-Thompson	Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 14
Felix the Cat in Art for Heart's Sake	"Sullivan Cartoon"	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 5
Felix the Cat in Daze and Knights	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 30	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Dough-Nutty	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 12	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Flim Flam Films	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 18	1 reel	Oct. 7
Felix the Cat in Jack From All Trades	Sullivan Cartoon	Aug. 7	1 reel	Sept. 9
Felix the Cat in 'Loco' Motive	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Felix the Cat in No Fuelin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 16	1 reel
Felix the Cat in the Non-Stop Fright	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 16
Felix the Cat Switches Witches	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 2	1 reel	Oct. 21
Felix the Cat in the Travel-Hog	"Sullivan Carton"	July 24	1 reel	Sept. 2
Felix the Cat in Uncle Tom's Crabbin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 13	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Whys and Otherwise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 27	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"		1 reel	Sept. 23
Feline Frolics—The Tonquin Valley	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Fighting Orphans, The—Evening Mist	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Follies of Fashion	Curiosities	Sept. 25	1 reel
For Men Only	Curiosities	Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 21
Fox Tales	Hutton-Dunham	Sept. 25	2 reels	Sept. 23
Fully Equipped	Lloyd-Murdock	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Giddy Gobblers	Neal Burns	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Goose Flesh	Lloyd Hamilton	June 19	2 reels	July 1
Half-Pint Hero, A	Lupino Lane	Sept. 18	2 reels	Sept. 2
Here and There in Travel Land	Hodge-Podge	Oct. 16	1 reel
Her Husky Hero	Johnny Arthur	June 5	2 reels	June 17
He Tried to Please	M. Collins-L. Hutton	Nov. 6	1 reel
High Spots	Al St. John	July 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Hints on Hunting—A Day By the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
His Better Half	Lloyd Hamilton	July 31	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hold Fast	Cliff Bowes	July 31	1 reel	Aug. 5
Holly-Nuts	Curiosities	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 2
Injun Food—Moods of the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Jack From All Trades	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Kid Tricks	"Big Boy"	July 3	2 reels	July 29
Kilties	Dorothy Devore	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 7
Little Rube, The	Dorothy Devore	Nov. 20	2 reels
Live News	Johnny Arthur	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
Lucky Dog	P. Dunham-L. Billetts	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Many Wings—Beside the Still Water	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Nov. 20	1 reel
Meet the Folks	Jimmie Adams	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Models in Mud	Hodge-Podge	Nov. 13	1 reel
Monty of the Mounted	Lupino Lane	July 24	2 reels	Aug. 12
Movie Hound, The	Phil Dunham	July 3	1 reel
New Wrinkles	Lloyd Hamilton	Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 21
Night Owls	Dunham-Bradley	June 19	1 reel	July 29
No Cheating	Al St John	June 26	2 reels	July 22
Off Again	J. Lloyd-B. Boyd	Sept. 25	1 reel	Oct. 14
Peculiar Pair of Pups, A—Nobody Home	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Pick a Pet	Curioisities	July 3	1 reel	July 22
Plumb Dumb	"Poodles" Hanneford	Aug. 1	2 reels	Sept. 9
Poor Fish—The Ebbing Tide	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Queens Wild	Beauchamp-Davis	Jun 5	2 reels	June 24
Red Hot Bullets	Eddie Quillan	Nov. 27	2 reels
Rest Day	Monte Collins	Nov. 27	2 reels
River of Suds, The—Mid-Ocean Sunset, A	Bruce Scenic	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 12
Scared Silly	Johnny Arthur	Nov. 13	2 reels
Seeing Stars	George Davis	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 17
Shamrock Alley	"Big Boy"	Nov. 27	2 reels
She's a Boy	"Big Boy"	Oct. 2	2 reles	Oct. 7
Shooting Wild	Jack Lloyd	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Some Scout	Lupino Lane	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 21
Stunt Man, The	Larry Semon	Oct. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sure Cure	Beauchamp-Davis	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Tales of a Traveler	Hodge-Podge	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Tenants of Marble Canyon, The—A Picture Paradise	Bruce Scenic	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Thoughts While Fishing—Silver Shadows	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Traveling at Home	Chriosities	July 31	1 reel	Sept. 9
Up In Arms	Dorothy Devore	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 2
Wild Wallops	B. Dooley-O Hasbrouck	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Wild Wool—Night Clouds	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 4	1 reel

F B O

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alice Cartoons (Released Twice a Month)			1 reel
Beauty Parlor, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 3	2 reels
Beloved Rogue, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 5	2 reels
Bo's Guest	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 19	2 reels
Boys Will Be Girls	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Campus Romeos	"Fat Men"	July 25	2 reels
Chin He Loved to Lift	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 14	2 reels
Fleshy Devils	Carr-Alexander-Ross	Nov. 14	2 reels	Oct. 7
Fresh Hair Fiends	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 21	2 reels
Helen of Troy, N. Y.	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 31	2 reels
How High Is Up? (Fat Men)	Carr-Alexander-Ross	June 27	2 reels
Kick in the Dark	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	July 3	2 reels
Krazy Kat Cartoons (released twice a month)			1 reel
Last Nose of Summer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 17	2 reels
Mickey's Circus	Mickey Yule	Sept. 4	2 reels
Mickey's Eleven	Mickey Yulo	Nov. 7	2 reels
Mickey's Pals	Mickey Yule	Oct. 3	2 reels	Oct. 7
New Faces for Old	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 12	2 reels
Nothing Doing	Charles Bowers	July 11	2 reels
Permanent Rave, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 10	2 reels
Pickled Romance	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Peter's Pan	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 28	2 reels
She Troupes to Conquer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 19	2 reels
Sock in Time, A	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 5	2 reels
Steamed Up	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Tanks of the Wabash	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Oct. 10	2 reels
Toupay or Not To Pay	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 7	2 reels
Wanderers of the Waistline	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Sept. 11	2 reels

FOX FILMS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Argentina, The Rich	Variety	Oct. 2	1 reel
Arkansas Traveler	Variety	Jan. 18	1 reel
Art Treasures of the Vatican	Variety	Dec. 25	1 reel
Capt. Kidd's Kittens	Animal Comedy	Oct. 23	2 reels
Cupid and the Clock (O. Henry)	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Desert Blooms, The	Variety		1 reel
Exploring Norway	Variety	Aug. 7	1 reel
Fool and His Honey	Tyles Brooks	Sept. 25	2 reels
Gentlemen Prefer Scotch	N. Stuart-S. Phipps	June 26	2 reels
Glory That Was Greece	Variety	July 24	1 reel
Her Blue Black Eyes	M. Casajuana-E. Clayton	Oct. 9	2 reels
Her Silent Wow	"Helen and Warren"	July 3	2 reels
Hot Potato, A (Van Bibber)	E. Foze-K. Bates	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Kangaroo's Kimona, The	G. Carmeon, F. Bramley	Aug. 28	2 reels
Lights and Shadows in Sicily	Variety	Nov. 27	1 reel
Lords of the Back Fence	Variety	Jan. 22	1 reel
Love Is Blonde	D. Ellis-D. Rollens		2 reels
Midsummer Night's Steam, A	Eddie C ayton	June 5	2 reels
Moose Country, The	Variety	Nov. 13	1 reel
Mum's the Word			2 reels	Sept. 2
Northern Alaska Today	Variety	Oct. 16	1 reel
Over the Andes	Variety		1 reel
Psyche and the Pskyscraper	"O. Henry"		2 reels
Road to the Yukon	Variety	June 26	1 reel	June 24
Roamin' Gladiator	"Animal Comedy"	June 12	2 reels
Romatic Alhambira, The	Variety	Oct. 30	1 reel
Rumors for Rent	"Helen and Warren"	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Salmon Run, The	Variety	Aug. 21	1 reel	Oct. 14
Silk Legs		July 31	2 reels
Sky Frontiers	Variety	Sept. 4	1 reel
Solitude	Variety	Dec. 11	1 reel
Suite Homes	"O. Henry"	July 17	2 reels
Snow Rambles	Variety	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Twenty Legs Under the Sea	R. Walling	Sept. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Under Colorado Skies	Variety	Sept. 18	1 reel
Venders of the World	Variety	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Why B ondes Leave Home	R. Walling-M. Beebe	July 24	2 reels
Wolf in Cheap Clothing, A	"Animal Comedy"	July 10	2 reels

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Amazing Lovers	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
An African Adventure	Ufa Oddity	Aug. 27	1 reel
Assorted Babies	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 5	1 reel
Atop the World	Ufa Oddity	April 7	1 reel
Call of the Cuckoo, The	Max Davidson	Oct. 15	2 reels
Chase, The	Ufa Oddity	Mar. 26	1 reel
Children of the Sun	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel
Dog Days	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 8	1 reel
Falcon, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel	Dec. 11
Flag, The (Technicolor)	E. Bennett-F. X. Bushman	Oct. 1	2 reels
Fight For Life, A	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 19	1 reel
Fishing With a Microscope	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Golden Fleeces	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Gritty Pups	Ufa Odd ty	Mar.	1 reel
Happy Omen, A	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Heavenly Bodies	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Hidden Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jewels of Venus	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 10	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jungle Round-Up, A	Ufa Odd ty	Jan. 14	1 reel	Oct. 9
Lighter That Failed, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 1	2 reels
Lion Hunt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 17	1 reel
Monarch of the Glen, The	Ufa Oddity	Feb 25	1 reel
Nature's Wizardry	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Old Wallop, The	"Our Gang"	Oct. 22	2 reels
Palace of Honey, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pathfinders, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Parasol Abt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 31	1 reel
Perfume and Nicotine	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pets and Pests	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Primitive Housekeeping	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Sanctuary	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Second Hundred Years, The	Laurel-Hardy	Oct. 8	2 reels
Secrets of the Sea	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Sleeping Death	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Soaring Wings	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 24	1 reel
Sting of Stings, The	Charlie Chase	Sept. 3	2 reels
Sugar Daddies	All Star Cast	Sept. 10	2 reels
TallyHo	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Tokens of Manhood	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Way of All Pants, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 29	2 reels
What Every Iceman Knows	Max Davidson	Sept. 17	2 reels
Wicked Kasimir, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Winged Death	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 3	1 reel
Wonders of the Blue Gulf of Mexico	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Yale vs. Harvard	Our Gang	Sept. 24	2 reels

PARAMOUNT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Aero Nuts	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 13	1 reel
Behind the Counter	E E. Horton		2 reels
Crazy to Fly	Bobby Vernon	Sept. 17	2 reels
Dad's Choice	E. E. Horton	Jan. 7	2 reels
Dizzy Sights	Billy Dooley	Dec. 17	1 reel
Doctor Quack	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Easy Curves	Billy Dooley	Nov. 12	2 reels
Elegy, The	Novelty	Aug. 6	1 reel
Fantasy	Novelty	Oct. 15	1 reel
Fighting Fanny		Jan. 21	2 reels
Find the King	E. E. Horton	Nov. 5	2 reels
For Crimes Sake	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 19	1 reel
French Fried	Neal Burns	Sept. 3	2 reels
Frenzy	Novelty	Jan. 14	1 reel
Hot Heads	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Hot Papa	Jack Duffy	Oct. 1	2 reels
Ko-Ko Chops Suey	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 29	1 reel
Ko-Ko Explores	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 15	1 reel
Ko-Ko Hops Off	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept. 17	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kane	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 20	1 reel
Ko-Ko Kicks	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 26	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kink	Inkwell Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 reel
Ko-Ko's K ock	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 12	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kozy Korber	Inkwe Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 ree
Ko-Ko Plays Pool	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 6	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kid	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 24	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Knight	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept 3	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kop	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 1	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Quest	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 10	1 reel
Loco Motifs	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel
Mad Scramb.es	Nea Burns	Nov. 26	2 ree s
Milk Made	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 3	1 reel
Moony Mariner, A	Billy Dooley	Sept. 24	2 reels
Nifty Nags		Dec. 24	2 reels
No Publicity	E. E. Horton	Aug. 1	2 reels
Ocean Blues	Jimmie Adams	Nov. 19	2 reels
Oh Mummy	Jimmie Adams	Oct. 8	2 reels
Pie Curs, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 5	1 reel
Pig Styles	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Jan. 14	1 reel
Rail Rode	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel	Oct. 4
Row, Sailor, Row!	Billy Dooley	Aug. 20	2 reels
Scared Pink	Jack Duffy	Oct. 29	2 reels
School Daze	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 10	1 reel
Sealing Whacks	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 1	1 reel
Short Socks	Bobby Vernon	Aug. 13	2 reels
Short Tail, A	Novelty	Sept. 10	1 reel
Splash Yourself	Bobby Vernon	Dec. 3	2 reels
Stork Exchange, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 17	1 reel
Swiss November	Jimmie Adams	Dec. 31	2 reels
Tired Wheels	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 8	1 reel
Toddles	Novelty	Dec. 10	1 reel	Oct. 7
Topsey Turvey	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 22	1 reel
Uncle Tom's Caboose	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 22	1 reel
Web Feet	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 27	1 reel
Wedding Wows	Bobby Vernon	Oct. 22	2 reels
Wired and Fired	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 31	1 reel

PATHE-DE MILLE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alien Antics	Sportlight	Nov. 13	1 reel
All Bull and a Yard Wide	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 7
Ant Life As It Isn't	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Baby Brother	"Our Gang"	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Big Reward, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 3	1 reel	July 1
Big Tent, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Brave Heart, A	"Alsop Fables"	Oct. 30	1 reel
Bull Fighter, The		Nov. 27	2 reels
Bully, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 31	1 reel	July 29
Chicken Feed	"Our Gang"	Nov. 6	2 reels
College Kiddo, The	Hurlock-Quillan	Aug. 7	2 reels	Aug. 6
Comrades in Work	Mabel Normand		2 reels
Crimson Flash, The (Serial—	Landis-E. Gilbert)	June 19	10 episodes	June 17
Cups and Contenders	Sportlight	Nov. 27	1 reel
Cured in the Excitement	Hurlock-Bevan	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Cutting a Melon	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 2
Daddy Boy	Ben Turpin	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Died in the Wool	"Aesop Fables"	June 19	1 reel	June 17
Do Detectives Think?	Roach Stars	Nov. 20	2 reels
Dog's Day, A	"Aesop Fables"	June 5	1 reel	June 3
Don't Tell Everything	Roach Stars	July 3	2 reels	July 1
Down to the Sea	Sportlight	Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 28
Eyes and Angles	Sportlight	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Fiddlesticks	Harry Langdon	Nov. 7	2 reels
Flying Feet	Sportlight	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Flying Fishers	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 27	1 reel
Fluttering Hearts	Charley Chase	June 19	2 reels	June 17
Football Officials	"Football Sense"		1 reel	Oct. 21
For Sale a Bungalow		Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 28
Fox Hunt, The	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 20	1 reel
From Soup to Nuts	Rarebits	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Glorious Fourth, The	"Our Gang"	July 31	2 reels	July 29
Gold Digger of Weepah, A	Bevan-Bennett-Burke	Oct. 2	2 reels	Sept. 30
Golf Nut, The	Bevan-Quillan-A. Bennett	Sept. 4	2 reels
Hard Cider	"Aesop Fables"	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Have a Drink	Rarebits	Nov. 20	1 reel
Hawk of the Hills (Serial)	Ray and Miller	Aug. 28	10 episodes	Sept 2
Hole in One, A	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 21	1 reel	Aug. 12
Hook, Line and Sinker	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Human Fly, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 25	1 reel	Sept. 30
In and Out Again	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 18	1 reel
King Harold	L. Baird-T. Holmes	Nov. 13	2 reels
Lindy's Cat	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 16	1 reel
Love 'Em and Weep	M. Busch-Laurel-Finlayson	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Love Nest, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 17	1 reel	July 15
Love's Languid Lure	Ben Turpin	Aug. 29	2 reels	Sept 2
Mark of the Frog, The (Serial)	M. Morris-D. Reed		10 episodes
Masked Menace, The (Serial)	L. Kent-J. Arthur	Nov. 6	10 episodes
Now I'll Tell One	Chase-Laurel	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 14
Olympic Games	"Our Gang"	Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 2
One Man Dog, A	"Aesop Fables"	June 26	1 reel	July 1
On the Hook	Sportlight	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept 2
Outwitting Time	Spotlight	Oct. 2	1 reel
Pioneer Instinct	Sportlight	June 26	1 reel
Pride of Pikeville, The	Ben Turpin	June 5	2 reels	June 3
Prowling Around France with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Sept. 18	1 reel
Red Hot Sands	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 12
Riding High	"Aesop Fables"	July 10	1 reel
River of Doubt, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 2	1 reel	Sept 30
Roaming the Emerald Isle with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 9

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Sailors, Beware!	Roach Stars	Sept. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Saved By a Keyhole	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 13	1 reel
Scents and Dog Sense	Sportlight	Aug. 7	1 reel
Second Honeymoon, The	T. Holmes-L. Baird	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Signs of Spring	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 6	1 reel
Should Second Husbands Come First?	Max Davidson	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Small-Town Sheriff, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 4	1 reel	Sept. 2
Smith's Candy Shop	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Aug. 21	2 reels	Aug. 12
Smith's Cook	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Smith's Cousin	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Nov. 13	2 reels
Smith's Pony	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Sept. 18	2 reels
Soldier Man	Harry Langdon
Subway Sally	"Aesop Fables"	July 24	1 reel	July 22
Tackles and Touchdowns	Sportlight	Sept. 18	1 reel
Taking Punishment	Sportlight	July 24	1 reel
Their Second Honeymoon	Baird-Holmes	Oct. 16	2 reels
Up the Ladder	Sportlight	Oct. 6	1 reel	Oct. 21
Weaker Sex, The	Rarebits	Sept. 25	1 reel
What Women Did For Me	Charley Chase	Aug. 14	2 reels	Aug. 12
Why Girls Love Sailors	Roach Stars	July 17	2 reels	July 15
With Love and Hisses	Roach Stars	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
With Will Rogers Through Switzerland & Bavaria	Travelesque	June 26	1 reel	July 1

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Animal Catchers	McDougall Kids	Bray	2 reels	Sept. 16
Bear Escape, A	Parker-Reavis	Capitol Prod.	2 reels	Aug. 1
Beauty and the Beach	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clark	1 reel
Big Pie Raid, The	McDougall Kids	Bray, June 1	2 reels	June 10
Berth Mark	Tarbell-Finch-Shaw	Red Seal	2 reels
Bobbed Hair and Bandits	Sid Smith	Capitol Pord. Aug. 1	2 reel
Custard's Last Stand		Bray	2 reels	Sept. 16
Derelects of the Sea	Novelty	Bray, June 30	1 reel
Deuce, The	McDougall Kids	Bray, June 1	2 reels
Dream of the Sea, A (Binocolor)		Film Dist. Corp.	1 reel	May 27
Fresh and a Devil	Clyde-Malone-Irving	Bray	2 reels	Oct. 21
God Made This Day For Me (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A. Aug. 1	1 reel
Golf and How	Novelty	Castle, Mar. 26	1 reel
Good Scouts		Bray	2 reels
Great Guns	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Helpless Helper	Al Jay	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Henpecked in Morocco	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Heralds of the Spring	Nature Special	Bray, April 19	1 reel
Here's Another One	Novelty	Bray	1 reel	Oct. 7
Heroes of the Wild (Serial)	Jack Hoxie	N. Levine. Dec. 1	10 episodes
Iron Derby, The		Bray
Isle of Sunken Gold, The (Serial)	A. Stewart	Nat Levine Sept. 1	10 episodes
Here Comes the Bride	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke	1 reel
His Off-Day	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
His Ticklish Predicament	Jack Cooper	Bray	2 reels	Oct. 21
Hit and Win		Bray, Aug. 20	2 reels
Iron Derby, The			2 reels	Oct. 21
It's a Great Life	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke	1 reel
It's All Wet		Bray, July 10	2 reels
Japanese Oddities	Novelty	Castle, Aug. 11	1 reel
Jungle Belles	"Lantz Cartoon"	Bray	1 reel	June 10
Ko-Ko Makes 'Em Laugh	"Fleischer Cartoon"	Red Seal	1 reel	July 22
Learn by Mail	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke	1 reel
Let's Go	Nove.ty	Cast e, Aug. 27	1 reel
Lift Your Face		Bray, Aug. 10	2 reels
Little Feet	Novelty	Castle, June 14	1 reel
Lost in a Pullman		Bray	2 reels	Sept. 23
Lunches and Punches	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod.	2 reels	Sept. 1
Ma and the Auto (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema	1 reel
Magic Hands	Novelty	Castle, July 16	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Tiffany	1 reel	Sept. 9
Nothing to Live For	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Oh Boy Paris	Novelty	Castle, July 30	1 reel
Orphans, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	2 reels
Over There	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Pals	Novelty	Castle, May 7	1 reel
Perils of the Jungle (Serial)	E. Gilbert-F. Merril	Weiss Bros.	10 episodes	Aug. 5
Sappy Days	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Scoop, The		Bray, July 20	2 reels
She Beast, The	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod.	2 reels	July 1
Silence of the Snows (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.	1 reel
Sky Walkers	Novelty	Castle, May 21	1 reel
Sophomore, The	G.O'Neil-L.Graydon	Hi-Mark
Speed	Novelty	Castle, Apr. 9	1 reel
Spooky Money	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Stepping Along	Novelty	Castle, April 23	1 reel
Style Book	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke	1 reel
Two Arabian Sights		Bray	2 reels	Sept. 16
Uncle Tom's Habit	Parker-Reavis	Capital Prod.	2 reels	Sept. 1
Water Sports	Novelty	Castle, July 2	1 reel
Water, Water Everywhere		Bray, June 20	2 reels
When Redskins Bit the Dust (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A. July 1	1 reel
When We Were Kids (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A. June 1	1 reel
Who's Who	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke	2 reels
Yellow Dog, The (Guest Jewel)		Am Cinema	1 reel	April 15
Yosemite	Novelty	Castle, June 18	1 reel

TIFFANY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Comrades	Color Classic		1 reel
Footing the Bill	Color Classic		1 reel
Greenwhich Village Romance, A	Color Classic		1 reel
King of Sports	Color Classic	Sept 1	1 reel
Love in the Jungle	Color Classic		1 reel
Man Who Married the Moon	Color Classic		1 reel
Me and My Pal	Color Classic		1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Sept. 15	1 reel
Romany Love	Color Classic		1 reel

UNIVERSAL

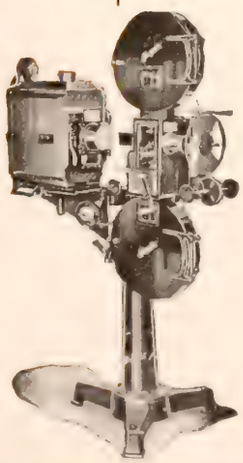
Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Ah Gay Vienna	Charles Puffy	July 25	1 reel	July 15
All For Uncle	C. King-C. Doherty	Oct. 19	2 reels	Oct. 7
All Wet	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 31	1 reel
And How	"The Gumps"	Oct. 31	2 reels
Barrymore Tommy (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	June 18	2 reels	May 27
Battle Scarred Hero, A	"The Gumps"	Oct. 3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Battling Buckaroo, The (Western)	Bob Curwood	Nov. 12	2 reels
Blake of Scotland Yard (Serial)	Hayden Stevenson	Aug. 15	10 episodes
Blind Man's Bluff	Jack Perrin		2 reels	Oct. 28
Buster Come On	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Sept. 14	2 reels	Sept. 9
Buster's Frame-Up	Trimble, Turner and Dog	June 6	2 reels	May 30
Buster's Handicap	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Aug. 1	2 reels	July 15
Buster's Home Life	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Oct. 12	2 reels	Sept. 30
Buster's Initiation	Trimble, Turner and Dog	July 4	2 reels	June 24
Buster, What's Next?	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Nov. 16	2 reels	Oct. 28
Clearing the Trail (Western)	Newton House	Nov. 26	2 reels
Cows Is Cows (Mustang)	Corbett & Holmes	July 9	2 reels	June 24
Crimson Colors	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept. 12	2 reels	June 17
Dancing Fools	C. King-C. Doherty	Sept. 21	2 reels	Sept. 2
Danger Ahead (Western)	Jack Perrin	Sept. 24	2 reels	Sept. 2
Dangerous Double, A (Western)	Bob Curwood	Oct. 15	2 reels	Sept. 23
Daze of the West (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Sept. 3	2 reels
Dazzling Co-Eds	Lewis-Sullivan	Oct. 10	2 reels
Disordered Orderly, The	Sid Saylor	Nov. 9	2 reels
Doctors Prefer Brunetts	Neely Edwards	June 20	1 reel	June 3
Do or Diet	Charles Puffy	June 13	1 reel	June 3
Fighting Finish, A	George Lewis			Oct. 14
Fighting Texan, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Sept. 10	2 reels	Aug. 19
George's Many Loves	Sid Saylor	June 15	2 reels	May 27
George Steps Out	Sid Saylor	Sept. 28	2 reels
Great Guns	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 17	1 reel
Gun Justice (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 2	2 reels	June 10
Haunted Island, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty-Helen Foster		10 episodes
His Day of Days	Neely Edwards	Aug. 15	1 reel
Home Trail, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	June 4	2 reels	May 13
Honest and Truly	Charles Puffy	Aug. 29	2 reels
Horse Trader, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Aug. 20	2 reels
Hot Stuff			1 reel	Oct. 14
Jane's Relations	M. Marcel-E. McCarthy	July 17	2 reels	July 1
Jane's Sleuth	Dorety-Clair	June 22	2 reels	June 3
Keeping in Trim	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Sept. 7	2 reels	Aug. 19
Lateral Pass, The	Sportlight		1 reel	Oct. 14
Law Rider, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Nov. 5	2 reels
Love Wallop, The	Arthur Lake	Nov. 7	1 reel
Man Tamer, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 27	2 reels
Mechanical Cow, The	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 3	1 reel
Model George	Sid Saylor	Dec. 28	2 reel
Monkey Shines	Ben Hall	Sept. 25	1 reels
My Mistake	Charles King	June 29	2 reels	June 10
Newlyweds' Mistake The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Nov. 7	2 reels
Newlyweds' Surprise	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Oct. 3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Newlyweds' Troubles	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Sept. 5	2 reels	Aug. 19
Ocean Bruises	"The Gumps"		2 reels	Oct. 28
Ocean Hop	Oswald Cartoon
Oh! Mabel	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Taxi!	Sid Saylor	Aug. 10	2 reels	July 22
On Deck	Sid Saylor	Nov. 30	2 reels
Oh Mabel!	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Teacher!	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 19	1 reel	Sept. 2
On Furlough	Sig Saylor	July 27	2 reels	July 15
On Special Duty (Western)	Fred Gilman	Oct. 8	2 reels	Sept. 30
Passing the Joneses	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Nov. 2	2 reels
Pawns and Queens (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 6	2 reels	July 15
Penny Ante	Harry Mann	June 27	1 reel
Phantom Outlaw, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 16	2 reels	June 24
Picking on George	Sid Saylor	Oct. 26	2 reels	Oct. 14
Piperock Blaze, The (Tuttle Western)	Holmes & Corbett	June 11	2 reels	May 20
Plain Jane		Aug. 17	2 reels
Please Don't		Aug. 24	2 reels
Plumed Rider, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 30	2 reels	July 15
Red Suspenders	Summerville & "Fanny"	June 6	1 reel	May 20
Red Warning (Western)	Newton House		2 reels	Oct. 14
Rest Cure, The (Tuttle Western)	Corbett and Holmes	June 25	2 reels
Riding Whirlwind, The (Western)	Newton House	Oct. 1	2 reels	Sept. 23
Roaring Gulch, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	July 17	2 reels	July 1
Run Buster!	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Dec. 14	2 reels
Run for His Money, A	Arthur Lake	Aug. 21	1 reel
Rushing Business	Sid Saylor	Aug. 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Samson at Calford	Lewis-Gulliver	Nov. 7	2 reels	June 17
Saxophobia	Arthur Lake	Oct. 10	1 reel	Sept 30
Scarlet Arrow, The (Serial—F. X. Bushman Jr.)			10 episodes
Scrambled Honeymoon, The	Ben Hall	Nov. 21	1 reel
Scrappin' Fool, The (Mustang)	Bob Curwood	Sept. 17	2 reels	Sept. 2
Shady Rest	"The Gumps"		2 reels
Showing Off	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Dec. 7	2 reels
Silent Partner, The (Mustang-Edmund Cobb)		Mar. 19	2 reels	Feb. 25
Sleepy Time Pal, A	Neely Edwards	July 11	1 reel	June 24
Snookum's Asleep	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	July 6	2 reels	June 24
Snookum's Clean Up	Snookums-Clair-Saylor	Aug. 3	2 reels	July 15
Society Breaks	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Oct. 5	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sodas and Shebas	Arthur Lake	Sept. 12	2 reels	Sept. 9
Son of America, A	George K. Arthur	Aug. 8	1 reel
South of Northern Lights (Western)	Jack Perrin	Oct. 22	2 reels	Oct. 7
Square Shooter, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Aug. 13	2 reels	July 22
Stop Snookums	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	June 1	2 reels	May 13
Surprised Honey	Neely Edwards	Aug. 1	1 reel	July 15
Tale of a Shirt, The	Jimmy Aubrey	July 17	1 reel	July 1
That's No Excuse	Charles King	June 8	2 reels	May 20
There's a Will	C. King-C. Doherty	Dec. 21	2 reels
Too Much Sleep	"The Gumps"	Sept. 19	2 reels	Sept. 2
Trail of the Tiger, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty	Nov. 7	2 reels	Aug. 5
Trolley Troubles	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 5	1 reel	Aug. 19
Under the Bed	Charles Puffy	July 4	1 reel	June 24
Valiant Rider, The (Western)	Bob Curwood		2 reels
Vanishing Rider, The (Serial)	Wm. Desmond		10 episodes
What An Excuse	Charles King	July 13	2 reels	June 24
When Greek Meets Greek	"The Gumps"	Oct. 17	2 reels	Oct. 7
Whispering Smith Rides (Serial)	Wallace MacDonald	June 6	10 episodes
Winning Five, The	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept. 26	2 reels	Sept. 16
Winning Punch, The	George Lewis	Nov. 21	2 reels

ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS—IT PAYS

ROY PRESS PRINTERS

Keeping your Interests in Mind

Simplex Parts



IN the early days of the industry our insistence on the highest standards of quality for Simplex products cost us hundreds of thousands of dollars. The benefits of those years of development are of inestimable value to you and to us because your interests and ours are inseparable.

Our continued success and yours, also, demand that we keep your interests in mind and protect them in every way. It is for that reason we so strongly advise you to use only genuine Simplex parts in your Simplex Projectors.

There is more to making machinery than building to certain dimensions. The tremendous investments in research made by every large manufacturer is evidence of that. But the manufacturer who knows only measurements cannot be blamed if his products are below standard.

As far as he knows his products are good. But his knowing being based on suppositions that the manufacturing process employed should result in equipment as efficient as any other is no better than a guess. Had he the necessary testing and research facilities he would know better.

The unwitting installation of defective or inefficient equipment invariably results in wasted capital. It is a matter of good sense to use only genuine Simplex parts.

SIMPLEX DIVISION
International Projector Corporation
90 Gold Street, New York

SIMPLEX PROJECTORS FOR BETTER PROJECTION

The Robert Morton UNIT ORGAN
Selected as an added music attraction in—LOEW'S
New DeLuxe Theatres
Hillside Jamaica L.I.
Grand Fordham N.Y.
Loew's 86th St. B'klyn
Loew's Canton
Astor B'way N.Y.
Loew's Penn. Pittsburg
Loew's Kansas City
Loew's Houston
Loew's New Orleans
Write Today for full information!
Loew's New DeLuxe Theatres Robert Morton -equipped!
As an outstanding unrivalled, matchless musical attraction - Robert Morton Supremacy is evident in its selection by the Nations most successfull Showmen.
Robert Morton Organs are built in Styles and Sizes to suit every type of.... theatre, large or small.
Robert Morton Organ Co.
New York 1560 Broadway
Chicago 624 So. Michigan
Los Angeles 1914 So. Vermont
San Francisco 168 Golden Gate
KURT W. NEUNZIG

November 11, 1927

Motion Picture News

TRY THIS TEST!

Compare any M-G-M picture with a similar type production from any other company—

WILLIAM HAINES fresh from his triumphs in "Tell It to the Marines," "Slide, Kelly, Slide" and "Spring Fever" now appears in a role that is truly perfect for him. Wait! Watch for WEST POINT

THIS IS A SURE TEST OF THE SUPERIORITY OF THE M-G-M METHOD OF PICTURE MAKING—AND ONE OF THE BEST EXAMPLES OF THIS TEST IS

WILLIAM HAINES in WEST POINT

with JOAN CRAWFORD Directed by EDWARD SLOMAN

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Vol. XXXVI No. 19

Entered as second-class matter April 22, 1926, at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under act of March 3, 1879

PRICE 20 CENTS

Published Weekly—$2.00 a Year

Los Angeles New York Chicago

Step by step the Wurlitzer Organ has advanced through scientific development to a position of unquestioned supremacy. All possible effort has been made to perfect each and every detail so that in point of performance and service the Wurlitzer would have no equal. So remarkably successful are Wurlitzer Organs as entertainment features in connection with motion picture presentation, that a great advantage is held by owners of them.

WURLITZER ORGAN

Factories: North Tonawanda, N. Y.

New York Philadelphia Chicago Buffalo Cincinnati Kansas City
Cleveland St. Louis Pittsburgh San Francisco Detroit Los Angeles

WURLITZER

pippins!

—say exhibitors of Paramount-Christie Comedies

¶ No wonder Paramount-Christies are the leading two-reel comedy product on the screen today! No wonder de luxe first run theatres are clamoring for them! ¶ What other short features could get exhibitor comment like this!

¶ Sidney M. Nutt, Hot Springs, Ark. (3 Theatres): "I have used all the Paramount-Christie Comedies thus far and find them to be the best and getting better all the time. I have been running Christie Comedies for many years and they always have a high standard."

¶ J. P. Murrin, Liberty Amus. Co., Ft. Worth, Tex.: "We have in the past used Christie Comedies, knowing them to be consistent comedies, and your offerings from this producer to date are better than ever. The fact that we booked them solid for 5 theatres here, speaks loudly our belief that they are to be laughed at."

¶ Albert Davis, Mgr., Englert Theatre, Iowa City, Ia.: "Paramount-Christie Comedies are of such quality that whenever they are available we immediately arrange bookings. We look forward to them in making up our program as much as we do our features."

¶ K. C. Kehrberg, Sheldon, Ia.—"We have always been sold on Christie Comedies and have played all that have been made in the past 5 years. They have been good. Now that they are Paramount-Christies, they seem to be better than ever before."

¶ William J. Citron, Mgr. Louis Greenfield Circuit.—"We have arranged for the Paramount-Christie Comedies, 100% for our Honolulu, San Francisco and Santa Cruz houses, all of which have a reputation for giving the best the market affords, and I am certain these comedies will greatly assist us in maintaining that reputation."

¶ Lewis Sablosky, Stanley Co. of America.—"We have played seven Paramount two-reel comedies. I feel I ought to make comment on their excellent quality. Christie comedies are far superior this year and nothing has been spared in the way of money to get excellent casts, well dressed sets and sub-titling."

¶ Emil Bernstein, Mgr. Lyric Theatre, Jackson, Tenn.—"No other single program feature has met with a kindlier reception since the Paramount News than have the Paramount-Christie Comedies. Our patrons, thoroughly tired with cheap, mechanically imperfect and low-class comedies, have readily seized upon the new Paramount product. Where formerly the comedy was a passable filler, it is now a vital and interesting part of our show. We feel thoroughly confident that with Paramount supplying us with comedies and novelties, our short feature needs will be amply satisfied."

¶ Saxe Circuit, Milwaukee, Wis.—"Have just screened three of the new Paramount-Christies. Fine. Much superior to any Christies ever seen before."

¶ Capitol Theatre, Winnipeg, Canada.—"Paramount-Christie comedies are getting receptions that prove their popularity beyond a doubt."

¶ Walter F. Davis, Metropolitan Theatre, Winnipeg, Canada.—"I have played the first two of the Paramount-Christie Comedies, and I do not hesitate to say they really excelled anything I thought for comedies."

¶ W. R. Marshall, Vancouver, B. C.—"Billy Dooley in 'Row, Sailor, Row', tore the roof off the Capitol, Vancouver. Bobby Vernon in 'Short Socks' equally well received. First runs all playing Paramount-Christies."

¶ Montgomery Enterprises, Inc. Montgomery, Ala.—Paramount's two-reel comedies thus far released are outstanding."

¶ S. Dannenberg, Mgr. Publix Theatres, Birmingham, Ala.—"Paramount-Christie Comedies receiving unqualified praise here."

first run theatres all over play paramount-christies

¶ Billy Dooley in "Row, Sailor, Row", "A Moony Mariner" and "Easy Curves".

¶ Jimmie Adams in "Dr. Quack", "Oh Mummy!" and "Ocean Blues".

¶ Bobby Vernon in "Short Socks", "Crazy to Fly" and "Wedding Wows".

¶ Paramount, Rivoli and Rialto Theatres, New York; Stanley Circuit; West Coast Theatres; Stillman, Cleveland; Ohio, Indianapolis and countless others! ¶ Join the happy family!

THE WHOLE SHOW!

¶ Jack Duffy in "Hot Papa" and "Nifty Nags".

¶ Anne Cornwall in "Scared Pink" and "Fighting Fanny".

¶ Neal Burns in "French Fried" and "Mad Scrambles".

"Announcing to Exhibitors"

JOHN M. STAHL
Vice-President
Supervising Production

JOHN M. STAHL, one of the most capable and successful producers of motion pictures, becomes Vice-President Supervising Productions for TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS, Inc.

MR. STAHL'S record of performances as the supervisor of GREAT BOX OFFICE ATTRACTIONS, has meant much to the industry and to the public.

With the advent of MR. STAHL into the production activities of Tiffany, a change of comprehensive proportions in the cost and quality of TIFFANY-STAHL pictures is now in the course of preparation.

MR. STAHL has made an enviable reputation in his chosen line of endeavor and has been endorsed as one of the outstanding producers of the kind of pictures WHICH CREATE BOX OFFICE VALUE.

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS WILL BE THE FOREMOST BOX OFFICE MONEY-GETTERS OF THE YEAR.

For 1927-1928
'24 GEMS FROM TIFFANY
(This includes 4 JACK LONDON STORIES)
'24 TIFFANY COLOR CLASSICS
(Short Reel Gems)
Playing De Luxe Theatres Everywhere

TIFFANY PRODUCTIONS, INC.
The Better Entertainment

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS

1540 BROADWAY — EXCHANGES EVERYWHERE — NEW YORK CITY

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PROUDLY REPORTS GREAT BEN-HUR RECORDS

(New records are being made every day. They will be reported later.)

Grand, Worthington, Minn.; Odeon, Bartlesville, Oklahoma; Marion, Marion, Ind.; Family, Batavia, N.Y.; Brewster, N.Y.; Stillman, Cleveland, O.; Ernada, Bartow, Fla.; Diamond, Lake Odessa, Mich.; Enterprise, Quincy, Fla.; Opera House, Lebanon, N. H.; Community, Narrowsburgh, N.Y.; State, Schenectady, N.Y.; Palace, Ashtabula, O.; Blackwell, Okla.; Queen, Brownsville, Tex.; Rialto, Colo. Springs; State, St. Louis; Lincoln, Neb.; Omaha, Neb.; Kirby, Houston, Texas; Rialto, Beeville, Tex.; Pantages, Salt Lake; Paramount, Ogden; Rex, Hendersonville, N.C.; Lyric, Harrison, Ark.; Rialto, Camden, Ark.; Rose, Atlanta, Ga.; Bellevue, St. Albans, Vt.; Elmac, Maple Rapids, Mich.; Orpheum, Menominee, Minn.; Princess, Aurora, Mo.; Binghamton, Binghamton, N. Y.; Palace, Roxboro, N. C.; Ohio, Ravenna, Ohio; Thornton, Akron, Ohio; Allen, Akron, Ohio; Oshkosh, Oshkosh, Wis.; Grand, Searcy, Ark.; Pastime, Malvern, Ark.; Strand, Hartford, Conn.; Strand, Alma, Mich,.; Star, Newmarket, N. H.; Milford, Greene, N. Y.; Opera House, Oakfield, N. Y.; Opera House, Warren, Ohio; Criterion, El Reno, Okla.; Duncan, Cushing, Okla.; Dixy, Carnegie, Pa.; Grand, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; Opera House, Waynesburg, Pa.; Opera House, Bradford, Pa.; Capitol, New Braunfels, Tex.; Dixie, Coleman, Tex.; Auditorium, Crockett, Tex.; Community, Baytown, Tex.; Queen, Santa Anna, Tex.; Madison, Madison, Ga.; Shadowland, Lovisville, Ga. Strand, Tifton, Ga., Drew, Miss.; New, Hoosick Falls, N.Y.; Playhouse, Hudson, N.Y.; etc., etc.

PUT THEM ALL TOGETHER THEY SPELL MONEY—

"The Big Parade" sets up the records and "Ben-Hur" breaks them!

Broadway acclaims Pathe product in record breaking simultaneous showing at 11 leading first-run houses

Pathé

B. S. Moss' BROADWAY
"A HARP IN HOCK"
PATHE NEWS

PARAMOUNT THEATRE
JETTA GOUDAL
in "THE FORBIDDEN WOMAN"

GAIETY THEATRE
Cecil B. DeMille's "KING OF KINGS"

Mark STRAND THEATRE
WILLIAM BOYD in "DRESS PARADE"
PATHE NEWS and PATHE REVIEW

CAPITOL THEATRE—PATHE NEWS

B. S. Moss' COLONY
BEATRICE JOY in
"THE ANGEL OF BROADWAY"

B. S. Moss' CAMEO
"THE WISE WIFE"
With Phyllis Haver
PATHE NEWS and FABLES

B. F. Keith's HIPPODROME
MARIE PREVOST in
"THE GIRL IN THE PULLMAN"
PATHE NEWS and FABLES

LOEW'S STATE THEATRE
MACK SENNETT'S
"THE GIRL FROM EVERYWHERE"

B. F. Keith's PALACE
PATHE-FABLES and TOPICS OF THE DAY

ROXY THEATRE
VERA REYNOLDS in "THE MAIN EVENT"
PATHE NEWS

Pathé

THE patrons who attend the big first-run theatres on Broadway, New York, demand the best, and Pathé answers that demand, AND HOW—with 8 smashing first-run attractions in one week—plus an amazing array of super-shorts, including Pathé News, Review, Comedies, Fables and Topics.

Here is a record that shatters all precedent—11 of the leading first-run houses showing Pathé Product simultaneously in one week,—an unparalleled tribute to the season's most sensational program.

Motion picture history is being made and the Pathé-DeMille Program for 1927-28 is writing its most significant page.

Pathé

Member of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.
WILL H. HAYS, President

THE SURPRISE OF THE YEAR

(No. 557—Straight from the Shoulder Talk by Carl Laemmle, President of the Universal Pictures Corporation)

THAT ANYBODY CAN GUESS WRONG ON A PICTURE IS NOTHING new. But that practically everybody could guess wrong on a production is quite a different matter.

THAT'S WHAT HAPPENED WITH "LES MISERABLES." THE ARGUMENTS used to prove that it could not possibly please the American movie fans would fill a book.

AND THEY WERE ALL WRONG.

"LES MISERABLES" IS, WITHOUT AN EXCEPTION, THE BIGGEST AND MOST ASTONISHING SURPRISE OF THE YEAR. ANY EXHIBITOR WHO DOES NOT FIGURE IT AS A BIG FACTOR IN HIS SCHEME OF THINGS THIS SEASON IS MAKING A MOST VITAL MISTAKE.

IN NEW YORK CITY "LES MISERABLES" IS IN ITS TENTH WEEK! AFTER the opening week "Variety" said, "Over capacity business." After the ninth week "Variety" said, "Victor Hugo's name is still pulling them in."

IN FLUSHING, LONG ISLAND, AN EXHIBITOR BOUGHT THE PICTURE for $350. He wanted an adjustment before playing and we agreed to play percentage. Our share of the percentage was $1,500.

COLORADO SPRINGS PLAYED A FIVE DAY ENGAGEMENT OF "LES Miserables" with "The Big Parade" as opposition. The Burns theatre wired us, "We have to pay you a nice sum on the split figure. Exceptional business which bui t up every day.

AT THE LIBERTY THEATRE IN KANSAS CITY, THE PICTURE HELD over for a second week. "Variety" says, "Unusual for this house."

FROM THE AMERICAN, DENVER, CAME THIS WIRE:—"MORE BUSINESS Saturday and Sunday than a preceding excellent picture did the whole week. Breaking all house records."

AT ATCHISON, KANSAS, "LES MISERABLES" OPENED TO TWICE THE average receipts of the house.

BIG CITIES—SMALL TOWNS—EAST, NORTH, WEST OR SOUTH—IT IS THE SAME STORY EVERYWHERE AND ANYWHERE.

IT IS ONE OF THOSE SWEEPING TRIUMPHS WHICH COME ALL TOO seldom. It does not require explaining. It is simply one of those things!

IT GOES TO PROVE THAT THE WISEST OF US CAN LEARN SOMETHING from Mr. and Mrs. John J. Public.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS AND NOTHING IS SUCCEEDING like "Les Miserables." Have you bought it yet?

Love–

ANOTHER DENNY KNOCKOUT!

CARL LAEMMLE presents

"ON YOUR TOES"

Wotta Cast!

Barbara Worth
Hayden Stevenson
Frank Hagney
Mary Carr
Gertrude Howard

Oh, Boy! How he dances—How he fights—How he makes love. Denny in the whirlwind picture of his career—thrills, comedy, romance, love, heart-throbs. The biggest clean-up picture Denny ever made. Remember "The Leather Pushers." Do You Remember 'em—, Well— —

A FRED NEWMEYER Production

A UNIVERSAL PICTURE

Romance Comedy—Thrills!

Mr. John Eberson

International Architect will prepare the material for the fall issue of Theatre Building

and

Equipment Buyers Guide

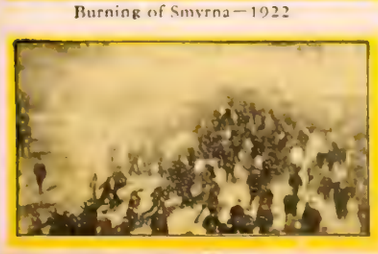
"The Reference Book of the Motion Picture Industry"

EVERYWHERE UNDER THE SUN

Pathé News

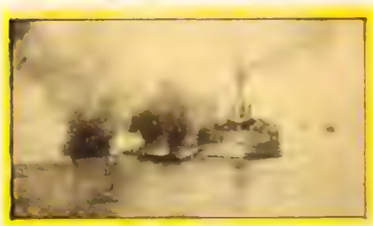
For 16 years Pathe News has chronicled the events of the world

Roosevelt African Hunt—1911

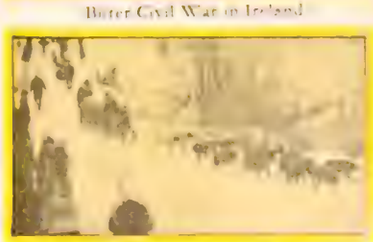


By Dog Team in Arctic Wastes

With Russian Army in 1915



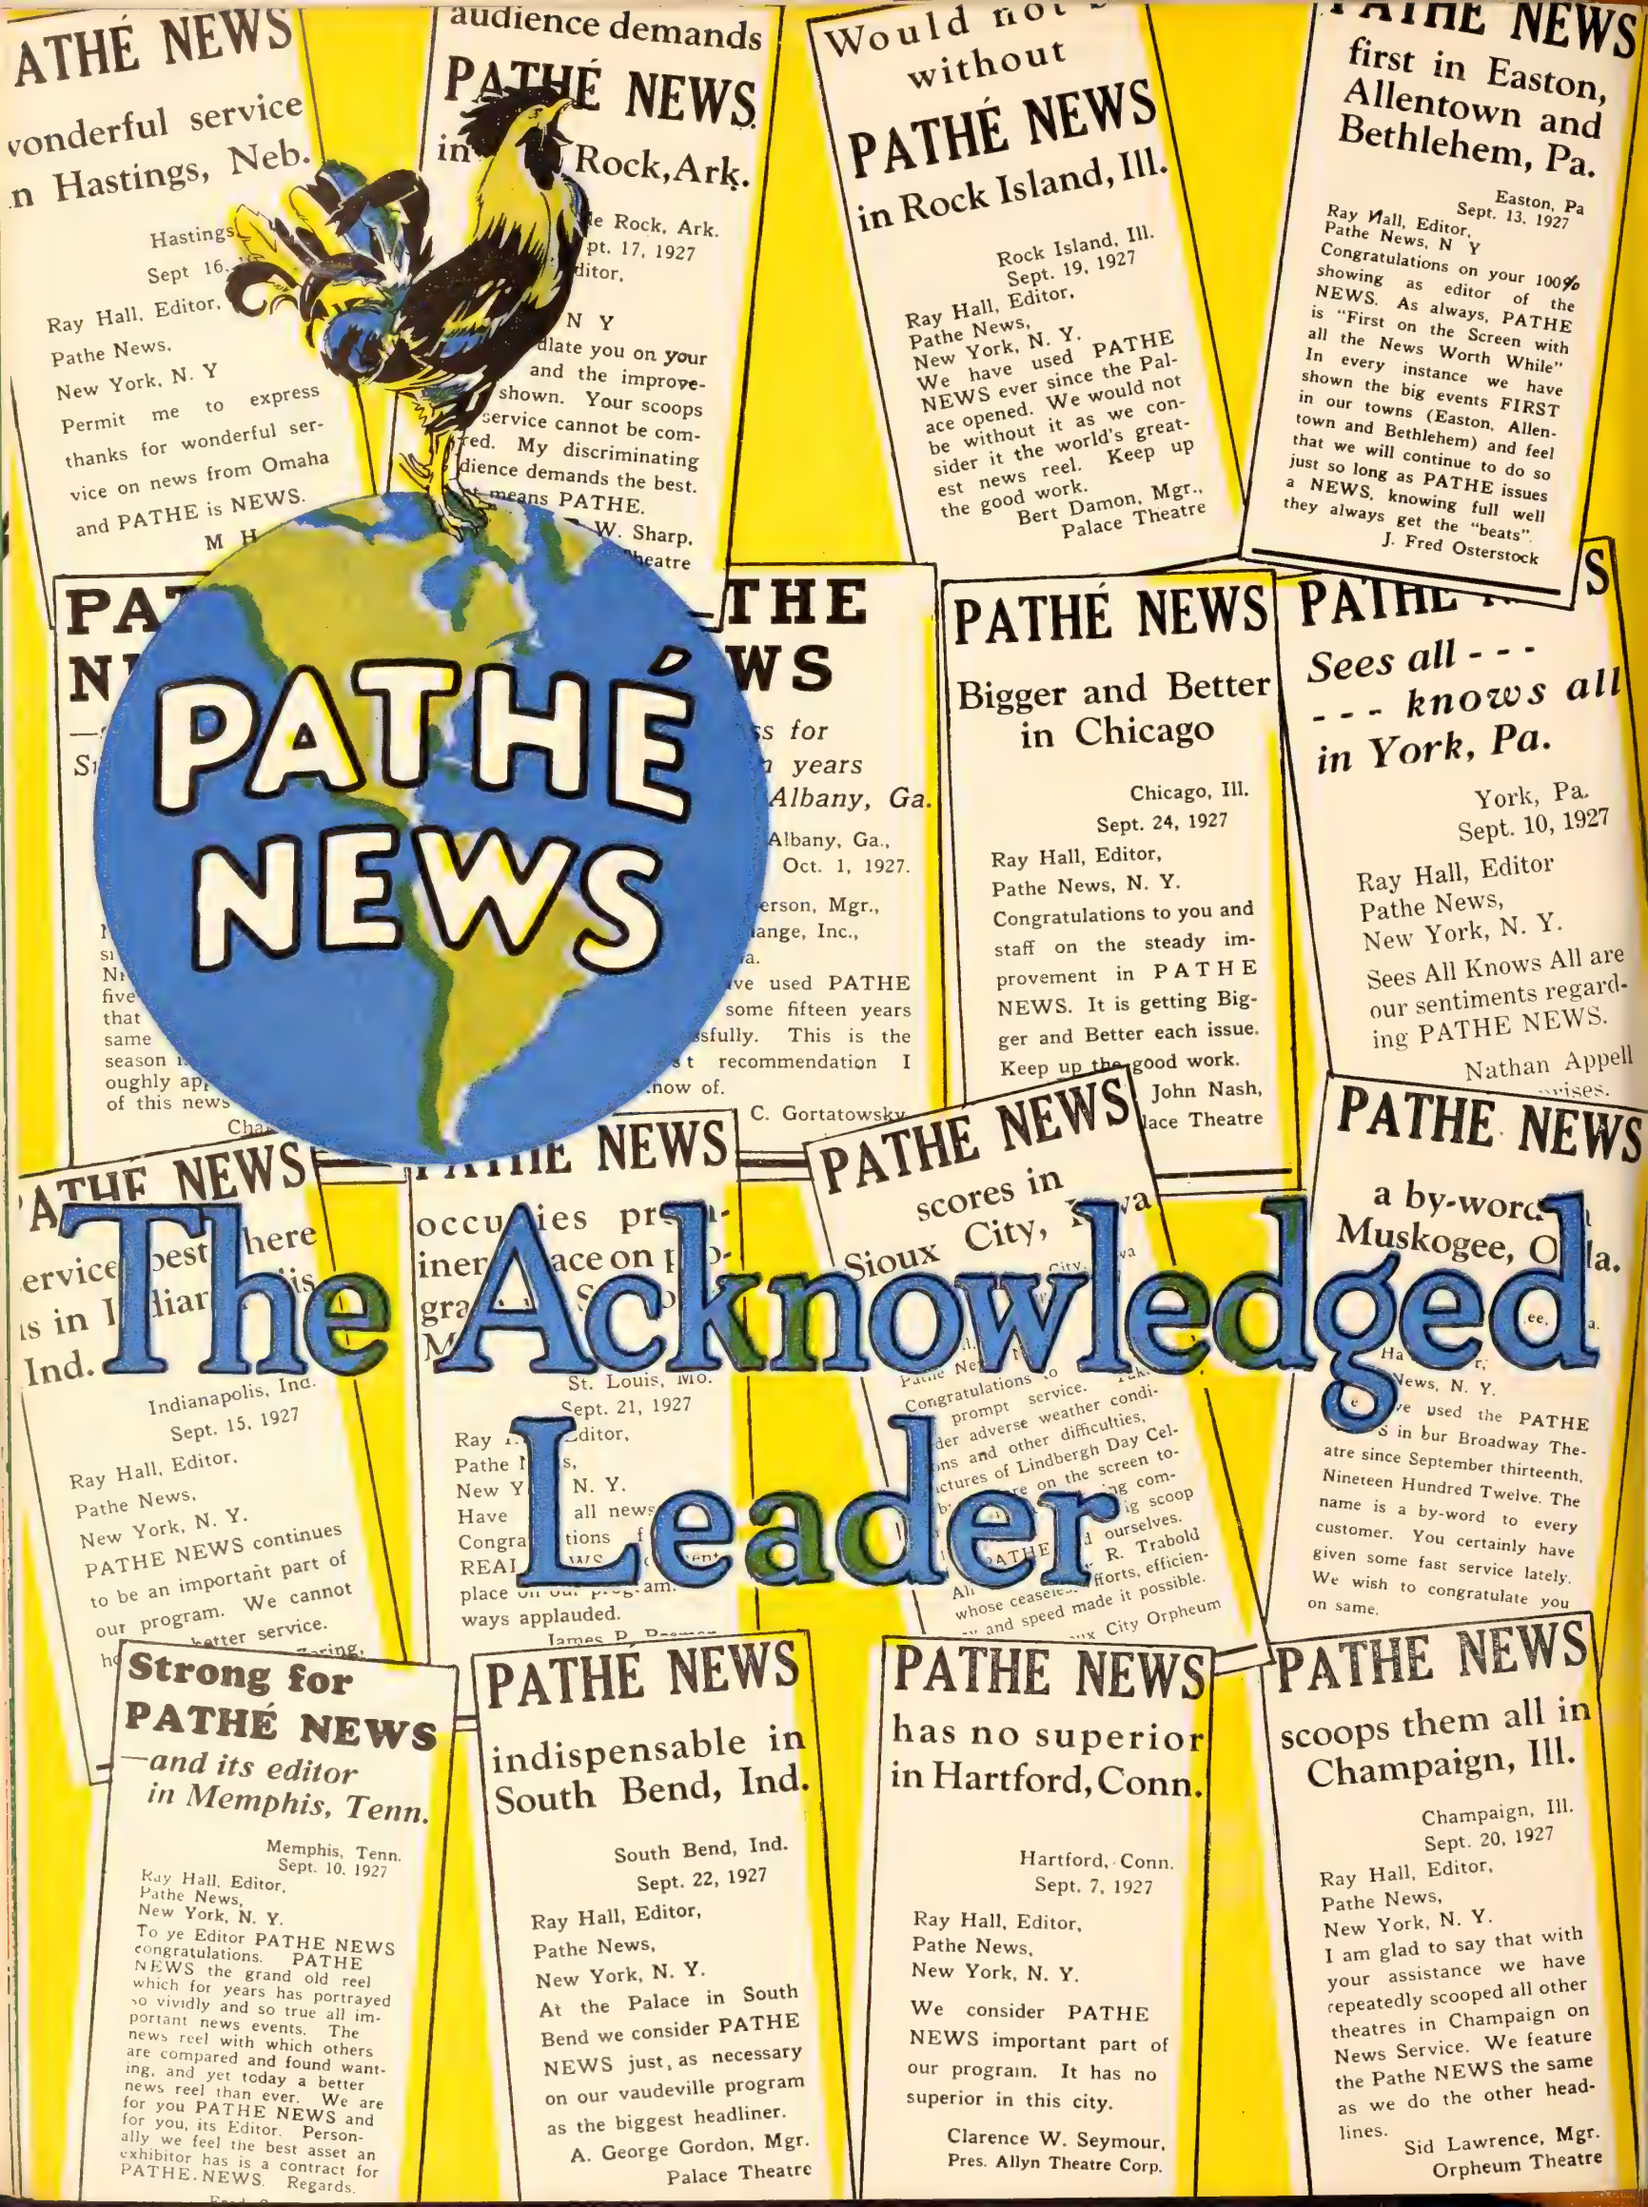
Burning of Smyrna—1922



Over There—1917-18

Russian Fleet in Battle

Bitter Civil War in Ireland



On the Frontiers of the World

Florida Disaster

Everywhere under the sun there's a wide-awake, resourceful, go-getting PATHE NEWS CAMERMAN—"shooting" every important happening in every and any part of the world. No soldier could be more loyal and daring than these knights of the camera, who follow the strict code of Pathe News—"FIRST ON THE SCENE—FIRST ON THE SCREEN". Whether it be a flood, famine, fire, earthquake or war, there you will find a PATHE NEWS MAN encountering every hazard and overcoming every obstacle to insure his news reel being FIRST with a graphic, pictorial record of the happening.

PATHÉ NEWS
wonderful service
n Hastings, Neb.
Hastings
Sept 16
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y
Permit me to express thanks for wonderful service on news from Omaha and PATHE is NEWS. audience demands
PATHÉ NEWS
in Rock, Ark.
Rock, Ark.
pt. 17, 1927
ditor,
N Y late you on your
and the improveshown. Your scoops service cannot be com-
ed. My discriminating
dience demands the best.
means PATHE.
W. Sharp,
heatre
Would not without
PATHÉ NEWS
in Rock Island, Ill.
Rock Island, Ill.
Sept. 19, 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y.
We have used PATHE
NEWS ever since the Palace opened. We would not be without it as we consider it the world's greatest news reel. Keep up the good work.
Bert Damon, Mgr.,
Palace Theatre
PATHE NEWS
first in Easton,
Allentown and
Bethlehem, Pa.
Easton, Pa
Sept. 13. 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News, N Y
Congratulations on your 100% showing as editor of the NEWS. As always, PATHE is "First on the Screen with all the News Worth While"
In every instance we have shown the big events FIRST in our towns (Easton, Allentown and Bethlehem) and feel that we will continue to do so just so long as PATHE issues a NEWS, knowing full well they always get the "beats".
J. Fred Osterstock
PATHÉ NEWS
Bigger and Better in Chicago
Chicago, Ill.
Sept. 24, 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News, N. Y.
Congratulations to you and staff on the steady improvement in PATHE
NEWS. It is getting Bigger and Better each issue.
Keep up the good work.
John Nash,
Palace Theatre
PATHE NEWS
Sees all - - -
- - - knows all
in York, Pa.
York, Pa.
Sept. 10, 1927
Ray Hall, Editor
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y.
Sees All Knows All are our sentiments regarding PATHE NEWS.
Nathan Appell
PATHÉ NEWS
Albany, Ga.
Albany, Ga.,
Oct. 1, 1927.
PATHE NEWS
Indianapolis, Inc.
Sept. 15, 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y.
PATHE NEWS continues to be an important part of our program. We cannot
PATHE NEWS
St. Louis, Mo.
Sept. 21, 1927
PATHE NEWS
scores in Sioux City,
Sioux City Orpheum
PATHE NEWS
a by-word
Muskogee, Okla.
News, N. Y.
PATHE NEWS
Strong for
PATHÉ NEWS
—and its editor
in Memphis, Tenn.
Memphis, Tenn.
Sept. 10. 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y.
To ye Editor PATHE NEWS
congratulations. PATHE
NEWS the grand old reel which for years has portrayed so vividly and so true all important news events. The news reel with which others are compared and found wanting, and yet today a better news reel than ever. We are for you PATHE NEWS and for you, its Editor. Personally we feel the best asset an exhibitor has is a contract for PATHE NEWS. Regards.
PATHÉ NEWS
indispensable in South Bend, Ind.
South Bend, Ind.
Sept. 22, 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y.
At the Palace in South
Bend we consider PATHE
NEWS just, as necessary on our vaudeville program
as the biggest headliner.
A. George Gordon, Mgr.
Palace Theatre
PATHE NEWS
has no superior
in Hartford, Conn.
Hartford, Conn.
Sept. 7, 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y.
We consider PATHE
NEWS important part of our program. It has no superior in this city.
Clarence W. Seymour,
Pres. Allyn Theatre Corp.
PATHE NEWS
scoops them all in Champaign, Ill.
Champaign, Ill.
Sept. 20, 1927
Ray Hall, Editor,
Pathe News,
New York, N. Y.
I am glad to say that with your assistance we have repeatedly scooped all other theatres in Champaign on News Service. We feature the Pathe NEWS the same as we do the other headlines.
Sid Lawrence, Mgr.
Orpheum Theatre
PATHÉ NEWS
The Acknowledged Leader

From the DETROIT FREE PRESS

No Star in Pictures today has made more remarkable progress than

LUPINO LANE

Despite the lack of prominence given to two-reel comedies in the theatres, no star in pictures today has made more remarkable progress towards the top during the past year than has that inimitable little comedian, Lupino Lane. In these days of stiff picture competition it is truly a survival of the fittest in the race for popularity on the screen. If the famous little stage comedian had entered the movies five years ago he would be classed today with Charlie Chaplin and Harold Lloyd, because the highway then was much easier traveling. However, it appears that this scion of one of the oldest comedy families in the world has been more than equal to the test. Certainly he has supplied the screen during the past year with the most original comedies we have enjoyed in years. The Hollywood prophets are now pointing to him as the next big popular star.

Originality is the keynote of the Lupino Lane success. Faced with the sad fact that nearly every joke and gag known to man had been used so many times on the screen, that comedy has been degenerating into slapstick of a cut-and-dried pattern, he stepped out with some revolutionary ideas of his own. He has combined satire and slapstick with splendid results. Of course, the Lupino Lane personality has a lot to do with it, as he himself is screamingly funny—but this hardworking artist has actually succeeded in presenting comedy ideas with original twists. He has satirized the royal northwest mounted policeman and the pioneer western scout of picture melodrama, the D'Artagnan bravo of the romantic French, and now he is busily engaged in satirizing the Argentine-Spanish romances. That these comedies are turning out to be the most exhilarating cocktails the theatregoers have ever had to whet their palates, is shown in the Educational release reports. Let us be thankful that another great comedian has come to the screen—Chaplin, Lloyd, Keaton, Langdon—and now Lupino Lane!

EDUCATIONAL FILM EXCHANGES, Inc.

E. W. Hammons
President

Educational Pictures

"THE SPICE OF THE PROGRAM"

Member, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., Will H. Hays, President.

What does it mean to you- when you see ONE COMPANY breaking 4 Records in ONE WEEK

FIRST NATIONAL DELIVERS

"BIGGEST BUSINESS house has done since last Winter," at the Saenger, New Orleans, with NORMA TALMADGE in "Camille"

"EXCEPTIONAL BUSINESS FIFTH WEEK for this length of engagement on any picture in this house," at the Criterion, Los Angeles, with NORMA TALMADGE in "Camille"

"BEST BUSINESS any local theatre has ever done" at the Broadway, Portland, with RICHARD BARTHELMESS in "The Drop Kick"

"BEST BUSINESS house has had in a long while," at Pantage's, Toronto, with "ROSE OF THE GOLDEN WEST" a George Fitzmaurice Production with Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland

These statements are actual quotations from the box-office reports in a single issue of Variety!

IT CAN ONLY MEAN ONE THING

To get the BIG MONEY these days you've GOT to get FIRST NATIONAL!

Member of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America Inc.—Will H. Hays President

Even the Opposition will get BEHIND you when you play

THE GORILLA

So far behind they'll never catch up!

Triple Try-Out Triumph!

It holds the World's Record for combined Comedy and Thrills . . . Famous Ralph Spence's Broadway hit that was the talk of New York for one solid year! —With one of the greatest comedy character teams the stage has ever produced —

MULLIGAN and GARRITY!

READY NOW!

ASHER-SMALL and ROGERS present

The GORILLA

With CHARLIE MURRAY and FRED KELSEY

ALICE DAY - TULLY MARSHALL - CLAUDE GILLINGWATER

From the play by RALPH SPENCE

An Alfred Santell PRODUCTION

Directed by Alfred Santell

PRODUCTION MANAGEMENT of EDWARD SMALL

First National Pictures

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT — GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

RECEIVED AT — Los Angeles, Cal.,

R. A. Rowland, New York

Previewed tonight The Gorilla and have never witnessed such enthusiasm, shrieks and laughter, in all my experience in previewing pictures. Indicates you and your company have what I predict will be one of the greatest sensational hits. If there ever was a special this is it.

Jed Buell,
Mgr. Westlake Theatre,
Westcoast Theatres, Inc.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT — GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

RECEIVED AT

First National Pictures, Inc.

Previewed The Gorilla my theatre last night. The audience is still talking about it. I personally think you have a box-office winner.

O. W. Lewis, Mgr.,
Alhambra Theatre, Cal.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT — GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

RECEIVED AT — Los Angeles, Calif.,

Ned E. Depinet, N. Y.

Attended preview of Gorilla Monday night and believe me when I say I had one of the great thrills of my life. The audience was interested from the moment the first scenes were flashed on screen, and as the picture proceeded they became more so. Towards the middle the laughs were uproarious and it continued to the very end. Picture is bound to prove one of the biggest box office sensations of the year.

A. L. Gore

FIRST NATIONAL'S Great Mystery-Comedy Special

Motion Picture News

Volume XXXVI NEW YORK CITY, NOVEMBER 11, 1927 No. 19

The Inward Thrust

Has the Motion Picture Industry a Wrong Set-Up?

By William A. Johnston

MERGERS go on merrily throughout the business world.

One day it's tobacco; another, celluloid, drugs, food products, automobiles, magazines, motion pictures. Steel, which inaugurated the merger business, is about to resume the process.

What does it all mean?

And what does it mean to us whose fortunes are cast with motion pictures?

* * * *

In the first place, and like everything else, there are good mergers and bad mergers. We have no concern here with the latter.

Good mergers are economic mergers.

They justify themselves.

They justify themselves by cutting out waste.

Waste does no one good—except only the very small minority who get the waste, who thrive only because of waste.

The majority interests are: first, the public, and then those who invest their money and energy in the business, namely the producers, the exhibitors and retailers of the goods.

A merger that makes for the welfare of these major interests is a good merger.

And the law of the land, it would seem, will have to view mergers in this light.

I asked a man, the other day, who just sat in on a two hundred million dollar merger if the government was first consulted as to its desirability.

"No," said he. "We knew we were right. So we just went right ahead. That, also, was the lawyers' advice."

* * * *

Just what, in a nutshell, do these mergers accomplish. What is their genius? What is the business trend of the day?

I put this question to a merger expert.

"Well," said he, "I'll put it this way; the thrust today is inward instead of outward.

"Now that may sound like a Chinese puzzle. But it's very simple.

"We are regulating supply by demand; that's all.

"The customer comes first. That means the public comes first. They buy what they want. And the retailer must give them what they want at a price they will pay. So the retailer comes second in the scheme. Then comes the distributor and lastly the producer.

"That's what I mean by the inward thrust. It is inward from the public to the producer.

"When it is outward from the producer, then you have the wrong set-up. You have waste. Because you have a lot of producers competing blindly and recklessly for a demand they do not definitely feel and so do not definitely know.

"The retailer is the one to regulate production.

"That's what mergers accomplish—good mergers."

* * * *

According to this explanation, the motion picture industry has a wrong set-up—diametrically wrong.

Our producers make pictures by their own schedules—as many as they themselves decide—not what the public market demands. Then, owning their own distributing machines, they make the distributor take

(Continued on Page 1480)

In clinking harmony with her five-and-ten-cent story, "My Best Girl," is the $25,000 worth of small change with which Kathleen Norris, author, is being paid by Mary Pickford, United Artists luminary, who used the work for her latest picture

"Taste it, it's nice," says Marion Nixon, Universal featured player, to Roberto Chiari, son of the president of the Republic of Panama, who was a visitor recently at "U" City

"Don't bet on fights" is the moral to glean from this picture. Tom Mix, Fox player, had to carry huge Tom Kennedy on his back simply because he had bet on Dempsey—and lost!

Another blossom of the Coogan tree. Jackie's small brother appears with him just after he had completed "Buttons" for M-G-M. The little chap is now as old as Jackie was when first screened

Norman Taurog, senior Educational director, cracks one to E. H. Allen, general manager, and Jack White, director in chief of the Educational studio in Los Angeles

Irene Rich and her daughter, Jane, enjoying a sail while the Warner Bros. star is on location making "The Silver Slave." Miss Rich, let us add, is a capable yachtswoman

Mario Chamlee, famous tenor, serenades two gold-diggers on the Paramount lot. Listening so benignly to his music are Alice White and Ruth Taylor, who impersonate Dorothy and Lorelei of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" fame

Inside Slants on the Industry

PICTURES AND PEOPLE

The Mirrors of Filmdom

"QUALITY STREET," a faithful screening of Barrie atmosphere and whimsical humor, opened at the Embassy Theatre, New York, this week, with Marion Davies as the star.

There are excellent performances by the star, by Helen Jerome Eddy, and Conrad Nagel. As Barrie, the picture is very good; as a theatre box-office attraction for the masses, not so good. It is slow-moving, and entirely too much footage is consumed. If some of it were eliminated, the present doubtful chances of b. o. success might be improved.

* * *

THE next important premiere takes place this Friday at the Central Theatre, when "Uncle Tom's Cabin" comes into view. An estimate of this important production from our Coast expert, Edwin Schallert, appeared in last week's issue. Mary Pickford's new picture will also arrive on Broadway shortly. Unless we greatly miss our guess, it will prove to be one of the most successful she has ever made—and this opinion is based on an advance estimate by Mr. Schallert several weeks ago, seconded by our own, as gained at a preview showing in a town near New York.

* * *

LOUIS NALPAS, director-general of the studios of the Societe des Cineromans, Paris, is leaving the other side November 9 on the Ile de France. He is bringing with him a print of "Casanova," with a view to arranging distribution in this country. This picture has created a lot of attention abroad, and was reviewed in Motion Picture News several months ago when it was trade-shown in London.

* * *

KEITH-ALBEE and Stanley join forces in an extensive theatre-building campaign in New England, as a direct result of the sale of the Poli circuit. Thus, a field for discussion of the bigger meaning of this move is opened up.

The impression persists that one of the big distributor-affiliated chains is behind the Poli purchase, but nobody seems to know which one. Broadway has been buzzing with rumors of this and that circuit as the real control in the sale of the Poli houses.

One thing is certain, however: New England will become one of the chief fields of war in the Battle of the Giants.

Of course, many observers see in the K-A-Stanley alliance in New England a foreshadowing of the greater alliance to come, which would mean the merger of these two great theatre groups and their production forces, namely, Pathe and First National. The best information on this point is that the merger is still in negotiation and will be settled definitely one way or the other in sixty days.

* * *

MOTION PICTURE NEWS has known for some time that a deal was under way by the Schlesingers to take over control of Phonofilm from Dr. Lee De Forest and associates. The story has now been printed, in part, in another publication.

It is a fact that the British De Forest Phonofilm Corp. has been taken over by the Schlesinger interests, headed by I. W. Schlesinger, and operating the so-called African film trust. The Schlesingers also recently acquired British International, with an extensive studio near London, where they intend to manufacture De Forest equipment and productions for the territories outside the U. S.

Further, the Schlesingers bought, from Dr. De Forest, an option on the American De Forest concern, looking toward the formation of an international corporation, completely controlling the De Forest interests.

This deal, however, has not been completed. An interesting angle, not hitherto brought out, is that an offer for the American De Forest company has been made by the same interests which appear to be concerned in the purchase of the Poli circuit.

* * *

IT is understood that Max Schlesinger has approached several big distributors with propositions to franchise Phonofilm to them for use in production and the theatres they control, contingent, of course, on the final closing of the deal between Schlesingers and De Forest.

These distributors are said to be the same group of five which, it will be recalled, were negotiating with General Electric and the Radio Corp. of America for use of their sound movie process—the Pallophotophone.

The G. E. five-company-pool deal has apparently fallen through, as Major-General James G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corp., announced this week that the Pallophotophone will be sold to the highest bidder among the distributors.

* * *

TO revert to the Stanley-Keith-Albee deal: our information is that the only thing which is delaying the merger, both of theatre interests and production-distribution concerns, is the fiscal readjustment necessary in fitting together the capital structure of the two big chains.

Meanwhile, there is a possibility of quick action in another direction, namely, a stock purchase in West Coast Theatres, Inc., by K-A-Orpheum.

The K-A-Orpheum combine has now been virtually effected, and the refinancing planned. The big object in view is the creation of a vaudeville chain from Coast-to-Coast, the full significance of which we shall point out presently.

In the refinancing, the bankers would hold the preferred stock, for the purpose, according to authoritative reports, of a reserve for buying-in interests in other circuits or in other ways solidifying the K-A-Orpheum syndicate.

* * *

AS the first step toward this end, the bankers are said to look with favor on getting a substantial interest in West Coast Theatres. They have offered to invest several millions in that chain, the object apparently being to obtain strong Pacific Coast representation for K-A-Orpheum, whether the complete deal with Stanley goes through or not.

* * *

NOW the full significance of all this can only be grasped by realizing that K-A-Orpheum is after a situation where vaudeville acts can be played in a combined routing: that is to say, in picture theatres, such as those controlled by West Coast and Stanley, as well as in the straight vaudeville theatres.

If this happened, the whole exhibition situation would be vitally affected, and the Battle of the Giants intensified.

But there is still another angle even more significant: if the Keith-Albee-Stanley-First National-Pathe deal becomes a reality, one of the important things it contemplates is vaudeville and presentation appearances of picture stars in the K-A-Orpheum-Stanley houses.

Pictures and People–Continued

It is easy enough to see what that might mean. The scramble, just now, in the big theatres is for name acts. But there are not enough of these to go around. Suppose a picture star could be routed, without interference with studio work, over such a chain as the combined picture house-vaudeville circuit outlined above. It would be possible to have plenty of name acts in the de luxe theatres, and perhaps to better purpose, from a business angle, because picture star acts at picture houses might pull better than the vaudeville talent, except for the very biggest of the latter of whom there are only a few.

The result might easily be the changing of the whole complexion of the picture business, so far as exhibition goes—and production, too, for that matter.

It would then be a different industry entirely, especially as such a move by the K-A-Stanley group might bring similar action by the Loew and Publix interests.

* * *

IN view of all these possibilities, we can't help mildly inquiring: what's going to happen to the motion picture?

* * *

ANOTHER significant demonstration of the growing prominence of the so-called Sound Pictures! At the Roxy theatre this week a lengthy stage bill coupled with a feature picture has produced the inevitable result of cutting to a minimum the time allotted to news pictures. And it is interesting, and perhaps indicative of the coming of a new style of presentation, that the only news scenes to survive the cutting process are two subjects which have sound reproduction through Movietone.

So far the first time at a New York theatre, and probably the first time on record, a screen magazine is composed entirely of subjects presenting the audible as well as the visual happenings of the events chronicled.

It is further interesting to note that the applause accorded these views of the Baltimore and Ohio Centennial, and the Yale-Army football game, clearly demonstrated that this unit "went over" as successfully as any of its companion pieces on the current program at the Roxy.

* * *

THE pageantry concerned with railroad engine development in the scenes of the B & O Centennial gains immeasurably in theatric effect as well as authentic news reporting through the Movietone accompaniment. Engines of successive types are shown, and the clanging bells, screeching whistles and rumblings of the wheels over the rails give audible evidence of the gradually increasing power and speed of the new over the old models, as convincingly as does the visual evidence of their size and design.

The same is true of the views at the Yale Bowl, which in addition to picturing the great crowds and close-ups of the play, reproduce the cheering from the stands and thus give a more authentic and convincing report of the event.

* * *

SUBJECT to change—with due notice, of course, since it is a showman's enterprise—are the policies of the Broadway theatres these days.

During the past month the following changes in entertainment policies have taken place on Broadway:

The Capitol switched over from its policy in force for seven years, of musical features and ballet, to what amounts to a combination vaudeville and feature pictures bill.

The Mark Strand starts on Saturday with a new style of entertainment in which the former revue type of stage bill will be supplanted by presentations wherein the greater emphasis is upon orchestral, vocal and choral music.

The Colony theatre, recently opened under Universal's regime with Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld as managing director, drops the presentation policy and is to eliminate all stage acts, operating on a straight picture policy with orchestra accompaniments, at a reduced admission scale.

Thus three out of the six continuous-run Broadway picture theatres—in which group the Cameo in 42nd St. is included—have changed policies within the brief span of one month. Going back a bit further, into the early Spring, two more of the six, the Cameo and the Paramount, have made slight changes in their policies.

* * *

THE changes, naturally, are due to fundamental causes. These are two in number, so far as may be judged from the outside: either competition or public demand for some thing different is at the bottom of it. And on the surface of things it would seem that competition figures two ways, for if the public has changed its ideas it is a reasonable guess that this action was the outcome of competitive methods which introduced something different either in the kind or style of presenting these added features of the motion picture program.

Unless the advance notices are misinterpreted by us, the new policy at the Strand, in the final analysis, will carry on with the kind of presentations recently dropped by the Capitol—in general character, that is. The Strand preceded the Capitol in offering revues featuring vaudeville and musical comedy artists. Now, unless the bill which Mr. Plunkett will open on Saturday afternoon proves different from what the advance notices indicate to us, the Strand swaps policies with the Capitol.

The Inward Thrust

By William A. Johnston

(Continued from Page 1483)

all and what they give forth. And he, in turn, has to unload on the exhibitor.

The consequence is overproduction, so that the best a picture can get is one-third the normal playing time. That's one big consequence. And the other is the rolling up of a production budget so huge that the public simply will not pay enough for pictures to support it any longer. And that's mighty serious.

The course of this industry for the next few years will be an effort to regulate production. There will be no stability until that is accomplished.

This business, like every other dealing in an article of larger public consumption, needs the inward thrust.

Production must be regulated by demand.

And our theatres, which alone know the demand, will do the regulating.

Loew's Midland in Kansas City Opened

WITH the opening of a new house of the Loew's, Incorporated, circuit in Kansas City, the Midland, the second move in the city's "theatre patronage war" was made last week. Preceded by a mammoth exploitation in the newspapers, the new $4,000,000 house, located at Thirteenth and Main Streets, began selling tickets as early as 9 o'clock the day of the opening. M. B. Shanberg manages the new theatre, a 4,000 seater, and the policy of the house is stage presentations and first run pictures.

Following the announcement not long ago that Loew's, Inc., had taken over the Newman and Royal theatres, Paramount-leased first run houses in the down-town section, is the news that the Liberty and Globe theatre have reduced their prices. The Globe's prices will be 25c for adults and 10c for children at matinees. The Liberty will charge 25c daily until 6 P. M.

Stanley and Fox in Philly Increase Admission Prices

The Stanley and Fox Theatres in Philadelphia, which employ a large number of musicians, have been obliged to increase their prices because of a general increase of $4.00 a week in salaries of musicians. Both the Stanley and the Fox employ an orchestra of about 40 pieces. The afternoon prices at both houses will be 50 cents, the evening prices 75 cents and the loges at the Fox have been increased to 99 cents. This increase is said to be due to a concerted effort on the part of the Musicians' Protective Association to unionize all of the theatres in Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware. Unionization will include practically every employee.

Minneapolis Aldermen Propose City Censorship

Minneapolis was theatened with movie and stage censorship last week when Aldermen Victor Johnson and John Swanson proposed to create a board to pass on all the shows and pictures brought into the city. Their proposal followed the closing of the Gayety, a local burlesque house, for an allegedly indecent performance. Other aldermen finally dissuaded them from their plan, and they finally admitted that it was perhaps unwise. The local press also attacked the censorship plan, and the theatre owners heaved a sigh of relief when it was finally discarded.

First National Finishes Five New Pictures

The Burbank studios on the Coast completed within the past week actual filming of five new productions, and editorial work is now in progress on them.

The quintet of new pictures are: "Her Wild Oat," starring Colleen Moore and directed by Marshall Neilan; "The Valley of the Giants," featuring Milton Sills and directed by Charles Brabin; "The Wagon Show," a Ken Maynard Western; "The Shepherd of the Hills," with Alec B. Francis in the title role, and "Louisians," directed by George Fitzmaurice and starring Billie Dove.

Keith, Albee-Stanley to Invade Poli Towns

Join Forces With Other Interests to Build and Operate Over Circuit

KEITH-ALBEE and the Stanley Company have completed arrangements for the joint invasion of the Poli towns in New England. The two picture firms are to be part of a syndicate to be formed for the invasion of the New England towns in which the Poli chain has operated. It is likely that First National and Pathe, with which the theatre chains are allied, will complete the syndicate, as the first step of a big combine.

It is planned to acquire theatres already built or to build new ones in the towns in which the Poli circuit functions. Among the cities that are to get Keith-Albee-Stanley combination houses are Worcester, Springfield, New Haven, Hartford, Bridgeport and Meriden.

Three of the Poli houses were not included in the deal for twenty of the circuit closed last week by a syndicate headed by Max Schoolman of Boston. Poli retained the theatres in Washington, D. C., Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, Pa. Poli is to retain control of the New England theatres until January 1st, when they will pass to the possession of the new owners.

That options have been secured by Keith-Albee interests in the Poli circuit cities became known in Boston this week, substantiating the statement made to the press recently by E. F. Albee that the Keith-Albee and allied interests planned invasion of these cities with the purchase of the Poli circuit by Schoolman and others of Boston.

It is said at Boston that options on valuable properties in Springfield and Worcester were obtained by the Keith-Albee interests when the sale of Poli interests first began to be rumored two years ago and that these options have been renewed from time to time so that they are now available.

In Springfield it is known that overtures were made to E. F. Albee by a group of bankers some 18 months or more ago for the financing of a large new theatre there if Keith-Albee interests would operate the theatre. It is generally believed in Boston that Springfield will probably be the first city on the Poli circuit which Keith-Albee will invade.

Keith-Albee options have also been secured in Bridgeport, New Haven, Meriden and Waterbury, Conn., reports at Boston indicate. In two instances, these reports state, actual purchase for Keith-Albee interests has been made. It is said that at Hartford two sites are under consideration with a possibility of two theatres being erected.

Not only will Keith-Albee and allied interests erect major theatres in these cities of the Poli territory, but other closely allied cities may also be included in the program of construction which is under consideration.

John J. McGuirk, president of the Stanley Company of America

Wayne Pierson Heads "U's" Road Show Dep't

Wayne Pierson, formerly booking manager and assistant to J. J. McCarthy and more recently general manager of the Fox road show department, has been engaged by Carl Laemmle as general manager of a newly organized road show department which will handle the four road productions which Universal will market within the next two years. The first show which Mr. Pierson will handle under his contract will be "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Warren Lewis has been engaged as special publicity representative for this show.

Three forthcoming Universal road show productions are: "The Man Who Laughs," "Show Boat" and "Broadway."

Detroit Houses in Advertising Rate Battle

Owners of first-run houses in Detroit, Mich., are engaged in a battle over advertising rates. Recently one of the leading local dailies increased its display rate for picture houses to $1.40 per inch, a big item considering the space used daily and Sunday. Exhibitors have retaliated by cutting down their space to one-third the former size. In the other papers the space has not been decreased. Both sides show no sign of weakening, but there will undoubtedly be an understanding between them shortly.

Caddo Co. Elected to M. P. P. D. A. Membership

Caddo Company, Inc., which releases through United Artists Corporation, was last Thursday elected to membership in the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., at a meeting of the Association's Board of Directors.

Theatre Circuits Show Extensive Expansion

Reports from Many Sections Reveal Operations of Several Leading Chains

ANNOUNCEMENTS from various parts of the country reveal the extensive expansion now under way among many of the leading theatre circuits. From nearly all sections comes word of houses being acquired by such chains as the Moss, Stanley-Crandall, Publix, Wesco and Loew-United Artists.

Three Loew-United Artists houses will be in operation in Columbus, Ohio, by the first of the coming year, according to information at hand. The lease of the Broadway by this combine has already been announced. It adjoins the Broad, already operated by the company, and will be open within a month, following renovation and alterations. The Capitol is also undergoing interior alterations and will be reopened by the end of the year.

United Artists are also soon to enter the San Francisco field as theatre lessees. For some time they have been negotiating for a lease on the California or St. Francis and recently it was learned that a temporary arrangement for the California has been concluded. Under this plan the United Artists will take over the California for the showing of "The Devil Dancer." It the experiment works further negotiations will be concluded.

West Coast in the Pacific Northwest has annexed two additional houses at Pendleton, Oregon, for their extensive chain. They have purchased the Rivoli and Alta from Guy Matlack.

The Moss circuit in affiliation with Keith-Albee is preparing to open two additional theatres within the next few weeks and is planning four more that will be in operation before Labor Day of next year. This will bring their Greater New York chain up to 22.

The two houses to be opened within the next month are the Madison in the Ridgewood section of Brooklyn, and the Chester, at Tremont, West Farms and Boston Post Road. The new houses under construction or soon to be under way are, the Kenmore, adjoining the circuit's Flatbush, at Flatbush and Church Avenues, Brooklyn, the Bristol at 50th street and 5th Avenue in Brooklyn; the Plaza at Bridge Plaza in the Williamsburgh section in Brooklyn, and the Marlboro at 207th street and Broadway.

Publix is again reported making overtures in Milwaukee for the purchase of the Saxe Circuit. About a year ago Publix practically completed a deal for a 25 per cent interest, but a hitch developed at the last moment.

Stanley-Crandall have increased their number of local theatres to fourteen, according to word from Washington, D. C. They have acquired the Empire and the New, both of which have been remodelled.

"On Your Toes" New Title of Reginald Denny Film

The releasing title of Universal's new Reginald Denny vehicle, formerly known under the working titles of "Sporting Blood" and "Use Your Feet," will be "On Your Toes;" it has just been completed at Universal City under the direction of Fred Newmeyer from a story by Earl Snell. Barbara Worth is Denny's leading woman.

"London After Midnight" New Title Chaney Film

Lon Chaney's new stellar vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in which he plays the part of a Scotland Yard detective, has been definitely titled "London After Midnight." Tod Browning directed it.

New Title for Warners' "In Name Only"

"In Name Only," the play by Edwin Justin Mayer which Warner Bros. have transferred to celluloid, has had a new title applied to it in "Husbands for Rent." Final scenes were being taken this week by Director Henry Lehrman.

R. F. Woodhull, president of the M. P. T. O. A., who has started on a three weeks' tour of exhibitors' meetings

Accused in Laurier Trial to Appeal Case

Notice of appeal was given October 28 by counsel for the accused in the manslaughter verdict by the jury in the Court of King's Bench, Montreal, Canada, against three representatives of the Laurier Palace Theatre, Montreal, for the fire and panic disaster at that theatre last January 9, when 78 children lost their lives.

The three men, Ameen Lawand, proprietor; Camil Bazzy and Michael Arie, employees, were found guilty on charges of manslaughter at their trial on October 25, and were placed under arrest. Following notice of appeal, they were granted their release on bail of $5,000 each.

The actual trial was delayed for some months while Justice Boyer, appointed as a Royal Commission, held an investigation into moving picture theatre conditions throughout the Province of Quebec.

Woodhull Off to Discuss Conference Reaction With State Conventions

PRESIDENT R. F. WOODHULL of the M. P. T. O. A. left during the week to take in eight conventions to be held by Theatre Owners Associations and to submit to them a complete report on the recent Trade Practice conference held in New York City. He has the reactions to the conference from all branches of the industry and will discuss them before the conventions. Woodhull was accompanied by Frank G. Conklin, head of the auxiliary department of the M. P. T. O. A., who will describe the service work of this department to the exhibitors.

The cities to be visited, with the convention dates, are: Little Rock, Ark., November 3-4; Oklahoma City, Okla., November 7-8; Dallas, Tex., November 9-10; Kansas City, Mo., November 12; Omaha, Neb., November 14; Columbus, Ohio, November 16; Indianapolis, Ind., November 17; Chicago, Ill., November 18.

Eleven M-G-M Units at Work in Culver City

ELEVEN companies are either shooting or preparing for production at the Culver City studio of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Six units will start working within the next ten days on six features on which preliminary work has practically been finished. The only company away from the studio is the "Rose-Marie" unit, now working in the Yosemite.

In production at the film plant are "The Patsy," "The Divine Woman," "His Night," "Baby Mine," "The Cossacks," "The Big City," "The Texas Ranger," "The Big Top," Norma Shearer's new vehicle of a treveling saleswoman and William Haines' new picture of polo.

Among the pictures now in the cutting and editing stages are: "The Trail of '98," "The Crowd," "Man, Woman and Sin," "London After Midnight," "Bringing Up Father," "Spoilers of the West," "In Old Kentucky," "West Point" and "Under the Black Eagle."

Warners Finish Two; Have Four in Work

TWO pictures were finished this week at the Warner Bros. studio on the Coast, leaving four films in work and several others in preparation. The two new pictures are "Husbands For Rent" and "Beware of Married Men."

The cameras are grinding on "Glorious Betsy," "A Race For Life," "Across the Atlantic" and "The Little Snob." In the Warners cutting room is "If I Were Single."

The scenario staff is now engaged in the preparation of "Tenderloin" and "The City of Sin."

Fox Films Publicity Dep't Reorganized

The publicity department of Fox Films was this week thoroughly reorganized by Vivian M. Moses, director of Publicity and advertising for Fox.

Donn McElwaine has been placed in charge of publicity, succeeding Daniel M. Doherty, who has become associate editor of Fox News. A. P. Dickson will be responsible for the production of lithographic posters, and J. G. Fine will assume responsibility over the production of other accessories for exhibitors. Earl Smith becomes manager of the art department.

Beth O'Shea has taken charge of fan magazine publicity. Joel Swenson continues in charge of newspaper publicity and on special assignments. Albert Nathan is responsible for trade paper publicity and exploitation from exhibitors. Thomas L. Cummiskey has resumed editorship of the Fox News paper service. Guy Fowler, Edward E. Schiff and Fred Bullock complete the staff of the department.

Two New Comedies Head Pathe's Nov. 13 Program

Pathe's group of nine short subjects for the week of November 13th is headed by two two-reel comedies, "King Harold" and "Smith's Cousin." The program also includes "Alien Antics," a Grantland Rice Sportlight, "Saved by a Keyhole," an Aesop film fable, "An Attack at Midnight," second episode of "The Masked Menace, a new serial; Pathe Review, No. 46; Topics of the Day, No. 46; issues Nos. 94 and 95 of the Pathe News.

Taylor Holmes and Leah Baird are the co-featured players in "King Harold," which was directed by L. C. Windom. The Jimmy Smith trio—Mary Ann Jackson, Ruth Hiatt and Raymond McKee are the leads in "Smith's Cousin" and Bill Irving is in the cast. The Review number presents: "Here's How," "The Sacred Mount of China" and "Tango Toes."

Frank Cahill to Work With Rothacker at Burbank

Frank Cahill, former assistant to Samuel Spring, secretary-treasurer of First National, left New York last Sunday for Hollywood, where he will work with Watterson R. Rothacker, vice-president of First National Productions Corporation and managing director in charge of all activities at the West Coast studios.

"U" Announces Product for 1928-29

Lineup Announced by Montagne Includes 45 Feature Productions

BEFORE departing for the West, Edward Montagne, scenario editor for Universal, announced that company's product for the season of 1928-29. It will include approximately forty-five features, seven of which will be so-called super productions. Included in the list are also five leaders and four Reginald Denny stories.

The seven super productions announced by Montagne are: "The Man Who Laughs," starring Conrad Veidt and directed by Paul Leni. It is adapted from the Victor Hugo novel; "Show Boat," an Edna Ferber story to be directed by Harry Pollard; "The Big Gun," a Richard Barr story in which George Lewis will probably star; "The Mating Call," by Rex Beach; "Ivanhoe," a modernized version of the Sir Walter Scott novel; "The Cohens and Kellys in Jerusalem;" and "The Devil," a German novel in which Conrad Veidt will probably star.

The four Reginald Denny stories have not yet been fully determined. They will, however, include an original story by Damon Runyon tentatively titled, "Hold It"; a professional football story by Carl Laemmle, Jr., titled "Off Tackle;" a physician story still under consideration, and the fourth still to be decided.

Included in the five "Leaders" will be "The Last Warning," from the successful stage play, to be directed by Paul Leni; "Give and Take," from the Aaron Hoffman stage play with George Sidney starred; "The Freedom of the Press," a newspaper story by Peter B. Kyne; "The Foreign Legion," adapted from I. A. R. Wylie's story, "The Red Mirage," with Norman Kerry starred; and "The Michigan Kid," a Rex Beach story to be directed by Irvin Willat, and in which Norman Kerry will have the leading role.

Edward Montagne, scenario editor of Universal

The remainder of Universal's feature schedule includes:

"Fallen Angels," from the Arthur Somers Roche story, to be made by Edward Laemmle; "Stop That Man," the George V. Hobart comedy; "Honeymoon Flats," Earl Derr Biggers' serial, now being made by Millard Webb, with Ben Lyon and Marian Nixon featured; "The Worm Turns," by Ward Russell, to be used for George Lewis; "The Geezer," by Damon Runyon; "The Olympic Champion," an original by F. J. Rath, to star George Lewis; "Home James," the Gladys Johnson play, to star Laura La Plante; "Cupid at Vassar," the Owen Davis stage play to star Laura La Plante.

"The Charlatan," stage play by Ernest Pascal, probably starring Conrad Veidt; "Grease Paint," an original by Svend Gade, to star Conrad Veidt; "The Sin Ye Do," from John Lynch's story, to be directed by Edward Laemmle; "Justice," by John Galsworthy.

"Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?", an original by Leigh Jacobsen, being made with Bessie Love by Willy Wyler; "Cyclus of the Follies," by Arthur Gregor; "This Way Out," by Frederick Isaacs; "The Third Party," play by Mark Swan; "Do They Miss Me at Home?", now in preparation; "Heaven Forbid," from the Edwin Justus Mayer story; "The Best Policy," to be used for Glenn Tryon, under direction of William Craft; "Meet the Prince," another Glenn Tryon picture, now nearing completion; "The Girl in a Hurry," Ralph Hughes' story; "A Broadway Romance," by Neil Martin; "The House of Black," by Max Marcin.

Offering 50,000 Shares Carrier Preferred Stock

THE syndicate house of Hemphill, Noyes and Co. is offering 50,000 shares of non-voting convertible stock, no par value, of Carrier Engineering Corp., at $27 per share. The purposes of issue are: the retirement of existing outstanding mortgages and for additional working capital. The issue will be retired in January 1, 1943. Carrier is reserving 5,000 shares for sale after one year to its employees and officers.

The Carrier Engineering Corp. is one of the leaders in the field of air conditioning of theatres, office buildings, hotels, etc. The company has installed, or is installing, its systems in 67 theatres throughout the country. The company has also applied air conditioning to over 100 industries. Some of its clients are American Can Co., Ford Motor Co., and General Electric Co.

Carrier has 2,413 shares outstanding of 8 per cent cumulative convertible second preferred stock, par value $100 per and 100,500 shares of B stock, no par value. 58,000 shares of common A, no par value, has been authorized for the conversion of the second preferred stock.

The company's earnings in 1925, $2,353,871.16, were approximately doubled in 1927 when the earnings are $4,537,548.28. The net profits for 1925 were $112,690.28 and in 1927 $406,667.84.

New Light Device Causes Broadway Crowds to Gape

THE night crowds on Broadway have been gaping the past several weeks at a Will-o'-the-wisp light revealing the American flag in colors, advertising slogans, etc., and appearing now in the sky and again on the sides of buildings flanking Times Square. Within the past week the light has been put to work advertising the Capitol Theatre.

It is the invention of Matthews, the English Death Ray man, and the reflector mounted on the roof of the Capitol Theatre is made by the Sperry Gyroscope Co. Clouds will serve as a screen for the light and, under the right atmospheric conditions, the clear sky will serve to an extent, but for regular operation it is planned to hang a smoke screen from an airplane. This will last for about 15 minutes. Major Biddlecombe, a well-known English aviator, is in charge of the airplane service.

A company to handle the new device has been formed with H. E. Aitken, formerly of the Mutual and Triangle companies, in charge.

Twin City Strike Ends

Neither Side Is Complete Winner But Better Understanding Is Reached

THE Twin City theatre strike, which started September 17 and lasted 38 days, is at an end.

Five hundred stage hands, motion picture machine operators and musicians went back to their jobs this week as the most extended and costly theatre strike in the northwest came to an end.

W. A. Steffes, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Association of the Northwest, announced the following settlement after theatre owners and strike representative had conferred many times:

A three year contract replaces the former one-year contract with the stage hands, and they are to be paid $2 more per week during the first year of the contract, $3 more for the second year and $2 more the third year, a total increase of $7 a week for the three years.

Picture machine operators also are put under a three-year contract, which replaces their annual agreement. They are to receive no increase the first year, but an increase of 2½ per cent the second year, and 2½ per cent more the third year. Hitherto the St. Paul scale has been slightly lower than the Minneapolis scale, but it will now be equal to it.

The musicians who, with the operators, walked out in sympathy when non-union men replaced the stage hands, returned to work with no change in their status.

Steffes expressed his satisfaction with the settlement, as did Theodore Hays, general manager for Finkelstein and Ruben and W. F. Canavan, president of the International Stage Hands Union, who helped with the negotiations.

Steffes said: "Although the settlement cannot be termed a complete victory for either side, the strike has been successful in establishing a better understanding between owners and craftsmen. We are entirely satisfied with the agreement reached, and believe that relations from now on will be more cordial than ever before.

The strike started when the stage hands of Minneapolis and St. Paul demanded one day's rest in seven. This request was refused by the theatre owners, who interpreted it as a demand for seven days' pay for six days' work.

Steffes estimated that the strike caused a 10 per cent decrease in theatre grosses during the five weeks. The 58 theatres of Minneapolis probably do a business of about $150,000 weekly, which means that the loss was about $15,000 a week, or $75,000 for the period of the strike in that city alone. The loss, however, was actually much heavier Three theatres and one exchange were bombed during the strike, and the damage done must be reckoned in the total loss; also the several thousand dollars which Minneapolis spent hiring emergency policemen to guard the theatres.

Griffith Completes Camera Work on New U. A. Film

David Wark Griffith has completed photography on his first production for United Artists since 1925, "Drums of Love." The director finished his task one week ahead of schedule and 15 per cent below the budget cost, actual shooting time taking seven weeks, night and day. On the last day of work the director is said to have shot 58 script scenes.

The story was originally titled "A Romance of Old Spain."

Theatres in Three Cities to Show "Gorilla" Nov. 5

"The Gorilla," Ralph Spence's stage play which First National has screened, will have a triple premiere on November 5 when it will open at the Palace Theatre, Cleveland, at Skouras Brothers' Ambassador, St. Louis, and at the Pantheon in Toledo.

Alfred Santell directed the mystery-comedy which co-features Fred Kelsey and Charlie Murray.

"Chinese Parrot" Given Premiere at Kenosha

Paul Leni's production of "The Chinese Parrot" for Universal had its world premiere last week-end at the Kenosha Theatre in Kenosha, Wisconsin, and went over successfully according to J. W. Houck.

Cuba Reduces Duty, Increases Film Export Rate

Positive motion picture films exported to Cuba now take a rate of $4.80 per kilo under the revenue tariff put into effect by that country October 26, according to figures pust received at the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. The former rate was $4.16 per kilo.

The duty on raw stock, however, has been materially reduced, now being but 80 cents per kilo, against the former rate of $4.16 per kilo, analysis of the new tariff shows.

The tariff just adopted is the first to be promulgated in its entirety by the Cuban Republic. It was found that manufactured commodities were being asssessed with lower duties than the raw materials from which they were made, and the new law was framed with a view to imposing the higher taxes on commodities which the island is now producing locally, with the lower rates on goods not manufactured in Cuba and on raw materials.

Paramount to Issue Eight Shorts During November

Four two-reel comedies and four one-reel cartoons will be released by Paramount during November.

"Find the King," starring Edward Everett Horton, will be issued in company with "The Pie Cure," a Krazy Cat cartoon, on November 5th. "Easy Curves," a Christie offering with Billy Dooley, and "Koko's Klock," a Max Fleischer Out of the Inkwell cartoon, are set for November 12th. "Ocean Blues," a Jimmie Adams comedy produced by Christie, and "For Crime's Sake," a Krazy Kat cartoon, are scheduled for November 19th. "Mad Scrambles," another Christie with a featured cast, and "Koko Kicks," another Fleischer cartoon, have been set for November 26th.

Lloyd Resumes Work on "Speedy" on Coast

After ten weeks spent in shooting highlights of "Speedy," his new Paramount comedy in New York, Harold Lloyd has returned to the Coast and resumed production activities. Lloyd aims to complete all exteriors very soon.

The name of "Speedy" is a nickname which Lloyd has borne for ten years, it having been given him by his father, J. Darsie Lloyd.

Tiffany-Stahl Purchases Fine Arts Studio

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS, INC., has purchased the Fine Arts Studio in the Bronx, New York; hereafter the studio will be called the Tiffany-Stahl Productions, Inc., Studios. The sum of $500,000 is said to have been involved in the purchase.

Tiffany-Stahl will take immediate possession of the plant and plans are being made for extensive alterations in building additions, stages and modern methods of producing. The alterations contemplated will involve an expenditure of $250,000.

Will Test Sunday Blue Law in Baltimore

THE Sunday Amusement League, auxiliary of the Liberty Defense League of Baltimore, will make a test case of the Sunday anti-amusement laws in the city, by operating a motion picture house on one Sunday evening before the end of the present year has arrived. At an executive meeting held October 30th, presided over by John G. Callan, a member of the House of Delegates from the Second Legislative District, the test show was decided upon. Even though the police have informed those behind the plan that they would be arrested if they carried out their purpose, the offices of the league intend to stage their showing.

Baltimore exhibitors and moving picture theatre operators are not in any way concerned with the fight of the league.

Ten Charters Granted by New York State

Motion picture companies chartered in Albany by the department of state during the past week, to incorporate in the business in New York State, included the following: Edward Sargent Brown and Mayer E. Gusman, Inc., $10,000, Alfred S. Perlstein, Elsie Schlesinger, Brooklyn; Albert Schatz, New York City; Sloway, Inc., capitalization not stated, Marie L. Burch, Fred Reicherter, Jamaica; Viola Bauer, Woodhaven; Kisco Photoplay Corporation, New Rochelle, capitalization not stated, George M. Fanelli, Pelham; Rebecca Weiman, Margaret C. Coleman, New Rochelle; Bob Earle Productions, Inc., $20,000, Bob Earle, Rose and Ruth Adaire, New York City; Gould Amusement Corporation, $5,000, Alfred L. Harstn, Rose D. Kaplan, Irene Miller, New York City; Interference, Ltd., capitalization not stated, Roland Pertwee, Phoebe Feiner, Arthur F. O'Brien, New York City; Kodak Peruana, Ltd., Rochester, $10,000, Charles F. Anes, Arthur H. Paul, Domingo E. Delgado, Rochester.

Thief Steals Print of "The Country Doctor"

A print of the Pathe feature, "The Country Doctor," was stolen while the films were being loaded this week on a delivery truck at the Pathe exchange at 1600 Broadway, New York City.

The news of the theft of the print is being widely publicized so that foreign buyers and others may be cautioned against purchasing any such print of the production that may be offered them. Pathe domestic and foreign sales are all handled through the organization's own sales channels.

Colorado Exhibitor Loses in Sunday Movies Fight

R. E. Wood, owner of the Isis Theatre, of Holly, Clo., has lost out in his fight for Sunday movies. The town council last week, upon solicitation of the local churches of Holly and the W. C. T. U. of the district, passed an ordinance prohibiting Sunday evening movies. Holly has been a gathering place for the surrounding country of persons seeking Sunday entertainment.

Commission Findings Due At Ohio Convention

Business Manager Wood Assures Delegates Official Trade Practice Report

THE Federal Trade Commission findings coming out of the Trade Practice Conference held in New York two weeks ago will be made public at the Ohio exhibitors' convention to be held at Columbus, Ohio, November 16 and 17, according to announcement made by Business Manager P. J. Wood of the Ohio body.

Wood has broadcast the word that Commissioner Abram Myers, who presided at the practice conference, has promised him the complete findings in time for reading at the seventh annual Ohio convention. From the convention the report will be given to the 500 Ohio exhibitors who are expected in attendance. As a result of this announcement there will undoubtedly be more interest in the Ohio sessions than ever before.

Elaborate plans are being made for the Columbus convention, the original date of which was changed to November 16 and 17 to suit the convenience of C. C. Pettijohn of the Hays organization, and R. F. Woodhull, president of the M.P.T.O.A., who could not otherwise be present. With the Trade Commission's findings assured for those dates, according to Wood, these executives were anxious to be on hand.

Convention headquarters for the Columbus sessions will be at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, and among the outside speakers, in addition to Pettijohn and Woodhull, will be Congressman James T. Tegg, of Sandusky; Attorney General E. C. Turner, State Superintendent of Instruction, John L. Clifton, and Governor Donahey.

The climax of the convention will be the banquet and dance, which will take place at the Deshler-Wallick, in the Hall of Mirrors, on the evening of Wednesday, November 15. All Ohio exhibitors, whether members of the Association or not, are being invited to the convention.

In addition to the hearing of the Trade Commission findings, other matters of importance will be considered by the Ohio theatre owners. Among the discussions will be those on block bookings, arbitration and non-theatrical competition. The delegates will be welcomed to Columbus by Mayor James J. Thomas. Elaborate entertainment is being planned for the exhibitors and their wives and daughters.

Ontario Abolishes Tax on Tickets Up to 25c

THE amusement tax on theatre admission tickets up to 25c in face value was abolished by the Ontario Provincial Government for theatre patrons of Ontario on November 1, the tax on tickets worth more than 25c remaining as before.

On September 1, 1926, Ontario exhibitors to the number of 100 waited on Premier Howard Ferguson to ask for amusement tax relief, and this was promised. Last spring the Ontario Legislature passed the necessary amendment and in June the Order-in-Council was passed providing for the removal of the tax up to 25c. This has now become effective.

Announcement was made by Premier Ferguson that the reduction in the Amusement Tax to this extent would mean $500,000 less revenue for the Provincial Treasury each year. Small theatres are principally benefited, and also matinee patrons and children at the larger houses.

F B O Will Release Ten in December

Six features and four short subjects will be released by F B O during December.

December 4th will see the issuing of "The Slingshot Kid," Buzz Barton's new starring vehicle. "South Sea Love," with Patsy Ruth Miller, will come on December 10th. "The Swift Shadow," featuring Ranger, the dog, will be released from the company's exchanges on December 11th, while "Aflame in the Sky," with leads in Sharon Lynn and Jack Luden, is set for December 18th.

Tom Tyler's new Western, "The Desert Pirate," is listed for Christmas Day release. "Legionnaires in Paris," a special from the F B O studio with Al Cooke and Kit Guard, will be seen by exhibitors on December 27th.

The four F B O short subjects and their dates are: "Mickey's Battle," number 4 of the Mickey McGuire comedies, December 5th. "Three Missing Links," a Fat Men comedy, December 12th. A one reel Newslaff, by Bill Nolan, will be released on December 11th, and another on December 25th.

Theatre Named in Honor of S. R. Kent

The Stanley Company of America is now making plans to open its new theatre at Kensington Avenue and Cumberland Street, Philadelphia, about January 1st. The theatre will be known as the Kent, as a testimonial to Sidney R. Kent, general manager of Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. The building with its stores and other property cost approximately $1,000,000. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of 2,500.

A Correction

In an article published last week in the News to the effect that Jesse L. Goldburg, president of First Division Distributors, Inc., had returned to America from Europe, the statement credited to Mr. Goldburg that "it is no longer possible to sell any kind of American pictures in Europe" was incorrectly phrased. What Mr. Goldburg stated was that "the time is past when one can dump any kind of pictures in Europe."

New Tax Cuts Unlikely

Secretary Mellon Advocates Retention of All Remaining Excise Taxes

THE administration believes that admission tax relief has gone far enough and that no benefit to the needy will be afforded by either further increases in the exemption or total repeal, it was indicated by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, appearing before the House Committee on Ways and Means October 31, at the opening of its hearings on tax revision, when he recommended retention of all the excise taxes now remaining.

The Secretary's recommendations along this line are bound to result in heated controversies, since many members of Congress have gone on record as favoring elimination of all excise taxes. Democratic members, particularly, have been insistent upon this point, and as the representatives in Congress of that party will attack the administration's recommendations for tax relief all along the line, with a possibility of carrying many of their points, Mr. Mellon's suggestion that the admission tax be retained does not necessarily imply that this will be done.

Great pressure will be brought to bear on Congress to repeal these taxes, the Secretary warned, taking as his text the levy on automobiles.

"It is difficult to imagine a more ideal tax than one on the $40 ringside seats at the recent Tunney-Dempsey fight," the Secretary commented. "Surely no one will contend that the men and women who were willing to pay $40 for a seat for 30 minutes of boxing could not well afford to contribute $3.64 to the United States Government. The revenue yield from that particular fight was $242,065.71. The tax of 60 cents for a box-seat costing $6 for a world series baseball game, and the tax of 30 cents for a $3 box-seat at a representative theatre, is not considered excessive.

"The exemption of all admissions of 75 cents or less eliminates the tax on the recreation and amusement of an overwhelming majority of our citizens. Those who pay more than 75 cents can well afford to make a contribution to the Government, and such an excise tax cannot be held to be burdensome or to impose a restriction on legitimate recreation."

Abandon Fanamet Combine

Paramount, First National, M-G-M to Resume Individual Selling in Central Europe

AT a recent meeting held in New York among First National, M-G-M and Paramount it was decided to abandon the combination among them known as Fanamet, which has been handling their sales jointly in Central Europe, with the exception of Germany. The reason given is that their sales could be handled to the better advantage of all of them if they operated separately. They will therefore resume separate selling on January 1st.

The merging of the companies for sales purposes in Europe was effected in April, 1926, and resulted in the opening of a series of joint offices in the principal cities of Czechoslovakia, Greece, Roumania, Poland, Jugoslavia, Hungary, Turkey and other Balkan countries. It was thought that by combining the tremendous overhead could be cut down. One sales force represented the three organizations and the profits were to be distributed on a pre-arranged basis. During the first fiscal year, Fanamet is said to have lost $85,000.

Ike Blumenthal for Paramount, Al Aronson for M-G-M, and Paul Kauffman for First National have been supervising the handling of Fanamet product out of Berlin. The three outputs were sold as Fanamet films. The first year they limited feature releases to a total of 104 rather than the 175 which all three companies could have sold in these markets had they desired to throw in their entire programs.

The dissolution of the merger is in process at the present time. Emil E. Shauer, general foreign manager for Paramount, arrived in England during the week. He was to meet Arthur M. Loew, acting for M-G-M, and E. Bruce Johnson of First National to decide upon the necessary steps to be taken.

It was the original intention of the merging companies, it is said, if the plan worked successfully in Central Europe, to extend it to other parts of Europe and even to South America and England. The difficulties of the proposition are said to have increased, however, as time went on, and it was decided to revert to the old sales plan of individual operation by the companies.

Governor Smith to Start Production on "Abie"

ON Thursday morning, November 6th Governor Alfred E. Smith in Albany, New York. will by a flick of his wrist, start production at the Coast Paramount studio on "Abie's Irish Rose" via the telegraph. Director Victor Fleming will be ready with his megaphone awaiting the sign which will send the Anne Nichols play on its way to celluloid.

For the role of Rosemary Murphy, the title role, Anne Nichols has selected Nancy Carrol, who made her stage debut in "The Passing Show of 1923."

99 Charter Members in Motion Picture Club

Ninety-nine charter members have accepted and paid up membership in the recently formed Motion Picture Club. They are as follows: Carl Laemmle, R. A. Rowland, Clifford Hawley, Nathan Burkan, Elmer Pearson, Walter Camp, Jr., S. L. Rothafel, Hugo Riesenfeld, Dr. A. H. Giannini, George Eastman, H. D. Buckley, E. A. Eschman, Moxley Hill, William Massee, H. M. Goetz, Al Lichtman, William Brandt, Harry Brandt.

Lee Ochs, Victor M. Shapiro, Ned Depinet, Sam Spring, Jerome Beatty, F. L. Herron, Carl Milliken, Colvin Brown, Lou Anger, F. C. Walker, Arthur W. Kelly, M. H. Hoffman, H. S. Tierney, H. E. Comerford, L. F. Blumenthal, J. V. Ritchey, David Chatkin, Arthur Stebbins, Arthur Loew, George Blair, Richard Brady, W. A. Orr, William A. Johnston.

George C. Williams, E. W. Hammons, W. H. Cordoret, Leopold Friedman, E. A. Schiller, Howard Dietz, Ed. M. Fay, H. F. Krecke, John Alicoate, M. J. Mintz, C. E. Smith, C. Zenker, Lou Metzger, Leo Brecker, A. A. Lownes, Emil Jensen, W. M. Selizsberg, A. E. Rousseau, James B. Clarke, D. A. Dobie, Jr., J. D. Tippett, G. K. Shuler, Arnold Kornicker, J. Simonds, Joe Hornstein, Julius Lewis, E. W. Mattson, A. J. Moeller.

Harry Reichenbach, Thomas Conners, Moe Streimer, H. E. Ebenstein, Leo Klebanow, W. B. Kelly, Jacob Glucksman, Paul Burger, A. P. Blumenthal, Paul Lazarus, Paul Gulick, J. C. Barnstyn, Frank Hughes, J. P. Muller, Thomas Wiley, William F. Libman, Sime Silverman, Lou Rydell, Harry Engel, J. Pollak, Herbert Cruikshank, J. H. Cooper, J. Louis Geller.

Jules Levy, Samuel Stern, Edward Halperin, Henry King, J. E. Storey, H. Collins, John Spargo, Martin Quigley, S. H. Fabian, Jacob Loeb, Chester Sawyer, Thomas O'Brien, John Manheimer, Will H. Hays.

New Thomson Western to Have Two Directors

Two directors will work with Fred Thomson to produce "The Pioneer Scout," his next Western for Paramount. Alfred L. Werker will be in charge of the exteriors and action scenes. Lloyd Ingraham, who directed Thomson in "Jesse James," will handle the more intimate portions of the picture requiring the development of characterizations.

Werker has been with Thomson in various capacities for 15 years, for the past four as assistant director, general manager and supervisor. Ingraham directed several of the Western star's vehicles preceding "Jesse James."

"Triple Bill" Featured at Victoria Coliseum

THE "triple bill" has made its appearance at the Coliseum Theatre, Victoria, B. C., thus outdoing the double feature bills found in numerous theatres. In carrying out the "triple bill" policy, the announcement is made that there is only one performance each evening and that "patrons wishing to see the entire show must be seated by seven o'clock each night."

The Coliseum conducts a guest matinee every Wednesday when two ladies are admitted for the price of one. No admission is charged to children under fourteen years of age who attend the theatre on Saturday, accompanied by their parents.

"Gaucho" and "My Best Girl" N. Y. Premieres

"DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS as "The Gaucho," his new production for United Artists, and "My Best Girl," Mary Pickford's new production for the same company, will have their New York premieres during the present month. Both of them will go into long run houses, the Fairbanks number entering the Liberty Theatre on November 21st, and the Pickford film beginning its engagement at the Rialto Theatre on the 5th. The Fairbank's picture opened at Grauman's Chinese theatre in Hollywood on November 5th.

New Members Elected to First Nat'ls K. O. Club

Five First National salesmen were elected first-time members of the company's sales department club, the K. O. Club, four were elected second-time members and two third-time members for the third quarter ending September 30, 1927. As two were tied for tenth place, 11 men qualified for membership in the club instead of the customary ten.

. The five new members who will wear the K. O. button for the first time are J. G. Fater, of the Buffalo exchange; T. R. Gilliam, Chicago; F. L. Greenhalg, Washington; P. F. Duffy, Philadelphia, and R. R. Gilliam, Chicago.

The four salesmen elected K. O. Club members for the second time are Gerald M. Hoyt, of the St. John office; S. J. Ullman, New Jersey; Jack B. Magann, Boston, and George Bourke, Los Angeles. The two elected to membership for the third time are Walter B. Collins and S. D. Chapman, both of the Detroit exchange.

Injunction Granted Against West States Amusement

The circuit courts in Kansas City last week granted an injunction against the West States Amusement Company, preventing it from using the name "Uptown" in connection with advertising on its theatre at Thirteenth and McGee streets. The suit was brought by the Kansas City Uptown Theatre Corp., which will open a new theatre at Valentine road and Broadway New Year's Eve.

"Her Wild Oat" Title of New Moore Vehicle

Colleen Moore's newest vehicle for First National will be "Her Wild Oat," as the star in the picture sows but one wild oat instead of several. Marshall Neilan completed camera work last week upon the production, and it is now in the First National cutting rooms preparatory to its release in December.

Mae Murray Makes Stage Appearance in 'Frisco

Mae Murray, screen star and former Follies dancer, made her first professional stage appearance in a San Francisco motion picture theatre Saturday, October 22nd, when she attracted throngs to the Granada. Miss Murray was seen in a number of dances and creations of her own under Fanchon and Marco direction. She appeared five times Saturday and Sunday and four times on week days.

Miss Murray also appeared at the Metropolitan in Los Angeles.

Ouimet Canadian Agent for Van Beuren Units

Ernest L. Ouimet, formerly president of Specialty Films Import, Ltd., of Canada, distributors of Pathe pictures, departed this week from New York for Toronto, where he will fill the position of general Canadian representative for Topics of the Day, Aesop's Fables and Henry and Polly comedies, all three of which are produced by interests headed by Amedee J. Van Buren, who selected Mr. Ouimet for the Canadian job.

Pathe Plans Americanization Story, "My Country"

"My Country," an original story by Julien Josephson, will be filmed by the De Mille studio for release through Pathe. Sonya Levien is now working in collaboration with the author on the scenario. Josephsen did the scenarios for "The Red Mark," "Lady Windemere's Fan," and "The Bat."

The story is of an immigrant's adoption of an alien land.

Joan Crawford Awarded "Rose-Marie" Title Role

Joan Crawford will play the title role in "Rose Marie," which goes into production soon at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios under the direction of Edmund Goulding.

Newsreel Resume

A wealth of the most popular and pictorially effective news events was placed at the disposal of theatre men through the news reels issued this past week. As star personalities there are the views of President Coolidge "signing up" for a Red Cross membership as the opening gun in the new drive—a feature included in all issues out this week. Others are scenes of Ruth Elder's welcome at Funchal, Madeira; Walter Johnson, retired veteran pitcher, saying goodbye to "Bucky" Harris; Lloyd George officiating at the unveiling of a monument at Pinehley, England; the Prince of Wales, at Bournemouth, England; Carol, exiled Crown Prince of Rumania, now planning move to acquire throne, and several others. Pictorial subjects include some excellent views taken from Army planes flying above the clouds; and the journey to a Himalayan shrine of Hindu worshippers. On the "action!" side there are such events as San Francisco Coast Guards rescuing crew of a ship which went on the rocks in a fog; football games, many of these being local features.

Vitaphone for "Tenderloin," New W. B. Film

VITAPHONE will aid the drama in the story selected by Warner Bros. as Dolores Costello's next vehicle, "Tenderloin." The sound device will be used in several scenes of this extended run production as it was in "The Jazz Singer." Plans for an early start on the production are now in progress at the Warner Brothers studio and Vitaphone stages are being put in readiness.

Highlights of the reels are:

Pathe News No. 89—Above the cloud with Army fliers; Pilgrim Armies journey to Himalayan shrine; National Capitol gets shower bath; Sweden's Monarch takes a holiday. No. 90—Prince of Wales sets record for busy day; Yale stands out as first eastern team; new U. S. Ambassador arrives in Mexico; Ruth Elder hailed as hero by all Europe.

Kinograms No. 5339—Coast Guard's rescue of shipwreck crew off San Francisco; England's newest tanks are given demonstration in war maneuvers; strange craft demonstrated on lake at Vincennes, France; aquaplaner spends 24 hours on his surf board. No. 5340—Egyptian Monarch arrives in Paris; Babe Ruth gives admiring lads baseballs; Boy Scouts in annual pilgrimage to Roosevelt's grave; Costumes of Revolutionary times worn in quaint pageant.

International Newsreel No. 88—Fox hunters in perilous jumps, Charlottesville, Va.; Berlin youngster takes his sweetie riding in half-pint motorcycle; Coast Guard in thrilling rescue at San Francisco; Martial Law in Rumania follows report of plot by Carol to oust son. No. 89—Dancers perform on mountain peak at Rainier National Park; Huge German aircraft to carry many passengers; 4,000 fat turkeys at San Miguel, Cal., being groomed for Thanksgiving festive boards.

Paramount News No. 28—Dwight W. Morrow arrives in Mexico to take up duties as U. S. Ambassador; new plane crashes on trial trip at New Brunswick, N. J.; Fountains of Versailles tested on completion of repairs. No. 27—Read Admiral Magruder, recalled to Washington because of magazine article charging inefficiency in Navy; President Calles addresses labor convention in Mexico City; bride of Kansas City steeplejack helps hubby paint tall tower; Mrs. Florence Knapp, under fire for census funds handling, confers with her attorney at Syracuse, N. Y.

Fox News No. 10—Society in Virginia rides to hounds; tiny German yacht on cruise of world; rulers of Balkans in the day's news; girls wash dishes for prizes; ugliest of animals arrives at Bronx Zoo. No. 11—Arctic plane flown to Greenland; grape harvest on in Moselle Valley; lake created in Arizona desert; "sky writers" risk lives.

Metro-Movietone News No. 22—British squadron wins Grand Prize race; great cattle herds merged in round-up; finish world's greatest monument, Victor Emmanuel memorial at Rome, Italy. No. 23—Scenes of rules at Madison Square Garden, New York; action thrills from big football games; ship lanes cleared for winter traffic; U. S. Marine flyers patrol China Coast.

:: "The Check-Up" ::

"The Check-Up" is a presentation in the briefest and most convenient form of reports received from exhibitors in every part of the country on current features, which makes it possible for the exhibitor to see what the picture has done for other theatre managers.

The first column following the name of the feature represents the number of managers that have reported the picture as "Poor." The second column gives the number who consider it "Fair"; the third, the number who consider it "Good"; and the fourth column, those who consider it "Big."

The fifth column is a percentage figure giving the average rating on that feature, obtained by the following method: A report of "Poor" is rated at 20%; one of "Fair," 40%; "Good," 70%; and "Big," 100%. The percentage ratings of all of these reports on one picture are then added together, and divided by the number of reports, giving the average percentage—a figure which represents the consensus of opinion on that picture. In this way exceptional cases, reports which might be misleading taken alone and such individual differences of opinion are averaged up and eliminated.

No picture is included in the list which has not received at least ten reports.

Title of Picture	Reporting "Poor"	Reporting "Fair"	Reporting "Good"	Reporting "Big"	Percentage Value	Length
COLUMBIA PICTURES
Alias the Lone Wolf	—	1	12	—	73	5,831 Ft.
Blood Ship, The	—	—	15	4	76	6,843 Ft.
F B O
Border Whirlwind, The	—	1	8	1	70	4,862 Ft.
Bred in Old Kentucky	—	1	10	—	67	5,285 Ft.
Breed of the Sea	1	4	12	—	60	6,450 Ft.
Don Mike	—	2	15	3	70	5,723 Ft.
Her Father Said No	3	4	12	—	56	6,908 Ft.
Magic Garden, The	—	6	18	3	67	6,807 Ft.
Moon of Israel	—	1	9	2	73	6,680 Ft.
Mother	—	3	16	1	67	6,934 Ft.
Moulders of Men	2	6	13	—	57	6,442 Ft.
Red Hot Hoofs	—	3	8	—	62	4,681 Ft.
Regular Scout, A	2	—	15	5	72	5,601 Ft.
Rose of the Tenements	5	2	8	—	49	6,678 Ft.
Silver Comes Thru	—	—	8	2	76	5,457 Ft.
Tarzan and the Golden Lion	1	4	15	1	63	5,807 Ft.
Tom and His Pals	—	3	9	1	65	4,346 Ft.
FIRST NATIONAL
Affair of the Follies, An	—	5	27	4	69	6,433 Ft.
All Aboard	2	6	8	—	52	6,300 Ft.
Babe Comes Home	—	4	10	—	61	5,761 Ft.
Blonde Saint, The	1	5	16	1	62	6,800 Ft.
Broadway Nights	—	5	11	1	63	6,765 Ft.
Camille	—	—	21	14	82	9,692 Ft.
Convoy	—	3	15	1	67	7,724 Ft.
Dance Magic	1	3	6	—	56	6,588 Ft.
Drop Kick, The	—	—	11	2	75	6,802 Ft.
Easy Pickings	2	5	11	—	56	5,400 Ft.
For the Love of Mike	—	6	10	—	59	6,588 Ft.
Framed	—	3	16	2	66	5,282 Ft.
Hard-Boiled Haggerty	—	3	20	—	62	7,446 Ft.
High Hat	3	3	7	—	52	6,190 Ft.
Just Another Blonde	1	3	18	—	64	5,603 Ft.
Ladies at Play	—	6	16	2	65	6,119 Ft.
Lady in Ermine	3	9	19	—	56	6,400 Ft.
Life of Riley, The	—	2	11	2	70	6,720 Ft.
Lonesome Ladies	—	4	8	—	60	5,718 Ft.
Long Pants	1	3	17	—	63	5,550 Ft.
Lost at the Front	—	3	11	2	68	5,255 Ft.
Lunatic at Large, The	4	2	10	—	54	5,521 Ft.
Masked Woman, The	3	2	9	—	55	5,434 Ft.
McFadden's Flats	1	4	34	14	75	7,846 Ft.
Midnight Lovers	2	7	9	—	53	6,100 Ft.
Naughty but Nice	—	1	15	4	75	6,520 Ft.
Notorious Lady, The	1	4	9	2	63	6,040 Ft.
Orchids and Ermine	—	15	21	8	66	6,734 Ft.
Overland Stage, The	1	3	17	4	69	6,392 Ft.
Poor Nut, The	—	5	9	2	66	6,897 Ft.
Prince of Headwaiters, The	—	4	12	—	63	6,405 Ft.
Sea Tiger, The	1	3	24	3	68	5,606 Ft.
Silent Lover, The	—	11	14	1	58	6,500 Ft.
Smile, Brother, Smile	—	1	14	2	72	6,548 Ft.
Somewhere in Sonora	—	2	6	2	70	5,718 Ft.
Stepping Along	1	3	15	2	66	7,038 Ft.
Stolen Bride, The	—	1	18	2	71	7,179 Ft.
Tender Hour, The	—	5	13	3	67	7,400 Ft.
Three Hours	1	13	19	—	57	5,774 Ft.
Three's a Crowd	—	3	7	1	65	5,668 Ft.
Twinkletoes	—	3	26	3	70	7,833 Ft.
Unknown Cavalier, The	1	5	17	5	69	6,595 Ft.
Venus of Venice	1	12	13	2	58	6,324 Ft.
White Black Sheep, The	2	6	17	3	63	6,798 Ft.
White Pants Willie	1	4	7	—	56	6,409 Ft.
FOX
Ankles Preferred	1	5	18	2	65	5,498 Ft.
Auctioneer, The	—	6	14	3	66	5,686 Ft.
Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl	1	1	10	1	66	5,242 Ft.
Broncho Twister, The	—	3	15	2	69	5,435 Ft.
Canyon of Light	—	8	18	7	66	5,399 Ft.
Circus Ace ,The	—	3	13	1	67	4,810 Ft.
City, The	1	4	7	1	59	5,508 Ft.
Cradle Snatchers	—	3	14	2	68	6,281 Ft.
Desert Valley	—	1	12	1	70	4,731 Ft.
Is Zat So?	—	2	12	—	66	6,950 Ft.
Joy Girl, The	—	2	13	—	66	6,162 Ft.
Last Trail, The	1	6	15	3	64	5,190 Ft.
Love Makes 'Em Wild	1	5	10	—	58	5,508 Ft.
Loves of Carmen	—	1	8	3	75	8,538 Ft.
Monkey Talks, The	1	5	11	—	58	5,500 Ft.
Music Master, The	1	3	17	5	70	7,754 Ft.
One Increasing Purpose	2	4	7	1	56	7,677 Ft.
Outlaws of Red River	—	3	17	2	69	5,327 Ft.
Return of Peter Grimm, The	—	4	15	1	66	6,961 Ft.
Secret Studio, The	1	1	9	—	63	5,870 Ft.
Seventh Heaven	—	1	14	10	81	11,000 Ft.
Summer Bachelors	—	3	13	4	72	6,782 Ft.
Upstream	2	1	7	2	64	5,510 Ft.
War Horse, The	—	2	9	—	65	4,976 Ft.
What Price Glory	—	—	34	28	84	11,400 Ft.
Whispering Sage	—	2	9	1	68	4,783 Ft.
Wings of the Storm	—	5	11	1	53	5,244 Ft.
METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER
Adam and Evil	—	3	10	—	63	6,667 Ft.
After Midnight	—	3	23	3	70	6,312 Ft.
Altars of Desire	2	11	23	—	58	6,037 Ft.
Annie Laurie	—	2	12	2	70	8,730 Ft.
Bardelys the Magnificent	—	1	18	7	77	8,536 Ft.
Ben Hur	—	—	11	9	84	12,000 Ft.
Big Parade, The	—	—	16	20	87	12,550 Ft.
Callahans and the Murphys, The	—	1	21	7	76	6,126 Ft.
Captain Salvation	—	7	21	1	64	7,395 Ft.
Demi-Bride, The	—	6	23	8	72	6,886 Ft.
Deserts' Toll	—	5	15	—	63	5,376 Ft.
Exit Smiling	9	5	4	—	37	6,461 Ft.
Faust	4	7	19	3	60	8,110 Ft.
Fire Brigade	1	7	32	11	71	8,716 Ft.
Flaming Forest, The	1	5	32	4	68	6,567 Ft.
Flesh and the Devil, The	—	5	37	16	76	8,759 Ft.
Frisco Sally Levy	—	5	16	1	64	6,900 Ft.
Heaven on Earth	—	5	17	—	63	6,301 Ft.
Johnny, Get Your Hair Cut	—	7	24	7	70	6,781 Ft.
Little Journey, The	1	7	17	—	60	6,088 Ft.
Lovers	1	5	20	3	66	5,291 Ft.
Mr. Wu	—	3	40	9	73	7,603 Ft.
Mockery	2	3	20	2	65	5,957 Ft.

Title of Picture	Reporting "Poor"	Reporting "Fair"	Reporting "Good"	Reporting "Big"	Percentage Value	Length
Red Mill, The	5	7	27	4	62	6,337 Ft.
Road to Romance, The	—	1	10	—	67	6,544 Ft.
Rookies	—	4	28	14	77	6,640 Ft.
Scarlet Letter, The	—	7	23	8	71	8,229 Ft.
Show, The	1	6	24	5	68	6,308 Ft.
Slide, Kelly, Slide	—	5	39	32	78	7,865 Ft.
Spring Fever	—	1	8	1	70	6,507 Ft.
Taxi Dancer, The	—	13	15	1	58	6,289 Ft.
Tell it to the Marines	—	1	35	28	83	8,800 Ft.
There You Are	—	7	17	—	61	5,652 Ft.
Tillie the Toiler	1	7	22	5	67	6,160 Ft.
Tin Hats	1	6	35	8	70	6,598 Ft.
Twelve Miles Out	—	2	25	7	73	7,899 Ft.
Understanding Heart, The	—	7	20	2	65	6,657 Ft.
Unknown, The	—	2	17	8	74	5,517 Ft.
Upstage	—	9	15	3	63	6,048 Ft.
Valencia	5	6	23	2	60	5,580 Ft.
Valley of Hell, The	2	4	7	1	56	4,070 Ft.
Winners of the Wilderness	—	2	13	2	70	6,343 Ft.
PARAMOUNT
Afraid to Love	3	8	15	2	58	6,169 Ft.
Arizona Bound	1	4	8	—	57	4,912 Ft.
Barbed Wire	—	—	18	3	74	6,951 Ft.
Beau Geste	1	—	16	9	78	9,879 Ft.
Blind Alleys	1	7	15	2	62	5,597 Ft.
Blonde or Brunette	1	4	22	1	65	5,872 Ft.
Cabaret	—	6	23	5	69	6,947 Ft.
Campus Flirt, The	—	2	24	13	78	6,702 Ft.
Canadian, The	3	9	20	—	57	7,753 Ft.
Casey at the Bat	3	15	42	8	65	6,040 Ft.
Cat's Pajamas	—	3	19	5	72	5,863 Ft.
Chang	—	3	19	9	76	6,536 Ft.
Children of Divorce	1	6	27	10	72	6,662 Ft.
Drums of the Desert	—	4	15	3	69	5,987 Ft.
Evening Clothes	2	8	22	1	61	6,287 Ft.
Everybody's Acting	1	6	15	4	66	6,139 Ft.
Fashions for Women	5	8	17	3	58	6,296 Ft.
Firemen, Save My Child	—	3	22	5	72	5,399 Ft.
Gentleman of Paris, A	—	1	8	2	73	5,927 Ft.
Great Gatsby, The	5	7	11	1	52	7,296 Ft.
Hotel Imperial	2	9	19	1	59	7,091 Ft.
Hula	—	—	20	8	79	5,862 Ft.
It	—	—	26	26	85	6,452 Ft.
Kid Brother, The	5	3	44	9	69	7,654 Ft.
Kiss in the Dark, A	3	11	23	3	60	6,439 Ft.
Knockout Reilly	—	3	34	7	73	7,080 Ft.
Lady of the Harem	2	6	13	—	57	5,717 Ft.
Let it Rain	1	10	21	6	66	6,052 Ft.
London	3	5	9	—	52	5,584 Ft.
Love 'Em and Leave 'Em	2	9	12	1	56	6,075 Ft.
Love's Greatest Mistake	—	12	16	—	57	6,007 Ft.
Madame Pompadour	—	3	13	—	64	7,180 Ft.
Man of the Forest	—	4	27	5	71	5,187 Ft.
Man Power	—	3	23	5	72	5,617 Ft.
Metropolis	1	4	9	6	71	10,400 Ft.
Mysterious Rider, The	—	5	22	2	67	5,957 Ft.
Nevada	—		15	1	72	6,258 Ft.
New York	1	4	22		64	6,877 Ft.
Old Ironsides	1	4	8	1	60	10,089 Ft.
Paradise for Two	—	4	25	—	66	6,187 Ft.
Popular Sin, The	2	3	19	—	62	6,244 Ft.
Potters, The	—	4	24	1	67	6,680 Ft.
Quicksands	1	5	6	1	57	4,593 Ft.
Ritzy	—	6	22	—	64	5,306 Ft.
Rolled Stockings	—	2	15	1	69	6,249 Ft.
Rough House Rosie	—	1	23	8	77	5,952 Ft.
Rough Riders, The	2	2	19	—	63	12,071 Ft.
Running Wild	2	3	15	2	64	6,368 Ft.
Senorita	—	4	16	6	72	6,634 Ft.
Service for Ladies	—	6	14	6	70	6,170 Ft.
Shanghai Bound	—	—	14	5	78	5,515 Ft.
Soft Cushions	—	3	11	1	66	7,000 Ft.
Sorrows of Satan, The	5	10	15	3	56	8,691 Ft.
Special Delivery	2	6	21	2	63	5,524 Ft.
Stranded in Paris	—	1	28	2	71	6,106 Ft.
Swim, Girl, Swim	—	—	21	1	71	6,124 Ft.
Telephone Girl, The	2	6	22	1	62	5,455 Ft.
Ten Modern Commandments	—	3	15	3	70	6,497 Ft.
Time to Love	—	6	7	—	56	4,926 Ft.
Tip-Toes	2	3	6	—	53	6,390 Ft.
Underworld	—	2	10	4	74	7,643 Ft.
Way of All Flesh, The	—	—	16	12	83	8,486 Ft.
Wedding Bills	2	6	17	—	59	5,869 Ft.
We're All Gamblers	—	9	15	1	60	5,935 Ft.
We're in the Navy Now	—	2	24	20	82	5,519 Ft.
Whirlwind of Youth, The	1	6	14	2	63	5,886 Ft.
World at Her Feet, The	2	8	10	—	53	5,691 Ft.
PATHE-DE MILLE
Corporal Kate	—	3	8	4	70	7,460 Ft.
Country Doctor, The	—	—	8	2	76	7,500 Ft.
Fighting Eagle, The	—	—	11	1	73	8,000 Ft.
Fighting Love	1	—	14	1	68	7,017 Ft.
For Wives Only	—	4	8	1	63	[illegible] Ft.
Getting Gertie's Garter	—	4	13	2	67	[illegible] Ft.
Jim the Conqueror	—	3	9	1	65	[illegible] Ft.
Man Bait	—	2	10	1	68	[illegible] Ft.
Nervous Wreck, The	3	7	11	2	67	[illegible] Ft.
Night Bride, The	—	2	9	1	68	[illegible] Ft.
Nobody's Widow	1	2	8	—	60	6,421 Ft.
Pals in Paradise	—	2	10	—	65	6,695 Ft.
Rubber Tires	2	3	7	—	54	6,303 Ft.
Vanity	—	3	8	—	62	5,923 Ft.
White Gold	1	6	8	—	55	6,198 Ft.
Yankee Clipper, The	—	2	21	2	70	7,920 Ft.
TIFFANY PROD.
College Days	—	1	8	2	73	[illegible] Ft.
UNITED ARTISTS
Beloved Rogue, The	1	1	22	10	77	9,380 Ft.
General, The	4	8	14	1	55	7,440 Ft.
Loves of Sunya, The	1	9	22	6	66	7,311 Ft.
Magic Flame, The	—	—	13	4	77	8,300 Ft.
Night of Love, The	—	5	32	12	74	7,600 Ft.
Resurrection	—	3	30	13	77	9,523 Ft.
Topsy and Eva	—	6	3	1	55	7,456 Ft.
Winning of Barbara Worth, The	—	5	25	11	74	8,560 Ft.
UNIVERSAL
Beware of Widows	1	3	7	—	57	5,670 Ft.
Buckaroo Kid, The	1	3	13	3	68	6,167 Ft.
Butterflies in the Rain	1	11	13	1	53	7,319 Ft.
Cat and the Canary, The	—	1	14	6	77	7,790 Ft.
Cheerful Fraud, The	3	5	15	3	62	6,968 Ft.
Denver Dude, The	—	4	13	3	69	5,292 Ft.
Down the Stretch	—	5	11	—	61	6,910 Ft.
Fast and Furious	—	—	10	3	77	5,684 Ft.
Fourth Commandment, The	1	5	19	1	63	6,863 Ft.
Held by the Law	2	4	18	—	61	6,929 Ft.
Her Big Night	—	3	13	3	70	7,603 Ft.
Hey-Hey, Cowboy	—	2	9	—	65	5,378 Ft.
Hidden Loot	2	5	6	—	51	4,375 Ft.
Ice Flood, The	—	3	21	—	66	[illegible] Ft.
Lazy Lightning	4	2	4	—	44	4,572 Ft.
Love Thrill, The	—	6	10	—	59	6,038 Ft.
Michael Strogoff	—	5	20	5	70	9,315 Ft.
Midnight Sun, The	—	10	27	3	65	8,767 Ft.
Mystery Club, The	1	7	4	1	52	6,969 Ft.
Oh Baby	1	6	11	1	59	7,152 Ft.
Out All Night	1	1	7	1	65	6,170 Ft.
Painting the Town	—	—	12	1	72	5,909 Ft.
Perch of the Devil	—	9	5	—	51	6,807 Ft.
Prisoners of the Storm	1	6	15	2	63	6,102 Ft.
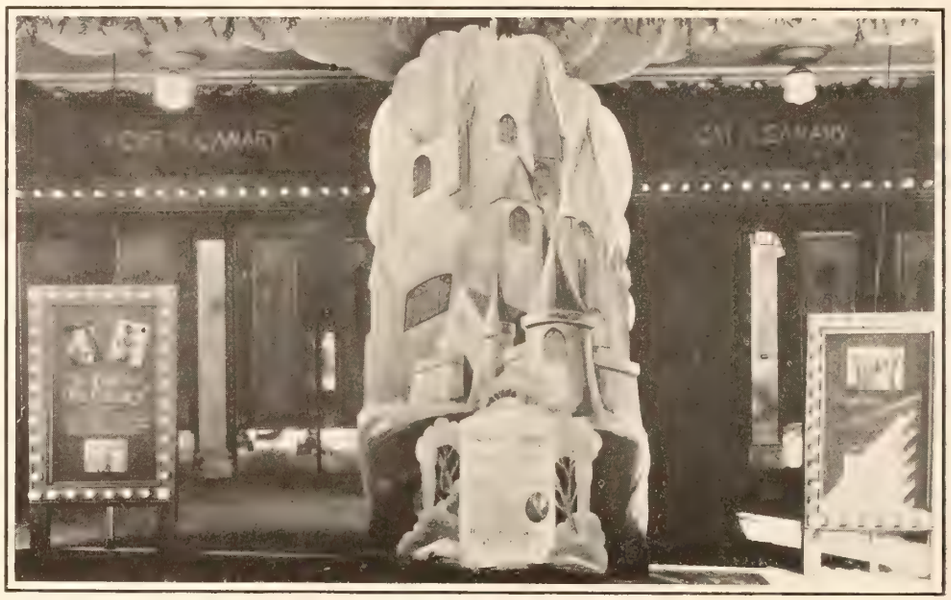
Sensation Seekers, The	—	3	12	1	66	7,015 Ft.
Silent Rider, The	—	—	13	2	74	5,879 Ft.
Taxi, Taxi	1	4	12	1	62	7,173 Ft.
Whole Town's Talking, The	—	6	16	—	62	6,662 Ft.
Wrong Mr. Wright, The	2	4	7	—	53	6,459 Ft.
WARNER BROS.
Better 'Ole	—	4	20	13	77	9,481 Ft.
Bitter Apples	—	1	9	1	70	5,463 Ft.
Black Diamond Express, The	—	3	8	—	62	5,803 Ft.
Brute, The	1	4	10	1	61	6,901 Ft.
Bush Leaguer, The	—	1	10	—	67	6,281 Ft.
Climbers, The	—	6	5	—	54	6,621 Ft.
Dearie	—	2	10	—	65	5,897 Ft.
Don Juan	—	2	22	10	77	10,018 Ft.
Don't Tell the Wife	—	3	7	—	61	6,972 Ft.
Finger Prints	1	4	11	—	59	7,031 Ft.
Heart of Maryland	—	2	21	—	67	5,868 Ft.
Hills of Kentucky	—	2	20	1	69	[illegible] Ft.
Matinee Ladies	—	3	8	—	62	6,352 Ft.
Millionaires	—	3	10	—	63	6,903 Ft.
Million Bid, A	—	3	9	—	61	6,310 Ft.
Missing Link, The	—	1	13	3	74	[illegible] Ft.
Old San Francisco	—	—	12	1	70	7,961 Ft.
Third Degree, The	—	2	22	3	71	7,647 Ft.
Tracked by the Police	—	1	13	—	66	5,823 Ft.
When a Man Loves	—	1	14	—	71	10,049 Ft.
While London Sleeps	1	—	9	1	61	5,810 Ft.

Exhibitors Service Bureau

Showmanship

Briefs

AN identification contest applied to photos of Norma Talmadge and her leading men in various of her starring photoplays proved highly successful as exploitation for "Camille" at the Hippodrome in Youngstown, O. The contest was conducted by Manager Miller of the Hippodrome in conjunction with the Youngstown Telegram which published a set of seven stills and offered readers passes as prizes for correct identification of the character portraits.



J. T. HUSSEY, manager of the Strand theatre in Tampa, obtained a profitable publicity tie-up for "Metropolis" recently, when he interested a local radio dealer to install a receiving set in the lobby of the Strand with a display card alongside bearing the following copy: "Twenty years ago entertainment over the radio was only a dream just like Metropolis is today. Will this dream also come true? Metropolis is now showing."

ROSS A. WIEGAND, assistant manager at the Rialto in Denver, displayed rubber life rafts in the lobby as an attractor for the showing of "Swim, Girl, Swim." The rafts were of a similar type to that used by transoceanic flyers, a fact stressed in the billing for the display, which read: "This raft is identical with the fliers' rafts and perhaps Bebe Daniels would have had better success with her first channel swim if she had used this raft. See Bebe Daniels swim in Swim, Girl, Swim."

MANAGER E. E. WHITAKER of the Imperial in Charlotte, got himself in solid with high school students when he induced the principal of the school to give two credits to every student who saw "Ben Hur." An interesting feature of a lobby display which he used for this screen spectacle, was a chart listing the big events of the film and the approximate time these events would be shown. The chart was shown on a beaverboard cutout picturing some of the most elaborate scenes in "Ben Hur."

THE BUTTE MINER and the Rialto theatre, Butte, Mont., cooperated on an amateur photo contest which stimulated unusual interest in "Smile, Brother, Smile." The contest also enlisted the aid of a local photograph shop, which offered an Eastman Kodak as first prize. The event was open to all amateur photographers; the only rules were that the photographer snap a real honest-to-goodness smile, whether of baby, child, grown up, dog or horse. Prints sent to the contest editor were published in the Butte Miner.

THE "what's wrong with this picture" stunt was used an an advertisement for the showing of "A Gentleman of Paris" at the Majestic theatre, Austin, Tex. Manager T. Wilson Irwin ran two such contests on two consecutive days. A cut of Menjou which showed him without a hat was the first, and the second, which asked "What's right with this picture?" showed the star wearing his familiar topper. 76 answers were turned in but none of them was correct; however, passes were given to those who in the minds of the judges submitted the nearest correct answer.

An unusual lobby display featuring "The Cat and the Canary," designed by Manager Robert Bender of the Columbia theatre, Seattle. The house of mystery is a reproduction of the opening scene of the Universal photoplay.

Matinee Bridge Parties Used to Build Afternoon Receipts

MATINEE-BRIDGE parties as a means of increasing the afternoon crowds—which in most Central Pennsylvania theatres are seldom up to the capacity of the houses—have been introduced at the new Embassy theatre, opened in Lewistown, Pa., the middle of October, by H. J. Cohen and his son, Harold, owner and manager of the theatre, respectively.

The idea, which is held to be brand new, at least in the Eastern part of the country, is simply the adaptation of the mezzanine floor to the accommodation of bridge whist players following the daily afternoon picture shows which end at 4 o'clock. From then until 6 o'clock, when the night shows start, ladies who desire to play bridge have the free use of card tables which the management has provided and which are placed in the mezzanine floor where there is room for six tables. This accommodates twenty-four players at a time.

The idea the management had in mind when introducing this novelty was to encourage women to arrange matinee-bridge parties, first attending the afternoon show and then playing cards for the remaining two hours just prior to the evening meal.

Already this form of diversion is becoming quite the vogue in Lewistown. The management simply requires the players to apply in advance for the privilege of the card tables. A record of applications is kept at the box office, and the ladies are accommodated in the order of their applications.

A polite attendant is always on hand to see to the comfort of the ladies. The mezzanine is especially well adapted for the purpose. The floor is heavily and beautifully carpeted, the walls are hung in tapestries and the windows draped in silks and velours. There are beautiful lighting fixtures.

There are two means of reaching the floor. These are wide stairways from the main auditorium. Several alcoves are furnished with mohair davenports. The matinee-bridges are held every afternoon except Saturdays and Sundays.

Screen and Local Grid Star Tied Up in Herald

Manager E. R. Rogers made his appeal to football enthusiasts to put over Richard Barthelmess in "The Drop Kick" at the Tivoli Theatre, Chattanooga, Tenn.

The captain of the local university team is an excellent drop kicker, so a space on the heralds read, "The All-American Screen Star does a 'Lautzenheiser'." Of course 'Lautzenheiser' being the name of the captain.

These heralds were distributed at the college football game one week in advance.

Western Equipm't Feature of "Hey Cowboy" Lobby

A lobby display consisting of a large collection of cowboy equipment attracted much attention to the lobby of the Rialto theatre, Chattanooga, during the showing there of "Hey, Hey Cowboy." The display included old time revolvers, spurs, boots, lariat, sombrero and a real western saddle. The paraphernalia was borrowed by Manager W. F. Brock from a local man, recently returned from the west. Centered in the display was a large poster cutout of Hoot Gibson.

Key City Reports

New York City

WITH a few exceptions New York theatres turned in a fairly glittering array of box office receipts last week and it appears that an unusual amount of advertising space plus publicity in the local newspapers may have had a great deal to do with the situation. There are two Marion Davies pictures in town at present and the Hearst papers are lending considerable aid; also with new presentation policies in effect at the Capitol and Strand, both of these theatres are taking plenty of advertising space.

The Capitol, with "The Fair Co-Ed" and its vaudeville head-liners, had an excellent week and the Strand, an average one, with First National's "Crystal Cup" and Waring's Pennsylvanians. The Strand took good sized space in its announcement of next week's appearance of Nathaniel Shilkret and his Victor Orchestra, "greatly augmented." The Paramount also did fine with "Two Arabian Knights," and profiting from their experience with "Underworld," will make a further try with a Rivoli engagement. For the first time, possibly since it opened, the Roxy fell off a bit with "The High School Hero" and the title was probably responsible for the drop. Warners is still going a fast pace with "The Jazz Singer," New York's Jewish trade greatly helping, and the Central has let "Les Miserables" out in order to make room for Uncle Carl's Uncle Tom show. "Firemen Save My Child" finished at the Rivoli and did satisfactory business during its run. The other Publix theatres, the Rialto and Criterion, did well with "Jesse James" and "Wings," the latter still holding up in great shape. The Colony had a big week with "Back To God's Country," from the Curwood story.

Detroit

PICTURE business here showed a slight slump during the past week due to poor industrial conditions. Considering the lack of employment, managers and owners here believe they are getting along extremely well. The census of attendance, on the whole, is not nearly so bad as might be expected. However, theatres are not being planned in huge numbers and exhibitors have been watching their interests carefully.

In the Adams, Emil Jannings' "Way of All Flesh" with an excellent inaugural week flopped badly during the early part of the second week. The same held true over at the Madison where Marion Davies was featured in "The Fair Co-ed." Each will be replaced.

The combination houses did nicely, Patsy Ruth Miller bringing good money into the Oriental on "Once and Forever," augmented by Pantages' vaudeville. At the Temple and Uptown, Keith houses, "Singed" drew nicely and Loew's State was packed during the showing of "Body and Soul."

"Rose of the Golden West" and a stage band presentation clicked strong throughout the week, while Buster Keaton in person and on the screen in "College" at the Capitol topped them all, registering extremely heavy receipts. For the Colonial, Ben and Lou Cohen chose "Broadway After Midnight," which averaged better than ordinary.

Minneapolis

BUSINESS started to pick up in Minneapolis theatres immediately after it was announced in the papers that the strike had been settled, the pickets withdrawn, and the stage hands, operators and musicians had returned to their posts.

The State staged a "Homecoming week" in celebration of the Minnesota-Iowa football game, put on a good program, and pulled in the crowds. Ramon Novarro in "The Road to Romance" was the film attraction, and there was a big stage act titled "a Syncopated Fiesta" with 35 persons in the cast. Emil Jannings held up nicely at the Garrick for a second week. At the Strand "Metropolis" proved a good attraction, and Zane Grey's "Nevada" showed to sizeable houses at the Lyric. Pantages featured Ted McNamara and Sammy Cohen in "The Gay Retreat" and found that it pleased the crowds immensely. The Hennepin-Orpheum showed Dolores Costello in "A Million Bid" with good results. Neighboring houses found business improving. "Hula," "Beau Geste," "Passion" were some of the attractions at the Lagoon, Rialto, Lyndale and Loring.

Cleveland

LAST week was a pretty average week at all of the downtown first run houses. A few spots here and there shone a little brighter than the others, but on the whole it was a moderately good week, from the box office angle, with nothing startling to make the exhibitors exult.

"The Magic Flame" was well attended during its second week at the Stillman, having received favorable criticism on all sides. "The Rough Riders" brought its second week at the Cameo to a close with average business, although it had been enthusiastically praised and extensively exploited. "The Fair Co-Ed," an interesting college-type picture, was moderately successful at the Allen, where it was surrounded by an unusually artistic program of vaudeville acts and special music. "Barbed Wire" made a very good showing at the State, where it was well liked and well reviewed. "One Woman to Another" piled up better than average receipts at Keith's Palace last week. "Alias the Deacon" made a fair showing for itself at Keith's East 105th St. theatre. Reade's Hippodrome had fair results with "The Isle of Forgotten Women," while "The Way of All Flesh" did satisfactory business during its first suburban engagement at the Park. The Little Theatre of the Movies did pretty well with a revival of "The Last Laugh."

Legitimate theatre competition was not particularly strong. "Abie's Irish Rose" played its 8th week at the Colonial. The Marx Bros. appeared for a second local engagement at the Ohio in "The Cocoanuts." The Hanna featured "Artists and Models" in a new revue with Ted Lewis as the headliner. The Alhambra offered stock dramatics and the burlesque houses had their usual musical attractions.

Suburban houses are unanimous in their statement that suburban business continues below normal.

Philadelphia

WITH a good break in the weather all Philadelphia theatres played to good houses last week.

The Stanley with Ramon Novarro in "The Road to Romance," on the stage augmented by Al Wohlman as master of ceremonies in a Syncopation Frolic, featuring Howard Lanin's orchestra, the Stanleys, and Dillingham's Eight Tiller Cocktails, had a very good week. "The Big Parade" still draws capacity houses at the Stanton. "The Crystal Cup" at the Karlton with Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall in the leading roles, had a good week. "The Rough Riders" at the Arcadia has held up exceptionally well. The picture is one of the few to remain at that house for more than one week.

Norma Talmadge in "Camille" had a fair week at the Palace. "Beau Geste," put into the Victoria, usually a melodramatic and action picture house, did well but was not such a good drawing card as some other pictures shown there recently. Ken Maynard in "The Red Raiders" with the restored Dempsey-Tunney light pictures, had a big week at the Globe. The Fox with "East Side, West Side" got along nicely. The picture was augmented by Karyl Norman, the "Creole Fashion Plate," Beatrice Belkin, coloratura soprano, and the Keller Sisters and Frank Lynch, former stars of Dillingham's "Lucky."

Los Angeles

"THE BLOOD SHIP" was a big attraction at the Metropolitan, where it showed for only one week. The box office receipts were splendid for each performance. "Othello," the German Picture with Emil Jannings, is causing great interest at the Broadway Palace. At the Boulevard, "The Desired Woman," starring Irene Rich, attracted an average attendance. "The Winning Five," one of the Collegian film series, was immensely popular with the regular Boulevard patrons.

"The Loves of Carmen" held up well enough in its third week at Carthay Circle. At the Criterion, "The Cat and the Canary" played to splendid business. "The King of Kings" is in its final week of showing at Grauman's Chinese Theatre. The picture has proven a decided success in its long run. At the Million Dollar, "Two Arabian Knights" is doing splendid work at the box office, and is winning very favorable comment as a good comedy.

The vaudeville houses the past week were very popular. "The Angel of Broadway" played at the Hillstreet, "East Side, West Side," at Pantages and "The Joy Girl," at the Forum.

San Francisco

ANOTHER good week was, generally, witnessed by the several first run motion picture houses last week in San Francisco.

"The Magic Flame" played its second and last week at the California Theatre. It proved to be as popular the second week as the first and many are surprised it was not shown longer.

"Spring Fever," a golf comedy, together with the stage presentations, attracted many to Loew's Warfield Theatre. "Alias The Lone Wolf," shown at the Granada Theatre, was not as popular as expected because it was a detective tale. However, the theatre did well, many being attracted by the stage act and Jenk's attractive and amusing orchestra acts.

"Hard-Boiled Haggerty," did fairly well at the St. Francis Theatre. "Finnegan's Ball" did fairly well at the Rivoli Theatre, playing but two weeks, many thinking it would play a good [illegible]. The Union Square theatre did very well with "Poor Girls," "Good Scouts" and its five acts of vaudeville.

"For The Love of Mike," together with [illegible]

Fables and the acts of high class vaudeville, crowded the Golden Gate Theatre.

The Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures crowded the Cameo Theatre, and were shown at that play house as soon as the decision from New York arrived here stating the pictures could be shown; the only thing not allowed was the transportation.

The residential theatres also reported good business, the Wigwam Theatre in the Mission district attracting big crowds with the Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures. "Topsy and Eva" attracted many to the Coliseum Theatre and "Resurrection" attracted many to the Alexandria Theatre.

Seattle

WITH only average motion pictures to attract local audiences, none of the first run houses did anything unusual in the way of gross business last week. The Fifth Avenue Theatre, consistent leader, remained at the top of the list with "Shanghai Bound" and did a very pleasing business, in spite of the fact that the picture was "razzed" by the critics. A Fanchon-Marco stage show called "Seasons Idea" was excellent, and Marmie King, new master of ceremonies, put across his end of the show in pleasing style. Gross for the week ran about $16,000.

At the United Artists Theatre, "The Big Parade" finished its two week engagement with a steady business that continued up to the final showing. The second week did not come near reaching the $15,000 gross of the first week, but was still quite satisfactory, being as large as the average one-week picture receipts. The Columbia Theatre, with "Silk Stockings," played to its usual pleasing business, dropping slightly below the "Metropolis" figures of the week before. Manager Bender put across some good tie-ups and exploitation stunts that helped business considerably.

At the Blue Mouse, "The First Auto" played to the usual good houses that are attracted to this Hamrick's house each week. The picture itself did not come in for any great share of audience praise, but a strong Vitaphone bill headed by a new act from Willie and Eugene Howard was a big money getter. Total business for the week was very good. "Publicity Madness' at Pantages was an average program picture that was strong enough for average audience attendance, in conjunction with a fairly good vaudeville program. At the Orpheum, "The Country Doctor" was used with six acts of vaudeville, but failed to hold many patrons. "It's a good picture if you like it," seemed to be the consensus of opinion. Business at this house was very good.

The Embassy Theatre has just changed to a two-a-week change policy and has abandoned the stage presentations, with prices of 15 cents for matinees and 25 cents at night. Other changes at first run houses are also predicted, due to business that is not as good as it should be at this time of year.

Central Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG fell hard for "The Rough Riders," featured all week at the Colonial. This play, depicting the strenuous life of Theodore Roosevelt, has an especially strong appeal for men who constituted by far the greater part of the audiences. Big crowds attended every performance and at some of the night shows there were not sufficient empty seats available.

At the Colonial fairly good business was done by "American Beauty," a sprightly comedy featuring Billie Dove, who is readily gaining great favor in Harrisburg.

Very favorable comment was heard about the Marion Davies picture, "The Fair Co-Ed," which had the leading place on the bill at Loew's Regent all the week, and the pleasant impression made by this attraction was reflected in gratifying box office returns.

The main screen attraction at the State the last half of the week was Ricardo Cortez in "By Whose Hand?", which was augmented by a good vaudeville bill. Buffalo Bill, Jr., in "Trumpin' Trouble," had a strong juvenile appeal at the Rialto, while the Broad did satisfactory business with "Nomads of the North," featuring Lon Chaney, Betty Blythe and Lewis Stone. The Royal presented "Tin Gods," with Thomas Meighan, who still has a big Harrisburg following. "The Kid Brother," with Harold Lloyd and Jobyna Ralston, had a successful revival at the Grand. Weather conditions throughout the week were splendid.

Salt Lake City

IN spite of unusually good weather conditions theatre reports at the down town first-run houses were above the average this past week.

The return engagement of "Ben Hur" surpassed the run of "The Big Parade," which had previously broken all records at the Pantages Theatre, it is announced. "The Loves of Carmen," with Dolores Del Rio and Victor McLaglen, was the feature at the Capitol, where very good business was enjoyed. Fanchon and Marco's stage presentation, "Hi Lights," was also a big drawing card at this house.

Bert Lytell and Lois Wilson in "Alias the Lone Wolf" brought in unusually good results at the Victory Theatre, which also offers Ackerman Harris vaudeville. The Paramount Empress did an exceptionally good business during the showing of the United Artists production "Two Arabian Knights," featuring William Boyd, Louis Wolheim and Mary Astor. A stage attraction was also offered here, billed as "Musical Gems," and was very well received. Billie Dove in "The Tender Hour," together with the special musical offering of the "Royal Welsh Gleemen" at the American, drew very good crowds to this theatre. The comedy-drama, "A Wise Wife," starring Phyllis Haver, was well received at the Gem Theatre, and drew the average good crowds to this popular theatre. The second showing of Gloria Swanson in "The Love of Sunya" at the Rialto Theatre proved to be a very good attraction at this time. The roadshow production of the Paramount picture "Old Ironsides" has played to large crowds throughout the week at the Salt Lake Theatre.

Birmingham

BUSINESS was fair in Birmingham the past week with a rather "spotty" condition prevailing, respecting box-office business. "Camille" at the Strand led the parade, with a tremendous business which was brought about by a happy combination of Norma Talmadge's local popularity and an excellent campaign. The Ritz, with Keith vaudeville, and Fox' "The Joy Girl," with Olive Borden, had very good business, as did Loew's Temple, with "Spring Fever," with William Haines.

"White Gold" playing the Empire is reported to have had fair attendance, and also "Life of Riley" playing the Trianon. "Kid Boots" Ziegfeld's road show, playing the Jefferson, had a fair week, on three day stand. The average generally was fair. Excellent weather prevailed.

Baltimore

TWO theatres in Baltimore, Loew's Century and Keith's Hippodrome, were on the crest of the wave for good business during the week beginning Monday, October 24, but several of the others made a very poor showing.

Backed up by a tremendous campaign of advertising and publicity in Hearst's American and News here, "The Fair Co-Ed," featuring Marion Davies, was put over with tremendous business throughout the week at Loew's Century, the crowds gaining in volume as the week went on. Next in line with excellent crowds was Keith's Hippodrome with "The Blood Ship," featuring Hobart Bosworth and Jacqueline Logan. On the bill also were five acts of family vaudeville.

Then came Loew's Valencia with the second week for "Beau Geste," which held up very good. "The Thirteenth Juror," with the former Baltimorean Francis X. Bushman and Anna Q. Nilsson, featured, played to only fair patronage with Roscoe Ails and Katie Pullman and their revue on the same bill. "The Life of Riley" co-featuring Sidney and Murray did not do so well at the 4,000 seater Stanley with a singer and saxophone octette on the same bill. "Madame Pompadour" with Dorothy Gish and Antonio Moreno only proved a fair puller at the Rivoli with Melva Moore and three girl violinists.

A fair business was done by "Nevada," featuring Gary Cooper at Whitehurst's Garden with five acts of vaudeville. But "Sailor Izzy Murphy," starring George Jessel, as the feature film attraction at Warners' Metropolitan, with Vitaphone presentations, also proved a very poor attraction at that house. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the play was highly overdone.

Atlanta

ATLANTA theatres this week were interrupted from a remarkable business with the seizure of the Dempsey-Tunney fight films by federal authorities from the Howard and Rialto Theatres on Tuesday afternoon. Keen regret was displayed by patrons when the court ruled not to interfere with the seizure.

The Howard offered a Fall fashion show, cooperating with one of the leading merchandise stores. Being of local interest, it helped the theatre attendance. Esther Ralston in "Figures Don't Lie" played on the screen. Loew's Grand held the record box-office with Marion Davies in "The Fair Co-Ed," plus an unusually good vaudeville bill. Keith's Georgia had a very good week with "Smile, Brother, Smile," a Dorothy Mackail and Jack Mulhall team production. This picture was well liked.

Constance Talmadge in "Breakfast at Sunrise," was popular, drawing about an average week for the Metropolitan and some good reviews from local critics. The Capitol with Anna Q. Nilsson and Francis X. Bushman in "The Thirteenth Juror" pulled up to only a fair week, although the picture was praised by the theatre critics. The Rialto suffered considerably by the seizure of the fight films and played to an exceedingly poor house. "The Coward" with Warner Baxter was the picture. "Desert's Toll" and "Winners of the Wilderness' brought a usual attendance to the Tudor. The New Alamo showed only one first run, "The Masked Woman," but enjoyed a very good week.

Albany

THERE was no question in Albany, Troy and Schenectady theatres during the past, week as to first honors when it came to attendance records. The Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures simply swept all other attractions aside, apparently appealing nearly as much to women as to men, and resulting in long lines in front of the box offices at all theatres showing these pictures. The fight films cashed in heavily in all three cities, and may possibly have established new attendance records. There was no let up in the crowds from the time the box office opened at noon until far into the evening. The theatres were as crowded at four o'clock in the afternoon as they were at eight at night.

In Albany, Proctor's Grand coupled the fight pictures with vaudeville, and did the same in Troy, playing to immense throngs. The Mark Strand in Albany, showing "Chang," did a very satisfactory business throughout the week, although the ground work for this was laid weeks in advance through various contests and likewise in attracting the attention of thousands of school teachers attending a state convention in Albany. "Chang" also had the advantage of being warmly praised by the newspaper critics. While the management of the house had rather anticipated just ordinary business, the picture itself proved that it could draw, despite the fact that it had none of the well known stars.

At the Clinton Square theatre in Albany, "The Beauty Shoppers" did not pull, despite the fact that a former Albany boy, Ward Crane, was playing one of the leads. At the Leland, Norma Shearer in "After Midnight" again demonstrated her drawing power, and the business was of the sort that made C. H. Buckley, owner of the house, smile broadly. The Mark Ritz with "Jesse James" did only fair. The weather was ideal throughout the week, the evenings cool and crisp, and this stimulated business. In Troy, Clara Bow in "Hula," at the Troy Theatre, played fine business, due to the fact that the star is a prime favorite in the collar city. At the Lincoln, "What Price Glory" in its second week, continued good business, and that in a city where a week's run has always been regarded as the absolute limit.

In Schenectady, "What Price Glory" also carried off the honors with the exception of the Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures. Seemingly, the Farley interests made a mistake in bringing "The Big Parade" back for a week at the Strand, following a week a short time ago at the State theatre, for on its second appearance it did not hold up any too well, no doubt due to the fact that on its first week it had played to just about one-half the population of the city.

Milwaukee

BUSINESS in the down town theatres was only average this week. The weather warmed up considerably and for a few days early in the week it was almost hot. We have now had samples of various kinds of weather, and none has had any appreciable effect on business in the theatres.

At the Wisconsin Richard Barthelmess drew a fair patronage to see "The Drop-Kick." "The College Widow" at the Orpheum was easily the best of the entire program and merited the good patronage it received. "The Magic Flame" at the Garden was well attended, and business was good. "The Way of All Flesh" at the Alhambra did not live up to the record set in the first week's showing. "The Big Parade" was very well attended at the Merrill. "One Woman to Another" at the Strand had slim houses for the most part throughout the week.

The reports from the neighborhood theatres this week are a bit more cheerful than those of the down town houses. "For the Love of Mike" was the feature at both the Uptown and Oriental, and at both theatres business was good. "Spring Fever" at the Tower, combined with the new policy of including three acts of vaudeville, helped to boost receipts here. "Alias the Lone Wolf" found fairly good houses at Milwaukee. "The Bush Leaguer" at the Venetian did moderately well.

New Orleans

BUSINESS took a decided spurt in practically all of the New Orleans downtown houses last week with the result that some of them established new records. Excellent show weather prevailed. All the theatres presented pictures of excellent merit.

Loew's State did the biggest business and Manager Rodney D. Toups credits this to the personal appearance on the stage of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, rotund screen comedian, in conjunction with "Shanghai Bound," starring Richard Dix. Packed houses greeted Arbuckle at every show during the week and the fat funster was given a warm welcome. But even if Arbuckle was not a part of the show "Shanghai Bound" was a good enough picture to draw 'em to the popular Canal street playhouse.

"Old San Francisco," with Dolores Costello, was the New Saenger attraction and, coupled with a N. Y. Publix stage show, did an excellent business. The picture was favorably reviewed by the critics. At the Saenger Strand, "The Big Parade," with John Gilbert, was held over for a second week and did a record business. This was the first time the picture was shown in New Orleans at popular prices. Although five acts of vaudeville were presented in conjunction, "The Loves of Carmen," with Dolores Del Rio and Victor McLaglen, was enough to draw crowds to the University Place theatre. The critics praised the picture to the skies and every performance found the house packed. Bebe Daniels in "Swim, Girl, Swim," was the Globe attraction, and although the film had its premiere elsewhere, still continued to attract theatre-goers.

"Don Juan" had its premiere at the New Saenger a few weeks ago but John Barrymore's popularity in this city drew the flappers to the Trianon in large numbers. No attendance records were shattered but the house did the biggest business in several weeks. "Irish Hearts," with May McAvoy, was an average drawing card at the Tudor theatre. "Figures Don't Lie" was the Liberty theatre attraction and proved a success and capacity houses were the rule.

Neighborhood theatres also reported an increase in business.

Oklahoma City

WITH strong competition in other attractions—"Countess Maritza," two nights, and Arthur Middleton, another night—Oklahoma City motion picture theatres held their own pretty well this week.

"Breakfast at Sunrise" was pronounced splendid comedy at the Empress, and brought back a great many of Constance Talmadge's admirers during its week's run.

"Shanghai Bound," did an average business at this theatre throughout the week in spite of the fact that the added attraction of the last two weeks, Leo Hamm's Orchestra, was not a part of the program. The Capitol had two successful comedies this week, the first half being "The College Widow," and the last part, "Spring Fever." Business good all seven days.

"The Fighting Eagle" with Rod La Rocque, and Goof Moyer's Orchestra kept business humming the entire week at the Liberty Theatre.

Tampa

AFTER a few chilly days last week the weather man booked a return date of "good old summer," which improved the attendance at all houses with some registering very good, some good and some average.

The Tampa had a satisfactory week, the first four days being very good with "Now We're in the Air" featured. The last half was average with "The Road to Romance."

The Victory is using "The Loves of Carmen" and a dancing specialty this week. The first two days registered very good, but the balance of the week was only average.

The Franklin advertised its regular bookings in the Sunday papers, but cancelled the whole works when they succeeded in getting a court order restraining the Federal authorities from interfering with their showing the "Dempsey-Tunney Fight." They put the films on shortly after noon Monday, and have been mopping up and will continue the showing through Sunday.

The Strand enjoyed its usual good business with "Body and Soul," "Spring Fever" and "The Prince of Headwaiters." The latter was used for three days; the other two for two days each.

SAMUEL ZIERLER
presents

PAT
O'MALLEY
GLADYS
HULETTE
ROSEMARY THEBY
in

A Bowery Cinderella

A Drama of Faith and Fashion

Excellent
PICTURES
CORPORATION

SAMUEL ZIERLER President
NEW · YORK

CLASSIFIED AD SECTION

RATES: 10 cents a word for each insertion, in advance except Employment Wanted, on which rate is 5 cents

Situation Wanted

THEATRE MANAGER desires change. Thoroughly experienced vaudeville, pictures, road shows. Young and a hustler. Can handle any proposition. Best references. Box 220, Motion Picture News, New York City.

ORGANIST, highly trained, twelve years experience, enormous library, intelligent cueing, thoroughly reliable, radio experience, references. State full particulars first letter. Organist, 810 East Huron, Ann Arbor, Mich.

ORGANISTS and SINGERS, thoroughly trained and experienced in theatre work. Men and women now ready for good positions. Union or nonunion. Write salary, and other data. Address, Chicago Musical College, 64 E. Van Buren, Chicago.

Help Wanted

SALESMEN WANTED—Real Opportunity. Want capable salesman acquainted with movie theatres trade. Man already employed preferred. Commission basis with drawing account. Also salesman travelling who can add good paying line. Box 225, Motion Picture News, New York City.

Wanted

WANTED—Used Posters, Photos, Slides, Banners, and Accessories of all kinds. Must be in good condition. Will allow liberal credit. Theatre Poster Supply Company and Sign Exchange, 327 E. Sixth Street, Cincinnati, O.

For Sale

FOR SALE: 1500 upholstered opera chairs; price $2.50 each. 1200 veneer chairs; price $1.50 each. Good serviceable condition. Can be seen on request. Box 425, Motion Picture News, New York City.

Ten 100-ampere Kliegl Spotlights, slightly used; perfect condition. Priced low for quick turnover. Amusement Supply Co., Inc., 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

1800 Leather upholstered theatre chairs refinished, look new. Priced low for quick sale. Amusement Supply Co., Inc., 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

FOR SALE: Used posters, photos, slides, banners and all other kinds of accessories on any subject — features, comedies, serials, save 60 per cent. Write for price list. Theatre Poster Supply Co. & Sign Exchange, 327 East Sixth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Business Opportunity

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY is available for a man with theatre connections to secure the local franchise in his city for back of seat theatre vending machines selling 5c rolls of high grade chocolate. A permanent income of from $1,000 to $5,000 per annum can be enticipated. Surbrug Chocolate Corporation, 12 Duane St., New York City.

Two New Theatres For Sale

Near Greater New York. Now operating year and one half successfully. Showing large profits. One seating capacity 1,000; other 600. Twenty-one year lease. Must have $50,000 cash initial payment, balance liberal terms. Apply Owner, all particulars given.

Box 200,
Motion Picture News, N. Y. City

Shown above are some newspaper displays used by first runs to exploit Constance Talmadge's new First National feature, "Breakfast at Sunrise." Halftone cuts of the star are used in five displays and the sixth shows why it is difficult to do justice to the beauty of the star in drawings. The displays shown were used by the Metropolitan, Washington, D. C.; Aztec, San Antonio; Des Moines, Des Moines; Tampa, Tampa; Kirby, Houston, Strand, Providence.

"Scared Silly"

(Educational—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE spooks are introduced in this Tuxedo, and they, considerately, bring forth laughter. Otherwise the story of "Scared Silly" is tame stuff. In it the serious-visaged Johnny Arthur performs as the leading Thespian, receiving heavy support from Babe London in the role of sweet ingenue. Others who do their bit are Eva Thatcher, Robert Burns, Phillip Sleeman and Robert Graves; they were ably directed by Charles Lamont,. while William Hyer turned the camera crank. The comedy is satisfactory enough to bedeck the program of the average show house. It may not possess any unexpected frills and its gags may be quite unnew, but the capable group performing in it can be counted on for a number of giggles.

Johnny's cook developed an obnoxious disease which necessitated the household being quarantined, and so Johnny had to seek lodgings elsewhere. His difficulty was solved when a friend obligingly offered the use of his home, from which he was temporarily departing. Johnny thought the house empty and at his disposal; but he was all wrong, for the owner's caretaker had decided to make some money by renting out the house unknown to his master. A crystal-gazing Swami comes to terms with the caretaker and moves in his magic paraphernalia on the ground floor.

The comedy commences when the bemoustached Indian begins summoning mysterious spirits to answer the questions of his gullible clients. Johnny, his valet, his aunt and adoring cousin all get mixed up with the sheeted figure employed by the Swami to do the spirit work.

"Alien Antics"

(Pathe-Sportlight—One Reel)

FOREIGN games are portrayed in this Grantland Rice Sportlight. While none of them would be calculated to fill the Yale bowl, they are interesting and offer a novel subject. The Feather game of China is played with a feathered cork that is kicked or hit with the hand in an endeavor to keep it from touching the ground. Cheese rolling in Italy is akin to hammer or javelin throwing. The cheese is rolled for distance and is manipulated much in the manner of a bowling ball. The Stick Game of the Red men is somewhat similar to hockey with no holds barred. Native Japanese wrestling is also displayed. This should be a good novelty filler.—CHESTER J. SMITH.

"Three Missing Links"

(F B O—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE heavy trio of the Standard comedies—Fat Ross, Kewpie Karr and Fat Alexander—are the mainstays and underpinnings of this two-reeler, which Albert Herman directed as a Larry Darmour production for F B O. The fatties communicate laughter and they have some good material to work with.

They open up with a good scene in a wash room where they drive a fellow human well nigh crazy with their innocent and unintentional mishaps. After sending him out in a raging mood the three, later, wreck his automobile by trying to sit in it all at once. The enmity of the fellow established, they are then mistaken as friends of the governor expected at police headquarters. Treated royally there the real guests arrive and the trio are forced to present their credentials, which tell the police chief that they are potential rookies.

They are placed in the hands of their personal enemy, who had been smothering his hate because he thought them friends of the governor. But now that he has them in his power he proceeds to make life miserable for them. Follows one drill after another, and as they are to be assigned to the motorcycle squad, they are forced to ride a machine which they cannot control. Hilarity accompanies the trio on their dizzy escapades. These amiable, good-natured fatties are good comics.

"Ko-Ko Explores"

(Paramount—One Reel)

MAX FLEISCHER unbottles his cartoon imp, Ko-Ko, and lets him adventure. The inquisitive Inkwell clown cannot remain idle long for any length of time—at least while he is unconfined to the dark depths of an ink bottle—and so we find him poking his nose into things here and there and everywhere. Accompanied by his ever-faithful hound, Ko-Ko has quite a time of it. They are chased by man-hungry cannibals, and are threatened with a parboiling in a wicked looking black pot. Through the providence of the benevolent Max, however, this fate does not overtake Ko-Ko and the pup.

They have quite an amusing time altogether. A propitiously funny occasion is where the angry cannibals glare at the small cartoon dog—glare at him so hard in fact that the little dog seems to wilt away and a tear trickle down his nose. The subject was produced by Alfred Weiss for Paramount. It is an entertaining and humorous tid-bit.—RAYMOND GANLY.

"Felix the Cat in No Fuelin"

(Educational—One Reel)

THAT unique humanitarian — Felix — is anchored in the slough of despair in this, his latest adventure, wherein his frozen wife and little ones rely on him to save them from the bitter cold. The cat generally gets what he wants by dint of determination and hard work, but on this particular day of his life misfortune stalked him and his sky was dark and sombre.

"Down, down, down went the temperature chilling man and beast" a title informs us. Perhaps Felix should be accused of improvidence, but he really was not prepared for the sudden appearance of icicles and the freezing wind. His woodbox empty, his household colder than any refrigerator, the cat is driven outdoors to forage fuel. He is a lonely little figure trudging along. Unaware that Fate has singled him out for her jokes, the cat arouses the wrath of various animals in none too amiable moods because of the weather. He mistakes an elephant's trunk for a tree and the feet of an ostrich for plants. A collection of frozen mice is brought home by the cat, but, when placed in the stove as coal, they all scamper away. Later when Felix has collected plenty of fuel by making use of that bright little head of his, a hungry woodpecker, in a sorry plight because coatings of ice separate him from his customary food, hops into his wood-laden bag and devours its contents.

This was Felix' unlucky day. But there must be brighter and better days ahead. In this monologue of sadness, the cat displays a brave front. As usual, the Sullivan studio workers did a good job by him.—RAYMOND GANLY

"King Harold"

(Pathe—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

TAYLOR HOLMES and Leah Baird are the featured players in this comedy of the Henry and Polly series. It is almost entirely devoid of laughs either of the gag or situation type. Too strenuous efforts on the part of the cast to make it humorous only emphasize the lack of comedy material they have to work on.

The story is laid about an amateur theatrical troupe preparing for the staging of a charity show. Holmes is an unwilling member of the cast, forced to take the leading role by an ambitious and dominating wife. Of course, everything goes wrong the night of the show. One of the actors gets pie-eyed and a fight is precipitated with Holmes, as the audience laughs its approval. There are also other attempts at comedy that fall unusually flat.

"Smith's Cousins"

(Pathe—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

LITTLE Mary Ann Jackson's age is problematical. On the screen she appears to be about five. She has one of the leading roles in this release of the Jimmy Smith comedies. Mary Ann seems to see a lot of humor in the situations and gags that follow each other closely. She is just about the age that would enjoy them. In fact they would be most hilarious to an audience composed of five year olds and under.

They have such side-splitting antics as squeezing a bulb to squirt water into the various faces through a carnation worn in the buttonhole. Each member of the cast in turn provides this humorous situation for Irving Bacon, who plays the role of the comical hick cousin. Between these squirts Raymond McKee and Ruth Hiatt are rehearsing for an amateur show in which he is supposed to strangle, stab and in various other laughable ways slay his wife. An occasional smashed egg adds to the general merriment.

"The Little Rube"

(Educational—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

DOROTHY DEVORE'S latest comedy trips along breezily. It has lots of satisfying humor, and as the star has the knack of putting over gags and her story and general support are good, it looks to be a good number which any audience is likely to enjoy. Dorothy is a clever comedienne.

She has the part of a little country girl or yokel, as supercilious city-bred folk would probably call her. Dorothy presents a blissfully vapid face which her wits and antics match in their apparent lack of intelligence. Several [illegible] highlights, the scene suddenly shifts to the city, [illegible] the guests. A tiny pig and a mouse are, in time, introduced and they add to the general [illegible] of Dorothy and her stiffly dignified city aunt.

[illegible] by him.

Dress Parade

Love At West Point—Neatly Done

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

WEST POINT—high up on the cliffs of the Hudson—forms a perfect setting for a romance regardless of whether it pertains to the movies or not. The Military Academy has figured on the screen before—and it provides a background again for a picture which is saturated with romance. The awe-inspiring scenery, the atmosphere of the plains, the glamour of the lives of the cadets—these spell enchantment which has been caught by the camera. The director made no mistake in making it photographically a work of real beauty.

The picture has a neat title—one which should provoke real interest in its screening. It tells its story with creditable charm—a story of a plebe's love for the commandant's daughter. The young cadet entered the Academy once as a civilian. When he had seen the heroine he resolved to win an appointment. Upon his subsequent appearance he discovers that an upper classman has the upper hand in the romantic proceedings. The picture treats of character development—of how the plebe is tamed—of how he captures the spirit of the Academy and comes through an honorable fighting man and a gentleman. The picture has been carefully cast—William Boyd making his work distinguished through sheer force of personality and talent. It has its weak moments, to be sure, but these are very much in the minority. There is fine pictorial appeal—and first rate love interest. Need one ask for more?

The Cast: William Boyd, Bessie Love, Hugh Allan, Louis Natheaux, Maurice Ryan, Walter Tennyson, Clarence Geldert. Director, Donald Crisp.

THEME: Romantic drama of West Point plebe who is made over into gentleman. Wins girl and shines as athlete.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Striking shots. Atmosphere and backgrounds. Lighting. Performance by Boyd. Appeal of Bessie Love. Making over of hero.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Play up title and feature as romance of West Point staged in actual locale. Play up Academy.

DRAWING POWER: Sure to pull them in through title and backgrounds.

Produced by De Mille. Released by Pathe.
Length, six reels. Released, November, 1927.

High School Hero

Light But Entertaining

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

YOU'LL go quite a long ways before you find a more life-like treatment of the manner in which high school students carry on. All of the important nothings in the lives of the fledglings is brought out with considerable humor, charm and color. The setting is a school in which the central figures are a prepossessing girl and a couple of rivals for her hand. She doesn't know which one she prefers—and their conduct in impressing her is delightfully real. The pretentions of youth in love are so neatly done that one imagines the director has been studying his Tarkington.

The piece hasn't much to it. Yes it is easy to guess every scene. And to a dyspeptic the high jinks might become slightly boresome. But the patron who knows his high school or remembers it will accept it as a bright little effort—one that's convincing in spite of its frail character.

The big episode is the basketball game—played by the boys' team against a neighboring school. It is done with a deal of suspense—even though the ending is anticipated. The heroes make up and play the game of their lives in the second half.

The campus atmosphere is genuine—the players are adaptable to their roles and it never steps out of character, focus or gear.

The Cast: Nick Stuart, Sally Phipps, John Darrow, William N. Bailey, Wade Boteler, Brandon Hurst, David Rollins, Charles Paddock. Director, David Butler.

THEME: Light comedy of high-school romance.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Youthful high jinks. Antics on campus. Amateur dramatics. Basketball game. Spontaneity of scene. Adaptability of players.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Tie up with schools. Feature as bright, amusing comedy. Put on atmospheric prologue.

DRAWING POWER: Suitable for all types of houses. Good bet for small towns.

Produced and distributed by Fox Films.
Length, six reels. Released, October, 1927.

The Main Event

Conventional But Fair Enough In Its Way

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

STORIES of young "pugs," who enter the ring for the climax, after introductory scenes are given up to planting some melodrama, don't offer much variation. Along comes an average film of this type which never gets out of the beaten path. It is marked by establishing a conflict generated when the heroine frames the more personable of the fighters in order to help him win when she falls in love with him. The idea is not worth so much footage as it simply stops in its tracks until the ring scene.

The early sequences show a boastful young "champ," who pulls a faux pas by playing one of his sweethearts against another. The girl doesn't know she isn't clicking with him and plots the downfall of his rival. From that point the picture attempts to reveal some characterization as well as some incident pertaining to the ideas of training by the hero. He loves the night life and since the heroine is a hostess in a cabaret she sees to it that he's kept awake.

The climax is the whole picture—and it's fairly exciting, yet at the same time it's nothing to make a fuss over. Several scenes of cabaret life are exposed to celluloid. They are fairly effective. The romance seems negligible in spite of the fact that it makes up a dominant note of the story. The trouble is the plot is not so strong—and the director did as well as possible under the circumstances. Charles Delaney's portrayal of the fighter who wins a knock-out after nearly being "ruined" himself is the bright feature.

The Cast: Charles Delaney, Robert Armstrong, Joseph Schildkraut, Vera Reynolds, Julia Faye, Ernie Adams. Director, William K. Howard.

THEME: Romantic melodrama of pugilist who wins fight after being framed.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Fight and attendant atmosphere Cabaret scene. Acting by Delaney, Armstrong and Schildkraut.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Bill as picture of prize ring. Play up cast. Tease title. Stage atmospheric prologue if picture warrants it in your estimation.

DRAWING POWER: Has average appeal—for average houses.

Produced by De Mille and distributed by Pathe.
Length, six reels. Released, November, 1927.

Tea For Three

A Neat Little Number; Should Satisfy

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

THERE'S a pleasant little comedy on view here—one that reveals its story with humor and charm. A tale of the triangle situation—as its title indicates—it is spun with threads of interest throughout its footage. The idea employed here concerns the curing of a husband's jealousy—the wife and the other man plotting to add fuel to the angry embers in hubby's mind. And it works out according to well-laid plans by cast and director.

The plot develops that the husband is so deeply jealous he is even willing to cut cards with his rival for the heart of the wife—the loser to take himself out of the picture via the suicide route. The complications build very neatly until such time when the husband becomes normal and forgives everything.

The picture was once a play—and a good one. Naturally much of its smart, crisp dialogue is missing. But compensation is offered in its arrangement of scenes and the execution of them. You can't blame the director for its lack of vitality in certain episides. They got over on the stage through the spoken word. Owen Moore, Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle carry on most of the acting—with most of the honors falling to the men. One is a perfect foil for the other. Each understands comedy situation and how to develop it without exaggeration. The piece is well staged.

The Cast: Owen Moore, Lew Cody, Aileen Pringle, Phillip Smalley, Dorothy Sebastian, Edward Thomas. Director, Robert Z. Leonard.

THEME: Domestic comedy-drama of triangle with wife curing her husband of being jealous by pretending to be involved with other man.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Smart scenes. Conflict between two rivals. Climax. Reconciliation. Light and easy playing by principals. Captions.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Tease title and feature principals. Bill as pleasing film version of successful play.

DRAWING POWER: Should go with all intelligent patrons. Suitable for high class houses.

Produced and distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.
Length, six reels. Released, November, 1927.

Aflame in the Sky

Western Type of Picture in the Air

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

BUILT along the lines of the regular Western feature is this drama of the desert in which airplanes are used. Its plot reminds you of those of Westerns as the old tale is told of an unscrupulous ranch manager, who almost won the girl and her possessions, only to be bested by the hero, an ace from a nearby government camp. Pretty Sharon Lynn has the role of the heroine and Jack Luden, the cough drop king's son, plays the part of the stalwart, upright hero. The late Robert McKim made, perhaps, what was his final screen appearance as the vicious ranch manager.

All of the principals render good performances, even the German police dog that appears in a few scenes. As the film boasts a number of airplane highlights, fistic encounters between the hero and the villain and their followers and similar action—the film ought to go over satisfactorily in the smaller type of houses where it will be exhibited. It does not rise to any great heights—and isn't one unreasonable in expecting it to do so?—but it is a compact little feature with simplicity and sincerity.

Those who like a fast moving story, the slugging fests and the foiling of villainous hopes will enjoy "Aflame in the Sky." The title comes from the fact that in one of the highlights the hero, ablaze in his plane, is forced to communicate his call for aid by writing in the sky with smoke.

The Cast: Sharon Lynn, Jack Luden, Robert McKim, William Humphreys, Bill Scott, Charles A. Stevenson, Bill Franey, Mark Hamilton, Walter Ackerman. Director, J. P. McGowan.

THEME: Girl, whose parent is being slowly poisoned by foreman and his sister, is forced into marriage with the former. She shows her father the villainy afoot and, aided by young aviator, succeeds in defeating aims of foreman. Foreman, forced to flee, goes to desert, where he dies from thirst. Free again to wed, the girl marries aviator.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Airplane sequences. Flight of girl and her rescue by plane. The blazing plane. Storming of hacienda and routing of villains by government men.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Play up aviation and action to be found in picture.

DRAWING POWER: Good for usual run of houses.

Produced and Distributed by F B O.
Released Dec. 18, 1927. Footage, 6,034 feet.

The Obligin' Buckaroo

Buffalo Bill, Jr.'s Western About Average

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

YOU'LL find this Buffalo Bill, Jr., vehicle just about a trifle different from the average Western. The hero is on hand to save the girl from the evil intents of her erring brother and another rogue. Though the villains have her in their grasp and it looks as if they were going to succeed in their purpose to acquire her mine, Buffalo Bill comes through in customary Western fashion and rescues the girl, while the villains grovel in the dust after receiving a severe battering.

But this production has some virtues. Its star, for one thing, is an natural and easy actor and Olive Hasbrouck, the heroine, makes a fine feminine highlight for any Western. Then again, there is a touch of novelty in the appearance throughout several hundred feet of film of a troupe of vaudeville girls, down and out with their manager, the eccentric Harry Todd.

It's an average Western, slightly different from its many fellows, and destined for showings in the average houses throughout the land.

The Cast: Buffalo Bill, Jr., Olive Hasbrouck, Sherry Tansey, Raye Hampton, Charles Whitaker and Harry Todd. Directed by Richard Thorpe.

THEME: Western. Young stranger is instrumental in saving girl's mine when her brother, influenced by unscrupulous desperado, wishes to sign it away. He defeats the villains' plans and wins the grateful girl.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Traveling chorus and its quarters at dilapidated hotel. Hero's efforts on behalf of girl. His capture by villains and their subsequent failure to subdue him. Action and romance.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Tried-and-true Western ballyhoo and lobby displays.

DRAWING POWER: Good for neighborhood and second run trade.

Produced by Lester F. Scott. Distributed by Pathe.
Released in October, 1927. Footage, 4,575 feet.

Combat

A Fair Enough Action Drama

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

ALONE youth fights against terrific odds on an out-of-the-way island in the Atlantic in this action thriller which stars the athletic George Walsh. There is a certain element of mystery in the island sequences which, it seems to us, could have been brought subtly to bear on the plot. This mystery, however, is handled ordinarily; not enough of suspense is built up around the deaths of Walsh's predecessors, who all died in mysterious fashion while doing what he does—act as lady guardian to a burly sea captain. A slight smattering of horror, at which art the serial directors are so good, would have aided the production in this point.

When George steps on the mainland of the island you know that he is ready to hurl defiance at anyone and do what the men before him failed in doing. He falls in love with the captain's daughter, forgetting all about the girl at home whom you naturally think he really cares for. They fool you in this instance because the island girl wins George and not the dame from the city. This comes about after Walsh has fought the captain all over the place and obtained enough evidence against him as a cut-throat and murderer.

Walsh is husky enough to make his role convincing, while Gladys Hulette as the girl from the city is a good choice, too. But Claire Adams as the captain's fair daughter does not seem to fit in with her role, which calls for a more exotic personality.

Enough "combat" in this one to please the average fan.

The Cast: George Walsh, Claire Adams, Gladys Hulette, Bradley Barker, Dex Reynolds. Directed by Albert Hiatt from story by William B. Laub.

THEME: Enemies of young inventor plot to get him out of way. He falls for their ad in paper and goes to remote island where it is expected he will be done away with. By dint of fistic prowess he escapes island with daughter of his would-be murderer, afterwards wedding girl and making his enemies come to terms.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Fights on island. Love scenes.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Star has following. Appeal to them and others fond of action.

DRAWING POWER: Good for neighborhood trade.

Produced and distributed by Pathe.
Footage 5,100 feet. Released October, 1927.

In a Moment of Temptation

Laura Jean Libbey Story Passably Good

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

A TYPICAL Laura Jean Libbey story is unfolded in this production containing the heart throbs and overdrawn characterizations which one finds in the woman author's novels of shop girls and their like, who are whirled into a series of adventures. In celluloid it is all a great deal more convincing than is the author's volatile prose. As an entertaining little program piece it is adequate.

Polly, the shop girl, played by Charlotte Stevens, is in one quandary after another. Beginning with the discovery that her sweetheart is a crook, she is falsely accused of robbery and sentenced to prison. After she has served her term she seeks revenge herself upon the woman who had insisted that she had robbed her. She slumbers into the woman's house one night, only to be momentarily non-plussed when the old invalid of the house discovers her marauding. This old fellow, the best character in the story and played with subtle humor by Tom Ricketts, takes an interest in her and adopts her.

The story is thin, yes; but it is entertaining.

The Cast: Charlotte Stevens, Grant Withers, Cornelius Keefe, Marie Walcamp, Kit Guard, Tom Ricketts, John McKinnon. Director, Phil Carle.

THEME: Story of shop girl and her romance.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Robbery in store. Meeting of Polly and the old man. The events at house.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Capitalize on author's name as writer of "love" stories. Press book has any number of suggestions.

DRAWING POWER: Should fare fairly well in the smaller and second-run houses.

Produced and distributed by F B O.
Length, about 6,000 feet. Released, September, 1927.

A Light in the Window

Sentimental Tale of Modern Cinderella

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

PATRICIA AVERY, as a modern Cinderella and Henry B. Walthall, as her father, an elderly cobbler, carry along this sentimental story by Arthur Hoerl in a fairly entertaining manner, though there is not much in it of a pleasing nature, nor is there anything new in its theme. The unsophisticated, motherless girl gets a taste of gay night life through association with the manicurist next door and, like most of the type, she likes it. But she likes better the first man who takes her out and after three escapades she marries him unknown to her doting father. He disowns her, but relents, and the light burns on and on in the window until her return.

Walthall as the cobler gives a fair portrayal of a difficult role, but is not sufficiently convincing to win all the sympathy that should be coming to him under the circumstances. In these days of sophistication it is difficult for a parent to win sympathy under the narrow minded tactics employed by the cobbler. One has a feeling that he got little more than was coming to him.

Nor is the role of the girl, as portrayed by Miss Avery, any too convincing. She had been too long under the narrow dominance of her father to so readily take to the ways of the night life and to desert the family fireside within a period of a few weeks. Despite these shortcomings, however, the picture holds the interest fairly.

The Cast: Henry B. Walthall, Patricia Avery, Erin La Bissner, Henry Sedley, Tom O'Grady, Cornelius Keefe.

THEME: Drama of unsophisticated daughter of cobbler who is introduced to night life. She marries gay youth, is disowned by father, but eventually reconciled.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: The cabaret scenes. The fight between the young husband and the bouncers. The meeting of father and daughter in the cabaret. The romance.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: A possible tieup with electrical shops and other suggestions in the press book.

DRAWING POWER: May go well in all but the largest houses.

Produced and distributed by Rayart Pictures.
Length 5,960 feet. Released Oct. 15, 1927.

Ride 'Em High

Plenty of Action With Gun Play and Rodeo

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

BUDDY ROOSEVELT can lay claim to a good vehicle in "Ride 'Em High." There's action and drama to it and it should provide satisfying entertainment for the action-craving fans.

Roosevelt's father is killed in a gun duel, after resisting arrest by a deputy sheriff. In order to discover the true facts of the murder of which his father was accused, Buddy travels into hostile territory, where a trap is laid for him by a scheming cousin who wants to have him out of the way. A feud between the hero's and heroine's families also assists in maintaining the interest of this Western.

As things turn out the villainous cousin is dispatched by one of his own men and Buddy rightfully comes into his own, the difficulties between him and the girl being smoothed away. One of the highlights of the film is the rodeo in which Roosevelt has an opportunity to display his horsemanship on a bucking broncо.

The acting of the hero and the heroine, portrayed by Olive Hasbrouck, rates high here. Miss Hasbrouck is one of the nicest Western heroines extant. Charles K. French as Buddy's father is also good. The cousin, played by George Magrill, is a role which stands out because of Magrill's performance.

"Ride 'Em High" can be classified as a good Western. Its action and good story are not to be overlooked.

The Cast: Buddy Roosevelt, Olive Hasbrouck, Charles K. French, Bob Homans, George Magrill. Director, Richard Thorpe.

THEME: Young Westerner penetrates hostile territory to discover facts concerning murder charged against dead father. Is drawn into sequence of events wherein his cousin plays him false. He wins out in end, his cousin is killed; girl comes to him and the feud between their families is forgotten.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Gun duel. Action. Rodeo. Cousin's plotting and downfall.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Publicize cast and action that picture has.

DRAWING POWER: Good for the great number of Western fans.

Produced by Lester F. Scott, Jr. Distributed by Pathe.
Length, 4,542 feet. Released, October, 1927.

A Dog of the Regiment

Tense Drama of Rinty's Own Life

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

WARNER BROS.' dog star has had pictures with more action in them than this one, but he has never had a more logical story nor one better constructed than this one written around his life during war days by Albert S. Howson of the Warner home office. Rinty is a real hero in a pretty romance without being called upon to effect a rescue in every hundred feet of reel.

The story is smoothly told and does not deviate from its direct path in the course to a happy conclusion. The dog, as a matter of fact, has a better chance to display its real acting ability than if called upon to display the usual number of heroics. This does not mean that the picture is without action. It is anything but that. There is plenty of the melodramatic without trying to overcrowd it with unnecessary incident. It is really a higher class story than Rinty has had in the past.

The cast is an unusually small one with the human roles in the hands of three capable players who do them well. Dorothy Gulliver is Marie, the German heiress who serves during the war as a Red Cross Nurse. She is winsome and appealing and particularly good in the romantic scenes with Tom Gallery.

The Cast: Rin-Tin-Tin, Dorothy Gulliver, Tom Gallery, John Peters.

THEME: Melodrama of the war in which a young American in love with a German heiress becomes an aviator and his plane is brought down at the Red Cross post where she is serving as a nurse. Through a forged signature he is ordered put to death, but is saved by his own efforts and those of the faithful Rinty.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: The shooting down of the airplane. The escape in the German plane. The rescue by Rinty. The romance.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: The story was actually written around the life of the dog-star. The airplane sequences lend themselves readily to exploitation possibilities.

DRAWING POWER: Good.

Produced and distributed by Warner Bros.
Length 5,003 feet. Released Oct. 29, 1927.

Discord

Is Much Too Long

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

OVER 8,500 feet of film is required to tell this tale of an English girl, her marriage to and temporary break with a Swedish farmer. Decidedly too much footage is taken up with detail which will necessarily have to be eliminated if the film is to get the usual playdates. It is not that we are against pictures of long footage and consider useless the commendable practice of telling all parts of the story. As a matter of fact going into detail deserves worthwhile appraisement. But in a story like "Discord," wherein are crowded innumerable little portions, it would unquestionably be better if more freedom were taken in dropping what is non-essential. As it is the film is long drawn out (we are comparing it to the length of the average American picture) so that it drags long before the finis has come. However, all should remember that over in Europe much attention is paid to the small things. Novels are lengthy, almost ponderous; exactness is aimed at even if at times in the achieving of it a little unwieldiness or heaviness creeps in.

Unfortunately the name of Lil Dagovar is not so well known in this country. Let us tell you that in the role of heroine she does some fine acting. She has reserve and bearing. Urho Somersalmi, who appears as her husband, is guilty of heavy acting and gesticulating. A light touch would have heightened his performance. Gosta Ekman gives a good account of himself.

The Cast: Lil Dagover, Gosta Ekman, Urho Somershalmi, Brita Appelgren, Hakan Westergren, Wilhel Bryde, Stina Berg. Director, Gustaf Molander.

THEME: Avaricious relations force girl to marry wealthy farmer. Used to city life she soon tires of his home and returns to city. They come to an understanding only after the wife finds her gayety false and her love for her husband the main thing.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Lil Dagover's performance. Scene in rushing river and her rescue. Subsequent developments of her married life.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: See Pathe's press book.

DRAWING POWER: About fair as players are practically unknown here.

Produced in Europe. Distributed in United States by Pathe.
Released November 20, 1927. Footage, 8,586 feet.

Regional News from Correspondents

Albany

CHIEF interest among the exhibitors of this section during the past week centered around the opening of the new Dwore theatre at Schenectady, on Friday night. The house will be known as "The Colony," and is a splendid example of a residential theatre. The house will be conducted by George Dwore and his father, both of whom have had a wealth of experience as exhibitors and who already own and operate other theatres in the Electric City.

Joe Wilson is now being broken in at the F B O exchange in Albany, to fill the position of booker. Incidentally it is reported that the exchange will shortly move to Exchange Row and will occupy quarters previously housing the Bond exchange.

Fritz Herbs, of the firm of Hocter and Herbs, operating the theatre in Philmont, was taken to the hospital in Hudson last week with indications of a possible operation for appendicitis.

Alec and Jacob Feltman, owners of the Lincoln in Schenectady, have acquired the Rialto there from Frank Coss and are now planning to take over an Albany theatre which will shortly be announced.

Julius Byck will close his theatre in Tannersville, next week, and go to New York City, where he will spend the winter months.

O. R. Rieffel, one time manager of the Fox exchange in Albany, and recently salesman for the Paramount exchange, was last week made manager of the Milwaukee exchange.

Rusk and Andrews, who operate the theatre in Haines Falls, have closed the house for the winter and are planning to follow their usual custom and will spend the winter in Florida, leaving for the south next week.

Herman Goodman, Albany contractor, is reported to be negotiating with Otto Gloeckner, for the Central theatre here which was acquired by Mr. Gloeckner from the Weidman brothers only a few months ago.

M. B. Silberstein runs the Community theatre in Catskill along newspaper lines. Mr. Silberstein is the editor of the Catskill paper. He realizes the importance of getting his paper out on time and follows the same principle in dating up his pictures.

The Herman boys, Leon and Al, of Albany, entertained their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Later, of New York City, over a recent weekend.

Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. McIntyre, of Copake, were along Albany's Film Row during the week. Charles Marshall, of the Bridge theatre in Ausable Forks, stopped over on one of his periodical trips to New York City.

Bennington is to have a new theatre, a 1,400 seat house that will be located opposite the hotel and which will be ready to open by next spring. The owners are from New York City and have already secured an option on a piece of property in the Vermont town.

George Markell, of the Strand in Pittsfield, has recovered from a hard cold and is back on the job. The same holds true with Sam Hochstim, of Hudson.

Lew Fischer, of Fort Edward, owner of a half dozen houses along the eastern border, is back home from a hunting trip, but refuses to divulge with what success. At any rate, he has promised to provide venison steak for several of the exchanges.

Phil Markell, who did the buying for the Atlas at Adams, Mass., is no longer connected with that house but has gone to Boston. The new buyer is Charles Morse, who introduced himself at several of the exchanges last week.

Father O'Reilly, who divides his time between his duties as a priest and his picture theatre, finds time to occasionally write a play. One of his plays has been presented on Broadway and he is now busy on another one.

Joe Koopman, of Amenia and Wassaic, has added a garage to his duties and is splitting his time between this and his two theatres.

Sam Bernstein, of New York, formerly of Troy, returned to the Collar City last week, and leased the Astor theatre for a short period for the presentation of the Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures.

Joe Dealey is now doing the buying for the Orpheum theatre of Saugerties, in which he is interested. Mr. Dealey is also handling vaudeville once a week in Saugerties, Ellenville, Liberty, Monticello and Walton.

A. E. Pearson is improving the front of his theatre in Clayton.

About $225,000 is being spent, according to all reports in the construction of Nate Robbins' neighborhood theatre in Utica, which will probably be in shape to open the latter part of November.

The Strand in Ogdensburg has a new manager, Buddy Houghton, who was at one time a stunt man with a widely known flying circus.

Abe Stone, owner of the Arbor Hill in Albany, and also operating a couple of houses in Rensselaer, was all smiles during the past week or so, as he proudly announced that "it" was a daughter, the second to grace his home and who will bear the name of Elizabeth.

Livingston Deyo, of Schoharie, paid a visit to Albany last week. He has a 250 seat house.

Harry Seed, local manager for Warners, spent the greater part of last week in calling on exhibitors in northern New York towns. Miss Agnes Ayers has resigned as biller at the Warner exchange and has accepted a similar position with First National. She has been succeeded by Miss Schmidt.

S. E. Feld, Pathe salesman, was in New York City last Sunday visiting his mother for the day. Harry Goldstein, local manager for Paramount, was also in New York

E. W. Greene, who runs the Star in Constableville, informed film salesmen last week that he contemplated turning his house into a paint shop during the winter.

Dick Hayes, connected with Paramount exchange, is back from a vacation spent in the wilds of northern Ontario.

J. S. Burnham, owner of the Hippodrome in Ogdensburg, tramped the Adirondacks last week in search of deer.

Dr. Graves, who has charge of the theatre in Briar Hill, expects to operate but two days a week during the winter.

Bill Smalley, of Cooperstown, who rolled into Albany in his Lincoln last week, split his time between appearing before the Albany Film Board of Trade and in booking pictures. Al Bothner is now handling the vaudeville end on Mr. Smalley's circuit.

Chicago

JACK SAMPSON, for the past five years Chicago manager for F. B. O., has severed his connection with this organization but it is understood will shortly become associated with another firm in this city, which will be good news to his hundreds of friends and well wishers in the territory. Mr. Sampson, who is serving his third term as president of the Chicago Film Board of Trade, will continue to hold that office and remain active in organization affairs. Mr. Sampson, while a young man, is an old-timer on film row, where his pleasing personality and square shooting business methods have him popular. Herbert Washburn has been appointed to succeed Mr. Sampson as Chicago manager of F. B. O., having resigned from Famous Players-Lasky Corporation to accept this new position.

District Manager Cecil Maberry, Fred Aiken and Dan Roche are installed in their new divisional headquarters on the fourth floor at 845 South Wabash. Mr. Maberry, by the way, has planned a Christmas trip to his mother's home at Sayer, Okla., having reserved passage on an air mail plane for the day before Christmas. Mr. Maberry will leave Chicago at 5:45 a. m. and expects to be in Sayer, almost a thousand miles away, at 5:15 the same evening.

Charles Ford, of the Daily News Screen Service, who was confined to a hospital with a mild attack of pneumonia, is able to be out again and has gone to French Lick Springs to recuperate.

Clyde Eckhardt and Manager Cohen of the Monroe theatre were hosts to the press of Chicago at a private screening at the Monroe theatre on last Wednesday.

J. J. Cooney of National Playhouses, Inc., reports the organization of a new publicity department with Harold E. Murphy as director. Mr. Murphy will handle the advertising and publicity for the Avalon, Capitol, Stratford, West Englewood, Chatham, and Grove.

Harold "Red" Wise, former Gotham booker, is now connected with Capitol Film Exchange.

John C. Miller has designated November 7th as opening day for his new theatre at Woodstock, Ill., which has been built on the site of his old Princess, and will be called the Miller.

The Panorama Theatre at 717 Sheridan road, was reopened Sunday night after being considerably remodeled and redecorated during the [illegible] dark.

It is reported that Great States Theatres, Inc., has taken over two more theatres in Peoria, the Columbia and Princess.

Harry Miller, who has been in charge of McCarthy's Ambassador and Drake theatres, has resigned; Harry Corbett, for many years associated with Karzas' houses, has been appointed manager.

Henri Ellman has completed moving his Capitol Film Exchange from its former quarters at 738 S. Wabash avenue, to the second floor of the Scown building at 831 S. Wabash.

The new Evanston theatre, which [illegible] as a stock house, has closed down.

[illegible] inaugurated a policy of midnight shows on Saturdays.

[illegible] he went to attend the opening of [illegible] Angeles.

Cleveland

FRED SCHRAM is now the sole owner of Security Pictures Corporation, independent Ohio exchange with offices in Cleveland and Cincinnati. He has bought out the interest formerly owned by Lee Chapman. Chapman plans to remain with Security Pictures in a sales capacity for the present. He plans in the future to acquire the Ohio rights to big road show film attractions, which he will release through Security Pictures. Fred Schram is president of the corporation. Mrs. Fred Schram succeeds Chapman as secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. L. B. Yoerns has at last completed the alterations in the Bedford theatre, Bedford, and the theatre is running on a daily schedule again. It has been open on Saturday only during the summer, while the seating capacity was increased, new decorations were added, a new lobby was built, and complete new installations were made. Mrs. Yoerns is offering a straight picture policy.

Hazel Mack, of Exhibitor Poster Rental, was injured in an automobile accident last week, in a head-on collision, in Edgewater Park. She and her mother, who was with her, were both taken to a hospital for treatment.

The Almo theatre at Bowerstown, Ohio, has a new proprietor. C. B. Cutcher last week purchased the house from J. P. Forbes.

George Fleischman's new 2,000-seat motion picture theatre in Toledo is reported to be on the road to completion, and it is expected that the house will open on Thanksgiving Day.

Loew's new Granada theatre, Lorain avenue and West 117th street, which opened two weeks ago, is now in its regular stride, and has commenced its set policy. This is a feature picture and five acts of vaudeville.

William Haynes, manager of the Allen theatre, is popularizing his theatre with the public by giving his patrons a free show every Tuesday night from 11 P. M. to 12 P. M. During this week a special show is broadcast over the radio, and the patrons attending the last Tuesday night show are invited to stay and see this extra performance.

William Rosenthal, local United Artists' exchange manager, was host last Friday night to a Stillman full of guests who were invited to see a preview which was staged at the conclusion of the regular show.

Caroline Pritchard is back at her desk after a two months' enforced vacation, during which time she was ill. Miss Pritchard is secretary to Manager Haynes of the Allen theatre.

Dave L. Schumann has sold out his interest in the Ohio Amusement Company to the remaining stockholders of the company.

L. B. Winston has come out of the east to handle the publicity and exploitation for the Allen theatre, Cleveland. Winston was formerly of New York and Boston.

Arthur Catlin, assistant manager at the Stillman, isn't the same boy he use to be. The reason is that he left his tonsils in one of the local hospitals.

Milwaukee

PLANS for the new M-G-M exchange have finally been approved and building will be begun immediately. It is hoped by the M-G-M staff that they will be in their new quarters by February of next year. The new building is to be located on the northeast corner of 8th and State Streets.

The bowling league is attracting a great deal of interest among film folks. At the last game the scores stood as follows: Serials won 11, lost 4; Features won 10, lost 5; Scenics won 7 and lost 8; Comedies won 6, and lost 9; News Reels won 6, lost 9; Cartoons won 5 and lost 10. This is the first year as large a number as this has responded to the call of the teams, and interest is running high.

Earl Dobler, Fox exploitation man from the New York office, spent a few hours in the Milwaukee office recently.

Walter Rourke of the Pastime theatre at Horicon was in the city again this week.

Wm. Cuddy, until recently director of publicity for Saxe Amusement Enterprises, is now said to be associated with National Theatre Supply Co. as sales manager for the sign division.

E. J. Tunstall, manager of the Strand theatre at Manitowoc, was in the city on Thursday.

Frank DeLorenzo, formerly branch manager for Tiffany, is now temporarily associated with the Walter Beier Film Exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gilman of Plymouth were Film Row visitors early this week. Mr. Gilman manages the Princess at Plymouth.

J. J. Disch's New Majestic theatre at Cudahy was formally opened on Wednesday night. Mr. Disch also manages the Majestic at Cudahy.

Dan Kelliher, Elkhorn, Lake Geneva and East Troy exhibitor was in the city on Tuesday straightening out his business affairs. His new theatre at Burlington is progressing satisfactorily.

C. C. Wallace, district manager for United Artists, was in the city on Wednesday.

B. Leveque, manager of the Grand theatre at Lake Linden, called recently at the various exchanges.

Fischer's new Orpheum theatre at Burlington with a capacity of 800 seats was opened on Wednesday. Dan Delaney has been appointed its new manager.

Harvey Day, sales manager for Educational, was in the city on Monday and Tuesday.

Earl Scott's string of theatres now numbers four. He recently acquired the Liberty at Pardeeville, from W. Reuhl. He has also recently taken over the Grand at Necedah from D. Merridith and the Home at New Lisbon from Al Baker. His other house is the Opera House at New Lisbon.

Buildings are being razed along Fond du Lac Avenue at 22nd, to make room for the new theatre which is to be constructed in this block in the future.

Salt Lake City

THE Denver and Salt Lake Tiffany offices combined have received word that they have won the first price in the recent national sales contest. Able Davis, district manager for Tiffany, is enroute to this city from his headquarters in Denver, according to Local Office Manager Ernie Gibson, who states that a sales conference will be held upon the arrival of Davis. Gibson came in a few days ago from the Southern Utah territory.

Manager Dave Farquhar of the Warner Brothers Salt Lake office, expects to make a trip up into Montana this week.

Salesman Ed. C. Mix, who is now completely recovered from his injuries received when his car was struck by a train, is in the exchange here after an extended sales trip into Idaho.

Two film representatives here narrowly escaped serious injury last week when the car in which Vete Stewart, salesman for Associated First National, and Manager Dave Farquhar of the Warner Brothers exchange, were riding was completely demolished when it turned over just out of Pocatello, Idaho.

The new Western Division Manager for F B O, J. Frank Shea, returned to Salt Lake after having spent the past week in Denver.

In the F B O Bookers Cash Income Drive now on, Ross Bluck, booker at the Salt Lake office, is now in first place.

J. T. Sheffield, owner of the Columbia Exchanges in Salt Lake and Denver, is spending several days at the local office and will return to Denver by the end of the week.

A visit was paid the local film mart this week by R. T. Taylor of the Salem Theatre at Salem, Utah.

Albert Van Wagner, owner of the Alhambra Theatre at Pleasant Grove, Utah, spent some time lining up new pictures along the row here recently.

After having spent several days in this city, John Rugar of the Orpheum, American and Egyptian theatres of Park City, Utah, is expecting to return there this week.

B. G. Thatcher of the Capitol and Lyric theatres at Logan, Utah, is recovering from his bad case of rheumatism to the extent that he is now out of bed and has made his first trip into Salt Lake for a considerable period of time.

Among Ogden, Utah, exhibitor visitors here this week were Harmon and Lou Perry of the Egyptian and Ogden theatres and Mell Stringham of the Lyceum Theatre there.

Tom Cleary, traveling auditor for Fox, is spending some time checking over the Salt Lake exchange.

H. B. Loveless, Assistant Booker at the local Paramount exchange, has been transferred to the sales department and will cover Southern Utah at present. F. H. Smith who has previously had this territory will be in the booking department for the time being.

New England

EMPLOYEES of Loew's theatres in Boston held their annual entertainment and ball at Loew's State ballroom Friday evening. This was the fifth annual party. Officials of the circuit were present as guests.

The La Serena theatre at Providence has reopened after extensive alterations. William L. Bosse, Jr., continues as manager.

Mrs. Ralph Chase, of the Lyric, Riverside and Town Hall at East Providence, was a visitor to Boston during the week, leaving several contracts for the winter programs.

Louis Aster, of Independent Films, Inc., New Haven exchange, stopped last week at Boston en route to Manchester, N. H., to attend the funeral of a cousin.

"Bill" Reeves, of the Strand, Portland, Me., was a visitor to Boston during the week.

The Wonderland theatre at Pennacook, N. H., has been closed for an indefinite period.

Two New Hampshire exhibitors were visitors to Boston's film row during the week for their late fall bookings. They are William Buckley of the Colonial, Laconia, and Charles H. Beam of the Pastime, Franklin.

The Hope theatre in Providence opens this week with William Mahoney in charge. Mr. Mahoney was formerly in Boston.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Sally F. McIntosh, who formerly did the booking for the Veteran Hospital at West Roxbury, to Charles M. Clark at St. Augustine, Fla., on Oct. 3. They are to make their home in Florida.

Samuel Messing, formerly manager of Loew's Columbia theatre in Boston and the Regent at Norfolk Downs, Mass., has been made assistant manager of Lowe's State Ballroom at Boston.

Joseph Shea, of Shea's theatre, Valley Falls, R. I., has been a weekly visitor to Boston recently, taking in the big varsity football games on these trips.

Artie Ryan, for some time with Decker's Film Transfer, has entered the pugilistic field. He is now in training and film boxing fans are planning to attend his first bout en masse.

J. Acker, who has theatres in Syracuse, Utica and other cities, has opened the Royal at Olneyville, which he recently acquired.

The Winter Hill theatre in Somerville has been opened by Ray Maxwell and a policy of straight pictures adopted. The theatre was formerly operated by Gann & Crawford and has been closed for several months.

The new Keith Memorial theatre in Boston is rounding into shape so that some of the beauty of the new structure is now becoming apparent. It will be several months yet before the theatre is ready for opening.

The Louis Walters booking agency at Tremont and Stuart streets is now at 306 Stuart street, Boston.

G. L. Deviziar has been placed in charge of the non-theatrical department of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exchange at Boston. Incidentally he is sporting a new Studebaker sedan.

The Humboldt theatre, Humboldt avenue, Boston, reopened Saturday with a change of policy, showing pictures and vaudeville. It is now on a full week's schedule.

Charles Moning, of the Old Colony theatre, Plymouth, was a visitor to the film district, Boston, during the week.

The new State theatre at Milford opened last Friday.

Following their closing for several weeks, due to an epidemic of infantile paralysis in the city, the theatres at Haverhill, Mass., have reopened.

The Merrimac theatre at Merrimac reopened Monday, following several weeks' closing, due to an epidemic of infantile paralysis.

Roger Mahan, DeMille city salesman at Boston, has returned to Boston after four weeks' duty at the New Haven exchange of the company.

[illegible] eration in St. Elizabeth's hospital [illegible] his territory in Western Massachusetts two days later.

Stuart Theatre Corporation, Harry N. Goldberg, president, has leased from the Robert B. Brigham estate the Unique theatre, 709 Washington strete, Boston. The tax value of the property is $500,000. The lessees will operate under the name of the Stuart theatre with policy of films and vaudeville.

Harding Amusement Company, Boston, has incorporated with $25,000 capital. Incorporators are George S. Harding, Marjorie E. Harding, both of [illegible] and Samuel H. Davis, of Reading.

Stuart Theatres Corporation, Boston, has incorporated with $50,000 capital. Incorporators are Harry N. Goldberg, Roxbury; Charles A. Gilman, Dorchester, and Mary K. O'Connor, Somerville.

Humboldt Amusement Company, Boston, incorporated for $99,000. Incorporators are Abraham I. Rudnick and Jason David Rudnick, of Brookline; David H. Brand and Sarah Brand, both of Roxbury.

Niagara Theatre, Inc., Boston, has incorporated with $100,000 capital. Incorporators are Jacob Laurie, Nathan Pinanski, both of Boston, and Samuel Pinanski, of Brookline.

Kansas City

PUBLIC sentiment in Kansas City has been aroused over the action of the musician's union which may cause the theatre to close its doors. The house, which has been playing stock companies, lost money last year and, in order to economize, decided to operate without an orchestra this season. The musicians' union demanded that an orchestra be put in. The theatre management agreed to employ a 3-piece orchestra, but the union stood firm and demanded that a full orchestra be used. The result probably will be the closing of the house, which is Shubert owned.

One Kansas City baby owes the fact that he obtained a home to the movies. A film was made by the Allied Charities and shown in several theatres prior to an annual charity campaign. "Buddy" Winthrop of St. Anthony's Home was shown in the film, eating a huge piece of cake. Such a "hit" did he make that several families hurried to adopt him.

A joint celebration and dinner party, in observation of the launching of their respective business enterprises, was staged by William Parsons and G. L. Johnson of the new Aladdin theatre and Charley Bassenbacher, who recently opened the Liberty Film Exchange, Kansas City, at the Aladdin thteatre, Kansas City, and later at the Hotel Muehlebach Friday night.

A timelock safe saved the Mainstreet theatre, Kansas City, several thousand dollars Monday night. Taylor Myers, assistant manager and treasurer of the theatre, was kidnapped as he was coming out of a restaurant, by two bandits, who forced him to take them into the theatre and to the safe, Mr. Myers explained to the bandits that if the safe were to be opened prior to the time indicated on the dial that a general alarm would be sounded and the police notified.

"That's tough," said one of the bandits, "we had been planning this a long time."

"I'm sorry gentlemen," replied Myers. "Good night."

Jay Means, Kansas City exhibitor, added a fourth theatre to his string this week with the purchase of the Bagdad theatre, a comparatively new house seating 1,065 persons. Mr. Means acquired an unexpired lease on the theatre for nine years from the Hurley Theatre Corp. The other theatres operated by Mr. Means are the Oak Park, the Murray and the Prospect theatres.

Seattle

IN a line with the recently announced personnel changes in the Pathe offices, L. A. Samuelson, of Seattle, last week took over the entire management of the local office, and the staff here bid good-bye to Dave Frazer, former P. D. C. executive, who will become a special sales representative for Pathe in the San Francisco sector. In Portland, Harry Percy of P. D. C. becomes the big chief, and L. M. Cobbs, former Pathe manager, comes to Seattle as sales representative for the local office.

Gerald Smith and Jack Storey, commercial aviators who piloted the "City of Tacoma" plane in the recent Spokane Air Derby, were guests of honor one night last week at a banquet at the Tacoma Hotel, given by the Tacoma Theatre Owners and Managers Association.

John Danz, owning and operating a string of houses in the downtown section here, has announced several personnel and business changes in his theatres. George Appleby, former Pathe representative, is the new supervisor of the Danz chain. The star theatre has been remodeled and new seats installed. Morris Sadick is house manager. A long time lease on the Colonial theatre has been taken by Mr. Danz. He has remodeled it and will use it for his larger second runs.

Art Schayer, former sales representative for Manager Ben Fish's local Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer office, has resigned his position and will leave this month for Los Angeles to enter a new venture.

Fred Mercy, former Eastern Washington manager for Jensen-Von Herberg, is gradually building up quite a chain of houses under his own control and has recently acquired the Toppenish and Zillah, Washington, theatres, formerly owned by Doctor Johnson.

James Merion, former auditor of John Hamrick's chain of houses in Seattle, Tacoma and Portland, is back at his old job again, making his offices and headquarters at the Blue Mouse theatre in this city.

Howard Sheehan, division manager for Fox Films, spent a short time recently in the Pacific Northwest territory, visiting at Manager Ballantine's local exchange and also stopping off at the Fox branch in Portland on his way to the California offices.

Announcement was made from West Coast Theatres offices last week to the effect that the Rivoli and Alta theatres in Pendleton, Oregon, probably will be added to the West Coast circuit in this territory. Guy Matlock, present operator, will retire from all connection with the houses when the Wesco group takes control.

Ben F. Shearer and A. M. Larsen, of the National Theatre Supply Company's local office, were expected home this week from Chicago, where they have been conferring with National officials.

Manager Ben Fish, of M-G-M, last week announced that he has appointed Mac Rubenfield to the local sales staff.

Local friends of Lloyd Lamb, formerly connected with Manager Art Huot's Film Booking Office exchange here, and now associated with F. B. O. in Portland, will be glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from an attack of intestinal flu.

Among the infrequent visitors on film row last week was L. K. Brin, formerly the first Warner Bros. franchise holder in Seattle and after that the representative and manager of the Egyptian theatre in this city for the Warner organization. Mr. Brin has just taken over the Garden theatre, a first run house in Milwaukee.

"Cap" Kiggin's new Castle theatre in Vancouver, Washington, opened to the public last week, and the first show was attended by several of the local film men who drove down to the border city especially for the occasion.

W. H. Storey, formerly associated with John Hamrick's circuit of theatres, last week joined the Columbia Film Exchange in this territory.

Detroit

LESTER BRIGGS opened the Orient Oct. 29 with a stage band policy in addition to second run features. A seventeen piece orchestra has been engaged for the pit, under Otto E. Kreuger's direction.

The new Kunsky theatre being erected in Redford, suburb of Detroit, was the scene of dedicatory exercises Oct. 15, when leading residents of the community took part in ceremonies relative to the opening. The Redford theatre will be completed some time in December.

Another house, the new Ready in Niles, Mich., was formally opened during the same week. This theatre, operated by the Butterfield circuit, was the scene for ceremonies Thursday, Oct. 20. All Butterfield officials were on hand for the event while telegrams poured in from friends throughout the country.

More than 60 employes of the Kunsky Theatres Corporation, who have served over 10 years in the organization, were guests of honor at the Michigan theatre last Wednesday evening. Their celebration and "get-together" was observed by all members of the stage, orchestra and kino-booth staffs, with their wives, totalling close to 600 persons. Engraved watches were presented to 19 employees who are just rounding out 10 years' service.

Over in Brooklyn, Michigan, E. C. Donaldson has taken the Electric under his wing, and he has already installed new seats and a new floor.

Construction of a theatre which will be one of the finest in Michigan is being rushed towards completion in Ann Arbor for the Butterfield circuit. The house will be named the Michigan and, it is said, carries seating arrangements for nearly 2,000. When completed, this new house is expected to cost approximately $600,000.

Frank Marshall, now supervising general sales manager of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Co., with headquarters in the Windy City, was a recent Detroit visitor.

A policy of Saturday midnight shows was recently established at the Oriental. The owner, C. H. Miles, also sponsored a similar plan in the Miles during the old days. Complete shows are given, commencing at 11:30.

At the horse show given by the Grosse Points Hunt Club last Saturday, some of the finest horses in the country were on exhibition—among them the cream of the stable owned by Kenneth Fitzpatrick, of the F. and M. chain.

Robert Codd, formerly associated with the Strand in Niles, is now general manager of all the Fitzpatrick and McElroy theatres in Michigan City, Ind.

Frank Drew, who was reported as being appointed manager of the M-G-M Detroit exchange last week, recently went to Cleveland, assuming managership of the branch there.

Canada

QUOTA regulations governing the entry into the United States of daily commuters of Canadian citizens, other than those actually born in Canada, will go into effect December 1, according to word received by the Canadian Government. This will probably affect materially the flow of traffic across the International Boundary from day to day at such points as Detroit, Buffalo, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Niagara Falls.

Detroit and Buffalo theatres get considerable patronage from cities on the Canadian side and it is possible that this source of business may be checked by the vise requirements.

Hamilton, Ontario, has another handsome suburban theatre, the Kenmore, the third to be erected by the United Theatres Company of Hamilton, the personnel of which is H. W. Braden, Harold Braden and W. W. Pett. The Kenmore is the first theatre in Canada to be finished in new colored stucco effects, both inside and out.

The Kenmore opened October 24. The orchestra conductor is Harold Harrison and the orchestra was outfitted by Mr. Pett, who is also the proprietor of a music store.

The wife of Alderman H. E. Wilton, manager of the Strand theatre, Hamilton, Ontario, received serious hurts when she was knocked down by a motor truck at Main and Prospects streets, Hamilton, as she was about to enter a street car.

Mrs. Wilton will recover.

After being dark for months, the Regina theatre, Regina, Sask., has been reopened under the management of Pete Egan, who is also the manager of the Capitol theatre, Regina. The Regina was taken over by Famous Players Canadian Corp. last spring and, since that time, the house has been thoroughly overhauled.

Jack Hunter has been appointed house manager of the Regina, while the orchestra was organized by Knight Wilson, who is conductor of the orchestra at the Capitol. H. T. Rennebohn has organized arrangements back stage. Mrs. P. Darke, who was in charge of the box office for nine years previous to the theatre's shutdown, is again the cashier.

Central Penn

RALPH A. STEELE, of Carlisle, Pa., one of the most prominent theatre owners in the Cumberland Valley, was taken in a critical condition to the Carlisle Hospital, following an accident in a new apartment house he is erecting in the suburbs of that city, after he was struck on the head by a falling beam. He was standing on the first floor when the beam fell from one of the floors above, rebounded and fractured his skull. He was unconscious when taken to the hospital. While doctors held some hope for his recovery they said his condition was very alarming.

H. W. Foerste has resigned as manager of Loew's Colonial, Reading, to go to Houston, Texas, and has been succeeded in Reading by Robert H. Suits, formerly manager of Loew's Ohio Theatre, Columbus, Ohio.

Manager J. D. O'Rear, of the Colonial theatre, Bethlehem, entertained 250 children who are being taken care of at the health clinic of the Bethlehem Mothers' Assistance Fund, at a recent matinee picture show.

Control of the Colonial Theatre, Trumbauersville, seating 350 persons, has passed from the East Coast Theatres, Inc., to Harry Hildebrand.

Mr. Steele, who formerly lived in Chambersburg and is head of the Cumberland Valley Amusement Company, this summer sold the Rosedale opera house, a picture theatre, in that city, to J. Luke Gring, who also owns the Capitol in Chambersburg. Mr. Steele owns the Strand theatre, Carlisle, of which his son Robert, is manager; the Strand in Dry Run, Franklin county, and also has theatre interests in Virginia. He has a daughter, Miss Dorothy Steele, proprietor of the Strand Book Shop, Carlisle. At this writing, (October 29) Mr. Steele was still in a critical condition.

Recent shifts among managers of houses controlled by the Comerford Amusement Company, of Scranton, include the following: William Cosgrove from the Regent, Scranton, to the Strand, in the same city; Sam Freidman, from the Strand, Scranton, to manager the new 2,800-seat Capitol, in Pottsville; Ernest Franklin, assistant manager of the Capitol, Scranton, to be manager of the Regent, Scranton; John T. Murray, from the Manhattan, Scranton, to the Rialto, North Scranton; J. Maguzzi, from the Liberty, Hazleton, to the Manhattan, Scranton; Theodore Bauschman, member of the orchestra of the Strand, Scranton, has been made assistant manager and musical supervisor of the same theatre.

The Comerford Amusement Company, of Scranton, has acquired control of the Victoria Theatre, Jersey Shore, Pa., from J. G. Meyer. The House seats 450.

C. Floyd Hopkins, of Harrisburg, district manager for the dozen Wilmer and Vincent theatres in Harrisburg and Reading, attended the recent Federal Trade Conference.

George B. Nevin, prominent coal merchant of Sunbury, Pa., and father of George B. Nevin, Jr., manager of a new picture theatre just erected in Binghamton, N. Y., by the Comerford Amusement Co., died from injuries received in an auto accident at Lewistown, Pa., on the night of October 12. Mr. Nevin, who was 46 years old, was one of a party of four in a machine which plunged 30 feet into the bed of an abandoned canal. He died two hours afterward in a Lewistown hospital, having suffered a fractured skull.

Mr. Nevin was a Mason, a past president of the Kiwanis Club of [illegible] the Elks.

Pennsylvania charters of incorporation have been granted at the capitol in Harrisburg to the Green [illegible] Waynesburg, and the Erie Exposition Amusement [illegible] Erie.

The purpose of the Green County Amusement is "to lease, own and operate place of public amusement." It is capitalized at 50,000, of which $5,000 has been paid in. The par value of shares is $100. J. E. Drury, of Waynesburg, is treasurer, and one of the [illegible] shares. The other incorporators, holding the same amounts of stock, are Judson M. Bell and Frank S. Miller, both of Waynesburg.

The Erie Exposition Amusement Company is formed to "conduct public and private amusements," and is capitalized at $10,000, of which $1,000 is paid in. The par value of shares is $100. Gran B. Quinn, Erie, is treasurer, and holds 30 shares of the stock. The other incorporators are F. W. A. Moeller, Walameer Park, Erie, 40 shares, and Raymond P. Leemhuis, Erie, 30 shares.

Atlanta

JOHN L. CROVO has resigned the managerial post which he has held at the Metropolitan theatre for the past eighteen months to become affiliated with E. J. Sparks, head of the E. J. Sparks Enterprises, Jacksonville, Florida. Mr. Crovo leaves early next week to assume the duties of his new connection, which will include management of the Rialto theatre, road show house, and the Imperial, first-run picture house, both in Jacksonville.

C. L. Peavy, F. B. O. Atlanta branch manager, spent this week in South Georgia.

George T. Chester, manager of the Atlanta office of Enterprise Corporation, was in his office Wednesday and Thursday, going out again into the territory.

John Ezell, Atlanta branch manager of Warner Bros., made a trip through Florida this week.

P. D. Kelly, of the Ideal theatre, Ashburn, Ga., visited film Atlanta's row during the week.

A. J. MacPhain, of the New York home office of F. B. O., left the first part of the week for Jacksonville, where he will remain for a time.

P. J. Henn, of the Bonita theatre, Canton, Ga., was a guest on film row this week.

W. G. Carmichael, United Artists branch manager of the Atlanta office, toured Florida on a business trip all week.

Willingham Wood, of the Strand theatre, Washington, Ga., was a visitor in the film exchanges this week.

W. W. Anderson, Pathe Atlanta branch manager, spent the week making a trip through Florida.

Charles Henschel, eastern division manager for Pathe, was a visitor to the company's Atlanta office this week.

A. H. Yoemans, of the Rost theatre, Dublin, Ga., made a trip to Atlanta during the week.

J. W. Mangham, Jr., Atlanta manager for Bromberg Attractions, spent his week in the Tennessee territory.

Jimmy Harrison, booker of the Wilby Enterprises, made a trip to Birmingham this week.

Mrs. Dorothy Strauss, of the Doradelle theatre, Copperhill, Tenn., spent the week in Atlanta on pleasure and business combined.

Fred Jack, assistant manager of First National, spent the week in South Georgia and Florida.

Atlanta branch of Pathe was honored this week by three visitors: R. A. Morrow, district manager; H. J. Marshall, district representative of the Educational department, and Charles Henschel, eastern division manager.

Mrs. I. H. Deitz, of the Star theatre, Covington, Ga., was in the city this week, busily engaged with new product in the film exchanges.

Mrs. P. G. Maddox, of the Maddox chain of theatres, Archer, Fla., spent the week in Atlanta, visiting her daughter in Decatur.

Mrs. T. H. Holland, of the Madison Square theatre, Madison, Ga., made a visit to film row this week.

George Jones, formerly booker for Pathe, left yesterday for Memphis, Tenn., to assume the duties of booker in the Universal exchange of that city.

W. G. Minder, Southeastern manager for Tiffany, has returned [illegible] reports that he sold Tiffany's new season product to the Sangers for showing in all their key towns.

The local film fraternity lost one of its most popular young members to Memphis yesterday, when Geo. Jones, head booker for Pathe, left that organization to become booker for the Universal Exchange in [illegible]

Notwithstanding their various interests in numerous theatre enterprises, E. J. Sparks and R. B. Wilby, the former head of the E. J. Sparks Enterprises in Florida, the latter prime factor in Publix-Saenger Theatres of North Carolina and several other enterprises in Georgia and Alabama, are assembling paraphernalia for their annual season of hunting in Matamoras, Mexico.

Paramount district and branch [illegible] gathered in Chicago late this week for the company's regular semi-[illegible] be in session at the Drake Hotel for three days, beginning Saturday, October 29.

Willard C. Patterson, southern [illegible] manager of Universal theatres, returned Friday from Jonesboro, Ark., where he spent several days early this week in conference with Manager Mack of the Universal Strand [illegible]

EMPIRE FILM VAULTS, INC.
723 Seventh Ave., N. Y. Bryant 5437-5736-2180
STORAGE OF MOTION PICTURE FILMS

Baltimore

THE Appollo Theatre, operated by the State Theatre Company, J. Louis Rome, general manager, is being redecorated and improved inside, the work being done at night. Pale blue and gold are being used for the color scheme with large techstone panels. A new floor is being laid and new lighting fixtures are being arranged.

Lou Lusty, who succeeded Chas. Winston as publicity manager of Loew's Incorporated, operating the Century, Valencia and Parkway Theaters, has gone back to New York to become the publicist for the Colony there. He has been succeeded by Gregory Dickson, formerly with the Publix home office.

A golf tournament was scheduled to be held by the Washington Film Board of Trade at the Indian Spring Golf Club, November 4. Exhibitors and exchangemen were invited to participate and the entrance fee was ten dollars. James B. Fitzgerald, of the Board of Trade, received the application. The game consisted of nine holes in the morning and eighteen in the afternoon.

Stuart Bryan Tucker has been appointed assistant to Harry Bernstein, president of the Mosque Amusements, Inc., Richmond, Va., where he was formerly house manager of the Colonial Theater.

The Little Win theater, Winchester, Va., has been sold by Charles W. Boyer, Hagerstown, Md., to the Shenandoah Valley Theaters Corporation, subsidiary of the Atlanta Corporation, for $15,000.

The Elite theater, Washington, D. C., Sidney Lust proprietor, is being managed by James Taylor now.

John E. Sanderson, formerly a theater operator of Winchester, Va., has now become a salesman for Sidney B. Lust, Washington, D. C.

Frank Harris is to manage the Strand Theater, Hopewell, Va., which has been renovated.

Colby Harriman, formerly director of stage presentations at Loew's Theater in Baltimore and Washington, D. C., has become associated with the Stanley-Crandall Company, Washington, D. C., and will have charge of stage presentations at theaters operated by that company in Baltimore, Washington, Frederick and Martinburg.

The new picture theater built by the Buena Vista Theater Company at Hopewell, Va., seating 750 persons, was opened recently.

The Byrd Theater, Richmond, Va., named after the founder of the city, William Byrd, is now being built.

A new picture theater is to be built at Highland Park, Richmond, Va., by Charles W. Vaughan.

The Astor Theater, being built on the site of the former Poplar Theater, Baltimore, Md., with a seating capacity of 500 persons at a cost of $85,000, by the Amusement Corporation of America, will open to the public Monday, November 14.

The Colonial Theater, Richmond, Va., formerly managed by Stuart Bryan Tucker, will be managed now by Herbert Curtis, formerly an actor .

James Rowney, formerly conductor of the orchestra at Loew's Valencia, Baltimore, Md., has become assistant conductor of the orchestra at Loew's Palace, Washington, D. C.

Adrian Anthony, formerly chief usher at the Stanley, here, is now managing two soda fountains at a local drug store.

Minnie Keyser recently resigned as program distributor at the Stanley.

Norma Keck, cashier at Loew's Valencia, has become engaged to marry former Midshipman Louis Harrison, who is now employed at the U. S. Industrial Chemical Plant, Curtis Bay, Md.

Minneapolis

FINKELSTEIN & RUBEN'S new theatre, the Chateau Dodge, at Rochester, Minn., was opened last Tuesday with appropriate ceremonies. The stage will accommodate practically any type of road show and the seating capacity of the house is 1,700. The Chateau Dodge is the only atmospheric theatre in the Northwest and ranks with the most beautiful in the country.

The new Empress theatre at Osakis, Minn., a new theatre recently completed, was opened October 7 by Andrew Severson.

The Minneapolis Film Board of Trade elected at its last meeting W. H. Workman as its vice-president to succeed Ed. Lipson, resigned. Workman is manager of the Minneapolis Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer branch.

The Grand theatre at Jordan, Minn., has been sold by William Thievoldt to P. C. Larson of Blooming Prairie, Minn.

The Hollywood, the new theatre in McVille, N. D., was formally opened October 15 by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan.

Contracts have been let by McCarthy Bros. for the erection of a $60,000 theatre at Moorhead, Minn., with a seating capacity of 970. The Lyceum, which is the other Moorhead theatre, may be entirely remodeled by the American Amusement Company, which now holds an option on the building. The option has not yet been exercised but it has been announced that $15,000 will be expended.

Representatives of 12 Minneapolis film companies held a meeting this week in an endeavor to establish a fair basis of valuation for the levying of personal property tax on film by the city. An arbitrary valuation was placed on film this year by the Minneapolis assessors which amounted in many cases to more than ten times as much as had been paid formerly. It is thought likely that this was done in an attempt to force the film companies to declare a definite valuation on which an equitable tax may be assessed.

The representatives of the film companies have been asked to compile figures to determine what method of taxation will be most equitable and easiest to handle. At the meeting this week one method suggested was that of a tax of $25 a reel for new film with a 10 per cent reduction for each month after a release and $1 a reel for all film more than a year old. Another suggestion was that film be graded in classes of new, three months old, six months old, nine months and a year old with a reduction in the tax rate for each classification.

St. Louis

DAME RUMOR, who several times this past Summer had almost concluded a deal for the consolidation of Skouras Brothers Ambassador and Missouri theatres and Loew's State Theatre, has finally concluded that nothing of the kind will occur. And the alleged deal is definitely and finally off, it has been learned.

Trenton, Mo., held an informal election of the question of Sunday motion picture shows on Tuesday, November 1.

The election was arranged by Herman Gould, manager of the Hubbell Theatre and the local Ministerial Alliance. The ministers have agreed to drop their fight against Sunday movies if the people of the town by their votes announce they want such amusements, while Gould has offered to abandon his efforts for Sunday shows if the vote is against him.

Skouras Brothers Enterprises, Inc., has declared a dividend of 75 cents per share on Class A stock payable November 1 to stock holders of record, October 25.

Th earnings of the Ambassador and Missouri theatres have been satisfactory, while the Ambassador Building is more then 78 per cent rented. The company also controls the St. Louis Amusement Company.

Skouras A stock closed October 29 at $38 bid and $40 asked on an ex-dividend basis, while St. Louis Amusement A closed at $40 asked.

Out-of-town exhibitors seen along Picture Row the past week included: Joe Wade, Vandalia, Ill.; Frank Barnes, Carmi, Ill.; J. J. Schuckert, Chester, Ill.; Steve Farrar, Harrisburg, Ill.; J. DeFrenne, Mexico, Mo.

Claude McKean, manager here for Fox, viisted Hannibal, Mo., Keokuk, Ia., and vicinity during the past week.

The Orpheum Theatre, St. Louis, Mo., effective on November 6, will adopt a new policy under which the biggest vaudeville stars and the best available first-run pictures will be presented. Except on Sundays, when the continuous program will prevail, all seats in the big house will be reserved.

The Uptown Theatre, Maplewood, Mo., was reopened on October 29. W. J. Colanna is the manager. The Uptown was formerly known as the Marshall Theatre.

Jack Harris is now office manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, while R. N. Caldwell has been added to the sales organization. Jack Emminghiser, formerly attached to the Omaha branch, has also been transferred to St. Louis.

Sout East

R. B. WILBANKS, manager Paramount's Charlotte, N. C., exchange, left Tuesday for Atlanta, leaving there on Friday for Chicago, to attend the Paramount convention.

A. L. Cook, owner Maiden theatre, Maiden, N. C., was in Charlotte Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Prevo, of the Palace theatre, Thomasville, N. C., visited film row Wednesday.

The Lyric theatre, Burlington, N. C., had a fire last week that destroyed the booth equipment and several reels of film. The house is owned by Stevenson's Theatres, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marcus spent Monday and Tuesday in Charlotte.

U. K. Rice, manager Colonial theatre, Winston-Salem- N. C., was seen Wednesday on Charlotte's film row.

D. M. Eaves, of the Eaves, Circuit in South Carolina, Mrs. Eaves and their son Duncan, were in Charlotte Monday.

Publix-Saenger of North Carolina, Inc., has taken over the Rex and Queen theatres in Hendersonville, N. C., formerly operated by Jake Wells.

W. B. Means, owner Star theatre, Concord, N. C., visited Charlotte during the week.

Edgar C. Pearce, formerly owner and manager of the Bijou theatre, Winston-Salem, N. C., has taken over the management of the National and Broadway theatres at Mt. Airy, N. C.

C. C. Ezell, of Warner Brothers, spent Saturday in Charlotte.

H. F. Kincey, general manager Publix-Saenger of North Carolina, Inc., announces that the new Carolina theatre in Greensboro, N. C., will open Monday, October 31st. George Brown, formerly manager of theatres in Raleigh, Charlotte, Birmingham and Memphis, will be manager.

Paul Key, driver of Horlacher film truck of Charlotte, is badly hurt and William Smith, of Roper, N. C., dead as the result of an automobile accident Tuesday morning, ten miles east of Greensboro, N. C., when Key's truck plunged into a wrecked Hudson car driven by Smith, which had crashed into the sidewall of a concrete bridge, killing the driver instantly.

Doody Engert, formerly an exhibitor at Harlan, Ky., is now in association with A. W. James, presenting orchestras at the Kosair Temple, Louisville, and Rosaland Dance Hall at Lexington, Ky.

F. M. Holeman, of the Garrick and Cameo theatres, Madisonville, Ky., was in Chicago last week.

By special arrangement of The Times and The Courier-Journal with B. F. Keith's National theatre, orphan and invalid children of Louisville and Jefferson County are to see a program without charge, this week, before it is offered to the public next week.

J. H. Haselden, Grand theatre, Lancaster, Ky., visited Louisville this week.

Mike Switow, head of the Switow Theatrical Enterprises, Louisville, has just purchased a beautiful home on Baringer avenue, in one of the choice residential sections of Louisville. Another exhibitor, Louis Steurle, recently built a fine home in Cherokee Village.

Emil Courte, who had charge of advertising accessories for the local First National exchange, has resigned to become manager of the Starland theatre at Anderson, Ind., one of the three houses there in which Colonel Fred Levy and Lee Goldberg are controlling factors. The vacancy caused by Mr. Courte's resignation has been filled by Geo. O'Mary.

H. G. Salisbury is the new owner of the Ligon theatre at Ligon, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. I. White, of Cincinnati, are visiting their son, Maurice White, manager of the local First National exchange.

S. H. Borisky, of the Independent Theatres, Inc., Chattanooga, Tenn., was in New York recently.

There has been a marriage epidemic around the film exchange of Big Features Rights Corporation. Within the last two months three members of the staff, Misses Ida Miller, Marion Miller and Grace Ballman, have resigned to get married. As a result, Kenneth Kimbel has been appointed feature booker; Nora Kelly advanced to educational booker; Renetta Doll, has been appointed secretary to Mr. Goldberg and Fannie Cohen, secretary to Mr. Barnett, sales manager.

R. H. Crowell, of the Opera House, Stanford, Ky., has recovered from an illness of several weeks.

Captain W. D. Ament, well known showman, has taken over the management of the Princess theatre at Springfield, Tenn., which house is owned and operated by the Crescent Amusement Company of Nashville.

Among the visitors to Birmingham, Ala., the past week are Montgomery Hill, district supervisor, and Braney Balaban and J. J. Fitzgibbons, of Publix Home Office. These gentlemen, together with Sidney Dennenberg, Publix Birmingham manager, inspected progress of the work on the new Alabama. While in Birmingham, Mr. Hill announced that Mr. Dannenberg would be manager of the new Alabama.

The Empire, Birmingham, has abandoned motion pictures for a time at least, and opens with the Jackson Players, stock, this week

Among recent visitors to Birmingham were Thomas A. Branon, of Atlanta, president of Eltabran Film Company; John W. Mangham, Atlanta manager of A. C. Bromberg Attractions; Fred W. Jack, assistant manager, First Nation, Atlanta exchange, and John Ezell, Atlanta branch manager of Warner Brothers.

The new "Avon," Birmingham, is rapidly approaching completion and, when finished, will be one of the best suburban theatres in the city.

The "Homewood," Homewood's new theatre, will probably be ready for opening some time in December.

John W. Peck, Sr., of First National and American Theatres, Sylacauga, visited Birmingham this week and conferred with his son, who handles their local circuit, the Norwood and Five Points theatres.

It is reported htat John W. Johnson, of the Colonial theatre, Jasper, who has been in the hospital because of an operation, is rapidly recovering.

Cecil B. Grimes, of the Bama, Diamond and Belvedere, Tuscaloosa, was in Atlanta the past week and visited his many friends on film row.

R. J. O'Donnell, special representative Inter-State Amusement Company, was in Birmingham the past week.

The building measures 40 by 100 feet and is equipped with the most [illegible] and up-to-date [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

San Francisco

GROUND was broken October 6th at Ninth and Market Streets for what is to be the second largest moving picture theatre in the world, according to Howard Sheehan, representative of the Fox Film Corporation, which is building the theatre. A. P. Giannini, president of the Bank of Italy, turned the first spadeful of earth at the exercises, while the Mayor operated the huge steam shovel which began the work of excavating.

Among other prominent citizens who welcomed the building of the new Fox Theatre in San Francisco were Supervisor William Harrelson, former Supervisor Ralph McLeran, and the contractors who will erect the edifice, Allan MacDonald and Felix Kahn.

Over 200 feet long, the new theatre will seat 5,000 people. Only one theatre located in New York, is larger, Sheehan declares. The contractors expect to finish it in about one year, and estimate the cost at over $2,000,000.

French Renaissance architecture will be the general style of the building, in which the lobby will be a vast hall of mirrors, marble and bronze. Thomas Lamb, of New York, is the architect.

Space has been left at the apex of the triangular lot which fronts on Market Street to be used for the building of a 1,000-room hotel extending out over the theatre. No definite plans have been made for a hotel as yet, but it will be taken into consideration in the excavating, the contractors declare.

The National Theatres Syndicate of California have purchased for their Modesto Theatre a pair of Peerless Reflector Arc Lamps, which have been installed and are giving the desired improved results.

L. G. Dolliver, district manager, left for Chicago, where he will attend a meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Company.

The San Mateo Theatre, one of the chain of M. Blumenfeld, and in operation for upward of three years, has passed into the hands of the E. J. Arkush circuit of Peninsula theatres. It is understood that the Regent, now operated by the Arkush circuit, will be closed, leaving the Peninsula now the leading theatre in San Mateo, and the New San Mateo, just acquired under the Arkush banner, giving San Mateo two theatres in operation instead of one.

Sol Levis, of the Francesca theatre, on Market street, has installed Preddy Reflector Lamps.

M. N. Zar, the National Company's traveling representative, has been hitting the Sacramento Valley towns.

Max Blumenfeld has commenced work on three new theatres—one for North Sacramento, Allendale district of Oakland, and one for San Rafael.

George Roy, of Reno, states that he has disposed of a half interest in his Nevada theatre.

The new theatre now being constructed, The Alameda, at San Jose, is rapidly nearing completion, and will open in about four weeks. Enno Lion is the lessee. Lion formerly operated the Rex Theatre at Santa Clara.

Tom Kane, who for two years has been manager of the Regent Theatre, San Mateo, is opening the new San Mateo Theatre for the Arkush Circuit. Kane has been in the show business for many years, having been a trouper in the old days.

Many of Hollywood's film colonly came to San Francisco October 15th to attend the Stanford-University of Southern California football game at Palo Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. Seiter, formerly of the Lyric Theatre, Manteca, have taken over the Sanger house, which has been owned and operated for several years by R. Armstrong.

Neal Walton has come from Seattle to joint the Universal sales force. He will travel the North and South Coast.

Manager Reavis of the California Theatre, Santa Rosa, was a recent visitor on the Avenue.

Harry Lustig, district manager for Warner Brothers recently spent some time in the local exchange.

Morgan Walsh has returned from Los Angeles, where he was called to attend the funeral of Sam Warner.

Helwig, Pathe's Traveling Auditor, spent two weeks in the local Pathe Exchange.

George Fitzgerald, Universal's Booker, has announced he will marry November 12th.

Sheriff Hickey, district manager for M-G-M, with his personal representative, Millstein, passed through San Francisco on their way from the North to Los Angeles.

The Monache Theatre, Porterville, Calif., has been equipped with a pair of Peerless lamps, the order having been placed by the National Theatres Syndicate.

The National Company is now distributing the Eyemo Motion Picture Camera.

Mrs. Grace Wilson of the Liberty Theatre, St. Helena, was a recent visitor on Film Row.

A. Blanco has acquired the ownership of the Mayfield Theatre at Mayfield, effective October 1st. He plans to do some renovating and improvement. Mrs. Viola Langen has cancelled a sale of the Point Theatre at Point Richmond and is again in charge of that theatre.

Motion pictures filmed by Californians, Inc., in San Francisco and other California spots of interest and beauty had their "world premiere" recently at the Shrine Club's weekly meeting at the Palace Hotel. The pictures are to be shown throughout the United States to advertise California.

Frank Lacey, to the enjoyment of his friends, returned from his trip to Portland where he went to arrange matters to bring his family down here for good.

Oklahoma City

LAST WEEK the Griffith Amusement Company, which owns 50 some odd theatres in Oklahoma and the Panhandle of Texas, called together all its managers. There are twenty-one theatre managers in all, and after a business meeting, they were taken by special bus to attend the opening of the company's newest theatre, the Bison, at Shawnee, Okla. On the following night the company chartered a well known roadside cabaret and entertained the theatre men and their wives.

The managers are: Roy Sinor, Pampa, Tex.; Earl Settle, Ardmore, Okla.; C. E. Leachman, Stillwater, Okla.; C. O. Fulgham, Okmulgee, Okla.; C. E. Wagner, Elk City, Okla.; J. H. Griffin, Miami, Okla.; Tom Blair, Tonkawa, Okla.; Harry Lowenstein, Ardmore, Okla.; Paul Craig, Earlsboro, Okla.; I. G. Killough, Hugo, Okla.; R. F. Wilbern, Duncan, Okla.; Jerry Jeter, Oklahoma City; Bob Browning, Enid, Okla.; Fred Morley, Borger, Tex.; Carl Benefiel, Panhandle, Tex.; Ralph Leachman, Genryetta, Okla.; W. J. Moore, Fairfax, Okla.; Harry Britten, Norman, Okla.; A. R. Powell, Guthrie, Okla.; Ted Jones, Seminole, Okla.; A. F. Hornbeck, Shawnee, Okla.

It is reported that John Quandel is preparing to open a new picture show at Depew, Okla.

Max Brock, who only recently purchased Jack Massey's interest in the Rialto theatre at Lawton, announced last week that he had closed the Rialto for an indefinite period.

Jack Wall, remembered by the old timers in the Oklahoma City theatrical circles when he was connected with the old Overholser Opera House—now the Orpheum theatre—was in town last Monday, visiting Morris Lowenstein of the Majestic theatre here. Mr. Wahl is now with the Weber Booking Company of New York.

Florida

SULPHUR SPRINGS' new house, being built by Paul Lavents, is coming along. It's quite a nifty and worthy addition to this fast growing resort. The building is of brick and concrete construction with all the latest devices for comfort and protection of the patrons. Mr. Lavents says that he is planning on opening by the 10th of November, but it looks like it would be some job to complete it by then; however, Lavents is a contractor himself and he should know. The house will be called The Palms and in addition to the motion pictures will present Tab shows. That seems like a good idea as there is another motion picture theatre in the city and by having a different style of program the two houses will not be in such direct competition with each other.

N. V. Darley, manager of the Rivoli in Ybor City, brought back a flock of young motion picture projectors which he is going to give away to his junior customers as a Christmas gift from the house.

Robert G. Hudson, owner of a string of houses along the West Coast, was a Tampa visitor last Sunday.

F. W. Holmes dropped into Tampa recently, looking for something to keep him occupied for the winter; and he succeeded, for he has leased the big Davis Island Coliseum for five months.

G. L. Bender, who operated the Palma Ceia in Tampa for a short time this summer, has built a new house in Largo and will open there within two weeks.

Newspaper Opinions on New Pictures

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Pantages Theatre, Seattle

Times: "At no time during the existence of the Pantages circuit has such tremendous city-wide interest been aroused over presentation of entertainment ('What Price Glory') as manifest this week."

Post Intelligencer: "They have kept kick in 'What Price Glory.' Here, indeed, is engraving of war etched with bayonet points, washed in blood of legions. What price glory, indeed! It was a rotten war, full of muck and mud, rum and rats, hate and horror. But it was glorious in victory. Raoul Walsh brought it to screen as it was, not as it was imagined. Direction superb. Must be counted to screen what 'Macbeth' is to literature; what Sistine Madonna is to art; what Milo Venus is to sculpture; what 'Aida' is to music."

"Breakfast at Sunrise" — First National, Los Angeles

Herald: "Connie's Madeleine a frisky sort of lass with dash of spice. St. Clair has caught spirit of French farce, and kept it moving at rapid rate. Alvarado makes Madeleine's heart skip, beat, and chances are he'll do same with feminine film fans. Washburn and Alice White do some clever acting, too."

Examiner: "'Breakfast at Sunrise,' as served up by Constance Talmadge, is cream puff and champagne. Charming and provocative, effervescent and volatile, Connie is all heroine of French farce should be. Film has a lively pace."

News: "Constance Talmadge always provides good entertainment. She is up to her standard, or even above her usual work, in 'Breakfast at Sunrise.'

"The Life of Riley"—First National, Washington Street Olympia Theatre, Boston

Herald: "That pair of uniformed laugh makers, Murray and Sidney, in another uproarious comedy. A clean, funny comedy that Murray-Sidney fans will like."

American: "Comedy pair bring many laughs. Those merry film rivals, Murray and Sidney, baiting each other uproariously. Both gentlemen comedians of ability and long standing."

Advertiser: "Murray and Sidney both good comedians but in a different way."

Post: "Comedy love story . . . with comedy highlights."

Transcript: "Entertaining picture . . . amusing antics. Murray and Sidney capable clowners."

Traveler: "Another of those racial slapstick affairs that have proved to be so popular. You will doubtless enjoy Murray and Sidney in their latest frolic. Both do well with their material."

"East Side, West Side"—Fox Films, Roxy Theatre, New York City

News: "Thrills and action galore. A splendid cast, led by O'Brien and Virginia Valli. Virginia splendid as Becka, yet she isn't buxom Becka we pictured. Really too alluring, she is. June Collyer, new screen beauty, a glorious society girl. She's lovely enough to go far in pictures."

Times: "Pictorial translation of Riesenberg's book indubitably best picture Dwan has fashioned since he produced 'Big Brother.' He has gone to great pains to set forth many of incidents from original story and quite number of them are filmed with considerable skill. He has succeeded in eliciting really fine performances from both O'Brien and Virginia Valli."

Evening World: "A very good action movie, as title implies. A marvelous sightseeing tour for outlanders. Brings to screen most of points of interest of metropolis, and for this reason there isn't doubt that it will go over very well out of town. And performances of O'Brien and Miss Valli will help to enhance that interest, for they do extremely well here. In fact, latter does so well that question again comes to mind as to why this young woman has not climbed farther in this screen firmament. June Collyer gives all sorts of promise."

Herald-Tribune: "One sees the sinking of gigantic ocean liner when it collides with iceberg, fatal ramming of tug by steamer, battle in prize ring and innumerable struggles with gangsters in speakeasies, attacks upon heroine by flashily dressed villains, heart-warming, self-sacrifices by same heroine, so hero, who has risen from slums, may marry debutante, and underground disaster where hero rescues subway workers from hasty doom. O'Brien excellent as hero, showing all developments of character from terrified youth to successful and then disillusioned maturity admirably. Virginia Valli excellent as self-sacrificing Jewish heroine and a newcomer named June Collyer is pretty and well bred."

Telegram: "Just about everything that happened in or about New York within last ten years may be seen on Roxy screen this week. Miss Valli emerges with vivid characterization of Becka, O'Brien rings true as waif, and Holmes Herbert and June Collyer help out with generally good performances."

American: "Good movie entertainment. Something so vivid and alive and gripping about life in Ghetto that these pictured scenes arouse most interest in story. Mr. O'Brien gives convincing performance. Virginia Valli does an excellent job."

World: Picture play of considerable quality. Melodrama of east side boy's rise through pugilism to success and happiness and brings out O'Brien in his first performance seen here since memorable work which he did in 'Sunrise.' Miss Valli and Miss Collyer, latter decidedly attractive brunette and one with certain promising tendencies [illegible] directed."

"Two Arabian Knights"—United Artists, Million Dollar Theatre, Los Angeles

Record: "Gay comedy. Comedy crackles with laughter. Applauded by capacity audience. Rol[illegible] romance to give it proper balance. Has in it all elements that majority of film fans crave—adventure, romance—and always—comedy. A [illegible] with hearty laughs—that's 'Two Arabian Knights.'"

Hollywood News: "All types of humor, kind that makes you slap your knees from sheer ecstasy of mirth, kind that evokes audible chuckles and that still more subtle variety that arouses but [illegible] woven into 'Two Arabian Knights.'"

Times: "Laughter prevails. You'll laugh out loud. Long time since a theatre has echoed and re-echoed to such continuous laughter as last night. Literally one succession of amusing incidents. Plot is full of surprises."

Evening Herald: "Another team on highroad to greater fame. Plentifully endowed with gags. Is good for guffaws throughout."

Hollywood Daily Citizen: "Strictly for laughing purposes only was 'Two Arabian Knights' conceived, and right well does it succeed in its intent. Wolheim new in screen comedy ranks, but his work in 'Two Arabian Knights' should push him near front. Good for laugh whenever he is on screen, which is most of time. Reception accorded comedy augurs well for its success."

Evening Express: "New comedy of great war one of gayest. Takes rank among best. Wolheim makes character one of most memorable of screen. Boyd does best work he has ever done. No pair yet advanced has outdone this twain in effective byplay."

Examiner: "Shrieks of laughter greeted 'Two Arabian Knights.' Wolheim and Boyd a 'riot' in funfest. Shrieks of merriment greeted Louis Wolheim and William Boyd as two American soldiers. Funny [illegible] forget his fate on night of his hanging."

"Three's a Crowd"—First National Mark Strand Theatre, New York City

[illegible] "Laughter among stellar lights of [illegible] romantic-tragedy called a decidedly unique screen contribution. Gags have been gathered well-nigh straight as to audience reaction. And most of them novel and exceptionally funny. Direction subtle and quick-moving. And Harry is grand. He has found himself again. There isn't any too much of plot, but [illegible] out of what there is. You can take our word for [illegible] are galore. In spots it is so laugh-provoking that you'll [illegible]

[illegible] to be gilded pieces and they were really clever work."

[illegible] mor is up to its usual high stand[illegible] 'Three's a Crowd' good film entertainment. Harry has art of making audience sorry for him even while they're laughing at him."

"Camille"—First National, Criterion Theatre, Los Angeles

Express: "Beauty and high technical qualities are distinguishing [illegible] urant creature in every scene, looking younger than in any of her recent pictures. Her portrayal has distinction and radiates best charm of her qualities. She has never appeared lovelier."

Record: "'Camille' as filmed by Norma Talmadge is a monument to her genius as actress. A picture so intelligently acted, so beautifully photographed that it rises above rank and file of most screen productions and emerges triumphant in artistry. Nothing stands out more clearly than the fact that Norma Talmadge had only artistry of her picture in mind, and, further, surrounded herself with excellent cast. A thing of beauty, a picture one can sincerely recommend."

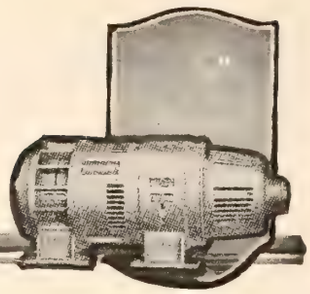
Examiner: "Miss Talmadge is one of Gibraltars in topography of cinema art. She seems incapable of giving listless or mediocre performance. Her name is guarantee of sound performance. 'Camille' is a lavish and sensuous performance. No effort, no expense has been spared. Miss Talmade's 'Camille' will remain as a mark to be shot at by aspiring actresses. Portrayal has winsomeness, pathos."

Times: "It is hard to believe that anyone has been lovelier than Norma Talmadge in 'Camille.' She is more vividly lovely than she has ever before appeared. Scenes of exquisite beauty, and cast is excellent. Bound to be box-office success. Gilbert Roland assumes place [illegible] Roland has looks, dramatic ability, and happy faculty of being convincing."

News: "Gripping hold of 'Ca[illegible] has not lessened. Many [illegible] humor will be [illegible] Norma Talmadge's newest picture is unreeled. Modernizing 'Camille' has been a smart thing."

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Powers Theatre, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Herald: "Screen version was [illegible] at every appearance. It is an engrossing epic, every [illegible] drama. Undoubtedly [illegible] year, or any other year for that matter."



"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Carthay Circle, Los Angeles

Examiner: "What a picture is 'What Price Glory'! The most [illegible] and vivid of all war pictures."

Projection

Optics, Electricity, Practical Ideas & Advice

Inquiries and Comments

A Good Alibi—Which Must Be Discarded

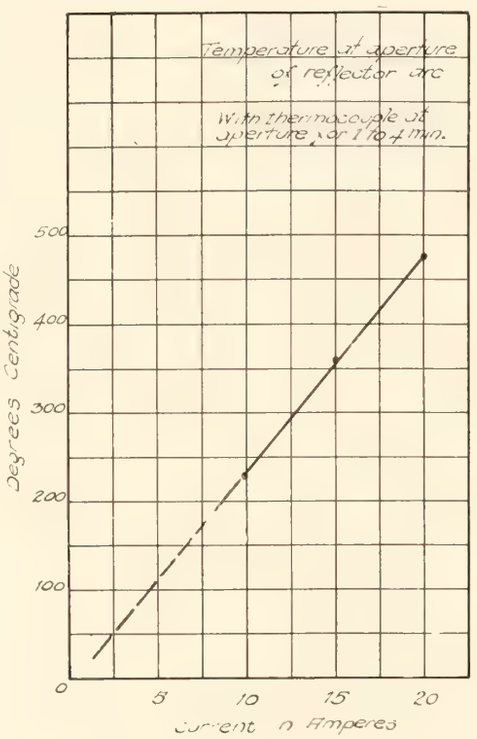
EVER since the reflector arc lamp first made its appearance in theatres there has been almost endless discussion concerning the heating effect of this lamp on film as it passed the aperture.

It is agreed on all sides that the reflector arc, as compared with the older forms of illuminating systems, such as the low intensity lamp with condensers, and Mazda, exerts a greater heating effect—or, to use a common expression, "runs hotter" at the aperture.

Very little reliable information is available as to just how much "hotter" this system "runs" when compared with the other types of lamps, so that the discussion, as is usually the case when definite data are lacking, runs aimlessly in circles without arriving at concrete conclusions.

Various things have been attributed to this property of the reflector arc to "run hotter" at the aperture. Film deterioration, for example, in the form of buckling, or warping, has formed a convenient alibi for the reflector arc and the lamp has received no small amount of condemnation from many film quarters because it was assumed that the increased heat energy passing through the aperture—along with the greatly increased amount of light—raised particular hob with the fragile celluloid to the exent of causing it to writhe past the aperture much in the same fashion that a victim of the Inquisition would writhe over a hot griddle.

Reflector Arc Not to Blame



As time passes, however, and the joint behavior of the reflector arc and the film projected by it is more closely and more intelligently observed, greater credence is given to the belief that it is not the light source that is to blame so much as faulty film. That is, film which has not been properly dried before placing it in the hands of projectionists for showing in theatres.

While it is undeniably true that the reflector arc passes a greater amount of heat energy through the aperture, it should not logically follow that this increased heat energy should cause properly prepared film to buckle. When film which has not been thoroughly dried is projected by means of the reflector arc lamp, there is a marked tendency for such film to dry while being projected.

This drying occurs in such a manner that the edges of the film dry faster than the central portions, since the edges are in direct contact with the heated head of the projector, while the center of the film is subjected to heat only while passing the aperture.

Reason for Film Buckling

Edge drying of the film in advance of the central portions, causes edges to shrink linearly so that the length of the film along the edges is actually less than the length of the film through the center of the frames.

The ultimate result is that the central portions of the film buckle—not excessively—but nevertheless enough to make it impossible for the projection lens to focus all parts of the picture frame before the aperture clearly upon the screen. If the center of the film is in focus, the edges will be out of focus and vice versa.

Not So Hot

While such buckling can be indirectly blamed upon the greater heating effect of the reflector arc lamp, still it is safe to say that the temperature to which the film is raised as it passes the aperture is not sufficient to cause trouble were the film properly dried in the first place and not left to be dried while in course of projection.

The temperature at the aperture of a projector when a reflector arc is used really is not as high as it has been commonly thought to be. This can be seen in the above cut, showing temperature recorded by a thermocouple (an electrical thermometer) when placed at the aperture and subjected to the light under various currents.

Reflector Arc Temperatures

The maximum temperature recorded (at 20 amperes) is 480 degrees Centigrade which is very close to that recorded for the Mazda lamp and low intensity arc with condensers. Temperatures of 500 to 600 degrees are common with all types of sources as now used, including the high intensity arc. We see no reason, therefore, why the reflector arc should continue to be blamed for a condition which, quite clearly, is the fault of exchanges in that they allow film which has not been thoroughly dried to go out to theatres.

Engineering Dep't Organized by National on Coast

The National Supply Company has organized an engineering department in San Francisco located at the Western District office, and over which G. G. Thompson has been placed in control. West Coast exhibitors will be served by this department in connection with National Supply's one-contract equipment plan.

Mr. Thompson, who has been for the past two months at the National headquarters in Chicago, has had 12 years of experience handling theatre electric work. At various times he had been associated with such firms as Cutler-Hammer and the Ward-Leonard companies. While connected with Ward-Leonard he developed the reactance dimmer and established a reputation as a switchboard engineer. Mr. Thompson is also well known on the Coast as he was formerly prominently identified with the Safety Electric Products Company at Los Angeles. He is an active member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

New Theatre Projects in Various States

ARIZONA

Flagstaff—Theatre. Cost $100,000. Archt. L. A. Smith, 1584 W. Washington St., Los Angeles, Calif. Preliminary plans complete.

CALIFORNIA

Crescent City—Theatre costing $75,000 to be built here. Archt. Norman R. Coulter, 46 Kearney St., San Francisco. Owner, C. E. Endert. Contractor, R. Hansen.

Encinitas—Work already started on theatre costing $45,000. Owner, A. A. Austin, Los Angeles. Noted June 1.

Pasadena—$500,000 theatre being erected at Colorado & Hudson Sts. Archt. B. Marcus Priteca, Pantages Thea. Bldg., Los Angeles. Contractor, P. A. Palmer, Builders' Exchange Bldg. Seating capacity, 2,000.

North Sacramento—Theatre on Del Paso Blvd. Archts. Starks & Flanders, Oschner Bldg., Sacramento. Cost, $55,000.

North Sacramento—Theatre to be erected on Del Paso Blvd. by the Bicman-Colman Co., C. R. Jones, V.-Pres. Cost, $150,000.

Reseda—Theatre on Reseda Blvd. Cost, $35,000. Archt. Roy Reeves, Van Nuys, Calif. Contr., Sloan Bldg. Co., Los Angeles.

Sacramento—Theatre costing $700,000 to be erected on J Street. Archt., G. A. Lansburgh, 140 Montgomery St., San Francisco. Owner, Orpheum Circuit, Los Angeles. Seating capacity, 2,500.

San Rafael—Reid Bros., San Francisco. Archts. are preparing plans for theatre bldg. to be erected on 4th St. & Lootens Pl. Cost, $100,000.

Santa Mario—Owners. West Coast Theatres. Archt. Carl J. Weyl, Los Angeles. Theatre and lodge bldg. Cost, $250,000. Seating capacity, 1,200.

GEORGIA

Claxton—Theatre costing $10,000 with seating capacity, 750. Owner, S. G. Tos.

Waycross—B. Douglas & W. V. Musgrove, owners. Theatre costing $20,000. Contr., Dunaway & Pool.

ILLINOIS

Danville—$2,000,000 theatre and bldg. Archts. Lewis & Daugherty, Danville, and E. Stienberg, 360 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago. Owner, J. J. Redding, 10 N. Clark St., Chicago.

Pekin—Theatre, $150,000 on Elizabeth St. Archt. & Engr. Berger & Kelley, Lincoln Bldg., Champaign, Ill. Owner, Mrs. A. Fluegel, Capitol Theatre, Pekin.

IOWA

Sioux City—Theatre being erected at 6th & Pierce Sts. Owner, Orpheum Theatre Circuit Co.

MARYLAND

Baltimore—Theatre to be built at 5200 York Road. Archt. S. Russell, 11 E. Lexington St. Owner, Lakes Tuxedo Theatre Co., care of P. J. Schleck, 1 N. Holliday St.

Chestertown—Theatre on Main St. costing $70,000. Owner, L. B. Russell. Archt. A. L. Forrest, 1307 St. Paul St., Baltimore.

MASSACHUSETTS

Fall River—$150,000 theatre to be built on Pleasant St. Owner, L. E. Savard, 217 Granite Rd.

Summerville—Theatre, 2,400 seating capacity to be built on Doris Square. Owner, E. M. Loew, Boston.

MICHIGAN

Ironwood—Theatre costing over $100,000 to be built here. Owner, Ironwood Amusement Corp.

Monroe—Theatre to be built on 2nd & Winchester Sts. Owner, James George.

MISSOURI

Columbia—Theatre costing $400,000 to be built on So. 8th St. Owner, Tegar Hotel & Theatre Bldg., Inc. Contr., Simon Constr. Co. Noted Aug 1, 1927.

St. Louis—Theatre containing 1,100 seats to be built here. Owner, G. W. G. Corp., 909 Chestnut St. Archts. Klengenschmidt & Wilkins.

NEBRASKA

Omaha—Theatre bldg. being erected at 45th & Military Ave. Owner, Omaha Suburban Theatres Corp.

NEW YORK

Brooklyn—$750,000 theatre to be built at 205 Havemeyer St. Owner, Havemeyer-Marcy Corp., 1560 Broadway, N. Y. C.

Buffalo—$65,000 theatre. Archt. H. Kromer, 267 Cambridge St. Owner, I. Given, S. Salina St., Syracuse.

Liberty—Theatre and apartment bldg. Cost, $85,000. Sylvania Ave. & Belmar Drive. Contr., East Side Building Co. Owner, East Side Amusement Co.

New York City—Theatre and office bldg. at Canal & Bway. Owner, Oltarsh-Broadway Corp. Lessee New Jersey Enterprises.

Rochester—Theatre costing $200,000 to be built at Maple and Ames Sts. Contrs., Layne & Goes, Syracuse.

Salamanca—Theatre to be built on Main St. Owner, Schine Theatre Co., N. Main St., Gloversville.

NORTH CAROLINA

Ahoskie—Theatre, 700 seating capacity to be built on Mitchell St. Owner, E. L. Garrett.

OHIO

Washington C. H.—Theatre, 775 seating capacity to be erected on Fayette St. Archt. H. C. Holbrook, Columbus. Owner, H. V. Smoots, Mt. Vernon.

Cleveland—Theatre and bldg. to be erected on St. Clair Ave. & 105th St. Archt. Nicola Petti, Williamson Bldg. Owner, Midwest Properties, S. Stecker, mgr., 306 Union Bldg. Cost, $750,000.

Galion—Theatre and bldg. Seating capacity, 800. Owner, S. F. Deutsch, Cleveland.

Marion—Theatre costing $500,000 to be built on West Center & Campbell Sts. Seating capacity, 2,000. Owner, Young Amusement Co., Canton. Archt. John Eberson, 212 E. Superior St., Chicago.

Rocky River—Theatre and hotel to be built on Detroit Ave. & Bount Road. Owner, Strauss Bros., La Salle St., Otis Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Toledo—Theatre to be built on Monroe St. and Ottawa Drive. Contr. Bergernon & Tattersall, Toledo. Cost over $900,000.

OKLAHOMA

Enid—Theatre costing $100,000. Seating capacity, 1,200. Contr., Grant Buxton, Enid. Lessee Griffith Amusement Co., Oklahoma City.

RADIO-MAT PATENTED
TALK from your screen
WITH your quickly
TYPEWRITTEN MESSAGES.
WHITE, AMBER or GREEN.
Accept no substitute.
RADIO-MAT SLIDE CO. NEW YORK
IS THE STATIONERY OF THE SCREEN

Standard
VAUDEVILLE
for Motion Picture Presentation
THE FALLY MARKUS AGENCY
Astor Theatre Building
N. W. Cor. 45th St. & Broadway
Lackawanna 7876

STOCK PROGRAMS
PROGRAM COVERS
For
Moving Picture Houses
Joseph Hoover & Sons Company
Market and 49th Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Coming:
Booking
Guide
and Studio
Directory

Pass the Public into your THEATRE
WITH Precision -- Ease and Smartness!
GOLD SEAL TICKET REGISTER PRODUCTS
Standard Box Office Protection
15TH YEAR OF FAITHFUL SERVICE
AUTOMATIC TICKET REGISTER CORPORATION
723 SEVENTH AVE
USED WHEREVER TICKETS ARE SOLD
NEW YORK CITY
GOLD SEAL
Patents Controlled Exclusively

UNIFORMS FOR HOUSE ATTACHES
COSTUMES FOR STAGE PRESENTATIONS
BROOKS 1437 B'way N. Y. City

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN CO. 345 W. 39TH ST. NEW YORK

FEATURE RELEASE CHART

Productions are Listed Alphabetically and by Months in which Released in order that the Exhibitor may have a short-cut toward such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming.
(S. R. indicates State Right release.)

Refer to THE MOTION PICTURE NEWS BOOKING GUIDE for Productions Listed Prior to March

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Arizona Whirlwind, The	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	4134 feet	April 1
Beloved Rogue, The	John Barrymore	United Artists	9380 feet	Mar. 25
Birds of Prey	Priscilla Dean	Columbia Pictures	6008 feet
Blazing Days	Fred Humes	Universal	4639 feet
Blind Alleys	Meighan-Brent-Nissen	Paramount	5597 feet	Mar. 11
Broncho Twister The	T. Mix-H. Costello	Fox	5435 feet	April 1
Cabaret	G. Gray-T. Moore-C. Conklin-M.Palmer	Paramount	6947 feet	April 8
Casey at the Bat	W.Beery-S.Holloway-Z. Pitts	Paramount	6040 feet	April 15
Enchanted Island	H. B. Walthall	Tiffany	4857 feet
Evening Clothes	A. Menjou-L. Brooks-V. Valli-N. Beery	Paramount	6287 feet	April 8
Fashions for Women	E Ralston-E. Hanson-R. Hatton	Paramount	6296 feet	April 15
Fighting Love	Goudal-Varconi-Walthall	Pathe-De Mille	7019 feet	June 3
Fourth Commandment, The	B. Bennett-M. Carr-R Agnew-J. Marlowe	Universal	6863 feet	Oct. 30
Heaven on Earth	C. Nagel-R. Adoree	M-G-M	6301 feet
Hey Hey Cowboy	H. Gibson-K. Key	Universal	5378 feet	April 15
High Hat	Lyon-Brian-Hardy	First National	6190 feet	May 13
Is That Nice?	G. O'Hara-D. Hill	F. B. O.	4501 feet
Love Makes 'Em Wild	J. Harron-S. Phipps-A. Housman	Fox	5508 feet	April 29
Love of Sunya, The	Gloria Swanson	United Artists	7311 feet	Mar. 25
Man From Hardpan, The	L. Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5814 feet	Mar. 11
Moulders of Men	C. Tearle-M. Morris	F. B. O.	6442 feet	April 1
Mr. Wu	Chaney-Adoree-Forbes-Dresser	M-G-M	7603 feet	June 3
Mysterious Rider, The	J. Holt-B. Jewel	Paramount	5957 feet	Mar. 25
Mystery Club, The	M.Moore-E.Roberts	Universal	6969 feet	Oct. 16
Night Bride, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford-R. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	5736 feet	April 15
Notorious Lady, The	B. Bedford-L. Stone	First National	6040 feet	April 22
One Chance in a Million	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas	5000 feet
Orchids and Ermine	C. Moore-J. Mulhall	First National	6734 feet	May 6
Outlaw's Paradise	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pictures	4500 feet
Perch of the Devil	P. O'Malley-Busch	Universal	6807 feet	Feb. 4
Price of Honor, The	Revier-McGregor	Columbia	5936 feet
Princess from Hoboken, The	E. Burns-B. Mahaffey-E. Clayton-L. Tellegen	Tiffany	5419 feet
Princess on Broadway, The	P. Garon-J. Walker-D.Dwan-H.Miller	Pathe-De Mille	5705 feet	Mar. 11
Resurrection	La Rocque-Del Rio	United Artists	9523 feet	April 1
Riders of the West	Ben Wilson	Rayart	4834 feet
Saddle Jumpers	Dick Hatton	Rayart	4482 feet
Salvation Jane	V. Dana	F. B O.	5490 feet
Sea Tiger, The	Sills-M. Astor	First National	5623 feet	May 6
Sensation Seekers, The	B. Dove-H. Gordon	Universal	7015 feet	Jan. 28
Set Free	Art Acord	Universal	4634 feet
Slide, Kelly, Slide	W.Haines-S. O'Neil-H. Carey-K. Dane	M-G-M	7065 feet	April 1
Sonora Kid The	T. Tyler-F. Darro	F. B. O	4565 feet	Mar. 11
Tearin' Into Trouble	W. Wales-O. Hasbrouck	Pathe-De Mille	4483 feet
Telephone Girl, The	L. Gray-H. Blon-Bellamy-Baxter Allison	Paramount	5455 feet	May 27
Terror of the Bar X	B. Custer-R. Blaine	F. B. O.	4982 feet
Venus of Venice The	C Talmadge-Moreno	First National	6324 feet	May 13
Wanted—A Coward	L. Rich-R. Frazer	Sterling Pictures	5 reels
What Every Girl Should Know	P. R. Miller-I. Keith	Warner Bros	6281 feet	June 24
When a Dog Loves	Ranger (Dog)	F. B O.	4390 eet
Whispering Sage	B. Jones-N. Joyce	Fox	4783 feet	April 15
White Flannels	L. Dresser-J. Robards-V. B. Faire	Warner Bros	6820f eet	April 1
White Gold	J. Goudal-G .Bancroft-K. Thomson	Pathe-De Mille	6108 feet	Mar. 25

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Love Funny?	Alberta Vaughn	F. B. O.	4745 feet
Afraid to Love	F. Vidor-C. Brook-N. Trevor-J. Lee	Paramount	6169 feet	April 22
Arizona Bound	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	4912 feet
Backstage	Collier Jr.-Bedford-A. Vaughn-E. Percy	Tiffany	5,784 feet
Beauty Shoppers, The	M. Busch-W. Crane	Tiffany	5669 feet	July 22
Bitter Apples	M. Blue-M. Loy	Warner Bros	5463 feet	May 6
Broadway Drifter, A	G. Walsh-D. Hall	Excellent Pictures	5512 feet	April 1
Brute The	M. Blue-L. Hyams	Warner Bros.	6901 feet	April 29
Children of Divorce	Bow-Ralston-Cooper-E. Hanson	Paramount	6662 feet	May 6
Convoy	D. Mackaill-L. Gray-Collier, Jr.-L. Sherman-I. Keith	First National	7724 feet	May 20
Cyclone of the Range	Tom Tyler-E Tarron-F. Darro	F. B. O.	4818 feet	May 6
Fighting Comeback, The	B. Roosevelt-C. Horton	Pathe-De Mille	4415 feet	April 1
Frisco Sally Levy	S. O'Neil-C. Delaney-R. D'Arcy-T. Holtz	M-G-M	6900 feet	April 22
Hard Fists	Art Acord	Universal	4387 feet
Held By the Law	M. De La Motte-J. Walker	Universal	6929 feet	Mar. 25
Horse Shoes	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5668 feet	April 15
Knockout Reilly	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	7080 feet	May 6
Little Adventuress, The	V. Reynolds-V. Varconi-P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	6200 feet
Long Pants	Harry Langdon	First National	5550 feet	April 8
Lost Limited, The	R. Howes-D. Farley	Rayart	5264 feet
Lovers?	Novarro-Terry	M-G-M	5291 feet	June 10
Madame Wants No Children	M. Corda-H. Liedtke	Fox	5415 feet	April
Matinee Ladies	McAvoy-McGregor-Hopper	Warner Bros	6352 feet	April 22
Naughty Nannette	V. Dana-Ed. Brownell	F. B. O	5051 feet
No Control	P. Haver-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille	5573 feet
Paying the Price	M. Carr-P. Bonner-M. Bonner-D. Selman	Columbia Pictures	5558 feet	June 10
Pleasure Before Business	P.O'Mallev-V.B.Faire	Columbia Pictures	5559 feet	July 17
Rambling Ranger, The	Jack Hoxie	Universal	4439 feet
Red Clay	W. Desmond-M. Day	Universal	4626 feet
Ridin' Rowdy, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr	Pathe-De Mille	4794 feet	April 22
Ritzy	B. Bronson-J. Hall-P	Paramount	5306 feet	July 1
Rookies	K. Dane-M. Day-G. K. Arthur-T. O'Brien	M-G-M	6640 feet	May 6
See You in Jail	J. Mulhall-A. Day	First National	5800 feet	April 2
Senorita	B. Daniels-J. Hall-W. Powell	Paramount	6634 feet	May 20
Sinews of Steel	A. Vaughn-G. Glass	Lumas	5700 feet
Smoking Guns	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pict. (S. R.)	4500 feet
Somewhere in Sonora	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5718 feet	May 6
Special Delivery	E. Cantor-Wm. Powell-J. Ralston	Paramount	5524 feet	May 6
Spuds	L. Semon-D. Dwan	Pathe-De Mille	4930 feet	April 15
Taxi, Taxi	Horton-Nixon	Universal	7173 feet	Feb. 18
Three Hours	C. Griffith-J. Bowers	First National	5774 feet	Mar. 25
Thunderbolt's Tracks	Jack Perrin	Rayart	4846 feet
Too Many Crooks	M. Davis-G. Bancroft-L. Hughes	Paramount	5399 feet
When Seconds Count	Billy Sullivan	Rayart	4803 feet	July 1
Whirlwind of Youth, The	L. Moran-D. Keith-L. Kent	Paramount	5886 feet	June 17

MAY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
All Aboard	J. Hines-E. Murphy	First National	6300 feet	April 1
Babe Comes Home	Babe Ruth-A. Q. Nilsson-L. Fazenda	First National	5761 feet	July 8
Broadway Nights	L. Wilson-S. Hardy	First National	6765 feet	July 8
Broncho Buster, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4687 feet
California	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4912 feet	July 8
Captain Salvation	L. Hanson-G. Fawcett-P. Starke-E. Torrence-M. Day	M-G-M	7395 feet	July 8
Catch As Catch Can	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas
Climbers The	I. Rich-F. Stanley	Warner Bros	6621 feet	May 13
Cradle Snatchers	L. Fazenda-J. F. McDonald-D. Phillips	Fox	6281 feet	June 10
Don Desperado	L.Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5804 feet	May 6
Down the Stretch	Agnew-Nixon	Universal	6910 feet	April 22
Eyes of the Totem, The	W. Hawley-T. Santschi-G. Hughes-A. Cornwall	Pathe-De Mille	6228 feet	May 13
Fighting Hombre The	Bob Custer	F. B O.	4624 feet
Grinning Guns	J. Hoxie-E. Gregory	Universal	4689 feet	May 6
Heart of Salome	A. Rubens-W. Pidgeon-H. Herbert	Fox	5617 feet	June 17
Heart of the Yukon	A.Cornwall-J.Bowers	Pathe-De Mille	6562 feet	May 27
Heart Thief, The	J. Schildkraut-L. de Putti-T. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	6035 feet	July 1
Hills of Peril	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox	4943 feet	May 13
His First Flame	H. Langdon-R. Hiat	Pathe-De Mille	4660 feet	May 20
Irish Hearts	McAvoy-Robards	Warner Bros.	5597 feet	June 10
Is Zat So?	O'Brien-Perry-Lowe	Fox	6950 feet	May 27
Love Thrill, The	La Plante-T. Moore	Universal	5285 feet	June 17
Lost at the Front	C. Murray-C. Sidney-N. Kingston	First National	5255 feet	June 24
Lure of the Night Club, The	Viola Dana-R. Ellis	F. B. O.	5770 feet
Million Bid, A	D. Costello-W. Oland-McGregor-Blythe	Warne Bros	6310 feet	June 24
Mother	B. Bennett-C. Kent-Kent-M. J. Scott	F. B O.	6934 feet	Mar. 18
No Man's Law	Rex (Horse)-T. von Eltz-B. Kent	Pathe-De Mille	6903 feet	April 29
Outlaw Dog, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.	4727 feet	April 8
Outlaws of Red River	T. Mix-M. Daw	Fox	5327 feet	May 6
Pirates of the Sky	C. Hutchinson-W Hawley	Pathe-De Mille	4828 feet	May 20
Poor Girls	D. Revier-E. Burns-R. Stonehouse	Columbia Pictures	5428 feet
Prairie King The	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5689 feet
Rich But Honest	N. Nash-C. Holland-J. F. McDonald	Fox	5480 feet	May 20
Rich Men's Sons	R. Graves-S. Mason	Columbia Pictures	5854 feet	Oct. 7
Rough House Rosie	C. Bow-R. Howes-D. Gilmore	Paramount	5952 feet	June 3
She's My Baby	M. Harris-R. Agnew	Sterling Pict	5249 feet
Silent Avenger, The	Thunder (Dog)	Lumas	5690 feet
Silver Comes Thru	F. Thomson-E. Murphy-Silver King (Horse)	F. B. O.	6476 feet	June 3

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Snowbound	B. Blythe-Agnew-L. Rich-G. Fawcett	Tiffany	5182 feet	Aug. 5
Splitting the Breeze	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.	4930 feet
Tenaer Hour The	Lyon-Dove-A. B. Francis-M. Love	First National	7400 feet	June 17
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Tillie the Toiler	Davies-M. Moore-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6160 feet	June 17
Tip Toes	D. Gish-W. Rogers	Paramount	6390 feet
Tracked by the Police	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros.	5823 feet	May 13
Vanity	L.Joy-A.Hale-C.Ray	Pathe-De Mille	5923 feet	July 1
Wedding Bills	R. Griffith-A. Sheridan	Paramount	5869 feet	July 22
Winning Oar, The	George Walsh	Excellent Pict	5750 feet
World at Her Feet, The	Florence Vidor	Paramount	5691 feet	Aug. 26
Yankee Clipper, The	W. Boyd-E. Fair	Pathe-De Mille	7920 feet	April 15
Yours to Command	G. O'Hara-S.Palmer	F. B. O.	4734 feet

JUNE

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Avenging Fangs	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille	4335 feet	June 3
Beware of Widows	La Plante-B. Washburn	Universal	5670 feet	May 6
Black Diamond Express, The	M. Blue-E. Murphy	Warner Bros.	5803 feet
Bulldog Pluck	Bob Custer	F. B. O.	5013 feet
Callahans and the Murphys, he	S. O'Neil-M. Dressler-L. Gray-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	5875 feet	July 22
Circus Ace, The	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox	4810 feet	June 24
Claw The	Kerry-Windsor	Universal	5252 feet	June 3
Closed Gates	J. Harron-J. Novak	Sterling Pict.	5515 feet	June 3
Clown, The	D. Revier-J. Walker-W. V. Mong	Columbia Pictures	5470 feet
Code of the Cow Country, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4512 feet	July 15
Dance Magic	A. Truex-B. Lyon-P. Starke-S. Hardy	First National	6588 feet	Aug. 19
Dearie	I. Rich-Wm. Collier, Jr.-E. Murphy	Warner Bros.	5897 feet	June 24
Drums of the Desert	W.Baxter-M. Millner	Paramount	5907 feet
Fast and Furious	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal	5684 feet	July 22
ramed	M. Sills-N. Barr- N. Kingston	First National	5282 feet	July 1
Frontiersman, The	T. McCoy-C. Windsor	M-G-M	5875 feet
Good as Gold	Buck Jones	Fox	4545 feet	June 17
Hands Off	Fred Humes	Universal	4773 feet
Ladies Beware	G.O'Hara-N.Luxford	F. B. O.	4900 feet
Land Beyond Law, The	K. Maynard-D. Dwan	First National	6157 feet	July 15
Meddlin' Stranger The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	June 10
Men of Daring	Hoxie-E. Gregory-F. Ford	Universal	6159 feet	April 1
Mountains of Manhattan	D.Devore-C.Delaney	Lumas	5785 feet	June 3
Naughty But Nice	C. Moore-D. Reed-H. Cooley-K.McGuire	First National	6520 feet	July 22
Pals in Peril	Buffalo Bill, J.	Pathe-De Mille	4710 feet	July 15
Rolled Stockings	L. Brooks-J. Hall-R. Arlen	Paramount	6249 feet	July 29
Romantic Age, The	E.O'Brien-A.Vaughn	Columbia Pictures	5267 feet
Rubber Heels	Ed. Wynn-T. Todd-C. Conklin-L. Gray	Paramount	5614 feet	July 15
Secret Studio The	O. Borden-C. Holland-M. Livingston	Fox	5870 feet	June 24
Simple Sis	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros.	6218 feet	June 17
Slaves of Beauty	O.Tell-H.Herbert-M. Livingston-E. Foxe	Fox	5412 feet	June 10
Sunset Derby, The	M. Astor-W. Collier Jr.-R. Lewis	First National	5000 feet	Aug. 5
Tale of a Vanishing People		Tiffany	6500 feet
Thumbs Down	C. Hale-L. Boyd	Sterling Pict.	4723 feet
Time to Love	R. Griffith-V. Veronina-W. Powell	Paramount	4926 feet	July 8
Tired Business Man, The	Hitchcock-Mehaffey-Gow and-Quimby	Tiffany	5607 feet
Trunk Mystery, The	Hutchinson-Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4334 feet	July 1
Unknown, The	L. Chaney-J. Crawford-N. Kerry	M-G-M	5517 feet	June 24
Western Rover, The	Art Acord	Universal	4404 feet
What Happened to Father	W. Oland-F. Fairbanks	Warner Bros.	5567 feet	July 1

JULY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Colleen	Bellamy-MacDonald-Cohen,McNamara	Fox	5301 feet
Cruel Truth, The	H.Hopper-C.Howard	Sterling Pictures	5167 feet	Aug. 12
Devil's Saddle, The	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5488 feet
Fighting Three, The	J. Hoxie-Hasbrouck	Universal	4108 feet	May 9
For Ladies Only	J. Logan-J. Bowers	Columbia	5507 feet
For the Love of Mike	F. Sterling-G. Sidney-R.Lyon-C. Colbert	First National	6588 feet
Galloping Thunder	B. Custer-A. Sheridan	F. B. O.	4691 feet
Heart of Maryland, The	D. Costello-J. Robards-H. Costello	Warner Bros.	5868 feet
Hero on Horseback, A	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5551 feet
His Dog	J.Schildkraut-J.Faye-R. Edeson-S. Rand	Pathe-De Mille	6788 feet	Oct. 28
Kid Sister, The	M. de la Motte-Mc-Gregor-A. Christie	Columbia	5477 feet
Ladies at Ease	P. Garon-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	5800 feet
Lady Bird, The	Compson-McGregor	First Division (S. R.)	6568 feet
Last Outlaw The	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	6032 feet
Little Firebrand, The	E. Thornton-I. Tellegan	Pathe-De Mille	4615 feet	Dec.12 '25
Lonesome Ladies	A. Q. Nilsson-L. Stone	First National	5718 feet	Aug. 12
Manpower	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5617 feet	Aug. 12
Married Alive	Livingston-M. Moore Tellegan-C. Adams	Fox	4557 feet
On Ze Boulevard	L. Cody-R. Adoree-R. D'Arcy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M	5671 feet	Aug. 12
Prince of Headwaiters, The	L.Stone-L. Tashman	First National	6400 feet	Aug. 26
Range Courage	Fred Humes	Universal	4388 feet
Skedaddle Gold	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4562 feet	Aug. 12
Tartuffe, the Hypocrite	E. Jannings-L. Dagover—W. Kraus	Ufa	6063 feet	Aug. 5
Ten Modern Commandments	Esther Ralston	Paramount	6497 feet	July 22
Tom's Gang	T. Tyler-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	4954 feet
Twelve Miles Out	J.Gilbert-E.Torrence-J.Crawford-B.Compson-E. Percy	M-G-M	7899 feet	Aug. 5
Two-Gun of the Tumbleweed	Leo Maloney	Pathe-De Mille	5670 feet	July 23
White Pants Willie	J. Hines-L. Hymans	First National	6409 feet	Aug. 26
Woman Who Did Not Care, The	L. Tashman-A. Rankin	Lumas	5996 feet

AUGUST

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Adam and Evil	L. Cody-A. Pringle-G. Lee	M-G-M	6667 feet	Aug. 19
After Midnight	N. Shearer-L. Gray	M-G-M	6312 feet	Aug. 26
Alias the Lone Wolf	L. Wilson-B. Lytell-W. V. Mong	Columbia	5831 feet	Oct. 7
Beau Geste	N. Beery-Colman-N. Hamilton-Forbes	Paramount	9879 feet	Sept 11
Blood Ship, The	H. Bosworth-J. Logan-R. Arlen	Columbia	6843 feet	Aug. 5
Border Blackbirds	L. Maloney-E. Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5326 feet	Sept. 9
Breed of Courage, The	Ranger (Dog)-J. Morgan	F. B. O.	4910 feet
Bugle Call, The	J. Coogan-H. Rawlinson-C. Windsor	M-G-M	5821 feet
Bush Leaguer, The	M. Blue-Hyams	Warner Bros.	6281 feet	Sept. 9
Chain Lightning	B. Jones-D. Ellis	Fox	5333 feet
Country Doctor, The	R. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille	7500 feet	Sept. 9
Covered Wagon, The (Reissue)	Wilson-Kerrigan-Torrence	Paramount		Oct. 28
Coward, The	W. Baxter-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	5093 feet
Desired Woman, The	I. Rich-W. Russell-W. Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros.	6408 feet	Sept. 16
Eager Lips	P. Garon-B. Blythe-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	6206 feet
Face Value	J. Mower-F. Ridgeway	Sterling Pict.	4393 feet
Fighting Eagle, The	La Rocque-P Haver	Pathe-De Mille	8000 feet	Sept. 1
Fireman Save My Child	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	6399 feet	Oct. 21
Great Mail Robbery, The	T. Van Eltz-J. Morgan	F. B. O.	6507 feet
Hard Boiled Haggerty	M. Sills-M. O'Day	First National	7446 feet	Sept. 9
Hidden Aces	C. Hutchinson-A. Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4620 feet	Sept. 2
Hula	C. Bow-C. Brook	Paramount	5862 feet	Sept. 16
Interferin' Gent, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4864 feet	Sept. 9
Madame Pompadour	D. Gish-A. Moreno	Paramount	7180 feet	Aug. 12
Metropolis	Special Cast	Paramount	8039 feet	Mar. 12
Missing Link, The	S. Chaplin-R. Hiatt	Warner Bros.	6435 feet	May 20
Mockery	L. Chaney-R. Cortez-B. Bedford	M-G-M	5957 feet	Sept. 2
Not for Publication	R. Ince-R. Lease-J. Mendez	F. B. O.	6140 feet
Paid to Love	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-W. Powell	Fox	6888 feet	Aug. 19
Painting the Town	G. Tryon-P. R. Miller	Universal	5909 feet	July 1
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4497 feet
Poor Nut, The	J. Mulhall-J. Winton-J. Arthur-C. Murray	First National	6897 feet	July 29
Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary, The	M. Robson-H. Ford-
Return of Boston Blackie	Strongheart (Dog)-C. Palmer	First Division (S. R.)	5865 feet
	P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	5844 feet
Rose of Kildare, The	O'Malley-H. Chadwick-H. B. Walthall	Lumas	6875 feet
Rose of the Bowery	E. Murphy-J. Walker-C. Kent-M. Harris	A. C. A.	5446 feet
Running Wild	W.C.Fields-M.Brian	Paramount	6368 feet	June 24
Satin Woman, The	Mrs. W. Reid	Lumas	7000 feet	Aug. 5
Say It With Diamonds	B. Compson-E. Williams	First Division (S. R.)	6041 feet
Service for Ladies	A. Menjou-K. Carver	Paramount	6170 feet	Aug. 26
Singed	B. Sweet-W. Baxter-M. McAllister	Fox	5790 feet	July 23
Smile Brother Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6 reels	Sept. 9
Soft Cushions	Douglas MacLean	Paramount	6838 feet	Sept. 2
Stolen Bride, The	B. Dove-L. Hughes	First National	7179 feet	Aug. 26
Stranded	S. Mason-Collier, Jr.	Sterling Pict.	5443 feet	Sept. 16
Swell Head, The	J. Walker-E. Gilbert	Columbia Pictures	5484 feet
Three's a Crowd	H. Langdon-G. McConnell	First National	5668 feet	Oct. 1
Topsy and Eva	Duncan Sisters-G. Gowland-M. Daw	United Artists	7456 feet	Aug. 19
Tumbling River	T. Mix-D. Dwan	Fox	4676 feet	Aug. 26
What Price Glory (road show)	McLaglen-Del Rio-Lowe	Fox	11109 feet	Dec. 4
When a Man Loves (road show)	J. Barrymore-D. Costello-W. Oland	Warner Bros.	10049 feet	Feb. 6
White Pebbles	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4485 feet	Aug. 19
Woman's Law	P. O'Malley-L. Rich	Peerless Pict (S. R.)	6000 feet
Your Wife and Mine	P. Haver-S. Holmes-B. Tennant-W. Mcdonald	Excellent Pict.	5867 feet

SEPTEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Almost Human	V. Reynolds-K. Thomson-C. McDowell	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Angel ot Broaway, The	L. Joy-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	6555 feet
Annie Laurie	L. Gish-N. Kerry	M-G-M	8730 feet	May 27
Back to God's Country	R. Adoree-R. Frazer	Universal	5781 feet	July 30
Barbed Wire	P. Negri-C. Brook-E. Hanson	Paramount	6951 feet
Big Parade The (road show)	Gilbert-Adoree-K. Dane-T. O'Brien	M-G-M	12550 feet	Nov. 28
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox
Border Cavalier, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4437 feet
Born to Battle	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Boy of the Streets	J. Walker-M. Bennett-B. Francisco	Rayart (S. R.)	5059 feet
Broadway Madness	M. de la Motte- D. Keith	Excellent Pict.	6945 feet	Oct. 14
By Whose Hand?	R. Cortez-E. Gilbert	Columbia	5234 feet
Camille	N. Talmadge-A. B. Francis-G. Roland	First National	9692 feet	May 6

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Cancelled Debt, The	R. Lease-C. Stevens	Sterling Pict	5200 feet
Cat and the Canary, The	L. La Plante-F. Stanley-C. Hale-T. Maryhall-G. Astor	Universal	7790 feet	May 20
Chang (Jungle Film)	Special Cast	Paramount	6536 feet	May 13
Clancy's Kosher Wedding	G. Sidney-M. Gordon-S. Lynn-R. Lease-W. Armstrong	F. B. O.	5701 feet	Aug. 26
College	B. Keaton-A. Cornwall-G. Withers	United Artists	5362 feet	Sept. 23
Cruise of the Helion, The	E. Murphy-D. Keith-T. Santschin	Rayart (S. R.)	6089 feet	Sept. 30
Drop Kick, The	R. Barthelmess-D. Revier-B. Kent	First National	6802 feet	Sept. 30
Finnegan's Ball	B. Mehaffey-Landis	First Division Pict	6200 feet
First Auto The	B. Oldfield-P. R. Miller-R. Simpson	Warner Bros	6767f eet	July 8
Flying U Ranch, The	Tyler-N. Lane	F. B. O.
Gay Retreat, The	G. Cameron-S. Cohen-T. McNamara	Fox	5524 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Gay Paree, The	Sherman-Bedford-McGregor-Blythe	Tiffany	5233 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Rio, The	Carmel Myers	Lumas	6990 feet
In a Moment of Temptation	C. Stevens-C. Keefe-K. Guard-G. Withers	F. B. O.
Isle of Forgotten Women	Tearle-Sebastian	Columbia
Jaws of Steel	Rin-Tin-Tin-H. Ferguson-J. Robards	Warner Bros	5569 feet	Sept. 30
Joy Girl, The	O. Borden-J. McDonald-N. Hamilton-M. Alden	Fox	6162 feet	Sept. 23
Life of Riley, The	C. Murray-G. Sidney-S. Hardy-J. Marlowe	First National	6712 feet	Sept. 16
Lightning	J. Ralston-R. Fraser-M. Livingston	Tiffany	6049 feet	Sept. 30
Lone Eagle, The	R. Keene-B. Kent	Universal	5862 feet
Loves of Carmen	Del Rio-McLaglen-D. Alvarado	Fox	7 reels	Oct. 7
Magic Flame, The	Colman-Banky	United Artists	8300 feet	Sept. 30
Mojave Kid, The	B. Steele-L. Gilmore	F. B. O	4912 feet	Aug. 12
Nest, The	P. Frederick-H. Herbert-R. Dwyer	Excellent Pict	7393 feet	Oct. 14
Nevada	G. Cooper-T. Todd	Paramount	6258 feet	Oct. 28
Old San Francisco	D. Costello-C. E. Mack-W. Oland	Warner Bros	7961 feet	July 8
One Round Hogan	M. Blue-J. J. Jeffries-L. Hyams	Warner Bros	6375 feet	Oct. 7
One Woman to Another	F. Vidor-Von Eltz	Paramount	4022 feet	Sept. 30
Out All Night	R. Denny-M. Nixon	Universal	6170 feet	Oct. 7
Out of the Past	R. Frazier-M. Harris	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5701 feet
Painted Ponies	H. Gibson-E. Claire	Universal	5415 feet	Aug. 5
Prince of the Plains	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)	4134 feet
Ragtime	J. Bowers-M. de la Motte	First Division (S. R.)	6700 feet	Sept. 9
Red Raiders	K. Maynard-A. Drew	First National	6280 feet
Rush Hour, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille
Sailor's Sweetheart, A	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	5685 feet	Oct. 14
Sally in Our Alley	S. Mason-A. B. Francis-R. Arlen	Columbia Pictures	5892 feet
Slightly Used	M. McAvoy-C. Nagel-B. Agnew	Warner Bros	6412 feet	Sept. 30
Smile, Brother, Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6548 feet	Sept. 9
Soda Water Cowboy, The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4546 feet	Nov. 4
Stark Love	Special Cast	Paramount	6203 feet	Mar. 11
Swim, Girl, Swim	B. Daniels-G. Edorle	Paramount	6124 feet	Sept. 16
Tell It to Sweeney	Conklin-Bancroft-Brian-Lden	Paramount	6 reels	Oct. 28
Their Hour		Tiffany
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Two Arabian Knights	W. Boyd-M. Astor-L. Wolheim-I. Keith	United Artists	8250 feet	Nov. 4
Two Girls Wanted	J. Gaynor-G. Tryon	Fox	6293 feet	Oct. 7
We're All Gamblers	Meighan-M. Millner	Paramount	5935 feet

OCTOBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
American Beauty	B. Dove-L. Hughes-V. L. Corbin	First National	6 reels	Oct. 21
Back to Liberty	G. Walsh-D. Hall-E. Breese	Excellent Pict.
Ben Hur	Novarro-McAvoy-Bronson-F. X. Bushman-C. Myers	M-G-M	12000 feet	Jan. 16
Beware of Married Men	Irene Rich	Warner Bros
Blondes By Choice	Claire Windsor	Lumas	6987 feet
Body and Soul	A. Pringle-L. Barrymore-N. Kerry	M-G-M
Boy Rider, The	Buzz Barton	F. B. O	4858 feet	Sept. 30
Breakfast at Sunrise	C. Talmadge-D. Alvarado	First National
Broadway Kid, The (tentative)	George Jessel	Warner Bros
Celebrated Woman, A	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Cheating Cheaters	B. Compson-K. Harlan	Universal	5623 feet
Chinese Parrot, The	M. Nixon-H Bosworth	Universal	7304 feet
College Widow, The	D. Costello-Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros	1616 feet	Oct. 28
Combat	G. Walsh-G. Hulette	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Comrades	G. James-A. Sheridan	First Division (S. R.)
Crystal Cup, The	D. Mackaill-J. Mulhall	First National
Death Valley	C. Nye-R. Rae-R. Wells	First Division (S. R.)	5882 feet	Aug. 12
Dog of the Regiment, A	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros
East Side, West Side	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-J. F. McDonald	Fox	6408 feet	Nov. 4
Fair Co-ed, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M	8154 feet	Nov. 4
Figures Don't Lie	E. Ralston-R. Arlen	Paramount
Forbidden Woman, The	J. Goudal-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	7000 feet
Gambler's Game, The	Tom Tyler	F. B. O
Garden of Eden, The	C. Griffith-C. Ray-L. Sherman	United Artists
Gentleman of Paris, A	A. Menjou-S. O'Hara-A. Marchall	Paramount		Oct. 14
Gingham Girl, The	L. Wilson-G. K. Arthur	F. B. O	6310 feet	July 29
Girl in the Pullman	Marie Prevost	Pathe-De Mille	3867 feet
Grandma's Boy (re-issue)	Harold Lloyd	Pathe-De Mille	4750 feet
Gun-Hand Garrison	Tex Maynard	Raycraft (S. R.)	4879 feet
Highschool Hero, The	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	Fox
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
In Old Kentucky	J. Murray-H. Costello	M-G-M
Jake the Plumber	J. DeVarska-S. Lynn	F. B. O	5186 feet	Nov. 4
Jazz Singer, The (Vitaphone)	Al Jolson-W. Oland-McAvoy	Warner Bros	8117 feet	Oct. 21
Jesse James	Fred Thomson	Paramount	8656 feet	Oct. 28
Les Miserables	Special Cast	Universal	7713 feet
Light in the Window, A	Walthall-P. Avery-C. Keefe	Rayart (S. R.)
Lingerie		Tiffany
My Best Girl	M. Pickford-C. Rogers	United Artists
No Place to Go	M. Astor-L. Hughes	First National
Now We're in the Air	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount
Obligin' Buckaroo, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Once and Forever	P.R. Miller-J. Harron	Tiffany	5639 feet
Pajamas	O. Borden-L. Gray	Fox
Pretty Clothes	J. Ralston-J. Walker-G. Astor	Sterling Pict. (S. R.)	5652 feet	Nov. 4
Publicity Madness	L. Moran-E. Lowe	Fox	5893 feet
Ranger of the North	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O
Reno Divorce, A	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros.	5492 feet	Nov. 4
Ride 'Em High	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Ridin' Luck	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)
Rough Riders The (general release)	F. Hopper-N. Beery-Bancroft-M. Astor-Mack-Farrell	Paramount	7 reels	April 1
Sailor Izzy Murphy	G. Jessel-A. Ferris	Warner Bros	6020 feet	Oct. 28
Seventh Heaven	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell-D. Butler-G. Brockwell	Fox	8500 feet	June 10
Shanghai Bound	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount
Shanghaied	P. R. Miller-R. Ince-G. Astor	F. B. O	5999 feet	Aug. 26
Shootin' Irons	J. Luden-S. Blane	Paramount
Silk Stockings	L. La. Plante-O. Harlan-J. Harron	Universal	7 reels	Aug. 26
Silver Valley	Tom Mix	Fox	5011 feet	Oct. 14
Spring Fever	Wm. Haines-J. Crawford-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6705 feet	Oct. 28
Straight Shooting	Ted Wells	Universal	4251 feet	Aug. 19
Underworld	C. Brook-E. Brent-G. Bancroft	Paramount	7453 feet	Sept. 9
Very Confidential	Madge Bellamy	Fox
Way of All Flesh, The	E. Jannings-L. Dagover-B. Bennett-P. Haver-D. Keith	Paramount	8486 feet	July 8
Wheel of Destiny, The	F. Stanley-G. Hale	Rayart (S. R.)
Wine (re-issue)	Clara Bow	Universal	7 reels
Wise Wife, The	P. Haver-T. Moore	Pathe-De Mille	5610 feet
Wolf's Trail	Dynamite (Dog)	Universal	4167 feet
Woman on Trail, The	Negri-Cortez	Paramount
Wreck of the Hesperus, The	A. Hale-V. Bradford	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels

NOVEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Bandit's Son, The	B. Steele-A. Sheridan	F. B. O	4789 feet
Becky	S. O'Neil-O. Moore-G. Olmstead	M-G-M
Bowery Rose	P. O'Malley-G. Hulette	Excellent Pict
Cheer Leader, The		Lumas
Discord	G. Ekman-L. Dagover	Pathe-De Mille	9 reels
Dress Parade	W. Boyd-B. Love	Pathe-De Mille	6599 feet
Flying Luck	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
French Dressing	B. Lyon-C. Colbert	First National
Galloping Fury	H. Gibson-S. Rand	Universal	5503 feet
Garden of Allah, The	A. Terry-I. Petrovich	M-G	8200 feet	Sept. 16
Gorilla, The	C. Murray-F. Kelsey-D. Revier-T. Marshall	First National
Grass Widows		Tiffany
Gun Gospel	K. Maynard	First National
Harvester The	N. Kingston-O. Caldwell	F. B. O	7045 feet
His Foreign Wife	W. McDonald-E. Murphy	Pathe-De Mille	4890 feet
Hoof Marks	Jack Donovan	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Hook and Ladder, No. 9	D. Ellis-E. Hearne-C. Keefe	F. B. O	5240 feet
Judgment of the Hills	V. Valli-F. Darro	F. B. O	6481 feet	Aug. 19
Let 'Er Go Gallagher	Junior Coughlan	F. B. O
Lure of the South Seas, The		First Division (S. R.)
Main Event, The	Vera Reynolds	Pathe-De Mille	6472 feet
Mile-A-Minute Love	R. Denny-B. Kent	Universal
My Friend From India	F. Pangborn	Pathe-De Mille
One Glorious Scrap	Fred Humes	Universal	4172 feet
Polly of the Movies	Jason Robards	First Division (S. R.)
Private Life of Helen of Troy, The	M. Corda-L. Stone-M. O'Day	First National
Quality Street	M. Davies	M-G-M
Roarin' Broncs	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Rose of the Golden West	G. Roland-M. Astor	First National		Oct. 7
Sadie Thompson	G. Swanson	United Artists
Skyhigh Saunders	Al Wilson	Universal	4393 feet
Small Bachelor, The	Beranger-O. Harlan-B. Kent-C. Geraghty	Universal	6218 feet
Sporting Blood	Reginald Denny	Universal
Tempest	J. Barrymore-Verona Wolheim	United Artists
Temptations of a Shopgirl	B. Compson-Garon-A. Kaiz	First Division (S. R.)
Thirteenth Hour, The	Bonaparte (Dog)-J. Gadsen-L. Barrymore	M-G-M
Turkish Delight	R.Schildkraut-J.Faye	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Web of Fate	Lillian Rich	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5800 feet
Wild Beauty	Rex (Horse)-J. Marlowe	Universal	5192 feet
Women's Wares	Brent-Lytell-L. Kent	Tiffany

DECEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Afffime in the Sky	S. Lynn-J. Luden	F. B. O.
Blue Danube, The	L. Joy-R. La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Bridal Night, The	Norma Shearer	M-G-M
Buttons	Coogan-Hanson-Olmstead	M-G-M
Desert Pirate, The	T. Tyler-D. Thompson	F. B. O.

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Devil Dancer, The	G. Gray-C. Brook	United Artists
Five and Ten Cent Annie	Louise Fazenda	Warner Bros
Fruit of Divorce	Percy Marmont	Lumas
Good-Time Charley	W. Oland-H. Costello	Warner Bros
He's My Man	Phyllis Haver	Pathe-De Mille
Home Made	Johnny Hines	First National
Hypnotist, The	L. Chaney-C. Nagel-M. Day-Walthall	M-G-M
Irresistible Lover, The	Norman Kerry	Universal	6958 feet	Sept. 16
Lovelorn, The		M-G-M
Man and the Moment, The		First National
Man's Past, A	C. Veidt-I. Keith-G. Siegmann	Universal	6135 feet	Sept. 16
Power	William Boyd	Pathe-De Mille
Rebecca O'Brien	May McAvoy	Warner Bros
Rip Van Winkle	Rudolph Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille
Slingshot Kid, The	"Buzz" Barton-J. Morgan	F. B. O	4886 feet
Sorrell and Son	H. B. Warner-Nilsson-A. Joyce-Wolheim	United Artists
Streets of Shanghai		Tiffany
Swift Shadow, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.
Valley of the Giants	M. Sills-D. Kenyon	First National
You'll Never Get Rich		First Division (S. R.)

JANUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Alias the Deacon	J. Hersholt-J. Marlowe-R. Graves	Universal	6869 feet	Oct. 21
Caravan Trail, The	K. Maynard-E. Gregory	First National
Coney Island	Lois Wilson	F. B. O.
Creole Love		First Division (S. R.)
Dead Man's Curve	Fairbanks, Jr.-S. Blane	F. B. O.	5511 feet
Divine Woman, The	Greta Garbo	M-G-M
Driftin' Sands	Bob Steele	F. B. O.
Fires of Youth	John Gilbert	M-G-M
Dove, The	N. Talmadge-G. Roland-N. Beery	United Artists
Louisiana	B. Dove-M. Astor-N. Beery	First National
Love in a Cottage		First Division (S. R.)
Man Crazy	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Noose, The	Richard Barthelmess	First National
Ramona	D. Del Rio-W. Baster	United Artists
Romance (tentative)	R. Novarro-M. Day-R. D. D'Arcy	M-G-M
Shepherd of the Hills, The	A. B. Francis-M. O'Day-J. Boles	First National
Texas Steer, A	W. Rogers-L. Fazenda-A. Rork	Sam E. Rork (producer)
United States Smith		Lumas
West Point	William Haines	M-G-M
Wizard of the Saddle	B. Barton-D. Thompson	F. B. O.

FEBRUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Age of Sex, The		First Division (S. R.)
Algerian Nights		First Division (S. R.)
Bare Knees		Lumas
Down Went McGinty	C. Murray-G. Sidney	First National
Napoleon (French Film)	Special Cast	M-G-M
Over the Andes	D. Fairbanks-E. Southern-L. Valez	United Artists
Passion Island	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
Sailors' Wives	Astor-Hughes	First National

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Brunettes Preferred		First Division (S. R.)
Buck Privates	de Putti-McGregor	Universa.
Circus, The	C. Chaplin-M. Kennedy	United Artists
Darling of the Gods, The	Special Cast	United Artists
Free Lips		First Division (S. R.)
Harold Teen		First National
Hell Ship Bronson	Mrs. Wallace Reid	Lumas
Man Higher Up, The		Lumas
Once There Was a Princess	Billie Dove	First National
Pair of Sixes, A	Johnny Hines	First National
Red Signals	W. McDonald-E. Novak-E. Williams	Sterling Pictures	5032 feet
Royal American, The	Ken Maynard	First National

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Belle o Avenue A		First Division (S. R.)
In the First Degree	A. Calhoun-G. Hughes-B. Washburn	Sterling Pict	5428 feet
Surrender	M. Philbin-I. Moskine	Universal

Coming Attractions

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Abie's Irish Rose		Paramount
Ace High	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Adventurer, The	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Air Raiders, The	Al Wilson	F. B. O.
Alex the Great		F. B. O.
Avenger, The	Bob Custer	F. B. O.
Baby Mine	G. K. Arthur-K. Dane	M-G-M
Bad Little Good Girl		Chadwick
Balaoo	E. Lowe-G. G. Katsonaros	Fox Films
Barnum (road show)	Wallace Beery	Paramount
Beau Sabreur	E. Brent-G. Cooper-G. Bancroft-N. Beery	Paramount
Beggar of Love	P. Negri-K. Thomson-J. Hersholt	Paramount
Better Man, The		F. B. O.
Betty's a Lady	J. Ralston-C. Ray	Universal
Big Game Hunt, The	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount
Big Gun, The	George Lewis	Universal
Big Sneeze, The	W. Beery-F. Sterling-Z. Pitts	Paramount
Black Ivory (road show)	M. Blue	Warner Bros
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox
Blood Will Tell	B. Jones-K. Perry	Fox
Boss of Rustlers Roost, The	D. Coleman-E. Gilbert	Pathe
Boy of the Streets, A	J. Walker-B. Francisco-M. Bennett	Rayart (S. R.)
Branded Sombrero, The	B. Jones-L. Hyams	Fox Films
Brass Knuckles	M. Blue-B. Bronson	Warner Bros
Breed of the Sunset		F. B. O.
Bride of the Night	C. Farrel-G. Nissen-M. Busch-M. Loy	Fox
Brides Will Be Brides	Laura La Plante	Universal
Broadway After Midnight	P. Bonner-C. Landis-G. Hughes-B. Tennant	Krelbar Pict. (S. R.)	6199 feet	Nov. 4
Butter and Egg Man, The	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Call of the Heart	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb-J. Aldea	Universal	5261 feet
Cancelled Debt, The	Rex Lease	Sterling Pict
Certain Young Man, A	Novarro-Adoree-W. Marshall-G. Astor	M-G-M
Chicago	P. Haver-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille
Chicago After Midnight		F. B. O.
City of Shadows, The	J. Luden-S. Lynn	F. B. O.
Code of the Range	Jack Perrin	Rayart (S. R.)	4747 feet
Cohens and the Kellys in Paris, The	G. Sidney-J. F. McDonald-V. Gordon-K. Price	Universal
College Hero, The		Columbia
Cossacks, The	John Gilbert	M-G-M
Count of Ten, The	C. Ray-J. Gleason	Universal
Crashing Through	J. Padjans-S. Rand	Pathe
Crimson Hour, The	L. de Putti-I. Moskine-N. de Brulier	Universal
Crowd, The	J. Murray-E. Boardman-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Deer Drive, The	W. Baxter	Paramount
Dirty Work	Johnny Burke	Pathe-De Mille
Don Juan	J. Barrymore-E. Taylor-M. Astor	Warner Bros.	10018 feet	Aug. 31
Down Grade, The	Wm. Fairbanks-A. Calhoun	Lumas
Down Our Way	V. Valli-F. Darro-O. Caldwell	F. B. O
Drums of Love	E. Taylor-D. Alvarado-M. Philbin	United Artists
Empty Saddle, The	Fred Humes	Universal
Enemy, The	L. Gish-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Eternal Silence, The	Bushman, Jr.-N. Hamilton-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fangs of Destiny	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb	Universal	5 reels
Fangs of Fury	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille
Fangs of Justice	Silverstreak (Dog)-J. Walker-J. Marlowe	Bischoff Prod. (S.R.)	5000 feet
Finders Keepers	Laura La Plante	Universal
Flag Maker, The	C. Ray-B. Love	G. K. Spoor-J. S. Blackton (producers)
Flower of Spain, The	Coleman-Banky	United Artists
Foreign Legion, The	N. Kerry-L. Stone-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fortune Hunter, The	S. Chaplin-C. Horton-H. Costello	Warner Bros
Four Flusher, The	G. Lewis-M. Nixon	Universal
Freckles		F. B. O.
Gay Defender, The	R. Dix-T. Todd	Paramount
Gentlemen Prefer Blondes	L. Brooks-F. Sterling	Paramount
Get Set—Go	George O'Hara	F. B. O.
Ghost Ship, The	D. Sebastian	Tiffany
Girl From Chicago, The	C. Nagel-M. Loy	Warner Bros
Glorious Betsy	D. Costello-C. Nagel	Warner Bros
Good Morning, Judge		Universal
Grand Army Man, The	Alec. B. Francis	Fox
Grand Flapper The	H. Herbert-O. Tell-E. Foxe-M.Livingston	Fox
Grandma Bernie Learns Her Letters	R. Walling-F. Reicher	Fox
Ham and Eggs	Fazenda-H. Conklin-T. Wilson	Warner Bros
Harp in Hock, A	Schildkraut-Coghlan-M.Robson-B.Love	Pathe-De Mille	5999 feet
Heroes in Blue	J. Bowers-S. Rand	Rayart (S. R.)
Her Summer Hero		F. B. O
Hitting for Heaven (tentative)	E. Jannings-F. Wray	Paramount
Holy Terror, A	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox
Honeymoon Hate	Florence Vidor	Paramount
If I Were Single (tentative)	May McAvoy	Warner Bros
I'll Tell the World	Colleen Moore	First National
In Name Only	O. Moore-H. Costello-K. Perry	Warner Bros
Irish Destiny	D.O'Shea-P.O'Rorke	Dr. I. J. Eppel	7 reels	April 23
Jenny Lind		M-G-M
Jungle Rose	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
King of Kings, The	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	13500 feet	April 23
Ladies of Leisure		Tiffany
Ladies Must Dress		Fox
Ladies Must Love	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Lady Cristilinda	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell	Fox
Lady Be Good	Mackaill-Mulhall	First National
Legionnaires in Paris	Al Cooke-Kit Guard	F. B. O.
Legion of the Condemned, The	G. Cooper	Paramount
Life's Crossroads	G. Hulette-M. Hamilton	Excellent Pict
Light in the Window, A	H. B. Walthall-P. Avery	Rayart (S. R.)
Lilac Time	Colleen Moore	First National
Little Buckaroo, The		F. B. O.
Little Yellow House, The		F. B. O.
Love	G. Garbo-J. Gilbert-L. Barrymore- D. Sebastian	M-G-M

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Love Me and the World Is Mine	Philbin-Kerry	Universal
Loves of Ricardo	George Beban	F. B. O.
Macushla (tentative)		Fox
Madamoiselle From Armentieres (English Film)	E. Brody-J. Stuart	M-G-M
Man Who Laughs, The	C. Veidt-M. Philbin	Universal
Meet the Prince	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Message to Garcia, A	Special Cast	M-G-M
Midnight Rose	L. de Putti-K. Harlan	Universal
Million Dollar ,Mystery, The	J. Kirkwood-L. Lee	Rayart (S. R.)	6022 feet
Moon of Israel	M. Corda-A. Marchal	F. B. O.	6680 feet
Mother Machree	B. Bennett-V. McLaglen-N. Hamilton-E. Clayton	Fox
My Wife's Honor	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
Naughty Marietta	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Night Life, The	A. Day-J. Harron	Tiffany
Nineteenth Hole, The (tentative)	H. Langdon- G. McConnell	First National
Noah's Ark (road show)	Special Cast	Warner Bros.
Old Ironsides (road show)	Special Cast	Paramount	12 reels	Dec. 18
On the Stroke of Twelve	E. Torrence-J. Marlowe-D. O'Shea	Rayart (S. R.)
On to Reno	M. Prevost-C. Landis	Pathe-De Mille
Open Range	L. Chandler-B. Bronson	Paramount
Ordeal, The	Garbo-Chaney	M-G-M
Paris or Bust	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Patent Leather Kid, The (road show)	R. Barthelmess-M. O'Day	First National	12 reels	Aug. 26
Perfect Gentleman, A	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5626 feet
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille
Phantom of the Range, The		F. B. O.
Quality	Gardner James	Inspiration Pict.
Rachel	P. Negri-G. Cooper	Paramount
Racing Romeo, The	"Red" Grange-J. Ralston	F. B. O	5992 feet
Rawhide Kid, The	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Red Hair	Clara Bow	Paramount
Red Riders of Canada, The	P. R. Miller	F. B. O.
Renegade, The		F. B. O.
Ridin' Like Fury	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Romantic Rogue, The	Reed Howes	Rayart
Romeo and Juliet	N. Kerry-M. Philbin	Universal
Rose-Marie	R. Adoree-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Roulette	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros
Saddle and Spurs	"Buzz" Barton-L. Eason	F. B. O.
Say It With Sables	C. Windsor-R. Howes.	Columbia
Serenade	Adolphe Menjou	Paramount
Sheiks and Shebas	Junior Stars	Paramount
She's a Sheik	B. Daniels-R. Arlen W. Powell	Paramount
Shield of HonorThe	R., Lewis-D. Gulliver-N. Hamilton	Universal
Silent Hero, The	Napoleon (Dog)- R. Fraser-E. Murphy	Rayart (S. R.)
Show Boat		Universal
Side Show, The	Fields!Conklin!Brian.	Paramount
Silver Slave, The	Irene Rich	Warner Bros.
Song of Steel		Tiffany
South Sea Love	P. R. Miller-L. Shumway-A. Brooks	F. B. O.	6388 feet
Span of Life, The	Lon Chaney	M-G-M
Speed Boy, The	Dick Talmadge	Universal
Speedy	Harold Lloyd	Paramount
Speedy Smith	Billy Sullivan	Rayart (S. R.)	5005 feet
Spotlight, The	E. Ralston	Paramount
Squads Right		Tiffany
Steamboat Bill, Jr.	Keaton-E. Torrence.	United Artists
Stronger Will The		Excellent Pict.
Student Prince, The (In Heidelberg)	R Novarro-Shearer-J. Hersholt	M-G-M	10 reels	Oct. 7
Sunrise	Gaynor-G. O'Brien-Livingston	Fox	12 reels	Oct. 14
Survival of Slim, The	W. Wales-P. Montgomery	Pathe
Symphony, The	J. Hersholt-Nixon-G. Lewis	Universal
Tea for Three	L. Cody-A. Pringle-O. Moore-D.Sebastian	M-G-M
Thanks For the Buggy Ride	L. La Plante -G. Tyron	Universal
Thirteenth Juror The	F. X. Bushman-Nilsson	Universal
Thunder Riders	Ted Wells	Universal
Tillie's Punctual Romance	C. Conklin	Paramount
Times Square		Tiffany
Trail of '98	K Dane-P. Starke-R. Forbes-Del Rio	M-G-M
Uncle Tom's Cabin	Special Cast	Universal
Under the Tonto Rim		Paramount
Victory	George Bancroft	Paramount
Viennese Lovers	Philbin-Hersholt-R. Keane	Universal
Waiter from the Ritz, The	R. Griffith-A. Day	Paramount
Wall Flowers		F. B. O.
War Birds		M-G-M
Watch My Speed	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal
We Americans		Universal
Wedding March, The (road show)	von Stroheim	Paramount
Western Suffragettes	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Wheels of Destiny, The	G. Hale-E. Hilliard	Rayart (S. R.)
When the Law Rides		F. B. O
White Eagle, The	Buck Jones	Fox
Who's Your Friend? (tentative)	R. Dix-W. Powell	Paramount
Wild Geese		Tiffany
Wild West Show, The		Universal
Wind, The	L. Gish-L. Hanson	M-G-M
Windjammers of Gloucester The		F. B. O.
Wings (road show)	C. Bow-B. Rogers	Paramount	12 reels	Aug. 26
Wolf Fangs (tentative)		Fox
World's Illusion, The		M-G-M
Wyoming	T. McCoy-W. Fairbanks-D. Sebastian.	M-G-M
You Will Marry Me	Clara Bow	Paramount

Comedies and Short Subjects

EDUCATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
At Ease	Lloyd Hamilton	Sept. 4	2 reels	Sept. 2
Back Home	Curiosities		1 reel	Sept. 23
Batter Up	George Davis	Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 16
Brave Cowards	Dunham-Bradley	July 17	1 reel	Aug. 19
Builders of Bridges—When Twilight Comes	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Brunettes Prefer Gentlemen	Jerry Drew	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 28
Bubbles of Geography	Hodge-Podge	Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 19
Burning Timber — Rough Country	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 7
Capers of a Camera	Hodge-Podge	July 17	1 reel	Sept. 9
Careless Hubby	Dunham-Bradley	June 5	1 reel	July 1
Cry of Winter, The—Hot Place, The	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Sept. 18	1 reel	Sept. 2
Dead Easy	Bobby Vernon	July 17	2 reels	Aug. 12
Delving Into the Dictionary	Hodge-Podge	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Dog Days—The Sun and the Rain	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Dummies	Larry Semon		2 reels
Eats for Two	Dunham-Thompson	Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 14
Felix the Cat in Art for Heart's Sake	"Sullivan Cartoon"	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 5
Felix the Cat in Daze and Knights	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 30	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Dough-Nutty	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 12	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Flim Flam Films	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 18	1 reel	Oct. 7
Felix the Cat in Jack From All Trades	Sullivan Cartoon	Aug. 7	1 reel	Sept. 9
Felix the Cat in 'Loco' Motive	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Felix the Cat in No Fuelin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 16	1 reel
Felix the Cat in the Non-Stop Fright	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 16
Felix the Cat Switches Witches	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 2	1 reel	Oct. 21
Felix the Cat in the Travel-Hog	"Sullivan Carton"	July 24	1 reel	Sept. 2
Felix the Cat in Uncle Tom's Crabbin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 13	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Whys and Otherwise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 27	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"		1 reel	Sept. 23
Feline Frolics—The Tonquin Valley	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Fighting Orphans, The—Evening Mist	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Follies of Fashion	Curiosities	Sept. 25	1 reel
For Men Only	Curiosities	Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 21
Fox Tales	Hutton-Dunham	Sept. 25	2 reels	Sept. 23
Fully Equipped	Lloyd-Murdock	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Giddy Gobblers	Neal Burns	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Goose Flesh	Lloyd Hamilton	June 19	2 reels	July 1
Half-Pint Hero, A	Lupino Lane	Sept. 18	2 reels	Sept. 2
Here and There in Travel Land	Hodge-Podge	Oct. 16	1 reel
Her Husky Hero	Johnny Arthur	June 5	2 reels	June 17
He Tried to P ease	M. Col.ins-L. Hutton	Nov. 6	1 reel
High Spots	Al St. John	July 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Hints on Hunting—A Day By the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
His Better Half	Lloyd Hamilton	July 31	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hold Fast	Cliff Bowes	July 31	1 reel	Aug. 5
Holly-Nuts	Curiosities	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 2
Injun Food—Moods of the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Jack From All Trades	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Kid Tricks	"Big Boy"	July 3	2 reels	July 29
Kilties	Dorothy Devore	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 7
Little Rube, The	Dorothy Devore	Nov. 20	2 reels
Live News	Johnny Arthur	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
Lucky Dog	P. Dunham-L. Billetts	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Many Wings—Beside the Still Water	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Nov. 20	1 reel	Nov. 4
Meet the Folks	Jimmie Adams	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Models in Mud	Hodge-Podge	Nov. 13	1 reel
Monty of the Mounted	Lupino Lane	July 24	2 reels	Aug. 12
Movie Hound, The	Phil Dunham	July 3	1 reel
New Wrinkles	Lloyd Hamilton	Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 21
Night Owls	Dunham-Bradley	June 19	1 reel	July 29
No Cheating	Al St John	June 26	2 reels	July 22
Off Again	J. Lloyd-B. Boyd	Sept. 25	1 reel	Oct. 14
Peculiar Pair of Pups, A—Nobody Home	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Pick a Pet	Curioisities	July 3	1 reel	July 22
Plumb Dumb	"Poodles" Hanneford	Aug. 1	2 reels	Sept. 9
Poor Fish—The Ebbing Tide	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Queens Wild	Beauchamp-Davis	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Red Hot Bullets	Eddie Quillan	Nov. 27	2 reels
Rest Day	Monte Collins	Nov. 27	2 reels
River of Suds, The—Mid-Ocean Sunset, A	Bruce Scenic	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 12
Scared Silly	Johnny Arthur	Nov. 13	2 reels
Seeing Stars	George Davis	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 17
Shamrock Alley	"Big Boy"	Nov. 27	2 reels
She's a Boy	"Big Boy"	Oct. 2	2 reles	Oct. 7
Shooting Wild	Jack Lloyd	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Some Scout	Lupino Lane	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 21
Stunt Man, The	Larry Semon	Oct. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sure Cure	Beauchamp-Davis	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Tales of a Traveler	Hodge-Podge	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Tenants of Marble Canyon, The—A Picture Paradise	Bruce Scenic	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Thoughts While Fishing—Silver Shadows	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Traveling at Home	Chriosities	July 31	1 reel	Sept. 9
Up In Arms	Dorothy Devore	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 2
Wild Wallops	B. Dooley-O Hasbrouck	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Wild Wool—Night Clouds	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 4	1 reel

F B O

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alice Cartoons (Released Twice a Month)			1 reel
Beauty Parlor, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 3	2 reels
Beloved Rogue, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 5	2 reels
Bo's Guest	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 19	2 reels
Boys Will Be Girls	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Campus Romeos	"Fat Men"	July 25	2 reels
Chin He Loved to Lift	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 14	2 reels
Fleshy Devils	Carr-Alexander-Ross	Nov. 14	2 reels	Oct. 7
Fresh Hair Fiends	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 21	2 reels
Helen of Troy, N. Y.	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 31	2 reels
How High Is Up? (Fat Men)	Carr-Alexander-Ross	June 27	2 reels
Kick in the Dark	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	July 3	2 reels
Krazy Kat Cartoons (released twice a month)			1 reel
Last Nose of Summer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 17	2 reels
Mickey's Circus	Mickey Yule	Sept. 4	2 reels
Mickey's Eleven	Mickey Yulo	Nov. 7	2 reels
Mickey's Pals	Mickey Yule	Oct. 3	2 reels	Oct. 7
New Faces for Old	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 12	2 reels
Nothing Doing	Charles Bowers	July 11	2 reels
Permanent Rave, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 10	2 reels
Pickled Romance	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Peter's Pan	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 28	2 reels
She Troupes to Conquer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 19	2 reels
Sock in Time, A	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 5	2 reels
Steamed Up	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Tanks of the Wabash	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Oct. 10	2 reels
Toupay or Not To Pay	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 7	2 reels
Wanderers of the Waistline	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Sept. 11	2 reels

FOX FILMS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Argentina, The Rich	Variety	Oct. 2	1 reel	Nov. 4
Arkansas Traveler	Variety	Jan. 18	1 reel
Art Treasures of the Vatican	Variety	Dec. 25	1 reel
Capt. Kidd's Kittens	Animal Comedy	Oct. 23	2 reels	Nov. 4
Cupid and the Clock (O. Henry)	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Desert Blooms, The	Variety		1 reel
Exploring Norway	Variety	Aug. 7	1 reel
Fool and His Honey	Tyles Brooks	Sept. 25	2 reels	Nov. 4
Gentlemen Prefer Scotch	N. Stuart-S. Phipps	June 26	2 reels
Glory That Was Greece	Variety	July 24	1 reel
Her Blue Black Eyes	M. Casajuana-E. Clayton	Oct. 9	2 reels	Nov. 4
Her Silent Wow	"Helen and Warren"	July 3	2 reels
Hot Potato, A (Van Bibber)	E. Foxe-K. Bates	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Kangaroo's Kimona, The	G. Carmeon, F. Bramley	Aug. 28	2 reels
Lights and Shadows in Sicily	Variety	Nov. 27	1 reel
Lords of the Back Fence	Variety	Jan. 22	1 reel
Love Is Blonde	D. Ellis-D. Rollens		2 reels
Midsummer Night's Steam, A	Eddie Cayton	June 5	2 reels
Moose Country, The	Variety	Nov. 13	1 reel
Mum's the Word			2 reels	Sept. 2
Northern Alaska Today	Variety	Oct. 16	1 reel
Over the Andes	Variety		1 reel
Psyche and the Pskyscraper	"O. Henry"		2 reels
Road to the Yukon	Variety	June 26	1 reel	June 24
Roamin' Gladiator	"Animal Comedy"	June 12	2 reels
Romatic Alhambira, The	Variety	Oct. 30	1 reel
Rumors for Rent	"Helen and Warren"	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Salmon Run, The	Variety	Aug. 21	1 reel	Oct. 14
Silk Legs		July 31	2 reels
Sky Frontiers	Variety	Sept. 4	1 reel
Solitude	Variety	Dec. 11	1 reel
Suite Homes	"O. Henry"	July 17	2 reels
Snow Rambles	Variety	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Twenty Legs Under the Sea	R. Walling	Sept. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Under Colorado Skies	Variety	Sept. 18	1 reel
Venders of the World	Variety	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Why B ondes Leave Home	R. Walling-M. Beebe	July 24	2 reels
Wolf in Cheap Clothing, A	"Animal Comedy"	July 10	2 reels

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Amazing Lovers	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
An African Adventure	Ufa Oddity	Aug. 27	1 reel
Assorted Babies	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 5	1 reel
Atop the World	Ufa Oddity	April 7	1 reel
Call of the Cuckoo, The	Max Davidson	Oct. 15	2 reels
Chase. The	Ufa Oddity	Mar. 26	1 reel
Children of the Sun	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel
Dog Days	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 8	1 reel
Falcon, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel	Dec. 11
Flag, The (Technicolor)	E. Bennett-F. X. Bushman	Oct. 1	2 reels
Fight For Life, A	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 19	1 reel
Fishing With a Microscope	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Golden Fleeces	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Gritty Pups	Ufa Oddity	Mar.	1 reel
Happy Omen, A	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Heavenly Bodies	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Hidden Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jewels of Venus	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 10	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jungle Round-Up, A	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 14	1 reel	Oct. 9
Lighter That Failed, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 1	2 reels
Lion Hunt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 17	1 reel
Monarch of the Glen, The	Ufa Oddity	Feb 25	1 reel
Nature's Wizardry	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Old Wallop, The	"Our Gang"	Oct. 22	2 reels
Palace of Honey, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pathfinders, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Parasol Abt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 31	1 reel
Perfume and Nicotine	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pets and Pests	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Primitive Housekeeping	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Sanctuary	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Second Hundred Years, The	Laurel-Hardy	Oct. 8	2 reels
Secrets of the Sea	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Sleeping Death	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Soaring Wings	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 24	1 reel
Sting of Stings, The	Charlie Chase	Sept. 3	2 reels
Sugar Daddies	All Star Cast	Sept. 10	2 reels
TallyHo	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Tokens of Manhood	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Way of All Pants, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 29	2 reels
What Every Iceman Knows	Max Davidson	Sept. 17	2 reels
Wicked Kasimir, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Winged Death	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 3	1 reel
Wonders of the Blue Gulf of Mexico	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Yale vs. Harvard	Our Gang	Sept. 24	2 reels

PARAMOUNT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Aero Nuts	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 13	1 reel
Behind the Counter	E. E. Horton	Mar. 3	2 reels
Crazy to Fly	Bobby Vernon	Sept. 17	2 reels
Dad's Choice	E. E. Horton	Jan. 7	2 reels
Dizzy Sights	Billy Dooley	Dec. 17	1 reel
Doctor Quack	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Easy Curves	Billy Dooley	Nov. 12	2 reels
Elegy, The	Novelty	Aug. 6	1 reel
Fantasy	Novelty	Oct. 15	1 reel
Fighting Fanny	Featured Cast	Jan. 21	2 reels
Find the King	E. E. Horton	Nov. 15	2 reels
For Crimes Sake	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 19	1 reel
French Fried	Neal Burns	Sept. 3	2 reels
Frenzy	Novelty	Jan. 14	1 reel
Hot Heads	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Hot Papa	Jack Duffy	Oct. 1	2 reels
Ko-Ko Chops Suey	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 29	1 reel
Ko-Ko Explores	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 15	1 reel
Ko-Ko Hops Off	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept. 17	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kane	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 20	1 reel
Ko-Ko Kicks	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 26	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kink	Inkwell Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 reel
Ko-Ko's K ock	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 12	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kozy Korber	Inkwe Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 ree
Ko-Ko Plays Pool	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 6	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kid	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 24	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Knight	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept 3	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kop	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 1	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Quest	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 10	1 reel
Loco Motifs	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel
Mad Scramb.es	Neal Burns	Nov. 26	2 ree s
Milk Made	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 3	1 reel
Moony Mariner, A	Billy Dooley	Sept. 24	2 reels
Nifty Nags	Featured Cast	Dec. 24	2 reels
No Publicity	E. E. Horton	Aug. 1	2 reels
Ocean Blues	Jimmie Adams	Nov. 19	2 reels
Oh Mummy	Jimmie Adams	Oct. 8	2 reels
Pie Curs, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 5	1 reel
Pig Styles	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Jan. 14	1 reel
Rail Rode	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel	Oct. 4
Row, Sailor, Row!	Billy Dooley	Aug. 20	2 reels
Scared Pink	Jack Duffy	Oct. 29	2 reels
School Daze	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 10	1 reel
Sealing Whacks	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 1	1 reel
Short Socks	Bobby Vernon	Aug. 13	2 reels
Short Tail, A	Novelty	Sept. 10	1 reel
Splash Yourself	Bobby Vernon	Dec. 3	2 reels
Stork Exchange, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 17	1 reel
Swiss Movements	Jimmie Adams	Dec. 31	2 reels
Tired Wheels	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 8	1 reel
Toddles	Novelty	Dec. 10	1 reel	Oct. 7
Topsey Turvey	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 22	1 reel
Uncle Tom's Caboose	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 22	1 reel
Web Feet	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 27	1 reel
Wedding Wows	Bobby Vernon	Oct. 22	2 reels
Wired and Fired	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 31	1 reel

PATHE-DE MILLE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alien Antics	Sportlight	Nov. 13	1 reel
All Bull and a Yard Wide	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 7
Ant Life As It Isn't	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Baby Brother	"Our Gang"	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Big Reward, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 3	1 reel	July 1
Big Tent, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Brave Heart, A	"Alsop Fables"	Oct. 30	1 reel
Bull Fighter, The		Nov. 27	2 reels
Bully, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 31	1 reel	July 29
Chicken Feed	"Our Gang"	Nov. 6	2 reels	Nov. 4
College Kiddo, The	Hurlock-Quillan	Aug. 7	2 reels	Aug. 5
Comrades in Work	Mabel Normand		2 reels
Crimson Flash, The (Serial—Landis-E. Gilbert)		June 19	10 episodes	June 17
Cups and Contenders	Sportlight	Nov. 27	1 reel
Cured in the Excitement	Hurlock-Bevan	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Cutting a Melon	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 2
Daddy Boy	Ben Turpin	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Died in the Wool	"Aesop Fables"	June 19	1 reel	June 17
Do Detectives Think?	Roach Stars	Nov. 20	2 reels
Dog's Day, A	"Aesop Fables"	June 5	1 reel	June 3
Don't Tell Everything	Roach Stars	July 3	2 reels	July 1
Down to the Sea	Sportlight	Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 28
Eyes and Angles	Sportlight	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Fiddlesticks	Harry Langdon	Nov. 7	2 reels
Flying Feet	Sportlight	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Flying Fishers	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 27	1 reel
Fluttering Hearts	Charley Chase	June 19	2 reels	June 17
Football Officials	"Football Sense"		1 reel	Oct. 21
For Sale a Bungalow		Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 28
Fox Hunt, The	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 20	1 reel
From Soup to Nuts	Rarebits	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Glorious Fourth, The	"Our Gang"	July 31	2 reels	July 29
Gold Digger of Weepah, A	Bevan-Bennett-Burke	Oct. 2	2 reels	Sept. 30
Golf Nut, The	Bevan-Quillan-A. Bennett	Sept. 4	2 reels
Hard Cider	"Aesop Fables"	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Have a Drink	Rarebits	Nov. 20	1 reel
Hawk of the Hills (Serial)	Ray and Miller	Aug. 28	10 episodes	Sept 2
Hole in One, A	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 21	1 reel	Aug. 12
Hook, Line and Sinker	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Human Fly, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 25	1 reel	Sept. 30
In and Out Again	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 18	1 reel
King Harold	L. Baird-T. Holmes	Nov. 13	2 reels
Lindy's Cat	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 16	1 reel
Love 'Em and Weep	M. Busch-Laurel-Finlayson	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Love Nest, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 17	1 reel	July 15
Love's Languid Lure	Ben Turpin	Aug. 29	2 reels	Sept. 2
Mark of the Frog, The (Serial)	M. Morris-D. Reed		10 episodes
Masked Menace, The (Serial)	L. Kent-J. Arthur	Nov. 6	10 episodes	Nov. 4
Now I'll Tell One	Chase-Laurel	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 14
Olympic Games	"Our Gang"	Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 9
One Man Dog, A	"Aesop Fables"	June 26	1 reel	July 1
On the Hook	Sportlight	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 2
Outwitting Time	Spotlight	Oct. 2	1 reel
Pioneer Instinct	Sportlight	June 26	1 reel
Pride of Pikeville, The	Ben Turpin	June 5	2 reels	June 3
Prowling Around France with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Sept. 18	1 reel
Red Hot Sands	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 12
Riding High	"Aesop Fables"	July 10	1 reel
River of Doubt, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 2	1 reel	Sept. 30
Roaming the Emerald Isle with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Aug 21	1 reel	Sept. 9

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Sailors, Beware!	Roach Stars	Sept.	23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Saved By a Keyhole	"Alsop Fables"	Nov.	13	1 reel
Scents and Dog Sense	Sportlight	Aug.	7	1 reel
Second Honeymoon, The	T. Holmes-L. Baird	Oct.	16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Signs of Spring	"Alsop Fables"	Nov.	6	1 reel
Should Second Husbands Come First?	Max Davidson	Oct.	23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Small-Town Sheriff, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept.	4	1 reel	Sept. 2
Smith's Candy Shop	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Aug.	21	2 reels	Aug. 12
Smith's Cook	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Oct.	16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Smith's Cousin	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Nov.	13	2 reels
Smith's Pony	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Sept.	18	2 reels
Soldier Man	Harry Langdon
Subway Sally	"Aesop Fables"	July	24	1 reel	July 22
Tackles and Touchdowns	Sportlight	Sept.	18	1 reel
Taking Punishment	Sportlight	July	24	1 reel
Their Second Honeymoon	Baird-Holmes	Oct.	16	2 reels
Up the Ladder	Sportlight	Oct.	6	1 reel	Oct. 21
Weaker Sex, The	Rarebits	Sept.	25	1 reel
What Women Did For Me	Charley Chase	Aug.	14	2 reels	Aug. 12
Why Girls Love Sailors	Roach Stars	July	17	2 reels	July 15
With Love and Hisses	Roach Stars	Aug.	28	2 reels	Sept. 16
With Will Rogers Through Switzerland & Bavaria	Travelesque	June	26	1 reel	July 1

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Animal Catchers	McDougall Kids	Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Bear Escape, A	Parker-Reavis	Capitol Prod.		2 reels	Aug. 1
Beauty and the Beach	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clark		1 reel
Big Pie Raid, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June 1.	2 reels	June 10
Berth Mark	Tarbell-Finch-Shaw	Red Seal		2 reels
Bobbed Hair and Bandits	Sid Smith	Capitol Pord	Aug. 1	2 reel
Custard's Last Stand		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Derelects of the Sea	Novelty	Bray	June 30.	1 reel
Deuce, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June 1.	2 reels
Dream of the Sea, A (Bino-color)		Film Dist. Corp		1 reel	May 27
Fresh and a Devil	Clyde-Malone-Irving	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
God Made This Day For Me (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.	Aug. 1.	1 reel
Golf and How	Novelty	Castle	Mar. 26.	1 reel
Good Scouts		Bray		2 reels
Great Guns	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Helpless Helper	Al Jay	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Henpecked in Morocco	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Heralds of the Spring	Nature Special	Bray	April 19.	1 reel
Here's Another One	Novelty	Bray		1 reel	Oct. 7
Heroes of the Wild (Serial)	Jack Hoxie	N. Levine.	Dec. 1.	10 episodes
Iron Derby, The		Bray
Isle of Sunken Gold, The (Serial)	A. Stewart	Nat Levine	Sept. 1.	10 episodes
Here Comes the Bride	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
His Off-Day	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
His Ticklish Predicament	Jack Cooper	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
Hit and Win		Bray	Aug. 20.	2 reels
Iron Derby, The				2 reels	Oct. 21
It's a Great Life	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
It's All Wet		Bray	July 10.	2 reels
Japanese Oddities	Novelty	Castle	Aug. 11.	1 reel
Jungle Belles	"Lantz Cartoon"	Bray		1 reel	June 10
Ko-Ko Makes 'Em Laugh	"Fleischer Cartoon"	Red Seal		1 reel	July 22
Learn by Mail	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Let's Go	Nove.ty	Cast e	Aug. 27.	1 reel
Lift Your Face		Bray	Aug. 10.	2 reels
Little Feet	Novelty	Castle	June 14.	1 reel
Lost in a Pullman		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 23
Lunches and Punches	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod		2 reels	Sept. 1
Ma and the Auto (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel
Magic Hands	Novelty	Castle	July 16.	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Tiffany		1 reel	Sept. 9
Nothing to Live For	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Oh Boy Paris	Novelty	Castle	July 30.	1 reel
Orphans, The	McDougall Kids	Bray		2 reels
Over There	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Pals	Novelty	Castle	May 7.	1 reel
Perils of the Jungle (Serial)	E. Gilbert-F. Merril	Weiss Bros.		10 episodes	Aug. 5
Sappy Days	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Scoop, The		Bray	July 20.	2 reels
She Beast, The	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod		2 reels	July 1
Silence of the Snows (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.		1 reel
Sky Walkers	Novelty	Castle	May 21.	1 reel
Sophomore, The	G.O'Neil-L.Graydon	Hi-Mark
Speed	Novelty	Castle	Apr. 9.	1 reel
Spooky Money	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Stepping Along	Novelty	Castle	April 23.	1 reel
Style Book	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Two Arabian Sights		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Uncle Tom's Habit	Parker-Reavis	Capital Prod		2 reels	Sept. 1
Water Sports	Novelty	Castle	July 2.	1 reel
Water, Water Everywhere		Bray	June 20.	2 reels
When Redskins Bit the Dust.	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	July 1.	1 reel
When We Were Kids	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	June 1.	1 reel
Who's Who	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Yellow Dog, The (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel	April 15
Yosemite	Novelty	Castle	June 18.	1 reel

TIFFANY

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Bridal of Pennacook	Color Classic	Nov.	1	1 reel
Comrades	Color Classic	Nov.	15	1 reel
King of Sports	Color Classic	Sept	15	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Oct.	1	1 reel
Roaring 'Round Caribbean		Oct.	15.	1 reel
Romany Love	Color Classic	Dec.	1.	1 reel

UNIVERSAL

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Ah Gay Vienna	Charles Puffy	July	25.	1 reel	July 15
All For Uncle	C. King-C. Doherty	Oct.	19.	2 reels	Oct. 7
All Wet	Oswald Cartoon	Oct.	31.	1 reel
And How	"The Gumps"	Oct.	31.	2 reels
Banker's Daughter, The	Oswald Cartoon	Nov.	28.	2 reels
Barrymore Tommy (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	June	18.	2 reels	May 27
Battle Scarred Hero, A	"The Gumps"	Oct.	3.	2 reels	Sept. 30
Battling Buckaroo, The (Western)	Bob Curwood	Nov.	12.	2 reels
Blake of Scotland Yard (Serial)	Hayden Stevenson	Aug.	15.	10 episodes
Blind Man's Bluff	Jack Perrin			2 reels	Oct. 28
Buster Come On	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Sept.	14.	2 reels	Sept. 9
Buster's Frame-Up	Trimble, Turner and Dog	June	6.	2 reels	May 20
Buster's Handicap	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Aug.	1.	2 reels	July 15
Buster's Home Life	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Oct.	12.	2 reels	Sept. 30
Buster's Initiation	Trimble, Turner and Dog	July	4.	2 reels	June 24
Buster, What's Next?	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Nov.	16.	2 reels	Oct. 28
Clearing the Trail (Western)	Newton House	Nov.	26.	2 reels
Cows Is Cows (Mustang)	Corbett & Holmes	July	9.	2 reels	June 24
Crimson Colors	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept.	12.	2 reels	June 17
Dancing Fools	C. King-C. Doherty	Sept.	21.	2 reels	Sept. 2
Danger Ahead (Western)	Jack Perrin	Sept.	24.	2 reels	Sept. 2
Dangerous Double, A (Western)	Bob Curwood	Oct.	15.	2 reels	Sept. 23
Daze of the West (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Sept.	3.	2 reels
Dazzling Co-Eds	Lewis-Sullivan	Oct.	10.	2 reels
Disordered Orderly, The	Sid Saylor	Nov.	9.	2 reels
Doctors Prefer Brunetts	Neely Edwards	June	20.	1 reel	June 3
Do or Diet	Charles Puffy	June	13.	1 reel	June 3
Fighting Finish, A	George Lewis				Oct. 14
Fighting Texan, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	Sept.	10.	2 reels	Aug. 19
George's Many Loves	Sid Saylor	June	15.	2 reels	May 27
George Steps Out	Sid Saylor	Sept.	28	2 reels
Great Guns	Oswald Cartoon	Oct.	17.	1 reel
Gun Justice (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July	2.	2 reels	June 10
Haunted Island, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty-Helen Foster			10 episodes
His Day of Days	Neely Edwards	Aug.	15.	1 reel
Home Trail, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	June	4.	2 reels	May 13
Honest and Truly	Charles Puffy	Aug.	29.	2 reels
Horse Trader, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	Aug.	20.	2 reels
Hot Stuff				1 reel	Oct. 14
Jane's Relations	M. Marcel-E. McCarthy	July	17.	2 reels	July 1
Jane's Sleuth	Dorety-Clair	June	22.	2 reels	June 3
Keeping in Trim	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Sept.	7.	2 reels	Aug. 19
Lateral Pass, The	Sportlight			1 reel	Oct. 14
Law Rider, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Nov.	5.	2 reels
Love Wallop, The	Arthur Lake	Nov.	7.	1 reel
Man Tamer, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug.	27.	2 reels
Mechanical Cow, The	Oswald Cartoon	Oct.	3.	1 reel
Model George	Sid Saylor	Dec.	28.	2 reel
Monkey Shines	Ben Hall	Sept.	25	1 reels
My Mistake	Charles King	June	29.	2 reels	June 10
Newlyweds Christmas Party, The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail			2 reels	Nov. 4
Newlyweds' Mistake The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Nov.	7.	2 reels
Newlyweds' Surprise	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Oct.	3.	2 reels	Sept. 30
Newlyweds' Troubles	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Sept.	5.	2 reels	Aug. 19
Ocean Bruises	"The Gumps"			2 reels	Oct. 28
Ocean Hop	Oswald Cartoon
Oh! Mabel	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov.	23.	2 reels
Oh Taxi!	Sid Saylor	Aug.	10.	2 reels	July 22
On Deck	Sid Saylor	Nov.	30	2 reels
Oh Mabel!	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov.	23.	2 reels
Oh Teacher!	Oswald Cartoon	Sept.	19.	1 reel	Sept. 2
On Furlough	Sig Saylor	July	27.	2 reels	July 15
On Special Duty (Western)	Fred Gilman	Oct.	8.	2 reels	Sept. 30
Passing the Joneses	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Nov.	2.	2 reels
Pawns and Queens (Mus-tang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug.	6.	2 reels	July 15
Penny Ante	Harry Mann	June	27.	1 reel
Phantom Outlaw, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	July	16.	2 reels	June 24
Picking on George	Sid Saylor	Oct.	26.	2 reels	Oct. 14
Piperock Blaze, The (Tuttle Western)	Holmes & Corbett	June	11.	2 reels	May 20
Plain Jane		Aug.	17.	2 reels
Please Don't		Aug.	24.	2 reels
Plumed Rider, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	July	30.	2 reels	July 15
Red Suspenders	Summerville & "Fanny"	June	6.	1 reel	May 20
Red Warning (Western)	Newton House			2 reels	Oct. 19
Rest Cure, The (Tuttle Western)	Corbett and Holmes	June	25.	2 reels
Riding Whirlwind, The (Western)	Newton House	Oct.	1.	2 reels	Sept. 23
Roaring Gulch, The (Mus-tang)	Edmund Cobb	July	17.	2 reels	July 1
Run Buster!	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Dec.	14.	2 reels
Run for His Money, A	Arthur Lake	Aug.	21.	1 reel
Rushing Business	Sid Saylor	Aug.	31.	2 reels	Aug. 12
Samson at Calford	Lewis-Gulliver	Nov.	7.	2 reels	June 17
Saxophobia	Arthur Lake	Oct.	10.	1 reel	Sept. 30
Scarlet Arrow, The (Serial—F. X. Bushman Jr.)				10 episodes
Scrambled Honeymoon, The	Ben Hall	Nov.	21.	1 reel
Scrappin' Fool, The (Mus-tang)	Bob Curwood	Sept.	17.	2 reels	Sept. 2
Shady Rest	"The Gumps"			2 reels
Showing Off	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Dec.	7.	2 reels
Silent Partner, The (Mustang-Edmund Cobb)		Mar.	19.	2 reels	Feb. 25
Sleepy Time Pal, A	Neely Edwards	July	11.	1 reel	June 24
Smiling Wolf, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Dec.	1.	2 reels
Snookum's Asleep	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	July	6.	2 reels	June 24
Snookum's Clean Up	Snookums-Clair-Saylor	Aug.	3.	2 reels	July 15
Society Breaks	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Oct.	5.	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sodas and Shebas	Arthur Lake	Sept.	12.	2 reels	Sept. 9
Son of America, A	George K. Arthur	Aug.	8.	1 reel
South of Northern Lights (Western)	Jack Perrin	Oct.	22.	2 reels	Oct. 7
Square Shooter, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	Aug.	13.	2 reels	July 22
Stop Snookums	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	June	1.	2 reels	May 13
Surprised Honey	Neely Edwards	Aug.	1.	1 reel	July 15
Tale of a Shirt, The	Jimmy Aubrey	July	17.	1 reel	July 1
That's No Excuse	Charles King	June	8.	2 reels	May 20
There's a Will	C. King-C. Doherty	Dec.	21.	2 reels
Too Much Sleep	"The Gumps"	Sept.	19.	2 reels	Sept. 2
Total Loss, A	"The Gumps"	Nov.	28.	2 reels
Trail of the Tiger, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty	Nov.	7.	2 reels	Aug. 5
Trolley Troubles	Oswald Cartoon	Sept.	5.	1 reel	Aug. 19
Under the Bed	Charles Puffy	July	4.	1 reel	June 24
Valiant Rider, The (Western)	Bob Curwood			2 reels
Vanishing Rider, The (Serial)	Wm. Desmond			10 episodes
What An Excuse	Charles King	July	13.	2 reels	June 24
When Greek Meets Greek	"The Gumps"	Oct.	17.	2 reels	Oct. 7
Whispering Smith Rides (Serial)	Wallace MacDonald	June	6.	10 episodes
Winning Five, The	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept.	26.	2 reels	Sept. 16
Winning Punch, The	George Lewis	Nov.	21.	2 reels

ADVERTISE IN THE NEWS—IT PAYS

Roy Press Printers

The First Requisite

The first requisite of a good performance is consistently high screen quality in the pictures you show.

Specify Eastman film for all of your prints and look for the words "Eastman Kodak" in the margin of each reel. Then you can be sure that you are getting the finest photographic quality obtainable in motion pictures.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

outdoor kings!

the great melodrama released by Paramount advertised by

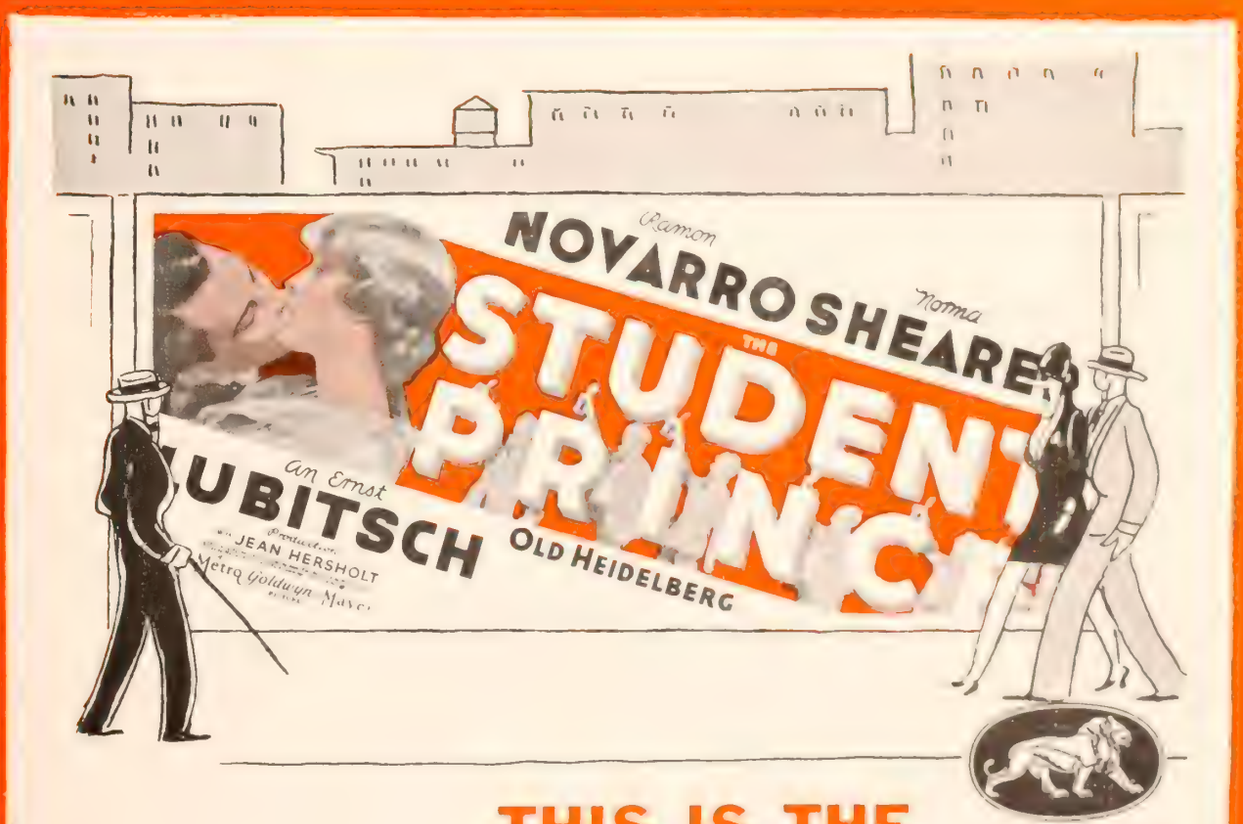
GREAT POSTERS



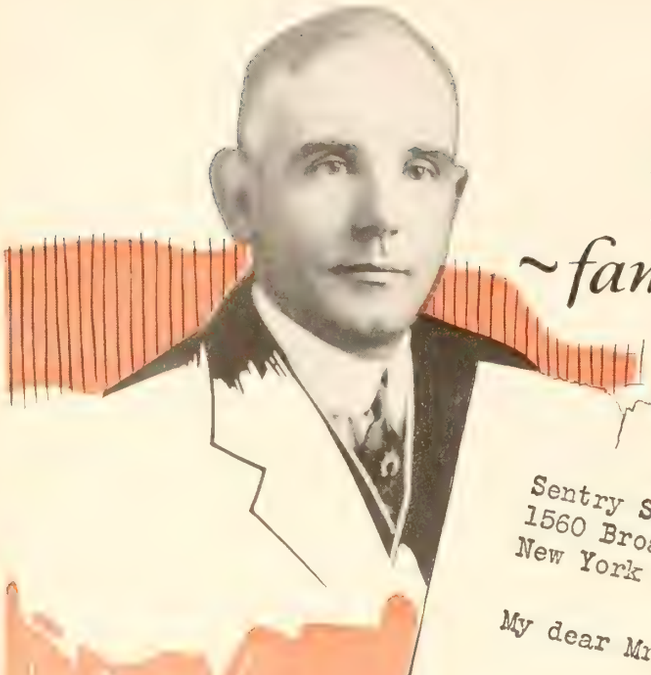
made by

The Morgan Lithograph Co

CLEVELAND, OHIO

November 18, 1927

Motion Picture News



THIS IS THE GAYEST BILLBOARD IN NEW YORK!

Commencing its 3d Month at the Astor Theatre "The Student Prince" is the town's hit at $2 !

Vol. XXXVI No. 20

PRICE 20 CENTS

Los Angeles New York

A testimonial from H.M. CRANDALL ~famous Washington Exhibitor

Sentry Safety Control Corp.,
1560 Broadway,
New York City.

September 9, 1927

Attention Mr. John P. Stapleton.

My dear Mr. Stapleton:

I thought I would drop you a line telling you what satisfaction your safety control is giving us in our theatres. I might say that this device through several hundred different tests has never failed. To me it is almost human. Aside from the fact that it may save us money on insurance and destruction of film the most important thing is the safety to our public. I feel satisfied that no theatre owner who has had an opportunity to see your device work would be without one, when he considers the safety of his audience especially the women and children.

I think that this little device of yours is much more important than our orchestras, presentations and refrigeration plants, and it is very inexpensive.

Wishing you the best of success with this apparatus, and with kindest regards I beg to remain

Yours very truly,

HMC:D

H M Crandall

SENTRY SAFETY CONTROL
CORPORATION

13th and Cherry Sts., PHILADELPHIA 1560 Broadway, NEW YORK
And All Branches of
NATIONAL THEATRE SUPPLY COMPANY

Can be attached to any projector. Costs only a few cents a day have you dated up miss 1927?

¶ Miss 1927! Bobbed hair, knee-high skirts. Smart, sophisticated, up to the second. Pacemaker of today. Every business must sell her or perish.

¶ Miss 1927. Eager for entertainment, but mighty shrewd in choosing it. She's 70% of your audiences and the other 30 follow where she leads. She dictates motion picture styles today just as she does clothes and cars. She makes or breaks pictures, theatres. She writes "failed to draw" or "tremendous business" on your reports. ¶ What are you doing have you dated up miss 1927?

to win Miss 1927? Have you got her dated up every week at your theatre? Are you making the mistake of offering her the old fashioned pictures that most companies are still handing you? She scorns them like last year's hat. She'd rather dance, go to football games, read, listen to the radio, ride in a Chrysler—do any of the 101 things competing with motion pictures for her time. ¶ Are you trying to sell her antiquated and never-was stars? She calls them "dumb doras" and "dim bulbs". OR—are you giving her what she craves; new era pictures made in her own sprightly mould. Tuned to her own bounding hopes and desires. Bright shining stars of her shining age. In short, PARAMOUNT'S 100% PROGRAM! ¶ For, fortunately, one company—Paramount—pioneered, saw times had changed, geared up its studio to Miss 1927's swift pace. Paramount is making Miss 1927's type of picture. Paramount has won her heart with specials in the modern manner

BEAU GESTE
UNDERWORLD
WAY OF ALL FLESH
CHANG
STREET OF SIN
BARBED WIRE
JESSE JAMES
OLD IRONSIDES
ROUGH RIDERS
THE LAST COMMAND
METROPOLIS
BEAU SABREUR

GENTLEMEN PREFER BLONDES
NOW WE'RE IN THE AIR
LEGION OF THE CONDEMNED
FIREMEN, SAVE MY CHILD
TELL IT TO SWEENEY
TWO FLAMING YOUTHS

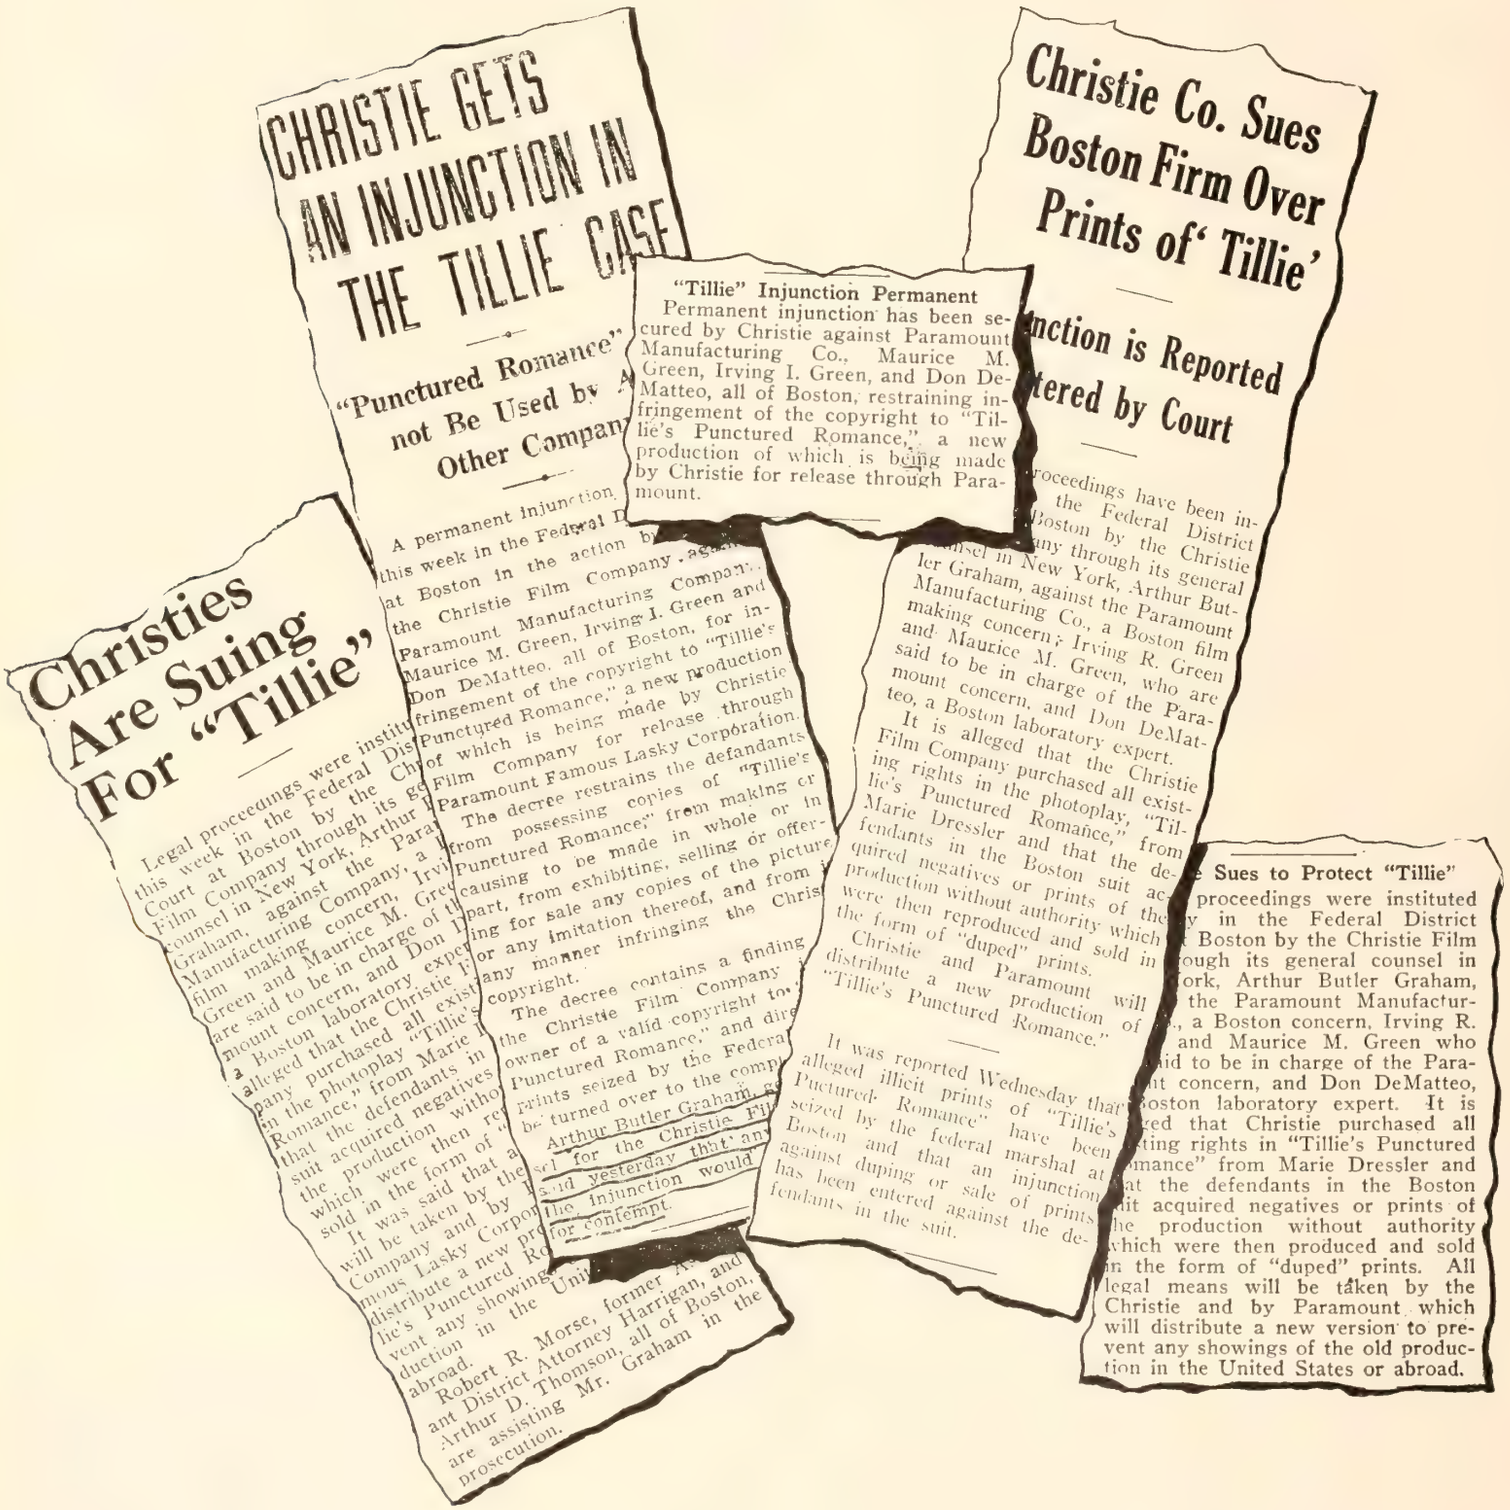
miss 1927's girl pals

CLARA BOW
BEBE DANIELS
POLA NEGRI
RUTH TAYLOR
LOUISE BROOKS
MARY BRIAN
SALLY BLANE

ESTHER RALSTON
FLORENCE VIDOR
FAY WRAY
EVELYN BRENT
THELMA TODD
IVY HARRIS
DORIS HILL

favorite boy friends

HAROLD LLOYD
RICHARD DIX
EMIL JANNINGS
GEORGE BANCROFT
W. C. FIELDS
CHESTER CONKLIN
GARY COOPER
CHARLES ROGERS



ADOLPHE MENJOU
WALLACE BEERY
RAYMOND HATTON
THOMAS MEIGHAN
FRED THOMSON
RICHARD ARLEN
LANE CHANDLER
JAMES HALL

¶ Listen in on Miss 1927 and her set. It's Paramount pictures and Paramount stars they're talking about. Clara Bow gets 17,000 fan letters a month, 85% of them from Miss 1927. Richard Dix gets about the same. Records for Hollywood! ¶ Check the audiences at Paramount pictures. Packed solid with eager youth. As youth goes, so goes the box office. ¶ Scan Paramount's great West Coast studio, largest and most up-to-date in the world. Youth rules the lot. Young stars, showmen directors with the fire of youth, authors with sensitive fingers on the rapid pulse of today. No wonder Paramount is outdrawing all other companies two to one this season!

the choice of miss 1927

WARNING!

CHRISTIE GETS AN INJUNCTION IN THE TILLIE CASE

"Punctured Romance" not Be Used by Other Company

A permanent injunction this week in the Federal D at Boston in the action by the Christie Film Company, a Paramount Manufacturing Company, Maurice M. Green, Irving I. Green and Don DeMatteo, all of Boston, for infringement of the copyright to "Tillie's Punctured Romance," a new production of which is being made by Christie for release through Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation.

The decree restrains the defendants from possessing copies of "Tillie's Punctured Romance;" from making or causing to be made in whole or in part, from exhibiting, selling or offering for sale any copies of the picture or any imitation thereof, and from in any manner infringing the Christie copyright.

The decree contains a finding that the Christie Film Company is owner of a valid copyright to "Tillie's Punctured Romance," and directs that prints seized by the Federal authorities be turned over to the complainant. Arthur Butler Graham, counsel for the Christie Film Company, said yesterday that an appeal would be taken by the defendants to the Circuit Court of Appeals and that if the injunction would be sustained he would move for contempt.

"Tillie" Injunction Permanent

Permanent injunction has been secured by Christie against Paramount Manufacturing Co., Maurice M. Green, Irving I. Green, and Don DeMatteo, all of Boston, restraining infringement of the copyright to "Tillie's Punctured Romance," a new production of which is being made by Christie for release through Paramount.

Christies Are Suing For "Tillie"

Legal proceedings were instituted this week in the Federal District Court at Boston by the Christie Film Company through its general counsel in New York, Arthur Butler Graham, against the Paramount Manufacturing Company, a Boston film making concern, Irving R. Green and Maurice M. Green, who are said to be in charge of the film concern, and Don DeMatteo, a Boston laboratory expert.

It is alleged that the Christie Film Company purchased all existing rights in the photoplay, "Tillie's Punctured Romance," from Marie Dressler and that the defendants in the Boston suit acquired negatives or prints of the production without authority which were then reproduced and sold in the form of "duped" prints.

Christie and Paramount will distribute a new production of "Tillie's Punctured Romance."

It was reported Wednesday that alleged illicit prints of "Tillie's Punctured Romance" have been seized by the federal marshal at Boston and that an injunction against duping or sale of prints has been entered against the defendants in the suit.

Robert R. Morse, former Assistant District Attorney Harrigan, and Arthur D. Thomson, all of Boston, are assisting Mr. Graham in the prosecution.

Christie Co. Sues Boston Firm Over Prints of 'Tillie' nction is Reported tered by Court roceedings have been in- the Federal District Boston by the Christie ny through its general nsel in New York, Arthur But- ler Graham, against the Paramount Manufacturing Co., a Boston film making concern; Irving R. Green and Maurice M. Green, who are said to be in charge of the Paramount concern, and Don DeMatteo, a Boston laboratory expert.

It is alleged that the Christie Film Company purchased all existing rights in the photoplay, "Tillie's Punctured Romance," from Marie Dressler and that the defendants in the Boston suit acquired negatives or prints of the production without authority which were then reproduced and sold in the form of "duped" prints.

Christie and Paramount will distribute a new production of "Tillie's Punctured Romance."

It was reported Wednesday that alleged illicit prints of "Tillie's Punctured Romance" have been seized by the federal marshal at Boston and that an injunction against duping or sale of prints has been entered against the defendants in the suit.

Sues to Protect "Tillie" proceedings were instituted y in the Federal District Boston by the Christie Film ough its general counsel in ork, Arthur Butler Graham, the Paramount Manufactur- , a Boston concern, Irving R. and Maurice M. Green who id to be in charge of the Para- nt concern, and Don DeMatteo, Boston laboratory expert. It is ged that Christie purchased all ting rights in "Tillie's Punctured mance" from Marie Dressler and at the defendants in the Boston it acquired negatives or prints of he production without authority which were then produced and sold n the form of "duped" prints. All legal means will be taken by the Christie and by Paramount which will distribute a new version to prevent any showings of the old production in the United States or abroad.

WARNING!

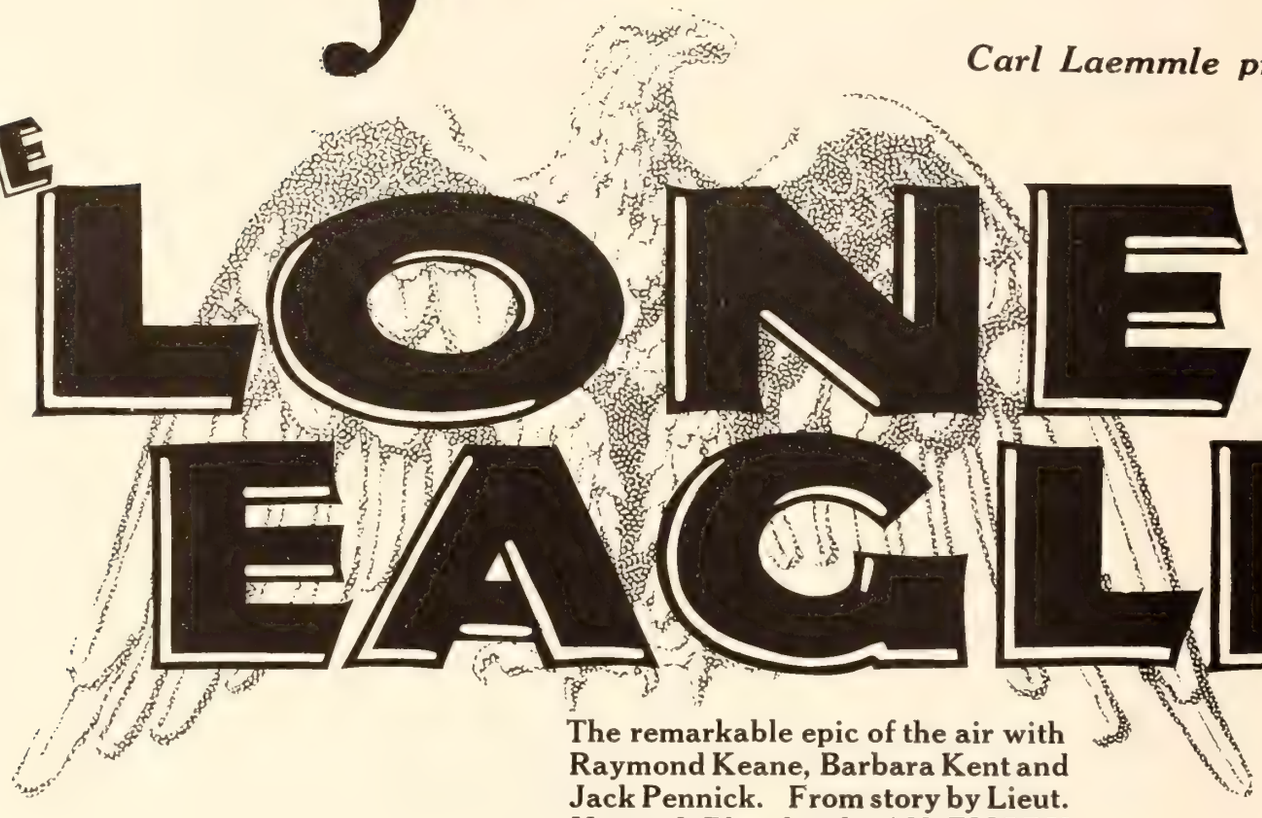
Notice is hereby given that Christie Film Company will employ all legal means to prevent infringement of its copyright of

"TILLIE'S PUNCTURED ROMANCE"

—a new version of which is being produced for release and distribution through Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation.

Where the facts warrant, evidence will be presented to the federal authorities for criminal action.

Conspiracy to violate a United States statute and wilful violation of the copyright laws are punishable by fine and imprisonment.



CHRISTIE FILM COMPANY
Alfred E. Christie
Charles H. Christie

Emory Johnson-

King of all exploitation directors!

Carl Laemmle presents

THE LONE EAGLE

The remarkable epic of the air with Raymond Keane, Barbara Kent and Jack Pennick. From story by Lieut. Howard Blanchard—AN EMORY JOHNSON PRODUCTION Directed by Emory Johnson.

Two mighty box-office smashes backed by amazing exploitation tie-ups that because title story, author and director are box office naturals and Universal gives you complete exploitation plans and tie-ups that are absolutely SURE FIRE!

Sold

They're in Universal at his tip top best!

The SHIELD of HONOR

Presented by Carl Laemmle, Story by Emilie Johnson, Directed by Emory Johnson, AN EMORY JOHNSON PRODUCTION.

with Neil Hamilton, Ralph Lewis, Dorothy Gulliver, Nigel Barrie and others.

will absolutely mop up for every theatre in America! Ask your nearest exchange for complete details!

Sold the greatest exploitation director in the business has written a great story around a subject that touches the hearts and homes of every man, woman and child in the country—America's finest —the blue-coated policeman.

's Big Gun Group!

The First Requisite

The first requisite of a good performance is consistently high screen quality in the pictures you show.

Specify Eastman film for all of your prints and look for the words "Eastman Kodak" in the margin of each reel. Then you can be sure that you are getting the finest photographic quality obtainable in motion pictures.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Pathé Hits

BLAZE ON BROADWAY

in triumphant showing at biggest first run theatres

DeMille Studio Productions for Pathe Release exclusively featured at B. S. Moss' Broadway, B. S. Moss' Cameo, Paramount, Gaiety, B. F. Keith's Hippodrome, Roxy and B. S. Moss' Colony—week of Oct. 29.

"A HARP IN HOCK" with Rudolph Schildkraut Junior Coghlan

JETTA GOUDAL in "The Forbidden Woman"

Cecil B. DeMille's KING OF KINGS Story by Jeanie Macpherson

WILLIAM BOYD in "DRESS PARADE"

PATHÉ NEWS

LEATRICE JOY in "THE ANGEL OF BROADWAY"

"THE WISE WIFE" with Phyllis Haver

MARIE PREVOST "THE GIRL IN THE PULLMAN"

PATHÉ Comedies

PATHÉ-FABLES AND TOPICS OF THE DAY

VERA REYNOLDS in "The MAIN EVENT"

Something to Crow About!

FRONT PAGE PUBLICITY

PATHÉ

THE MORNING TELEGRAPH, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1927. 7

PATHE CORNERS ENTERTAINMENT MARKET ON BROADWAY

ALL NEW YORK PAYS HOMAGE TO FINE FILMS

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR PHYLLIS

RECORDS GO AS MIGHTY FEAT STUNS SHOWMEN

Editorial Telephone, Beekman 2000 NEW YORK AMERICAN—A Paper for People Who Think—MONDAY, OCTOBER 31,

De Mille Had Hand in Seven New Films on Broadway This Week

'THE MAIN EVENT,

Yum! Yum!

'THE WISE WIFE'

'The Forbidden Woman'

Woman's

SUNDAY NEWS, OCTOBER 30, 1927. 41

PATHE WEEK ON BROADWAY

DAILY NEWS, MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1927

28 **

"DRESS PARADE" GLORIFIES CADETS; "MAIN EVENT" K. O.

HARBORD TELLS PLANS

Strand's West Point Film Enjoyable; Roxy Pictorial a Fight Knockout.

By IRENE THIRER.

Pathe production, directed by Donald Crisp and MOTION PICTURES.

ACADEMY

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1927

Leatrice Joy Turns 'Angel Of Broadway' at Colony

THE PATHE ROOSTER HAS EIGHT GOOD REASONS FOR CROWING

WHISPERS

of "Rio Rita" will dorf-Astoria on No-
the Pan-American
Owing to throat
Leslie has withdrawn or "Spring 3100"
farce, named "One pass at the Mayfair

Can See the nooth Motion Picture

CLE
M'S BIN

CARL LAEMMLE

FRIDAY NIGHT

EVENING GRAPHIC

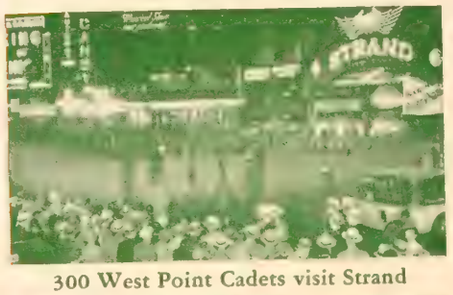
Pathe Prize Ring Drama Featured at the Roxy

PLAYERS IN THE NINE PICTURES FROM PATHE DE MILLE STUDIOS ON BROADWAY THIS WEE

...Prevost in "The Girl in Rudolph Schildkraut in "A ...Pullman," Hippodrome Hero in Hock," Broadway

Phyllis Haver in "The Wise Wife," Cameo Theatre

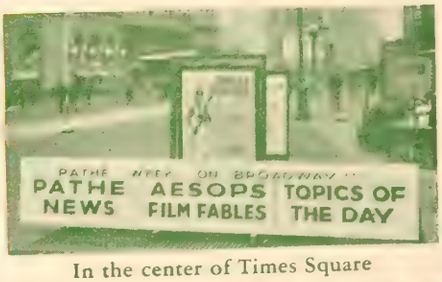
Leatrice Joy in "The Angel of Broadway," Colony



Jetta Goudal in "The Forbidden Woman," Paramount

William Boyd in "Dress Parade," Strand

Vera Reyn... Main Eve...



Cut outs ballyhoo Dress Parade

300 West Point Cadets visit Strand

Pathe Week in lights on Hipp

In the center of Times Square

Tie-up with War Department

Pathé

Showmanship That Startled The Industry

B. S. MOSS' BROADWAY

It is estimated that more than one million people in Greater New York were entertained by Pathe Pictures at Broadway's biggest first-run theatres during week of October 29.

B. S. MOSS' CAMEO

PARAMOUNT

Newspaper Ads That Pulled Them In

B. S. MOSS' COLONY ROXY

MARK STRAND

GAIETY

B. F. KEITH'S PALACE

B. F. KEITH'S HIPPODROME

A PERFECT SCORE !

Pathé

"best West Point picture to date"
N. Y. Daily News

JETTA GOUDAL
in
THE FORBIDDEN WOMAN
with Victor Varconi and Joseph Schildkraut
Adapted by Clara Beranger from an original story by Elmer Harris
Directed by Paul L. Stein

WILLIAM BOYD
in DRESS PARADE
with Bessie Love
A Donald Crisp Production
Screen Play by Douglas Z. Doty from the story by Major Robert Glasburn Major Alexander Chilton and Herbert David Walter

MARIE PREVOST
in
THE GIRL IN THE PULLMAN
with Harrison Ford Franklin Pangborn Kathryn McGuire and Harry Myers
An Eric C. Kenton Production
Adapted by F. McGrew Willis from "The Girl in Upper C" by Willson Collison
Supervised by F. McGrew Willis

"movie-goers will get many a laugh"
N. Y. Evening World

"praiseworthy picture—one that most movie-goers will want to see."
N. Y. Daily Mirror

LEATRICE JOY
in
THE ANGEL OF BROADWAY
with Victor Varconi May Robson and Clarence Burton
From a story by Lenore J. Coffee
Directed by Lois Weber

"one of the best things Leatrice Joy has done."
N. Y. Evening World

"well acted and consistently entertaining"
N. Y. Evening Journal

THE WISE WIFE
with
PHYLLIS HAVER
Tom Moore, Jacqueline Logan and Joseph Striker
Adapted by Zelda Sears and Tay Garnett from the story by Arthur Somers Roche
Directed by E. Mason Hopper

Cecil B. DeMille's
KING OF KINGS
Story by Jeanie Macpherson

VERA REYNOLDS
in
THE MAIN EVENT
with Rudolph Schildkraut, Julia Faye, Charles Delaney and Robert Armstrong from the story "That Makes Us Even" by Paul Allison Continuity by Rochus Gliese
Directed by William K. Howard

"Roxy pictorial a fight knockout"
N. Y. Daily News

"7th big mouth on Broadway"

A HARP IN HOCK
with
Rudolph Schildkraut and Junior Coghlan
A Renaud Hoffman Production
Adaptation and continuity by Sonya Levien
From a story by Evelyn Campbell

"production good, direction intelligent, acting excellent"
Variety

MARTHA OSTENSO'S
Read by over 3,000,000 people
WILD GEESE
With a remarkable cast including
BELLE BENNETT-ANITA STEWART
DONALD KEITH- RUSSELL SIMPSON
EVE SOUTHERN- EVELYN SELBY
WESLEY BARRY- JASON ROBARDS and other notable screen players
ADAPTATION FOR THE SCREEN By A.P. YOUNGER DIRECTED BY PHIL STONE
ONE OF THE 20 GEMS FROM TIFFANY
JACK SAVAGE
TIFFANY PRODUCTIONS INC.
The Better Entertainment
A PICTURE THE WORLD HAS BEEN WAITING FOR!
TIFFANY PRODUCTIONS, INC.
1540 BROADWAY
M.H. HOFFMAN, VICE PRES.
EXCHANGES EVERYWHERE
NEW YORK CITY

"EAST SIDE, WEST SIDE"

brings to your theatre a present-day romance of New York City that stands unequalled as a picture of the world's greatest metropolis. It brings to it and a splendid, balanced cast including the lovely young June Collyer. It capitalizes the great American interest in the life of New York. It dramatizes a popular best-seller. It gives 100% entertainment—never a dull moment. It appeals to the best class of patronage.

GEORGE O'BRIEN
VIRGINIA VALLI

From the Novel by Felix Riesenberg

ALLAN DWAN
PRODUCTION

(and many say it is his best)

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

The best critics in the best papers have praised it!

The best theatres in the largest cities have played it!

The best people — and the worst — have applauded it!

The best luck that can befall you is to get it —

So contract for it, if you can!

"7th HEAVEN"

with

JANET GAYNOR
AND
CHARLES FARRELL

FRANK BORZAGE production

From John Golden's play-hit by Austin Strong

The Best Picture of 1927

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

Joseph P. Kennedy and flaring

FBO beats all rivals to the screen with the first great dramatization of Coney Island! A flaming love drama against the myriad lights of the world's greatest pleasure resort!

A RALPH INCE PRODUCTION starring

LOIS WILSON

From the story by Joseph Jefferson O'Neill

MASTER SHOWMEN OF THE WORLD
FBO PICTURES CORP.

KINOGR

In the Great

Arthur James in Motion Pictures Today presents each week a comparative appraisal of all the current news reels. After reviewing ten issues of all news reels Mr. James now gives, in Motion Pictures Today for November 5, the following résumé:

THE SCORE

"The formal appraisal from a newspaper point of view of the news reels, issue by issue, was begun in the October first number of Motion Pictures Today. The following table shows the ten releases beginning with

	ISSUE OF WED. SEPT. 28	ISSUE OF SAT. OCT. 1	ISSUE OF WED. OCT. 5	ISSUE OF SAT. OCT. 8	ISSUE OF WED. OCT. 12
1st PLACE	KINOGRAMS	Pathé	Pathé	Fox	KINOGRAMS
2nd PLACE	Pathé	0	KINOGRAMS	KINOGRAMS	Fox
3rd PLACE	Fox	0	0	Pathé	Pathé

In Motion Pictures Today for October 22 Mr. James says:

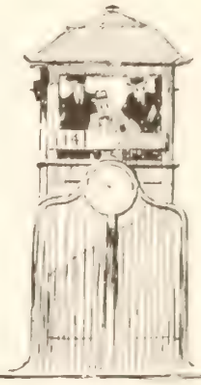
"Kinograms has it over the others like a tent for intelligence and enterprise."

Again in the issue of October 29 he says:

"Kinograms first for intelligence of handling the human interest material."

Educational Pictures

"THE SPICE OF THE PROGRAM"



EDUCATIONAL FILM EXCHANGES, INC.

Member, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc. Will H. Hays, President

AMS FIRST

News Reel Race

and including the issue of September 28th. First, second and third are given in the order of the appraisals week by week and whenever a cypher appears it is understood that the appraiser bunched the non winning reels as being on a par for either a second or third choice.

"This box score is provided to give exhibitors an idea of the standing over a period of weeks and may be of value because of the keen competition among the six news reels. Those appraised were: Kinograms, Pathé, Fox, M-G-M, International and Paramount."

ISSUE OF SAT. OCT. 15	ISSUE OF WED. OCT. 19	ISSUE OF SAT. OCT. 22	ISSUE OF WED. OCT. 26	ISSUE OF SAT. OCT. 29
Pathé	KINOGRAMS	KINOGRAMS Pathé	KINOGRAMS	KINOGRAMS
Paramount	Pathé	Paramount	Pathé	Pathé
International	0	Fox	Paramount	0

*From Motion Pictures Today, October 29: "With an edge to Kinograms on the intelligent handling of the titles and cutting."

If it's intelligence, enterprise and quality you're after

SHOW

KINOGRAMS

"This One is

Service Talks on Pictures

EXHIBITORS HERALD

RAH FOR KEATON

AND then there's that Buster Keaton fellow and the picture which he plainly and fittingly labels "College." I have watched Buster with best wishes and faint confidence these many years. Now I have seen him make the rest of the collegiate producers eat his dust and like it. If any of the college pictures have been good—and they have—this one is great.

This Keaton fellow, as you cannot help knowing if your memory goes back to his two-reel days, is physically and mentally agile as they come. His total abstinence from facial indication of mirth has been a featured asset, but in this case it is featured only a part of the way. In the finish of the picture (and what a finish) he lets go of the steel springs that ripple over and back across those hunched shoulders and the auditorium goes into panic. (Attaboy Buster.)

The recipe for this college picture is different. It starts out like the Lloyd classic, "The Freshman," it goes along in this pattern for a while, then darts into serious footage for a stretch preceding the finale. When it gets into this last, an excellent example for technicians, it speeds like the well known arrow to the equally well known apple and after that's all done away with (enough for any picture) there's another of those Keaton close-offs that simply blasts those present.

I am about to write of "College" the pretty strong assertion that it is the best college picture I have ever seen. "'College' is the best college picture I have ever seen." Now I am about to think that over. (Business of thinking.) Now I have thought it over and I let it stand. Sorry I haven't seen more than a couple dozen college pictures, or I could make the statement stronger. I'll add the suggestion that other producers quit trying these things for a year or two, until the public can forget how good a picture "College" is. says T O SERVICE

Great!" says T·O SERVICE

JOSEPH M. SCHENCK presents

BUSTER KEATON in College

"Sure-fire gloom chaser! Picture of continuous laughs . . . I've seldom seen anything funnier. Audience howled with glee Film one of the really amusing ones of the year. . . laughs and gags are closely packed."

Los Angeles Record.

"Folks who crave higher education in fun should go to see 'College'. You'll roar aplenty over the evolution of a Buster from a high school grind into a glorified Charlie Hoff. It's hard to stop laughing unless you quit looking at the screen. . .uproariously funny."

Los Angeles Evening Herald

Ripe to be razzed!

Yeah, he was a good mixer!

His athletic [illegible]

a wonderful comedy that roll-- icks home with the big money . . . . . another big selling . . . . . UNITED · ARTISTS · PICTURE

The happiest and speediest of all KEATONS...

Both the Motion Picture Palace And the Modest Suburban Theatre have constant hurry calls for equipment. Much valuable time has been wasted in the past wondering "Where can I get it?" Since the publication of Motion Picture News Theatre Building and Equipment Buyers Guide there is no such problem for it is a handy reference book which quickly furnishes information on equipment from the entrance to back stage.

In addition, it is chock full of ideas for the builder of new theatres and those interested in remodelling.

Profuse illustrations in full color. An article on theatre building-lots of new ideas—by an architect who is a Master of Theatre Craft.

MACK SENNETT
PRESENTS
the snappiest comedy in years
"THE GIRL from EVERY-WHERE"
with
DAPHNE POLLARD - CAROLLE LOMBARD
MACK SWAIN - DOT FARLEY - STERLING HALLOWAY
and a sensational array of the world famous Sennett Bathing Beauties
A BIG FEATURE COMEDY SPECIAL
(4 Reels)
Pathé

CAROLLE LOMBARD

Many sequences in technicolor

"the Girl from Everywhere"

MACK SENNETT

DAPHNE POLLARD

Something NEW and BIG in Comedies

Think of all the deluxe comedy productions you have ever cashed in on BIG—put them all together—and you can get some idea of this magnificent box-office attraction. Here is a gorgeous, brilliant four reel fun feature, lavishly produced with a sensational cast of Mack Sennett funmakers, enhanced by an incomparable galaxy of Mack Sennett's most beautiful girls.

A Big Feature Attraction

Pathé

AT LAST!

Here is the Play—in which famous RALPH SPENCE showed just HOW MANY Laughs and Thrills could possibly be packed into a single evening's entertainment . . .

Here is the Broadway Hit—that Film Audiences have been praying for ever since its sensational one-year run spread its fame throughout America!

Here is the Buy—that every company WANTED —and First National GOT!

Here is the Special—that hundreds of Showmen bought on its Name and Fame alone—the minute they read First National's first announcement!

Mulligan and Garrity on the job

"How did THAT get there?"

The Gorilla broadcasts his threat of doom

Monstrous shadows spreading Terror

The

Not just another Mystery-Comedy but—THE GREATEST OF THEM ALL!

The THRILLS alone would make it a Hit—

The COMEDY alone would make it a Natural—

But the COMBINATION of Thrills and Mystery makes it the SUREST BOX-OFFICE BET IN YEARS!

You've heard a lot about "100% AUDIENCE PICTURES"—but here is ONE that lives up to the Very Last Letter of that phrase!

Every Angle

A COMEDY BY CHARLES MURRAY

A First

GREAT TITLE!-
GREAT PAPER!-
GREAT TIE-UPS!-
(See the Press Sheet)

GORILLA

presented by ASHER, SMALL and ROGERS

with CHARLIE MURRAY and FRED KELSEY

... Alice Day, Tully Marshall, Claude Gillingwater .....

From the Play by RALPH SPENCE

An ALFRED SANTELL Production

Directed by ALFRED SANTELL

Production Managment of EDWARD SMALL

...led by the Best in the Business

Out of the Night comes the Killer

"This Gorilla talk is a lotta Bunk!"

At Last!....The Gorilla strikes!

"Mulligan, Mulligan! where the h—l is Mulligan?"

First National Pictures

National Special

THE GORILLA will make his MARK in Film History

NORMA
TALMADGE
in CAMILLE

COLLEEN
MOORE
in LILAC TIME

CONSTANCE
TALMADGE
in BREAKFAST AT SUNRISE

RICHARD
BARTHELMESS
in THE PATENT LEATHER KID
Directed by Alfred Santell
An Alfred Santell production

Rose of the GOLDEN WEST
A George Fitzmaurice production
with Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland

THE PRIVATE LIFE of HELEN OF TROY
with Maria Corda—Lewis Stone—Ricardo Cortez

THE SHEPHERD of the HILLS
by Harold Bell Wright

A TEXAS STEER
with WILL ROGERS

BILLIE DOVE
in LOUISIANA
(Tentative)
A George Fitzmaurice production

THE MIRACLE
Max Reinhardt's Epoch-Making Spectacle

THE BARKER
A George Fitzmaurice production
starring MILTON SILLS
Kenyon Nicholson's play produced on the stage by Charles Wagner

MILTON SILLS
(A Special Announcement to be made later)

First National Pictures

13 FIRST NATIONAL'S YEAR!

Member of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.—Will H. Hays, President

Motion Picture News

Volume XXXVI NEW YORK CITY, NOVEMBER 18, 1927 No. 20

Back to the Movies

Theatre Competition vs. Catering to the Public

By William A. Johnston

TIMES do change in the show business. A year ago if you wanted to be sure of a heated argument—in most any quarter of the allied interests of Times Square and Wall Street, all you had to do was to contend that the Roxy Theatre would succceed.

Bankers pulled at their collars as they exploded with the belief that it was suicidal to erect a theatre without a producer tie-in that would guarantee pictures from one of at least three sources.

Motion picture experts said that the theatre didn't have a Chinaman's chance.

And now what do we find?

* * *

It is barely over six months since the Roxy lights first gleamed on a corner of Seventh Avenue formerly occupied by the disreputable old car barns.

Barely six months and yet all the traditions, standards and beliefs of motion picture Broadway have been knocked into a cocked hat.

You hear little talk today of pictures; and as for picture tie-ins it seems to be completely forgotten that this consideration was, but a short while ago, viewed as the leading factor in the building and operation of a picture theatre.

The talk you do hear is about bands, stages, vaudeville head-liners, jazz and the like. It is hectic talk; revolutionary moves are made; competition is strenuous; and pictures are subordinated.

Times do change—and swiftly.

* * *

E. F. Albee sounds a warning in this issue of Motion Picture News.

He is a good man to listen to at this remarkable juncture in the affairs of the world's greatest amusement industry.

Out of his long experience in the show world he offers the sage advice that entertainment policies should be geared to the future and not recklessly twisted to meet a present situation. The present situation, he indicates, is not a sane and sound effort to cater to the public but rather to an extraordinary instance of theatre competition.

Next week George Kleine will have something to say out of his own rounded and successful experience.

It is time, it would seem, to stop and do some thoughtful meditation.

* * *

Only a few months ago the producers were in a panic over production costs. Some wild efforts were made to check the mounting budget at Hollywood. There were various opinons as to the wisdom of these efforts but there is one opinion only as to the budget itself—that it is dangerously high.

That is serious enough.

But it is decidedly more serious to make these high-cost pictures look like thirty cents when they reach the theatres and are compelled to depend upon the big box-offices to replenish the production budget.

Nor is it wise at this or any other juncture for a picture theatre to indicate so plainly to its public that it considers a picture to be a lesser attraction.

We are not going to argue for pictures if pictures can't argue their own way with the public.

But the new developments, we believe, that are destined to make pictures more attractive

(Continued on Page [illegible])

"A Texas Steer"

Reviewed by Edwin Schallert

Editor of The Los Angeles Times Review and Special Correspondent of Motion Picture News

LOS ANGELES, November 6.—Will Rogers comes to the screen at last in a motion picture that coincides in a variety of aspects with his popular reputation, and one that promises to be a whirlwind hit.

This is "A Texas Steer," produced by Sam Rork for First National—a striking example of good showmanship.

Rogers now enjoys a national and international fame as a humorist and a figure in public life, and it is unquestionably a great coup to present him in a film feature, closely associated with his activities as a commenter on events political and social. This, as it happens, is just what "A Texas Steer" in its modernized adaptation from the old Hoyt stage farce, aims to be. It is what may be termed a "natural."

Rogers starts as a cattleman on the Texas plain. He has been elected to office without any personal solicitation on his part. His cowboys have managed to steer him away from the seat of the election during the campaigning, which is engineered by his friends, and by his wife, who has high social ambitions for her daughter. Rogers, after debate, accepts his election, but advises his constituents not to tell anybody where he has gone during his impending absence, the inference being that he is afraid it might hurt his repute as a cowboy.

The picture kids politics. Upon Rogers' arrival at Washington, it speaks of the national capital as famous for its "domes, marble, teapot and ivory." A newsboy, remarking Rogers' extraordinary appearance in an old frock coat and ten-gallon hat, asks him, "Where's the circus?" "Right over there," replies Rogers, pointing to the Capitol, "the biggest circus in the world, and I've just joined it." Another line refers to the hotel where Rogers stops as the one where "honest citizens like to be mistaken for statesmen, and where statesmen like to be mistaken for honest citizens." Texas is called the place where the land is good, but the plumbing is bad. And so forth.

The picture is continually punctuated with laughs of the type for which Rogers' name is synonymous, and there is besides some great fun-making by Louise Fazenda as his wife, Mrs. Brander. In fact, some of the funniest scenes in the picture are hers, for she is a true Mrs. Malaprop who knows not how to wear clothes, ride horseback, or properly entertain guests, or anything else popularly supposed to be required of a lady of her station. There is some great comedy also by Mack Swain, Lucien Littlefield and William Orlamond, as a trio of Texas rangers, while Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Ann Rork, Lilyan Tashman and Arthur Hoyt play other roles of importance.

The finish is capital. Here is where Rogers gets in his roping with a vengeance. The ultimate scenes in the picture show Rogers on the floor of Congress making a speech in behalf of the building of a dam, clad only in underclothes and overcoat. This is after he has made his escape from the villains who have kidnapped him.

The picture was directed by Richard Wallace, from the screen version by Bernard McConville.

Many New M. P. Firms Granted N. Y. Charters

Motion pictures companies incorporating at Albany, New York, during the past week included the following: P. G. G. Theatre Corporation, Port Richmond, $5,000, Joseph A. Palma, West New Brighton; Robert L. Godby, Tompkinsville; Gustave Greenwaldt, Great Kills. Walter Producing Co., Inc., $50,000, George MarFarlane, Jefferson De Angelis, New York City; George J. Palmer, Staten Island. New Classique, Inc., $10,000, Isaac Grossman, Max Turshen, Morris Cohen, New York City. Red Dust, Incorporated, capitalization not stated, Elsie Cohen, Irving S. Strouse, Joseph F. Driscoll, New York City. The Personality Players, Inc., capitalization not stated, Card Reed, Raymond Crossett, Livingston Platt, New York City.

Imperial Distributing Corporation, capitalization not stated, William M. and Eleanor Pizer, New York City; Jay D. Troy, Brooklyn. Schoonmaker Equipment Company, Incorporated, $75,000, Edwin V. Hellawell, Fletcher Martin, Edna Diskin, New York City. Felix Productions, Inc., $40,000, Alexander Pearlman, Rose Valenstein, Henry J. Greenstein, New York City. H. P. Productions, Inc., $375, Herman E. Shumlin, Paul Streger, Charles Haskill, New York City.

Max Alexander Made Assistant to Julius Stern

Max Alexander, who came from Germany in 1923 to work as a property boy in the Stern Bros. Hollywood Studio, has been appointed assistant to Julius Stern, president of the Stern Film Corporation, makers of comedies for release through Universal. The young executive will also be the company's Eastern representative and will make his headquarters at the Universal home office.

Mr. Alexander supervised the two pictures made by the Matador Film organization, Universal's German company, "Feme" and "Was Kinder Ihrer Eltern Verschweigen," which are now being released in Europe.

Warners Acquire St. Louis Grand Central

The Grand Central Theatre, Grand Boulevard and Lucan Avenue in St. Louis, will be taken over by Warner Bros. at an early date. Vitaphone equipment will be installed in the house, which will be Warners' first run house in St. Louis. The admission will call for a 50 cents top compared with 65 cents charged by the Ambassador, Missouri and Loew's State, other first runs in the city. The opening picture will be "The Jazz Singer," to be accompanied by a Vitaphone musical score and five acts of Vitaphone vaudeville.

Levenson Vice-President Stanley-Mark Strand Corp.

At a meeting held recently in Philadelphia, Joseph M. Levenson, for several years associated with Moe Mark in the Mark Strand Theatre enterprises, was elected a vice-president of the Stanley-Mark Strand Theatre Corporation.

Inside Slants on the Industry

PICTURES AND PEOPLE

The Mirrors of Filmdom

A GOOD many people, here and there, in small towns and big ones, have seen Eliza cross the ice, to be thrilled or amused, according to the individual viewpoint and age, and watched little Eva's spirit ascend to the flys of the theatre with wet or dry eyes, likewise with various opinions.

But Eliza's flight in Universal's film version of Uncle Tom, opening on Broadway last Friday night, has all the other escapades rolled into one, backed off the map. Even the most hard-boiled will get a kick out of it and Eva never went to Heaven as she does in this "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

When a first night audience, much of it of the kind that laughs much and cries little, uses its handkerchiefs freely without attempt at curbing the sniffles, you may be sure that the scene is there. That's what happened at the premier of the Universal picture and that is what has happened at all the private pre-views of the production.

But these two immortal parts of any and all Uncle Tom performances are not all there is to this particular Tom show. Both could be left out and still the picture, up North, would register as real drama worthy of a place among the great productions of all time.

IT out-Griffith's Griffith, in the-crossing-the-ice scene, grabs a slice of the dramatic values of the parting scene in "The Big Parade" with another parting (Eliza and her son), and bids for fame on pure production values and color alone.

Uncle Tom as a character gets a minor role in the picture version, and very properly so if we are to develop a picture story that will stand on its own feet. The authors of the screen version have taken some liberties with the original Harriet Beecher Stowe narrative. They introduce a negro (white-almost) love story making the parting and final re-union the principal theme and Sherman marches through Georgia to aid the rescue of Eliza from the clutches of Simon Legree. This is good drama above the Mason and Dixon line but in all probabilities poor box-office below.

However, every effort has been made to keep the story from offending the South and maybe it will be viewed as just a picture and not to be taken too seriously.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" cost a lot of money (it seemed destined to run into hard luck), perhaps more than is shown on the screen, but at that it is unquestionally road show calibre and thus a few hundred thousand one way or the other, won't mean as much as in a picture less extensive in box office value and actual production worth.

The whipping scene, Simon Legree flogging Uncle Tom to death, has been trimmed considerably since the early showings and this seems to be good judgment. The picture is over 12 reels in length and anything that shortens it will be of value anyway, to say nothing of the fact that the whipping was undoubtedly overdone.

The picture theatres may not get "Uncle Tom" for a long time, after the road show season, but when it does come, they will have something that seems sure fire. Lets hope so any way for the sake of Universal as well as the theatres themselves.

THE economy program at the First National Burbank studios is working out very well, according to Watterson R. Rothacker, who recently went back to the Coast after a brief stay in New York.

This important job is well under way; the studio personnel is cooperating in fine fashion, and, within three months, the plans as originally laid out will reach full fruition.

Mr. Rothacker told us, in some detail, of four big pictures which, he believes, shape up as sure of being "in," from the production and box-office viewpoints: "The Gorilla," "Helen of Troy," "A Texas Steer," and "Louisiana."

OUR interview with E. F. Albee, published elsewhere in this issue, is likely to arouse interest in many quarters. Mr. Albee is, of course, a great showman, and has been for many years. Recently, through the affiliation of his interests with those of Pathe-DeMille, he joined the industry, and what he has to say is, therefore, of prime importance to the picture world.

Toward the fitting together of vaudeville and pictures, Mr. Albee takes a seasoned, constructive attitude. A reading of the interview will show that he does not believe in conducting a theatre by fits and starts, but he does believe in maintaining a definite standard of entertainment for which the theatre comes to stand in the public mind.

His remarks about the present "name" craze on Broadway and other streets are much to the point.

WE have a very interesting letter from J. H. Jenkins, an exhibitor in a small town, on the subject of block booking. He goes into detail as to his situation—Lee's Summit, Missouri—and itemizes the pictures as the public rated them. But we let Mr. Jenkins tell his own story:

"I AM forwarding you our October calendar of pictures. As our patrons retired from the theatre the question was asked: 'How did you like the picture?' We have checked them off.

"According to the reports, you will see here the result of block-booking. You will notice that there is too large a percentage of poor pictures. Now, for November I have done differently. In order to save my business from ruin, I have paid for three pictures but only dated one. I find it would be better to do this.

"Now, I don't know if this will interest you or not. This is only a small town theatre but you can see if I continue to show so many poor pictures where my business would be.

"We cater to mostly the same people all the time. People don't go to a picture show just to pass away time. They go to be entertained. So if we can't get away from block-booking we will have to pay for them and use only the best."

FOLLOWING is the October calendar of pictures, sent by Mr. Jenkins, with the ratings as obtained from his patrons:

"Mr. Wu"—fair; "Frisco Sally Levy"—fair; "Poker Faces"—very poor; "It"—good; "Tom and His Pals"—poor; "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl"—very poor; "Silken Shackles"—poor; "The Runaway Express"—good; "Ten Modern Commandments"—good; "Knockout Reilly"—good; "Arizona Bound"—good; "The Perfect Sap"—poor; "Her Father Said No"—poor; "Upstream"—very poor; "Resurrection"—divided opinion (not a small town

Here's our idea of poetry in motion caught by the camera. Barbara Worth, pretty Universal star, easily rides her horse and swings her polo mallet accurately and well.

Hal Roach's bunch of little rascals are putting something over on Henry. It must have taken the M-G-M photographer a long time to get the gang to pose so peacefully while having their picture 'took.'

Louis Wolheim, United Artists player, recently underwent a nasal operation which will enable him to breathe more easily. The less beautiful of the "Two Arabian Knights" wears an expression of sadness or regret.

During these wintry days it is nice to gaze at pictures suggestive of tropical climes. While working on "The Haunted Ship" for Tiffany Ray Hallor and Dorothy Sebastian posed for this picture with Roy Fitz Roy at the wheel.

A moment that arises at least once in every motion picture is the scene where the hero and heroine look earnestly and tenderly into each other's eyes. Jack Holt and Dorothy Revier, the principals in Columbia's "The Tigress," are doing it here.

Just so high is Betty Bronson and no more. But she can rise to great heights when given the chance as all who saw "Ben Hur" will agree. She is Monte Blue's leading in "Brass Knuckles," a Warner Bros. picture.

Pictures and People–Continued

picture); "Wild Horse Stampede"—poor; "Lovers"—poor; "All Aboard"—poor; "Colleen"—poor; "Twelve Miles Out"—good; "The Riding Rascal"—poor.

* * *

JOHN EBERSON, who has gained world-wide fame as the architect-creator of the atmospheric theatre, is sailing for Europe on November 16 to consult with French and English capitalists on a proposition to build atmospheric theatres in London and Paris.

* * *

ACCORDING to a report from our Berlin correspondent, an international conference has been started in Geneva which might exercise a decisive influence on quota developments in Europe.

The object of the meeting is to eliminate import restrictions as much as possible. The following nations are represented: United States, Germany, Great Britain, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Canada, Colombia, Cuba, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, France, Greece, Hungary, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Latvia, Luxembourg, Holland, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, Siam, Switzerland, and Czechoslovakia. Besides, the International Chamber of Commerce has a representative on the spot.

Right at the start of the meeting the British representative, Sir Sidney Chapman, took a strong stand against overgeneralizing the free trade principle. This was probably due, among other things, to the fact that he had the coming British quota in mind.

On the other hand, the German representative seems to be following the opposite line, advocating radical free trade, which, needless to say, evoked an outburst of indignation from the German trade press. The latter considers the quota an indispensable safeguard for the home market.

* * *

WITH the opening on November 4th of the Arcadia theatre in Dallas, the Dent Theatres, Inc., forged link number 21 in a chain of rapidly expanding theatre interests. Since its initial single venture, the Palace theatre in El Paso, in 1922, this progressive organization has gone on to greater influence and prosperity in accordance with sound ideas of showmanship and service to the amusement-going public.

The company now operates 20 houses in Texas and one in New Mexico. Its affairs are directed by a group of thoroughly experienced and forward-looking executives, including Louis L. Dent, president; E. V. Richards, Jr., vice president; L. M. Ash, treasurer, and W. E. Paschall, secretary and general manager.

The new Arcadia is the Dent company's first contact with the people of Dallas. The theatre, in its construction and equipment, has been executed in accordance with the best standards of the modern picture playhouse, and adds to the constantly growing list of palatial neighborhood houses in American cities.

NATIONAL THEATRE SUPPLY CO. has sent us the first anniversary issue of their house organ "The Pink Sheet" in which they tell the world in no uncertain terms of their pride in building up a great organization in such a brief space of time.

Their principal cause of jubilation seems to be the working out of their one contract plan which covers the complete equipment of a theatre in one operation and obviates "shopping around" for single pieces of equipment.

Perhaps, as they suggest, the personnel of the organization has much to do with its success.

H. A. R. Dutton, president, is the organizer of the present company and brings to it a wealth of experience in the equipment field where he had already organized a powerful supply company and had become one of the best known men in the business.

W. E. Green, vice president, had his schooling with the old Precision Machine Company and upon its absorption by the International Projector Company went to them in a confidential capacity.

George E. DeKruif, vice president and sales manager, and G. A. Lincoln, vice president and purchasing agent, got their schooling with the Exhibitors Supply Company in Chicago.

The other officials of the company have had a long experience in this field and a glance at the following list is like looking over a directory of the accessory business of a year ago: B. A. Squire, H. Stanley McLeod, J. Hornstein and Oscar Oldknow.

* * *

AUGUST THYSSEN, German financier, director of the German Steel Trust, is in America, conferring with powerful banking interests.

He is interested in UFA, whose troubles, he says, are due to Germany's return to the gold standard, which has naturally imposed severe burdens upon business.

Herr Thyssen is reported to have conferred with Paramount and M-G-M officials as well as prominent bankers.

* * *

Back to the Movies

An Editorial

By William A. Johnston

(Continued from page 1553)

in the public eye, will come from the picture itself; and they will be logical developments.

Note the dispatch from Los Angeles in this week's issue about the highly sensational success with sound movies in a theatre just opened there.

Read it—and ponder!

November 18, 1927 Motion Picture News Vol. XXXVI, No. 20

Published weekly by Motion Picture News, Inc. Founded in September, 1913. Publication Office, 729 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y.; Editorial and General Offices, 729 Seventh Ave., New York City; Branch Offices 845 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Room 616 Security Bldg., Hollywood, California. William A. Johnston, president; E. Kendall Gillett, vice-president; William A. Johnston, editor; J. S. Dickerson, associate editor; Oscar Cooper, managing editor; Fred J. Beecroft, advertising manager; L. H. Mason, Chicago representative; William McCormack, Los Angeles representative. Subscription price $3.00 per year, postpaid in United States, Mexico, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands and some other countries. Canada, $3.00; Foreign, $6.00. Copyright, 1927, by Motion Picture News, Inc., in United States and Great Britain. Title registered in the United States Patent Office and foreign countries. Western Union cable address is "Picknews," New York. Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office, New York, N. Y., April 22, 1926, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Coast Movietone Opening in Los Angeles Theatre Creates Sensation

By Edwin Schallert

Editor of The Los Angeles Times Preview and Special Correspondent of Motion Picture News

LOS ANGELES, November 10.—Nothing short of a sensation is the initial success of Movietone in this city. H. L. Gumbiner, owner of the Tower Theatre on South Broadway has installed the Fox sound producing device and it has proved an astounding attraction.

There have been long lines waiting each day and at all hours of the day for admittance since the premiere six days ago. Attendance is reputed to have increased suddenly 50 to 75 per cent because of the innovation, and extra shows have been run.

The Tower Theatre is one of the newest in the city. It opened about six weeks ago and has virtually reinstated in this city the film house of small capacity and intimacy. Mr. Gumbiner has relied on his musical program, supplemented by Vitaphone as an added feature. Vitaphone has been a draw and Movietone is now demonstrating itself an additional puller.

The picture is "What Price Glory" (second run) with Movietone accompaniment, in addition to a news reel with sound effects. This reel centers around the convention of the American Legion in Paris, and comprises views of Marshal Foch and General Pershing, as well as a speech by the Legion Commander. The football game between Notre Dame and the Navy is part of the program, and there is one view of youngsters diving into a swimming hole that wins applause when the splash of the water is heard, as well as the cries of the jubilant kiddies.

Mr. Gumbiner will combine Vitaphone and Movietone in his program. Conservatively, the gross for the first week of Movietone will exceed $15,000, it is said. The house was kept open one morning until 2 o'clock to take care of the extra crowds, and increased admission price has been charged for evening performances. The scale varies from 25 cents in the morning to 50 cents evening. The first show starts at 9 o'clock in the morning.

I listened to the preview program and the results obtained with Movietone were exceptionally clear, and blended remarkably with screen action. The news reel seemed a notable innovation.

Another theatre is said to be contemplating early installation of Movietone or Vitaphone. This house is of larger capacity than the Tower.

Greece Enforces New Laws for Operation of Theatres

By a recent Decree the following regulations were enforced regarding the operation of motion picture theatres in Greece, according to information received at the Department of Commerce in Washington, D. C.

The operation of motion picture theatres and similar establishments shall be allowed only upon special permission from the Police Authorities. In the case of indoor exhibitions such permission must be approved by a newly created Council Before a film may be exhibited an application for license must be fied with the Chief of the Athens Police, outlining the subject thereof. In case the exhibition of a film is prohibited or stopped by the Police Authorities, the interested party may appeal for revision before a committee consisting the the Chief of the Athens Police, the Athens District Attorney, the President of the Authors' Union and a representative of the Panhellenic Cinematographic Union.

Motion picture theatre owners shall be required to exhibit daily along with their regular program a weekly short film featuring events of historical or contemporary national interest. No admittance shall be allowed into public motion picture theatres to children aged below ten years inclusive; older children may only be admitted if accompanied by parents or guardians.

Dominion Government Expropriates Russell Theatre

The Russell Theatre, Ottawa, one of the oldest and largest houses in the Canadian Capital, has been expropriated by the Dominion Government, with other down-town property, for $1,000,000 for park purposes.

The theatre will continue for a few months, it is intimated, after which it will be torn down. Notice of expropriation was served on the owners, the Russell Company, on October 27. For a number of years the Russell had been operated by Famous Players Canadian Corp., Toronto.

No annuoncement has been made regarding a new theatre to replace the Russell, but Famous Players Corp. owns a valuable site in down-town Ottawa on which a large new house may be erected.

Increase in Films Imported Into Ireland

There were imported into the Irish Free States during the first six months of 1927, 3,131,256 feet of motion picture film, valued at £19,715 as compared with 2,878,956 feet, valued at £17,912, for the corresponding period of 1926, or an increase of 252,300 feet and £1,803, according to information received by the motion picture department of the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

T. O. C. C. of N. Y. Ball at Plaza Hotel, Dec. 16

The New York Theatre Owners Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual Supper and Ball at the Plaza Hotel on the evening of Friday, December 16th. Tickets, $10,00 per person, may be obtained at the T.O.C.C. offices in the Times Building.

The committee in charge will consist of J. Louis Geller, chairman, Max Felder, Lee A. Ochs, Marty Schwartz, Sam Sonin and Henry Suchman.

G. A. Carlin in Charge First Division Publicity

George A. Carlin, formerly with Metro-Goldwyn and Warner Bros., has been appointed director of advertising and publicity of First Division Distributors, Inc., by Jesse J. Goldburg, the company's head. Mr. Carlin is a former correspondent for The Edward Marshall Syndicate and reporter on the old New York Herald and The Sun.

Sec. Wisconsin M. P. T. O. Announces Candidacy

Henry A. Staab, secretary of M. P. T. O. of Wisconsin, issued a formal announcement of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress next fall in the fifth district. Mr. Staab served two terms as assemblyman from the twelfth.

"Name" Rivalry Between Picture, Not Vaudeville House--Albee

Costly Presentations Bring Self Competition; Sees No "Menace" to Vaudeville and Points to K-A Circuit's Records

By Thomas C. Kennedy

COMPETITION between themselves rather than public demand or the rivalry of vaudeville and combination theatres is forcing picture theatre men to introduce elaborate presentation bills featuring "names" in conjunction with their screen features.

That is the sum of the answers to several questions concerning this phase of modern showmanship addressed by the writer to E. F. Albee, head of the Keith-Albee vaudeville circuit, in an interview this week at Mr. Albee's office in the Palace Theatre Building.

"Is it popular demand that has induced picture theatres to feature elaborate stage with 'name' attractions?" we asked. He answered in the negative.

"The proof that the picture is the draw at these theatres," he added, "has been demonstrated time and time again. Only recently one of the Broadway picture theatres dropped all the added features because there was a strong picture attraction, and the returns for the week surpassed the normal mark being registered by the usual bills combining pictures and elaborate presentations.

"The competition is between the picture houses themselves, with the bulk of the business flowing back and forth according as one outstrips the other with attractions from week to week.

"There will always be an audience for vaudeville, just as there always will be for musical comedy, the drama, the opera and pictures. But there is a difference between the people who patronize vaudeville and the patrons of picture shows. I see the difference when I go into the theatres, and it should be apparent to even the casual observer that vaudeville and picture audiences in the mass differ greatly one from the other."

According to the figures the vaudeville houses in the K-A circuit are doing a bigger business now than ever they did. During recent weeks the circuit has shown a net profit of over a hundred thousand—many weeks considerably over the hundred thousand was recorded as a matter of fact.

Ordinarily such facts as these would have no part in a chronicle such as is being here submitted. But the widespread discussion of "presentation," what it means to the picture theatre and its prospects of reaching out to capture a new audience—recruited from the vaudeville patrons—has consistently turned to the subject of vaudeville's passing in the face of the new competition.

The facts above, therefore, are illuminating and serve as a step toward a clearer consideration of "presentation" of the "name" type. In view of the experimentation, the ambitious efforts and uncertain outcome of some of the bigger enterprises of the picture theatres these days, the subject is perhaps the outstanding topic of the industry at present.

If the veritable torrent of conjectures and notions prevalent in picture circles these days has carried you to a belief that the vigorous "name" policies of the big cinema houses are spelling the doom of vaudeville, both for reasons of the drain on the available talent and the box offices of the variety houses, you will begin to doubt such convictions almost instantly you are ushered into Mr. Albee's spacious and luxuriously fitted new offices up over the Palace Theatre, the "mother house" of vaudeville in this country. For here there is no atmosphere of anxiety, and certainly Mr. Albee, who you might say carries vaudeville on his shoulders, betrays no sign of worry or dejection, such as might well line the face and droop the shoulders of a man who is forced to look on as the business he has built up to the greatest of its kind is on its way to oblivion.

In no less certain fashion are dispelled the doubts as to the immediate prosperity of straight vaudeville theatres because of "name" competition at nearby picture theatres. The claims, rumored plentifully of late, that the Palace was now "in the red," are most convincingly refuted when you see—as this interviewer did—the weekly statements covering the entire intake, operating expenses, taxes, etc., and net profits of all the theatres in the K-A circuit, and the Palace is shown to have cleared around six thousand per week for a period covering the past several weeks. And this during a time when the recent furore about "name" presentations was at its height on Broadway, and the Palace was going along with its standard bills and without the stimulus of "special features" or celebrations.

Where the Competition is Felt

If the competition of the picture theatres now expending large sums for "names" is not cutting into vaudeville—and if it were to a great extent, the fact would naturally be reflected in the box office records of such vaudeville houses as the Palace—then there is only the logical conclusion that the picture men are competing among themselves, and as instruments of their enterprise they are paying handsome profits to performers who are not and never have been associated with motion pictures. Just what will be the outcome of the present highly competitive tactics among the big picture theatres, Mr. Albee could not be induced to make a prediction. But while he made no direct statements, it was evident that this veteran showman, to whom goes the large share of the credit for making vaudeville over from a nondescript "variety," once regarded as a somewhat untrained and untamed little sister of the drama, into one of the cleanest and most popular forms of theatrical entertainment, regards some of the present methods as doomed to ultimate failure for some of the more daring of their exponents.

The overhead for special vaudeville talent for one of the big theatres recently converted to a "name" policy, went as high as $10,000 for one week's attractions. That sum was in addition to the regular orchestra, needed to accompany the picture presentations, the ballet corps and singing ensemble, all of which could not be dispensed with despite the added attractions from vaudeville and the night clubs.

The plunge, in many cases, has been made without any apparent provision for an organization to gather, train and develop talent, and despite the fact that "names" of the type introduced from the stages of the picture palaces in their bigger and better presentation programs are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

E. F. Albee

Albee Discusses Entertainment Policies

Regarding the scarcity of talent, now that picture theatres are bidding and paying high prices for "names," there is no new problem for vaudeville in that, Mr. Albee will remind you. For years, he says, vaudeville has been developing talent for the opera, musical comedy, the legitimate stage, and the revues. The record bears him out in this, for among the stars who started their careers in vaudeville and later rose to heights in other fields of the theatre we find such names as Rosa Ponselle, George M. Cohan, Fred Stone, David Warfield, Al Jolson, Eddie Cantor, Fannie Brice, Louise Dresser, and a host of others.

"This organization has built up a talent-gathering system under which the world is scoured for stage material. We train the promising material ourselves and where necessary we take established features from other sources and fit them into the scheme of vaudeville, by applying experience and specialists in devising acts that will appeal to the vaudeville public."

The dean of American showmen will tell you that the public knows more about vaudeville than he does, that the theatre-goers are the ones to be pleased and whose tastes in entertainment must be catered to if a show is to succeed. "They know more about it because they are paying their way into the theatre and are looking at it," he says.

The ideal upon which his organization has been built up, he indicates, is above all a staple business. What can be realized in profits from the normal best, rather than from the occasional extraordinary attraction, is the test which he appears to apply as the real yardstick of any enterprise, be it show business or any other line of commercial endeavor.

"We have got to find the way to make a profit from the usual best that we can do. The exceptional attraction—it may be a star, or a specialty of extraordinary popularity—comes along once in a while, but you can't build up a staple business on these fortunate accidents. How many really outstanding stars, capable of drawing capacity crowds on their names alone, are there in the world today? The list is small, altogether too small to keep a string of theatres running for fifty-two weeks in the year. In order to show a consistent profit, a theatre must offer a program of a certain standard, maintained consistently throughout the year."

There are several picture theatres in which Mr. Albee is interested. One in particular, in which he holds a 25 per cent interest, is in a city where the K-A circuit operates vaudeville houses. The picture house, of large capacity and in which it is necessary to put on elaborate bills to attract crowds, has a total weekly overhead of about $32,000. The returns at this house are normally in the neighborhood of $35,000. So the profit is usually around three thousand per week. Now, one of the vaudeville houses located in the same town runs along on an overhead of about $14,000. It has experienced no difficulty in drawing in a gross of $20,000 on the normal weeks, and thus is showing double the net profit of the other theatre.

The combination policy, now installed in many of the K-A theatres, he says is proving highly successful. This development, as many another in the modern scheme, had its parallel in the past of a career in show business which nears the half-century mark. In the final analysis the combination bill is simply the return to the continuous performance policy with which Keith and Albee started their theatres back in 1885, and which they brought from their "store show" adjoining the old Adams House in Boston to New York in 1893, when the old Union Square theatre was opened.

This policy was originally tried out in Dayton, after Albee had built a large and beautiful vaudeville theatre there. It was successful from the start, and has since been introduced into several other theatres, where, because of their size and a limited population to draw upon, it is necessary to fill them and keep them filled in order to meet the overhead. The combination policy has been put into the Albee theatre in Brooklyn, the Palace in Cleveland, several of the New York houses, including the Hippodrome, and with a motion picture substituted for the dramatic acts and the more expensive headliners, a reduced admission price gives them a wider public to draw upon.

Origin of Continuous Policy

The original continuous policy was dropped when many of the vaudeville stars had played over the circuit and were leaving to enter musical comedy and in an era when the two-a-day was a natural development. For several years vaudeville flourished under this policy, and, as Mr. Albee views it, now there is a demand again for the continuous programs.

The K-A circuit is planning twenty-four new theatres. All these will be of the modern de luxe type. Such magnificent examples of architecture, furnishing and equipment as the Albee theatre in Brooklyn, the Palace in Cleveland, the Keith Memorial theatre in Boston.

Since 1893 when he built the B. F. Keith theatre in Boston, Albee has been a firm believer in the de luxe type of house. He pioneered in this field and he is still vastly interested in giving the public commodious, beautiful and finely equipped theatres in which to view vaudeville and picture entertainment.

He took charge of the building of the Keith house in Boston under instructions to spend about $125,000 in the operation. After Keith and Albee had successfully launched the Union Square theatre in New York, B. F. Keith told his partner that he had raised $125,000 to build a house up in Boston and instructed him to go there and supervise the job.

Those were the days when carpenters worked for $2.50 a day and other mechanics were paid at about the same rate, so a great deal could be done with $125,000. The amount, however, was not sufficient to do all that Mr. Albee had planned, and on his own responsibility he elaborated on the original plans. He engaged a noted mural artist to decorate the auditorium and he purchased furnishings of a kind never before used in equipping a theatre. Albee made up his mind that he would get into that theatre people who never before had regarded "variety" as worthy their presence or interest. When he got through the job had cost $600,000 and the Keith theatre became the talk of the country. Art critics wrote articles about the decorations on walls and ceilings, decorators commented upon the magnificence of the decorative scheme, and variety was revolutionized and started on its way toward a steady improvement and refinement.

The next house was built in Philadelphia and the work was done on the same scale of magnificence and with in view the same end of attracting the class of patronage previously opposed to the variety shows.

He has had years of experience in building elaborate theatres. He still is having it. And he still finds the same general conditions prevail. The magnificent house opens to a most enthusiastic and curious public. Big grosses are marked up for months—the attractions of the house itself are still drawing people past its box office. But when all the sights have been seen, matters theatrical in the town settle back to normal, and the theatre finds itself in the competition with other theatres. The show then becomes the factor. Of course, the show has an advantage if it is presented in the beautiful theatre, but while a fine theatre will aid a show it cannot carry the entire burden of attracting the amusement seeking public.

After fifty years devoted to it—a span during which he continually and tirelessly worked to construct and build up vaudeville—Mr. Albee is still intensely interested and highly enthusiastic about show business.

It is impossible to disassociate the name "Albee" from the history and development of vaudeville. He made cleanliness the accepted rule of the shows. Years before the picture producers proposed a list of "don'ts" to guide their authors and directors toward ideals which would make pictures suitable for presentation in all theatres, the K-A organization had in effect—and it has been rigidly enforced—a list of "don'ts" which many a performer has been heard to complain is "as long as your arm."

Stresses Clean Entertainment

It is interesting to reflect that vaudeville has come through all the censorship agitations which have beset the theatre, particularly in recent seasons, with a clean bill of health. In an address by Mayor Dever of Chicago when participating in the dedication of the Orpheum Palace theatre in that city, the speaker declared that "public officials pledged to safeguard public morals in places of entertainment are less worried over vaudeville than any other form of theatrical amusement."

That and the continual striving for the "stabilized business" constitute perhaps the keystone in the vaudeville arch as built by K-A.

It was made a self-sufficient business. An organization for scouting and acquiring talent was built up, until vaudeville today

(Continued on page 1561)

Big Duping Plot Charged; Two Arrests Made in Boston

BOSTON, November 9.—It has just been made public that Maurice M. Green and Donnato DeMatteo, connected with the Paramount Manufacturing Company, whose office is at 68 Fayette Street in the motion picture zone, have been arrested on secret Federal indictments charging them with infringement of copyright in the copying and sale of certain motion pictures. They pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Brewster in the Federal Court.

The defendants are among those against whom the Christie Film Company recently obtained an injunction, through its attorney, Arthur Butler Graham, assisted by H. Walter Reynolds, against the sale or duping of the photoplay "Tillie's Punctured Romance," a new version of which is now being made by the Christie Brothers for release and distribution through Paramount-Famous Lasky Corporation.

The defendants are alleged to have dealt in copyrighted productions of Paramount-Famous Lasky Corporation, First National Pictures, Inc., Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation, Fox Film Corporation and Pathe Exchange, Inc.

Short strips of film from Harold Lloyd, Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Rudolph Valentino, Jackie Coogan, Tom Mix, Jack Holt, Betty Bronson and Lon Chaney features are alleged to have been identified with the defendants.

According to investigators, DeMatteo operated a laboratory at 4 Chelsea Street, East Boston, where he is alleged to have copied popular motion pictures smuggled out of local theatres at night after they had closed for the day. Members of the motion picture industry say that portions of well-known films were being sold through the mails or through mail order houses to persons who exhibited them in their homes, and that in some cases full length prints, as in the case of "Tillie's Punctured Romance," were on the market for sale. Investigators were sent into this territory where the films seemed to have originated. They soon got in touch with Green and DeMatteo and say that they purchased parts of such films as "The Four Horsemen," "The Trouble Shooter," "The Timber Wolf," "The Unguarded Hour," "Little Annie Rooney" and "The Enchanted Hill."

A purchase of "Tillie's Punctured Romance" in its entirety was effected, they said. The probers reported to the Government that after carrying on negotiations with Green and DeMatteo they were admitted to the laboratory in East Boston and were shown samples of duped film. Most of the film bought were copies in part of full length pictures, the investigators said. They said Green and DeMatteo offered to produce any film that was wanted and that they had connections with local dealers by which they were able to obtain possession of film long enough to make copies. Discovery of the copies in circulation was said to have caused a sensation in the ranks of film producers, who feared a large loss and an undermining of the film industry if the infringement were not stopped.

Assistant United States District Attorney John V. Spaulding, who prosecuted the Federal investigation of the case, said: "We believe this thing has been nipped in the bud. The motion picture producers believe that the idea behind it had great and dangerous potentialities in that anyone who could successfully copy film and had perfected arrangement for the marketing of the dupes could flood the market and deprive the producers of their revenues."

An early trial is expected.

Albee Discusses Policies of Show Business

(Continued from page 1560)

is an international enterprise, recruiting its performers from the out of the way corners of the earth as well as the training places large cities provide with their small cabarets, clubs and restaurants. Its growth included the establishment of a benefit organization to care for the needy and unfortunate of its ranks, and the N. V. A. today functions efficiently in the performance of acts of help and mercy for the down and out actor.

To this organization Mr. Albee has given his best efforts and the full genius of his ability as an organizer and administrator. There was but one interruption during the course of this interview, and that was when Mr. Albee prepared a tribute to be read at the funeral services for Marceline, the once famous clown who died a pauper and a suicide. The N. V. A. took charge of the funeral.

Immaculate, tailored as fastidiously as the most modish actor who ever trod his or any other stage, alert in his movements and quick in his decisions, Mr. Albee sits behind his desk in a handsomely furnished office at the Palace building and continues to direct the destinies of vaudeville. He consults an experience which has covered a long and interesting period in the development of show business in this country. And he appears doubtful if anything particularly new or startling is taking place in show business. Within the past few years he has seen others vacilitate in their policies, and the outcome of it all was that the "stabilized business" policy still produces results, when it is adapted to the gradual changes in conditions affecting show business.

The growth of vaudeville has continued amazingly since its real beginning back in 1827, when the old Lafayette theatre in New York, the first real variety house, had 800 seats and played to an average of 280 persons. In 1927, basing figures on the first half of the year, vaudeville with an aggregate of some 1,010,000 seats will play to an average attendance of 1,600,000—more than the seating capacity, which, of course, is explained by the number of shows daily.

With regard to talent, the figures show that from an even dozen vaudeville artists a century ago, there are today 12,000 performers listed as vaudeville artists.

Those are figures to consider when there is before the house a discussion to the general effect that the picture theatres by introducing name acts are on the road to attracting not only picture patrons, but as well will eliminate vaudeville as a popular attraction.

He denied that there was any specific plan to route picture stars under contract to the Pathe-DeMille organization over vaudeville between pictures. "We have engaged picture stars for vaudeville off and on for years, and as opportunities present, we will continue to do so. But the stars will be booked for their value as vaudeville attractions and will be drafted from the ranks of all companies that make them available for such engagements."

The report that K-A, Stanley and the Orpheum circuit are getting together is accurate, he says, and it will be an arrangement under which all interests will be mutually benefitted. "It is for the good of all, the organizations and the public they serve, when business men get together and have a business understanding that eliminates waste, corrects conditions which interfere with their efficiency and enables them to increase their usefulness," he added.

Warner Studios to Close

Plant Will Be Shut Down for Eight Weeks from December to February

WARNER BROS. have decided to close down their Coast studio for an eight weeks' period from the middle of December until early in February. During the eight weeks' vacation period there will be a general preparation for the 1928-29 program, which will exceed in number of productions every schedule of the company heretofore. The reason given for the shutdown is that the current schedule is now thirty days from completion.

While the studios are idle the writers will be preparing their scripts for the following year. Options on the contracts of the following writers have already been renewed, though they are not up until December: Anthony Coldeway, Charles R. Condon, Harvey Gates and E. T. Lowe, Jr.

The studio shutdown will not effect the production of Vitaphone features and prologues. These will continue fifty-two weeks of the year. Production on the first five of the Warner 1928-29 pictures will be started simultaneously early in February.

Five Warner stars are at present busy with production of their newest stories. They are Monte Blue, May McAvoy, Dolores Costello, Rin-Tin-Tin and Irene Rich. Howard Brotherton is directing Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic," an airplane picture. Edna Murphy, Burr McIntosh and Robert Ober are in the cast.

May McAvoy's next is "The Little Snob," directed by John Adolfi. She is supported by Alec Francis, Virginia Lee Corbin, Frances Lee and John Miljan. Alan Crosland is directing Dolores Costello in "Glorious Betsy," described as her most pretentious production.

The Rin-Tin-Tin company is on location at Riverside, where the exteriors for "A Race for Life" are being made under the direction of Ross Lederman.

British Exhibitors War on Big Circuits

Special Cable to Motion Picture News from Kinematograph Weekly

LONDON, November 8.—British exhibitors are formulating a booking scheme directed against the big circuits. If it is adopted, William Evans, head of Provincial Cinematograph Theatres, Ltd., largest circuit in Great Britain, threatens to sell his interest to Americans.

It is reported that a deal is under way by which First National would get preferential treatment in booking with P. C. T. According to reports, a contract has been drawn up, negotiated by E. Bruce Johnson, First National foreign manager, and will reach New York shortly for signing. The agreement also provides for production of a certain number of pictures by First National in England.

The P. C. T. is strongly entrenched in first runs in Britain. It controls about 100 houses. The production angle would take care of First National under the proposed quota bill.

U. S. Dominates Theatres

Statistics Show $2,715,000,000 Invested in Picture Houses Throughout World

Regions	Population	Number of— Theatres	Seats	Average Seats Per 1,000 People	Capital Invested
America	207,000,000	25,000	11,000,000	53	$1,700,000,000
Europe	451,000,000	22,000	9,000,000	20	1,000,000,000
Australia	8,000,000	1,200	350,000	44	10,000,000
Africa	132,000,000	800	200,000	1.5	2,000,000
Asia	995,000,000	3,000	600,000	.6	3,000,000
	1,793,000,000	52,000	21,150,000	10.5	$2,715,000,000

NOTE: The above chart shows how theatres are distributed in proportion to population in different parts of the world.

GEORGE R. CANTY, representative of the motion picture section of the Department of Commerce in Paris, has compiled figures showing the motion picture theatre investment throughout the world to be approximately $2,715,000,000. Pan-America completely dominates the field with investments of $1,700,000,000, with Europe in second place with $1,000,000,000. Then come Australia with $10,000,000, Asia with $3,000,000, and Africa with $2,000,000.

The America's population is given as 207,000,000, with theatres numbering 25,000 and seats to the number of 11,000,000, or 53 seats to each 1,000 people. The world's population is given as 1,793,000,000 and the number of theatres as 52,000. The total seating capacity is given as 21,150, so that America controls practically half the theatres and half the seats of the world.

Europe's population is recorded as 451,000,000, or over twice that of the Americas, while the European theatres number 22,000, as against 25,000 for America. Asia's population is given as 995,000,000, with but 3,000 theatres.

The statistics given by Canty do not include admission receipts, which he declares amount to about $1,000,000,000 a year, according to reports.

Asks Commission to Act in Paramount Case

IN a letter to the Federal Trade Commission, Sydney S. Cohen this week asked that a transcript of records in the recent Paramount case be filed in the Circuit Court of Appeals and an application be made for the enforcement of the cease and desist order of the Commission against Paramount unless assurances are received that the order will be complied with.

De Mille to Start New Film Middle of November

Cecil B. DeMille will begin photography on his new personally directed picture about the middle of November. No title has been selected for the production, the theme of which is of boy and girl life in the schools and reform schools of America. Practically all of the characters are juveniles. Investigators spent months in research work before Jeanie Macpherson started writing the story.

Mr. DeMille states that the production will not be, in any sense, a religious or a preachment picture.

Van Dyke to Assist Flaherty in South Sea Film

While Robert Flaherty will direct all the atmospheric shots for "White Shadows of the South Seas," and manage the expedition which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is fitting out for the journey into the Southern Pacific, the dramatic sequences of the production will be handled by W. S. VanDyke, lately directing Westerns for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Only two or three members of the cast for the picture have been selected to date. The other players will be natives recruited from among the islanders. Special laboratory equipment has been designed and camera equipment is now being assembled at the Culver City studio. The expedition will leave the studio the latter part of this month.

H. Goetz to Co-ordinate Finances of Paramount

Harry Goetz, Paramount assistant treasurer, arrived in Los Angeles this week with B. P. Schulberg and Walter Wanger of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation. He has been temporarily assigned to the studio to co-ordinate the finances of the production department with other departments of the organization.

Nena Quartaro, New Find to Star in "Red Mark"

Nena Quartaro, a 17-year old brunette who has never before appeared on the screen, has been chosen by Director James Cruze to play the stella role in "The Red Mark," the next picture which the director will bring to the screen. Miss Quartaro is the daughter of a Spanish father and an Italian mother. The story of "The Red Mark" was written by John Russell.

Famous Asks Commission to O.K. "6 Points," Is Report

Decision From Government on Trade Parley Findings Due Next Week—Department of Justice Engaged in Probe of Industry

WASHINGTON, November 9. Officials of the Federal Trade Commission today refused to comment on the report filed by Paramount under the order of July 9, understood to propose that the Government consider adoption of the Six Point Block Booking Compromise by last month's Trade Practice Conference as sufficiently complying with the Commission's requirements that block booking be abandoned.

What action the Commission will take with respect to this proposal will depend on its decision with regard to the Conference findings, now in course of preparation. The report on the Conference is expected to issue next week—about November 15—and will probably be accompanied or closely followed by an announcement regarding Paramount's proposal.

Commissioner Nugent's separation from the commission, as a result of the Comptroller General's ruling that his term expired September 26, will in no way affect the situation, it was explained. The commissioner has not voted in any close case since the question was raised as to his status, and it is not necessary that his position be filled in order to transact business.

If the commission's decision on the suggestions understood to have been made by Paramount is adverse, it is very likely that the courts will be called upon to enforce the provision of the July order.

Reports from New York that agents of the Department of Justice recently paid that city a mysterious visit, during the course of which they asked many questions of film officials, have resulted in the disclosure that the Department of Justice may in the near future embark upon a "trust busting" campaign.

It has been known that for the past few months numerous complaints of certain film companies, organizations and officials have been made to Washington, and it is understood that it is the continued impact of these allegations that spurred the department to make a study of the situation. No one complaint is being acted upon, it is understood, but the study is one initiated by the department with a view to learning just what the situation is.

It is also understood that a number of department investigators have been prosecuting an inquiry in the Los Angeles territory for some time, and that field men have been dispatched to other strategic points throughout the country to learn what they can regarding the manner in which the motion picture industry is being conducted.

Department officials are loath to comment upon the investigation, which is characterized as merely another of the routine studies undertaken from time to time, but while it is stated that the inquiry has not gone far enough for the department to determine whether any violations of the anti-trust law have occurred, it is indicated that information has been uncovered which makes it advisable to prosecute and probe.

Theatres Lose Millions in Flood

Practically All Houses in Devastated New England Suffer Heavy Damage; Will Be Months Rebuilding

FLOODS which devastated a large part of Northen New England last week will result in millions of dollars of property damage to motion picture houses throughout the flooded area, and additional millions will be lost to the industry because of the complete tieup of the motion picture business in Vermont, the greater part of New Hampshire and all of Western Massachusetts.

Conditions have not yet reached the state of normalcy where an accurate checkup can be made, but it seems certain that scores of theatres in the three states have either been swept away or so badly damaged that major repairs will be required that will require months of time to complete.

Exchanges and film transportation men worked frantically to keep some of the theatres going, but finally were obliged to give it up until more normal conditions obtained. While New England's largest river, the Connecticut, did the greatest amount of damage, every river, brook and stream in Northern New England did its share of havoc to life and property. Few picture houses escaped completely.

Some of the Boston exchanges, in frantic efforts to learn the fate of salesmen, broadcast pleas for information, but there was no way of replying from the flood districts, as power plants were either completely destroyed or put out of commission.

Estimates of the damage to theatres in the areas affected run into billions. In some communities the theatres were entirely wiped out, while in nearly all cases they are reported badly damaged. Operation of theatres cannot be re-established until power plants are rebuilt and until transportation, either by truck or rail again becomes possible. With great stretches of railroad washed away and long stretches of even the most solidly built roads gone, it will be months before many of the theatres can be reopened.

For a time there was danger of the flood sweeping away property in Hartford, New Haven, Providence and other Southern New England localities. Through the Blackstone Valley, which extends from Providence to Worcester, heavy property damage was done. Effects of the flood were felt as far West as the Hudson River Valley.

It is estimated that in Western Massachusetts and through the Blackstone Valley, approximately forty theatres will need repairs. In New Hampshire heavy damage was done to those in the West and Northwest sections, affecting between sixty and seventy theatres. Houses in Central, Southern and Eastern New Hampshire practically escaped damage. Fully half the theatres in Vermont were badly damaged. Those not damaged by the floods were at once placed at the disposal of the thousands of homeless.

In Hoosick Falls, N. Y., the flood conditions put the electric light company out of business, forcing all schools and factories to close and more than fifty families were forced to flee from their homes. In North Adams, where the damage was estimated to have reached over $2,000,000, there was twenty feet of water in some sections of the village, forcing the theatres as well as practically all manufacturing concerns to close. In Bennington, Rutland, Pittsfield, Petersburg and many other places, theatres were not operated and, from reports by wire and otherwise, many of the houses were badly damaged.

The theatres in Troy and Albany did not suffer from the flood waters. The Troy theatre is located on the banks of the Hudson and, while there was some seepage of water into the basement, the theatre itself was not forced to close. The houses in Albany are located several blocks from the river bank and were not endangered in any way.

New German-Russian Film Alliance Reported from Berlin

By HEINRICH FRAENKEL

Berlin Correspondent, Motion Picture News

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—A very important concern, joining German and Russian forces, has just been founded. The official Soviet representative handling all foreign Russian film bussiness, has closed the deal with Phoenix Films, a company run by G. Sklarz, who is well known in international trade circles. Some years ago, he financed the huge Staken film studios which he now practically owns.

The new company is called "Derufa," which is the abbreviation of "Deutsch-Russische Film Alliance."

The distributing organization will be supervised by H. Saklikover, a well known German renter. Renting will be started the end of this year, and the program will contain Russian productions, as well as some German productions which are to be supervised by Rudolf Meinert, the well known German producer.

Altogether, during the first year of the company, 15 German productions are to be marketed.

Some joint productions featuring Russian artists and producers are also scheduled. The new organization has stirred quite a lot of favorable comment in German trade circles, and it is generally anticipated that next year Derufa will figure rather big on the German market.

De Mille Picture Cause of Controversy

Hays Denies Atheist Appeal to Eliminate Religion from Screen

CONSIDERABLE controversy seems to have arisen over the forthcoming picture of Cecil B. De Mille to be called "The Godless Girl." It has already resulted in an exchange of letters between Will H. Hays and Charles Smith, the latter president of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, Inc.

Smith contends that the picture should not include propaganda which tends to discredit Atheism, while Hays says he would rather see the motion picture utterly destroyed than by the elimination of God from it used to discourage the religion from which ideals of right living and right thinking spring.

De Mille meantime emphasizes that the story is not religious or biblical in its nature, but that it will expose and insidious propaganda that is secretly distributed among students in high schools and which tends to subvert American ideals.

The Hays letter, in part, to Smith, says:

"The motion picture, of course, never can be used for propaganda.

"Building upon their faith in a Creator, and in a God of justice and mercy, men have established certain codes of conduct, pursuance of which tends to develop the happiness, peace, and comfort of their fellow men. These codes, these thoughts, are inseparable from religion; and rather than see the motion picture, by the elimination of God from it (which would be utterly unnatural) used to discourage the religion from which these ideals of right living and of right thinking spring, I would prefer to see the motion picture utterly destroyed.

"To ask us to eliminate God from motion pictures is equivalent to asking that sunshine be barred from the playgrounds where emaciated, ill-kept children of the tenements find a moment's respite of happiness. It is equivalent to asking us to blot the stars from the heavens because men may look at them and dare to ask themselves, as Napoleon did of his fellow voyages into Egypt, "But who, gentlemen, made all those?"

In reply, Smith says, in part:

"Your comparison of the elimination of God from motion pictures to the barring of sunshine from the playgrounds for children and to blotting out the stars from heaven strikes us as more rhetorical than rational. Napoleon's question could easily be disposed of by a boy or girl in the Atheist Training school. If the planets necessitate a maker, then God himself must have a maker.

"We are not in favor of censorship, but we are opposed to a one-sided censorship. It would be better to permit the production and showing of both religious and anti-religious pictures. Let the people be their own concern.

"We now understand that Mr. De Mille's next picture will be entitled 'The Godless Girl,' instead of 'The Atheist,' as was first reported. We await with interest its appearance. Should it prove to be anti-Atheistic, we shall request a public hearing in order to protest against its showing."

No Clue to Bombers of State Theatre in Indiana

Chicago and Hammond police are still without a clue to the bombers who early last Tuesday wrecked the $1,500,000 State theatre in Hammond, Ind. The bomb, which was of terrific power, practically wrecked the interior of the auditorium and tore great holes in the walls and building. Experts estimate the damage all the way from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

The theatre was erected two years ago by the Hammond Merchants Improvement Association and the lessee and operator of the theatre is the Northern Theatrical Association headed by William A. Kleighe. Both Mr. Kleighe and officers of the Hammond Merchants Improvements Association state that they fear the entire structure must be rebuilt as even walls which withstood the terrific pressure of the blast were cracked in places and girders were sprung, the roof caving in in parts. Only one man was in the theatre when the explosion came, Jesse Tally, the colored caretaker, and he was knocked unconscious, recovering later. It is reported that there were no labor troubles and that the staff of the theatre was entirely unionized.

Film Exports Reached High Level During August

August motion picture exports reached a total not touched since April, 1926, it is shown by figures just made public by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Washington, D. C., total shipments during the month aggregating 30,309,622 feet valued at $936,705, as compared with 27,903,405 feet valued at $741,831 in July.

The exports of the month by classes were: Raw stock, 7,951,505 feet valued at $233,-715; negatives, 923,921 feet valued at $123,-267; positives, 20,091,944 feet valued at $552,433, and positives to non-contiguous territories, 1,342,252 feet valued at $27,290. The records of the bureau show that Australia, Germany, Spain, United Kingdom, Mexico, Argentine and Brazil each took over 1,000,000 feet of positive film during the month.

2 Years Sentence For Laurier Proprietor

HAVING been found guilty of manslaughter in the jury trial because of the fire and panic at the Laurier Palace, Montreal, last January, when 78 children were killed, Ameen Lawand, proprietor of the theatre, has been sentenced for two years in the penitentiary by Mr. Justice Wilson in Court of King's Bench, Montreal. Also found guilty of the same charge, Camil Bazzy and Michel Arie, employees of the theatre, were each sentenced to one year in jail. All three men are at liberty on $5,000 bail, pending the hearing of their appeal from the conviction.

Mr. Justice Wilson pointed out in passing sentence that Lawand had violated various laws in the matter of the width of stairways in the theatre; overcrowding of the theatre; permitting standees in the aisles and lobby, and the admission of juveniles unaccompanied by parents or proper guardians. He declared that the sentences were intended as a warning to others.

O'Toole Urges Removal of Admission Taxes

THE removal of all admission taxes and other war levies on theatres was urged by M. J. O'Toole, general secretary of the M. P. T. O. A., at the meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of Congress, Thursday, November 10. The interests of vaudeville and the legitimate theatre are involved in the move more so than those of the strictly motion picture theatre, as the prevailing admission prices in the latter house do not reach the taxable limit.

Though the administration proposal does not definitely include the removal of admission taxes, many prominent figures in national politics are said to favor it. Chairman Green, of the Ways and Means Committee, Chairman Smoot, of the Senate Finance Committee, Senator Simmons, Democratic Senate leader, and Congressman Garner, Democratic leader in the House, all favor the proposal. The chances for the repeal of these taxes seem very bright, it is thought.

Bert New, who represented the Hays organization in Washington, co-operated in every way to advance the tax removal program to a successful conclusion. A. Julian Brylawski, of Washington, chairman of the National Legislative Committee of M. P. T .O. A., had charge of the exhibitors' participation in the moves to repeal the taxes.

Would Ban Chicago Goods Because of History Fiasco

H. E. Wilton, who is proprietor of the Strand Theatre, Hamilton, Ontario, and is also an alderman of the Hamilton City Council, has entered the lists in connection with the Chicago situation in which Mayor Thompson of the Windy City has been threatening to destroy so-called pro British books.

Alderman Wilton presented a resolution before the Hamilton Council calling on the people of the city to boycott all merchandise manufactured in Chicago. The resolution was not passed but Mayor Treleaven declared that it was a matter that should be considered by all Canadian cities.

Ancient Law Dug Up in Montreal to Ban Movies

In an attempt to put a damper on Sunday film shows in Montreal, Quebec, several aldermen dug up a blue law which had been passed locally back in 1872, which banned Sunday performances. This law is still on the books but has not been enforced for several generations.

The old law was brought up at a meeting of City Council on November 4 but no action was taken.

C. Sax Assumes Duties as Gotham Production Head

Carroll Sax, a brother of Sam Sax, president of Gotham Productions, has assumed the post of production manager for the Gotham West Coast production units, since the recent resignation of Sam Bischoff. Mr. Sax is taking care of all of Gotham's legal matters, contracts, construction of sets and transportation. He is directly under the supervision of Sam Sax.

Woodhull Praises Trade Practice Conference

National Exhibitor President Tells State Conferences of Good Work

R. F. WOODHULL, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, who started from New York two weeks ago on a tour that would take him to eight state conventions, is expressing the widest enthusiasm over the recent Trade Practice Conference held in New York.

President Woodhull attended the Arkansas sessions November 3 and 4, the Oklahoma convention at Oklahoma City November 7 and 8 and the Texas convention at Dallas November 9 and 10. At all of these gatherings he told the delegates that the New York conference was one of the most pronounced forward moves yet made within the industry. He said it would bring all divisions of the business into closer relationship and eliminate many of the unnecessary and unwarranted trade abuses which prevail.

In the course of his speech before the different state bodies, President Woodhull said:

"Very substantial progress was made at the Trade Practice conference, and the contract to be agreed upon through the fairest kind of procedures, in which all divisions of the industry will be fully represented, I feel sure will solve many of our major problems.

"Definite moves have been made to have another conference next October, so that any matter not cared for in the meantime can be ironed out. I have every confidence in the good intentions of all concerned and feel sure we will be able to bring about much better and more satisfactory trade conditions. This will prove of much advantage to the independent theatre owners, will make his holdings more secure and tend to safeguard his investment and business generally.

"Of course, the independent theatre owner must not cease his activities. Eternal vigilance is the price of his business security. Organization and united effort alone will give him the security he seeks. The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America will guide his activities and help him protect his interests."

At Little Rock, the first convention point visited by President Woodhull, the convention was much stimulated by his presence and a large attendance was present. M. A. Lightman, of El Dorado, was elected president.

He succeeded Cecil Cupp of Arkadelphia. John Collins of Paragould, was elected vice-president, succeeding E. C. Robertson of Fayetteville.

J. F. Norman of England, Ark., was elected secretary and treasurer to succeed H. D. Wharton of Warren, Ark. New members of the board of directors are: Sidney Nutt of Hot Springs, Mr. Wharton, Walter Raney of McCory, Mrs. Lola Bell of Lonoke, Charles Marshall of Rogers, E. H. Buter of Russellville, W. E. Blume of Searcy, and W. L. Landers of Batesville.

The Oklahoma convention was also an enthusiastic one. It endorsed the national organization and the work done at the Federal Trade conference in New York. The following officers were elected:

President, W. Z. Spearman; vice-president, Fred B. Pickerell; treasurer, R. D. Hutchinson; secretary, John Brown; board of directors, Eph Johnson, Edward Kadene, John McGuiley, A. R. Bender and M. E. Woodridge.

Ohio Exhibitors Complete Arrangements for Columbus Convention

THE Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Ohio are making elaborate preparations for their annual convention to be held at Columbus, Ohio, November 16th and 17th. The program and social events will keep the delegates busy every moment of the two days and nights.

Among the announcements from the Ohio headquarters is one of the first showing at the convention of a new news reel of original and unique nature. It is sponsored by President William M. James and Business Manager P. J. Wood, who are putting it on the market. It will cover Ohio events in a way, they promise, they have never been covered before.

The convention will open November 16th at 1 P. M. The opening remarks will be made by President James. Mayor James Thomas of Columbus will deliver the address of welcome. Other speakers will be J. J. Harwood, R. F. Woodhull, Governor Donahey of Ohio, Congressman Begg of Sandusky, Edward C. Turner, attorney general of Ohio, John L. Clifton, Ohio director of education and censorship; C. C. Pettijohn of the Hays organization and Cyrus Locher, Ohio director of commerce. There will be a report by Henry H. Lustig of Cleveland on the results of the recent Federal Trade hearing in New York City.

Ban Percentage Pictures

Maryland Exhibitors Other Than First Runs, Consider Practice Unfair

MARYLAND exhibitors other than first runs have placed the ban on the playing of pictures on a percentage basis and have issued a protest against producers selling their wares on that basis to other than the first run houses. The protest is in the form of a letter forwarded to George P. Aarons, secretary of the Eastern Pennsylvania Southern New Jersey and Delaware unit. The Maryland association urges Aarons to submit the question to his board and asks that strong representations be made to the producer to abolish the practice.

The letter, in part, says:

"It is grossly unfair for a producer to request an exhibitor to give him a percentage split on a specially good picture when we consider that he never contractly offers to refund on a picture that proves a flop, even when same has been sold as a special at a high price.

"The producer always insists upon a guarantee that in every instance is greater than the highest price paid for other specials. Consequently he is at once guaranteed and assured of a very high price.

"The reason for inducing other than first run houses to run percentage pictures can only be ascribed to an unfair attempt on the part of the producer to get acquainted with the box office receipts in order to see if in his opinion the exhibitor is making more profit than he thinks he is entitled to.

"In every instance the knowledge so gained is used against the exhibitor when he buys the next group of pictures. The film salesman holds up to him the fact that he took so and so much in on such and such a percentage picture, and argues that as some of the new pictures are bigger and better than the one just played they must have the same or even more money for these new pictures. In this way the exhibitor that plays percentage pictures lays himself open to an unscrupulous raising of prices that bars him from making due return on his investment.

"When a percentage picture is contracted for the producer generally insists upon extra advertising being done by the exhibitor, which is an extra expense, and it naturally results in an extra large attendance during the two or three days' run of the picture, but as most exhibitors have a certain patronage, there is almost always a falling off in attendance during the balance of the week, and the exhibitor in many instances makes a smaller net profit during that week than if he had run common-sense priced pictures."

U. A. Sales Change Likely

Plan Contemplates Separation of Office and Sales Personnels

WHETHER or not the United Artists are in the midst of a plan to reorganize their sales forces and a revision in their method of selling pictures nationally, is a question that has the industry guessing. There has been no announcement regarding the matter from the home office of United Artists and they will neither affirm or deny the story.

The concensus of opinion seems to be that there will be a radical change in the selling organization. This was emphasized last week with the appointment of C. C. Wallace, manager of the Chicago office, as manager of sales for Chicago, Minneapolis and Omaha. James Abrose, formerly in charge of the Omaha branch, is to be his assistant.

According to the story which is being circulated, and which appears to be borne out by these appointments, the sales and office personnels are to be entirely separate organizations. The sales are to be handled entirely under the group plan, with one manager in charge of several offices. The change also is said to contemplate the elimination of all branch managers as such. In their place there will be an office manager, whose duties will be entirely divorced from selling activities.

As one of the first steps in the change, along with that of Wallace and Abrose, Herb Hayman, who has been assistant to Wallace in the Chicago office, has been transferred to Minneapolis and made office manager there. He will be succeeded in Chicago by Frank R. Martin, who was formerly located in Chicago, but more recently has been in Indianapolis.

Merger of Keith-Albee and Stanley Theatre Circuit Reported Closed

MOTION PICTURE NEWS learns on excellent authority that the long anticipated merger of the Keith-Albee and Stanley theatres has been consummated. It is understood that the merger went into effect this week.

It is also understood that the former Poli houses in New England will be swung into the deal. It will be recalled that there has been considerable speculation as to whether or not one of the big circuits was in the background when the sale of the Poli circuit was made to Max Schoolman and associates.

Another significant development may be seen in the fact that Keith-Albee has bought the Garden theatre in Baltimore from the Whitehurst interests, according to information received by Motion Picture News this week.

Titles of Forthcoming Fox Productions Announced

Immediately following the completion of "Silk Legs," Madge Bellamy's new starring vehicle for Fox Films, the star will commence work on "Soft Living," an original screen story by Frances Agnew in which John Bowers will be leading man. James Tinling will direct.

A new story by Wallace A. Manheimer, Edward Barton and Harry Wagstaff entitled "Mr. Romeo," has been purchased by Fox Films, and will probably be produced for release next season. "Mother Knows Best," Edna Ferber's story, is another production planned by Fox. It will go into work early under Frank Borzage's direction. A new screen "discovery" will be featured in this production, it is announced.

Fox has also purchased the motion picture rights to "Speakeasy" the play by Edward Knoblock and George M. Rosener.

Paramount Will Release New UFA Production

"The Peaks of Destiny," an UFA production distributed in this country by Paramount, has been booked into the Cameo Theatre, New York City, for an indefinite run starting either the last week in November or the first in December.

The action of the story is enacted against the mountain scenery of the Swiss Alps. Dr. Arnold Fanck wrote the script and directed the production. Leni Riefenstahl, Louis Trenker and Ernst Peterson are the leads. The production will be offered for general release about the first of the year.

Burr Buys "Chinatown Charlie" for Hines

C. C. Burr, producer of the Johnny Hines comedies for First National, has purchased the Al Woods stage production, "Chinatown Charlie," by Owen Davis, as a starring vehicle for Hines.

In order to secure authentic shots of Chinatown, the comedian and his producer will remain in New York. As soon as their work is completed, Hines and Burr will leave for Hollywood where they will continue with production. Charles Hines will preside over the megaphone.

N. Y. Promoters Plan New Theatre in Ottawa

New York promoters on the ground in Ottawa, Ontario, are arranging for the erection of a large new theatre in the Canadian Capital to be known as the Laurentian Theatre, which is to be erected along with a handsome hotel. A Montreal man is the architect, it is stated.

Michalove Resigns As "U" Chain Chief

DAN MICHALOVE, managing director of Universal Chain Theatres, has resigned and a rearrangement of the Units of the chain is now being effected. Until the rearrangement has progressed further, no announcement will be made by Universal as to Michalove's successor.

According to the established rule of Carl Laemmle, President of Universal, the successor to Michalove will probably be named from within the ranks of the Universal organization, it is understood.

It is said that Michalove's contract has considerable time to run, but that it was broken by mutual consent. He is to sever all relations with the Universal company.

Five Films to Come from First National in January

The month of January, which, according to First National's custom, has been designated First National Month, will see the release of two specials, a stella vehicle and two productions with a featured cast.

Among them will be "The Noose," starring Richard Barthelmess with Lena Basquette; "The Shepherd of the Hills," featuring Alec B. Francis, Molly O'Day and John Boles; "Louisiana," with Billie Dove, Gilbert Roland and Noah Beery; "French Dressing," offering Lois Wilson, H. B. Warner, Clive Brook and Lilyan Tashman, and "Sailors' Wives," featuring Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes.

U. A.'s "The Dove" Come to New York in January

"The Dove," Norma Talmadge's first United Artists Picture, based on Willard Mack's stage play, will come to Broadway in January.

Miss Talmadge's second United Artists Picture will be "A Woman Disputed," based on Dennison Clift's play of that name. M. C. Levee and Agnes Christine Johnston adapted the play to films.

Fred Niblo will direct Miss Talmadge in "A Woman Disputed." Production will be started uring Christmas week.

John W. Weber Resigns From Tiffany Productions

John N. Weber, for many years handling foreign business for Tiffany Productions, Inc., has resigned his position.

New Board is Organized

Independents Announce Trade and Commerce Body to Function Nationally

THE Board of Trade and Commerce of the Motion Picture Industry of the United States of America is the latest organization in the picture industry. An announcement to that effect is forthcoming to that effect from their headquarters at 28 West 44th Street in New York City. Sydney S. Cohen is president of the organization.

The organizers, according to the announcement, are a number of prominent independent theatre owners from different parts of the United States, and some representative producers.

The purpose of the new body is announced as follows:

"This Board of Trade and Commerce was formed solely for the purpose of advancing the best interests of the entire motion picture industry. It is not engaged in any way in making, buying, selling or exhibition of motion pictures, and is dedicated to the proposition that a free and unrestricted competition in making, selling, distributing and exhibiting motion pictures is fundamentally esesntial to the successful future existence and development of the great industry.

"The founders of this association believe that independent producers, distributors and exhibitors must be guaranteed freedom of action in their respective undertakings and must be protected against unlawful aggressions by potential monopolists so that they may work out their own destinies—all to the end that the public may by their continued enjoyment of superior motion pictures, the product of an active competition, be encouraged to continue to support the industry as it has so loyally done in the past. This Board of Trade and Commerce is further convinced that without a free and unrestricted screen the industry is in danger.

"Membership in the Board of Trade and Commerce of the Motion Picture Industry of the United States of America is open to every interested person, save only those producers, distributors, theatre owners or officials affiliated with those forces who seek to monopolize the motion picture industry; and who, in seeking to monopolize, destroy all independence and all initiative."

125 Enroll as Members

Charter Memberships of Motion Picture Club of N. Y. Increase Rapidly

WITH 125 applications for charter memberships received and favorably acted upon by the membership committee, success is assured for the new Motion Picture Club of New York. The membership is limited to 200 with the initiation fee fixed at $100, so there are but 75 still elegible as charter members.

While many of the leaders in the industry have already enrolled in the club, the sponsors are anxious to hear from others of the high executives who are evidently holding off until they are assured that the club is really serious in its intentions. There can now no longer be doubt of that.

Bruce Gallup is secretary of the organization and is more than pleased with the progress already made. He anticipated little difficulty in signing up the other 75 charter members. The machinery only recently started to function and already the membership list includes the names of many real leaders in all branches of the industry. The conviction is spreading that the club solves the problem of furnishing a social center where representatives of all branches in motion pictures can meet on a common ground and bring a closer contact.

The list of charter members to date follows:

Will H. Hays, R. A. Rowland, Clifford Hawley, Nathan Burkan, Elmer Pearson, Walter Camp, Jr., S. L. Rothafel, Hugo Riesenfeld, Dr. A. H. Giannini, George Eastman, H. D. Buckley, E. A. Eschmann, Moxley Hill, William Massee, H. M. Goetz, Al Lichtman, William Brandt, Harry Brandt, Lee Ochs, Victor M. Shapiro, Ned Depinet, Sam Spring, Carl Laemmle.

F. L. Herron, Carl Milliken, Colvin Brown, Martin J. Quigley, Lou Anger, F. C. Walker, Arthur W. Kelly, M. H. Hoffman, H. S. Tierney, M. E. Comerford, L. H. Blumenthal, J. V. Ritchey, David Chatkin, Arthur Stebbins, Arthur Loew, George Blair, Richard Brady, W. A. Orr, William A. Johnston, George C. Williams, E. W. Hammons, W. H. Cadoret, Leopold Friedman, E. A. Schiller, J. S. Spargo, Jerome Beatty.

Howard Dietz, E. M. Fay, H. F. Krecke, Jack Alicoate, M. J. Mintz, C. E. Smith, C. Zenker, Lou Metzger, Leo Brecher, A. A. Lownes, Emil Jensen, W. M. Seligsberg, A. E. Rousseau, James B. Clarke, D. A. Dobie, Jr., J. D. Tippett, G. K. Shuler, Arnold Kornicker, J. Simonds, Joe Hornstein, Julius Lewis, E. W. Mattson, A. J. Moeller.

Harry Reichenbach, Thomas Conners, Moe Streimer, H. E. Ebenstein, Leo Klebanow, W. B. Kelly, Jacob Glucksman, Paul Burger, A. P. Blumenthal, Paul Lazarus, Paul Gulick, J. C. Barnstyn, Frank Hughes, J. P. Muller, Thomas Wiley, William F. Libman, Sime Silverman, Lou Rydell, Harry Engel, J. Pollak, Herbert Cruikshank, J. H. Cooper, J. Louis Geller.

John Manheim, Samuel Stern, Edward Halperin, Henry King, J. E. Storey, H. Collins, S. H. Fabian, Jacob Loeb, Chester Sawyer, Thomas O'Brien, John and Jules Levy.

T. O. Represented at Congress Flood Hear'g

REPRESENTING the theatre owners of the country, Chairman A. Julian Brylawski of the board of directors of the M. P. T. O. A., and National Directors Arch Hurley, of New Mexico, and Louis M. Rome, of Maryland, attended the hearings before the Flood Control Committee of Congress in Washington this week. Congressman Frank R. Reid, of Illinois, also counsel for the Chicago M. P. T. O., is chairman of the committee.

Chairman Reid had several conferences with Business Manager M. J. O'Toole and Mr. Brylawski on behalf of the national theatre owners' organization, and arrangements were made to present facts of the floods on the screens of the country.

"Underworld" Leading in Paramount Contest

JOSEF VON STERNBERG'S "Underworld" which ran at the Paramount Theatre in New York City, holds the first standing in the race for the Paramount Gold Medal Award and cash prizes for the best picture to be shown at the large New York Publix house. The race will last ten more weeks before the final returns are in and the $10,000 prize and the gold medal are awarded.

"Hotel Imperial," directed by Mauritz Stiller, is in second place and "It," in which Clara Bow was directed by Clarence Badger, ranks third. Another Clara Bow vehicle, "Hula," directed by Victor Fleming, almost succeeded in entering the list of winners, falling short by just a trifle.

Ten Shorts From Pathe During Nov. 29th Week

Pathe's program of short subjects for the week of November 29th is headed by "Have a Drink," latest issue of the Rare-Bit novelty series; "Do Detectives Think?" and "Keeping Fit," a Grantland Rice Sportlight. Seven other subjects on the list are: "Winging Around Europe With Will Rogers;" Topics of the Day, No. 47; "The Fox Hunt," an Aesop film fable; Pathe Review, No 47; "The Enemy Strikes," chapter three of the Pathe serial, "The Masked Menace," and Pathe News issues Nos. 96 and 97.

"Do Detectives Think?" is an Hal Roach all star comedy with Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Jimmy Finlayson, Viola Richard and Noah Young; it was directed by Fred Guiol and costumed by Lambert. In the Pathe Review issue are: "The Quack Army," "Little Mothers of Old Nippon" and "Life Secrets of the Flowers."

Six New Films Started at First National Studio

The First National studio at Burbank started camera work this week on six new productions. Filming is also in active progress on five pictures and seven are now in the cutting rooms.

One of the new pictures is "Lilac Time," a new Colleen Moore special which John McCormack will produce. The players are now being cast. Shooting has already been started on "Once There Was a Princess," Billie Dove's new vehicle which Alexander Korda is directing. "Where Love Is" is the tentative title of a new picture which Joseph C. Boyle is directing with Estelle Taylor, Antonio Moreno and Lowell Sherman in the leads. A new co-starring vehicle for Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes, "Do It Again," will also be in work before the week has passed.

"Burning Daylight," in which Milton Sills will have the stella role, will be soon ready for the cameras to start. The sixth picture, temporarily titled "Royal American," will star Ken Maynard; Albert Rogell will again direct.

Premier of "Sorrell and Son" at Rivoli, Nov. 11

"SORRELL AND SON," Herbert Brenon's production for United Artists release, will have its world premiere at the Rivoli Theatre in New York the evening of Armistice Day, Friday, November 11.

The evening"s receipts will be donated by Publix and U. A. to the New York American Christmas Fund. Because of production activities in Hollywood upon a new production, the director will not attend the premiere. However, he will be represented by his mother, wife and son, it is thought.

The cast in this story of the love between a father and a son includes H. B. Warner, Nils Asther, Mickey McBan and Anna Q. Nilsson.

Roach Signs Chase for Five More Years

Charley Chase, who started his screen career as a Sennett Keystone Kop, has been signed by Hal Roach to continue his starring appearances in Hal Roach's comedies for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for the next five years.

Chase obtained experience as a vaudeville performer, stock and musical comedy player. He directed comedies for two years and was then signed up by Hal Roach to star in a series of one-reel comedies. After a year of these one-reelers, Chase was signed by Roach to play the leading role in a two-reel comedy series.

Cleveland Branch Leads McGuirk Month Drive

First National's Cleveland branch office, managed by G. L. Sears, is the winner of the McGuirk Month Sales Drive, which closed last week. In second place was the Montreal exchange, headed by A. Gorman. In third place was the New Jersey office, of which J. C. Vergesslich is manager. The Salt Lake City branch, managed by William F. Gordon, stood fourth.

Each winning branch stood highest in its own district and ranked in the order named in percentage of quotas assigned for the entire field. The drive was named by Ned E. Depinet, general sales manager, in honor of John J. McGuirk, president of the Stanley Company of America.

Illness Forces Rosen to Abandon Tiffany Picture

Because of a sudden sickness which came over him while he was directing "A Woman Against the World," a Tiffany-Stahl production, Director Phil Rosen was forced to relinquish the megaphone to George Archainbaud.

When he is feeling better, Mr. Rosen will proceed with the preparation of a new story which he was to direct upon completing "A Woman Against the World."

Columbia's "College Hero" to Play at Hippodrome

"The College Hero," a drama of undergraduate life which Walter Lang directed for Columbia Pictures, will have its world premiere at the Hippodrome Theatre in New York during the week of November 21st.

The production had Charley Paddock, sprinter, as technical advisor. The cast includes Pauline Garon, Bobby Agnew, Rex Lease, Joan Standing, Churchill Ross, Ben Turpin and Paddock.

Tiffany-Stahl to Have Five Ready by Jan.

FIVE of the 24 Tiffany productions scheduled for this season will be ready for release by the end of December, thus giving Tiffany-Stahl a total of eight productions completed.

"Night Life," directed byy George Archainbaud with Alice Day, John Harron, will be released during November. "The Haunted Ship," directed by Forrest Sheldon and presenting Dorothy Sebastian, Tom Santschi and Ray Hallor, is also scheduled for release the latter part of this month. "Streets of Shanghai," filmed under Louis J. Gasnier's direction with Pauline Starke and Kenneth Harlan in the leads, is set for early December release.

"A Woman Against the World" is now nearing completion under Archainbaud's direction with Gertrude Olmstead, Harrison Ford and Georgia Hale in the principal roles; it is listed for the latter part of December. "Wild Geese," which boasts a cast with Belle Bennett, Anita Stewart, Donald Keith and Jason Robards, has been completed on the Coast by Director Phil Stone.

First National Lists December Releases

First National has arranged the release dates for the four pictures which will make up the company's schedule for December.

On December 4th, "A Texas Steer," the special starring Will Rogers, will be issued. "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" will follow on December 11; this is another special from First National. "The Valley of the Giants," featuring Milton Sills, will come to exhibitors on December 18th. "Her Wild Oat," with Colleen Moore, is slated for December 25th.

First National executives consider this program of releases to be the greatest ever in the history of the company. The list includes two star features and two specials.

Shirley Mason Signs for Two Columbia Pictures

Shirley Mason will be starred by Columbia Pictures in two more vehicles this year, the company having renewed its option on her long term contract.

Columbia to Open New Exchange in Omaha

COLUMBIA PICTURES has completed arrangements for the opening of a new exchange in Omaha, which will take over the business handled formerly by Midwest Film Distributing Corporation, the Columbia franchise holders in the territory. The new exchange will give Columbia an advantageous position in Iowa and Nebraska.

The deal for the acquisition of the new branch office was negotiated by Jack Cohn, treasurer of Columbia. Claude H. MacGowan, assistant treasurer and sales manager, made a special trip from the Columbia home office to Omaha for the signing of the contracts.

The new office will be under the management of Joe White, formerly with Warner Bros. and F B O.

In and Out of Town

BUDD ROGERS, vice-president of Lumas Film Corporation, "hit the trail" again last week on a sales trip to Boston, Detroit, Toronto, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha.

HENRY GINSBERG, president of Sterling Productions, Inc., and Sterling Pictures Distributing Corporation left last Saturday, November 5th, on an extended tour throughout the country of exchanges handling his company's product.

A. P. WAXMAN, director of advertising and publicity for Warner Bros., returned last week from a two weeks' vacation spent in Havana, Cuba.

LON YOUNG, director of publicity and advertising for Gotham Productions, departed for Indianapolis this week. He will stop over in Pittsburgh, Washington and Philadelphia.

JOHN Hamrick, owner of the Blue Mouse Theatre in Seattle, was a visitor last week at the New York office of Warner Bros.

EDDIE GOLDEN, New England franchise holder, and Benny Amsterdam, Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey franchise holder, were in New York last week to see the First Division Distributors, Inc., president, Jesse J. Goldburg.

JESSE J. GOLDBURG, president of First Division Distributors, Inc., left Sunday, November 6th for the West Coast where he will supervise "Comrades," a James Ormont production.

LOUIS B. MAYER, vice-president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in charge of production, left the home office last week for the Coast, accompanied by his wife and two daughters and Pete Smith, director of publicity at the Culver City studio.

W. E. CALLAWAY, Southern sales manager for First National, left the home office Sunday, November 6th, for a three week's trip to the various exchanges in his district. He will visit cities in the South and middle West.

STANLEY W. HATCH, Western sales manager for First National, has departed from the New York office for a three weeks' trip to branch offices in his territory extending as far West as Salt Lake City. He will visit some eight cities in all.

GEORGE WEEKS, of the Paramount distribution department and representative in the East of Christie Film Co., returned to his desk in the Paramount New York office this week after a tour of Paramount exchanges which lasted one month.

"BILLY WYKER, Universal directors, arrived in New York several days ago with Bessie Love and Charles Stumar, cameraman, to film sequences in the metropolis for Universal's "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelley?"

JOSEPH M. SCHENCK, president and chairman of the board of directors of United Artists, will return to New York from England on the S.S. Aquitania, arriving Armistice Day, Friday, November 11th.

Fox and FBO Product Is Near Completion

Production Staffs Make Splendid Headway With Features for 1927-28

FOX FILMS announce splendid progress on the current season's production schedule, with twenty-nine features actually completed and seven more well under way. This does not include John Gilbert reissues nor any of the short product.

Among the features to be produced are "A Girl in Every Port," featuring Victor McLaglen; Tom Mix, in "$5,000 Reward," "Holiday Lane," "Fleetwing," "Soft Living," "Hello, Sucker," "The Escape," "The Sport Girl," "White Silence," "Dressed to Kill," "The Blonde Panther," "Soul of Passion," "The A La Carte Girl," "None But the Brave," "French Ankles," "The Unknown Beauty," "Atlantic City," "Earth and the Woman," "The Girl From Heaven."

Productions actually in work and set for early release include "Sharpshooters," "Silk Legs," "Come to My House," "The Wizard," "The Horseman of the Plains," "Woman Wise," "Hangman's House."

Product for the 1928-29 season on which preliminary work is now being done, includes "The Cock Eyed World," sequel to "What Price Glory"; "The 4 Devils," "Don't Marry,," "Grandma Bernie Learns Her Letters," and "Lady Cristilinda."

FBO announces that the entire schedule for 1927-28 will be completed by the first week in December, and that work on the 1928-29 program will be under way before the first of the year. No less than 43 features and 74 reels of short subjects are ready for exhibitors. Included in these features are:

"The Great Mail Robbery," Not For Publication," "Clancy's Kosher Wedding," "The Gingham Girl," "Shanghaied," "Judgment of the Hills," "The Harvester," "South Sea Lover," "Legionnaires in Paris," "Coney Island," "Little Mickey Grogan," "Freckles," "The Coward," "In a Moment of Temptation," "Jake the Plumber," "Hook and Ladder No. 9," "Aflame in the Sky," "Dead Man's Curve," "Her Summer Hero," "Red Riders of Canada," "Loves of Ricardo," "Moon of Israel," "The Racing Romeo," "The Flying U Ranch," "The Cherokee Kid," "The Desert Pirate," "When the Law Rides," "Phantom of the Range," "The Mojave Kid," "The Bandit's Son," "Driftin' Sands," "The Riding Renegade," "Breed of the Sunset," "The Boy Rider," "The Slingshot Kid," "Wizard of the Saddle," "The Little Buckaroo," "The Pinto Kid," "The Fighting Redhead," "Breed of Courage," "Ranger of the North," "The Swift Shadow," and "Fangs of the Wild."

The 74 reels of short subjects already completed include 12 of the H. C. Witwer beauty parlor series, 6 of the Mickey McGuire series, 6 Standard Fat Men comedies, and 26 one-reel Newslaffs.

Protest Non-Theatricals

Hays Attitude Asked by Exhibitors in Alleged Unfair Competition

THE Board of Directors of the Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware Motion Picture Theatre Owners have called upon Will H. Hays to state his attitude with regard to what they allege is unfair non-theatrical competition within their territory. They also would like to know as definitely as possible with regard to proposed further development on the part of distributors of non-theatrical business.

In the protest to the Hays organization the exhibitor body claims to have definite knowledge that many of the national distributing organizations have issued orders to their local branch offices to launch campaigns immediately to increase their non-theatrical business.

The protest, in part, says:

"A non-theatrical in most every instance can pick out from an exchange the best pictures for the average sum of $10, and the shows are generally shown in auditoriums without the proper regard for fire regulations.

"The exhibitors of this territory pay to the film companies on an average of $125,000 per week for film rentals, and, on the other hand, the same companies receive in comparison for non-theatrical showings the sum of approximately $500 a week.

"This not only unfair competition in supplying these non-theatrical organizations, but, further, in view of the fact that their business amounts to so little, there is no reason why steps should not be taken to elminate it."

At the recent Trade Practice Conference in New York, the matter of non-theatrical bookings was discussed at length. It was agreed among the distributors and exhibitors that the subject was a local one in most instances and should be settled by arbitration. Under the plan, if an exhibitor made complaint of unfair competition his charges were to be submitted to arbitration, which would determine whether service should be continued to the non-theatrical account.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Declares Quarterly Dividend

The Board of Directors of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has declared quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock of this company, payable December 15th, 1927, to stockholders of record at the close of business on November 26th, 1927.

25,000 Seats in Hollywood's Twenty Theatres

HOLLYWOOD'S total seating capacity is placed at 22,500 by the Hollywood branch of the Los Angeles Realty Board, but the new theatres which the Warner Brothers are constructing will increase this total to 25,000. The community will have 20 theatres when the new first run house under construction will have been completed. Four of these houses will be legitimate and the other 16 will show motion pictures.

Tom Whitely Deserts Stage for Screen Career

Tom Whitely, gag man and comedian with the Lupino Lane unit at the Educational studios, has decided to abandon Broadway for a career in short subjects. Seventeen years ago he appeared in one of the first comedies produced in England, made by Lane.

Whitley last appeared on Broadway in "The Nightingale," the Shubert production. He left this show in Chicago last spring to join the Lane unit at the Educational studio. Prior to his debut in America, he appeared on the English speaking stage for 22 years, playing all over the world. While in America he appeared in "The Passing Show of 1926," "Naughty Riquette" and "Sky High."

"Ladies Must Dress" a Fox November Release

Virginia Valli's stella vehicle, "Ladies Must Dress," and "The Arizona Wildcat," a new Tom Mix Western, will be released by Fox Films on November 20th.

In the cast of the Valli vehicle are Lawrence Gray, Earle Foxe, Nancy Carroll, Hallam Cooley, William Tooker and Wilson Hummell; Victor Heerman produced the picture.

A story by Adela Rogers St. Johns supplies the theme of the Mix vehicle. The cast includes Dorothy Sebastian, Ben Bard, Gordon Elliott, Monte Collins, Cissy Fitzgerald and Doris Dawson.

"Red Dancer of Moscow" Planned for Del Rio

"The Red Dancer of Moscow," which goes into production in December, is planned by Fox Films as Dolores Del Rio's next starring vehicle. Charles Farrell will be the actress' co-star and Raoul Walsh will direct. C. L. Gates and Eleanor Brown wrote the story.

F B O Contributes Still Sets to Hospital Inmates

A new use for motion picture stills has been found by Frankie Darro, F B O's juvenile star, who is the originator of a plan whereby 150 sets of bound stills from various F B O productions have been donated to hospital inmates throughout the country, through the courtesy of F B O. Over 200 still shots are taken of each F B O feature, placed in dramatic consecutive order and covered with a bright blue jacket with an inscription that the "still show" is donated by Frankie Darro.

Preceding the stills is a synopsis of the story. Over 100 sets of these "still shows" have already been distributed by young Darro to hospitals throughout the country and letters of appreciation have been received at the F B O Hollywood studio in grateful acknowledgment.

Frankie personally visited the Hollywood Hospital and the Orthopaedic Hospital in Los Angeles, autographing over a dozen sets. He will continue the distribution of the still sets indefinitely.

De Mille Studios Working on Thirteen Pictures

The De Mille studio in Culver City is now in the midst of one of its busiest production periods. Four pictures are before the cameras, three are in the cutting rooms and six more are in preparatory stages.

Under Frank Urson's direction, "Chicago," with Phyllis Haver and Victor Varconi, is progressing towards its conclusion. With Rod La Rocque starred, Director Donald Crisp is producing "Stand and Deliver." Also in work is "The Blue Danube," a Pathe special. James Cruze has placed "The Red Mark" into production also.

In the hands of the cutters are "The Leopard Lady," "Gallagher" and "The Night Flyer."

Photography will be begun shortly upon "A Blonde for a Night," to star Marie Prevost; "His Country," which William K. Howard will direct with Rudolph Schildkraut; "Skyscraper," to feature William Boyd; "Walking Back," in which Vera Reynolds will have the lead; "Midnight Madness," which will star Jacqueline Logan, and "Hold 'Em Yale."

Newsreel Resume

New England's devastating flood naturally led all the other stories in this week's batch of newsreel events. All of the diffrent reels presented views of the catastrophe in their second issues. Other items having a general spread in the "film newspaper" field were Ruth Elder's welcome in Paris; a movie interview with the president and his official family; Captain Hawthorne Gray, army officer who died while establishing an altitude record; unveiling of statue of Helen Wills, and Walter Hagen's latest golf victory. As a remembrance of the first Armistice Day, files were delved into for a pictorial retrospect of the ending days of the war. Fox, International and M-G-M especially played up this last story. As usual during the autumn shots of gridiron were included in most of the issues.

Attendance At Roxy Has Passed 4,000,000

SINCE its opening last March, the Roxy Theatre, in New York City has passed the 4,000,000 mark. Assuming that the attendance averages as well during the rest of the year, the figures should approach 7,000,000 for the first year's business of this Fox house.

"Very Confidential" and "Wolf Fangs" from Fox

"VERY Confidential," featnring Madge Bellamy, and "Wolf Fangs," with Thunder, the dog, will be released by Fox Films during November, the first on the 6th and the other on the 27th.

James Tinling directed the Bellamy vehicle. Charles Morton and Caryl Lincoln are the leads in the dog picture which Lew Seiler directed.

A summary of the contents of the reels are as follows:

Pathe News, No. 91: American Baseball League's new president, E. S. Barnard; Art Goebel, Pacific flight winner, atop a New York skyscraper; a new cable railroad at Montserrat, Spain; hockey stars; plane takes off from battleship. No. 92: Fascisti celebrate fifth anniversary; Indian climbs Trajan's Column in Rome; Old Glory pageant at Governor's Island, N. Y.; Magruder leaves naval post.

Kinograms, No. 5341: Noted woman swimmers aid the Red Cross makes lawnmower out of razor blades; latest headgear styles from Paris; bridge inspector's risky job; Germany's ostrich derby; California State air patrol battles great Coast forest fire. No. 5342: Corn huskers husk final Illinois fall crop; army airmen makes first flight over Austrian Alps; famous people and their pets.

International News, Vol. 9, No. 90: Girl students in cross-country run; airplane "mother boat" newest addition to fleet; Commander Evangeline Booth and Prince William of Sweden; Siam dancers in picturesque fete; air service links Cleveland and Detroit; Bostonian winning race at Pimlico track. No. 91: Firemen use chemical shower to quell flames; scenes of the circus' yearly sojourn in the South; Lindbergh and Mayor Thompson; toymakers preparing for Christmas.

Paramount News, No. 29: Los Angeles zoo starts "rogues' gallery"; Fez, Moroccan city, welcomes Sultan Moulay Youssef, its ruler; Dr. Geo. Hardy visits memorial to his son, the late president; Ty Cobb announces he will leave baseball; French flier defeats German in recent air contest; Walter Hagen again gains new golf laurels; Imatra River, Finland, burdened with logs for the last time before being utilized for turbines. No. 30: Fascisti celebration in Rome; Earle Sande, jockey, who was put out of Pimlico race; California school's seven sets of twin students; King Fuad of Egypt greeted at Brussels; A. Williams, Navy ace, who set new speed record.

M-G-M, Vol. 1, No. 24: Chinese crews in championship race; New York's new sky projector which shoots signs in the dusk; Manuel Querzon, Philippino, visits Washington; Elephants trained as prize fighters; No. 25: Woodchoppers of Australia meet; flood control plans pushed at Washington; new caterpillar "wheels" on planes enable them to light anywhere; first litter of white pups born in the U. S. make their camera bow.

Fox News, Vol. 9, No. 12: Virginia girls compete in run across country; storm batters Brazilian sea-wall; Mrs. Coolidge acts as Red Cross nurse.

Exhibitors Service Bureau

Showmanship

Briefs

AMONG the recent tie-ups between picture companies and national distributors of various products are several especially effective arrangements under which good display material is available to merchants for co-operative advertising in conjunction with their local theatres.

PATHE-DEMILLE has a new arrangement with the Reo Motor Company that continues the successful tie-up started with "The Yankee Clipper" and the Flying Cloud model car. The new tie-up takes in "Dress Parade." The Reo company has prepared a line of co-operative material, including a special issue of the company's house organ for distribution as souvenirs in connection with parades of Flying Clouds to be put on by local dealers during the engagement of "Dress Parade" at theatres in their towns.

THE Kellogg company, makers of cereal products, have opened up a new drive for "Pep," a breakfast food, through a tie-up with "The Texas Steer," the Sam Rork production starring Will Rogers. Kellogg has produced some especially good posters featuring a portrait of Rogers and a billing line in which "The Texas Steer" is directly tied-up with the selling. Active co-operation by district representatives of the company will be accorded theatres and merchants for local showings of this attraction.

A TIE-UP has been effected with the Victor Talking Machine Company for "Seventh Heaven," for which Erno Rapee, the musical director, wrote a love theme called "Diane." Thus far fifty dealers in prominent locations in the Metropolitan district have been chosen by the Victor concern for window displays. These include a special 22 by 28 card which is also being distributed throughout Fox exchanges for the use of all exhibitors.

THE singing of a whole flock of canaries attracted attention to the showing of "The Cat and the Canary" at the Lucas Theatre in Savannah. Of course, they were fakir canaries, four dozen strong, that were placed under the marquee. They had whistles under their wings and as they swayed in the wind, they sang continuously.

CHARLES J. JONES, manager of the Colonial theatre in Harrisburg, Pa., took advantage of the opportunity to obtain a good ballyhoo for "Smile, Brother, Smile!", when he engaged one of the Freshmen of Beckley College to work as a sandwich man for the show. The freshmen of the college at the time were being disciplined by the sophs, the punishment taking the form of an order to the first year men to wear green "dink" hats as their only headgear in public. The inter-class fight which precipitated this action was a topic of town conversation, so Jones had his worker wear a banner reading "I disobeyed Freshmen customs and must pay the penalty. I must Smile, Brother, Smile! See it at the Colonial this week."

CHOP SUEY was distributed free in front of the Broadway theatre, Newburgh, N. Y., on the opening day of the engagement there of "Shanghai Bound." This stunt, put on by Manager George T. Cruzen, attracted a lot of notice. The Chop Suey was served in cups by a man wearing Chinese costume.

An attractive window display featuring Colleen Moore, used by a Los Angeles drug store. This effective arrangement features a large charcoal drawing of the star and several cutouts from stills, used to decorate a display of cosmetics.

Vonceil Viking's Coast to Coast Ride Exploits Western Pictures

MISS VONCEIL VIKING, the 22 year old daughter of a New Mexico ranchman, is riding horseback from New York to Los Angeles, and back in an unique journey as an apostle of Universal Western Pictures. At every stop she is arousing the interest of the public in out-of-doors screen drama.

Upon the completion of her journey, Miss Viking will be used as leading woman for Ted Wells, one of Universal's western stars. Meanwhile she is spreading Ted's fame and the fame of western pictures and Universal's western pictures in particular, in every hamlet along her three thousand mile route. By public receptions, by appearances in the schools, and by appearances in the leading motion picture theatres, she is "selling" western pictures to the public.

Miss Viking left New York several weeks ago. She expects to make the entire trip in 120 days. Late this week she crossed from Virginia into North Carolina, having completed about one-fourth of her trip. Carl Laemmle has determined to back her to the limit, and to extend to her the co-operation of the entire Universal organization, including the exchanges through whose territory she will pass.

Her start from New York was a gala occasion. She rode her mount, which she has named "Broadway," down to the City Hall and was officially godsped by Mayor Jimmy Walker.

Her first stop was Newark, where she was the guest of the city for the remainder of the day. Then she proceeded to Plainfield, N. J., where she was met by Mayor J. T. MacMurray and other city officials. She made a personal appearance accompanied by the Mayor, at the Liberty Theatre that evening. The next day she passed through Princeton and was cheered by the students. From there Trenton was the next stop, where she spent Sunday night. Monday saw her in Philadelphia. From that city she digressed westward to Lebanon, Harrisburg and York, Pa.

Outside of the city of Lebanon, Miss Viking was met by a police escort and a deputation of local exhibitors. She visited the Aldine Theatre and later an informal reception at which Manager John Jackson was the host. The following morning Miss Viking was received by the Mayor of Lebanon and then went on to Harrisburg, Penna., where Mayor Hoverter extended a welcome.

In York she was received by Mayor Hugentigler. Baltimore was all set for Miss Viking and, despite the fact that it was Sunday, the crowds turned out and the Mayor did the honors.

Washington society horsewomen, led by Miss Stevens, met Miss Viking at the city limits. Mounted police led the way to the Hamilton Hotel, where there was a reception.

Creamer's Stunt Steals a March on Circus Parade

John W. Creamer, manager of the Orpheum theatre, Atchinson, Kan., evolved a neat exploitation stunt to tie up exploitation for his presentation of "The Sunset Derby" with interest in a circus which he was forced to meet as competition. This was done by means of a special herald, distributed among the crowds waiting for the circus parade.

The herald was headed: "We have no parade today but you can see the best show in town at the Orpheum."

Key City Reports

New York City

SIX Pathe-P.D.C. pictures distributed among Broadway houses featured the news of New York City theatres last week and of course this was a gala occasion for the above named producers. Considerable space was given by the dalies in honor of the event but all in all the week was not a very satisfactory one, due perhaps to the warm weather during the first part, and then some of the titles were not any too alluring. With the advent of snappy weather business should pick up.

Whether the new policy at the Capitol is catching on as well as the management anticipated, is hard to tell this early in the game but reports have it that a good-sized crowd of the old customers are not attending these days. As mentioned before, it takes time to build new trade. The picture used along with vaudeville was M-G-M's "Tea for Three."

The Roxy's week was about the same as last with "The Main Event," one of the Pathe-P.D.C. features and the Paramount booked another, "Forbidden Woman," doing somewhat below average trade. The Strand turned in a pretty good week's business with "The Dress Parade," the fact that it was a West Point picture, helping. Indications are that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will make money for Universal at the Central. "The Student Price" and "Sunrise" are going along at a fairly even gait at the Astor and Times Square. It's hard to say at present just how long they will last. "Wings," "The King of Kings," "The Patent Leather Kid" and the "Jazz Singer" are doing well enough at their respective theatres and Mary Pickford's new picture, "My Best Girl," has started off excellently. United Artist's "Two Arabian Knights," graduating from the Paramount to the Rivoli, is doing a brisk trade and "Quality Street" at the Embassy also opened to pretty fair business. The Colony played P.D.C.'s "Angel of Broadway" to a below average week.

Los Angeles

"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS" closed its three weeks' run at the Million Dollar after showing to splendid crowds. Wednesday night marked the world premier of "The Devil Dancer" starring Gilda Gray. Miss Gray appears on the stage in the prologue. Very satisfactory business has been done for the past two days and the film promises to be a success at the box office.

"Tell It To Sweeney" was the attraction at the Metropolitan. Very good attendance was reported at this picture, the majority of patrons being men. On the stage Frank Devoe, in the absence of Rube Wolf, was seen in a very lively Fanchon and Marco specialty.

"Alias the Lone Wolf" at Loew's State and "The Cat and the Canary" at the Criterion are sharing interest as mystery pictures. "The Cat and the Canary" is the more popular and is in its second successful week with one more week to follow.

There was another "alias" at the Boulevard—the screen version of the popular stage comedy. "Alias the Deacon" and the patrons were not dissappointed. Abe Lyman's popularity continues to build up the Boulevard patronage.

"What Price Glory" is now seen and heard as it opened Wednesday night at the Tower Theatre with the western premier of the Movietone. Warner Bros.' Vitaphone will continue to be an added attraction at the Tower which will be the only showhouse in the country to feature both the Vitaphone and Movietone at each performance.

Although "Loves of Carmen" is not doing the business the preceeding pictures have done at Cathay Circle, the management is satisfied with the box office returns.

Boston

ALTHOUGH the first part of the week showed good attendances at all Boston and vicinity theatres, the flood conditions which swept New England the last half of the week had the effect of materially reducing attendance on the last two days. With the exception of a terrific downpour of rain late Thursday night and early Friday, weather conditions have been good.

"The Woman on Trial" at the Metropolitan enjoyed a good week, well above the average. The presentation was Partington's "Florida" and a well balanced musical program. Loew's State, with "Spring Fever, did a better than average business although less than the previous week.

Boston's only road show, "Les Miserables," did a splendid first week's business and continues for two more weeks at the Colonial Theatre. Formal opening on Monday was a brilliant occasion with Governor and Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller and party, and other prominent public officials, including superintendents of schools from eighteen cities about Boston.

"What Price Glory" at popular prices at Loew's Orpheum proved a big attraction. "The Desired Woman" and "High School Hero" were the double features at the twin houses, Modern and Beacon, playing to an audience of better than average size.

Other films doing a good week's business are "The Fighting Eagle" at the Keith-Albee Boston; "College," "The Road to Romance" and "What Every Iceman Knows" at the triple-feature Bowdoin Square; "Camille" at the Capitol, "Clancy's Kosher Wedding" at the Scollay Square Olympia, "The Crystal Cup" at the Washington Street Olympia, "Underworld" at the Lancaster, "Camille" and "Clancy's Kosher Wedding" at the Fenway, "One Woman to Another" at the University and "Chinese Parrott" at the Exeter.

Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS theater-goers showed their pleasure at the end of the long theater strike by turning out in force and giving the movie houses a busy week. "Ben Hur" which had been road-showed at the Metropolitan last year opened up at the Garrick and proved more or less of a box-office sensation. It's fine patronage warranted holding it over for a second week. At the State, Bebe Daniels in "Swim Girl Swim" proved a popular attraction, but for the State patrons, the return of the regular orchestra and organists to their duties was the big event. Milton Sills in "Hard Boiled Haggerty" did average business at the Strand, and the same may be said for Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall in "The Crystal Cup" at the Lyric. Pantages' vaudeville divided honors with Madge Bellamy in "Very Confidential," which seemed to please the crowds. The Hennepin-Orpheum found Phyllis Haver in "The Wise Wife" a nice film attraction. Business continued good at the Lagoon, Rialto, Lyndale and Loring, neighborhood houses which featured such pictures as "Spring Fever," "Beau Geste," "Matinee Ladies" and "The Rough Riders."

Chicago

THE first touch of wintry weather stimulated business somewhat in the Chicago territory and business was generally reported fairly satisfacory. Normal business was enjoyed by big loop houses, led by the Oriental where Paul Ash's farewell program, preliminary to his departure for a six weeks' tour in Europe, and "The Woman On Trial" as the screen feature, pulled big crowds. At the Chicago "The Fair Co-Ed" and usual elaborate stage show did normal business. The Roosevelt had a satisfactory week with "The Garden of Allah" as its feature, and at McVickers, "The Cat and the Canary" caught the popular fancy. "What Price Glory" closed its long run at the Monroe and judging by the box office reports, it did the biggest business of any feature ever shown at this house.

"Shanghai Bound" on the screen and Benny Kreuger and his band on the stage, were the attractions at the Uptown and played to good business. The Sheridan offered Verne Buck and his band with George Givot as an added attraction and "The Life of Riley" on the screen, and attendance was normal. At the Granada, "Old San Francisco" with complete Vitaphone accompaniment and Benny Meroff's Revue Ala Carte, accounted for average receipts, while at the Marbro, Charles Kaley and the same feature picture, also did a good business.

The Capitol had "Mockery" as its screen attraction and Del and his merrymakers and Vitaphone completed the bill which played to normal attendance. The Avalon with "Old San Francisco" and Buddy Fisher's band, also had a fair week.

Atlanta

ATLANTA theatres declared a fair box-office on the whole last week, displaying more life than on the average.

The Erlanger opened Monday with the road show attraction, 'Old Ironsides," and it did not boast of capacity audiences. This fact may be contributed to an apparent lack of interest here for road shows, due to an established belief on the part of the public that they will be soon able to see them as regular pictures at popular prices.

Loew's Grand led the parade with "Ben Hur," first time shown at theatre prices.

"Two Arabian Knights" proved a popular feature at the Howard. However, an added stage attraction embracing local talent, plus the usual Publix offering, may claim part credit for interest.

The Capitol played "The Irresistible Lover," to an average house.

Keith's Georgia offered "Isle of Forgotten Women," which was well liked. On the stage Gus Edward's Revue was a good drawing card.

All records were smashed by the Metropolitan the first part of the week with the showing of the Dempsey-Tunney fight films, plus Colleen Moore in "Naughty But Nice." Especial interest had been aroused in the seizure of the fight films from the Howard the previous week, thus giving the Metropolitan an enviable position.

"Shootin' Irons" and "Tarzan and the Golden Lion" brought an average gross to the Rialto.

The Tudor enjoyed an increase with "Fighting Three," "Snarl of Hate," and "Don Desperado."

St. Louis

PAUL WHITEMAN and his $10,000 a week Publix unit orchestra was the real big noise of the motion picture world in St. Louis the week of October 29-November 4 and his syncopators caused so much vibration they blurred decidedly the feature films of the seven-day period.

How much cash the jazzerinos drew to the box office of the Ambassador Theatre during their stay has not been officially reported, as yet, but unofficially it is said it was not so big as they took in their last visit here during the Christmas holidays of last year.

Naturally, $10,000 bands and knock-out feature pictures are not doubled on the same bill of fare, even in the best of picture palaces; hence it may be truthfully said that we have honestly seen far better pictures on numerous and sundry occasions than "Lonesome Ladies."

Teddy Roosevelt was riding 'em rough at the Missouri Theatre all week. "The Rough Riders" is the best picture of the Hero of San Juan Hill and his pals seen on the screen this year. Receipts of the week were up to average.

History was certainly jumbled a lot in "East Side West Side" at the St. Louis Theatre during the week but what is continuity or thereabouts when it comes to sinking Titantics or throwing confetti and adding machine rolls at trans-Atlantic hoppers? How Lindy flew into the picture was not exactly clear, but being on his own lot he got most of the applause. On the whole it was an interesting picture and may get Al Smith some votes out West and down South. It was a good week at the box office.

Loew's State Theatre in "The Garden of Allah" evidently endeavored to prove that Monks also prefer blondes. On the whole it was a fair week as far as receipts were concerned. The photography of the desert scenes was excellent.

Seattle

BUSINESS was noticeably off for the third consecutive week in this territory last week, despite the fact that some "better than average" pictures were being offered to local theatregoers by the first run houses.

At the Fifth Avenue Theatre, "Spring Fever" played to average attendance, pleasing most of the patrons. Fanchon-Marco's "Dolls Idea" on the stage was not up to the standard of previous acts, however, and the house still misses the immense drawing power of Eddie Peabody, former master of ceremonies. Hermie King in this capacity is working hard, and is given great assistance by Oscar Taylor, balladist, but he has a tough spot to fill and it will take some time to put his stuff across, following Peabody. Gross for the week fell below $15,000.

At Bob Bender's Columbia Theatre, "The Way of All Flesh" started off strong with a good publicity campaign, exploitation, etc., but had a tendency to drop off toward the end of the week. The picture was very highly praised, but it is the type that has a very limited appeal in this territory, and business was not as strong as was expected. The film goes into a second week, due more to booking arrangements than to any great box office success during the first week.

"The Magic Flame" at the United Artists Theatre did its share of business, but did not arouse any great enthusiasm. There seemed to be no definite angle to which the advertising and exploitation was attached. A good supporting musical program, with the added feature of Helen Scholder Perutz, concert cellist, put the week over in average style, and the picture was being held for seven more days.

At the Liberty Theatre, "The Red Raiders" failed to check up any sort of box office gross. This is not particularly the type of film enjoyed by patrons of this first run house, and business showed a slight slump. Report has it that the Liberty will soon be closed by West Coast, inasmuch as a recent price drop failed to improve attendance at this house, formerly the big money-getter of the downtown circuit.

"Old San Francisco" at John Hamrick's Blue Mouse Theatre played to consistently good business for the entire week. It was not any stronger than the average Warner program release, but the star has decided box office power here, and a good program of supporting Vitaphone attractions put the bill over to very pleasing business. No attempt was made to hold the picture more than a week.

Pantages, among the vaudeville-picture houses, played an engagement of "Cameo Kirby" that had very pleasing box office power, due to the appearance in the cast of John Gilbert. The vaudeville program was satisfactory. At the Orpheum Theatre, "The Wise Wife" was the screen attraction, in conjunction with a "unit show" of vaudeville. The picture was very light and filled with hokum, but pleased the average patron, who wants vaudeville primarily. Gross at the latter house continued to be very large, reaching approximately $20,000 for the week.

San Francisco

THE main attraction of the past week in San Francisco, was Mae Murray in person at the Granada theatre and seats were filled all week. She danced on the stage with her male partner, the Merry Widow waltz. The picture at this theatre, "Soft Cushions," was considered exceptionally good.

"Two Arabian Knights," helped greatly to fill the California theatre and all were pleased with this picture. The music also was a drawing card. "The Crystal Cup" at Loew's Warfield theatre drew the average crowd. The presentation acts were considered good.

"The Blood Ship," played its last week at the St. Francis theatre and up to the last attracted many. "Ten Modern Commandments," filled the Imperial Theatre.

"For the Love of Mike," together with the Sherwoods and their entertainers more than filled the Golden Gate theatre. "Lightning Lariats" and "The Duce," together with the vaudeville acts drew well at the Union Square Theatre for every performance. The Dempsey-Tunney pictures filled the Cameo theatre.

Milwaukee

A BRISK week in Milwaukee theatres has just passed, and it was the first encouraging week in some time. Business was above average in practically every theatre in the down town section. The weather was mild, only one inclement night in the entire week. State Teachers' Convention at the end of the week helped also to boost receipts.

At the top of the list was the Wisconsin theatre with Constance Talmadge in "Breakfast at Sunrise" as the film solo and Joe Cook's clever act to complete the bill. "The Magic Flame" in its second week at the Garden continued to draw excellently. "Les Miserables" at the Alhambra found favor with a large number and houses were good throughout the week. "No Place to Go" at the Strand did fair business. "The Big Parade" continued popular in its second week at the Merrill. "Pajamas" vied with the headliners on the Palace-Orpheum bill.

Neighborhood houses shared the increase in business although not to the extent that the down town houses were favored. "What Price Glory" was featured at the Uptown, Oriental, Modjeska and Tower theatres, and was held over for an additional day at each of these theatres because of its popularity. "Mockery" at the Savoy and Milwaukee was a favorite. "When a Man Loves" was well attended at the Venetian.

Cleveland

A SPELL of unseasonably hot weather was disastrous to the local theatre business last week. Several of the theatres had to turn on their cooling apparatus in order to reduce the temperature of the houses. None of them reached their top mark. A few did average business. Most of them fell below average.

"Underworld" extensively advertised and long heralded, made a satisfactory showing at the Stillman and was held over for a second week. "A Gentleman of Paris" surrounded by an unusually attractive presentation program, started out rather slow but came to a splendid finish. "Metropolis" did average business at the Cameo, and was also held over another week. Keith's Palace reports average business for "The Wreck of the Hosperus," but not up to what the house has been doing previously. "The Bush Leaguer" did fairly well at the State, with Larry Semon in person as the headliner on the vaudeville bill. Reade's Hippodrome reports business was "off" with both "The College Hero" the first half of the week and "Slaves of Beauty" the last half of the week, coupled with a complete Jazz program. "Drums of the Desert" made only a fair showing at Keith's East 105th St. The Park fell below average with a first-run neighborhood engagement of "Spring Fever" and the Circle did only fairly well with "The Missing Link" and Vitaphone acts. The Ohio theatre played a road show engagement of "Old Ironsides." It did well enough to be held a second week. Neighborhood houses report business unusually slow.

Oklahoma City

'BEN HUR' came back for a week's run to slightly increased prices at the Criterion Theatre this past week. It was roadshowed here last winter. The reception given it here was extremely good.

"When a Man Loves" brought big audiences to the Empress all week—women predominating. "The Chinese Parrot" made business hum at the Liberty all week because of the popularity of the story that ran through the Saturday Evening Post recently. It was good entertainment. "Jesse James" at no increase in price, played all week at the Capitol to good business. Fred Thomson seemed to please the audiences at this Main Street house as well as he used to over at the ten cent houss on Grand Avenue and that's saying something.

This week was a good one for the theatres all the way round, "The Constant Wife" was at the Shrine two days and gave some competition, and the vaudeville was extra good at the Orpheum, but in spite of this, the Liberty and Capitol both kept their picture of the first part of the week on the whole seven days instead of the usual change of program on Wednesday.

Kansas City

THE opening of the new 4,000-seat Loew's Midland theatre in Kansas City created a temporary lull in the attendance at other down town first run houses, which was expected. Despite the fact that the lineup of pictures was considered good, attendance was far below normal. The Midland, however, showing "The Road to Romance," played to 20,000 persons in the first five performances, according to M. B. Shanberg, managing director.

Mary Pickford and Charles Rogers in "My Best Girl" at the Newman did a fair business, but not what the picture deserved. At the Royal "Captain Salvation" played to a virtually meager hand full of people. "Rose of the Golden West" did a little better than that at the Mainstreet, as did "The Satin Woman" at the [illegible].

"The Loves of Carmen" at the Pantages fell below the average week's business, as did "The Fortune Hunter" at the Globe.

Salt Lake City

THE Salt Lake downtown theatres report very good business as a whole last week, despite the fact that weather conditions have been unusually beautiful out of doors.

The bill offered at the Capitol Theatre was exceptionally well liked, "A Gentleman of Paris" being the feature picture, and the Fanchon and Marco stage presentation also helped draw large and enthusiastic audiences throughout the week.

Some unusual exploitation tieups were arranged during the past week regarding the showing of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer campus picture, "The Fair Co-Ed," starring Marion Davies, at the Pantages Theatre. As a result the picture went over very good, especially with the students, it is reported by Manager Grant Pemberton of the Pantages.

Patsy Ruth Miller and Glenn Tryon in "Painting the Town" topped the Ackerman Harris vaudeville act at the Victory, and fairly good crowds were in attendance throughout the week.

Unusually good business was enjoyed at the large American Theatre during the extended run of John Barrymore in "When A Man Loves."

The roadshow presentation of "Old Ironsides," at the Salt Lake theatre played to large and well pleased audiences all week.

Clara Bow in "Wine" is reported to have proven to be a very good drawing card at the Second Run Rialto Theatre. "Pals in Paradise" and "Long Pants" were shown as second runs at the Photoplay and exceptionally good crowds were the result. Neighborhood houses also are experiencing an improvement in business now that the cooler weather has set in.

Central Penn

BIG business was recorded throughout the week at the Victoria, in Harrisburg, where Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton upheld their reputations as top-notch funmakers in "Now We're in the Air." This pair have a large Harrisburg following, which is steadily growing. In the Colonial, almost next door to the Vic., the feature offering was another two-man comedy, "The Life of Riley," starring George Sydney and Charley Murray. While this show proved very entertaining to those who attended it, the size of the crowds suffered somewhat in competition with the Beery-Hatton combination in such close proximity.

"The Road to Romance," with Ramon Novaro in the chief masculine love-making role, appeared at Loew's Regent, and seemed to have a story appeal to the feminine theatre-goers.

The week's total receipts at the State were materially increased through exceptionally big business done on Monday night, Hallowe'en. The Wilmer & Vincent Company, which owns the State and five other Harrisburg theatres, annually concentrates its Hallowe'en festivities in the State. This year there was a series of prize contests.

Tampa

THE Ringling circus visited Tampa Thursday, playing to 35,000 people, which cut into the regular theatre attendance quite materially, but the week as a whole was fairly satisfactory.

The Tampa lead the field this week with very good business, receipts being better than last week. "The Magic Flame" was the featured attraction of the first half and "The Fair Co-Ed" the last half.

The Victory laid aside the regular picture program for two days this week and played the first road show of the season. "The Crystal Cup" was featured the first three days of the week and it looks as though this picture may prove the prize flop of the year, at least it holds the record to date, and receipts were poor. "The College Hero," used the last two days did not start anything either.

The Strand brought back "What Price Glory" for a three days run. This picture played at the Victory a full week a short time ago to excellent business, so the second run failed to develop much of a draw, the receipts being just about fair. "Babe Comes Home" proved an excellent draw, with "The Woman on Trial" a good second, so the week was satisfactory.

The Franklin cut the "Dempsey-Tunney" pictures from their Sunday program, which was the last day of its seven days run, and that hurt business as the picture had been advertised. "The Secret Studio," "Shanghaid" and 'Galloping Fury" were the featured pictures of the week and they all played to just about average business.

Baltimore

THE big point in business at the moving picture theatres in Baltimore was done at the New Theater, where "What Price Glory," with prologue, was given its first-run at popular prices, it having been shown before as a road show attraction at the Auditorium, a legitimate house, several months ago.

At all the other first-run houses business was off and the opening of the races at Pimlico may have had something to do with it. "The Cruise of the Hellion," featuring Edna Murphy, went over fairly well at Whitehurst's Garden with Roscoe Ails on the vaudeville bill. At Keith's Hippodrome business was only so so for the week except on those nights when they got an overflow from the New Theater the attraction being "All Aboard" with Johnny Hines and Edna Murphy, and five acts of vaudeville.

There were four other important pictures in town, "Metropolis," at Loew's Century, which only went over fairly well, "The Rough Riders," which did only a fairly good business and at both the Loew's Century and the Stanley, there were special stage acts.

"Ben-Hur" did only a fair business at Loew's Valencia for its first-run at popular prices having been shown before as a road show at Ford's Theater a legitimate house. "The First Auto," did a poor business at Warner's Metropolitan with Vitaphone accompaniment and numbers but Ben Lyon, former Baltimorean, featured in "For the Love of Mike,' 'did a fairly good business at the Rivoli.

Ottawa

THE theatres of Ottawa and Hull were helped quite a bit during the week of October 31 through the fact that November 1, All Saints Day, was both a Government and religious holiday. Geraldine Farrar was at the Russell Theatre but most of the crowd passed her up. Football also counter-acted to some extent but not as much as in previous weeks.

The pick of the week was "The Magic Flame" at the Regent Theatre, Ottawa, which came well recommended, lived up to advance notices and was well liked. Manager J. M. Franklin had "Barbed Wire" at B. F. Keith's Theatre. Many liked it and others did not, the latter including some of the dyed-in-the-wool war veterans who pick flaws in all war stuff. Billie Dove in "The Stolen Bride" at the Centre proved to be the flappers' delight and drew just as well as most of the recent offerings—which means plenty. Rin-Tin-Tin in "Tracked by the Police" at the Imperial Theatre was a fair hit among adults and a big hit with the juveniles.

"Nitchevo," a European submarine war film, did not arouse much excitement at the Laurier Theatre, Hull, Quebec. They could not figure out the title.

A double-bill at the Eden Theatre, Hull, was good enough to attract steady business. If you did not like "Cameo Kirby" with its Mississippi River story, you could enjoy "Married Alive," or vice versa. One of the good ones at suburban houses in Ottawa was "Flesh and the Devil" at the Fern where Manager Benson packed them for second run. The Rex Theatre had excellent patronage, far and near, with second run of "Lost at the Front," while time-worn "melo" at the Columbia, "Across the Pacific," thrilled the kids but did not click very precisely with adults.

Albany, Schenectady and Troy

TWO days of almost solid rainfall put a damper on business at the motion picture theatres in Albany, Troy and Schenectady, during the past week. There was really no outstanding business done by any of the theatres, in the three cities. At the Mark Strand, in Albany "The Magic Flame" drew normal houses, while the Leland, despite a terrific panning of the "The Gay Retreat" in one of the city's leading newspapers, did a good business. At the Ritz, "The College Widow" did fair, while "Convoy" at the Clinton Square, after playing to one of the biggest Tuesdays in months, slipped the latter part of the week. At Proctor's Grand, "Swim Girl, Swim" appeared to please and did its part toward boosting up box office receipts.

In Schenectady, "What Price Glory" held over for the second week at the Van Curler, and did good business. At the Strand, "The American Beauty" appeared to please better than it did in Albany, judging from the crowds. The State played to better than ordinary business with "Two Arabian Knights," while "The Cat and the Cnary had them guessing at Proctors.

In Troy, "Chang" proved one of the worst flops of the year at the Troy theatre, although running for but four days. The picture went over very well in Albany. Its successor, "Annie Laurie" at the Troy, running for three days, did a poor business, while "The American Beauty" at the Lincoln filled the house throughout the week.

San Francisco

(Previous Week)

THE week went by at the first run motion picture houses, and was listed as a successful one. Two days were listed as not so good because they were exceptionally warm. "Annie Laurie" finished its second and last week at the St. Francis Theatre and drew big crowds to the last.

"The Fair Co-Ed," shown at the Granada Theatre, did well, but not as well as expected. Noted athletes helped to fill that house. "The Magic Flame" at the California Theatre drew a good crowd and the people were pleased with that production. "His First Flame" attracted many to the Imperial Theatre and the Warfield Theatre did well with its stage production and "The American Beauty."

At the Rivoli Theatre, a locally produced picture, "Finnegan's Ball," did not draw as many as expected it would even though it was greatly advertised, some claiming the house was not well enough known by the average person. At the Union Square, the house was crowded at every performance with "When A Dog Loves" and "Painted Ponies," together with vaudeville acts. "Convoy," shown at the Golden Gate Theatre together with vaudeville acts, more than filled that house.

The residential houses did well with the exception of the two very warm evenings.

CLASSIFIED AD SECTION

RATES: 10 cents a word for each insertion, in advance except Employment Wanted, on which rate is 5 cents

Situation Wanted

ORGANIST, highly trained, twelve years experience, enormous library, intelligent cueing, thoroughly reliable, radio experience, references. State full particulars first letter. Organist, 810 E. Huron, Ann Arbor, Mich.

ORGANISTS and SINGERS, thoroughly trained and experienced in theatre work. Men and women now ready for good positions. Union or nonunion. Write salary, and other data. Address, Chicago Musical College, 64 E. Van Buren, Chicago.

THEATRE MANAGER desires change. Thoroughly experienced vaudeville, pictures, road shows. Young and a hustler. Can handle any proposition. Best references. Box 220, Motion Picture News, New York City.

Wanted

WANTED—Used Posters, Photos, Slides, Banners, and Accessories of all kinds. Must be in good condition. Will allow liberal credit. Theatre Poster Supply Company and Sign Exchange, 327 E. Sixth Street, Cincinnati, O.

For Sale

FOUR Portable Gelb Lights, cable, 6 A Power's Projector, Prestwich Camera. Circle 3982.

FOR SALE: The most beautiful 500-seat moving picture theatre in Florida. Price $8,500. Summer population 25,000. Winter population 40,000. Long lease. Finest equipment. Must sell account other business. Cash or terms. Address, Post Office Box 1348, Daytona Beach, Fla.

FOR SALE: Complete laboratory outfit lights, tank, printing press, one Duplex printer about 4 years old in the best of condition. Will guarantee to be perfect, $500; and one Moy printer in A 1 condition $200. Will guarantee also. Address 8926 Lorain Ave., Cleveland, O.

FOR SALE: 1500 upholstered opera chairs; price $2.50 each. 1200 veneer chairs; price $1.50 each. Good serviceable condition. Can be seen on request. Box 425, Motion Picture News, New York City.

FOR SALE: Used posters, photos, slides, banners and all other kinds of accessories on any subject — features, comedies, serials, save 60 per cent. Write for price list. Theatre Poster Supply Co. & Sign Exchange, 327 East Sixth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ten 100-ampere Kliegl Spotlights, slightly used; perfect condition. Priced low for quick turnover. Amusement Supply Co., Inc., 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

1800 Leather upholstered theatre chairs refinished, look new. Priced low for quick sale. Amusement Supply Co., Inc., 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

Business Opportunity

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY is available for a man with theatre connections to secure the local franchise in his city for back of seat theatre vending machines selling 5c rolls of high grade chocolate. A permanent income of from $1,000 to $5,000 per annum can be anticipated. Surbrug Chocolate Corporation, 12 Duane St., New York City.

Shown above are some newspaper displays which featured first run presentations of "The Magic Flame." The wide range of good mat and cut material issued by United Artists in connection with this attraction is reflected in the variety of make-up ideas. Ads shown were used by the following: Shea's Buffalo theatre, Buffalo; Stillman theatre, Cleveland; Strand, Albany; Palace, Memphis, and Globe theatre, Kansas City.

Studio Briefs

Byron Haskins has been added to Columbia's roster of directors and will megaphone several of this company's future productions.

Al Cooke and Kit Guard this week began work on "Legionnaires in Paris," which Arvid Gilstrom will direct for F B O. Virginia Sale, Louise Lorraine and John Aason are in the supporting cast.

"A Bowery Cinderella," Excellent Pictures' new production, is practically complete except for minor editing. Prints will be shipped to exchanges within a fortnight. "Back to Liberty" will follow on Excellent's producing schedule.

Lena Basquette has been engaged by First National as leading woman for Richard Barthelmess in "The Noose," now in work. Thelma Todd, Bob O'Connor and Jay Eaton are in the cast.

Julian Josephson has been signed by James Cruze to write the continuity for "The Red Mark," the John Russell story which Cruze will direct with Gustav Von Seyffertitz in the leading masculine role.

Virginia Lee Corbin, Clyde Cook, Alec B. Francis, Frances Lee and John Miljan will be May McAvoy's support in "The Little Snob," which Warner Bros. will place into work within a few days.

John Bowers and E. Alyn Warren will be Claire Windsor's leading men in "The Opening Night," her second starring vehicle for Columbia.

Rayart's "Casey Jones" will be directed by Charles J. Hunt with Ralph Lewis heading the cast. Other players will be Jason Robards, Ann Sheridan, Kate Price, Al St. John (through the courtesy of Educational) and Brooks Benedict. A popular edition of the song with ukulele accompaniment has been issued as well as a Victor record in connection with the photoplay's release.

Ford Sterling will appear in Paramount's "The Traveling Salesman," starring Richard Dix.

Burr McIntosh has been signed by Warner Bros. to act with Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic," now in production.

Camera work is progressing on "Tillie's Punctured Romance," the Paramount-Christie production. Circus sequences of the story are being filmed in a "big top." A public address system has been installed so that the director can coach the players in the farthest ends of the tent without raising his voice.

Columbia's "The Opening Night," under the direction of Edward H. Griffith, this week transferred to Laguna from the Hollywood studio. E. Alun Warren and William Welsh are the only principals in this sequence.

Bobby Vernon in "Splash Yourself," Billy Dooley in "Dizzy Sights," Jack Duffy in "Nifty Nags" and Jimmie Adams in "Swiss Movements" are hard at work on their Paramount-Christie releases for December.

Gotham this week verified reports that the leads in "The Fruit of Divorce" will be enacted by Percy Marmont and Mae Busch.

John Peters, Herbert Prior and Andre Cheron have been added to the cast of the Paramount picture, "The Legion of the Condemned," which William Wellman will direct.

Lionel Barrymore, who has a part in "Sadie Thompson," has also been cast for "Drums of Love," D. W. Griffith's production for United Artists.

George B. Seitz, Jack Holt and Dorothy Revier will bring "The Warning" a forthcoming Columbia picture, to the screen. The story has been adapted by the director from "The Silent Service," by Lillian Lucey and H. Milner Kitchen.

Pasquale Amato, Metropolitan Opera baritone, has been signed for a role in "Glorious Betsy," Warner Bros.' vehicle for Dolores Costello. Andre De Segurola, another Metropolitan singer, is also in the cast.

Hector Turnbull, who recently joined Pathe-De Mille, is scheduled to direct "Hold 'Em, Yale," starring Rod La Rocque, and "Stand and Deliver," to feature Jacqueline Logan.

Lane Chandler, who is leading man in the Paramount Western, "Open Range," has been placed under a long term contract by Paramount. He will have the male lead in Esther Ralston's "Looking For Trouble," a tentative title.

George Bunny, brother of the late John Bunny, is playing in "Breed of the Sunsets," in which Bob Steele is starring for F B O.

Columbia this week finished shooting on "Stage Kisses," which features Kenneth Harlan and Helene Chadwick. The production is now in the cutting room; it is scheduled for release in early November.

Ralph Block, associate producer at the DeMille studio, will supervise several of the important De Mille specials this season.

W. C. Fields has recovered from his fractured vertebrae, which he received several weeks ago, making his first visit back to the Paramount studio this week. He may work upon "Two Flaming Youths," on which but a few scenes remain to be taken. The comedian's next vehicle will be "Quick Lunch" and he will work again with Chester Conklin.

Robert De Lacy has been signed by F B O to direct Tom Tyler, Western star, in "When the Law Rides."

Myrna Loy, the leading player in Warner Bros.' "The Girl from Chicago," will be starred in "The City of Sin."

Gary Cooper will be leading man with Florence Vidor in the latter's "Doomsday," which is based upon the Warwick Deeping novel of the same name.

Joseph Schildkraut will play the role of a hunchbacked woodcarver in Leatrice Joy's next De Mille vehicle, "The Blue Danube," which Paul Sloane is to direct.

Nora Lane will again play opposite Fred Thomson—this time in "The Pioneer Scout." William Courtright is the only member chosen for the supporting cast of this Paramount picture.

Priscilla Bonner will star in Sterling Pictures' "Outcast Souls." Charles Delaney will be the male lead and others in the support will be Ralph Lewis, Lucy Beaumont and Tom O'Brien. "Ches" Withey is directing.

William Austin will play a comedy character in "Red Hair," Clara Bow's next vehicle for Paramount. Lloyd Corrigan and Agnes Brand Leahy are working on the script.

Robert Frazer will appear with May McAvoy in her "The Little Snob" for Warner Bros. Alec B. Francis and Virginia Lee Corbin are also in the cast.

Bernard Gracey, who was Isaac Cohen in the New York Company of "Abie's Irish Rose," has been signed by Paramount to play the same characterization in the screen version of the Anne Nichols play.

Jack Luden, Paramount school graduate, has joined the Paramount company making "Under the Tonto Rim." Guy Oliver will also have a part. The entire unit is now on location at Bishop, Cal.

Neil Neely, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, was recently given a new M-G-M contract and assigned one of the roles in "The Cossacks."

"Silk Legs" will be the title of Madge Bellamy's new picture for Fox Films which Arthur Rosson is directing from a story by Frederica Sagor. James Hall is the masculine lead and Joseph Cawthorne is prominently cast. Others in supporting parts are Maude Fulton and Margaret Seddon.

Dorothy Sebastian has replaced Vera Veronina as John Barrymore's leading lady in "Tempest," because of the illness of the Russian actress. Miss Sebastian was loaned to Feature Productions by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Priscilla Bonner will star in Sterling Pictures' "Outcast Souls." Charles Delaney is leading man and others in support will be Ralph Lewis, Lucy Beaumont and Tom O'Brien. Chet Whitney, originally assigned the direction, was taken ill the first day of production and Louis Claudet has taken his place.

Edna May will portray the feminine lead in Johnny Hines' next comedy for First National as yet untitled. She had a small part in the comedian's latest, "Home Made."

First National has acquired the motion picture rights to "Rose of Killarney," or "Killarney Rose," the song by William Davidson and Ernest R. Ball.

Formerly titled "The Dog of War," M-G-M's new vehicle for Flash, dog actor, will be known as "Under the Black Eagle." W. S. Van Dyke is directing Marceline Day, Ralph Forbes, Bert Roach and Lucien Prival.

Waldemar Young, scenarist, has been placed under a new contract by M-G-M.

Milton Sills will begin working at once on "Burning Daylight," his next picture for First National. Charles Brabin will do the directing.

David Butler is directing another picture for Fox Films, "Pigskin," adapted from James Hopper's story in the Saturday Evening Post, "Father and Son." In the film are David Rollens, Sue Carrol, Tom Elliott, Roscoe Karnes, Olin Francis, Mack Fluker, Sidney Bracy, Janet McLeod, Maxine Shelley and Betty Recklaw.

George Cooper has been cast for a role in M-G-M's "Rose-Marie." Others in the picture will be Gibson Gowland, Ralph Yearsley and Creighton Hale.

"Smith's Bargain," a new Smith Family two-reeler, was completed at the Mack Sennett studio recently under the direction of Phil Whitman. Sennett, himself, is making progress rapidly on "The Romance of a Bathing Girl."

"Balaoo," the French mystery play which Fox Films will produce, will come to the screen as "The Wizard." Richard Rosson is producing it.

Harry Edwards is directing Billy Bevan and Vernon Dent in a new comedy for Mack Sennett. Another comedy intended for Pathe release is now in the making. It is a girl comedy the cast of which is made up of Daphne Pollard, Carolle Lombard, Irving Bacon, Andy Clyde, Jim Hallett, Edna May Cooper and Madalynne Field.

Production was started this week by Director Wallace MacDonald on "A Low Necker," the eleventh Fox comedy for the season. Marjorie Beebe and Norman Peck are featured. Arthur Millette, John Hilliard and Trixie, the horse, also have parts.

With the addition of Cesare Gravina to the cast of "The Divine Woman," casting on this Greta Garbo vehicle for M-G-M was completed this week.

The title of Tom Mix's new Western for Fox Films, produced by Gene Forde, is "$5,000 Reward." Natalie Joyce is the girl of the film and Lawford Davidson, Billy Beltcher, William Welch and Harry Cording are the other members of the cast.

Farina, one of Hal Roach's "Our Gang," will have the limelight in the gang's next comedy for M-G-M, which Robert McGowan will direct.

"Horseman of the Plains," another Tom Mix picture, has just been started by Fox Films under the direction of Ben Stoloff. Sally Blane is the star's leading lady. Hennie Conklin, Charles Byers and Lew Harvey are in the cast. Harry Sinclair Drago wrote the story.

Jimmy Finlayson and Big Boy Williams have joined the cast of First National's "Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath," which Eddie Cline is directing.

Ludwig Berger arrived in Hollywood this week to begin preparations for filming "Don't Marry," a Fox Films production. Rudolph Bamberger accompanied him. Lois Moran has been tentatively chosen for the role of heroine. "Don't Marry" may have a Movietone sequence.

Gene Morgan, comedian and orchestra leader, is now working on his first screen assignment in a new Max Davidson comedy which Hal Roach is producing for M-G-M. Martha Sleeper has the feminine lead.

"Wild Puppies," scheduled for release on December 4th, was not long ago completed on the Fox Films lot under the direction of Clude Carruth. Allen Chan, Joe Allen, Dick Good, Wayne LaFever, Laon Raymond, Albert Schaeffer, Leon Holmes, Philip Trevaol, Rusty Talbot and Jackie McHugh are in the large cast.

James Murray has been selected for the romantic lead in Lon Chaney's new vehicle for M-G-M entitled "The Big City." He will also play opposite Joan Crawford in "Rose-Marie."

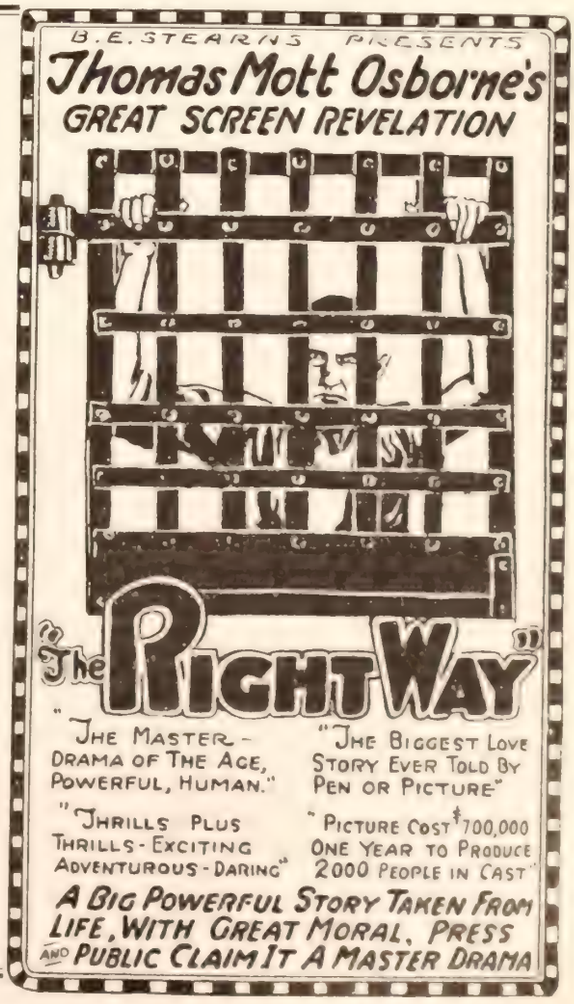
WARNING

Exhibitors Please Take Notice

We are taking necessary action to rigidly prosecute certain individuals who are unlawfully booking and exhibiting "THE RIGHT WAY", a re-issue.

We will announce in a short time a list of reliable exchanges thru which you can book this master production.

World Rights are controlled exclusively by



B. E. STEARNS

723 Seventh Avenue New York City

With whom you may communicate direct for further information.

Portsmouth Film Corp.

Wm. J. Riley, Mgr.

"Rest Day"
(Educational—One Reel)

MONTE COLLINS, the new comedian, makes another appearance in a Cameo comedy which Jules White directed. Plenty of laughs are on hand for those viewing it. The star has quite a comical face; he works with vim and vigor—and he clicks. For all we know, Educational may have another Billy Dooley in this comedian. He looks good now—in his raw and green state—and, naturally, we can expect him to improve as he appears in more and more comedies. His latest, "Rest Day," is a good one-reeler.

Monte is living all alone in his house as his wife is away visiting her mother. While trying to get a bottle of milk on the front door steps the door shuts, leaving poor Monte outside in his night shirt. Coincidental with Monte's predicament is the furor at a nearby sanitarium where one of the loony inmates has escaped. He, too, wears a white night shirt and so, unwittingly, Monty is led into all sorts of trouble when people mistake him for the escaped lunatic.

There's a lot of action in the comedy and Monte is always kept moving. We would call it a satisfactory little number and advise all to watch Collins.—RAYMOND GANLY.

"Swell Clothes"
(Universal—One Reel)

IF this drug store cowboy series featuring Arthur Lake could have stories as uniformly good as this one, it would be an even more popular series than it is now. This is a typical kid tale and refreshing in the youthfulness of its action. Arthur feels the humiliation of the lack of a dress suit when he is invited to Mary Nash's party. It is particularly embarrassing when his rival, Billy Fox, is always so nattily attired.

Arthur overcomes the obstacle temporarily when he is asked to take the tuxedo of a man twice his size, to be pressed. He dons the suit for the party and has great trouble keeping the trousers up. Billy Fox tips off the real owner of the suit that Arthur is wearing it and the owner puts in an appearance at the party. Arthur is completely embarrassed when the suit is taken from him, but he evens the score with Billy Fox, when after a scuffle he takes the latter's suit, makes a hit with Mary and sics the dog on Billy—CHESTER J. SMITH.

"Felix the Cat in Daze and Knights"
(Educational—One Reel)

NO ONE envies an empty stomach. Though one might feel philosophical about it, the gnawing pangs of hunger are not any too pleasant. Felix is in a sorry plight throughout the length of this, his latest excursion into the realms of adventure. In much the same manner of Twain's 'Yankee' the Sullivan cat rolls back the curtain of the past and enters a medieval world to him strange and foreign with its armored knights, turreted castles and other surroundings that baffle his understanding.

Felix is hungry, his counteance sad and forlorn. It seems as if food and he must ever have difficulties in coming together. There is nothing in the prospect to brighten his feelings or to make him do his little dance of joy. And so it was the most natural thing in the world for him to think that in the big mansion there would be at least a morsel for him. Ignominiously branded "Alley Cat!" and hurriedly ejected with accompanying bootings by the butler the dazed and dizzy cat can see nothing but a suit of armor—the object which he last saw before departing upon his fantastic dream.

A dream lasts but an instant, it is said, but in that mesmeric state the dreamer is the central figure of events whose passing seem to take much longer than that period of time. So it was with Felix. All sorts of unexpected happenings occur: he is chased by a suit of armor; he helps a pursued knight escape a company of lancers; he defends a castle from an army storming the draw-bridge. For this latter act of heroism the key to the royal kitchen is bestowed upon the eager cat, who licks his chops in expectation. But it is here that the dream ends and the cat realizes that all the time he has been in the big house and the angry butler is still pursuing him.

It's a novel idea and this cartoon is well up to the high standard of its predecessors.—RAYMOND GANLY.

"Do Detectives Think?"
(Roach-Pathe—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

DETECTIVES evidently do not think, if they are to be judged by this two-reeler, which offers them in anything but the light of thinkers. Not only do they not think, but they are totally lacking in nerve, which, however, serves for comedy purposes and serves fairly well in this instance. The cast is a good one, made up of Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, James Finlayson, Viola Richard and Noah Young. Fred Guiol directed.

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy are the detectives assigned to the home of the judge in whose court "The Slasher" has been found guilty of murder. Before making his escape, "the slasher" threatens that if he ever does he will cut the throat of the judge. He is next seen in the role of butler in the home of the judge and armed with a wicked looking knife. The detectives eventually discover that he is their man and they are immediately thrown into a panic. After a number of comical antics and situations Stan Laurel makes the capture by locking "the slasher" in a closet. With the assistance of the rest of the police department he is landed safely back in jail.

"Red Hot Bullets"
(Educational—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THIS Mermaid comedy offers a fair supply of laughs. Directed by Stephen Roberts it has such funsters as George Davis and Eddie Quillan in its leading roles and as they burlesque the war one can say that the funny situations ensuing will provoke merriment as enough of slapstick is interspersed. Davis and Quillan carry on their burden of creating snickers capably; their scene in a soaring house is humorous and they are ably abetted by a negro actor.

As a preliminary to those scenes involving the great war, Eddie and George are shown joining the draft. There follow shots of Eddie getting the sergeant's goat with his drilling tactics. Here he has a chance to try his hand at what has been done so originally by Chaplin and Lane; his pantomime is fairly effective in these scenes as a dumb rookie.

Eddie, George, the sergeant and the negro private all happen to get into a French cottage at the same time and are carried aloft by a balloon whose rope has been caught inside of the house, quite by accident. This highlight of the comedy has some good gags. It is a good ending to a military comedy, which while not as classy as "Shoulder Arms" or "His Private Life" is fair as a laugh-getter.

Other players listed in the cast are J. Gordon Russell, Ray Turner, Robert Graves. We do not know who of these is the negro player; but he was very good.

"Running Wild"
(Universal—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

THERE is an atmosphere around this collegiate series that seems to fit in well with the scheme of things at this time of the year when the colleges are consuming pages of space in the daily papers with their football activities. There is nothing of a football nature in this story, but it fairly reeks of the collegian and is real refreshing entertainment.

For the most part it is just a series of college pranks with little in the way of continuity. There is an old clothes day, which is a sophomore celebration, in which any one who appears on the campus respectably dressed is soon made to look like a tramp. And the collegian is no respecter of age, for visiting fathers suffer the same treatment as under classmen.

A co-ed dance is called off because of the prevalence of poison ivy, which has unwittingly been used in the decorative scheme. So to keep matters moving at as fast a pace as possible, an inter-class auto race is arranged, and all vintages of autos used. Ed Benson, the college hero, wins over his rival, Don Trent, and his success is due to an invention of his colleague, Doc Webster. It's an exciting race, though the comedy is a trifle too much exaggerated.

"Winging Around Europe With Will Rogers"
(Pathe—One Reel)

THIS is another of the Will Rogers travel films, in which the humorist acts as guide to the audience. The tour is made by airplane among other things and should serve as splendid propaganda for what Colonel Lindbergh is advocating—the establishment of adequate airdromes in the United States.

Pictorially the shots through Switzerland and the various other European points are beautiful and would make for the success of the film without the titles written by Rogers. La Bourget and the famous air centers of Germany are shown, as well as the different types of giant planes used in the regular passenger service. The picture is both instructive and entertaining. —CHESTER J. SMITH.

"Showing Off"
(Universal—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

THE McGinnises certainly have a terrible time of it trying to keep up with the Joneses in this series of two-reelers It is, perhaps, a much easier task to keep a series of this kind more humorous in a newspaper cartoon strip than it is on the screen. The screen version needs a lot of padding and the characters are necessarily a much exaggerated type. There is only one style of comedy that can be injected, and that is knockout slap-stick stuff that oversteps the bounds of the ridiculous.

Mrs. McGinnis conceives the idea of a society theatrical benefit performance in which she is the star. The performance, of course, is a complete bust. Most of the scenery is knocked down in the course of the action, wigs slip down until they become beards, and such is the style of the comedy until the affair breaks up with a brawl between McGinnis and one of the other actors. Their fight takes them to all parts of the theatre, to the complete routing of the society audience, and Mrs. McGinnis has again proven a bust in her society aspirations. The follower of the comic strip may appreciate the full value of this type of humor.

Quality Street

A Class Picture In Every Way

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

THERE are not very many pictures which carry such tone and quality as Marion Davies' latest. James M. Barrie's play transferred to celluloid looms up as a work of real consequence. Ordinarily, an elusive author, his moods and whimsicalities are easily captured by the director, who has not only fashioned a beautiful production, but has also seen to it that the characters are genuine. The idea is slender—one written around a most tender romance. But it has been embroidered with deft touches of characterization and incident so that it never gives away its slight plot. Of course, anyone dissecting the plot could easily puncture it. The mechanics of production aren't looked into when Barrie is treated well.

It's a big moment in the heroine'e life when she feels that her love for the young doctor is returned. It's the only romance she has ever known, and the manner of its treatment spells the high interest of the story. Comes a time when the young man goes off to the Napoleonic wars and the girl broods and her spirit droops. He comes back to find that much of her charm has gone. Then, realizing that she's apt to lose him, she masquerades as her niece and wins him over again. This sequence affords the star moments to flash her comedy talent, although there are other scenes which reveal that she has developed as an emotional actress.

The picture is very handsomely mounted.

The Cast: Marion Davies, Conrad Nagel, Helen Jerome Eddy, Kate Price. Director, Sidney Franklin.

THEME: Romance of young couple who become separated and reunited after many misunderstandings and playful intrigues.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Settings, costumes, detail and lighting. Scene when heroine is shocked to discover her sweetheart hasn't former affection for her. By-play in masquerade episodes. Acting. Charm of production. Direction.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Play up title, author, star and director. Bill as extra-fine production. Play up romantic flavor, etc.

Produced by Cosmopolitan. Distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Length, six reels. Released, November, 1927.

Flying Luck

Monty Banks' New Comedy Not So Good

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THOUGH through its employment of aviation gags it displays an up-to-the-minuteness, Monty Banks' latest starring effort does not shape up as funny a comedy as certain of his previous vehicles. Several effective comedy ideas are placed here and there (more in the middle than anywhere else) but they do not relieve the impression of weakness one receives after the six reels are looked over in retrospect. This weakness, certainly comedy constructors and players; these latter will elicit much laughter, no doubt, but to our way of thinking not as good a job as was don in "Horse Shoes" has been done in this newer piece.

The story does not unravel nicely and build concretely towards its climax—an air meet—rather it appears as if while journeying towards this highlight they sprinkle humor too liberally throughout the plot development so that the middle portion is more worthwhile as comedy than its climax where the "grand finales" are generally staged. But perhaps this is all for the better. You can count on them laughing at quite a few of its scenes.

Monty plays with an irrepressible and facile touch.

The Cast: Monty Banks, Jean Arthur, John W. Johnstone, "Kewpie" Morgan, Eddy Chandler, Silver Harr. Director, Herman Raymaker.

THEME: Young recruit, desiring to become a "Lindbergh," joins army and is made the goat at training camp. He knows nothing about flying, but by accident enters an air meet between army and navy and wins for his division. He restores himself to the good graces of his commander, whose daughter he wins.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Training camp sequences. Scene in the bus and Monty's arrival at camp. Conflict between Monty and the sergeant.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Feature star's name and make use of airplane cut outs and lobby displays.

DRAWING POWER: Will go over in the smaller houses.

Produced by Monty Banks. Distributed by Pathe. Released, November 13th, 1927. Length, 6,400 feet.

Uncle Tom's Cabin

Calculated to Please Most Any Type of Fan

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

THE old perennial stage favorite takes celluloid form and turns out very well. The expenditure of money has not been wasted in considering the flavor of ante-bellum days of the South which saturates the picture.

The picture has been in the making well over a year—and the director has certainly been painstaking in giving it an authentic value. His plantation scenes, the river setting, the interiors, the backgrounds all through—these are in place. No attempt has been made to touch it up with camera angles and camera tricks. It simply tells its story—and tells it in a straight-forward manner. If the director errs at all it is in not giving enough emphasis to Uncle Tom (the dominant figure, naturally), and giving too much emphasis to the character of Eliza—and some secondary characters.

Mrs. Stowe wrote the story for a nation steeped in sentiment. And Mr. Pollard directs to please the masses. It should be a box-office picture in Northern communities and, if the South has forgotten Sherman's march, it, too, will probably accept it.

The Cast: James Lowe, Margarita Fischer, George Seigmann, Lucien Littlefield, Eulalie Jensen, Arthur Edmund Carew, Jack Mower, Vivian Oakland, J. Gordon Russell, Mona Ray, Aileen Manning, John Roche, Gertrude Astor, Francis Ford, Virginia Grey. Director, Harry Pollard.

THEME: Drama of Old South of slavery days.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Picturesque settings. Human interest. characterizations. Eliza crossing ice, death of Little Eva, flogging of Uncle Tom, death of Tom, rescue of Eliza. Settings, etc.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Play up author and feature as lavish screen version of celebrated story. Play up cast, featuring Negro actor in title role. Bill as spectacular production.

DRAWING POWER: Should draw in all Northern communities. How Southerners react to it depends upon ages of patrons. Younger generation should respond.

Produced and distributed by Universal. Length, 12 reels. Released, November, 1927.

The Romantic Age

Only Fair at the Box Office

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE triangle—two brothers and a girl—is played up in a conventional way in this costarring vehicle for Alberta Vaughn and Eugene O'Brien. It is not a very strong production. As a matter of fact it wobbles so badly that a fire climax has been introduced to give it impetus and punch. It needs something more forcible and substantial than the heroine's girlish vivaciousness and the hero's expressions of manly regret to stand on. O'Brien is just a type, if there ever was one, in his role of the elder brother who would sacrifice his love, thinking that the girl really cares for his younger brother. Miss Vaughn, in her role of the coquettish Miss, gives an interpretation of a "dizzy" personality that has little depth. There are no finely drawn characterizations and the work of the principals strikes us as being decidedly mediocre. Stanley Taylor, as the younger chap, makes his role more convincing than any of the others.

Dorothy Howell's story concerns the trials and tribulations of the heart. In it O'Brien is guardian and business manager of Miss Vaughn, a gay soul rarely serious but always "on the go." These two are engaged and plan to marry soon and, in all probability, they would have done just that if Taylor had not arrived on the scene and, with subtle villainy, begun to steal the girl away from his brother. Misunderstandings arise and are stretched out the length of the picture until the scene where O'Brien braves the factory fire to rescue the girl's fortune in bonds.

The Cast: Alberta Vaughn, Eugene O'Brien, Stanley Taylor, Bert Woodruff. Director, Robert Florey.

THEME: Drama of two brothers who love the same girl.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: The fire sequence. The various incidents in which the elder chap thinks he sees his girl succumbing to the appeal of his brother.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: See the press book.

DRAWING POWER: We can see this going into a double feature bill as it is not so good alone.

Produced and distributed by Columbia Pictures. Length, 5,267 feet. Released, June, 1927.

The Prairie King

Pleasing Western Has Smooth Action and Comedy

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

HOOT GIBSON, Universal's hard-riding Western star, does his stuff convincingly in this Jewel, which B. Reaves Eason directed. The picture, as a type of Western entertainment, shapes up nicely to our way of looking at it as it has about everything generally seen in the action dramas of the wide open spaces. A good story without any setbacks or strayings into deterring bypaths of plot, with a goodly assortment of plots and comedy, it is one of the best of the popular Hoot's many vehicles.

The story is all about a mine which was left to Hoot, Barbara Worth and Albert Priscoe, the latter a villainous cad who tries to steal the mine from the other two. He almost succeeds in filching the girl and putting Hoot permanently out of the way. But the latter is an irrepressible person who fights and makes love in a daredevil style. He even breaks down the barriers of reserve that the girl has thrown up, thinking that he, too, is a crook. The climax of the piece is the race to town from the mine by the three all anxious to file a claim on the mine ahead of the others.

The story is full of action, as you can see. This is true especially of the last reel or so where Hoot, at the door of the attorney's office, holds this post against the many men employed by the villain.

The Cast: Hoot Gibson, Barbara Worth, Albert Priscoe, Charles Sellon, Rosa Gore, Sidney Jarvis, George Periolat. Directed by Reaves Eason from story by Wm. W. Cook.

THEME: Western drama of attempts of three people to obtain mine. Two of them, a cowboy and a girl, work together and defeat the schemes of the third party, who wants the mine for himself.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Action performed by star. Comedy of Rosa Gore and Sellon. Miss Worth's good looks. The knife duel.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: See press book for a variety of hints.

DRAWING POWER: Should please fans who care for Westerns. For neighborhood and type of consumers.

Produced and distributed by Universal. Length, 5,685 feet. Released, May, 1927.

The Devil's Saddle

Horsemanship and Scenery Boost Up Story

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

KEN MAYNARD Western is generally superior to the average outdoor action drama. This latest of the fast-riding Ken's, while not as good as some of his others, contains enough action throughout its complicated story to compensate for any shortcomings you may find here and there.

The hero is a wild youth, a devil-may-care sort of fellow, who is accused of murder. The picture is handicapped to a certain extent in the telling of this murder and its results. A labyrinthic maze is delved into which retards the smoothness of the sequences. Consequently the ordinary observer is apt to forget some of the preceding events, the twists in the story, and become muddle-headed before the denouement. Disregarding the story, the comedy supplied by Paul Hurst as a tobacco-spitting friend of the hero seems to fall flat. The romance between Maynard and Kathleen Collins is negligible. That old veteran, Francis Ford, and Will Walling, as the villain and Maynard's sheriff father respectively, do the best work in the production. Of course, Maynard's forte is riding, fighting and other actionful episodes.

At the box office, however, Ken goes over with a bang.

The Cast: Ken Maynard, Kathleen Collins, Earl Metcalfe, Paul Hurst, Will Walling, Tom Bay, Francis Ford. Director, Albert Rogell.

THEME: Sheriff's son accused of Indian's murder has narrow escapes from the noose and is the cause of war between whites and Indians. However, he captures the real murderer and clears his name besides that of his father, who had promised the redskins that the murder of their brave would be avenged.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: The action. The team of Maynard and Tarzan. Ford's good work. Scene where Indians attack whites' stronghold.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Exploit Indian atmosphere as the Hopi Reservation was used for the production. Play up star and his horse.

DRAWING POWER: Good.

Produced by Charles R. Rogers. Distributed by First National. Released July 10th, 1927. Footage 5,430 feet.

The Girl in the Pullman

Sparkles with Farcical Situations

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

IT requires a train wreck to jolt into a happy conclusion this tangle of love and divorce, which fairly sparkles with farcical situations and action. It has about all the necessary ingredients for a successful box-office attraction. While it is a trifle illogical in some of its situations, those can readily be overlooked in the rush of action.

Marie Prevost makes a very petite and charming divorcee. Though she is a little too coy in spots one wonders why Harrison Ford should ever want to divorce her in the first place nor is he blamed when she wins him back as the runaway Pullman car catches up with itself in a crash.

Harrison Ford is Dr. Donald Burton, nerve specialist, who in the end needs more attention himself than do most of his patients. Awaiting a final divorce decree so that he might marry Kathryn McGuire, who is Dollie Jones, because her mother wishes it, he is vamped by his divorced wife until she makes him like it.

There are complications galore as the story progresses, with the action laid in a Pullman car. Ford is apprised of the fact that he has re-wed one day before his final divorce decree is due and that therefore his marriage is illegal. His ex-wife has inveigled her lawyer, a married man, to accompany on the Pullman, though there is no stateroom available but hers. It is comparatively easy to imagine the humorous situations that might arise. Harry Myers as the sociable inebriate does a splendid bit of work.

The Cast: Marie Prevost, Harrison Ford, Franklin Pangborn, Kathryn McGuire, Ethel Wales, Harry Myers.

THEME: Farce in which young nerve specialist, waiting a final decree of divorce is persuaded by a doting mother to marry her daughter. He does so a day before his final decree is due, but the love tangle is straightened out as the runaway Pullman car is wrecked.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: The swimming pool sequences. The runaway Pullman. The fast action. The splendid comedy situations.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: See press sheet.

DRAWING POWER: Should go well in nearly any type of house.

Produced by De Mille Pictures Corp. Distributed by Pathe. Length, 867 feet. Released, Oct. 30, 1927.

Women's Wares

"Names" Will Help This One

(Reviewed by E. G. Johnston)

THERE are two elements in the making of this picture which will help sell it to the public: the strong cast (although some are seen for but few feet), and the romantic and fashion shop angles which carry feminine appeal. Aside from these virtues, it's a slow-moving drama not titled any too well, bearing the ear marks of another instance where the producers have hired a lot of "names" in order to put it over. Evelyn Brent's work, with that of Bert Lytell's second, stands out as the best. Gertrude Short tries hard to introduce a touch of comedy. The photography is fair. The rest of the cast are alright, but you don't see much of them. There are several risque situations.

Miss Brent has the role of a much too innocent shop girl who, after being disillusioned in her first love affair, "hates all men," and successfully pursues the career of a gold-digger. She receives much and gives nothing until she meets a man much more wise than she. All her little tricks, gained after her graduation from a glove counter to model in a fashion shop, turn out for naught. After a particularly turbulent affair in her luxurious apartment she runs out in the rain, finds her first love destitute on a park bench, and leads him back to her home. In the meantime, the last heavy lover, with a change of heart, returns to offer marriage, only to find the other man is comfortably installed. She marries the latter.

The Cast: Evelyn Brent, Bert Lytell, Larry Kent, Gertrude Tucker, Myrtle Stedman, Cissy Fitzgerald, Sylvia Ashton, Gino Corrado, Robert Bolder, Stanhope Wheatcroft and James Mack. Directed by Arthur Gregor. Story by E. Morton Hough.

THEME: Romantic melodrama of shopgirl who, disappointed in first love affair, turns into a most successful gold-digger. She finally reaches her limit and, after rescuing her first love from park bench, marries him.

PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS: Work of principals stands out as best bet of this picture.

EXPLOITATION ANGLES: Prominent cast and women's wear tie-up. Lobby display of latter.

DRAWING POWER: 2d and 3d run neighborhood trade.

Length, 5,614 feet. Released, Oct. 15, 1927. Produced and distributed by Tiffany Productions.

Regional News from Correspondents

Seattle

H. C. BORGER, Western sales manager of Tiffany Productions, was a visitor in this city last week, spending several days with Manager D. C. Millward and the local sales staff. Seattle and Portland territories are now both under the sales direction of Mr. Millward.

Cigars were the principal order of business on Film Row recently as a result of the arrival of a society editor for the Motion Picture Record, local film journal. The little lady, infant daughter of Clyde Walker, publisher, and Mrs. Walker, bids fair to become Seattle's leading film editress, according to the parents.

Another new arrival, this time among the ranks of the exhibitors, was the baby boy born to Mr. and Mrs. M. Boravic, operators of the Liberty in Puyallup, Washington. Both mother and son are progressing nicely.

Reports received from Roseburg, Oregon, last week, indicated that George Hunt has purchased the interests of Mr. Gross in the Liberty Theatre in that city. This is the latest addition to Mr. Hunt's rapidly growing chain that now includes Medford and Grant's Pass. A remodeling is promised for the Liberty patrons.

H. W. Peters, special sales representative for Pathe, whose headquarters are in Los Angeles, spent a short time here last week with Manager L. A. Samuelson and the local sales representatives.

John Danz, owner and operator of a string of downtown second run houses, last week moved his executive offices and private headquarters into enlarged space in the Palace Hip theatre from the former space in the Capitol Theatre. Roy Cooper, manager of the Capitol and assistant to Mr. Danz, also will occupy new quarters in the Palace Hip.

Major Fullerton, publicity specialist of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for the Pacific Coast territory, arrived here last week for a visit with Manager Ben Fish. During his stay here he received a "hurry up" call from District Manager "Sheriff" Hickey to return to Los Angeles and sponsor a campaign on a new extended run, so hastily left the Northwest with the promise to return within a couple of months.

Dissolution of the firm of Ives and Ruth in Mount Vernon, Washington, was reported on Film Row last week. Walto Ives, according to the reports, will retain the ownership and operation of the large Lincoln Theatre, and O. O. Ruth will take over the Rex Theatre.

Howard J. Sheehan, Western district manager for Fox, spent a short time at the local exchange last week with Manager George Ballentine, discussing Northwest sales matters.

The Pacific Northwest last week received a visit from a German film producer in the person of Dietrich W. Dreyer, owner of the Doring Film Works in Hanover, Germany. Mr. Dreyer was in this territory in the interests of the North German Lloyd Shipping Company, and took a number of reels of film during his stay here.

Watson Mitchell, brother-in-law of L. O. Lukan, Western division manager of First National, arrived in town last week for a brief visit, en route from California.

Albert Finkelstein, former executive with West Coast Theatres, and now associated with Al Rosenberg in the De Luxe Theatre Corporation, has sold his interest in the Avalon theatre in Bellingham, Washington, to his associate and partner, E. P. Mathis. Mr. Finkelstein will now devote his entire time to the management and buying for the Neptune, Egyptian, Uptown and Lakeside Theatres in the new De Luxe chain.

The annual meeting of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Washington, scheduled to be held in Seattle on November 8, has been postponed until November 15, according to announcement from Robert W. Bender, president. A magnificent Theatrical Pot Pourri is being planned for the delegates and members attending.

Jack Bower, First National manager in the Washington territory, has just treated the Film Row magnates to a glimpse of a new Hudson car, and is making plans to establish his home permanently in Seattle.

The new Masonic Theatre in Tacoma, Washington, to be operated as a first run picture house, under the direction of Calvin S. Heilig, Portland theatre magnate, was scheduled to be opened the latter part of October, according to reports on Film Row. This will add one more to the three first run houses now in that city.

H. L. Kays and K. G. Paulos have recently incorporated the Cascade Theatre Company of Seattle, and are now operating the Olympic Theatre, built more than a year ago, but closed for the last several months. The Olympic is on Eighth Avenue, between Pike and Pine Streets, and is just a block from the site of the new Publix 3,200-seat house soon to be opened.

Fred McCracken, former sales representative with Paramount and United Artists in both Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, arrived here last week and has joined the local Pathe sales staff, working under direction of Manager L. A. Samuelson.

A. J. Kennedy, exploiteer for First National in the Pacific Northwest, left his local office last week for Portland and Eugene, where he is putting on a campaign on some of the big F. N. releases during November.

Word was received last week from Spirit Lake, Idaho, to the effect that V. L. Nibler has taken over the operation of the Cozy Theatre in that town from W. E. Jackman.

A. O. Jones, spending a short time on Film Row last week, announced that he will soon reopen his Grand Theatre at Burlington, Washington, with first run pictures and a Magnola (musical instrument) installation.

South East

E. A. Booth has filed application with the county clerk at Knoxville for a charter which will consolidate his several theatres in various Tennessee towns. The new corporation will be known as Booth Enterprises,Inc., and is capitalized at $150,000.

The address is given as 400½ East Tennessee National Bank Building, and the incorporators are E. A. Booth, C. S. Jones, E. M. Everette, W. P. Washburn and Harvey S. Hyman.

R. T. Hill, for many years a Tennessee exhibitor in this section, has taken over two new theatre enterprises—the Oldham Theatre, formerly operated by Cowan Oldham at McMinnville, Tenn., and the Rivoli Theatre, formerly operated by George Oldham at Winchester, Tenn. Mr. Hill is to assume management of the newly-acquired theatres in the 14th of November.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Miles, of the Eminence Theatre, Eminence, Ky., visited Springfield, Ky., last week.

The Blue Diamond Coal Company has taken over the Y. M. C. A. theatre at Eagan, Tenn., and Westbourne, Tenn. L. C. Idol is manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Pattie, of the Grand Theatre, Frankfort, Ky., were visitors in Louisville last week.

Due to infantile paralysis the theatres at Lexington, Ky., will remain closed for an indefinite period.

R. L. Overstreet, of the Lyric Theatre at Springfield, Ky., was in Louisville last week.

J. Mitchell Jones has sold the Jones Theatre at Lafayette, Tenn., to Mrs. Idel Stephens.

Dr. P. O. Lewis, of the Palace Theatre, Evarts, Ky., is ill with la grippe.

J. M. Derrington, of the Keystone at Adams, Tenn., has leased the theatre at Portland, Tenn.

John Long, exhibitor at Earlington, Ky., was a visitor in Madisonville, Ky., last week.

The Times Theatre, Fullerton, Ky., has been closed indefinitely, and the Empress Theatre at Pikeville, Tenn., is running only one day a week.

The Capitol Theatre at Martin, Tenn., has changed hands, B. M. Herron being the new owner.

The Raceland Theatre at Chinnville, Ky., is closed temporarily for repairs.

The Grand Theatre at Grayson, Ky., formerly operated by M. D. McAllister, has been taken over by W. S. Phillips.

P. B. Agner, master booker for Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer, New York City, spent several days in the Charlotte office, arranging short subject bookings.

R. B. Wilbanks, manager of the Charlotte Paramount exchange, returned last Wednesday morning from Chicago, where he attended the semi-annual sales convention.

Miss Catherine Brown, formerly contract clerk for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is now affiliated with Pathe exchange as billing clerk, succeeding Miss Ruby Nance.

Claud Webb, owner Webb's Theatre, Shelby, N. C., and J. E. Webb, of the Imperial Theatre, Kings Mountain, N. C., were in Charlotte recently.

Walter Griffith, of the Horlacher Delivery Service, and Mrs. Griffith, together with D. M. Eaves, owner Eaves Circuit in South Carolina, and H. J. Paradis, owner of circuit of theatres in Eastern North Carolina, left last Tuesday for a week's trip to New York City.

Louis Mitchell, owner Amuzu Theatre, Elkin, N. C., visited Film Row last Tuesday.

J. C. Wells, owner of the Playhouse Theatre, Bennetsville, S. C., was in Charlotte Wednesday.

O. R. Browne, of Aranson & Browne, Raleigh, N. C., recently made a flying trip to Charlotte.

Geo. Stevenson, manager, Carolina Theatre, Burlington, N. C., was seen on Film Row last Tuesday and Wednesday.

J. E. Simpson, owner of the Lyric and Ideal Theatres, Gastonia, N. C., was recently in Charlotte.

Des Moines

YOUNGCLASS AND LATTA are trying out the sentiment in Perry, Ia., as to the opening of the Sunday shows there. The feeling aroused has been mounting to greater heights than was at first anticipated and the contest, it seems, will be an interesting one.

Youngclass and Latta, who have the Rex Theatre at Perry and also the opposition house which they recently purchased but do not plan to operate until spring, have secured signatures from 90 per cent of the business men of Perry asking for an election to decide upon the Sunday show question. Leaders of the churches have all taken a stand against the Sunday shows and the petition presented by the theatre men as indicating the strong turn of public opinion for Sunday shows is declared by the opponents of the Sunday show to bear no weight. Youngclass and Latta are circulating petitions among the townspeople to secure their backing of the measure. Although some time ago on a bitter battle the Sunday shows went down to defeat in Perry, the opinion is that a new election would result differently.

Lou Elman, salesman for First National, is now on a short leave of absence.

The theatre at Hedrick, Ia., which has been under the management of W. M. Jinks, changed hands last week. O. J. Lapp, who used to be the exhibitor at Early, Ia., has bought the Hedrick theatre. Mr. Lapp took possession on November 1.

The West Coast Theatre Company has equipped the theatres at Cedar Rapids and Clinton with spotlights. It is the intention to try out vaudeville at these houses in conjunction with motion pictures. These houses, which were recently taken over by the West Coast Theatres Company, were originally houses of the Alexander Frank chain.

Earl Meyers, salesman for Educational, suffered an accident when he entered the darkened theatre with the exhibitor at Corning, one morning last week. Mr. Meyers fell through a trap door and broke his ankle. He is now cheerfully hobbling about on crutches. The theatre at Corning is the American.

Reverend Shaffer, who has charge of the motion picture show at Harper, Ia., recently bought some new equipment for the theatre there. Two rebuilt Simplex machines equipped with Mazda units were purchased from the National Theatre Supply Company at the Des Moines office and also a new screen.

Lionel Wasson, who has been doing the publicity for the Blank-Publix houses in Iowa since the beginning of the Publix Shows in this territory, has been transferred to Waterloo to work upon the opening of the new theatre there. The theatre is to be christened the Riviera and will open about Christmas time. Although no announcement has been made as to who will have the management of the Riviera there is a strong probability that Mr. Wasson may be appointed to this place.

The new theatre at Jefferson, Ia., which is about ready for opening, was recently equipped with a silver sheet screen. The theatre is opposition to the house operated by Waller and Michael.

Changes of ownership of Iowa theatres seemed to have come to a check in the last month. For a time theatres were changing hands quite rapidly but there has been nothing moving in this market recently. There has been some comment that this was a favorable sign as even the theatres which seem to be the trade bugaboos, the houses which change hands every few weeks, have been going along under the same management, and apparently making good money. Conditions in Iowa are judged to be slowly improving in general, with most optimistic reports on the coming season.

The Capitol Theatre in Des Moines will settle shortly a question which arises with the new stage policy which was inaugurated by Publix Shows six months ago. The stage and show with the personality man who stays on at one theatre for a period of time while the personnel of the show itself changing each week has brought about the question as to whether it is the new jazz program which has resulted in the popularity of this stage policy or whether it is the personality of the "Personality Man" which has been the winner of public favor. Jimmy Ellard, who has been in Des Moines since the beginning of this new stage policy here, and has undoubtedly made a tremendous hit, is to be transferred to Omaha. The man to be assigned to the Des Moines stage has not yet been announced. Mr. Ellard will take his farewell bows within a few weeks.

Herb Grove, manager of the Des Moines theatre, Des Moines, has found very successful his policy of co-operation with Younkers Brothers, one of the leading dry goods houses, in putting over his shows.

Harry Watts, manager of the Capitol theatre, Des Moines, is now absent on a two weeks' vacation.

Des Moines finished toward the head of the list in the national drive being made by Firt National in the McGuirk sales contest. Cleveland, Des Moines and Albany were the three exchanges with the highest rating, while Des Moines stood at the head of the list for the contest in the Western district. This district is second in the national race.

John Kennebec, who was one of the popular members of the staff of Famous Players when he handled the publicity here several years ago, is now visiting at his home, accompanied by Mrs. Kennebec and Johnnie, Jr. Mr. Kennebec had charge of the publicity for all the exchanges of Paramount in Australia.

Minneapolis

THEODORE HAYS, general manager for Finklestein and Ruben, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his entrance into the theatrical profession on the last day of October. Mr. Hays, with W. E. Sterling, leased the old Peoples' theatre on Oct. 31, 1887. This theater, which had been built by Mr. Hays' father, Lambert Hays, was later renamed Bijou and passed to the management of Jacob Litt in 1890, with Theodore Hays as treasurer.

Later Mr. Hays became manager of the Bijou and then resident manager for the company owning the Bijou and the Grand Opera House in St. Paul. His association with Finkelstein and Ruben dates from 1917 when he became manager of their Garrick theater in St. Paul.

William Berg, W. R. Nelson and Samuel Hoffman, all of Minneapolis, have filed articles of incorporation for a $200,000 theatrical and amusement enterprise in Minneapolis. The incorporators intend to operate theater and other amusement enterprises. The company is called the Granada Amusement Company.

The New Broadway theater at Albert Lea, Minn., which has been completely remodeled and re-equipped, was opened the latter part of October. An audience of nearly 4,000 attended the four opening performances, at which a varied program of pictures and musical selections were offered. The theater is owned by the Albert Lea Amusement Company, which is a subsidiary of the American Amusement Company, affiliated with F. & R.

The city council of Minneapolis will be obliged to grant a license to D. W. Onan for the erection of a building in the Gateway district, according to the decision of the district court recently. Onan was originally granted a license and a building permit was issued him after plans and specifications were drawn. Theater owners in the district complained that the Gateway section was already overseated and the council rescinded the license. Onan took the case to court to compel the council to grant the license.

The theater prices and schedules in Rochester, Minn., have undergone various changes since the opening last month of F & R's new Chateau Dodge. The Chateau will have a change of pictures on Saturday, Monday, Thursday and Saturday with vaudeville on Saturdays. Road shows will be presented and occasional stage presentations. Prices are 50 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

The Lawler will now charge 25 cents and 10 cents and will present road show pictures. The Empress will sometimes show second run feature pictures and admission will be reduced to 15 cents.

Recent visitors in Minneapolis were Al Lichtman, vice-president and general manager of the United Artists corporation, and Harvey Day, representative of Kinograms, Educational's news weekly.

Harold Johnson, traveling representative for the Minneapolis Educational office, has returned to the city from a short vacation.

W. H. Black will soon take possession of the theater at Bayport, Minn., which he leased recently. The building is being repaired and redecorated.

The Grand theater at New Ulm, Minn., will be taken over by J. W. Dodge when the present lease expires on March 1, 1928.

The general construction contract for the McCarthy Bros. new $87,000 theater at Moorhead, Minn., has been let. Work will start immediately and the contract calls for completion by January 15.

The State Theater corporation of White Bear, Minn., is headed by Mrs. R. P. Jensen. The authorized capitalization is $100,000 and it is expected that the new theater will be ready for use by spring.

Harry Johns has taken over the Legion theater at Whitewood, S.D.

W. E. Dickson is remodeling a building in Lemmon, S. D., preparatory to installing theater equipment. The new theater will open this month.

Charles Winchell, who is with the F & R St. Paul publicity department, was married October 23 to Miss Patricia Benish of St. Paul.

Some of the smaller town newspapers in Minnesota are carrying on an editorial exchange of ideas on the Sunday show. Although there is about an even division of opinion on the subject the Sunday show seems to be the winner as many of those who are opposed to shows on Sunday feel that the towns should do the same as those nearby in order to keep the people and the money at home.

Salt Lake City

AFTER having left here a short time ago for the purpose of attending the Paramount District and Branch Managers Convention at Chicago, Louis Marcus, well-known head of the Louis Marcus Enterprises throughout this territory, is now spending some time in New York City relative to business matters in connection with his houses.

The Victory Theatre, under the management of Ray Hendry, which experienced a change of policy a few days ago and has been since offering Ackerman Harris vaudeville in addition to the picture program, is to go back to the straight picture and musical program commencing November 18th, according to George E. Carpenter, secretary of the Louis Marcus Enterprises.

Carpenter also states that the Fanchon & Marco stage presentations, which are featured at the Capitol Theatre, of which he is manager, are going over in an especially good manner.

The Hub Theatre, a second and third run house here, operated by The Theatres Operating Company, attracted unusual attention to their picture presentation a few days ago by having Cheyenne Keiser, a rider from Arizona, perform.

Manager O. Wog of the Paramount exchange here, is on his way back to the office after having been in attendance at the Paramount convention in Chicago.

After having spent some time in the Salt Lake DeLuxe exchange, Fred Brown, manager of the Denver DeLuxe office, is making the territory with T. J. Drucker of the local exchange.

Seth D. Perkins, district manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is visiting the Sale Lake office from Denver.

It is expected that Russell Egner, special home office representative for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who has been in this city for some time, will leave this week for Denver.

Hal Elias, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exploiteer, is leaving for the territory again soon. Manager L. C. Wingham will also be leaving for a sales trip within a few days.

The happy expectations of Jack Connors, salesman for Pathe here, have just been realized and he is the proud father of a ten and a half pound "son."

Manager A. O'Keefe of the local Pathe exchange, is in Idaho for a brief stay, it is reported.

Division Manager Don S. Mitchell of the Universal Pictures Corporation, is at the Salt Lake exchange for a few days.

John Rugar of the Egyptian, Orpheum and American Theatres of Park City, Utah, was lining up some of the newer releases here last week.

The Associated First National force seems to feel that some kind of a jinx must have been on them during the past week regarding auto accidents. Since the accident last week in which a tire blew out on Vete Stewart's car, turning the car over three times, and fortunately allowing himself and Dave Farquhar to escape through the wind shield with only cuts and bruises, Sales Representative Jack Harrington of the Montana territory was crowded off the road at Bozeman and his Nash sedan was completely wrecked, it is announced here. Harrington has traded the Nash in for a Hudson since the accident.

J. H. Miller, owner of the Cameo Theatre at American Fork, Utah, is visiting Film Row here for a few days, as is George Lindsey of the Star Theatres at Eureka and Payson, Utah.

W. H. Stevens, who owns and operates the Gem Theatre at Montpelier, Idaho, is among exhibitor visitors conferring with branch managers here.

A new salesman has been added to the Fox sales force here this week in the person of George L. Cloward, who was formerly associated with Warner Brothers and who resigned recently.

Traveling Auditor Tom Cleary left the local Fox office last week after having been checking over the accounts.

Special Representative Ben F. Rosenberg of the Fox organization and Branch Manager Chas. Walker returned here the latter part of last week, from the territory, immediately after which Rosenberg left for his Denver headquarters.

J. W. Simmons of the Orpheum Theatre of Oakley, Idaho, paid the local exchanges a several days' visit last week.

Tony Duvall of the Gem Theatre at Murray, Utah; J. W. Johnson of the Iris Theatre at Midvale, and George Smith of the Rialto at Magna, Utah, were also among exhibitor visitors.

J. T. Sheffield, owner of the Columbia exchanges in this city and Denver, left the Salt Lake office a few days ago, making a swing into the Wyoming territory enroute to his headquarters in Denver.

Commissioner Harmon and Louis Perry, owners of the Egyptian and Ogden, first run houses at Ogden, Utah, are in this city arranging for some of the newest productions.

Manager E. E. Harris of the Columbia exchange here, is now working in the Idaho section.

It is rumored here that Cyrus Brown of Preston, Idaho, is contemplating the erection of a beautiful new theatre on Main Street of this city.

Barney Shooker of the Shooker Film Exchange of Denver is visiting his friends in this city for a few days.

Manager Clyde H. Messinger of the Educational office is leaving again for the territory within the next week.

First prize in the National Bookers Contest, conducted by F B O, was won by Ross Bluck of the Salt Lake office, the prize being $100.00, it was announced here a few days ago.

Manager Harry Stern is in Nevada this week with his United Artists product. Johnny Dickson is still working in Montana and C. C. McDermond is now in the southern part of Utah.

District Manager Able Davis of the Tiffany Pictures Corporation recently arrived in this city after spending a few days in New York. He expects to remain at the local office for the next two weeks. Manager E. M. Gibson left a few days ago for an extended trip into Idaho.

San Francisco

BURSTING into flames at an early hour October 20th, the National Theatre, Marysville's new playhouse, was damaged to the extent of approximately $60,000 before the fire was controlled. The blaze was thought to have started from a lighted cigarette carelessly tossed in a loge section of the theatre. Believed to have smouldered all night, the fire had gained such headway when discovered at 5 o'clock the next morning that firemen experienced great difficulty in controlling the conflagration.

October 28th, the Wigwam Theatre, one of California's largest district motion picture houses and probably the best known in San Francisco, closed its doors for a complete revovation. It will reopen,, according to Manager Nat Holt, as a dramatic stock theatre without pictures. It may, however, be possible that pictures will be put in later.

R. E. Deagner has been chosen manager of the Golden State Theatre, Oakland. Deagner succeeds Smeltzer, who is now putting on special attractions for the Golden State Theatres in Oakland. Ford was formerly assistant to the manager of the Parkway Theatre.

Ad Awan, who has been managing the Parkway Theatre, Oakland, for the past 60 days, has introduced many new novelties in the form of stage attractions which have met with the popular approval of the patrons.

The Regent Theatre of San Mateo has been permanently closed by Ellis Arkush and projection equipment has been sold to local firms.

Dave Bolton, manager of the Golden State Theatre, Monterey, Calif., had a busy time on Friday, October 6th, when the Elks held their State Convention Jinx Program at his theatre in Monterey.

H. M. Macdonald, formerly of Vallejo, is opening the Home Circle Theatre at Taft. Mac formerly operated a small grind show on Georgia Street, Vallejo, several years ago.

The new theatre being erected in Santa Clara by the Kinema Circuit is fast approaching completion.

Otto Roeder returned from his trip abroad. Otto operated the Bay View of this city. He visited Germany, England, and France and is now back on the job.

Many of the world's greatest stars of the operatic, musical comedy, vaudeville and legitimate stage will be both seen and heard through the medium of the Vitaphone, when installation of that invention is completed in the former Rivoli Theatre, Market Street, near Seventh. William B. Wagnon, who leased the property for a long term of years, will give the theatre a new name and reopen it early in November, when extensive alterations costing $100,000 will be finished. The theatre will have the exclusive first run franchise in San Francisco for both the Vitaphone, with all its acts, and Warner Brothers' pictures.

The Plaza, San Francisco's new "miniature theatre de luxe," Sacramento Street at Presidio Avenue, was officially dedicated October 22d at the first public performance, commencing at 7 o'clock. Doors opened at 6:30. Under the direction of Mark Harrison, lessee of the Plaza, the theatre has been constructed on the site of the Rex Theatre, which was demolished with the exception of two side walls. It is finished and furnished in the prevailing mode of the de luxe theatres, but it is a small house of the intimate type.

EMPIRE LABORATORIES INC.
723 Seventh Ave., N. Y. Quality Bryant 5437-5736-2180
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING MOTION PICTURE FILM

New York & New Jersey

THE Westbury theatre, which will be open to the public on Thursday evening, Nov. 10th, will be under the guiding hand of Salvatore Calderone, which adds one more to his ever-increasing chain of theatres, all located in Nassau County. The theatre occupies a lot 97 by 185 feet on three streets with the main entrance on Post avenue. On this avenue there are also four stores with an average depth of 45 feet. There are also four spacious apartments on the second floor. The exterior of the building is treated in English halftimber work and with its random gables and windows, pink stucco and fumed timbers presents a most striking appearance.

The theatre has a seating capacity of fifteen hundred, which brings the total seating capacity of all the Calderone theatres to about fourteen thousands. Douglas P. Hall, well known New York theatre architect, was the architect for the Westbury Theatre Corporation, the officers of which comprise president E. T. Burgess, first vice-president A. Ramond Albertson, second vice-president Ormond G. Smith, secretary Wilmont Y. Hallock and treasurer A. Defererri. The building has been leased from the Westbury Theatre Corporation to the Calderone Hill Corporation, who will operate the theatre and whose officers are president Salvatore Calderone, vice-president W. E. Sexton, secretary W. Y. Hallock, and treasurer J. R. Hill.

There is a rumor about town that a newly formed theatre operating company is preparing plans for the construction of ten small motion picture theatres of about 300 seats each to be located in various neighborhoods of New York City. According to report, they will be operated along the lines of the Little theatre movement, which has of late gained considerable headway throughout the states. The names of those connected with this project could not be learned at the present writing.

Moe Kridel has taken over the Rivoli theatre, South Orange, from Louis Rosenthal, operator of several theatres in that New Jersey section.

The 55th Street Cinema, a small house operated under the Little theatre policy, is reported to have recently changed hands.

Eddie Canter, at present confined to the Lebanon hospital with a serious case of paralysis, will be tendered a benefit performance by his employers at the Crescent theatre, Thursday evening, Nov. 10th. Mr. Canter, prior to his illness, was manager of the Alhambra theatre, Brooklyn.

A. A. de Costa is the new manager of the Endicott theatre, Brooklyn.

Harry Harris, well known local chain theatre operator, recently visited Chicago.

Eugene Zerner, secretary of the Brooklyn M. P. T. O. and owner of the Jefferson theatre, Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, is confined to his home with la grippe.

Tony Cavallo is managing the recently opened Keith theatre, the Beacon, in the Ridgewood section of Brooklyn.

A. Strauss, formerly of the Melrost theatre, is now manager of the Arlington theatre, Arlington avenue and White Plains road.

Joseph M. Seider, although suffering from a bad cold, is still able to go about his organization duties.

A. Barbash, recently with the Schwartz and Smith Elton theatre, New Utrecht avenue, Brooklyn, left his position there last Saturday. The house at present is being operated by the two members of the firm.

Manager Howe of the Playhouse,, Dover, N. Y., was recently in town on a buying trip.

Fox Amusement Company is reported to have taken over the Windsor theatre, Fordham road, for Sunday concerts. However, only for Sunday, as the Windsor is a stock house under different management for the rest of the week.

Keith's Riviera theatre, St. John's Place and Kingston avenue, Brooklyn, long reported on the market, has lately sprung to life again with a policy reported to be that of a legitimate show house.

Manuel Gross,, supervisor of the poster department of First National's New York exchange, was married Sunday night at the Astoria Center of Israel, Astoria, L. I., to Miss Betty Ludmerer. Jules Levy, manager of the exchange, the salesmen and other employees, presented the young couple with a handsome lacquered cellarette as a wedding present.

Jules Levy, manager of First National's New York exchange, has added Fred Langtree to his sales force and assigned him to the New York up-State territory. Langtree is well known in film sales circles, having formerly been with United Artists and other distributing companies.

Harry H. Buxbaum, manager of the Fox New York exchange and former A. A. U. champion, captured the 1927 Fox Film handball championship Tuesday night, November 1, at the West Side Y. M. C. A. courts when he defeated Sam Shapiro of the Requisition staff, 21 to 6. Buxbaum won over a field of 32 Fox contestants and received the Fox Athletic Club gold handball medal.

In the doubles tournament played the same evening, John Dahill, of the Tabulating section, teaming with Julius Popowich of the Auditing department, won the Fox doubles title for 1927 in handball by their 21-17 victory over Larry Theaman and Al Star. Chairman Harry Goldberg, of the Fox handball committee, presented gold medals to the doubles champions.

Morris A. Blitzer, for the past two years advertising and publicity director for the two local Publix theatres, the Broadway and Academy of Music, has resigned to enter the real estate business in New York City.

St. Louis

ST. LOUIS police are endeavoring to learn the identity of the persons who exploded a stench bomb in the Empress theatre, 3620 Olive street, on the night of November 2. The management believes the bomb was placed by a practical joker, since the theatre is not involved in any labor troubles or other difficulties of a nature that would prompt an act of revenge.

The St. Louis Motion Picture Operators Union will give their annual ball on the night of November 9th at the Arcadia ballroom, 3517 Olive street. A very unique beauty contest for girls has been arranged as a feature of this affair. Prizes totaling $200 will be offered the four girls who make the best appearance in men's attire. A number of pretty manettes have already entered the contest.

Victor talking machine dealers in St. Louis and vicinity held a celebration at Loew's State theatre on the night of November 3.

The question of whether motion pictures may be legally shown on Sundays in Missouri has bobbed up again in the courts of Greene County.

For more than a year the Blue Nose contingent in Ash Grove, twenty miles west of Springfield, have been battling to force their narrow Sabbath observance views on their fellow citizens.

As a result Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Hamlin has filed charges against L. D. Metcalfe, who operates a motion picture show in Ash Grove.

L. W. Lau of the Lau Motor Company, 7829 Ivory street, St. Louis, plans to build a motion picture house at 480 Lemay Ferry road in Luxemburg, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis. The building will be one story, 128 by 50 feet, and cost about $25,000.

The Hackett Construction Company has been awarded the contract for the construction of a motion picture theatre at Third and Francis streets in St. Joseph, Mo., for the Charwood Realty Company. The house will be one story with balcony and cover a site 40 by 107 feet. It will cost about $30,000.

George Valier has purchased the Star theatre, Leonard, Mo., from the Merchants' Association.

St. Louis motion picture men read with considerable interest newspaper accounts of the latest venture of Eugene A. and Harry Freund in the field of finance. The brothers, who formerly operated the Cinderella, Woodland and Kingsland theatres, St. Louis, are reported to have received $1,000,000 cash for fourteen post office substations in various parts of St. Louis. The substations were owned by the Audrey Realty Company, which is controlled by the Freund Brothers. Raymond D. Brown of Indianapolis, Inr., was the purchaser.

W. T. Zimmerman, who operates the Warrenton theatre, Warrenton, Mo., has opened a theatre in Wentzville, Mo. It is known as the New Wentzville theatre.

Harry Greenman, resident director of Loew's State theatre, St. Louis, Mo., has announced that Lieutenant Commander John Phillip Sousa and his world's famous band will appear at the State theatre the week of November 19.

Visitors of the week included Mrs. I. W. Rodgers of Cairo, Ill., and J. DeFrenne of Mexico, Mo.

Baltimore

THE road show engagement of "The King of Kings," will start at Ford's Theater here beginning Monday, November 28. It will be presented twice daily with symphony orchestra playing the musical accompaniment by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld.

The Aurora Theater here, operated by the Paradise Amusement Company, has been redecorated and improved at a cost of about $15,000, according to the general manager Arthur B. Price. The interior has been textoned throughout, old rose, old ivory and antique gold trimmings have been used with new drapes and carpets to match. New crystal lighting fixtures have been placed inside the entrance doors and back of the organ. The radiators have been covered.

A moving picture theater to cost about $35,000 to measure 50 by 149 feet is planned for Hamilton, Baltimore, Md., by the Community Theater Company, Inc.

Albany

AN automobile truck, used by the Howell Film Service, which distributes film between Albany and Syracuse skidded and left the road near Rome the other day and plunged into the river. The driver was unable to swim and narrowly escaped with his life. Some of the exchanges in Albany, including the Universal, lost considerable film, the Universal losing six reels alone. The film, or at least a portion of it, was later fished from the river and sent to the Eastman Kodak's plant in Rochester, where it was dried out and restored.

Business appears to be very brisk these days along Albany's film row, due to the fact that the selling season did not get under way this year as early as in the past.

The Hudson theatre in Albany, owned and operated for several years by Julius Berinstein, has been acquired by Feltmann and Son, of Schenectady, who also operate theatres in that city. Herman Goodman, formerly head of the Great Lakes Film Company, has taken over the Central theatre in Albany, which was but recently acquired by Otto Gloeckner from the Weidmann Brothers.

Mrs. Georgia D. Moffett, secretary of the Cleveland Film Board of Trade, was a recent guest of Miss Edna Pfister, secretary of the Albany board and a former resident of Cleveland.

Quite a number of exhibitors were in town last Monday in connection with a regular meeting of the arbitration board. The Film Board of Trade also met.

The Broadway theatre in Schenectady has been reopened, the new owner being J. Skladamonski. The house is a residential one.

Harry Goldstein, local manager for Paramount, is back from a trip to Chicago. Thomas McCue, of New York, and Nat Shiren, also of New York, connected with the Tiffany organization, were in Albany during the past week. Max Milder, who does the buying for the Schine circuit, was also in town.

Jake Rosenthal, of the Rose theatre in Troy, unearthed some motion pictures taken of Troy back in 1913, and gave a special showing to the Mayor and other city officials one day last week.

Edith Umberwurst, of Troy, who won the beauty contest conducted by the American theatre in that city a number of months ago, was injured in an automobile accident last week.

Fred Freschette has resigned as manager of the Barcli and Albany theatres in Schenectady. His successor has not yet been named.

James Flynn, of the accessory department of Pathe, was in Albany during the week, coming on from New York City for a conference with local heads. G. D. Swaebe, of Boston, district representative of the non-theatrical department of Pathe, was also here.

W. W. Farley, owner of the Farash theatres in Schenectady, was in Binghamton this week, as he still retains his voting residence in that city. Mr. Farley is still a power in Binghamton politics.

Mrs. George S. Young, who was formerly Renee Craven of Albany, and the local manager for Bond, returned last week from a week's honeymoon in New York City, and is now making her home in Saugerties.

Many of the theatres in the Catskill Mountain region have either closed entirely for the winter or are operating but one night a week. The house in Phoenicia has closed until May, while Mrs. Ida Grant has closed her theatre in Hobart until April. The theatre in Andes has closed for the winter, while Morris Fanning, of Roxbury, is operating but one night a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Fischer, of Fort Edward, decided that Albany offered more Hallowe'en attractions than their home town, and spent that night enjoying parties at the Elks and at Kenmore.

George Dwore must be fond of naming his theatres so that they begin with a capital "C," for he now operates the Colony, the Capital and the Cameo in Schenectady.

Ed Hayes, local manager for Pathe, was in Oneida during the week. Harry Lazarus, of the Broadway in Kingston, was on film row last week. Ed Eschmann, of the Pathe forces, was in town and accompanied Alec Hermann to Gloversville. Mrs. Briggs, who runs the Tyler theatre in Pittsfield and also operates a house in Dalton, was at several of the exchanges on a buying trip.

Jake Golden, manager of the Proctor house in Troy, and Joe Wallace, who holds a like position in Albany, were in New York City during the week.

James Rose, who has several theatres in Troy, has the sympathy of his friends through a recent injury to his nine year old son, who fell and fractured the same arm that was broken two or three years ago.

The ushers at the Lincoln theatre are now resplendent in their new uniforms of green. Ben Stern, manager of the house, is sporting a new wrist watch, the gift of his wife on his birthday.

The theatre in Housatonic is now running but two nights a week. The house in Hinsdale, operated by Archie D'Aigle, has closed and will operate only from April until September. A. Grant Palmer, owner of a theatre in Northville, was in New York City recently. Mrs. Harry Brown, owner of the theatre in Old Forge, was in Utica last week.

Harry Lux, owner of the Alhambra in Utica, announces that his theatre will become a second-run house soon.

James Dermody, of the Fox exchange, and Miss Mary Curley, formerly of the First National exchange, will be married in Saugerties on November 24.

Work on the new Stanley theatre in Utica is progressing in a satisfactory shape, although it will be several months before the house is in readiness to open.

Grossman and Freder, of Hudson, were along film row during the week. Sam Hochstim, who runs the opposition house, was also in town. W. M. Horne, play date representative for Universal, spent two or three days at the Albany office last week and then continued on to Buffalo.

Lee Langdon, booker at Warner Brothers' exchange, featured in an automobile accident last week, but escaped unhurt, although his car was badly damaged.

A stage and dressing room have been installed at the King theatre in Troy, and on Monday and Thursday, vaudeville will be given in connection with pictures. The house is handled by Harry Rose. Vaudeville will be given on Monday night at Gardner Hall, managed by Henry MacFarlane.

Mrs. Ben Apple, wife of the former owner of the American theatre in Troy, is prominently identified together with the Parent-Teachers Association, in connection with the Junior Movies, the first of which was given at the Troy theatre last week.

Mrs. B. M. Taylor, of the Richmond theatre in North Adams, and well-known in Albany, escaped the devastation caused by last week's floods.

Tony Veiller, manager of the Mark Ritz in Albany, startled his friends last week, when he displayed a new suit of pajamas, the like of which had never been seen in Albany, and which some of his friends were heard to declare resembled nothing so much as a twenty-four sheet. They were a gift.

Ray LaBounty and James Garrett, former members of the Avon theatre orchestra in Watertown, have joined the orchestra on the President Harding, and sailed last week for Germany.

Bob Yates, of Lake George, dropped in at several of the exchanges last week. His house is closed and he is now awaiting vaudeville booking. Seated behind a brand new car and sporting a new top coat as well as a new suit, Charles Marshall, owner of the theatre in Ausable Forks, caused film row to sit up and rub its eyes last week.

The Vitaphone will be resumed at the Mark Strand in Albany on November 21.

Walter Roberts, manager of the Troy theatre, is once more doing his stuff on the bowling alleys of that city and, according to all reports, he may be in the running for the city championship at a later date.

Canada

WITHIN a few weeks a second moving picture theatre at Hull, Quebec, has suffered loss through robbery. The second crime occurred when robbers forced entrance into the office of the new Capitol Theatre and wrecked the safe, securing $250. The deed was discovered by Rodolphe Moreau, president of the Capitol company, when he arrived at the theatre to open it for the day's activities.

The previous robbery occurred a few weeks ago at the Laurier Theatre, the proprietor of which is Donat Paquin. The sum of $450 was secured there. No arrests have been made.

A Wurlitzer pipe organ has been purchased from C. W. Lindsay, Limited, by P. J. Nolan for the Rex Theatre, an attractive suburban house of Ottawa, Ontario. The Rex was only recently reopened after being rebuilt and enlarged. A six-piece orchestra has held sway there since the house reopened.

After pointing out that congestion in front of B. F. Keith's Theatre, Ottawa, Ontario, had become so great that it had become difficult to operate the street cars, Major Fred D. Burpee, president of the Ottawa Electric Railway, announced that the regular street car stop had been moved around the corner a block away to relieve traffic.

Incidentally, Keith's has become such a busy place under the guidance of Manager J. M. Franklin, that police are regularly detailed to handle the sidewalk crowd and to supervise the parking of cars.

Manager J. M. Franklin of B. F. Keith's Theatre, Ottawa, took a run down to New York City for [illegible] over coming film productions and other attractions.

P. C. Taylor, Canadian General Manager for F B O, who has just returned from a trip through the [illegible] that the Company's Vancouver Exchange has been moved from Granville Street to the new [illegible] building, Burrard Street at Davie.

A new theatre, costing $50,000, is to be built in Ingersoll, Ontario, by W. L. Stewart, manager and owner of the Patricia Theatre, London, Ontario, for many years.

Milwaukee

THE Capitol Theatre at Iron Mountain has been sold by George Brassington to H. J. Shaffer, who is taking over management at once.

Neil Duffy of the Elite Theatre at Appleton was in the city for a short business call last Tuesday.

Steam shovels are actually at work excavating for the new M-G-M-Fox exchange building at 8th and State. So elated are the members of these exchanges at the prospect of getting into new quarters that they are planning a Fox M-G-M get-acquainted party for November 26. Various committees will be announced soon.

Dan Kelliher, southern Wisconsin exhibitor, came in to call at the exchanges early last week.

Eddie Krofta of the Vital exchange was pinched for speeding the other day, but is keeping it mighty quiet.

The new Wausau Theatre, under management of Frank Welter, will be ready for formal opening about Thanksgiving. The Wausau will have a capacity of 1,400.

F. G. Sliter, manager of the Fox exchange, just returned from a sales conference with James R. Grainger, general sales manager, at Chicago.

The Efficiency Club of the Metro Goldwyn exchange enjoyed a Hallowe'en party on Monday at the exchange office.

Martin Kelly succeeds Wm. Cuddy as director of publicity for Saxe Amusement Enterprises. Mr. Martin was, until recently, in charge of publicity and advertising for F. & R. at St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Haefer of the Rex Theatre at Sheboygan were in the city for a brief visit.

L. Fenelon, home office auditor, is spending a few days in the local First National office.

O. R. Rieffel, Paramount manager, returned last Tuesday from a sales convention in Chicago.

Frank Deleo recently sold the Community Theatre at West Allis to Charles Nebel.

Racine was well represented on Film Row this week by Louis Rossa of the Douglas, Frank Steffen of the Rex, and "Dad" Walcott of the Majestic.

Harold Sliter has been transferred from the poster department at the Fox exchange to a position as sales representative. Mr. Sliter's promotion brings to light some interesting history about the Sliter family. Harold Sliter was, until he came to this city, assistant manager at Gardens Olympia Theatre at Lynn, Mass. It was at Lynn, Mass., also that Harold's father, F. G. Sliter, who is now manager of the Milwaukee Fox Exchange, got his first experience in the picture business. It was at Lynn, Mass., that the father of F. G., and the grandfather of Harold, known professionally as Col. Stanton, at one time managed the Central Square Theatre.

Bill Ainsworth, manager of the Orpheum and Garrick Theatres at Fond du Lac, visited the exchanges this week. He came in to Milwaukee to challenge members of the Ozaukee Club to a match game.

Peter Dana, salesman for Tiffany, has returned to the New York office.

The "Serials" still hold first place in the bowling league. The "Features" and "Scenics" are tied for second and the "News Reels" hold third.

Mrs. Ed. Starkey of the Opera House at Berlin was in the city on a shopping tour, during which she visited the exchanges.

The new 5,000-seat theatre which Fox has promised Milwaukee is, according to latest rumor, to be located between Second and Third on the north side of Wisconsin.

Kansas City

MORE than 20,000 persons saw the first five performances at Loew's Midland Theatre, first run house of Kansas City, which opened its doors last week, according to M. B. Shanberg, managing director. Prior to each performance there were lines of persons more than two blocks long waiting to purchase tickets.

The following new houses and changes in theatres in the Kansas City territory have been announced: Mrs. W. J. Dehler will succeed her husband as manager of the Garden Theatre, Colony, Kas., the former having entered the film business in Chanute, Kas.; the Royal Theatre, Cherryvale, Kas., has been reopened by S. A. and Frank Davidson; the Perry Theatre, Darlington, Mo., has been leased by W. W. Nichols; the auditorium of the city hall in Chillicothe, Mo., has been leased by Allen O. Glore, president of the Chillicothe Community Amusement Enterprises.

Among the out-of-town exhibitors in the Kansas City market this week were: Ben Levy, Hippodrome, Joplin, Mo.; Walter Wallace, Orpheum, Leavenworth, Kas.; Frank Weary, Farris Theatre, Richmond, Mo.; G. L. Hooper, Orpheum, Topeka, Kas.; C. M. Pattee, Pattee Theatre, Lawrence, Kas.

It was a group of genuine "long faced" friends who bade farewell to Bob Gary, former Universal exploiteer at Kansas City, who has become managing director of the Schine Enterprise's group of theatres in Ohio. He had been in the exploitation game ten years, having served Paramount and Goldwyn, in addition to Universal.

Capitol Productions has opened a new exchange in Kansas City to distribute a line of Western Thrill productions. The new exchange will be at 113 West Eighteenth street.

Bill Warner, First National branch manager, was seeking more business in the territory last week.

S. A. Hamilton is the new booker at the Independent Film Corp., succeeding R. L. King, who has joined the Liberty exchange staff.

Guy Navarre, United Artists branch manager in Minneapolis, was a Kansas City visitor.

Joseph L. Daley, traveling booker for Fox, was a Kansas City visitor.

The Metro-Goldwyn personnel had an opportunity to exercise its fire drill when a mattress factory nearby caught fire. In a few moments all employees were standing in front of the office with records and books of the company. There was no damage to the exchange building.

Lloyd A. Pantages, son of Alexander Pantages, and Charles "Buddy" Rogers, screen star, met in an impromptu "reunion" in Kansas City this week. Mr. Pantages was met at the union station by Rogers and a group of friends, Kansas City being Rogers' home town. Mr. Pantages was enroute to Los Angeles, where he plans to spend a month's vacation.

Manager Jack Withers of the Enterprise Film Cor. and his trusty representative, Jack Langan, were hustling in the territory last week.

Central Penn

ANNOUNCEMENT is made that extensive improvements are to be made to the Victoria Theatre, Bloomsburg, controlled by the Comerford Amusement Company, of Scranton.

The Cameo Theatre, Allentown, owned by Henry Friedman, was re opened on November 1.

A considerable financial outlay is being made in remodeling the Bijou Theatre, Milton. It is proposed later to enlarge the theatre to a seating capacity of 1,200 and to add a modern stage in the auditorium.

Breig Brothers, contractors in charge of the reconstruction of the Opera House, in Easton, which is being remodeled as a motion picture house for the Comerford Amusement Company, of Scranton, expect to have the work completed so that the theatre can be formally opened on Thanksgiving Day.

Quick headwork on the part of Melvin Smith, organist of the Victoria Theatre, Harrisburg, in assuring a large audience that there was no danger, after a big auto truck crashed through the rear of the building during a performance on November 1, and landed close to the orchestra pit, prevented excitement in the crowd from growing to panic proportions. The property loss was estimated at several hundred dollars, the Marr & Colton organ narrowly escaping damage.

The formal reopening of the New Parkway Theatre, Johnstown, took place on the evening of November 3, the house having been remodeled at an outlay of $20,000. The theatre has been operated for the last five years by Scherer & Kelly, who have recently renewed their lease on the building. The policy of the theatre calls for the showing of first run and other special releases, with special comedies and news reels.

Thousands of dollars are being spent by Isaac Marcus in remodeling the New Rialto, Third and Harris Streets, Harrisburg, which he recently bought from the Handshaw estate. It has been operated under a league heretofore by T. B. Heckard. The improvements consist of changing the main entrance from the side of the building on Harris Street to the front on Third Street. This requires the elimination of two storerooms and the construction of an entirely new lobby 14 feet deep by 28 feet wide, with ticket booths of plate glass and marble in the centre on the line of the sidewalk.

Chicago

INVITATIONS went out this week for the Get-Together Dinner, Frolic and Dance, sponsored by the Exhibitors Association of Chicago and The Chicago Film Board of Trade, which will be held in the Grand Ball Room of the Stevens Hotel on Friday night, November 18th. This gala celebration is planned to promote good fellowship and establish closer relations between the distributing and exhibiting units of the industry, and the announcement of the event has been received with enthusiasm by both exhibitors and the exchange men in the city and state. The entertainment committee, comprising Nate Wolf, Dave Dubin, Charlie Kamp, Ben J. Cooney and Max Balaban, reports that, thanks to the co-operation of friends associated with leading theatrical interests in the Central West, the evening's program will be notable, including many fine acts, as well as an elaborate banquet and splendid dance music. Not only the motion picture men of Chicago, but many exhibitors from Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin, have signified their intention of attending. The membership of the different committees assures the success of the film frolic, which is in general charge of Ludwig Siegel, chairman; J. D. Abramson, secretary and F. G. Schaefer, treasurer; Finance Committee including Clyde Eckhardt, James Coston, Sidney Selig, Arthur Schoenstadt and J. D. Abramson and the Publicity Committee including Fred Gilford, Joe Pastor, Si Greiver, Al Sobler, Dan Roche and Harry Willard.

Home Office Representative E. L. McEvoy, of F B O, has been in the city for the past few days, and will remain here for four or five weeks, making his headquarters at his company's local exchange.

Dave Lawrence, formerly of the Orpheum at Champaign, has been appointed managing director of the McNevin houses in Champaign, Danville and Kokomo.

The Lake Geneva Theatres Corporation, headed by Fred L. Dayton, expects to let contracts for a new theatre in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, this week. Plans call for an eight hundred seat de luxe house.

A fire scare was caused in the Casino Theatre on West Madison Street, on Sunday night, when smoke from a fire in an adjoining restaurant filtered into the theatre. The audience made a hasty exit, but fortunately panic was averted and nobody was injured.

Captain Ed Dayton, well-known as a builder and manager of Kenosha theatres, will be in charge of the Maywood Theatre, Hammond, when it opens in a few days. Norman Kristoff is owner of the new Maywood, which is an eight hundred and fifty seat neighborhood house.

President Carl Laemmle, of Universal, and his party, arrived in Chicago, Monday morning and, after a brief visit to the exchange, proceeded to Kenosha and Milwaukee where they inspected the new Universal theatres recently opened in those cities. Mr. Laemmle then went to Oshkosh for his annual visit to the old home town, returning to Chicago on Wednesday for a few hours with Manager Roy Alexander and other local officials, after which he boarded a train for Los Angeles.

H. C. Young, manager of National Screen Service, was in St. Louis last week on company business.

The North Center Theatre, at one time operated by Andrew Karzas and more recently by Lubliner & Trinz, as lessees, has been taken over by the Amercian Bond and Mortgage Company and closed. The future of this house is uncertain, but it is understood that a well-known theatre man may shortly complete arrangements to operate the North Center for the American Band and Mortgage Company.

President Jack Sampson, of the Chicago Film Board of Trade, has returned after a brief visit to New York City.

The Hamlin Theatre on West Madison Street, formerly operated by H. Lutz, is now being managed by Jack Rubin.

More than two hundred Chicago theatres are planning to co-operate with the Red Cross in making their drive for funds a success. The Exhibitors Association of Chicago is furnishing the theatres with trailers shwing interesting scenes of devastated flood areas and other districts where the Red Cross is doing relief work, and arrangements have been completed for a Red Cross nurse to be stationed in the lobby of each of these theatres to collect funds.

Herbert Wasburn has succeeded Jack Sampson as branch manager of the Chicago exchange of F B O Pitcures Corp. Sampson has held the position for a number of years, and is at present the president of the Chicago Film Board of Trade.

Washburn resigned his position as office manager at the Paramount exchange to accept the new position. He had been with Paramount for only eight months. He was formerly connected with Warner Bros. at Detroit for a number of years, and is well known in that territory.

New England

THE Gem Theatre, Weymouth, has been sold by Charles Rogers to Phil Markel of Boston, and it will be renamed the Markel Theatre.

Mr. Markel has also started the erection of a new theatre in East Milton, to be known as the Markel Milton Theatre, to seat about 1,000.

P. Kendall Bruce, traveling booker for Fox, plans to visit the New Haven exchange the latter part of the month.

Max Tabackmann, of the Royal Theatre, Chicopee Falls, was a visitor to Boston during the week.

The State Theatre at Milford opened Friday. It is operated by the Regional Chain Theatres and is a new theatre.

Bookers of New England enjoyed an outing, dinner and dance at Silverbrook Farm, Canton, Wednesday night.

Arthur McAvoy of Leominster, who has started a new theatre to replace Music Hall, which was destroyed by fire, will leave soon for Jacksonville, Fla., for a vacation of Several months.

Miss Gertrude Keating has been appointed to the booking department at the Fox exchange, Boston, succeeding Miss Catherine Neagle, resigned.

Joseph F. McConville of Independent Films, Inc., has returned from a vacation through Maine and New York States

Chester Doherty, son of Timothy Doherty, who is shipper at Paramount, and formerly in the film district as salesman, is playing an engagement at Keith's and during the respites is a visitor to Film Row.

Patrick J. Cronin, janitor of the Riverside Theatre, now under construction in Medford, Mass., was badly burned by the explosion of gas in the theatre recently. The theatre was not damaged.

William Heffron, formerly vice-president of Independent Films, Inc., Boston, has opened a restaurant in Inman Square, Cambridge.

Miss Chick Porter, of Independent Films, underwent a tonsil operation at the Phillips House, Boston, Friday.

Charles Wilson has resigned from the sales staff of Tiffany Productions.

Henry Eckman, formerly office manager at the Boston exchange of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and who has been at the New York office for a few months, has returned to the Boston exchange to become sales manager for the exchange.

M. N. Wolf, recently promoted to district manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, paid his first visit to the New Haven exchange in his new capacity during the week.

Fred Quimby, short subject general sales manager for Metro, was a visitor to the Boston exchange for two days during the week.

A new theatre is under construction in Brighton on the site of the old National bank building. Its ownership is withheld for the present.

The Capitol Theatre at Worcester starts this week with a change in policy and will give a double feature bill with one presentation act. This is one of the Charles Hodgdon theatres.

The Olympia Theatre at Worcester is planning a second run policy.

Moe Silver, formerly in charge of the Mark-Stanley interests in New England and recently promoted to the New York office, was a visitor to Boston for a couple of days during the week.

The First National exchange, at Boston, is undergoing extensive remodelling and redecorating.

The Hope Theatre at Providence opened Wednesday night. Max Neagleson is owner of this new theatre.

Al Donovan is managing the Codman Square Theatre, Dorchester, having been transferred from Chelsea.

Mrs. E. R. Dessez, director of the educational department of Pathe, and Publicity Agent Lee of the educational department, were visitors to the Boston exchange during the week.

Pathe exchange held a Hallowe'en party at the Arlington Hotel, Boston, Monday, with a dinner, games and dancing. Miss Mary Connors, an inspector at Pathe, rendered vocal numbers. The staff of the Warner Brothers exchange were present as guests.

"Dick" Sears, Pathe cameraman for New England, went to New York to welcome home his wife, who returns from a trip to France. He had to hurry back to Boston, however, when the flood news broke.

E. A. Eschmann, assistant divisional feature representative for Pathe, was a guest at the Boston exchange of that company during the week.

Ed Connolly has joined the sales staff of the Red Seal exchange, Boston. He formerly was with Pathe.

Picture in Motion exchange, now located on Winchester Street, Boston, will shortly move to new quarters at Shawmut and Church Streets, where United Artists formerly were located. W. H. Bradley is manager of the exchange.

Miss Anne Howe of Warner Brothers booking department and William Resnick of the Old Colony Theatre, Plymouth, have announced their engagement and wedding bells will soon ring out.

Atlanta

FOR the fourth time since the organization of the Atlanta Film Board of Trade, that body has chosen John T. Ezell for its president.

The newly-elected directors are: C. R. Beacham (First National); Dave Prince (Paramount); W. W. Anderson (Pathe); John T. Ezell (Warner), and Major John W. Quillian (Enterprise).

On the same ticket that elevated Mr. Ezell to the presidency, Dave Prince was made vice-president and W. W. Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

The following committees will serve under the new administration, which goes into power next week:

Arbitration: W. W. Anderson, chairman; T. A. Branon, James H. Butner. Alternates, Ben Y. Cammack and C. L. Peavy. Exhibitor members of the Arbitration Committee are: T. F. Thompson, Pal ace Theatre, Cedartown, Ga.; Joe Wheeler, Capitol Theatre, Montgomery, Ala., and O. C. Lam, Rome Enterprises, Inc., Rome, Ga.

Legislation and Information: C. R. Beacham, chairman, and John T. Ezell. Credit: C. R. Beacham, chairman; Dave Prince, John W. Quillian. Alternates, H. D. Hearn and Paul C. Bryan. Conciliatory: Ben Y. Cammack, chairman; James Hanlon and C. L. Peavy. Standing Rules: T. A. Branon, chairman, and J. W. Mangham. Membership: J. W. Hanlon, chairman, and W. G. Minder. Business Efficiency: W. G. Minder, chairman, W. G. Carmichael. Entertainment: W. W. Anderson, chairman, and W. G. Carmichael. Transportation: J. H. Butner. Purchasing Agent: W. W. Anderson.

Harry G. Ballance, Southern District manager, and Dave Prince, Atlanta branch manager, returned to Atlanta early this week after having attended Paramount's semi-annual sales convention in Chicago.

Ralph B. Williams, division manager of Universal, and Ben Y. Cammack, Atlanta branch manager, went to Nashville, Tenn., last week to confer with Tony Sudekum, of the Sudekum interests, regarding product.

Earle E. Griggs, director of exploitation in the Southeast for Universal, returned to Atlanta from the New Orleans territory last week.

T. F. Thompson, owner and operator of the Palace Theatre, Cedartown, Ga., and member of the arbitration committee of the Atlanta Film Board of Trade, who has been seriously ill, is convalescing and able to be up some, although not for long.

A. H. Yoemans, Rose Theatre, Dublin, Ga., spent Monday in Atlanta purchasing an organ.

Curtis Ware, formerly salesman for Universal in this territory, has transferred his allegiance to Fox Film Corporation and will be a regular member of the field sales force.

E. J. Sparks, head of E. J. Sparks Enterprises, Jacksonville, Fla., reached Atlanta last Monday for a two day conference with John L. Crovo, who left immediately thereafter for Jacksonville to assume management of the Republic and Imperial theatres for Mr. Sparks. Mr. Sparks left Tuesday night in company with Robert B. Wilby for his annual game hunt in Matamoras, Mexico.

F. T. Hill, general auditor for Fox exchanges, is visiting the local branch as a part of his tour of all southern Fox exchanges.

Carl Bamford, once an outstanding theatre manager in the S. A. Lynch organization, but more recently firmly established as an independent exhibitor in his own right, came down from Asheville, N. C., early last week on matters of business.

Charles Mayer, southern division booker working out of the home office for Fox, is spending several days in the local exchange.

L. P. Austin, formerly on the sales force of Liberty-Specialty, but more recently with the Martin-Nash Motor Company, has returned to Film Row as an extra salesman for Fox.

Will B. Wood, of Gadsden, Alabama, was in Atlanta Monday arranging to transfer his film contracts for Alabama City to Martin Brothers of that place, to whom he has just sold the Strand Theatre.

Business at the Atlanta Fox exchange, under the management of Paul Bryan, reached the high mark of the season last week with gross sales and collections topping the previous high record for the year.

Birmingham's business the past week was generally fair. Good farm weather kept the usual box-office patrons out-of-doors somewhat, to the detriment of the cash drawers. But, on the whole, there was very little complaint.

Among the out-of-town visitors to Birmingham were Colonel Thomas E. Orr, of the Marshall County Enterprises, Albertville, Ala., and Tom Tuggle, of the Theatorium, West Blocton, Ala.

Sidney Dannenberg, of the Ala bama, Strand and Galax, visited Chattanooga early the past week.

H. E. Strickland joined Warner Bros. sales force this week. Mr. Strickland is a native of Ohio.

C. L. Peavy, manager of FBO Atlanta branch, made a trip into Tennessee this week.

Rising upon the ruins of a disastrous fire that virtually wiped out the little town of West Blocton, Alabama, is an attractive theatre, promoted and built by Tom C. Tuggle, one of the most enterprising showmen in Alabama. The new theatre is scheduled to open November 16, and the event will write a new chapter in the amusement history of the town.

A. Bustanoby, special district representative from Pathe home office, spent the week in the Atlanta branch.

Fred Jack, assistant manager of First National's Atlanta office, made a tour through Florida last week.

R. S. Beacham, formerly connected with Tiffany's Atlanta branch, joined Educational's sales force this week.

J. W. Mangham, Jr., manager of Bromberg Atlanta office, spent the week in Tennessee.

J. H. Butner, manager of Educational, made a trip through Florida last week.

C. R. Beacham, First National's Atlanta branch manager, was on a short trip to Birmingham last week.

A. T. Goggans, of the Riverdale Theatre, Riverview, Ala., which was recently burned, was busily engaged in the exchanges this week. He made the announcement that temporary quarters have been arranged for the showing of pictures until the theatre could be rebuilt.

"Hank" Hearn, manager of Liberty's Atlanta branch, made a tour through North Alabama last week.

Visitors to Atlanta's film row last week included A. C. Miller, American theatre, Conyors, Ga.; W. H. Welch, Strand theatre, Dallas, Ga.; W. J. Brooks, Dekalb theatre, Lithonia, Ga.; W. B. Fulton, Warner Bros., special representative; D. T. Clary, Sparta theatre, Sparta, Ga.; M. L. Curry, Colonial theatre, Milledgeville; Nat Williams, Rose theatre, Thomasville, Ga.; W. B. Wood, Belle theatre, Gadsden, Ala.; Carl Cape, Colonial theatre, Buford, Ga., and Hugh Manning, of the Manning & Wink Enterprises, Ettowa, Tenn.

Florida

IN this column, the issue of Nov. 4th, mention was made of the petition which was presented to the city commissioners of St. Petersburg by qualified voters, requiring an election to be called for the purpose of voting on Sunday movies, which are now prohibited by a city ordinance. Now comes the report of a mass-meeting of the various churches of that city, at which $3,000 was pledged to be used in a campaign to defeat the Sunday movie movement. The election has been called by the commissioners and it will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 29th. It is going to be a hot fight.

The Ringling Brothers circus played Tampa last Thursday, drawing 35,000 people to the two performances.

When the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina had their big annual struggle in Tampa, Manager John B. Carroll, of the Tampa, reserved a section for the 7 o'clock show and gave the players a theatre party.

B. E. Gore, who has been giving weekly shows in the school buildings here, in an arrangement with the Parents-Teachers Association, has been ordered to discontinue the shows unless non-flam films are used.

The Better Homes Exposition opens Saturday at the Davis Island Coliseum for a run of eight days. A feature of the exposition will be the showing of a special Tampa film made under the auspices of the Real Estate Board.

The Strand starts their usual Saturday morning shows this week. These shows are given every Saturday during the school season, with special pictures booked in for the showing that have an appeal to the children. An admission price of 10c is made and the stunt has been very successful.

Manager Charles Lester, of the Jacksonville Universal Exchange, spent last week in his office.

Manager C. B. Ellis, of F B O, was also in his office last week. Mr. Ellis has planned to move his office to the new building, but will continue at the old address until December.

J. J. Fitzgibbons, Southeastern District manager; Frank Fowler, District manager, and M. J. Mullin, of the maintenance department of Publix, made a trip down state last week.

Scotty Chestnutt, manager of the Jacksonville Paramount exchange, returned from the Chicago convention last Wednesday.

W. A. Klementz, booker for Paramount exchange, was in Atlanta last week with his mother, who is ill.

Arthur Jones, of the maintenance department of Publix, with headquarters in Atlanta, recently called on the Jacksonville Publix District office, en route to Palm Beach.

Mrs. Jesse Clark, wife of the manager of the Imperial Theatre, Jacksonville, has returned from a six months' visit in Chicago.

Walter Lloyd, city manager for Publix at Daytona Beach, visited the Publix district office in Jacksonville this week.

F. B. Leonard, manager of the new Lake Butler Theatre, called on Jacksonville exchanges last week. The Lake Butler house opened about two weeks ago.

Cleveland

LOUIS CHAKERES, a pioneer in the exhibiting end of the motion picture business, after a year's affliction with heart disease, recently passed away at his home in Springfield, Ohio.

Mr. Chakeres was well-known in this industry and at the time of his death was president of the Chakeres Amusement Co., operating the Majestic, Princess and Hippodrome theatres, and the new Chakeres State (under construction), of Springfield. He was 45 years of age, born in Tripolis, Greece, and came to this country 25 years ago. Sympathy of the trade is extended to his brother, Phil Chakeres.

J. J. Harwood was unanimously elected president of the Cleveland Motion Picture Exhibitors Association at the meeting on Tuesday, November 1st. This is Harwood's third term as president of the organization. Henry H. Lustig was elected vice-president, succeeding Charles Burton who has sold his theatre interests, and consequently is not eligible to membership in the organization. B. Z. Levine succeeds himself as treasurer, and George W. Erdmann was re-elected secretary and business manager. Harry Horwitz, of the Olympia and Cedar theatres, was named a director for a three-year term, succeeding Frank Gross.

Louis Chakeres

The meeting last Tuesday was said to be the most successful in the recent history of the organization. More than 87 per cent of the theatres of the city were represented at the luncheon meeting.

William M. James, president of the M. P. T. O. of Ohio, and P. J. Wood, business manager of the state organization were present at the meeting, and addressed the members on state organization work. Other speakers included State Senator Joseph Ackerman, Capt. Emmett Potts, superintendent of criminal investigation of the Cleveland Police Department, and Chief Nimmo, of the fire department.

Miss Maude Bachman, cashier at the local Warner Bros. exchange, was married last Monday to William H. Johnson, of Cleveland. Mrs. Bachman-Johnson will continue at her post,—one which she has occupied for a long time.

Charles Wiener, division manager for Tiffany-Stahl, is now making his headquarters in the Cleveland Tiffany exchange.

The Little theatre of the Movies, which was started the begining of September as an experiment, is here to stay. So say Aaron Newman, managing director of the theatre. Newman says he has met a ready response from the public to support the type of program offered.

It looked like the gathering of the clan at the Pathe exchange last week, so many officials and home office representatives happened in about the same time. There were Pat Campbell, sales manager of the Western features; Fred Aiken, Mid-West sales manager of short subjects; Tom North, in charge of the Fables and the Topics; Harry Scott, short subject sales manager; and Jim Flinn, home office representative.

Andrew Sharrick, Universal publicity expert in this territory, was called to New York last week and given a special assignment to exploit super productions. It is expected that he will return to Cleveland as soon as this assignment is completed.

Herman Stern, general sales manager for Stern Brothers, spent last week in Cleveland at the local Universal exchange.

South West

PUBLIX' Kirby Theatre in Houston, Texas, invited the county sheriff and city chief of detectives to a recent screening. This resulted in a good publicity story, with the officers endorsing the film.

The Pastime Theatre at Silsbee, Texas, is offering $5.00 reward for the best name suggested and accepted for change in name.

H. J. Wolters and R. C. Garbade have purchased the Grand and Queen Theatres at Yoakum, Texas, from A. Miller

The Texas Theatre at Throckmorton, Texas, recently opened to capacity business.

George Wylie was appointed manager of the Texas Theatre at Baird, Texas.

A. L. Curtis and E. E. Rowe have opened their Palace Theatre at Big Lake, Texas.

L. L. Dunbar, manager of the Cliff Queen Theatre, Oak Cliff, Texas, has installed a new organ fitted with the latest sixteen-foot bass pipes.

Barney Balaban of Balaban & Katz and Sam Dembow of Publix are Dallas, Texas, visitors. They are making an inspection of Publix houses and while in Dallas will be the guests of John Friedl, district manager for Texas.

Raymond B. Jones has been named managing director of the Worth Theatre, new Publix house at Fort Worth, Texas. Jones was formerly publicity director for the Palace Theatre at Dallas, Texas.

The Star Theatre at Denison, Texas, has reopened after remodeling.

Will Wood has been appointed manager for Dent Theatres, Inc., at Abilene, Texas.

Bill Cordill, operator at the Palace, Ballinger, Texas, was burned about the hands while extinguishing ignited films. The projectors were damaged slightly.

J. R. Brown has purchased the Legion Theatre at McLean, Texas.

J. C. Rice has leased the Home Theatre at Valley, Texas, from E. F. Knight.

The safe of the Dixie Theatre was opened with sledge hammer and small amount of money taken.

Mrs. T. H. Eggert, city censor of Houston, Texas, and the mayor of Houston have been invited by Fox Film Corporation to be their guests in Hollywood.

Interstate Vaudeville will be used each week in the Orpheum Theatre at Waco, Texas, as a result of the house going over the Dent Circuit.

H. H. Unger of Paden, Okla., announces that he is closing Our Theatre at Paden, except on Friday and Saturdays.

Henry J. Griffith, youngest of the Griffith Brothers of the Griffith Amusement Company here, is in a local hospital slowly recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia. Last Sunday Mr. Griffith was very low, but since then the crisis has been passed and he is now recuperating.

Tom Bond, who has been manager of the Capitol Theatre only a short time ago, has been transferred to the Public House at St. Joseph, Mo., and is succeeded here by Merfline K. Moore. Moore comes here from San Antonio, where he was in charge of the Princess and Empire Theatre.

The Gem Theatre at Ringling, Okla., owned by Ham and Warsham, is now owned by Mr. Worsham, Mr. Ham having sold out his interest in the Gem this week.

R. E. Cox is reported this week to be purchasing the Joie Theatre at Bokoshe, Okla., from Russell Ramsey.

The Majestic Theatre at Allen, Okla., was sold this week-end to H. C. Hardin. E. L. Hunter, formerly owned the Majestic.

The Dixie Theatre at Lindsey, Okla., according to word received from Morris Miller, has been closed all except two days a week—Friday and Saturday.

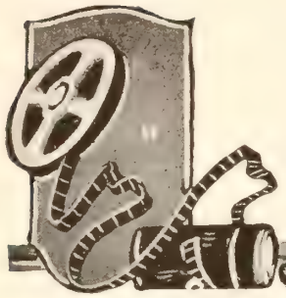
The Savoy Theatre of Prague, Okla., has been leased to Simpson, according to word received from Mrs. Lanick, the owner.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thompson of Healdton, Okla., lost their six-year old daughter, Mary Beth, a week ago Monday. Mr. Thompson has the Cozy and Healdton Theatres at Healdton.

The Star Theatre at Texola, Okla., owned by E. H. Andrews is said to have been closed recently for an indefinite period.

The Dixie Theatre at Spiro, Okla., has been sold by R. S. Hunt to W. E. and R. E. Cox, and Russell Ramsey, according to news just received.

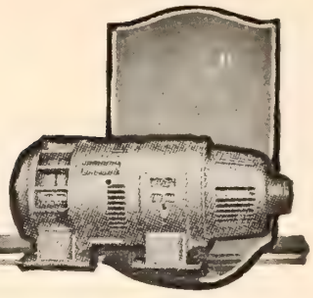
J. H. Grainger is a new salesman put on the First National sales force here. Grainger was at one time with Warner Bros.



Jack Reedy, formerly with Waterhouse and Terry Photographers, is now assistant advertising manager to Jimmy Adams at the Orpheum Theatre here.

Roy Heffner, branch manager of the Paramount office here, returned this week from Chicago where he attended a sales meeting of his company.

H. K. Buchanan, vice-president of the Home State Film Company, returned Saturday from Little Rock where he attended the convention of the Arkansas M. P. T. O., after the Oklahoma City convention the 7th and 8th. Mr. Buchanan will return to his home in Dallas and be present at the Texas convention which comes off the 10th and 11th.



Eric Middleton, Liberty-Specialty salesman who has been ill for three or four weeks, is still confined to his home.

UNIFORMS FOR HOUSE ATTACHES COSTUMES FOR STAGE PRESENTATIONS BROOKS 1437 B'way N. Y. City

Projection

Optics, Electricity, Practical Ideas & Advice

A Good Letter from Washington

HERE is a letter which we recently received from a Washington projectionist, and in which he describes his extended experience in the operation of reflector arcs. We are printing the letter "as received," with practically no changes in its composition:

"Dear Sir:

"In over twenty years' experience in the projection of motion pictures the application of the reflector arc, to my mind, is the greatest single step forward in projection. Many projectionists, however, have found themselves in hot water by trying to get the best possible results.

"I know that I had plenty of trouble, and so am writing to you in the hope that my difficulties, and the remedies used as here set forth, may be of some assistance to others.

Projection Now Is Excellent

"I now have projection which several projectionists who have traveled all over the East say is the best they have seen, with the exception of that obtained with the high intensity arc.

"My projection set-up is as follows: Powers 6-B projectors; Projex. Superlite Series III lenses; Peerless Reflector Arcs; Continental generator; Gold Fiber screen measuring 12.5 ft. x 17 ft., current, 17 amperes at 55 volts; carbons, 7 x 10 mm. I am very pleased with the equipment, although the generator does not seem to hold both lamps very well, especially when pushed over 20 amperes.

"As my reflector arcs were the first to be installed in this city, I had to dig myself out of the hole in which I found myself when it came to putting the stuff on the screen. There were directions with the equipment, but they did not seem to work in my case.

Increased Illumination, Poor Definition

"The picture was very much brighter, I could immediately see, than it was with the former straight D. C. arc at 60 amperes. The definition, however, was decidedly poor. It had neither depth nor detail. I realigned the entire system several times, and immediately noticed that with different sizes of aperture spots and with various lamp positions, the picture forms changed considerably. I still get this effect when the size of the aperture spot is increased. The spot, in my case, just covers the opening in the cooling plate as its most efficient adjustment.

"When new carbons are not properly burned down there is, with this same spot, a red ghost in the center of the picture. (No, I have not been drinking white lightning.) This reddish ghost can be removed by increasing the spot size, but the screen illumination is decreased and the picture is out of focus.

"My lamp is as far back as it will go, and I would try it still farther back if I could do so. I am of the opinion that the light from the long cone passes through the aperture in more nearly parallel lines, and this smaller bundle of light rays beyond the aperture is gathered by the rear combination of the projection lens. When the condenser was nearer the film, the cone of light was so short and broad that after passing through the film it spread out before reaching the rear combination, and this resulted in lost efficiency.

Narrow Beam Helps Technicolor

"In addition to this, the light passing through in more nearly parallel lines helps to increase the depth of focus of the projection lens and on Technicolor, especially, this is particularly noticeable. With the first line-up, when the reds in Technicolor film were in focus, the greens were out of focus, and, besides, there was bad fringing of color generally.

"In an effort to eliminate this I touched up all bright metal parts on the lamp, including the ground edge of the mirror, and around the hole in the center, with a mixture of lampblack ground in oil and gasoline. This removed some very strong scattered rays which were helping to prevent sharp definition (depth of picture), and also eliminated a bad glare on the front wall of the projection room. A good way to locate these small sources of light is to use a small hand mirror. The surface of a lantern slide glass will serve the purpose.

Small Crater Best for High Efficiency

" I finally came to the conclusion that a small light source (crater) working at maximum efficiency worked best with the reflector arc, and accordingly reduced the carbon size to 10 mm. to 7 mm. With these carbons 17 amperes seemed to produce the best results, and that is what I now am using. I noticed no reduction in screen brightness but the definition was considerably improved.

"The portholes in the projection room are masked down to the exact size of the light beam by means of solid metal sheets. These, in addition to painted bright metal parts, serve to prevent stray light from reaching the front of the house.

"The projection lens for use with reflector arc equipment should be given some rather careful attention, as this is an important item. The lens I am using is so designed that the back combination is closer to the aperture than is true of any other make. This insures a maximum pick-up of light beyond the aperture.

Exhibitor Should Buy Best Lenses

"I cannot see why an exhibitor should kick on buying a high-grade lens. He will pay $500.00 for equipment which will double the screen illumination even if the operating expense were higher, but he will refuse to spend a small fraction of that amount for a high-grade lens which is good for 20 years, if given proper care, and will double the screen intensity in addition to giving good picture definition.

"Just a word by way of caution. With low amperage arcs as described above, it is very necessary to avoid vibration in the generator and to keep the commutator and brushes clear at all times. I did a considerable amount of worrying and trouble hunting before I found this out.

"If you wish to publish this please omit my name and address, as I understand that there are some persons, even now, who say I 'know it all,' and they would probably add that I am now trying to 'tell the world.'"

Yours fraternally,
G. D. Murphy,
Dumbarton Theatre, Washington, D. C.

Shed That Modesty

We are taking the liberty of publishing Murphy's name, against his wishes, even at the risk of making him peeved, because we can see no logical reason for his being so modest in view of the excellent letter he has written. Ordinarily, a request for concealing a correspondent's name would be granted, but in this case we see no reason for doing so, as there is nothing at all in Murphy's letter which could, in any way, cause offense to any one. Furthermore, every person is entitled to his opinions, and when one has twenty years of experience to his credit there is still more reason for his voicing his opinions, especially when those twenty years appear to have been intelligently used.

If a person honestly believes himself to be right he should be man enough to stand up and defend his views against the ridicule of his more ignorant and more spineless associates.

Murphy's letter is so long that we will not attempt to comment upon it in this issue. Next week, however, we shall point out several errors in his beliefs, although the principal body of his statements are true and can be subtantiated by the experience of other projectionists.

Arthur Gray, of Boston, for instance, is doing just about the same thing that Murphy has described in his use of small carbons and low amperage on reflector arcs. Gray, too, has Peerless lamps and is using only 10 amperes (I believe that is true) under conditions similar to those described by Murphy, and he is obtaining most excellent results.

I wish Gray would describe his experiments along these lines for the benefit of other projectionists who, like Murphy, are too shy to come out in the open and announce their beliefs.

What do you think of it, Arthur?

New Loew State Theatre Largest in Houston, Texas

THE new Loew's State Theatre, which was formally opened October 15th, takes its place in the local amusement circle as the largest theatre in Houston, Texas.

At the opening, the foyer and mezzanine were banked with handsome floral pieces sent by theatrical associates and friends of the Loew executives. Messages of congratulations poured into the office throughout the first week the theatre was open. The instant popularity of the house has been evidenced by the good business during the past week.

Despite a showing of the Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures at the Majestic Theatre (Interstate) and lowering of matinee prices at the Metropolitan (Public de luxe), Loew's State had an excellent crowd for the opening shows.

"Annie Laurie" was the screen attraction and Margaret Young, radio and recording artist, headed a five-act vaudeville program. Benson Carlisle is the organist and William Patrick the orchestra leader.

H. W. Foerste, former manager of the Loew State Theatre at Reading, Pa., is the manager of the new house. M. B. Thomas, formerly manager of the Capitol at Nashville, is assistant manager.

E. A. Vinsen, publicity director for Loew, Inc., Lionel H. Keene, general southern representative, Leon Fleischman, supervisor of construction, and other officials were on hand for the opening. Short addresses were made by Loew officials and Jesse Jones, who financed the building.

The policy of the new house will be continuous shows with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer pictures and five acts of vaudeville. Prices are 60 cents top evenings and Saturday and Sunday after 3 p.m. A special bargain matinee until 1 p.m. admits adults for 25 cents, and until 3 p.m. for 40 cents on Saturday and Sunday. General admission prices are 35 cents and 60 cents.

The entrance to the Loew's State is on Main Street, three blocks from the chief business center. A circular ticket booth of Italian marble and black walnut enriched with hand carved ornament and bronze grilles occupies a conspicuous place in the vestibule. The vestibule, lobby, foyer and star hall have marble floors and walls. The floors are eVrmont Imperial with inserts of Verde-Antique. Bronze doors separate the vestibule from the lobby, lobby from the foyer, and the foyer from the auditorium.

The ceilings of the entrance space are vaulted and richly ornamented with modeled figures and carved grilles that provide ventilation. Bronze grilles also screen radiators.

The standee space is separated from the orchestra seating by a marble rail and columns. At the right of the standee space is an exhibit at the left of which a marble and

HENNEGAN PROGRAM COVERS

New Thanksgiving Design

By all means dress up your program for this holiday

Write for Samples

The HENNEGAN Co.
CINCINNATI, OHIO

Serving the better class of exhibitors

These installations just completed

Metro Theatre	New York City
Crescent Theatre	New York City
Allerton Theatre	New York City
Plaza Theatre	New York City
Fortway Theatre	Brooklyn, N. Y.
Remmos Theatre	Brooklyn, N. Y.
Windsor Theatre	Brooklyn, N. Y.
Montmartre Theatre	Brooklyn, N. Y.

and numerous others in U. S. A. and Canada

NOVELTY SCENIC STUDIOS
340 West 41st St., N. Y. C.

Pass the Public into your THEATRE
WITH
Precision -- Ease and Smartness!

GOLD SEAL TICKET REGISTER PRODUCTS
Standard Box Office Protection
15TH YEAR OF FAITHFUL SERVICE

AUTOMATIC TICKET REGISTER CORPORATION
723 SEVENTH AVE
USED WHEREVER TICKETS ARE SOLD
NEW YORK CITY
GOLD SEAL
THE MARK OF PERFECTION

Patents Controlled Exclusively

FIRE PROOF

Create Xmas Air by having our Natural Prepared Xmas Trees decorated with electric light strings, tinsel, etc.

CHRISTMAS TREES, FIREPROOF

3 feet	$3.00 each
5 feet	5.00 "
8 feet	10.00 "
10 feet	12.00 "
12 feet	15.00 "

Write today for copy of our XMAS CATALOGUE No. 7 illustrating in colors Artificial Flowers, Plants, Trees, Vines, Hanging Baskets, Wreaths, etc., mailed FREE ON REQUEST.

FRANK NETSCHERT, INC.
61 Barclay St. New York, N. Y.

This Emblem Means Hotel Headquarters in Hollywood

Each year the Hollywood Plaza Hotel provides headquarters for the film executives and artists of the world.

It is because of good food, good service and good everything that this host of guests stop here.

Conveniently located, attractive in surroundings — homelike — these are other features that appeal.

THE HOLLYWOOD PLAZA HOTEL
Vine and Hollywood Blvd.
Hollywood, Calif.

bronze stair leads to the mezzanine. Inside the theatre the walls are enriched with panels in bas relief alternated with panels of silk damask.

The soffit of the balcony, which forms the major proportion of the orchestra ceiling, is supported on an elaborately modeled cornice in the frieze of which is a continuous pierced ornament through which the cooled air is supplied.

On the mezzanine are hundreds of curios —antiques—and the like brought from the William K. Vanderbilt home that was recently dismantled in New York. Crystal, brass, bronze, marble, ivory and numerous other pieces of bric-a-brac are to be seen. These bits of "atmosphere" were purchased and arranged by Miss Anne Dornin, of the New York office of Loew's, Inc., who was in Houston preceding the theatre opening.

The men's room has a floor and base of fire-flashed tile, wall of wood paneling, stained a rich walnut, with a mantel of carved wood and marble at one end.

The cosmetic room for ladies is heavily carpeted and the walls finished in a striped silk damask that matches the upholstering on the cosmetic benches and tables. A draped arch opening separates the parlor from the cosmetic room. The furnishings are Louis XIV type with Dresden upholstering. Dainty bits of crystal and marble are placed throughout this compartment.

Vying the sidewalks and the main ceilings as one with the proscenium are the sounding board and splayed walls enclosing the organ chambers. These walls are pierced with a large arch in which is located the louvres —regulating the volume of music.

The lighting scheme throughout is of three colors so wired that the colors can be mixed and dimmed to produce almost any shade and intensity of light. Back of the proscenium the gridiorn rises 60 feet above the stage floor. The stage rigging equipment will accommodate 52 sets of scenery drops. To the left of the stage on the second and third floor are dressing room accomodations for 50 performers. In the basement is an office, and library for the orchestra leader, a room for the musicians, scenery room, electricians' room, carpenters' room and trap room. To the rear under the auditorium is a machinery room 30 feet by 100 feet providing space for the cooling and washing of the air and Wittenmeire ventilating and heating apparatus.

The steel was put up by the Houston Structural Steel Co., the lathing done by Stallones & Hogan, Inc., the plastering by Tarpen & Bamberg, the ornamental plaster by The Model Shop, the painting by Marx & Jones, St. Louis, and executed by Constantine P. DePomorski, the marble work by the Vermont Marble Co., the sheet metal work by R. E. Pierce of the Mechanical Heating and Ventilating Co., the electrical work by Balcke Electric Co., the plumbing and heating by C. Wallace Plumbing Co., the wrought iron work by A. A. Berger Co., the lighting fixtures by Black and Boyd of New York, the seating by American Seating Co., of Chicago, the draperies by Maison Blanche of New Orleans, the tile floor by the Houston Art Tile Co., signs by Stranos & Co., Inc., of New York, the stage rigging by Peter Clarke, of New York, the iron by the Hartwell Iron Co., and Alamo Steel Co., the hardware by the Peden Iron and Steel Co., glass by the Texas Art Glass Co., and Binswanger & Co., the bronze doors by the Newman Mfg. Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, the scenery by A. S. Howard of New York, the carpets by J. Rosenheim Co., New York, and Waddell's Home Furnishing Co., the cooling equipment by Smith and Whitney of Dallas and the pneumatic heat controllers by the Johnson Service.

Arranging Distribution on Vacant Seat Indicators

W. L. Guerin, of the Eastman Company, Inc., New Orleans, La., has been in New York making arrangements for the distribuwhite and five red lights, which lights indicators. Mr. Guerin advises that many theatres in the South are now using their seat indicators and that his company is planning national distribution to fill the needs of theatres throughout the country.

The Vacant Seat Indicator is a small, compact instrument carried by ushers. It is conveniently operated by the usher to indicate the number of seats vacant in any part of the house. The indicator has two rows of flash buttons each operating five white and five red lights, which lights indicate vacant seats either singly or together. The usher equipped with the indicator begins at the last row and goes down the aisle and as the vacant seats come to his attention he signals the exact combination to the usher holding back the crowds at the head of the aisle.

STOCK PROGRAMS
PROGRAM COVERS
For
Moving Picture Houses
Joseph Hoover & Sons Company
Market and 49th Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Standard
VAUDEVILLE
for
Motion Picture Presentation

THE FALLY MARKUS AGENCY
Astor Theatre Building
N. W. Cor. 45th St. & Broadway
Lackawanna 7876

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN CO. 345 W. 39TH ST. NEW YORK

FEATURE RELEASE CHART

Productions are Listed Alphabetically and by Months in which Released in order that the Exhibitor may have a short-cut toward such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming.
(S. R. indicates State Right release.)

Refer to THE MOTION PICTURE NEWS BOOKING GUIDE for Productions Listed Prior to March

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Arizona Whirlwind, The	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	4134 feet	April 1
Beloved Rogue, The	John Barrymore	United Artists	9380 feet	Mar. 26
Birds of Prey	Priscilla Dean	Columbia Pictures	6008 feet
Blazing Days	Fred Humes	Universal	4639 feet
Blind Alleys	Meighan-Brent-Nissen	Paramount	5597 feet	Mar. 11
Broncho Twister The	T. Mix-H. Costello	Fox	5435 feet	April 1
Cabaret	G. Gray-T. Moore-C. Conklin-M.Palmer.	Paramount	6947 feet	April 8
Casey at the Bat	W.Beery-S.Holloway-Z. Pitts	Paramount	6040 feet	April 15
Enchanted Island	H. B. Walthall	Tiffany	4857 feet
Evening Clothes	A. Menjou-L. Brooks-V. Valli-N. Beery	Paramount	6287 feet	April 8
Fashions for Women	E Ralston-E. Hanson-R. Hatton	Paramount	6296 feet	April 15
Fighting Love	Goudal-Varconi-Walthall	Pathe-De Mille	7019 feet	June 3
Fourth Commandment, The	B. Bennett-M. Carr-R Agnew-J. Marlowe	Universal	6863 feet	Oct. 30
Heaven on Earth	C. Nagel-R. Adoree	M-G-M	6301 feet
Hey Hey Cowboy	H. Gibson-K. Key	Universal	5378 feet	April 15
High Hat	Lyon-Brian-Hardy	First National	6190 feet	May 13
Is That Nice?	G. O'Hara-D. Hill	F. B. O.	4501 feet
Love Makes 'Em Wild	J. Harron-S. Phipps-A. Housman	Fox	5508 feet	April 29
Love of Sunya, The	Gloria Swanson	United Artists	7311 feet	Mar. 25
Man From Hardpan, The	L. Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5814 feet	Mar. 11
Moulders of Men	C. Tearle-M. Morris	F B O	6442 feet	April 1
Mr. Wu	Chaney-Adoree-Forbes-Dresser	M-G-M	7603 feet	June 3
Mysterious Rider, The	J. Holt-B. Jewel	Paramount	5957 feet	Mar. 25
Mystery Club, The	M. Moore-E.Roberts	Universal	6969 feet	Oct. 16
Night Bride, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford-R. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	5736 feet	April 15
Notorious Lady, The	B. Bedford-L. Stone	First National	6040 feet	April 22
One Chance in a Million	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas	5000 feet
Orchids and Ermine	C. Moore-J. Mulhall	First National	6734 feet	May 6
Outlaw's Paradise	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pictures	4500 feet
Perch of the Devil	P. O'Malley-Busch	Universal	6807 feet	Feb. 4
Price of Honor, The	Revier-McGregor	Columbia	5936 feet
Princess from Hoboken, The	E. Burns-B. Mahaffey-E. Clayton-L. Tellegen	Tiffany	5419 feet
Princess on Broadway, The	P. Garon-J. Walker-D.Dwan-H.Miller.	Pathe-De Mille	5705 feet	Mar. 11
Resurrection	La Rocque-Del Rio	United Artists	9523 feet	April 1
Riders of the West	Ben Wilson	Rayart	4834 feet
Saddle Jumpers	Dick Hatton	Rayart	4482 feet
Salvation Jane	V. Dana	F. B O	5490 feet
Sea Tiger, The	Sills-M. Astor	First National	5623 feet	May 6
Sensation Seekers, The	B. Dove-H. Gordon	Universal	7015 feet	Jan. 28
Set Free	Art Acord	Universal	4634 feet
Slide, Kelly, Slide	W. Haines-S. O'Neil-H. Carey-K. Dane	M-G-M	7065 feet	April 1
Sonora Kid The	T. Tyler-F. Darro	F. B. O	4565 feet	Mar. 11
Tearin' Into Trouble	W. Wales-O. Hasbrouck	Pathe-De Mille	4483 feet
Telephone Girl, The	L. Gray-H. Blinn-Bellamy-Baxter Allison	Paramount	6455 feet	May 27
Terror of the Bar X	B. Custer-R. Blaine	F B O.	4982 feet
Venus of Venice The	C Talmadge-Moreno	First National	6324 feet	May 13
Wanted—A Coward	L. Rich-R. Frazer	Sterling Pictures	5 reels
What Every Girl Should Know	P. R. Miller-I. Keith	Warner Bros	6281 feet	June 24
When a Dog Loves	Ranger (Dog)	F. B O.	4390 eet
Whispering Sage	B. Jones-N. Joyce	Fox	4783 feet	April 15
White Flannels	L. Dresser-J. Robards-V. B. Faire	Warner Bros	6820! eet	April 1
White Gold	J. Goudal-G .Bancroft-K. Thomson	Pathe-De Mille	6108 feet	Mar. 25

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Love Funny?	Alberta Vaughn	F. B. O.	4745 feet
Afraid to Love	F. Vidor-C. Brook-N. Trevor-J. Lee	Paramount	6169 feet	April 22
Arizona Bound	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	4912 feet
Backstage	Collier Jr.-Bedford-A. Vaughn-E. Percy	Tiffany	5,784 feet
Beauty Shoppers, The	M. Busch-W. Crane	Tiffany	5669 feet	July 22
Bitter Apples	M. Blue-M. Loy	Warner Bros	5463 feet	May 6
Broadway Drifter, A	G. Walsh-D. Hall	Excellent Pictures	5512 feet	April 1
Brute The	M. Blue-L. Hyams	Warner Bros.	6901 feet	April 29
Children of Divorce	Bow-Ralston-Cooper-E. Hanson	Paramount	6662 feet	May 6
Convoy	D. Mackaill-L. Gray-Collier, Jr.-L. Sherman-I. Keith	First National	7724 feet	May 20
Cyclone of the Range	Tom Tyler-E Tarror-F. Darro	F. B. O.	4818 feet	May 6
Fighting Comeback, The	B. Roosevelt-C. Horton	Pathe-De Mille	4415 feet	April 1
Frisco Sally Levy	S. O'Neil-C. Delaney-R. D'Arcy-T. Holtz	M-G-M	6900 feet	April 22
Hard Fists	Art Acord	Universal	4387 feet
Held By the Law	M. De La Motte-J. Walker	Universal	6929 feet	Mar. 26
Horse Shoes	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5668 feet	April 15
Knockout Reilly	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	7080 feet	May 6
Little Adventuress, The	V. Reynolds-V. Varconi-P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	6200 feet
Long Pants	Harry Langdon	First National	5550 feet	April 8
Lost Limited, The	R. Howes-D. Farley	Rayart	5264 feet
Lovers?	Novarro-Terry	M-G-M	5291 feet	June 10
Madame Wants No Children	M. Corda-H. Liedtke	Fox	5415 feet	April
Matinee Ladies	McAvoy-McGregor-Hopper	Warner Bros	6352 feet	April 22
Naughty Nannette	V. Dana-Ed. Brownell	F. B. O	5051 feet
No Control	P. Haver-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille	5573 feet
Paying the Price	M. Carr-P. Bonner-M. Bonner-D. Selman	Columbia Pictures	5568 feet	June 10
Pleasure Before Business	P.O'Mallev-V.B.Faire	Columbia Pictures	5559 feet	July 17
Rambling Ranger, The	Jack Hoxie	Universal	4439 feet
Red Clay	W. Desmond-M. Day	Universal	4626 feet
Ridin' Rowdy, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr	Pathe-De Mille	4794 feet	April 22
Ritzy	B. Bronson-J. Hall-	Paramount	5306 feet	July 1
Rookies	K. Dane-M. Day-G. K. Arthur-T. O'Brien	M-G-M-	6640 feet	May 6
See You in Jail	J. Mulhall-A. Day	First National	5800 feet	April 2
Senorita	B. Daniels-J. Hall-W. Powell	Paramount	6634 feet	May 20
Sinews of Steel	A. Vaughn-G. Glass	Lumas	5700 feet
Smoking Guns	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pict. (S.R.)	4500 feet
Somewhere in Sonora	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5718 feet	May 6
Special Delivery	E. Cantor-Wm. Powell-J. Ralston	Paramount	5524 feet	May 6
Spuds	L. Semon-D. Dwan	Pathe-De Mille	4930 feet	April 15
Taxi, Taxi	Horton-Nixon	Universal	7173 feet	Feb. 18
Three Hours	C. Griffith-J. Bowers	First National	5774 feet	Mar. 26
Thunderbolt's Tracks	Jack Perrin	Rayart	4846 feet
Too Many Crooks	M.Davis-G.Bancroft-L. Hughes	Paramount	5399 feet
When Seconds Count	Billy Sullivan	Rayart	4803 feet	July 1
Whirlwind of Youth, The	L. Moran-D. Keith-L. Kent	Paramount	5886 feet	June 17

MAY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
All Aboard	J. Hines-E. Murphy	First National	6300 feet	April 1
Babe Comes Home	Babe Ruth-A. Q. Nilsson-L. Fazenda	First National	5761 feet	July 8
Broadway Nights	L. Wilson-S. Hardy	First National	6765 feet	July 8
Broncho Buster, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4687 feet
California	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4912 feet	July 8
Captain Salvation	L. Hanson-G. Fawcett-P. Starke-E. Torrence-M. Day	M-G-M	7395 feet	July 8
Catch As Catch Can	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas
Climbers The	I. Rich-F. Stanley	Warner Bros	6621 feet	May 13
Cradle Snatchers	L. Fazenda-J. F. McDonald-D. Phillips	Fox	6281 feet	June 10
Don Desperado	L.Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5804 feet	May 6
Down the Stretch	Agnew-Nixon	Universal	6910 feet	April 22
Eyes of the Totem, The	W. Hawley-T. Santschi-G. Hughes-A. Cornwall	Pathe-De Mille	6128 feet	May 13
Fighting Hombre The	Bob Custer	F B O.	4624 feet
Grinning Guns	J. Hoxie-E. Gregory	Universal	4689 feet	May 6
Heart of Salome	A. Rubens-W. Pidgeon-H. Herbert	Fox	5617 feet	June 17
Heart of the Yukon	A.Cornwall-J.Bowers	Pathe-De Mille	6562 feet	May 27
Heart Thief, The	J. Schildkraut-L. de Putti-T. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	6036 feet	July 1
Hills of Peril	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox	4943 feet	May 13
His First Flame	H. Langdon-R. Hiat	Pathe-De Mille	4660 feet	May 20
Irish Hearts	McAvoy-Robards	Warner Bros.	5597 feet	June 10
Is Zat So?	O'Brien-Perry-Lowe	Fox	6950 feet	May 27
Love Thrill, The	La Plante-T. Moore	Universal	5285 feet	June 17
Lost at the Front	C. Murray-C. Sidney-N Kingston	First National	5255 feet	June 24
Lure of the Night Club, The	Viola Dana-R. Ellis	F. B. O.	5770 feet
Million Bid, A	D. Costello-W. Oland-McGregor-Blythe	Warne Bros	6310 feet	June 24
Mother	B Bennett-C. Kent-Kent-M. J. Scott	F B O.	6934 feet	Mar. 18
No Man's Law	Rex (Horse)-T. von Eltz-B. Kent	Pathe-De Mille	6903 feet	April 29
Outlaw Dog, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.	4727 feet	April 8
Outlaws of Red River	T. Mix-M. Daw	Fox	5327 feet	May 6
Pirates of the Sky	C. Hutchinson-W Hawley	Pathe-De Mille	4828 feet	May 20
Poor Girls	D. Revier-E. Burns-R. Stonehouse	Columbia Pictures	5428 feet
Prairie King The	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5689 feet
Rich But Honest	N. Nash-C. Holland-J. F. McDonald	Fox	5480 feet	May 20
Rich Men's Sons	R. Graves-S. Mason	Columbia Pictures	6854 eet	Oct. 7
Rough House Rosie	C. Bow-R. Howes-D. Gilmore	Paramount	5952 feet	June 3
She's My Baby	M. Harris-R. Agnew	Sterling Pict	5249 feet
Silent Avenger, The	Thunder (Dog)	Lumas	5690 feet
Silver Comes Thru	F. Thomson-E. Murphy-Silver King (Horse)	F. B. O.	5476 feet	June 3

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Snowbound	B. Blythe-Agnew-L. Rich-G. Fawcett	Tiffany	5182 feet	Aug. 5
Splitting the Breeze	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.	4930 feet
Tender Hour The	Lyon-Dove-A. B. Francis-M. Love	First National	7400 feet	June 17
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Tillie the Toiler	Davies-M. Moore-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6160 feet	June 17
Tip Toes	D. Gish-W. Rogers	Paramount	6390 feet
Tracked by the Police	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros	5823 feet	May 13
Vanity	L.Joy-A.Hale-C.Ray	Pathe-De Mille	5923 feet	July 1
Wedding Bills	R. Griffith-A. Sheridan	Paramount	5869 feet	July 22
Winning Oar, The	George Walsh	Excellent Pict	5750 feet
World at Her Feet, The	Florence Vidor	Paramount	5691 feet	Aug. 26
Yankee Clipper, The	W. Boyd-E. Fair	Pathe-De Mille	7920 feet	April 15
Yours to Command	G. O'Hara-S.Palmer	F. B. O.	4734 feet

JUNE

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Avenging Fangs	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille	4335 feet	June 3
Beware of Widows	La Plante-B. Washburn	Universal	5670 feet	May 6
Black Diamond Express, The	M. Blue-E. Murphy	Warner Bros	5803 feet
Bulldog Pluck	Bob Custer	F. B. O.	5013 feet
Callahans and the Murphys, he	S. O'Neil-M. Dressler-L. Gray-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	5875 feet	July 22
Circus Ace, The	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox	4810 feet	June 24
Claw The	Kerry-Windsor	Universal	5252 feet	June 3
Closed Gates	J. Harron-J Novak	Sterling Pict	5515 feet	June 3
Clown, The	D. Revier-J. Walker-W. V. Mong	Columbia Pictures	5470 feet
Code of the Cow Country, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4512 feet	July 15
Dance Magic	A. Truex-B. Lyon-P. Starke-S. Hardy	First National	6588 feet	Aug. 19
Dearie	I. Rich-Wm. Collier, Jr.-E. Murphy	Warner Bros.	5897 feet	June 24
Drums of the Desert	W.Baxter-M. Millner	Paramount	5907 feet
Fast and Furious ramed	R. Denny-B. Worth M. Sills-N. Barr- N. Kingston	Universal First National	5684 feet 5282 feet	July 22 July 1
Frontiersman, The	T. McCoy-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4986 feet
Good as Gold	Buck Jones	Fox	4545 feet	June 17
Hands Off	Fred Humes	Universal	4773 feet
Ladies Beware	G.O'Hara-N.Luxford	F. B. O.	4900 feet
Land Beyond Law, The	K. Maynard-D. Dwan	First National	6157 feet	July 15
Meddlin' Stranger The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	June 10
Men of Daring	Hoxie-E. Gregory-F. Ford	Universal	6159 feet	April 1
Mountains of Manhattan	D.Devore-C.Delaney	Lumas	5785 feet	June 3
Naughty But Nice	C. Moore-D. Reed-H. Cooley-K.McGuire	First National	6520 feet	July 22
Pals in Peril	Buffalo Bill, J	Pathe-De Mille	4710 feet	July 15
Rolled Stockings	L. Brooks-J. Hall-R. Arlen	Paramount	6249 feet	July 29
Romantic Age, The	E.O'Brien-A.Vaughn	Columbia Pictures	5267 feet
Rubber Heels	Ed. Wynn-T. Todd-C. Conklin-L. Gray	Paramount	5614 feet	July 15
Secret Studio The	O. Borden-C. Holland-M. Livingston	Fox	5870 feet	June 24
Simple Sis	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	6218 feet	June 17
Slaves of Beauty	O.Tell-H.Herbert-M. Livingston-E. Foxe	Fox	5412 feet	June 10
Sunset Derby, The	M. Astor-W. Collier Jr.-R. Lewis	First National	5000 feet	Aug. 5
Tale of a Vanishing People		Tiffany	6500 feet
Thumbs Down	C. Hale-L. Boyd	Sterling Pict	4723 feet
Time to Love	R. Griffith-V. Veronina-W. Powell	Paramount	4926 feet	July 8
Tired Business Man, The	Hitchcock-Mehaffey-Gow and-Quimby	Tiffany	5607 feet
Trunk Mystery, The	Hutchinson-Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4334 feet	July 1
Unknown, The	L. Chaney-J. Crawford-N. Kerry	M-G-M	5517 feet	June 24
Western Rover, The	Art Acord	Universal	4404 feet
What Happened to Father	W. Oland-F. Fairbanks	Warner Bros	5567 feet	July 1

JULY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Colleen	Bellamy-MacDonald-Cohen,McNamara	Fox	5301 feet
Cruel Truth, The	H.Hopper-C.Howard	Sterling Pictures	5167 feet	Aug. 12
Devil's Saddle, The	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5488 feet
Fighting Three, The	J. Hoxie-Hasbrouck	Universal	4108 feet	May 9
For Ladies Only	J. Logan-J. Bowers	Columbia	5507 feet
For the Love of Mike	F. Sterling-G. Sidney-B.Lyon-C. Colbert	First National	6588 feet
Galloping Thunder	B. Custer-A. Sheridan	F. B. O.	4691 feet
Heart of Maryland, The	D. Costello-J. Robards-H. Costello	Warner Bros	5868 feet
Hero on Horseback, A	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5551 feet
His Dog	J.Schildkraut-J.Faye-R. Edeson-S. Rand	Pathe-De Mille	6788 feet	Oct. 28
Kid Sister, The	M. de la Motte-Mc-Gregor-A. Christie	Columbia	5477 feet
Ladies at Ease	P. Garon-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	5800 feet
Lady Bird, The	Compson-McGregor	First Division (S. R.)	6568 feet
Last Outlaw The	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	6032 feet
Little Firebrand, The	E. Thornton-L. Tellegan	Pathe-De Mille	4615 feet	Dec.12 '25
Lonesome Ladies	A. Q. Nilsson-L. Stone	First National	5718 feet	Aug. 12
Manpower	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5617 feet	Aug. 12
Married Alive	Livingston-M. Moore Tellegan-C. Adams	Fox	4557 feet
On Ze Boulevard	L. Cody-R. Adoree-R. D'Arcy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M	5671 feet	Aug. 12
Prince of Headwaiters, The	L.Stone-L. Tashman	First National	6400 feet	Aug. 26
Range Courage	Fred Humes	Universal	4388 feet
Skedaddle Gold	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4562 feet	Aug. 12
Tartuffe, the Hypocrite	E. Jannings-L. Dagover—W. Kraus	Ufa	6053 feet	Aug. 5
Ten Modern Commandments	Esther Ralston	Paramount	6497 feet	July 22
Tom's Gang	T. Tyler-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	4954 feet
Twelve Miles Out	J.Gilbert-E.Torrence-J.Crawford-B.Compson-E. Percy	M-G-M	7899 feet	Aug. 5
Two-Gun of the Tumbleweed	Leo Maloney	Pathe-De Mille	5670 feet	July 22
White Pants Willie	J. Hines-L. Hymans	First National	6409 feet	Aug. 26
Woman Who Did Not Care, The	L. Tashman-A. Rankin	Lumas	5996 feet

AUGUST

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Adam and Evil	L. Cody-A. Pringle-G. Lee	M-G-M	6667 feet	Aug. 19
After Midnight	N. Shearer-L. Gray	M-G-M	6312 feet	Aug. 26
Alias the Lone Wolf	L. Wilson-B. Lytell-W. V. Mong	Columbia	5831 feet	Oct. 7
Beau Geste	N. Beery-Colman-N. Hamilton-Forbes	Paramount	9879 feet	Sept 11
Blood Ship, The	H. Bosworth-J. Logan-R. Arlen	Columbia	6843 feet	Aug. 5
Border Blackbirds	L. Maloney-E. Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5326 feet	Sept. 9
Breed of Courage, The	Ranger (Dog)-J. Morgan	F. B. O	4910 feet
Bugle Call, The	J. Coogan-H. Rawlinson-C. Windsor	M-G-M	5821 feet
Bush Leaguer, The	M. Blue-Hyams	Warner Bros.	6281 feet	Sept. 9
Chain Lightning	B. Jones-D. Ellis	Fox	5333 feet
Country Doctor, The	R. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille	7500 feet	Sept. 9
Covered Wagon, The (Reissue)	Wilson-Kerrigan-Torrence	Paramount		Oct. 28
Coward, The	W. Baxter-S. Lynn	F. B. O	5093 feet
Desired Woman, The	I. Rich-W. Russell-W. Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros.	6408 feet	Sept. 16
Eager Lips	P. Garon-B. Blythe-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	6206 feet
Face Value	J. Mower-F. Ridgeway	Sterling Pict	4393 feet
Fighting Eagle, The	La Rocque-P Haver	Pathe-De Mille	6000 feet	Sept. 2
Fireman Save My Child	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	5399 feet	Oct. 21
Great Mail Robbery, The	T. Van Eltz-J. Morgan	F. B. O	6507 feet
Hard Boiled Haggerty	M. Sills-M. O'Day	First National	7446 feet	Sept. 9
Hidden Aces	C. Hutchinson-A. Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4620 feet	Sept. 2
Hula	C. Bow-C. Brook	Paramount	5862 feet	Sept. 16
Interferin' Gent, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4864 feet	Sept. 9
Madame Pompadour	D. Gish-A. Moreno	Paramount	7180 feet	Aug. 12
Metropolis	Special Cast	Paramount	8039 feet	Mar. 13
Missing Link, The	S. Chaplin-R. Hiatt	Warner Bros.	6435 feet	May 20
Mockery	L. Chaney-R. Cortez-B. Bedford	M-G-M	5957 feet	Sept. 2
Not for Publication	R. Ince-R. Lease-J. Mendez	F. B. O	6140 feet
Paid to Love	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-W. Powell	Fox	6888 feet	Aug. 19
Painting the Town	G. Tryon-P. R. Miller	Universal	5909 feet	July 1
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4497 feet
Poor Nut, The	J. Mulhall-J. Winton-J. Arthur-C. Murray	First National	6897 feet	July 29
Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary, The	M. Robson-H. Ford-
Return of Boston Blackie	Strongheart (Dog)-C. Palmer	First Division (S. R.)	5865 feet
	P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	5844 feet
Rose of Kildare, The	O'Malley-H. Chadwick-H. B. Walthall	Lumas	6875 feet
Rose of the Bowery	E. Murphy-J. Walker-C. Kent-M Harris	A. C. A	5446 feet
Running Wild	W.C.Fields-M.Brian	Paramount	6368 feet	June 26
Satin Woman, The	Mrs. W. Reid	Lumas	7000 feet	Aug. 5
Say It With Diamonds	B. Compson-E. Williams	First Division (S. R.)	6041 feet
Service for Ladies	A. Menjou-K. Carver	Paramount	6170 feet	Aug. 26
Singed	B. Sweet-W. Baxter-M. McAllister	Fox	5790 feet	July 22
Smile Brother Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6 reels	Sept. 9
Soft Cushions	Douglas MacLean	Paramount	6838 feet	Sept. 2
Stolen Bride, The	B. Dove-L. Hughes	First National	7179 feet	Aug. 26
Stranded	S. Mason-Collier, Jr.	Sterling Pict	5443 feet	Sept. 16
Swell Head, The	R. Grover-J. Walker-W. Gilbert	Columbia Pictures	5484 feet
Three's a Crowd	H. Langdon-G. McConnell	First National	5668 feet	Oct. 1
Topsy and Eva	Duncan Sisters-G. Gowland-M. Daw	United Artists	7456 feet	Aug. 19
Tumbling River	T. Mix-D. Dwan	Fox	4675 feet	Aug. 26
What Price Glory (road show)	McLaglen-Del Rio-Lowe	Fox	11109 feet	Dec. 4
When a Man Loves (road show)	J. Barrymore-D. Costello-W. Oland	Warner Bros	10049 feet	Feb. 6
White Pebbles	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4485 feet	Aug. 19
Woman's Law	P. O'Malley-L. Rich	Peerless Pict (S. R.)	6000 feet
Your Wife and Mine	P. Haver-S. Holmes-B. Tennant-W. Mcdonald	Excellent Pict	5867 feet

SEPTEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Almost Human	V. Reynolds-K. Thomson-C. McDowell	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Angel or Broaway, The	L. Joy-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	6555 feet
Annie Laurie	L. Gish-N. Kerry	M-G-M	8730 feet	May 27
Back to God's Country	R. Adoree-R. Frazer	Universal	5751 feet	July 23
Barbed Wire	P. Negri-C. Brook-E. Hanson	Paramount	6951 feet
Big Parade The (road show)	Gilbert-Adoree-K. Dane-T. O'Brien	M-G-M	12550 feet	Nov. 28
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox
Border Cavalier, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4427 feet
Born to Battle	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Boy of the Streets	J. Walker-M. Bennett-B. Francisco	Rayart (S. R.)	5059 feet
Broadway Madness	M. de la Motte- D. Keith	Excellent Pict	6945 feet	Oct. 16
By Whose Hand?	R. Cortez-E. Gilbert	Columbia	5234 feet
Camille	N. Talmadge-A. B. Francis-G. Roland	First National	9692 feet	May 6

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Cancelled Debt, The	R. Lease-C. Stevens	Sterling Pict	5200 feet
Cat and the Canary, The	L. La Plante-F. Stanley-C. Hale-T. Maryhall-G. Astor	Universal	7790 feet	May 20
Chang (Jungle Film)	Special Cast	Paramount	6536 feet	May 13
Clancy's Kosher Wedding	G. Sidney-M. Gordon-S. Lynn-R. Lease-W. Armstrong	F. B. O.	5701 feet	Aug. 26
College	B. Keaton-A. Cornwall-G. Withers	United Artists	5362 feet	Sept. 23
Cruise of the Helion, The	E. Murphy-D. Keith-T. Santschin	Rayart (S. R.)	6089 feet	Sept. 30
Drop Kick, The	R. Barthelmess - D. Revier-B. Kent	First National	6802 feet	Sept. 30
Finnegan's Ball	B. Mehaffey-Landis	First Division Pict	6200 feet
First Auto The	B. Oldfield-P. R. Miller-R. Simpson	Warner Bros	6767 feet	July 8
Flying U Ranch, The	Tyler-N. Lane	F. B. O.	4924 feet
Gay Retreat, The	G. Cameron-S. Cohen-T. McNamara	Fox	5524 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Rio, The	Carmel Myers	Lumas	6990 feet
In a Moment of Temptation	C. Stevens-C. Keefe-K. Guard-G. Withers	F. B. O.	6000 feet	Nov. 11
Isle of Forgotten Women	Tearle-Sebastian	Columbia
Jaws of Steel	Rin-Tin-Tin-H. Ferguson-J. Robards	Warner Bros	5569 feet	Sept. 30
Joy Girl, The	O. Borden-J. McDonald-N. Hamilton-M. Alden	Fox	6162 feet	Sept. 23
Life of Riley, The	C. Murray-G. Sidney-S. Hardy-J. Marlowe	First National	6712 feet	Sept. 16
Lightning	J. Ralston-R. Fraser-M. Livingston	Tiffany	6049 feet	Sept. 30
Lone Eagle, The	R. Keene-B. Kent	Universal	5862 feet
Loves of Carmen	Del Rio-McLaglen-D. Alvarado	Fox	8538 feet	Oct. 7
Magic Flame, The	Colman-Banky	United Artists	8300 feet	Sept. 30
Mojave Kid, The	B. Steele-L. Gilmore	F. B. O	4912 feet	Aug. 12
Nest, The	P. Frederick-H. Herbert-R. Dwyer	Excellent Pict	7393 feet	Oct. 14
Nevada	G. Cooper-T. Todd	Paramount	6258 feet	Oct. 28
Old San Francisco	D. Costello-C. E. Mack-W. Oland	Warner Bros	7961 feet	July 8
One Round Hogan	M. Blue-J. J. Jeffries-L. Hyams	Warner Bros	6375 feet	Oct. 7
One Woman to Another	F. Vidor-Von Eltz	Paramount	4022 feet	Sept. 30
Out All Night	R. Denny-M. Nixon	Universal	6170 feet	Oct. 7
Out of the Past	R. Frazier-M. Harris	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5701 feet
Painted Ponies	H. Gibson-E. Claire	Universal	5415 feet	Aug. 5
Prince of the Plains	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)	4134 feet
Ragtime	J. Bowers-M. de la Motte	First Division (S. R.)	6700 feet	Sept. 9
Red Raiders	K. Maynard-A. Drew	First National	6280 feet
Rush Hour, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille
Sailor's Sweetheart, A	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	5685 feet	Oct. 14
Sally in Our Alley	S. Mason-A. B. Francis-R. Arlen	Columbia Pictures	5892 feet
Slightly Used	M. McAvoy-C. Nagel-B. Agnew	Warner Bros	6412 feet	Sept. 30
Smile, Brother, Smile	J. Muthall-D. Mackaill	First National	6548 feet	Sept. 9
Soda Water Cowboy, The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4546 feet	Nov. 4
Stark Love	Special Cast	Paramount	6203 feet	Mar. 11
Swim, Girl, Swim	B. Daniels-G. Ederle	Paramount	6124 feet	Sept. 16
Tell It to Sweeney	Conklin-Bancroft-Brian-Lden	Paramount	6006 feet	Oct. 28
Their Hour		Tiffany
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Two Arabian Knights	W. Boyd-M. Astor-L. Wolheim-I. Keith	United Artists	8250 feet	Nov. 4
Two Girls Wanted	J. Gaynor-G. Tryon	Fox	6293 feet	Oct. 7
We're All Gamblers	Meighan-M. Millner	Paramount	5935 feet

OCTOBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
American Beauty	B. Dove-L. Hughes-V. L. Corbin	First National	6 reels	Oct. 21
Back to Liberty	G. Walsh-D. Hall-E. Breese	Excellent Pict.
Becky	S. O'Neil-O. Moore-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	6433 feet
Ben Hur	Novarro-McAvoy-Bronson-F. X Bushman-C. Myers	M-G-M	12000 feet	Jan. 16
Beware of Married Men	Irene Rich	Warner Bros
Blondes By Choice	Claire Windsor	Lumas	6987 feet
Body and Soul	A. Pringle-L. Barrymore-N. Kerry	M-G-M
Boy Rider, The	Buzz Barton	F. B. O	4858 feet	Sept. 30
Breakfast at Sunrise	C. Talmadge-D. Alvarado	First National
Broadway Kid, The (tentative)	George Jessel	Warner Bros
Celebrated Woman, A	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Cheating Cheaters	B. Compson-K. Harlan	Universal	5623 feet
Chinese Parrot, The	M. Nixon-H Bosworth	Universal	7304 feet
College Widow, The	D. Costello-Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros	6616 feet	Oct. 28
Combat	G. Walsh-G. Hulette	Pathe-De Mille	5100 feet	Nov. 11
Comrades	G. James-A. Sheridan	First Division (S. R.)
Crystal Cup, The	D. Mackaill-J. Mulhall	First National	6386 feet
Death Valley	C. Nye-R. Rae-R. Wells	First Division (S. R.)	5882 feet	Aug. 12
Dog of the Regiment, A	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros	5003 feet	Nov. 11
East Side, West Side	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-J. F. McDonald	Fox	6408 feet	Nov. 4
Fair Co-ed, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M	8154 feet	Nov. 4
Figures Don't Lie	E. Ralston-R. Arlen	Paramount	5280 feet
Forbidden Woman, The	J. Goudal-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	7000 feet
Gambler's Game, The	Tom Tyler	F. B. O
Garden of Eden, The	C. Griffith-C. Ray-L. Sherman	United Artists
Gentleman of Paris, A	A. Menjou-S. O'Hara-A. Marchall	Paramount	5927 feet	Oct. 14
Gingham Girl, The	L. Wilson-G. K. Arthur	F. B. O	6310 feet	July 29
Girl From Gay Paree, The	Sherman-Bedford-McGregor-Blythe	Tiffany	5233 feet	Sept. 23
Girl in the Pullman	Marie Prevost	Pathe-De Mille	3867 feet
Grandma's Boy (re-issue)	Harold Lloyd	Pathe-De Mille	4750 feet
Gun-Hand Garrison	Tex Maynard	Raycraft (S. R.)	4879 feet
Highschool Hero, The	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	Fox	5498 feet	Nov. 11
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
In Old Kentucky	J. Murray-H. Costello	M-G-M
Jake the Plumber	J. DeVarska-S. Lynn	F. B. O	5186 feet	Nov. 4
Jazz Singer, The (Vitaphone)	Al Jolson-W. Oland-McAvoy	Warner Bros	7423 feet	Oct. 21
Jesse James	Fred Thomson	Paramount	7423 feet	Oct. 28
Les Miserables	Special Cast	Universal	7713 feet
Light in the Window, A	Walthall-P. Avery-C. Keefe	Rayart (S. R.)	5960 feet	Nov. 11
Lingerie		Tiffany
My Best Girl	M. Pickford-C. Rogers	United Artists
No Place to Go	M. Astor-L. Hughes	First National
Now We're in the Air	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	5798 feet
Obligin' Buckaroo, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	Nov. 11
Pajamas	O. Borden-L. Gray	Fox
Pretty Clothes	J. Ralston-J. Walker-G. Astor	Sterling Pict. (S. R.)	5652 feet	Nov. 4
Publicity Madness	L. Moran-E. Lowe	Fox	5893 feet
Ranger of the North	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O
Reno Divorce, A	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros.	5492 feet	Nov. 4
Ride 'Em High	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4542 feet	Nov. 11
Ridin' Luck	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)
Rough Riders, The (general release)	F. Hopper-N. Beery-Bancroft-M. Astor-Mack-Farrell	Paramount	7 reels	April 1
Sailor Izzy Murphy	G. Jessel-A. Ferris	Warner Bros	6020 feet	Oct. 28
Seventh Heaven	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell-D. Butler-G. Brockwell	Fox	8500 feet	June 10
Shanghai Bound	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5515 feet
Shanghaied	P. R. Miller-R. Ince-G. Astor	F. B. O	5999 feet	Aug. 26
Shootin' Irons	J. Luden-S. Blane	Paramount	5179 feet
Silk Stockings	L. La. Plante-O. Harlan-J. Harron	Universal	7 reels	Aug. 26
Silver Valley	Tom Mix	Fox	5011 feet	Oct. 14
Spring Fever	Wm. Haines-J. Crawford-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6705 feet	Oct. 28
Straight Shooting	Ted Wells	Universal	4251 feet	Aug. 19
Underworld	C. Brook-E. Brent-G. Bancroft	Paramount	7453 feet	Sept. 9
Very Confidential	Madge Bellamy	Fox
Way of All Flesh, The	E. Jannings-L. Dagover-B. Bennett-P. Haver-D. Keith	Paramount	8486 feet	July 8
Wheel of Destiny, The	F. Stanley-G. Hale	Rayart (S. R.)
Wine (re-issue)	Clara Bow	Universal	7 reels
Wise Wife, The	P. Haver-T. Moore	Pathe-De Mille	5610 feet
Wolf's Trail	Dynamite (Dog)	Universal	4167 feet
Woman on Trail, The	Negri-Cortez	Paramount	5960 feet
Women's Wares	Brent-Lytell-L. Kent	Tiffany
Wreck of the Hesperus, The	A. Hale-V. Bradford	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels

NOVEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Bandit's Son, The	B. Steele-A. Sheridan	F. B. O	4789 feet
Bowery Cinderella, A	P. O'Malley-G. Hulette	Excellent Pict
Cheer Leader, The		Lumas
Discord	G. Ekman-L. Dagover	Pathe-De Mille	8586 feet	Nov. 11
Dress Parade	W. Boyd-B. Love	Pathe-De Mille	6599 feet	Nov. 11
Flying Luck	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	6400 feet
French Dressing	B. Lyon-C. Colbert	First National
Galloping Fury	H. Gibson-S. Rand	Universal	5503 feet
Garden of Allah, The	A. Terry-I. Petrovich	M-G	8200 feet	Sept. 16
Gorilla, The	C. Murray-F. Kelsey-D. Revier-T. Marshall	First National
Grass Widows		Tiffany
Gun Gospel	K. Maynard	First National
Harvester The	N. Kingston-O. Caldwell	F. B. O	7045 feet
His Foreign Wife	W. McDonald-E. Murphy	Pathe-De Mille	4890 feet
Hoof Marks	Jack Donovan	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Hook and Ladder, No. 9	D. Ellis-E. Hearne-C. Keefe	F. B. O	5240 feet
Judgment of the Hills	V. Valli-F. Darro	F. B. O	6481 feet	Aug. 19
Let 'Er Go Gallagher	Junior Coughlan	F. B. O
Lure of the South Seas, The		First Division (S. R.)
Main Event, The	Vera Reynolds	Pathe-De Mille	6472 feet	Nov. 11
Mile-A-Minute Love	R. Denny-B. Kent	Universal
My Friend From India	F. Pangborn	Pathe-De Mille
Night Life	A. Day-J. Harron	Tiffany
Once and Forever	P. R. Miller-J. Harron	Tiffany	5639 feet
One Glorious Scrap	Fred Humes	Universal	4172 feet
On Your Toes	R. Denny-B. Worth	Uhiversal
Polly of the Movies	Jason Robards	First Division (S. R.)
Private Life of Helen of Troy, The	M. Corda-L. Stone-M. O'Day	First National
Quality Street	M. Davies	M-G-M
Roarin' Broncs	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Rose of the Golden West	G. Roland-M. Astor	First National		Oct. 7
Sadie Thompson	G. Swanson	United Artists
Skyhigh Saunders	Al Wilson	Universal	4393 feet
Small Bachelor, The	Beranger-O. Harlan-B. Kent-C. Geraghty	Universal	6218 feet
Stage Kisses	K. Harlan-H. Chadwick	Columbia
Tea for Three	L. Cody-A. Pringle-O. Moore-D. Sebastian	M-G-M	5273 feet	Nov. 11
Tempest	J. Barrymore-Sebastian Wolheim	United Artists
Temptations of a Shopgirl	B. Compson-Garon-A. Kaiz	First Division (S. R.)
Thirteenth Hour, The	Bonaparte (Dog)-J. Gadsen-L. Barrymore	M-G-M
Turkish Delight	R. Schildkraut-J. Faye	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Web of Fate	Lillian Rich	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5800 feet
Wild Beauty	Rex (Horse)-J. Marlowe	Universal	5192 feet

DECEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Aflame in the Sky	S. Lynn-J. Luden	F. B. O.	6034 feet	Nov. 11
Blue Danube, The	L. Joy-R. LaRocque-J. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Bridal Night, The	Norma Shearer	M-G-M
Buttons	Coogan-Hanson-Olmstead	M-G-M
Desert Pirate, The	T. Tyler-D. Thompson	F. B. O.
Devil Dancer, The	G. Gray-C. Brook	United Artists
Fangs of Destiny	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb	Universal	4295 feet
Five and Ten Cent Annie	Louise Fazenda	Warner Bros
Fruit of Divorce	P. Marmont-M. Busch Lumas (S. R.)
Good-Time Charley	W. Oland-H. Costello	Warner Bros
Haunted	D. Sebastian	Tiffany
He's My Man	Phyllis Haver	Pathe-De Mille
Home Made	Johnny Hines	First National
Irresistible Lover, The	Norman Kerry	Universal	6958 feet	Sept. 16
Legionnaires in Paris	Al Cooke-Kit Guard	F. B. O.
London After Midnight	L. Chaney-C. Nagel-M. Day-Walthall	M-G-M
Lovelorn, The		M-G-M
Man and the Moment, The		First National
Man's Past, A	C. Veidt-I. Keith-G. Siegmann	Universal	6135 feet	Sept. 16
Power	William Boyd	Pathe-De Mille
Rebecca O'Brien	May McAvoy	Warner Bros
Rip Van Winkle	Rudolph Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille
Slingshot Kid, The	"Buzz" Barton-J. Morgan	F. B. O	4886 feet
Sorrell and Son	H. B. Warner-Nilsson-A. Joyce-Wolheim	United Artists
South Sea Love	P. R. Miller-L. Shumway-A. Brooks	F. B. O.	6388 feet
Streets of Shanghai		Tiffany
Swift Shadow, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.
Valley of the Giants	M. Sills-D. Kenyon	First National
You'll Never Get Rich		First Division (S. R.)

JANUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Alias the Deacon	J. Hersholt-J. Marlowe-R. Graves	Universal	6869 feet	Oct. 21
Coney Island	Lois Wilson	F. B. O.
Creole Love		First Division (S. R.)
Dead Man's Curve	Fairbanks, Jr.-S. Blane	F. B. O.	5511 feet
Divine Woman, The	Greta Garbo	M-G-M
Driftin' Sands	Bob Steele	F. B. O
Dove, The	N. Talmadge-G. Roland-N. Beery	United Artists
Louisiana	B. Dove-M. Astor-N. Beery	First National
Love in a Cottage		First Division (S. R.)
Man Crazy	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Man, Woman and Sin	John Gilbert	M-G-M
Noose, The	R. Barthelmess-L. Basquette	First National
Ramona	D. Del Rio-W. Baster	United Artists
Road to Romance, The	R. Novarro-M. Day-R. D. D'Arcy	M-G-M	6544 feet
Shepherd of the Hills, The	A. B. Francis-M. O'Day-J. Boles	First National
Texas Steer, A	W. Rogers-L. Fazenda-A. Rork	Sam E. Rork (producer)
United States Smith		Lumas
Wagon Show, The	K. Maynard-E. Gregory	First National
West Point	William Haines	M-G-M
Wizard of the Saddle	B. Barton-D. Thompson	F. B. O.

FEBRUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Age of Sex, The		First Division (S. R.)
Algerian Nights		First Division (S. R.)
Bare Knees		Lumas
Down Went McGinty	C. Murray-G. Sidney	First National
Napoleon (French Film)	Special Cast	M-G-M
Over the Andes	D. Fairbanks-E. Southern-L. Valez	United Artists
Passion Island	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
Sailors' Wives	Astor-Hughes	First National

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Brunettes Preferred		First Division (S. R.)
Buck Privates	de Putti-McGregor	Universal
Circus, The	C. Chaplin-M. Kennedy	United Artists
Darling of the Gods, The	Special Cast	United Artists
Free Lips		First Division (S. R.)
Harold Teen		First National
Hell Ship Bronson	Mrs. Wallace Reid	Lumas
Man Higher Up, The		Lumas
Once There Was a Princess	Billie Dove	First National
Pair of Sixes, A	Johnny Hines	First National
Red Signals	W. McDonald-E. Novak-E. Williams	Sterling Pictures	5032 feet
Royal American, The	Ken Maynard	First National

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Belle of Avenue A		First Division (S. R.)
In the First Degree	A. Calhoun-G. Hughes-B. Washburn	Sterling Pict	5428 feet
Surrender	M. Philbin-I. Moskine	Universal

Coming Attractions

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
$5,000 Reward	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox
Abie's Irish Rose	J. F. McDonald-J. Hershalt	Paramount
Ace High	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Across the Atlantic	M. Blue	Warner Bros.
Adventurer, The	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Air Raiders, The	Al Wilson	F. B. O
Alex the Great		F. B. O.
Avenger, The	Bob Custer	F. B. O
Baby Mine	G. K. Arthur-K. Dane	M-G-M
Bad Little Good Girl		Chadwick
Barnum (road show)	Wallace Beery	Paramount
Beau Sabreur	E. Brent-G. Cooper-G. Bancroft-N. Beery	Paramount
Beggar of Love	P. Negri-K. Thomson-J. Hersholt	Paramount
Better Man, The		F. B. O.
Betty's a Lady	J. Ralston-C. Ray	Universal
Big City, The	L. Chaney	M-G-M
Big Game Hunt, The	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount
Big Gun, The	George Lewis	Universal
Big Sneeze, The	W. Beery-F. Sterling-Z. Pitts	Paramount
Big Top, The		M-G-M
Black Ivory (road show)	M. Blue	Warner Bros
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox	4777 feet
Blood Will Tell	B. Jones-K. Perry	Fox
Boss of Rustlers Roost, The	D. Coleman-E. Gilbert	Pathe
Boy of the Streets, A	J. Walker-B. Francisco-M. Bennett	Rayart (S. R.)
Branded Sombrero, The	B. Jones-L. Hyams	Fox Films
Brass Knuckles	M. Blue-B. Bronson	Warner Bros
Breed of the Sunset		F. B. O.
Bride of the Night	C. Farrel-G. Nissen-M. Busch-M. Loy	Fox
Brides Will Be Brides	Laura La Plante	Universal
Bringing Up Father	J. F. McDonald	M-G-M
Broadway After Midnight	P. Bonner-C. Landis-G. Hughes-B. Tennant	Krelbar Pict. (S. R.)	6199 feet	Nov. 4
Burning Daylight	M. Sills	First National
Butter and Egg Man, The	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Call of the Heart	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb-J. Alden	Universal	5261 feet
Cancelled Debt, The	Rex Lease	Sterling Pict
Casey Jones	R. Lewis-J. Robards-A. Sheridan	Rayart (S. R.)
Certain Young Man, A	Novarro-Adoree-W. Marshall-G. Astor	M-G-M
Chicago	P. Haver-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille
Chicago After Midnight		F. B. O.
City of Shadows, The	J. Luden-S. Lynn	F. B. O
City of Sin	M. Hoy	Warner Bros.
Code of the Range	Jack Perrin	Rayart (S. R.)	4747 feet
Cohens and the Kellys in Paris, The	G. Sidney-J. F. McDonald-V. Gordon-K. Price	Universal
College Hero, The		Columbia
Cossacks, The	J. Gilbert-R. Odorel	M-G-M
Count of Ten, The	C. Ray-J. Gleason	Universal
Crashing Through	J. Padjans-S. Rand	Pathe
Crimson Hour, The	L. de Putti-I. Moskine-N. de Brulier	Universal
Crowd, The	J. Murray-E. Boardman-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Deer Drive, The	W. Baxter	Paramount
Dirty Work	Johnny Burke	Pathe-De Mille
Don Juan	J. Barrymore-E. Taylor-M. Astor	Warner Bros.	10018 feet	Aug. 31
Don't Marry	Lois Maran	Fox
Doomsday	F. Vidor-G. Cooper	Paramount
	Cobb	Universal	4295 feet
Down Grade, The	Wm. Fairbanks-A. Calhoun	Lumas
Down Our Way	V. Valli-F. Darro-O. Caldwell	F. B. O
Drums of Love	E. Taylor-D. Alvarado-M. Philbin	United Artists
Empty Saddle, The	Fred Humes	Universal
Enemy, The	L. Gish-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Eternal Silence, The	Bushman, Jr.-N. Hamilton-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fangs of Fury	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille
Fangs of Justice	Silverstreak (Dog)-J. Walker-J. Marlowe	Bischoff Prod. (S.R.)	5000 feet
Finders Keepers	Laura La Plante	Universal
Flag Maker, The	C. Ray-B. Love	G. K. Spoor-J. S. Blackton (producers)
Flower of Spain, The	Coleman-Banky	United Artists
Foreign Legion, The	N. Kerry-L. Stone-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fortune Hunter, The	S. Chaplin-C. Horton-H. Costello	Warner Bros
Four Flusher, The	G. Lewis-M. Nixon	Universal
Freckles		F. B. O.
Gay Defender, The	R. Dix-T. Todd	Paramount
Gentlemen Prefer Blondes	L. Brooks-F. Sterling	Paramount
Get Set—Go	George O'Hara	F. B. O.
Girl Downstairs, The	L. Moran-G. O'Brien	Fox
Girl From Chicago, The	C. Nagel-M. Loy	Warner Bros
Glorious Betsy	D. Costello-C. Nagel	Warner Bros
Good Morning, Judge		Universal
Grand Army Man, The	Alec. B. Francis	Fox
Grand Flapper The	H. Herbert-O. Tell-E. Foxe-M. Livingston	Fox
Grandma Bernie Learns Her Letters	R. Walling-F. Reicher	Fox
Ham and Eggs	Fazenda-H. Conklin-T. Wilson	Warner Bros
Harp in Hock, A	Schildkraut-Coghlan-M. Robson-B. Love	Pathe-De Mille	5999 feet
Heroes in Blue	J. Bowers-S. Rand	Rayart (S. R.)
Her Summer Hero		F. B. O
Her Wild Oat	Colleen Moore	First National
His Night		M-G-M
Hitting for Heaven (tentative)	E. Jannings-F. Wray	Paramount
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Holy Terror, A	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox
Honeymoon Hate	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Horseman of the Plains	T. Mix-S. Blane	Fox
If I Were Single	May McAvoy	Warner Bros.
I'll Tell the World	Colleen Moore	First National
In Name Only	O. Moore-H. Costello-K. Perry	Warner Bros
Irish Destiny	D. O'Shea-P. O'Rorke	Dr. I. J. Eppel	7 reels	April 28
Jenny Lind		M-G-M

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Jungle Rose	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
King of Kings, The	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	13500 feet	April 29
Ladies of Leisure		Tiffany
Ladies Must Dress		Fox
Ladies Must Love	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath		First National
Lady Cristilinda	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell	Fox
Lady Be Good	Mackaill-Mulhall	First National
Legion of the Condemned, The	G. Cooper	Paramount
Life's Crossroads	G. Hulette-M. Hamilton	Excellent Pict
Light in the Window, A	H. B. Walthall-P. Avery	Rayart (S. R.)
Lilac Time	Colleen Moore	First National
Little Buckaroo, The		F. B. O.
Little Yellow House, The		F. B. O.
Love	G. Garbo-J. Gilbert-L. Barrymore- D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Love Me and the World Is Mine	Philbin-Kerry	Universal
Loves of Ricardo	George Beban	F. B. O.
Macushla (tentative)		Fox
Madamoiselle From Armentieres (English Film)	E. Brody-J. Stuart	M-G-M
Man Who Laughs, The	C. Veidt-M. Philbin	Universal
Meet the Prince	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Message to Garcia, A	Special Cast	M-G-M
Midnight Rose	L. de Putti-K Harlan	Universal
Million Dollar ,Mystery, The	J. Kirkwood-L. Lee	Rayart (S. R.)	6022 feet
Moon of Israel	M. Corda-A. Marchal	F. B. O.	6680 feet
Mother Machree	B. Bennett-V. McLaglen-N. Hamilton-E. Clayton	Fox
My Wife's Honor	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
Naughty Marietta	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Nineteenth Hole, The (tentative)	H. Langdon- G. McConnell	First National
Noah's Ark (road show)	Special Cast	Warner Bros.
Old Ironsides (road show)	Special Cast	Paramount	12 reels	Dec. 18
On the Stroke of Twelve	E. Torrence-J. Marlowe-D. O'Shea	Rayart (S. R.)
On to Reno	M. Prevost-C. Landis	Pathe-De Mille
Opening Night, The	C. Windsor-J. Bowers	Lumas (S. R.)
Open Range	L. Chandler-B. Bronson	Paramount
Ordeal, The	Garbo-Chaney	M-G-M
Outcast Souls	P. Bonner-C. Delaney	Sterling (S. R.)
Paris or Bust	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Patent Leather Kid, The (road show)	R. Barthelmess-M. O'Day	First National	12 reels	Aug. 26
Patsy, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Perfect Gentleman, A	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5626 feet
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille
Phantom of the Range, The		F. B. O.
P8gskin	D. Rollens-S. Carrol	Fox
Pioneer Scout, The	F. Thomson-N. Lane	Paramount
Quality	Gardner James	Inspiration Pict.
Rachel	P. Negri-G. Cooper	Paramount
Race For Life, A		Warner Bros.
Racing Romeo, The	"Red" Grange-J. Ralston	F. B. O.	5992 feet
Rawhide Kid, The	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Red Hair	C. Bow-W. Austin	Paramount
Red Mark, The	G. von Seyfferlitz	Pathe-De Mille
Red Riders of Canada, The	P. R. Miller	F. B. O.
Renegade, The		F. B. O.
Ridin' Like Fury	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Romantic Rogue, The	Reed Howes	Rayart
Romeo and Juliet	N. Kerry-M. Philbin	Universal
Rose Marie	J. Crawford-J. Murray	M-G-M
Roulette	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros.
Saddle and Spurs	"Buzz" Barton-L. Eason	F. B. O.
Say It With Sables	C. Windsor-R. Howes	Columbia
Serenade	Adolphe Menjou	Paramount
Sheiks and Shebas	Junior Stars	Paramount
She's a Sheik	B. Daniels-R. Arlen W. Powell	Paramount
Shield of HonorThe	R., Lewis-D. Gulliver-N. Hamilton	Universal
Silent Hero, The	Napoleon (Dog)- R. Fraser-E. Murphy	Rayart (S. R.)
Show Boat		Universal
Side Show, The	Fields!Conklin!Brian	Paramount
Silk Legs	M. Bellamy-J. Hall	Fox
Silver Slave, The	Irene Rich	Warner Bros.
Snob, The	M. McAvoy-R. Frazer-A. B. Francis	Warner Bros.
Song of Steel		Tiffany
Span of Life, The	Lon Chaney	M-G-M
Speed Boy, The	Dick Talmadge	Universal
Speedy	Harold Lloyd	Paramount
Speedy Smith	Billy Sullivan	Rayart (S. R.)	5005 feet
Spoilers of the West	Tim McCoy	M-G-M
Spotlight, The	E. Ralston	Paramount
Squads Right		Tiffany
Stand and Deliver	Jacqueline Logan	Pathe-De Mille
Steamboat Bill, Jr	Keaton-E. Torrence	United Artists
Streets of Shanghai		Tiffany
Stronger Will The		Excellent Pict.
Student Prince, The (In Heidelberg)	R Novarro-Shearer-J. Hersholt	M-G-M	10 reels	Oct. 7
Sunrise	Gaynor-G. O'Brien-Livingston	Fox	12 reels	Oct. 14
Survival of Slim, The	W. Wales-P. Montgomery	Pathe
Symphony, The	J. Hersholt-Nixon-G. Lewis	Universal
Tenderloin	D. Costello	Warner Bros.
Texas Ranger, The	Tim McCoy	M-G-M
Thanks For the Buggy Ride	L. La Plante -G. Tyron	Universal
Thirteenth Juror The	F. X. Bushman-Nilson	Universal
Thunder Riders	Ted Wells	Universal
Tillie's Punctual Romance	C. Conklin	Paramount
Times Square		Tiffany
Trail of '98	K Dane-P. Starke-R. Forbes-Del Rio	M-G-M
Traveling Salesman, The	R. Dix-F. Sterling	Paramount
Uncle Tom's Cabin	Special Cast	Universal
Under the Black Eagle	Flash (Dog)-M. Day-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Under the Tonto Rim	J. Luden	Paramount
Victory	George Bancroft	Paramount
Viennese Lovers	Philbin-Hersholt-R. Keane	Universal
Waiter from the Ritz, The	R. Griffith-A. Day	Paramount
Wall Flowers		F. B. O.
War Birds		M-G-M
Warning, The	J. Holt-D. Revier	Columbia
Watch My Speed	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal
We Americans		Universal
Wedding March, The (road show)	von Stroheim	Paramount
Western Suffragettes	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Wheels of Destiny, The	G Hale-E. Hilliard	Rayart (S. R.)
When Danger Calls	W. Fairbanks-E. Sedgwick	Lumas (S. R.)	5000 feet
When the Law Rides	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.
White Eagle, The	Buck Jones	Fox
Who's Your Friend? (tentative)	R. Dix-W. Powell	Paramount
Wild Geese		Tiffany
Wild West Show, The		Universal
Wind, The	L. Gish-L. Hanson	M-G-M
Windjammers of Gloucester The		F. B. O.
Wings (road show)	C. Bow-B. Rogers	Paramount	12 reels	Aug. 26
Wizard, The	E. Lowe-G. G. Katsonaros	Fox Films
Wolf Fangs (tentative)		Fox
Woman Against the World, A		Tiffany
World's Illusion, The		M-G-M
Wyoming	T. McCoy-W. Fairbanks-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
You Will Marry Me	Clara Bow	Paramount

Comedies and Short Subjects

EDUCATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Nature Grand	Eddie Quillan	Dec. 4	1 reel
Angel Eyes	"Big Boy"	Dec. 25	2 reels
At Ease	Lloyd Hamilton	Sept. 4	2 reels	Sept. 2
Back Home	Curiosities		1 reel	Sept. 23
Batter Up	George Davis	Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 16
Brave Cowards	Dunham-Bradley	July 17	1 reel	Aug. 19
Builders of Bridges—When Twilight Comes	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Brunettes Prefer Gentlemen	Jerry Drew	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 28
Bubbles of Geography	Hodge-Podge	Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 19
Burning Timber — Rough Country	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 7
Capers of a Camera	Hodge-Podge	July 17	1 reel	Sept. 9
Careless Hubby	Dunham-Bradley	June 5	1 reel	July 1
Cry of Winter, The—Hot Place, The	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Sept. 18	1 reel	Sept. 2
Dead Easy	Bobby Vernon	July 17	2 reels	Aug. 12
Delving Into the Dictionary	Hodge-Podge	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Dog Days—The Sun and the Rain	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Dummies	Larry Semon		2 reels
Eats for Two	Dunham-Thompson	Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 14
Felix the Cat Hits the Deck	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Dec. 11	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Art for Heart's Sake	"Sullivan Cartoon"	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 5
Felix the Cat Behind the Front	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Dec. 25	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Daze and Knights	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 30	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Dough-Nuty	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 12	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Flim Flam Films	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 18	1 reel	Oct. 7
Felix the Cat in Jack From All Trades	Sullivan Cartoon	Aug. 7	1 reel	Sept. 9
Felix the Cat in 'Loco' Motive	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Felix the Cat in No Fuelin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 16	1 reel	Nov. 11
Felix the Cat in the Non-Stop Fright	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 16
Felix the Cat Switches Witches	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 2	1 reel	Oct. 21
Felix the Cat in the Travel-Hog	"Sullivan Carton"	July 24	1 reel	Sept. 2
Felix the Cat in Uncle Tom's Crabbin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 13	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Whys and Otherwise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 27	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"		1 reel	Sept. 23
Feline Frolics—The Tonquin Valley	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Fighting Orphans, The—Evening Mist	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Follies of Fashion	Curiosities	Sept. 25	1 reel
For Men Only	Curiosities	Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 21
Fox Tales	Hutton-Dunham	Sept. 25	2 reels	Sept. 23
Fully Equipped	Lloyd-Murdock	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Giddy Gobblers	Neal Burns	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Goose Flesh	Lloyd Hamilton	June 19	2 reels	July 1
Half-Pint Hero, A	Lupino Lane	Sept. 18	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hello Sailor	Lupino Lane	Dec. 25	2 reels
Here and There in Travel Land	Hodge-Podge	Oct. 16	1 reel
Her Husky Hero	Johnny Arthur	June 5	2 reels	June 17
He Tried to P ease	M. Collins-L. Hutton	Nov. 6	1 reel
High Spots	Al St. John	July 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Hints on Hunting—A Day By the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
His Better Half	Lloyd Hamilton	July 31	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hold Fast	Cliff Bowes	July 31	1 reel	Aug. 5

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Holly-Nuts	Curiosities	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 2
Injun Food—Moods of the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Dec. 25	1 reel
It's Me	Monte Collins	Dec. 18	1 reel
Jack From All Trades	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Kid Tricks	"Big Boy"	July 3	2 reels	July 29
Kilties	Dorothy Devore	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 7
Little Rube, The	Dorothy Devore	Nov. 20	2 reels	Nov. 11
Live News	Johnny Arthur	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
Lovingly Yours	Curiosities	Dec. 4	1 reel
Lucky Dog	P. Dunham-L. Billetts	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Many Wings—Beside the Still Water	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Nov. 20	1 reel	Nov. 4
Meet the Folks	Jimmie Adams	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Models in Mud	Hodge-Podge	Nov. 13	1 reel
Monty of the Mounted	Lupino Lane	July 24	2 reels	Aug. 12
Movie Hound, The	Phil Dunham	July 3	1 reel
New Wrinkles	Lloyd Hamilton	Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 21
Night Owls	Dunham-Bradley	June 19	1 reel	July 29
No Cheating	Al St John	June 26	2 reels	July 22
Nothing Flat	George Davis	Dec. 11	2 reels
Off Again	J. Lloyd-B. Boyd	Sept. 25	1 reel	Oct. 14
Oh, What a Man!	Larry Semon	Dec. 4	2 reels
Papa's Boy	Lloyd Hamilton	Dec. 18	2 reels
Peculiar Pair of Pups, A—Nobody Home	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Pick a Pet	Curioisities	July 3	1 teel	July 22
Plumb Dumb	"Poodles" Hanneford	Aug. 1	2 reels	Sept. 9
Poor Fish—The Ebbing Tide	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Queens Wild	Beauchamp-Davis	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Red Hot Bullets	Eddie Quillan	Nov. 27	2 reels
Rest Day	Monte Collins	Nov. 27	2 reels
River of Suds, The—Mid-Ocean Sunset, A	Bruce Scenic	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 12
Scared Silly	Johnny Arthur	Nov. 13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Seeing Stars	George Davis	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 17
Shamrock Alley	"Big Boy"	Nov. 27	2 reels
She's a Boy	"Big Boy"	Oct. 2	2 reles	Oct. 7
Shooting Wild	Jack Lloyd	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Some Scout	Lupino Lane	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 21
Stunt Man, The	Larry Semon	Oct. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sure Cure	Beauchamp-Davis	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Tales of a Traveler	Hodge-Podge	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Tenants of Marble Canyon, The—A Picture Paradise	Bruce Scenic	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Thoughts While Fishing—Silver Shadows	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Traveling at Home	Chriosities	July 31	1 reel	Sept. 9
Up In Arms	Dorothy Devore	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 2
Whirl of Activity, A	Hodge-Podge	Dec. 11	1 reel
Wild Wallops	B. Dooley-O Hasbrouck	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Wild Wool—Night Clouds	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 4	1 reel

F B O

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alice Cartoons (Released Twice a Month)			1 reel
Beauty Parlor, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 3	2 reels
Beloved Rogue, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 5	2 reels
Bo's Guest	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 19	2 reels
Boys Will Be Girls	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Campus Romeos	"Fat Men"	July 25	2 reels
Chin He Loved to Lift	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sent. 14	2 reels
Fleshy Devils	Carr-Alexander-Ross	Nov. 14	2 reels	Oct. 7
Fresh Hair Fiends	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 21	2 reels
Helen of Troy, N. Y.	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 31	2 reels
How High Is Up? (Fat Men)	Carr-Alexander-Ross	June 27	2 reels
Kick in the Dark	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	July 3	2 reels
Krazy Kat Cartoons (released twice a month)			1 reel
Last Nose of Summer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 17	2 reels
Mickey's Bottle	Mickey Yule	Dec. 5	2 reels
Mickey's Circus	Mickey Yule	Sept. 4	2 reels
Mickey's Eleven	Mickey Yulo	Nov. 7	2 reels
Mickey's Pals	Mickey Yule	Oct. 3	2 reels	Oct. 7
New Faces for Old	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 12	2 reels
Nothing Doing	Charles Bowers	July 11	2 reels
Permanent Rave, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 10	2 reels
Pickled Romance	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Peter's Pan	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 28	2 reels
She Troupes to Conquer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 19	2 reels
Sock in Time, A	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 5	2 reels
Steamed Up	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Tanks of the Wabash	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Oct. 10	2 reels
Three Missing Links	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Dec. 12		Nov. 11
Toupay or Not To Pay	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 7	2 reels
Wanderers of the Waistline	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Sept. 11	2 reels

FOX FILMS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Argentina, The Rich	Variety	Oct. 2	1 reel	Nov. 4
Arkansas Traveler	Variety	Jan. 18	1 reel
Art Treasures of the Vatican	Variety	Dec. 25	1 reel
Capt. Kidd's Kittens	Animal Comedy	Oct. 23	2 reels	Nov. 4
Cupid and the Clock (O. Henry)	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Desert Blooms, The	Variety		1 reel
Exploring Norway	Variety	Aug. 7	1 reel
Fool and His Honey	Tyles Brooks	Sept. 25	2 reels	Nov. 4
Gentlemen Prefer Scotch	N. Stuart-S. Phipps	June 26	2 ree s
Glory That Was Greece	Variety	July 24	1 reel
Her Blue Black Eyes	M. Casajuana-E. Clayton	Oct. 9	2 reels	Nov. 4
Her Silent Wow	"Helen and Warren"	July 3	2 reels
Hot House Hazel	T. Brooks-T. Hill		2 reels
Hot Potato, A (Van Bibber)	E. Foxe-K. Bates	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Kangaroo's Kimona, The	G. Carmeon, F. Bramley	Aug. 28	2 reels
Lights and Shadows in Sicily	Variety	Nov. 27	1 reel
Lords of the Back Fence	Variety	Jan. 22	1 reel
Love Is Blonde	D. Ellis-D. Rollens		2 reels
Midsummer Night's Steam, A	Eddie C ayton	June 5	2 ree s
Moose Country, The	Variety	Nov. 13	1 reel
Mum's the Word			2 reels	Sept. 2
Northern Alaska Today	Variety	Oct. 16	1 reel
Over the Andes	Variety		1 reel
Psyche and the Pskyscraper	"O. Henry"		2 reels
Road to the Yukon	Variety	June 26	1 reel	June 24
Roamin' Gladiator	"Animal Comedy"	June 12	2 reels
Romatic Alhambira, The	Variety	Oct. 30	1 reel
Rumors for Rent	"Helen and Warren"	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Salmon Run, The	Variety	Aug. 21	1 reel	Oct. 14
Silk Legs		July 31	2 reels
Sky Frontiers	Variety	Sept. 4	1 reel
Solitude	Variety	Dec. 11	1 reel
Suite Homes	"O. Henry"	July 17	2 reels
Snow Rambles	Variety	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Twenty Legs Under the Sea	R. Walling	Sept. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Under Colorado Skies	Variety	Sept. 18	1 reel
Venders of the World	Variety	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Why B ondes Leave Home	R. Walling-M. Beebe	July 24	2 reels
Wolf in Cheap Clothing, A	"Animal Comedy"	July 10	2 reels

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Amazing Lovers	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
An African Adventure	Ufa Oddity	Aug. 27	1 reel
Assorted Babies	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 5	1 reel
Atop the World	Ufa Oddity	April 7	1 reel
Call of the Cuckoo, The	Max Davidson	Oct. 15	2 reels
Chase, The	Ufa Oddity	Mar. 26	1 reel
Children of the Sun	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel
Dog Days	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 8	1 reel
Falcon, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel	Dec. 11
Flag, The (Technicolor)	E. Bennett-F. X. Bushman	Oct. 1	2 reels
Fight For Life, A	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 19	1 reel
Fishing With a Microscope	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Golden Fleeces	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Gritty Pups	Ufa Odd ty	Mar.	1 reel
Happy Omen, A	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Heavenly Bodies	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Hidden Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jewels of Venus	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 10	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jungle Round-Up, A	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 14	1 reel	Oct. 9
Lighter That Failed, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 1	2 reels
Lion Hunt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 17	1 reel
Monarch of the Glen, The	Ufa Oddity	Feb 25	1 reel
Napoleon and Josephine	(Technicolor)		2 reels
Nature's Wizardry	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Old Wallop, The	"Our Gang"	Oct. 22	2 reels
Palace of Honey, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pathfinders, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Parasol Abt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 31	1 reel
Perfume and Nicotine	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pets and Pests	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Primitive Housekeeping	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Sanctuary	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Second Hundred Years, The	Laurel-Hardy	Oct. 8	2 reels
Secrets of the Sea	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Sleeping Death	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Soaring Wings	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 24	1 reel
Sting of Stings, The	Charlie Chase	Sept. 3	2 reels
Sugar Daddies	All Star Cast	Sept. 10	2 reels
TallyHo	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Tokens of Manhood	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Way of All Pants, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 29	2 reels
What Every Iceman Knows	Max Davidson	Sept. 17	2 reels
Wicked Kasimir, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Winged Death	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 3	1 reel
Wonders of the Blue Gulf of Mexico	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Yale vs. Harvard	Our Gang	Sept. 24	2 reels

PARAMOUNT

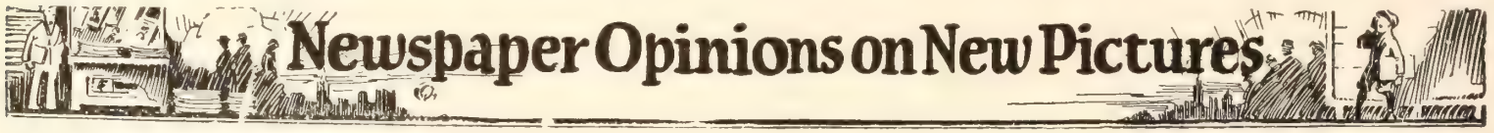
Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Adoration	Novelty	Feb. 25	1 reel
Aero Nuts	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 13	1 reel
Behind the Counter	E. E. Horton	Mar. 3	2 reels
Crazy to Fly	Bobby Vernon	Sept. 17	2 reels
Dad's Choice	E. E. Horton	Jan. 7	2 reels
Dizzy Sights	Billy Dooley	Dec. 17	1 reel
Doctor Quack	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Easy Curves	Billy Dooley	Nov. 12	2 reels
Elegy, The	Novelty	Aug. 6	1 reel
Fantasy	Novelty	Oct. 15	1 reel
Fighting Fanny	Featured Cast	Jan. 21	2 reels
Find the King	E. E. Horton	Nov. 15	2 reels
For Crimes Sake	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 19	1 reel
French Fried	Neal Burns	Sept. 3	2 reels
Frenzy	Novelty	Jan. 14	1 reel
Horse Shy	E. E. Horton	May 19	2 reels
Hot Heads	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Hot Papa	Jack Duffy	Oct. 1	2 reels
Ko-Ko Chops Suey	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 29	1 reel
Ko-Ko Explores	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 15	1 reel	Nov. 11
Ko-Ko Hops Off	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept. 17	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kane	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 20	1 reel
Ko-Ko Kicks	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 26	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kink	Inkwell Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 reel
Ko-Ko's K ock	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 12	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kozy Korber	Inkwe Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 ree
Ko-Ko Plays Pool	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 6	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kid	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 24	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Knight	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept 3	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kop	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 1	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Quest	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 10	1 reel
Loco Motifs	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel
Mad Scrambles	Neal Burns	Nov. 26	2 ree s
Milk Made	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 3	1 reel
Moony Mariner, A	Billy Dooley	Sept. 24	2 reels
Nifty Nags	Featured Cast	Dec. 24	2 reels
No Publicity	E. E. Horton	Aug. 1	2 reels
Ocean Blues	Jimmie Adams	Nov. 19	2 reels
Oh Mummy	Jimmie Adams	Oct. 8	2 reels
Pie Curs, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 5	1 reel
Pig Styles	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Jan. 14	1 reel
Rail Rode	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel	Oct. 4
Row, Sailor, Row!	Billy Dooley	Aug. 20	2 reels
Scared Pink	Jack Duffy	Oct. 29	2 reels
School Daze	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 10	1 reel
Scrambled Weddings	E. E. Horton	J7ne 30	2 reels
Sealing Whacks	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 1	1 reel
Short Socks	Bobby Vernon	Aug. 13	2 reels
Short Tail, A	Novelty	Sept. 10	1 reel
Splash Yourself	Bobby Vernon	Dec. 3	2 reels
Stork Exchange, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 17	1 reel
Swiss Movements	Jimmie Adams	Dec. 31	2 reels
Tired Wheels	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 8	1 reel
Toddles	Novelty	Dec. 10	1 reel	Oct. 7
Topsey Turvey	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 22	1 reel
Uncle Tom's Caboose	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct. 22	1 reel
Web Feet	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 27	1 reel
Wedding Wows	Bobby Vernon	Oct. 22	2 reels
Wired and Fired	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 31	1 reel

PATHE-DE MILLE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alien Antics	Sportlight	Nov. 13	1 reel	Nov. 11
All Bull and a Yard Wide	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 7
Ant Life As It Isn't	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Baby Brother	"Our Gang"	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Big Reward, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 3	1 reel	July 1
Big Tent, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Brave Heart, A	"Alsop Fables"	Oct. 30	1 reel
Bull Fighter, The		Nov. 27	2 reels
Bully, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 31	1 reel	July 29
Chicken Feed	"Our Gang"	Nov. 6	2 reels	Nov. 4
College Kiddo, The	Hurlock-Quillan	Aug. 7	2 reels	Aug. 6
Comrades in Work	Mabel Normand		2 reels
Crimson Flash, The (Serial—Landis-E. Gilbert)		June 19	10 episodes	June 17
Cups and Contenders	Sportlight	Nov. 27	1 reel
Cured in the Excitement	Hurlock-Bevan	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Cutting a Melon	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 2
Daddy Boy	Ben Turpin	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Died in the Wool	"Aesop Fables"	June 19	1 reel	June 17
Do Detectives Think?	Roach Stars	Nov. 20	2 reels
Dog's Day, A	"Aesop Fables"	June 5	1 reel	June 3
Don't Tell Everything	Roach Stars	July 3	2 reels	July 1
Down to the Sea	Sportlight	Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 28
Eyes and Angles	Sportlight	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Fiddlesticks	Harry Langdon	Nov. 7	2 reels
Flying Feet	Sportlight	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Flying Fishers	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 27	1 reel
Fluttering Hearts	Charley Chase	June 19	2 reels	June 17
Football Officials	"Football Sense"		1 reel	Oct. 21
For Sale a Bungalow		Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 28
Fox Hunt, The	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 20	1 reel
From Soup to Nuts	Rarebits	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Glorious Fourth, The	"Our Gang"	July 31	2 reels	July 29
Gold Digger of Weepah, A	Bevan-Bennett-Burke	Oct. 2	2 reels	Sept. 30
Golf Nut, The	Bevan-Quillan-A. Bennett	Sept. 4	2 reels
Hard Cider	"Aesop Fables"	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Have a Drink	Rarebits	Nov. 20	1 reel
Hawk of the Hills (Serial)	Ray and Miller	Aug. 28	10 episodes	Sept. 2
Hole in One, A	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 21	1 reel	Aug. 12
Hook, Line and Sinker	"Aseop Fables"	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Human Fly, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 25	1 reel	Sept. 30
In and Out Again	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 18	1 reel
King Harold	L. Baird-T. Holmes	Nov. 13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Lateral Pass, The	Sportlight		1 reel	Oct. 14
Lindy's Cat	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 16	1 reel
Love 'Em and Weep	M. Busch-Laurel-Finlayson	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Love Nest, The	"Aesop Fables"	July 17	1 reel	July 15
Love's Languid Lure	Ben Turpin	Aug. 29	2 reels	Sept. 2
Mark of the Frog, The (Serial)	M. Morris-D. Reed		10 episodes
Masked Menace, The (Serial)	L. Kent-J. Arthur	Nov. 6	10 episodes	Nov. 4
Now I'll Tell One	Chase-Laurel	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 14
Olympic Games	"Our Gang"	Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 2
One Man Dog, A	"Aesop Fables"	June 26	1 reel	July 1
On the Hook	Sportlight	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 2
Outwitting Time	Spotlight	Oct. 2	1 reel
Pioneer Instinct	Sportlight	June 26	1 reel
Pride of Pikeville, The	Ben Turpin	June 5	2 reels	June 3
Prowling Around France with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Sept. 18	1 reel
Red Hot Sands	"Aesop Fables"	Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 12
Riding High	"Aesop Fables"	July 10	1 reel
River of Doubt, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct. 2	1 reel	Sept. 30
Roaming the Emerald Isle with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Aug 21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Sailors, Beware!	Roach Stars	Sept. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Saved By a Keyhole	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 13	1 reel
Scents and Dog Sense	Sportlight	Aug. 7	1 reel
Second Honeymoon, The	T. Holmes-L. Baird	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Signs of Spring	"Alsop Fables"	Nov. 6	1 reel
Should Second Husbands Come First?	Max Davidson	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Small-Town Sheriff, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept. 4	1 reel	Sept. 2
Smith's Bargain	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson		2 reels
Smith's Candy Shop	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Aug. 21	2 reels	Aug. 12
Smith's Cook	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Smith's Cousins	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Nov. 13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Smith's Pony	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Sept. 18	2 reels
Soldier Man	Harry Langdon
Subway Sally	"Aesop Fables"	July 24	1 reel	July 22
Tackles and Touchdowns	Sportlight	Sept. 18	1 reel
Taking Punishment	Sportlight	July 24	1 reel
Their Second Honeymoon	Baird-Holmes	Oct. 16	2 reels
Up the Ladder	Sportlight	Oct. 6	1 reel	Oct. 21
Weaker Sex, The	Rarebits	Sept. 25	1 reel
What Women Did For Me	Charley Chase	Aug. 14	2 reels	Aug. 12
Why Girls Love Sailors	Roach Stars	July 17	2 reels	July 15
With Love and Hisses	Roach Stars	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
With Will Rogers Through Switzerland & Bavaria	Travelesque	June 26	1 reel	July 1

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Animal Catchers	McDougall Kids	Bray	2 reels	Sept. 16
Bear Escape, A	Parker-Reavis	Capitol Prod.	2 reels	Aug. 1
Beauty and the Beach	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clark.	1 reel
Big Pie Raid, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June 1	2 reels	June 10
Berth Mark	Tarbell-Finch-Shaw	Red Seal		2 reels
Bobbed Hair and Bandits	Sid Smith	Capitol Pord	Aug. 1	2 reel
Custard's Last Stand		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Derelects o' the Sea	Novelty	Bray	June 30	1 reel
Deuce, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June 1	2 reels
Dream of the Sea, A (Bino-color)		Film Dist. Corp		1 reel	May 27
Fresh and a Devil	Clyde-Malone-Irving	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
God Made This Day For Me (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.	Aug. 1	1 reel
Golf and How	Novelty	Castle	Mar. 26	1 reel
Good Scouts		Bray		2 reels
Great Guns	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Helpless Helper	Al Jay	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Henpecked in Morocco	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Heralds of the Spring	Nature Special	Bray	April 19	1 reel
Here's Another One	Novelty	Bray		1 reel	Oct. 7
Heroes of the Wild (Serial)	Jack Hoxie	N. Levine.	Dec. 1	10 episodes
Iron Derby, The		Bray
Isle of Sunken Gold, The (Serial)	A. Stewart	Nat Levine	Sept. 1	10 episodes
Here Comes the Bride	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
His Off-Day	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
His Ticklish Predicament	Jack Cooper	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
Hit and Win		Bray	Aug. 20	2 reels
Iron Derby, The				2 reels	Oct. 21
It's a Great Life	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
It's All Wet		Bray	July 10	2 reels
Japanese Oddities	Novelty	Castle	Aug. 11	1 reel
Jungle Belles	"Lantz Cartoon"	Bray		1 reel	June 10
Ko-Ko Makes 'Em Laugh	"Fleischer Cartoon"	Red Seal		1 reel	July 22
Learn by Mail	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Let's Go	Novelty	Cast e	Aug 27	1 reel
Lift Your Face		Bray	Aug. 10	2 reels
Little Feet	Novelty	Castle	June 14	1 reel
Lost in a Pullman		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 23
Lunches and Punches	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod		2 reels	Sept. 1
Ma and the Auto (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel
Magic Hands	Novelty	Castle	July 16	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Tiffany		1 reel	Sept. 9
Nothing to Live For	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Oh Boy Paris	Novelty	Castle	July 30	1 reel
Orphans, The	McDougall Kids	Bray		2 reels
Over There	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Pals	Novelty	Castle	May 7	1 reel
Perils of the Jungle (Serial)	E. Gilbert-F. Merril	Weiss Bros		10 episodes	Aug. 5
Sappy Days	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Scoop, The		Bray	July 20	2 reels
She Beast, The	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod		2 reels	July 1
Silence of the Snows (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.		1 reel
Sky Walkers	Novelty	Castle	May 21	1 reel
Sophomore, The	G.O'Neil-L.Graydon	Hi-Mark
Speed	Novelty	Castle	Apr. 9	1 reel
Spooky Money	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Stepping Along	Novelty	Castle	April 23	1 reel
Style Book	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Two Arabian Sights		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Uncle Tom's Habit	Parker-Reavis	Capital Prod		2 reels	Sept. 1
Water Sports	Novelty	Castle	July 2	1 reel
Water, Water Everywhere		Bray	June 20	2 reels
When Redskins Bit the Dust	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	July 1	1 reel
When We Were Kids	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	June 1	1 reel
Who's Who	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Yellow Dog, The (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel	April 15
Yosemite	Novelty	Castle	June 18	1 reel



TIFFANY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Bridal of Pennacook	Color Classic	Nov. 1	1 reel
Comrades	Color Classic	Nov. 15	1 reel
King of Sports	Color Classic	Sept 15	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Oct. 1	1 reel
Me and My Pal	Color Classic	Dec. 15	1 reel
North of Suez	Color Classic	Jan. 1	1 reel
Roaring 'Round the Carrib-bean	Color Classic	Oct. 15	1 reel
Romany Love	Color Classic	Dec. 1	1 reel
Scarface	Color Classic	Jan. 15	1 reel

UNIVERSAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Ah Gay Vienna	Charles Puffy	July 25	1 reel	July 15
All For Uncle	C. King-C. Doherty	Oct. 19	2 reels	Oct. 7
All Wet	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 31	1 reel
And How	"The Gumps"	Oct. 31	2 reels
Andy Knows His Onions	"The Gumps"	Dec. 11	2 reels
Banker's Daughter, The	Oswald Cartoon	Nov. 28	2 reels
Barrymore Tommy (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	June 18	2 reels	May 27
Battle Scarred Hero, A	"The Gumps"	Oct. 3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Battling Buckaroo, The (Western)	Bob Curwood	Nov. 12	2 reels
Blake of Scotland Yard (Serial)	Hayden Stevenson	Aug. 15	10 episodes
Blind Man's Bluff	Jack Perrin		2 reels	Oct. 28
Buster Come On	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Sept. 14	2 reels	Sept. 9
Buster's Frame-Up	Trimble, Turner and Dog	June 6	2 reels	May 20
Buster's Handicap	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Aug. 1	2 reels	July 15
Buster's Home Life	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Oct. 12	2 reels	Sept. 30
Buster's Initiation	Trimble, Turner and Dog	July 4	2 reels	June 24
Buster, What's Next?	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Nov. 16	2 reels	Oct. 28
Clearing the Trail (Western)	Newton House	Nov. 26	2 reels
Cows Is Cows (Mustang)	Corbett & Holmes	July 9	2 reels	June 24
Crimson Colors	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept. 12	2 reels	June 17
Dancing Fools	C. King-C. Doherty	Sept. 21	2 reels	Sept. 2
Danger Ahead (Western)	Jack Perrin	Sept. 24	2 reels	Sept. 2
Dangerous Double, A (Western)	Bob Curwood	Oct. 15	2 reels	Sept. 23
Daze of the West (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Sept. 5	2 reels
Dazzling Co-Eds	Lewis-Sullivan	Oct. 10	2 reels
Disordered Orderly, The	Sid Saylor	Nov. 9	2 reels
Doctors Prefer Brunetts	Neely Edwards	June 20	1 reel	June 3
Do or Diet	Charles Puffy	June 13	1 reel	June 3
Empty Socks	Oswald Cartoon	Dec. 11	1 reel
Fighting Finish, A	George Lewis			Oct. 14
Fighting Texan, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	Sept. 10	2 reels	Aug. 19
George's Many Loves	Sid Saylor	June 15	2 reels	May 27
George Steps Out	Sid Saylor	Sept. 28	2 reels
Great Guns	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 17	1 reel
Gun Justice (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 2	2 reels	June 10
Haunted Island, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty-Helen Foster		10 episodes
His Day of Days	Neely Edwards	Aug. 15	1 reel
Home Trail, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	June 4	2 reels	May 13
Honest and Truly	Charles Puffy	Aug. 29	2 reels
Horse Trader, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	Aug. 20	2 reels
Hot Stuff			1 reel	Oct. 14
Jane's Relations	M. Marcel-E. McCarthy	July 17	2 reels	July 1
Jane's Sleuth	Dorety-Clair	June 22	2 reels	June 3
Keeping in Trim	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Sept. 7	2 reels	Aug. 19
King of Hearts (Northwest Series)	Jack Perrin	Dec. 17	2 reelsc
Law Rider, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Nov. 5	2 reels
Love Wallop, The	Arthur Lake	Nov. 7	1 reel
Man Tamer, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 27	2 reels
Mechanical Cow, The	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 3	1 reel
Model George	Sid Saylor	Dec. 28	2 reel
Monkey Shines	Ben Hall	Sept. 25	1 reels
My Mistake	Charles King	June 29	2 reels	June 10
Newlyweds Christmas Party, The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Dec. 11	2 reels	Nov. 4
Newlyweds' Mistake The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Nov. 7	2 reels
Newlyweds' Surprise	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Oct. 3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Newlyweds' Troubles	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Sept. 5	2 reels	Aug. 19
Ocean Bruises	"The Gumps"		2 reels	Oct. 28
Ocean Hop	Oswald Cartoon
Oh! Mabel	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Taxi!	Sid Saylor	Aug. 10	2 reels	July 22

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
On Deck	Sid Saylor	Nov. 30	2 reels
Oh Mabel!	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Teacher!	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 19	1 reel	Sept. 2
On Furlough	Sig Saylor	July 27	2 reels	July 15
On Special Duty (Western)	Fred Gilman	Oct. 8	2 reels	Sept. 30
Passing the Joneses	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Nov. 2	2 reels
Pawns and Queens (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 6	2 reels	July 15
Penny Ante	Harry Mann	June 27	1 reel
Phantom Outlaw, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 16	2 reels	June 24
Picking on George	Sid Saylor	Oct. 26	2 reels	Oct. 14
Piperock Blaze, The (Tuttle Western)	Holmes & Corbett	June 11	2 reels	May 20
Plain Jane		Aug. 17	2 reels
Please Don't		Aug. 24	2 reels
Plumed Rider, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 30	2 reels	July 15
Red Suspenders	Summerville & "Fanny"	June 6	1 reel	May 20
Red Warning (Western)	Newton House		2 reels	Oct. 14
Rest Cure, The (Tuttle Western)	Corbett and Holmes	June 25	2 reels
Riding Whirlwind, The (Western)	Newton House	Oct. 1	2 reels	Sept. 23
Riding Wild	Bob Curwood
Roaring Gulch, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	July 17	2 reels	July 1
Run Buster!	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Dec. 14	2 reels
Run for His Money, A	Arthur Lake	Aug. 21	1 reel
Running Wild	Lewis-Sullivan	Dec. 5	2 reels
Rushing Business	Sid Saylor	Aug. 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Samson at Calford	Lewis-Gulliver	Nov. 7	2 reels	June 17
Saxophobia	Arthur Lake	Oct. 10	1 reel	Sept. 30
Scarlet Arrow, The (Serial—F. X. Bushman Jr.)			10 episodes
Scrambled Honeymoon, The	Ben Hall	Nov. 21	1 reel
Scrappin' Fool, The (Mustang)	Bob Curwood	Sept. 17	2 reels	Sept. 2
Shady Rest	"The Gumps"		2 reels
Showing Off	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Dec. 7	2 reels
Silent Partner, The (Mustang-Edmund Cobb)		Mar. 19	2 reels	Feb. 25
Sleepy Time Pal, A	Neely Edwards	July 11	1 reel	June 24
Smiling Wolf, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Dec. 1	2 reels
Snookum's Asleep	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	July 6	2 reels	June 24
Snookum's Clean Up	Snookums-Clair-Saylor	Aug. 3	2 reels	July 15
Society Breaks	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Oct. 5	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sodas and Shebas	Arthur Lake	Sept. 12	2 reels	Sept. 9
Son of America, A	George K. Arthur	Aug. 8	1 reel
South of Northern Lights (Western)	Jack Perrin	Oct. 22	2 reels	Oct. 7
Square Shooter, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Aug. 13	2 reels	July 22
Stop Snookums	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	June 1	2 reels	May 13
Surprised Honey	Neely Edwards	Aug. 1	1 reel	July 15
Swell Clothes	Arthur Lake	Dec. 5	2 reels
Tale of a Shirt, The	Jimmy Aubrey	July 17	1 reel	July 1
That's No Excuse	Charles King	June 8	2 reels	May 20
There's a Will	C. King-C. Doherty	Dec. 21	2 reels
Too Much Sleep	"The Gumps"	Sept. 19	2 reels	Sept. 2
Total Loss, A	"The Gumps"	Nov. 28	2 reels
Trail of the Tiger, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty	Nov. 7	2 reels	Aug. 5
Trolley Troubles	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 5	1 reel	Aug. 19
Under the Bed	Charles Puffy	July 4	1 reel	June 24
Valiant Rider, The (Western)	Bob Curwood		2 reels
Vanishing Rider, The (Serial)	Wm. Desmond		10 episodes
What An Excuse	Charles King	July 13	2 reels	June 24
When Greek Meets Greek	"The Gumps"	Oct. 17	2 reels	Oct. 7
Whispering Smith Rides (Serial)	Wallace MacDonald	June 6	10 episodes
Winning Five, The	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept. 26	2 reels	Sept. 16
Winning Punch, The	George Lewis	Nov. 21	2 reels

"The Life of Riley"—First National, Globe Theatre, Philadelphia

Record: "Murray and Sidney scored a hit with their mirth-provoking faces and clever acting. A cleverly-handled picture. Comedy—far from slapstick variety—is directed to perfection. Every move, every antic is done to bring burst of laughter."

Inquirer: "Story is sufficient for those two clever comedy artists, Murray and Sidney. Is one of those hilariously farcical pictures in which this team leaves nothing to be desired. Originality and comic antics by co-stars."

Public Ledger: "Brings that great comedy combination of Sidney and Murray to fore again. Comedy element predominant throughout picture, but there is charming junior love interest to story."

"The Drop Kick"—First National, Washington Street Olympia Theatre, Boston

Traveler: "Provides Barthelmess with best material he has had for some time. We can think of no recent film in which Barthelmess has acted or looked any better than he does in 'The Drop Kick.' Belongs entirely to him and Hedda Hopper. Miss Hopper gorgeous."

American: "Football scenes thrilling and realistic. This rollicking college story good entertainment, and Barthelmess has role that fits him like glove. Having mastered boxing game for 'The Patent Leather Kid,' Barthelmess now turns his attention to football, and again proves an adept at this branch of sport."

Advertiser: "Barthelmess is more his old familiar self in 'The Drop Kick.' Skillfully plays typical college youth. Scenario, too, is better than most 'varsity screen plays. From start to finish, film is a Barthelmess success."

Herald: "Barthelmess scores again as American boy of today in 'The Drop Kick.' Gives him ample opportunity to display his histrionic talents. Football sequences excellent. Drama offered in full measure."

Globe: "An interesting story about football. Sensational football contests staged accurately."

"Spring Fever"—Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Capitol Theatre, New York City

Herald-Tribune: "Haines' best picture since 'Tell It to the Marines,' and we are quite convinced that no one else on screen could have played this particular part so well. A role filled with possibilities, and Haines rises magnificently to occasion. Romantic and amusing. Don't miss it."

Times: "Golfscenes, wealth, attractive girl and irrepressible and frequently impertinent young man are some of ingredients of 'Spring Fever.' Haines excels as exponent of royal and ancient game. Joan Crawford charming. Haines as good as he has been in other productions."

Telegraph: "Is catchy. If you are one of fair sex you will fall victim to charms of Haines. If, however, you belong to male gender, you will be much more intrigued with beauty of Joan Crawford. This lovely person screens like Gloria Swanson and acts like Joan Crawford. A nice combination."

American: "Your interest never wavers. Haines plays hero in smart-alecky style. No one plays it so convincingly on screen as he."

News: "This is movie which has to do with fores and holes in one and putting and green. Countless laughs. Those who know their links will be highly entertained—also those who know Bill's cinema antics. Directed snappily."

World: "Based hilariously on golf, thereby joining growing number of those country life in America plots which keep characters out in open air. Makes most of its pictorial opportunities, and results both decorative and exciting. Piece seemed to delight."

Sun: "Is sufficiently diverting for even most exacting. Refreshing to see golf course used for other than Sennett stunts. Haines continues in uppity screen character he has been building up and manages to extract considerable humor from his part. Not since Joan Crawford fascinated in 'Paris' has she appeared to such advantage."

Evening Graphic: "Exceptionally good entertainment, snappy photoplay, well directed and topped with titles that carry comedy punches. Haines gets laugh with every gesture, putting stuff across with youthful enthusiasm and making audience like whatever he does."

Telegram: "Some excellent midwifery has attended transition of 'Spring Fever' from stage to screen. Comedy of golf links and young love was delightful play. Screen tale fully as amusing as its audible father."

Mirror: "Haines does fine work . . . Joan Crawford lovely. She has flair for clothes and as much 'it' appeal as any actress before camera."

"One Round Hogan"—Warner Bros., Hippodrome Theatre, New York City

American: "One of best fight stories we have seen, the ring sequences and love interest being nicely balanced throughout. Full of suspense, and action rises steadily to good climax. Even though pictures of recent Dempsey-Tunney bout precede 'One Round Hogan' on program, the feature film's fight sequences hold up nicely."

World: "As a movie of ring is real thing. Blue plays with zest and understanding."

Herald-Tribune: "One of best pictures we ever saw at Hippodrome is being shown there this week. We feel safe in saying that Blue has never done anything better."

Journal: "Good entertainment and includes corking good prize fight sequence."

Mirror: "Fight scenes well done. If you get stirred up by fight (and who doesn't?) then 'One Round Hogan' is your dish."

Sun: "Far more interesting than usual prize fight film."

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Playhouse Theatre, Charleston, W. Va.

Mail: "You do not merely like 'What Price Glory,' you go absolutely wild about it. . . . Ex-service men proclaimed it as perfect picture of what they had been through."

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Great Lakes Theatre, Buffalo, N. Y.

Times: "Sparkles with comedy and pathos that one moment has audience in spasms of laughter, but in another brings it to verge of tears. It is picture that could be seen several times without becoming tiresome."

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Imperial Theatre, Ashville, North Carolina

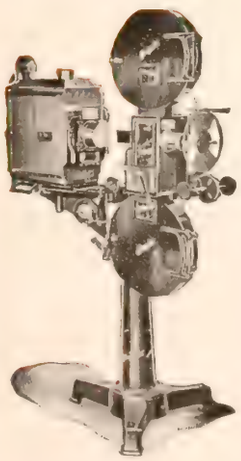
Times: "Few if any films have been discussed at greater length than 'What Price Glory,' and one doesn't wonder at it after he sees this tremendous screen epic of war. It's picture you'll never forget."

News: "Thousands of people who have viewed 'What Price Glory' declare it to be best they have ever seen and agree that it is world's greatest motion picture."

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Tower Theatre, St. Paul, Minnesota

Pioneer-Press: "If you didn't see 'What Price Glory' before, don't miss opportunity to witness it. It bids fair to make some records on its first run at popular prices. Why? Because it has punch and realism that only few pictures of war possess."

"White Pants Willie"—First National, Palace Theatre, Columbus, Ohio



Citizen: "Got more laughs than vaudeville at the Palace Sunday. And it got plenty."

The Best of Today Is Not Good Enough for Tomorrow

You would expect great things of a staff of noted engineers constantly at work experimenting, testing and retesting with the object of discovering or developing new means of improving projection.

You would look to the International Projector Corporation, the makers of Simplex Projectors, with all the talent and research facilities at its command, to anticipate the requirements of the motion picture industry and the demands of the public by putting into its products the utmost in performance and in value.

The ever increasing popularity of Simplex Projectors imposes upon the manufacturers a definite responsibility to see that this policy is maintained---and gives conclusive evidence that the results you would expect are being achieved.

That this constantly growing tendency to select Simplex Projectors may reflect a steadily widening margin of advantages in the projectors themselves, the International Projector Corporation's facilities will always be dedicated to the proposition that "Today's Best is never good enough for tomorrow."

Simplex

SIMPLEX DIVISION
International Projector Corporation
90 Gold Street, New York

SIMPLEX PROJECTORS FOR BETTER PROJECTION

Robert Morton UNIT ORGAN

New Style 39

Read What — Fred G. Wilson, — Editor of Reeland Review and Prominent New York Exhibitor thinks of this —

TELEPHONE BRYANT 2525

SUITE 505
729 SEVENTH AVENUE
NEW YORK

Robert Morton Organ Co.,
1560 Broadway,
New York City.

August 4 1927.

Gentlemen:-

When we installed your ROBERT MORTON ORGAN, STYLE 39, with an 88 note DOUBLE TRACKER ROLL DEVICE, in our Rose Theatre, we did so with a good deal of speculation as to whether a small organ would answer our purpose and give the required results.

We wish to commend you upon this type organ. You have answered a long felt want for the smaller type theatre. The organ has the quality of tone, fast action, orchestral, theatrical and symphonic characters which can only be found in the larger type organs.

We are contemplating two additional theatres of similar size, and are pleased to inform you that we will place the same type organ in both theatres.

After operating the organ for over eight months, we wish to add that you have solved the problem of the smaller type theatre in this ROBERT MORTON ORGAN, STYLE 39.

Very truly yours,

182 WEST 102ND STREET CORPORATION

Fred G. Wilson
President.

— Wonderful Instrument!

The "New Style 39" — permits the theatre of AVERAGE SEATING CAPACITY — to offer its patrons a distinctive outstanding music feature.

Genuine Deagan Percussions Used

Robert Morton Organ Co.
Send me without obligation full details of your New Selling Plan.

Name
Theatre
Seating Capacity
City State

cut out and mail Today!

KURT W. REUNING

Robert Morton Organ Co.

New York 1560 Broadway | Chicago 624 So. Michigan | Los Angeles 1914 So. Vermont | San Francisco 168 Golden Gate

November 25, 1927

Motion Picture News

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Vol. XXXVI No. 21

Entered as second-class matter April 22, 1926, at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under act of March 3, 1879.

Published Weekly—$2.00 a Year

PRICE 20 CENTS

Los Angeles New York Chicago

The New MARBRO Theatre
Chicago, Illinois

Marks Brothers select third Wurlitzer Organ

The New Marbro Theatre, one of Chicago's most magnificent cinema palaces, represents another impressive milestone in the career of the Marks Brothers. Sound judgment and superior theatre management have characterized their advance in the amusement world. In their progress Wurlitzer Organs have figured prominently by imparting a new significance to the interpretation of motion picture themes. It is noteworthy that for their wonderful new theatre they considered only Wurlitzer Organs because of the extraordinary success they had enjoyed with them in their other theatres. The very creditable achievement of Wurlitzer in producing an organ of finer tone, greater volume and wider variety of effects than any other organ has led directly to world leadership in the organ field.

WURLITZER ORGANS

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Factories: North Tonawanda, N. Y.

NEW YORK	CHICAGO	CINCINNATI	CLEVELAND	LOS ANGELES
PITTSBURGH	DETROIT	BUFFALO	SAN FRANCISCO	KANSAS CITY

PRESENTED TO PARAMOUNT FAMOUS LASKY CORP
BY PHOTOPLAY MAGAZINE
FOR THE PRODUCTION
BEAU GESTE
THE BEST PHOTOPLAY OF THE YEAR
1926
TIFFANY & CO

"Beau Geste" Wins Seventh

Readers award highest honor to stirring story of brotherly love, produced by Paramount-Famous-Lasky

HERBERT BRENON'S "Beau Geste" wins PHOTOPLAY'S seventh medal of honor!

The readers of PHOTOPLAY MAGAZINE have brought in their verdict, and the highest award of all screendom goes to Mr. Brenon's filming of Percival C. Wren's mystery novel of the Foreign Legion.

Thus "Beau Geste" takes its place beside the distinguished gold medal winners of previous years: "Humoresque," "Tol'able David," "Robin Hood," "The Covered Wagon," "Abraham Lincoln" and "The Big Parade." A notable company, these seven, all of them milestones of screen progress.

Once again PHOTOPLAY points with pride to the fine discrimination shown by its readers. Each year the vote has grown heavier but each year PHOTOPLAY'S readers have revealed the same discernment and discretion in making their selections. PHOTOPLAY believes that its seven reader awards really represent the seven best motion picture productions of seven years.

When PHOTOPLAY first announced its annual award seven years ago, it asked its readers to consider each year's products from every angle. PHOTOPLAY asked its readers to go further than story, direction, photography and technical dexterity, to consider the ideals and the aspirations behind each production. Thus PHOTOPLAY'S gold medal has come to be the highest and most valued prize in the whole world of motion pictures. It is, of course, the only award coming directly from the public.

Herbert Brenon is a pioneer maker of pictures and "Beau Geste" is his best work

"BEAU GESTE" is an unusually worthy production. The screen has had few good mystery stories. Mr. Brenon made an unusually fine visualization of the Wren romance, with its exciting tale of a stolen sapphire, "the Blue Water." "Beau Geste" presented a touching story of brotherly love. In it, three brothers — the Gestes — shoulder the blame for the theft of the famous sapphire, each thinking to save his kin. Thus the Gestes come to enlist in the Foreign Legion. Through all the chain of exciting adventures runs this theme of unselfish brother love.

The background of the Foreign Legion in the Sahara was superbly handled by Mr. Brenon. The acting, too, was unusually fine; Noah Beery, William Powell, Ronald Colman, Ralph Forbes, Neil Hamilton and Alice Joyce giving admirable performances.

PHOTOPLAY is proud of the fact that this year its gold medal goes to a picture directed by a brilliant pioneer of motion pictures. Herbert Brenon was born in Dublin, Ireland, but came to America at an early age. He has been a maker of photoplays since the early days of the screen.

Mr. Brenon made two of the first

The fort bursts into flames. "Beau Geste" had not only a fine theme of family loyalty but great spectacular appeal and a thrilling mystery story

Advertisement

Photoplay Medal of Honor

Adolph Zukor, president of Paramount-Famous-Lasky. Mr. Zukor's company produced two and distributed three of the pictures that have been honored by PHOTOPLAY Gold Medals

Previous Winners of Photoplay Medal

1920
"HUMORESQUE"
1921
"TOL'ABLE DAVID"
1922
"ROBIN HOOD"
1923
"THE COVERED WAGON"
1924
"ABRAHAM LINCOLN"
1925
"THE BIG PARADE"

film specials, "Neptune's Daughter" and "The Daughter of the Gods," both starring Annette Kellerman and both remarkable productions of their time. As a producer in his own name Mr. Brenon made such noteworthy pictures as "War Brides," starring Alla Nazimova, and "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," in which Forbes Robertson was the star.

For some years, Mr. Brenon's career was studded with ill luck. He was nearly killed making a picture, he was forced into bankruptcy by the war and he encountered enough vicissitudes to swamp the average man.

Mr. Brenon surmounted all these—and came back to score an artistic and box office hit with his imaginative filming of Sir James Barrie's "Peter Pan." Mr. Brenon fought his way back to the forefront of motion picture makers and proved his abilities anew with "Beau Geste."

Full credit must be given the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation for making "Beau Geste." It is interesting to point out that Paramount has released three of PHOTOPLAY'S gold medal pictures, "The Covered Wagon," "Beau Geste" and "Humoresque." In fact, this company filmed the first two.

The organization went to tremendous expense in producing the Wren novel. A company of some two thousand players, technical workers, carpenters, etc., lived in the Arizona desert for three months filming the Sahara scenes. Mr. Brenon was given carte blanche.

A huge camp was built thirty miles from the nearest habitation among the dunes.

In order to transport supplies and equipment a great plank road was constructed. Some fifteen hundred horses and fifty camels were employed in the desert episodes.

In presenting its annual gold medal to "Beau Geste," PHOTOPLAY does not wish to overlook the fine adaptation of John Russell, the expert scenario of Paul Schofield and the superb photography of J. Roy Hunt. Mr. Hunt, in fact, is a veteran in the service of Mr. Brenon and "shot" some of his best pictures of past years.

William Powell, Ralph Forbes, Ronald Colman, Neil Hamilton and Noah Beery in a memorable scene. "Beau Geste" had truly an all-star cast the leading contenders for the 1927 Photoplay Medal are Paramount Pictures too!

WINGS

4th Capacity Month at Criterion, N. Y., at $2

HAROLD LLOYD in SPEEDY

Produced by Harold Lloyd Corp. A Paramount Release

THE WEDDING MARCH

Masterpiece of Eric von Stroheim

UNDERWORLD

Record breaker in New York and throughout country.

WAY OF ALL FLESH

12 big weeks on Broadway. S. R. O. everywhere

CHANG

Long runs everywhere for this daringly different melodrama.

BEAU SABREUR

Sequel to "Beau Geste" by same author, and even bigger.

GENTLEMEN PREFER BLONDES

Guaranteed success. From world's most famous book.

and seven other great Paramount Specials!

THEY WIN THE BOX OFFICE MEDAL TOO!

PATHE'S unprecedented simultaneous showing of eight big feature attractions plus Pathe super shorts in one week on Broadway gave conclusive and convincing evidence of the box-office calibre of Pathe product. AND NOW Pathe transcends this mighty achievement with a similar showing in every key point in the entire United States.

On the crest of the tremendous wave of publicity accorded this phenomenal group of releases, first-run exhibitors throughout the country have taken advantage of the impetus given these great pictures and have eagerly booked them for early showing. Thousands of theatres throughout the United States will blaze with exclusive programs of Pathe Features, Pathe News, Review, Comedies, Fables, Topics, Sportlights, Rarebits and novelties.

Many more millions will be entertained nationally by Pathe Pictures

If your theatre is not already listed in this great money-making celebration, get busy now, and prepare to share in the millions of dollars that will flow into the thousands of box-offices where Pathe Pictures are shown.

ON GUARD at your box-office WEEK AFTER WEEK!

WHEN you read the ACTUAL box-office figures
IN the trade press
YOU realize again and again
THAT Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer
IS the most dependable of all.
IT'S the week-to-week releases
THAT keep the seats filled!
M-G-M makes the great
WORLD-famous Road-shows.
BUT equally important—
M-G-M is the dependable
SOURCE of picture supply!

M-G-M

"GARDEN OF ALLAH" [Ingram] at State, most popular attraction in St. Louis, reports Variety.

"SPRING FEVER" [Haines] very good business at Temple, Birmingham, reports M. P. News.

"FAIR CO-ED" [Davies] at Regent, Harrisburgh, Pa., reflected gratifying box-office returns, reports M. P. News.

Boston good week with "ANNIE LAURIE" at State, reports Variety.

"SPRING FEVER" [Haines] at Tower, Minneapolis, boosted receipts, reports M. P. News.

The Stanley, Philadelphia, enjoyed a very good week with "ROAD TO ROMANCE" [Ramon Novarro], reports M. P. News.

"FAIR CO-ED" [Davies] stood out at State, Buffalo, reports Variety.

Oriental, Chicago, up $4,000. William Haines in "SPRING FEVER," reports Variety.

"ROAD TO ROMANCE" [Novarro] at Midland Theatre, Kansas City, got largest gross ever taken in any local picture house, reports Variety.

All theatres showed loss last week in New Orleans except State, showing "THE BUGLE CALL" [Coogan], reports Variety.

"BODY AND SOUL" drew unusually good business at Strand, Tampa, Fla., reports M. P. News.

"BODY AND SOUL" packed the State, Detroit, Michigan, reports M. P. News.

Warfield Theatre, San Francisco, jumped into lead of town with "BECKY," reports Variety.

The State, Minneapolis, pulled in the crowds with "ROAD TO ROMANCE" [Novarro], reports M. P. News.

"ANNIE LAURIE" [Gish] opened to long line and held up big at Uptown, Toronto, Canada, reports Variety.

"FAIR CO-ED" [Davies] got record box-office at the Grand, Atlanta, Ga., reports M. P. News.

"MOCKERY" [Lon Chaney] opened to turnaway at Uptown, Toronto, Can., reports Variety.

"ROAD TO ROMANCE" [Ramon Novarro] brought Rivoli at Portland, Ore. good week, reports Variety.

Century, Baltimore, hitting excellent pace with "SPRING FEVER" [Haines] reports Variety.

"FAIR CO-ED" [Davies] tremendous at Century, Baltimore, reports M. P. News.

"ROAD TO ROMANCE" [Novarro] clicked at Victory, Providence, reports Variety.

"SPRING FEVER" [Haines] attracted many to Warfield, San Francisco, reports M. P. News.

they're here again!

THE comedy pair that made millions laugh — COHEN and KELLY — in a bigger, even funnier laugh hit. Box-office records everywhere show "The Cohens and Kellys" way at the top in the big-money listings. And shrewd showmen, who know, predict better business for this new one.

Presented by CARL LAEMMLE

Starring George Sidney and J. Farrel MacDonald. With Vera Gordon, Kate Price and Gertrude Astor. Adaptation and continuity by Al Cohn. Story supervision by Joseph Poland.

A WILLIAM BEAUDINE Production

"The COHENS AND KELLYS IN PARIS"

Every Week!

ANOTHER GREAT CIRCUIT

Joins the Big List That is Buying

Educational Pictures

Now It's

SAXE

Signing up the entire line of Educational Pictures

"THE SPICE OF THE PROGRAM"

to play the many fine theatres of this great Wisconsin chain

Two-reel comedies that will fill those empty seats.

LUPINO LANE COMEDIES
HAMILTON COMEDIES
"BIG BOY"—JUVENILE COMEDIES
DOROTHY DEVORE COMEDIES
BOWERS COMEDIES
TUXEDO COMEDIES
With Johnny Arthur
MERMAID COMEDIES
(Jack White Productions)
LARRY SEMON COMEDIES

One-reel comedies, news and novelties —always make a good show better.

KINOGRAMS
The News Reel That Tops the Field
CAMEO COMEDIES
McCALL COLOUR FASHION NEWS
With Hope Hampton
CURIOSITIES
The Movie Side-Show
Produced by Walter Futter
FELIX THE CAT Cartoons
By Pat Sullivan
OUTDOOR SKETCHES
By Robert C. Bruce
LYMAN H. HOWE'S HODGE-PODGE
CARTER DeHAVEN
in Character Studies

EDUCATIONAL FILM EXCHANGES, Inc.
E. W. Hammons
President

Member, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Will H. Hays

Picture Producers [illegible] President

Youth

You, as an exhibitor, realize that the larger part of your patronage is composed of Youth. William Fox, as a producer, heeds the demand of the day for Youth on the screen.

PHOTOPLAY MAGAZINE says:—"In the race for youth FOX out-marathons them all, for quietly and without bombast, it has created two genuine girl stars—Janet Gaynor and Olive Borden, signed Lois Moran and has in the grooming Charles Farrell, Barry Norton and Charles Morton." Yes,—and a host of others.

ARTHUR JAMES, Editor of MOTION PICTURES TODAY, says:—"The public is responding to the Youth that now is beginning to replace the more aged leads and stars. Looking over the newer lists we see . . . Janet Gaynor, Olive Borden, Madge Bellamy, Dolores Del Rio, Lois Moran . . . all rapidly rising box-office attractions."

Yes, FOX has outstripped them all in presenting youthful genius in its pictures. And the youth that Fox brings to the screen is Box-office Youth!

(Beginning next week—A Series on Youth, Beauty and Personality in Fox Pictures.)

BEAUTY and PERSONALITY

in FOX specials

HERE'S THE PICTURE FOR YOUR AUDIENCE!

HERE'S THE MONEY PICTURE FOR YOUR BOX OFFICE!

"THE

Produced for the Box Office—the true Barometer of Success!

FOX

WHO PLAYS WITH

Every Patron Becomes a Booster-Critic for the World's Funniest Screen Team:

TED McNAMARA
("KIPER")
SAMMY COHEN
("LIPINSKY")

The Comedy Team of
"WHAT PRICE GLORY"

Presented by WILLIAM FOX
in

GAY RETREAT"

A Rollicking Comedy Classic of War Daze and Parisian Nights

Story by William Conselman and Edward Marshall, Adapted by Murray Roth and Edward P. Moran

BEN STOLOFF Production

ASK THESE SHOWMEN — THEY GOT RESULTS:—

Mike Commerford of Penna. Circuit—Alex Pantages of Los Angeles
Al Boyd of Stanley Company—N. L. Nathanson of Toronto, Can.

ASK THEM WHAT THEY THINK OF "THE GAY RETREAT"

Get Wise to This, the Greatest Surprise Money-Hit of the Year!
"The Gay Retreat" Is a "Forward-March" for Prosperity!

F O X P R O F I T S W I T H F O X

COMING

TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS"

— it's the sign of prosperous days to come!

if you're displaying it in front of your theatre

"Make special effort to nab this — real box-office, will rank among the best laugh films of the year."

Kann in Film Daily

Howard Hughes and John W. Considine Jr. present

"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS"

WITH

WM. BOYD, From story by DONALD McGIBNEY Supervised by John W. Considine, Jr.

MARY ASTOR and LOUIS WOLHEIM

Directed by LEWIS MILESTONE

Produced by The CADDO Company

New York ~ Los Angeles ~ San Francisco ~ Salt Lake ~ Seattle ~ Philadelphia all proved this UNITED ARTISTS PICTURE tremendous Business Getter.

BEAUTY, BRILLIANCE and STRENGTH for YOU in FOX PROFIT PICTURES for December

FOX

"SILK LEGS"—Another MADGE BELLAMY HIT

ARTHUR ROSSON Production
Story by Frederica Sagor

"COME TO MY HOUSE" OLIVE BORDEN—TONY MORENO

ALFRED E. GREEN Production
Story by Arthur Somers Roche

"THE WIZARD" An EDMUND LOWE THRILLER!

from the mystery drama by Gaston Leroux

RICHARD ROSSON Production

cast includes
Leila Hyams
Norman Trevor
Barry Norton
Gustav von Seyffertitz
George Kotsonaros

Besides
Nancy Carroll,
in the support of
VIRGINIA VALLI
"LADIES MUST DRESS" has Lawrence Gray
Earle Foxe and Hallam Cooley.

"WOLF FANGS"
has a dog hero THUNDER
and Caryl Lincoln

It's just another triumph for her—
MADGE
BELLAMY'S latest hit, is "VERY CONFIDENTIAL"

FOX

WILLIAM FOX presents to you for the last two months in the year six "audience pictures" of unusual strength and appeal. Released in November are "VERY CONFIDENTIAL" with Madge Bellamy and "LADIES MUST DRESS" with Virginia Valli—both with splendid supporting casts—and "WOLF FANGS," a dog-hero picture that is at once drama and entertainment. December will bring your theatre "THE WIZARD," a mystery melodrama of high grade, with Edmund Lowe and a strong cast; Madge Bellamy, again, in "SILK LEGS," a made-to-order eye-opener for Bellamy fans; and "COME TO MY HOUSE," with an all-star cast including Olive Borden, Tony Moreno, Ben Bard, Cornelius Keefe and Doris Lloyd. Fox November and December releases will again show in your box office that "Who Plays with Fox Profits With Fox!"

FIRST NATIONAL
has Set the World on FIRE!

NORMA TALMADGE

IN CAMILLE

has done sensational business in every engagement played to date. 13 weeks on Broadway. 3, 4 and 5 weeks in one-week houses all over country. Is breaking Day Records, House Records, Gross Records, City Records, right and left.

Joseph M. Schenck
Presents
NORMA TALMADGE
In CAMILLE
A Modern Version
With
Gilbert Roland
Screen story by Fred de Gresac
A Fred Niblo Production

First National Pictures

FIRST NATIONAL

has the Most Famous Stage Play of the Century!

The GORILLA

Premiere Smashed Saturday record to smithereens at Ambassador, St. Louis. Capacity by noon and crowds lined up for 2 blocks. "Looked like opening night of house," wires Harry Weiss.

Biggest business in 8 years at Pantheon, Toledo, breaking all records since house opened. Midnight shows. Held over.

Continuous stand-out from 1:30 on at Palace, Cleveland!

Booked by McVickers, Chicago —Million Dollar, Los Angeles— California, San Francisco, for extended runs!

Directed by

ALFRED SANTELL

An ALFRED SANTELL production

First National Pictures

ASHER SMALL & ROGERS Present
THE GORILLA
With
CHARLIE MURRAY
And
FRED KELSEY
Alice Day, Tully Marshall, Claude Gillingwater
From the play by Ralph Spence
An Alfred Santell Production
Directed by Alfred Santell
Production Management of Edward Small

FIRST NATIONAL

has the Biggest Mystery-Comedy Ever Made

A TEXAS STEER

WITH WILL ROGERS

LOUISE FAZENDA
LILYAN TASHMAN-ANN RORK
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JR.

"Saw TEXAS STEER. It is positive Box-Office hit," wire Asher, Small & Rogers of Sam Rork's great Comedy Special... Backed by $800,000 free advertising in sensational tie-up that will blanket country. "Rogers-Rork-Wallace-Fazenda sure-fire combination," says Exhibitors' Daily Review.

First National Pictures

SAM E. RORK presents
A TEXAS STEER
with WILL ROGERS and
LOUISE FAZENDA
Lilyan Tashman—Ann Rork—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.
Titles by Will Rogers
From the play by Chas. H. Hoyt
A RICHARD WALLACE PRODUCTION

FIRST NATIONAL has the Nation's Best Known Personality!

THE Private LIFE OF HELEN OF TROY

Fans and Showmen are on edge for this daringly beautiful novelty spectacle. Has been getting big-space National publicity in press and magazines months in advance of release. Based on the Best Seller that amazed America. One of biggest fiction buys ever made for pictures. "Million dollar production. Chucked full of laughs," wired Jed Buell of Westlake Theatre, after preview!

FIRST NATIONAL has the Greatest and Best Seller of the Age!

RICHARD A. ROWLAND
presents
THE PRIVATE LIFE OF HELEN OF TROY
by John Erskine with LEWIS STONE,
MARIA CORDA and RICARDO CORTEZ
Written for the Screen and Produced by Carey Wilson

First National Pictures

THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS

by HAROLD BELL WRIGHT

10,000,000 Wright readers waiting for it. Thousands in every city! Hundreds of advance bookings on name and fame alone. ■ Big Cast—Big Scenes—Big Story. ■ It can't miss!

First National Pictures

Richard A. Rowland presents
THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS
by
HAROLD BELL WRIGHT
with MOLLY O'DAY
Alec Francis—John Boles—
Mathew Betz
Adaptation and Continuity by Marion Jackson
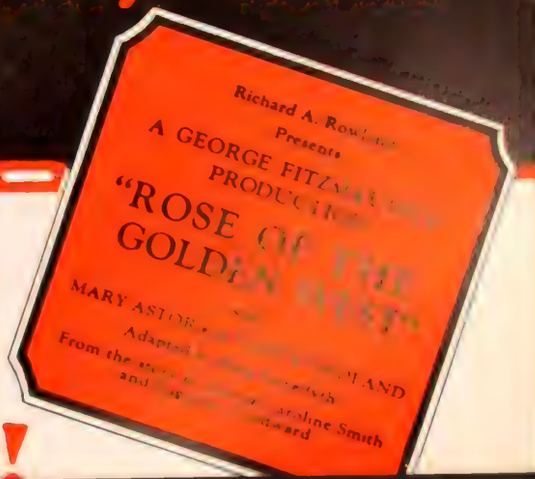
Directed by Al Rogell
PRODUCED BY CHAS. R. ROGERS



FIRST NATIONAL
has America's Most Popular Author!

ROSE OF THE GOLDEN WEST

First National Pictures

Drew Best business in months at Pantages, Toronto...Led town at the Broadway, Portland... "Beauty of Sets and exquisite locations alone worth price of admission," said N. Y. American!

FIRST NATIONAL

has the Screens Most Beautiful Romance!

Even if it means –

SHIFTING PLAY-DATES
CANCELLING BOOKINGS
ENLARGING YOUR THEATRE or LEASING ANOTHER HOUSE

You must Get FIRST NATIONAL'S Gold-Getters!

First National Pictures

THEY'RE THE BIGGEST THINGS IN PICTURES TODAY

Motion Picture News

Volume XXXVI NEW YORK CITY, NOVEMBER 25, 1927 No. 21

Overfeeding the Public

Time to Get Back to Simple Fare in Picture Entertainment

By William A. Johnston

I HEARD a new definition of a showman the other day.

It is this: A showman is a man who gives the public a little and makes them like it a lot.

In view of the obvious fact that our showmen of the day seem determined to give the public a lot, whether they like it or not, the above definition would seem a good one to paste over the portals of the whole motion picture business.

* * * *

To tell the truth, the motion picture business aforesaid isn't in the healthiest and happiest condition just now.

And, while there are several pretty big and basic faults to correct within the industry, there is one great and sane reform that can be put into effect with the public.

And that is a return to simplicity.

Simple fare for the public palate.

Something they like more and not enough to choke them.

* * * *

A shrewd view—a showman's view—of the whole movie situation today is that the public is overfed.

The public liver is gorged and the attendance is bilious.

To stimulate with more food and very rich food isn't going to do a bit of good, but rather still more harm.

It is time to use more brains and less money, more taste and less food.

We used to rave about double-bills as bad judgment and bad precedent. But the present movie fare in our great picture palaces makes the old double-bill racket look like a hot dog sandwich.

Today the audience is given everything from grand opera to peanuts and goes reeling forth from the marble gates glutted with an undigested load of banquet entertainment.

A three-ring circus like Ringling's is a great success: but it doesn't stay long in one town. It couldn't.

The old double bill scheme is very much like a restaurant offering two steaks for the price of one. It attracts for the moment, but what customer except a gourmand can stomach it for steady fare?

Today, as I say, we have banquets—luxurious, incomprehensible, so expensive that one theatre that I know of ran its cost, one week, up over one hundred thousand dollars.

For a while the heavy program is great. But the inevitable consequence is a sick headache, and bilious apathy.

It can't go on.

* * * *

A showman—a great showman—it seems to me, should be judged not by how much, but rather how little he spends in pleasing the public.

And I am inclined to think that from now on we will rate showmen by this mark.

We will point with pride to the theatre's net and not altogether to its gross.

Gene Stratton, granddaughter of the late Gene Stratton-Porter, has a role in F B O's picturization of the novel, "Freckles," which Leo Meehan, the author's son-in-law, produced

Dolores Del Rio and Roland Drew, her leading man in "Ramona," a United Artists picture, try their luck at a new fortune telling game between scenes

A considerable portion of the beauty of the Costello sisters is to be found in Helene, who plays a featured role in "Good Time Charley" for Warner Brothers

Supplying circus atmosphere in "Tillie's Punctured Romance," the Paramount-Christie special, are more than 300 ex-side show performers

George Lewis and Marion Nixon, the leads in Universal's "The Four Flusher," discover that to try out these new scooter skates is to invite disaster

Lola Todd, who is returning to pictures after a six months' illness. Her husband, M. F. Todd, is the Tiffany-Stahl Coast publicity director

According to Homer, Helen had an irresistible personality. There was dynamite in her glance. Here Ricardo Cortez, as Paris, is fast succumbing to the lure of Maria Corda, the lady who is the topic of discussion in First National's "The Private Life of Helen of Troy"

Arch B. Heath, responsible for many a Pathe serial, who has just finished a new thriller of ten chapters, "The Mark of the Frog"

PICTURES AND PEOPLE

Inside Slants on the Industry

The Mirrors of Filmdom

THE important premiere of the week was "Sorrell and Son," Herbert Brenon's version of the Warwick Deeping Novel for United Artists. This is a well-directed, appealing picture, with an excellent performance by H. B. Warner, and likely to register very well indeed at the box-office because of its poignant story.

While it strikes us that Mr. Brenon did not quite succeed in getting the full spirit of the novel on the screen, the picture, nevertheless, is of superior workmanship, and in most of its sequences is convincing.

* * *

WE want to say a word here about "Building Theatre Patronage," the new book by John F. Barry and Epes W. Sargent. It is the authoritative work to date on theatre management and merchandising, and is put together in an expert and practical fashion.

The purpose of the book is well stated in the foreword: "Successful amusement merchandising is not the sale of tickets to those who naturally would desire to see your entertainment, nor to those who have already been attracted by the better conduct of your enterprise. The real profit comes from selling other new patrons who are drawn to your theatre through good advertising and held through good management."

With this as a theme, the authors have assembled a mass of valuable suggestions and material—all of the most practical sort—and beyond question of genuine service to the exhibitor.

* * *

WHILE we are on the subject of theatre operation, we will call your attention to a very progressive idea put into effect by E. V. Richards, Jr., of the Saenger Circuit.

Mr. Richards believes in encouraging his theatre managers to read worth-while books in order to stimulate better advertising to the public and encourage demand for better pictures.

* * *

FOR example, a recent issue of "Saenger Contact," a bulletin which goes from "headquarters to the firing line," is addressed to the wives of theatre managers. It says in part:

"Ladies, your replies evidence your pride in your husband's vocation and your eagerness to assist him is commendable. . . . Does he take time to read the trade magazines? Did you know that the Harvard Classics contain very pertinent and valuable information so essential to success?

"Surely you recall the sensation caused by "The Garden of Allah' when it was published in book form. Tell him about it, and that it was filmed in the Sahara Desert. Also inform him how 'Ben Hur' organized a band of soldiers to rescue Christ from the Romans and crucifixion. Secure these books from the library. They will suggest exploitation ideas that will increase business on these two pictures."

* * *

IT is reported from Hollywood that von Stroheim may return to Universal, and more may be heard about this when Carl Laemmle reaches Universal City, whither he has gone, accompanied by Robert E. Welsh, his personal representative.

There is also a report in Hollywood that Paramount will get two pictures out of "The Wedding March," upon which von Stroheim used up a vast quantity of film. It is said the executives have found film material enough for another story, which will be released after "The Wedding March" has been on the market for a while.

* * *

CHARLES CHAPLIN is said to be getting ready to make up for his long absence from the screen by producing three and possibly four pictures in 1928.

Chaplin is said to realize that speeding up production is the only way to meet the situation caused by the heavy expenses of "The Circus," which is reported to be one of the costliest films ever made because of the long delays brought about by the comedian's domestic difficulties.

Since he resumed production, Chaplin has been hard at work, spending long hours in the cutting room and the selection of stories for his next pictures. "The Circus" will be released before the end of 1927, and it would not be surprising if it is followed by another Chaplin picture in March.

* * *

THE development of "new faces" appears to be running into unexpected difficulties. One of the most prominent of the younger stars has come to the parting of the ways with her present employers and will leave their studio about the end of the month.

The producers have been devoting much attention to developing young blood, commanding low salaries, to replace high-salaried veterans, but as soon as the youngsters attract attention they evince a yearning for the big pay-checks, much to the dismay of the producers.

The newcomers feel, so it is said, that if they are good enough to displace established stars they also should receive the same high salaries.

* * *

ANNOUNCEMENT by Sol Lesser of the plan for Principal Theatres, a national circuit in the smaller cities of around 15,000 population, caused much interest in the industry.

The announcement said that the circuit would give the smaller cities first runs of the big stars, including Mary Pickford, Charles Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, Colleen Moore, Pola Negri, Harold Lloyd, Clara Bow, Norma Shearer and John Gilbert.

Out on the Coast, there is speculation as to whether or not the Principal Theatres circuit is connected in any way, directly or indirectly, with Publix, West Coast and Stanley, inasmuch as the stars announced to appear in the Principal theatres are in pictures released by Paramount, M-G-M, United Artists and First National.

* * *

A STRONG argument against the proposed censorship of pictures in Mississippi is printed in a recent issue of the Vicksburg Evening Post. After pointing out that three lawyers have been hired to prepare a bill to be submitted to the next legislature, The Post continues:

* * *

IT will, of course, have to provide for a censorship board of three or more at good salaries, the construction of a place to show the films which will be presented, an office force and all the rest. This will cost money, which money will, of course, be obtained by charging for the inspection and censorship, probably five to ten dollars per film.

"This will run into a tidy sum and, of course, the theatres will not pay it. It will be passed on to the patrons in the form of increased admission prices and this, of course, will cause a large-sized kick, but it will be too late after the law is passed and the censors are on the job.

Pictures and People–Continued

"Now, passing this, let us examine the question from another angle. The moving picture is admittedly one of the greatest things which has yet come into human life for its broadening and amusement. As a little girl said some time ago to her parents, 'What did you all do in the evenings before you had the pictures?' Life, indeed, was dull and drab. There were no travel pictures, no visualization of the greatest stories of all time, no news reels showing the events of the day, none of the marvels we now accept so casually. The moving picture is the greatest boon to mankind since the invention of printing and to attempt to censor it is to slow its growth and to hamper its blessed influence.

"Now, if we had people of sufficient knowledge and culture at command to pass upon the films in a highly judicial way, one might conceive of censorship, although evil in principle. That mere politicians such as would grab off these jobs would be fit to censor films is more than laughable—it is sad.

"Evil in principle, vicious in execution, is the way most censorships turn out. This is just another form of that intolerance which believes that some of us are better fitted than our neighbors to pass upon the things of life. Just why we are, we don't know. We are always right and they wrong. There is one sure thing, no one is compelled to go to the moving picture theatres unless he wants to. If parents think a picture is objectionable, let them stay away and keep their children away. But to pass the buck to a board of political censors composed of beings to whom love and laughter are synonymous with evil—Good Lord (we humbly pray), protect us!"

* * *

USE of radio for the advertising and publicizing of pictures seems likely to develop on a considerable scale in the next few months. It is understood that Universal is considering an arrangement with WOR for broadcasting along lines similar to Carl Laemmle's very successful "Tour Around the Universal Studios." It will be recalled that this stunt was real entertainment. Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld and his orchestra provided musical atmosphere.

Alfred J. McCosker, director of WOR, reports that the Laemmle hour produced a splendid reaction from the radio audience.

* * *

M-G-M is going right ahead with its "Movie Hours," local programs broadcast from 30 stations in different parts of the country. The number of stations will probably be increased soon. It is also known that Paramount is planning an important radio tie-up and First National will resume broadcasting shortly through Station WJZ.

* * *

REFERRING again to the economy situation in Hollywood, James R. Quirk in an editorial in the December Photoplay Magazine remarks:

"As the contracts for high salaries, made in the days when competition for these workers was keen, have expired, they have, in most cases, not been renewed. Options on their services at increased figures are not being taken up.

"All this is in line with the efforts of the producers not only to lower the cost of pictures but to overcome the star problem and to gradually lessen the dominance of the player or director over the picture itself. No wonder some of the best known screen actors and actresses are going about Hollywood mumbling about a conspiracy against them."

* * *

MR. QUIRK continues: "Fortunately for the actors, only one group of production managers are working together. But when an actor finds himself out in the cold at one studio he finds himself equally unwanted at several others."

Mr. Quirk, however, predicts that the tacit movement to cut salaries will have little effect on the real stars of the film world whose value is fixed by the public at the box-office rather than by the producers on contract papers.

"Just put this down as a fact," he says. "No conspiracy or no agreement among producers to eliminate a big box-office personality can exist. One of the producers would always find a way out of the agreement. They always have. If a conference of producers agreed to lock out Clara Bow, Jack Gilbert or Charlie Chaplin, an automobile race to their homes would start the second the meeting was over."

• • •

IT is, of course, still perfectly obvious that the bankers are insisting on economies in the picture business. Their stern demands started all the excitement.

It is—or ought to be—just as obvious that cutting out the extravagance in players' and directors' salaries will not solve the whole problem.

There is incompetence and mismanagement in high places—plenty of it. We are not in favor of making the players the goats for the mistakes and dumbness of the higher-ups. This does not mean that we advocate letting the players have all they want and permitting them to run wild. But it does mean that before this business actually gets on a real economy basis the saddling of pictures with unproductive overhead and salaries for political, personal or family reasons will have to stop.

An incompetent higher-up is a greater menace than an overpaid player, because the player will be eliminated anyway if the public does not want to see him or her on the screen. But the higher-up is entrenched and bountifully supplied with alibis when the picture turns out to be a frost.

Also, it should be remembered that no players would have been overpaid if the producers had not foolishly skyrocketed and pyramided salaries by bidding against each other for the services of these same players who are now depicted as the great menace.

November 25, 1927 Motion Picture News Vol. XXXVI, No. 21

Published weekly by Motion Picture News, Inc. Founded in September, 1913. Publication Office, 729 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y.; Editorial and General Offices, 729 Seventh Ave., New York City; Branch Offices 845 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Room 616 Security Bldg., Hollywood, California. William A. Johnston, president; E. Kendall Gillett, vice-president; William A. Johnston, editor; J. S. Dickerson, associate editor; Oscar Cooper, managing editor; Fred J. Beecroft, advertising manager; L. H. Mason, Chicago representative; William McCormack, Los Angeles representative. Subscription price, $2.00 per year, postpaid in United States, Mexico, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands and some other countries. Canada, $3.00; Foreign, $6.00. Copyright, 1927, by Motion Picture News, Inc., in United States and Great Britain. Title registered in the United States Patent Office and foreign countries. Western Union cable address is "Picknews," New York. Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office, New York, N. Y., April 22, 1926, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

New Economy Moves Predicted; Executives Go to Coast

Important Developments Expected on West Coast in Few Weeks; Actor's Equity Threatens Action If Studio Competition Is Curbed

COINCIDENT with the departure of a number of executives for the Coast this week, with others to follow shortly, it became apparent that something unusual was in the air, and it was freely predicted that drastic economies in production are in prospect in the next few weeks.

About the time the executives began leaving, The New York Sun printed a long, special dispatch from Hollywood to the effect that the industry was to be reorganized to give greater powers to the Hays organization. Specifically, the story said the producers had decided, in a secret meeting, to adopt the organized baseball idea in dealing with studio talent. The object, according to the Sun, would be to effect drastic economies in salaries of players and directors by agreement among the producers.

The story went on to say that the plan would be put up to Attorney General Sargent, with the request that he rule favorably on its legality.

In some quarters in New York the story was characterized as "silly." An emphatic denial was made by J. Robert Rubin, of M-G-M, and in the offices of other producers it was said that nothing was known of such a plan.

The exodus of executives to the Coast was fully under way when this issue went to press. C. B. Hawley and R. A. Rowland, of First National, left on Tuesday. Adolph Zukor, S. R. Kent, and Sam Katz, of Paramount; and Nicholas M. Schneck, president of M-G-M, also departed for Los Angeles Joseph M. Schenck, head of United Artists, is scheduled to leave shortly. Carl Laemmle is already at the Coast, and W. R. Sheehan, of Fox, of course, is there regularly in charge of production.

Messrs. Hawley and Rowland were to be joined in Chicago by Watterson R. Rothacker, managing director of the First National Burbank plant.

The importance of the movement of executives to the West Coast was still further emphasized when it became known that Elmer Pearson, John C. Flinn and Phil Reisman, of Pathe-De Mille, would leave for Hollywood on Sunday, November 20.

Pettijohn's Speech

An interesting sidelight on the situation was seen in the speech made by Charles C. Pettijohn, of the Hays organization, at the convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Texas, in Dallas, last week.

"Conditions in the motion picture industry will be better only when proper economies are practiced in production, and when exhibitors get back into the picture business, and stop paying all their money out for something besides pictures," said Mr. Pettijohn.

"Exhibitors will have to pay more and production will have to cost less, or there will soon be no producers in the business.

"As to chain theatre buying, it, of course, should not be possible for any chain of theatres to abuse their buying power to the extent that they would buy all of the pictures exclusively for any town so that all other theatres could not get even second runs of any good pictures."

In connection with the alleged agreement among producers on player salaries, Frank Gilmore, executive secretary of the Actors Equity Association, issued a statement. He said that if producers attempt any move to eliminate competition and restrict actors and directors from selling their services to the highest bidder, such a plan will be considered a combination in restraint of trade by Equity and it will be at once "brought to the attention of the proper authorities."

"The Actors Equity Association is well aware of the fact that it is not the high salaries of actors which has brought the motion picture industry to its present situation," said Mr. Gilmore. "Actors' salaries comprise but 20 per cent of the cost of the picture. The great waste has been incompetence in management and the unwarranted promotion of relatives and favorites of producers."

Real Flood Damage Is Unknown

Only Meagre Reports Received from Hardest Hit Spots in Devastated Area; Will Lift Film Embargo

FLOOD conditions still prevail through New England to such an extent that the real damage done to many theatres is still unknown. Only the most meagre accounts are obtainable out of the area most affected by the flood. Of the badly affected area, Western Massachusetts was the first to recover, as no serious damage was done to railroad lines and delays were only temporary. The embargo on film west of Springfield is expected to be lifted within a few days.

North of Springfield considerable water damage was done to theatres at Shelburne Falls, Greenfield, Deerfield, Turners Falls, Northampton and Easthampton. Heavy damage was done in Huntington, Westfield and as far as North Adams.

Slight damage was done to all New Hampshire theatres so far heard from, flooded cellars and auditoriums being the major part of the havoc. Vermont is still cut off. No film is being shipped into Vermont from the Boston distributors, and but little from the Albany exchanges. Beyond White River Junction a strict embargo is enforced. Weeks will be required to clear the roads. Railroad bridges have been washed away and must be rebuilt.

The Gray Circuit offices in Boston have received word that the theatres at Montpelier and Barre are closed, and cannot be reopened until extensive repairs are made. Only one theatre in the area is so far known to have been swept away. That is the Star Theatre at Milton, Vt., owned by Mrs. Earl Bevan. No word, however, has come through from more than thirty other theatres in the district.

Film from Boston, in scattered instances, is getting into the flood area. Some of it is going by way of Albany, Fort Kent and across Lake Champlain into Burlington. Some is going further north by way of Rouses Point. Transfer companies handling film are going as far as Williamstown, Mass., Concord, N. H., and White River Junction for deliveries. Beyond those points delivery is spasmodic.

Boston film salesmen, caught in the swirling flood waters, had many exciting experiences. Many were forced to abandon their autos wherever the flood caught them. Among those who were caught by the flood were: William O'Loughlin, of Fox; William Horan, of Educational; Frank Repetto, of Warners; John Moore, of Paramount; James Byrnes, of First National; Charles Demming, of F B O; Sam Lubelle, of Metro and Nate Ross, of First National.

Every motion picture theatre in Albany, Troy, Rensselaer, Cohoes, Mechanicsville and other cities and villages in the capital district of New York state will join hands on Sunday, November 20, and donate a portion of their receipts to the victims of the flood area. The houses that do not operate Sunday will contribute a portion of one day's receipts.

The Connecticut M. P. T. O. donated ten per cent of its total receipts Monday to the Red Cross for the flood fund. There are 241 theatres in the state, and about 70 per cent are members of the association.

Pathe-First National Merger Denied

Official Statements of Company Executives Emphatically Discredit Rumors

OFFICIAL denials were made this week by C. B. Hawley, President of First National, and J. J. Murdock, President of Pathe, that the two companies are planning to merge.

Mr. Hawley stated emphatically that First National was not going to merge with any company whatsoever.

Mr. Murdock's official denial follows in part:

"It may be stated that there is absolutely no truth in this latest reported merger. On the contrary there are no negotiations under way that would suggest a merging of interests.

"It is pretty nearly time that such sidewalk rumors were disregarded. They remind me of the tips given out by the dope sheets issued by race track touts. There is no discussion at this time under way between Pathe and First National that would justify the conclusions given.

"Furthermore, there is nothing helpful nor constructive in them, as they tend to injure the morale of the institutions concerned and only create a feeling of uncertainty among the various employees as to what their future may be. I know that the rumors are equally objectionable to the other parties as well as ourselves and are neither pleasing nor helpful to anyone.

"Heretofore I have paid no attention to these announcements printed at various times but I desire to make this one statement, which I hope concludes the issue and puts an end to the assertions referred to, which are not founded on facts."

Along the line of reports is one that Keith-Albee has acquired the B. S. Moss circuit, operating about sixteen theatres in Greater New York. It is said that the terms have been agreed upon and that the papers are ready for signing. The reported figure at which the transaction may be concluded is around $3,000,000. Keith-Albee has been partners with Moss in the Moss chain for a number of years and the deal for complete ownership marks an important step in consolidation of the Moss, Keith-Albee and Orpheum chain.

Clifford B. Hawley, president of First National Pictures, Inc.

Charles P. Meyers, Duluth Theatre Man, Dead

Funeral services for Charles P. Meyers, vice-president and treasurer of the Clinton-Meyers company, operating a number of theatres in Duluth and adjacent Minnesota towns, who died suddenly Sunday, November 6th, were held the afternoon of November 8th at the Meyers residence in Duluth. Interment was made at the Adas Israel congregation cemetery. Mr. Meyers' sudden passing was attributed to acute indigestion.

The deceased was one of the leading charity workers of Duluth for about 25 years. He was one of the organizers of the United Jewish Social Agencies, serving as its president up to the time of his death. He was also prominently identified with the Family Welfare society and was a member of the executive council of the Duluth Board of Realtors, Civic Council, Chamber of Commerce, and the B'nai B'rith.

He is survived by his widow, four children, a sister, a brother and his parents, all of Duluth.

Hoffberg First Division's Foreign Agent

A contract recently signed by First Division Distributors, Inc., and J. H. Hoffberg, Inc., makes Hoffberg sole agent for First Division in all foreign countries outside of Europe and Canada for a period of five years. The negotiations were closed during the week by Jack Lustberg, secretary of First Division, and Mr. Hoffberg, who has already placed First Division picture franchises in Mexico, Cuba, Central America, Brazil, Argentina and China. His representatives are now closing up the rest of the territory.

L. B. Metzger, Universal Executive, Convalescing

Lou B. Metzger, Universal general manager of sales, who two weeks ago underwent an operation for gall stones, is well on the road to recovery at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City. He has expressed the wish that he wants all of his friends who have sent him messages of good cheer to know of his appreciation of their solicitations. It is expected that he will be able to leave the hospital after another week.

J. J. Murdock, president of Pathe-DeMille

Stanley Plans Bridgeton Theatre-Office Structure

A store, office and theatre building to cost approximately one million dollars has been announced by the Stanley Company of America, the structure to be erected at Bridgeton, New Jersey. The Hoffman-Henon Company has been awarded the contract for the designing and building of the structure, on which it is intended to start work without delay and to have the theatre ready for opening by July 1st, 1928.

The new house will be of the most modern type and will occupy a site at the corner of Commerce and Peach streets. The entire block will be utilized and in addition to the theatre the building will have six stores and 15 offices. The Mercantile Theatre Properties, Inc., purchased the ground from the owners through Mastbaum Brothers and Fleisher. Joseph Bernhard represented Mercantile.

Two New United Artist Theatres Open in Dec.

UNITED ARTISTS' new theatre in Los Angeles and its other new theatres in Chicago will be opened during December, the first week and the 15th respectively. Another new United Artists house, now nearing completion in Detroit, will be opened in February. Each of the three will be called United Artists Theatre.

The Los Angeles house seats 2,200 and is located on the two lowest floors of a new building on Broadway between 9th and 10th Streets; both the theatre and the building are entirely new and were financed by the Bank of Italy and the Security and Trust Savings Bank. The Chicago theatre is located on West Randolph near Dearborn Street. All except the four walls of its predecessor on this site, the Apollo Theatre, were torn down and for the past six months a new modern picture house has been taking its place.

The theatre in Detroit seats 2,000 and is situated on the two lowest floors of a new office and theatre structure on Bagley Avenue and Clifford Street; it opens about February 1st.

Tax Law Simplification Recommended

Simplification of the tax law is recommended in a report prepared by the staff of the joint committee on internal revenue taxation in Washington, D. C., and concurred in by the advisory committee, which will be submitted to the House ways and means committee for consideration in the drafting of the new revenue bill.

It is pointed out, however, that while a degree of simplification is possible, a simple income tax for complex business is not. The make-up of the present tax law is criticised, it being declared that the arrangement of sections of the act is not satisfactory and a taxpayer cannot find at any one place a simple statement of the basic principles of the income tax, and a complete rearrangement is recommended, although it is suggested the present law be continued in effect for the adjustment of old cases. It is suggested that the next bill carry the taxes in two parts, one dealing with income taxes and the other with the miscellaneous taxes.

Consolidations of the offices of the collectors of internal revenue are recommended.

Simplification of those provisions relating to the deduction for earned income, and more definite provisions relating to the statute of limitations, interest on overpayments and underpayments, and closing agreements also is recommended.

Paramount Will Couple Pennsylvania Offices

Arrangements are now being made to close the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., office of Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, probably about December 1st. The office, which has been serving the northeastern part of Pennsylvania and part of New York, will be consolidated with the Philadelphia branch as a matter of general economy. The motion picture industry in the anthracite district has been hard hit by the unusually warm fall and the increasing use of oil as a fuel instead of coal. Part of the exchange personnel of about 18 persons will be dismissed while some of the sales force, including Fred Myers, branch manager, will be attached to the Philadelphia office under the management of Percy A. Bloch.

King Will Direct New Norma Talmadge Vehicle

"A Woman Disputed," Norma Talmadge's second picture for United Artists, will be directed by Henry King and not Fred Niblo, as originally announced. The production date is undertermined. Mr. Niblo will direct the final Ronald Colman-Vilma Banky film, "Flower of Spain." "My Woman" and "The Darling of the Gods" will be Mr. King's next two United Artists productions.

Universal Changes "On Your Toes" Date

"On Your Toes," Universal's new Reginald Denny vehicle, has been advanced from January 1st to the release date of November 26th.

Texas Anti-Trust Action Waits Findings of Federal Trade Commission

ANTI-TRUST suits against a number of distributors in Texas are threatened under the laws of that state. It is alleged that certain distributors are violating provisions of the law prohibiting combinations in restraint of trade.

Joe. S. Brown, Assistant Attorney General of Texas declares that such suits are likely. He recently returned to Texas after attending the Trade Practice conference in New York. He waited the findings of the Federal Trade Commission before proceeding to action.

The proposed action on the part of the Assistant Attorney General is probably prompted by several additional complaints from Texas Exhibitors since his return from the east. These complaints allege inability to obtain even second run showings because the alleged combines are said to have purchased exclusive runs.

Hope Seen for Admission Tax Repeal

Arguments of Hays Representatives Before Committee Bring Favor

By CLARENCE L. LINZ

Washington Correspondent, Motion Picture News

WASHINGTON, November 15.—A decided possibility that the admission tax may be repealed under the revenue bill which is to be submitted to the House of Representatives next month is seen here as a result of the arguments presented to the Ways and Means Committee 10 by Burt New, Washington representative of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, and M. J. O'Toole, general secretary and business manager of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America.

Comment of members of the committee on the presentation of the case by these two film men was indicative of a favorable attitude toward the granting of the relief for which they appealed and which, they made clear, was of less importance to the exhibitors of the country than to the operators of other classes of amusement—legitimate theatres, circuses, etc.

Retention of the admission tax was urged by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon when he appeared before the committee as "essential to a well-balanced tax system." The representatives of the motion picture industry, however, shot that argument full of holes when they pointed out that the admission tax was a war tax and was never intended as a permanent part of the taxing machinery.

"Our organization does not feel justified in requesting any tax remission, either for itself or for the theatrical business, except in so far as such remission would be justified on grounds of the public welfare or sound consideration of suitable tax policies and methods on the part of the Government," the committee was told by Mr. New. "However," he added, "in considering the question, it does seem that we should all bear in mind that the admission tax was never intended as a permanent tax. It was a war-time tax and not a peace measure.

"However, the admission tax of over 75 cents still remains. It is one of the last war-time taxes continuing in force, and we submit that it should now be repealed in whole or in part if the Government revenues will permit."

Less than 100 picture theatres now, probably are affected by the admission tax- he pointed out, but the principle remains, and it is for that which the exhibitors of the country are fighting.

The motion picture industry is capable of giving the Government much assistance, as was proved during the war and since, Mr. O'Toole asserted, in taking up the argument. "Theatres generally and the motion picture theatres especially," he said, "because of the demonstration and information value of the screen, are community institutions.

"The theatre screen is a medium of expression. In this connection it is in the same relative position as the newspaper and magazine in the matter of service to Government and people. The screen also has the additional advantage in informative value, in that it conveys its messages to all in the universal language of the eye."

France Will Produce 100 Films This Year

This year France expects to produce 100 films, according to information received at the motion picture department of the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

During the past few months the French distributing concern, Jacques Haik, Paris, exported 34 films into 28 different countries. During the period of September, 1926, to September, 1927, there were exhibited in France 413 films, of which 245 were of American origin, 81 were French, 52 were German, 10 were Italian, 13 were Scandinavian, 5 were British and 7 were from other countries.

Chaplin Victory in Plagiarism Suit Assures Writers Protection

THE vindication of Charlie Chaplin by a Federal court jury in the plagiarism suit brought by Leo Loeb on "Shoulder Arms" has brought forth a statement from Nathan Burkan, Chaplin's attorney, through Arthur W. Kelly, the comedian's New York representative. The importance of the verdict is pointed to as conclusive proof of the protection by law of producers, writers and directors.

Burkan's statement, in part, follows:

"The jury's vindication of Chaplin, in the case of Loeb's allegation that 'Shoulder Arms' was plagiarized from Loeb's script, 'The Rookie,' is more important than merely their decision, based on the evidence, that Charlie Chaplin is not a plagiarist. This decision is highly significant to the motion picture industry, in that it proves the Federal law on plagiarism is so definite that any creative artist's execution of his own concept may be adequately protected under the law. Therefore, the decision is of utmost consequence to all motion picture producers, writers and directors.

"It is especially important and beneficial to recognized writers of original scripts, because now they can sell stories with assurance that the law protects their rights, once the facts are established."

Paramount Finance Plan Undergoes Change

Will Call Preferred Stock, Pay Bank Loans and Issue Debenture Bonds

FOLLOWING a meeting of the Board of Directors of Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation held during the week it was announced that steps would be taken to change, and, in the opinion of the management, greatly improve the corporation's financial structure.

It was decided to call the issued and outstanding preferred stock of the company, amounting to 77,450 shares, as of February 1, 1928. Such notice will be published shortly and sent to the preferred stockholders of the company.

The corporation also announced it had made provision for the funding of all of its present bank loans which had been created through the past few years while the company was passing through a period of expansion.

As a means to reimburse the company's treasury for moneys paid out during the expansion period, to retire the preferred stock and to pay back loans, present stockholders may purchase one share of stock for each six shares now held, at a price of $98.50 per share. An issue has been provided of $16,000,000 par value of twenty year 6 per cent debenture bonds.

The announcement declares that in the process of expansion the corporation has added to its property account since January 1925, $81,287,000. These moneys were furnished only to the extent of $52,437,000 by stock subscription and subsidiary company financing, but in the course of this expansion the company has incurred certain indebtedness to the banks, which it now seems good policy to fund.

Continuing, the announcement says:

"In connection therewith, it also seemed to be prudent to retire the preferred stock so that the entire equities of the corporation outside of an issue of $16,000,000 of debentures would be owned by the common stockholders of the company.

"At the beginning of the year 1927, we calculated that our profits for this year would be over $8,000,000. Unless something unforeseen should happen before the end of the year, our calculations will have proven themselves more than correct. Using the same basis for an estimate of our profits for next year, indications are that they should increase to a point where they will be approximately 20 per cent higher in 1928 than in 1927."

At the meeting of the Board of Directors the corporation also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $2 per share on the common stock, payable January 3, 1928, to stockholders of record at the close of business on December 15th, 1927.

Oklahoma Theatre Owners Endorse Hays

The Motion Picture Theatre owners of Oklahoma at their convention in Oklahoma City sent on November 12th a telegram to Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc. expressing the assembled convention's greetings and an offer of sincere cooperation in all matters pertaining to best serving the public. "We are confident," ran the message, "that you more than any individual or any agency will carry forward the splendid results of the late Trade Conference. We want you to know that the Oklahoma theatre owners want to help you in those efforts."

Cruze Casts "The Red Mark" Principals

Included in "The Red Mark," a Pathe-De Mille production are Gustav von Seyffertitz, Rose Dione, Luke Cosgrove, Jack Roper.

In and Out of Town

OUT-OF-TOWN exhibitors who visited the Warner Bros. home office during the past week were M. L. Finkelstein, of Finkelstein and Ruben; William Flynn, of the Kansas City Globe Theatre; and J. J. Ruben, of the Great States Theatres, Chicago.

JACK LUSTBERG, secretary of First Division Distributors, left New York on Tuesday, November 15th, for a sales trip of his company's exchanges at Buffalo, Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia and Washington.

PARAMOUNT foreign representatives who arrived at the Paramount home office during the past week were Frederick W. Lange of Buenos Aires, general manager for Argentina, Uruguay and Paraguay, and John E. Kennebeck of Sydney, Australia, sales manager for the Paramount Australasian organization.

NAT NATHANSON, president of Hi Mark Film Sales Co., Inc., has returned to New York from a month's visit on the Coast where he assisted Harriet Virginia in the production of several films to be released by Hi Mark shortly.

JOSEPH M. SCHENCK, president and chairman of the board of directors of United Artists, returned to New York from England on the S.S. Aquitania on Armistice Day. He had been abroad for one month.

PAUL L. STEIN, Pathe-De Mille director, arrived in Berlin a few weeks ago and was met by H. E. J. Spearman, director general for Producers International Corporation's Berlin office, a large delegation of the press and a party of friends. A reception was held in his honor on October 25th at the Hotel Esplanade.

JULIA FAYE, De Mille player, accompanied by her mother, sailed on the Italian liner, "Roma," last Thursday for a three months' trip abroad. The actress entertains the idea of meeting Mussolini.

SAM RORK, First National producer, Ann Rork, his daughter, Richard Wallace, the director, arived in New York from California last week with the negative and first print of "A Texas Steer." They are stopping at the Plaza Hotel and will soon attend the premiere of the picture.

R. SUTTON DAWES, sales manager for Fox Films, Ltd., in England, sailed for that country aboard the S.S. Majestic last week after spending more than a month in America studying the methods used in the Fox Films exchanges in the various states.

CHARLES M. STEELE, supervisor of exchanges for First National, left last week for the Middle West where he will visit the Milwaukee and Minneapolis branch offices, completing final arrangements in the latter city for the new First National exchange, which will soon be ready for occupancy.

JOHN P. STAPLETON, manager of distribution for the Sentry Safety Control Corporation, spent several days in Boston the early part of this week on business for his firm.

MARION DAVIES, M-G-M star, arrived in New York last week on the Twentieth Century to spend a brief vacation following a period of work at the Culver City studio.

A. P. YOUNGER, scenarist for M-G-M, arrived in New York this week to spend a few days vacationing.

PAUL BERN, general assistant to Irving Thalberg at the M-G-M studio, left the Coast last Monday, November 14th, aboard an airplane and arrived late the following day at Hadley Field, New Jersey. He will stay in New York looking for screen material in the current plays.

CLIFFORD B. HAWLEY, president of First National, Richard A. Rowland, general production manager, Mrs. Hawley and Florence Strauss, scenario editor, left this week on the Twentieth Century for a trip to the First National studio at Burbank.

CHARLES CHRISTIE, vice-president and general manager of the Christie Film Company releasing through Paramount, returned this week from a tour of European Paramount exchanges. While abroad he visited the United Kingdom, France, Germany and other countries.

FOLLOWING shooting of Chinatown sequences in his new First National comedy, Johnny Hines and his producer, C. C. Burr, left this week for Hollywood where the picture will go into immediate production.

BENO RUBEL, assistant to Carl Laemmle, arrived this week at the Universal home office in New York City for an indefinite stay, following the Universal president's departure for Europe.

LEE MARCUS, general sales manager of F B O, left this week for a swing around exchanges in the middle East. He starts the ball rolling for the F B O Grand February Jubilee.

COLVIN W. BROWN, vice-president of F B O, who has been abroad for the last three months in the interests of foreign sales and distribution, arrived in New York on Friday, November 18th, on the SS Berengaria.

COLVIN W. BROWN, vice-president of F B O, who has been abroad for the last three months in the interest of the foreign sales and distribution of his company, left Southampton on November 12th on the S.S. Berengaria, and is due in New York the 18th.

J. I. SCHNITZER, senior vice-president of F B O in charge of distribution, left the New York office this week for a swing around the Middle West where he will visit all the exchanges of F B O.

North Carolina Theatre Owners Meet Dec. 12, 13

The Theatre Owners Association of North Carolina will hold its 16th annual convention at the Charlotte Hotel, Charlotte, on December 12 and 13, 1927.

Charlie Picquet, president of the association, believes that his organization is in possibly the best shape it has ever been in, as the present regime has increased the association from 54 paid memberships to more than 180 paid memberships. With the help of N. L. Royster, secretary and treasurer, President Picquet hopes to make the 200 grade before the December meeting. Two subjects which will be topics of discussion at the convention will be "The Legality of Arbitration" and "Clauses of the New Contract."

R. F. Woodhull, Julian Bryalsky and P. S. Harrison will address the gathering.

Lesser's Principal Chain Expands Nationally

To Build or Acquire Theatres in Towns With Population Around 15,000

PRINCIPAL THEATRES CORP. OF AMERICA, which, as Principal Theatres Corp. of California, has in the past confined its activities to California, is to expand on a national scale, and will build or acquire houses in towns of around 15,000 population through the United States. This expansion is announced by Sol Lesser, president of the company.

With its capital stock fully subscribed, Principal now has 35 theatres in towns of 15,000, and is affiliated with 50 other houses. Officers of the company are: Sol Lesser, president; Fred Levy, vice-president; Samuel Scattergood, Charles Segall and Mike Rosenberg, directors.

Pooled in the Principal Theatres Corp. of America are: Principal Theatres Corp. of California, with 17 theatres in Southern California; Principal Theatres Corp. Central, with houses in Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri; Principal Theatres Corp. of Pennsylvania, with theatres in Eastern Pennsylvania; Principal Theatres Corp. of Northern California, with houses in California and Nevada.

Additional circuits are to be organized soon in the Middle West, New Jersey, Western Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

The building program of the new Nation organization is a most extensive one, and will be put into operation immediately. New houses will be built where it is deemed advisable, and others will be acquired as rapidly as possible. Chains will be absorbed where they are available in towns of the size in which the circuit will operate.

The circuit announced by Lesser has actually been in operation for the past seven weeks. Already new houses are under construction at Ventura and Santa Maria in California, and others are to be launched in that territory in the immediate future. The two houses under construction are to cost around $500,000. Building plans in the other states are to be proceeded with at once.

The first meeting of the Board of Directors of the new organization is to be held January 15, after which Lesser will leave for New York to organize new chains, returning by way of Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago. The circuit eventually will be extended to all parts of the United States.

Butterfield Leases Flint Theatre at $5,000 Rental

In the prospectus for first mortgage six per cent serial bonds being issued on the Flint Capitol Theatre building, at Flint, Mich., it is stated that the theatre has been leased for a period of 30 years to W. S. Butterfield at an annual rental of $5,000. This is said to be the highest rental paid for any theatre in the state outside the big first-run houses in Detroit, Col. Butterfield is also named as president of the Flint Capitol Theatre Company, which is building beside the theatre a structure which will contain eleven stores and numerous offices.

Grand Jury Starting State Bombing Investigation

The Lake County, Indiana, Grand Jury is scheduled to start its investigation of the State Theatre bombing, which is now said to have damaged the big Hammond house to the extent of a million and a half dollars. Private detectives employed by the American Bond & Mortage Company, as well as state, county and city officials, William Kleighe, lessee of the theatre and officials of the Merchants Improvement Association, owners, are expected to appear before the inquisitorial body.

First National Directors Name Four New Company Vice-Presidents

DIRECTORS of First National elected four new vice-presidents of the company at a meeting held during the week. They are Sam Spring, in charge of financing and treasury; Ned Depinet, in charge of distribution; E. Bruce Johnson in charge of foreign, and Robert W. Perkins, in charge of the legal department, and secretary. Richard A. Rowland continues as vice-president in charge of production and general manager.

Albert L. Smith of the E. B. Smith Co. was elected as a director, W. C. Boothby was named assistant treasurer, and Robert W. Brown, assistant secretary.

The financial statement of First National for the nine months ending September 30 shows a net profit of $884,233, including profits from foreign companies, as against $707,847 last year. This is an increase of more than 24 per cent after all deductions and reserves for taxes. Earnings for the first nine months were equal to $37.20 a share earned on the 23,500 shares of eight per cent first preferred outstanding, or over six times dividend requirements.

Finkelstein, Ruben Planning Period Type Theatre for Minneapolis

FINKELSTEIN and Ruben are to build a new period type theatre in Minneapolis at a cost of $750,000, which will mark a new unit in the F. & R. building program already under way, and which will involve a total expenditure of about $3,000,000.

The new house will be known as the Chateau, and will be located at Lake Street and Stevens Avenue, on a site owned by the company for a number of years. Wrecking of the present buildings will be started at once, and it is hoped to have the new theatre completed within a year.

Included also in the $3,000,000 building program is the plan for rebuilding and remodeling the Calhoun Terrace building at Lake Street and Girard Avenue, at a cost of between $175,000 and $250,000. This structure was operated for a number of years as a theatre, but in recent years has been leased for dance hall purposes.

The third item is the construction of the Minnesota Theatre, the new $2,000,000 house at Ninth Street and La Salle Avenue. With the completion of these new projects it is estimated F. & R. theatres in Minnesota will have an aggregate value of $26,000,000.

F. N. Has Busy Schedule

Many Productions Planned for Stars, Featured Players During Winter Months

WATTERSON R. ROTHACKER, vice-president of First National Productions, and managing director of the studios, and Alan Rockett, West Coast production manager, have mapped out a busy schedule of productions for the winter months. All of the company stars, featured player and directors will be actively engaged practically every moment.

Among the first productions to go into work is the George Fitzmaurice-Colleen Moore special, "Lilac Time," which John McCormick will produce. Jane Cowl scored in the stage play from which the picture is adapted.

Richard Barthelmess is to be starred in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," an Alfred Santell production. Milton Sills is to do "Burning Daylight," from the stars, featured players and directors will be leading woman and Charles Brabin will direct.

Billie Dove is scheduled to appear in "The Heart of a Follies Girl," with Alexander Korda directing. Estelle Taylor, Antonio Moreno and Lowell Sherman head the cast of "The Whip Woman," which Allan Dwan started last week.

Harry Langdon is scheduled to make another comedy following the completion of "The Chaser" and Ken Maynard is to start soon on another Western. Johnny Hines will start work soon in "Chinatown Charlie," from the Owen Davis play.

Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes are to make "'Do It Again," and Charlie Murray is to have a new comedy. Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill will be featured in "Lady, Be Good," adapted from the successful musical comedy.

Productions for the first part of 1928 will include, "Synthetic Sin," starring Colleen Moore; "The Barker," with Milton Sills; "Roulette," with Richard Barthelmess, and "The Butter and Egg Man," with Jack Mulhall in the leading role.

Among the pictures now nearing completion are: "Her Wild Oat," "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "The Shepherd of the Hills," "The Valley of the Giants," "Sailors' Wives," "Louisiana," "Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath," "The Chaser" and "The Noose."

Columbia Effects Tie-Up

Concludes Plan With Northwest M. P. T. O. for Sharing Picture Profits

COLUMBIA PICTURES has entered into a new profit-sharing deal with exhibitors in the Northwest, as a result of which a Columbia branch exchange has been established at Minneapolis with Ben Marcus as manager. The deal was negotiated by Claude H. Macgowan, general sales manager and assistant treasurer of Columbia, working in conjunction with William A. Steffes, president of the M. P. T. O. of the Northwest, and Theodore Hayes, representing the F. & R. circuit.

The tie-up is said to practically assure Columbia the cooperation and endorsement of the theatre owners who comprise the Northwest organization, through the profit sharing arrangement. Under the plan, it is said, it will be to the benefit of every exhibitor in the organization to give as many play dates as possible to Columbia, as the more of the company's pictures he plays, the greater will be his own monetary return at the end of the season.

The opening of Columbia's Minneapolis branch follows closely the opening of the branch in Omaha under the management of Joe White. Nationalization of Columbia's sales organization is rapidly nearing completion. In addition to the announcement of the branches at Minneapolis and Omaha, general sales manager Macgowan also established a branch in Des Moines under the management of Meyer Stern. All three branches were opened within three weeks. It is said that others will follow in the near future.

Loew's New New Rochelle House Opens November 23

Loew's Main Street Theatre, a new 3,000 seater in New Rochelle, New York, will be formally opened Wednesday evening, November 23rd, with a single performance at which all seats will be reserved. N. T. G., radio announces over WHN, together with a number of night club stars, will act as master of ceremonies on the occasion of the house's initial night. "What Price Glory" will be the opening film. The day following the theatre will adopt its regular policy of continuous performances, with no reserved seats.

Fox Will Produce "Glory" Sequel Without Del Rio

Inasmuch as Charmaine is not in the script of the Fox Films sequel to "What Price Glory," "The Cock-Eyed World," Dolores Del Rio will not appear in the picture, but a new heroine, not as yet chosen, will play the part. Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson are well along on the script of the production on which actual work will not start for a month as the two male leads are acting in other pictures at the present time.

Music Again Accompanies Atlanta Rialto Progams

Through the efforts of Harry Sherman, Publix union contact officer, who came to Atlanta, Ga., for that specific purpose, an agreement was reached last Thursday, November 10th, between representatives of the Atlanta musicians' union and Publix Theatres Corporation, by means of which music is restored to the Rialto, three organists being installed in the house regularly.

The house has been without music since September 5th, when the theatre management decided to eliminate the orchestra at the close of the past season and to operate with organ music only. The deadlock arose when the union refused to accept the management's disposition and insisted that the theatre retain an orchestra.

"Beau Geste" Wins 1926 Photoplay Medal

FOR the third time a Paramount film has been voted the winner of the Photoplay Magazine Gold Medal, "Beau Geste" having been adjudged the best film released during 1926, according to an announcement in the December edition of the movie fan publication. The award is yearly determined by votes from the readers of the periodical.

This is the seventh yearly award of a Photoplay gold medal, the previous winners having been "Humoresque," 1920; "Tol'able David," 1921; "Robin Hood," 1922; "The Covered Wagon," 1923; "Abraham Lincoln," 1924, and "The Big Parade," 1925.

"Story of Films" New History of the Industry

GIVING briefly the inside facts of the motion picture industry since its inception, "The Story of Films," its contents based on the Harvard lecture series, is now being printed by the A. W. Shaw and Company. The newsstands will have the books inside of a few weeks, it is thought.

Starting with an introduction by Joseph P. Kennedy, president of F B O, in which is outlined briefly the position in the industry of the various authors whose writings make up the book, 14 chapters follow by competent authorities including Will H. Hays, William Fox, the late Marcus Loew, Adolph Zukor, Jesse L. Lasky, R. H. Cochrane, Sidney R. Kent, Cecil B. De Mille, Samuel Katz, Milton Sills, Earl W. Hammons, Dr. A. H. Giannini and H. M. Warner. Each chapter details a separate phase of production, distribution and exhibition.

Universal Releasing Six New Stern Comedies

Six new two-reel comedies adapted from newspaper comic strips are being offered for current release by Universal. The films are product from the Stern Bros. studio and include excerpts from "The Newlyweds and Their Baby," "Keeping Up With the Joneses," "Let George Do It," "Mike and Ike, They Look Alike" and "Buster Brown" series.

Heading the list is "The Newlyweds' Mistake," featuring Snookums, Joe Young and Addie McPhaill. "Passing the Joneses," directed by Gus Meins, with Harry Long, Stella Adams and Gene Laymon in the cast, is the next comedy on the program. Sid Saylor stars in the next two offerings, "A Disorderly Orderly," in which he and Jean Doree and Harry Martell were directed by Sam Newfield, and "On Deck," in which Miss Doree and Art Rowlands have parts. Charles King and Charles Dorety are featured in "Oh, Mabel," and are supported by Thelma Daniels and Margery Marcel; Francis Corby directed.

Gus Meins directed the "Buster Brown" comedy, in which are Arthur Trimble, Doreen Turner, Albert Schaefer and Tige, the dog.

Six Firms Receive New York Incorporation Papers

Companies receiving charters from the department of state and incorporating in the motion picture business in New York state at Albany during the past week included the following: Anderson Amusement Corporation, $15,000, Adolph J. and Thelma Anderson, Harry M. Zimmer, Buffalo; Am Good Theatre Corporation, Rochester, $150,000, Mary and William Stahley, George G. Kircher, Rochester; Marquis Productions, Inc., $20,000, Lillian Passman, Rose London, Anna S. Flaumenbaum, New York City; A B C Amusement Co., Inc., $8,000, Leon Brodsky, Katherine Galvin, New York City; Morris Bestock, Brooklyn; Kley Theatrical Corporation, $10,000, William N. Hechheimer, J. Gibson Friun, Joseph E. Shea, New York City.

Pathe Studios Are Rushed

Nine Feature Productions Under Way or Due to Start in Near Future

THE Pathe-De Mille studios have either started or are preparing to start photography on nine feature productions and, as a result, every foot of stage space is occupied, and the production forces are working day and night. Topping the list of picture preparations is the De Mille personally directed, "The Godless Girl," from the story by Jeanie Macpherson and Ernest Pascal. The leading role has been assigned to Lena Basquette.

In preparation for this production schedule three new directors were signed. They are Howard Higgin, Harmon Weight and E. H. Griffith. Higgin is in charge of "Skyscraper," in which William Boyd will star.

E. Mason Hopper is busy with "A Blonde for a Night," with Marie Prevost as star. William K. Howard has started "His Country," a story of the Americanization of an immigrant, with Rudolph Schildkraut in the leading role, and Marie Dressler also featured.

Hector Turnbull is about ready to start two special productions. The first will be "Midnight Madness," with Jacqueline Logan in the featured role and Clive Brook leading man. The second Turnbull production will be "Hold 'Em, Yale," which will be directed by E. H. Griffith. Rod La Rocque will star.

Rupert Julian is preparing to start camera work on "Walking Back," in which Vera Reynolds is the star. It is adapted from a regular magazine serial, "A Ride in the Country."

Camera work has been completed on "Chicago" and "The Leopard Lady," and they are both in the cutting room. "The Blue Danube," with Leatrice Joy starred, is in the final stages of photography under the direction of Paul Sloane.

At the Metropolitan studio, Leo Maloney has started work on "The Black Ace," with Don Coleman featured and Jeanette Loff as leading woman. Noel Smith is starting "The Law's Lash."

Spencer Bennet is editing his latest serial, "Terrible People," and George Arthur Gray has completed an original story for a new Pathe serial called "The Yellow Cameo."

Alf Goulding is directing the Sennett bathing girls at the Sennett studio in a girls' college picture in which Daphne Pollard is starred.

U. S. Films in Germany

Statistical Report Shows American Product Leads in Number of Features

AMERICAN pictures still dominate the German field, according to a statistical report for the first six months of 1927 made by George R. Canty in Paris, to the Department of Commerce. Of the 425 feature films brought on the German market during the six months' period, 259 were American made and 99 German made. The balance were made in other foreign countries.

Short films on which there is no import restriction were provided almost exclusively by the United States, as Germany failed to produce a single short film during the period. Of the total number of 177 short films exhibited, 155 were produced in the United States.

Despite the fact that the United States provided more pictures than Germany, the latter country's share of meterage was larger than that of the United States because German long features averaged approximately 2,300 meters, while American films of this category averaged approximately 2,000 meters in length.

Tiffany Will Enter Theatrical Field Only If Necessary

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS, in a statement issued during the week, declares they have no intention of going into the theatre business in competition with their customers, but hint the possibility, if they deem it advisable, or it becomes necessary, of acquiring some twenty theatres throughout the country so as to properly present and show other exhibitors how to present Tiffany-Stahl productions.

The statement in part, reads:

"The Tiffany-Stahl Company does not intend to go into the theatre business. It does not believe in going into competition with its customers. It does not believe such a step is good business. It has the kind of pictures the public wants and it will not be necessary for us to beg representation.

"We do wish to modify the above in one respect, however, namely that should we find it advisable or necessary to acquire twenty odd theatres throughout the country so as to properly present and show other exhibitors how to present Tiffany-Stahl productions, we are quite ready and financially able to take that step."

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes"

Reviewed by William McCormack

West Coast Representative, Motion Picture News

LOS ANGELES, November 16.—"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes", the Malcolm St. Clair production for Paramount, was previewed this evening at the Wilshire Theatre in Los Angeles and came in for hearty rounds of applause.

The Anita Loos story of the ultra in gold-diggers has been deftly told by the director in a style fresh, smart and crisp, clicking at welltimed intervals with real laughs. The picture is tiptop entertainment from beginning to end.

Ruth Taylor, who has the role of Lorelei, will be hailed as a "find". Alice White gave an excellent performance and helped the production materially. Ford Sterling, Chester Conklin, Mack Swain, Blanche Frederici, Holmes Herbert and Trixie Friganza all contributed their share in making what looks like one of the comedy hits of the year.

U. A. Tells Sales Plan

Al Lichtman Tells of Divorcing Sales from Physical Handling of Offices

AL LICHTMAN, vice-president and general manager of distribution for the United States and Canada for United Artists, has definitely announced the company's sales plan, as foretold in these columns last week. The sales and branch office staffs have been divorced in their responsibilities, with each having its separate duties. The United States has been divided into eastern and western divisions, and the divisions into districts. No exchanges are being eliminated, and all present personnel will be retained, according to the announcement.

The plan, as outlined by Lichtman, is as follows:

No one connected with actual selling will be hampered as to time or energy with physical handling of distribution. Salesmen will sell films and that is all. Office managers, already being appointed, will supervise non-selling activities of exchanges. Every present exchange will be retained, and it is now anticipated that several additional ones will be established.

Cresson E. Smith will be Eastern general sales manager, with headquarters in New York. David Bershon will be Western sales manager with headquarters in Los Angeles. The Mississippi River will divide the sales territories, St. Louis, Chicago and Minneapolis being in the Western division. Canada will be handled as at present, with Haskell Masters in charge.

Groups of exchanges will be formed into districts, with one exchange designated as district headquarters. District crew managers will be in charge of salesmen, who will operate out of the district headquarters. Present branch managers will be promoted to be crew managers or special representatives, each responsible directly to the home office. The special representatives will handle all key city first runs and circuits.

Branch offices will function as service depots and territorial headquarters for handling of detail and routine.

Pathe-Bray To Film Canyon

Army Assisting in Filming of "The Menace;" Three Units to Leave on Trip Down Colorado River

WITH the cooperation of the War Department, which has supplied radio equipment, an expedition of Pathe-Bray Productions is scheduled to begin work this week upon the filming of "The Menace," whose backgrounds will be the towering walls of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and the swirling waters of the river. The leads will be Victor Varconi and Donald Blossom, who will be directed by Elmer Clifton. Several of the sequences will be done in Technicolor, especially those of the Rainbow Bridge.

Three parties have already departed for their base camps to start work. The first left Green River, Utah, for Needles, California. The second, headed by Gilbert E. Gable and Sergeant Edwin A. Redding, of the U. S. Army, has gone to the Painted Desert to set up a radio station which will pick up the broadcasted reports of the expedition in the canyon's bottom and relay them to the Fort Douglas government station in Salt Lake City. The party which will dare the Colorado's turbulent waters arrived at the Canyon a few days ago; it is due to finish the trip by December 10th.

The cooperation of Secretary Dwight F. Davis, of the War Department, was secured by Elmer R. Pearson, first vice-president of the company. The government expects to put up its new radio equipment to the severest test, operating it one mile beneath the earth's surface.

Besides Director Clifton, Staff Sergeant Vernon T. Herrick, E. C. La Rue, Leigh Smith, E. D. Barber, a correspondent of the New York Times, and 18 expert boatmen will be included in the river expedition.

J. R. Bray is the originator of the project.

Special FBO Sales Drive Will Honor Kennedy

A sales drive, already inaugurated by the F B O sales force to book either an F B O feature or a short subject into every theatre in the United States and England during the month of February, will commemorate the second anniversary of the entrance of Joseph P. Kennedy, the F B O president, into the motion picture industry, In celebration, F B O has termed the month as "grand jubilee" affair and will start, before or during February, a national advertising, publicity and exploitation campaign, a new line of accessories to be furnished exhibitors.

F B O will have eight features and four short subjects ready for release in February. Among the feature productions will be "Her Summer Hero," "Wallflowers," "Coney Island," "Legionnaires in Paris" and "The Harvester."

"The Whip Woman" Title for "Where Love Is"

All previous titles for the forthcoming First National production wth Estelle Taylor, Antonio Moreno and Lowell Sherman, "The Witch Woman," "Where Love Is" and others, have been definitely supplanted by "The Whip Woman." This is Robert T. Kane's second production to go into work at Burbank; it was started last week with Joseph C. Boyle directing under the supervision of Allan Dwan.

Theatre-Office Building New Toronto Deal

ONE of the most stupendous of real estate transactions in Toronto, Ontario, provides for the destruction of two of the best known theatres in the downtown district and the erection of a huge group of office structures, ranging from 27 to 40 stories, which will include what is promised as the largest and finest theatre in Canada.

Almost one whole block in the central section of Toronto has been purchased and in this area are the Regent and Grand Theatres, the former being controlled by Famous Players Canadian Corp., as a special run house. The Grand is one of the oldest houses in Canada and has had a checkered career of late.

The purchase of the sites and the razing of the buildings involve an expenditure of $30,000,000, it is officially announced. Canadian capitalists are identified with the move and it is intimated that these financiers are closely associated with the Famous Players group in the Dominion.

The new theatre will be part of a 40-floor terraced tower building and will face on a new street which is to be cut through the property.

Sterling's Next Five Will Complete Schedule

WITH the completion of "Outcast Souls," its third production on the 1927-28 schedule, Sterling Pictures has but five more productions to film.

"Burning Up Broadway," already prepared in continuity form, is scheduled to go into work on November 21st, at the latest. "Marry the Girl" will next follow on the working schedule; both continuity and adaptation are already in their final stages on this. "Undressed," "It Might Happen to Any Girl" and "A Million for Love" will be the remaining three productions.

Vonceil Viking, Universal Rider, Badly Injured

Miss Vonceil Viking, who is making a 3,000 mile jaunt across the continent arousing interest in Universal pictures, was the victim of a severe accident this week near Concord, North Carolina, and is now confined to the local hospital there.

The girl was speeding at a gallop into Concord when her mount stumbled, pitched her to the ground and then rolled on her. An x-ray at the hospital revealed that there were no broken bones, but that severe sprains and bruises had been inflicted.

This was Miss Viking's third accident in a week, the other two being due to the carelessness of passing motorists, who twice, at dusk, spilled her from her horse.

Universal Tryon Film Will Have Trade Premiere

Glenn Tryon's latest comedy vehicle for Universal, "A Hero For a Night," will be launched in the trade next Tuesday, November 22nd, when a special mid-day invitation showing of the picture will be held at the Central Theatre in New York City.

The same director, scenarist and leading woman who worked on the previous Tryon vehicle, "Painting the Town," contributed to the production of "A Hero for a Night."

Lloyd and Langdon Head Pathe's Nov. 27th Shorts

A Harold Lloyd reissue and one of Harry Langdon's comedies which Pathe has been saving are the two principal numbers on the Pathe group of short subjects for the week of November 27th. Next in importance is a comedy presenting the children of famous movie stars.

"From Hand to Mouth" is the Lloyd vehicle, which also has Mildred Davis (Mrs. Harold Lloyd). "Fiddlesticks" is the Langdon comedy. The children's short feature, "Young Hollywood," was produced under the supervision of Madeline Brandeis.

Mack Sennett is represented in the week's release with "The Bull Fighter," directed by Earl Rodney, and having a cast including Madeline Hurlock, Billy Bevan, Eddie Quillan, Andy Clyde and the Sennett bathing girls. Grantland Rice's "Cups and Defenders" and "The Defensive Ends" (more of "Football Sense"), Pathe Review, No. 48 (containing "Cities of the Sea," "The Porcelain City" and "On the Homeward Trail"), "Flying Fishers," an Æsop film fable, "A Half-Wit's Fury," chapter four of the serial, "The Masked Menace," and Pathe News, Nos. 98 and 99, complete the offerings for the week.

Educational Releasing 14 Shorts During December

A total of 14 short subjects—comedies, cartoons, novelties and scenics comprise the Educational program of releases for the month of December. In addition, the Kinograms newsreel will continue to appear bi-weekly.

Larry Semon in "Oh, What a Man!", George Davis in "Nothing Flat," Lloyd Hamilton in "Papa's Boy," Lupino Lane in "Hello, Sailor" and "Big Boy" in "Angel Eyes," are the two-reel comedies for the month. Semon directed his vehicle, which has Gertrude Astor in the cast. Lucille Hutton and Stanley Blystone support Davis, whom Stephen Roberts directed. Norman Taurog directed the Hamilton comedy, while Mark Sandrich again directed Lane. Charles Lamont wielded the megaphone over the "Big Boy" offering, which has little Lorraine Rivero in the cast.

"It's Me," a comedy featuring Monte Collins, is one of the Cameos for the month. The other one is "Ain't Nature Grand?", Eddie Quillan's first one-reeler for Educational. The new December Curiosities subject is "Lovingly Yours," and the new Bruce Outdoor Sketch is "Injun Food"—"Moods of the Sea." "A Whirl of Activity" is the new Lyman H. Howe Hodge-Podge.

Two new Sullivan cartoons, "Felix the Cat Hits the Deck" and "Felix the Cat Behind the Front," are also on the month's schedule, which is completed by two new McCall Fashion News subjects, featuring Hope Hampton.

"Opening Night" Columbia November Release

"The Opening Night," Claire Windsor's initial vehicle for Columbia Pictures, is the second Columbia release for November, the first being "The Tigress." Edward H. Griffith directed.

Tiffany-Stahl Signs New Stars and Directors

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS is signing up acting and directorial talent for its releases for 1928. Two feminine stars, Claire Windsor and Sally O'Neil, have affixed their signatures to contracts, the directorial services of Reginald Barker have been securied, while a contract with George Archainbaud, who has directed several forthcoming productions, has been extended to cover a longer period.

Barker and Archainbaud will direct several pictures for Tiffany-Stahl. Miss O'Neil will star in a series of vehicles, her first to be "Irish Eyes." Miss Windsor's initial appearance under the company's banner for this season has not as yet been announced.

"Uncle Tom" Roadshowing at Detroit Lafayette

The roadshowing of the Universal production, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," now running at the Central in New York City, begins next week when the Shubert theatre in Detroit, the Lafayette, opens with an indefinite engagement of the picture on Sunday, November 27th.

Virginia Gray and Mona Ray, who have the roles of Little Eva and Topsy in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," will shortly start a tour of personal appearances in Eastern and Middle-Western cities. They will first appear at the Central in New York and will then go to Detroit to be present at the opening there.

The first "Uncle Tom's Cabin" roadshow will carry 10 musicians, a musical director, two operators, an electrician, a property man and a carpenter, as well as George Deagnon, the advance business manager, and L. S. Leavitt, the company manager.

Columbia Co-starring Tom Moore and Dorothy Revier

Tom Moore has signed a contract with Columbia Pictures whereby he will play a co-starring role in "The Siren," which presents Dorothy Revier in the title part.

Fox Releasing New Del Rio Vehicle January 1st

Dolores Del Rio plays her first sophisticated screen role in "No Other Woman," her latest vehicle which Fox Films will release on January 1st. The picture was directed by Lou Tellegan and has a supporting cast including Don Alvarado, Ben Bard and Paulette Duval.

Discovered by Carl Laemmle!—
GLENN TRYON
—A new and unique Motion Picture personality!

CLASSIFIED AD SECTION

RATES: 10 cents a word for each insertion, in advance except Employment Wanted, on which rate is 5 cents

Situation Wanted

PUBLICITY OR TITLE WRITING—Young man, 22, considerable newspaper experience, desires position. Box 230, Motion Picture News, New York City.

ORGANISTS and SINGERS, thoroughly trained and experienced in theatre work. Men and women now ready for good positions. Union or nonunion. Write salary, and other data. Address, Chicago Musical College, 64 E. Van Buren, Chicago.

THEATRE MANAGER desires change. Thoroughly experienced vaudeville, pictures, road shows. Young and a hustler. Can handle any proposition. Best references. Box 220, Motion Picture News, New York City.

ORGANIST, highly trained, twelve years experience, enormous library, intelligent cueing, thoroughly reliable, radio experience, references. State full particulars first letter. Organist, 810 E. Huron, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Wanted

WANTED used projectors. Power's 5 or 5A, or portables, as are. C. E. Metzler, P. O. Box 94, Leaf River, Illinois.

WANTED

Experienced Motion Picture Cameraman for 3 months tropical service abroad

Reply by letter only, stating your experience in foreign countries, if any. Also whether you have own equipment and if so, give details. State salary wanted, age and references.

AUTOMATIC MOVIE DISPLAY CORPORATION
Industrial Division
130 West 46th Street
New York City

SALESMEN wanted throughout country. This possesses future for producers. New, fast seller. Saves time, money and labor. Large commissions; prompt pay. Box 235, Motion Picture News, New York City.

WANTED—Used Posters, Photos, Slides, Banners, and Accessories of all kinds. Must be in good condition. Will allow liberal credit. Theatre Poster Supply Company and Sign Exchange, 327 E. Sixth Street, Cincinnati, O.

For Sale

FOR SALE: 1500 upholstered opera chairs; price $2.50 each. 1200 veneer chairs; price $1.50 each. Good serviceable condition. Can be seen on request. Box 425, Motion Picture News, New York City.

FOR SALE: Used posters, photos, slides, banners and all other kinds of accessories on any subject — features, comedies, serials, save 60 per cent. Write for price list. Theatre Poster Supply Co. & Sign Exchange, 327 East Sixth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

FOR SALE: The most beautiful 500-seat moving picture theatre in Florida. Price $8,500. Summer population 25,000. Winter population 40,000. Long lease. Finest equipment. Must sell account other business. Cash or terms. Address, Post Office Box 1348, Daytona Beach, Fla.

FOR SALE: Complete laboratory outfit lights, tank, printing press, one Duplex printer about 4 years old in the best of condition. Will guarantee to be perfect, $500; and one Moy printer in A 1 condition $200. Will guarantee also. Address 8926 Lorain Ave., Cleveland, O.

Illustrating some effective adaptations of press book suggestions for newspaper displays featuring "Two Arabian Knights" (United Artists), the group of ads shown above contains two three-column and two two-column layouts in which stock cuts have been used for the display illustrations. The ads were used by the following theatres: Kirby, Houston; Paramount Empress, Salt Lake City; Howard, Atlanta; Loew's Vendome, Nashville.

Exhibitors Service Bureau

Showmanship

Briefs

THE ushering staff at the Roxy Theatre went into conference recently over a situation that had assumed such proportions that something had to be done about it, and something was. It seems so many of the lady patrons have been losing a heel from their dainty shoes that they have had the boys running around in circles, carrying the damaged footgear to a repair shop around the corner. So a meeting of the best minds was called, with the result that one of the staff has taken a course in pegging on heels. Now when a call for help goes up from a lady who has lost the heel of her slipper, the article is rushed to the shoe expert, who hustles off to his shop belowstairs and presently rushes back again with the shoe intact.

MANAGER ROY HELMS of the Strand theatre, Knoxville, played "Bitter Apples" so close to Hallowe'en that he was able to tie up the title with a seasonal stunt. But instead of ducking for apples, Helms had them jumping for them. Apples were hung from each side of the lobby, about six feet above the floor. Underneath was a sign offering free admission to anybody able to touch the bitter apples without climbing. The word "touch" meant it was necessary for one to implant their teeth in one of the bitter apples—and they were bitter, too. The free admissions averaged about six a day.

FIRST NATIONAL'S advertising and publicity department has made a tieup for "The Life of Riley," which will net that attraction window cards in butcher shop windows. The tieup is with Armour & Company, and advertises Armour hams and bacon. The poster, about a half-sheet in size, carries scenes from "The Life of Riley." Type matter on the lower fifth of the poster reads: "Charles Murray and George Sidney may be the reel stars in 'The Life of Riley' but Armour's hams and bacon are real stars in the life of everyone who likes good foods."

MANAGER CHARLIE MILLER, of the Riverside Theatre, Jacksonville, is holding an interesting contest among the children who attend his Saturday matinees. "Safety drawing booklets" were distributed to the children by the Hoyt Music Company, a firm in Riverside. To the children who present the most attractive drawings in these booklets will be awarded some unusually handsome prizes donated by Hoyt Music Co.

A novel device for theatre displays, a scene painted on fly-screening. The photo above shows a display for "The Yankee Clipper" at the Strand theatre in Lexington, Ky., designed by Miss Anabell Ward, managing director. The picture was painted in oil paints. As one approaches it, the scene fades away.

Schools and Libraries Join in "Les Miserables" Campaign

AN Educational tie-up with the schools, libraries, book stores and the clergy of Buffalo was the highlight of an unusually successful exploitation campaign for the presentation of "Les Miserables" at the Great Lakes theatre in that city.

This drive, in which the libraries figured prominently along lines developed by the Cleveland Public Library officials over a long period of time, had the active support of the most influential institutions in the city and its favorable reaction undoubtedly will benefit motion pictures generally and the Great Lakes theatre through the increased prestige resulting from this direct association with the organizations and individuals identified with the move.

The Buffalo campaign was carried out by A. J. Sharick, Universal exploiteer, who based the co-operative movement on the Les Miserables Scholarship which Universal is sponsoring.

The Buffalo school officials had never before endorsed a moving picture. In this case Superintendent Hartwell became interested in the scholarship and posted announcements concerning it.

The Library got up an attractive book mark, with the announcement, on the front page, a list of supplementary reading on the right inside, the conditions of the contest on the left page, and the back devoted to the picture. The Library used 10,000 of these book marks in its various branches in addition to mailing out about 2,000 with the regular fortnightly book announcements.

A special screening for teachers, the clergy and prominent officials was held on Saturday morning.

Dear Mr. Johnston:—We want you to see
GLENN TRYON
—He's our find—a brand-new and unique personality!
Universal Pictures Corp.

Picture Exploitation Tie-Up Develops Into Big Business

THE commercial value to manufacturers and national distributors of motion picture co-operative publicity and advertising is strikingly illustrated in the growth of business of the Phantom Red preparations. Two years ago, when "The Phantom of the Opera" was being launched by Universal, a "Phantom Red" lipstick was introduced. Universal had already had this color officially named in a tie-up with the National Color Card Association.

The Carlyle Laboratories, Inc., were interested in the proposition and made up a special lipstick which they called "Phantom Red." The product was first advertised by means of a Broadway window display in conjunction with the engagement of "The Phantom of the Opera" at the Astor theatre. The success of the venture from the lipstick manufacturers' standpoint was evidenced when the company added other "Phantom Red" cosmetics, including a rouge and eye brow liquid.

The picture "The Phantom of the Opera" has completed its first runs and return engagements throughout the country, but the Phantom Red preparations, brought to the notice of the public through co-operative advertising based on the picture, continue to flourish. The Carlyle Laboratories are now advertising the product in more than twenty national magazines. The photograph of Mary Philbin, feminine star of the film, is still featured in these ads, the photo showing Miss Philbin using the lipstick.

The lipstick and other Phantom Red products are also being distributed now in foreign countries. It is reported that the Carlyle company recently received a proposition from a German distributor to take over the product for that country. He explained that his brother, who was in the theatrical business, reported so many actresses who had been in the United States were asking for "Phantom Red" lipsticks and rouge that he believed Germany offered a ready market for the products.

Thus a business in a highly competitive field which has built up to impressive proportions within a comparatively short time grew out of an exploitation idea worked out in conjunction with a motion picture.

Giant Book Illustrated With "Rookies" Stills

A novel lobby attractor in the form of a display book, the pages made of bristol board and containing stills from the film and descriptive matter, was a feature of the exploitation which Manager William Mick, of the Tivoli Theatre, in Michigan City, used for his showing of "Rookies." The book measured thirty by twenty inches, and was mounted on a stand in front of the Tivoli, and displayed near it was a card inviting people to "Read About Rookies." It attracted unusual notice.

A three-column ad for "Shanghai Bound" built up from stock mats and used by the Ritz theatre, Tulsa, Okla., operated by Ralph Talbot. Five of the press book mats were employed in this layout.

"Clean Up" Drive Exploits "Painting the Town"

Claude F. Lee, manager of the Omar and Arcade Theatres in Fort Myers, Fla., executed one of the best exploitation campaigns ever staged for a picture in that town when he induced the local chamber of commerce to sponsor a "Paint Up Campaign" in conjunction with his presentation of "Painting the Town," recently.

Fort Myers, eager to attract winter visitors, has a Beautification Committee, and the latter issued a "Paint Up" proclamation. The move won immediate support from two local newspapers. Lee offered a free ticket to the Arcade for "Painting the Town" to every purchaser of $2.50 or more of paint through the local mechants, and a month's pass to the person who was first to complete painting of a residence or building after a certain starting date.

The paint stores devoted special window displays, carrying advertising for the picture, and also used newspaper ads. The Atlantic Coast Line set an example to the rest of the community by starting off the two weeks' clean-up drive with a new coat of paint on their freight station.

Benson Forms Department to Supply Presentations

Edgar A. Benson, of the Benson Orchestra of Chicago, has formed a new department of his organization to supply theatres with presentation programs of the band act style. Twenty units are now being organized into stage units for picture theatre pre-

The new department will be headed by David P. O'Malley, with Hunter Bennett as general representative.

The apple of many eyes was the display piece used in the lobby of the Allen theatre, Cleveland, as an attractor for "Adam and Evil." The apple was six feet in diameter with a scrim covered opening in one side to reveal a scene showing Adam and Eve in the Garden. A flasher was used to illuminate this scene intermittently.

M-G-M Trackless Train Touring South American Countries

LANDING in South America after its world famous tour of Europe and England, and with its reputation for "pulling through" undimmed by the rigors of travel across the North American continent, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's trackless train has further proven its ability to negotiate difficult terrain and please every variety of beholder, by its trip through Argentina, Uraguay and other South American countries. It is now midway in its South American itinerary.

The first South American point of call for the Trackless was Buenos Aires in the Argentine. From this point the Trackless toured through the Argentine during the very worst time of the year, their winter, which occurs in July and August, over almost impassable roads. Conductor Eddie Carrier reports that their journey was one long series of morasses, lagoons, swamps and mud-holes, as well as many small rivers, which it was necessary to ford. Nevertheless the train pulled through and visited all the important towns of Argentina.

Returning to Buenos Aires after the Argentinian tour the Trackless Train was shipped by boat up the river Platte to Montevideo in Uruguay. Before this was done, however, new engines had to be installed in both the coach and the engine, due to the rough usage these had received over the bad roads of Italy and Argentina.

From Montevideo the train toured through Uruguay. Exceptional luck was encountered.

Spook Parade Exploits "Cat and Canary" in Akron

One of the most original stunts in connection with the exploitation of "The Cat and the Canary" was staged by A. J. Sharick in Akron, Ohio, when he organized a spook parade. All the boys in town were invited through the columns of the Akron Times-Press to present themselves at the Orpheum on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in spooky costumes—any of the grotesque rigs they would wear at a Hallowe'en party. Each boy in costume would be admitted free to a special performance. The Buckeye Cycle Company offered prizes for the best costumes.

Sells Sports Editor Idea for Essay Contest

Walter Morris, Assistant Manager of the Publix Plaza Theatre, Asheville, N. C., talked the sporting editor of one of the local papers into placing a reader on the sporting page in connection with an essay contest—to advertise the film, "College Days."

All persons who had attended High School, Prep School or College were entitled to compete for the prizes. The subject was, "What was your most exciting experience while in college, high school, or prep school?—Class battles, athletics, humor, romance or anything else that struck you as being the outstanding event of your college, prep or high school will prove valuable."

Theatre Parties Feature of "King" Attendance

"The King of Kings" passed the half-year mark in its Broadway run at the Gaiety theatre on October 18th with a record for attracting large-size theatre parties which the management claims has set a precedent for theatre attractions in New York.

The large number of theatre parties is an attendance feature due, in all probability, to the amount of mail campaigning done in behalf of the picture. More than three thousand letters commending "The King of Kings" have been sent out to ministers of every denomination.

Theatre parties in units of from 45 to 130 persons have attended every evening performance at the Gaiety for the past three weeks, and reservations for over twenty other parties in units of fifty or more persons have been booked up for the next four weeks.

Novel Display for Film on Travel Ad Machine

Manager Chas. H. Amos used a novel moving display on the wall of a Main Street building for ten days in advance of play date to exploit "The Big Parade" at the Florida Theatre, St. Petersburg, Fla.

This display was worked out with the aid of the Travel Ad machine. The artist painted a figure of a soldier similar to the ones used in the press books, on a card. This was photographed with a movie camera, but instead of photographing this upright on the film it was photographed lengthwise. By filming it in this manner it made a continuous band for the Travel Ad machine.

Dear Mr. Johnston:—You are one of the first to appreciate new faces and brilliant new screen talent—Give us your opinion on —Our brand-new screen "find" for Exhibitors!

GLENN TRYON

Universal Pictures Corp.

Key City Reports

New York City

TWO holidays and the Fall business pick-up brought the grosses of most every Broadway theatre up to much better figures than the preceding week, and four new pictures came in along with the regulars—not counting "Sorrell and Son" (U. A.) which succeeds "Two Arabian Knights" at the Rivoli—and which is giving trade and patrons the best weep (not financially, of course) that they've had in a long time. The picture is going well.

The Roxy went back into its old stride with "Pajamas" (Fox) and a well balanced program. The Movietone newsreel at this house is getting a big and sincere hand. "Shanghai Bound" (Paramount) and an average program helped the Paramount get back to normal figures, and its nearby relative, the Rialto, is doing a fine business with Mary Pickford's "My Best Girl" (U. A.). The Rivoli ended with "Two Arabian Knights" to satisfactory returns.

The Strand is receiving favorable comment resulting from its engagement of Nat Shilkret's Victor orchestra and, along with the feature picture, "The College Widow" (W. B.), business for this house also increased over the past week. The Capitol also felt the good news with "Body and Soul" (M-G-M), and its accompanying program.

The older Broadway pictures which include "Wings" (Paramount), "The Patent Leather Kid" (1st Nat.), "The King of Kings" (Pathe-De Mille), "The Student Prince" (M-G-M), "Sunrise" (Fox) and "The Jazz Singer" (W. B.), all cashed in on the trend toward better trade. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" (U), one of the newcomers, is doing a satisfactory business, and promises to grow. Advertising is heavy. "Les Miserables" (U) is catching the Colony trade and Marion Davies' "Quality Street," (M-G-M), with much advertising aid, is doing well enough for the present at the Embassy.

Chicago

SLIGHT improvement in business was noted by many Chicago theatres during the past few days, but the better attendance was not enjoyed by all theatres by any means.

The Chicago Theatre had a very big week with "Figures Don't Lie" as the screen feature and Paul Whiteman and his orchestra on the stage. "Garden of Allah" closed its extended run at the Roosevelt last week, proving only fairly successful. The Oriental had an average week with "Breakfast at Sunrise" on the screen and Mark Fisher leading Paul Ash's gang, presenting a big stage show. At McVicker's "The Cat and the Canary" closed its run to fair business. The Monroe Theatre did well with "Seventh Heaven" and Movietone, and "Good Time Charley" plus Vitaphone, pulled average crowds to the Orpheum. "Wings," road showing at the Erlanger at high prices, had a second good week.

Normal business was experienced generally by southside houses, this being true of the Capitol, which had "The Life of Riley" on the screen and Del Delbridge on the stage, plus Vitaphone. "The Way of All Flesh" and Benny Kreuger and his orchestra were strong attractions at the Tivoli where business was good. "What Price Glory" showing at the Avalon once more proved a good box office attraction, the bill also including Buddy Fisher's stage show "Over The Top" and Vitaphone. "What Price Glory" also did exceptionally well at the Marbro.

The Uptown offered "The Way of All Flesh" as its screen feature and Frankie Masters on the stage, the combination accounting for excellent box office reports. "What Price Glory" on the screen and Verne Buck and his popular stage band did good business at the Sheridan.

Los Angeles

THE Movietone has taken the West by storm to the extent that the Tower Theatre is advancing its admission prices, and opening its doors at 8:45 in the morning, the earliest hour at which any picture theatre has ever opened its doors for regular business. This in spite of the fact that the Movietone Fox picture, "What Price Glory," is being shown for the third time in downtown Los Angeles, this being its 29th week.

Five new feature film attractions were billed last week at the various houses. "She's a Sheik" with Bebe Daniels, the most popular comedy offering, showed at the Metropolitan. At Loew's State was more comedy in the form of "Becky" and which drew very good attendance. "Lace," an elaborate Fanchon and Marco "Idea," was greatly enjoyed. At the Boulevard was more fun in the way of "The Irresistible Lover," and drew the usual Boulevard patrons to the satisfaction of the management.

"The Devil Dancer," Gilda Gray's latest film venture, finished the first week of its showing at the Million Dollar and proved to be a box office winner as predicted.

"The Gaucho" opened last Friday night with the usual Hollywood turnout of stars and star-gazers. The Chinese Theatre has had practically a full house at every performance during the week.

"The Loves of Carmen" continues to draw crowds to the Carthay Circle Theatre although the picture is receiving a great deal of unfavorable criticism. It is reported that "Sunrise" will follow on November 29th.

Philadelphia

DUE largely to the ideal fall weather prevailing, as well as the two holidays, downtown theatres enjoyed better than usual business.

The Stanley, with the popular stars, Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky, in "The Magic Flame," augmented by two excellent presentation acts, played to good houses all week.

The Fox, with "High School Hero" on the screen and Jans and Whalen, Castleton and Mack and Winnie Lightner on the stage, had an excellent week.

Packed houses greeted Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton in "Now We're in the Air" at the Stanton.

"King of Kings" continued to draw good crowds at the Aldine and "After Midnight" found much favor with audiences at the Palace.

"Alias the Lone Wolf" at the Victoria had a successful week.

"Woman on Trial" was well received at the Arcadia and "Back to God's Country" proved a good drawing card at the Globe.

The Capitol, with "The Gay Retreat," had a satisfactory week. "Beau Geste" was shown in seven neighborhood houses this week.

Boston

THERE was a slight falling off in attendance at most of the Boston theatres during the week, probably due to a considerable degree to the flood conditions shutting off the usual number of visitors to Boston from those sections of New England, partly due to the activity of various bodies in relief work for the flood and partly due to ideal weather conditions for out-of-door activities.

Part of this falling off was made up for by the large football crowds in Boston over the week end, which filled the theatres Saturday night and Sunday. Friday, Saturday and Sunday practically every theatre played to capacity audiences. It was in the mid-week attendances where the falling off was felt.

Arrangements are under way for various flood benefit programs and special shows by almost all of the Boston and suburban theatres.

At the Metropolitan business remained on an even keel. "The City Gone Wild" is the film and "Shadowland" is the presentation revue number. "Seventh Heaven" played to a good run of business at Loew's State with Art Johnson's Harmony Boys on the stage. The second week of "Les Miserables" at the Colonial brought even larger houses than the first week, when the run was unusually heavy for a road show. It remained for another week. The first Boston showing of "Body and Soul" at Loew's Orpheum grossed exceedingly well and will be followed by "Ben Hur" next week. "The Gay Retreat" at the Keith-Albee Boston theatre, "Rose of the Golden West" at the Washington Street Olympia, "Annie Laurie" at the Bowdoin Square, "The Rough Riders" at the Capitol, "American Beauty" and "Annie Laurie" for the double bill at the Exeter, "The Life of Riley" at the Fenway, "Rough Riders" at the Scollay Square Olympia, and "Once and Forever" and "Shootin' Irons" for the double bill at the twin houses, Modern and Beacon, all report good gross business for the week. "Swim, Girl, Swim" at the University and "The Cat and the Canary" at the Lancaster have played to average houses.

Seattle

AVERAGE business is all that can be claimed for the local film houses during the last week. Despite strong advertising and good attractions, the film theatres are not doing the business expected at this time of year.

The Fifth Avenue Theatre, leading first run house, failed to rise above its slump of the past four weeks. "Breakfast at Sunrise" was the film feature, and it failed to please the audience. The show was saved by Fanchon-Marco's "Jade Idea" with a remarkable acrobatic troupe. Gross was around $14,500.

Two second week pictures chalked up average business, but could not be called big box office attractions. These were "The Way of All Flesh" at the Columbia Theatre and "The Magic Flame" at the United Artists. The former film played to good houses the first week, but the second dropped off to a noticeable extent. "The Magic Flame" was a pleasing film that somehow failed to arouse any local enthusiasm. Business was light.

At Hamrick's Blue Mouse Theatre, "Sally in Our Alley" and a good list of Vitaphone subjects kept the house well filled at all times during the week's run. This house is alternating a Vitaphone-scored film and an independent film each week, with very pleasing results. The Vitaphone short subjects are a weekly feature, and are being separately advertised as such.

Between the two vaudeville-film houses, Pantages came out on top with the best film attraction, as usual. "East Side, West Side" was on the screen, and was fairly well received. The vaudeville program was pleasing. Business at this house is dropping off, however, due to the inroads of cheaper vaudeville at the Orpheum and better stage shows at the picture houses.

The Orpheum featured "The Girl in the Pullman." It was just about satisfactory, in conjunction with a vaudeville program that was about the best that the house has featured since it opened. Business was very good.

Neighborhood business was rather light during the last week. The Egyptian Theatre in the University district and the Bagdad Theatre in Ballard continue to do a majority of the high class neighborhood business. The Lakeside, one of the newest neighborhood houses, recently sold by West Coast, has been put on a four-day operating business, due to lack of patronage.

Kansas City

FREEZING weather sent patrons scurrying into down town first run houses this week, although a good lineup of pictures probably had as much to do with it as the weather.

"Tell It to Sweeney" played to good crowds at Loew's Midland during the second week's existence of the theatre. "Stark Love" at the Royal also played to a brisk attendance all week, especially to women at matinees. "My Best Girl" played its second week at the Newman and did a fair business. "The College Widow" at the Main Street, drew much better than normal attendance. "Jaws of Steel" at the Globe played to fair attendance for the week, while "The Loves of Carmen" proved an exceptionally good drawing card at the Pantages. "The Naked Truth" at the Liberty, which played to women only the first half of the week and to men the latter, played to many more women than it did men, but business was good all week.

Aside from a bit more advertising space by the Liberty, there was no special effort on the part of any of the house in exploitation beyond the average.

Milwaukee

BUSINESS in the down town houses was generally declared to be average for the season. Trade this fall has not been up to marks set in some previous years, but seems to be plodding along at a fair rate. Weather has offered everything from fog and rain to snow and hail last week with an occasional clear moment. The Alhambra held over "Les Miserables" for another week and business was just fair. The Garden offered "Topsy and Eva," and the Howard Bros. and Arnaut Bros. as the Vitaphone attractions, apparently a strong bill, but it failed to connect. The Wisconsin's offering for the week was "Adam and Evil" with a snappy stage presentation to accompany it. Business was very good here. The Strand found "Now We're in the Air" kept the house well filled. Perhaps Eddie Dorey parading the down town streets on his stilts advertising the picture helped to boost business. Patronage at the Merrill was fair where "Body and Soul" was featured.

Neighborhood houses are fighting competition with good exploitation and strong programs. Business on the outskirts was fairly good this week. The Milwaukee offered "Metropolis;" business was fair. "Rough Riders" was featured at the Uptown, the Oriental and the Tower, and at all three patronage was good. "Moon of Israel" drew fairly well at the Venetian. "Sally in Our Alley" did good business at the Colonial.

San Francisco

LAST week at the local first run theatres was another good one, the rain helping to a great extent. "Becky," shown at Loew's Warfield Theatre, drew a good crowd. It was well advertised and the stage attractions also drew many.

"Les Miserables" more than crowded the San Francisco theatre and all were pleased with the acting. Some were disappointed the picture was not longer. "Two Arabian Knights" drew crowds the second week at the California Theatre. "Tell It to Sweeney," shown at the Granada Theatre, together with the presentation acts, drew many and filled that house and "Back to God's Country" at the Imperial Theatre was well thought of.

"A Harp in Hock," together with vaudeville acts, also drew well at the Golden Gate Theatre.

In the residential district the Wigwam Theatre was crowded to see the last show, which presented "Babe Comes Home" and acting. Other residential houses did well because of the rain that kept people from going down town.

Birmingham

WINTER weather made its appearance in Birmingham the past week and the theatres put on their armor and vigorously went after business. As might have been expected, the new Pantages had the best business of the town, with "Breakfast at Sunrise," closely followed by the Ritz, with "Cameo Kirby," John Gilbert, (Fox). Loew's Temple did not fare so well with "Topsy and Eva," Duncan Sisters, (United Artists), and the Lyric, with the Marcus Show and "Winning Wallop," with William Fairbanks, only fared passably well. The Strand, with Adolphe Menjou, in "Gentleman of Paris" (Paramount) had fair business, as did, also, the Trianon, with "No Place to Go," with Lloyd Hughes and Mary Astor, (First National). "King of Kings," road-showing at the Jefferson, had a comparatively poor week, although business built steadily after the middle of week, and justifies an early return.

Minneapolis

THE Minnesota Education Association held its annual convention in Minneapolis this week, and there were about 12,000 teachers and educators in town. This helped swell movie attendance, as did the fact that the children were having a three-day vacation and had both the time and inclination to go to the shows. Armistice night, too, was a big one for most of the movie houses, so all around it was a pretty fair week.

The State did an excellent business with Constance Talmadge in "Breakfast at Sunrise" and with a big stage show featuring Al Herman and a cast of 45 entertainers The Metropolitan, a legitimate house, featured the sensational sex film, "Is Your Daughter Safe?" and did a profitable business by admitting men only. The film holds a second week, when it will be shown exclusively to women.

"Ben Hur" had a second big week at the Garrick, but did not warrant a third week. Dorothy Gish in "Madame Pompadour" proved a popular attraction at the Strand, as did Norma Shearer in "After Midnight" at the Lyric. The name of Red Grange still pulls at the box office, and Pantages benefited by showing "The Racing Romeo." "The Wreck of the Hesperus" proved an excellent finish to the Hennepin-Orpheum's vaudeville, and this house also profited by showing some specially made pictures of the Notre Dame-Minnesota football game.

The Lagoon, Rialto, Lyndale and Loring—the larger of the neighborhood houses—continued good business with such pictures as "Spring Fever," "When a Man Loves" and "Beware of Widows."

The Shubert stock company, presenting "What Price Glory," gave the movies their chief competition.

Detroit

BOX OFFICE summaries this week show little improvement, attendance remaining below normal in many of the downtown houses.

The limited engagement specials, "King of Kings" and "Patent Leather Kid," were fairly well received at road show prices; "7th Heaven" and Movietone continue strong at the Fox-Washington. "Ben Hur," second week in the Adams, also warranted a hold-over.

"No Place to Go," playing in Loew's State, failed to do average. Another weak film was "Becky," which reeled off poor returns during its final session around theatre circles. Capitol registers worked half time, or, perhaps, a trifle over, with "The Forbidden Woman" and a stage show featured. At the Oriental, "Alias The Lone Wolf" did nice money-making, while "The Wreck of the Hesperus" rated heavy in the Temple and Uptown wickets.

Drawing immense patronage to the Michigan in "She's a Sheik," Bebe Daniels is the real headliner of this week's lineup. Early evening performances were a decided success. A stage show was also billed on the programs.

Dear Mr. Johnston:—If you don't yell your head off about this brand-new screen "find" of ours, then we'll be badly mistaken—

GLENN TRYON

—Unquestionably our greatest gift to exhibitors in ten years!

Universal Pictures Corp.

Atlanta

LEADING an array of banner pictures showing in Atlanta theatres last week, Loew's Grand reached a high pinnacle with "7th Heaven," heaping its coffers, as well as receiving fluent sanction from the pens of local critics.

Mary Pickford brought a pleasant surprise to the Howard's patrons in "My Best Girl," being well received by the audience and receiving some favorable comments from the press. Special exploitation and some good tie-ups gave the picture a flying send-off. The Capitol played John Gilbert's re-issue, "Cameo Kirby," to a good house, bringing an appreciable increase over the preceding week. Thomas Meighan in "The City Gone Wild" brought a fair business for Keith's Georgia and was aided by a very good vaudeville bill. "The Stolen Bride" proved to be an average Billie Dove picture for the Metropolitan, drawing fairly well at the box-office.

That music is an essential element in the theatre was clearly and vividly portrayed in the Rialto Theatre last week. After being without music since the beginning of the new season, September 5, the theatre on Thursday, coming to an amicable agreement with the local musicians' union, installed three organists. The first three days of the week the house played "Angel of Broadway," with Leatrice Joy. Although a commendable picture in the eyes of local reviewers and patrons seeing it, it failed to bring but a meager attendance. Beginning Thursday a western, "Open Range," showed for the first day alone; the box-office in-take practically doubled.

"Down the Stretch" and "The Great K & A Train Robbery" gave the Tudor a successful week.

The new Almo showed four second runs and one first run, "Gunhand Garrison," to an average week's receipts.

Des Moines

"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS," playing at the Des Moines theatre, had an extra exploitation and was received with heartiest laughter, but it did not prove a big drawing card. There seems to be no criticism of the picture except that audiences are a little tired of war comedies.

At the Capitol Theatre the attraction was the "Road to Romance," which was well liked although the week did not gross very large. One of the most beautiful and dignified of the Publix Shows, "Tokio Blues," was presented as the stage attraction.

At the Strand for the first half of the week Thomas Meighan in "The City Gone Wild" was liked very well, while for the last half the picture billed was "The Great Mail Robbery," which did well.

Albany and Troy

LAST week's business at the motion picture theatres in Albany was characterized by two outstanding events, the showing of "Seventh Heaven" at the Mark Strand and "The Fair Co-Ed" at the Leland. And what a whopper of a week these two pictures produced! At the Leland, men and women even climbed two flights of stairs into the gallery, paying the same price as those on the main floor and with never a growl. Along with the feature picture, the theatre showed a Grantland Rice football picture that was right to the minute, at least Albany was so well pleased that it applauded the tackles time after time. The Mark Strand kept pace with the Leland, however, day in and day out without so much as a falter on the part of "Seventh Heaven," which drew like a house afire. The Mark Ritz, of Albany, was also in the running with "The Sunset Derby" that began to click on the opening day and made as fine a finish as any Derby ever run at the Saratoga course. Proctor's Grand must not be forgotten, for "We're All Gamblers" during the first three days, and "Stark Love" during the last of the week, did more than their share in packing the theatre. At the Clinton Square theatre, "Publicity Madness" did not pan out very well.

In Troy, "Seventh Heaven," running at the Troy theatre for the week, opened to nearly as large business as "The Big Parade," which means that the house was packed in every available inch. That was on Saturday. Sunday was nearly as large, but the remainder of the week was about back to normal. It was noticeable that while the lobby was crowded to capacity on Sunday for "The Big Parade," resulting in many dropping out of line and going to other houses, the crowds to "Seventh Heaven" kept coming in a steady stream during the late afternoon and up until nearly ten o'clock at night, with the result that the box office receipts for these two pictures were almost identical. At the Lincoln, "Shanghai Bound" ran to normal business. The weather was cool and snappy and all in all the week was everything that could be desired from the standpoint of the exhibitor.

Central Pennsylvania

FINE weather on Armistice Day helped to increase the week's total of receipts in the theatres of Harrisburg. Appropriate to the wartime holiday, the offering at the Victoria was "Beau Geste," and this play drew well throughout the week. In the strictly romantic vein was "Loves of Carmen," which stood up well on its own merits and also capitalized through the fact that the management of the Colonial, where it was shown, emphasized in the newspaper advertisements that the stars of the play were those who were featured in "What Price Glory," recently shown in Harrisburg with great artistic and financial success.

Loew's Regent scored heavily with the Mary Pickford picture, "My Best Girl," which appealed especially to the women and children. At the State the presence in person of William Faversham, noted screen and stage star, helped to swell the receipts for the first half of the week. Rin-Tin-Tin, in "The Dog of the Regiment," was the State's film offering for the last half of the week.

"Devil's Dice," featuring Barbara Bedford and Robert Ellis, provided the thrills at the Broad Street, while the Bebe Daniels comedy, "Senorita," made a hit at the Rialto.

Notwithstanding that the Tunney-Dempsey fight pictures were displayed in no less than four Harrisburg theatres the preceding week, they were on the bill at the Grand, a neighborhood theatre, and continued to help swell the box office receipts.

St. Louis

THIS was a fair week for the first run and neighborhood houses of St. Louis and vicinity, but no box office records were broken—so far as is known. But on the whole it was a satisfactory week, everything considered.

At Skouras Brothers Ambassador Theatre "The Gorilla" was given its world premier. It was fairly well received, but frankly this theatre going public seems to have had its fill of this particular type of thriller.

Loew's State Theatre offered Buster Keaton in a collegiate background, the feature film being entitled "College." On the whole it was a good week.

The Missouri Theatre had another of Bebe Daniels' offerings. This was styled "She's a Sheik." Even the hard boiled critic of the town said it was clever and entertaining. Perhaps the author intended it for a romantic drama, but as put on it is a knockout straight farce. Its subtitles were gems.

The St. Louis Theatre which plays Orpheum vaudeville in conjunction with feature films had another satisfactory week. On its screen the headline film was "The Gay Retreat." It was amusing, but nothing more.

Baltimore

WHAT seems to be a general business depression here affected the movie attendance very seriously during the week beginning Monday, November 7, for business around town at the first-run houses, was generally lower than normal.

There was no new outstanding production given its first-run here during that week, the strongest being "Alias the Lone Wolf," starring Bert Lytell, which did a very good business at Keith's Hippodrome with five acts of vaudeville on the bill also. Loew's Century came along with "Body and Soul," starring Aileen Pringle with the Honorable Wu and his company on the same bill and that program went over good. Business at the New Theatre held up very well for the second week of "What Price Glory," but "Ben Hur," doing its second week at Loew's Valencia, only proved a fair puller. There was a generally good bill at the Stanley with "The Prince of Headwaiters," featuring Lewis Stone, Don Barclay, comedian in person and his ancient film, and Joe Fejer and his Hungarian band, but throughout the week only a fair attendance was registered at that 4,000 seat house. Business at the Rivoli with "Hard Boiled Haggerty" and the Batchellor Octette only proved good for but a fair rating. "The Silver Slave," featuring Irene Rich, proved only good for fair business at Warners' Metropolitan but this might be attributed to a large extent to the fact that there were no 24-sheets obtainable on the picture and the press books for newspapers did not come until Saturday and very meager information could be given out.

Oklahoma City

THE Empress Theatre last week probably won the attendance record for the city with a double header of the Dempsey-Tunney Fight picture and Red Grange in "Racing Romeo." The first picture was the main attraction, of course, so that it was hard to judge what "Racing Romeo" would have done by itself.

"The Magic Flame" pleased the audience at the Criterion all week and kept business brisk at the box-office. Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky always draw crowds here.

"The College Hero" was another college story, nothing unusual, but did fair business at the Liberty for half a week. "The Gingham Girl" finished the week to good business. Goof Moyer and his jazz orchestra are playing their fifth or sixth week at this theatre and have increased business considerably.

"Open Range" ran to average business the first half of the week at the Capitol and gave way to "The Wise Wife" for the last part. This latter picture went over well.

Tampa

BUSINESS continued good with the theatres of Tampa in spite of the competition of the Better Homes exposition, which pulled large crowds all week at the Davis Island Coliseum, and the Armistice day celebration.

Receipts at the Tampa were in excess of the previous week. "Two Arabian Knights" was featured the first four days and "She's a Sheik" the last three. Both pictures were well liked, and how?—the box office statement.

"Seventh Heaven," used by the Victory the entire week, pulled very good the first two days and ran a little better than average for the rest of the week.

The Strand had a good week. "Tell It to Sweeney" went over very good the first two days, with "Three Hours" a close second the next three days and "Surrender" holding the business up to average the last two. The Franklin rounded out an average week with their three changes, "The Sunset Derby," "Moments of Temptation" and "Black Jack."

Cleveland

BUSINESS looked up a bit here last week. It takes a lot of pulling to get full houses, but when the pull is strong enough, the evidence is there to prove that the seats can be filled.

"The Gorilla" stood out as one of the big box office attractions of the week. It was given its premiere at B. F. Keith's Palace theatre and was presented with a wide spreading exploitation campaign. "Two Arabian Knights" surrounded by a most elaborate series of acts and a fine symphonic overture, made a splendid showing at the Allen. "Underworld" completed its second week at the Stillman with fair results. The State had a good week with "Slightly Used" as the feature attraction, a good vaudeville bill, and Vitaphone specialty numbers. "Metropolis" held up only moderately during its second week at the Cameo. "Shanghaied," recommended by critics as a melodrama of unusual merits, nevertheless failed to register with the public. "Paid to Love" got by with a mark of "average" at Keith's East 105th Street although it was presented to the public by the critics as a sprightly box office attraction. "Camille" made its neighborhood appearance at the Park with moderate success, and the Circle had only fair business with a first-run neighborhood engagement of "The Drop Kick," a picture which had been very successful during its downtown run. "Old Ironsides," completed its second and last week at the Ohio with satisfactory results, according to reports.

Outside competition was not unusual.

Salt Lake City

IN some instances downtown theatre reports have been exceptionally good this week. Weather conditions have been clear although somewhat cooler.

A very big week was enjoyed at the Capitol Theatre, the feature picture being "Figures Don't Lie," starring Esther Ralston, and the stage presentation consisting of Fanchon-Marco's "Idea" titled "Blues."

Jackie Coogan in "The Bugle Call" went over very well at the Pantages Theatre here, being an especially good drawing card for the children. This picture was in addition to the regular vaudeville program.

"The Secret Studio" with Olive Borden was the feature picture shown at the Victory in connection with the Ackerman Harris vaudeville bill, and capacity houses were the rule with the management scarcely able to accommodate the crowds several evenings.

The Paramount Empress Theatre played to very good business during the showing of Florence Vidor in "One Woman to Another." A stage presentation of local talent was also offered.

Clara Bow in "My Lady of Whims" proved to be a great drawing card at the American. Lois Wilson and George K. Arthur in "The Gingham Girl" was very well liked at the Gem and crowded houses were enjoyed.

The second showing of Emil Jannings in "The Way of All Flesh" did a capacity business at the Rialto here.

Newsreel Resume

Football followers were treated to plenty of views of their favorite sport in this week's newsreel releases. The clashes of the different elevens received due homage in the various issues, Paramount's edition, No. 32, containing some 18 gridiron contests—some of them national affairs and others just regional. Stories of a more serious nature—the Pittsburgh explosion, the New England flood, Pershing's return from Europe and Canada's monument in memory of fallen American soldiers—these were highlights generally of a varied collection. Ruth Elders, too, got a good break in the celluloid press, for her reception in New York was presented in about five different issues.

The summarized contents of the new reels follow:

International News, Vol. 9, No. 93: Unveiling of Canadian memorial; $500,000 brewery revealed in Detroit raid; Texas turkeys' annual trot to market for the sacrifice; opening of Hollander motor tunnel connecting New York and New Jersey; football, and Ruth Elder. No. 92: Santa Claus and his reindeers—a novelty for children; juggler does stunts on top of Eiffel Tower; vehicular tunnel underneath the Hudson; Mussolini acclaimed at fifth anniversary; General Pershing and Fanny Ward—in the "personality" shots; the Soviets celebrate 10th anniversary of regime; New England measures flood damage; aquaplane scenes down in Florida.

Pathe News No. 93: New York welcoming Miss Elder; new U. S. submarine launched; German tests new airplane equipped with whirling wings; New England rushes flood relief program; Roumanian prince opens dog show; more views of Hollander Tunnel. No. 94: Results of the explosion in Pittsburgh of gas tank; country's gallant airmen received by President; Canada's monument dedicated at Arlington; the turkey gaily trotting to market in Texas; Austria's tribute to war heroes of foreign nations; ship caught on reef in Northern seas.

Kinograms, No. 5343: Virginia state cops arresting bootlegging gang; crew of President's yacht receive Red Cross buttons; W. H. Vanderbilt mounts a coach and four, reviving memories of a by-gone New York; British cruisers at practice; kid patients at hospital aided by artificial sunlight; baptismal rites held in cold Lake Michigan waters; Germany enforces law prohibiting speed; Miss Elder's return. No. 5344: Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge at Unknown Soldier's tomb; Canadians uncover shaft remembering our fallen soldiers; world's largest submarine launched at Portsmouth; New York Zoo's new guest—a 120 pound baby elephant; the Germans' latest aeronautical device, an air-liner, tested; on the rough Atlantic with Coast Guard.

Fox News, Vol. 9, No. 14: Uncle Sam's new submarines engage in war game; Dwight Morrow, our ambassador to Mexico, Count Czernin, Austrian foreign minister in late war, and General Pershing—all of whom figure in news of the day; the Aquitania's dog-show in middle Atlantic; world's tallest wooden bridge in far West; machine-gunners at drill; New Zealand's famous trout pools; Spain's royal family attend devotions; difficulties New England sufferers have to contend with; chorus girls in rehearsal. No. 15: The new memorial presented by Canada to U. S.; a tropical scene among South Sea islanders; latest Paris hats which go in for aviation; effects of recent gale which devastated English Coast; European royalty in current news; Ruth Elder home after her recent hop.

Paramount News, No. 31: Miss Elder returns to New York; recent motor hill climb in California; Britain recalls troops from China; parachutes and airplanes; Fascisti celebrate in Rome; General Pershing; ailing kiddies who benefit from mercury light; a motor boat with which German expects to cross Atlantic; latest Parisian styles in hats. No. 32: The wrecked area of Pittsburgh destroyed by explosion; Alfonso, Spanish King, visits Italy; Canada gives war cross honoring American dead; Ruth Elder's return home; Lindbergh joins first pursuit group of planes for combat practice; Indians meet in Kansas for harvest festival; the Heinkel plane which crashed upon its take-off from Azores, Max Reinhardt, impresario of the drama.

M-G-M News, Vol. 1 No. 27: Thanksgiving birds parade streets of Texan town; ruins caused by Pittsburgh explosion; America's best airmen gathered at Capitol reception; Canada honoring fallen U. S. heroes.

First National Buys "No, No, Nannette" Rights

The world motion picture rights to "No, No, Nannette," H. H. Frazee's production of the musical comedy by Otto Harbach, Frank Mandel and Vincent Youmans, have been purchased by First National. Based upon the play by Emil Nyitray and Frank Mandel, "My Lady Friends," the musical comedy, it also proved successful abroad.

Listen, Brother Johnston:—We've placed these ads in M. P. News to be sure every exhibitor in the world hears and knows about —You really ought to publish our future ads on Tryon free, after you've seen him!

GLENN TRYON

Universal Pictures Corp.

Opinions on Pictures

The Harvester

Not Convincing as Screen Story

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

FROM a photographic standpoint this Gene Stratton Porter story is a beautiful piece of work. In the form of a novel it is claimed that it is selling in its second million. As a photoplay it hardly measures up to its book form. It is evidently easier for a great authoress to paint a convincing word-picture around such subject matter than it is to portray the same matter convincingly on the screen.

The screen version retains all the sentimental appeal, but it is far from convincing. It is too evidently and too continuously a plea for tears, and for the most part it is an ineffectual appeal. Most of the weeping comes from the characters within the story. Even the dog is called upon to shed his quota of weeps.

It is hard to believe in this modern day and age that a real he-man such as the Harvester is supposed to be, would, after many days of marriage, express to his wife his complete satisfaction at the first kiss, and that given him unwillingly. "It is more than I expected," reads the title. The kisses are withheld because the young wife pledged herself to her mother's doctor if he would ease the mother's sufferings previously to her death. There is nothing in the screen story to indicate that the young doctor would be at all interested in such a sacrifice. In fact, he immediately falls in love with the wife's nurse, thereby freeing the wife from her obligation.

It is all very unconvincing and, but for its pictorial beauty, would have little to recommend it. Orville Caldwell is the Harvester and Natalie Kingston, the girl. Their work is passable.

Drawing Power: The popularity of the author and novel will probably make it go well. Exploitation Angles: The sale of the novel is on its second million.

THEME: Romantic drama of the woods in which gatherer of herbs meets his "dream girl," who is badly mistreated by her brutal uncle, weds her, sees her safely through a precarious illness and all ends happily.

Distributed by F B O. Released, November 23, 1927. Length, 7,045 feet. Cast: Orville Caldwell, Natalie Kingston, Will R. Walling, Jay Hunt, Lola Todd, Edward Hearn, Fanny Midgley. Directed by Leo Meehan.

Good Time Charley

Melodrama of Backstage Life

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

BUT for an excess of footage, which slows up the action in spots, this would be a splendid picture. It has all the necessary ingredients for success with considerable stuff that has been done before, but it is entertaining, and would be more so if it was edited down and a slight elimination of footage made here and there.

It is a story of back-stage life in the days gone by, which reflects both credit and discredit upon the theatrical profession, and it probably is not overdrawn. The various types may still be found around the playhouses of today.

There is all the pathos one would desire. There is comedy relief which is not too good, and there is plenty of action to the good story by Darryl Francis Zanuck. Warner Oland as Good Time Charley, the likable but broken down actor, does a splendid bit of work. In fact, he all but steals the picture. It is a role that might easily be overdone, and, in fact, is in spots but, taken as a whole, the portrayal of Oland is a highly commendable one.

Helene Costello is the daughter of the old actor and it is easy to realize that she might spring overnight from a Greenwich Village cafe to Broadway stardom. She is a little too gullible and a little too unsophisticated in the role perhaps, but after all that is what makes the story, so one must accept her work as being satisfactory. She is splendid in the more dramatic climaxes. Clyde Cooke, too, is especially good as the stage hand, cheap show proprietor and friend of the broken down stock star.

Drawing Power: Good. Exploitation Angles: The back-stage scenes. The Christmas Eve celebration in the Actors' Home. The good work of the well-balanced cast.

THEME: Melodrama of broken down actor, whose daughter, after the murder of his wife, becomes a reigning sensation on Broadway and in Europe, loses trace of her father when he goes blind and becomes inmate of Actors' Home. She finds him while performing at a Christmas Eve celebration at the Home, and cares for him in the happy conclusion.

Distributed by Warner Bros. Released, November 12, 1927. Length, 6,302 feet. Cast: Helene Costello, Warner Oland, Clyde Cooke, Montagu Love, Hugh Allan, Hulanne Johnston. Directed by Michael Curtiz.

A Bowery Cinderella

Entertaining and Well Done

(Reviewed by E. G. Johnston)

SINCERE work of the principals, an elaborate fashion show, scenes backstage and some striking photographic reflections of "L" trains thundering alongside a Bowery tenement are the features of what we believe to be a well worked out and entertaining picture. If there be any criticism at all it lies in the long footage; however, even its length is not to a tiresome point, and at the close it becomes apparent that cutting was difficult so as to not destroy real picture values. Some time is taken getting into the story, but Director King has taken care that you are impressed with squalid life in a tenement—made still worse by the nerve-splitting noises of close-by elevated trains. Then, the fashion show might have been trimmed a few feet—but this, too, has real attraction value.

Gladys Hulette and Pat O'Malley have the parts of a boy and girl of the Bowery. The former is practically the sole support of an invalid mother (here's hokum), while the latter is a typically pocket-bare reporter with hopes of selling a play and obtaining a raise in salary. The girl adopts a stage career after convincing her lazy father of a larger wage. Here, Ernest Hilliard appears as the producer of musical shows and immediately sets his snares for the new chorus girl. Hilliard's wife, long tired of his unfaithfulness, plans a raid on his apartment and the girl is innocently made the co-respondent in a divorce action. The reporter, anxiously awaiting a beat for his paper, is also innocently made a witness to a supposed delinquency on the part of his fiancee. The show promoter pretends real friendship for the penniless girl, provides her and her mother with an apartment and is on the way toward the accomplishment of his evil designs when her former boy friend experiences a change of heart, interrupts an attack and all turns out well.

Drawing Power: For first class trade. Exploitation Angles: Excellent fashion show and names in cast. Music Box Revue chorus.

THEME: Society melodrama, dealing with difficulties experienced by a Bowery girl who aspires to a stage career.

Distributed by Excellent Pictures Corp. Released, Nov. 1, 1927. Length, 6,900 feet. Cast: Gladys Hulette, Pat O'Malley, Pat Hartigan, Kate Bruce, Ernest Hilliard, Rosemary Theby, Pauline Parr, Howard Mitchell, Leo White, J. Webb Dillon, Music Box Revue chorus. Directed by Burton King. Story by Melvin Houston and scenario by Adrian Johnson. Art Reeves was the clever camera man.

The College Widow

Average but Entertaining

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

ONE of the first of the collegiate comedies to grace the stage was George Ade's "The College Widow." After all of these years it comes back in celluloid dress—modernized, of course, to keep up with the current campus high jinks. The piece has a football plot—and is well flavored with the rah-rah atmosphere. There isn't so much of Ade to the story now, for the author takes a back seat during the development of the action so that the director can score a few points himself.

Dolores Costello plays the title role—that of the flapper idol of good old Atwater. And she cuts up some mild capers which will surprise those who have catalogued as watchful of her step. The piece doesn't get away from the beaten path. Since the screen has been flooded witth campus stories the past year—they have to come awfully snappy to click all of the way. The football game as with the other collegiate films is the high light here.

The picture spells average entertainment, which never becomes boresome even though it doesn't give any new screen yell.

Drawing Power: Title, author and star. Suitable for average houses. Exploitation Angles: The popularity of star and author. Teaser possibilities of title. Tie-ups with colleges and high-schools.

THEME: Story of girl who vamps athletic stars from other colleges so that they all flock to her school, which, receiving new life in the influx of gridiron and other material, again finds itself on the map of sport.

Distributed by Warner Brothers. Released, November, 1927. Length, six reels. Cast: Dolores Costello, William Collier, Jr., Anders Randolf, Charles Hill Mailes, Douglas Gerard, Robert Ryan, Big Boy Williams. Director, Archie L. Mayo. Author, George Ade.

The Crystal Cup

Fair Picture Offers Its Moments

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

THERE are marks of originality about this film, adapted as to from Gertrude Atherton's novel of the same name. For one thing it features a different characterization in its central figure. The heroine is a man-hater whose complex is to ape them as much as possible—thereby revealing that she likes them much more than she'll admit. The story simply puts this eccentric creature through her paces and Dorothy Mackaill sees to it that the role is sufficiently colored.

Of course it is easy to guess the outcome of the story. The very mannish heroine permits herself to fall in love sufficiently to emerge a radiant butterfly. It is all characterization—and had it been treated honestly it might have stirred up some agitation. But the idea was developed with half an eye on the box-office, consequently its pathological suggestions are but faintly indicated.

Miss Mackaill as the tight-skirted heroine with the masculine complex gives a performance that is consistent all of the way. Not once does she forget herself to lapse into any feminine moods. And her support is competent enough.

Drawing Power: Average houses. Exploitation Angles: Popularity of author—and characterization of star.

THEME: Drama of girl suffering from inhibitions which dwarf her outlook upon life. Undergoes a metamorphosis of character and emerges a normal human being.

Distributed by First National. Released, October, 1927. Length, six reels. Cast: Dorothy Mackaill, Jack Mulhall, Rockcliffe Fellowes, Jane Winton, Edythe Chapman, Clarissa Selwynne. Directed by John Francis Dillon. Story by Gertrude Atherton.

Sorrell and Son

A Famous Novel is Screened

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

THE film version of Warwick Deeping's widely read novel is one that commands interest even though it is pitched in a mood that is heavy with sentiment. In translating it into terms of cinema Herbert Brenon has been faithful enough to the original though it has dramatic possibilities that haven't been fully realized here.

The director is a stickler for situation and climax and he knows how to build up his scenes. But the high spirit of the book has eluded him. He tugs at the emotions and he has a cast of players who know how to extract feeling. Yet it isn't the perfect piece of work that one expected from the man who fashioned "Beau Geste."

The plot is saturated with sentiment, with the result that it doesn't soar dramatically except at infrequent intervals. But the heart tale of the British army officer who found his world turned upside down after his return from the war and how life licks him is one that commands sympathy for its protagonist—played with fine restraint and sincerity by H. B. Warner.

It isn't a finished, even production, but it shows an earnest effort on Brenon's part to keep faith with a throbbing heart story, even though he has exaggerated its pathos.

Drawing Power: 1st runs. Title, cast and director. Exploitation Angles: Adaptation of best-seller. Prominent cast. Book store tie-up. Good record of director.

THEME: Drama of army officer returning from war to find his illusions shattered—and his tragic end after devoting the rest of his life to his son.

Distributed by United Artists. Released, November, 1927. Length, eight reels. Cast: H. B. Warner, Anna Q. Nilsson, Mickey McBain, Carmel Myers, Lionel Belmore, Norman Trevor, Louis Wolheim, Paul McAllister, Alice Joyce Nils Asther, Mary Nolan. Directed by Herbert Brenon. Story by Warwick Deeping.

Body and Soul

Lionel Barrymore Does a Fine Bit

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

THE triangle situation goes rampant in this picture which revolves around a drunken husband who brands his wife with a red-hot iron. It is pretty strong stuff but so lacking in plausibility that its suspense, naturally, fails to carry any sustained "kick." The locale is the Swiss Alps—and the director has given it very picturesque backgrounds. Against these elemental scenes it is quite fitting and proper that the story should become primitive in its play of emotions. Incidentally this atmosphere is the most genuine thing about the picture.

It is acted with the technique of the old-school melodramatists—especially by Lionel Barrymore, the crazed figure who wields the branding iron. A derelict from drink, he falls in love with a maid at an inn and subsequently marries her. Intensely jealous of his fair possession he imagines every man is attracted with her. So when a youthful ski-jumper suggests that the doctor brand his wife like farmers brand cattle—the derelict rushes home and does it.

That's "Body and Soul," which becomes a hair-raiser through the intensity of Barrymore's acting. It is a single-track story and not a pleasant dessert for patrons with fine sensibilities.

Drawing Power: Suitable for average trade. Title has appeal. Exploitation Angles: Feature author's original story. Bill as highly emotional story of primitive passion. Play up scenery.

THEME: Drama of triangle with husband branding his wife to prove his ownership of her.

Distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Released, October, 1927. Length 6 reels. Cast: Lionel Barrymore Aileen Pringle, Norman Kerry, T. Roy Barnes. Director, Reginald Barker. Author, Katherine Newlin Burt.

The Bugle Call

Young Coogan's Vehicle Effective

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

JACKIE COOGAN, who is fast growing into a slim lad, is still the best actor of his age on the screen, with probably more followers than his competitors can boast of. Put this little fellow in front of a camera and watch him emote with boyish earnestness and intense sincerity; you don't find him overacting, as even at his age he knows the knack of giving a reserved performance. It was David Warfield or some other authority who once remarked that Jackie would develop into a great actor. There is much truth in that prophecy.

As the son of an army captain in the days of the '80's, the boy takes an intense dislike toward the step-mother he unwillingly acquired. He resents that word "mother," so dear to his memory, in the person of his father's new wife, who is gentle and fine but who cannot bridge the gap between herself and the lonely boy. There is one scene wherein Jackie does Trojan work; he has fled to the attic where his dead mother's things are stored and there he dreams of having her back again. Expressions of joy flood his face, he tenderly fondles her, even teases her in winsome fashion. But the thread of thought snaps and he remembers that his dear mother is no more. The transition of emotions in this scene are done well.

The story swerves to action after a while with Indians attacking the fort while his father and the soldiers are away. It is in

Dear Mr. Johnston:—If our brand new screen find

GLENN TRYON

—isn't a marvelous box-office gift to Exhibitors, then our 21 years in the picture business hasn't taught us anything!

Universal Pictures Corp.

the heat of conflict, protecting his stepmother from the tomahawk, that the lad realizes how empty is his prejudice. He blows the bugle which he carries and about which the soldiers had joshed him, alluding to his inability to produce a real bugle call. Answering the summons, his father and the soldiers return, rout the Indians and all's well with the world.

Drawing Power: Good. Children and adults both will enjoy it. Exploitation Angles: Use the bugle to attract attention. Dress lobby in military manner. Bill Jackie and his support.

THEME: Heart drama of lonely boy who refuses to accept his new stepmother. When she is in peril and he has defended her from an Indian attack he comes to like her.

Distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Released August, 1927. Length, 5,821 feet. Cast: Jackie Coogan, Herbert Rawlinson, Claire Windsor, Tom O'Brien, Harry Todd, Bodil Rosing, Nelson McDowell, Sarah Padden. Director, Edward Sedgwick.

"Shamrock Alley"
(Educational—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THIS is not as good a laugh-producer as some others of the series of juvenile comedies Educational is producing, but it is good "Big Boy" nevertheless.

The young star is an Irish lad living in a locality where numerous other nationalities mingle. His widowed mother receives attentions from the Jewish pawnbroker, whose shop is located downstairs. So you have an Irish-Jewish taste to the story. "Big Boy's" moments for putting over comedy are not so numerous, but those that he has are done with that charming baby naturalness that is his. The kid will always click when given the chance, for he has oodles of appeal.

"Big Boy" is the cut-up of the neighborhood, or at least of the particular tenement which he calls home. One scene shows him using the stairs as a grade for a baby carriage minus its wheels. He goes over all the neighbors in his way, shooting over them in a manner resembling a "shoot-the-chutes." Quite different is his return up the stairs to his home, where the angry neighbors are all lined up on their respective floors with a stick with which to belay him as he passes by. Other good scenes are with little Lorraine Rivero on a merry-go-'round and another tough little boy.

Charles Lamont directed the comedy. Eva Thatcher and Hy Meyer play the roles of the boy's mother and the pawnbroker.

"Peter's Pan"
(F B O—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THIS latest of H. C. Witwer's "Beauty Parlor" series, which Reggie Morris directed, is just an average comedy. The comedy supplied by Cooke and Guard is of a rough and ready, fall and tumble variety, amusing in its way, but not up to the calibre of the comedy that these two can put over when given the chance.

A woman client in the girls' beauty establishment, who was revived from a faint by a bucketful of water thrown into her face, must be appeased for the loss of her dress—therefore the parlor's cash register becomes very, very empty. Just about this time a detective comes along and demands the owner's license. The girls are taken to the court house while a policeman guards the shop. Al and Kit, the two assistants, in quest of money to pay for the license, offer to repair the damage done to a bunch of chorus girls by using the various beauty appliances in their parlor on condition that their manager come across with some cash.

Al, with the money held tight in his hand, is socked to sleep by the policeman on guard, but Kit drags him along in that condition to the police station pursued by the thoroughly aroused cop. Here everything is finally settled. The two offer to pay for the girls' license, but have to pay their own fine for violating the public peace. Danny O'Shea, the girls' friend-in-need, pays for their license in the end.

"Ain't Nature Grand?"
(Educational—One Reel)
(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THEY have a lot of fun "down on the farm." You arrive at that conclusion after you have seen the antics of Eddie Quillan and George Davis in this Cameo which Stephen Roberts directed. Eddie has a vapid look, absolutely void of intelligence. He uses this attribute to good effect, staring at the camera or Davis with an expression of innocence and mute appeal. He is the country hick, moron, yokel or what have you.

Davis had a bone of contention to pick with Eddie because, in the presence of pretty Constance Howard, he had set a goat upon him. They run all over the farm, Eddie in front and Davis right behind. One is anxious to sock the other, who is too nimble for him. Finally, clothesline and other impedimenta in the way of Davis cause him to stumble and fall and batter his head against tree trunks so that the girl thinks Eddie has whipped his rival.

There are a fair amount of laughs, the two falling over themselves with considerable zest. The two are a good team, and they get along very well together.

"Fiddlesticks"
(Pathe—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

HARRY LANGDON is seen again in one of the two-reelers which launched him on the road to fame and fortune. It is not so humorous as some of the other Langdon comedies have been, but it has its moments. Harry has a yen for the bass viol in this one. He is determined to be a musician and to earn his livelihood in this way, much to the disgust of his father and brother, who turn him out of the house over the protest of his mother.

He voluntarily joins up with a street band, but his efforts ruin their business, and he is completely discouraged when he is fired. A junk man offers him cash for his overgrown fiddle, but demands that he play it first. Harry does so and a rain of junk from adjacent windows follows his effort. The junk man is a business man. He sees possibilities in a partnership and collects the hurled junk as Harry plays the viol. They both prosper and Harry returns to the welcoming arms of his family.

"Assorted Babies"
(M-G-M—Ufa—One Reel)

QUITE interesting is this Ufa 'oddity' which bears Major Bowes' appropriate set of titles. As is practically always the case with German screen efforts the camera work here is exceptionally good and the idea elaborated upon—that of presenting shots of the young of animals—is fairly well handled..

Views of a baby, a basketful of dachshunds and intimate scenes of a cat and her offspring take up the majority of the scenes, more attention being given to the felines' antics than to those of the other animals. The kittens' playfulness is duly emphasized and they are shown scrapping among themselves, one little fellow even going to the extent of pawing his parent. The scenes of the mother cat cleaning her young, and carrying them by the scruffs of their necks are always entertaining. The young of almost every species have a way all their own of attracting and holding the attention. The cats, here, are particularly interesting and they have many poses that are not generally seen by the average human.—RAYMOND GANLY.

"The Elegy"
(Paramount—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

ONE of the best little novelties that has been released in a long time is this sympathetic tale, exceedingly well told and acted. Of a "different" and distinctive sort, it has a note of sincerity notable for its lack of mawkishness. There is more genuine drama in its two reels than many a longer and costlier production can lay claim to. Moving with simplicity, the story is unfolded with broad strokes. When coupled with the winning strains of well-rendered music, "The Elegy" is bound to leave a pleasing impression, unless your audiences crave entertainment of a light and fickle nature. However, it is a worthwhile piece and, whether or not your patrons like a story with a sombre shade, it will lend distinction to a program.

The story is of a lonely little boy in a French village, whose dog is brutally kicked to death by a gendarme. Alone, with his dead friend, the boy plays Massenet's melancholy air (which gives the production its title) thinking that perhaps the sweet strains of his violin will bring life back to the still body. When he realizes the cold fact that his unfailing friend is forever gone, his little heart breaks, and he falls lifeless. After witnessing this incident, the gendarme becomes a changed man, and the final scene shows him paying his respects at the boy's grave beside a girl who had brought a bit of happiness into the lad's life.

"Oh, What a Man!"
(Educational—Two Reels)
(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

LARRY SEMON, back again in the field of short comedies, has a fairly laughable vehicle here. The veteran comedian in the role of a detective fast in the toils of a feminine crook will create laughter among the patrons seeing his latest effort, no doubt; but no small amount of laughs, however, will go to Gertrude Astor, who is such an energetic performer, that, acting with swing and verve, the title of the screen's leading blonde mama should go to her, unquestionably. She props up noticeaby the effectiveness of this comedy and shades the performance of the starring player.

Semon is commissioned to capture Notorious Nora, criminal extraordinary. He goes to his prospective victim's night club, where a free-for-all fight between the police and Nora's followers soon occurs. Semon, armed with a club, joins the fray and, after unwittingly socking to sleep his fellow detectives, is mistaken by the lady crook as a friend. She clasps her hands and rapturously surveys him, exclaiming, "Oh, what a man!"

Follows a pursuit by Nora and Semon of her former satellites, who are now bent on outwitting her and robbing her of her jewels. The chase is well filmed, and is better done than such scenes in average comedies. After the piece has mounted to a climax it is revealed that this tale of crooks and police is but a thriller that Semon has been dictating to his stenographer, Miss Astor.

Others in the cast are: Jack Richardson, Willie Dennis, Paul Dennis. Semon wrote and directed the comedy which I. E. Chadwick produced.

"Cups and Contenders"
(Pathe-Sportlight—One Reel)

GRANTLAND RICE offers some interesting shots of international competitions of various kinds in this Sportlight. There is a brief history of the Davis tennis cup, the Westchester cup of polo, America's cup of yachting and the Gold cup of the motor boats. Interesting shots are shown of the competitions for the different trophies. Leading figures among the defenders of the tennis cup are seen in action against all rivals. America's star polo four are pictured as they defend the trophy, as are the different yacht cup defenders and the speed boats in the motor tests. This should make a good filler for any program.—CHESTER J. SMITH.

Regional News from Correspondents

Albany

THE first change of importance along Albany's Film Row to take place in several weeks came a few days ago when Harry Weinberg resigned as manager of the Albany F B O office. He has been succeeded by Al Gutek, who was formerly a saleseman out of the Boston exchange, and whose home is in Fitchburg, Mass. Mr. Weinberg came to Albany about two years ago from Omaha, and plans to return to that city. Announcement of the change was made by Charles Rosenzweig, of New York city, division manager, who came to Albany to accept Mr. Weinberg's resignation.

Charles P. Gilmore, of Syracuse, a well known exhibitor, is now booking vaudeville and presentation acts for his own houses and has also written Troy and Albany exhibitors that he will be glad to furnish acts at varying prices.

Alan Hayes, son of the late Walter Hayes, of the Stanley chain of houses, made a short visit to Albany last week, stopping over night and meeting his friends, Uly S. Hill and Tony Veiller.

E. D. Burns, who was connected with the Rose theatre in Troy, last winter, and left his job to go with a circus, has written Jacob Rosenthal, asking if there is an opening for him back at his old job. Mr. Rosenthal wired him to come on at once.

Employees of the Lincoln theatre in Troy were jubilant on election night when the victory of Cornelius Burns, who ran for Mayor on the Democratic ticket.

Although William B. Tweedy, a former exhibitor in Mechanicville, won out for Mayor last week, other exhibitors in politics were not as fortunate. Irving I. Goldsmith, part owner of the Palace in Saratoga Springs, was defeated in his contest for a place on the Supreme Court bench, although carrying his own county. John L. Meyers, owner of the Star in Schenectady and the Grand in Scotia, was defeated for the office of Comptroller in Schenectady.

It is rumored that William Van Alstyle is in the market to dispose of his theatres in Fonda and Fultonville.

A. J. Pincus, who recently resigned from the Pathe sales forces in Albany, to accept a similar position with the F B O exchange, severed his connection with the latter last week and has gone to New York city.

The Mark Strand, in Albany, is observing its seventh anniversary. The house is managed by Thomas Clark.

Once again Charles Sesonske, of Watertown and Lowville, has won out in a disagreement between himself and one of Albany's film exchanges, which was threshed out last week at a meeting of the arbitration board.

Lew Buettner, of Cohoes, is back home from a trip to Montreal and other Canadian cities. He was accompanied by Mrs. Buettner.

Ray V. Conner, manager of the Olympic theatre in Watertown, went up in the air one day last week when he was informed that a picture that he had booked had not been shipped out of Rochester in time to reach Watertown for the evening show. Mr. Conner proceeded to get in touch with a Watertown aviator, and made the trip to Rochester and return, bringing the film with him in sufficient time to catch the opening show.

Julius Berinstein, owner of the Colonial theatre in Albany, was on hand at the election place, bright and early Tuesday morning, and was among the very first to cast his ballot. In conversation with friends, later, he stated that there was a possibility that next summer would find him a resident of Elmira, where his brothers are now located and where the Berinstein estate has a number of houses.

Albany exchanges telephoning to Vermont towns last week, were limited to a three minute conversation over the wire, by orders issued in that state in an effort to relieve as far as possible telephone congestion due to the flood.

Milton Caplon, a Pathe salesman in Albany, was in Rutland during the flood period, and upon his return later to Albany had many thrilling stories to tell of his experiences.

Mitchell Connery has been made assistant to Abe Stone, who operates two theatres in Rensselaer and one in Albany.

Vincent Daley has notified exchanges that he will close the Pastime in Granville during the winter and operate only the Pember.

The first of the Vermont flood reliefs was given at the Strong theatre in Burlington, last Thursday night and netted a large sum for the sufferers.

The Vitaphone, which has not been operating for several weeks at either the Mark Strand in Albany or the Troy theatre, will be resumed, starting at the Troy theatre on November 19, and at the Mark Strand two days later.

Harry Brooks, president of the motion picture machine operators' union in Troy, went to New York city one day last week for the purpose of discussing the local situation with the president of the international organization.

Abe Stone, who already has one theatre in Albany and two in Rensselaer, is planning to take over the Eagle in Albany, which was operated up until last June by George Roberts, and which has been vacant for several months.

C. H. Buckley, of the Leland, and his son, attended the Yale-Princeton game last Saturday.

Des Moines

THE theatre at Pershing, Iowa, which has made a number of changes in recent years is now under new management. The house was bought last week by Charles Moses, a new exhibitor in this territory. The Pershing theatre was previously owned by Mr. Karowitz.

C. O. Meisner, who just about a year ago built the new theatre at Greenfield, Iowa, an up-to-date small theatre which was a model on theatres of this class, sold the house last week. H. A. Stanley was the purchaser of the theatre. Mr. Meisner has not yet made definite announcement of his plans.

The Palace Theatre at Carlyle, Iowa is another theatre which changed hands recently. Ted Yarowsky, head of the ad poster company which he organized in DesMoines, has had this theatre for about a year. He sold the theatre to John Dielhman.

Youngclass and Latta who now have two theatres at Perry, Iowa, are adding another house to their theatre interests and it is probable that they may invest in other houses. They last week bought the theatre at Woodward, Iowa, which is located in the I. O. O. F. Building. Some changes are to be made in the theatre under the new management. The former owner of the Woodward theatre was Martin Wade.

M. L. Lamb who has been an exhibitor in Iowa territory in times past has bought the theatre at Carroll, Iowa. Mr. R. Van Heusen has been in charge of the theatre there.

George Nalor, manager of the DesMoines Universal office, recently purchased a new Lincoln car. He traded in his old Lincoln for the new car which is now on exhibition in Film Row, receiving the compliments of the trade.

Katherine Reynolds, the contract clerk at the office of Universal, appeared last week in a lovely new fur coat. Official opinion is that she looks "plenty hot" in it.

The Strand Theatre at Milford, Iowa, which was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Leitch, has previously been under the management of the Leitch's. The recent repurchase of the theatre was made from Davies and Livingston.

J. H. Murphy, from the home office of Universal, was in the office in Des Moines checking up on play dates.

The American Legion Post at Malvern, Iowa, will sponsor the showing of pictures at the Community building on two evenings of each month. They have rented the auditorium on two nights of the month and will have charge of the shows on those nights.

Perry, Iowa, will decide the Sunday show question on November 18 when the special election will bring the voters to the polls to cast their ballots for or against the Sunday show. A special election was held at the time when the Blue Laws were imposed upon Perry and the theatres have been dark since May 1, 1924. William Youngclass and C. J. Latta, exhibitors at Perry, Iowa, who own the Rex Theatre in operation there and the opposition house, which they also recently purchased, have presented to the council a petition signed by the majority of the voters asking for the special election. The battle has ardent contenders for both sides and the discussion has at times become more heated than seems to be fitting for complete peace. However, both sides are anxious that the matter shall be settled most amicably.

J. I. Schnitzer, first vice president for F B O, will be in Des Moines this week and will hold a conference with the office and road force. Mr. Schnitzer is very well liked by the people of the trade and received a hearty welcome as well as Mr. Penrod, sales manager, who accompanied him.

Sunday movies are again the question. And Cumberland, Iowa, is seeing a reversal of the most common situation in Iowa territory, where the petition has been made to ban the Sunday shows. However, the fight to oust the Sunday movie is now at a deadlock, the council having ignored the petition signed by 100 women of the town, asking for the banishment of Sunday shows in Cumberland.

Lansing, Iowa, is also debating upon the question of Sunday shows. Here the decision will be made in a special election, the exhibitor there paying the expense of this special election.

Opening for the fall season the theatre at Lowden, Iowa, which has been closed for the summer months, was reopened last week The Lowden theatre is called the Liberty

Chicago

GREAT STATES THEATRES, INC., is making plans for the opening of its new Waukegan Theatre, the Genesee, on Christmas day. A civic pageant participated in by leading Waukegan business houses, will precede the opening and a big publicity campaign will be carried out. The theatre, which has two thousand seats, will operate under a stage band policy with W. O. Butts, now manager at the Academy, Waukegan, as manager.

Isaac Brotman's handsome, new Avaloe Theatre, Diversey Parkway and California Avenue, opened its doors to the public on Wednesday night, and got away to a good start. The house seats seven hundred and is a good example of small, de luxe theatre architecture, decoration and equipment.

Clare Foley, popular film board secretary of Pittsburgh, stopped off in Chicago this week to visit her many Chicago friends.

J. Jules Rubens and his brother L. M. have sailed for Europe and expect to return to the good old U. S. A. about Christmas time.

Charles C. Pettijohn, general counsel for Will Hays, stopped off in Chicago last week for a two day visit.

Al House, well known Chicago manager and organist, it is reported, will take over the Midway at Rockford, on January 1st, from Great States.

Orchestraphone has made arrangements with the Eighth Street Theatre for the installation of one of its instruments for demonstration purposes.

Clyde Quimby, popular Fort Wayne exhibitor, was a Chicago visitor this week and called on a number of his friends.

H. C. Young reports that he and W. P. Miller, St. Louis representative of National Screen Service, signed up Skouras Brothers for service in all their thirty St. Louis theatres, during Mr. Young's recent visit to that city.

Johnny Kempton of the Linden Theatre, Van Nokomis of the Wabash Theatre, J. R. McPherson of National Screen Service, and seven friends, attended the Illinois-Chicago game at Champaign last Saturday. Football is becoming as popular with film men as golf was a few weeks ago.

Del Delbridge, who for the past year has conducted his stage band at the Capitol Theatre, has been replaced by Husk O'Hare and his music makers.

The Orpheum Circuit's Riviera inaugurates its new reserved seat policy this week, offering residents of Rogers Park the novelty of reserved seats in a vaudeville and photoplay theatre. At the same time another act of vaudeville will be added to the program, which will consist of six vaudeville acts and feature photoplays. All seats will be reserved at evening performances from Monday to Friday, inclusive.

Milton Gore, formerly head of Paramount's accessory department in Chicago, has been promoted to be assistant to H. A. Ross, district manager.

The managers of fifty Great States' theatres are working for prizes which will be awarded to the theatre showing the greatest improvement during Joy Month from November 7th to December 4th.

L. R. Fleischer, owner of the Home Theatre on West Chicago Avenue, has just purchased the Clybourn Theatre from I. Brotman.

Charles L. Casanave, former Chicago exchange manager, who has been making his headquarters in Cleveland for some time past, has returned to Chicago where, it is reported, he will engage in the theatrical end of the industry. Mr. Casanave has a large number of friends in Chicago who will hail his return with considerable pleasure.

Sidney R. Kent, of Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, is scheduled for a stop in Chicago, Friday, for a visit with Manager Neal Agnew, after which he will continue his journey to the west coast.

Chinatown is to have a handsome theatre of its own, construction having started on the new Chinese opera house at 2118-22 Wentworth Avenue. It will be named Thai Wing Wah, which means "Abode of the Gorgeous Goddess." Four stores outside and seven hundred and fifty seat theatre, will be housed in the handsome structure, which will be of distinctive Chinese architecture. It is reported that the theatre will be operated as a motion picture house in the day time and at night ancient celestial dramas will be offered.

South West

TWO new theatres are being built at Odessa, Texas, by Dallas and Abilene, Texas interests, respectively.

A new Wurlitzer Organ is being installed in the Rits Theatre at Wylie, Texas.

The Colmbus Theatre at Columbus, Okla., is being remodeled.

R. L. Moore has been appointed manager of the Palace Theatre at Anson, Texas.

The Signal Theatre at Baird, Texas, remodeled at cost of about $7,000.

John Mitchell, office manager Federal Theatres, Dallas, Texas, has recovered from a major operation and is at work again.

The Grand Theatre at Paris, Texas showed all the fall and winter fashions in addition to the regular performances and with crowded houses as result.

The new Camp Wood Theatre opened by Tom McGowan at Camp Wood, Tex.

The Palace Theatre at Colorado, Texas, has a new organist in the person of Miss Vela Melton.

Fred Williams has been appointed manager of the Strand Theatre at Port Arthur, Texas.

A. V. Wade and Associates will erect a new $20,000 theatre at Gainesville, Texas.

The Pictorium Theatre at Vernon, Texas, has been purchased by Dent Theatres, Inc.

Four men charged with throwing stink bombs into a suburban theatre at Dallas, Texas, recently have beeen arrested and are awaiting trial.

New radiators witth steam heat proclivities have been installed in the Majestic Theatre at Wills Point, Texas.

The Palace Theatre at Shiner, Texas, has been purchased by R. C. Garabade and H. J. Woltus.

Howard L. Swain, local supervising manager of the Saenger-Enrlich theatres at Shreveport, La., died Monday Oct. 24, after a month's illness. His body lay in state in the Scottish Rite Cathedral at Shreveport preceding the funeral. He was a resident of Shreveport for about 50 years, being a native of Texas.

The Royal Theatre at Bentonville, Ark., closed permanently.

The Dixie Theatre at Huntsville, Ark., purchased by James Warrent from Clarence Kelly.

Clay Jenkins has taken over the Ozark Theatre at Gravett, Ark.

L. J. Caupert & Son have remodeled their Franklin Theatre at Piggot, Ark.

Operator Blagg was severely burned in a fire in the projection room of the Palace Theatre at Jonesboro, Ark.

Canada

CONFEDERATION AMUSEMENTS, LIMITED, Montreal, is busily engaged in the erection of the Empress Theatre, a handsome suburban house, seating 1,800, at Sherbrooke Street and Old Orchard Avenue, Montreal, the theatre to be opened during the first week of January.

The Empress Theatre is being built by H. and A. Dufresne, general contractors, and various Montreal firms are under contract for installations and decoration. William C. Christmas, Canadian distributor, Beardmore Building, Montreal, has installed an Ozone Purified Air Ventilating System in the Empress for the Ozone Pure Airifier Company, Chicago, Ill.

George Rotsky, manager of the Palace Theatre, Montreal, Quebec, cashed in on local sporting interest when he offered a handsome silver cup for a Palace Theatre Handicap Race at the fall meet at Blue Bonnets track, Montreal. The newspapers carried much publicity in connection with the race, which was made a feature by the Jockey Club, and, in addition, Mr. Rotsky had moving pictures taken of the race and of the cup presentation which were shown on the screen of the Palace for one week.

Al. Sedgwick, brother of Harry Sedgwick, an official of Famous Players Canadian Corp., Toronto, has been appointed treasurer of the Tivoli Theatre, a Toronto downtown house, the manager of which is Thomas Daley.

Residents of the district have organized the Jubilee Theatre Co., Limited, with headquarters at Sarnia, Ontario, for the purpose of erecting a theatre in Sarnia. The directors are: Fred H. Walker, merchant; J. Gordon Logan, solicitor; C. J. Moore, accountant, and Norris M. Burgess, electrical contractor, all of Sarnia, and Frank J. Miller, farmer, of Sarnia Town ship.

R. J. Harrison, manager, has adopted the double-feature bill policy for the Capitol Theatre, St. Catharines, Ontario, and has added a 10-piece orchestra as a permanent attraction for good measure.

G. J. Forhan, manager of the Griffin Theatre, St. Catharines, has also made a change by the addition of five acts of vaudeville.

Seattle

JOHN HAMRICK, managing director of the Hamrick chain of Blue Mouse theatres in this city, Tacoma and Portland, left last week with Mrs. Hamrick for a three-week trip to New York City and Chicago. It will be a combined business and pleasure jaunt, according to Vic Gauntlett, Blue Mouse publicity and advertising expert, and far-famed trade paper author.

J. S. Davis of San Francisco arrived in town recently to take over the management of the Co-operative Film Exchange branch, succeeding Clarence Hill. Mr. Hill, who announced his resignation a few weeks ago, has associated himself with the sales staff of Manager Art Huot's local F B O office

The Lakeside Theatre, formerly owned by John Hamrick and West Coast Theatres, and taken over recently by Al Rosenberg and Al Finkelstein of the DeLuxe Theatres, Inc., has changed its operating policy. Instead of running every day, as formerly, with three changes weekly, it is now open on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, with two changes each week.

Carl O. Weaver, recently appointed to the sales staff of the Columbia Film Exchange in this city, arrived to take over his new territory last week. He was formerly in the newspaper business, and has also had film sales experience with Famous Players in the Cleveland territory.

Sam K. Wineland, former director of the concert orchestra at the Coliseum Theatre here, and more recently musical director for broadcasting station KOMO in Seattle, recently resigned that position to become head of the orchestra at Ray Grombacher's Granada Theatre in Spokane. Eddie Rivers, exploitation director of the house, has been staging Sunday noon concerts under Mr. Wineland's direction that have taken the inland city by storm.

L. L. Bascom, theatre operator of Minnesota, who came to the Northwest recently and purchased the Liberty Theatre in Dayton, Washington, from J. G. Maddox, opened that house last week to capacity business. Since acquiring the theatre, Mr. Bascom has completely remodeled it, and now features some de luxe film programs.

George Endert, manager of the Famous Players exchange here, left last week for the Paramount sales conference in Chicago. He was accompanied on the trip by Neal East, manager of the Portland branch. The two expected to be gone for ten days or two weeks.

Word was received from the Oregon territory last week to the effect that the Magnolia Theatre at Garibaldi, Oregon, was totally destroyed by fire which broke out from an undetermined source one night after the last performance. Leo Morrison, the owner, has announced no plans for the future reconstruction.

George Ekre, former sales representative for the local Pathe exchange, last week joined the sales staff of the F B O office.

Following a change in the film and stage presentation policy, Manager Joe Danz of the Embassy Theatre has announced a new local price scale of 15c until 6 p. m., and 25c thereafter. The large stage shows have been dispensed with, and the ttheatre alternates with one and two-a-week first run films.

Plans of burglars to enter the Bagdad Theatre, Jensen-VonHerberg's new key house in the Seattle neighborhood territory, were frustrated by the timely arrival of police one night last week. A parked automobile in front of the theatre at 3 a. m. aroused the suspicion of two officers on the beat, and when they attempted to investigate a signal from the auto horn brought the would-be thieves from the theatre for a hurried getaway.

Local friends of Bill Morgan, former Northwest film man and recently with Producers Distributing Corporation, were sending their congratulations this week upon his appointment as general manager in Europe for First National Pictures.

Jack Schlaifer, head of the Universal houses in the Pacific Northwest territory, left for Portland last week, where he joined Bob White of the Universal-Multnomah Theatres and William Cutts, supply specialist, for a hurried trip to Corvallis to arrange for repairs to the Whiteside Theatre, damaged by fire last week.

H. W. Peters, assistant to division manager A. R. Ballantyne of Pathe, arrived here this week from Portland, where he has been spending a few days with Manager Harry Percy.

O. J. Klawitter, owner and operator of the Gem Theatre in Seattle, is working on plans for a new 450-seat house in the southern part of the city. The new structure will be a 10c and 15c house, and is located witthin two doors from the present Market Theatre on First Avenue and Yesler Way.

Fred Mercy, rapidly acquiring a chain of houses in the smaller cities around the state, has announced his intention of remodeling the American Theatre in Walla Walla, and reopening it under the name of the Liberty. It is a first run house.

Another reopening will take place within a few weeks, when the doors of the Mission Theatre in Mount Vernon are thrown open by R. C. Dunham, following renovating and the installation of new film and musical equipment.

Alex Singelow, well-known film man of this territory, has just been appointed to the sales staff of Warner Bros. branch.

Detroit

THE new United Artists Theatre building at Bagley and Clifford was dedicated recently with Buster Keaton and his wife, Natalie Talmadge, taking part in the ceremonies. The building will be ready Jan. 1. Persistent rumors that the new house is to be operated by John H. Kunsky Theatres Corp. have not been confirmed.

One of the unique features of the new Fox theatre, now under construction, will be a broadcasting station similar to that in the Roxy, New York City, which means that this house will probably broadcast programs at least once a week.

A theatre and store building including apartments is being planned for a site near Woodward and Saratoga streets, Ferndale. The architect, P. Pereria, also designed the new Oriental.

L. R. Wodusky was recently appointed manager for the Oriental. Work on the new $40,000 theatre at Roseville is progressing rapidly.

In the list of standings of the various Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exchanges on actual feature business taken for the new season, Detroit stands in first place, which is a credit to Frank Wowney, local manager.

The Michigan and Capitol, Publix houses, have adopted a new weekly change policy. All pictures and stage attractions will open on Saturdays hereafter, according to an announcement just issued by the Kunsky office.

More than 40 children from the neighborhood participated in a Halloween costume contest held by J. E. Stocker at his Myrtle Theatre, Oct. 28.

Foundations have been completed and workmen are now placing cinders for the basement floor of a new theatre in Ironwood. Construction progress has been so rapid that the seating contract has been awarded already to the A. H. Andrews company of Chicago.

Roy Maypole, who managed and handled all the publicity for the Greater Detroit Piano playing contest last summer, has been appointed house manager of the Oriole, recently purchased by Lester Briggs.

Plans are being drawn for a new theatre which will be situated at Six Mile Road and Davison. J. A. Paloski will operate the enterprise and M. K. Ingall, architect with offices in the Dime Bank Building, is busily engaged on the design.

Hunter Robbins, it is rumored, has sold the Robinhood Theatre in Grand Haven to Paul Schlossman, of Muskegon. Hunter expects to spend the winter in California and will return to Michigan next season for his summer golfing.

Jake Sullivan, formerly general manager for the Fred DeLodder circuit and lately with the Orient Theatre (recently reopened) has joined the Krim organization. He assumes full charge of all Krim houses in Mt. Clemens.

The Lyric, owned by Leon Krim, has been closed for nearly a week while alterations and repairs are under way.

Oscar Hanson, Pathe manager in Detroit, left the office a few days ago for Nebraska. Upon arriving at the old home town he met a sweetheart of his college days and a wedding followed. They are now honeymooning in the east, expecting to be gone for several weeks.

With the Miles becoming a first-run picture house of the road show type, a few thousand more seats have been added to the downtown district.

Frank Drew recently was appointed Detroit manager of the M-G-M exchange, succeeding Arthur Ehrlich. He came here from Cleveland some time ago and most of his theatrical career has been spent in this vicinity. At one time he operated the Avenue Theatre when it was a burlesque house. He later became affiliated with various exchanges as salesman and branch manager.

After resigning from Pathe, S. K. (Kelly) Decker signed on the dotted line to sell Greater Features for F. O. Peters.

B. G. Clare has been engaged to handle the publicity for Ben and Lou Cohen's circuit and Alicia Gorham's typewriter is clicking in behalf of the new Oriental. C. H. Miles latest enterprise. The Cohen brothers recently appointed Thomas A. McGuire general manager of their interests. McGuire has been with them for the past [illegible] years.

The Miles theatre reopens indefinitely with a roadshow film policy starting Oct. 29.

Bill [illegible] who has been in charge of the Standard branch at Cincinnati, is in Detroit again selling around the city and key towns. Bill was in Detroit several years previous to his departure for Cincinnati and has a contented look since his arrival at the depot.

Atlanta

FOLLOWING an informal conference that lasted throughout Tuesday when they foregathered at the Anley Hotel to hear the new sales policies outlined by their Southern Division Sales Manager W. E. Callaway, First National salesmen "took the field" Wednesday in behalf of the company's five specials.

Participating in the conference which was led by Mr. Callaway were Manager C. R. Beacham, Assistant Manager Fred M. Jack, and the following salesmen: Paul A. Strachin, L. W. Carter, George C. Almon, and J. M. Young.

Keith's Georgia Theatre, Atlanta, will celebrate its first anniversary next week with an unusually ambitious program, and with a special plan that links up the various civic clubs, each of which will be honored by having one day designated as its own.

Harvey Herschenshon, of the Strand Theatre, Albany, Ga., made a trip to Film Row last week.

John W. Mangham, Atlanta manager of Bromberg Attractions, is touring Tennessee on a business trip.

W. G. Minder, southeastern division manager of Tiffany, spent part of last week in Jacksonville.

Paul C. Bryan, manager of Fox's Atlanta branch, spent the week in Florida.

E. F. Foster, who has been connected at various times with film exchanges in Atlanta, has joined the sales force of Fox's Atlanta branch.

C. L. Peavey, Atlanta manager of F B O, accompanied his salesman, A. R. McRae, through Alabama and Tennessee this week.

Friends of T. F. Thompson, of the Palace Theatre, Cedartown, Row last week, recuperating from Ga., were glad to see him on Film his recent illness.

Mrs. Curtis Ware, of the Princess Theatre, Thompson, Ga., also visited exchanges last week.

Charlie Oswald, Publix booker, Jacksonville, Fla., made a trip to Atlanta last week.

L. G. Jenkins, of the Deal Theatre, Nashville, Ga., was seen busily occupied with the new product in the exchanges last week.

R. B. Williams, Universal's southeastern division manager, returned Wednesday from a visit to the Charlotte branch office.

Lionel Keene, Loew's southern division manager visited Birmingham the pst week and conferred with Harry Weiss, manager of Loew's Temple.

R. T. Hill, of the R. T. Hill circuit of theatre in Tennessee, was a recent visitor in Atlanta.

Byron Cooper, of the Palace Theatre, Dawson, Ga., visited Atlanta last week.

C. S. Smith, of the Alamo, Newnan, Ga., made a short trip to Atlanta recently.

B. Y. Cammack, Atlanta branch manager of Universal, spent last week in Tennessee.

H. Miller, of the American Theatre, Conyers, Ga., was another recent visitor to Atlanta.

Publix's Alabama Theatre, Birmingham, is rapidly nearing completion. While no definite date has been set for opening, it will, presumably, be some time late in December.

Charles Hodkins, Eastern Representative of Alexander Pantages, attended the opening of the Pantages Theatre.

Ben Y. Cammack, manager Atlanta exchange of Universal, attended the Pantages' opening, accompanied by his Alabama representative, J. W. Greenleaf. Earle E. Griggs, popular Universal exploiteer, was also a guest at the Pantages opening, and later attended the informal supper tendered by the officials of Pan-Ala, at the Southern Club.

A. Brown Parkes has resigned from the Pan-Ala Amusement Co., Birmingham, and will devote his entire time to managing the Jefferson Theatre. Hunter M. Smith, president of Pan-Ala, has taken over the managerial duties of the new Pantages' Theatre.

C. R. Beacham, First National manager, visited Birmingham the past week and attended the Pantages opening, as well as visiting his many friends.

Milwaukee

FRANK COOK, manager of the Rex theatre at Sheboygan, paid Film Row a visit recently.

Fischer's new theatre at Oshkosh, known as "Fischer's" will be opened on Nov. 23d. Ralph Mosiman is manager of the new house. Mr. Mosiman was the former owner of thte Rex theatre which the Fischer circuit has taken over.

The Whitehouse theatre here has installed a new orchestraphone with two amplifiers installed at the front of the theatre.

F. J. McWilliams, manager of the Fischer theatre at Madison, was counted among Film Row's visitors this week.

J. Wm. Deubach has been appointed manager of Saxe's new Garfield theatre on Third St. which opens Nov. 19th. Mr. Deubach was formerly associated with the North Shore theatre at Chicago.

R. J. Theiler, manager of the Orpheum at Richland Center, dropped in at exchanges for a brief visit on Wednesday.

O. A. Wodke, manager of the Majestic theatre at Lake Mills, was among receent Film Row visitors.

Cecil Maberry, district manager, is visiting the Pathe exchange for a few days.

W. J. Luth of the Alamo theatre at Pembine, spent a few hours in local exchanges on Thursday.

R. J. Sickels of M-G-M staff is now driving a new Chevvy landau which replaces his Nash.

Aug. Berkholtz of the Mermac theatre at West Bend was in the city early in the week.

Miss Mildred Solberg has been added to the M-G-M office staff.

J. C. DeWaal, traveling auditor, is spending a few days in the Pathe exchange.

Wm. Roob of the Grand theatre at Port Washington stopped in at several exchanges for short visits.

T. Burke, traveling auditor for Educational, is visiting the Milwaukee branch.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gilman of the Princess theatre at Sheboygan drove down to the city Wednesday.

Charles M. Steele, supervisor of exchanges from New York, spent Wednesday in the Milwaukee branch of First National.

Neil Thompson of the Crystal theatre at Ft. Atkinson made his appearance at local exchanges early in the week.

W. Uglow, manager of the Strand theatre at Waterford, was in the city on Thursday to report a $1,500 loss which he suffered the previous night when the projection room of the Strand was destroyed by fire. The blaze started during a performance, but the patrons left quietly. All equipment and film in the booth was destroyed.

William Wiske of the Community theatre at Red Granite was in the city to visit the various exchanges last Tuesday.

R. C. Wheeler of the Lloyd theatre at Menominee, Michigan, was also in the city on a business trip.

South East

HENRY OWEN, formerly ad sales manager for Paramount, Charlotte, has been transferred to the booking department of the Atlanta branch of this concern. R. E. Parsons succeeds Mr. Owen as Charlotte ad sales manager.

Zeb. Beam of the Princess Theatre, Shelby, N. C., spent last Tuesday in Charlotte.

W. P. White, manager of the National Theatre Supply Company, left Wednesday for a trip through Eastern North Carolina.

Walter Griffith of the Horlacher Delivery Service, D. M. Eaves, Union, S. C., and H. J. Paradis, Wilson, N. C., returned Thursday from a week's trip to New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

A. C. Earps, formerly salesman for Educational, is now connected with the Piedmont Amusement Co., of Winston-Salem, N. C.

The Film Club, a basketball team, composed of girls from the different film exchanges, organized this week, has entered the Charlotte City League. Their first game is scheduled for December 2nd.

Gus Mitchell, owner Imperial Theatre, Newton, N. C., visited Film Row Wednesday.

Edwin Reeves of Cookeville has taken over the management of the Colonial Theatre at Carthage, Tenn. The Strand at Cookeville and Jackson Theatre at Gainesboro are also under his management.

Mrs. Idel Stevens has taken over the Jones Theatre at LaFayette, Tenn., and has renamed it the Stevens Theatre.

Fred Campbell, head of the B. F. Keith Enterprises, Louisville, states that the new policy of Keith's National Theatre has gone over with a bang.

The Swan Theatre, Wickliffe, Ky., is going out of business.

Mrs. T. E. Jasper, wife of the exhibitor at Somerset, Ky., has returned home after a visit in Louisville.

Lee Goldberg, secretary of Big Feature Rights, Louisville, was in Indianapolis last week on a business trip.

The Family Theatre, at Dover, Ky., operated by E. E. Kidwell, has been taken over by Pabst and McMillan.

Bruce Aspley of the Aspley Theatre at Glasgow and Horse Cave, Ky., was in Louisville last week.

New England

THE new Park Theatre in Taunton, Mass., opened Thursday. It is of the stadium pattern and seats about 1,600. James J. Donovan and Fred McAloon are the owners.

J. Boland is erecting a new theatre at Sacco, Me., which is to open soon and which will be named the Mutual Theatre.

At Fall River the new Empire Theatre opens Nov. 20. It replaces the former Empire, which was destroyed by fire some months ago. Nathan Yeamans is the owner and managing director.

Fred Sharby, who owns theatres in Brattleboro, Keene, Lebanon, Leominster and other New England cities, has bought a half interest in the Tremont Theatre at Claremont, N. H., which has been owned by Smith & Stearns. He buys out Roy H. Searns' interest.

David Brandt has bought a new Packard sedan and is planning to make a trip to the Pacific coast in the new machine, spending several months in the West.

Moe Silver, now of the New York office of the Stanley-Mark interests and formerly manager of the Mark-Strand interests in New England, will be tendered a dinner at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, by his army of New England film friends the evening of Dec. 1. A committee of film men, consisting of Thomas Meehan of Worcester, chairman; Benjamin Rosenthal, secretary; Abe Montague of Independent Films, Inc., treasurer; Al Newhall of Lynn, who succeeded Silver as New England manager, and Clarence Robbins of Worcester, comprise the committee in charge.

Harry Rosenblatt has joined the staff of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer at Boston and will be assigned to the sales staff.

District Manager Tom Bailey, Branch Manager Wm. Erb, Sales Manager Kenneth Robinson and Al Bevan of Paramount have returned from the Chicago convention.

F. Cutler has been appointed cashier at the Paramount exchange, Boston.

Al McIntyre of the Paramount Booking department is on a vacation at Moosehead Lake, Maine, the vacation period being longer than anticipated as flood conditions made it temporarily impossible for him to return to Boston.

Boston exchanges are having their hands full and some have been obliged to add to their clerical forces, to handle adjustments for theatres affected by flood conditions.

C. W. "Pathe" Perry of Pittsburgh, formerly with the Boston Pathe organization, was a visitor to the Boston exchange during the week.

David Brandt and Frank Venett, en route to Boston from New Haven, were slightly injured when Brandt's Cadillac was in collision in Connecticut. Vennett's injuries were treated at a hospital and both were then able to proceed to Boston. Venett received a broken rib.

Miss Mary Faire, assistant booker at Educational, and Richard Mooney of the Boston Police traffic squad, were married Sunday.

Frank Burns, of Burns' Theatre at Newport, Vt., was in Boston during the flood period. He had come to Boston for some bookings and was unable to reach home for nearly a week. Word has come from Newport that he finally reached home safely.

I. H. Rogovern of Independent Films, Inc., covering western Massachusetts, is the recipient of congratulations, Mrs. Rogovern having presented him with a son, which accounts for Rogovern's absence from the flood district.

Markel's Gem Theatre at Weymouth opened Thursday. Phil Markel of Boston is the owner.

Miss Caroline C. Jones, booker at First National, left on Saturday for an extended vacation to the West Coast. On Thursday night she was tendered a dinner at the Copley Plaza, Boston, by associates in Film Row and was presented a beautiful fitted travelling bag.

John H. Miller, organist at Laurier's Theatre, Woonsocket, was the last man to leave the theatre when flood waters drove out the audience. The theatre was closed for a week because of damage done.

Central Penn

CHARLES E. HAMILTON, perhaps the most picturesque figure allied with motion picture and other theatres in Scranton, Pa.; former circus publicity man, and for years head of the Scranton Bill Posters' Union, died in Mercy Hospital, that city, on November 8, after an illness of about three weeks. He was 60 years old and entered the amusement business 47 years ago, at the age of 13, as a program boy with the P. T. Barnum circus. In various advertising capacities he has been successively employed by the old Frothingham theatre, the Lyceum, Academy, Dixie, Family, Strand and Poli theatres, Scranton, having been with the Poli for the last twenty-two years.

Mischell Kaufman, head of the Cameo Amusement Company, of Allentown, Pa., announces that the new Cameo theatre, being erected in that city, is about ready for dedication. It is a highly artistic motion picture theatre with a seating capacity of 700. The architecture is of the Italian Renaissance style. The house will be under the direction of Henry B. Freidman, attorney for Mr. Kaufman. It is on a site immediately adjoining the new Americus Hotel.

The equipment will include a modern ventilating system and a $15,000 Marr & Colton organ and the theatre will be very ornate throughout in its decorations. The building will include beside the theatre a number of offices and store rooms. The manager will be Michael Nederosteck, formerly manager of the Lyric theatre, Elizabeth, N. J.

Charles E. Newbaker, owner and manager of two motion picture theatres in Steelton, Pa., will be next Sheriff of Dauphine county—one of the most important counties of Pennsylvania, including in its territory the state capitol, Harrisburg.

Mr. Newbaker was elected sheriff on the Republican ticket at the general elections on November 8. He will take office the first of the new year.

Mr. Newbaker bought the Strand and the Standard theatres, Steelton, several years ago, and has been personally directing their management.

George N. Shewell, who has been secretary to Manager C. C. Pippin, of the Strand Theatre, York, since this splendid theatre was opened a year ago last summer, has been made assistant manager of the house, effective November 7. The Strand is the finest of the half dozen York theatres owned and operated by the Nathan Appell Enterprises. Mr. Shewell was formerly assistant treasurer of the Orpheum, another Appell house.

Announcement was made that the new Capitol theatre that the Comerford Amusement Company, of Scranton, is building in Pottsville, would be opened about Thanksgiving. The house, which will seat 2,800, will be managed by Sam Friedman, formerly manager of one of the Comerford houses in Scranton.

Lawrence E. Jones, assistant organist of the Rialto theatre, Allentown, married Miss Ellen J. Patten in Burlington, Vermont, on November 3.

Dr. Harry Schad, of Reading, former head of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey and Delaware, has been made chairman of the general committee which will arrange for the convention of the Grand Commandery, Knights of Pythias, of Pennsylvania, in Reading next May.

The Capitol Theatre, Reading, announces that John W. Osley, for five years organist at one of the Wilmer & Vincent theatres in Allentown, has been made organist of the Capitol, succeeding Ben Portnoff. He will be assisted by Mrs. Margaret G. James, of Reading.

R. A. Steele, of Carlisle, head of the Cumberland Valley Amusement Company, controlling the Strand theatre in that city, and other theatres in the valley, has so far recovered from injuries received recently when he was struck in the head by a falling beam, as to be able to leave the Carlisle Hospital. It was feared for a time that Mr. Steele could not recover from his injuries.

A motion picture theatre will be included in the new City Hall that is to be erected in Fleetwood, near Reading. The structure will cost $55,000 and will be constructed by the Firemen's Association of Berks County.

Mayor Hugentugler, of York, who made a strong but unsuccessful fight for Sunday theatrical and motion picture performances in that city, was defeated for re-election at the general election on November 8. Friends of the mayor, who ran on the Republican ticket, do not, however, attribute his defeat to his stand in the theatre controversy, as most of the other Republican candidates for municipal offices were beaten in a Democratic landslide.

H. Cheertcoff, who recently purchased the Strand Theatre, Lancaster, from the estate of the late George W. Bennethum, of Reading, who owned many theatres in Central Pennsylvania, took over control ofthe house on November 21. The new owner plans to make some improvements to the building.

P. R. Shenk has reopened the Millerstown theatre, Millerstown, and is operating it on the basis of which was the first picture house three nights a week.

EMPIRE LABORATORIES INC.
723 Seventh Ave., N. Y. Quality Bryant 5437-5736-2180
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING MOTION PICTURE FILM

Cleveland

THE Cleveland First National exchange won first prize in the recently concluded First National sales contest. Gradwell L. Sears, manager, and his twenty-five associates participated in the melon which was distributed here last Wednesday. Manager Sears donned a Santa Claus suit and gave out the bonuses at the end of the day. Montreal finished in second place; New Jersey, third and Salt Lake City, fourth.

Secretaries of the Film Boards of Trade of Cleveland, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati attended the M. P. T. O. of Ohio convention in Columbus. Those present were Georgia Moffett, Cleveland; Evelyn McNamee, Cincinnati; Clare Foley, Pittsburgh; Mariona McCollough, Indianapolis, and Emma Abplamalp, Buffalo.

A Film building romance will culminate on Thanksgiving Day when Mary Kelly of the Pathe organization will become the bride of Adolph Braeunig, of the First National sales force.

Arthur Engelbert, for several years with the local F B O organization, is now part of the Cleveland M-G-M family.

The general shake-up in the sales system of United Artists has resulted in several changes in this territory. Harry L. Gold, who has been manager of the Cincinnati United Artists branch, has been promoted to assistant eastern general sales manager, under Cresson E. Smith, who has charge of eastern sales. Gold has been with United Artists for seven years and has steadily mounted the ladder of promotions. William Rosenthal, for the past year manager of the Cleveland United Artists exchange, has been made a special home office representative. Miss Estelle Goldberg has been officially installed as local office manager. It is reported that the change in sales system will be to confine all sales in a territory under one head, relieving the branch manager from sales responsibilities, and leaving him free to supervise service and organization.

Nat B. Kaplan has come out of Louisville to join the local First National sales force. Kaplan was with Paramount in Louisville.

J. C. Flack has informed the Film Board of Trade that his theatre, La Grande, in Conneaut, is closed because of the death of his daughter, and that it will remain closed until further notice.

Jack Freeman, who has owned and operated the Main theatre, Conneaut, last week sold the house to G. B. Clark.

L. B. Cool, general manager of the Shea houses in this territory, is taking a week's vacation. Cool has been spending most of his time of late in Jamestown, New York, where the newest Shea house was recently built.

Harvey Day, representing Kinograms, spent a few days in the local Educational exchange last week.

Nat Charnas, circuit theatre owner of Toledo, and Miss Lillian Sheinbach marched down the aisle to the tune of the Lohengrin Wedding March last Tuesday evening, before a large gathering of friends and relatives. Phil Charnas, brother of the groom, and manager of the Southern theatre at Bucyrus, was best man. The bride's sister, Miss Sally Sheinbach, was maid of honor. Little Miss Aileen Fishman, daughter of Jesse Fistman, general manager of the Standard Film Service Company of Cleveland, and a niece of the groom, was flower girl. After an elaborate wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. Charnas left on a honeymoon in New York and Atlantic City.

Ike Friedman, formerly associated with Milton Bryer in the operation of a chain of picture houses in Akron, will spend the winter in California. He has started out on his way to the coast via New York, where he plans to be for a couple of weeks.

Meyer Fischer, president of the Fischer Film Exchange, spent the past week visiting his Cincinnati office.

Jos Schnitzer, vice president of F B O, stopped off here for a day last week on his way west.

Milton Bryer, owner and manager of the Waldorf, Ideal, People's and Winter's theatres in Akron, succeeded in completely rehabilitating the People's theatre without the loss of a single performance. Alterations were in progress for more than three weeks. Work was done in the daytime. But it was always arranged so as not to interfere with the evening show. A new floor was installed. But even this did not stop the show. One half was laid at a time, so there was never a time when the auditorium was out of commission. terior of the theatre.

New decoration throughout, new seats, new lobby, new marquee and new equipment have completely lifted the theatre from its rating as one of the oldest neighborhood houses in Akron to a place among the most modern and attractive.

Cincinnati is in first place in the Standard Film Service Company's Bookers Contest, which opened November 6th and continues until December 31. Cleveland is second. Pittsburgh is third, and Detroit, fourth. Everybody's straining hard for the coveted first place in the finals, and for the cash prize that goes with it.

William Raynor has resigned as manager of Reade's Hippodrome, and has gone to Buffalo to manage the La Fayette theatre. Raynor has been manager of the Hippodrome for the past five years. During that time he has built up a large clientele, with consistently high class entertainment. His successor has not yet been named. However, Henry Dykeman, manager of Keith's East 105th St. theatre, is temporarily handling both houses.

Norman F. Thom has leased the Opera House at Beverly, Ohio, from R. P. Altwater. Thom is a showman of twenty-seven years' experience, and is rapidly incorporating some of his policies into the management of the house. Thom is well known all along the Ohio river as a show-boat man. He owns the Princess Floating Theatre, which is now in winter quarters in Beverly. The Opera House is owned by the Oddfellows, who have plans under way for entire renovation and redecoration of the in-

Baltimore

THE Garden Theatre, a 2,500 seater, here, has been purchased by the James L. Kernan Company, Fred C. Shanberger, president, from the Whitehurst Theatrical Interests for a price said to be over $1,000,000.

The Kernan Company now operates the Maryland and Auditorium theatres and the Kernan Hotel. The Garden will be closed about December 1, to be entirely remodeled to reopen Monday, December 26, with Keith-Albee vaudeville playing there instead of at the Maryland, an 1,800 seater as fomerly. The Garden has been playing a feature picture, a comedy, news weekly and cartoon and five acts of family vaudeville.

The Maryland will then either have a stock company or legitimate stage shows every week according to present plans.

Fred Sarr, formerly manager of the Rialto theatre, Washington, D. C., has succeeded Leo Garner, as salesman for United Artists.

A charter has just been given the Central Amusement Company, Inc., Hopewell, Va., and a general movie business and a movie playhouse can be conducted by the company now. Those in the company include: C. W. Mays, East Radford, president; Josephine E. Harris, vice president; J. A. G. Simpson, secretary and W. F. Harris, treasurer and manager. The latter three are of Petersburg, Va.

Robert F. Sisk, New York motion picture and theatrical critic for the Baltimore Sun and publicist for the New York Theatre Guild, spent some time in Baltimore receently.

Sherry's, a new night club cabaret under the direction of E. A. Sherwood, was opened Thursday night, November 10, on the roof of the Stanley Theatre here, with the original Wardman Park Hotel Orchestra directed by Moe Bear.

A new theatre is to be built on Seventh Street, Washington, D. C., by E. A. Lichtman, for colored people. Rosalia Theatre in that city was bought recently by Mr. Lichtman, that making seven under his control.

Harry Cluster, proprietor of the Crystal Theatre here, president of Operators' Union No. 1 and Business Manager of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Maryland, Inc., is seriously ill at his home on the Reisterstown Road. He has suffered a severe nervous and physical breakdown due to overwork.

The Broadway Theatre, Washington, D. C., is closed now and is being renovated.

The Garden Theatre, Cumberland, Md., has been reopened.

Colby Harriman, formerly with the Loew Interests as stage director for Washington and Baltimore, who left that company to go with the Stanley Crandall Company, has returned to the Loew organization.

The Little Film Theatre being built on North Howard Street here by the Motion Picture Guild of America, will open to the public, Thursday, December 1. The seating capacity is 280 persons. The length of the show will be two and a half hours with fifteen minute intermissions, during which cigarettes and coffee will be served. Prices will be 35 cents in the afternoons and 50 cents at night. Music will be furnished by a stringed quartette. The opening production will be the Paramount picture "Stark Love."

Stewart A. Pike, formerly assistant manager at Crandall's Tivoli Theatre, Washington, D. C., has been succeeded by James Landers formerly with Balaban and Katz, Chicago.

M. Teney is now operating the Arcadia Theatre, Monterey, Va., formerly operated by K. H. Trimble.

Caught in the accident at Tate Field, Richmond, Va., recently when a stand collapsed while a football game was progressing, Stanley Hand, Pathe salesman, had his back and right leg injured.

Tom Gannon has been succeeded as orchestra leader at Loew's Palace Theatre, Washington, D. C., by Harry Borjas and Claude Burroughs, formerly at the Palace, has succeeded Mr. Borjas at the Columbia.

Ike Slukzker, connected with theatres operated in Waynesboro, Pa., and Hagerstown, Md., recently had to undergo an operation in a hospital in Altoona, Pa.

New York & New Jersey

THE formal public opening of the new B. S. Moss Madison theatre, Myrtle and Wyckoff avenues took place Thursday evening, November 17th, before a large attendance of prominent Brooklyn officials and residents. Bringing to this neighborhood everything that is modern in a playhouse, the Madison's premiere must be looked upon as one of the most important events in Brooklyn's amusement circles in recent years. Following the usual dedicatory ceremonies, the audience enjoyed the presentation of the feature picture "Underworld" and a program of Keith-Albee vaudeville.

The Madison will have a split-week policy changing programs each Monday and Thursday. There will be offered Keith-Albee vaudeville and a feature photoplay, with other film novelties each half week. Performances will run from 1 to 5 and from 7 to 11 p. m. daily. The films will be shown before and after the vaudeville bill, or twice at each performance. Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays—shows will be continuous 1 to 11 p. m.

The Madison theatre seats three thousand people on two floors. It is built on the most modern technical lines for comfort and efficiency. The sight lines are scientifically planned to give a clear and unobstructed view of the stage from every part of the house. A large refrigerating ventilating and air-conditioning system has been installed in this theatre. The stage is large, completely equipped and adequate for every kind of theatrical production, no matter what the scale. There is a rising orchestra pit, with separate rising platforms for the organ, piano and for the orchestra itself. A great organ has been installed and a concert organist will be a permanent member of the house staff. The projection room embodies the latest improvements in the art and science of movie exhibition. In every respect except that of location, this is a theatre "of Broadway."

It is reported along film row that Morris Kutinsky has not purchased the Franklin theatre, Nutley, N. J., as stated recently in trade papers.

The Motion Picture Salesmen will hold their Ball at the Hotel Commodore, Nov. 26. Sol Trauner and Meyer Solomon are in charge of arrangements.

Jack Goldstein, Commonwealth New Jersey salesman and editor of the Motion Picture Salesman Bulletin, is preparing copy for his first Fall issue. "Ippish," who served last season as his "stick correspondent," will be retained among the present staff, which also includes Jack Ellis, F B O salesman. Mr. Ellis has already written one of his famous poems.

Carl Sonin is the new assistant manager of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's local exchange. According to further report, Dave Gross and Syd Strauss, both being connected with M-G-M, have handed in their resignations.

Fine Arts Booking Office, theatrical enterprises, 745 Seventh avenue, managers and producers, is the inscription on the new card which either Al Moley, Ed. Seider or Paul Nathanson will hand out the next time you meet. Seider and Moley, along with their new partner Nathanson, have lately gone in for a "higher type of presentation" for motion picture theatres in this zone.

Keith's Riviera theatre, St. Johns Place and Kingston avenue, Brooklyn, recently taken over by the downtown Brooklyn theatre owner, Werba, is reported to have been leased to Jack Linder for Sunday concerts. The rest of the week the house will be devoted to legitimate shows.

Leon Rosenblatt returned to his offices at 745 Seventh avenue this week after being confined to his home for several days with a bad attack of grippe and found a pile of theatre-organization matter awaiting his personal attention.

Harry Harris, New York City chain theatre owner, has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

Loew's new Corona theatre opened Thursday, Nov. 17.

E. Thornton Kelley, operator of the Fort Lee theatres of New Jersey, was in town this week on a film shopping trip.

Eddie Canter is still in the Lebanon Hospital, slowly recovering, it is hoped, from his recent illness.

Theatre owner, Ravitz, opened his Arlington theatre, New York City, this week. Manager Strauss will be in charge.

It had been reported that the Fox theatre interests had taken over the Windsor theatre, upper New York City, for Sunday concerts. It is now said that they have abandoned the proposition and turned it over to another.

After some remodeling the Sayville theatre, Sayville, L. I., has reopened.

Herman Starr is now connected with the Joelson-Suchman circuit.

Edward Simons is managing Irving Lesser's Capitol theatre, Bayside. Manager Mayer, of the same circuit, is now at Great Neck.

San Francisco

A PROPOSED ordinance providing for inspection of moving picture machines and theatrical projection apparatus received labor approval at a recent meeting of the San Francisco Labor Council. The measure was unanimously endorsed according to Secretary John A. O'Connell.

It provides for the appointment of a part-time inspector to check and approve all moving picture machines, spotlights and similar apparatus, and to see that no fire hazards are created in the installation and operation of such machines.

Manager Louis Reichert has moved his Tiffany product and office equipment from the corner of Turk and Leavenworth across the street to the offices formerly occupied by Educational at 288 Turk Street. The change is occasioned because of the great necessity for more room and film vaults.

Work on the new theatre at Fort Bragg for George Mann is nearing completion. The new addition to the circuit will be known as the State Theatre. Projection room equipment, together with reflector lamps, is being installed.

Finishing touches are now being put on the new theatre for the Kinema Circuit in Santa Clara. The house will be known as the Casa Grande, a Spanish name for a theatre of the Spanish type.

M. D. Caldwell is the new owner of the Strand Theatre, Colusa.

Mrs. Jack Delacy, Educational biller, is in the Mt. Zion Hospital where she is recuperating from an operation for appendicitis.

Walter S. Rand, formerly with M-G-M in Washington, D. C., resigned his position there and is now on the road in this territory for F B O.

J. Frank Shae, formerly connected with Famous Players-Lasky in the northeastern division, is now district manager for F B O.

The Diamond Theatre is now closed owing to the illness of the owner.

Hustler, manager of the Capitol Theatre, Sacramento, was a visitor here recently.

Les Weir, division manager for Pathe-De Mille, recently arrived in San Francisco from New York.

Miss Nadine Amos, secretary to Mr. Parsons, has been ill at home for several days but is back on the job again.

George Mann, who is building a new theatre at Fort Bragg, California, has placed an order for new seats.

Popular Pat Partridge is attending the Famous Players-Lasky Managers' convention which is being held at the Drake Hotel, Chicago.

Phil Weinstein's San Francisco exchange now holds second place in the rating of the Columbia exchanges of the west, having jumped from the fourth place where it stood recently.

Kansas City

THE Uptown building, which adjoins the Uptown theatre, Broadway and Valentine road, Kansas City, the theatre being owned by Universal, was purchased by Universal this week. Universal probably will move its Kansas City offices from the Davidson building to the Uptown building. The Uptown, which will open New Year's Eve, will be the first run outlet for Universal.

A "sandwich" or in-between lease on the northwest corner of the new Loew's Midland theatre building, Kansas City, was purchased this week by Mrs. William H. Chapman for $46,500 cash. A. C. Bilicke was the original lessee, his claim still calling for a claim for $12,000 a year. The lease will pay a net income of $3,000 a year for the next eighty years.

The following changes in theatres and new houses in the Kansas City territory have been announced: Patrick McGee, formerly of Oklahoma City, has succeeded W. C. Watson as manager of the Missouri theatre, St. Joseph, Mo.; the Airdome theatre, Haven, Kas., will be disposed of, according to the Haven Community Building, owners; the Pearl theatre, Alta Vista, Kas., has been leased by Mike Mickael; new scenery will be installed in the De Luxe theatre, Bucklin, Kas., by the Madden Scenery Company of Kansas City; a new screen is being installed in the Meade theatre, Kingman, Kas.; a site in Palmyra, Mo., has been purchased by C. C. Lewelleen, owner of the Savoy theatre in that town, and a modern theatre will be constructed; a $10,000 Kilgen organ is being installed in the Colonial theatre, St. Joseph, Mo., according to Morgan C. Ames, in charge of Universal amusement houses in St. Joseph.

The Kansas City First National branch is preparing for a "Bill Warner Week," which will come in Decemeber.

W. E. Truog, assistant sales director for Universal, returned to Kansas City from a business trip to St. Louis.

A. J. Moeller of the American Cinema Association was a Kansas City visitor.

M. C. Smith, Warner Bros.' branch manager, was hustling in the territory this week, as were Bill Warner and Tom Byerle of First National.

Arthur Cole, Paramount branch manager, and R. C. LiBeau, district manager, returned to Kansas City from a meeting of managers and district managers of Paramount in Chicago.

C. A. "Red" Jones, Tiffany branch manager, was busy in the territory last week.

Florida

JOHN B. CARROLL, general manager of the Consolidated Amusements of Tampa, is in New York on a business trip. All of the big down town houses of Tampa are owned and operated by Consolidated in conjunction with the Publix circuit.

The new Palm theatre at Sulphur Springs opened Armistice day. The house is operated with a combination policy. A feature picture running about an hour and a stage performance of about forty-five minutes, given by a stock musical tab company, makes up the program.

Manager George B. Pack announces the opening of the vaudeville season at the Victory, Tampa, for Thanksgiving day. The house will use the usual bill of five Keith acts and a feature picture for the last three days of each week, three shows daily at prices of 50c for the matinee and 60c for the night performances.

Charles P. Lester, manager of the Jacksonville Universal exchange, was elected head of the City conference, an organization of four local football teams, for this season.

The Palace Theatre opened Sunday night, November 13, for a vaudeville season.

Bolivar Hyde arrived in Jacksonville this week to assist Mr. Clark in managing the Palace and the Temple. Mr. Hyde is an experienced theatre man, having had service with Famous Players and Warner Brothers. He has been stationed in Daytona and St. Petersburg.

After undergoing extensive remodeling at a cost of approximately $25,000, and changing its policy from regular program pictures to outstanding productions of the road-show class, the Republic Theatre, Jacksonville, re-opened Thursday night, November 10th.

John L. Crovo, newly appointed manager of the Republic and Imperial, both under the direction of E. J. Sparks Enterprises, has taken over the duties, relieving Jesse L. Clark, who returns to his old post as manager of the Palace Theatre.

The Pheil theatre in St. Petersburg is the first theatre in this territory to show the new "sound pictures." The house is using space in many of the papers of this territory to announce the opening.

The "West Shore Theatre Bulletin" is the name of manager John E. Campbell's new house organ. The little paper is a nifty. Printed on enamel stock, with four 6 by 9 size pages. The first page is devoted to the weekly program. The next three are given over to pure reading matter, two columns to the page, mostly breezy talks about local people, events and community patter. The news feature is going to make the people look for the Bulletin and it should do much to keep up interest in John's little show shop in Port Tampa City.

Denver

THE movieless Sunday in Holly, Colo., is now a reality after a long and bitter struggle between R. E. Wood of the Isis theatre and local reformers. The town council passed the ordinance at its second reading last Wednesday night and it became a law. The vote was five to one.

The local Orpheum theatre will inaugurate its new policy providing a feature picture with the regular vaudeville programmes next Saturday night, November 19th, 1927. On the same night the new Denver Theatre, a Publix 3,000-seat theatre said to have cost $2,000,000, is scheduled to open.

Tom Walsh, former Pathe employee in the Kansas City office of that company, is in Denver working for United Artists as a salesman.

Sam H. Cain, Universal branch manager, has returned to his desk after an extensive sales trip in the northern part of the Denver district.

Mrs. Blanche Tyo, owner and manager of the Tyo theatre of Wray, Colo., spent several days visiting exchanges along the row during the week.

James R. Granger, General Sales Manager for Fox, is scheduled to arrive in Denver for a visit with the local branch office of his company the latter part of the week. He will arrive about November 17th.

R. J. Garland, branch manager for M-G-M, is in Nebraska calling on exhibitors. He will return early next week.

The Movietone made a very successful first appearance in Denver at the Aladdin theatre during the past week. It is held over for a second week.

Mrs. W. R. Logan, owner of the Rex theatre of Basin, Wyo., was also seen along film row.

Report is out that Englewood, Colo., out at the edge of Denver's city limits, will have a new theatre in opposition to Tom Sullivan's theatre. The new amusement house will have a seating capacity of 600 and will be named the Gothic theatre.

Minneapolis

A RECENT visitor in Minneapolis was C. H. Macgowan, general manager of Columbia Pictures, who has been making a two weeks' trip through the middle west territory.

Visitors from Milwaukee at the recent Minnesota-Wisconsin football game at Minneapolis included Charles Trampe of Midwest Films, Frank De Lorenzo of Columbia and Morrie Anderson of Celebrated Films.

L. W. Liddle, owner of the Majestic theatre at Lake Benton, Minn., passed away the latter part of October after a brief illness. The theatre, which had been operated for many years by Mr. Liddle, will now be managed by his son.

The Modern Woodmen of America entertained the citizens of Rushmore, Minn., with a free motion picture show recently.

W. E. Dickson's new theatre at Lemmon, S. D., will not be ready for opening until the end of this month. The theatre will have a stage large enough for the playing of road shows.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Larson, who sold their Star theatre at Crofton, Neb., to L. E. Ritts, have purchased the theatre at Lennox, S. D.

J. C. Arnold expects soon to announce the opening date for his new Photo-Play theatre at Rollette, N. D. It is expected that the new building will soon be completed.

Salt Lake City

THE American Theatre, under the management of Eddie Diamond, has inaugurated a change of policy regarding the opening night of each week which will now be on Fridays rather than Wednesdays.

Louis Marcus, head of the Louis Marcus Enterprises, and owner of the Capitol Theatre here, returned last week from Chicago and New York, where he has been in attendance at the Paramount convention in Chicago, as well as attending to other business matters in New York.

The Victory Theatre here, which has changed its policy eliminating the Ackerman Harris vaudeville, will present a high grade of first run pictures, it is announced.

O. Wog, manager of the local Paramount exchange, is back from the convention held in Chicago, which he attended recently.

Seth D. Perkins, District Manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is still visiting the Salt Lake exchange. Local Manager L. C. Wingham is in the office for a few days.

The Pantages Theatre of this city, under the management of Grant Pemberton, has a very attractive electrical lobby display arranged which flashes in colored lights some of the special picture attractions.

Special Home Office Representative Russell Egner left the local Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer office a few days ago for Denver, and is expected to return shortly to the Salt Lake branch.

District Manager R. S. Ballantyne of the Pathe Corporation, spent a short time in this city en route to Denver this week.

L. L. Savage, District Representative for Pathe, was in the local office last week.

O. W. Helwig, District Auditor for Pathe, is spending the next two weeks in the Salt Lake office.

The Universal Chief Traveling Auditor, W. K. Lendon is in this city for a couple of weeks.

The Salt Lake Associated First National exchange, under the management of W. F. Gordon, has won the McGurk Drive for the Western Division, having competed with all offices west of Chicago. This is the third time during the few years of Gordon's management at this exchange that similar prizes have been won.

J. D. McGowan, Home Office Representative for First National, enjoyed a visit at the local exchange last week.

J. E. Ryan, exhibitor visitor from Brigham City, Utah, is spending a few days here.

Manager Clyde H. Messinger is still in the Southern Utah territory with his Educational product.

John Rugar of the Egyptian, Orpheum and American Theatres at Park City, Utah, was attending to his booking along the Row here last week.

The local Fox office is being visited by Traveling Auditor Tom Cleary. Manager Chas. Walker is in Idaho at the present time. Representative George Cloward has been assigned the Montana territory since joining forces with the local Fox staff.

While doing some work at the Hub Theatre here a short time ago, former manager I. E. Losee had his leg broken and is now in a local hospital.

Among exhibitor visitors seen along the Row this week are: The Peery Brothers of the beautiful Egyptian and Ogden theatres of Ogden, Utah; George Lindsey of the Star theatres at Eureka and Payson, Utah; J. H. Miller of the Cameo Theatre at American Fork, Utah, and Reno Mennott of the Amusement Hall at Scipio, Utah.

Manager E. E. Harris of the local Columbia office is in Idaho on a several weeks' trip.

Manager Harry Stern of the United Artists exchange in this city, is making a trip through Northern Utah.

After having made a trip into Wyoming, Fred Lind, manager here for F B O, is back to his office here.

District Manager Able Davis of the Tiffany Productions, recently left the Salt Lake branch for his Denver headquarters. Office Manager E. M. Gibson here, is spending some time in the Idaho branch at present.

Philadelphia

WHILE in Philadelphia to attend the Penn-Harvard game, Joseph P. Kennedy, president of F B O, Ted O'Leary, manager of the Boston office, and Eddie Moore, also of Boston, dropped in at several Vine Street exchanges. Following their visit here they made a short stay in Atlantic City.

The Dixie Theatre, Philadelphia, which was operated for some years by the late Jake Wolfe, has been sold by his estate to Louis Rubin.

The lease of the Allen Theatre, Philadelphia, has been transferred from L. Casanova to A. Shulman, who has taken over the operation of the house.

Leon Behal and A. Gerton have opened a new short subject exchange at 1333 Vine Street, to be known as the Philadelphia Film Exchange. Mr. Behal, who was an exchange salesman, has been a prominent figure along Vine Street for several years. He was for some time connected with the De Luxe sales force.

Bill Clark, short subject booker for the Stanley Company of America, was married recently and left with his bride for a honeymoon trip to Bermuda. On the trip he and Mrs. Clark were assigned a stateroom next to that of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marcus, also newlyweds from this city. Mr. Marcus is sales manager for F B O.

W. E. Smith, district manager, and Percy A. Bloch, branch manager, of Paramount-Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, recently returned from Chicago, where they attended a convention of Paramount branch managers.

The Roxy Theatre, of Maple Shade, N. J., a new venture of the Roxy Amusement Company, is now playing to daily showings.

The Opera House at Red Lion, Pa., has passed to the management of C. E. Bull.

The National Theatre Supply Company has moved into new quarters at 1315-17 Vine Street, the building formerly occupied by the Fox Film Corporation. The new quarters give the company the largest display space available to any accessory distributing organization in this city.

The Elmer Theatre, Philadelphia, has been taken over by L. Casanova from Elmer Tulman. Mr. Casanova has also taken the Elk's Theatre from C. F. Kline.

The Embassy, Lewiston, a new 800 seat house, has been opened under the management of Harold D. Cohen. The National Theatre at Lewistown, it is announced, has been closed for an indefinite period, while the Grand Theatre at Centralia is closed temporarily.

St. Louis

THE St. Louis Theatre, Grand and Delmar Boulevards, St. Louis, Mo., will celebrate its second anniversary the week of November 20 with a special show.

Thomas McKean, manager of Film Booking Offices in St. Louis, who is one of the squarest-shooting and popular film men in St. Louis, must be forgiven should he have appeared a trifle chesty the past several days, for on Thursday, November 10, the stork presented to Mrs. McKean at the Liberty Hospital, St. Louis, a pair of big boys —Thomas Harry and George Warren McKean. The youngsters are named respectively after their father and grandfather. The mother and babes are doing finely.

Joe Schnitzer, vice-president and general sales manager for F B O, was a visitor to St. Louis on November 12.

Edward Valentine of Boston has replaced Max Fader as assistant manager for the St. Louis F B O office. Valentine is a dandy chap and is certain to make a big hit with the exhibitors of this territory.

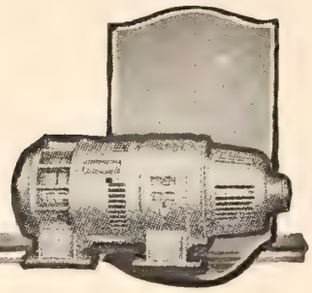
Buck Lewis formerly of Covington, Ky., has taken over the Lyric Theatre at Lebanon, Mo.

Don F. Portis has transferred the Majestic theatre, LePanto, Ark., to I. W. Jackson.

Ed. Lowry, master of ceremonies for Skouras Bros. Ambassador theatre, St. Louis, Mo., has the distinction of being the first person to sing Irving Berlin's latest song.

The Uptown Theatre, Maplewood, Mo., was reopened on October 29. W. J. Colanna is the manager. The Uptown was formerly known as the Marshall Theatre.

The St. Louis Motion Picture Operators Union gave their annual ball on the night of November 16th at the Arcadia ballroom, 3517 Olive street. A very unique beauty contest for girls was arranged as a feature of this affair. Prizes totaling $200 were awarded the four girls who made the best appearance in men's attire. A number of pretty manettes also entered the contest.



Visitors of the past week included Mrs. I. W. Rodgers of Cairo, Ill., and J. DeFrenne of Mexico, Mo.

The Hacket Construction Company has been awarded the contract for the construction of a motion picture theatre at Third and Francis streets in St. Joseph, Mo., for the Glenwood Realty Company. The house will be one story with balcony and cover a site 40 by 107 feet. It will cost about $30,000.

Projection

Optics, Electricity, Practical Ideas & Advice

Inquiries and Comments

Good Lenses Also Necessary

THE reflector arc lamp for projecting movies has been, by this time, fairly well straightened out so that little enough is heard of the faults which, earlier in its life, gave everyone considerable food for thought.

In a way, it is not altogether fair to say that these faults were those of the reflector arc lamp, because the same lamps, which formerly were blamed for all manner of things, are today operating satisfactorily in theatres with no changes having been made in the lamps themselves.

One of the principal sources of trouble encountered in the early application of the mirror arc was that of poor screen definition. Equipments which before then had been operating satisfactorily, were observed to give poorly defined pictures after an exchange of lamps had been made. Since nothing but the projector lamps had been changed, what was more natural than to lay the blame for poor definition upon the new reflector arc lamp?

An Old Fallacy

There is a firmly rooted conviction in the minds of most projectionists, and even in the minds of designers and manufacturers of projection equipment, that the light source and the optical equipment immediately related to it exercise a powerful effect upon the definition of the picture image as projected upon the screen.

The writer distinctly recalls the insistence with which one projector manufacturer tried to make him believe that it was possible for the condenser system to give either a sharply defined or a poorly defined picture, depending upon the type of condenser and the manner in which it was adjusted.

Nothing could be farther from the truth because it is absolutely impossible for the condenser system, regardless of its type, to exert the least bit of influence upon screen definition.

Another equipment manufacturer and no small number of projectionists tried to convince the writer that the type of light source used for projection could either make or mar picture definition and, in support of their claims, pointed to the Mazda lamp projection outfit as being a good example of a faulty light source, as the optic system of a motion picture projector can be divided into two principal working parts, each of which differs entirely from the other.

On the one hand we have the illuminating system as comprised of the light source and its condenser system. It is the sole purpose of the illuminating system to illuminate the film as it passed before the aperture and, in this manner, render it as bright as possible for projection later to the screen.

In other words, the illuminating system prepares the film for projection but it does not in any way influence actual projection of the picture.

The film, when so illuminated, really acts as a separate light source which is distributing its light over only a very narrow angle—an angle which, generally, is not much larger than that subtended by the projection lens.

When the illuminating system has lighted the film in this manner, its work is done, and the real work of projection is then taken up by the second part of the projection optic system.

The second part of the system might be termed the projection system, because its only function is to reproduce on a distant screen a magnified image of the brightly lighted film.

If there is anything wrong with the quality of the projected picture, the trouble, quite logically, should be sought out at the place where the real projection occurs; i. e., at the projection lens.

The projection lens alone is accountable for picture quality, because its only excuse for existence is the faithful reproduction of the illuminated film.

Condenser Affects Evenness of Illumination

There is only one way by which the appearance of the screen picture can be affected by the illuminating system and that is the item of even screen illumination.

If the condenser, or illuminating system, does not evenly illuminate the film, the projection will form an image which will also be unevenly lighted since it cannot correct deficiencies in the appearance of the film.

How It Happens

It still remains to be explained how an exchange of illuminating systems resulted in a change from a satisfactory condition (in point of picture definition), to one which was entirely unsatisfactory.

Since the illuminating system has nothing to do with picture quality, why did both the reflector arc and Mazda lamp system fall down in this respect?

The reason for the failure in this respect rested in the projection lens, and came about in this fashion:

With the old style of arc lamp, quarter-size projection lenses measuring 1¾ inches in diameter were the rule. Now, a quarter-size lens having a small aperture, and working at relatively slow speeds, has, in consequence, excellent defining properties.

Both the reflector arc and the Mazda lamp are on the same basis, optically, in that they both require half-size, or 2½-inch diameter lenses for best results. Herein lies the secret of their efficiency.

In order to make these systems effective in their operation, it was necessary, therefore, to replace the highly corrected quarter-size lenses with half-size lenses of the same focal length range. These half-size lenses, by virtue of their greater lens area (twice that of the quarter-size), had twice the light collecting power but, at the same time, were not as highly corrected over their entire surface as were the smaller lenses.

The proof for the above lies in the fact that it remained for manufacturers to place a lens on the market which was highly corrected over their entire surface, with the result that when this lens was used in conjunction with the reflector arc, thoroughly satisfactory results were obtained.

The only element in a projection lens which can affect the screen intensity is that of transmission factor. High grade projection lenses do not vary much in this respect—certainly not enough so that the difference in screen illumination is readily apparnt to the eye.

Carolina Newest Link in Publix-Saenger Chain

The Carolina Theatre, Greensboro, N. C., newest link in the rapidly growing chain of Publix-Saenger Theatres of North Carolina, was formally opened to the public Monday evening, October 31st.

The present policy of the Carolina calls for Keith vaudeville and de luxe pictures every Monday and Tuesday, with a completely new program Friday and Saturday.

Many exhibitors and exchangemen from

Standard
VAUDEVILLE
for
Motion Picture Presentation
THE FALLY MARKUS AGENCY
Astor Theatre Building
N. W. Cor. 45th St. & Broadway
Lackawanna 7876

STOCK PROGRAMS
PROGRAM COVERS
For
Moving Picture Houses
Joseph Hoover & Sons Company
Market and 49th Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

various sections of the state attended the opening, the Charlotte group including Mr. and Mrs. Walter Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Bryan, R. L. McShane, Charles White, Warren Irwin, Harry Hardy, James Hobbs, Jas. Reynolds, Dean House, W. P. White, John Fuller and Ray Gardner.

Others from out of town were S. S. Stevenson, Henderson, N. C.; Al. W. Barber, Danville, Va.; Don Nichols, Durham, N. C.; O. R. Browne, Raleigh, N. C., and E. W. Street, Salisbury, N. C.

Foremost in the groups of important officials of the holding and operating companies who combined to give Greensboro the Carolina Theatre were T. G. Leitch, major factor in the National Amusement Corporation; R. B. Wilby, of Atlanta, Ga., prime executive in Publix-Saenger chain in North Carolina, and H. F. Kincey of Greensboro, general manager of the Publix-Saenger chain in North Carolina.

Pantages Theatre Opened in Birmingham, Ala.

Before 2,600 enthusiastic theatregoers, Pan-Ala Amusement Company's new Pantages Theatre opened in Birmingham, Ala., Monday evening, October 31st. Long before the appointed hour of six p.m., all seats had been taken and isles filled with interested throngs anxiously waiting the rise of the curtain on the stage of the old Loew's Bijou Theatre, now known as the Pantages, where vaudeville and moving pictures of the highest order will be presented.

Situated on Third Avenue and 17th Street, the newly remodeled house, owned and operated by the Pan-Ala Amusement Company, bespeaks of Spanish style.

The foyer gives the impression of a Spanish patio, the walls inlaid with finest Tennessee Formosa marble and the floors inlaid with rubble random faience tiye, bright colors predominating.

All decorations blend to convey a Spanish mode, including the especially selected carpets, woven with scarlet and black patterns reminiscent of Seville. Brilliant embroideries adorn the reception room walls and red velour curtains with gold galloun bands for the spacious stage are outstandingly beautiful.

Pantages is in a true sense a Birmingham theatre, having been remodeled, decorated and otherwise equipped by Birmingham concerns, with the exception of the projection booth equipment and Kilgen organ, which were furnished by the National Theatre Supply Company, Atlanta, also stage scenery.

Hundreds of congratulatory telegrams and letters from theatre colleagues, officials and stars were received by the management of the Pan-Ala Company, whose officers are: Hunter Smith, president; Brown Parkes, first vice-president; Joe Steed, second vice-president, and J. W. Andrews, secretary.

Illing Has New 500 Seater in Mississippi

Eugene W. Illing's new theatre will open early in December and will add another motion picture theatre to the rapidly growing list of first-class small town houses in the Gulf Coast section. The new Illing will cater largely to the Winter residents of Ocean Springs.

The house will seat 500 on the ground floor, with approximately 200 balcony seats.

Bids Open on Tennessee Theatre Project

Bids are now open on the $1,000,000 Tennessee Theatre which will be built by local capital for lease to Tennessee Enterprises, Inc., a subsidiary of Publix Theatres Corporation. The project includes a five-story office building. It is expected that contracts for the construction will be let during the week.

Vallen Opens New York City Warehouse

The Vallen Electrical Company, Akron, Ohio, have just announced the opening of a new warehouse in New York City, where a complete line of Vallen equipment will be kept on hand.

This new warehouse will facilitate deliveries for the Vallen Electrical Company.

Kentucky Theatre Permit Issued

A permit was issued last week for the erection of the Uptown Theatre at Bardstown Road and Eastern Parkway, Louisville, Ky. The theatre is to cost $75,000 and has been leased to the Fourth Avenue Amusement Company. It will be used for Vitaphone and motion pictures.

This Emblem Means Hotel Headquarters in Hollywood

Each year the Hollywood Plaza Hotel provides headquarters for the film executives and artists of the world.

It is because of good food, good service and good everything that this host of guests stop here.

Conveniently located, attractive in surroundings — homelike — these are other features that appeal.

THE HOLLYWOOD PLAZA HOTEL

Vine and Hollywood Blvd.

Hollywood, Calif.

RADIO-A-MAT PATENTED

TALK from your screen WITH your quickly TYPEWRITTEN MESSAGES.

WHITE, AMBER or GREEN.

Accept no substitute.

RADIO-MAT SLIDE CO. NEW YORK

IS THE STATIONERY OF THE SCREEN

Coming: Booking Guide and Studio Directory

Pass the Public into your THEATRE

WITH Precision -- Ease and Smartness!

GOLD SEAL TICKET REGISTER PRODUCTS

Standard Box Office Protection

15TH YEAR OF FAITHFUL SERVICE

AUTOMATIC TICKET REGISTER CORPORATION

Manufacturers of Ticket Registers and Tickets that Fit

723 SEVENTH AVE.

USED WHEREVER TICKETS ARE SOLD

NEW YORK CITY

GOLD SEAL

UNIFORMS FOR HOUSE ATTACHES

COSTUMES FOR STAGE PRESENTATIONS

BROOKS 1437 B'way N. Y. City

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN CO. 345 W. 39TH ST. NEW YORK

Studio Briefs

William Powell and Ivy Harris, players; H. D'Abbadie D'Arrast, director; and Nunnelly Johnson, Louise Long and Ethel Doherty, writers, have entered into new contracts with Paramount.

First National has closed contracts for the screen rights to "The Heart of a Princess," by Maxine Alton.

Clarence Burton is playing a role in "Chicago," now being made at the De Mille studio. Virginia Bradford has also been cast.

"The Last Command" will be the definite title of Paramount's new Jannings vehicle.

Creighton Hale has been cast for "The Divine Woman," a new M-G-M picture.

The technical staff of the De Mille film, "The Leopard Lady," including Leigh Smith, assistant director, Stephen Garsson, art director, and John Mescall, chief cameraman.

In Tiffany-Stahl's "Streets of Shanghai" Pauline Starke will co-star with Kenneth Harlan. Margaret Livingston, Eddie Gribbon and Jason Robards will support.

Victor Schertzinger is preparing to film "Honky Tonk," a new Paramount production.

William Powell will be seen in Paramount's "The Last Command."

In an effort to get caught up with his schedule, "Big Boy" is working at the Educational studio without any customary periods between pictures.

Edward Connelly will impersonate Anatole France, French literary artist, in M-G-M's "The Divine Woman."

Doris Hill will appear in "Tillie's Punctured Romance," the forthcoming Paramount-Christie comedy.

Tiffany has completed the picturization of "Wild Geese."

"The Battle of the Century" is the latest Hal Roach comedy for M-G-M offering Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy.

Gary Cooper will be the male lead in "Doomsday," a Paramount picture.

Sally Rand has joined the cast of "Gallagher," now being produced for Pathe.

Myrtle Stedman, Claude King, Hal Craig and Helen Lynch have been assigned roles in Paramount's "The Jazz Orphan."

Josephine Borio, George Goforth and Joseph Mari will appear in "The Cossacks," a new M-G-M production.

The new Fox Films vehicle for George O'Brien and Lois Moran has been definitely titled "Sharpshooters."

Norma Shearer has begun work on a new picture, as yet untitled, based on an original by A. P. Younger. Della Peterson, a find of the star's, William Bakewell and Margaret Landis have roles.

Lane Chandler will play opposite Esther Ralston in her next Paramount vehicle which Frank Tuttle will direct.

A bevy of Cameo beauties appear in "Rest Day," a new Monte Collins comedy for Educational.

Jack Luden will portray the chief role in "Under the Tonto Rim," which Paramount will film shortly.

Jean Arthur will be the feminine lead in F B O's "Wallflowers," to be produced by Leo Meehan.

Billie Copland and Leon McAuley, newcomers, are acting in Christie comedies for Paramount.

Babe London is seen in "Scared Silly," a new Educational comedy.

Fred Kohler will be the heavy in Paramount's "Honky Tonk."

Percy Hilburn will photograph "The Cossacks" for M-G-M. Dave Howard, Charles Stallings, A. Tolubuf and General Theodore Lodi are on the technical staff.

Anita Garvin and Marjorie Moore supply the feminine atmosphere in Lupino Lane's new Educational comedy.

Magnolia, a three-year old colored girl, has been signed by Mack Sennett to play in the "Smith Family" series for Pathe.

Herman J. Mankiewicz wrote the titles for "The Gay Defender," a Paramount picture.

Jack Holt, Alice Day and Hobart Bosworth have been signed for William Haines' new M-G-M vehicle.

Recently added to the cast of Pathe's "The Leopard Lady" were Hedwig Reicher, Sylvia Ashton, Richard Alexander and James Bradbury.

Director James Tinling has just placed "Soft Living," a new Madge Bellamy film, into production at the Fox Films studio. John Mack Brown is the male lead.

Lydia Yeamans Titus, who has a role in Tiffany-Stahl's "Night Life," has the distinction of having been elected, more than 30 years ago, an honorary member of the Elks, the first woman to be so honored.

"Robert Flaherty's Southern Skies" is the new title chosen for a forthcoming M-G-M production hitherto called "Shadows of the South Seas."

"Roulette," the story recently acquired by First National, will serve as a stella vehicle for Richard Barthelmess.

Columbia has finished shooting on "The Warning." Norman Trevor was a last-minute addition to the cast.

Sylvia Ashton has been cast for a part in "Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath," now being made by First National.

Mack Sennett is personally cutting "The Romance of a Bathing Girl" (tentative), which he finished last week.

"The Little Snob" has just been finished at the Warner studio. Frances Lee, Bobby Vernon's leading lady, was loaned for a role in the picture.

F. Schumann Heink, son of the operatic contralto, Mme. Schumann Heink, plays a role in "Night Life," the Tiffany-Stahl production.

Director Alf Goulding is shooting his fourth Sennett girl comedy, after having finished one featuring Daphne Pollard and Carole Lombard.

Instead of "The Royal American," "The Canyon of Adventure" will likely be Ken Maynard's next Western for First National.

Active work was started last week at the Gotham studio on "The Fruit of Divorce." Recent additions to the cast include Alma Tell, George Stone and Hobart Cavanaugh.

Charles Rogers, Paramount player, has returned to the studio after a vacation at his home town, Olathe, Kansas. He will next play in "Red Hair."

Edna Murphy will play the feminine lead in "Across the Pacific," which has just been started at the Warner studio.

Robert McGowan has finished preparations for his next Hal Roach "Our Gang" comedy for M-G-M. "Wheezer," a discovery, will have a prominent part.

Sterling's "Outcast Souls" is now in the cutting room being titled for release on December 15th.

Harry Myers, comedian, has been signed by Tiffany-Stahl to act as helper to directors in the improvement of stories from the comedy relief angle.

Ralph Yearsley, Harry Gribbons, Svend Hugo Borg, Polly Moran and Gertrude Astor have joined the cast of M-G-M's "Rose-Marie."

Alice Joyce, Mike Donlin, Emil Chautard and Robert T. Haines complete the list of players in "The Noose," which First National is producing.

Roy Del Ruth will direct "Powder My Back" for Warner Bros.

Patsy Ruth Miller has recovered from her recent operation and has returned to work on Universal's "Hot Heels."

William Ryno has been added to the cast of the Fox Films Western, "Horsemen of the Plains."

"The Bellamy Girl," a Saturday Evening Post serial story by Francis Noyes Hart, has been purchased by M-G-M.

FEATURE RELEASE CHART

Productions are Listed Alphabetically and by Months in which Released in order that the Exhibitor may have a short-cut toward such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming.
(S. R. indicates State Right release.)

Refer to THE MOTION PICTURE NEWS BOOKING GUIDE for Productions Listed Prior to March

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Arizona Whirlwind, The	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	4134 feet	April 1
Beloved Rogue, The	John Barrymore	United Artists	9380 feet	Mar. 25
Birds of Prey	Priscilla Dean	Columbia Pictures	6008 feet
Blazing Days	Fred Humes	Universal	4639 feet
Blind Alleys	Meighan-Brent-Nissen	Paramount	5597 feet	Mar. 11
Broncho Twister The	T. Mix-H. Costello	Fox	5435 feet	April 1
Cabaret	G. Gray-T. Moore-C. Conklin-M.Palmer	Paramount	6947 feet	April 8
Casey at the Bat	W.Beery-S.Holloway-Z. Pitts	Paramount	6040 feet	April 15
Enchanted Island	H. B. Walthall	Tiffany	4857 feet
Evening Clothes	A. Menjou-L. Brooks-V. Valli-N. Beery	Paramount	6287 feet	April 8
Fashions for Women	E Ralston-E. Hanson-R. Hatton	Paramount	6296 feet	April 15
Fighting Love	Goudal-Varconi-Walthall	Pathe-De Mille	7019 feet	June 3
Fourth Commandment, The	B. Bennett-M. Carr-R Agnew-J. Marlowe	Universal	6863 feet	Oct. 30
Heaven on Earth	C. Nagel-R. Adoree	M-G-M	6301 feet
Hey Hey Cowboy	H. Gibson-K. Key	Universal	5378 feet	April 15
High Hat	Lyon-Brian-Hardy	First National	6190 feet	May 13
Is That Nice?	G. O'Hara-D. Hill	F. B. O.	4501 feet
Love Makes 'Em Wild	J. Harron-S. Phipps-A. Housman	Fox	5508 feet	April 29
Love of Sunya, The	Gloria Swanson	United Artists	7311 feet	Mar. 25
Man From Hardpan, The	L. Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5814 feet	Mar. 11
Moulders of Men	C. Tearle-M. Morris	F. B. O.	6442 feet	April 1
Mr. Wu	Chaney-Adoree-Forbes-Dresser	M-G-M	7603 feet	June 3
Mysterious Rider, The	J. Holt-B. Jewel	Paramount	5957 feet	Mar. 25
Mystery Club, The	M.Moore-E.Roberts	Universal	6969 feet	Oct. 16
Night Bride, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford-R. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	5736 feet	April 15
Notorious Lady, The	B. Bedford-L. Stone	First National	6040 feet	April 22
One Chance in a Million	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas	5000 feet
Orchids and Ermine	C. Moore-J. Mulhall	First National	6734 feet	May 6
Outlaw's Paradise	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pictures	4500 feet
Perch of the Devil	P. O'Malley-Busch	Universal	6807 feet	Feb. 4
Price of Honor, The	Revier-McGregor	Columbia	5936 feet
Princess from Hoboken, The	E. Burns-B. Mahaffey-E. Clayton-L. Tellegen	Tiffany	5419 feet
Princess on Broadway, The	P. Garon-J. Walker-D.Dwan-H.Miller	Pathe-De Mille	5705 feet	Mar. 11
Resurrection	La Rocque-Del Rio	United Artists	9523 feet	April 1
Riders of the West	Ben Wilson	Rayart	4834 feet
Saddle Jumpers	Dick Hatton	Rayart	4482 feet
Salvation Jane	V. Dana	F. B. O.	5490 feet
Sea Tiger, The	Sills-M. Astor	First National	5623 feet	May 6
Sensation Seekers, The	B. Dove-H. Gordon	Universal	7015 feet	Jan. 28
Set Free	Art Acord	Universal	4634 feet
Slide, Kelly, Slide	W. Haines-S. O'Neil-H. Carey-K. Dane	M-G-M	7865 feet	April 1
Sonora Kid The	T. Tyler-F. Darro	F. B. O	4565 feet	Mar. 11
Tearin' Into Trouble	W. Wales-O. Hasbrouck	Pathe-De Mille	4483 feet
Telephone Girl, The	L. Gray-H. Blinn-Bellamy-Baxter Allison	Paramount	5455 feet	May 27
Terror of the Bar X	B. Custer-R. Blaine	F B O.	4982 feet
Venus of Venice The	C Talmadge-Moreno	First National	6324 feet	May 13
Wanted—A Coward	L. Rich-R. Frazer	Sterling Pictures	5 reels
What Every Girl Should Know	P. R. Miller-I. Keith	Warner Bros	6281 feet	June 24
When a Dog Loves	Ranger (Dog)	F. B O.	4390 eet
Whispering Sage	B. Jones-N. Joyce	Fox	4783 feet	April 15
White Flannels	L. Dresser-J. Robards-V. B. Faire	Warner Bros	6820 feet	April 1
White Gold	J. Goudal-G .Bancroft-K. Thomson	Pathe-De Mille	6108 feet	Mar. 25

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Love Funny?	Alberta Vaughn	F. B. O.	4745 feet
Afraid to Love	F. Vidor-C. Brook-N. Trevor-J. Lee	Paramount	6169 feet	April 22
Arizona Bound	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	4912 feet
Backstage	Collier Jr.-Bedford-A. Vaughn-E. Percy	Tiffany	5,784 feet
Beauty Shoppers, The	M. Busch-W. Crane	Tiffany	5669 feet	July 22
Belle of Avenue A		First Division (S. R.)
Bitter Apples	M. Blue-M. Loy	Warner Bros	5463 feet	May 6
Broadway Drifter, A	G. Walsh-D. Hall	Excellent Pictures	5512 feet	April 1
Brute The	M. Blue-L. Hyams	Warner Bros.	6901 feet	April 29
Children of Divorce	Bow-Ralston-Cooper-E. Hanson	Paramount	6662 feet	May 6
Convoy	D. Mackaill-L. Gray-Collier, Jr.-L. Sherman-I. Keith	First National	7724 feet	May 20
Cyclone of the Range	Tom Tyler-E Tarror-F. Darro	F. B. O.	4818 feet	May 6
Fighting Comeback, The	B. Roosevelt-C. Horton	Pathe-De Mille	4416 feet	April 1
Frisco Sally Levy	S. O'Neil-C. Delaney-R. D'Arcy-T. Holtz	M-G-M	6900 feet	April 22
Hard Fists	Art Acord	Universal	4387 feet
Held By the Law	M. De La Motte-J. Walker	Universal	6929 feet	Mar. 25
Horse Shoes	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5668 feet	April 15
Knockout Reilly	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	7080 feet	May 6
Little Adventuress, The	V. Reynolds-V. Varconi-P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	6200 feet
Long Pants	Harry Langdon	First National	5550 feet	April 8
Lost Limited, The	R. Howes-D. Farley	Rayart	5264 feet
Lovers?	Novarro-Terry	M-G-M	5291 feet	June 10
Madame Wants No Children	M. Corda-H. Liedtke	Fox	5415 feet	April
Matinee Ladies	McAvoy-McGregor-Hopper	Warner Bros	6352 feet	April 22
Naughty Nannette	V. Dana-Ed. Brownell	F. B. O	5051 feet
No Control	P. Haver-H Ford	Pathe-De Mille	5573 feet
Paying the Price	M. Carr-P. Bonner-M. Bonner-D. Selman	Columbia Pictures	5558 feet	June 10
Pleasure Before Business	P.O'Malley-V.B.Faire	Columbia Pictures	5559 feet	July 17
Rambling Ranger, The	Jack Hoxie	Universal	4439 feet
Red Clay	W. Desmond-M. Day	Universal	4626 feet
Ridin' Rowdy, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr	Pathe-De Mille	4794 feet	April 22
Ritzy	B. Bronson-J. Hall	Paramount	5306 feet	July 1
Rookies	K. Dane-M. Day-G. K. Arthur-T. O'Brien	M-G-M-	6640 feet	May 6
See You in Jail	J. Mulhall-A. Day	First National	5800 feet	April
Senorita	B. Daniels-J. Hall-W. Powell	Paramount	6634 feet	May 6
Sinews of Steel	A. Vaughn-G. Glass	Lumas	5700 feet
Smoking Guns	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pict. (S.R.)	4500 feet
Somewhere in Sonora	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5718 feet	May 6
Special Delivery	E. Cantor-Wm. Powell-P. Ralston	Paramount	5524 feet	May 6
Spuds	L. Semon-D. Dwan	Pathe-De Mille	4930 feet	April 15
Taxi, Taxi	Horton-Nixon	Universal	7173 feet	Feb. 18
Three Hours	C. Griffith-J. Bowers	First National	5774 feet	Mar. 12
Thunderbolt's Tracks	Jack Perrin	Rayart	4846 feet
Too Many Crooks	M.Davis-G.Bancroft-L. Hughes	Paramount	5399 feet
When Seconds Count	Billy Sullivan	Rayart	4803 feet	July 1
Whirlwind of Youth, The	L. Moran-D. Keith-L. Kent	Paramount	5886 feet	June 17

MAY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
All Aboard	J. Hines-E. Murphy	First National	6300 feet	April 1
Babe Comes Home	Babe Ruth-A. Q. Nilsson-L. Fazenda	First National	5761 feet	July 8
Broadway Nights	L. Wilson-S. Hardy	First National	6765 feet	July 8
Broncho Buster, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4687 feet
California	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4912 feet	July 8
Captain Salvation	L. Hanson-G. Fawcett-P. Starke-E. Torrence-M. Day	M-G-M	7395 feet	July 8
Catch As Catch Can	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas
Climbers The	I. Rich-F. Stanley	Warner Bros	6621 feet	May 13
Cradle Snatchers	L. Fazenda-J. F. Mc-Donald-D. Phillips	Fox	6281 feet	June 10
Don Desperado	L.Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5804 feet	May 6
Down the Stretch	Agnew-Nixon	Universal	6910 feet	April 22
Eyes of the Totem, The	W. Hawley-T. Santschi-G. Hughes-A. Cornwall	Pathe-De Mille	6128 feet	May 13
Fighting Hombre The	Bob Custer	F. B O.	4624 feet
Grinning Guns	J. Hoxie-E. Gregory	Universal	4689 feet	May 6
Heart of Salome	A. Rubens-W. Pidgeon-H. Herbert	Fox	5617 feet	June 17
Heart of the Yukon	A.Cornwall-J.Bowers	Pathe-De Mille	6562 feet	May 27
Heart Thief, The	J. Schildkraut-L. de Putti-T. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	6035 feet	July 1
Hills of Peril	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox	4943 feet	May 13
His First Flame	H. Langdon-R. Hiat	Pathe-De Mille	4660 feet	May 20
Irish Hearts	McAvoy-Robards	Warner Bros.	5597 feet	June 10
Is Zat So?	O'Brien-Perry-Lowe	Fox	6950 feet	May 27
Love Thrill, The	La Plante-T. Moore	Universal	5285 feet	June 17
Lost at the Front	C. Murray-C. Sidney-N. Kingston	First National	6255 feet	June 24
Lure of the Night Club, The	Viola Dana-R. Ellis	F. B. O.	5770 feet
Million Bid, A	D. Costello-W. Oland-McGregor-Blythe	Warner Bros	6310 feet	June 24
Mother	B Bennett-C. Kent-Kent-M. J. Scott	F. B O.	6934 feet	Mar. 18
No Man's Law	Rex (Horse)-T. von Eltz-B. Kent	Pathe-De Mille	6903 feet	April 29
Outlaw Dog, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.	4727 feet	April 8
Outlaws of Red River	T. Mix-M. Daw	Fox	5327 feet	May 6
Pirates of the Sky	C. Hutchinson-W Hawley	Pathe-De Mille	4828 feet	May 20
Poor Girls	D. Revier-E. Burns-R. Stonehouse	Columbia Pictures	5438 feet
Prairie King The	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5689 feet	Nov. 18
Rich But Honest	N. Nash-C. Holland-J. F. McDonald	Fox	5480 feet	May 20
Rich Men's Sons	R. Graves-S. Mason	Columbia Pictures	5854 eet	Oct. 7
Rough House Rosie	C. Bow-R. Howes-D. Gilmore	Paramount	5952 feet	June 3
She's My Baby	M. Harris-R. Agnew	Sterling Pict	5249 feet
Silent Avenger, The	Thunder (Dog)	Lumas	5690 feet
Silver Comes Thru	F. Thomson-E. Murphy-Silver King (Horse)	F. B .O.	5476 feet	June 3

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Snowbound	B. Blythe-Agnew-L. Rich-G. Fawcett	Tiffany	5182 feet	Aug. 5
Splitting the Breeze	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.	4930 feet
Tender Hour The	Lyon-Dove-A. B. Francis-M. Love	First National	7400 feet	June 17
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Tillie the Toiler	Davies-M. Moore-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6160 feet	June 17
Tip Toes	D. Gish-W. Rogers	Paramount	6390 feet
Tracked by the Police	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros.	5823 feet	May 13
Vanity	L.Joy-A.Hale-C.Ray	Pathe-De Mille	5923 feet	July 1
Wedding Bills	R. Griffith-A. Sheridan	Paramount	5869 feet	July 22
Winning Oar, The	George Walsh	Excellent Pict	5750 feet
World at Her Feet, The	Florence Vidor	Paramount	5691 feet	Aug. 26
Yankee Clipper, The	W. Boyd-E. Fair	Pathe-De Mille	7920 feet	April 15
Yours to Command	G. O'Hara-S.Palmer	F. B. O.	4734 feet

JUNE

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Avenging Fangs	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille	4335 feet	June 3
Beware of Widows	La Plante-B. Washburn	Universal	5670 feet	May 6
Black Diamond Express, The	M. Blue-E. Murphy	Warner Bros.	5803 feet
Bulldog Pluck	Bob Custer	F. B. O.	5013 feet
Callahans and the Murphys, he	S. O'Neil-M. Dressler-L. Gray-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	5875 feet	July 22
Circus Ace, The	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox	4810 feet	June 24
Claw The	Kerry-Windsor	Universal	5252 feet	June 3
Closed Gates	J. Harron-J. Novak	Sterling Pict.	5515 feet	June 3
Clown, The	D. Revier-J. Walker-W. V. Mong	Columbia Pictures	5470 feet
Code of the Cow Country, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4512 feet	July 15
Dance Magic	A. Truex-B. Lyon-P. Starke-S. Hardy	First National	6588 feet	Aug. 19
Dearie	I. Rich-Wm. Collier, Jr.-E. Murphy	Warner Bros.	5897 feet	June 24
Drums of the Desert	W.Baxter-M. Millner	Paramount	5907 feet
Fast and Furious	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal	5684 feet	July 22
Framed	M. Sills-N. Barr- N. Kingston	First National	5282 feet	July 1
Frontiersman, The	T. McCoy-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4986 feet
Good as Gold	Buck Jones	Fox	4545 feet	June 17
Hands Off	Fred Humes	Universal	4773 feet
Ladies Beware	G.O'Hara-N.Luxford	F. B. O.	4900 feet
Land Beyond Law, The	K. Maynard-D. Dwan	First National	6157 feet	July 15
Meddlin' Stranger The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	June 10
Men of Daring	Hoxie-E. Gregory-F. Ford	Universal	6159 feet	April 1
Mountains of Manhattan	D.Devore-C.Delaney	Lumas	5785 feet	June 3
Naughty But Nice	C. Moore-D. Reed-H. Cooley-K.McGuire	First National	6520 feet	July 22
Pals in Peril	Buffalo Bill, J.	Pathe-De Mille	4710 feet	July 15
Rolled Stockings	L. Brooks-J. Hall-R. Arlen	Paramount	6249 feet	July 29
Romantic Age, The	E.O'Brien-A.Vaughn	Columbia Pictures	5267 feet	Nov. 18
Rubber Heels	Ed. Wynn-T. Todd
Secret Studio The	C. Conklin-L. Gray-O. Borden-C. Holland-M. Livingston	Paramount-Fox	5614 feet	July 15
Simple Sis	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros.	6218 feet	June 17
Slaves of Beauty	O.Tell-H.Herbert-M. Livingston-E. Foxe	Fox	5412 feet	June 10
Sunset Derby, The	M. Astor-W. Collier Jr.-R. Lewis	First National	5007 feet	Aug. 5
Tale of a Vanishing People		Tiffany	6500 feet
Thumbs Down	C. Hale-L. Boyd	Sterling Pict.	4723 feet
Time to Love	R. Griffith-V. Veronina-W. Powell	Paramount	4926 feet	July 8
Tired Business Man, The	Hitchcock-Mehaffey-Gow and-Quimby	Tiffany	5607 feet
Trunk Mystery, The	Hutchinson-Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4334 feet	July 1
Unknown, The	L. Chaney-J. Crawford-N. Kerry	M-G-M	5517 feet	June 24
Western Rover, The	Art Acord	Universal	4404 feet
What Happened to Father	W. Oland-F. Fairbanks	Warner Bros.	5567 feet	July 1

JULY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Colleen	Bellamy-MacDonald-Cohen,McNamara	Fox	5301 feet
Cruel Truth, The	H.Hopper-C.Howard	Sterling Pictures	5167 feet	Aug. 12
Devil's Saddle, The	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5488 feet	Nov. 18
Fighting Three, The	J. Hoxie-Hasbrouck	Universal	4108 feet	May 9
For Ladies Only	J. Logan-J. Bowers	Columbia	5507 feet
For the Love of Mike	F. Sterling-G. Sidney-R.Lyon-C. Colbert	First National	6588 feet
Galloping Thunder	B. Custer-A. Sheridan	F. B. O.	4691 feet
Heart of Maryland, The	D. Costello-J. Robards-H. Costello	Warner Bros.	5868 feet
Hero on Horseback, A	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5551 feet
His Dog	J.Schildkraut-J.Faye-R. Edeson-S. Rand	Pathe-De Mille	6788 feet	Oct. 28
Kid Sister, The	M. de la Motte-Mc-Gregor-A. Christie	Columbia	5477 feet
Ladies at Ease	P. Garon-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	5800 feet
Lady Bird, The	Compson-McGregor	First Division (S. R.)	6568 feet
Last Outlaw The	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	6032 feet
Little Firebrand, The	E. Thornton-L. Tellegan	Pathe-De Mille	4615 feet	Dec.12 '25
Lonesome Ladies	A. Q. Nilsson-L. Stone	First National	5718 feet	Aug. 12
Manpower	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5617 feet	Aug. 12
Married Alive	Livingston-M. Moore Tellegan-C. Adams	Fox	4557 feet
On Ze Boulevard	L. Cody-R. Adoree-R. D'Arcy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M	5671 feet	Aug. 12
Prince of Headwaiters, The	L.Stone-L. Tashman	First National	6400 feet	Aug. 26
Range Courage	Fred Humes	Universal	4388 feet
Skedaddle Gold	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4562 feet	Aug. 12
Tartuffe, the Hypocrite	E. Jannings-L. Dagover—W. Kraus	Ufa	6053 feet	Aug. 5
Ten Modern Commandments	Esther Ralston	Paramount	6497 feet	July 22
Tom's Gang	T. Tyler-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	4954 feet
Twelve Miles Out	J.Gilbert-E.Torrence-J.Crawford-B.Compson-E. Percy	M-G-M	7899 feet	Aug. 5
Two-Gun of the Tumbleweed	Leo Maloney	Pathe-De Mille	5670 feet	July 22
White Pants Willie	J. Hines-L. Hymans	First National	6409 feet	Aug. 26
Woman Who Did Not Care, The	L. Tashman-A. Rankin	Lumas	5996 feet

AUGUST

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Adam and Evil	L. Cody-A. Pringle-G. Lee	M-G-M	6667 feet	Aug. 19
After Midnight	N. Shearer-L. Gray	M-G-M	6312 feet	Aug. 26
Alias the Lone Wolf	L. Wilson-B. Lytell-W. V. Mong	Columbia	5831 feet	Oct. 7
Beau Geste	N. Beery-Colman-N. Hamilton-Forbes	Paramount	9879 feet	Sept 11
Blood Ship, The	H. Bosworth-J. Logan-R. Arlen	Columbia	6843 feet	Aug. 5
Border Blackbirds	L. Maloney-E. Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5326 feet	Sept. 9
Breed of Courage, The	Ranger (Dog)-J. Morgan	F. B. O.	4910 feet
Bugle Call, The	J. Coogan-H. Rawlinson-C. Windsor	M-G-M	5821 feet
Bush Leaguer, The	M. Blue-Hyams	Warner Bros.	6281 feet	Sept. 9
Chain Lightning	B. Jones-D. Ellis	Fox	5333 feet
Country Doctor, The	R. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille	7500 feet	Sept. 9
Covered Wagon, The (Reissue)	Wilson-Kerrigan-Torrence	Paramount		Oct. 28
Coward, The	W. Baxter-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	5093 feet
Desired Woman, The	I. Rich-W. Russell-W. Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros.	6408 feet	Sept. 16
Eager Lips	P. Garon-B. Blythe-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	6206 feet
Face Value	J. Mower-F. Ridgeway	Sterling Pict	4393 feet
Fighting Eagle, The	La Rocque-P Haver	Pathe-De Mille	8000 feet	Sept. 2
Fireman Save My Child	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	5399 feet	Oct. 21
Great Mail Robbery, The	T. Van Eltz-J. Morgan	F. B. O.	6507 feet
Hard Boiled Haggerty	M. Sills-M. O'Day	First National	7446 feet	Sept. 9
Hidden Aces	C. Hutchinson-A. Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4620 feet	Sept. 2
Hula	C. Bow-C. Brook	Paramount	5862 feet	Sept. 16
Interferin' Gent, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4864 feet	Sept. 9
Madame Pompadour	D. Gish-A. Moreno	Paramount	7180 feet	Aug. 12
Metropolis	Special Cast	Paramount	8039 feet	Mar. 18
Missing Link, The	S. Chaplin-R. Hiatt	Warner Bros.	6435 feet	May 20
Mockery	L. Chaney-R. Cortez-B. Bedford	M-G-M	5957 feet	Sept. 2
Not for Publication	R. Ince-R. Lease-J. Mendez	F. B. O.	6140 feet
Paid to Love	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-W. Powell	Fox	6888 feet	Aug. 19
Painting the Town	G. Tryon-P. R. Miller	Universal	5909 feet	July 1
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4497 feet
Poor Nut, The	J. Mulhall-J. Winton-J. Arthur-C. Murray	First National	6897 feet	July 29
Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary, The	M. Robson-H. Ford-
Return of Boston Blackie	Strongheart (Dog)-C. Palmer	First Division (S. R.)	5865 feet
	P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	5844 feet
Rose of Kildare, The	O'Malley-H. Chadwick-H. B. Walthall	Lumas	6875 feet
Rose of the Bowery	E. Murphy-J. Walker-C. Kent-M Harris	A. C. A	5446 feet
Running Wild	W.C.Fields-M.Brian	Paramount	6368 feet	June 24
Satin Woman, The	Mrs. W. Reid	Lumas	7000 feet	Aug. 5
Say It With Diamonds	B. Compson-E. Williams	First Division (S. R.)	6041 feet
Service for Ladies	A. Menjou-K. Carver	Paramount	6170 feet	Aug. 26
Singed	B. Sweet-W. Baxter-M. McAllister	Fox	5790 feet	July 23
Smile Brother Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6 reels	Sept. 9
Soft Cushions	Douglas MacLean	Paramount	6838 feet	Sept. 2
Stolen Bride, The	B. Dove-L. Hughes	First National	7179 feet	Aug. 26
Stranded	S. Mason-Collier, Jr.	Sterling Pict.	5443 feet	Sept. 16
Swell Head, The	R. Grover-J. Walker-W. Gilbert	Columbia Pictures	5484 feet
Three's a Crowd	H. Langdon-G. McConnell	First National	5668 feet	Oct. 1
Topsy and Eva	Duncan Sisters-G. Gowland-M. Daw	United Artists	7456 feet	Aug. 19
Tumbling River	T. Mix-D. Dwan	Fox	4675 feet	Aug. 26
What Price Glory (road show)	McLaglen-Del Rio-Lowe	Fox	11109 feet	Dec. 4
When a Man Loves (road show)	J. Barrymore-D. Costello-W. Oland	Warner Bros.	10049 feet	Feb. 4
White Pebbles	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4485 feet	Aug. 19
Woman's Law	P. O'Malley-L. Rich	Peerless Pict (S. R.)	6000 feet
Your Wife and Mine	P. Haver-S. Holmes-B. Tennant-W. Mcdonald	Excellent Pict	5867 feet

SEPTEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Almost Human	V. Reynolds-K. Thomson-C. McDowell	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Angel or Broaway, The	L. Joy-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	6555 feet
Annie Laurie	L. Gish-N. Kerry	M-G-M	8730 feet	May 21
Back to God's Country	R. Adoree-R. Frazer	Universal	5751 feet	July 29
Barbed Wire	P. Negri-C. Brook-E. Hanson	Paramount	6961 feet
Big Parade The (road show)	Gilbert-Adoree-K. Dane-T. O'Brien	M-G-M	12550 feet	Nov. 28
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox
Border Cavalier, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4427 feet
Born to Battle	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Boy of the Streets	J. Walker-M. Bennett-B. Francisco	Rayart (S. R.)	5059 feet
Broadway Madness	M. de la Motte- D. Keith	Excellent Pict	6945 feet	Oct. 14
By Whose Hand?	R. Cortez-E. Gilbert	Columbia	5234 feet
Camille	N. Talmadge-A. B. Francis-G. Roland	First National	9692 feet	May 6

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Cancelled Debt, The	R. Lease-C. Stevens	Sterling Pict	5200 feet
Cat and the Canary, The	L. La Plante-F. Stanley-C. Hale-T. Maryhall-G. Astor	Universal	7790 feet	May 29
Chang (Jungle Film)	Special Cast	Paramount	6536 feet	May 13
Clancy's Kosher Wedding	G. Sidney-M. Gordon-S. Lynn-R. Lease-W. Armstrong	F. B. O.	5701 feet	Aug. 26
College	B. Keaton-A. Cornwall-G. Withers	United Artists	5362 feet	Sept. 23
Cruise of the Helion, The	E. Murphy-D. Keith-T. Santschin	Rayart (S. R.)	6089 feet	Sept. 30
Drop Kick, The	R. Barthelmess-D. Revier-B. Kent	First National	6802 feet	Sept. 30
Finnegan's Ball	B. Mehaffey-Landis	First Division Pict	6200 feet
First Auto The	B. Oldfield-P. R. Miller-R. Simpson	Warner Bros	6767 feet	July 8
Flying U Ranch, The	Tyler-N. Lane	F. B. O.	4924 feet
Gay Retreat, The	G. Cameron-S. Cohen-T. McNamara	Fox	5524 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Rio, The	Carmel Myers	Lumas	6990 feet
In a Moment of Temptation	C. Stevens-C. Keefe-K. Guard-G. Withers	F. B. O.	6000 feet	Nov. 11
Isle of Forgotten Women	Tearle-Sebastian	Columbia
Jaws of Steel	Rin-Tin-Tin-H. Ferguson-J. Robards	Warner Bros	5569 feet	Sept. 30
Joy Girl, The	O. Borden-J. McDonald-N. Hamilton-M. Alden	Fox	6162 feet	Sept. 23
Life of Riley, The	C. Murray-G. Sidney-S. Hardy-J. Marlowe	First National	6712 feet	Sept. 16
Lightning	J. Ralston-R. Fraser-M. Livingston	Tiffany	6049 feet	Sept. 30
Lone Eagle, The	R. Keene-B. Kent	Universal	5862 feet
Loves of Carmen	Del Rio-McLaglen-D. Alvarado	Fox	8538 feet	Oct. 7
Magic Flame, The	Colman-Banky	United Artists	8300 feet	Sept. 30
Mojave Kid, The	B. Steele-L. Gilmore	F. B. O.	4912 feet	Aug. 12
Nest, The	P. Frederick-H. Herbert-R. Dwyer	Excellent Pict	7393 feet	Oct. 14
Nevada	G. Cooper-T. Todd	Paramount	6258 feet	Oct. 28
Old San Francisco	D. Costello-C. E. Mack-W. Oland	Warner Bros	7961 feet	July 8
One Round Hogan	M. Blue-J. J. Jeffries-L. Hyams	Warner Bros	6375 feet	Oct. 7
One Woman to Another	F. Vidor-Von Eltz	Paramount	4022 feet	Sept. 30
Out All Night	R. Denny-M. Nixon	Universal	6170 feet	Oct. 7
Out of the Past	R. Frazier-M. Harris	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5701 feet
Painted Ponies	H. Gibson-E. Claire	Universal	5415 feet	Aug. 5
Prince of the Plains	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)	4134 feet
Ragtime	J. Bowers-M. de la Motte	First Division (S. R.)	6700 feet	Sept. 9
Red Raiders	K. Maynard-A. Drew	First National	6280 feet
Rush Hour, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille
Sailor's Sweetheart, A	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	5685 feet	Oct. 14
Sally in Our Alley	S. Mason-A. B. Francis-R. Arlen	Columbia Pictures	5892 feet
Slightly Used	M. McAvoy-C. Nagel-B. Agnew	Warner Bros	6412 feet	Sept. 30
Smile, Brother, Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6548 feet	Sept. 9
Soda Water Cowboy, The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4546 feet	Nov. 4
Stark Love	Special Cast	Paramount	6203 feet	Mar. 11
Swim, Girl, Swim	B. Daniels-G. Ederle	Paramount	6124 feet	Sept. 16
Tell It to Sweeney	Conklin-Bancroft-Brian-Lden	Paramount	6006 feet	Oct. 28
Their Hour		Tiffany
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Two Arabian Knights	W. Boyd-M. Astor-L. Wolheim-I. Keith	United Artists	8250 feet	Nov. 4
Two Girls Wanted	J. Gaynor-G. Tryon	Fox	6293 feet	Oct. 7
We're All Gamblers	Meighan-M. Millner	Paramount	5935 feet

OCTOBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
American Beauty	B. Dove-L. Hughes-V. L. Corbin	First National	6 reels	Oct. 21
Back to Liberty	G. Walsh-D. Hall-E. Breese	Excellent Pict.
Becky	S. O'Neil-O. Moore-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	6433 feet
Ben Hur	Novarro-McAvoy-Bronson-F. X. Bushman-C. Myers	M-G-M	12000 feet	Jan. 16
Beware of Married Men	Irene Rich	Warner Bros
Blondes By Choice	Claire Windsor	Lumas	6987 feet
Body and Soul	A. Pringle-L. Barrymore-N. Kerry	M-G-M
Boy Rider, The	Buzz Barton	F. B. O	4858 feet	Sept. 30
Breakfast at Sunrise	C. Talmadge-D. Alvarado	First National
Broadway Kid, The (tentative)	George Jessel	Warner Bros
Celebrated Woman, A	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Cheating Cheaters	B. Compson-K. Harlan	Universal	5623 feet
Chinese Parrot, The	M. Nixon-H Bosworth	Universal	7304 feet
College Widow, The	D. Costello-Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros	6616 feet	Oct. 28
Combat	G. Walsh-G. Hulette	Pathe-De Mille	5100 feet	Nov. 11
Comrades	G. James-A. Sheridan	First Division (S. R.)
Crystal Cup, The	D. Mackaill-J. Mulhall	First National	6386 feet
Death Valley	C. Nye-R. Rae-R. Wells	First Division (S. R.)	5882 feet	Aug. 12
Dog of the Regiment, A	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros	5003 feet	Nov. 11
East Side, West Side	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-J. F. McDonald	Fox	6408 feet	Nov. 4
Fair Co-ed, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M	8154 feet	Nov. 4
Figures Don't Lie	E. Ralston-R. Arlen	Paramount	5280 feet
Forbidden Woman, The	J. Goudal-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	7000 feet
Gambler's Game, The	Tom Tyler	F. B. O
Garden of Eden, The	C. Griffith-C. Ray-L. Sherman	United Artists
Gentleman of Paris, A	A. Menjou-S. O'Hara-A. Marchall	Paramount	5927 feet	Oct. 14
Gingham Girl, The	L. Wilson-G. K. Arthur	F. B. O	6310 feet	July 29
Girl From Gay Paree, The	Sherman-Bedford-McGregor-Blythe	Tiffany	5233 feet	Sept. 23
Girl in the Pullman	Marie Prevost	Pathe-De Mille		Nov. 18
Grandma's Boy (re-issue)	Harold Lloyd	Pathe-De Mille	4750 feet
Gun-Hand Garrison	Tex Maynard	Raycraft (S. R.)	4879 feet
Highschool Hero, The	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	Fox	5498 feet	Nov. 11
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
In Old Kentucky	J. Murray-H. Costello	M-G-M
Jake the Plumber	J. DeVarska-S. Lynn	F. B. O	5186 feet	Nov. 4
Jazz Singer, The (Vitaphone)	Al Jolson-W. Oland-McAvoy	Warner Bros	7423 feet	Oct. 21
Jesse James	Fred Thomson	Paramount	7423 feet	Oct. 28
Les Miserables	Special Cast	Universal	7713 feet
Light in the Window, A	Walthall-P. Avery-C. Keefe	Rayart (S. R.)	5960 feet	Nov. 11
Lingerie		Tiffany
My Best Girl	M. Pickford-C. Rogers	United Artists
No Place to Go	M. Astor-L. Hughes	First National
Now We're in the Air	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	5798 feet
Obligin' Buckaroo, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	Nov. 11
Pajamas	O. Borden-L. Gray	Fox
Pretty Clothes	J. Ralston-J. Walker-G. Astor	Sterling Pict. (S. R.)	5652 feet	Nov. 4
Publicity Madness	L. Moran-E. Lowe	Fox	5893 feet
Ranger of the North	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O
Reno Divorce, A	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros.	5492 feet	Nov. 4
Ride 'Em High	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4542 feet	Nov. 11
Ridin' Luck	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)
Rough Riders, The (general release)	F. Hopper-N. Beery-Bancroft-M. Astor-Mack-Farrell	Paramount	7 reels	April 1
Sailor Izzy Murphy	G. Jessel-A. Ferris	Warner Bros	6020 feet	Oct. 28
Seventh Heaven	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell-D. Butler-G. Brockwell	Fox	8500 feet	June 10
Shanghai Bound	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5515 feet
Shanghaied	P. R. Miller-R. Ince-G. Astor	F. B. O	5999 feet	Aug. 26
Shootin' Irons	J. Luden-S. Blane	Paramount	5179 feet
Silk Stockings	L. La. Plante-O. Harlan-J. Harron	Universal	7 reels	Aug. 26
Silver Valley	Tom Mix	Fox	5011 feet	Oct. 14
Spring Fever	Wm. Haines-J. Crawford-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6705 feet	Oct. 28
Straight Shooting	Ted Wells	Universal	4251 feet	Aug. 19
Underworld	C. Brook-E. Brent-G. Bancroft	Paramount	7453 feet	Sept. 9
Very Confidential	Madge Bellamy	Fox
Way of All Flesh, The	E. Jannings-L. Dagover-B. Bennett-P. Haver-D. Keith	Paramount	8486 feet	July 8
Wheel of Destiny, The	F. Stanley-G. Hale	Rayart (S. R.)
Wine (re-issue)	Clara Bow	Universal	7 reels
Wise Wife, The	P. Haver-T. Moore	Pathe-De Mille	5610 feet
Wolf's Trail	Dynamite (Dog)	Universal	4167 feet
Woman on Trail, The	Negri-Cortez	Paramount	5960 feet
Women's Wares	Brent-Lytell-L. Kent	Tiffany	5614 feet	Nov. 18
Wreck of the Hesperus, The	A. Hale-V. Bradford	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels

NOVEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Arizona Wildcat, The	T. Mix-D. Sebastian	Fox
Bandit's Son, The	B. Steele-A. Sheridan	F. B. O	4789 feet
Bowery Cinderella, A	P. O'Malley-G. Hulette	Excellent Pict
Cheer Leader, The		Lumas
Discord	G. Ekman-L. Dagover	Pathe-De Mille	8586 feet	Nov. 11
Dress Parade	W. Boyd-B. Love	Pathe-De Mille	6599 feet	Nov. 11
Flying Luck	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	6400 feet	Nov. 18
Galloping Fury	H. Gibson-S. Rand	Universal	5503 feet
Garden of Allah, The	A. Terry-I. Petrovich	M-G	8200 feet	Sept. 16
Gorilla, The	C. Murray-F. Kelsey-D. Revier-T. Marshall	First National
Grass Widows		Tiffany
Gun Gospel	K. Mayuard	First National
Harvester The	N. Kingston-O. Caldwell	F. B. O	7045 feet
Haunted Ship, The	D. Sebastian-T. Santschi	Tiffany-Stahl
His Foreign Wife	W. McDonald-E. Murphy	Pathe-De Mille	4890 feet
Hoof Marks	Jack Donovan	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Hook and Ladder, No. 9	D. Ellis-E. Hearne-C. Keefe	F. B. O	5240 feet
Judgment of the Hills	V. Valli-F. Darro	F. B. O	6481 feet	Aug. 19
Ladies Must Dress	V. Valli-L. Gray	Fox
Let 'Er Go Gallagher	Junior Coughlan	F. B. O
Lure of the South Seas, The		First Division (S. R.)
Main Event, The	Vera Reynolds	Pathe-De Mille	6472 feet	Nov. 11
Mile-A-Minute Love	R. Denny-B. Kent	Universal
My Friend From India	F. Pangborn	Pathe-De Mille
Night Life	A. Day-J. Harron	Tiffany
Once and Forever	P.R. Miller-J. Harron	Tiffany	5639 feet
One Glorious Scrap	Fred Humes	Universal	4172 feet
On Your Toes	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal
Polly of the Movies	Jason Robards	First Division (S. R.)
Quality Street	M. Davies-C. Nagel	M-G-M		Nov. 18
Roarin' Broncs	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Rose of the Golden West	G. Roland-M. Astor	First National		Oct. 7
Sadie Thompson	G. Swanson	United Artists
Skyhigh Saunders	Al Wilson	Universal	4393 feet
Small Bachelor, The	Beranger-O. Harlan-B. Kent-C. Geraghty	Universal	6218 feet
Stage Kisses	K. Harlan-H. Chadwick	Columbia
Streets of Shanghai	P. Starke-K. Harlan	Tiffany-Stahl
Tea for Three	L. Cody-A. Pringle-O. Moore-D. Sebastian	M-G-M	5273 feet	Nov. 11
Tempest	J. Barrymore-Sebastian Wolheim	United Artists
Temptations of a Shopgirl	B. Compson-Garon-A. Kaiz	First Division (S. R.)
Thirteenth Hour, The	Bonaparte (Dog)-J. Gadsen-L. Barrymore	M-G-M
Turkish Delight	R. Schildkraut-J. Faye	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Uncle Tom's Cabin	Special Cast	Universal		Nov. 18
Very Confidential	M. Bellamy	Fox
Web of Fate	Lillian Rich	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5800 feet
Wild Beauty	Rex (Horse)-J. Marlowe	Universal	5192 feet
Wolf Fangs	Thunder (Dog)-C. Morton-C. Lincoln	Fox

DECEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Aflame in the Sky	S. Lynn-J. Luden	F. B. O.	6034 feet	Nov. 11
Blue Danube, The	L. Joy-R. LaRocque-J. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille
Bridal Night, The	Norma Shearer	M-G-M
Buttons	Coogan-Hanson-Olmstead	M-G-M
Desert Dust	Ted Wells	Universal	4349 feet
Desert Pirate, The	T. Tyler-D. Thompson	F. B. O.
Devil Dancer, The	G. Gray-C. Brook	United Artists
Fangs of Destiny	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb	Universal	4295 feet
Five and Ten Cent Annie	Louise Fazenda	Warner Bros.
Fruit of Divorce	P. Marmont-M. Busch	Lumas (S. R.)
Good-Time Charley	W. Oland-H. Costello	Warner Bros.
Her Wild Oat	Colleen Moore	First National
He's My Man	Phyllis Haver	Pathe-De Mille
Home Made	Johnny Hines	First National
Irresistible Lover, The	Norman Kerry	Universal	6958 feet	Sept. 16
Legionnaires in Paris	Al Cooke-Kit Guard	F. B. O.
London After Midnight	L. Chaney-C. Nagel-M. Day-Walthall	M-G-M
Lovelorn, The		M-G-M
Man and the Moment, The		First National
Man's Past, A	C. Veidt-I. Keith-G. Siegmann	Universal	6135 feet	Sept. 16
Paris or Bust (tentative)	Glenn Tryon	Universal	6 reels
Power	William Boyd	Pathe-De Mille
Private Life of Helen of Troy, The	M. Corda-L. Stone-M. O'Day	First National
Rebecca O'Brien	May McAvoy	Warner Bros.
Rip Van Winkle	Rudolph Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille
Slingshot Kid, The	"Buzz" Barton-J. Morgan	F. B. O.	4886 feet
Sorrell and Son	H. B. Warner-Nilsson-A. Joyce-Wolheim	United Artists
South Sea Love	P. R. Miller-L. Shumway-A. Brooks	F. B. O.	6388 feet
Streets of Shanghai		Tiffany
Swift Shadow, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.
Texas Steer, A	W. Rogers-L. Fazenda-A. Rork	Sam E. Rork (producer)
Valley of the Giants	M. Sills-D. Kenyon	First National
Woman Against the World, A	G. Olmstead-H. Ford-G. Hale	Tiffany-Stahl
You'll Never Get Rich		First Division (S. R.)

JANUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Alias the Deacon	J. Hersholt-J. Marlowe-R. Graves	Universal	6869 feet	Oct. 21
Coney Island	Lois Wilson	F. B. O.
Creole Love		First Division (S. R.)
Dead Man's Curve	Fairbanks, Jr.-S. Blane	F. B. O.	5511 feet
Divine Woman, The	Greta Garbo	M-G-M
Driftin' Sands	Bob Steele	F. B. O.
Dove, The	N. Talmadge-G. Roland-N. Beery	United Artists
French Dressing	B. Lyon-C. Colbert	First National
Louisiana	B. Dove-M. Astor-N. Beery	First National
Love in a Cottage		First Division (S. R.)
Man Crazy	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Man, Woman and Sin	John Gilbert	M-G-M
Noose, The	R. Barthelmess-L. Basquette	First National
Ramona	D. Del Rio-W. Baster	United Artists
Road to Romance, The	R. Novarro-M. Day-R. D. D'Arcy	M-G-M	6544 feet
Sailors' Wives	Astor-Hughes	First National
Shepherd of the Hills, The	A. B. Francis-M. O'Day-J. Boles	First National
United States Smith		Lumas
Wagon Show, The	K. Maynard-E. Gregory	First National
West Point	William Haines	M-G-M
Wizard of the Saddle	B. Barton-D. Thompson	F. B. O.

FEBRUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Age of Sex, The		First Division (S. R.)
Algerian Nights		First Division (S. R.)
Bare Knees		Lumas
Down Went McGinty	C. Murray-G. Sidney	First National
Napoleon (French Film)	Special Cast	M-G-M
Over the Andes	D. Fairbanks-E. Southern-L. Valez	United Artists
Passion Island	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Brunettes Preferred		First Division (S. R.)
Buck Privates	de Putti-McGregor	Universal
Circus, The	C. Chaplin-M. Kennedy	United Artists
Darling of the Gods, The	Special Cast	United Artists
Free Lips		First Division (S. R.)
Harold Teen		First National
Hell Ship Bronson	Mrs. Wallace Reid	Lumas
Man Higher Up, The		Lumas
Once There Was a Princess	Billie Dove	First National
Pair of Sixes, A	Johnny Hines	First National
Red Signals	W. McDonald-E. Novak-E. Williams	Sterling Pictures	5032 feet
Royal American, The	Ken Maynard	First National

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Surrender	M. Philbin-I. Moskine	Universal

Coming Attractions

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
$5,000 Reward	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox
Abie's Irish Rose	J. F. McDonald-J. Hershalt	Paramount
Ace High	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Across the Atlantic	M. Blue	Warner Bros.
Adventurer, The	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Air Raiders, The	Al Wilson	F. B. O.
Alex the Great		F. B. O.
Avenger, The	Bob Custer	F. B. O.
Baby Mine	G. K. Arthur-K. Dane	M-G-M
Bad Little Good Girl		Chadwick
Barnum (road show)	Wallace Beery	Paramount
Beau Sabreur	E. Brent-G. Cooper-G. Bancroft-N. Beery	Paramount
Beggar of Love	P. Negri-K. Thomson-J. Hersholt	Paramount
Better Man, The		F. B. O.
Betty's a Lady	J. Ralston-C. Ray	Universal
Big City, The	L. Chaney	M-G-M
Big Game Hunt, The	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount
Big Gun, The	George Lewis	Universal
Big Sneeze, The	W. Beery-F. Sterling-Z. Pitts	Paramount
Big Top, The		M-G-M
Black Ivory (road show)	M. Blue	Warner Bros.
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox	4777 feet
Blood Will Tell	B. Jones-K. Perry	Fox
Boss of Rustlers Roost, The	D. Coleman-E. Gilbert	Pathe
Boy of the Streets, A	J. Walker-B. Francisco-M. Bennett	Rayart (S. R.)
Branded Sombrero, The	B. Jones-L. Hyams	Fox Films
Brass Knuckles	M. Blue-B. Bronson	Warner Bros.
Breed of the Sunset		F. B. O.
Bride of the Night	C. Farrel-G. Nissen-M. Busch-M. Loy	Fox
Brides Will Be Brides	Laura La Plante	Universal
Bringing Up Father	J. F. McDonald	M-G-M
Broadway After Midnight	P. Bonner-C. Landis-G. Hughes-B. Tennant	Krelbar Pict. (S. R.)	6199 feet	Nov. 4
Burning Daylight	M. Sills	First National
Butter and Egg Man, The	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Call of the Heart	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb-J. Alden	Universal	5261 feet
Cancelled Debt, The	Rex Lease	Sterling Pict.
Casey Jones	R. Lewis-J. Robards-A. Sheridan	Rayart (S. R.)
Certain Young Man, A	Novarro-Adoree-W. Marshall-G. Astor	M-G-M
Chicago	P. Haver-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille
Chicago After Midnight		F. B. O.
City of Shadows, The	J. Luden-S. Lynn	F. B. O.
City of Sin	M. Hoy	Warner Bros.
Cock-Eyed World, The	V. McLaglen-D. Del Rio-E. Lowe	Fox
Code of the Range	Jack Perrin	Rayart (S. R.)	4747 feet
Cohens and the Kellys in Paris, The	G. Sidney-J. F. McDonald-V. Gordon-K. Price	Universal
College Hero, The		Columbia
Come to My House		Fox
Cossacks, The	J. Gilbert-R. Odorel	M-G-M
Count of Ten, The	C. Ray-J. Gleason	Universal
Crashing Through	J. Padjans-S. Rand	Pathe
Crimson Hour, The	L. de Putti-I. Moskine-N. de Brulier	Universal
Crowd, The	J. Murray-E. Boardman-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Deer Drive, The	W. Baxter	Paramount
Dirty Work	Johnny Burke	Pathe-De Mille
Do It Again	M. Astor-L. Hughes	First National
Don Juan	J. Barrymore-E. Taylor-M. Astor	Warner Bros.	10018 feet	Aug. 31
Don't Marry	Lois Moran	Fox
Doomsday	F. Vidor-G. Cooper-Cobb	Paramount-Universal	4295 feet
Down Grade, The	Wm. Fairbanks-A. Calhoun	Lumas
Down Our Way	V. Valli-F. Darro-O. Caldwell	F. B. O.
Drums of Love	E. Taylor-D. Alvarado-M. Philbin	United Artists
Empty Saddle, The	Fred Humes	Universal
Enemy, The	L. Gish-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Eternal Silence, The	Bushman, Jr.-N. Hamilton-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fangs of Fury	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille
Fangs of Justice	Silverstreak (Dog)-J. Walker-J. Marlowe	Bischoff Prod. (S.R.)	5000 feet
Finders Keepers	Laura La Plante	Universal
Flag Maker, The	C. Ray-B. Love	G. K. Spoor-J. S. Blackton (producers)
Flower of Spain, The	Coleman-Banky	United Artists
Foreign Legion, The	N. Kerry-L. Stone-J. Marlowe	Universal
Fortune Hunter, The	S. Chaplin-C. Horton-H. Costello	Warner Bros.
Four Devils, The		Fox
Four Flusher, The	G. Lewis-M. Nixon	Universal
Freckles		F. B. O.
Gay Defender, The	R. Dix-T. Todd	Paramount
Gentlemen Prefer Blondes	L. Brooks-F. Sterling	Paramount
Get Set—Go	George O'Hara	F. B. O.
Girl Downstairs, The	L. Moran-G. O'Brien	Fox
Girl From Chicago, The	C. Nagel-M. Loy	Warner Bros.
Glorious Betsy	D. Costello-C. Nagel	Warner Bros.
Good Morning, Judge		Universal
Grand Army Man, The	Alec. B. Francis	Fox
Grand Flapper The	H. Herbert-O. Tell-E. Foxe-M. Livingston	Fox
Grandma Bernie Learns Her Letters	R. Walling-F. Reicher	Fox
Ham and Eggs	Fazenda-H. Conklin-T. Wilson	Warner Bros.
Hangman's House	W. Farnum	Fox

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Harp in Hock, A	Schildkraut-Coghlan-M.Robson-B.Love	Pathe-De Mille	5999 feet
Heroes in Blue	J. Bowers-S. Rand	Rayart (S. R.)
Her Summer Hero		F. B. O.
His Night		M-G-M
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Holy Terror, A	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox
Honeymoon Hate	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Horseman of the Plains	T. Mix-S. Blane	Fox
If I Were Single	May McAvoy	Warner Bros.
I'll Tell the World	Colleen Moore	First National
In Name Only	O. Moore-H. Costello-K. Perry	Warner Bros
Irish Destiny	D.O'Shea-P.O'Rorke	Dr. I. J. Eppel	7 reels	April 29
Jenny Lind		M-G-M
Jungle Rose	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
King of Kings, The	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	13600 feet	April 29
Ladies of Leisure		Tiffany
Ladies Must Love	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath		First National
Lady Cristilinda	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell	Fox
Lady Be Good	Mackaill-Mulhall	First National
Legion of the Condemned, The	G. Cooper	Paramount
Life's Crossroads	G. Hulette-M. Hamilton	Excellent Pict
Lilac Time	Colleen Moore	First National
Little Buckaroo, The		F. B. O.
Little Yellow House, The		F. B. O.
Love	G. Garbo-J. Gilbert-L. Barrymore- D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Love Me and the World Is Mine	Philbin-Kerry	Universal
Loves of Ricardo	George Beban	F. B. O.
Macushla (tentative)		Fox
Madamoiselle From Armentieres (English Film)	E. Brody-J. Stuart	M-G-M
Man Who Laughs, The	C. Veidt-M. Philbin	Universal
Meet the Prince	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Message to Garcia, A	Special Cast	M-G-M
Midnight Rose	L. de Putti-K. Harlan	Universal
Million Dollar Mystery, The	J. Kirkwood-L. Lee	Rayart (S. R.)	6022 feet
Moon of Israel	M. Corda-A. Marchal	F. B. O.	6680 feet
Mother Machree	B. Bennett-V. McLaglen-N. Hamilton-E. Clayton	Fox
My Wife's Honor	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
Naughty Marietta	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Nineteenth Hole, The (tentative)	H. Langdon- G. McConnell	First National
Noah's Ark (road show)	Special Cast	Warner Bros.
Old Ironsides (road show)	Special Cast	Paramount	12 reels	Dec. 11
Once There Was a Princess	B. Dove	First National
On the Stroke of Twelve	E. Torrence-J. Marlowe-D. O'Shea	Rayart (S. R.)
On to Reno	M. Prevost-C. Landis	Pathe-De Mille
Opening Night, The	C.Windsor-J.Bowers.	Columbia
Opening Night, The	C. Windsor-J. Bowers	Lumas (S. R.)
Open Range	L. Chandler-B. Bronson	Paramount
Ordeal, The	Garbo-Chaney	M-G-M
Outcast Souls	P. Bonner-C. Delaney	Sterling (S. R.)
Patent Leather Kid, The (road show)	R. Barthelmess-M. O'Day	First National	12 reels	Aug. 26
Patsy, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Perfect Gentleman, A	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5626 feet
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille
Phantom of the Range, The		F. B. O.
Pigskin	D. Rollens-S. Carrol	Fox
Pioneer Scout, The	F. Thomson-N. Lane	Paramount
Quality	Gardner James	Inspiration Pict.
Rachel	P. Negri-G. Cooper	Paramount
Race For Life, A		Warner Bros.
Racing Romeo, The	"Red" Grange-J. Ralston	F. B. O.	5992 feet
Rawhide Kid, The	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Red Hair	C. Bow-W. Austin	Paramount
Red Mark, The	G. von Seyfferlitz	Pathe-De Mille
Red Riders of Canada, The	P. R. Miller	F. B. O.
Renegade, The		F. B. O.
Ridin' Like Fury	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Romantic Rogue, The	Reed Howes	Rayart
Romeo and Juliet	N. Kerry-M. Philbin	Universal
Rose Marie	J. Crawford-J. Murray	M-G-M
Roulette	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros
Saddle and Spurs	"Buzz" Barton-L. Eason	F. B. O.
Say It With Sables	C. Windsor-R. Howes.	Columbia
Serenade	Adolphe Menjou	Paramount
Sheiks and Shebas	Junior Stars	Paramount
She's a Sheik	B. Daniels-R. Arlen W. Powell	Paramount
Shield of HonorThe	R., Lewis-D. Gulliver-N. Hamilton	Universal
Silent Hero, The	Napoleon (Dog)- R. Fraser-E. Murphy	Rayart (S. R.)
Silk Legs	M. Bellamy	Fox
Show Boat		Universal
Side Show, The	Fields!Conklin!Brian.	Paramount
Silk Legs	M. Bellamy-J. Hall	Fox
Silver Slave, The	Irene Rich	Warner Bros.
Snob, The	M. McAvoy-R. Frazer-A. B. Francis	Warner Bros.
Song of Steel		Tiffany
Span of Life, The	Lon Chaney	M-G-M
Speed Boy, The	Dick Talmadge	Universal
Speedy	Harold Lloyd	Paramount
Speedy Smith	Billy Sullivan	Rayart (S. R.)	5005 feet
Spoilers of the West	Tim McCoy	M-G-M
Spotlight, The	E. Ralston	Paramount
Squads Right		Tiffany
Stand and Deliver	R. La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Steamboat Bill, Jr	Keaton-E. Torrence	United Artists
Stronger Will The		Excellent Pict.
Student Prince, The (In Heidelberg)	R. Novarro-Shearer-J. Hersholt	M-G-M	10 reels	Oct. 7
Sunrise	Gaynor-G. O'Brien-Livingston	Fox	12 reels	Oct. 14
Survival of Slim, The	W. Wales-P. Montgomery	Pathe
Symphony, The	J. Hersholt-Nixon-G. Lewis	Universal
Tenderloin	D. Costello	Warner Bros.
Texas Ranger, The	Tim McCoy	M-G-M
Thanks For the Buggy Ride	L. La Plante -G. Tyron	Universal
Thirteenth Juror The	F. X. Bushman-Nilsson	Universal
Thunder Riders	Ted Wells	Universal
Tillie's Punctual Romance	C. Conklin	Paramount
Times Square		Tiffany
Trail of '98	K Dane-P. Starke-R. Forbes-Del Rio	M-G-M
Traveling Salesman, The	R. Dix-F. Sterling	Paramount
Under the Black Eagle	Flash (Dog)-M. Day-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Under the Tonto Rim	J. Luden	Paramount
Victory	George Bancroft	Paramount
Viennese Lovers	Philbin-Hersholt-R. Keane	Universal
Waiter from the Ritz, The	R. Griffith-A. Day	Paramount
Wall Flowers		F. B. O.
War Birds		M-G-M
Warning, The	J. Holt-D. Revier	Columbia
Watch My Speed	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal
We Americans		Universal
Wedding March, The (road show)	von Stroheim	Paramount
Western Suffragettes	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Wheels of Destiny, The	G. Hale-E. Hilliard	Rayart (S. R.)
When Danger Calls	W. Fairbanks-E. Sedgwick	Lumas (S. R.)	5000 feet.
When the Law Rides	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.
Where Love Is	E. Taylor-A. Moreno	First National
White Eagle, The	Buck Jones	Fox
Who's Your Friend? (tentative)	R. Dix-W. Powell	Paramount
Wild Geese	B. Bennett-A. Stewart-D. Keith-J. Robards	Tiffany-Stahl
Wild West Show, The		Universal
Wind, The	L. Gish-L. Hanson	M-G-M
Windjammers of Gloucester The		F. B. O.
Wings (road show)	C. Bow-B. Rogers	Paramount	12 reels	Aug. 26
Wizard, The	E. Lowe-G. G. Katsonaros	Fox Films
Woman Wise		Fox
World's Illusion, The		M-G-M
Wyoming	T. McCoy-W. Fairbanks-D. Sebastian.	M-G-M
You Will Marry Me	Clara Bow	Paramount

Comedies and Short Subjects

EDUCATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Nature Grand	Eddie Quillan	Dec. 4.	1 reel
Angel Eyes	"Big Boy"	Dec. 25.	2 reels
At Ease	Lloyd Hamilton	Sept. 4.	2 reels	Sept. 2
Back Home	Curiosities		1 reel	Sept. 23
Batter Up	George Davis	Sept. 11.	2 reels	Sept. 16
Brave Cowards	Dunham-Bradley	July 17.	1 reel	Aug. 19
Builders of Bridges—When Twilight Comes	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Brunettes Prefer Gentlemen.	Jerry Drew	Nov. 6.	2 reels	Oct. 28
Bubbles of Geography	Hodge-Podge	Aug. 14.	1 reel	Aug. 19
Burning Timber — Rough Country	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Oct. 23.	2 reels	Oct. 7
Capers of a Camera	Hodge-Podge	July 17.	1 reel	Sept. 9
Careless Hubby	Dunham-Bradley	June 5.	1 reel	July 1
Cry of Winter, The—Hot Place, The	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Sept. 18.	1 reel	Sept. 2
Dead Easy	Bobby Vernon	July 17.	2 reels	Aug. 13
Delving Into the Dictionary.	Hodge-Podge	Sept. 11.	1 reel	Sept. 23
Dog Days—The Sun and the Rain	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Dummies	Larry Semon		2 reels
Eats for Two	Dunham-Thompson	Oct. 9.	1 reel	Oct. 14
Felix the Cat Hits the Deck	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Dec. 11.	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Art for Heart's Sake	"Sullivan Cartoon"	July 10.	1 reel	Aug. 5
Felix the Cat Behind the Front	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Dec. 25.	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Daze and Knights	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 30.	1 reel	Nov. 18
Felix the Cat in Dough-Nutty	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 12.	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Flim Flam Films	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 18.	1 reel	Oct. 7
Felix the Cat in Jack From All Trades	Sullivan Cartoon	Aug. 7.	1 reel	Sept. 9
Felix the Cat in 'Loco' Motive	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 26.	1 reel	July 29
Felix the Cat in No Fuelin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 16.	1 reel	Nov. 11
Felix the Cat in the Non-Stop Fright	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 21.	1 reel	Sept. 16
Felix the Cat Switches Witches	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 2.	1 reel	Oct. 21
Felix the Cat in the Travel-Hog	"Sullivan Carton"	July 24.	1 reel	Sept. 2
Felix the Cat in Uncle Tom's Crabbin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 13.	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Whys and Otherwise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 27.	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"		1 reel	Sept. 23
Feline Frolics—The Tonquin Valley	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Fighting Orphans, The—Evening Mist	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Follies of Fashion	Curiosities	Sept. 25.	1 reel
For Men Only	Curiosities	Oct. 30.	1 reel	Oct. 21
Fox Tales	Hutton-Dunham	Sept. 25.	2 reels	Sept. 23
Fully Equipped	Lloyd-Murdock	Aug. 28.	1 reel	Sept. 23

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Giddy Gobblers	Neal Burns	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Goose Flesh	Lloyd Hamilton	June 19	2 reels	July 1
Half-Pint Hero, A	Lupino Lane	Sept. 18	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hello Sailor	Lupino Lane	Dec. 25	2 reels
Here and There in Travel Land	Hodge-Podge	Oct. 16	1 reel
Her Husky Hero	Johnny Arthur	June 5	2 reels	June 17
He Tried to P ease	M. Colins-L. Hutton	Nov. 6	1 reel
High Spots	Al St. John	July 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Hints on Hunting—A Day By the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
His Better Half	Lloyd Hamilton	July 31	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hold Fast	Cliff Bowes	July 31	1 reel	Aug. 5
Holly-Nuts	Curiosities	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 2
Injun Food—Moods of the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Dec. 25	1 reel
It's Me	Monte Collins	Dec. 18	1 reel
Jack From All Trades	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Kid Tricks	"Big Boy"	July 3	2 reels	July 29
Kilties	Dorothy Devore	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 7
Little Rube, The	Dorothy Devore	Nov. 20	2 reels	Nov. 11
Live News	Johnny Arthur	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
Lovingly Yours	Curiosities	Dec. 4	1 reel
Lucky Dog	P. Dunham-L. Billetts	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Many Wings—Beside the Still Water	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Nov. 20	1 reel	Nov. 4
Meet the Folks	Jimmie Adams	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Models in Mud	Hodge-Podge	Nov. 13	1 reel
Monty of the Mounted	Lupino Lane	July 24	2 reels	Aug. 12
Movie Hound, The	Phil Dunham	July 3	1 reel
New Wrinkles	Lloyd Hamilton	Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 21
Night Owls	Dunham-Bradley	June 19	1 reel	July 29
No Cheating	Al St John	June 26	2 reels	July 22
Nothing Flat	George Davis	Dec. 11	2 reels
Off Again	J. Lloyd-B. Boyd	Sept. 25	1 reel	Oct. 14
Oh, What a Man!	Larry Semon	Dec. 4	2 reels
Papa's Boy	Lloyd Hamilton	Dec. 18	2 reels
Peculiar Pair of Pups, A—Nobody Home	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Pick a Pet	Curioisities	July 3	1 teel	July 22
Plumb Dumb	"Poodles" Hanneford	Aug. 1	2 reels	Sept. 9
Poor Fish—The Ebbing Tide	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Queens Wild	Beauchamp-Davis	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Red Hot Bullets	Eddie Quillan	Nov. 27	2 reels	Nov. 18
Rest Day	Monte Collins	Nov. 27	1 reel	Nov. 18
R'ver of Suds, The—Mid-Ocean Sunset, A	Bruce Scenic	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 12
Scared Silly	Johnny Arthur	Nov. 13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Seeing Stars	George Davis	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 17
Shamrock Alley	"Big Boy"	Nov. 27	2 reels
She's a Boy	"Big Boy"	Oct. 2	2 reels	Oct. 7
Shooting Wild	Jack Lloyd	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Some Scout	Lupino Lane	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 21
Stunt Man, The	Larry Semon	Oct. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sure Cure	Beauchamp-Davis	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Tales of a Traveler	Hodge-Podge	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Tenants of Marble Canyon, The—A Picture Paradise	Bruce Scenic	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Thoughts While Fishing—Silver Shadows	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Traveling at Home	Chriosities	July 31	1 reel	Sept. 9
Up In Arms	Dorothy Devore	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 2
Whirl of Activity, A	Hodge-Podge	Dec. 11	1 reel
Wild Wallops	B. Dooley-O Hasbrouck	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Wild Wool—Night Clouds	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 4	1 reel

F B O

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alice Cartoons (Released Twice a Month)			1 reel
Beauty Parlor, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 3	2 reels
Beloved Rogue, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 5	2 reels
Bo's Guest	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 19	2 reels
Boys Will Be Girls	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Campus Romeos	"Fat Men"	July 25	2 reels
Chin He Loved to Lift	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 14	2 reels
Fleshy Devils	Carr-Alexander-Ross	Nov. 14	2 reels	Oct. 7
Fresh Hair Fiends	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 21	2 reels
Helen of Troy, N. Y.	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 31	2 reels
How High Is Up? (Fat Men)	Carr-Alexander-Ross	June 27	2 reels
Kick in the Dark	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	July 3	2 reels
Krazy Kat Cartoons (released twice a month)			1 reel
Last Nose of Summer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 17	2 reels
Mickey's Bottle	Mickey Yule	Dec. 5	2 reels
Mickey's Circus	Mickey Yule	Sept. 4	2 reels
Mickey's Eleven	Mickey Yulo	Nov. 7	2 reels
Mickey's Pals	Mickey Yule	Oct. 3	2 reels	Oct. 7
New Faces for Old	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 12	2 reels
Nothing Doing	Charles Bowers	July 11	2 reels
Permanent Rave, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 10	2 reels
Pickled Romance	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Peter's Pan	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 28	2 reels
She Troupes to Conquer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 19	2 reels
Sock in Time, A	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 5	2 reels
Steamed Up	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Tanks of the Wabash	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Oct. 10	2 reels
Three Missing Links	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Dec. 12		Nov. 11
Toupay or Not To Pay	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 7	2 reels
Wanderers of the Waistline	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Sept. 11	2 reels

FOX FILMS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Argentina, The Rich	Variety	Oct. 2	1 reel	Nov. 4
Arkansas Traveler	Variety	Jan. 18	1 reel
Art Treasures of the Vatican	Variety	Dec. 25	1 reel
Capt. Kidd's Kittens	Animal Comedy	Oct. 23	2 reels	Nov. 4
Cupid and the Clock (O. Henry)	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Desert Blooms, The	Variety		1 reel
Exploring Norway	Variety	Aug. 7	1 reel
Fool and His Honey	Tyles Brooks	Sept. 25	2 reels	Nov. 4
Gentlemen Prefer Scotch	N. Stuart-S. Phipps	June 26	2 ree s
Glory That Was Greece	Variety	July 24	1 reel
Her Blue Black Eyes	M. Casajuana-E. Clayton	Oct. 9	2 reels	Nov. 4
Her Silent Wow	"Helen and Warren"	July 3	2 reels
Hot House Hazel	T. Brooks-T. Hill		2 reels
Hot Potato, A (Van Bibber)	E. Foxe-K. Bates	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Kangaroo's Kimona, The	G. Carmeon, F. Bramley	Aug. 28	2 reels
Lights and Shadows in Sicily	Variety	Nov. 27	1 reel
Lords of the Back Fence	Variety	Jan. 22	1 reel
Love Is Blonde	D. Ellis-D. Rollens		2 reels
Midsummer Night's Steam, A	Eddie C ayton	June 5	2 ree s
Moose Country, The	Variety	Nov. 13	1 reel
Mum's the Word			2 reels	Sept. 2
Northern Alaska Today	Variety	Oct. 16	1 reel
Over the Andes	Variety		1 reel
Psyche and the Pskyscraper	"O. Henry"		2 reels
Road to the Yukon	Variety	June 26	1 reel	June 24
Roamin' Gladiator	"Animal Comedy"	June 12	2 reels
Romatic Alhambira, The	Variety	Oct. 30	1 reel
Rumors for Rent	"Helen and Warren"	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Salmon Run, The	Variety	Aug. 21	1 reel	Oct. 14
Silk Legs		July 31	2 reels
Sky Frontiers	Variety	Sept. 4	1 reel
Solitude	Variety	Dec. 11	1 reel
Suite Homes	"O. Henry"	July 17	2 reels
Snow Rambles	Variety	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Twenty Legs Under the Sea	R. Walling	Sept. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Under Colorado Skies	Variety	Sept. 18	1 reel
Venders of the World	Variety	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Why B ondes Leave Home	R. Walling-M. Beebe	July 24	2 reels
Wolf in Cheap Clothing, A	"Animal Comedy"	July 10	2 reels

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Amazing Lovers	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
An African Adventure	Ufa Oddity	Aug. 27	1 reel
Assorted Babies	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 5	1 reel
Atop the World	Ufa Oddity	April 7	1 reel
Call of the Cuckoo, The	Max Davidson	Oct. 15	2 reels
Chase, The	Ufa Oddity	Mar. 26	1 reel
Children of the Sun	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel
Dog Days	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 8	1 reel
Falcon, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel	Dec. 11
Flag, The (Technicolor)	E. Bennett-F. X. Bushman	Oct. 1	2 reels
Fight For Life, A	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 19	1 reel
Fishing With a Microscope	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Golden Fleeces	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Gritty Pups	Ufa Odd ty	Mar.	1 reel
Happy Omen, A	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Heavenly Bodies	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Hidden Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jewels of Venus	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 10	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jungle Round-Up, A	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 14	1 reel	Oct. 9
Lighter That Failed, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 1	2 reels
Lion Hunt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 17	1 reel
Monarch of the Glen, The	Ufa Oddity	Feb 25	1 reel
Napoleon and Josephine	(Technicolor)		2 reels
Nature's Wizardry	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Old Wallop, The	"Our Gang"	Oct. 22	2 reels
Palace of Honey, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pathfinders, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Parasol Abt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 31	1 reel
Perfume and Nicotine	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pets and Pests	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Primitive Housekeeping	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Sanctuary	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Second Hundred Years, The	Laurel-Hardy	Oct. 8	2 reels
Secrets of the Sea	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Sleeping Death	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Soaring Wings	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 24	1 reel
Sting of Stings, The	Charlie Chase	Sept. 3	2 reels
Sugar Daddies	All Star Cast	Sept. 10	2 reels
TallyHo	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Tokens of Manhood	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Way of All Pants, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 29	2 reels
What Every Iceman Knows	Max Davidson	Sept. 17	2 reels
Wicked Kasimir, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Winged Death	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 3	1 reel
Wonders of the Blue Gulf of Mexico	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Yale vs. Harvard	Our Gang	Sept. 24	2 reels

PARAMOUNT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Adoration	Novelty	Feb. 25	1 reel
Aero Nuts	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 13	1 reel
Behind the Counter	E. E. Horton	Mar. 3	2 reels
Crazy to Fly	Bobby Vernon	Sept. 17	2 reels
Dad's Choice	E. E. Horton	Jan. 7	2 reels
Dizzy Sights	Billy Dooley	Dec. 17	1 reel
Doctor Quack	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Easy Curves	Billy Dooley	Nov. 12	2 reels
Elegy, The	Novelty	Aug. 6	1 reel
Fantasy	Novelty	Oct. 15	1 reel
Fighting Fanny	Featured Cast	Jan. 21	2 reels
Find the King	E. E. Horton	Nov. 15	2 reels
For Crimes Sake	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 19	1 reel
French Fried	Neal Burns	Sept. 3	2 reels
Frenzy	Novelty	Jan. 14	1 reel
Horse Shy	E. E. Horton	May 19	2 reels
Hot Heads	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Hot Papa	Jack Duffy	Oct. 1	2 reels
Ko-Ko Chops Suey	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 29	1 reel
Ko-Ko Explores	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 15	1 reel	Nov. 11
Ko-Ko Hops Off	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept. 17	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kane	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 20	1 reel
Ko-Ko Kicks	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 26	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kink	Inkwell Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 reel
Ko-Ko's K ock	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov. 12	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kozy Korber	Inkwe Cartoon	Jan. 21	1 ree
Ko-Ko Plays Pool	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug. 6	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kid	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 24	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Knight	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept 3	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kop	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct. 1	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Quest	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec. 10	1 reel
Loco Motifs	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel
Mad Scrambies	Neal Burns	Nov. 26	2 ree s
Milk Made	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec. 3	1 reel
Moony Mariner, A	Billy Dooley	Sept. 24	2 reels
Nifty Nags	Featured Cast	Dec. 24	2 reels
No Publicity	E. E. Horton	Aug. 1	2 reels
Ocean Blues	Jimmie Adams	Nov. 19	2 reels
Oh Mummy	Jimmie Adams	Oct. 8	2 reels
Pie Curs, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 5	1 reel
Pig Styles	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Jan. 14	1 reel
Rail Rode	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 24	1 reel	Oct. 4
Row, Sailor, Row!	Billy Dooley	Aug. 20	2 reels
Scared Pink	Jack Duffy	Oct. 29	2 reels
School Daze	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept. 10	1 reel
Scrambled Weddings	E. E. Horton	J7ne 30	2 reels

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Sealing Whacks	Krazy Kat Cartoon		Aug. 1	1 reel
Short Socks	Bobby Vernon		Aug. 13	2 reels
Short Tail, A	Novelty		Sept. 10	1 reel
Splash Yourself	Bobby Vernon		Dec. 3	2 reels
Stork Exchange, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon		Dec. 17	1 reel
Swiss Movements	Jimmie Adams		Dec. 31	2 reels
Tired Wheels	Krazy Kat Cartoon		Oct. 8	1 reel
Toddles	Novelty		Dec. 10	1 reel	Oct. 7
Topsey Turvey	Krazy Kat Cartoon		Oct. 22	1 reel
Uncle Tom's Caboose	Krazy Kat Cartoon		Oct. 22	1 reel
Web Feet	Krazy Kat Cartoon		Aug. 27	1 reel
Wedding Wows	Bobby Vernon		Oct. 22	2 reels
Wired and Fired	Krazy Kat Cartoon		Dec. 31	1 reel

PATHE-DE MILLE

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Alien Antics	Sportlight		Nov. 13	1 reel	Nov. 11
All Bull and a Yard Wide	"Aesop Fables"		Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 7
Ant Life As It Isn't	"Aesop Fables"		Aug. 7	1 reel
Baby Brother	"Our Gang"		June 26	2 reels	July 1
Big Reward, The	"Aesop Fables"		July 3	1 reel	July 1
Big Tent, The	"Aesop Fables"		Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Brave Heart, A	"Alsop Fables"		Oct. 30	1 reel
Bull Fighter, The			Nov. 27	2 reels
Bully, The	"Aesop Fables"		July 31	1 reel	July 29
Chicken Feed	"Our Gang"		Nov. 6	2 reels	Nov. 4
College Kiddo, The	Hurlock-Quillan		Aug. 7	2 reels	Aug. 5
Comrades in Work	Mabel Normand			2 reels
Crimson Flash, The (Serial—Landis-E. Gilbert)			June 19	10 episodes	June 17
Cups and Contenders	Sportlight		Nov. 27	1 reel
Cured in the Excitement	Hurlock-Bevan		June 12	2 reels	June 24
Cutting a Melon	"Aesop Fables"		Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 2
Daddy Boy	Ben Turpin		Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Died in the Wool	"Aesop Fables"		June 19	1 reel	June 17
Do Detectives Think?	Roach Stars		Nov. 20	2 reels	Nov. 18
Dog's Day, A	"Aesop Fables"		June 5	1 reel	June 3
Don't Tell Everything	Roach Stars		July 3	2 reels	July 1
Down to the Sea	Sportlight		Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 28
Eyes and Angles	Sportlight		July 10	1 reel	July 15
Fiddlesticks	Harry Langdon		Nov. 7	2 reels
Flying Feet	Sportlight		June 12	1 reel	June 24
Flying Fishers	"Alsop Fables"		Nov. 27	1 reel
Fluttering Hearts	Charley Chase		June 19	2 reels	June 17
Football Officials	"Football Sense"			1 reel	Oct. 21
For Sale a Bungalow			Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 28
Fox Hunt, The	"Alsop Fables"		Nov. 20	1 reel
From Soup to Nuts	Rarebits		Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Glorious Fourth, The	"Our Gang"		July 31	2 reels	July 29
Gold Digger of Weepah, A	Bevan-Bennett-Burke		Oct. 2	2 ree s	Sept. 30
Golf Nut, The	Bevan-Quillan-A. Bennett		Sept. 4	2 reels
Hard Cider	"Aesop Fables"		June 12	1 reel	June 17
Have a Drink	Rarebits		Nov. 20	1 reel
Hawk of the Hills (Serial)	Ray and Miller		Aug. 28	10 episodes	Sept. 2
Hole in One, A	"Aesop Fables"		Aug. 21	1 reel	Aug. 12
Hook, Line and Sinker	"Aseop Fables"		Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Human Fly, The	"Aesop Fables"		Sept. 25	1 reel	Sept. 30
In and Out Again	"Aesop Fables"		Sept. 18	1 reel
King Harold	L. Baird-T. Holmes		Nov. 13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Lateral Pass, The	Sportlight			1 reel	Oct. 14
Lindy's Cat	"Aesop Fables"		Oct. 16	1 reel
Love 'Em and Weep	M. Busch-Laurel-Finlayson		June 12	2 reels	June 24
Love Nest, The	"Aesop Fables"		July 17	1 reel	July 15
Love's Languid Lure	Ben Turpin		Aug. 29	2 reels	Sept. 2
Mark of the Frog, The (Serial)	M. Morris-D. Reed			10 episodes
Masked Menace, The (Serial)	L. Kent-J. Arthur		Nov. 6	10 episodes	Nov. 4
Now I'll Tell One	Chase-Laurel		Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 14
Olympic Games	"Our Gang"		Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 2
One Man Dog, A	"Aesop Fables"		June 26	1 reel	July 1
On the Hook	Sportlight		Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 2
Outwitting Time	Spotlight		Oct. 2	1 reel
Pioneer Instinct	Sportlight		June 26	1 reel
Pride of Pikeville, The	Ben Turpin		June 5	2 reels	June 3
Prowling Around France with Will Rogers	Travelesque		Sept. 18	1 reel
Red Hot Sands	"Aesop Fables"		Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 12
Riding High	"Aesop Fables"		July 10	1 reel
River of Doubt, The	"Aesop Fables"		Oct. 2	1 reel	Sept. 30
Roaming the Emerald Isle with Will Rogers	Travelesque		Aug 21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Sailors, Beware!	Roach Stars		Sept. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Saved By a Keyhole	"Alsop Fables"		Nov. 13	1 reel
Scents and Dog Sense	Sportlight		Aug. 7	1 reel
Second Honeymoon, The	T. Holmes-L. Baird		Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Signs of Spring	"Alsop Fables"		Nov. 6	1 reel
Should Second Husbands Come First?	Max Davidson		Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Small-Town Sheriff, The	"Aesop Fables"		Sept. 4	1 reel	Sept. 2
Smith's Bargain	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson			2 reels
Smith's Candy Shop	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson		Aug. 21	2 reels	Aug. 12
Smith's Cook	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson		Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Smith's Cousins	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson		Nov. 13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Smith's Pony	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson		Sept. 18	2 reels
Soldier Man	Harry Langdon
Subway Sally	"Aesop Fables"		July 24	1 reel	July 22
Tackles and Touchdowns	Sportlight		Sept. 18	1 reel
Taking Punishment	Sportlight		July 24	1 reel
Their Second Honeymoon	Baird-Holmes		Oct. 16	2 reels
Up the Ladder	Sportlight		Oct. 6	1 teel	Oct. 21
Weaker Sex, The	Rarebits		Sept. 25	1 reel
What Women Did For Me	Charley Chase		Aug. 14	2 reels	Aug. 12
Why Girls Love Sailors	Roach Stars		July 17	2 reels	July 15
Winning Around Europe With Will Rogers	Travelesque			2 reels	Nov. 18
With Love and Hisses	Roach Stars		Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
With Will Rogers Through Switzerland & Bavaria	Travelesque		June 26	1 reel	July 1

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Animal Catchers	McDougall Kids	Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Bear Escape, A	Parker-Reavis	Capitol Prod.		2 reels	Aug. 1
Beauty and the Beach	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clark		1 reel
Big Pie Raid, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June 1	2 reels	June 10
Berth Mark	Tarbell-Finch-Shaw	Red Seal		2 reels
Bobbed Hair and Bandits	Sid Smith	Capitol Pord	Aug. 1	2 reel
Custard's Last Stand		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Derelects of the Sea	Novelty	Bray	June 30	1 reel
Deuce, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June 1	2 reels
Dream of the Sea, A (Bino-color)		Film Dist. Corp.		1 reel	May 27
Fresh and a Devil	Clyde-Malone-Irving	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
God Made This Day For Me (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.	Aug. 1	1 reel
Golf and How	Novelty	Castle	Mar. 26	1 reel
Good Scouts		Bray		2 reels
Great Guns	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Helpless Helper	Al Jay	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Henpecked in Morocco	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Heralds of the Spring	Nature Special	Bray	April 19	1 reel
Here's Another One	Novelty	Bray		1 reel	Oct. 7
Heroes of the Wild (Serial)	Jack Hoxie	N. Levine	Dec. 1	10 episodes
Iron Derby, The		Bray
Isle of Sunken Gold, The (Serial)	A. Stewart	Nat Levine	Sept. 1	10 episodes
Here Comes the Bride	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
His Off-Day	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
His Ticklish Predicament	Jack Cooper	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
Hit and Win		Bray	Aug. 20	2 reels
Iron Derby, The				2 reels	Oct. 21
It's a Great Life	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
It's All Wet		Bray	July 10	2 reels
Japanese Oddities	Novelty	Castle	Aug. 11	1 reel
Jungle Belles	"Lantz Cartoon"	Bray		1 reel	June 10
Ko-Ko Makes 'Em Laugh	"Fleischer Cartoon"	Red Seal		1 reel	July 22
Learn by Mail	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Let's Go	Nove.ty	Cast e	Aug. 27	1 reel
Lift Your Face		Bray	Aug. 10	2 reels
Little Feet	Novelty	Castle	June 14	1 reel
Lost in a Pullman		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 23
Lunches and Punches	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod		2 reels	Sept. 1
Ma and the Auto (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel
Magic Hands	Novelty	Castle	July 16	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Tiffany		1 reel	Sept. 9
Nothing to Live For	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Oh Boy Paris	Novelty	Castle	July 30	1 reel
Orphans, The	McDougall Kids	Bray		2 reels
Over There	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Pals	Novelty	Castle	May 7	1 reel
Perils of the Jungle (Serial)	E. Gilbert-F. Merril	Weiss Bros		10 episodes	Aug. 5
Sappy Days	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Scoop, The		Bray	July 20	2 reels
She Beast, The	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod		2 reels	July 1
Silence of the Snows (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.		1 reel
Sky Walkers	Novelty	Castle	May 21	1 reel
Sophomore, The	G.O'Neil-L.Graydon	Hi-Mark
Speed	Novelty	Castle	Apr. 9	1 reel
Spooky Money	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Stepping Along	Novelty	Castle	April 23	1 reel
Style Book	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Two Arabian Sights		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Uncle Tom's Habit	Parker-Reavis	Capital Prod		2 reels	Sept. 1
Water Sports	Novelty	Castle	July 2	1 reel
Water, Water Everywhere		Bray	June 20	2 reels
When Redskins Bit the Dust	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	July 1	1 reel
When We Were Kids	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	June 1	1 reel
Who's Who	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Yellow Dog, The (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel	April 15
Yosemite	Novelty	Castle	June 18	1 reel

TIFFANY

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Bridal of Pennacook	Color Classic		Nov. 1	1 reel
Comrades	Color Classic		Nov. 15	1 reel
King of Sports	Color Classic		Sept 15	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic		Oct. 1	1 reel
Me and My Pal	Color Classic		Dec. 15	1 reel
North of Suez	Color Classic		Jan. 1	1 reel
Roaring 'Round the Carrib-bean	Color Classic		Oct. 15	1 reel
Romany Love	Color Classic		Dec. 1	1 reel
Scarface	Color Classic		Jan. 15	1 reel

UNIVERSAL

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Ah Gay Vienna	Charles Puffy		July 25	1 reel	July 15
All For Uncle	C. King-C. Doherty		Oct. 19	2 reels	Oct. 7
All Wet	Oswald Cartoon		Oct. 31	1 reel
And How	"The Gumps"		Oct. 31	2 reels
Andy Knows His Onions	"The Gumps"		Dec. 11	2 reels
Banker's Daughter, The	Oswald Cartoon		Nov. 28	2 reels
Barrymore Tommy (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman		June 18	2 reels	May 27
Battle Scarred Hero, A	"The Gumps"		Oct. 3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Battling Buckaroo, The (Western)	Bob Curwood		Nov. 12	2 reels
Blake of Scotland Yard (Serial)	Hayden Stevenson		Aug. 15	10 episodes
Blind Man's Bluff	Jack Perrin			2 reels	Oct. 28
Buster Come On	Trimble, Turner and Dog		Sept. 14	2 reels	Sept. 9
Buster's Frame-Up	Trimble, Turner and Dog		June 6	2 reels	May 20
Buster's Handicap	Trimble, Turner and Dog		Aug. 1	2 reels	July 15
Buster's Home Life	Trimble, Turner and Dog		Oct. 12	2 reels	Sept. 30
Buster's Initiation	Trimble, Turner and Dog		July 4	2 reels	June 24
Buster, What's Next?	Trimble, Turner and Dog		Nov. 16	2 reels	Oct. 28
Clearing the Trail (Western)	Newton House		Nov. 26	2 reels
Cows Is Cows (Mustang)	Corbett & Holmes		July 9	2 reels	June 24
Crimson Colors	Lewis-Gulliver		Sept. 12	2 reels	June 17
Dancing Fools	C. King-C. Doherty		Sept. 21	2 reels	Sept. 2
Danger Ahead (Western)	Jack Perrin		Sept. 24	2 reels	Sept. 2
Dangerous Double, A (Western)	Bob Curwood		Oct. 15	2 reels	Sept. 23
Daze of the West (Mustang)	Fred Gilman		Sept. 3	2 reels
Dazzling Co-Eds	Lewis-Sullivan		Oct. 10	2 reels
Disordered Orderly, The	Sid Saylor		Nov. 9	2 reels
Doctors Prefer Brunetts	Neely Edwards		June 20	1 reel	June 3
Do or Diet	Charles Puffy		June 13	1 reel	June 3
Empty Socks	Oswald Cartoon		Dec. 11	1 reel
Fighting Finish, A	George Lewis				Oct. 14
Fighting Texan, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman		Sept. 10	2 reels	Aug. 19
George's Many Loves	Sid Saylor		June 15	2 reels	May 27
George Steps Out	Sid Saylor		Sept. 28	2 reels
Great Guns	Oswald Cartoon		Oct. 17	1 reel
Gun Justice (Mustang)	Fred Gilman		July 2	2 reels	June 10
Haunted Island, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty-Helen Foster			10 episodes
His Day of Days	Neely Edwards		Aug. 15	1 reel
Home Trail, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman		June 4	2 reels	May 13
Honest and Truly	Charles Puffy		Aug. 29	2 reels
Horse Trader, The (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman		Aug. 20	2 reels
Hot Stuff				1 reel	Oct. 14
Jane's Relations	M. Marcel-E. McCarthy		July 17	2 reels	July 1
Jane's Sleuth	Dorety-Clair		June 22	2 reels	June 3
Keeping in Trim	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail		Sept. 7	2 reels	Aug. 19
King of Hearts (Northwest Series)	Jack Perrin		Dec. 17	2 reelsc

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Law Rider, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Nov. 5	2 reels
Love Wallop, The	Arthur Lake	Nov. 7	1 reel
Man Tamer, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 27	2 reels
Mechanical Cow, The	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 3	1 reel
Model George	Sid Saylor	Dec. 28	2 reel
Monkey Shines	Ben Hall	Sept. 25	1 reels
My Mistake	Charles King	June 29	2 reels	June 10
Newlyweds Christmas Party, The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Dec. 11	2 reels	Nov. 4
Newlyweds' Mistake The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Nov. 7	2 reels
Newlyweds' Surprise	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Oct. 3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Newlyweds' Troubles	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Sept. 5	2 reels	Aug. 19
Ocean Bruises	"The Gumps"		2 reels	Oct. 28
Ocean Hop	Oswald Cartoon
Oh! Mabel	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Taxi!	Sid Saylor	Aug. 10	2 reels	July 22
On Deck	Sid Saylor	Nov. 30	2 reels
Oh Mabel!	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Teacher!	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 19	1 reel	Sept. 2
On Furlough	Sig Saylor	July 27	2 reels	July 15
On Special Duty (Western)	Fred Gilman	Oct. 8	2 reels	Sept. 30
Passing the Joneses	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Nov. 2	2 reels
Pawns and Queens (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 6	2 reels	July 15
Penny Ante	Harry Mann	June 27	1 reel
Phantom Outlaw, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 16	2 reels	June 24
Picking on George	Sid Saylor	Oct. 26	2 reels	Oct. 14
Piperock Blaze, The (Tuttle Western)	Holmes & Corbett	June 11	2 reels	May 20
Plain Jane		Aug. 17	2 reels
Please Don't		Aug. 24	2 reels
Plumed Rider, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 30	2 reels	July 15
Racing Wizard, The	Newton House	Dec. 24	2 reels
Rattling Good Time, A	Ben Hall	Dec. 19	1 reel
Red Suspenders	Summerville & "Fanny"	June 6	1 reel	May 20
Red Warning (Western)	Newton House		2 reels	Oct. 15
Rest Cure, The (Tuttle Western)	Corbett and Holmes	June 25	2 reels
Riding Whirlwind, The (Western)	Newton House	Oct. 1	2 reels	Sept. 23
Riding Wild	Bob Curwood
Roaring Gulch, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	July 17	2 reels	July 1
Run Buster!	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Dec. 14	2 reels
Run for His Money, A	Arthur Lake	Aug. 21	1 reel
Running Wild	Lewis-Gulliver-Phillips	Dec. 5	2 reels	Nov. 18
Rushing Business	Sid Saylor	Aug. 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Samson at Calford	Lewis-Gulliver	Nov. 7	2 reels	June 17
Saxophobia	Arthur Lake	Oct. 10	1 reel	Sept. 30
Scarlet Arrow, The (Serial—F. X. Bushman Jr.)			10 episodes
Scrambled Honeymoon, The	Ben Hall	Nov. 21	1 reel
Scrappin' Fool, The (Mustang)	Bob Curwood	Sept. 17	2 reels	Sept. 2
Shady Rest	"The Gumps"		2 reels
Showing Off	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Dec. 7	2 reels	Nov. 18
Silent Partner, The (Mustang-Edmund Cobb)		Mar. 19	2 reels	Feb. 25
Sleepy Time Pal, A	Neely Edwards	July 11	1 reel	June 24
Smiling Wolf, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Dec. 1	2 reels
Snookum's Asleep	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	July 6	2 reels	June 24
Snookum's Clean Up	Snookums-Clair-Saylor	Aug. 3	2 reels	July 15
Society Breaks	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Oct. 5	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sodas and Shebas	Arthur Lake	Sept. 12	2 reels	Sept. 9
Son of America, A	George K. Arthur	Aug. 8	1 reel
South of Northern Lights (Western)	Jack Perrin	Oct. 22	2 reels	Oct. 7
Splashing Through	Lewis-Gulliver-Phillips	Dec. 19	2 reels
Square Shooter, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Aug. 13	2 reels	July 22
Stop Snookums	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	June 1	2 reels	May 13
Surprised Honey	Neely Edwards	Aug. 1	1 reel	July 15
Swell Clothes	Arthur Lake	Dec. 5	1 reel	Nov. 18
Tale of a Shirt, The	Jimmy Aubrey	July 17	1 reel	July 1
That's No Excuse	Charles King	June 8	2 reels	May 20
There's a Will	C. King-C. Doherty	Dec. 21	2 reels
Too Much Sleep	"The Gumps"	Sept. 19	2 reels	Sept. 2
Total Loss, A	"The Gumps"	Nov. 28	2 reels
Trail of the Tiger, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty	Nov. 7	2 reels	Aug. 5
Trolley Troubles	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 5	1 reel	Aug. 19
Under the Bed	Charles Puffy	July 4	1 reel	June 24
Valiant Rider, The (Western)	Bob Curwood		2 reels
Vanishing Rider, The (Serial)	Wm. Desmond		10 episodes
What An Excuse	Charles King	July 13	2 reels	June 24
When Greek Meets Greek	"The Gumps"	Oct. 17	2 reels	Oct. 7
Whispering Smith Rides (Serial)	Wallace MacDonald	June 6	10 episodes
Winning Five, The	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept. 26	2 reels	Sept. 16
Winning Punch, The	George Lewis	Nov. 21	2 reels

"The Jazz Singer" — Warner Brothers, Warner Theatre, New York City

Times: "Received with rousing applause. In fact, not since first presentation of Vitaphone features more than a year ago at same playhouse, has anything like ovation been heard in motion picture theatre. It was a happy idea to persuade Mr. Jolson to play leading role for few men could have approached task of singing and acting so well."

World: "Only twice before in last ten years, has so sincere and so thunderous a storm of applause broken over cinema. To me acclaim represented natural reaction of intelligent gathering to phenomenally beautiful episode woven out of tragic loveliness."

American: "'The Jazz Singer' is due to make plenty of money."

Daily News: "It is touching, sentimental melodrama which will have especial appeal for Hebrew audiences although those of other faiths were likewise extremely impressed. Jolson has personality plus."

Graphic: "Film will undoubtedly be success and will have a healthy run on road as well as at Warner Theatre."

Evening World: "Quite as much of success as anything 'Father of Mammies' ever achieved on stage. One of best things Warner Bros. have done, and it is well worth your while to take it in."

Telegram: "Marvelous and compelling."

Mirror: "Jolson brought tears to eyes of most of those assembled, as powerful climax of picture developed."

Morning Telegraph: "As jazz singer, Jolson is sincere and moving."

"Uncle Tom's Cabin"—Universal, Central Theatre, New York City

Telegram: "New materialization of Uncle Tom will impress you as first rate and exciting melodrama. . . . . You will have a swell time hissing bloodhounds and cheering Eliza's fight for honor of the cabin and kiddie."

Times: "Mr. Pollard has presented some scenes with unusual skill, particularly those in which Topsy and Eva are beheld. Audience applauded sequence in which Eliza is pursued by bloodhounds over ice."

Herald-Tribune: "Proved to be one of most thrilling and satisfying melodramas we have seen in a long time."

American: "Carewe gives sincere and interesting performance as George, Eliza's husband. Most thrilling sequence is one in which Eliza crosses the ice. It elicited rounds of applause from last night's audience and was worthy of every bit of it."

World: "Major thrill of this autumn in cinema has come to town as Eliza, that lorn and harried slave mother, crosses the ice at Central. Picture will, I am confident, prove to be as grand and glorious a show upon screen as ever it was underneath tent."

Sun: "River scenes probably most worthy, from grouping and compositional standpoint, and shots of Legree plantation are marvelously atmospheric."

Daily News: "Producer Laemmle saw first night audience with tear-stained eyes and kerchiefs in hand last evening. Harry Pollard film adaptation worthy piece of melodrama—touching, poignant, sympathetic, and, for most part, convincing."

Morning Telegraph: "Loaded with thrills and crammed with suspense, its heavy drama effectively lightened with comedy relief, 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' is depicted in stirring manner. Attains marvelous heights. I recommend it to you. And by all means, bring the children."

Daily Mirror: "Audience shed many a well-provoked tear. Has all the things that make up superior melodrama. You should go to see this newest of Broadway movie successes."

"The Patent Leather Kid"—First National, Miles Theatre, Detroit

News: "A marvelously entertaining production. Has all earmarks of long run. Barthelmess enjoys double comeback. Is better than anything since days of 'Broken Blossoms' and 'Tol'able David.' Story stronger and filled with more incidents of general appeal. Molly O'Day gives a performance that almost matches that of star."

Evening Times: "Tremendously entertaining Barthelmess is better than he has ever been for years. His portrait a finely etched study. Director has developed some thrilling panoramas. Molly O'Day given important assignment. This she undertakes in amazing style."

Free Press: "Offers new angle of game of war. In realism, it equals, if not excels, other photoplays of its kind. Fearsomely intense and interesting depictions. Barthelmess does perhaps his best piece. Gives sincere and consistent characterization. Miss O'Day shows genuine ability. An altogether excellent cast."

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Keith's Palace, Cleveland

Press: "Comparisons are odious, so some erudite and learned philosopher once observed. And this writer does his best to steer clear of comparisons. But you may be interested in knowing that six members of journalistic profession who saw film version of 'What Price Glory' voted it a better picture than 'The Big Parade'"

"The Crystal Cup"—First National, Mark Strand Theatre, New York City

Herald-Tribune: "Much better than book. Spectators enjoyed it as comedy and laughed uproariously. Dorothy Mackaill looked very handsome. We especially liked Rockliffe Fellowes—one of finest heavies on screen."

News: "Dorothy Mackaill proves remarkable choice for portrayal of woman to whom man is repellent creature. Her work in 'The Crystal Cup' is best this young woman has ever given screen. . . Splendid performance."

American: "Miss Mackaill's clever characterization remarkable for its consistency. Not once does she lapse from masculine mannerisms into affectations of ingenue. Makes a fascinating youth."

Telegram: "Contains some original and gripping screen stuff."

Times: "Possesses sufficient originality to make it entertaining. Miss Mackaill quite charming, Mulhall satisfactory and Fellowes capital."

World: "Miss Mackaill presents attractive figure, and Miss Winton plays acceptably beside her."

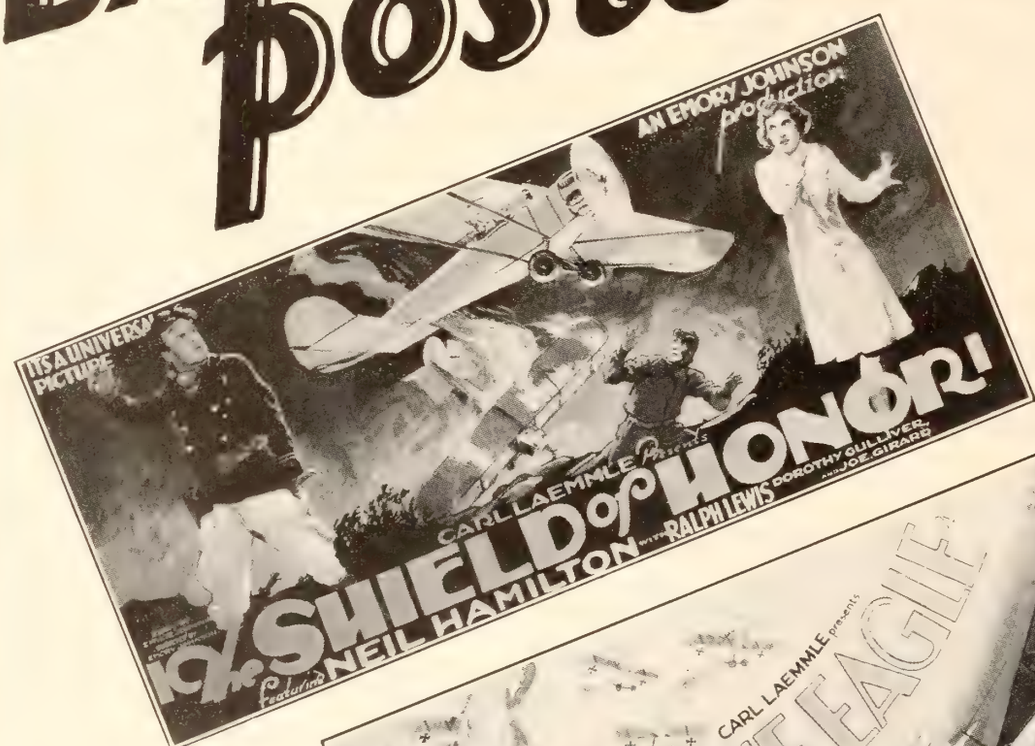
Mirror: "Dorothy Mackaill proves herself first rate actress."

Evening World: "Dorothy Mackaill's selection for the role was rather a happy one. For most part she was altogether convincing and may point to it as one of her best characterizations."

Sun: "Original and well acted."

The First Requisite

The first requisite of a good performance is consistently high screen quality in the pictures you show.



Specify Eastman film for all of your prints and look for the words "Eastman Kodak" in the margin of each reel. Then you can be sure that you are getting the finest photographic quality obtainable in motion pictures.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Exploitation posters for-

EMORY JOHNSON PICTURES--- Greatest exploitation director in the business!

Made for Universal by

The Morgan Lithograph Co

General Office: Cleveland, Ohio
Branch Offices: NEW YORK and LOS ANGELES
Plants: CLEVELAND · NEW YORK CITY · ELMHURST, LONG ISLAND

In This Issue: "The Showman"

Motion Picture News

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

WHILE THESE ARE CLICKING AT BOX-OFFICES:

"ROAD TO ROMANCE" (Novarro)
"Very good week Stanley, Philadelphia." "Pulled in the crowds at State, Minneapolis"—reports M-G-M News.
"Midland, Kansas City, got largest gross ever taken in local house." "Clicked at Victory, Providence"—reports Variety.

"THE FAIR CO-ED" (Davies)
"Record box-office Grand, Atlanta." "Tremendous at Century, Baltimore." "Gratifying returns Regent, Harrisburg, Pa."—reports M. P. News.
"Stood out at State, Buffalo"—reports Variety.

"BODY AND SOUL" (L. Barrymore-Kerry-Pringle)
"Packed the State, Detroit." "Unusually good business at Strand, Tampa, Fla."—reports M. P. News."

"SPRING FEVER" (Haines)
"Boosted receipts at Tower, Minneapolis." "Attracted many to Warfield, San Francisco." "Very good business Temple Theatre, Birmingham"—reports M. P. News.
"Hitting excellent pace Century, Baltimore"—reports Variety

ANNIE LAURIE (Gish)
"Opened big and held up at Uptown, Toronto." "Good week at State, Boston"—reports Variety.

"GARDEN OF ALLAH" (Ingram)
"At State, St. Louis, most popular in town"—reports Variety.

THESE BIG HITS ARE ON THE WAY:

LON CHANEY in LONDON AFTER MIDNIGHT
JOHN GILBERT in MAN, WOMAN AND SIN
THE 13th HOUR
GRETA GARBO in THE DIVINE WOMAN
NORMA SHEARER in HER BRIDAL NIGHT
WILLIAM HAINES in WEST POINT

METRO-GOLDW[illegible]AYER

Entered as second-class matter April 22, 1926, at the Postoffice at New York, N. Y., under Act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. XXXVI
No. 22

New York

December 2, 1927
PRICE 20 CENTS

TIFFANY-STAHL PRODUCTIONS INC.

1540 BROADWAY M. H. HOFFMAN, VICE PRES. NEW YORK CITY

FOX

YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

MADGE BELLAMY

YOUR public demands on the screen ever new faces, youth, beauty in its women, intelligence and personality in all its players. Fox pictures meet this demand with an array of youthful talent to be found in no other product. At the head of each cast stands some young artist to whom your patrons have already given their approval. Madge Bellamy, who scored hits in "Sandy" and "Ankles Preferred," is next to be seen in "Very Confidential," followed by "Silk Legs" and "None But the Brave." Bellamy fans are legion.

No. 1 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

FOX
YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

GEORGE O'BRIEN

IN the short period that has elapsed since John Ford made "The Iron Horse" this young Fox leading man has traveled far. Already this season your patrons have acclaimed him in two splendid performances of widely varying types—as the Prince in "Paid to Love" and as John Breen in "East Side, West Side." George O'Brien's acting in "Sunrise" has placed him in the very front rank of the young men of the screen. Another example of the Fox policy of youth! He will be seen next in "Sharpshooters," with Lois Moran playing the girl.

No. 2 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

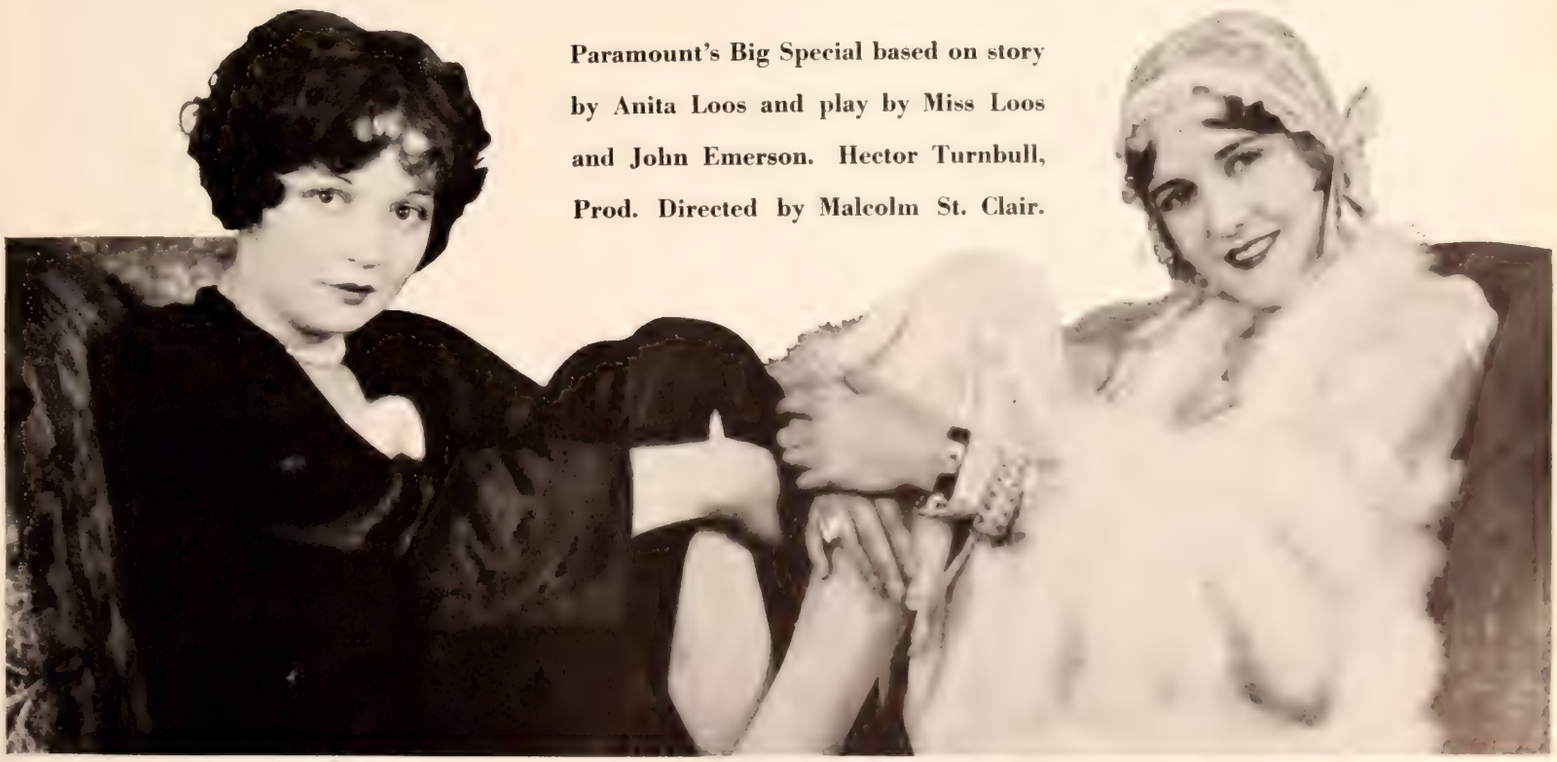
"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes"



Reviewed by William McCormack

West Coast Representative, Motion Picture News

LOS ANGELES, November 16.—"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes", the Malcolm St. Clair production for Paramount, was previewed this evening at the Wilshire Theatre in Los Angeles and came in for hearty rounds of applause.

The Anita Loos story of the ultra in gold-diggers has been deftly told by the director in a style fresh, smart and crisp, clicking at welltimed intervals with real laughs. The picture is tiptop entertainment from beginning to end.

Ruth Taylor, who has the role of Lorelei, will be hailed as a "find". Alice White gave an excellent performance and helped the production materially. Ford Sterling, Chester Conklin, Mack Swain, Blanche Frederici, Holmes Herbert and Trixie Friganza all contributed their share in making what looks like one of the comedy hits of the year.

Paramount's Big Special based on story by Anita Loos and play by Miss Loos and John Emerson. Hector Turnbull, Prod. Directed by Malcolm St. Clair.

LORELEI: "Oh, Dorothy, it seems that we are a big hit!"

DOROTHY: "You're damned right we are, dearie!"

Advertisement

clara, get your man!

CLARA BOW
in an exciting moment in
"Get Your Man"

¶ With sparks of "It", some "Rough House Rosie" and a wiggly "Hula" or two, Clara gets him. And how! No wonder they're all saying this latest Clara Bow-nanza, "GET YOUR MAN", will do more cash business than any other picture Paramount's wonder-girl has yet handed you. ¶ Clara in "GET YOUR MAN" gets every man within getting distance of your theatre. The women come flocking to protect their men and to learn Clara's system. And they take quite a shine to Clara's handsome and not unwilling victim, Charles Rogers (hero of "Wings" and "My Best Girl"), too. ¶ The country's Bow-mad, men. You know it. 17,000 people write her each month. Magazines can't print enough stories and pictures of her. Theatres can't hold the mobs she draws. ¶ Clara Bow in "GET YOUR MAN". What a combination! And what a clean-up! Play it quick and buy the wife a Rolls-Royce for Christmas! + + + + + +

★ LIVE NUMBERS! ★

1. LLOYD*
2. BOW
3. DIX
4. DANIELS
5. BEERY-HATTON
6. MENJOU
7. RALSTON
8. JANNINGS
9. NEGRI
10. BANCROFT
11. MEIGHAN
12. FIELDS-CONKLIN
13. THOMSON
14. VIDOR
15. ZANE GREY

*Lloyd Productions.
Paramount releases.

TRADE MARK
Paramount Pictures

TAKE A TIP FROM A WISE BIRD—

Read how this smart Circuit Manager gets the crowds!

Crowds stop to look at M-G-M News One-Sheet on Broadway

Twice weekly M-G-M gets out this colorful News 1-Sheet

FROM SOUP TO NUTS

M-G-M has a complete show to be proud of!

3 Chaneys	2 Gilberts
4 Haines	3 Shearers
3 Davies	1 Syd Chaplin
1 Novarro	2 Garbos
1 Gish	2 Coogans
6 McCoys	2 Dog Star

3 Cody-Pringles
3 Dane-Arthurs
5 Cosmopolitans

SPECIALS!

THE COSSACKS (John Gilbert)
ROSE-MARIE
THE CROWD (King Vidor)
IN OLD KENTUCKY
GARDEN OF ALLAH (Rex Ingram)
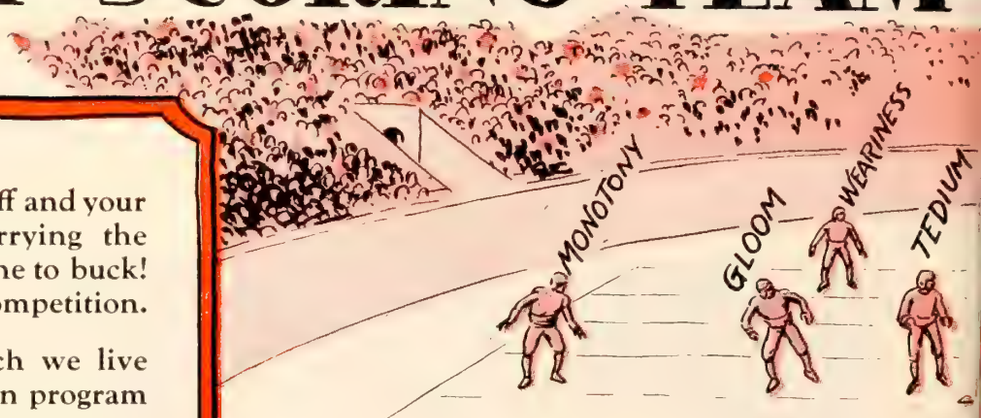
also celebrated world epics
NAPOLEON
MLLE. FROM ARMENTIERES

JUNIOR FEATURES!

HAL ROACH COMEDIES
OUR GANG — MAX DAVIDSON
CHARLEY CHASE — ALL STAR
M-G-M NEWS
Twice Weekly—The New Newsreel
M-G-M GREAT EVENTS
Entirely in Technicolor
M-G-M ODDITIES
Produced all over the world by UFA

A WELL-KNOWN THEATRE CIRCUIT MANAGER TELLS us that in his experience Newsreel photos draw more crowds than anything in front!



WHETHER IT'S BROADWAY OR MAIN STREET THE colorful M-G-M News one-sheet is a magnet that stops the crowds and brings them in.

Get that snappy M-G-M News 1-sheet and judge for yourself

M-G-M NEWS SELLS YOUR SHOW!

Educational

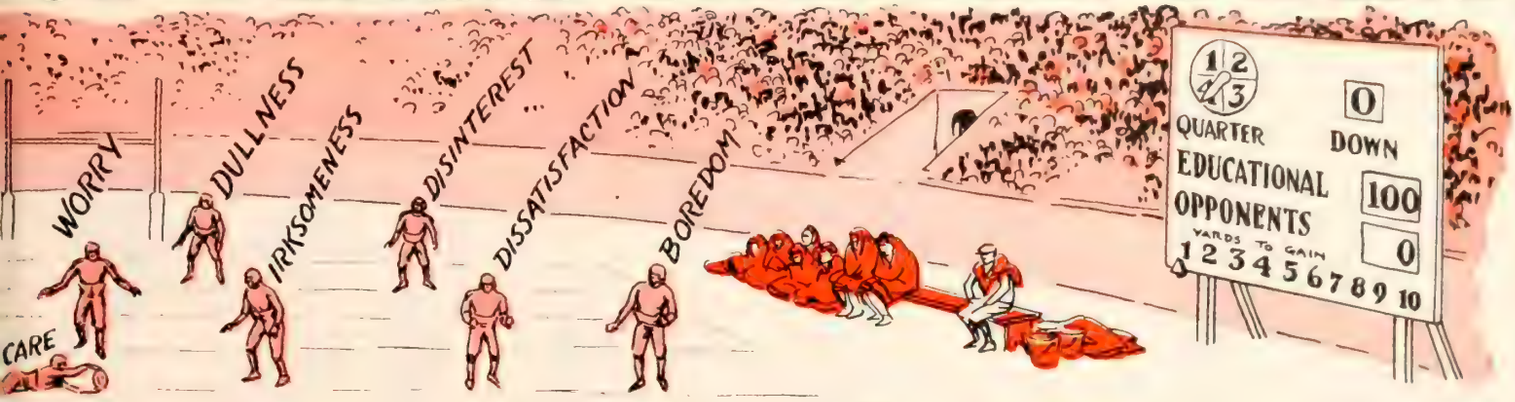
A PROFIT-SCORING TEAM

WHEN the lights go off and your show begins, you're carrying the ball! And you've got a line to buck! A line of mighty stiff competition.

The high speed at which we live today calls for a fast-action program to hold the interest of your patrons. You've got to beat Monotony. You've got to chase Gloom. Nothing but the very best all along the line . . . Short Subjects as well as the longer features . . . will do this . . . will get the cheering section going. But you've licked 'em all when you've signed up the Educational Pictures team to play on your side.

Educational Pictures always have been the champions of their field. And now, after seven years of playing together—of specializing in Short Features—the 1927-1928 aggregation . . . because it's the snappiest of them all . . . and backed by a sweeping campaign of magazine advertising . . . is winning again.

Line 'em up today . . . this profit-scoring team of Short Feature stars. Line 'em up for you . . . for bigger crowds . . . for larger gate receipts. They'll carry your colors across the chalk-lines of higher attendance . . . to the touchdown of bigger money.



Educational Pictures

"THE SPICE OF THE PROGRAM"

Pictures

OF SHORT FEATURE STARS

EDUCATIONAL FILM EXCHANGES, Inc.

E. W. Hammons
President

~even better than

Carl Laemmle
presents

GLENN TRY

With

Patsy Ruth Miller

With Burr McIntosh, Lloyd Whitlock, Bob Bilasch, Ruth Dwyer and "Bobbie". Story by Harry O. Hoyt.

A WILLIAM JAMES CRAFT Production.

A UNIVERSAL Picture

Book Now! for CARL LAEMMLE'S JOY WEEK DEC. 25th TO 31st

GLENN TRYON'S done it again. Another screaming howl. Tied up like a knot with the current craze for aviation. Carl Laemmle's great "find" in the picture of his career. A hard-boiled audience roared and raved at the special showing in the Central Theatre, N. Y., where it was shown "cold". Yessir! Even better than "Painting the Town"—and you happy exhibs that booked it know what that means! One of those pictures that's going to be on every showman's tongue. See it, by all means. But take an advance tip, and GRAB IT FOR JOY WEEK!

A HERO fo

"Painting the Town"

ON

a NIGHT

FOUR WILLIAM FOX PICTURES THAT BRING YOUTH TO YOUR SCREEN

Here's a new team for the fans—Lois Moran and George O'Brien, seen in "Sharp Shooters."

June Collyer and Walter Pidgeon contend in "Woman Wise," with William Russell.

Your patrons will adore Madge Bellamy in "Silk Legs"—she's smarter and lovlier than ever.

Tony Moreno's invitation lures Olive Borden into high drama, in "Come to My House."

FOX

YOUTH!

says Fox Films, yes—Madge Bellamy in "Silk Legs" with James Hall (Arthur Rosson Production); youth, again—George O'Brien and Lois Moran in "Sharp Shooters" (J. G. Blystone Production)—; young romance—"Come to my House," with Olive Borden, Antonio Moreno, Ben Bard, Doris Lloyd and Cornelius Keefe (Alfred E. Green Production); young adventure—"Woman Wise," with "Big Bill" Russell, June Collyer and Walter Pidgeon (Albert Ray Production);—yes, Youth is the spirit of these forthcoming Fox Pictures.

WHO PLAYS WITH FOX PROFITS WITH FOX

FOX

YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

JANET GAYNOR

TO YOU, as an Exhibitor, Fox, as a Producer, has rendered a service. Through his policy of youth on the screen he has developed new favorites for your fan patrons—he has created a demand that will register profitably at your box-office for many a day. Of all the young artists new-come to stardom—none has achieved more brilliant success than Janet Gaynor, the Diane of "7th Heaven," and the Wife in "Sunrise." Janet Gaynor can be seen only in Fox Pictures.

No. 3 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

FOX

YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

CHARLES FARRELL

HE has been called the most sought-after young leading man in pictures—this youth whose Chico was no less a triumph than Gaynor's Diane in "7th Heaven." But Charles Farrell appears only in Fox Pictures and he is a brilliant example of the Fox policy of presenting young genius in its photoplays. Already he has been cast in a number of forthcoming Fox productions of the first importance, and his presence on your screen can be counted as a cash asset at your box-office.

No. 4 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

BOYD TRIUMPHS

Sensational Success in "Dress Parade", Donald Crisp's production of West Point story, definitely establishes William ("Bill") Boyd as one of the screen's biggest box-office personalities.

WILLIAM BOYD

SINCE his first meteoric success in the title role of Cecil B. DeMille's "The Volga Boatman", William Boyd has steadily grown in popular favor. NOW in "Dress Parade" his portrayal of the young West Point cadet places him in the category of the screen's greatest box office draws.

"Bill Boyd is superb" says—N. Y. Evening World.

"William Boyd is making his work distinguished through sheer force of personality and talent",—M. P. News

"Our friend Bill Boyd acquits himself most creditably in this role",—N. Y. American 300 West Point cadets, guests of Pathe marching into the Mark Strand theatre to see William Boyd in "Dress Parade" at its sensational premiere in New York—Oct. 29.

Pathé Exchange, Inc.

DE MILLE STUDIO PICTURES – PATHÉ NEWS – PATHÉ WESTERNS – PATHÉSERIALS – PATHÉCOMEDIES

Producers International Corp., 130 West 46th St., New York. WILLIAM M. VOGEL, General Manager, Foreign Distributors of De Mille and Metropolitan Studio Productions

Member of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc. WILL H. HAYS, President

"Gilda Gra

Gilda Gray

in "The DEV

with Clive Brook

y captures- Los Angeles"

Evening Herald

"Gilda Gray in mystic hit. Unusual film. She not only adds to her fame as an exotic dancer but emerges as an actress who has mastered the technique of the screen. Remarkable photography. A plot fraught with emotion and suspense."
Los Angeles Record

"Devils haven't a chance while Gilda gyrates. Probably the best dancing of anyone in pictures today. A great novelty. Story bounds along at a good pace." Los Angeles Eve. Express

"Wins audience. Get quite a thrill out of Gilda Gray's rendition of the Devil Dance. Miss Gray has completely revolutionized her style. More intriguing." Illust. Daily News

"Receiving a large ovation upon this appearence justifies predictions for the popular appeal of her current attraction. Lavishly done. The picture is a brisk burst of melodrama. Its elaborateness and spectacle merit approval." Los Angeles Times

"The Spirit of the Orient is superlatively represented in this strange tale increasing the interest to the very last sequence. Gilda dancers herself right into the interest of her public. A joy to watch. Emotionally dramatic."
Los Angeles Examiner

Samuel Goldwyn presents

L DANCER"

by Harry Hervey

A FRED NIBLO PRODUCTION

UNITED ARTISTS PICTURE

THE "TALKS" OF THE INDUSTRY!

Everywhere you go—they're all talking about it! The latest wrinkle in motion picture entertainment! Simple—can be operated by a child! No complicated machinery, no expensive preparations and mechanism! And yet it will furnish your patrons with a thrill they have never had before—they will hear the actual voice of the star addressing them on the coming attraction, loud, clear, and intimate! Not a fad—not a nine-day wonder. It's here to stay.

A LASTING NOVELTY

Movie Star-Talks!

THESE GREAT SHOWMEN

Commerford Amusement Company
Fay Amusement Company
Wilmer & Vincent
J. J. Harwood of Cleveland
John J. Walsh of Hartford
J. Real Neth Circuit, Columbus, O.

and scores of America's most distinguished theatre-operators have flocked to the Fitzer banner and signed contracts for the amazing Movie Star-Talks!

Exhibitors Daily Review Says:

"Talking announcement well made and finds favor. . . . the first record offers Johnny Hines in a monologue about his latest First National Picture, "Home Made." It is well done and ought to be welcomed by audiences everywhere!"

Moving Picture World Says:

"New and unique exhibitor service. . . . The record came through with the utmost clearness, and Johnny interspersed his remarks with wise-cracks good for a laugh from any audience. This new idea has all the earmarks of a showmanship success. . . . WILL AID AT THE BOX-OFFICE.

Make Inquiries of
FITZER SERVICE CORPORATION
1650 BROADWAY "Offices Everywhere" NEW YORK CITY

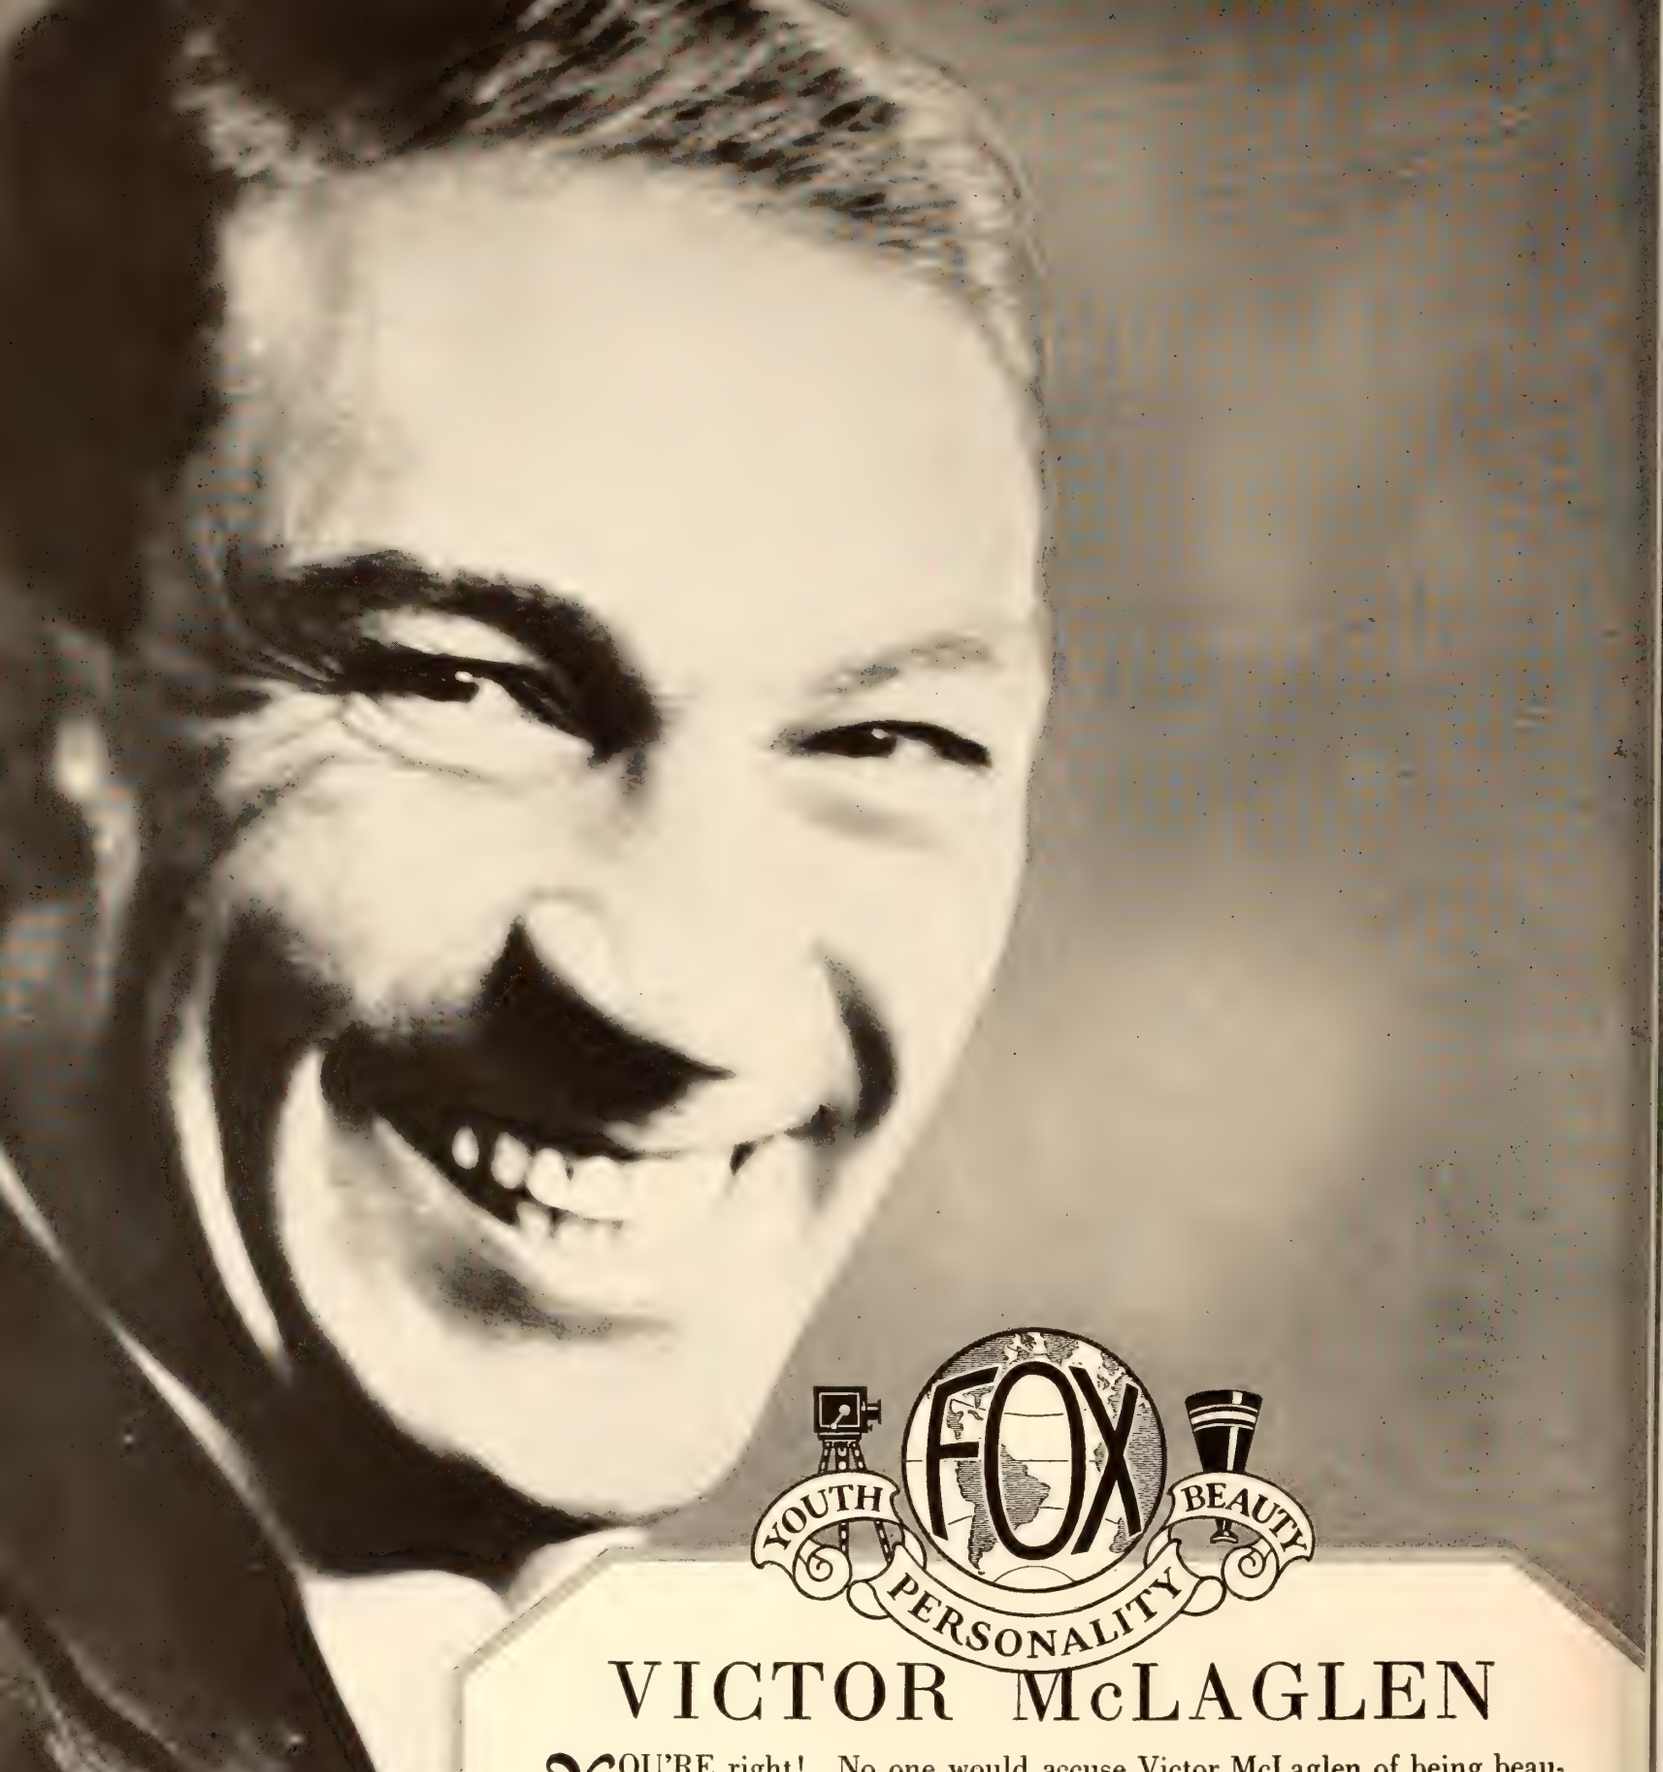
FOX



YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

DOLORES DEL RIO

A NAME to conjure with! Another proof of the wisdom of the Fox policy of featuring gifted youth in the casts brought to your theatre. The Charmaine of "What Price Glory," the Carmen of "Loves of Carmen"—Dolores Del Rio will come to you in other Fox Profit Pictures during this and following seasons. Her next release, scheduled for early in January, is "No Other Woman." You know how your patrons delighted in her portrayal of Charmaine—Sign contracts for every Fox Del Rio picture and cash in on this flood-tide of popularity.

No. 5 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

FOX

YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

VICTOR McLAGLEN

YOU'RE right! No one would accuse Victor McLaglen of being beautiful—but oh boy, what a personality! Here was a young actor, practically unknown until the Fox policy of developing new talent presented him as Captain Flagg in "What Price Glory"—and now the whole world knows him and praises him. You, as a Fox Exhibitor, cash in on this policy. Victor McLaglen appears only in Fox Profit Pictures. Following "Loves of Carmen" you'll get him next in "A Girl in Every Port"—what a title for a McLaglen picture!

No. 6 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

The Patent Leather Kid opened to capacity business in spite of playing in obsolete 10 and 20 cent house which had been closed for several months. Opening was put on in wonderful shape and audience reaction perfect. Predict very successful run for the picture. Returns should exceed gross realized in any previous production beyond fondest expectations. Regards

F. E. NORTH
(Miles Theatre, Detroit)

HIT AFTER HIT-

week AFTER week-

I consider The Patent Leather Kid the most thrilling and gripping of all the big war pictures. Barthelmess unquestionably does the greatest acting of his career in his most colorful role. Audience enthusiastic and picture engaged with great applause.

JOHN F. KUMLER
(Pantheon Theatre, Toledo)

AND-

NOW

FIRST NATIONAL

is delivering!

THE PATENT LEATHER KID

Richard A Rowland
Presents
RICHARD
BARTHELMESS
In
THE PATENT
LEATHER KID
By Rupert Hughes
An Alfred Santell Production
Directed by Alfred Santell
Production Manager Al Rockett
Titles by Gerald C. Duffy
Scenario by Winifred Dunn

Over Capacity—

14 WEEKS, GLOBE, NEW YORK

8 WEEKS, WOODS, CHICAGO

NOW IN 4TH WEEK, MILES, DETROIT

—and still going strong flower of FIRST NATIONAL'S Specials - FORERUNNER OF

NORMA TALMADGE
in CAMILLE
Biggest production of this great star

THE GORILLA
Greatest mystery special of the age

Harold Bell Wright's
THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS
America's best-selling author's biggest story

ROSE OF THE GOLDEN WEST
GEORGE FITZMAURICE'S stirringly beautiful production

A TEXAS STEER
WILL ROGERS, LOUISE FAZENDA, and all star cast – The finest personality get of the season

THE PRIVATE LIFE OF HELEN OF TROY
Read by millions – now it will make millions on the screen

CONSTANCE TALMADGE
in Breakfast at Sunrise

THE LOVE MART
A GEORGE FITZMAURICE production
BILLIE DOVE
GILBERT ROLAND – NOAH BEERY

BIG BIG THEATRES

NEED BIG PICTURES

BIG BUSINESS WHEN YOU BUY THE BIG FIRST NATIONAL SPECIALS!

Motion Picture News

Volume XXXVI NEW YORK CITY, DECEMBER 2, 1927 No. 22

Theatre Mortality

It's Highest in the Smallest Towns---and for Good Reason

By William A. Johnston

APPROXIMATELY a thousand theatres closed their doors in the past year. Of these, fifty-two per cent were in towns of under three thousand population.

All the different classes of towns and cities of 3,000 up to 100,000 showed closings of about 29% of the total, while cities of over 100,000 provided 19% of the mortality.

And here is the most significant fact of all: in towns of less than 800 population almost as many theatres closed as in the big group of 3,000-100,000 towns and cities.

Obviously, the theatre that is not in a natural trading center is doomed, as we have hitherto pointed out, the underlying cause being the tremendous popularity of the automobile and the accompanying increase in good roads.

The point is well brought out in a letter to us from Mr. H. C. Munroe, of Bangor, Michigan, who writes:

"I agree with you that those towns which are not natural trading centers will find themselves in the soup eventually, when better theatres are built in nearby towns. In January, 1926, there were eight theatres closed in Michigan. Seven were in small towns, but so small that we wonder why they ever even opened. The population of these towns was from 200 to 500. But those towns of from 1,000 to 3,000 are still existing in this State, and those managed properly are making their owners money. More, perhaps, than the average merchant in that same town. Much more, without question, than those in the 200 to 500 population, and those towns where the building and equipment are antiquated."

Our survey also shows that, beginning with towns of 3,000 population and running up through the 5,000-10,000 group, the mortality percentages are very low. In the group 10,000-15,000, the mortality is lowest of all, being only 3.5 per cent.

To put it another way: theatre survival in the middle-sized cities and the larger towns is pronounced. These, of course, are natural trading centers, and the same thing applies, naturally, in the 15,000 to 25,000 cities up to 100,000, where the mortality again takes a jump because in the big cities the huge modern theatres are driving out the smaller, old-fashioned houses.

But in the villages of less than 800 the picture theatre is passing out. There are probably 2,500 of these, and their doom seems sealed. Most of them will disappear in favor of better theatres in nearby towns.

In fact, the natural trading centers of whatever population offer a fertile opportunity for the building of beautiful new theatres, not highly expensive, but modern in every way and suited to the town itself. More and more of these are being built, and we believe the expansion in this sector of the theatre field will become even more pronounced in the months to come.

These towns and cities are the backbone of America and they are assuredly devoted to the screen. It would be well for those persons who are attempting, apparently, to kill the motion picture by burying it under a mistaken vaudeville policy in the big city houses to consider this:

(Continued on Page 1740)

"The Circus"

Chaplin's New Work Immensely Mirthful

Reviewed by Edwin Schallert

Editor of The Los Angeles Times Preview and Special Correspondent of Motion Picture News

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—There will be no question about the pre-eminence of Charlie Chaplin as a comedian after "The Circus." In this picture he returns to his old-time antics and fun-making, and has made a production that will be the delight of the public. There are some touches of seriousness and of pathos, but they are right in the general impression, and the fact that Chaplin closes on a pathetic note gives an intimacy and personal quality to his film that will be relished by his most devoted admirers.

As a mirthful creation, "The Circus" is immense. It is chock-full of ideas and of gags that have the true Chaplin stamp of individuality. The beginning with Charlie, poor and hungry, but a gentleman, ambling about amidst beach concessions, and trying to acquire a hot dog sandwich from somebody, suggests his earliest films. He is there with the cane and derby, and occasionally with the sliding skip on one foot as he used to be.

As this is a full-length feature, there is quite a sizable story, and most of it takes place in and around the big-top of a very small and hard-going circus. The girl in the case, played by Merna Kennedy, is a hoop-jumper and bareback rider. There is a conventionally cruel ring-master, her father. There is a well set-up tightrope walker as Charlie's rival, to whom he eventually gives over the heroine, in sacrifice for her happiness.

The striking aspect of the picture is the way that Chaplin has built up the action for laughs in all the bigger sequences. In these he has almost out-Lloyded Lloyd in mechanical inventiveness, that is, in his case, curiously non-mechanical. The moment when he tries to balance himself on a tightrope high over the heads of the circus audience with a bunch of monkeys clinging to his neck, pawing his face, poking into his eyes, tearing off his clothes, and finally with one of them sticking his tail into Charlie's month, is certain to cause any house almost to roll on the floor with its combination of the thrill, the grotesque and the ridiculous

Charlie has capital moments all through the picture. Many are along the lines of his usual subtlety and have to be watched closely. He has, in his habitual fashion, invested each move with some clever meaning that is and can be only Chaplin. There is one scene where he imitates the motions of a dummy figure in front of a "crazy house," as this concession is sometimes called at a beach pleasure resrt, that is unforgettable. It is a beautiful piece of timing.

There is a scene where the starved heroine, denied her dinner and breakfast because she has not done her work right, picks up some food belonging to him, and is caught in the act; it is scintillating. The way that Charlie "dresses her down" in pantomime is characteristic of his cleverness in portraying some novel reaction, and making it utterly convincing. There is a bit where he polishes up the goldfish in a bowl that has a sparkle that dates back to his earliest pictures. There is another scene where he gets mixed up with a magician's outfit, with birds, pigeons, rabbits, coming out of a false-top table in endlss succession in front of the circus audience, and Charlie trying vainly to hold them back, that is well-nigh hysteria-inducing. How he gets into a cage with a lion, how he is persistently pursued by a rambunctious circus pony, and how he attempts to blow a huge pill down a horse's throat, and then swallows it himself, are things that are bound to keep an audience in fit upon fit of enjoyment.

"The Circus" is a great comedy. It will bring Charlie back with a flourish after an absence of fully two years, and at a critical time in his career, and it deserves a place with his very best, and with the majority of his most spontaneous pictures.

More Companies Obtain New York Charters

Newly incorporated motion picture companies chartered by the secretary of state at Albany during the past week, and doing business in New York state, included the following: Delmont Productions, Inc., $20,000, Louis Delmont, Ernest Demure, Isak Safirstein, New York City; Armo Amusement Corporation, $5,000, Arthur and Morris Weinsoff, Brooklyn; Morris Pinsky, Newark, N. J.; Albany Arbor Hill Theatres Corporation, Albany, capitalization not specified, Albany Eagle Theatres Corporation, and Rensselaer Theatres Corporation, having the same incorporators, Michael D. Reilly, Katherine B. Russell and Susan Preston, Albany; A B A Film Corporation, $20,000, Timothy G. Arenson, New York City; Alexander P. Axelrud, Michael Bachman, Seagate.

September Film Exports Show Extensive Decline

September exports of motion picture film were 5,000,000 feet below those of August, totaling 25,221,120 feet, valued at $670,934, as compared with 30,309,622 feet, valued at $936,705, it is shown by figures just compiled by the Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

All classes of film shared in the decline, the comparative shipments for the two months being: Positives, 18,152,033 feet, valued at $446,440, in September, against 20,091,944 feet, valued at $552,433 in August; negatives, 718,019 feet, valued at $81,427, against 923,921 feet, valued at $123,267; raw stock, 4,552,204 feet, valued at $122,681, against 7,951,505 feet, valued at $233,715; and exports to non-contiguous territories, 1,798,864 feet, valued at $20,386, against 1,342,252 feet, valued at $27,290.

Alexander Frank Heads "U" Iowa, Nebraska Chain

Alexander Frank, of Omaha, organizer of the Frank Amusement Company of Waterloo, Iowa, formerly affiliated with North American Theatre and later pooled in the West Coast Theatres group, succeeds Charles G. Branha, as director of the Iowa and Nebraska Universal theatres—some 45 houses.

In the Iowa chain are: three at Fort Madison, three at Marshalltown, two at Muscatine, three at Missouri Valley. In the Nebraska chain are: two at Columbus, three at Fairbury, two at Fremont, six at Grand Island, four at Norfolk, two at North Platte, two at Holdrege, three at Kearney, three at Beatrice, four at Hastings.

J. J. Franklin Heads Los Angeles Wesco Division

J. J. Franklin, of Portland, has been transferred to the Los Angeles division of West Coast Theatres, where he will be in charge of houses in Glendale, Pasadena, Hollywood, Beverley Hills and all Los Angeles. Harry Arthur will continue in charge of the Southern division.

In addition to his Seattle duties, Hershel Stuart will assume the reins of Mr. Franklin as chief of the Portland division.

"Presentation" Making Films Chasers for Vaudeville

Hollywood May Find Product Bereft of Adequate Outlet, If Public Absorbs Notion That Pictures Are of Secondary Importance

AN INTERVIEW WITH GEORGE KLEINE

THAT Hollywood may find itself bereft of an adequate outlet for the product of its activities—outcast from its own "show windows" of Broadway and other Key Cities—is a possible development to be expected from the modern style of presentation, according to George Kleine, pioneer picture producer and showman.

"Audiences composed of many thousand people see the glorification of the jazz orchestra and the variety act, while the feature picture, which at the worst is infinitely greater and more important than the best of these acts, becomes the chaser and is almost in so many words branded as relatively unimportant," Mr. Kleine declared in an interview to a representative of this publication.

"There is a subtle psychological effect upon the public to be feared as an outgrowth of this peculiar vaudeville development. Unconsciously, the public is absorbing and accepting this conclusion. The result may be that Hollywood may wake up to find no adequate outlet for its product.

George Kleine

A Quarter Century Cycle

"The quarter century cycle is closing. In 1902 films served the purpose of the chaser in vaudeville. They supplanted the acrobatic act and the contortionist, who usually closed the show. Pictures were selected for this purpose because the public was not much interested in them and began to leave the theatre when the screen was lowered and the movies started to flicker. Thus the motion picture machine supplanted the human pretzel, and the variety show closed sharply at 10:30 without regard to the closing of the film. At 10:30 the lights went out, as often as not leaving the picture suspended in midair after being anywhere from half to three quarters completed.

"The other night I dropped into the Capitol theatre, arriving at about 9:25 P. M. to see the last show, and at an hour when the audience is presumed to be at its best and most interested. I was regaled with one solid hour of acts—vaudeville, for that is what they were even though there is an attempt to dodge the issue by calling them 'presentations,' 'name acts' and what not.

"The program treated the films like stepchildren, showing only a news reel, and at the end of a chain whose links included 'Dream Kisses with Vincent Lopez and His Orchestra,' the 'Happiness Boys with Dave Kaplan at the Piano,' McGee and Maloney, dancers, Martha Vaughn, Arthur Ball, the Chester Hale Girls, there was offered 'The Garden of Allah,' Rex Ingram's newest screen work.

"If there is anything in the atmosphere of presentation, the audience surely could not have been put in the proper mood for 'The Garden of Allah' by contemplating the Happiness Boys and the offerings of 'hoofers' and jazzmanians.' If this fine production of Ingram's was not treated like the chaser of the old days, I confess I cannot see the difference, except that the film of a quarter century ago opened at 10:15 or 10:25 and closed promptly at 10:30.

"In 1927 the chaser started at 10:30 before an audience comparatively weary, and carried on until 11:55, nearly midnight.

Unfair to the Picture

"The effect upon the mood of the audience must be one of irritation and unfair criticism of the picture when it is presented under such conditions.

"On another evening I went to the Strand. A long program opened with a topical review, followed by a jazz orchestra. Next was Marguerite Namara, an accomplished singer who seemed out of place sandwiched between jazz music and 'The Eight Cocktails.'

"As a further introduction to the film feature, 'The College Widow,' we had the 'Two Parisian Dancers,' Simes & Babette, the 'Society Songsters,' 'The Yacht Club Boys,' to say nothing of Nat Shilkret and 'Veronica.'

"The impression one receives after seeing several of these Broadway shows is that the feature production has lost its high estate in theatres which are supposed to be motion picture houses, while the place of importance is attained by Ukulele Ike, the Yacht Club Boys, The Happiness Boys, jazz orchestras with musicians on the stage dressed in monkey clothes, topped off with Marguerite Namara between the ham and the eggs.

"Audiences apparently have been trained to bigger if not better shows. Their taste having been influenced, it may be that they will demand this kind of show for a time, but it carries within itself the seeds of monotony, largely because of the scarcity of novelty material.

Not Picture Shows

"The performances are entertainments of seeming popularity, but they are not motion picture shows, and the theatres are 'motion picture' only by historical association. They are former motion picture houses, or are operated by former picture men, but at present they are variety wearing a new garment and bearing a new name.

"Motion pictures killed the one-night stand and the ten, twenty and thirty cent shows. Are they to suffer retribution and be themselves killed by vaudeville? Possibly, for a time, but for a time only.

"One of the major causes for the current type of program is the construction of the 'Million dollar theatre,' which calls for pretentious advertisements and performances.

"Roxy has led the procession for many years, and it begins to appear that his followers are approaching the quagmire. The individual manager seems helpless and must go with the procession. Broadway is not the United States, but in amusements particularly its influence is widely felt.

"If the cycle works again the industry will begin by erecting less preten-

The Gaucho accepts an apple proffered by Lupe Valez, his leading lady in United Artists' "Douglas Fairbanks as The Gaucho."

Chester Conklin, Paramount comic, looks with expectant eyes at a Thanksgiving bird which he later attacked with great varaciousness.

Claire Windsor is on sartorial display in "Fashions for Woman," Columbia's re-release.

E. H. Griffith will megaphone Pathe-De Mille's college story, "Hold 'Em, Yale."

On their way to the Coast are: C. B. Hawley, First National pres., and Mrs. Hawley; Florence Strauss, scenario chief, and R. A. Rowland, vice-pres., and Mrs. Rowland.

Ralph Graves and Ralph Emerson are going to get a "kick" out of Donald Stuart's sax moanings. They appear in Gotham's "The Cheer Leader."

Wide World

Inside Slants on the Industry

PICTURES AND PEOPLE

The Mirrors of Filmdom

A 6,000-SEAT Broadway theatre project in the block now occupied by the New York and Criterion Theatres, is reported to have been abandoned by Publix, owing to a recent alleged understanding between Publix Theatres and Loew, Inc., that neither would for the present time encroach upon their respective neighborhoods.

This abandonment appears to neatly dovetail with the report that Publix has disposed of, or leased to others, several sites in Brooklyn and New York City where de luxe type neighborhood theatres were to be built.

While never officially announced, for several months it has been understood that, at the expiration of the lease on Loew's New York Theatre, Dec. 31, 1927, the razing of this and other properties would begin to make way for what would have been Publix Theatres' largest house. Other parcels in the rear of the New York Theatre were reported to have been purchased to secure the depth of the proposed playhouse.

* * *

THERE must be a big demand for literary material in Hollywood. A writer shipped to that city a large bag, containing a quantity of manuscripts of plays, novels and scenarios, together with much material gathered for literary work during six years spent abroad, and for years before that in this country.

The bag was delivered to the hotel by truck, but, before the porter could carry it to the author's room, it was stolen. The hotel management notified the police, who have been busy since, and inserted advertisements in the newspapers, but thus far without success.

* * *

THE new Doug Fairbanks picture, which came into view at the Liberty Theatre, New York, this week, is one of the season's most important offerings. "The Gaucho" gives Doug plenty of opportunities to put over the rapid-fire action for which he is famous, and he makes the most of them. Lupe Velez, new leading woman, has a fine screen personality.

There is a strong religious vein in the picture, with considerable interplay of the supernatural, which is impressive. The production values are superb. The whole thing is exceedingly well-done and looks to us like a money-maker.

* * *

THE show at the Liberty opens with an atmospheric prologue which seems to us not only unnecessary, but absurd. Why try to create atmosphere for a picture which has magnificent atmosphere itself? If towering mountains, remarkable types, beautiful and appropriate sets do not make atmosphere, what would?

"The Gaucho" spreads a great canvas in front of the spectator in comparison with which most atmospheric prologues look like marionette shows. We can see no point in trying to prologue atmosphere into a picture which does not need it. Nothing is added; the enjoyment of the picture is only delayed.

In some cases, prologues are required, beyond question, to round out the proper setting for a picture. But not in the case of films such as "The Gaucho."

* * *

UNIVERSAL has another Glenn Tryon winner in "A Hero for a Night," which was premiered at a noon showing in the Central Theatre this week. Here is refreshing comedy, both of gag and situation, with Tryon scoring heavily as one of the coming big comedy stars.

Like all first-rate comedies, the picture has a story which gets somewhere by having a plot and being fitted perfectly to the personality of the star—in this case, a bumptious, "fresh" young man whose ludicrous adventures are one laugh after another. There is some remarkable airplane stuff. The direction by William J. Craft is excellent throughout. And the subtitles are corkers.

* * *

THE News learns that Miss Maude Adams has sailed for England with definite plans to produce "Kim" in association with a British producer. It will be recalled that Miss Adams has been at work for several years on a new natural color photography process, and it is reported that it will be used in filming "Kim," the screen rights to which she holds.

* * *

THE "back-to-the-movies" campaign seems to be gaining ground in some quarters, with important developments due along this line in the near future.

It is known that operators of chains have held two meetings in New York recently, the object being to cut down presentation costs, which have pyramided to such a point that they are now definitely a menace.

In this connection, Motion Picture News has, for some time, advocated editorially that the picture industry get back to its chief business—namely, pictures.

Leaders in several branches of the industry have voiced the same idea. At several exhibitor conventions, Charles C. Pettijohn, general counsel of the Hays organization, urged exhibitors to "get back into the picture business." In a recent issue of The News, E. F. Albee pointed out that the craze for "name acts" resulted not from public demand but from competition among theatres themselves.

And in this issue, George Kleine, veteran film executive, brings out very forcefully the truth that "presentation," so-called, is making pictures nothing but chasers for vaudeville.

The pendulum will undoubtedly swing back. And this cannot happen too soon for the good of the whole picture business.

* * *

AN exhibitor in a good-sized city located in these United States booked a picture from a big distributor and dated it for showing in his theatre, one of the most modern and up-to-date in the country.

Shortly afterwards, a small theatre in a section of the city across the river was about to open and started looking around for a picture. The distributor booked this same picture to Exhibitor No. 2 at a low rental, whereupon Exhibitor No. 2 took full pages in the city newspapers to advertise the showing, at 10c and 15c admission.

The exhibitor who had the larger theatre, and had already bought the picture first-run, of course, raised Cain, but he had to run it, and under the contract it was a percentage showing. His admission prices were higher, the net result being that the distributor got ten times as much from Exhibitor No. 1 as he got from Exhibitor No. 2.

* * *

THOUGH the vaudeville development in motion picture theatres has given Hollywood production chiefs no little concern—particularly with regard to its ultimate effect upon the picturegoing public—pictures will continue to be made with the end in view that they are individual attractions, capable of providing a complete entertainment in conjunction with their natural allies, music and divertissements subordinated to them.

Pictures and People–Continued

This viewpoint is reflected in the thoughts expressed by Paul Bern, general assistant to Irving Thalberg of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, in an interview in New York this week.

Mr. Bern said that the subject is a live one in production circles, where the growing tendency to stress stage presentations to the extent that the picture is overshadowed and placed in the position of one of the "other attractions," is looked upon as dangerous for both the theatre and the picture producer.

* * *

"QUANTITY has a great appeal to the buyer," he said, "and the picture theatres competing among themselves in an effort to outdo each other in the number and attractiveness of their shows are setting precedents which they eventually may find it a hardship to maintain but which the public, educated to expect bigger and bigger shows, may insist upon having.

"The danger to production lies in the fact that the public may come to regard pictures as merely a unit of a variety entertainment and that production standards may suffer as a result of the exorbitant expenses incurred by theatres whose outlay for 'name' talent runs into huge figures.

"The producers realize their responsibility in the situation. The difficulty to make every picture an outstanding attraction capable of filling huge auditoriums is at the bottom of it. The industry in this country produces about 800 pictures a year. That is a gigantic undertaking. No art or industry so far developed is capable of making each and every one of 800 units of production perfect of its kind. There are bound to be some failures. In comparison with other enterprises, however, the picture industry has a very high percentage of success. Compare picture making with book publishing, for example. Out of all the books published in a year the average of popular successes rarely goes above ten and more often is eight.

"The theatre man is confronted with the problem of giving his patrons a show that will please and satisfy them sufficiently to keep them coming back to his theatre. Consequently when screen attractions lacking in the ability to accomplish this purpose come along he is forced to bolster up his entertainment. But it is a question if this vaudeville type of entertainment will have any lasting appeal for the American people. Americans don't like hash. We have found that a picture which diversifies its appeal by mixing different elements of emotional or intellectual appeal usually fails. The picture that tells a complete story, that creates one definite impression, is the one that scores a popular success.

"THE mixing process is not helpful to the picture," Mr. Bern added. "As a matter of fact a stage program composed of jazz music, dancing and richly colored settings could scarcely be considered a preparation for a motion picture, unless the music or the stage effects partakes to some degree of the mood of the picture. We have found difficulty in getting an accurate line on our pictures at previews where a picture of, say, a serious mood is spotted into a program having a comedy as the feature. 'Flesh and the Devil' failed at its first preview, though it was shown in the complete and exact form in which it scored a success as a regular attraction. People coming to a theatre which has a comedy advertised are in the mood to be entertained by comedy action or a comedy mood. They are not receptive to the appeal of a picture in a serious vein. In consequence of this we try to obtain preview showings—which, of course, are presented 'cold' without any announcement or advance advertising—showings on programs in which the advertised feature is of the style and general mood of our new work."

* * *

"IT is interesting to note that the biggest screen attractions established their popularity and long run records without the aid of any added features. 'The Covered Wagon,' 'The Big Parade,' 'The Ten Commandments,' 'The King of Kings'—the list can run to prohibitive lengths—all won their fame and popularity as individual attractions.

"It is also interesting to note that in the smaller cities where the elaborate programs have not been attempted, the picture theatres are enjoying as much prosperity based upon their potential returns as the big presentation houses in cities where the 'name' ballyhoo is at its height."

* * *

Theatre Mortality

By Wm. A. Johnston

(Continued from page 1695)

In "playing down" the picture you are discouraging picture quality and placing the screen in danger of losing its hold. The great mass of people want good pictures. We fail to see why they should be denied them. Yet the big cities have gone off on a vaudeville tangent which may jeopardize the whole future of America's favorite amusement.

December 2, 1927 Motion Picture News Vol. XXXVI, No. 22

Published weekly by Motion Picture News, Inc. Founded in September, 1913. Publication Office, 729 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y.; Editorial and General Offices, 729 Seventh Ave., New York City; Branch Offices 845 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Room 616 Security Bldg., Hollywood, California. William A. Johnston, president; E. Kendall Gillett, vice-president; William A. Johnston, editor; J. S. Dickerson, associate editor; Oscar Cooper, managing editor; Fred J. Beecroft, advertising manager; L. H. Mason, Chicago representative; William McCormack, Los Angeles representative. Subscription price, $2.00 per year, postpaid in United States, Mexico, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands and some other countries. Canada, $3.00; Foreign, $6.00. Copyright, 1927, by Motion Picture News, Inc., in United States and Great Britain. Title registered in the United States Patent Office and foreign countries. Western Union cable address is "Picknews," New York. Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office, New York, N. Y., April 22, 1926, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Presentations Make Films Chasers for Vaudeville

(Continued on page 1697)

tious and costly picture houses in which the public will be offered picture programs at a moderate price. Technical inventions involving sound reproduction and stereoscopic projection promise a field for novelties that may win back the public after it has had its fill of the masters of the ukulele and the saxophone, the hoofers and the warblers.

"It is a bromide to say that the essence of entertainment is novelty, and equally platitudinous to say that the elements of novelty are contained within the motion picture itself. It can develop realism and romanticism, tragedy and comedy. It is a magnificent apotheosis of all the arts, and therefore its novelty is continuous."

Six M-G-M Features for December Release

Six features are included in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's release output for the month of December. These new half-dozen films bring the total of feature productions released since September 1st up to 19.

The feature offering for the Christmas month from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer follow: "London After Midnight," with Lon Chaney, directed by Tod Browning; "Spoilers of the West," starring Tim McCoy with Marjorie Daw, directed by W. S. Van Dyke; "The Lovelorn," in which Sally O'Neil and her sister, Molly O'Day, star in Cosmopolitan's picturization of a Beatrice Fairfax story directed by John McCarthy; "The Bridal Night," the tentative title of a new Norma Shearer vehicle which Sam Wood directed; "Tea For Three," a new Lew Cody Aileen Pringle co-starring venture directed by Robert Z. Leonard, and "Buttons," Jackie Coogan's newest appearance, which George Hill directed.

Noah Beery Assigned Role in "Leatherface"

Samuel Goldwyn has signed Noah Beery for the role of the Duke of Alva in "Leatherface," a forthcoming co-starring vehicle for Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky. Virginia Bradford has been borrowed from Cecil B. De Mille for the production, which is to be directed by Fred Niblo. The title, "Flower of Spain," has been discarded in favor of the original name, "Leatherface."

Erskine Film Will Have Los Angeles Premiere

The world premiere of "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," the First National special, made from the John Erskine novel, will take place at the Million Dollar Theatre in Los Angeles, following "The Gorilla."

"Love" Showing November 29th at Embassy

"Love," co-starring John Gilbert and Greta Garbo, will have its world premiere at the Embassy Theatre in New York, on Tuesday evening, November 29th.

The film is a celluloid version of the Tolstoi novel, "Anna Karenina."

Studio Problems Seen as Cause for Coast Gathering

By Edwin Schallert

Editor of the Los Angeles Times Preview and Special Correspondent of Motion Picture News

LOS ANGELES, November 24 (By Wire).—Informality will be the keynote of any meetings of high executives that will be held conjointly during their stay in Hollywood. This is the one definite admission growing out of the arrival here of a number of the most prominent officials of the motion picture industry, most of whom intend to remain about ten days or two weeks.

That there will be meetings for discussion of economic problems can virtually be taken for granted, but, according to present plans, they will likely be of unofficial character as regards the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association or any other organization with which executives are indentified.

Only Joseph M. Schenck, among major personalities in the destiny of films, is absent—and he is due to arrive in about a week or just before the close of the stay of the majority of the others. He will probably be accompanied by Al Lichtman and Harry Buckley.

Already here are Adolph Zukor, S. R. Kent and Sam Katz, of Paramount; C. B. Hawley, R. A. Rowland and Florence Strauss of First National, the last named being head of the editorial department; Nicholas M. Schenck, President of M-G-M; Carl Laemmle, head of Universal; W. R. S. Sheehan, of Fox, who is spending most of his time here; Elmer Pearson and John C. Flinn, of Pathe-DeMille.

In some quarters assembling of these officials on the Coast is referred to as indicative of that chummy disposition on the part of big executives to do the same thing at the same time, but in others, more authentic, it is generally conceded that there will be some get-togethers.

An official in high standing who did not wish to be quoted declared that it is not so much economic as artistic problems which have to be solved just at present, referring rather pointedly to the attention that will be given picture programs themselves and questions concerning production in all its phases, including those of actual service on the part of the individual.

He declared that Hollywood is entering an era when recognition of talent will, it is hoped, be based not upon promises but upon results. This may indicate a reform in the present contract system, but it is regarded doubtful whether anything like this will be fulfilled if it is even initiated.

During the Coast sojourn of the executives the present trip is said to be one primarily for observation and the settling of routine matters at the studios. Mergers are considered out at the present time in well-informed circles, but the labor problem in general will unquestionably receive very serious consideration.

Organized Theatre Owners Pledge Full Cooperation to Hays

COOPERATION of the organized theatre owners of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Western Iowa, Oklahoma and Arkansas has been officially pledged to Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., in conventions held in those districts.

These exhibitors are well pleased with the results of the recent Trade Practice Conference of the Motion Picture Industry held under the auspices of the Federal Trade Commission and are confident that the resolutions adopted at that conference will be carried out in letter and in spirit.

Telegrams were sent to Mr. Hays by R. R. Biechele, president of the Motion Picture Exhibitors Association of Western Missouri and Kansas; C. E. Williams, president, Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Nebraska and Western Iowa; W. Z. Spearman, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Oklahoma and M. A. Lightman, president, J. F. Norman, secretary, Cecil Cupp, past president, H. D. Wharton, past secretary of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Arkansas.

Flood Area Recovering

Film Shipments Reaching Many Points But Freezing Weather May Halt Activity

THE recent flood disaster through Vermont and New Hampshire has not yet reached that condition where accurate prophecy can be made regarding the immediate future. In fact things are still a good deal in chaos and weather conditions will have quite a bearing on the resumption of dependable service. If freezing weather sets in before the roads can be dug out from beneath several feet of mud and repairs made, it may be several weeks or even months before regular shipments through the established channels can be made.

Through special handling by the post office department, by means of trains and trucks, shipments of film from Boston to the Vermont and Northern New Hampshire exhibitors are being made, but only with the cooperation of exhibitors. Shipments are going through to White River Junction in Vermont and the Plymouth New Hampshire. Exhibitors beyond these points must arrange to secure their film there and transport it the rest of the way. Most of them are joining forces and each making a trip or two a week in their own autos. Film for the extreme northern part of Vermont is being shipped via Rouses Point, from which place Burlington transfer companies distribute it. Orders for film are accepted by all Boston exchanges subject to delivery delays.

As a result of the Sunday benefit in which theatres in the vicinity of Albany, Troy, Chatham, Rensselaer and Ravena contributed a part of the proceeds of their Sunday performances, approximately $11,000 was turned over to the sufferers in the flooded area. All theatres played to standing room only Sunday evening. The Leland in Albany was the largest contributor, its contribution amounting to approximately $1,900. The Troy theatres, which contributed only the afternoon receipts, turned over $1,618 to the fund. Thirty-five theatres participated in the benefit.

Edward A. Golden of Boston, franchise holder for First Division distributors in New England, has made a proposition to those exhibitors in Vermont and New Hampshire effected by the flood. He will supply pictures as well as advertising and accessories to exhibitors who cannot now afford to pay for them. When they are back on their feet they can send a check for anything they can afford.

Five New First National Productions Started

The current week saw the beginning of camera work on five new productions at the Burbank studio of First National; four more pictures are scheduled to get under way during the first half of December. Five films are now in various stages of work and the cutting room has seven more pictures being cut and titled.

The pictures which were started on their journey towards the screen were "Lilac Time," "Burning Daylight," "The Heart of a Follies Girl," "Chinatown Charlie" and "Do It Again."

The four scheduled to get under way in the near future are "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," "The Canyon of Adventure," "Lady Be Good," and an untitled production which Robert Kane will produce.

Three Colleen Moore Films During 1927-28 Season

Three Colleen Moore pictures instead of four will come from First National during the season of 1927-1928. "Lilac Time" will be the first, to be followed by "Baby Face." The third and final vehicle on the program will be "Oh, Kay."

Adele Rogers St. Johns is making the adaptation of "Lilac Time"; Willis Goldbeck will prepare the script. "Baby Face," whose source is the play, "Synthetic Sin," is now being adapted by Benjamin Glazer and Chandler Sprague. Elsie Janis has been engaged to adapt "Oh, Kay" for screen use.

Monroe, Louisiana, Bans Carnival Shows

A city ordinance banning carnivals has been passed by the city commission of Monroe, Louisiana.

Will Atkinson, Monroe commissioner of parks and streets, has been fighting for the adoption of the bill for nearly a year, holding that unsanitary conditions prevail around a carnival, that an undesirable element are attracted by the traveling shows, that their main attractions were gambling devices of a doubtful nature and that carnivals come to a town under the auspices of some fraternal organization, thus avoiding the payment of the city license for showing.

Although the ordinance does not specify carnivals, it says that no tent show shall encamp within 900 feet of a resident, public building or place of business, and then for not over one day's stand. The allowance for a one-day stand still permits circuses within the city limits, but bars carnivals from setting up for a week's business.

Officials Dropped Because of Laurier Law Violations

Two official heads have fallen into the basket in Montreal, Quebec, because of the Laurier Palace Theatre disaster in Montreal last January, following the conviction of Ameen Lawand, proprietor of the theatre, and two employes.

Both Inspector James McIsaac, head of the Fire Prevention Division of the Montreal Fire Department, and Police Captain T. O. Bellefluer, in whose precinct the theatre was situated, have been dismissed on a majority vote of the executive committee of the Montreal civic administration. Inspector McIsaac was responsible for the frequent inspection of the theatre where 78 children lost their lives, while Capt. Bellefleur was responsible for the police supervision of the house.

Increase in Exemption on Admission Taxes

THE new revenue measure will provide an exemption from admission tax of one dollar as the result of action taken last Tuesday, November 22nd, by the House Ways and Means Committee in Washington, D. C. Proposals to make the exemption three dollars were defeated by a vote of 15 to five and a rate of one dollar and fifty cents was defeated by a vote of 12 to eight, but the proposal to make the exemption one dollar was accepted by a vote of 15 to three.

Prize fight admission over five dollars will be subject to admission tax at the rate of 25 per cent, the Committee having agreed, 13 to eight, to make such a change, although, by a vote of 17 to five, it was decided to leave the rate on admissions between one and five dollars at the present level of 10 per cent.

An eight million dollar loss will be suffered by the government by the increase in exemption on amusement admissions, it is estimated, although this loss will be reduced by one half million dollars derived from the increased rate on prize fight tickets.

The SHOWMAN

December 1927

Features

Pictorial Review of Theatres.

Business Building Theatre Map.

Making Good Ads from Press Book Displays that are Not So Good.

Outside Lighting that Guides the Public to Your Door.

Review of New Equipment.

The Stanley in Baltimore

Occupying the side of the old Academy of Music, this new house is a beautiful addition to the list of amusement places in Baltimore. The front elevation is of white marble. Mounted on top of the marquee are fifty multicolor flood lights for illumination of the front of the building.

On the right, sidewall view showing stage boxes. The wall spaces above the boxes are devoted to ornamental golden grilles concealing the organ chambers.

A general view of the auditorium as seen from the stage center. The new Stanley has a seating capacity of 4,000. The interior architecture and decoration is in the medieval Romanesque style.

THE new Stanley theatre, occupying the former site of the old Academy of Music in Baltimore, furnishes an interesting commentary upon the proficiency and scientific advances made in theatre planning and building. For the same ground area that formerly bore the old Academy with its total seating capacity of 1800 now serves to accommodate a theatre of more than double that capacity, or, to be exact, 4,000 seats.

The Stanley in Baltimore was planned, engineered and erected by the Hoffman Henon Company of Philadelphia, architects, engineers and builders, who have a score of the Stanley Company's houses already to their credit. The theatre represents an investment of $2,500,000.

Fronting 120 feet on Howard street and extending back from the building line to a total depth of 250 feet, this most recent addition to Baltimore's amusement places is an imposing structure viewed from either the exterior or interior.

The front elevation is of white marble, relieved of severity by large arched windows and decorative columns. On each side of the main entrance are spacious store rooms. The main entrance, divided by a marble box office of sufficient size to accommodate a quartet of cashiers, is surmounted by a copper marquee equipped with electric "talking" signs running around both sides and across its front.

The lobby is executed in Italian marble with a Torrezzo marble floor inlaid with brass. From each side of the lobby proper grand staircases lead to the mezzanine lounge and lower balcony level. The mezzanine lounge extends the entire width of the theatre and is richly furnished with divans, easy chairs, decorative floor lamps and a grand piano. A floor covering of deep pile carpet adds to the beauty and note of comfort of this room. Side corridors lead to the mezzanine loge at the front of the balcony.

On the orchestra floor progressing through the lobby, the main auditorium is entered. It is a huge comfortably seated expanse in which the desired note of intimacy exists by reason of its design and the decorative scheme, featuring the medieval Romanesque style The color scheme has as its dominant tones buff, grey, and pale blue set off with gold, terra cotta and rich maroon tapestries, with side walls relieved by marble wainscoting and pillars that rear themselves from the orchestra

(Continued on page 1738)

Left above—a section of the inner lobby, showing one of the stairways, located at either side, leading to the mezzanine.

The proscenium arch and section of the orchestra [illegible] of the theatre—as shown above. The stage of the Stanley is 50 feet wide and 38 feet high.

On the left—one of the [illegible] tastefully decorated [illegible] which the Stanley is [illegible] the ladies' lounge.

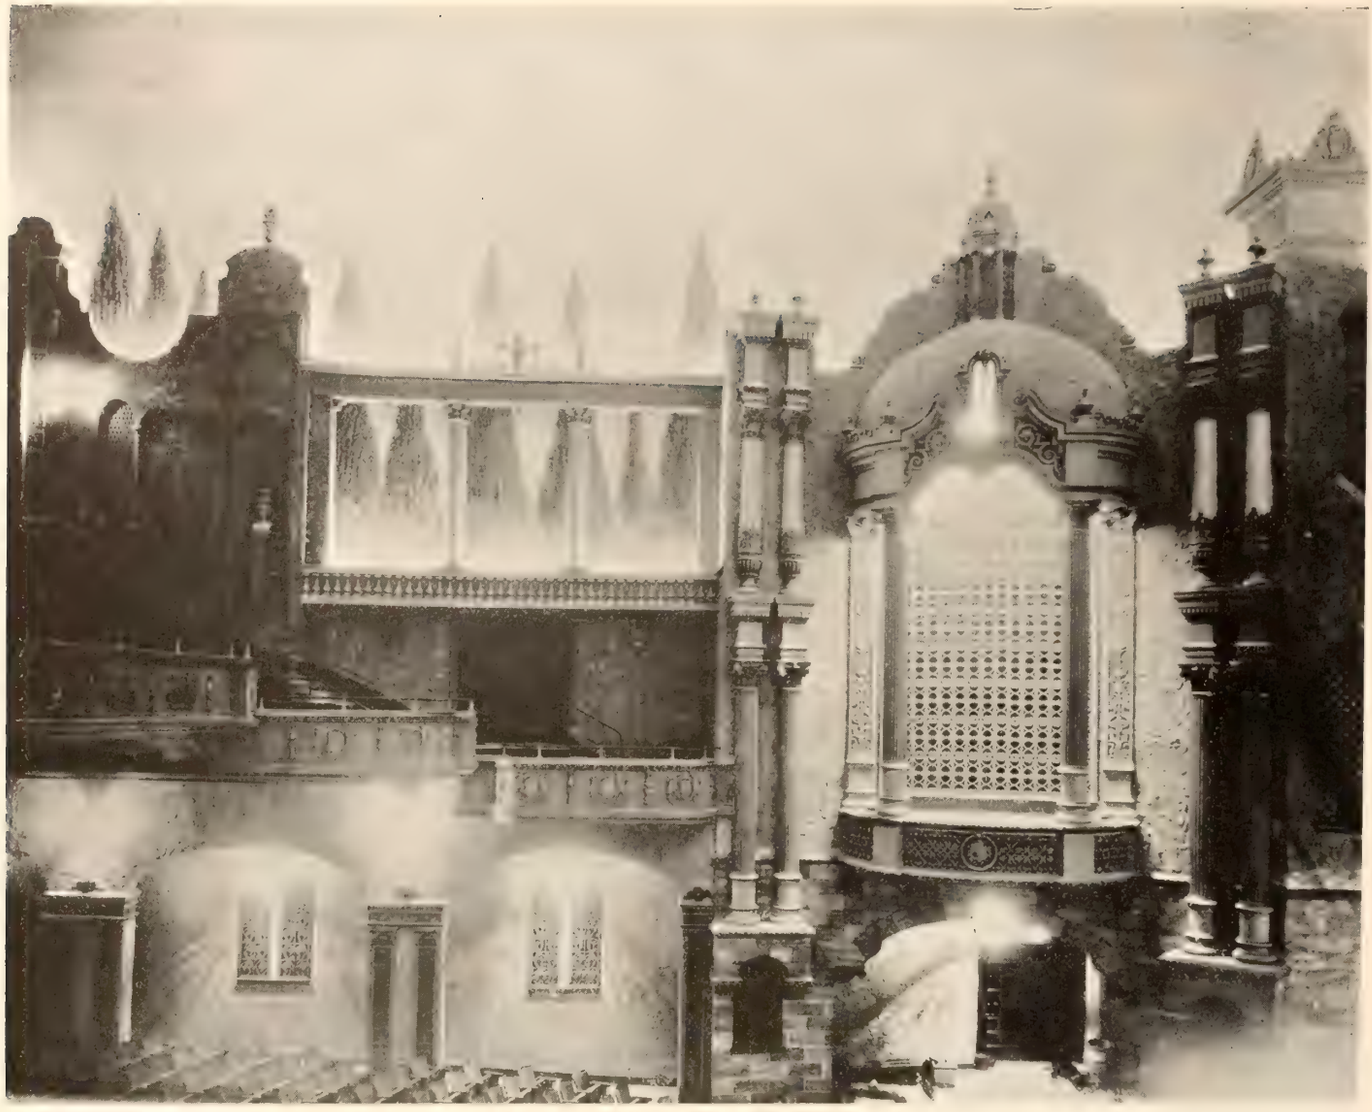
London's Newest Cinema Palace—The Astoria

Playhouse Designed by A. E. Stone Occupies Famous Crosse & Blackwell Site in Charing Cross—Owned by Berkeley Syndicate

The lobby of the Astoria, one of England's finest picture theatres, shown above. In addition to an auditorium of large capacity the Astoria houses one of the largest dance halls in London.

Above—View of the auditorium as seen from the upper balcony level. In seating capacity the Astoria compares with the leading West End London theatres. Note overstuffed chairs used in the balcony.

Below—The auditorium of the Astoria, desgined by A. E. Stone for the Berkeley Syndicate, headed by E. E. Lyons, well-known figure in British Exhibiting circles.



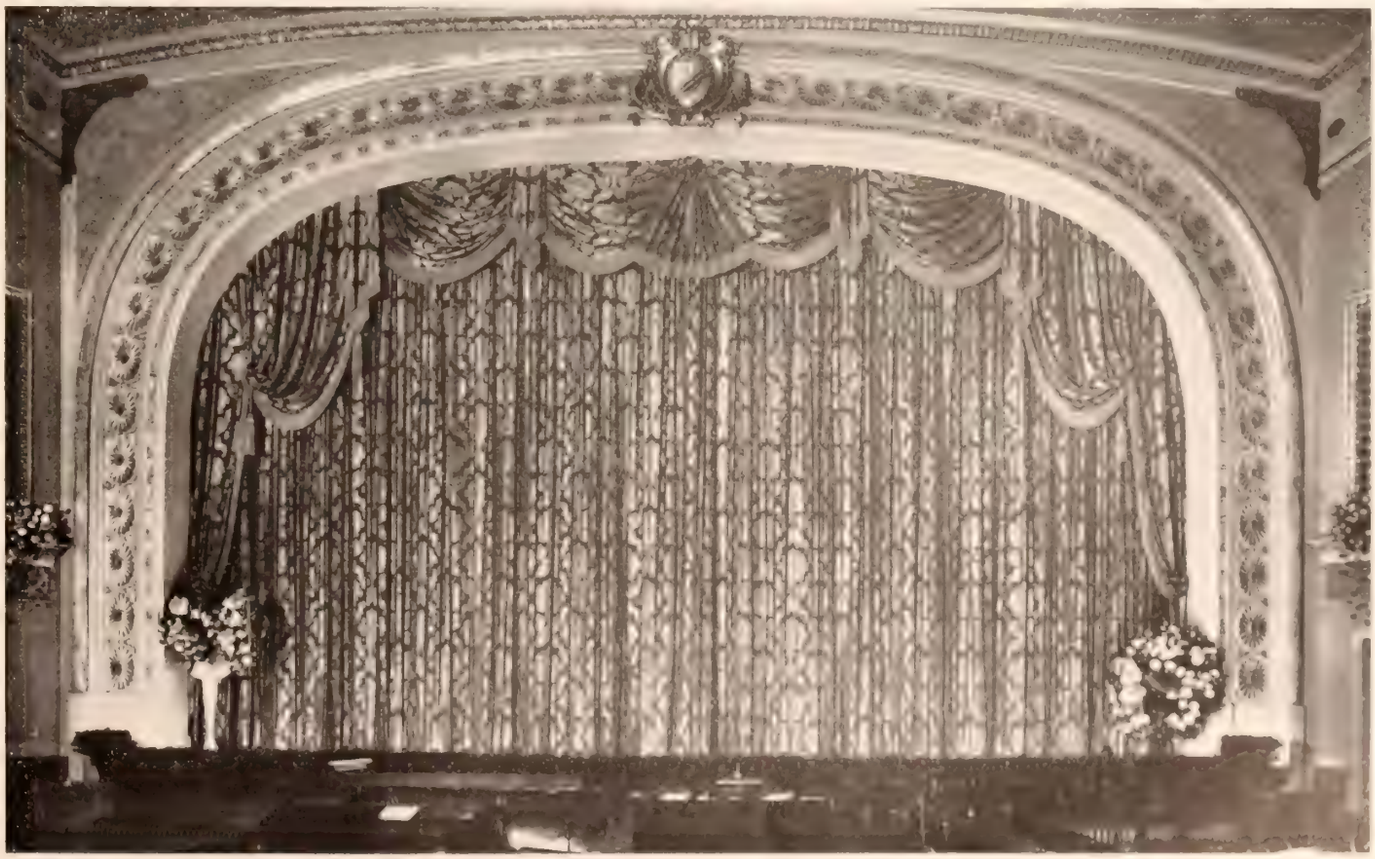
On the left The tea room, located under the auditorium, is another feature of the theatre, providing a roomy and comfortably furnished gathering place for patrons of the Astoria.

The dance hall, shown below, one of the leading features of the Astoria theatre. The hall has been built into the earth below the theatre and has a sprung floor on the latest approved pattern.

Above—a side wall view of the auditorium of the Kenosha theatre, done in the atmospheric style and an adaptation of the Spanish type of architecture and decoration

On the right is a view of the mezzanine, where the Spanish motif is carried out in the ceiling treatment and picturesque columns, done with a faithful attention to authentic detail.

ATMOSPHERIC DESIGN FEATURE OF NEW THEATRE IN KENOSHA



WHEN Universal opened the Kenosha theatre, Kenosha, Wisconsin, on September 1st, the company added to its chain another impressive playhouse done in the atmospheric style. The theatre is of Spanish design throughout, and its auditorium treatment follows the garden effect which has become the hallmark of the so-called "atmospheric" theatre.

The Kenosha seats 2,500 and is said to have cost $750,000 to build. It was designed and built by the United Studios of Chicago. Ralph L. Beaudry is the architect. The theatre building occupies a plot of ground facing on Sixth and Fifth Avenues, running back two hundred and sixty-seven feet between these two streets. The Sixth Avenue frontage is eighty-five feet, while the fifth Avenue side covers one hundred feet. In addition to the theatre the building houses two stores and sixteen apartments.

STAGE AND SIDEWALL DRAPES AS A DECORATIVE FEATURE

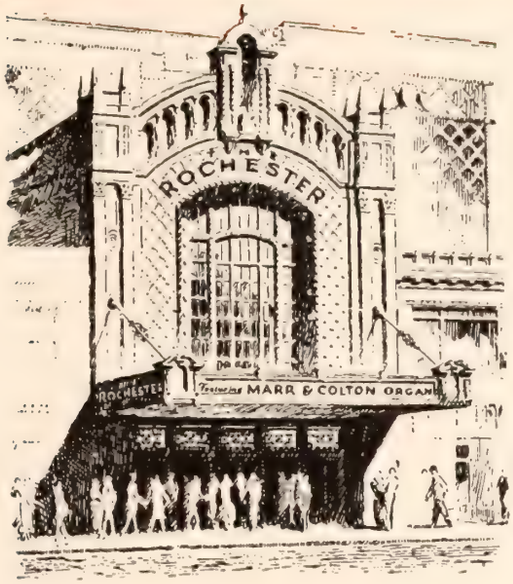
Draperies in tasteful color and arrangement are largely instrumental in achieving the attractive decorative scheme which is a feature of the auditorium of the Allerton theatre, in New York. The interior of this neighborhood house, two views of which are shown here, is a picture of beauty and splendor in every niche and corner. The decoration was designed and executed by the Novelty Scenic Studios of New York. Red and gold damask with gold silk fringes strike the [illegible] there has been accomplished a striking departure from the usual festooned draperies by working a fan effect into the center of the valance. The stage is in unison with the rest of the theatre where genuine metallics in various blending colors create a setting that is ornate, with the additional advantage of being susceptible to color variations.

THE JEROME THEATRE IS ONE OF NEW YORK'S FINE COMMUNITY HOUSES

ONE of the newer neighborhood theatres in Greater New York and ranking as a playhouse of the modern order which brings the de luxe quality as to comfort and beauty, the Jerome theatre is located at the Northwest corner of Jerome and Tremont Avenues, in the Bronx.

This modernly equipped cinema has a seating capacity of 1700 and was built according to plans by Nathan Rotholz, architect of New York.

It is provided with an up-to-date cooling and ventilating system, scientifically designed lighting, and all the attributes of the most efficient downtown house.



The scheme of interior decoration includes two large mural paintings executed by the Willy Pogany Associates.

In its original design the house was planned to incorporate a Typhoon Fan ventilation system, and air ducts opening into the auditorium are concealed behind grilles.

The stage and proscenium wall treatment, shown in photo on the left, which gives a view of the auditorium from the rear at the orchestra floor level.

Below—A sectional view of the auditorium of the Jerome theatre, showing seating arrangement and decorative treatment of sidewall and ceiling. In the center may be seen one of the mural paintings done by the Willy Pogany Associates and a feature of the decorative scheme.

America's Finest Organ Will Delight Patrons at the Rochester Theatre, Rochester, N. Y.

WHEN you enter this magnificent Rochester Theatre, Rochester, N. Y., you will be greeted by the incomparable tones of a Marr and Colton Organ, universally recognized for its supreme tonal qualities.

In this theatre is placed one of the largest organs ever built—a five-manual instrument, which is the supreme effort of those two master organ builders, David Marr and John J. Colton.

Marr and Colton

AMERICA'S FINEST ORGAN

Six Months to Build

This massive organ required six months to build. It is so arranged that the tone may be regulated from a mere melodious whisper to the full martial volume of a band. In it are hundreds of pipes, miles of wires and thousands of electrical switches, controls and stops, to bring various tones into play.

Console Erected on Platform

The organ console is erected on an elevated platform which is raised and lowered by push-button control operated by organist. This brings organ into view during solo numbers and out of view during pictures.

HEAR THIS FAMOUS ORGAN—
THE INSTRUMENT WHICH PROVIDES UNMATCHED
TONES FOR THE SILVER SCREEN

Let us make a careful analysis of your musical problems. Thus you will secure intelligent application of all that is practical and beautiful in organ building and installation. Write for catalogs and free estimate.

The Marr and Colton Co., Warsaw, N. Y.

NEW YORK OFFICE
Suite 2013, Paramount Bldg.
TIMES SQUARE, NEW YORK, N.Y.

CHICAGO OFFICE
708 Congress Bank Bldg.
506 WABASH AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

COMPLETE

RESPONSIBILITY - RELIABILITY

The Carrier Contract

not a sale of equipment but a

Guarantee of Results

THE highly satisfactory operation of all Carrier Conditioned Theatres, during the summer of 1927, has fully demonstrated the value of the thorough and competent air conditioning engineering and the guarantee of results which are binding clauses in every Carrier contract.

Each Carrier Conditioned Theatre in cities and towns from Los Angeles to Broadway has operated to the full satisfaction and comfort of the theatre owners and the patrons. Each new installation of a Carrier System has been set into operation according to the scheduled time.

These accomplishments are the result of the Carrier acceptance of complete responsibility for all the details of design and installation of air conditioning, refrigeration and control equipment.

THE Roxy in all its magnificence and The Eastern, small neighborhood theatre in Columbus, Ohio, each belongs to the enlarging group of Carrier Conditioned Theatres. Each is completely equipped to maintain a cool, non-humid atmosphere in Summer; temperate healthfully humidified air in Winter; a constant supply of cleansed fresh air perfectly distributed without the slightest draught.

Learn the meaning of Air Conditioning.
Ask for the Book "Theatre Cooling and Conditioning."
Ask for a visit from one of our Engineers.

Manufactured Weather makes
"Every day a good day"

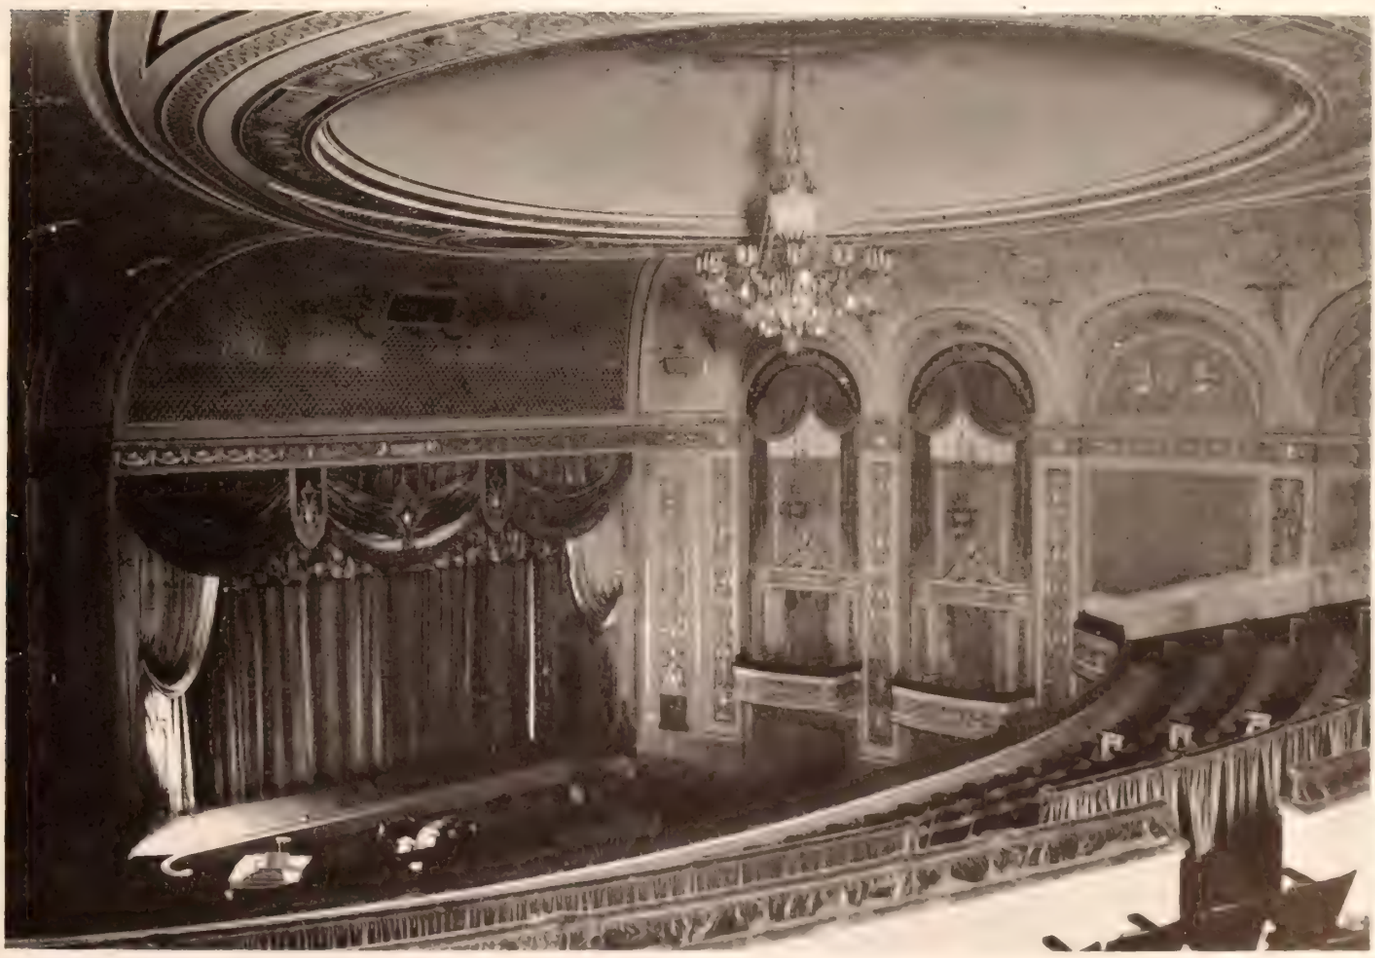
Carrier Engineering Corporation

Offices and Laboratories
Newark, N. J.

NEW YORK PHILADELPHIA BOSTON CHICAGO WASHINGTON CLEVELAND KANSAS CITY LOS ANGELES

ADAM DESIGN USED IN ARCHITECTURE OF THE PARK PLAZA

ANOTHER handsome addition to the Universal theatre chain is the Park Plaza theatre situated at University and Tremont Avenues, Bronx. Eugene De Rosa, architect, of New York is the designer of this playhouse seating 2,500 and incorporating the newest features for presentations and patron comfort.



The stage is of sufficient size and is equipped for the production of elaborate vaudeville acts and presentations. A combination vaudeville and picture program is the policy of the house.

The auditorium is done in the Adam style, with an ivory, silver, rose and gold color scheme. Drapes are a rose and pale green and the chair seats and carpets are in deep red with grey and black design.

On the right is shown a portion of the mezzanine promenade with well opening over the orchestra foyer seen at the left. Handsome appointments and furnishings harmonize with the decorative scheme of this lounge

A view of the auditorium, accommodating 2,500 seats on its orchestra and balcony floors, is shown in the picture below This view was taken from the rearmost seat in the balcony and gives an accurate idea of the excellent sight lines.

Outside Lights That Guide the Public To Your Door

By D. W. PRIDEAUX

Edison Lamp Works of G. E. Co.

The figure in this wall display is floodlighted by projectors mounted on marquee. Apparent motion is given waves by use of effect machine, consisting of projector, rippled glass and moving color screens. Coated lamps are used in letters "Mare Nostrum"

FAR off down the street you see a blaze of light, and guided by the same instincts that cause wild animals to approach the blazing campfire, you wander toward it. As you get nearer you distinguish the name of a theatre, then the name of the entertainment offered there, and as you walk under the marquee with its ceiling of light you stop and notice scenes from the entertainment shown on painted bulletins or wall displays. Glancing up from these you see the price scale for the various seats, buy your ticket, pass the doorman, and are then guided by the small directional signs to your seat. Those are the duties of signs when used on a theatre, namely, to say to the whole wide world, "Here It is" and to those entering, "This Way."

To broadcast to the public "Here It Is," the name of the theatre or the name of the entertainment may be used. When the name of the theatre is used, a large roof sign or vertical sign on the front of the theatre is adopted, though in some cases only having the name on the marquee will suffice. These signs are usually of the exposed lamp type. By this we mean signs in which the letters are formed by lamps exposed to view. Oftentimes borders, made up of colored lamps, or clear lamps with color hoods, operated from a flasher, give life to the sign, or the sign may be flashed and a sunburst or burst of color started at the bottom and kept going till it reaches the top. In these all colors obtainable are used. It is the motion and color that attract the eye, but the letters cary the message.

Those of you who walked down Broadway during the run of Mare Nostrum undoubtedly still have a vivid picture in your mind of the display advertising that show. The floodlighted figure of a beautiful young girl rising from the ocean, the action of the waves surrounding her, and the blaze of light from the letters in "Mare Nostrum" overhead, created much interest in the offering there. In the daytime this display was essentially a painted bulletin. The letters in "Mare Nostrum" were perfectly visible against their background, and although the action of the waves was missing the picture presented was an attractive sight indeed. Truly, this display said to everyone who saw it, "This is where you can see Mare Nostrum."

THE marquee was undoubtedly developed for shelter, for it is found at the entrance of many hotels and stores of the more pretentious variety. While it serves as a shelter to the patrons of the theatre, it serves none the less as an advertising and attracting medium. The changeable, opal glass letter signs on the marquee faces permit having an electric sign for each individual program. The opal glass letter sign is formed by a metal mask, out of which the letter has been cut, placed over a plate of opal glass and the two then fastened together. These are placed one after another, forming a word or message, in slots, behind which are mounted lamps to supply the necessary light. The letters may be of flat opal glass, or of the raised letter type. Exposed lamp letters have been used for these signs in the past, but at present the best results can be obtained by the opal letter as it gives a much smoother appearance. Then under the marquee is a blaze of light coming from lamps studded over the ceiling. In the usual form of marquee, the ceiling is opaque with beams criss-crossing, forming some sort of a pattern. Lamps studding these beams on anywhere from 4 inch to 10 inch centers and varying in size from 15 to 40 or 50 watts, depending upon the location of the theatre, will provide satisfactory marquee lighting.

Those marquees having a skylight form of roof may be lighted by means of direct lighting reflectors placed above the skylight, probably supplemented by a row of bare lamps around the outside edge of the marquee. Again, we may find a marquee with an arched roof having a smooth finish on the inside. This type may employ rows of bare lamps for illumination purposes or may use cove lighting. In cove lighting, the light is supplied by hidden equipment to the ceiling, which is lighted to a fairly high intensity.

Under the marquee one often finds bulletins or wall displays mounted in rather elaborate cases. These cases may have provided room for lighting equipment along the sides or at the top, in which case light is supplied from concealed sources. Regular show case lighting equipment is often used for lighting these bulletins. As a person quite frequently walks under the marquee without noticing the name of the theatre, stops to look at scenes taken from the entertainment, and passes on without noticing at which theatre it is given, it is quite desirable to have on these wall cases a small permanent glass letter sign of the theatre's name. Oftentimes special cutouts or posters are placed about the theatre entrance for some particular entertainment. Attention can be more effectively directed toward these by mounting small spotlights, above and slightly in front of these displays, with their beams centered on them.

OTHER methods of emphasizing a particular entertainment are to have small electrically lighted displays in the lobbys, which apparently have motion. One such display conceals, behind glass on which the picture itself is painted, lamps equipped with vanes caused to move by the heat of the lamp. This motion, together with other transparencies, can be utilized to show a waterfall or a forest fire in action, and so on.

Broadcasting the Name of the Theatre by Means of Electric Signs is One of the Most Effective Instruments in Modern Showmanship

This theatre uses its name in a vertical wall sign to mark its location, and a running border of colored lamps to attract attention. Letters in word "Mansfield" are of exposed lamp type. Note the changeable letter sign on marquee. Rows of exposed lamps of inside frosted type provide marquee lighting

Another method of producing an animated sign is by wiping out a given sign lighted with one color, by changing the light to a new color, which causes a different scene to appear.

Then there is another sign of the disappearing type. A metal mesh, with the scene or message painted on it, is placed inside of a box some distance in front of a second scene painted on canvas or other suitable material. Light is thrown on the front of the metal screen and causes this message to stand out. This light is then turned off and the interior of the box is lighted, which causes the metal mesh to disappear and the second message or scene to appear. Such ideas as the above will emphasize to the patron the fact that a certain entertainment is being offered at that theatre.

THE indoor type of sign should be used in many places. If the scale of seat prices is illuminated, it just makes things so much more convenient for the patron and saves the ticket seller's time, permitting her to make more sales in a given length of time. To guide the patron as he enters the theatre there should be placed conspicuously unobtrusive small signs pointing the direction to seats in the orchestra, loges, mezzanine, and balconies. The locations of elevators, cloakrooms, and rest rooms should be clearly shown by these signs. To remind those persons who are constantly talking to their companions during the performance, a small, quiet, yet artistic sign requesting silence during the performance would be appreciated by other patrons.

These signs can be obtained in a number of different forms, which have a pleasing appearance and harmonize with any type of architecture. One of these signs consists of a plate of glass, with letters frosted on the back of it, mounted in a suitable frame and supported by a base which contains tubular lamps. The light is supplied to the back of these letters from the lamps in the base. These signs are made with a single face for wall mounting or double faced for bracket mounting.

ANOTHER type has a metal background with clear or colored glass letters projecting through. The light is supplied to these glass letters from behind. This sign is also made with a single or double face.

There is still another form of these signs, consisting of a plate of glass mounted on a base containing lamps. On the back of the glass, letters have been chipped and then silvered. The light comes from the filament up through the plate of glass until it strikes the silvered surface of these letters from which it is reflected. Because the brilliant filament is reflected by the small mirrors which make up the letters, the message of these signs appears to be penciled in fire. These may be obtained with a single or double face and in different types of mountings, as can the others.

Featuring a scene from the entertainment offered inside, this shadow box display is lighted by lamps in small individual reflectors on approximately 12-inch centers, running around all sides of the case

Last, but not least in importance, are the exit signs. It is these signs, required by law, that show the patrons the locations of exits in case of panic and fire. About the first practice was to place a red lamp at these exits. Then came a red globe with the word "Exit" printed on it. This was some improvement over the plain red light, since it told the meaning of it. One disadvantage, however, was that it could not be read from all angles, as the curved surface would hide part of the letters. The best type of exit signs today are the box type signs with flat faces, which may be placed against the wall or mounted flush with the wall surface. The glass face may have a red or green background, as required by local ordinances, with white letters, although the more decorative practice is to use leaded art glass. Lamps should be placed on not greater than 6 inch centers behind such signs. So to properly illuminate an exit sign 12 inches in length there should be two lamps used of the 25 or 40 watt size, depending upon the density of the red glass.

(Continued on page 1734)

Serving the AMERICAN Theatre Industry

Specialization

Meeting modern theatre needs is no "handy man" task. Science has introduced new technique, new materials, new methods. Only men trained and experienced in their particular fields can meet the demand for specialized service.

Even a group of such men needs special equipment and facilities. Men and equipment in turn need the skilled organization and direction that can quickly and economically distribute the benefits of such combination when, where, and as wanted.

Highly specialized installing, equipment, or repair service is now rendered through Thirty-one points of Vantage by the National Theatre Service.

From four bare walls to opening announcement—all may be handled on our Single Complete Contract Plan. Or, as needed, repair service and small parts.

(4016)

National Theatre Supply Company

Offices in all Principal Cities

A shadow box featuring cutouts from stock paper used to bill coming attractions at the Majestic theatre, Austin, Tex.

A painted display reminded departing patrons that "Ben Hur" was next week's feature at the Stillman, Cleveland.

Selling Patrons Next Week's Show

PRO and con there may be advanced many theories concerning the use of advance billing inside the theatre lobby, but the point upon which all agree is that this form of advertising above all things must be of such character that its presence is not an eye-sore, destroying the visual effects and atmosphere for the accomplishment of which architects and decorators sweated and toiled and the builder paid out large sums of money.

In the days of the "shooting gallery" and the store show, it was simple enough. The showman ordered some advance posters and thumb-tacked them on any convenient space at hand. But the parade has gone by all that, and the smaller de luxe theatre, which has no appropriation for special art work, must find the way to get harmonious effects by using stock material, either "as is" or as it will be after certain artistic sense and some ingenuity has wrought it into a cutout mounted in a shadow box.

On this page are illustrated some especially good examples of the art of fitting advance displays into the lobby scheme. These show a very attractive "shadow box" over the entrance of the Majestic theatre in Austin, Tex.; and the special stock poster frames which Manager Harry Thomas occasionally used at the Liberty theatre in Pittsburgh. The painted display for "Ben Hur" at the Stillman offers a good example of advance billing for theatres which can afford the expense of special art work.

Using the balcony stairway landing for an advance display of poster cutouts and stills

Thomas makes excellent use of the space over the auditorium entrance for the stock posters, and with the simple expedient of decorative frames he gives them a dress which justifies their presence the luxurious setting of the lobby.

Stock material also provides the main features for the display for "Upstage" designed by T. Wilson Erwin, of the Majestic. The frame over the entrance doors is a permanent affair and lends itself to a number of display designs. The backing is of silk put on with sufficient fullness to allow for folds, or shirring. A lower border, concealing electric lamps, is used to carry the title, the letters of

(Continued on page 1732)

A decorative frame for stock 24-sheets is one of the methods used to bill coming attractions at the Liberty, Pittsburgh.

Another display at the Liberty is shown above. A grouping of two 1-sheet and a three made an attractive showing.

New Rialto Theatre, Joliet, Ills., C. W. & Geo. L. Rapp, Architects

Worth Remembering

THE truly nation-wide character of the American Seating Company distribution and installation service of its Theatre, Church, School and Lodge seating is not a mere theory or claim, but realized actuality and fact. This is an important thing to remember.

American Seating Company

General Offices:
10 East Jackson Blvd., Chicago
113 West 40th St., New York
1211-K Chestnut St., Philadelphia
77-D Canal St., Boston

Theatre Building Business Map

Including Analysis of Key City Attendance Averages

Above Average Business	AA	Very light new construction
Average Business	A	Light new construction
Under Average Business	UA	Heavy new construction

The map of the United States shown here is divided into seven territories, with colored shading indicating the division of new proposed theatre building as represented for the period from October 15th to November 15th. This new construction is represented in valuation of dollars and cents rather than number of projects.

The shading is in four densities: solid, which represents the greatest value of proposed theatres; heavy stipple, which is second in valuation of new construction; medium, which areas represent conservative building; and the very light areas, where the investment in new theatre projects is very light. The information used in compiling the statistics visualized by the map was obtained through several reliable sources, and the map is to be considered as very nearly accurate in representing comparative theatre building activities in various sections of the country.

The circles shown on the map are located in key cities and illustrate averages of theatre attendance during the three months period form October 15 to November 15. The diagrams indicate the relative attendance at the better theatres in these cities during the summer season. These are given by "averages, with symbols to indicate "Above Average" and "Under Average" box office returns. The term "average" as applied in this survey indicates satisfactory box office returns, based upon theatre expectancies, which, in turn, are governed by past earnings under similar or nearly similar conditions

These attendance statistics were compiled from an analysis of the Key City Reports, published weekly in Motion Picture News, and other sources of information gathered by this publication.

THEATRE building continues brisk. In fact, the new projects reported for the month of November show a slight increase over the reports which have been received by Motion Picture News during the four previous months.

An analysis of the building data by territories for November shows: in the North Eastern states, two new projects costing $475,000 call for 3,200 seats, averaging $150.00 per seat. The North Atlantic states call for 23 projects costing $7,035,000 The seating capacity of 35,900 costs $196.00 per seat. The South Eastern states have plans for three new projects costing $435,000. The seating capacity of 4,200 will average $101.00 per seat. The South Western states have six new projects costing $4,390,000. The 11,150 seats will cost $394.00 apiece. The Middle states will have twenty-four new projects costing $4,785,000, calling for 28,200 seats averaging $171.00 per seat. The Western states have four new projects costing $810,000 and a seating capacity of 4,600 seats averaging $193.00 per seat. The West Coast states will have nine new projects costing $4,940,000 and will total 14,300 seats at $345.00 per seat.

These divisions give for the whole country for the month of November, seventy-one new projects costing $22,870,000, with 101,550 seats costing, on an average, $225.00 per seat.

It is interesting to note the large variation in the cost of the average seat for the various territories. In the South Western territory the figure $394.00 is exceptionally high. However, this is explained because of the fact that only two projects have been announced for this territory, both of which are in the million dollar class. The same explanation holds good for the high cost per seat shown in the West Coast division. In the other territories the cost per seat is within the range of the average good theatre, indicating that a large number of smaller houses are projected in these territories.

The North Atlantic states show the heaviest program for the month of November. In fact, the figure of $7,035,000 is

Conditioned Air ~ as Clean and Pure as a Meadow Breeze

Partial list of York Conditioned Theatres

The World	Omaha, Neb.
Rivoli	Muncie, Ind.
Lawndale	Chicago, Ill.
Fox-Roxy	Washington, D. C.
Coconut Grove	Coconut Grove, Fla.
Candler	Atlanta, Ga.
Rochester	Rochester, N. Y.
Stanley	Baltimore, Md.
Stanley	Pittsburgh, Pa.
Stanley	Philadelphia, Pa.
Earle	Philadelphia, Pa.
Earle	Washington, D. C.
Indiana	Indianapolis, Ind.
Winter Garden	New York, N. Y.
State	Easton, Pa.
Colonial	Allentown, Pa.
Capital	Reading, Pa.
Orpheum	Boston, Mass.
State	Newark, N. J.
Astor	New York, N. Y.
86th Street	New York, N. Y.
Chapel	Columbus, Ohio
Palace	Cleveland, Ohio
Chester	New York, N. Y.
Cameo	New York, N. Y.
American	Roanoke, Va.
State	Sioux Falls, S. D.
Capitol	Nashville, Tenn.
Richmond	Richmond, Ind.
Rose Marie	New York, N. Y.

AIR Conditioning—what is it? There was a time when the three or four torrid months of the year were the showman's nemesis. Now with scientific air conditioning and cooling for the theatre this period of the year can be turned into months of satisfactory profit.

The flow, or motion of the air, as well as its humidity and temperature are now brought together at what is termed the comfort point. Hence, regardless of outside temperature conditions, it is now possible to maintain within the theatre a condition of air which is satisfying to the patron.

York conditioned theatres are popular houses—old man summer slump is a stranger at their doors.

How about investigating the application of York equipment to your house. Now is the time; just return the attached coupon and have us tell you the story.

York Ice Machinery Corporation,
York, Pa.

Please tell me more of York air conditioning for theatres.

Name .....

Address .....

.....

YORK
ICE MACHINERY CORPORATION
YORK PENNA

over 50% in excess of any other territory.

The states calling for one million or more dollars' worth of construction are New York, with 12 projects costing $4,385,000 and a seating capacity of 18,385; California, second, with 6 projects costing $3,775,000 and 10,800 seats. Pennsylvania, third, with 10 projects costing $2,600,000 and 16,700 seats. Texas, fourth, with one project costing $2,500,000 and 4,000 seats. Indiana, with projects costing $1,540,000, 7,300 seats. Tennessee has one theatre costing $1,300,000 with 2,500 seats. Washington, three projects costing $1,165,000 with 3,500 seats. Wisconsin, 5 projects, costing $1,000,000 with 6,000 seats.

OUR reports on building construction started in our September issue of "The Showman." In this issue a resume of the preceeding months was given. Including Nov. statistics, our reports cover five months. Our figures total for the whole country 381 projects costing $109,187,000 with a seating capacity of 538,256. Proportioned for the year this figure indicates that our building program for 1927 is calling for 915 new projects with a total investment of $263,000,000 and an addition to our seating capacity of 1,292,000.

Two territories are running neck and neck on total volume of building. They are the North Atlantic and Middle states. The West Coast States come third. However, the amount of building per unit of area is by far the heaviest in the North Atlantic States, inasmuch as the Middle states territory, as shown on the map, is a great deal larger than that of the North Atlantic states. The three territories mentioned above represent approximately 80% of the total building for the country.

While a record-breaking building program in the motion picture industry was predicted in the MOTION PICTURE NEWS' forecast the first of this year, and explanations were advanced in support of this prediction, yet it is always interesting to learn of further statistics that give additional proof of the soundness of the building program in the motion picture industry.

According to the report of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which has recently been made public, it is shown that in 1926 the 117,000,000 people in this country had an aggregate income of ninety billion dollars, an increase of more than 43% in the five years since 1921. This report goes further to say that the national income for 1927 would, in all probability, show an increase of that of 1926. It is noted in this report that authorities are inclined to the belief that during the present year commercial conditions have been more nearly normal than at any time since the war and that the standard of living for the American people is the highest that has ever been obtained in this or any other country. It is further pointed out that the great increase in the income for the people of this country is not the result of an increase in price level, for the average price of consumed goods was actually slightly less in 1926 than in 1921.

THESE statistics, while not having any direct bearing on construction in the motion picture field, are very convincing proof, however, of the soundness of our construction program, inasmuch as there is a great deal more money to be spent by the however, of the soundness of our construction program, inasmuch as there is a great deal more money to be spent by the average person in this country, and amusements, therefore, are becoming a necessity in life rather than a luxury, as in the past.

In a past report, theatre equipment business was analyzed for the various territories in the United States. It was shown that in all territories business was excellent, and in some slightly stronger than in others.

Our report for the month of November shows that this same set of conditions holds good. Equipment distributors and manufacturers are enjoying excellent business.

Abnormally warm weather is generally credited with deferring the winter season for businesses in all lines. Certainly it must share the blame for the belated theatre season, not yet started, though under ordinary conditions it should now be on its climb to the peak of its form.

In consequence of the delay, theatre box offices have suffered, though the lack of real pace to business does not approach "slump" conditions. There is good business when attractions are good and the weather is favorable or when some stimulant to theatre going evidences itself, whether this be on the main street of a small town or the rialto of the metropolis.

Such whims, of course, are not cheering to the theatre man, who, like his fellows in other lines of business, chafes under the dispiriting cloud of "spotty" business.

The attendance indicators on the map this month tell the story of these conditions. Radical changes appear in the comparative process of matching the current map with that published last month. Yet there are no outstanding reasons discoverable to account for these fluctuations—beyond, that is, the freakishness of affairs when purely individual conditions, such as the strength or weakness of attractions, the counter attractions of local events, unfavorable theatre going weather, and such-like factors that are entirely outside the control of the theatre operator.

SALT LAKE CITY furnishes an example of how merely surface conditions bring a complete change in the theatre situation over the period of a month. Last month's map showed Salt Lake City as having registered "average" theatre attendance for the previous four weeks. On the current map this territory shows "above average" rating for the period from October 15 to November 15. Beyond two factors, comprising the number of visitors attending the Mormon Conference, which took place during the period covered by this report, and an array of pictures that were strong but which were not markedly superior in popular appeal than those which played in previous weeks, there is nothing to account for this change in attendance averages. These two factors are entirely sufficient to swing the curve from "average" to "above average," but they indicate purely local conditions.

Seattle continues to be the spectacular performer. Averages there go from below the normal line to above it, only, the next month, to reverse the order and dip from high to low. The theatres there were not booked with very heavy cards during the month past, and, as usual in such cases, there was a let down all around—the theatres going easy on the exploitation and the potential ticket buyers acting coy and "choosey."

Minneapolis duplicates its October showing by remaining at "average." The theatre bombing which took place there naturally acted as a brake on theatregoing. And to add to the difficulties the strike of musicians, which left the houses without a very important feature of their entertainments, added to the apathy of the public towards these amusements. However, with the end of the strike, things picked up and the latter weeks of the period reported showed highly satisfactory conditions.

NEW YORK, despite a lavishness on the part of the big houses on Broadway in giving patrons a $5 program for 99 cents paid at the box office, finished up the October 15 to November 15 period with an "under average" rating. This, despite the fact that each of the big houses in their turn scored some high box office takes. But it was up one week and down the next for all of them, with the result that the figures were not up to the expectancy.

Boston's season got going for a time, and things were moving along swimmingly for all the playhouses. Atlanta came back from "under average" in October to an "average" rating for the past four weeks. Keen competition between the theatres there had the effect, which it usually does, of reflecting favorably on business for all the houses. One week of real strong competition is good for about two weeks of good business during the suceeeding two weeks, if the pictures booked for the follow up period have real appeal. So things went in Atlanta recently.

Baltimore had a different brand of competition—from the race tracks and the Fair of the Ohio Railroad, held nearby the city and a second out-of-door attraction which had distinct appeal with the weather what it was. The result of this competition, naturally, is bad theatre business, and that is the result suffered by the Baltimore houses during the period.

FIG. 1

FIG. 2

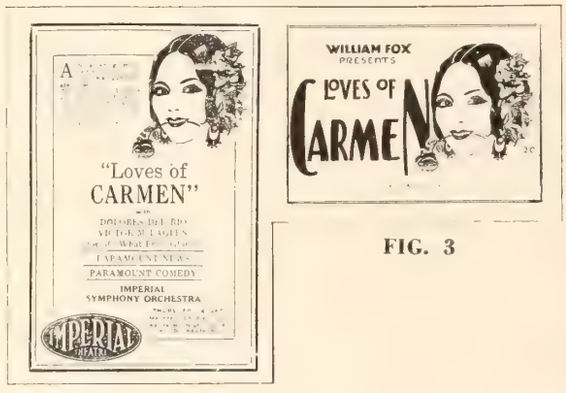

FIG. 3

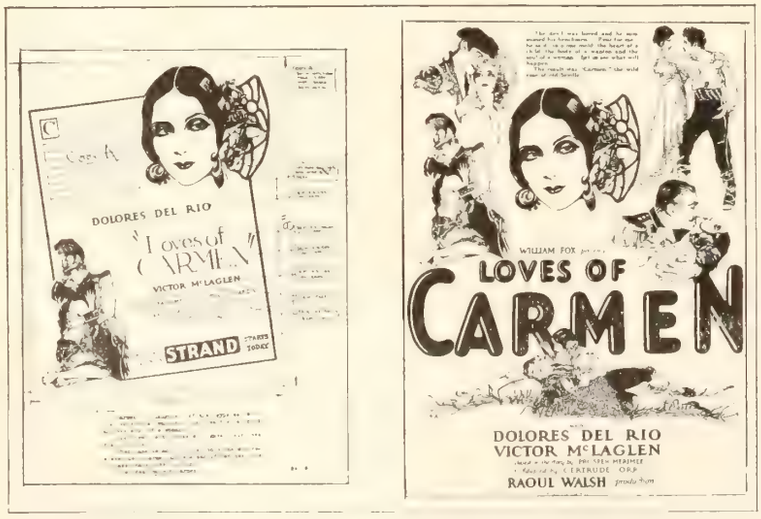

FIG. 4

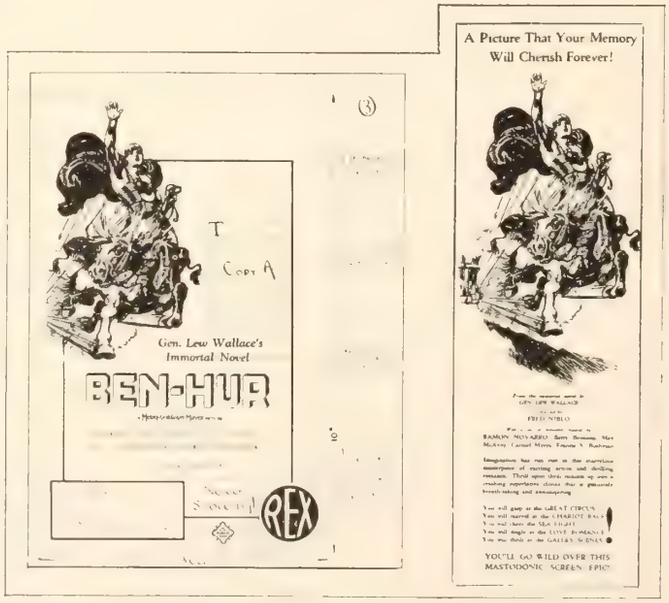

FIG. 5

How Publix Adapts Press Book Ads for Theatre Use

Some of the Rules Governing Size and Style Observed in Building Displays for Companys Advertising Manual

HOW to make good newspaper displays from press book ads that are not so good continues to be one of the major problems confronting the theatre man, despite the fact that press books in general have shown some improvement along the line of providing usable suggestions for newspaper exploitation in the so-much-per-line columns of the local publications.

In the effort to present here some advice from one who is thoroughly experienced and expert in the craft of adapting press book ads, this department sent a representative to call on Lem Stewart, Advertising Manager of the Publix theatre department.

Mr. Stewart and his staff, comprising K. F. Long, Gus Grist, Geo. Planck and Rodney Bush, prepare an Advertising Manual on each of the major attractions booked for the Publix houses. The Manual contains publicity matter, exploitation ideas and layouts for newspaper ads, all of which are submitted to the managers, not as rules to be slavishly followed, but merely as helps or suggestions.

Incidentally, it might be said that the quality of the ads as suggested in the manual is attested by the fact that the vast majority of the managers use the suggested layouts almost in the exact form in which they are submitted, in preference to press book ideas or their own conceptions.

In making the layouts, Mr. Stewart and his assistants are held to the same restrictions which confront any theatre manager who perforce must use stock illustration material or do without. Each one of the manual ads uses all or a part of stock mats or cuts available at the exchanges releasing the pictures to be exploited. Moreover, nothing is attempted which cannot be executed in the average print shop, so the ads have practical worth.

In conection with this article we are reproducing some of the Publix manual layouts in conjunction with the press book ads from which they are adapted.

These illustrate more clearly than any description or set of written rules could, the methods used to give the displays more compactness and more concentrated sales appeal.

Fig. 1—The illustration to the left shows an original ad-mat from M-G-M's Ben Hur press sheet. In the center is a reproduction of the Manual ad. The illustration to the right is an advertisement published in St. Petersburgh, fashioned after the layout in the Publix Advertising Manual. Why was the original mat revised in Mr. Stewart's department? We think the reasons are obvious. The revised ad consumes less space than the press-sheet original, while the illustration is just as forceful. The press-mat, in its original shape, lacks a degree of unity. But this material, in its revised form, results in a display almost fool-proof as far as competition with competitors' ads is concerned. The Publix ad is well proportioned, invites reading, or sells at a glance to the prospect who merely scans the newspaper pages.

The copy in the original is confusing. The copy in the revised ad is forceful. since it is orderly.

Fig. 2—These two illustrations show at a glance, how a portion of one of Metro's Ben Hur scene-mats is used for advertising purposes. A portion of an ad-mat has been used in the lower hight-hand corner of the layout, the portion of the scene-mat furnishing the illustration for the upper left-hand corner of the ad.

Note especially, with the combination of these two mats, Publix devised a display for its circuit, much more desirable in appearance, than any advertisement which might have resulted by the use of an ad-mat alone.

The advertisements, which were actually published as a result of this layout, had "readability" due to desirable proportions and balance, and a focal point, as represented by the effective placement of the title, "Ben Hur," in center of rectangle.

Fig. 3—Here are two examples which show how the illustrated portion of one of the Fox "Carmen" ad-mats has been worked into a small but effective display advertisement by the Imperial Theatre, Augusta. The Imperial Thea tre ad is from the layout represented in the Publix Advertising Manual. The copy in this ad is from the Manual, rather than the press-material. Note the white margin which assures the unity of this ad, regardless of the printed material which surrounds it. Note the effective placement of the title, "Loves of Carmen." A criticism is, that De Rio and McLaglen are names worthy of more emphasis. But Manager Miller decided to sell on the strength of the title, and prepared his ad accordingly.

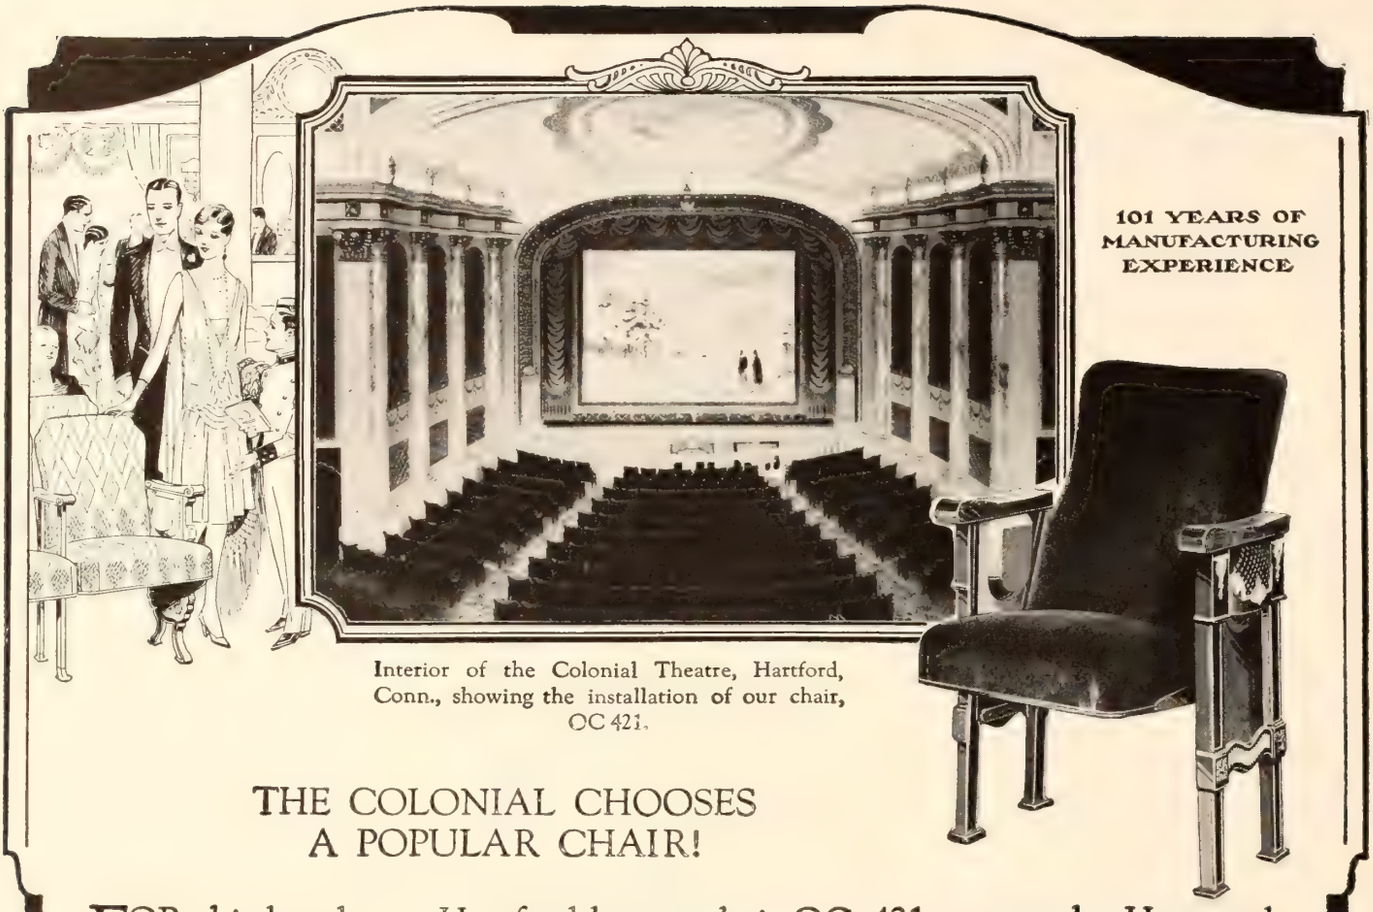

Fig. 4—Here we illustrate an original ad-mat from the Fox "Loves of Carmen" press-sheet. The original is for an ad 4 columns, 11 inches. Size prohibitive for the average Sunday theatre display advertisement. The original mat is considered fair advertising material, but the sketches and copy are a bit too disorganized to result in an effective ad. Selecting two ortions of this ad-mat, Publix reconstructs a layout for the Advertising Manual, resulting in an advertisement equally effective, but less costly in space, the Publix ad measuring 3 columns, 8 inches. Note the placement of the star's name and title of picture. Note the proportions and the arrangement of design, to assure unity and attention value.

Fig. 5—Publix newspaper display advertising favors the rectangle that has proportions of eight units of height to five units of width (or the ratio of 5 x 8). Here is a three-column nine and a half inch advertisement, from the Advertising Manual, "Ben Hur" planned on the basis of a layout which uses for the illustration the Metro 2-column admat No. 289-A23. The rectangle with a 5 x 8 ratio is considered the most efficient for the average display, since this proportion lends itself more readily to a well-balanced newspaper advertisement, and offers the least difficulty, to so combining the copy and cuts, that the chief sales items, like the title and names of stars, shall be properly placed within the advertisements. Focal point, too, is more readily achieved in advertisements of this proportion.

Some of the more important factors upon which the technique of the Publix ads are built may be submitted in the following random thoughts on the subject of adapting press book displays as they developed in the course of an interview with Mr. Stewart.

IN THE first place, one of the greatest handicaps placed on the man who designs the press book ads is the fact that contractural obligations of the producer or distributor demand that considerable added billing, or credits, be included. This means that a great deal of type matter, telling the name of author, supervising director, featured members of the cast—all of whose names may not mean a thing to the patrons of the theatre—is inserted here and there and everywhere in the ad simply because it is "must" copy, and, despite the fact that the layout as originally conceived loses its strength and appeal because of its presence.

Consequently, one of the first things that the average press book ad must undergo in the process of adapting it to the particular uses of a particular theatre, is deletion, simplification. With this as a beginning, the orderly method would seem to be for the theatre man to start by going over the ads in the press book and selecting the usable material, clipping it out and setting it aside from that which

Interior of the Colonial Theatre, Hartford, Conn., showing the installation of our chair, OC 421.

101 YEARS OF MANUFACTURING EXPERIENCE

THE COLONIAL CHOOSES A POPULAR CHAIR!

FOR this handsome Hartford house, chair OC 421, a popular Heywood-Wakefield design, was selected. This luxurious theatre seat has a full upholstered back and a deep, comfortable spring seat. The aisle light standard was finished in black and high-lighted with gold. The orchestra and balcony chairs were upholstered in blue and the loge chairs in red mohair.

Throughout the country Heywood-Wakefield chairs are more and more in demand by independent and chain exhibitors. Publix Theatres Corporation recently purchased over 40,000 Heywood-Wakefield chairs. The Orpheum circuit has ordered or already installed our seats in ten new houses. These are but two examples of theatre exhibitors' confidence in Heywood-Wakefield theatre seats.

If you have not yet received a copy of our Theatre Seating Catalogue, write for it.

Heywood-Wakefield

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

THEATRE SEATING DIVISION SALES OFFICES

Baltimore, Maryland	113 West Conway St.	Los Angeles, California	801 East 7th St.
Boston, Massachusetts	174 Portland St.	Minneapolis, Minnesota	357 Loeb Arcade
Buffalo, New York	Wells and Carroll Sts.	New York, New York	516 West 34th St.
Chicago, Illinois	439 Railway Exchange Bldg.	Philadelphia, Pennsylvania	244 South 5th St.
Detroit, Michigan	404 Film Exchange Bldg.	Portland, Oregon	148 North 10th St.
Kansas City, Missouri	1310 West 8th St.	St. Louis, Missouri	6th and O'Fallon Sts.
	San Francisco, California 737 Howard St.

Making Posters a Permanent Feature of the Advertising Campaign

By L. J. SCOTT

Morgan Lithograph Co.

IT IS generally agreed that posters can and should play a highly important part in the advertising scheme of any theatre. That they are not used more extensively is undoubtedly due to the failure of the individual exhibitor to carefully analyze his own particular problem. problem.

This problem, if the solution were undertaken by an advertising agency, would probably be set forth as follows:

1. What is the area from which patronage can be drawn?
2. What is the maximum amount of gross business which might be handled regularly in this theatre?
3. What percentage of this gross can reasonably be spent on advertising?
4. How can this appropriation be spent to the best advantage—namely to secure the estimated patronage?

Having determined the answer to the first three questions, a careful consideration of the purposes served by the available advertising media is necessary. These are ordinarily newspapers, theatre publications, lobby displays and posters. Each is invaluable under certain conditions. A carefully apportioned appropriation may call for a certain expenditure for all of them.

Whatever the result of the investigation, the use of posters will be found to be essential in building up a regular clientele, in many cases from sources not previously productive of patrons.

On a par with the effectiveness of this medium, is the factor of economy brought about by the possibility for complete coverage of the potential business area without any perceptible waste circulation. This, of course, is predicated largely upon the willingness of the individual exhibitor to arrange for the erection of his own boards.

Such a step enables him to arrange for selected locations at points where the posters will be seen by the greatest number of persons.

With such a plan in operation, there are certain advantages to be derived, that cannot be obtained through the use of any other media. Without attempting to undervalue the effectiveness of newspapers, house publications or lobby displays, only by comparison can the relative merits be shown.

One example to be cited, is that of waste circulation. Only in the smallest towns will the theatre area coincide with the newspaper area. In all cities a premium is paid for a circulation among readers, a large percentage of whom live entirely outside the potential patronage area of the advertising theatre. By confining the poster display to the area served by the theatre, this waste is eliminated.

Attention value is another factor of importance to poster advertising. Color, the most powerful method of attracting the eye, is too costly for consideration in newspaper or house organ advertising.

Yet, at a relatively low cost, an exhibitor may obtain several styles and sizes of beautifully lithographed posters especially designed from the standpoint of color combination and illustration interest to intrigue the eye of every passerby.

And finally, of outstanding importance, is the fact that posters are one of the most productive sources of new patrons. They are seen by housewives, business men, children, car riders and automobilists.

No better proof of this could be given than by citing the fact that no outstanding box office attraction has even been successfully exploited generally, without the widespread use of posters. From the Birth of a Nation down to Ben Hur, The Big Parade and other productions of note, posters have been an outstanding part of all such campaigns.

Every exhibitor recalls that at such engagements, there were people in attendance who seldom, if ever, attend. That they are not more regular in attendance can at least be partially attributed to the fact that posters are not used extensively, but rather at spasmodic intervals.

Instances of the successful employment of poster panels in building up the patronage of a theatre are so numerous that this medium of advertising is recommended for the consideration of every exhibitor regardless of his location. It should be put into effect, however, only after a careful and exhaustive search for the best locations and with the firm determination to make this a permanent part of the regular advertising campaign.

One of the 24-sheet stands used to sell "Take a Chance Week" feature in Dallas, where the Palace theatre used posters extensively to attract new patrons

Advantages Claimed for Posters

COLOR—Colored pictures are easily understood, even in the absence of any written message.

CIRCULATION—Placed where those who buy will read, they can be so located that everyone who goes on the streets will see them.

EXCLUSIVENESS—Set in its own frame, the poster has complete unity which sets it off by itself.

ECONOMY—It is claimed that no other medium can equal at the cost the amount of circulation gained by poster displays.

PERMANENCE—The poster message gives the impression of permanence. If posted on a permanent structure it delivers its story 24 hours a day.

BEDFORD THEATRE
BEDFORD, OHIO.

MAJESTIC THEATRE
SIDNEY, OHIO.

QUILNA THEATRE
LIMA, OHIO.

CAPITOL THEATRE
DELPHOS, OHIO.

STAR THEATRE
WESTMINSTER, MD.

STRAND THEATRE
MUNCIE, IND.

MAJESTIC THEATRE
ATHENS, OHIO.

LEES THEATRE
RAVENNA, OHIO.

LIBERTY THEATRE
GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

PARK THEATRE
LEHIGHTON, PA.

LYRIC THEATRE
LIMA, OHIO.

RIVOLI THEATRE
GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

A widely welcomed achievement is the Page Unit Organ Player, Model M-X-40. Two manuals for playing by hand. Takes regular 88-note piano rolls for relief playing.

GEM THEATRE
NEWARK, OHIO.

GRAND THEATRE
ST. MARYS, OHIO.

LYRIC THEATRE
WINCHESTER, IND.

ISIS THEATRE
KOKOMO, IND.

LIBERTY THEATRE
SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

STRAND THEATRE
HANOVER, PA.

COLONIAL THEATRE
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

ROYAL GRAND THEATRE
MARION, IND.

TEMPLE THEATRE
BAY CITY, MICH.

OHIO THEATRE
DOVER, OHIO.

PASADENA THEATRE
DETROIT, MICH.

PAGE ORGANS

EMPIRE THEATRE
NEW YORK

PARK THEATRE
BARBERTON, OHIO.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE
KOKOMO, IND.

FEDERATION THEATRE
DAYTON, OHIO

RONDO THEATRE
BARBERTON, OHIO.

SIGMA THEATRE
DAYTON, OHIO.

RITZ THEATRE
COLUMBUS, OHIO.

STATE THEATRE
LIMA, OHIO.

FRANKLIN THEATRE
ALLENTOWN, PA.

BROWNS STOCKING AVE. THEATRE
GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

STATE THEATRE
FAIRMONT, MINN.

GRAND THEATRE
NEWARK, OHIO

EVERY theatre manager knows what a powerful help attractive music is in drawing and keeping a large patronage. Theatre patrons want and expect pipe organ music. Page Unit Organs and Players meet the situation with thorough satisfaction. Built by master craftsmen of finest materials they have attained an ever-growing popularity, due to marvelous tonal qualities, instantaneous response and dependable performance. The choice of the Page Unit Organ by so many theatres is a remarkable witness to its superb ability to please owners and patrons alike. Discuss your plans with Page without obligation.

THE PAGE ORGAN COMPANY
521 N. Jackson Street
Lima, Ohio

BROWN'S OPERA HOUSE
WAPAKONETA, OHIO.

FULTON THEATRE
GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

RIVERDALE THEATRE
DAYTON, OHIO.

PRINCESS THEATRE
NEW CASTLE, IND.

New and Improved Equipment

A Review of the Latest Developments in Theatre Engineering

Any further information that may be desired regarding equipment devices described in this department may be had upon request. Address such inquiries to The Showman, Motion Picture News, 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

One Cashier Sells More Than 1,000 Tickets in One Hour

SELLING one thousand and ninety-six tickets in an hour—better than eighteen tickets a minue—is the unique record recently established by one of the young ladies in the box office of Balaban & Katz' Roosevelt Theatre, Chicago. The fact that the young lady's cash for the day balanced to the penny, makes the feat even more remarkable.

The nearest approach to this record, so far as is known, was made by a ticket seller in the Metropolitan Theatre, Boston, Mass., who sold over a thousand tickets in one hour.

Obviously such remarkable speed and accuracy in ticket selling was practically impossible before the automatic machines displaced the old "head and hand method" of making change in the theatre box office.

In both the Roosevelt and Metropolitan theatres, where these record performances were made, the Brandt Automatic Cashiers were used in establishing these high marks.

The Brandt Automatic Cashier has as one of its outstanding features an automatic subtracting keyboard. This device entirely does away with all mental calculations on the part of the ticket seller. All that is necessary to keep in mind is the price of the ticket. The ticket seller presses only one key, corresponding to the price of the ticket, and instantly the correct change is delivered direct to the patron. The machine itself makes the change—automatically—in a single operation, and does it in less than one second.

Equally as remarkable as the subtracting keyboard or the single key depression features, is that mistakes are mechanically impossible. The Brandt cannot make a mistake because it must pay the correct change or not pay at all. Should any one of the coin compartments inadvertently be allowed to run out of coil—the change cannot be short—because the Brandt automatically locks and will not deliver any coins, thus apprising the operator that a coin compartment needs refilling.

Brandt Automatic Cashier

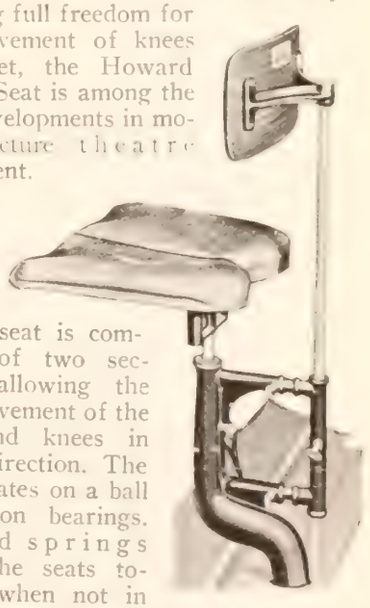
Phonograph Record Plays Accompaniment to Trailer

A MUSICAL accompaniment in which a popular air written around "The Big Parade" was presented with an advanced trailer for that picture proved a popular novelty at the De Witt theatre, Bayonne, New Jersey, recently.

For several days preceding the opening of the engagement, a Victrola placed in the orchestra pit, played the record "My Dream Of The Big Parade," at the same time that a National Screen Service trailer was being shown on the screen. It so happened that the running time of both record and trailer was in exact synchronization.

The unique trailer "presentation" created an amount of talk about the picture it advertised.

New York Relocking Device Passes Underwriters' Tests



THE new relocking device introduced by the York Safe and Lock Company for the Round Door Burglary Chest, manufactured by that company, has successfully passed the severe tests of the engineers at the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., of Chicago.

The device was subjected to numerous tests, during which it underwent every conceivable assault that burglars could bring to their craft in an effort to gain entrance to strong boxes.

The successful performance and resultant endorsement of the Underwriters' Laboratories entitle the owners of this chest to an additional reduction of 10 per cent on their burglary insurance rate.

2-Section Organ Seat Permits Freedom of Knees and Feet

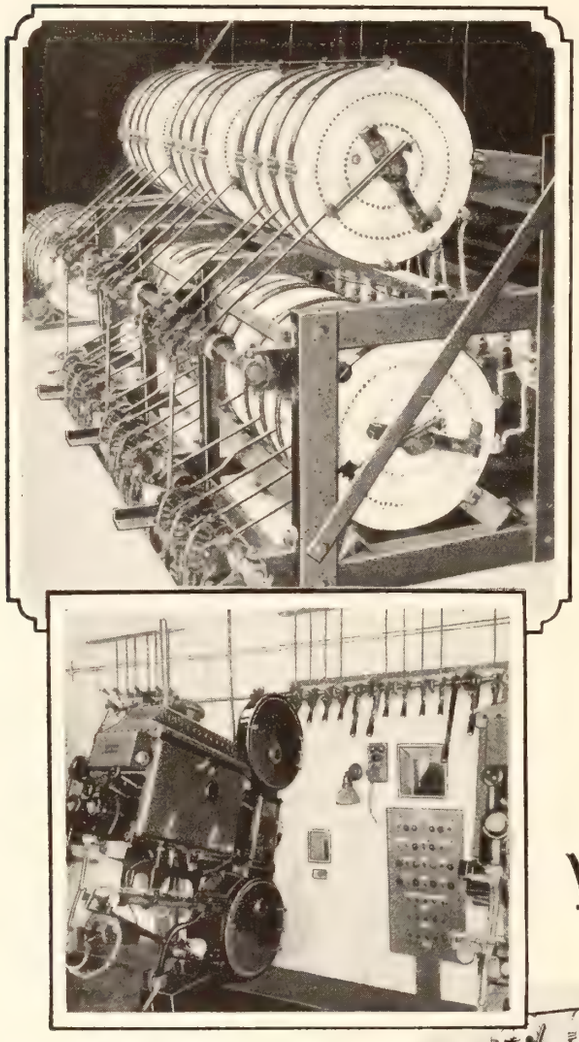
DESIGNED by a former theatre organist and therefore planned with a view to comfort as well as efficiency in allowing full freedom for the movement of knees and feet, the Howard Organ Seat is among the new developments in motion picture theatre equipment.

The seat is composed of two sections, allowing the free movement of the feet and knees in either direction. The seat rotates on a ball or pinion bearings. Balanced springs bring the seats together when not in use. The seat can be raised or lowered to any degree over a range of five inches.

The back rest is adjustable forward or backward four inches up and down 18 inches. The base is in one section which sets under the pedal board. The Howard seat, designed by E. R. Howard, is constructed of iron, bronze and steel with curled hair padding and leather seats. It is available in the following colors—Mahogany; Gold Bronze; Ivory enamel.

G-E Announces New Preset Lighting Control Board

A PRESET theatre lighting control board, by means of which a number of lighting scenes in a theatre may be preset in advance and operated in any sequence from master control switches at various points, is announced by the General Electric Company. The operation may be controlled at the board on the stage level or from one or more distant points.



The design consists of a floor-mounted, safety-type dimmer bank at the stage level, each dimmer being operable by an individual lever, or groups of dimmers may be operated by color master levers. In addition, any or all dimmers on the entire board may be operated through a grand master, slow-motion, cross-control wheel. This makes it possible to dim some of the groups and to brighten others with one movement.

Immediately above each individual

(Continued on page 1734)

Control–Capacity and Unit Spacing

Ward Leonard — Vitrohm Dimmers

Vitrohm Dimmers mounted over projection room control all house lighting effects. [Upper illustration]

Handles providing control by operator of dimmers mounted over projection room. [Lower illustration]

WHEN the owners and designers of theatres discuss lighting control apparatus they are interested entirely in results which necessitate a "control" system that will be dependable and accurate.

Apparatus employing Ward Leonard Vitrohm Dimmers are most frequently specified for these important installations. Here are some of the reasons.

Vitreous Enamel Insulation.

110-step control, all steps equally effective in even, flickerless light reduction.

Greater lamp "watt" capacity for space occupied.

Unit space engineering, each plate in the dimmer bank immediately replaceable by one of a different capacity to compensate for load changes.

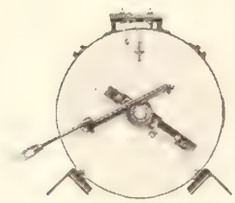
Continuous duty operation at full rated load on any step without excessive heating.

Dimmer units enabling banking to any desired capacity.

All moving parts, including contact buttons, ground or machined, thus insuring smooth action.

Resistive element of plates permanently and completely protected from disintegration.

Cost of systems employing Vitrohm Dimmers the same or less than that of other equivalent lamp "watt" capacity systems.



Only in vitreous enamelled Ward Leonard Vitrohm Theatre Dimmers are all of these essential features found. Send your dimmer specifications to us for estimate. 25 years of manufacturing and research experience is fully at your disposal.

Ward Leonard Electric Company

31-41 South Street Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Switchboard controls stage lighting. Note space at right of Vitrohm Dimmer bank for future additions.

Vitrohm Dimmer Plate—embodies more than 34 years of resistor experience.

Senator Theatre, Oakland, California. One of West Coast Theatres, Inc., newest houses.

Flood Lights Operated From Booth

Advantages Gained by Placing Stage and Orchestra Floods in Projection Room Under Care of the Projectionist

IT is a fact that the most commonly used means of floodlighting the stage and orchestra pit in motion picture theatres are powerful arc lamp projectors located in the projection room and placed under the care of the projectionists.

There are two good reasons for following this practice in preference to the placement of a battery of incandescent lamp floodlamps closer to the illuminated areas, as, for example, in recesses in the front of the balcony or in the ceiling above the orchestra.

The first of these reasons has to do with the nature of the light sources used in each case and the second takes into consideration the manner of operation, centering principally around the item of control over the projected light.

Incandescent lamps for ordinary purposes of light projection to distant points (as the matter of distance is related to the size of he theatre auditorium) have a brightness which is not much in excess of 10,000 candlepower per square inch. This, in fact, is a very favorable figure since the brightness, more commonly, is found to range between 5,000 and 10,000 cp/sq. in.

In any projector, the brightness of the light source is a fundamental factor which, in the present state of optical science, directly governs the illuminating power of the projector.

Hence, the selection of a light source is of primary importance, for upon thise item depends the ultimate power of the device.

At present, there are three light sources available for projection purposes, two of them being electric arcs and the other being the incandescent lamp.

The ordinary electric arc, as formed between carbon electrodes, constitutes an excellent source of light principally for the reason that the brightness of the crater, formed on the positive carbon, has a very high brightness, much in excess of that of the special types of incandescent lamps used for projection purposes.

The brightness of the ordinary electric arc has been computed by various observers to be between 100,000 and 125,000 candlepower per square inch. Since practically the same optical conditions and the same optical limitations are effective for both types of light sources, the electric arc has over the incandescent lamp a brightness handicap which is not lower than 12 to 1 and may even be as high as 25 to 1.

In other words, if it were physically possible, in any given projector, to replace an incandescent lamp with an electric arc, the increase in illuminating power would be increased by 25 times under the most favorable conditions.

The incandescent lamp has certain natural advantages, such as small space requirements and ease of handling, and it is often possible to make use of these advantages in the design of the equipment so as to obtain optical advantage of the electric arc. This frequently serves to greatly reduce the handicap in brightness and sometimes enables this type of light source to compete favorably with the arc.

This advantage, however, is confined almost entirely to the more complicated forms of optical systems and in the simple systems, such as those used in spotlights and floodlamps, the arc lamp operates to its fullest efficiency.

ARC lamp mechanics, however, even though autmoatic in operation, require the service of an attendant so that these projectors are placed logically, in the projection room where they receive the attention of experienced operators.

It was pointed out above how, because of its superior brightness, a single arc lamp projector may give the equivalent illumination of a battery of 25 incandescent lamp projectors. Even though it were possible to easily control such a bank of floodlamps, they are placed in locations not readily accessible, so that physical control over their light beams is not easily obtained.

This item of control is an important feature in the case of stage and orchestra floods, since it includes changes in color of light, shape of beam, size of beam and even the manner of opening and closing the projectors to permit the light to reach the stage or orchestra.

With the lamps located in the projection room means are available for instantly effecting any changes which might be considered necessary. The choice of the projection room for such lamps necessarily results in the selection of arc lamp type of projectors because powerful single units are required to obtain the necessary effectiveness at long range.

A form of projector which long has been in use in theatres employs an arc burner, for supporting and feeding together the carbons, in combination with a single lens of large diameter for condensing the intercepted light.

This is the ordinary spotlight so commonly used in theatres. From the standpoint of light performance, it is a universal device since it is possible to quickly and easily regulate the spread of the light beam, between certain limits, merely by moving the arc burner closer to or farther away from the econdensing lens.

The illuminating power of this device, expressed in candlepower, varies tremendously as the beam is spread out to illuminate a large area, dropping from 5,000,000 for the most concentrated beams to 200,000 to 400,000 for a beam large enough to illuminate a stage 50 feet wide and located 150 feet away from the projector.

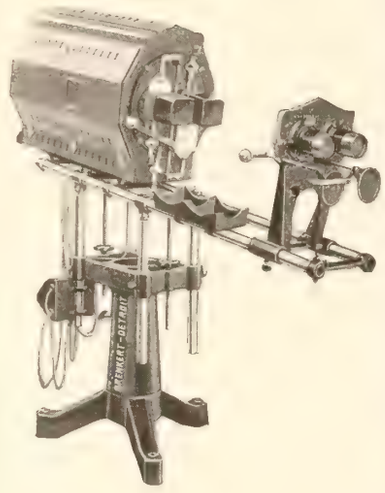
The candlepower of the flood is governed largely by the current flowing through the arc so that it is not uncommon for these projectors to use more than 100 amperes.

This form of spot-floodlamp, because of its long use, has reached a high stage of development so that it presents all known methods of controlling the light beam with the utmost speed and ease.

In an effort to reach for still higher intensities of flood illumination, the high intensity arc, a development of the recent war, has been applied to both motion picture projection and stage illumination.

Practically the same form of optic system is used in each case in that a pair of condenser lenses is used to intercept light from the arc and then condense it to pass through a projection lens for transmission to the screen or stage, as the case might be.

IN the floodlamp an iris shutter is placed in the path of the beam between condenser set and the projection lens so that the latter forms an image, on the stage, of the opening in the shutter. Round spots or floods of any convenient size can be obtained merely by regulating the size of the iris opening. Suitable masks, or cutouts, can be imaged in a similar manner for controlling the shape of the projected beam, and, of course, vari-colored floods can be obtained by passing the light beam through suitable colored gelatines.



The brightness of the high intensity arc is, roughly, three times that of the ordinary arc, which means that it emits about 300,000 candlepower for each square inch of crater surface. Ordinarily, this could be taken to mean that such a light source would have three times the illuminating power of the ordinary arc.

Like the incandescent lamp, however, the ordinary arc has a number of natural advantages over the high intensity arc, which results in its being able to compete, ampere for ampere, upon an even more favorable basis as far as floodlamp types of projectors are concerned.

The high intensity arc cannot be substituted for the old arc in the commonly used form of spot-floodlamp. This, for the reason that source in the former is an incandescent ball of gas, the edges of which are not as sharply defined as are

(Continued on page 1732)

The BRENKERT "F-6"

For the very best in dissolving Slide Projection.

Plan to see the new Brenkert "F-6" Reflector Arc for Dissolving Slide Projection. You will find it has been designed and built to accomplish two things:

Reduce operating costs fifty per cent
Produce better effects

By using one arc instead of two, with half the current, operating costs are cut to the minimum. In addition, the Brenkert "F-6" saves time for the projectionist. The simplicity of design, the convenience of controls, the compactness—all were planned in advance and all save time.

The use of a large mirror possessing exceptional optical qualities and specially built for the "F-6" insures brilliant, perfectly matched, and sharply defined slides.

You will find it to your advantage to inspect the "F-6" at once, and place your order promptly.

Distributed in the United States by the NATIONAL THEATRE SUPPLY COMPANY, in Canada by Theatre Supply Dealers.

Not Merely

An Afterthought!

THE Brenkert F-6 Reflector Arc Dissolving Slide Projector was specifically designed to give the very best dissolving slide projection possible under every condition of theatre operation.

It is not just an afterthought—something in the nature of an attachment for stimulating the sales of a device originally designed for motion picture projection.

Nor is it, yet, a device which requires the aid of a surveyor's transit for realignment when slides are to be projected. No! . . . . . The Brenkert F-6 Dissolving Slide Projector is none of these things because it was deliberately designed to project perfectly matched, brilliantly lighted sharply defined, and evenly illuminated slides with the utmost ease and convenience.

And for this reason each and every Brenkert F-6 Dissolving Slide Projector goes forth from the factory with a guarantee to lick its weight in wildcats—including DOUBLE THE COMBINED TOTAL OF ALL THE DISSOLVING SLIDE ATTACHMENTS EVER PRODUCED.

So if you desire perfect slide projection at the minimum cost, be kind to yourself and just write

BRENKERT LIGHT PROJECTION CO
7348 St. Aubin St.
DETROIT

Brenkert

PROJECTORS & EFFECTIVE LIGHTING ~ DEVICES

American Equipment and Methods in Foreign Countries

By ROY CHANDLER

(Note.—Mr. Chandler, who has been promoting American products in foreign countries for over twenty years, here relates some of his experiences and describes motion picture theatre conditions as he found them during a tour of South America, South Africa and Egypt in the interests of the Electrocolor Advertising Equipment, Inc., of New York, and the American Silversheet Company, of St. Louis.)

MOTION Picture Theatres in South America, South Africa and Egypt are mostly of the type that ours were fifteen years ago.

The majority of the exhibitors believed that in view of the fact that they were doing a fairly good business, there was no need for them to improve either the quality of their projection or the comfort of their theatres, but the economy of using good equipment did interest them. Of course, there were exceptions to this, as, for instance, in Panama City and Lima, Peru; these each have one theatre quite modern as far as the projection equipment is concerned.

On the other hand, the equipment in Chili and Argentine was more or less antiquated. The principal theatres of Santiago, the Capitol of Chili, were using plain white sheets for screens, and outside of a few of the principal theatres in Buenos Aires, the balance of the theatres in Argentina are using only one projection machine.

While visiting one of the theatres in Buenos Aires, after noticing that there was a wait of about five minutes between each reel, I asked the exhibitor to let me see his booth. Upon entering it, I found two high class American projectors. I asked the exhibitor why he did not run his film continuously and he replied that the public enjoyed the waits between the reels, as the young men went to the picture show to see the young ladies, and that it was at the end of each thousand feet that they had the opportunity to admire the fair sex.

These conditions somewhat hamper the installation of modern equipment, as the exhibitors were of the opinion that the additional expense will bring them no more revenue, and they are all anxious for any kind of economy. Box office receipts in these countries are nothing like they are in the United States, and each impresario is a strong believer in the old saying—"a dollar saved is a dollar earned."

Until recently, many of the theatres in South America used screens nearly twice the size that we do in this country, but of late have seen fit to reduce them, having been convinced that they obtain better results on smaller screens.

Incidentally, back in 1916, I was a pioneer in South America, introducing big American productions when I presented "The Fall of a Nation" with big orchestral accompaniment and scenic effects in the largest South American theatres, and I was obliged to increase the size of my screen, as the people who saw the picture the opening night said it was no good as it made the picture too small.

In the Union of South Africa, the South African Theatres, Ltd., control the film situation and the standard and quality of performances is high above that in Latin America. There are excellent theatres in Capetown, Johannesburg and Durban. While the performances do not have large symphony orchestras, they have very good small orchestras with specially prepared scores for the pictures they present.

After spending three weeks in South Africa, I proceeded north with the cruise ship and visited Mozambique in Portuguese East Africa, which supports a picture show operating twice a week, showing very old French films. An old sheet with a hole in one corner of it constituted the screen that was being utilized there.

Practically the same conditions existed in Dar-es-Salaam, the capitol of the Tanganyika Colony, and also in Zanzibar, but

(Continued on page 1732)

Service at the Box office

Automatic and instantaneous—the Brandt enables any ticket seller to make change one thousand times in an hour. That's better than sixteen transactions a minute—each customer being served in less than four seconds.

The ticket seller need only remember the price of the ticket—and press-only-one-key, which corresponds to the amount of the ticket or tickets. Instantly the Brandt's subtracting keyboard automatically makes the change and delivers it direct to the patron. Mental calculations are entirely eliminated—mistakes are mechanically impossible.

Press ONE KEY
Pays Right Change INSTANTLY

The New THEATRE MODEL Brandt Junior Automatic Cashier
With the Subtracting Keyboard

Over 40,000 Users

Sold direct not through dealers

30 Days Trial FREE

Mail This Coupon NOW

Brandt Automatic Cashier Co. Department C, Watertown, Wis.

Firm Name
Individual
City
State

Selling Next Week's Program With Inside Displays

(Continued from page 1717)

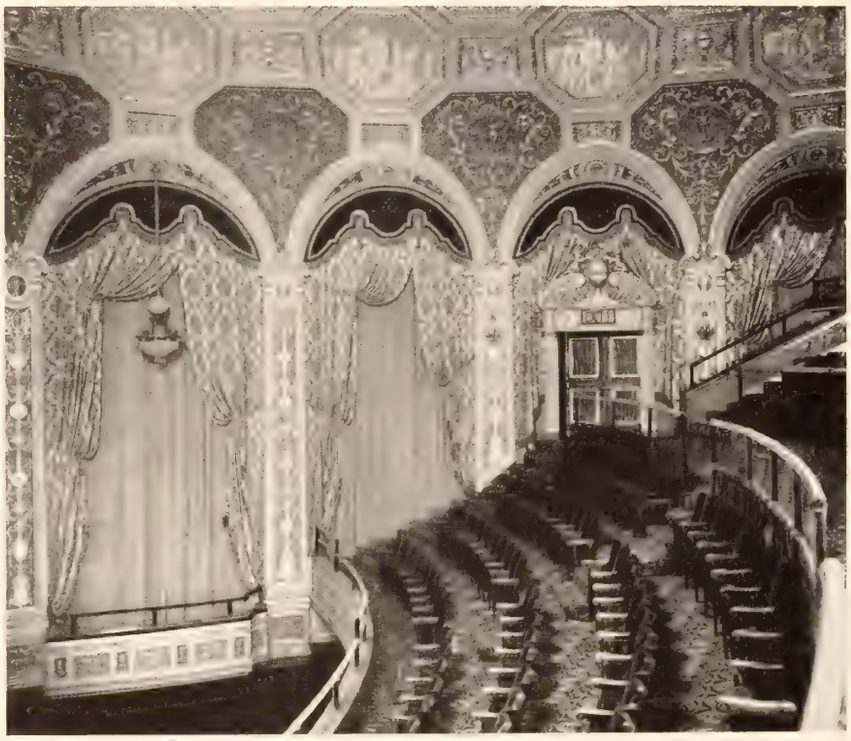
is used to carry the title, the letters of which are cut out of the compoboarding and backed with transparent paper.



Not every poster, particularly in the 24-sheet sizes, is suitable for inside display, even if shown in a frame as that used for "The Lady in Ermine" in the illustration. However, in the one-sheet sizes at least, the distributing companies are improving their wares, and with a better grade of stock material the problem of the exhibitor is lessened.

The demand for poster material for lobby display in theatres of the newer type finally has registered with the distributors, many of whom have been making heir posters along lines which suited very well when all of the houses that were not big downtown institutions—and so equipped to make their own posters—were the other extreme, and used anything.

But when it was found that the reason these accessories were not selling and remained on the shelves at the branch offices was that the majority of the showmen wanted something better or nothing, things started to happen and slowly but encouragingly the distributors are advancing with the times.

Not long ago the First National department added a special one-sheet for lobby display to the line of accessories on each of the company's attractions. These met with a response, because they represented an effort to give the exhibitors posters of the kind that fit into the new order of displays in the new type of picture theatre.

Starting with "What Price Glory" the Fox exploitation department initiated some excellent display material, made up in one-sheet, window-card, and display frame sizes. New color processes are being used in the manufacture of the Fox company's material, and finished work is of an order that makes it available for inside display as advance billing or on the outside of the lobby for the advertising on the current show.

New York's Latest Fine Theatre, The Gallo
Designed by Eugene De Rosa, Architect.

New York's Latest Fine Theatre Decorated by Landish

Again Landish Studios score a triumph—this time through the decorations and drapes in New York's latest fine theatre.

Seldom has originality of design and attractiveness, such as that displayed in the Gallo Theatre, been exhibited in even the country's most pretentious show palaces.

The guarantee of thorough satisfaction to clients of Landish Studios is adding rapidly to the already long list of fine theatres executed by Landish. Let us add your name to this list of pleased clients when you build your next theatre.

LANDISH STUDIOS, Inc.

40 AMES STREET RUTHERFORD, N. J.

American Theatre Equipment in Foreign Lands

(Continued from page 1731)

in all these places there is a fair attendance. The great difference of races retards the advance of the industry, however, as there are Hindus, Arabs, Zulus and Swahilis, who all speak different languages and naturally know nothing of European customs. Therefore, the patronge is usually made up of the few Europeans who may live in these towns.

After a call at Aden in Arabia and Port Sudan, I spent several days in Egypt, and there found that the various exhibitors displayed considerable interest in advancing the perfection of their performances. Cario has several good motion picture theatres of their type, and while vaudeville is added to nearly all of the picture performances, the film is still quite the attraction. There are also fair sized houses in Alexandria and Port Said, but in these two houses the exhibitors were still projecting their pictures on white-washed walls, which reverts back to what I said in the beginning that most of their equipment is fifteen years behind ours.

Operating Stage Flood Lights From the Booth

(Continued from page 1729)

those of the solid crater formed on the ordinary arc electrodes.

It is impossible, therefore, to project a sharply outlined beam of light of even density over its diameter by the use of a single lens.

A special system must be used wherein an artificial source, in the form of an aperture having sharply defined edges, is backed up by a bright condenser lens.

The net result of this is an optical limitation in the form of a small projection lens (its effective diameter never exceeds 1½ inches) which gives this form of projector an illuminating power of only 200,000-300,000 candlepower, depending upon the current flowing through the arc. The larger figure is obtained with a 150 ampere arc and is 25 per cent lower than what can be obtained with the ordinary spot-floodlamp using the same current.

C-H Dimmers adaptable to all theaters

There is a combination of C-H Simplicity Dimmers which will exactly fit the needs in any theater—regardless of size, or decorative scheme. Moreover, the original installation is easily adapted to any remodeling plan as C-H Dimmer plates are interchangeable.

C-H Dimmers are compact. Contacts on both sides of plates allow double the number of circuits in the same space.

The Tampa

improves every program this way

Front elevation view of the Tampa Theater, Tampa, Fla. A view of the stage is shown above. Eberson & Eberson, Architects, of Chicago, created the Tampa. An F. A. Switchboard with C-H Dimmers supplies the beautiful lighting effects.

THE Tampa Theater, Tampa, Fla., is one of the new and distinctive motion picture theaters which are using C-H "Simplicity" Lighting Dimmers to improve each presentation.

The management realizes that without proper lighting control, beautiful interior decorations and careful film selections are not enough to maintain steady patronage. Appropriate lighting effects bring out hidden beauties of architecture, music, and the picture—make every program better.

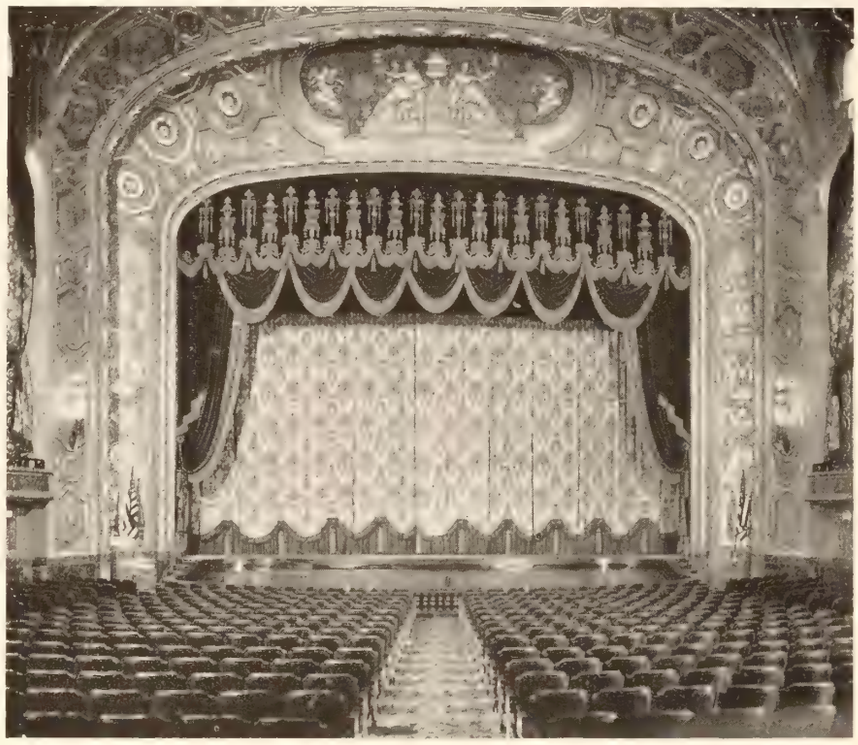
Any color combination and any brilliancy from full to black out, in any sequences, are easily arranged and followed with C-H Simplicity Dimmers. Exclusive features of design assure efficient, economical operation, and long attentionless service. C-H Dimmers are easy to install, adaptable to all theaters, leaving no reason why your theater, too, can't be given this distinction which will gradually, surely encourage steady patronage.

Your architect or electrical engineer will tell you how easily this improvement can be made and C-H Engineers will gladly help. The booklet "Illumination Control for the Modern Theater" gives complete information. Write for your copy.

The CUTLER-HAMMER Mfg. Co.
Pioneer Manufacturers of Electric Control Apparatus
1268 St. Paul Avenue Milwaukee, Wisconsin

CUTLER HAMMER

Perfect Illumination Control for the Modern Theater



Atlanta Metropolitan Returns to Straight Pictures Policy

The Metropolitan theatre in Atlanta this week returned to a straight picture and music policy, eliminating stage acts and supplementary features of the presentation order. The change in policy was made with "Old San Francisco" as the feature attraction.

The inauguration of this new style of show was accompanied by a reduced scale of prices, with admissions at 10, 20 and 30 cents. From 11:00 a. m., the opening hour, to 1:00 p. m., the 10-cent admission will prevail; from 1:00 to 6:00 the 20-cent price will be in force; from 6:00 to 11:00 p. m. the top admission of 30 cents will be charged. Admission for children will be 10 cents at all times.

From now on the Metropolitan is through with special acts and presentations. It will revert to the same policy under which the theatre achieved its first success—and policy that actually established the popular favor of motion picture theatres—the whole show on the screen.

The Metropolitan orchestra under the direction of Enrico Leide will contribute its part to the entertainment, but that part will be concerned with musical settings for the pictures and overtures. With the Metropolitan "the picture is the thing."

FOX THEATRE, NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C.
Designed by C. W. & Geo. L. Rapp, Architects.

Again! Peter Clark equips country's finest

THE Fox Theatre, the new cinema palace at the National Capitol, is the latest addition to the long list of fine theatres equipped by Peter Clark.

Peter Clark, Inc., stage rigging and equipment, organ console and orchestra lifts, are installed in the leading theatres in the country.

THE newest type of Peter Clark stage equipment has been installed. This includes orchestra and organ console lifts; mechanical elevating stage platform; sky sounding-board cyclorama and disappearing cyclorama footlights; complete counterweight system and a steel-asbestos curtain.

Peter Clark, Inc.
544 West 30th Street New York City

Outside Lights That Guide the Public to Your Door

(Continued from page 1715)

All signs should be properly maintained. Burned out lamps cause dark spots in any type of a sign. In the exposed lamp signs, the types used for marking the theatre and in the big wall displays, burned out lamps cause illegible letters. Because of the distributing system, a certain number of burned out lamps on one circuit may cause lamps on the other circuit to be considerably different in brilliancy. If this condition lasts long, the sign will not be working at its best efficiency and will in time become repulsive. In the interior signs, a single lamp is of more importance than when in a larger sign, since when it fails probably half of all of the sign is in darkness. To prevent these signs from failing during a performance, darkened lamps, which indicate the end of the life, being reached, should be replaced by new ones. A system of maintenance should be installed which provides for regularly inspecting and maintaining the sign, since clean and properly illuminated signs add to the theatre's prestige.

G-E Announces New Preset Lighting Control Board

(Continued from page 1727)

dimmer handle is mounted the control unit for the electrically-operated contactor. This unit consists of a bullseye lamp with a jewel of color corresponding to the color of the lamps controlled by the contactors. Two or more single-pole selector switches for preselection of the various lighting scenes, and an additional single-pole switch for direct control of the contactor, are provided. These switches are ordinary 10-ampere, 250-volt tumbler switches as used in house wiring.

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN CO. 345 W. 39TH ST. NEW YORK

MAJOR FA SYSTEM

the Modern Lighting Control

The detailed description of the FA Major System is told in our new bulletin—may we send you a copy? Write today.

DISTRICT OFFICES

Atlanta, Ga.
Baltimore, Md.
Boston, Mass.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Buffalo, N. Y.
Charlotte, N. C.
Chicago, Ill.
Cincinnati, O.
Dallas, Tex.
Denver, Colo.
Detroit, Mich.
Kansas City, Mo.
Los Angeles, Calif.
Memphis, Tenn.
Miami, Fla.
Minneapolis, Minn.
New Orleans, La.
Omaha, Nebr.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Pittsburgh, Pa.
San Francisco, Calif.
Seattle, Wash.
Toronto, Ont.
Vancouver, B. C.
Walkerville, Ont.
Winnipeg, Man.

The larger theatres and the smaller ones built recently by experienced showmen practically all have FA Major System. They know the profit in perfect shows, the need of absolute safety and the economic value of the investment in first-class equipment.

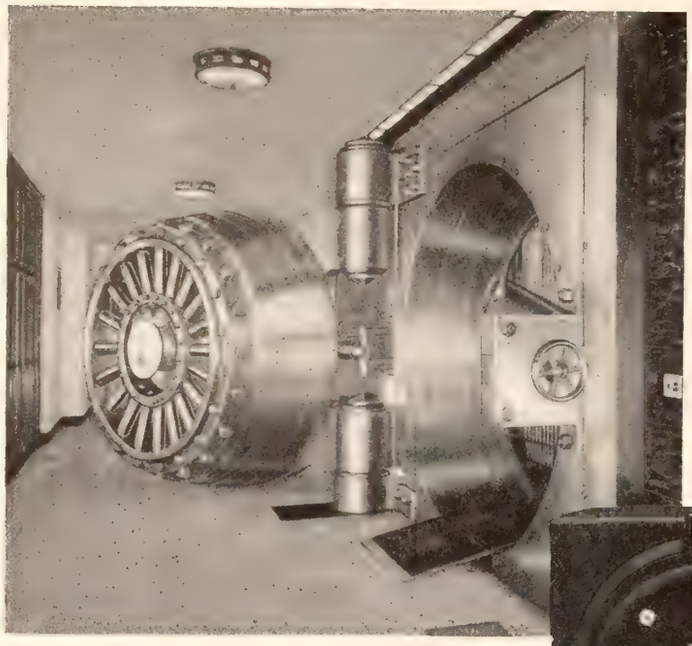
Frank Adam
ELECTRIC COMPANY
ST. LOUIS

Another Fine Installation

This view of the side wall in the New Allerton Theatre—shows how excellently draperies can be made.

For Fine Draperies—Stage Settings Consult

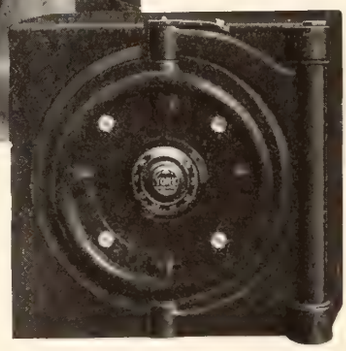
Novelty Scenic Studios
340 WEST 41st STREET NEW YORK CITY



Announcement

FOR the next few months this space will be devoted to a series of chats on Projection Lenses and Optical systems. The functions of the projection lens will be explained; the characteristics necessary in a projection lens will be discussed together with the limitations imposed on the lens designer by the need of recognizing several conflicting requirements.

These data are being prepared under the direction of the Scientific Bureau of this company and may be accepted as true to fact in every detail.

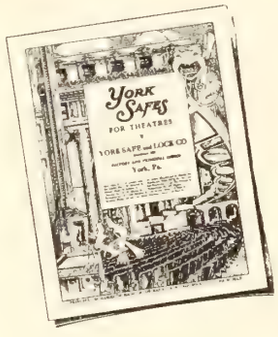


We invite correspondence on any point in respect to this or other optical data.

BAUSCH & LOMB OPTICAL CO.
653 St. Paul Street
Rochester, New York

This is just one of the thousands of banks that depend on York Vaults for the protection of their cash and securities. Pictured here is the entrance to the vault of the First National Bank, Jersey City, N. J.

Below: A picture of the York Burglary Chest used by hundreds of theatres to protect their cash.

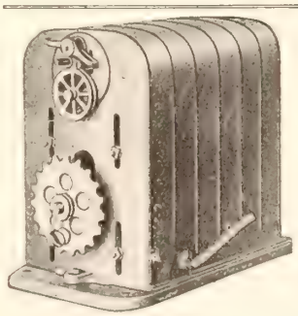


Two of a Kind

Not alike in size, nor in appearance; but duplicates in quality of construction. Every York Burglary Chest is built to the same rigid standards as is every York Bank Vault.

The confidence that you place in your bank depends upon your reliance on the strength of their vaults (in most cases made by York). You can place the same confidence in your York Burglary Chest, and be sure that the cash you place in it after banking hours will be protected.

Send today for the booklet that tells all about these burglary chests. You'll profit by reading it.



York Safe and Lock Company

Factory and Principal Office, York, Pa.

New York	Chicago	Tampa	San Francisco	Houston
Baltimore	Philadelphia	St. Louis	Pittsburgh	Washington
Boston	Seattle	Cleveland	New Haven	Los Angeles

OUTSTANDING CHARACTERISTICS

NUMBER TWO OF A SERIES

"SAFETY"

"FOR PERFECT CURTAIN CONTROL"

A. D. C. AUTOMATIC CURTAIN CONTROL AND ROLL E-Z TRACKS

The Automatic machine is fully protected by an asbestos lined steel case. The track is completely enclosed except for the operating slot at bottom and is of ample strength for any size or weight of curtain.

"SAFETY"

AUTOMATIC DEVICES COMPANY

739 HAMILTON ST. ALLENTOWN, PA.

Editorial Features

That go to the very heart of the Showmen's problems

Every Month in THE SHOWMAN

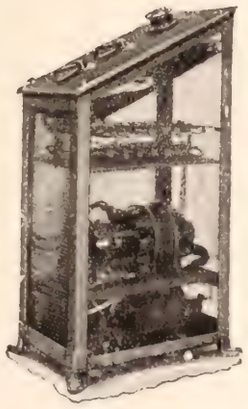
Mrs. Louise G. Boyer

Saenger Executive Chairman of Federation Convention

Mrs. Louise G. Boyer, manager of the mailing and extension departments of the Saenger Theatres, Inc., the largest theatre operating chain in the South, has been named General Chairman of the convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in New Orleans during July, 1928.

Mrs. Boyer entered the business field only eleven years ago, and her first position was with the Saenger Amusement Company, as a stenographer for one of the executives.

Six years ago a mailing and extension department was created, and she was placed at the head of it.



Rewards Good Deportment of Youngsters at Matinees

The organization of a Juvenile Booster club by Manager Emil Bernstecker of the Lyric and Marlowe theatres in Jackson, Tenn., is successfully serving the two purposes for which is was designed. These are to increase matinee business and as well to promote better conditions during performances largely patronized by youngsters. Bernstecker offers a reward for good deportment on the part of his youthful patrons.

Cards were issued to all the new members and the copy on the card read, "The Bearer (Name) is a member in good standing and agrees to tell his or her friends and parents about the good clean entertainment at the Lyric and Marlowe Theatres, and to always refrain from whistling, talking out loud or yelling in these theatres. Violation of the above rules will revoke your membership."

Then followed more copy about a reward for good deportment, "On each visit to these theatres on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday afternoon or evening, bring your card and the Doorman will punch a number at the bottom of the card. When the numbers are all punched out present this card and you will be admitted free.

A New Method of Economy

The Syncrovertor being different in design and operation from any other conversion machine, has several important advantages and features.

The Syncrovertor is a synchronous commutating rectifier utilizing a transformer for reducing the supplied line voltage to the proper operating voltage, a patented synchronous slow speed motor, rotating a specially designed commutator by which alternating current is rectified to direct current, an adjustable ballast unit, a switch board with necessary meters and controls.

The Syncrovertor enables the projector to give a steady light on the screen and is designed to automatically furnish the additional current required by second arc, so that there is no flicker whatsoever on change over.

The transformer of the Syncrovertor with the motor element idle acts as a compense arc and will furnish alternating current to the lamps. This feature dispenses with the necessity of the customary emergency unit.

Write us and let us tell you how you can save 25% in the cost of your projection.

LIBERTY ELECTRIC CORPORATION
Stamford, Conn.

SYNCROVERTOR

"A Better Method of Rectification"

Distributed by The National Theatre Supply Co.

A New Process

MINUSA SCREENS are now built by an entirely new process, making them far superior to any other screens on the market today.

Through this new process it is possible to produce a projection surface never before equalled; any possibilities of clouds, highlights or surface defects having been absolutely eliminated.

Furthermore, as in the past, each screen is built after you order—after you send in to us the specifications of your house.

MINUSA CINE SCREEN COMPANY
Bomont at Morgan Saint Louis

THE BEST MINUSA De Luxe Special SINCE 1914

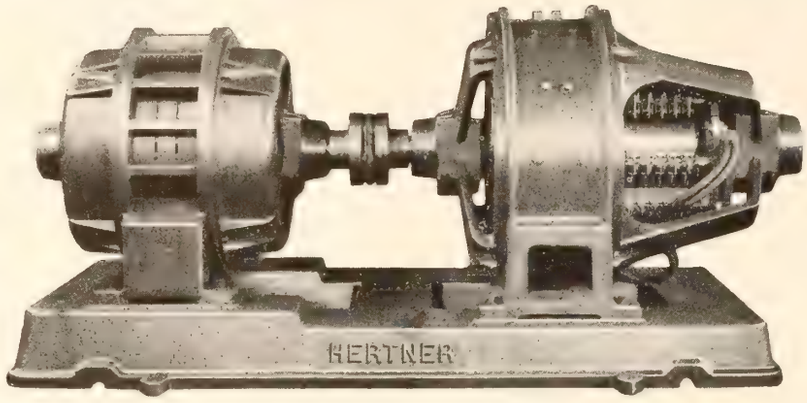
EVENHEETERS
Organ Protectors

PROTECTION of the organ is an important consideration, one that the architect should pay heed to. It is unsound to spend hundreds of dollars for a wonderful organ and then neglect to provide for its welfare.

Organs are sensitive instruments. Their pipes and chests are subject to harm if cold and dampness strikes them. And then the architect's judgment is questioned. But if he has specified EVENHEETERS—that necessary organ protector—these sudden sieges of cold and dampness will not affect the organ; for EVENHEETERS combat these two evils. They keep the pipes and chests warm and dry regardless of outside weather conditions.



To all architects we ask an opportunity of explaining more of EVENHEETERS. Write us and we will gladly go into EVENHEETER facts!

WALTER AHLSCHLAGER, Rapp & Rapp and Eberson and Eberson endorse EVENHEETERS and specify them in their theatre plans.

EVENHEETERS

CRAMBLET ENG. CORP.
286 MILWAUKEE ST. MILWAUKEE

Consistent—Uniform Performance

THE HERTNER TRANSVERTER TYPE C. P.

delivers within 3% of its rated voltage under all conditions and loads.

IT ELIMINATES

needless overloading of the ballast rheostats and continuous adjustment by the operator.

IT PRODUCES

ideal, uniform projection through its constant voltage with consequent ease of control of current.

Give us your projection room requirements and we will prescribe the type and size Transverter that will give you exactly the results you desire.

Distributed in U. S. A. by The National Theatre Supply Company

The HERTNER ELECTRIC COMPANY

If You Show Pictures You Need The HERTNER TRANSVERTER

1900 W. 112 St. CLEVELAND, OHIO, U.S.A.

FIRE PROOF

Create Xmas Air by having our Natural Prepared Xmas Trees decorated with electric light strings, tinsel, etc.

CHRISTMAS TREES, FIREPROOF

3 feet	$3.00	each
5 feet	5.00	"
8 feet	10.00	"
10 feet	12.00	"
12 feet	15.00	"

Write today for copy of our XMAS CATALOGUE No. 7 illustrating in colors Artificial Flowers, Plants, Trees, Vines, Hanging Baskets, Wreaths, etc., mailed FREE ON REQUEST.

FRANK NETSCHERT, INC.
61 Barclay St. New York, N. Y.

HENNEGAN PROGRAM COVERS

New Christmas Design

will make your Program the finest in your town.

Write for Samples

The HENNEGAN Co.
CINCINNATI, OHIO

Stanley Theatre Replaces Old Baltimore Academy

(Continued from page 1705)

floor well towards the ceiling. There are nineteen mural paintings executed in oil and setting forth the history of Maryland embellishing wall panels of the theatre.

At each side of the stage on the orchestra floor level are stage boxes with an aggregate seating capacity of 50 persons. The wall spaces above the boxes are devoted to ornamental golden grilles concealing the organ chambers.

The stage of the Stanley is 50 feet wide, 30 feet deep from footlights to back wall and 38 feet high. The gridiron from which scenery, draperies and other investitures are hung is 110 feet above the floor of the stage and is controlled by 40 lines, providing facilities for handling any type of production it may be the desire to present at the house.

The public rooms with which the Stanley is equipped include cosmetic and rest rooms for women and smoking rooms for men at the basement and mezzanine levels.

Spacious Balcony

The balcony provides a capacious seating arrangement in which every chair commands a clear view of the stage and screen. Exits from the balcony are at the back and on both sides through separate wells and stairways independent of those serving the orchestra floor. At the rear of the balcony is an esplanade. The projection booth, housing a battery of Powers projectors, three spot lights and three effect machines, is located at the extreme top of the balcony.

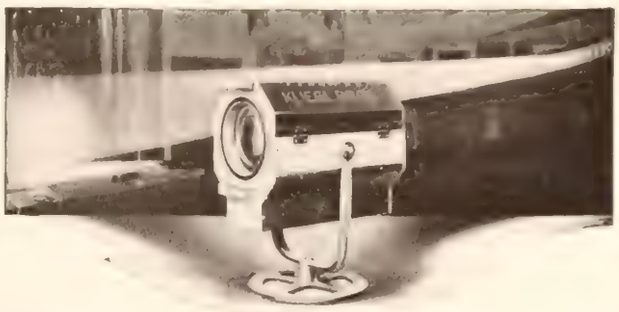
Orchestra rehearsal rooms, store rooms and a large projection room are located at each side of the booth. The service equipment includes an extensive lighting installation of the most approved type, mechanical signals to all dressing rooms, a heating and ventilating equipment of large capacity and efficient design for supplying forced air in all parts of the house by giant fans. The air forced into the theatre during hot weather is double washed, once before passing through the refrigeration process and once afterwards.

Reports Brisk Sales of West Coast Scrip Tickets

With West Coast Scrip negotiable at any theatre of that circuit from Vancouver, B. C., to San Diego, A. M. Bowles, division manager, reports brisk sales in the new theatre ticket commodity which went on the market November 9th. The public realizes a 10 per cent saving on scrip tickets. The coupons, while they are not detachable, can be used by anyone in the family of the original purchaser. In San Francisco the scrip tickets can be used at the Granada, Warfield, California, St. Francis and Imperial theatres.

TO EXPEDITE VALLEN INFALLIBLE SERVICE

Have you received the new "Quiet Book"?



A warehouse is being opened in New York City where complete Vallen Equipment will be on hand. Immediate deliveries can be made, F. O. B. New York, on all Vallen Noiseless Curtain Controls, All-Steel and Wood Tracks.

H. H. Becker, competent service man and installer, in charge.

VALLEN ELECTRICAL COMPANY

VALLEN REMOTE ELECTRIC CURTAIN CONTROL EQUIPMENT

225 Bluff St.
Akron, Ohio
U. S. A.

STAGE LIGHTING Supplies

EVERYTHING needed by the stage electrician for lighting can be furnished by Kliegl—from gelatine color mediums to carbons, cables, pipe clamps, et cetera. A complete line of parts and supplies is carried in stock at all times ready for immediate shipment. No delays. Reliable high-quality products. Reasonable prices. Wire, mail, or phone your orders.

Color Mediums	Lamp Coloring	Spotlights	Plus for Pockets
Color Frames	Colorine Remover	Floodlights	Connectors
Color Wheels	Lenses	Slide Carriers	Plugging Boxes
Color Boxes	Shutters	Music Stands	Lugs, Solderless
Color Rolls	Blinders	Resistances	Stage Cable
Color Caps	Reflectors	Stage Lamps	Sundry Supplies

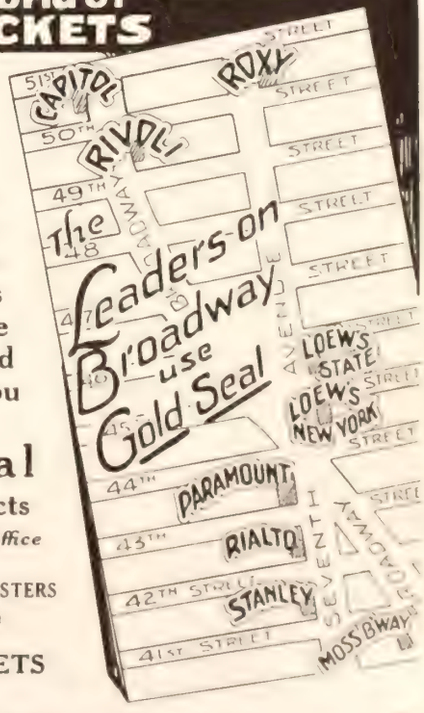
Catalogue and Bulletins on request, write

KLIEGL BROS

UNIVERSAL ELECTRIC STAGE LIGHTING CO., INC.

321 WEST 50th STREET

NEW YORK, N.Y.



NATIONAL SCREEN SERVICE INC.

Distributed throughout the United States from

CHICAGO·· NEW YORK LOS ANGELES

845 S. Wabash Ave. · 126-130 W. 46th St. · 1922 S. Vermont Ave.

Now the Largest Printers in the world of STRIP TICKETS

WE have always given service and value—and now because of the great size of our business you can always depend on the best value and service when you use

Gold Seal
Ticket Products

The Unbeatable Box Office Combination

GOLD SEAL TICKET REGISTERS with Cancellograph
and
GOLD SEAL TICKETS that fit

AUTOMATIC TICKET REGISTER CORPORATION

723 SEVENTH AVE. NEW YORK CITY

USED WHEREVER TICKETS ARE SOLD

GOLD SEAL

Patents Controlled Exclusively

COLORTONES

—exclusively in the Specification Built

SILVERSHEET

Expertly developed colortones, meeting the needs of any type of projection lamp, regular arc, reflector arc, high intensity arc or incandescent Mazda equipment are built into every Silversheet surface.

The secret of these bronzes is in the scientific mixing and application. The resulting colortones, adapted perfectly to your individual projection lamps produce sharp, clear pictures of unusually good depth. They are of unsurpassed value in interpreting the colored pictures now coming into such wide use.

Just as the Silversheet is the ONLY screen with the genuine Knobel-Built Specification Surface, it is also the ONLY screen offering Colortones, the latest advance in the screen maker's art. To be sure of getting a colortone Surface, be sure to specify a Silversheet.

When an especially durable screen is desired, we recommend the installation of a Tear-Proof Silversheet. This is a screen with the Silversheet Specification Colortone surface built on a non-tearable, abuse-resisting puncture-proof canvas base that successfully resists damage that would ruin a lighter base screen.

AMERICAN SILVERSHEET CO.
Saint Louis
Write direct or to the nearest "National" Branch for details and prices.

Standard
VAUDEVILLE
for
Motion Picture Presentation

THE FALLY MARKUS AGENCY
Astor Theatre Building
N. W. Cor. 45th St. & Broadway
Lackawanna 7876

Adapting Press Sheet Ads for Theatre Use

(Continued from page 1723)

on first inspection appears to be entirely unsuited.

Of course, it is taken for granted that the theatre man has already determined what factors have the best appeal to his public. If the star is popular, the star, of course, is to be sold in the ads as well as the publicity. If the title is bigger than the star, then it is the title that is to be sold over everything else. But it is not well to sell with equal emphasis both star and title.

Another very common complaint against the average press sheet ads is that they are too large, that there is a paucity of material for use in the smaller sizes which the majority of theatres use. So far as size is concerned, the rule at Publix is that 30 inches is the maximum amount of space that can be used profitably—as a rule that is—and it is maintained that experience has shown that this size provides all the space essential to say all that it is practical to say about any attraction. The 30-inch displays are reserved for major attractions, and where rates are comparatively high, the rule is that the manager is to reduce the space correspondingly.

Granting the fact that the press book ads run too large, the next step would be to sketch out the layout in the way it is to appear in the paper. That is to say, draw the outlines in the exact size of the finished ad, rather than doing it in, say, three-column size and ordering the printer to reduce it to two-columns. This procedure, also, is necessary to give a proper idea of the balance and display quality of the ad as it is built up, using the illustrations clipped from the press sheet, proof of theatre name slug if a plate is used, and the title letters, whether they be sketched in or clipped from the press sheet.

Reorganizing the Ad

In order to get the orderly appearance and "unity" required to make an ad send home its message at a glance, it is often necessary to entirely reorganize the suggested layout, so that the title, if that is given top space, is followed by descriptive copy, then the star's name, then supplemental billing, then the theatre name. If the elements are presented in different order, the sequence should follow the same rule or orderly presentation of the sales message.

To assure adequate representation for the ad on a page in which it is crowded with other ads, there should be provision for a strip of white space either inside or outside the border, at least an eighth of an inch.

That amount of white space around the ad is one of the few rules upon which Mr. Stewart insists. It is done to gives the display unity irrespective of how many or what kind of competing ads appear on the page with it, because it creates a sharply defined margin between your ad and the other man's. Frequently one ad will run into another, particularly if the ad above has its name slug at the bottom of the display and the lower one opens with a headline featuring a star's name or a title.

This Emblem Means Hotel Headquarters in Hollywood

Each year the Hollywood Plaza Hotel provides headquarters for the film executives and artists of the world.

It is because of good food, good service and good everything that this host of guests stop here.

Conveniently located, attractive in surroundings — homelike — these are other features that appeal.

←→

THE HOLLYWOOD PLAZA HOTEL
Vine and Hollywood Blvd.
Hollywood, Calif.

Something New

To reflect part of the light back on sign surface, use RECO Half Color Hoods. RECO Full Color Hoods cover entire lamp. Each type of hood snaps securely on to lamp and provides color that won't wash out or fade.

Write for interesting bulletin.

REYNOLDS ELECTRIC COMPANY
2628 W. Congress Street
Chicago

Manufacturers also of Motors, Flashers, Traffic Controls, Signboard Reflectors, Food Mixers, Vegetable Peelers, etc.

FREE Bulletins

STOCK PROGRAMS
PROGRAM COVERS
For
Moving Picture Houses
Joseph Hoover & Sons Company
Market and 49th Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

UNIFORMS FOR HOUSE ATTACHES COSTUMES FOR STAGE PRESENTATIONS BROOKS 1437 B'way N. Y. City

REWARD—REWARD—REWARD
$1,000

This has been a standing offer for three years to any Projectionist, or Exchange who should find any new print sticking, or find emulsion deposits upon Tension Springs, or Shoes of the Projector, from prints properly processed with—

Liquified Film Wax

We have yet to pay the first $1,000.

Is there any other Film Waxing process willing to make such an offer, not only to Wax New Prints, but to Clean and Revive used films in service with one Waxing Process?

Liquid Film Waxing Process

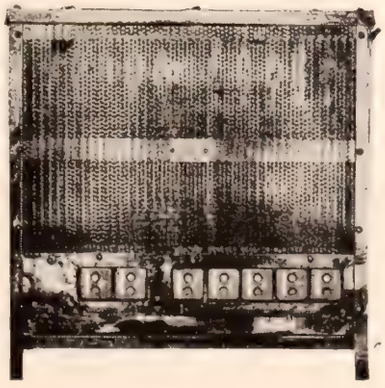
Waxes not only the Sprocket Hole Edge, but the entire emulsion surface. There is no hard wax to gather upon or around the Aperature Plate, Tension Springs, or Shoes. Prints are made very pliable and soft for longer life—will not stick, or leave any emulsion deposits upon the projector. It removes all oil and grease. It assures perfect projection from prints in service and gives freedom from blurry—hazy pictures upon the screen. It keeps prints from getting brittle and makes them wear better and last longer.

First Run Exhibitors

Demand your new prints waxed with the invisible waxing process. Eliminate your responsibility of 75% print scratching. Your projectionist can put a smoother and clearer picture upon the screen. He will not have to resort to the oil can on account of prints sticking—because liquified film waxed prints never stick. If they do—$1,000 can be collected.

Write and Tell Your Exchange About It.

Mfg. and Distributed by



THE REX FILM RENOVATOR MFG. CO.

Columbus, Ohio

THE PERFECTION HAS SOLVED THE RHEOSTAT PROBLEM for these theatres

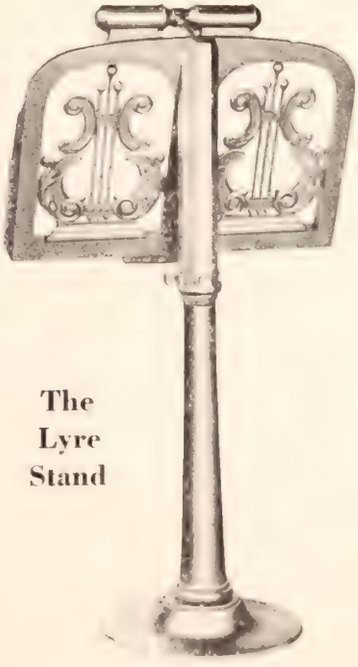
It will do the same for you

Roxy Theatre —New York City
Paramount Theatre —New York City
Rialto Theatre —New York City
Rivoli Theatre —New York City
Loew's State Theatre —New York City
Loew's State Theatre —Newark, N. J.
Loew's Texas —86th St., Brooklyn
Astor Theatre —New York City
Proctor's 86th St. —New York City
Cohan Theatre —New York City
Publix Theatre —Buffalo, N. Y



New Capitol, Binghamton, N. Y.; Keith's Theatre, Philadelphia; Carman Theatre, Philadelphia; Proctor's Theatre, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Proctor's Theatre, White Plains, N. Y.; Fox's Washington, Washington, D. C. Keith's Circuit; M. & S. Circuit; Loew's Circuit; What Price Glory—Road Shows; Oriental Theatre—Detroit, Mich.; Big Parade—Road Shows; Beau Geste—Road Shows; King of Kings—Road Shows; Simplex Division, International Projector Corp.; Vitaphone Companies; Eastman Kodak Compay; U. S. Navy, and others.

SOLD BY ALL BRANCHES NATIONAL THEATRE SUPPLY CO., SAM KAPLAN, N.Y.C.

HOFFMANN & SOONS

522 First Avenue MFG. DIVISION New York City

Contracting Electrical Engineers
Moving Picture Theatre Electrical Specialists

The Lyre Stand

GALLAGHER
MUSIC STANDS

Whatever your needs in music stands for stage or pit use, there is one in the Gallagher line to exactly fit your requirements. Special stands for most unusual conditions. Dignified or Snappy — Service and Jazz—write your needs. Estimates free.

The New Novelty Music Stand

Have you the new catalog? Send for it.

GALLAGHER
ORCHESTRA EQUIPMENT COMPANY

616 ELM STREET CHICAGO

Specify Prints on Eastman Film

The commanding position which Eastman film occupies today has been won by years of consistently high quality, backed by years of cooperation with the industry.

To get the highest possible photographic quality on your screen, always specify prints on Eastman Positive.

EASTMAN KODAK COMPANY

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Hold Iowa-Nebraska M.P.T.O. Meeting

THE annual convention of the M. P. T. O. of Western Iowa and Nebraska was held Monday evening, November 15th, in Omaha, Neb. C. E. Williams, Omaha, was re-elected president; H. F. Kennedy, vice-president; and Esther Anderson, secretary. The Convention also re-elected its board of directors, consisting of the following:

Blaine Cook, Grand Island; J. E. Hughes, Alliance, Neb.; W. H. Creal, Omaha; H. A. Larson, Oakland, Neb.; A. Burrus, Crete; E. E. Gailey, Wayne; J. E. Schoonover, Aurora; W. H. Ostenburgh, Scottsbluff; R. W. Small, Wymore; Lou Beal, Superior; Clarence Prokop, Wahoo; J. E. Kirk, Omaha; P. A. Schlemberger, Denison, Ia.; Max Drefke, Cherokee, Ia.; B. B. Holdridge, Shenandoah, Ia.; Frank Good, Red Oak, Ia.; J. S. Van Tasell, Clarinda, Ia.; R. E. Falkinburg, Lexington, Neb.; M. Diemond, Loop City; and W. W. Booth, Nebraska City, Neb.

The annual convention resulted in a large attendance from the states of exhibitors and their wives. R. F. Woodhull, chief executive of the organization, and C. C. Pettijohn, attorney for the Hays office, were the speakers.

Tacoma Union Strike Amicably Settled

The recent complications which closed the Rialto and Colonial theatres in Tacoma, Washington, have been settled and the two West Coast theatre houses are again open.

The situation arose when the musicians' union demanded that an orchestra of eight men be employed either at the Rialto or Colonial, in addition to the six organists the two houses carried. A sympathetic strike of the operators was the union's ultimatum unless its demands were met with. Rather than take on a full orchestra, which the business at the theatres never warranted, West Coast refused to comply and closed. After a few weeks' shutdown the union officials agreed to the policy of West Coast and the theatres were immediately reopened, advertisements in local newspapers having explained the situation to the public.

Raleigh Pictures New State Rights Company

Raleigh Pictures Corporation, located at 220 West 42nd Street, New York City, is a newly organized firm in the states rights field. This company, headed by Milton Simon, will have eight society dramas on its program for next season, it is announced. Production on the first two features will be started early in December. Negotiations for the directors and casts have just been completed and their identity will be disclosed shortly. Negotiations for the directors have just been completed and contracts are about to be signed by members of the casts.

Mr. Simon leaves for the West Coast on December 1st and will personally supervise the first two productions. In the past he has been identified with Arrow Pictures and Rayart Pictures.

Ohio M. P. T. O. Elects Old Officers

Exhibitors Attend Enthusiastic Session in Large Numbers; E. Missouri, S. Illinois Also Meet

THE recent Federal Trade Practice conference held in New York, and rapidly changing conditions in the theatre field, have evidently served as a stimulant to exhibitor conventions this year, as attested by those held at Columbus, Ohio, of the Ohio body and the quarterly convention of the Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois exhibitors held at St. Louis last week. Large and enthusiastic representation was on hand for both gatherings.

The Ohio convention had as distinguished guests R. F. Woodhull, president of the M. P. T. O. A., and C. C. Pettijohn, counsel for the Hays organization, both of whom addressed the gathering of some three hundred exhibitors.

William M. James, three times president of the Ohio organization, was elected for a fourth term and other officers, with one exception, were re-elected. Judge H. T. Palmer, of Painesville, had asked to be relieved of his duties as vice-president. The lineup of officers for the coming year is as follows:

President, William M. James; Vice-President at Large, J. J. Harwood, Cleveland; 1st Vice-President, C. W. Miller, Youngstown; 2nd Vice-President, J. A. Ackerman, Cincinnati; 3rd Vice-President, Henry Bieberson, Delaware; Treasurer, Sam E. Lind, Zanesville; Secretary, George E. Fenberg, Newark. Six Trustees were elected as follows: John L. Damm, Wadsworth; John A. Schwalm, Hamilton; A. C. Himmelein, Sandusky; Ernest Schwartz, Cleveland, and Harry Adams, Lancaster.

President James served as toastmaster at the banquet. He first introduced H. M. Richey, business manager of the Michigan M. P. T. O., who spoke on the value and importance of annual organization conventions as the best method of impressing the industry with the exhibitor strength of the country.

National President Woodhull urged exhibitors to teach to the public tolerance of judgment and tolerance of condemnation of the motion picture industry. He urged the women to defend the industry against uncalled for attacks.

C. C. Pettijohn emphasized the industry as the cleanest business in the dissemination of news and purveyors of entertainment in the world. He also said it was the greatest charity organization in the world. He discussed the extravagance of pictures, both on the part of producers and exhibitors, and urged the exhibitor to cut out elaborate presentations and "go back into the picture business."

Other speakers were, John L. Clifton, newly chosen head of the Department of Education of Ohio and chief of the Censor Bureau; Cyrus Locher, of the Department of Commerce of Ohio; Congressman James Begg; Attorney General Ed Turner; and John A. Connor, general counsel for the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Ohio.

The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois at their quarterly meeting in St. Louis went on record as favoring no weakening by the Federal Trade Commission in its position in the Paramount case. A telegram announcing the position of the exhibitors' organization was forwarded to Markham Flannery, of the Federal Trade Commission. Individual exhibitors of the territory were also urged to communicate with the Trade Commission endorsing their position.

President Fred Wehrenberg of the organization said that, in his opinion, the Trade Conference was the most important gathering ever held in the history of the film industry, and he expressed the belief that it had accomplished much for the independent exhibitor, and also for the independent producer and distributor of motion pictures.

Exhibitor complaints and suggestions were heard and discussed, and the meeting proved one of the most constructive ever held by the organization.

Arbitration Recommendations Sent to All Local Boards

RECOMMENDATIONS have been forwarded by the Hays office to Boards of Arbitration for enforcing the rules and regulations relating to arbitration in the motion picture industry. They are based upon "Suggestions of the American Arbitration Association for the Guidance of Arbitrators. With regard to the authority of the arbitrators the recommendation says:

"The authority of the arbitrators is derived from and limited by the Rules and Regulations Relating to Arbitration, which are referred to in, and by such reference made a part of, the Standard Exhibition Contract. They are not bound by the technical rules of evidence, but they are without power or authority to adopt or apply any rule which shall be at variance with any of the provisions of the Standard Exhibition Contract, or any other contract between the parties or the rights and obligations of the parties thereunder. In arriving at his conclusions, an arbitrator should bear in mind that his responsibility is as great as that of a judge sitting in a court of law on a similar case; he should be actuated by similar principles of justice and rules of conduct.

Kennedy Silent on Report that FBO May Enter Theatre Field

JOSEPH P. KENNEDY, President of FBO, this week declined to comment on a report that came from Kansas City to the effect that FBO may enter the theatre field in the Middle West.

"I have nothing to say at this time," Mr. Kennedy informed Motion Picture News.

According to the report, the recent visit of Joseph I. Schnitzer, vice-president of FBO, to Kansas City was said to have been for the purpose of making a survey there as the first step in the FBO theatre plans.

Disc Devices Increase

New Phonographic Synchronizing Machines Gaining in Popularity With Picture Houses

SYNCHRONIZATION devices for combining music with motion pictures are being developed in so many quarters they threaten eventually, if successful, to play havoc with orchestras, particularly in the smaller towns. Some of these inventions are talking picture devices, but most of them are designed chiefly to replace orchestras in small theatres through phonographs of the orthophonic type. The multiple turntable pick-up methods is said to be the basic principle employed in practically all of them.

The largest of the phonograph companies, including Victor, Columbia and Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., are all said to be perfecting machines for theatre use, as also is the Radio Corporation of America, which is developing Pallophotophone. The latter is said to employ a process similar to Movietone.

Among these machines that have already appeared on the market are the Orchestraphone, distributed by the National Theatre Supply Company; the Magnola, introduced by the Bush and Lane Piano Company at Seattle; Symphonium, manufactured by the B. L. Speaker Company, of Orange City, O.; a new device being developed by H. W. Rogers in New York; a phonograph-radio amplifying device which is being developed by the Freed-Eisman Radio Corporation of Brooklyn; and Vict-O-Phone, invented by Fred H. Strom of St. Paul.

There are other machines in process of development, which are said to be nearing completion. One is being perfected by the Bristol Machine Works, of Norwich, Conn., and another by Arthur J. Abrams, of New York. Particulars regarding them have not yet been disclosed.

A number of New York houses are using phonographic music in connection with presentations, while others are experimenting with phonographs in place of orchestras. They are also being widely used in small town theatres in the West. Under most of the plans the records are controlled by electricity, timed to cue the picture with any volume desired.

Bureau Submits Report

Motion Picture Section, Department of Commerce, Tells of First Year's Activities

JULIUS KLEIN, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, has submitted to Secretary Hoover a report of the first year's activities of the motion picture section of the Department of Commerce, under the guidance of C. J. North. From the extensive activities enumerated the new department has been an exceptionally busy one.

Among other things, the report shows that 2,700 inquiries were received from the trade in the year following establishment of the section on July 1st, 1926. Two trade information bulletins, four foreign-markets bulletins and numerous reports were prepared. Studies were made of motion picture theatres in all foreign countries and of short subjects and industrial films.

Data were furnished to an investment house in Chicago for use as the basis of a booklet on "The Motion Picture Industry as a Basis for Bond Financing." Close contact was maintained with the trade associations and with the motion picture departments of other government agencies.

The foreign offices of the bureau cared for the interests of the film industry where necessary, three outstanding items being cited in the report. The imposition of Mussolini of restrictions on foreign exchange transactions made it possible for Italian subsidiaries of American film companies to transfer receipts to this country. Through representations made by the commercial attache at Rome, the restrictions were relaxed so as to permit one company to remit approximately $65,000 and another $15,000, with permission to the latter to make regular remittances of approximately $3,000 a week.

The commercial attache at Czechoslovakia prevented paralysis of the American motion picture business in that country, according to the report, representing a return of $600,000 a year to the producers, when he secured the postponement of a proposed import contingent that was to have gone into effect immediately.

The bureau's office at Madrid, it is also stated, was instrumental in obtaining the lifting of a Spanish ban against the exhibition of an American made picture.

Theatre Management Course Starts in January

The Moving Picture Theatre Managers Institute, Inc., will open its course in theatre management on January 16th, 1928. The course will deal extensively with theatre advertising and theatre technic besides theatre management. The faculty is composed of theatre men chosen because of their experience and ability. The Institute is incorporated with the consent of the University of the State of New York.

Classroom instruction, lecture, individual instruction and actual practice will be used throughout the course, which will take in production, distribution, exhibition, theatre staff and service, advertising principles, typography, layouts, photo engraving, newspaper display advertising, programs, outdoor advertising, lobby displays and design, exploitation, theatre music, stagecraft fundamentals, projection.

The institute maintains a classroom and miniature theatre at 135 West 44th Street in New York.

Washington Circuit Wins Case Before Board

M. B. Horwitz, general manager of the Washington circuit, Cleveland, won a case before the Board of Arbitration last week in which United Artists were Plaintiffs. The point in question was whether the release date on a picture sold under the old zoning plan could be moved up so as to give added protection to a second run. The vote was 4-2 that a picture sold under the zoning plan was available forty-three days after release date, and that no change could arbitrarily be made.

A unique feature of the case was that both sides were legally represented at the hearing. While the plaintiff and the defendant each pleaded his own case, the attorneys summed up the points and presented them to the Board.

"U" Theatres to Retain Atlanta Office

UNIVERSAL will retain an office in Atlanta as Southern division headquarters for its theatres in this section, and both buying and booking for that territory will be handled here in Atlanta, according to Willard C. Patterson, Southern division manager of Universal theatres, who returned to Atlanta early this week from New York following conferences with E. H. Goldstein, treasurer of the company, who heads the new cabinet of home office executives in charge of Universal's theatre operations, following the resignation of Dan Michalove.

The transfer of the accounting department to New York is a logical development, it is pointed out, and will eliminate the necessity for the large division headquarters heretofore maintained.

It is expected that the transfer of accounting records from the division office to New York will be accomplished by the first of December. Meanwhile, and thereafter, buying and booking and all other activities of the Southern division will be handled out of Atlanta as heretofore.

Warner Shut-down Not Indicative of Slump

THE proposed closing for eight weeks of the Warner Bros. Hollywood studio, has been misinterpreted in many quarters, according to H. M. Warner, president of the Warner Bros., who has stated that "those who have hinted that the Warner shut-down indicates a retrenchment are either deliberately misinterpreting the facts or are totally uninformed as to our motives." The Warner Bros. executive is decidedly against the assertion that the two-months' period of the shut-down is a distinct symptom of a slump in the prosperity of the production of pictures.

"It is only because of the healthy position of our company that such a respite from work could be effected," said Mr. Warner, who declared that because of the fact that the Warner Bros. production staff is sufficiently ahead of its schedule a vacation was permissible.

United Artists Eastern Sales Executives Confer

A conference of United Artists eastern sales executives was held at the Hotel Astor in New York, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday last, November 21st, 22nd, and 23rd, the realignment of the eastern sales division being the chief function of the meetings. Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists, Mr. Lichtman, vice-president and sales chief, Carroll Trowbridge, representative for Douglas Fairbanks, and Arthur Hornblow, Jr., production manager for Sam Goldwyn, were speakers at the luncheon on the initial day.

Mr. Schenck discussed forthcoming product in his address and he reviewed the expansion of his company since 1925, adding that other stars and producers would be ultimately added. The development of new talent is to be sought after, commented Mr. Schenck.

Columbia's West Coast Sales Force Augmented

New additions to the sales force of Columbia's Film Exchanges, the Columbia offices on the Coast, includes that of Charles Knickerbocker, formerly with Fox, Goldwyn, Paramount and P. D. C., who has replaced A. M. Rosecan as branch manager of the Butte branch. He will work under the supervision of John C. Ragland, general manager of the West Coast exchanges.

A new face which will appear at the Columbia office in Portland is that of E. W. Normand, who was associated with Fox Films and Pathe. The Los Angeles exchange has had Dave Biederman, formerly with Paramount, Tiffany and Warner Bros., added to its sales force.

Malcolm McGregor Signs Tiffany-Stahl Contract

Tiffany-Stahl Productions has signed Malcolm McGregor to a long-term contract. He will assume the leading male role in a production, now in the course of preparation. The name of it will be announced shortly.

British Film Bill Spurs Big Production Sums

Quota Limiting Importations Results in Millions Being Raised for Picture Making

THE British Film Bill has passed the House of Commons and is expected to be passed by the House of Lords in the immediate future. It provides among other things, that a quota of all moving picture films shown in Great Britain after January 1st by any moving picture company must be British made. As a result of the passage of the measure it is said that $25,000,000 in British capital is being raised for the flotation of all British film companies.

The vote on the passage of the measure in the House of Commons was 223 to 125, and the quota for 1927 was fixed at 7½ per cent. This will increase in annual increments of 2½ per cent to 25 per cent in 1935.

By the terms of the measure certain restrictions are placed on blind and advance bookings and provision made for registration of all films shown in Great Britain. It establishes a system for licensing all persons in the business of renting and registering films and puts the entire system under control of the Board of Trade.

The question of just what constituted a British film aroused considerable discussion while the passage of the bill was being debated. In partial settlement of this point it was said that a British film must be taken within the empire.

The question then arose as to whether or not a producer must be British. Sir Phillip Cunliffe-Lister, who sponsored the bill, declared it was immaterial whether or not the producer was British, provided the theme and substance of the film were British. He declared it was impossible to secure an all-British control of production, and it was sufficient if a majority of the directors of a British company were registered under British laws. It was pointed out that there were not enough British producers to supply the demand indicated in the quota.

Important amendments to the bill provide that foreign directors will be allowed to make British pictures, and distributors' and exhibitors' licenses may be revoked after three violations of the terms of the enactment.

In addition to the $25,000,000 which it is said is being raised for production, there are also other gigantic ventures being hinted. An added $5,000,000 is rumored in one of these. It is also reported, but denied, that a combine of the British motion picture exhibitors is contemplating film production with a capital of $10,000,000.

It is hoped ultimately to place British film production on its own feet, as the result of the passage of the bill. One of its effects will probably be the importation of American directors, bringing back of Britains who have progressed in the cinema world, and the development of home talent.

Deny Stanley-Poli Deal

John J. McGuirk Emphatic in Routing Rumors That His Company Was Interested

JOHN J. McGUIRK, President of the Stanley Company of America, has issued an emphatic denial over his own signature that there is any truth in the rumor that the Stanley Company was contemplating the taking over of the Shoolman-Poli Circuit on a percentage basis. The rumor has persisted for some time, and McGuirk insists that it is without foundation.

In a letter to E. F. Albee, McGuirk assured the former of an entire lack of interest of the Stanley Company in the Poli chain, other than in association with Keith-Albee. He also asked Albee to issue a statement in denial of any rumored deal involving the Poli Circuit.

Schoolman took over an option on the Poli Circuit in New England about a month ago, and rumors immediately started flying thick and fast to the effect that there was a tie-in somewhere with the Stanley Company. A further statement regarding the matter is promised by McGuirk, in which it is expected the entire situation will be cleared up.

While on the subject of acquiring new houses, the Stanley Company has taken a crack at what is termed "bootleg" theatre building. The company will not further consider the leasing of any theatres now under construction by outside interests, but hereafter will build their own theatres when any new expansion is deemed advisable. Theatres are being thrown up in all parts of the territory without regard to overseating, merely because in the present prosperity the building of such houses is easy to finance. The promoters of such buildings have had little difficulty in unloading them on the numerous circuits. It is feared, if the practice is continued, there will be a tremendous overseating to the detriment of the exhibition field.

Klein Play Will Be Warner Bros. Special

"The Lion and the Mouse," the Charles Klein play which Warner Bros. will offer this year, will be produced as an extended run production and will make use of the Vitaphone. The story is now in its second week of production under the megaphoning of Lloyd Bacon. Lionel Barrymore, Alec B. Francis, William Collier, Jr., Audrey Ferris and Jack Ackroyd are members of the cast headed by May McAvoy.

Short Subject Popular

American Short Features Predominate German Market to Extent of Almost 90 Per Cent

By HEINRICH FRAENKEL
Berlin Correspondent, Motion Picture News

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN	FULL LENGTH FEATURES Number	Footage	%	SHORT FEATURES Number	Footage	%
Germany	171	1,198,596	46.2	3	4,527	1.1
U. S. A.	135	820,701	36.3	244	342,987	89.5
France	20	150,456	5.3	8	2,898	2.9
Austria	10	66,495	2.6	2	2,703	0.7
Russia	10	59,967	2.6	1	606	0.3
Czechoslov.	8	51,176	2.1	..	....	..
Denmark	5	33,753	1.3	..	....	..
Italy	5	31,077	1.3	..	....	..
Sweden	4	25,797	1.2	..	....	..
England	2	10,887	0.6	15	18,222	5.5
Brazil	1	5,694	0.3	..	....	..
	371	2,554,399	100	273	371,943	100

Note: The above table shows the German film supply for the first nine months of 1927.

DURING the first three quarters of this year, according to official figures just issued, the German market has absorbed 371 full length features with a total footage of 2,434,399, which is more than the figures for the corresponding period of last year, amounting to 353, with a net footage of 2,249,283.

The following list displays the details of the German film supply, full length features as well as short features. As far as the latter are concerned, it will be seen that U. S. A. is predominating on this market to the extent of almost 90 per cent. It must be borne in mind that short features as well as educationals and news reels are not subject to the German Contingent law, a fact which, together with the recognized quality of the American Shorts, accounts for the Germans almost wholly depending on the American output, as far as their demand of short features is concerned.

The main point to be gathered by these figures is the fact foreshadowed in Motion Picture News many months ago, viz., that the supply of the market is by far surpassing the demand, with the result that hardly any picture can be properly exploited. There are at least 30 per cent more pictures on the German market at present than it can swallow.

The pinch of the overcrowded market is being heavily felt already by the distributors, who are meeting with daily increasing difficulties of finding play dates even for their best product

National Pathe Week Held

Eighty Per Cent of Theatres Playing Pathe Products This Week, Says Company

THIS is National Pathe Week, and it is being observed with approximatelv 11,000 theatres throughout the country playing Pathe product, according to a statement from the company.

This follows the inaugural showing on Broadway three weeks ago when nine first-run houses played Pathe product.

Every branch in every key city is represented in the drive, Pathe says, which was instituted by General Manager Phil Reisman and Harry Scot, Short Subject Sales Manager. All branches are represented in short subject bookings also.

Pathe also states that thousands of theatres in the smaller cities are also participating in the Week.

Here are a few high spots announced by Pathe:

Branch Manager Cropper, in Boston, sends in bookings from 313 theatres in Massachusetts, 65 in New Hampshire, 41 in Vermont, 118 in Maine and 40 in Rhode Island.

George Ames, at New Haven, claims 99 per cent representation in the larger places in his district, as well as a host of smaller towns.

Bill Raynor, of New York, has his territory covered with Pathe shorts like a blanket, including not only many of the first-run Broadway houses, but every circuit in the territory. Bill Humphreys, in Philadelphia, has done the same thing. Branch Manager Robin, in Washington, has 183 theatres in his territory, including 42 in the city of Washington.

Manager McShane, at Charlotte, reports 88 theatres booked. Branch Manager Anderson, at Atlanta, has Pathe shorts in 68 important towns in his territory. Branch Manager McKinney, at Dallas, claims nearly a solid booking, and the same report was sent in by Branch Manager Brown, of New Orleans. Basil Brady, at Buffalo, lists every important account that he has. Branch Manager Moran, at Pittsburgh, has put Pathe shorts into 36 key towns and, for good measure, sends along bookings in 45 other places.

J. A. Harris, at Cincinnati, has booked practically every town in his district; Dayton and several others being 100 per cent Pathe. In Cleveland, O. J. Ruby has done the same thing, and R. S. Shrader, of Indianapolis, wires: "Nobody has refused as yet."

Branch Manager Gillick, at Chicago, sold more than 300 of the 350 possibilities in Chicago territory, including every important theatre.

Harry Graham and Tom North sent in bookings for 250 theatres in the Double "I" territory.

T. Schlanger Universal Short Subjects Head

TED SCHLANGER, Washington exchange manager for Universal, has been newly appointed to the post of short subject and complete service sales manager for Universal. He will occupy his new position, left vacant by Hal Hodes, next Monday, and will be located at the home office in New York City.

Schlanger was formerly in charge of short features at Universal's branch office in Chicago. When M. Van Praag was transferred from Washington to New York last February, Schlanger was promoted to his place. He has been with the Laemmle organization for ten years, having started in as assistant booker at the Chicago exchange.

Nate Sauber will take Schlanger's place at the Washington office.

Sennett Special Heads Pathe's Dec. 4 Shorts

"The Girl From Everywhere," Mack Sennett's initial girl comedy with a special Technicolor art sequence, is the principal offering on Pathe short feature program for the week of December 4th. "Assistant Wives," a new Charley Chase comedy, an Aesop film fable, a new chapter of the current Pathe serial. Topics of the Day and Pathe Review issues and issues Nos. 100 and 101 of the Pathe newsreel complete the list of shorts.

Daphne Pollard, supported by Mack Swain, Sterling Holloway, Dot Farley, Madeline Fields, Carolle Lombard and the Sennett bathing girls, appear in "The Girl From Everywhere," which Eddie Cline directed. Assisting players in the Chase vehicle are Edna Marion, Anita Garvin, Eugene Pallette and Noah Young; James Parrott directed. "Carnival Week" is the title of the new Paul Terry cartoon. "An Attack at Midnight" is the fifth chapter of the serial, "The Masked Menace." In Pathe Review, No. 49 are: "Waifs of the White Sands," "Hawaii's Flower Personalities" and "From Soup to Nuts."

C. L. Eddy Joins Pathe-Bray Canyon Expedition

Clyde L. Eddy, director of education and research of Bray Pictures Corporation, left New York Wednesday, November 16th, for the Grand Canyon of the Colorado where he is to join the Pathe-Bray expedition which is to film "Menace," a feature picture, in cooperation with the U. S. Government. Mr. Eddy will join J. R. Bray, president of Bray Pictures, and Elmer Clifton, who is to direct the action sequences.

Mr. Eddy recently led an expedition down the Colorado rapids while they were at high water; at the present time the party will have to brave the river's turbulence while low water prevails.

Universal Gives Snookums His First Feature Role

Sunny McKeen, the Snookums of Stern Bros.' "Newlywed" comedies which Universal releases, has been cast for his first role in a feature production, having been selected for "Honeymoon Flats."

Beatrice Burton and W. F. Dugan Sign FBO Contracts

Beatrice Burton, writer of many serials, and William Francis Dugan, playwright and song composer, have been signed as members of the F B O scenario staff. They will begin working immediately on original stories to be made for the next year's schedule.

Miss Burton is the author of ten novels, her latest being "The Little Yellow House," which will be started at the F B O plant within a few weeks. Her first assignment will be the writing of a screen play from "Kitty Carstairs," a novel by J. H. Bell. Mr. Dugan, who wrote "The Virgin Man," a recent play, will probably work on a Western story for Bob Steele as his first screen assignment.

New York T.O.C.C. Dinner Arrangements Completed

The Entertainment Committee of the Theatre Owners Chamber of Commerce of New York has practically completed arrangements for the annual supper and dance of the organization, including the details of the "show" which will be one of the evening's features. Dantzig's Orchestra will furnish the music.

Several city and state officials plan to be present, it is said, as well as persons prominent in the various branches of the industry.

"The Devil" Future Veidt Vehicle From Universal

"The Devil," the novel by the German author, Alfred Neumann, which tells of the court of Louis the Eleventh, has been acquired by Universal as a vehicle for Conrad Veidt, to follow "The Man Who Laughs," now in production. The story will be made and marketed as a special production. The principal roles are those of Louis and a valet attached to the court; it is not determined which of these two characters Veidt will portray. Production will start soon after the first of the year.

All Columbia Units Working at Top Speed

WITH the release of "The Warning," one-third of Columbia's product for 1927-28 has been completed. The company's studios in Hollywood on Gower Street are now working at a high peak, with an average of three units in simultaneous production.

Filming is progressing on "The Siren," under Harry Cohn's supervision. With the signing of Frank Capra, production has been launched on "So This Is Love." "Fashion Madness," Claire Windsor's second starring Columbia vehicle, is scheduled for production early in the week. Information on the film's director and players will be released shortly.

Elmer Harris, Baroness Elsie von Koczian and Ernest S. Pagano, scenarists, have joined the writing force, and are now working on several unnamed scripts. At the studio, day and night shifts are working temporarily to keep pace with the production schedule. A new stage, 120 feet by 180 feet, is being rushed to early completion to house new filming companies.

Roxy Theatre Books "Wild Geese" for Initial World Showing

THE initial world showing of the Tiffany-Stahl production "Wild Geese" has been booked for the Roxy Theatre, commencing December 10th. The story is by Martha Ostenso, and received the $13,500 prize for the best novel published in 1926 in the competition held by Pictorial Review and Dodd, Mead & Company, publishers. Roxy is preparing an elaborate and dramatic presentation of the picture.

In the cast of "Wild Geese" are: Belle Bennett, Eve Southern, Russell Simpson, Donald Keith, Anita Stewart, Jason Robards, Wesley Barry, Raida Rae, Jack Gardner, Bodil Resing and Evelyn Selbie. The adaptation for the screen was made by A. P. Younger.

New M.P.T.O.A. Members

Kansas-Missouri, Indiana Bodies Now Favor Plan to Re-join National Organization

THREE state exhibitor organizations are planning to come back into the fold of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, according to word coming from the headquarters of the different bodies. They are the Associated Theatre Owners of Indiana and the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Kansas and Missouri. Each of the organizations is contemplating making the move in the near future.

The decision of the Indiana owners was indicated at a meeting held last week, at which National President R. F. Woodhull addressed the body. President Woodhull discussed with the members the many exhibitor problems and told of the desire of the M. P. T. O. A. to aid in their solution. The Woodhull address was warmly received, and he was followed by Frank J. Rembusch, who heartily endorsed the ideas presented by the National president.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the M. P. T. O. Kansas-Missouri held last week it was voted that the board recommend at the next convention of the organization that the M. P. T. O. Kansas-Missouri re-affiliate itself with the M. P. T. O. A. The date of the coming convention, at which the action will probably be taken, was set for December 12 and 13 in Kansas City.

The Kansas-Missouri organization broke away from the M. P. T. O. A. several years ago, and became affiliated with Allied group, but recently Kansas-Missouri has remained apart from any other organization, preferring to "stand on its own feet."

With regard to the coming convention in December, President R. R. Bischele, of Kansas-Missouri, said:

"The convention next month in Kansas City will probably see many important matters disposed of. Several problems, which it would not do to discuss now, have been pending, and they will be ironed out at the convention."

New Educational Subjects

Five Short Features Added to Program, Four With Hope Hampton, One With Carter De Haven

EDUCATIONAL has added five additional pictures to its short subject program, according to announcement by E. W. Hammons, president of the company. They cover three different types of short feature material.

The first release of the new group will be a single reeler showing Carter De Haven in character studies. Next will be two subjects that should particularly appeal to feminine patrons. They will be the 1927-28 McCall Colour Fashion News series, showing Hope Hampton displaying the latest creations from Paris. Educational has in preparation also, two two-reel dramatic subjects, done in technicolor, and also featuring Hope Hampton.

The two Hope Hampton fashion pictures will present the newest and most advanced styles from Paris, done in their original colors and said to be beautiful in effect. They are entitled, "Creations Parisienne in Colour" and "Paris Fashions in Color." Both pictures will be released in December. Miss Hampton only recently returned from Paris, where she visited the shops of the Parisian fashion authorities and will display all of her new gowns in the pictures.

The two dramatic subjects featuring Miss Hampton, which are now in preparation, are: "Love's Springtime" and "The Call of the Sea." Both are Colorart Productions, made by the Technicolor process.

The one-reel Carter De Haven picture is in the nature of a novelty subject. De Haven is well known as a screen comedian and vaudeville star. He presents his interpretations of the way several Hollywood celebrities appear.

Besides these five new subjects, Educational recently announced a series of six Bowers comedies, the first of which has been completed.

Crescent Amusement Buys Hopkinsville, Ky., Theatre

The Princess Theatre, Hopkinsville, Ky., has been sold to the Crescent Amusement Company, of Nashville, Tenn., for $30,000, it is announced by Tony Sudekum, president of the company.

Cohen Asks Exhibitors' Okay on Resolution

EXHIBITORS are asked to endorse a resolution setting forth the attitude of the Board of Trade and Commerce of the Motion Picture Industry on protection, buying power and allocation of product of all producing companies in a printed form sent out by Sydney S. Cohen, president of the organization.

The questions embodied in the resolution which the exhibitors are asked to endorse in writing include whether each theatre in every zone should be considered an individual entity or whether each theatre should be accorded the right to negotiate for product in the open market, and whether every producing company should be permitted to show its product in every zone. It is further stipulated that protections accorded to first-run houses, whether affiliated or independent, be confined to the actual zone or radius in which the theatre operates.

Six M-G-M Films in Work, Five More to Start

By launching three new films into production the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio now has six features in actual work. Five new units will very shortly follow these six onto the lots at the Culver City plant.

"Rose Marie," "The Cossacks" and William Haines' new polo vehicle are the three new films. The first two are specials for early next year's release. The former is being directed by Lucien Hubbard and the latter by George Hill. Jack Conway is handling the Haines number. The other three films in various stages of filming are "The Divine Woman," "The Patsy" and "The Bridal Night."

Two specials which will go into early production are "Robert Flaherty's Southern Skies" and "Tide of Empire." Norma Shearer is scheduled to start work on "Trelawney of the Wells" and George K. Arthur and Karl Dane will begin work soon on a comedy of circus life. "Riders of the Dark," a new Western, is also due to get under way shortly.

Allan S. Moritz Joins Columbia Pictures

Allan S. Moritz, who was formerly identified as branch manager of the Tiffany office in Detroit, and who served in a similar capacity for four years in the Paramount exchange in Buffalo, has been signed by Columbia to act in a sales capacity.

Six New Fox Productions Scheduled

Fox Films has set six new films for release between now and the new year.

"Wolf Fangs," scheduled for November 27th, will star the dog, Thunder, and the human leads, Charles Morton and Caryl Lincoln. Lew Seiler directed the picture. "Shame," a John Gilbert re-issue, is also programmed for November 27th. "The Wizard," based on the mystery story, "Balaoo," is scheduled for December 11th. Edmund Lowe, Leila Hyams, Gustav von Seyffertitz and others are in the cast, which was directed by Richard Rosson.

The Madge Bellamy vehicle, "Silk Legs," will be offered on December 16th; Rosson also directed this photoplay. "Come to My House," with Olive Borden and Antonio Moreno, is set for December 25th. "No Other Woman," featuring Dolores Del Rio and directed by Lou Tellegan, will reach the screen on January 1st.

News Reel Resume

The Royal wedding between Anne of France and the Duke of Apulia held the spotlight in the newsreel field this week, all of the various reels except one carrying pictures of the event. Other high lights were scarce, it seems, but three news items gaining attention over the customary news stories. These dealt with the new United States aircraft carrier, the Saratoga, the warehouse fire in New York and England's and France's memorial services for their war dead. Football continued to be featured also.

The dozen reels, synopsized, were as follows:

International News, Vol. 9, No. 94: The royal wedding at Naples was a lead-off, followed by Washington U.-California U. clash at Berkeley, played on a muddy field; the Saratoga; London's new Lord Mayor; Britain's tribute to war dead; Arctic huskies; Baron von Prittwitz, German ambassador, Paul Claudel, French ambassador, and Dr. Michael Hainisch, president of Austria, were featured in the personality notes. No. 95: English students' brawl in London is shown, then Emperor Hirohito reviewing Japanese fleet; Penn State winning intercollegiate run; new speedboat establishing record; football games; destruction done by Washington tornado; Santa Claus; Bryan Memorial Race at Bowie track.

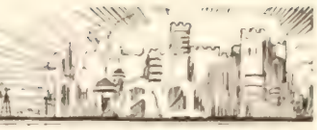
M-G-M News, Vol. 1, No. 28: The Saratoga; a crop of views which include the Princess Anne-Duke of Apulia wedding; a mud football game at Berkeley; Minnesota huskers are shown. The primitive methods of the Chinese is graphically shown as they drill a salt well. Ruth Elder, the warehouse blaze in New York, and schoolgirls developing healthy bodies are next seen. A really interesting story is that of the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky. Destroyers at practice and England's armistice day ceremonies conclude the reel. No. 29: Speedboat making new world record and the damage caused by Washington's tornado start this issue, which also contains football shots, horse racing scenes, and old-time fiddlers of Dixie. Scenes of dog actors, new life-saving suit for ocean flyers and cross-country racing are also offered.

Pathe News, No. 95: President Coolidge at Philadelphia, the Naples wedding of royalty and the Japanese fleet passing in review are the high lights. Welsh miners on their march to London, Dartmouth students aiding in work of reconstruction, and the Saratoga are addition items. Survivors of the sea tragedy off Brazilian coast and a hair-pulling test are included. No. 96: The president attending a gridiron game is the chief offering of this issue, which displays Capt. Giles, who took off for Honolulu, a flagpole sitter, Morocco mourning late Sultan, and London college boys on a rampage. Army tanks maneuvering and the new speedboat record being established are other events pictured.

Kinograms No. 5345: New York's warehouse fire, the Saratoga, the Prince of Wales in Glasgow, and the reception of the 17 flyers at the White House are the principal news items here. Other bits are realistic views of Italian horsemen in actionful tests, the three little English girls who have come to work in American films, Ruth Elder and San Francisco's Mayor. Shots of Calles' son at Peeksville school, and society girls staging a "follies" are other stories. No. 5346: Scenes of the new record-breaking speedboat, Washington after the tornado, and Santa Claus begin this reel. Shows for dogs and cats, a plane which, it is thought, will carry 100 passengers when finished, and clothes of the old '80's contribute to the entertaining qualities of the reel. Fashions for transoceanic flyers and the Yale-Harvard game are the finishing numbers.

Paramount News, No. 33: The allies honoring their war dead, the wedding of royalty in Naples and the Japanese fleet passing in review are high lights included. The rescued passengers of the S. S. Mafalda, the Saratoga, the eternal flame before Roumania's unknown soldier, and the opening of the hockey season are shown. A comical novelty is that in which two tom cats fight with the gloves. No. 34: Shots of the preliminaries to the strike in Colorado, quarrying the marble for the Harding Memorial and Mexican rebels are grouped in this reel, which also includes scenes of the allies honoring dead, the speedboat which holds the world's record. Secretary Hoover, Santa Claus and the convention of chefs are also shown.

Fox News, Vol. 9, No. 16: The royal wedding at Naples, MacMillan at his winter post in Laborador, and the fire in New York are among the list of events recorded herein. New hair fashions, San Francisco's long-term mayor, new dress fashions, a livestock show, the pigeons of the Cathedral of del Piar in Zaragoza, Spain, and college girls, are included in the recorded scenes. No. 17: Effects of the Washington storm, welcome given Moroccan army, Marshall Fosh, Henry P. Fletcher, Ambassador to Italy, the President and Mrs. Coolidge at the football game in Washington are set forth. A cargo of mules bound for India, the "Healing Stone" at Wahiawa, Hawaii, plans of the government to decrease damage done by forest fires are next offered.



Swanson Films Will Be United Artists Releases

DENYING the rumor that Gloria Swanson's "Sadie Thompson" will be her last starring vehicle to be released through United Artists, Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists, this week issued the statement that "Gloria Swanson, as one of our owner-members, naturally, will continue to release her productions through United Artists." Any other rumors to the contrary were dispensed with by the United Artists executive as "without foundation."

The denial was also made with regard to the rumored existence of a two-picture agreement. "Miss Swanson herself will announce the title of her next United Artists production to follow "Sadie Thompson," said Mr. Schenck.

Studio Briefs

Wade Botoller, Phillip Strange, Claude King, Tom Maguire, "Little Tom" Maguire, Maude Turner Gordon, Myrtle Stedman and Lige Conley have joined the cast of Paramount's "The Traveling Salesman."

"Glorious Betsy," "Across the Pacific," "Powder My Back," "Domestic Troubles" and "A Race for Life" are the five productions in work at the Warner Bros. studio.

Phil Whitman is megaphoning a new "Smith Family" comedy in which Lucille Miller is seen in addition to the usual trio.

Natalie Kingston has been selected for a role in the Fox Films picture, "Lady Cristilinda."

Lieutenant Rudolph Schad, former German ace, has been cast for a role in Paramount's "Legion of the Condemned."

Doris Kenyon will be the leading lady in "Burning Daylight," on which First National will soon start the cameras.

Paul Panzer has been signed by Warner Bros. for a role in "Glorious Betsy."

Anne Nichols will write the titles for Paramount's "Abie's Irish Rose." Members of the 160 California National Guard were given roles recently in the picture.

"Domestic Troubles" is a tentative title of a new Warner Bros. film co-starring Louise Fazenda and Clyde Cooke.

Howard Hawks has started production on Fox Films' "A Girl in Every Port," in which will appear Victor McLaglen, Maria Casajuana, Francis MacDonald and Robert Armstrong.

Joan Crawford will play the featured feminine role in Cosmopolitan's "Tide of the Empire," which Hunt Stromberg will produce and Jack Conway direct for M-G-M.

Mitchell Lewis and Dan Wolheim will enact characterizations in Warner Bros.' "Tenderloin."

"The Law of the Range" is the final title of Tim McCoy's new M-G-M vehicle, formerly titled "The Texas Ranger."

Marcel DeSano will soon be ready to start on a production for which he is preparing the story and which he will direct for Tiffany-Stahl.

Tom Wilson has a part in Paramount's "The Pioneer Scout."

Richard Dix has left Hollywood with a company of 35 people to Victorville, Calif., where headquarters were established for the shooting of Mohave desert scenes.

Fox Films has purchased "The One-Woman Idea," by Alan Williams, and "Broadway Sally," an original by Howard McKent Barnes.

Fox Films has renewed its contract with Virginia Valli.

Emily Fitzroy plays an important part in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," the Paramount picture.

Lorraine Eddy will be seen in "Fighting Fanny," a new Christie comedy for Paramount release.

Clyde Cooke has been loaned by Warner Bros. to M-G-M to play in "Trelawney of the Wells."

M-G-M will make a picture based on Jack London's story of primitive man, "Before Adam."

Two pictures which will go into work at the Warner studio before it is darkened for the annual vacation of employees are "The City of Sin" and "Tenderloin."

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, co-starring in Hal Roach's comedies for M-G-M, have just finished their third offering in this series, as yet untitled.

Going before the Fox Films batteries of cameras in the near future will be "The Sharpshooters," "Hello, Sucker," "White Silence," "The Sport Girl," "A Girl in Every Port," and "Dressed to Kill."

David Kashner is the latest addition to the cast of Fox Films' "Lady Cristilinda," which Frank Borzage is directing.

"Napoleon and Josephine" will be the third of the series of great events which M-G-M is producing in Technicolor. Dr. Kalmus, Technicolor chief, is now on his way to Culver City studio to supervise the casting and production.

"Hot House Hazel," a new Van Bibber comedy, has just been finished by Director Orville Dull for Fox Films. Tyler Brooks is Van Bibber, others are Thelma Hill, Fay Holderness, Adolph Milar and Jack Malone.

Rupert Julian will direct "Walking Back" for Pathe at the De Mille studio.

A satire on underworld melodramas will be started shortly at the Fox Films Coast plant under Irving Cummings' direction. The story by Howard Estabrook will be called "Dressed to Kill." Edmund Lowe stars.

"The Wild West Show," Hoot Gibson's latest for Universal, was finished last week.

Hedda Hopper, Martha Franklin and Jerry Mandy have been cast for Esther Ralston's support in her next Paramount film.

First National's "The Shepherd of the Hills" is now being cut and edited.

The two Cozine brothers, Arthur and Ray, are assisting Director William Wyler in filming the New York sequences of Universal's "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?"

Warner Bros. has signed Georgie Stone for a comic role in "Tenderloin."

Gertrude Olmsted, Ned Sparks, Helen Lynch and Harry Dunkinsin have joined the cast of "The Traveling Salesman," a Paramount picture.

The leads in Universal's "Thoroughbreds" will be Marion Nixon, Claire McDowell, Johnny Fox, George Siegman, Sam de Grasse, Otis Harlan, David Torrence and Richard Walling.

Betty Blythe will be seen in a supporting role in Warner Bros.' "Glorious Betsy."

Lawrence Grant has been cast for a part in Paramount's "Doomsday."

Caesar Gravina and Charles Puffy have been assigned roles in Universal's "The Man Who Laughs."

Natalie Joyce, Myrna Loy, Gladys Brockwell, Elena Jurado and Dorothy Mathews have been cast for "A Girl in Every Port," a new Fox Films production.

Lewis Stone will have a character part in Universal's "The Freedom of the Press."

The forthcoming Warner Bros. vehicle, "Glorious Betsy," will have a Vitaphone sequence incorporated into its action.

Eileen Sedgwick will play a part in "Hot Heels," now being made at Universal City.

Paul McAllister has been added to the list of players in Paramount's "Abie's Irish Rose."

Frank Capra will direct "So This Is Love," in which Viola Dana will star for Columbia Pictures.

Lloyd Corrigan, scenarist, has entered into a new contract with Paramount. Fred Kohler, actor, has also given Paramount the option on his services for an extended period.

Sue Carrol has been engaged for the feminine lead in "Skyscraper," now being filmed for Pathe release.

John Boles and not Victor Varconi will have the male lead in Pathe's "Menace." Carl Stockdale, Henri Seddlen, William Irving and Richard Alexander have been cast.

Byron Haskin's first directorial assignment from Columbia Pictures will be "The Siren."

Helene Costello has been secured by Sterling Pictures for the feminine lead in "Burning Up Broadway." Robert Frazer, Ernest Hilliard and William Davidson will support.

Besides "The Mysterious Airman," Weiss Bros. have another serial in production entitled "You Can't Win." The story is by Arthur B. Reeve.

Key City Reports

New York City

WITH the exception of a few theatres Broadway registered average business for the week ending Nov. 18 and one reason for this may be the fact that the entire Rialto is generously dotted these days with motion picture shows ranging from 25c to $2.00. And then, Fall brings its usual crop of new legitimate attractions, which naturally strengthens competition.

While the Capitol has dropped below its first few weeks' figures on the change of policy, business done with the "Garden of Allah" (M-G-M) must be termed good. The usual run of added attractions accompanied the feature. Billed 'way over the top of everything else, Ruth Elder, the almost-transatlantic aviatrix, followed in this week along with the picture "In Old Kentucky." Just how far Miss Ruth will go on her tour of Loew theatres will probably be figured out at the close of the week. From all reports it seems doubtful that her act will be held over at the Capitol.

The Ufa-made "Last Waltz" gave the Paramount an average week and there's no doubt that this house has been doing very well for some time. A fair run of pictures, a highly desirable position on the Street and a flashy form of presentation seem to be mainly responsible. The Paramount's relative, the Rivoli, turned in one of the best gates of the week, taking into consideration its size, with U. A.'s "Sorrell and Son," and this picture will probably stay as long there as did "Underworld," which broke the house record. "My Best Girl," another U. A. picture, featuring Mary Pickford, is also doing a nice trade at the Rialto in its third week.

Favorable comment continues to be heard regarding the new form of presentation at the Strand and First National's "Breakfast at Sunrise," contributed to another fair week. At the Roxy, "Two Girls Wanted" turned in a somewhat below average return, but the accompanying presentation and the Movietone newsreel were well received. Movietone has started to take space by itself in the local papers, directing patrons to those houses where the device has been installed.

At the Criterion, "Wings" (Par) continues to demonstrate its strength as a first class attraction and the same can be said for "The Jazz Singer" (W. B.) at Warners; however, if this picture goes out without the accompanying Vitaphone numbers, it becomes rather difficult to predict just what its ultimate success will be. At any rate it's strong in New York City. "Sunrise" (Fox) appears to be getting some pushing at the Times Square, larger space than usual being taken in the local papers. Too many "camera angles" and a lack of two-a-day pulling strength, some say. Movietone has helped things along here.

"Les Miserables" (U), after finishing its run at the Central, was good for two fair weeks at the Colony and "The Patent Leather Kid" is still turning in satisfactory business at the Globe. How much longer "The King of Kings" (Pathe-DeMille) will last at the Gaiety is problematical. It may not be long now. Carl Laemmle's Uncle Tom show is grinding along at the Central and likewise, "Quality Street" (M-G-M) at the Embassy. At the Astor "The Student Prince" (M-G-M) did good for the week.

"Douglas Fairbanks as The Gaucho" (the official title) made its appearance this week among the top-priced houses (the Liberty) for what will probably be a two months' stay. Comment is favorable.

Chicago

LOOP theatre patrons were offered a choice and varied menu of pictures last week and most of the offerings brought out good crowds. "Underworld," a melodrama of Chicago gunmen, proved first class entertainment and went over big at the Roosevelt, while at the Chicago "Two Arabian Knights" and a big show on the stage kept big audiences well entertained. "Ben Hur" went into its second week at McVicker's, where fair business was the report and "American Beauty" on the screen and Mark Fisher, leading Paul Ash's Gang, did an average week at the Oriental. "Wings," the big drama of aviation, continued to pull well at the Erlanger and "Seventh Heaven" plus Movietone had another good week at the Monroe. The Orpheum offerings were "Good Time Charley" and a Vitaphone program, business being about normal.

Paul Whiteman, big favorite on the north-side, and his orchestra, headed the Uptown bill, which, with "A Gentleman of Paris" as its screen feature, scored heavily. Fair attendance was enjoyed by the Sheridan with "Annie Laurie" on the screen and Verne Buck and his orchestra on the stage. Marks Brothers' Granada and Marbro Theatres, both had as their feature picture "The Girl from Chicago," Vitaphone and stage band shows and both houses did normal business or better for the week.

"The Magic Flame" on the screen and Frankie Masters on the stage were the attractions at the Tivoli which had a normal week. Business was fair at the Capitol with "Annie Laurie," Vitaphone and Husk O'Hare in his inaugural stage show.

Boston

BOSTON theatres were fairly swamped over the week end with some of the thousands who were on hand for the annual Harvard-Yale gridiron battle at the Stadium for the wind-up of the football season. Seats were commanding a premium and all theatres were sold out well in advance. There was also a reflection of the crowds Friday and continuing until Monday night.

Practically every theatre in Boston did the best week's business thus far this season. Universal's "Les Miserables" finished its three weeks' run at the Colonial, which again opened to a legitimate show. There are now no road shows in Boston.

Metropolitan Theatre's "She's a Sheik" proved a big drawing card and even the seating capacity of New England's largest theatre was incapable of taking care of all who applied for admission during the greater part of the week. An especially good stage presentation accompanied the film, Jack Partington's "Moonlit Waters." "The Magic Flame" at the State was another big drawing card during the week, with a good stage number assisting. "East Side, West Side" is playing this week simultaneously at five theatres and is playing to big audiences at all of them. The five are the Washington Street Olympia, Scollay Square, Central Square, Capitol and Fenway Theatres.

Other theatres reporting good business for the week are the Keith-Albee Boston with "Madame Pompadour," the English made film; Washington Street with a double bill, "Clancy's Kosher Wedding" and "High School Hero," Exeter with "Camille," Bowdoin Square with "Two Girls Wanted" and "Cameo," and "The Blackbird" at the Lancaster.

Announcement is being made of the experiment of the "Subway Circuit" plan of legitimate shows for the Arlington Theatre, which has been for some time showing pictures. The picture interests are watching the experiment with much interest.

Cleveland

EVERYTHING tended to make the past week a poor week at local theatres. The weather was very bad. It rained almost every day. And when it didn't rain it froze, which was worse. The pictures were average for the most part. One of two outstanding pictures did outstanding business. The others just got by.

"The Garden of Allah," proclaimed pictorially perfect, failed to register the big success that was expected of it at the Stillman and will not be continued a second week. "Seventh Heaven" at Keith's Palace, was the one outstanding success of the week. It was recommended by critics as "one of the best and one of the most certain-to-please pictures of the year." The public backed up this opinion with paid admissions. "Man, Woman and Sin," admittedly John Gilbert's best work, and Monta Bell's finest direction effort, did only fair business at the Allen. It has been suggested that possibly the title was to blame for this. "The City Gone Wild" didn't make anything like a hit at the State. The program surrounding the feature was the only thing that saved the bill. And then again the public failed to support "Judgment of the Hills," a picture of genuine merit and unusual entertainment values which was exhibited at the Reade's Hippodrome. The Cameo did only fairly well with "The Racing Romeo," a picture of the popular audience type, with "Red" Grange as exhibit A. Keith's East 105th Street Theatre had a good week with "Tumbling River" and Tom Mix as the attraction on the screen. The Park did pretty well by comparison with a first run neighborhood engagement of "Beau Geste," and the Circle had a fair week with "Barbed Wire," another first-run neighborhood showing.

Legitimate competition was light, and there was nothing else to draw the people to other amusement fields. Unemployment continues. The annual Community Fund drive now in progress has an effect on the theatres during the period of the drive. Neighborhood business is also "off."

Seattle

LAST week was another off week at the local film houses—business was decidedly below average, with a list of film attractions that were not above the ordinary calibre.

Based upon a standpoint of total number of seats filled during the entire week, in comparison with actual house capacity, the leading business getter for the seven days just closed was probably "Slightly Used" at John Hamrick's Blue Mouse Theatre. This film seemed to please most audiences, and a supporting program of five Vitaphone acts headed by Martinelli put the show over to very good business for the run. Almost capacity for the week.

The Fifth Avenue Theatre, with "The City Gone Wild," played to average business. It was considered Meighan's best film in several seasons, but lacked any tremendous box office appeal. The show was well rounded out by Hermie King's novelty orchestra presentations and a pleasing Fanchon-Marco Ideal called "Mermaids" with their "Aerial Ballet" of 18 girls that played here a couple of months ago. Gross for the week was around $14,000.

The United Artists Theatre played "The Rough Riders" and did a very good business with it, but somehow this film failed to click at the ticket booth as strong as such a picture should. Business was well up in the running, but the picture lasted only one week. Gross was in the neighborhood of $9,000.

At the Liberty Theatre, Harry Langdon's old release, "His First Flame," failed to arouse any enthusiasm. Langdon goes strong here, but the picture was very mediocre and audiences were not enthusiastic. Business was about average, but not strong considering the star.

"The Chinese Parrot" at Bob Bender's Columbia Theatre was a very pleasing attraction that played a week to good business. The Columbia patrons seemed to like the film, and it was a good money-getter.

Between the two vaude-film houses, Pantages again got the break on pictures, with "The Gay Retreat." In spite of the fact that it was a strong picture, however, business was below normal. The audiences at this house during recent months have been none too large. Rumor has it that a change in policy which will bring "more show for the money" is slated soon. The Orpheum, with "The Harp in Hock," took second honors as far as film attractions went, but was far ahead in the box office standing. "Orpheum" vaudeville and pictures for 75c (reserved seats) seemed to have hit the public fancy here, and the house has been playing to average good gross, despite poor shows.

With the exception of "College" at the Egyptian Theatre, which attracted a large gathering of students at every performance, the business in the neighborhood houses and suburban houses is below normal.

San Francisco

A STEADY business registered during the past week in all San Francisco first run motion picture theatres, as well as in the residential theatres, both having first and second runs. Business would have been better in the large downtown sections had not the city witnessed two exceptionally strong rain storms.

"The Covered Wagon," shown at the Imperial Theatre, filled that house and "Les Miserables" continued to draw crowds the second week to the St. Francis Theatre. "A Man's Past" drew well, together with the presentation acts to the Loew's Warfield Theatre and "The City Gone Wild," pulled a good many to the Granada, Thomas Meighan being popular here. The presentation acts in that house also drew many. "The Garden of Allah" at the California Theatre, was fairly well attended, but not as good as expected. The Vitaphone at the Embassy Theatre draws many and many send their friends to it.

"The Angel of Broadway" drew well at the Golden Gate Theatre. The vaudeville acts also drew crowds to that house. "No Man's Gold" did very well at the Cameo Theatre and the Union Square Theatre reported good business all week, partly because of the vaudeville acts, but mostly due to the picture, "The Lodge in the Wilderness" and "Polar Bears."

Los Angeles

THE younger crowd turned out in large numbers for the showing of "Dress Parade" at the Boulevard, where Abe Lyman and his Brunswick Orchestra remain a popular stage feature. This was the most popular of short run features at the various houses.

Another picture which drew the high school and college patrons was "The High School Hero" at the Pantages. The picture attracted great attention, having been made on the Hollywood high campus and has the most popular high school coach and students of the local schools in addition to a cast of local favorites. "The Gaucho" at the Chinese Theatre is considered to be one of those pictures that every motion picture fan intends to see. An elaborate and entertaining stage offering, "Argentine Nights," precedes the screen feature and the Chinese Theatre has splendid patronage at every show.

"The Loves of Carmen" in the last few weeks of its engagement at the Carthay Circle continues with a steady business. Great interest is aroused in "Sunrise," which opens in two weeks. "Les Miserables" was the Criterion Theatre attraction and proved a success with capacity houses at almost every performance. "Ladies from Hell" showed at Loew's State last week and only drew the average attendance. "Jesse James" was well received at the Metropolitan and played to the average good crowds.

Salt Lake City

CLEAR, sunny weather is still prevailing in this city with an occasional flurry or Fall rain storm, but the theatre business is constantly improving, according to reports.

The Capitol Theatre of this city has enjoyed another very big week during the showing of "East Side, West Side" and Fanchon and Marco's idea "Seasons" on the stage. These presentations are being received very enthusiastically and the picture was also very well liked.

Lon Chaney in "Mockery" proved to be an excellent drawing card at the Pantages Theatre, in connection with the vaudeville performance, and crowded houses were the result. The Paramount Empress Theatre averaged a good week, the feature picture being "The City Gone Wild." A stage offering was also presented here, billed as "Loretta's Novelties." The Victory Theatre here opened with the new policy last week with the exclusive picture program. "Open Range" was the feature and the house was packed throughout the week. "A Man's Past" was an exceptionally good drawing card at the American and very favorable comment was received on this production. "The Circus Ace" did a good business at the Gem.

Lon Chaney was also seen at the Rialto during the past week in the second showing of James Oliver Curwood's "Nomads of the North," where he also proved to be a very good drawing card.

Central Pennsylvania

ATTRACTED by the title of the film play, "Jesse James," starring Fred Thomson, exceptionally big crowds went to the Victoria Theatre, Harrisburg. Men and boys made up 75 per cent of the audience.

The "Garden of Allah," at Loew's Regent, drew big crowds to that theatre, due in part to the fact that the stage play and the novel of that name are so well established in popular approval, and in part to the romantic appeal the picture has to feminine patrons.

Strangely enough, the "Rose of the Golden West," which showed at the Colonial, was mistaken by reason of its title for a Wild West play, whereas it actually is based on the conquest of California which saved that state to the union. This misunderstanding on the part of the public of the nature of the play is believed by the management of the Colonial to have been responsible for the business that was hardly up to the average, though those who saw the play were impressed with its entertaining qualities. The fact is that the showing of "Jesse James" in the nearby Victoria drew the cream of that type of patronage which craves Wild West pictures, and the Colonial business suffered through the misconception that the "Rose of the Golden West" was of the same type.

John Gilbert, in "Honor First," pleased the audiences at the State, while "The Blood Ship," on its second appearance in Harrisburg, went over big at the Broad Street.

Albany, Schenectady and Troy

FIRST honors in Albany last week from the point of attendance went to the Mark Strand, where "Ben Hur" packed the house each afternoon and evening, with business second only to that of "The Big Parade," which was featured at this theatre a few weeks ago. The Leland played to turnaway business each night during the week with the exception of Thursday, when a heavy wind and rainstorm swept the city, the picture being "Loves of Carmen." At the Mark Ritz, business was only normal with "Good Time Charley," an entertaining picture, which was hampered, however, in the opinion of many, by a dull [illegible]. Residents of Albany appeared to like "Sally in Our Alley" at the Clinton Square Theatre, judging from the business done. Proctor's Grand featured "The Irresistible Lover" with good effect on business done. The Vitaphone returns this week to both the Mark Strand in Albany and the Troy Theatre, after an absence of many weeks. Neighborhood houses in Albany reported good business throughout the week, despite the unusually warm weather.

In Troy, "Ben Hur" ran ahead of "The Big Parade" at the Troy Theatre last week. The theatre was packed to its doors practically each night, and on Sunday night many prospective patrons despaired of obtaining admittance and neighboring houses caught the overflow. The Lincoln in Troy ran to good business with "Jesse James."

In Schenectady, "The Gorilla" did only a fair turnover at the State Theatre, due largely to the fact that the play has been given four times in Schenectady, and the picture possessed no element of mystery to the majority of the city, and likewise carried no appeal to many women, possessing no love story. "Moon of Israel" ran three days to good business at the Strand.

Kansas City

THIS week saw a rather one-sided allotment of attendance in the first run houses of Kansas City. At Loew's Midland, with "The Woman on Trial" as the feature picture and John Philip Sousa's band as the stage attraction, full houses greeted virtually every performance all week, but such was not the case at several of the other first run theatres, despite the fact that there was a good lineup of pictures.

The Pantages, showing "The Gay Retreat," featuring Ted McNamara and Sammy Cohen, ran second to the Midland on attendance, while the Newman, showing "The Garden of Allah," did only a fair business. A return engagement of "The Covered Wagon" at the Royal played to fair crowds only, while "Slightly Used" at the Globe drew less than normal attendance. The second week of "The Naked Truth" at the Liberty also drew only fair, as did "Dress Parade" at the Mainstreet. Nothing other than ordinary exploitation was done at any of the theatres.

Atlanta

THE Capitol led the parade of box-offices in Atlanta theatres last week with "East Side, West Side," featuring Virginia Valli and George O'Brien, each performance during the day bringing a packed house. Loew's Grand with "Garden of Allah" fared well, but did not meet expectations.

Last week Keith's [illegible] celebrated its first anniversary with a civic program, each day being designated to some [illegible] club of the city. This stunt was a drawing card and the theatre's average attendance can be attributed about equally between it and the picture "Jesse James."

The Howard had a fairly good daily audience to see Bebe Daniels in "She's a Sheik." Many claim the over-similarity of the pictures caused the drop in the box-office for the latter. Dorothy Mackail and Jack Mulhall played at the Metropolitan in "The Crystal Cup," drawing only an average crowd.

The Rialto, also, had an average week with "The Tigress," the first half and "The Wreck of the Hesperus" the last. "Nomads of the North" and "Chain Lightning" proved of usual interest in the attendance they drew to the Tudor.

Milwaukee

JUST fair was the verdict on business in the down town theatres this week. Inclement weather, including a few nights of rain and a few of snow, did its share in keeping down receipts at the various houses.

"The Chinese Parrot" at the Alhambra got a fair share of down town business, for it is said that Milwaukee audiences like mystery plays. "Figures Don't Lie" made a fairly strong bid for popularity at the Wisconsin. "Becky" at the Merrill did average business. "Woman on Trial" did not procure the results expected of it during its week's run at the Strand. "Two Arabian Knights" at the Garden was very well received and played to good houses. "The Wise Wife" at the Orpheum proved very popular.

Three of the larger outlying theatres, the Tower, the Uptown and the Modjeska reduced the price of admission from 40c to 30c. Business was not perceptibly increased by the reduction. "Rough Riders" was the feature at the Tower and Modjeska, and "Underworld" played at the Uptown. "The Life of Riley" with stage presentation made up a good bill at the Oriental and business was good. "Beau Geste" played at both the Milwaukee and Venetian and both houses enjoyed good patronage.

Des Moines

"THE CAT AND THE CANARY" playing at the Des Moines Theatre brought in very good business. At the Capitol Billie Dove in "The American Beauty" was a good attraction though the farewell week of Jimmy Ellard as master of ceremonies for the Publix stage show there was the big pull. "Way Out West," the stage show, was splendid. At the Strand, "No Place to Go" did well. Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes are both well liked. Bobby Agnew is also popular and his picture, "The College Hero," also did well for the last half of the week.

Baltimore

MOVING picture business done in Baltimore for the week beginning Monday, November 14, was good in some theatres and poor in others. No house did an exceptional business. The addition of 4,000 more seats here recently when the Stanley opened, is being felt at all the first-run houses.

At Loew's Century and Valencia theatres, with "A Gentleman of Paris" at the former, with Waner brothers and the Harry Webb entertainers, with Violet Maye, on the same bill, and "Two Arabian Knights" at the latter house, business was fair at the beginning and big at the end of the week. Each show built as the week waned.

At the New Theatre, "East Side, West Side," with George O'Brien, went over good and part of its success might be attributed to an East Side, West Side popularity contest in the Baltimore Post, a Scripps-Howard tabloid, which was run during the entire week. It was arranged for by Harry Van Hoven, publicist for the New.

"Camille" went over good at the Stanley, but this Norma Talmadge starring vehicle did not pull the crowds expected in that 4,000 seater. General comments on the picture indicated that it was too "sugary."

"Sally in Our Alley," with five acts of Keith family time, proved a good drawing card at Keith's Hippodrome, but "Hook and Ladder, No. 9," with five acts of vaudeville, including Rose's Midgets, at Whitehurst's Garden, did poor business.

"Good Time Charley," featuring Warner Oland, Helene Costello and Clyde Cook, with Vitaphone presentations, did hardly a fair business at Warner's Metropolitan. Opinions seemed to indicate that the public does not care so much for Vitaphone now that the novelty has worn off and "Good Time Charley" did not appeal, it seemed, as it was an excellent character study, such as "The First Auto," which went only fair for one week recently.

During the entire week business at the Rivoli was decidedly poor with "The Angel of Broadway," starring Leatrice Joy and Sylvia Webb and Luela Lucey, singers on the same bill. The Rivoli is the house which has felt the opening of the Stanley more than any other first-run here.

Tampa

ANOTHER good week for Tampa, with most all houses showing up with better than average business. One manager of a neighborhood house said, "All I needed was more seats at the evening show." An exceptional lineup of pictures with a pull had much to do with the increase.

"America's Sweetheart," in her latest, "My Best Girl," proved an excellent card and started the week with a bang for the Tampa, with "East Side, West Side" showing up fine for the last half. Better than average week.

"Les Miserables" gave the Victory a satisfactory week. While the receipts were not as large as some of the super-features have given this house lately, the picture did nicely.

"The Life of Riley" was well liked and gave the Strand three days of very good business. "That Model from Paris" and "The Open Range" both did well. Better than average week.

The Franklin also enjoyed a better than average week. Tom Mix, who is always a favorite, pulled good business in his "Tumbling River." "What Price Love" and "Colleen" both did average.

Minneapolis

WINTER weather, with plenty of snow, resulted in about an average week for the moving picture theatres of Minneapolis. With the exception, perhaps, of "The Cat and the Canary" at the Garrick there were no outstanding box office attractions. "The Cat and the Canary" did a splendid business at the Garrick and was held over for a second week.

Richard Dix and Mary Brian in "Shanghai Bound" did about the usual run of business for this big house. "The Forbidden Woman" drew fair crowds to the Strand, while James Oliver Curwood's "Back to God's Country" attracted the usual quota of Curwood and western fans. John Barrymore in "When a Man Loves" returned for a Street in "Painted Ponies," as Hoot almost popular again.

Olive Borden in "Pajamas" was the picture at Pantages, and undoubtedly proved a good drawing card. At the Hennepin-Orpheum "The Coward," with Warner Baxter, shared honors with a vaudeville program headed by Nick Lucas, "The Crooning Troubadour." Hoot Gibson won the audiences' approval at the Seventh street in "Painted Ponies," as Hoot almost always does.

The Metropolitan continued to show the sensation sex film, "Is Your Daughter Safe?", this time advertising it "for women only" instead of for men, as was the case the previous week. The picture pulled them in.

Business at the neighborhood houses was generally good. Pictures shown at the Lagoon, Rialto, Lyndale and Loring included "When a Man Loves," "The Four Horsemen" (by popular request), "Hula" and "Chang."

Ottawa

AMUSEMENT seekers were kept on the run in Ottawa, the Canadian Capital, during the week of November 14 because there was plenty to see and the moving picture houses stood up well under the competition from outside.

The outstanding picture was "The Big Parade" at the Imperial, where it was roadshowed but there was a capacity crowd only one night. An impression is around that this picture is "too much American." Adolph Menjou in "A Gentleman of Paris" took well at B. F. Keith's, but some of the people are beginning to wonder when they are going to see a picture with French locale in which there is something more than interior scenes. They would like more French and less studio atmosphere. "Now We're in the Air," with Beery and Hatton, flopped with a crash at the Regent Theatre.

"Back to God's Country," with Renee Adoree, at the Central Theatre, registered a good week. "What Price Glory" at the Laurier Theatre, Hull, Quebec, was again very popular and it did not suffer by comparison with "The Big Parade." The Fox feature had already been shown in Ottawa to big audiences. The Eden Theatre, Hull, was also a busy place with "Publicity Madness," although it had previously played Ottawa recently.

Oklahoma City

"MY BEST GIRL" showed at the Criterion Theatre all week to very good business. So far as could be seen no extra exploitation or advertising was done on it, with the exception of some small "teaser" ads in the daily papers.

"The Gorilla" at the Empress all week drew good crowds, especially over the week-end. Interest had been worked up in this mystery play and the box-office reaped the benefit.

"The Joy Girl" spent the week at the Liberty and was well attended. Although the newspapers did not seem to care for the plot of the picture, still there were enthusiastic reports of it from other sources . . . and again, business was good.

"The City Gone Wild" brought all of Thomas Meighan's fans to the Capitol the first half of the week. Business was about average for its four-day running. "The Forbidden Woman" finished up the week at the Capitol to fair business.

The first really cold weather of the season visited the city this week, which seemed to make business better at the theatres. No competition from legitimate houses.

Texas Oil Developments Boom Theatres

The locality around Abilene, Texas, has several theatre projects in the offing. W. H. Williams and associates will shortly begin construction on a vaudeville house to seat 800. This will be the largest theatre between Fort Worth and El Paso. A new theatre has just been opened at Fort Worth. It is the Jefferson, costing $1,000,000, seating 2,000 and one of the chain controlled by the Jefferson Amusement Company.

Nearby oil developments are said to be responsible for the theatre boom around this part of the state.

CLASSIFIED AD SECTION

RATES: 10 cents a word for each insertion, in advance except Employment Wanted, on which rate is 5 cents

Situation Wanted

MANAGER, 15 years experience, motion pictures, vaudeville. Go anywhere. A-1 references. Box 240, Motion Picture News, New York City.

PUBLICITY OR TITLE WRITING—Young man, 22, considerable newspaper experience, desires position. Box 230, Motion Picture News, New York City.

THEATRE MANAGER at liberty January 1st. Thoroughly experienced pictures, vaudeville and road shows. Publicity expert. Vocalist, community builder. If your theatre is a "dead one," let me bring it to life. Best references. Address Box 363, Marion, Ohio.

ORGANISTS and SINGERS, thoroughly trained and experienced in theatre work. Men and women now ready for good positions. Union or nonunion. Write salary, and other data. Address, Chicago Musical College, 64 E. Van Buren, Chicago.

THEATRE MANAGER desires change. Thoroughly experienced vaudeville, pictures, road shows. Young and a hustler. Can handle any proposition. Best references. Box 220, Motion Picture News, New York City.

Wanted

WANTED—Used Posters, Photos, Slides, Banners, and Accessories of all kinds. Must be in good condition. Will allow liberal credit. Theatre Poster Supply Company and Sign Exchange, 327 E. Sixth Street, Cincinnati, O.

SALESMEN wanted throughout country. This possesses future for producers. New, fast seller. Saves time, money and labor. Large commissions; prompt pay. Box 235, Motion Picture News, New York City.

WANTED used projectors. Power's 5 or 5A, or portables, as are. C. E. Metzler, P. O. Box 94, Leaf River, Illinois.

For Sale

FOR SALE: 1500 upholstered opera chairs; price $2.50 each. 1200 veneer chairs; price $1.50 each. Good serviceable condition. Can be seen on request. Box 425, Motion Picture News, New York City.

FOR SALE: Used posters, photos, slides, banners and all other kinds of accessories on any subject — features, comedies, serials, save 60 per cent. Write for price list. Theatre Poster Supply Co. & Sign Exchange, 327 East Sixth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

FOR SALE: The most beautiful 500-seat moving picture theatre in Florida. Price $8,500. Summer population 25,000. Winter population 40,000. Long lease. Finest equipment. Must sell account other business. Cash or terms. Address, Post Office Box 1348, Daytona Beach, Fla.

FOR SALE: Complete laboratory outfit lights, tank, printing press, one Duplex printer about 4 years old in the best of condition. Will guarantee to be perfect, $500; and one Moy printer in A 1 condition $200. Will guarantee also. Address 8926 Lorain Ave., Cleveland, O.

A group of four newspaper displays used in connection with exploitation for the showing of "The Lone Wolf" at first run theatres. The displays illustrate a four-column layout for Warner's Broadway, Charlotte, N. C.; a three-column ad of the Strand theatre in Birmingham; a two-column layout for the Strand in Des Moines, and a two-column display for the Vitcory theatre in Salt Lake City.

Opinions on Pictures

Pajamas

Just a Tidbit—Nothing More

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

A SLIGHT little tidbit of a story bobs up here one which serves in flashing its scenes for the moment with no effort made to make it a lasting impression. There's nothing much to it, but during its unfolding there are many among the younger set which will accept it as fairly entertaining. It doesn't demand much concentration to understand it all. The youth hops down from Canada to talk over a business deal with the heroine's father, and, after falling in love with the girl, the usual misunderstanding occurs. When the strained relationship is carried on for a sequence or two a reconciliation is effected—and thus it is brought to a finish.

The best points of the picture are its locations—much of the backgrounds having been taken in the Canadian Rockies. You can't laugh off God's vast Cathedral when it comes up and spanks you in the face. There are some amusing incidents which should interest one who is easily satisfied. And, if the attention wavers from the plot, the scenery is always pleasant on the eyes.

The film can be catalogued as adequate program fare. It has Olive Borden, who makes the most of the material — and Lawrence Gray who takes care of his assignment well enough.

Drawing Power: For program houses. Title should draw. Exploitation Angles: Feature title and tease it in every way possible. Play up Olive Borden.

THEME: Romance of wealthy girl who captures heart of youth, and, after misunderstandings, becomes reconciled to him and finds happiness.

Distributed by Fox. Length, six reels. The Cast: Olive Borden, Lawrence Gray, John J. Clark, Jerry Miley. Director J. G. Blystone.

The Gaucho

Very Good, But Not Doug's Greatest

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

IF it's correct to say that all of Doug Fairbanks' pictures are standardized, it's also correct to say that his patterns are threaded with a wider array of colors than what is usually projected from stars who promote their own film circuses. One expects ceaseless activity from the Doug, who romanticizes adventure against the most picturesque backgrounds.

"The Gaucho" lives up to the best Fairbanks traditions. It has color, dash, rhythm and movement. The play spirit is well suggested, the moods are properly balanced. So Doug bobs up as an Argentinian cowboy who jumps and skips about as agile as ever. He even becomes serious during religious interludes—a touch which seems out of place considering his customary procedure of catering entirely to one's sense of adventure. Perhaps it's the influence of "The King of Kings."

But there is sweep to it, and the glamour of the settings shrieks with romance and atmosphere. Mr. Fairbanks doesn't do things half way. His ideas become standardized on a large scale, much like Mr. Ringling's circus. One instinctively looks for freedom of action and lavishness of scene in a Fairbanks opus. And disappointment is never registered. The star trots out a definite screen personality in Lupe Valez, who portrays the "bad" influence in the romantic moods. She'll be instantly recognized as worthy of ranking position out Hollywood way. Eve Southern, an actress whose appearances have often decorated the cutting-room floor, comes forth with a finely restrained performance in her study of the picture's "good" influence.

The film has more flaws than several of Doug's larger canvases, but it is bully entertainment and is certain to score anywhere.

Drawing Power: Good. Name of star will draw them, and the fact he never makes a bad one. Exploitation Angles: Feature star and title, and exploit Argentinian cowboys. Use Spanish atmosphere, etc. Play up Lupe Valez.

THEME: Romantic drama of Argentinian cowboy who frustrates bandits after leading adventurous life himself. Becomes religious and is cured of malady.

Distributed by United Artists. Released January, 1928. Length, 12 reels. The Cast: Douglas Fairbanks, Lupe Valez, Eve Southern, Michael Vavitch, Charles Stevenes, Nigel de Brulier, Albert MacQuarrie, Gustav von Seyffertitz. Director, F. Richard Jones.

Night Life

Should Score Anywhere

(Reviewed by E. G. Johnston)

EXCELLENT portrayals of their parts by Alice Day, Johnny Harron and Eddie Gribbon, good direction and atmosphere (the Viennese beer garden sets will parch your throat), and an interesting story with a flashy ending indicate success for this Tiffany offering in practically any theatre. In addition, the casting has been particularly well done; the three mentioned above fitting their respective roles about as well as any three could.

Unless we miss our guess the final shaping-up of the story will fool the average person. If it does do this the producers have accomplished what fifty per cent fail in. As the play reels on the impression is that one of a team of magicians is a parasite on the efforts of the other, whose clever fingers turn to picking pockets, after both return to a starving country at the close of the War. The cleverer one of the two interests himself in the rehabilitation of a hungry little girl who had attempted to steal his watch and places her as a waitress in a friend's beer garden. The girl, witnessing the theft of a pendant, executed at her table, urges reform. The jealous pal taunts him and takes revenge on the girl by throwing suspicion upon her. A lively scene takes place in the apartment—the boy getting the worst of efforts to reach the authorities and confess. The surprise comes when the other finally makes the sacrifice—he having had that in mind all the time.

Drawing Power: For first class houses. Exploitation Angles: Use the names and atmosphere.

THEME: Melodrama of a pair of magicians whose war experience twists them from legitimate to crook life. One romances and it almost spells tragedy. Ending is O. K.

Distributed by Tiffany-Stahl Productions. Released, Nov. 1, 1927. Length, 6,235 feet. Cast: Alice Day, Johnny Harron, Eddie Gribbon, Walter Hiers, Lionel Braham, Kitty Barlow, Dawn O'Day, Mary Jane Irving, Audrey Sewell, Earl Metcalf, Patricia Avery, Archduke Leopold, Snitz Edwars, iVolet Palmer and Lydia Yeamans Titus. Directed by George Archainbaud. Story, by Albert Shelby Le Vino; continuity, Gertrude Orr.

A Hero For a Night

Bright and Snappy Comedy

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

OCCASIONALLY there comes along a comedy that gets away from the slapstick and knockabout stuff and advances some real humor in the way of situations, gags, hokum, or call it what you like. Such a one was Glenn Tryon's "Painting the Town," which brought him a long term contract with Universal. They said then it would be difficult to get Tryon material to match up with "Painting the Town."

Well, they have dug up material in "A Hero for a Night" for this newly-made star which matches his last vehicle, and, if anything, goes it one better. And Tryon more than lives up to all the nice things said about him following his last effort. He has the personality for this type of comedy, he is chock full of gags that add spice to the picture, and he undoubtedly has a keen sense of comedy values.

In "A Hero For A Night," Tryon is much the same type as he was in "Painting the Town." He is a fresh guy, almost to repulsion, but he makes you like it. And in connection with his taxicab he has some inventions again, which are worked by the mere pressure of a button from his driver's seat. A button is pressed and there is revealed a compartment supplied with skates, obviously to prevent walking back home. In another compartment is a veritable make-up shelf.

Tryon is ambitious to become a flyer and participate in the trans-Atlantic race, but he has no backing for the flight until the arrival at the watering resort of Samuel Sloan, wealthy manufacturer of shaving soap, and his beautiful daughter, accompanied by a male secretary and a nurse.

The secretary and the nurse are plotting to ruin the elder Sloan in the stock market at the same time as Tryon is endeavoring to win the beautiful daughter, Patsy Ruth Miller. It becomes necessary for Sloan to arrive back in New York the next morning to prevent utter financial ruin. Miss Miller enlists the services of Tryon and his aeroplane and the trio set sail. When aloft, they are apprised by Tryon of the fact that he has never before been in the air and has gained his knowledge through a correspondence course, which has not yet included how to land.

In the absence of a knowledge of navigation Tryon sets a course which carries him over Newfoundland, the Irish coast, into France, across the Balkans and into Russia, without any of the trio knowing just where they are. Eventually forced down in Russia, the title tells you they must be in the Bronx, as no one knows their language. The success of the flight saves the Sloan fortune.

Incidentally the titles are about as snappy as have been seen in a comedy for some time and add much to the effectiveness of the picture. They presume at one time, because of the number of roads beneath them, they "must be in Rhode Island." The combination of Miss Miller and Tryon is a happy one and the work of the entire cast, including the monkey, is exceptionally good.

Drawing Power: Should go exceptionally well in any type of house. Exploitation Angles: The popularity of the star and Patsy Ruth Miller; the transatlantic flight.

THEME: Comedy of small town fresh guy who by successful flight to Russia saves the fortune of wealthy soap manufacturer, who, with his daughter, accompanies him on flight.

Distributed by Universal. Released, December 18, 1927. Length, 5,711 feet. Cast: Glenn Tryon, Patsy Ruth Miller, Lloyd Whitlock, Burr McIntosh, Bob Milash, Ruth Dwyer. Director, William James Craft. Author, Harry O. Hoyt.

The Swell-Head

Pleasing Little Program Picture

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

RALPH GRAVES plays a role suiting him ideally in this tale of a moving van man turned pugilist. With a store of confident assurance, swaggering bravado and other signs of puffed-up importance to grace the part, he gives an interpretation likable and touched with quite a bit of comedy. Graves has down pat the knowing look, the wink of an eye, the flip of the hand and other gestures which are effective as traits of his character in the role of the conceited leather-pusher. Aside from the results he achieves as an actor is the sense of proportion manifested in his direction, for the picture runs along smoothly with nothing out of place.

Because he had licked a few hams in the arena, Graves thinks he is pretty good—so good, in fact, that he considers training unnecessary. It eventually comes about that this conceited chap in a bout with the champ of his division is knocked cold. It is after this defeat that he realizes he is not as good as he thought; but the ending of his fighting days brings some consolation to him as the broadcast of his fight with the champ was instrumental in curing his mother of crippled limbs. In the excitement of the fray, feeling deeply the beating her son is taking she unconsciously begins to use her legs so long idle. Of course, this is hokum right here, but it is good hokum, nevertheless.

The fighting scenes are pretty well staged, Graves being at home in the ring. You see him plunging, missing and taking dives to the canvas. In between the rounds he doles out comedy, advising his friend to bet on him, even though he is taking a drubbing. Mary Carr renders another performance in the role of the mother, Johnny Walker is excellent as the boxer's friend, and Eugenia Gilbert okay as the heroine.

Drawing Power: Excellent as program offering in neighborhood and 2d run type of house. Exploitation Angles: Bill "names" in cast. Tell 'em of Graves' work in comedies, "Blarney" and "Alias the Deacon." Publicize fact that it is prize-fighting sotry.

THEME: Story of young husky, who becomes boxer, gets conceit knocked out of him and returns to normal.

Distributed by Columbia Pictures. Released August, 1927. Length, 5,484 feet. Cast: .Ralph Graves, Eugenia Gilbert, Mary Carr, Johnny Walker, Mildred Harris, Tom Dugan. Director, Ralph Graves. Story by Robert Lord.

My Best Girl

A Typical Pickford Film—Certain to Please

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

FILMGOERS have long since abandoned the idea of trying to visualize Mary Pickford in a picture which doesn't represent her as just Mary Pickford. She knows her public — and knows that it doesn't want her to strike out in emotional pastures. That she has a strong hold on her public is proved in this latest entry—which is no great shakes as entertainment, but which is calculated to satisfy anyone free from hyper-critical complexes.

There's hokum in "My Best Girl"—the good, old sentimental kind. It isn't the least bit arty, but it has box-office written all over it—if it isn't continued at its particular theatre too long. The star portrays a tender character study of a girl whose family doesn't deserve any space in the family album. The father and mother are plain, everyday people—while the sister is a gadabout. So it is up to the heroine to prove herself a "throw-back" to some relatives who possessed poise and personality and good, old-fashioned pluck. A worker in a five-and-ten cent store, she falls in love with the new clerk, ignorant of the fact that he is the son of the owner.

There it is—and you can guess the rest. The youth must have an understanding with a girl in his own station of life—which is necessary for the dramatic conflict and contrast. And, to keep it going, it is well-gagged with humor and sentiment. The figures look genuine and the incident measures up as likely to happen.

Drawing Power: Good anywhere. Star's name is enough. Exploitation Angles: Tie ups with working girls, etc. Exploit the star and that she has typical picture.

THEME: Romantic drama of working girl who falls in love with rich youth and captures him.

Distributed by United Artists. Length, seven reels. The Cast: Mary Pickford, Charles Rogers, Sunshine Hart, Lucien Littlefield, Carmelita Geraghty, Hobart Bosworth, Evelyn Hall, Avonne Taylor, Mack Swain. Director, Sam Taylor.

The Gorilla

Mystery Thriller is Entertaining

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

THE silent version of the stage play which captured Broadway's attention a few seasons ago turns out to be an entertaining slice of celluloid. It has been treated with good attention to details, even though the action becomes inexplicable at times. There is a bit of confusion, but, in the main, it travels along smoothly enough, sending forth a collection of thrills. The photography is especially good—the opening scenes casting a deal of suspense when the shadowy form of the gorilla is seen stalking about the roofs of the city.

The idea exploits an old-time theme—that of the aged and crotchety millionaire whose sole interest in life is amassing a fortune, though he is exceptionally interested in his doughter. It develops a conflict in the home of the old man's household who are eager to cash in on his wealth. And the girl's youthful admirer is also under suspicion as willing to share the aged gentleman's shekels.

It contains much suspense and real mystery and a generous amount of shivers should race up and down the spines of the spectators. The piece is balanced between comedy and melodrama, and carries sufficient action and photographic appeal. Moreover, it is well cast with Charles Murray supplying the gags and Alice Day, Walter Pidgeon and Gaston Glass the youthful appeal. The character studies are well portrayed by Tully Marshall and Claude Gillingwater.

Drawing Power: Okay for all types of houses. Should attract through title and publicity. Exploitation Angles: Feature title and bill as clever mystery drama.

THEME: Mystery melodrama of rich man whose interest in life centers around his daughter and his wealth—and how he satisfies himself over the sincerity of his household.

Distributed by First National. Length, seven reels. The Cast: Charles Murray, Fred Kelsey, Claude Gillingwater, Tully Marshall, Walter Pidgeon, Gaston Glass, Brooks Benedict, Aggie Herring. Director, Alfred Sentell.

The Frontiersman

Borders Near the Average

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

TIM McCOY'S three previous vehicles shaped up as better Westerns than does his latest, which does not possess as good a story. It has enough action in spots but drags when that necessary attribute of the out-of-door dramas is not present; the director has not put much snap and punch into those scenes which concern the building up of the plot. Furthermore, too many of the incidents are episodical, the continuity being just about average.

After fighting a duel for a shallow woman, McCoy is commissioned by Jackson to guide his niece to her father at Fort Mimms. When they arrive at their destination they find that a horrible massacre has been perpetrated and while on their return to Jackson are captured by the bloodthirsty Indians. The latter send McCoy back to Jackson, holding the girl as a hostage. Jackson responds to their demands by marching his Tennesseeans into battle. They have a preliminary skirmish and the Indians are temporarily routed. McCoy invades their stronghold to parley but is forced to flee. Upon returning to his commander he informs him of his niece's danger from the savages. The redskins' stronghold is stormed and taken and the Indian who was about to kill the girl is overcome by McCoy's athletic ability.

Drawing Power: Fair. Exploitation Angles: Historical atmosphere and incidents, McCoy's rise as a Western star and Indian paraphernalia offer suggestions.

THEME: Scout of "Andy" Jackson, a victim of a woman's fickleness, becomes cold towards the sex. His commander's niece is captured by the Indians and both Jackson and the scout work for her release, the former leading his army successfully against the savages and the latter personally saving her from the onslaught of a brave.

Distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Released, June, 1927. Length, 4,986 feet. Cast: Tim McCoy, Claire Windsor, Tom O'Brien, Russell Simpson, Lillian Leighton, Louise Lorraine, May Foster, Chief Big Tree, Frank Hagney, John Peters. Director, Reginald Barker.

"The Girl From Everywhere"

(Sennett-Pathe—Four Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

MACK SENNETT has inaugurated the four-reel comedy with technicolor art sequences. This is the first of the series, which will be devoted largely to girls. If the balance of the series are to be patterned after this initial one, then they are to be just elaborated two-reelers. They are not built of featury story material, but rather are the slapstick variety glorified by the Sennett bathing girls, whose appearance will be the magnet to click the turnstiles.

What might be lacking in the comedy for a four-reeler is more than made up by the beauty of the tableaux, which, indeed, are beautiful. Sennett has always been more than a fair selector of feminine charm, and he surely has gathered together some beauties for these technicolor sequences.

Daphne Pollard is the featured comedienne in this one, and her grotesque makeup is funny. She is the wardrobe mistress in the motion picture studio and she cuts some real humorous capers. She is ably supported by Mack Swain, Sterling Halloway, Dot Farley, Madelaine Fields, Caroline Lombard, and, of course, the bathing girls.

For the first two reels the picture is devoted largely to the usual slapstick comedy, with an occasional flash of some of the bathing beauties as they apply at the studio for work and display their wares, upon which they wear little. Then, in the process of the making of a picture there are a series of tableaux in color, as living pictures are displayed on a vaudeville stage. There are some four or five of these tableaux before the Sennett lions become liberated and mar the proceedings at their most interesting stage. From then on it reverts back to the knockabout stuff, with the lions chasing the troupe all over the studio and Miss Pollard and the rest of the cast are, again, right in their element. The tableaux serve as a relief to the boisterous comedy and, as a whole, the series, therefore, should be attractive.

"The Magic Game"

(Bray—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THIS new comedy of the McDougall Alley Kids concerns a game of baseball on the first day of school and the various flunkings of the kids upon their return to their studies in the "little red schoolhouse." The concerted efforts of the gang prove more entertaining now than in some of their past subjects. Their best bets are "Oatmeal" and "Free Gin," colored and oriental boys, respectively. The little darky has expressive eyes.

The game of baseball is a hectic affair, some novel fielding being done by the small players. In school, their minds are very hazy. They cannot concentrate on their studies, giving the teacher wrong answers to her questions so that they all, eventually, are lined up before the blackboard wearing the ignominious dunce caps. There is a touch of Rabelaisian humor in the children's actions, and their various untactful mistakes with which they bother their teacher.

Wilcox and Wolcott directed these juvenile performers. Except for a few unwieldy titles, which miss the mark, the offering is of a quiescent sort, and, as audiences are receptive to the natural performances of children, it should go over.

"Felix the Cat in Uncle Tom's Crabbin"

(Educational—One Reel)

THE Sullivan Tomcat journeys down to Dixieland far away from the inclement weather of the north where Jack Frost holds forth. Down in the sunny Southland with its fields of cotton and fragrant atmosphere Felix thought he could rest and dream and worry no more. But, alas! The diabolical Simon Legree, his snarling whip and bloodthirsty hounds are on hand to make life miserable for the unoffending cat.

For, you see, when Felix went down South he probably unrolled the years back a bit and went to that particular locality where the name of Legree was something to be feared. Unaware of this, the cat blithely joins into the revelry of Uncle Tom and Topsy, dancing to the accompaniment of a banjo. The music arouses Legree from his slumbers, and he stalks out whip in hand ready to use it vehemently. Of course, Felix is not used to submitting to a scowl of hate, so he defies Legree and sends him into paroxysms of rage. After being chased by the mean Legree and that unworthy's whip, which has been changed into a whippet over an icy river, the cat decides that the North is his proper homeland.

This cartoon parody on "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is an appropriate release. In it you will find Uncle Tom and Topsy, Little Eva, and Felix, who, much after the fashion of Eliza, crosses the ice to escape the terrible Legree.—RAYMOND GANLY.

"Assistant Wives"

(Roach-Pathe—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

AS a consistent performer in the two-reel comedy field, Charley Chase always manages to hit up pretty well toward the top of the league. He is usually there with a pretty fair sort of vehicle, and what may be lacking in the story, Chase generally more than makes up with his comedy antics.

"Assistant Wives" is one of those wildly hilarious mixed-up farces in which Charley, as the underpaid law clerk, tries to persuade the boss that he is entitled to a raise. The raise would be granted if Charley was married, which, in reality, he is. In his anxiety to produce the wife and collect the raise he points to the waitress in the restaurant across the street and declares to the boss that is his wife.

Then Charley has to make good at once when the boss insists that they take him home to dinner at once. The waitress is bribed to go through with it, though fearful of her own burly husband. They enter Charley's apartment house and, seeing a couple emerge from an apartment, decide to take possession of it. Complications come thick and fast when Charley has to borrow a part of the dinner from his own apartment, while his wife is not looking, and then the burly husband of the waitress puts in an appearance. The boss proves of the susceptible type, and everything ends right for all but him, when both Charley and the burly husband find the waitress in the arms of the boss. There is quite a bit of good comedy and a number of humorous situations.

"The Bull Fighter"

(Sennett-Pathe—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

THIS is the wildest sort of a knockabout and slapstick comedy that is funny only as that type of comedy goes. This one is emphasized by a couple of bulls which do more than their share of knocking about. The members of the cast must have been subjects for the hospital at its conclusion.

Madeline Hurlock, Billy Bevan, Eddie Quillan and Andy Clyde are the featured players. Billy poses before the bathing beauties as a bull fighter and, eventually, has to make good, much to his own discomfiture. Madeline has run away from her rich parent, who insisted that she marry Eddie, whom she had never seen. Eddie is in a like predicament. Both are disguised as tramps. They encounter each other in the woods where all are invited to join a picnic luncheon of the bathing girls. They are routed by the sheriff and then Billy is persuaded to show his bull fighting ability, while the others look on in awe as Billy is butted about. There is the usual attempt to overcrowd the thing with humor, very little of which clicks.

"Here's Another One"

(Bray—One Reel)

A MORE intimate touch is discernible in this latest of the "Here's Another One" series. The likenesses of various cinema stars are shown in the first half with little questions as to their identity. For instance, you are asked what screen star has two famous sisters named Norma and Natalie? Of course, your acquaintance with things relating to the cinema immediately suggests the name of Constance Talmadge. The readers of the fan periodicals, who crave such information because they have a liking for things cinematical can, with pleasure, try their hands at the correct answers. Lefty Flynn, Conrad Nagel, Peggy Joyce and others are shown.

Besides movie stuff there are other questions relating to oil well derricks, cattle stampedes, a cowboy round-up and railroad tracks. The questions are neither too difficult nor too easy. —RAYMOND GANLY.

"Comrades"

(Tiffany-Technicolor—One Reel)

A PLEASANT little "color-classic" that will lend tone to any program is this single reeler from Tiffany-Stahl. It gets under way with two old men playing checkers on a table in front of a home. An argument, harsh words and an elderly woman comes flying out of the house; and then, a flashback to a pier where two youngsters, pals to the last word, are fishing. A young bully spoils the sport for one and the other vanquishes him in battle; (the youngster's flying fists and arms will get a laugh anywhere) then on to adolescence, where one wins from the other in a love-bout. The lady managed to keep peace then and in after years between the two—as in the game of checkers.—E. G. JOHNSTON.

"The Bridal of Pennacook"

(Tiffany-Technicolor—One Reel)

TECHNICOLOR lends itself particularly well to the picturization of Whittier's Indian legend which portrays the tribal ceremonies attending the betrothal of an Indian girl to one of the young braves and the dirty work indulged in by another male admirer. The latter almost makes a mess of the happy proceedings with an attempted assassination of the 'groom. Escaping the thwarted one, the girl tries to wade a river and is swept downstream with the strong current. Her mate arrives in time to save her. This is a good little number.—E. G. JOHNSTON.

"Have a Drink"

(Pathe—One Reel)

THIS is one of the Rare-Bit novelty series designed to make one thirsty—for water. It is purely pictorial and most refreshing in its scenic shots. It pictures various pools, riplets, creeks, rivers, waterfalls and even extends to a shot or two of the ocean. It is very beautiful pictorially. As the descriptive matter tells you, it is "little drops of liquid beauty gathered from far regions into one sparkling, quenching drink."—CHESTER J. SMITH

Regional News from Correspondents

Chicago

FRANK BARNES, of Carmi, has taken over the Main Theatre of that city from S. E. Pirtle. Mr. Barnes has been operating the Strand Theatre, which is now closed.

A party of Chicago film men attended the opening of Fischer's handsome new 2,500-seat Fischer Theatre at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, on Wednesday night. It is reported to be one of the finest houses in the Badger state.

Ascher Brothers have disposed of their Forest Park Theatre to A. J. Cooper, who formerly operated the Casino at La Crosse and the Butterfly in Milwaukee.

The Park Theatre, Evanston, formerly operated by Spencer & Miller, has been reopened as a straight motion picture theatre, after having been closed for some time past.

The Adelphi Theatre has been purchased by A. Sussman from Lester Retchin, who owns the Howard Theatre. Mr. Sussman has recently been connected with Great States Theatres, Inc., in Waukegan.

It is reported that Lubliner & Trinz Pantheon Theatre is going into a vaudeville policy on Saturdays and Sundays.

Marie Pierson, organist and musician, is making an extended tour, demonstrating Orchestraphone, which recently had its Chicago premier at the Eighth Street Theatre.

The F-I-L-M Get-Together Dinner, Frolic and Dance, under the auspices of the Exhibitors Association of Chicago and the Chicago Film Board of Trade, brought a representative crowd to the Stevens Hotel on the night of November 18th. The crowd danced to the music of Eddie Henschel and Dan Russo's bands until the early morning and greatly enjoyed the vaudeville acts and other features which were put on during the night. Two films particularly delighted the guests. One was furnished by Nat Wolf and the other by Clyde Eckhardt, the satire on leading figures in the local movie world being greatly appreciated. Much credit for this successful dinner and ball is due to the committees which worked so conscientiously and hard on the arrangements. The committees included Ludwig Siegel, chairman; J. D. Abramson, secretary; F. G. Schaefer, treasurer, and C. W. Eckhardt, J. Coston, S. Selig, A. Schoenstadt, F. Gilford, J. Pastor, S. Greiver, Al Sobler, H. Willard, Nat Wolf, Dave Dubin, C. Kamp, Ben Cooney and Max Balaban.

Vice-Presidents John Flinn and Elmer Pierson and General Manager Phil Reisman, of Pathe, stopped off for a conference with District Manager Maberry. The party is en route to California.

Al Steffes, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of the Northwest, and who had been attending the convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Ohio at Columbus, stopped off for a day's visit with President Jack Miller of the Exhibitors Association of Chicago.

Miss Clare Foley, secretary of the Pittsburgh Film Board of Trade; Miss Lois Mayna, secretary of the Film Board of Trade in Kansas City, and Miss Audrie Lytell, traveling film board secretary, were Chicago visitors this week.

R. L. Schmidt, who has been general manager for Great States' Kankakee Theatres, has resigned and William J. Slattery has been appointed to fill his place. Mr. Slattery will have charge of the Majestic and La Petite. Tom Sawyer, who has been manager of the latter house, has also resigned.

The Parkway Theatre on north Clark Street, which is managed by Leo Roth, will inaugurate a stage band policy this week with Eddie Roth leading the band and acting as master of ceremonies. Under the new policy the week day admission will be thirty cents with forty cents admission on Saturdays and Sundays.

W. D. Burford, who is enjoying an extended vacation, is now en route from Los Angeles to New York City, via the Panama Canal, and expects to be back at his Chi- [illegible] 8th.

Fred Sleiter, manager of Fox's Milwaukee exchange, was in Chicago last Friday and attended the F-I-L-M Dinner and Frolic at the Stevens Hotel.

J. H. MacIntyre, Pathe-DeMille representative, with headquarters in Cincinnati, was here this week for a conference with District Manager Maberry.

John Bobeng, of the Armitage Theatre, who was operated on for appendicitis, is reported to be recovering rapidly.

Work is now being rushed on the new United Artists Theatre, formerly the Apollo, and it is hoped that it will be ready for opening on December 15th. The interior of the house has been entirely rebuilt, the stage now occupying what formerly was the rear of the theatre. An up-to-date cooling and ventilating system, a big new unit organ and magnificent decorations are some of the features of the rebuilt house, which will have 1,750 seats.

It is reported that Sol Best has sold his Madison Circle Theatre, Forest Park, Illinois, to Messrs. Cushner and Rubin.

Central Penn

THE same interests that control the big Harris Amusement Corporation, of Pittsburgh, which operates a big chain of theatres in Western Pennsylvania and other states, on November 14 obtained a charter at the Pennsylvania capitol in Harrisburg for a new corporation known as the Evans City Amusement Co., of Evans, Pa. Two of the incorporators are State Senator John H. Harris, of Crafton, and his brother, Dennis A. Harris, also of Crafton, both of whom have large financial interests in the big Harris corporation.

The purposes of the corporation are "establishing, maintaining and operating a theatre or theatres." The treasurer is George Harrison, of Oakmont. The two Harrises and Eugene L. Connelly, of Pittsburgh, are the incorporators.

A Pennsylvania charter was granted on November 16 to the Triangle Enterprises, of Reading, organized for the purposes of "erecting, owning, operating or controlling a theatre, theatres and other places of amusement." The authorized capital stock is $20,000, of which $2,000 has been paid in. The shares have no par value. Miss Mae Stoffer, 1508 Center Avenue, Reading, is treasurer of the corporation, and also is one of the incorporators, owning eight shares of stock. The other incorporators are Elfie A. Samuels, 161 Willoughby Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., seven shares; and Eugene D. Whitman, 11 Academy Street, Newark, N. J., three shares.

Charles Newbaker, owner of the Strand and Standard Theatres, Steelton, lent both houses to the Steelton Post of the American Legion, on the nights of November 21 and 22. Mr. Newbaker is Sheriff-elect of Dauphin County.

The first motion picture film ever delivered by airplane in Reading, was taken there with a consignment of mail from Pitcairn, near Pittsburgh, and handed over to Manager Bob Suits, of Loew's Colonial theatre, where it was subsequently shown on the screen.

The management of the Pergola Theatre, Allentown, is sponsoring a series of four concerts by the Pioneer Band, of that city.

A Pottsville newspaper states that the Opera House, a picture theatre in Tremont, was ordered by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, at the capitol in Harrisburg, to make certain alterations to the building in order to comply with the State building regulations. The order was issued following an inspection of the theatre by George Getusky, a State inspector, and called for improving the exits and making certain alterations in the balcony. The house was closed while the improvements were being made.

The week of October 31 was devoted to a celebration in the Capitol Theatre, Scranton, of the completion of five years under control of the Commerford Amusement Company, of that city. Manager Jack Jones arranged a special de luxe program.

Announcement is made that control of the Mt. Joy Theatre, Mt. Joy, Lancaster county, has passed from Leroy Johnston to James Theros.

Bud Hissner has acquired the Blue and White Theatre, Annville, Lebanon county, from Edgar Manager, who had operated it for several years.

Extensive improvements to the theatre operated by W. F. Kneller, in Manheim, Lancaster county, have just been completed.

Announcement was made of the personnel of the official staff of the new Cameo Theatre, which was opened on November 15, in Allentown, with a formal program of dedication. The house manager is M. J. Nederostek, for a number of years assistant manager of the Lyric, Elizabeth, N. J. The organist is Ben Portnoff, formerly with the Stanley company, in Philadelphia. The other positions are filled as follows: assistant organist, Earl S. Hawk, formerly of the State Theatre, Allentown; doorman, John Their; head usher, Philip Weaver; ushers, Lehman Pleppinger and Miss Leonore Brown; treasurers, Miss Arline Davis and Miss Eleanor Ambos; house superintendent, James Hangen; projectionist, Walter Wehr; and assistant projectionist, Hugh R. Newcomb.

The Fulton Theatre, Lancaster, heretofore devoted to road shows of the legitimate type, has adopted a policy of presenting only motion picture shows and musical tales. It is under control of I. C. Mishler, who has been prominently identified with theatre and amusement [illegible] cities of Pennsylvania. Howard P. King, who was assistant manager of the Fulton under its regime as a legitimate house, has resigned his position there.

Albany

LEE LANGDON resigned last week as booker at Warner Brothers exchange in Albany, having leased the Central theatre of Herman Goodman. James Rose, who booked for Pathe for five years and was also a salesman for that exchange for an equal period, has succeeded Mr. Langdon. Abe VanDusen, who has been booking for Fox in Albany, has resigned and returns to the F.B.O. exchange. Incidentally, this latter exchange moved this week from its downtown quarters to Film Row, where it is occupying the old Bond quarters.

Jesse Kauffman, formerly with Universal in Buffalo and Albany, has embarked in business for himself in Syracuse, supplying a mat service to theatres. George Wright will probably act as southern representative and Bert Gibbons as eastern representative.

After visiting a dentist in Utica twice a week for nearly a year, William Smalley, of Cooperstown, breathed a sigh of relief this week, and will now be able to spend more time with his chain of theatres.

The Eagle in Albany was reopened on Monday of this week with Abe Stone at the helm. The house will be operated as a subsequent run one, and at a ten cent admission.

Chris Buckley is the prize football fan among the Albany exhibitors. He has seen at least one of the big contests each week this fall, and last Saturday, with his son, occupied seats in the Yale section at the Harvard-Yale game in Boston.

Charles Henschel, eastern division sales manager for Pathe's short subjects, was in Gloversville during the week, conferring with the Schine Brothers.

Masonic Hall in Hillsdale, one of four theatres owned by Ferguson and McIntyre, was burned to the ground recently, two projection machines going up in flames. The company also has houses in Anoram, Copake and Dover Plains.

Many changes have taken place in theatre ownership in this section during the last week or so. Henry H. Freeder has acquired the Park theatre in Hudson from Edwin Zincke; the Bates in Mohawk has been bought by Harkins and Murphy from H. A. Monroe; L. B. Anderson has acquired the Lyric in Bainbridge from W. D. Hunt; Clark R. Thomas has disposed of the Garden theatre in Hinesburg, Vt., to W. H. Lantman.

All of the exchanges in Albany were closed on Thanksgiving Day. Several of the exchange managers spent the day in New York city.

A. J. Gutek, the new manager of the F.B.O. exchange in Albany, is an Austrian by birth, and a graduate of Holy Cross college.

The Albany theatre in Schenectady has been closed and will not reopen this winter. Fred Freschette has been installed as manager of the Barcli.

S. E. Feld, a Pathe salesman out of Albany, blossomed forth during the past week with a brand new car, which he will use over his territory.

Max Milder resigned last week as director of buying and booking for the Schine circuit and will return to his former home in Philadelphia. George Lynch has temporarily succeeded him.

Visitors along Albany's Film Row during the week included: George Markell, of the Strand in Pittsfield; Clarence Dopp, of Johnstown and Broadalbin; Mrs. Thornton, of Saugerties; E. Davidson, of the Casino in Waterford; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McCarthy, of Fair Haven; C. D. LaPointe, of the Crandall in Chatham, and Charles Rosenzweig, of the F.B.O. forces in New York city.

Frank Learnan, of the Farley houses in Schenectady, is becoming quite collegiate these days, attending all the football games at Union College, striding along the sidelines and directing motion pictures taken of the game, and which are later shown at his theatres.

Al Seigel, who operates a film delivery service out of Albany, managed to get his pictures to many of the flooded towns along the Vermont line, but with thrilling experiences. He was marooned at Comstock one night and in reaching other places was obliged to detour for many miles.

A theatre to be known as "The Sun" will open in Binghamton about January 1, with J. Kocake in charge. The Orpheum, in Kingston, owned by Miller and Sherry, has been remodeled and will reopen soon. Nate Robbins will open his new theatre in Utica during the middle of December.

The board of arbitration met in Albany on Monday of this week, but there were but three cases up for consideration. Miss Myrtle MacMillen is the new billing clerk at the Pathe exchange.

Miss Mary Curley, formerly of the First National exchange in Albany, and James Dermody, a local Fox salesman, were married on Wednesday of this week, and after a short honeymoon will make their home in Albany.

Myer Schine, of Gloversville, was in Lima, Ohio, during the past week, in connection with the opening of the new Schine theatre in that city.

Harry Thompson and Jack Bulwinkel, of the First National exchange, made a flying trip to New York during the week and later Mr. Bulwinkel visited several of the northern Ney York houses.

Vincent Hyland, who operates a theatre in Valley Falls, was quite badly burned about the hands last week when a film caught fire.

Nate Robbins and W. H. Linton, well-known exhibitors of Utica, were in New York city during the past week. Nat Levy, Albany Universal manager, spent a portion of last week in calling on exhibitors along the main line of the Central, as far as Oneida.

The Strand, in Schenectady, had a close call from fire last week, being smoked up somewhat but saved from destruction by the fact that there was no wind. The fire destroyed two or three adjoining business blocks.

Alec Sayles, manager of the Leland, in Albany, motored to West Point, last Sunday, to witness dress parade.

W. W. Farley, of Albany, has been ill for several days but is once more back with his theatres in Schenectady. The outcome of the election in Binghamton was a sore disappointment to Mr. Farley.

Every morning, unless it rains, finds Mike Kallet, of Oneida, enjoying an hour's canter along the country roads. So far as can be learned, he is the only exhibitor in this part of the state whose hobby is horseback riding.

Junior Movies were held at Harmanus-Bleecker Hall in Albany last Saturday morning, in connection with "Good Book Week."

A petition being circulated in Lowville, asking for a special election in connection with Sunday movies, is being liberally signed these days.

At a special meeting of the Albany Film Board of Trade, held Monday afternoon, Isidor Schmertz, of New York City, manager of the Fox Albany exchange, was elected vice-president of the Board, succeeding Harry Weinberg, who recently resigned as manager of the F B O exchange in Albany, and who has returned to Omaha. A resolution was passed at Monday's meeting which will probably result in a larger attendance at all meetings of the Board from now on. Any manager absent from a meeting of the Board will be fined the sum of two dollars, and the only excuse permissible will be either sickness or presence at a home office conference.

Baltimore

THE control of the Garden, a 2,500 seater here, will go from the Whitehurst Theatrical Interests to the James L. Kernan Company, Frederick W. Schanberger, president and general manager, on Saturday night, December 3.

The Auditorium will be taken over by Edwin H. Knopf, under a two-year lease, and he will start a company, giving his first attractions there December 19.

This house was purchased recently by the Kernan Company, owners of the Maryland Auditorium theatres recently for over $1,000,000, it is said, and present plans of the Kernan Company are to change the name to The Keith in honor of B. F. Keith. The Keith-Albee vaudeville now running at the Maryland will be transferred to the Keith and the Shubert stage attractions now playing the Auditorium will be transferred to the Maryland.

The Garden may mean the loss of a first-run house to Baltimore, but there is a chance that first-run pictures may be placed on the program with Keith-Albee vaudeville.

Keith family time is now being run at the Hippodrome, three blocks away from the present Garden, with first-run pictures.

Virginia Fox, who has been in New York for several years, handling publicity, is in Baltimore now, handling the advancing of the Little Theatre being built on North Howard street near Franklin by the Motion Picture Guild. This house, which has a seating capacity of 250, is cheduled to open December 8.

A theatre and community center to cost about $25,000 is planned for Charlotte, N. C., by L. H. Asbury, 1514 East Fourth street, that city.

The Staken Building, Main street, Midland, Md., is being remodeled by Lionel Clark, Barton, Md., for a moving picture theatre.

Nixon's Academy, Hagerstown, Md., has returned to a moving picture policy. The picture policy was begun when the Myrkle-Harder Stock Company ended its season.

In an economy plan which has swept over Loew's Century and Valencia in Baltimore, the number of ushers at each house has been reduced.

The Trenton Theatre, Lynchburg, Va., is now being managed by Robert John Maddaford. Orchestra accompaniments for the pictures will continue and uniformed ushers will be placed in the house.

The engagement of John J. Payette, booking manager for the Washington, D. C., Maryland and Virginia theatres of the Stanley-Crandall Company, to Dorothy Isabelle Crandall, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Crandall, has been announced.

New York & New Jersey

LAST week these columns carried an announcement that B. S. Moss' new Madison Theatre, Myrtle and Wycoff avenues, the Ridgewood section of Brooklyn, held its premiere performance on Thursday evening, November 17. Now, something happened between the time we received the official communication and press time, for the Madison's opening was postponed just one week from the above date. However, we are informed today (November 22) by Harry Mandel and Jack Thall, of the B. S. publicity office, that the Madison will positively open Thanksgiving Day.

Sam Berman's handsome new theatre under construction at 18th avenue and 64th street, Bensonhurst, Brooklyn, is rapidly nearing completion and an official announcement of its opening date will undoubtedly make an appearance soon.

Another new house which will soon open is Pollak and Bratter's theatre at Nyack, N. Y.

The Film Salesman, an ultra-modest bulletin which serves to tell the New York City film world and others that the 110 members of Motion Picture Salesmen, Inc., are doing their very best to further the cause of film salesmen and to eliminate as far as possible the various differences which constantly arise between film boards of trade, exchange bosses, exhibitors and salesmen, due to efforts of Commonwealth Jack Goldstein came out with No. 1 of Vol. 2 this week.

Among contributors to the above were: M. Van Praag, general sales manager of the Big U New York exchange (who cheerfully admits that salesmanship is 50 per cent ability and 50 per cent state of mind); Jack Ellis, of FBO, who contributed the poem we predicted a couple weeks ago (a copy of which should be sent to all film reviewers); G. William Wolf, of Fox Film exchange, who humbly asks that salesmen give a bit of time to Saturday meetings, and a message from the editor himself which brings to light the fact that he has read the Bible.

On the back page are some interesting statistics regarding the appetites of those connected with the selling end of the industry. We won't go into details about the 7,520 plates of zoop or the half tons of feesh and ize crim—more interesting is that a substantial profit was derived from the past six affairs given by the M.P.S.

As previously stated, on November 26, another M. P. S. Ball will be given at the Commodore Hotel. Meyer Solomon and Sol Trauner are the ones in charge.

Dollinger and Unger, the former a pioneer theatre manager and the latter at one time connected with the First National, is the latest partnership to enter the lists of New York's neighborhood trade. For the nucleus of a proposed chain of small neighborhood theatres, they have taken over the Movies theatre, 3d avenue and 77th street, and from time to time will acquire others. Their booking office will be located at 1400 Broadway, New York City.

Fred Dollinger is well known among local film trade and has of late had the management of A. H. Schwartz' Rialto Theatre, Richmond Hill. He will retain his position there for the present. Gerald Unger, although away from this industry for the past two years, was at one time intimately connected with the office of H. O. Schwalbe, former First National secretary and treasurer.

You can't keep a good man down, neither can a good man dodge a title forever—so if you go into the local Pathe-DeMille exchange these days and inquire for the Assistant Manager of the New Jersey division be prepared for a greeting from Eddie Carroll, a film man long associated with the trials and tribulations of New Jersey exhibitors. In addition to the honor of having disposed of miles and miles of Associated, Pathe and now DeMille film, Mr. Carroll is a large holder of Jersey real estate and a member of the Greenbrook Country Club at Caldwell.

The Art Theatre, 7th avenue and 50th street, Brooklyn, was recently closed. M. R. Berghoffen was the exhibitor in charge.

The American Theatre, Fort Hamilton Parkway, Brooklyn, recently pursuing a policy of pictures and catering to Italian trade, also closed its doors about two weeks ago. A. R. Pardo was the lessee.

After a month's absence from New York City, "Mike" Rudin has again returned to local film circles. Mr. Rudin visited Colorado Springs while away.

Tory Cavallo will manage the new B. S. Moss Madison Theatre, according to report.

Manager Greene, formerly with the Paris Court Theatre, is now with Schwartz and Smith's Elton Theatre, Boro Park, Brooklyn.

Manager Gallagher, recently with the Harry Harris Washington Theatre, has been transferred to the Harris West End Theatre.

The Colonial Fifth Avenue Theatre, Brooklyn, is undergoing some alterations. A new front and other improvements will be added.

It is rumored that Morris Blinders will take over the new theatre under construction at Burnside and Anthony avenues, the Bronx. When completed the house will seat about 2,000 and will in all probability be called the Anthony.

The new house in Bogota, N. J., is scheduled to open within a couple of months.

The Hendryx Theatre, East New York section of Brooklyn, was recently taken over by the Armo Amusement Co. Arthur [illegible]

The Rialto Theatre, Richfield Park, N. J., has been sold to Rossassi.

The Ward Theatre, an independent enterprise on Westchester avenue, will soon be ready for business.

The United Artists Corporation have entered a team in the Motion Picture Basketball League.

The team has been practising for the last month at the High School of Commerce and claim to be fit.

The members of the team are Morton LeVoy, captain, Al Rothstein, Aldope Marx, Nick Napolitano, Frank O'Meara and Ed Keely.

Of last year's team which represented the United, the only leftovers are Morton LeVoy and Al Rothstein.

Julius Celler, general manager of the L. & S. Circuit, of which Louis Schmukler is president, wishes to announce the adding of a new theatre, the State, located on Rockaway avenue near 106th street, Richmond Hill, New York. This theatre will open on or about January 1st, 1928, with Ned Smukler as house manager. The office of the circuit is now located at 1674 Broadway, Brooklyn.

Kansas City

JACK McCURDY has been succeeded as manager of the Newman theatre, first run house of Kansas City recently acquired from Publix by Loew interests, by J. P. McCarthy, former manager of the Loew theatre in Memphis, Tenn. Mr. McCarthy has been with the Loew organization for one year, having formerly held positions with the Poli circuit for several years. Leon Robertson, formerly manager of the Royal theatre, Hutchinson, Kan., has been made manager of the Royal theatre, Kansas City, the other Publix theatre which was acquired by Loew interests in the transaction which affected the Newman.

The death of Fred Brodeur, general manager of the Kansas City branch of the Rudolph Wurlitzer Company, who died in Kansas City Thursday, was due to heart disease, according to Glenn Carbaugh, deputy coroner. Mr. Brodeur had been with the company nine years.

A plea for the good will of the public by members of the Kansas City Motion Picture Machine Operators' Union No. 170 and the Kansas Projectionists Society started in Kansas City this week with a paid advertisement in the Kansas City Star. The union is endeavoring to show that its members are trained to guard against fire hazards in the handling of films.

The Isis theatre, one of Kansas City's largest suburban theatres, which has been closed several months for redecoration and improvements, opened its doors November 19.

Ash Grove, Mo., again is confronted with the blue law menace. Charges have been filed against L. D. Metcalfe, exhibitor, by W. W. Hamlin, prosecuting attorney, who acted following the demand of a group of reformers in that town.

These changes in theatres in the Kansas City territory were announced this week: The Doris theatre, Ness City, Kan., has been leased by D. E. Dowden from T. E. Bondurant; the Strand theatre, Belle Plaine, Kan., now is under the management of George Kruas; shows are being given each Saturday night at the Electric theatre, Garfield, Kan., by the management of the State theatre, Larned, Kan.

Among the out-of-town exhibitors in the Kansas City market this week were: G. L. Rugg, Hiawatha, Kan., C. M. Pattee theatre, Lawrence, Kan.; G. L. Hooper, Orpheum, Topeka, Kan.; Walter Wallace, Orpheum, Leavenworth, Kan.

R. L. McLean, district representative for Pathe-DeMille; J. C. Jossey, vice-president of Enterprise, and J. R. Wilson, general sales manager for Educational, were Kansas City visitors this week.

James Foland, branch manager of Arctic-Nu-Air, returned to Kansas City after a motor trip through Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

R. O. Pearson, short subject [illegible] Warner of First National; "Red" Jones of Tiffany and E. C. Rhoden of the Midwest Film Exchange, Inc., were hustling for more business in the territory this week.

A. C. Nathan has been [illegible] territory to city sales for the Warner Bros. branch.

Plates at the Film Board of Trade luncheon Saturday revealed [illegible] City.

Seattle

MEMBERS of the Olympic Breakfast Club, 150 in number, were the guests last week of Manager James Q. Clemmer of the Fifth Avenue Theatre at a breakfast party served in the foyer of the theatre at 7:30 a. m. on Wednesday morning. Hermie King, master of ceremonies at the big showhouse, appeared with his orchestra and part of the current Fanchon-Marco Revue to furnish the entertainment for the early risers.

Jack McClure, special sales representative of the Cooperative Film Exchange's home office in Sau Francisco, arrived here last week and will spend a short time in this territory on key bookings for the Northwest.

Ben F. Shearer, head of the B. F. Shearer Interior Decorating Division of the National Theatre Supply Company, arrived in town last week from Chicago, where he was conferring with National officials. He made the return trip via California, where he is starting work on Warner Brothers new theatre in Hollywood.

Reports received on Film Row last week indicate that the Liberty theatre in Hardin, Montana, closed for the last few months because of a recent fire, has been reopened by the owner, J. R. Vickers. The house has been entirely renovated and remodeled since it suffered the recent damages.

Helen Scholder Perutz, well-known concert cellist, was an added attraction on a recent two-week program at the United Artists Theatre in this city.

Edwin Morris, well acquainted in local theatre circles, announced last week that he plans to open the Hippodrome Theatre in Tacoma within the near future on an entirely new downtown picture house basis. The present plans call for a two-day schedule of first run attractions, playing double-feature programs at every performance. Any seat in the house will cost just 15c, according to reports.

Jack Woody, former Northwest film man, spent a short time in this city last week in his new capacity of special representative for Hal Roach. During his stay here he conferred with sales staffs at both the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Pathe offices, relative to Roach comedy sales.

Al W. Gillis, formerly associated in this territory with the Pantages circuit, returned last week from the East and announced that he will soon announce new connections back in the local field.

Lon Brown, exhibitor of Snohomish who was recently given national publicity in the guise of "A Big Showman in a Small Town," was a visitor on Film Row last week, booking attractions for the coming weeks.

Ernest Gill, former concert master under Jan Sofer, is the new director of Manager Stefan Perutz's United Artists theatre. The orchestra has been enlarged to twenty-five pieces, and is being featured on each U. A. program.

James M. Hone, executive secretary of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Washington, who returned from the national convention recently, is busy this week making plans for the annual gathering of his organization in this city the latter part of November. Robert W. Bender, president of the state body, has already appointed his committees to take care of the business and entertainment sessions.

Frank Boedecker of the Ellen theatre and A. M. Russell of the Rialto theatre in Bozeman, Montana, were selected recently by civic officials to head the citizen committee that is erecting a $300,000 community hotel in that city. The honor extended to these two showmen is being widely commented upon in the Northwest territory.

George Pampel, director of advertising and publicity for the New Orpheum theatre, has moved into his permanent offices on the mezzanine floor of the new house, from which strategic position he directs the news policies of the vaudeville and film attractions.

South West

THE Joint Board of Arbitration of Oklahoma City, held a meeting Monday, November 28th. This makes the second meeting this month, but was considered necessary in order to finish up with the overflow of business from last meeting held the 14th.

The first regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the M.P.T.O. since the convention was held on November 28th also. Three new directors were installed at this meeting. They are: Edward Kadane, Frederick, Okla.; A. R. Bender, Cleveland, Okla., and John McGinley, Wilburton, Okla.

John P. Read, who has been managing the New and Joie Theatres at Ft. Smith, Ark., has been transferred by Publix to Colorado Springs, Colo. There he will have temporary charge of the Publix theatres. Later he is to be sent to Denver. Mr. Sauer succeeds Read at Ft. Smith.

Mrs. A. J. Fishbaugh, who has had the Dasona Theatre at Dawson, Okla., and her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Calvert, are getting ready a roadshow that will show in this territory.

M. M. Hite, formerly with the Paramount exchange here, purchased the Rialto and Royal Theatres at Clinton, Okla., this week from H. R. Bisby.

The new theatre now under construction in Rogers, Ark., by Cooper and Marshall will cost in the neighborhood of $175,000, according to reports. The theatre will be called the Victory and will open December 10th. Those who have seen it say that it is to be one of the most beautiful show houses in this territory. A specially designed electric sign and program board have been ordered.

Cooper and Marshall also have the Ritz Theatre at Baxter Springs, Kans., and Mr. Marshall has at present a theatre at Rogers called the Victory. Whether or not he will close this house when the new Victory is opened was not learned.

A distinctly military flavor was given the audience that attended a preview of "The Dress Parade" at the Capitol Theatre Thursday night at 11 o'clock. Governor Johnson, with a party of five, occupied a box and all the army officers of the city were present.

Paul Fielding, Pathe salesman, is still suffering from a sprained ankle he received ten days ago while hunting. This injury kept Mr. Fielding laid up during the convention.

Curtis Logan, who has been assisting C. E. Lindsey book at Paramount, has been raised to booker, and Lindsey has been given a place on the road selling. Pill Para, formerly with Educational, is assistant to Logan.

Malcolm Cook, who had the Rex Airdome in Capitol Hill, is assistant shipper now for Paramount.

C. E. Wagner, manager of the Griffith Amusement Theatres at Elk City, Okla., has been given the position of purchasing agent for this amusement company. This position was formerly held by H. J. Griffith, who has been ill with pneumonia. Mr. Griffith is leaving soon for southern Texas, where he will spend a couple of months recuperating.

A. J. Beck, former salesman, and C. W. Wakefield, former theatre manager, are now roadshowing a picture.

ceived word from his daughter, Miss Zenna Wagner, that she is in Kansas City hospital with a broken arm. The injury was the result of an automobile accident.

C. E. Momand, of the Momand Enterprises, which has theatres all over the state, was attacked by a thief when returning to his home recently with the day's receipts of the Savoy and Odeon Theatres at Shawnee, Okla. Mr. Momand, although sixty-seven years of age, fought off the intruder and was able to save the cash he was carrying. Cuts and bruises, though, received from the would-be thief, confined Mr. Momand to his bed for the next day or so.

St. Louis

JOHN FRANCONI, special representative in St. Louis for F.B.O., has been transferred to Kansas City in a similar capacity.

Sol J. Hankin, manager of the local Educational office, was taken to the Jewish Hospital on November 18 for treatment for a carbuncle on his neck. His condition is critical.

Workmen are repairing the studio building of the Volland Scenic Studio, Inc., 3737 Cass avenue, St. Louis, Mo., which was badly damaged by the tornado that struck the city on September 29. The four story main building is being altered and repaired while a one-story addition is being built. The improvements will cost $45,000.

H. F. Jamison, of the Pioneer Theatre, Bebee, Ark., plans the erection of a new theatre in that city. The proposed structure will be 2-story, 25 by 80 feet, and of brick and tile construction.

St. Louis film stocks closed November 19 as follows: Skouras A, $30 asked. St. Louis Amusement A, $40 asked. Both stocks are several points below the market level of a years ago.

Lieutenant Commander John Philip Sousa, distinguished bandmaster and composer, who was in St. Louis the week of November 19 to fill an engagement at Loew's State Theatre, delivered a series of lectures on modern music in four of the high schools of the city.

In St. Louis Sousa spoke at Cleveland, Beaumont, Central and Soldan high schools.

Erection of the steel work for the New Fox Theatre at Grand and Washington boulevards, St. Louis, Mo., is now under way and it is believed that the $3,500,000 structure will move forward on schedule time from now on. Three big steel derricks, towering 150 feet into the air, are handling the gigantic steel girders and trusses being used in the building.

New England

TWO members of the Boston sales staff of Film Booking Office have been promoted to managerships.

Al Gutek, who has been covering Maine, has been advanced to manager of the Albany exchange, succeeding Harry Weinberg. Gutek is succeeded on the Maine territory by Fred Brannan, formerly assistant booker at the Boston exchange.

John Lane, who has been covering Vermont and New Hampshire, succeeds Ted Jacocks as manager of the New Haven exchange. Lane is widely known in the sporting world, having formerly been secretary of the Boston Red Sox in big league baseball and identified with other sporting organizations. His successor on the Vermont and New Hampshire territory will probably not be named until traveling conditions in these states improve after the recent floods.

Gerald Swaebe of Pathe has returned from the flood districts, in which he was marooned for more than a week, with some thrilling experiences to relate. He was at Northfield, Vt., during the height of the flood and was isolated in other towns for brief intervals before he finally got back to Boston.

Dan O'Leary, who was checker at Paramount and later at Pathe, passed away at the Veterans' Hospital at Rutland, Mass., after a long illness. A military funeral was accorded him, services being held at his late home, 13 Cushing avenue, Dorchester.

Miss Caroline Jones, booker at First National, who will spend several months in Los Angeles, was presented a beautiful three-diamond bar pin of platinum at the Club Chateau by the New England Bookers, the presentation being made by Mrs. Crobett, booker of Warner Brothers, on behalf of the gathering. First National exchange also tendered Miss Jones a dinner and presented her with a beautiful beaded bag, the presentation being made by Del Bibber.

James Burns, who formerly covered Vermont for First National, has been transferred to the Montreal exchange of the same company.

Edward Connolly has resigned as a salesman at the Red Seal exchange.

William Resnick, manager of the Colonial Theatre at Andover, Mass., is recovering from a serious illness and expects to be back at his office within a week.

William Duffy, of Old Orchard and Kennebunk, Me., had his auto stolen several weeks ago. The machine was recovered through the activity of an insurance company. The car was badly damaged.

R. A. Smith, formerly booker for the Revere theatre at Revere, has been made manager of the Capitol theatre at Somerville, Mass.

William P. Gray, of the Gray-Paramount Circuit and one of the leading exhibitors of New England, accompanied by R. D. Maron, head of the Gray's Supply Co., Boston, have gone to California for a trip which is expected to consume a couple of months or more.

Michael White, of the Orpheum Theatre, Dover, N. H.; Gordon Ryder, of Springfield; Edward Charboneau and Victor Charas, of Manchester, N. H., were all visitors to Boston during the week, the first time in many months.

Miss Mildred Laurie, switchboard operator of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exchange, Boston, has returned to her desk after a serious illness.

The Crown theatre at Lowell has been sold by M. Silverblatt to F. Liberman.

Fred Sharby, who operates theatres in Keene, N. H., and other cities, has acquired the Tremont theatre at Claremont, N. H.

Sam Katz, of Wholesome Films, Boston, became a benedict on Sunday and is now on his honeymoon.

Decker's Film Transfer, which has handled much of the business in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, will shortly establish a delivery service going through to New Haven, which will serve the exchanges of Boston and New Haven.

The Opera House at Weymouth, Mass., has changed its name to the Jackson theatre.

The Olympia Theatre at South Boston, long a successful motion picture theatre, has been closed and the structure is to be torn down to make way for a department store block. Sam Lydon, owner of the theatre, plans to either purchase another theatre or erect a new one near the location of the theatre just closed.

Fox salesmen this week started on a new nine-weeks' drive.

The Capitol theatre, Everett, was again robbed, the second time in three weeks, over the week-end, but only about $150 was stolen this time. In the former break $700 was secured. Police believe both breaks were made by the same parties, who forced a window opening onto an adjoining roof and getting into the second-floor office, then forcing the safe.

Samuel Moscow, sales manager for Independent Films, Inc., who has been ill for some weeks with a nervous breakdown, is back at his desk again, although not taking up the full duties of the office as yet.

The dinner to Moe Silver, of the Mark-Stanley interests, formerly in charge in New England, will be held at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, December 1, and promises to be one of the biggest occasions of the kind in filmdom's history.

Atlanta

IN the bookers' contest inaugurated by Arthur C. Bromberg Attractions, which covered a three months' period, ending October 29, Miss Ruth Roberts, of the Atlanta exchange, won two prizes.

First prize of $50 was won by J. G. Brogie, of the New Orleans exchange.

Fuzzy Woodruff, special writer for the Atlanta Georgian and Hearst's Sunday American, dean of dramatic critics in Atlanta, and a favorite newspaperman of the South, is convalescing at his home, 136 Eighth Street, N. E., following an emergency operation for appendicitis.

Keith's Georgia drew the spotlight this week with a fitting and dignified celebration of its first anniversary. The occasion invited the participation of leading civic organizations and focused general and favorable attention on the theatre and its manager, C. Roltaire Eggleston.

With the arrival in Atlanta last Wednesday of Lee Marcus, general sales manager of F B O, the company's local branch, under C. L. Peavey, took immediate steps for active participation in the February sales campaign which has been inaugurated as a tribute to Joseph P. Kennedy, president of the company, that month marking the second anniversary.

Visitors to Atlanta's film row last week included: O. C. Lam, of the Rome Enterprises, Rome, Ga.; L. Welsch, of the Strand Theatre, Dallas, Ga.; L. B. Remy, Southern district manager for Fox; W. R. Griffin, of the Strand Theatre, Cullman, Ala.; Grover Wise, of the Strand Theatre, Winder, Ga.; and Earl M. Fain, of the E. J. Sparks Enterprise, located at Leesburg, Fla.

H. G. Ballance, manager of Paramount's Atlanta branch, spent last Wednesday in Charleston, S. C.

W. W. Anderson, manager of the Atlanta branch of Pathe, accompanied his salesman, L. J. Duncan, to Nashville, Tenn., last week.

C. S. Smith, of the Alamo Theatre, Newnan, Ga., was in Atlanta last week.

Oscar S. Oldknow, vice-president of National Theatre Supply Company, accompanied by U. T. Koch, head of the organ department of the company in the Southeast, left Thursday for a visit to National's branches at Memphis, Oklahoma City, and other points in the territory.

At its regular meeting last Tuesday, the Atlanta Joint Board of Arbitration considered 22 cases, acting on about half the number, and postponing final action on the others until its next meeting in December.

While in Atlanta on Wednesday, John W. Patton, Jr., announced plans for the opening of the Homewood, a suburb of Birmingham, Ala. The theatre is now nearing completion, and is owned by Mr. Patton and his father, John W. Patton, Sr. The opening has been set for December 19. The house will seat about 500.

On the whole, business was good in Birmingham theatres the past week. Pantages again led.

Among Birmingham visitors the past week was Montgomery Hill, district supervisor for Publix, who conferred with Resident Manager Sidney Dannenberg over progress of the new Alabama Theatre.

Walter Fenney, formerly manager of the Pantages Theatre, Portland, Oregon, has been appointed manager of the local Pantages house, effective at once.

The Theatorium, West Blocton, Ala., an entirely new theatre, replacing the one destroyed by fire in July, opened last Wednesday night and Manager T. C. Tuggle reports an enthusiastic response on the part of his local patrons.

Rush King has taken over the old Star, a colored theatre in Tuscaloosa and has renamed it the Ritz. It reopened November 21.

Bad weather has apparently begun in Birmingham, with rain almost daily.

Maurice Mitchell, representative of Pathe-Producers, visited Alabama territory the past week, as did J. W. Greenleaf, of Universal.

EMPIRE FILM VAULTS, INC.
723 Seventh Ave., N. Y. Bryant 5437-5736-2180
STORAGE OF MOTION PICTURE FILMS

Minneapolis

THE new branch office of Columbia Pictures in Minneapolis, through which that company's product will be distributed in the Northwest, in accordance with the new Columbia policy of distributing its own product throughout the country, is in charge of Ben Marcus. The temporary offices at 253 Loeb Arcade will be moved to the quarters now occupied by Universal on the fifth floor of the same building as soon as the latter company moves to its new quarters.

M. Marcus, the new Columbia manager, has been with the film industry only about five years and has a remarkable rise from poster clerk through various sale positions to his present place. He was formerly associated with Educational and more recently with F B O.

United Artists Corporation extended invitations this week to all state and Twin City officials and to all exhibitors in the Minneapolis territory to be present at a special showing. Herb Hayman, manager of the Minneapolis office of United Artists, said that if the company felt this preview was a success they would in the future preview all their new releases as they come to Minneapolis.

Harry Rathner visited Minneapolis this past week for the first time in nearly three years. He came in the interests of Sentry Safety Control, an attachment for projection machines for the prevention of fires. Mr. Rathner was formerly with the Selznick company and opened their first exchange here.

United Artists has transferred Guy Navarre, manager of the Minneapolis office to Kansas City, to be in charge of sales in that city and in St. Louis and Dallas. Mr. Herb Hayman of Chicago has taken Mr. Navarre's place in Minneapolis.

Harry Krass, formerly with Universal in Minneapolis, has joined the local Tiffany sales staff in place of P. Dana, who has returned to the East.

Minneapolis was visited recently by the following film people: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson, of St. James, Minn.; Al Peterson, International Falls, Minn.; H. B. Smoots, Little Falls, Minn.; E. L. Parsons, Springfield, Minn.; R. H. Byram, Redwood Falls, Minn., and H. J. Ludke, of St. Peter, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Darling, of Kenmare, N. D.

The Saxe Amusement Enterprises in Milwaukee will have as its advertising manager Martin Kelly, F & R's former publicity man in St. Paul.

Last week was "Managers' Week" at F. & R. houses in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and managers were given full leeway in the operation of their theatres, choosing their own films from a list of those available and arranging all the details of advertising, music, stage numbers, etc. Slides thrown on the screens the previous week advised the audiences as to what was going to happen and this stimulated interest.

For the first time in several years Sauk Rapids, Minn., will have a theatre, as a new one is to be opened there soon.

The Sunday show question is still being vigorously discussed in weekly newspapers in small Minnesota towns. A friendly attitude is being maintained, although the battle waxes hot at times.

Selfridge, N. D., is to have a motion picture theatre as J. Bernard Smith, publisher of the Selfridge Journal, has purchased equipment for the opening of a theatre.

Peter Welch has taken charge of the theatre at Letcher, S. D. The Lane, S. D., house will be under William Welch.

First National's new exchange in Minneapolis, at 1101 First Avenue, North, will be ready for occupancy on December 15th, according to Charles M. Steele, supervisor of exchanges, who has just returned to the home office from a trip to Minneapolis to make final arrangements for moving into the new quarters. The building is of modern fireproof construction, equipped with a complete sprinkler system, a fireproof vault for the records, its own private paved driveway, and with new furniture and fixtures throughout.

Cleveland

HERE are some sidelights on the recent Columbus convention:

Jim Maddox, past president of the M.P.T.O. of Ohio, and the only honorary member of the association, was called to the floor. He said that although not an exhibitor any more, he will always go out and work and fight for exhibitor rights.

Give more co-operation and get more operation, said George W. Erdman, secretary of the Cleveland Motion Picture Exhibitors Association in his fine speech of organization.

Billy Connors, exhibitor from Marion, Indiana, got a rousing hand when he said that exhibitors should agree among themselves and should bury personal greed before attacking producer distributor methods of organized procedure.

H. M. Richey, business manager of the M.P.T.O. of Michigan, was there. He boosted conventions. "If for no other reason," Ritchey said, "conventions are good because they parade the strength of the exhibitor."

Congressman James Begg of Sandusky said, among other fine things, that "from a layman's angle the best censors for any business are the people in the business themselves."

Attorney General Edward C. Turner said he "doubted about the efficacy and wisdom of state censorship of motion pictures."

John L. Clifton, head of the Department of Education of Ohio and chief of the censor bureau, said: "My door is always open and I'll always listen to what you say. Ohio censorship has come to an acute point. I have no desire other than to help the industry to secure better citizenship for the greatest number of people."

John A. Connor, general counsel of the M.P.T.O. of Ohio, without pay, graciously accepted a doubling of his present salary.

Cyrus Locher, of the Department of Commerce, speaking of the local situation regarding the Tunney-Dempsey fight pictures, said, "Laws like that breed disrespect for all laws in this country," and that "state police laws can stop objectionable exhibitions."

Toledo has issued an invitation for the next state convention. It was suggested that the annual conventions all be held in Columbus, that being the most central point of the state, but that quarterly meetings be held in different sections of the state to promote good fellowship and better understanding. This was referred to committee.

There were 112 registered exhibitors at the convention. They represented approximately 187 theatres.

Distributors were represented. Among the exchange managers noted were Gradwell L. Sears, First National; Leo Devanev, Universal; Norman Moray, Warner Brothers; Harry Charnas, Standard Film Service Co.; Mark Goldman and Charles Wiener, Tiffany-Stahl Prod; Manager Johnson of the Cincy branch of Fischer Exchange, and J. E. Beck, Pathe.

Harry G. Rees of McKeesport, Pa., has been appointed manager of the Hippodrome and Putnam theatres at Marietta, O., succeeding Edward J. Hiehle. Rees was formerly associated with the Harris Enterprises in Pittsburgh. The Hippodrome and Putnam theatres in Marion belong to a chain of picture theatres operated by the C. and M. Amusement Company, of Cambridge and Marietta.

Nat Barach, division manager for Warner Brothers, is ill. Barach has been confined to his home all week.

Sam Gorrel, who handled city sales for the Standard Film Service Company, has completed his sales campaign for Cleveland and is spending a few weeks in the Toledo territory.

"Pathe" the $100 prize winning rooster in the Northern Ohio prize rooster contest conducted by THE PRESS-Pathe and John F. Royal, manager of the Keith Palace theatre, will play a week's engagement at the Palace next week.

Mrs. Jack Flynn, wife of division manager for Metro-Goldwyn, is in a Chicago hospital recovering from a successful goiter operation.

The Astor, M. B. Horwitz' new 1500-seat neighborhood house, will open officially on Thanksgiving Day. An invitational opening will take place the preceding evening, when a special program will be offered.

Canada

J. P. GILLETTE, representing the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y., was a recent visitor in Ottawa, Ont., when he appeared before a get-together meeting of local operators and exhibitors for the purpose of discussing the use and care of moving picture film. His lecture was given in conjunction with the presentation of a two-reel educative feature. The gathering was held at B. F. Keith's Theatre, Ottawa, and there was practically 100 per cent attendance by all theatre men of Ottawa and Hull.

J. M. Franklin, popular manager of B. F. Keith's Theatre, Ottawa, made a business trip to Quebec City for the purpose of conferring with the officers and manager of the new Auditorium Theatre, Quebec, which opened recently under a policy of presenting pictures and Keith-Albee vaudeville. A. St. Denis is now the manager of the Auditorium. Mr. St. Denis was formerly president of the Canadian Division of the M. P. T. O., and previously had theatres in Montreal.

The Regent Theatre, a downtown house in Toronto owned by Famous Players, was dark during the week of November 21, following presentation of a British feature.

The Regent is destined to give way shortly to a 40-story tower office building, part of a $30,000,000 building project in Tronoto. Included in the new group of structures will be an immense theatre which will be similar to the great Paramount Theatre in New York City. William McKnight is house manager of the Regent.

Des Moines

BOWLING has been taken up in very real earnest by the men of the exchange staffs, and competition between the various teams is becoming more keen as the groups are becoming more skilled. Jimmy Shea, manager of the office of FBO, was one of the first enthusiasts of the game, and his team is now struggling to hold its own with other teams rapidly coming to the fore, while the team of Pathe is winning the real honors. Elmer Tilton, manager of First National, is also one of the strong backers of the game, and at the last meeting they were one of the teams which tied with the team of Famous Players and of Universal for second place. The team of Famous Players, made up of M. E. Anderson, booking manager; W. J. Curry, assistant booker; W. W. Sharpe, of the ad sales department, and L. M. Paumquist, ad sales manager, had heretofore been one of the "also ran." But last week six or seven of the girls of the exchange appeared at the bowling palace to cheer for their coworkers, and as a direct result of the rooting section, the Famous Players' team made a big increase in score and almost won second place last week. The team of Universal has also been one of the teams to pace well in the weekly contests, and this team runs a splendid average week after week. The team is made up of Bill McGivern, Al Yorowsky, Mervil Lee and Bert Thomas. Hugh McGivern is also a member of this team. Last week the Universal team won ten games and lost six. The team of FOB, made up of Jimmy Shea, Tim Evans, Harry Frankel and of Jimmy Wynn, manager of Educational, who always bowls with this group, played three games and won one. The big champions, as represented by Pathe, are Lawrence Miller, Keith Roy and Les Phillips. Fox Films does not have anyone to represent them in this series.

S. W. Hatch, district manager for First National, was at the Des Moines office last week. He is making a tour of the exchanges of the territory.

H. R. Dutton, president of the National Theatre Supply Company, stopped on his way from his headquarters at Chicago to the West Coast, where he is making a tour of some length, to visit the Des Moines branch.

C. C. Pettijohn, national secretary for the Film Boards, was in Omaha last week and met with several of the branch secretaries. Miss Leone Mathews, secretary of the Des Moines office, was in Omaha to meet Mr. Pettijohn, and was present at the meeting of the Omaha Film Board of Trade. The Des Moines office is now in direct charge of Miss Mathews, since Miss Audrey Lyteli, who has been acting as coach to Miss Mathews in the work of the exchange, has returned to the East.

The LeClare Theatre at Moline, Ill., which was one of the A. H. Blank-Publix houses, was sold last week. This theatre was bought by Harry Frankel, representing the Commonwealth Theatres, which have a small chain of Iowa theatres.

Miss Belle Miller, of the First National office, spent a pleasant week-end in Minneapolis last week, where she attended the Drake-Minnesota game and also visited the First National exchange there. She called at the same time as did Charles M. Steele, supervisor of exchanges, who came from the New York office, to visit the Minneapolis branch.

A. H. Blank purchased a considerable amount of new equipment for his theatres last week to replace worn-out units when he bought two new Simplex machines for the Capitol Theatre, equipped with Peerless lamps. He also purchased two new spotlights for this Des Moines house, which is under the management of Harry Watts, and also bought two more Simplex machines to be held in reserve and to be stored at the office of the National Theatre Supply Company until an emergency should arise for the use of the machines at one of the houses of the A. H. Blank-Publix chain.

The Princess Theatre at Dubuque, Ia., is now under the management of A. M. Brown.

A new theatre is to be erected at Iowa City, under the auspices of the University of Iowa, and plans are already under way for the erection of this building.

Don Charno will be at the Capitol Theatre, Des Moines, for the next two weeks as master of ceremonies, succeeding Jimmy Ellard, who goes to the Riviera at Omaha.

C. E. Carrapher has leased his theatre, The Park Theatre, at Mason City, and will spend his time in selling a newly-patented theatre screen. W. E. Umbenhour is the new manager of the Mason City Thetre.

The Liberty Theatre at Lowden, Ia., opened on October 30.

Jimmy Granger, sales manager for Fox Films, was in Omaha last week and met with several of the branch manager. Ben Reingold, manager of the Des Moines office, made the journey to Omaha to see Mr. Granger.

Frank Davidson, brother of L. E. Davidson, who has the Blank house at Sioux City, and of "Shake" Davidson, who has the Diebold house at Cedar Rapids, has been made manager of the Le Clare Theatre at Moline, Ill., which was bought by the Commonwealth Theatres Company, with headquarters at Des Moines. Mr. Davidson comes from Kansas, where all the brothers were formerly in business with their father, an old theatre man.

Mr. Miller, theatre broker in Des Moines, recently completed a deal for the transfer of ownership of the theatre at Carlyle, Ia. This theatre was previously owned by Ted Yarowsky, who is manager of the [illegible] in Des Moines, who sold to John R. Diehlman. Mr. Diehlman is an Ottumwa man and new in the theatre business.

Columbia Pictures, which has its office at Omaha, has opened up a branch in Des Moines, and Jimmy [illegible], has rented them part of their office space. The new Columbia exchange will be under the management of Meyer Stern, who comes from Omaha. Leo Wiedertz has been secured as booker. He comes from the office of First National in Des Moines.

Lawrence Wegener, who is manager of the Blank house at Fort Dodge, was in Des Moines last week on business.

Tom North, representing Tinely Films, etc., was at the Pathe exchange one day last week. He came from the Chicago office.

A meeting will be held this week to decide upon the manager for the new theatre at Waterloo, Ia., one of the Blank-Publix houses. The theatre is now nearly finished. It is to be named the Riviera.

Theatre men who recently purchased new equipment for their theatres are Bill Eddy, of the Empress Theatre at Indianola, who bought two Hertner transvertors; Mr. Morris, of the Princess at Eagle Grove, who bought Ginephor lenses. The National Theatre Supply Company, through Mr Thiele, office manager, also report these sales of new equipment to Iowa men: A new Simplex for the high school of Oskaloosa; two Peerless lamps, one screen, a generator and small equipment to the Rivoli Theatre at Oskaloosa, a new screen for the new theatre at Jefferson, which is called the State.

Milwaukee

LOUIS SIMMET and L. R. Bucholz were in at several exchanges straightening out matters of business, for Mr. Simmet sold the Rialto theatre at Nekoosa to Mr. Bucholz. Mr. Bucholz had a short time previously sold his theatre, the Armory at Abbottsford, to Crosby and Schwierske, who are also managing a theatre at Colby.

P. Peterson, manager of the Club at Niagara, was in the city on a short business trip recently.

James Purtell came in from Rio where he manages the Purtell theatre to arrange future bookings.

The Wright theatre at Wright and Fratney Streets has been taken over from C. Nelson by G. Baird.

Joseph Daly, master booker from the Fox home office, arrived in the local branch on Monday, was taken ill upon his arrival and was rushed to Trinity hospital where he underwent a minor operation. His progress is reported satisfactory.

Fred Knispel, district representative for Pathe, was in the city for a few days this week.

Francis Kadow, manager of the Mikado theatre at Manitowoc, was a recent Film Row visitor.

Sam Miller, booker for Fischer's Paramount theatres, was in the city on Sunday.

Steve Dorece, manager of the Star theatre at Racine dropped in at several of the exchanges for a brief visit recently.

Harry Perlowitz, manager of the Savoy, Milwaukee, and John Ludwig have taken over the Grand theatre at Port Washington from William Roob. Mr. Perlowitz also manages the Ozaukee at Port Washington.

Walter Rourke, manager of the Pastime theatre at Horicon, was in the city on Thursday.

G. G. Bandy of the Majestic at Rhinelander made the long trip down to Milwaukee just in time to miss the blizzard in his section of the country and to enjoy the mild weather here.

Sheboygan sent a good delegation to the local exchanges this week—R. Bollenbeck of the Majestic, Frank Cook of the Gem, and [illegible] represented their city.

Roy Tate, former assistant booker at the Chicago Fox exchange, has been placed in charge of the poster department of the Milwaukee branch.

Morris Abrams, M-G-M exploitation man, arrived from Minneapolis for a two weeks' visit in the Milwaukee exchange.

D. M. Mallory, manager of the Muscoda theatre at Muscoda, was a Film Row visitor on Wednesday.

Glen Wood, shipping clerk at Pathe, has taken over a position with Film Service.

Dan Kelliher, southeastern Wisconsin exhibitor, paid Film Row a call recently.

F. G. Sliter, manager of the local Fox exchange, spent Friday and Saturday in Chicago attending a sales conference with Clyde Eckhardt, district manager.

Wm. Loibel, manager of the [illegible], dropped in at the exchanges for a short visit.

Salt Lake City

LOUIS MARCUS, of the Louis Marcus enterprises of this territory, who returned recently from New York, represented the merchants of this city in the locality of his Capitol Theatre where a "White Way," in respect to a street lighting project was completed.

District Manager Able Davis, of the Tiffany productions, is expected to return to this city within a few days, it is reported. Office Manager E. M. Gibson is on an extended trip into Idaho.

Manager Fred Lind, of the F B O, office, is at present working in Southern Utah, and will remain for about ten days, it is stated here. Salesman Milton Cohn is still in the Montana territory and A. W. Baron is covering his Idaho section.

J. J. and Sam L. Gillette, operators of theatres at Tooelle, Gardield, Grantsville and Stockton, Utah, were conferring with exchange managers on the new productions last week.

The Thanksgiving holidays will mark the return of Harry Stern, United Artists exchange manager who is now working in Montana.

Several exhibitor visitors were in this city from Ogden, Utah, this week, including the Peery Brothers of the Egyptian and Ogden Theatres there; S. B. Steck, of the Lyceum, and Mell Stringham, of the Colonial.

It is stated here that G. S. Crawford, who formerly assisted Carl Ridgeway in operating his houses at Kimberly and Hazelton, Idaho, passed away very sudednly with an attack of pneumonia. M. F. Grimes will assist Ridgeway in the future, it is announced here.

Manager E. E. Harris, of the Salt Lake Columbia office, is still working in the Idaho branch.

Among exhibitors attending to their bookings at the local film mart this week is Earl Steele, of the Venice Theatre at Nephi, Utah, and also George Allen, of the Strand and Rialto theatres at Boise, and the Liberty, Strand and Majestic at Nampa, Idaho.

All of the Fox sales representatives are out in their territories as well as Manager Chas Walker.

Manager Clyde H. Messinger, of the Educational office here, is in the state of Idaho for a few days.

Claude Hawkes and Vete Stewart, Associated First National representatives out of the local exchange, are expected in soon from their respective territories in Montana and Southern Utah.

H. H. Milstein, local manager for Universal, left for the Idaho territory recently. Traveling Auditor W. K. Lendon is a visitor at the local branch.

Al O'Keefe, who has charge of the Pathe exchange in this city, returned a few days ago from a trip into Idaho.

Manager L. C. Wingham, of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exchange in this city, is still in Montana on a sales trip.

The president of the National Theatre Supply Company, H. A. R. Dutton, is expected to arrive at the Salt Lake City branch within a few days.

John Rugar, of the American, Egyptian and Orpheum Theatres, of Park City, Utah, was a visitor at the local National Theatre Supply Company branch this week, as was Ted Chesler, of the Princess Theatre, at Bingham.

A beautiful moving cloud effect was just purchased by Louis and Harmon Peery from the National Theatre Supply Company here, for their Egyptian Theatre at Ogden.

A. B. Madsen, of a circuit of theatres in Southern Utah, visited the National Theatre Supply Company of this city recently.

The fine, new neighborhood house, which is being built by Earl D. Smith, Manager of the local National Theatre Supply Company branch, is fast nearing completion, it is announced. The large Kilgen Organ has just arrived and will be installed very soon. It is stated that when Smith's house is completed it will be one of the most modern equipped houses in the city, having eight electrical fixtures installed; two Powers machines equipped with Peerless Reflector Arcs, and a Brenkert Dissolving Stereopticon.

The projection room was designed by Robert Worthen and O. J. Hazen, of this organization, and will be as thoroughly modern and up-to-date as it is possible to make a projection room.

This theatre will have a seating capacity of five hundred and will be equipped with Haywood-Wakefield opera chairs, as well as the latest feature in "Aisle-Lites."

M. R. Olsen, of Blufdale, Utah, is reported to be negotiating with the National Theatre Supply Company, here, for a portable projector, according to Robt. Worthen, of this office.

The Gem Theatre has just had a new three-manual organ installed, according to Assistant Manager P. C. Peterson.

South East

THE Forsyth Amusement Company, Inc., of Winston-Salem, N. C., owning and operating the Amuzu Theatre in Winston, and the Victory Theatre in Salisbury, has bought the lease on the Strand in Salisbury from the Aro Amusements, Inc., of Raleigh, N. C. This deal took effect Monday, November 14th.

A. C. Earps, formerly manager of theatres in Greensboro, N. C., for the Pryor Brothers, and more recently salesman for Educational Film Exchange out of Charlotte, has accepted a position as assistant manager of the Auditorium Theatre, Winston-Salem, N. C. The Auditorium is a Piedmont Amusement Company theatre and runs Keith vaudeville, road attractions and feature motion pictures.

The Strand Theatre, Portland, Tenn., has been reported closed.

The High School Theatre, Robbins, Tenn., has closed, due to machine being out of order.

The Gem Theatre, Monticello, Ky., has been closed on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

The Strand Theatre, Sparta, Tenn., has been destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Miles, of Eminence Theatre, Eminence, Ky., were visitors at the local exchanges last week.

A style show, by local talent, was put on last week at the Princess Theatre, Mayfield, Ky.

T. F. Rogers, of Midway Theatre, Midway, Ky., has been elected councilman of Midway.

H. A. Rohs, of Rohs Theatre, Cynthiana, Ky., has been elected Commissioner of Public Works of Cynthiana.

John Long, of Temple Theatre, Earlington, Ky., who has been confined to his home by illness for several days, is reported as greatly improved.

Miss Ananbell Ward, manager Strand and Ben Ali theatres, and secretary of the Phœnix Amusement Company, of Lexington, who has been ill for nearly a year, left last Saturday for Denver, Colo., for her health.

The infantile paralysis ban has been lifted at Owensboro, Ky.

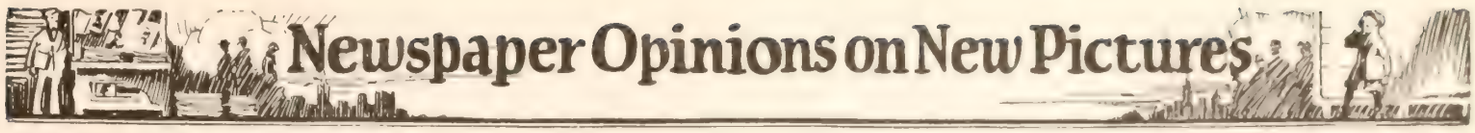
Dr. F. O. Gooch, of the Lyric Theatre, Loudon, Tenn., is confined to his home by illness.

Florida

OCALA, FLA., is soon to have a new theatre, which will seat 1,000. A contract was awarded last week by W. R. Pedreick, and work is expected to begin immediately on construction.

The theatre, according to report, is to be designed by Frederick T. Uezell, and will rank among the best of the houses of its kind in the South. Acker and Lucas will have charge of the management.

The Rialto Theatre, Jacksonville, which has been closed a week for a complete overhauling, will reopen Saturday. The Rialto, with its reopening, will raise its price of admission from ten to fifteen cents.



M. C. McNeight, director of the Palace Theatre orchestra, suffered severe injuries in an automobile accident last week, and it is feared that he will lose one eye.

The Palace Theatre, Keith vaudeville house, opened November 13, after having been closed during the summer. Jesse Clark is manager of the Palace and Bolivar Hyde, assistant manager.

This writer has received an invitation to attend the tenth annual banquet of the I. A. T. S. E. and M. P. M. O. Local No. 321, which will be held at one of the popular Spanish restaurants of West Tampa, on Monday, Nov. 21st, midnight. The local "boys" always provide a wonderful feed, excellent speakers and various stunts.

N. V. Darley, manager of the Rivoli in Ybor City, is staging a free show for his junior customers next Sunday morning. Mr. Darley has a stock of little home projecting machines that he is going to give away to his young patrons, and the show is given to demonstrate to them how to operate the machines as well as explain how they may be obtained. A comedy picture will be run, then the films that go with the projectors, and then the actual demonstration.

The committee in charge of the 1927 Tampa Community Chest drive are having a motion picture made to assist them in raising the chest fund. The picture will show, in story form, just how the many agencies, assisted by this fund, render aid to the needy.

"Back to God's Country"—Universal, Colony Theatre, New York City

American: "Renee Adoree gives sincere portrayal. Long excellent, as is Lewis. Picture boasts many beautiful location scenes. Snow-capped mountains and shimmering fields of whiteness photographed from ledges and precipices that reveal them in all their majesty. Swift-flowing rivers that lead to rough-hewn cabins huddled closely to protecting side of towering rock contribute towards making 'Back to God's Country' a place where you'd like to spend your vacation."

Daily News: "Scientifically, 'Back to God's Country' is beauteous production: histrionically it is worthy one."

Evening Journal: "Magnificently photographed backgrounds."

Sun: "Far-flung mountains, snows, all of backgrounds, in fact, picturesque and romantic."

Evening Graphic: "Good entertainment. Has advantage of able characterization."

"Two Arabian Knights"—United Artists, Paramount Theatre, New York City

Evening World: "Intelligent, subtle and very funny comedy feature, destined to enjoy very long life and happy one. Another war story, only this time fighting is left out and laughs left in. Pass through many hair-raising experiences. One feels colossal sympathy for them while one is splitting his sides laughing at their predicament."

Telegram: "Some excellent comedy. Furious pace. Result, if one may judge by the alarming convulsions of audience, is eminently successful. Comedy you could not afford to miss."

American: "As clever as its original title implies. Laugh in every twenty feet. Titles exceptionally good. Three loud Arabian cheers for Milestone and Wolheim."

Times: "Intelligent comedy. Genuinely clever comedy. Succeeds where 'Tin Hats' failed. Audience was thrown into high state of glee. A distinct element of suspense."

Telegraph: "Corking comedy. All our superlatives which have been laid away in cold storage for past few weeks, emerged again when we saw 'Two Arabian Nights.' We are still turning mental somersaults of joy. One of finest comedies that has flashed across cinema horizon since 'The Kid.' Extravagant praise, but true! Audience bellowed with laughter. We almost burst blood vessel. Box office line forms on right for this one."

Post: "Picture beautifully mounted and well photographed. Hilariously funny. Superior comedy."

World: "Should be success because it does what it sets out to do, make people laugh."

News: "Has many laughs. War burlesque getting great big hand again. Seven fat reels of giggly escapades. Bigger, better and funnier. Highly diverting."

Tribune: "Perfect comedy. Is our idea of perfect comedy, sort we would make if we were making comedies. No comments possibly could convey to reader spirit of joyousness which pervades screen. Boyd and Wolheim the funniest pair of soldiers that ever graced screen. Any one who is seriously contemplating missing 'Two Arabian Knights' is to be pitied.'

Mirror: "Boyd and Wolheim raise laughs. Good comedy. All along journey pair emerge successfully amid appreciative laughter of beholding audience. One of recent gems and that it speaks well for Director Milestone and United Artists capabilities."

Journal: "Most amusing of war comedies yet filmed. Wolheim a riot as comedian. Series of laughs. Instead of usual slapstick, this one is so delightfully handled that it's as convincing as it is funny. Gags are good."

"What Price Glory"—Fox Films, Colonial Theatre, Dayton, Ohio

News: "A duel of death and love fought on battlefields of France. Received acclaim of thousands who viewed first showing at Colonial. Picture rated as one of best ever produced."

"The Angel on Broadway"—Pathe, Colony Theatre, New York City

Post: "Offers unusually interesting movie hour to any one who cares to drop in long enough to see what is going on. Ended at right moment. In fact, when one stops to consider how very rare is such restraint on screen, it is impossible to leave 'The Angel of Broadway' without awarding to Miss Weber year's medal for heroism of highest order. Leatrice Joy does best work we have ever seen her do, and there are good performances by Victor Varconi, May Robson, Alice Lake and Elise Bartlett. Something out of the ordinary."

World: "Lois Weber, woman director of this film, has done fine piece of work. Excellent picture. . . . We certainly relish it for its entertaining values."

Herald-Tribune: "Be sure, if you wish to be amused, not to miss 'The Angel of Broadway.'"

Times: "Miss Joy is charming and she goes through her part competently."

American: "Miss Joy gives so sincere and consistent a characterization that one finds oneself completely absorbed in performance. Night club atmosphere good and director has interpolated several amusing touches, which were not lost."

"The Girl in the Pullman"—Pathe, Hippodrome Theatre, New York City

World: "Marie Prevost excellent. Probably there is no young woman on screen who can look so absolutely naughty. In doing it she brings many a chuckle. Moviegoers will get many a laugh out of manner in which it is handled."

Morning World: "Farce has speed and briskness."

American: "Marie Prevost looks prettier than ever."

"The Racing Romeo"—F B O, Hipprodrome Theatre, New York City

Morning Telegraph: "An excellent hour's entertainment."

Morning World: "A siege of automobile racing as fast and furious as those grand old pieces through which Wallace Reid rode such easy abandon. An extraordinarily febrile little movie, clean and speedy."

Mirror: "As a movie actor erstwhile football demon is considerably better than rest of his brethren, who at one time or another were lured to Hollywood . . . gridiron star photographs well . . . here is a potential movie star, as well as an actual football luminary. For a beginner, he has much more poise and natural ability than usual."

Telegram: "Grange displays pleasing personality . . . camera intuition and impression of naturalness equal to many more experienced stars in Hollywood ranks."

World: "Does as well as lots of young men whose names are well known to Hollywood. And he has advantage of active story, good direction and, for most part, excellent support. Will do well wherever name of Grange is known, and that takes in most of country. A charming little tale, handled in light, comic vein. Trixie Friganza and Hiers add materially to comedy of picture. Both excellent and very funny. It gives opportunity for picturing of thrilling automobile race."

"Dress Parade"—Pathe, Mark Strand Theatre, New York City

World: Handled in a refreshing manner. Radiates imagination, most of which doubtless was injected by Donald Crisp, director. Pays a fine attention to detail, and it is very capably enacted by Boyd, Miss Love and Hugh Allen. Boyd superb as wise-cracking small-town boy."

Graphic: "Real West Point atmosphere injected into a De Mille romance. Picture, which was made at U. S. Millitary Academy, holds its thrills in snaches of student life and interesting side lights at martial reservation which camera caught. Some splendid photography."

Daily News: "By far dressiest and all-around best West Point picture given screen to date. A spontaneous, colorful treatise on cadet life, filmed with enthusiasm, pathos and restraint. Not only those directly interested in doings up at West Point, but everybody who enjoys real worthwhile movie will be gratified by this Crisp directorial effort, filmed mostly at actual locale. Boyd lends much sympathy to role of Vic, small-town hero turned cadet."

Morning World: "One of very [illegible] which lie all about and inside ma[illegible] the Hudson. West Point forms one of panoramic delights of this country and is deserving of painstaking photographic treatment given it by new film at Strand. Remains a very worthy reproduction of what one at least will see in a visit to a spot both illustrious and inspiring."

Daily Mirror: "Boyd likable, sufficiently able and injects much energy into cadet hero. To a layman scenes of cadet life appear authentic. Whether they are or not, certainly they must be a delight to eye and a cure for jaundice. Crisp appears to have directed a consistently played, interesting light spirited picture play."

American: "Our friend [Boyd] acquits himself most creditably in this role, a distinct departure from anything he has heretofore done. * * * Picture, photographed at West Point, contains lovely locales that are part of picturesque grounds of old academy. Cadets at work and on dress parade also pictured and serve as realistic backdrop."

Sun: "Film itself far superior to usual run of college and military institutional photoplays. And, above all, it is well directed and handsomely photographed."

"The Fair Co-Ed"—Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Capitol Theatre New York City

Telegraph: "An epic of hilarity throughout, giggles, chuckles, guffaws, and all other manifestations of mirth following upon one another's heels with such rapidity that audience never quite recovers anything approaching its serious mien. Funnier than George Ade, Bill Nye and Will Rogers rolled into one. . . . In this one Marion Davies cinches her claim to title of screen's finest comedienne. Johnny Mack Brown is great."

World: "The one and only comedienne in motion pictures. Beauty, youth, grace, wit, spunk, and femininity—all these and no doubt many other of the virtues Marion Davies embraces. Miss Davies is funny. [illegible] in distinctly humorous fashion. She reflects moods instantaneously and inescapably."

Mirror: "Marion Davies clinches her hold on title as comedienne par excellence with her current performance. Is a wow, a riot, and a lot of other things simi[illegible] audience at opening with knowledge of comedy seldom seen in screen actresses. One of her pictures which you can ill afford to [illegible]."

Evening World: "Marion Davies demonstrates anew that she is [illegible] is climax. Marion Davies in title [illegible] enne that she is, film gives her [illegible] with her beauty and charm and youthful clowning, it's no wonder the Capitol is as crowded this week as a downtown express at ten minutes to nine in the morning."

Times: "Diverting and nicely staged free film translation. Marion Davies prances through part of saucy Bingham College blonde, triumphant figure in basketball game. Vivacious and attractive, her gestures and facial expressions are reminiscent of Beatrice Lillie."

News: "A mighty happy movie, Abounds with laughs, with Marion providing most of them. Little Thelma Hill, newcomer to moviedom, ought to be heard from in future because of some cute antics in this one. Also let it be said here that Brown has found his life's work in making movies."

American: "Although Miss Davies's name on marquee of theatre invariably insures capacity house, enthusiastic throng that crowded theatre yesterday surpassed any attendance record star had ever played to. Before doors of theatre were opened endless line of ticket purchasers attested once again to popularity of queen of screen comediennes. Blithe and bright and gay as its forerunners. Holds hour crammed full of laughs for you. . . . There is so much to recommend."

Graphic: "Miss Davies is exuberant youth, and she gets over her characterization in fine style. Besides giving her first-rate attraction to her credit, 'The Fair Co-ed' brings to screen John Mack Brown, handsome leading man, who is likely to find smooth riding in future cinema vehicles."

"The Forbidden Woman"—Pathe, Paramount Theatre, New York City

Morning World: "A drama containing more than ordinary quota of coherence, narrative and strength and acted by three performers who put their very best efforts into it. . . . They are Jetta Goudal, Joseph Schildkraut and Victor Varconi. More genuine dramatic interest in this modestly presented story of love in and around French foreign military outposts than is to be found in many cinema productions brought on to New York amid blare and trumpeting of excited and overzealous press-agentry. A good movie, and, as it richly deserves, will be looked upon as a success even by exhibitors."

Herald-Tribune: "Of course, any one reading story would say 'Jetta Goudal!' as soon as he had finished description of heroine. But picture could not possibly have been so fine without Schildkraut and Varconi. Story interesting from moment it opens. . . . Jetta Goudal superb."

Daily Mirror: "A praiseworthy picture, made up of strong story, skilled acting and sincere treatment. A clear-sighted and humanly possible tale. Direction by Paul Stein carries it along unfalteringly. The three principals work admirably and well together. Logical unhappy ending will not spoil your appreciation of this film. One that most movie-goers will want to see."

Sun: "DeMille works his spell. A good DeMille plot, played with typical DeMille passion and fervor. Miss Goudal especially interesting. There is no one in movies who can give effect of seething, vengeful passion with such economy of pantomime."

Telegram: "'White Gold' almost reached heights which Miss Goudal herself is pleased to call Olympian. 'The Forbidden Woman' must be listed as bit of gold paving from same street."

Daily News: "Script excellent. Elmer Harris wrote it, and he deserves credit. Has depth of story, romance, some battle action and portrayal of brotherly love. . . . Miss Goudal mysteriously beautiful."

Morning Telegraph: "Jetta Goudal, like forbidden fruit, is equally as tempting. For La Goudal, otherwise known as 'the cocktail of temperament,' is perhaps most luminous and exotic actress on screen. Joseph Schildkraut gives best performance of his career."

"The Wise Wife"—Pathe, Cameo Theatre, New York City

Journal: "Phyllis Haver is at the Cameo as 'The Wise Wife,' an amusing domestic comedy. . . . Picture well acted and consistently entertaining."

"A Harp in Hock"—Pathe, Broadway Theatre, New York City

"Ghetto setting and some really enthusiastic emoting are the high spots. Rudolph Schildkraut, playing gray-haired Irishman up at the Roxy this week, is bald Hebrew pawnbroker in this one. Elder Schildkraut great trouper, and he seems especially interested in role accorded him in 'Harp in Hock.' Junior Coghlan, cutest freckled youngster on screen today, does some dramatic work worthy of a more seasoned trouper."

American: Mr. Schildkraut is seen as money-lender and gives a sincere characterization. Junior Coghlan plays little Harp who finds his way into bookshop and its owner's heart. This boy tremendously talented and can portray bits of comedy and moments of pathos with equal ease."

"American Beauty"—First National, Washington Street Olympia Theatre, Boston

Advertiser: "Light, fluffy and not too frivolous comedy. Stay for the final flash. Well worth seeing. Story spins along amusingly. Direction blissfully smooth. Boasts marvelously amusing ending. Pleasant hour's entertainment."

Traveler: "Billie Dove more beautiful than ever. . . . Miss Dove one of most exquisite beauties on screen."

Transcript: "One scene joyful little riot. Able players."

American: "Proves lively vehicle. Billie Dove more gorgeous than ever."

Post: "Billie Dove a very luscious eyeful. . . . Love wins out again."

"The Crystal Cup"—First National, Karlton Theatre, Philadelphia

Public Ledger: "In 'The Crystal Cup' Miss Mackaill has her big chance. Her acting superb and a finished tapestry of emotionalism—about best thing she has done in many months. This team, Mackaill and Mulhall, whether portraying comedy or drama, seems to be one of the best bets for moviegoers today."

Inquirer: "Dorothy Mackaill gives competent performance and her mannish clothes and impersonations are extremely clever. Mulhall, with winning personality, well fitted for his role. Original theme and excellent direction.

Evening Ledger: "Dorothy Mackaill's mannish mode very fetching."

Record: "Players take their roles very well. Interior and exterior scenes gorgeous. Well directed."

"The Devil Dancer"—United Artists, Metropolitan Theatre, Chicago

Herald: "Something new in atmosphere, something new in dancing, something of almost every quality that goes to make good audience picture included. Picture of excellent entertainment value. Maintains swift tempo. Story interesting. Direction good."

Express: "Probably best dancing of anyone in pictures today. Gilda Gray exotically graceful, attractive with more histrionic ability. Great novelty. Story bounds along at good pace. Settings and photography exceptional."

Record: "Unusual film. Splashed with color and mysticism. She not only adds to her fame as exotic dancer, but emerges as actress who has mastered technique of screen. In this role, Miss Gray is still girl of swaying hips, rippling arms and writhing muscles. Remarkable photography makes her interpretation of religious devil dance realistic. Plot fraught with emotion and suspense."

Illustrated Daily News: "Wins audience. Get quite a thrill out of Gilda Gray's rendition of the 'Devil Dance.' Gilda a shrewd trouper. She knows just what admirers want—dancing primarily—and she gives them plenty of it. Audience seems to appreciate Gilda. Miss Gray has completely revolutionized style. More intriguing."

Times: "Picture has rare locale. Colorful background for star. Receiving large ovation upon this appearance, justifies predictions for popular appeal of her current attraction. Early scenes in temple of the llams have been very lavishly done, with huge crowds and sets while finish of picture is a brisk burst of melodrama. Elaborateness and spectacle merit approval."

Examiner: "Spirit of Orient superlatively represented in this strange, strange tale, on an even basis, managing to increase interest in very last sequence. Who is there among us who can deny public adores story of intrigue, kidnapping and love, especially when it is presented with all this glamorous atmosphere? She dances herself right into interest of her public. Her grace is innate and her sinuous movements a joy to watch. Her scenes with Clive Brook are exceptionally dramatic."

"The Harvester"—F B O, Hippodrome Theatre, New York City

Herald-Tribune: "We found 'The Harvester' and its cool, green apathy delightful change from stories about actresses, gilded cafes and rich persons. Forests, skies, waters, placid harvester himself were balm to a soul. . . . and photography in new picture is so superb that one can hear winds sighing, feel their cool breath on fevered brow and sniff scent of wild flowers as he basks in sunshine. Caldwell gives fine performance as easy-going harvester. If you have time, steal over to Hippodrome, lie on grass, bask in sunshine and hear purling brooks."

Morning Telegraph: "Natalie Kingston gives sincere performance and is most agreeable to look at. Credit also due to cameraman for lovely shots of forest and lake. 'The Harvester' will reap a reward."

Daily News: "Scenic effects lovely, and Caldwell a nice, stalwart David."

Evening Telegram: "Film has been extremely well photographed and directed in some beautiful outdoor locations. If you liked book—and there are some ten millions who did—you will enjoy celluloid translation."

Evening Graphic: "A faithful camera record of this well known story."

"My Best Girl"—United Artists, Rialto Theatre, New York City

News: "Mary Pickford gives a charming performance. By far her happiest film in a number of years. As sweet and as coy and as funny as any flappery ingenue. More of cheer than tear in this offering. Climax, however, comes close to being melodramatic. It is touching, weepable and well executed. Mary simply lovely. If you haven't been a Pickford fan before, it certainly isn't too late to start. This film warrants it."

Times: "Mary Pickford's acting delightful. Reflects sincerity and earnestness in her joy and sadness. She is as pretty as ever, a sort of Peter Pan of screen."

Herald-Tribune: "'Mary Pickford's best picture since ever so long. Miss Pickford delightful. 'My Best Girl' is Mary Pickford at her best. Give little girl a hand."

American: "'Our Mary' charms again on screen in 'My Best Girl.' Star has ready-made audience. Beautiful and charming and possesses such truly tremendous personality and these attributes are very evident in 'My Best Girl.'"

Mirror: "'My Best Girl' is Mary at best. Sort of thing she has done best and which she will continue to do best. Should bring back all old Pickford fans to fold, and undoubtedly a good many new ones."

World: "Simple, exquisite art of Mary Pickford is being expressed in her new film. Lovlier and more distinctively satisfying. What you wish to meet again. It is same youthful, exuberant, resourceful Miss Pickford whom you will see making her way through finished and deliberate plot of 'My Best Girl,' and to me a Miss Pickford whose method and whose appeal remain, as ever, among most cherished aspects of all that which is fine and legitimate and decent in cinema. You will like 'My Best Girl.' It is pure Mary Pickford."

Evening World: "Miss Pickford is charming."

Telegram: "Mary gives picture bushels of what is known as good, clean fun. You may list 'My Best Girl' as one of Miss Pickford's best pictures."

FEATURE RELEASE CHART

Productions are Listed Alphabetically and by Months in which Released in order that the Exhibitor may have a short-cut toward such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming.
(S. R. indicates State Right release.)

Refer to THE MOTION PICTURE NEWS BOOKING GUIDE for Productions Listed Prior to March

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Arizona Whirlwind, The	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	4134 feet	April 1
Beloved Rogue, The	John Barrymore	United Artists	9380 feet	Mar. 25
Birds of Prey	Priscilla Dean	Columbia Pictures	6008 feet
Blazing Days	Fred Humes	Universal	4639 feet
Blind Alleys	Meighan-Brent-Nissen	Paramount	5597 feet	Mar. 11
Broncho Twister The	T. Mix-H. Costello	Fox	5435 feet	April 1
Cabaret	G. Gray-T. Moore-C. Conklin-M.Palmer	Paramount	6947 feet	April 8
Casey at the Bat	W.Beery-S.Holloway-Z. Pitts	Paramount	6040 feet	April 15
Enchanted Island	H. B. Walthall	Tiffany	4857 feet
Evening Clothes	A. Menjou-L. Brooks-V. Valli-N. Beery	Paramount	6287 feet	April 8
Fashions for Women	E Ralston-E. Hanson-R. Hatton	Paramount	6296 feet	April 15
Fighting Love	Goudal-Varconi-Walthall	Pathe-De Mille	7019 feet	June 3
Fourth Commandment, The	B. Bennett-M. Carr-R Agnew-J. Marlowe	Universal	6863 feet	Oct. 30
Heaven on Earth	C. Nagel-R. Adoree	M-G-M	6301 feet
Hey Hey Cowboy	H. Gibson-K. Key	Universal	5378 feet	April 15
High Hat	Lyon-Brian-Hardy	First National	6190 feet	May 13
Is That Nice?	G. O'Hara-D. Hill	F. B. O.	4501 feet
Love Makes 'Em Wild	J. Harron-S. Phipps-A. Housman	Fox	5508 feet	April 29
Love of Sunya, The	Gloria Swanson	United Artists	7311 feet	Mar. 25
Man From Hardpan, The	L. Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5814 feet	Mar. 11
Moulders of Men	C. Tearle-M. Morris	F. B. O.	6442 feet	April 1
Mr. Wu	Chaney-Adoree-Forbes-Dresser	M-G-M	7603 feet	June 3
Mysterious Rider, The	J. Holt-B. Jewel	Paramount	5957 feet	Mar. 25
Mystery Club, The	M.Moore-E.Roberts	Universal	6969 feet	Oct. 16
Night Bride, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford-R. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	5736 feet	April 15
Notorious Lady, The	B. Bedford-L. Stone	First National	6040 feet	April 22
One Chance in a Million	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas	5000 feet
Orchids and Ermine	C. Moore-J. Mulhall	First National	6734 feet	May 6
Outlaw's Paradise	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pictures	4500 feet
Perch of the Devil	P. O'Malley-Busch	Universal	6807 feet	Feb. 4
Price of Honor, The	Revier-McGregor	Columbia	5936 feet
Princess from Hoboken, The	E. Burns-B. Mahaffey-E. Clayton-L. Telegen	Tiffany	5419 feet
Princess on Broadway, The	P. Garon-J. Walker-D.Dwan-H.Miller	Pathe-De Mille	5705 feet	Mar. 11
Resurrection	La Rocque-Del Rio	United Artists	9523 feet	April 1
Riders of the West	Ben Wilson	Rayart	4834 feet
Saddle Jumpers	Dick Hatton	Rayart	4482 feet
Salvation Jane	V. Dana	F. B. O.	5490 feet
Sea Tiger, The	Sills-M. Astor	First National	5623 feet	May 6
Sensation Seekers, The	B. Dove-H. Gordon	Universal	7015 feet	Jan. 28
Set Free	Art Acord	Universal	4634 feet
Slide, Kelly, Slide	W. Haines-S. O'Neil-H. Carey-K. Dane	M-G-M	7865 feet	April 1
Sonora Kid The	T. Tyler-F. Darro	F. B. O.	4565 feet	Mar. 11
Tearin' Into Trouble	W. Wales-O. Hasbrouck	Pathe-De Mille	4483 feet
Telephone Girl, The	L. Gray-H. Blinn-Bellamy-Baxter Allison	Paramount	5455 feet	May 27
Terror of the Bar X	B. Custer-R. Blaine	F B. O.	4982 feet
Venus of Venice The	C Talmadge-Moreno	First National	6324 feet	May 13
Wanted—A Coward	L. Rich-R. Frazer	Sterling Pictures	5 reels
What Every Girl Should Know	P. R. Miller-I. Keith	Warner Bros	6281 feet	June 24
When a Dog Loves	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.	4390 eet
Whispering Sage	B. Jones-N. Joyce	Fox	4783 feet	April 15
White Flannels	L. Dresser-J. Robards-V. B. Faire	Warner Bros	6820 eet	April 1
White Gold	J. Goudal-G .Bancroft-K. Thomson	Pathe-De Mille	6108 feet	Mar. 25

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Love Funny?	Alberta Vaughn	F. B. O.	4745 feet
Afraid to Love	F. Vidor-C. Brook-N. Trevor-J. Lee	Paramount	6169 feet	April 22
Arizona Bound	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	4912 feet
Backstage	Collier Jr.-Bedford-A. Vaughn-E. Percy	Tiffany	5,784 feet
Beauty Shoppers, The	M. Busch-W. Crane	Tiffany	5669 feet	July 22
Belle of Avenue A		First Division (S. R.)
Bitter Apples	M. Blue-M. Loy	Warner Bros	5463 feet	May 6
Broadway Drifter, A	G. Walsh-D. Hall	Excellent Pictures	5512 feet	April 1
Brute The	M. Blue-L. Hyams	Warner Bros.	6901 feet	April 29
Children of Divorce	Bow-Ralston-Cooper-E. Hanson	Paramount	6662 feet	May 6
Convoy	D. Mackaill-L. Gray-Collier, Jr.-L. Sherman-I. Keith	First National	7724 feet	May 20
Cyclone of the Range	Tom Tyler-E Tarron-F. Darro	F. B. O.	4818 feet	May 6
Fighting Comeback, The	B. Roosevelt-C. Horton	Pathe-De Mille	4415 feet	April 1
Frisco Sally Levy	S. O'Neil-C. Delaney-R. D'Arcy-T. Holtz	M-G-M	6900 feet	April 22
Hard Fists	Art Acord	Universal	4387 feet
Held By the Law	M. De La Motte-J. Walker	Universal	6929 feet	Mar. 25
Horse Shoes	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5668 feet	April 15
Knockout Reilly	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	7080 feet	May 6
Little Adventuress, The	V. Reynolds-V. Varconi-P. Haver	Pathe-De Mille	6200 feet
Long Pants	Harry Langdon	First National	5550 feet	April 8
Lost Limited, The	R. Howes-D. Farley	Rayart	5264 feet
Lovers?	Novarro-Terry	M-G-M	5291 feet	June 10
Madame Wants No Children	M. Corda-H. Liedtke	Fox	5415 feet	April
Matinee Ladies	McAvoy-McGregor-Hopper	Warner Bros	6352 feet	April 22
Naughty Nannette	V. Dana-Ed. Brownell	F. B. O.	5051 feet
No Control	P. Haver-H Ford	Pathe-De Mille	5573 feet
Paying the Price	M. Carr-P. Bonner-M. Bonner-D. Selman	Columbia Pictures	5558 feet	June 10
Pleasure Before Business	P.O'Malley-V.B.Faire	Columbia Pictures	5559 feet	July 17
Rambling Ranger, The	Jack Hoxie	Universal	4439 feet
Red Clay	W. Desmond-M. Day	Universal	4626 feet
Ridin' Rowdy, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4794 feet	April 22
Ritzy	B. Bronson-J. Hall	Paramount	5306 feet	July 1
Rookies	K. Dane-M. Day-G. K. Arthur-T. O'Brien	M-G-M-	6640 feet	May 6
See You in Jail	J. Mulhall-A. Day	First National	5800 feet	April 2
Senorita	B. Daniels-J. Hall-W. Powell	Paramount	6634 feet	May 20
Sinews of Steel	A. Vaughn-G. Glass	Lumas	5700 feet
Smoking Guns	Al Hoxie	Wild West Pict. (S. R.)	4500 feet
Somewhere in Sonora	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5718 feet	May 6
Special Delivery	E. Cantor-Wm. Powell-J. Ralston	Paramount	5524 feet	May 6
Spuds	L. Semon-D. Dwan	Pathe-De Mille	4930 feet	April 15
Taxi, Taxi	Horton-Nixon	Universal	7173 feet	Feb. 18
Three Hours	C. Griffith-J. Bowers	First National	5774 feet	Mar. 25
Thunderbolt's Tracks	Jack Perrin	Rayart	4846 feet
Too Many Crooks	M.Davis-G.Bancroft-L. Hughes	Paramount	5399 feet
When Seconds Count	Billy Sullivan	Rayart	4803 feet	July 1
Whirlwind of Youth, The	L. Moran-D. Keith-L. Kent	Paramount	5886 feet	June 17

MAY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
All Aboard	J. Hines-E. Murphy	First National	6300 feet	April 1
Babe Comes Home	Babe Ruth-A. Q. Nilsson-L. Fazenda	First National	5761 feet	July 8
Broadway Nights	L. Wilson-S. Hardy	First National	6765 feet	July 8
Broncho Buster, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4687 feet
California	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4912 feet	July 8
Captain Salvation	L. Hanson-G. Fawcett-P. Starke-E. Torrence-M. Day	M-G-M	7395 feet	July 8
Catch As Catch Can	Wm. Fairbanks	Lumas
Climbers The	I. Rich-F. Stanley	Warner Bros	6621 feet	May 13
Cradle Snatchers	L. Fazenda-J. F. McDonald-D. Phillips	Fox	6281 feet	June 10
Don Desperado	L.Maloney-E.Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5804 feet	May 6
Down the Stretch	Agnew-Nixon	Universal	6910 feet	April 22
Eyes of the Totem, The	W. Hawley-T. Santschi-G. Hughes-A. Cornwall	Pathe-De Mille	6128 feet	May 13
Fighting Hombre The	Bob Custer	F. B. O.	4624 feet
Grinning Guns	J. Hoxie-E. Gregory	Universal	4689 feet	May 6
Heart of Salome	A. Rubens-W. Pidgeon-H. Herbert	Fox	5617 feet	June 17
Heart of the Yukon	A.Cornwall-J.Bowers	Pathe-De Mille	6562 feet	May 27
Heart Thief, The	J. Schildkraut-L. de Putti-T. Edeson	Pathe-De Mille	6035 feet	July 1
Hills of Peril	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox	4943 feet	May 13
His First Flame	H. Langdon-R. Hiat	Pathe-De Mille	4660 feet	May 20
Irish Hearts	McAvoy-Robards	Warner Bros.	5597 feet	June 10
Is Zat So?	O'Brien-Perry-Lowe	Fox	6950 feet	May 27
Love Thrill, The	La Plante-T. Moore	Universal	5285 feet	June 17
Lost at the Front	C. Murray-C. Sidney-N. Kingston	First National	5255 feet	June 24
Lure of the Night Club, The	Viola Dana-R. Ellis	F. B. O.	5770 feet
Million Bid, A	D. Costello-W. Oland-McGregor-Blythe	Warne Bros	6310 feet	June 24
Mother	B Bennett-C. Kent-Kent-M. J. Scott	F. B O.	6934 feet	Mar. 18
No Man's Law	Rex (Horse)-T. von Eltz-B. Kent	Pathe-De Mille	6903 feet	April 29
Outlaw Dog, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.	4737 feet	April 8
Outlaws of Red River	T. Mix-M. Daw	Fox	5327 feet	May 6
Pirates of the Sky	C. Hutchinson-W Hawley	Pathe-De Mille	4828 feet	May 20
Poor Girls	D. Revier-E. Burns-R. Stonehouse	Columbia Pictures	5438 feet
Prairie King The	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5689 feet	Nov. 13
Rich But Honest	N. Nash-C. Holland-J. F. McDonald	Fox	6480 feet	May 20
Rich Men's Sons	R. Graves-S. Mason	Columbia Pictures	5854 eet	Oct. 7
Rough House Rosie	C. Bow-R. Howes-D. Gilmore	Paramount	5952 feet	June 3
She's My Baby	M. Harris-R. Agnew	Sterling Pict.	5349 feet
Silent Avenger, The	Thunder (Dog)	Lumas	5690 feet
Silver Comes Thru	F. Thomson-E. Murphy-Silver King (Horse)	F. B .O.	5476 feet	June 3

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Snowbound	B. Blythe-Agnew-L. Rich-G. Fawcett	Tiffany	5182 feet	Aug. 5
Splitting the Breeze	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.	4930 feet
Tender Hour The	Lyon-Dove-A. B. Francis-M. Love	First National	7400 feet	June 17
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Tillie the Toiler	Davies-M. Moore-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6160 feet	June 17
Tip Toes	D. Gish-W. Rogers	Paramount	6390 feet
Tracked by the Police	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros	5823 feet	May 13
Vanity	L. Joy-A. Hale-C. Ray	Pathe-De Mille	5923 feet	July 1
Wedding Bills	R. Griffith-A. Sheridan	Paramount	5869 feet	July 22
Winning Oar, The	George Walsh	Excellent Pict	5750 feet
World at Her Feet, The	Florence Vidor	Paramount	5691 feet	Aug. 26
Yankee Clipper, The	W. Boyd-E. Fair	Pathe-De Mille	7920 feet	April 15
Yours to Command	G. O'Hara-S. Palmer	F. B. O.	4734 feet

JUNE

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Avenging Fangs	Sandow (Dog)	Pathe-De Mille	4335 feet	June 3
Beware of Widows	La Plante-B. Washburn	Universal	5670 feet	May 6
Black Diamond Express, The	M. Blue-E. Murphy	Warner Bros	5803 feet
Bulldog Pluck	Bob Custer	F. B. O.	5013 feet
Callahans and the Murphys, he	S. O'Neil-M. Dressler-L. Gray-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	5875 feet	July 22
Circus Ace, The	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox	4810 feet	June 24
Claw The	Kerry-Windsor	Universal	5252 feet	June 3
Closed Gates	J. Harron-J. Novak	Sterling Pict.	5515 feet	June 3
Clown, The	D. Revier-J. Walker-W. V. Mong	Columbia Pictures	5470 feet
Code of the Cow Country, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4512 feet	July 15
Dance Magic	A. Truex-B. Lyon-P. Starke-S. Hardy	First National	6588 feet	Aug. 19
Dearie	I. Rich-Wm. Collier, Jr.-E. Murphy	Warner Bros.	5897 feet	June 24
Drums of the Desert	W. Baxter-M. Millner	Paramount	5907 feet
Fast and Furious	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal	5684 feet	July 22
Framed	M. Sills-N. Barr-N. Kingston	First National	5282 feet	July 1
Frontiersman, The	T. McCoy-C. Windsor	M-G-M	4986 feet
Good as Gold	Buck Jones	Fox	4545 feet	June 17
Hands Off	Fred Humes	Universal	4773 feet
Ladies Beware	G. O'Hara-N. Luxford	F. B. O.	4900 feet
Land Beyond Law, The	K. Maynard-D. Dwan	First National	6157 feet	July 15
Meddlin' Stranger The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	June 10
Men of Daring	Hoxie-E. Gregory-F. Ford	Universal	6159 feet	April 1
Moon of Israel	M. Corda-A. Marchal	F. B. O.	6680 feet
Mountains of Manhattan	D. Devore-C. Delaney	Lumas	5785 feet	June 3
Naughty But Nice	C. Moore-D. Reed-H. Cooley-K. McGuire	First National	6520 feet	July 22
Pals in Peril	Buffalo Bill, J.	Pathe-De Mille	4710 feet	July 15
Rolled Stockings	L. Brooks-J. Hall-R. Arlen	Paramount	6249 feet	July 29
Romantic Age, The	E. O'Brien-A. Vaughn	Columbia Pictures	5267 feet	Nov. 18
Rubber Heels	Ed. Wynn-T. Todd-C. Conklin-L. Gray	Paramount	5614 feet	July 15
Secret Studio The	O. Borden-C. Holland-M. Livingston	Fox	5870 feet	June 24
Simple Sis	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	6218 feet	June 17
Slaves of Beauty	O. Tell-H. Herbert-M. Livingston-E. Foxe	Fox	5412 feet	June 10
Sunset Derby, The	M. Astor-W. Collier Jr.-R. Lewis	First National	5000 feet	Aug. 5
Tale of a Vanishing People		Tiffany	6500 feet
Thumbs Down	C. Hale-L. Boyd	Sterling Pict.	4723 feet
Time to Love	R. Griffith-V. Veronina-W. Powell	Paramount	4926 feet	July 8
Tired Business Man, The	Hitchcock-Mehaffey-Gow and-Quimby	Tiffany	5607 feet
Trunk Mystery, The	Hutchinson-Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4334 feet	July 1
Unknown, The	L. Chaney-J. Crawford-N. Kerry	M-G-M	5517 feet	June 24
Western Rover, The	Art Acord	Universal	4404 feet
What Happened to Father	W. Oland-F. Fairbanks	Warner Bros	5567 feet	July 1

JULY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Colleen	Bellamy-MacDonald-Cohen, McNamara	Fox	5301 feet
Cruel Truth, The	H. Hopper-C. Howard	Sterling Pictures	5167 feet	Aug. 12
Devil's Saddle, The	K. Maynard-K. Collins	First National	5488 feet	Nov. 18
Fighting Three, The	J. Hoxie-Hasbrouck	Universal	4108 feet	May 9
For Ladies Only	J. Logan-J. Bowers	Columbia	5507 feet
For the Love of Mike	F. Sterling-G. Sidney-R. Lyon-C. Colbert	First National	6588 feet
Galloping Thunder	B. Custer-A. Sheridan	F. B. O.	4691 feet
Heart of Maryland, The	D. Costello-J. Robards-H. Costello	Warner Bros	5868 feet
Hero on Horseback, A	Hoot Gibson	Universal	5551 feet
His Dog	J. Schildkraut-J. Faye-R. Edeson-S. Rand	Pathe-De Mille	6788 feet	Oct. 28
Kid Sister, The	M. de la Motte-Mc-Gregor-A. Christie	Columbia	5477 feet
Ladies at Ease	P. Garon-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	5800 feet
Lady Bird, The	Compson-McGregor	First Division (S. R.)	6568 feet
Last Outlaw The	G. Cooper-B. Jewel	Paramount	6032 feet
Little Firebrand, The	E. Thornton-J. Tellegan	Pathe-De Mille	4615 feet	Dec. 12 '25
Lonesome Ladies	A. Q. Nilsson-L. Stone	First National	5718 feet	Aug. 12
Manpower	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5617 feet	Aug. 12
Married Alive	Livingston-M. Moore Tellegan-C. Adams	Fox	4557 feet
On Ze Boulevard	L. Cody-R. Adoree-R. D'Arcy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M	5671 feet	Aug. 12
Prince of Headwaiters, The	L. Stone-L. Tashman	First National	6400 feet	Aug. 26
Range Courage	Fred Humes	Universal	4388 feet
Skedaddle Gold	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4562 feet	Aug. 12
Tartuffe, the Hypocrite	E. Jannings-L. Dagover—W. Kraus	Ufa	6053 feet	Aug. 5
Ten Modern Commandments	Esther Ralston	Paramount	6497 feet	July 22
Tom's Gang	T. Tyler-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	4954 feet
Twelve Miles Out	J. Gilbert-E. Torrence-J. Crawford-B. Compson-E. Percy	M-G-M	7899 feet	Aug. 5
Two-Gun of the Tumbleweed	Leo Maloney	Pathe-De Mille	5670 feet	July 22
White Pants Willie	J. Hines-L. Hymans	First National	6409 feet	Aug. 26
Woman Who Did Not Care, The	L. Tashman-A. Rankin	Lumas	5996 feet

AUGUST

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Adam and Evil	L. Cody-A. Pringle-G. Lee	M-G-M	6667 feet	Aug. 19
After Midnight	N. Shearer-L. Gray	M-G-M	6312 feet	Aug. 26
Alias the Lone Wolf	L. Wilson-B. Lytell-W. V. Mong	Columbia	5831 feet	Oct. 7
Beau Geste	N. Beery-Colman-N. Hamilton-Forbes	Paramount	9879 feet	Sept 11
Blood Ship, The	H. Bosworth-J. Logan-R. Arlen	Columbia	6843 feet	Aug. 5
Border Blackbirds	L. Maloney-E. Gilbert	Pathe-De Mille	5326 feet	Sept. 9
Breed of Courage, The	Ranger (Dog)-J. Morgan	F. B. O.	4910 feet
Bugle Call, The	J. Coogan-H. Rawlinson-C. Windsor	M-G-M	5821 feet	Nov. 25
Bush Leaguer, The	M. Blue-Hyams	Warner Bros.	6281 feet	Sept. 9
Chain Lightning	B. Jones-D. Ellis	Fox	5333 feet
Country Doctor, The	R. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille	7500 feet	Sept. 9
Covered Wagon, The (Reissue)	Wilson-Kerrigan-Torrence	Paramount		Oct. 28
Coward, The	W. Baxter-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	5093 feet
Desired Woman, The	I. Rich-W. Russell-W. Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros.	6408 feet	Sept. 16
Eager Lips	P. Garon-B. Blythe-G. James	First Division (S. R.)	6206 feet
Face Value	J. Mower-F. Ridgeway	Sterling Pict.	4393 feet
Fighting Eagle, The	La Rocque-P Haver	Pathe-De Mille	8000 feet	Sept. 2
Fireman Save My Child	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	5399 feet	Oct. 21
Great Mail Robbery, The	T. Van Eltz-J. Morgan	F. B. O.	6507 feet
Hard Boiled Haggerty	M. Sills-M. O'Day	First National	7446 feet	Sept. 9
Hidden Aces	C. Hutchinson-A. Calhoun	Pathe-De Mille	4620 feet	Sept. 2
Hula	C. Bow-C. Brook	Paramount	5862 feet	Sept. 16
Interferin' Gent, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4864 feet	Sept. 9
Madame Pompadour	D. Gish-A. Moreno	Paramount	7180 feet	Aug. 12
Metropolis	Special Cast	Paramount	8039 feet	Mar. 18
Missing Link, The	S. Chaplin-R. Hiatt	Warner Bros.	6435 feet	May 20
Mockery	L. Chaney-R. Cortez-B. Bedford	M-G-M	5957 feet	Sept. 2
Not for Publication	R. Ince-R. Lease-J. Mendez	F. B. O.	6140 feet
Paid to Love	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-W. Powell	Fox	6888 feet	Aug. 19
Painting the Town	G. Tryon-P. R. Miller	Universal	5909 feet	July 1
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4497 feet
Poor Nut, The	J. Mulhall-J. Winton-J. Arthur-C. Murray	First National	6897 feet	July 29
Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary, The	M. Robson-H. Ford-
Return of Boston Blackie	Strongheart (Dog)-C. Palmer-P. Haver	First Division (S. R.)-Pathe-De Mille	5865 feet-5844 feet
Rose of Kildare, The	O'Malley-H. Chadwick-H. B. Walthall	Lumas	6875 feet
Rose of the Bowery	E. Murphy-J. Walker-C. Kent-M. Harris	A. C. A	5446 feet
Running Wild	W. C. Fields-M. Brian	Paramount	6368 feet	June 24
Satin Woman, The	Mrs. W. Reid	Lumas	7000 feet	Aug. 5
Say It With Diamonds	B. Compson-E. Williams	First Division (S. R.)	6041 feet
Service for Ladies	A. Menjou-K. Carver	Paramount	6170 feet	Aug. 26
Singed	B. Sweet-W. Baxter-M. McAllister	Fox	5790 feet	July 22
Smile Brother Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6 reels	Sept. 9
Soft Cushions	Douglas MacLean	Paramount	6838 feet	Sept. 2
Stolen Bride, The	B. Dove-L. Hughes	First National	7179 feet	Aug. 26
Stranded	S. Mason-Collier, Jr.	Sterling Pict.	5443 feet	Sept. 16
Swell Head, The	R. Grover-J. Walker-W. Gilbert	Columbia Pictures	5484 feet
Three's a Crowd	H. Langdon-G. McConnell	First National	5668 feet	Oct. 1
Tumbling River	T. Mix-D. Dwan	Fox	4675 feet	Aug. 26
What Price Glory (road show)	McLaglen-Del Rio-Lowe	Fox	11109 feet	Dec. 4
When a Man Loves (road show)	J. Barrymore-D. Costello-W. Oland	Warner Bros	10049 feet	Feb. 4
White Pebbles	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4485 feet	Aug. 19
Woman's Law	P. O'Malley-L. Rich	Peerless Pict (S. R.)	6000 feet
Your Wife and Mine	P. Haver-S. Holmes-B. Tennant-W. Mcdonald	Excellent Pict	5867 feet

SEPTEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Almost Human	V. Reynolds-K. Thomson-C. McDowell	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Angel of Broaway, The	L. Joy-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	6555 feet
Annie Laurie	L. Gish-N. Kerry	M-G-M	8730 feet	May 27
Back to God's Country	R. Adoree-R. Frazer	Universal	5751 feet	July 29
Barbed Wire	P. Negri-C. Brook-E. Hanson	Paramount	6951 feet
Big Parade The (road show)	Gilbert-Adoree-K. Dane-T. O'Brien	M-G-M	12550 feet	Nov. 28
Blackjack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox
Border Cavalier, The	Fred Humes	Universal	4427 feet
Born to Battle	Bill Cody	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Boy of the Streets	J. Walker-M. Bennett-B. Francisco	Rayart (S. R.)	5059 feet
Broadway Madness	M. de la Motte-D. Keith	Excellent Pict	6945 feet	Oct. 14
By Whose Hand?	R. Cortez-E. Gilbert	Columbia	5234 feet
Camille	N. Talmadge-A. B. Francis-G. Roland	First National	9692 feet	May 6

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Cancelled Debt, The	R Lease-C. Stevens	Sterling Pict	5200 feet
Cat and the Canary, The	L. La Plante-F. Stanley-C. Hale-T. Maryhall-G. Astor	Universal	7790 feet	May 20
Chang (Jungle Film)	Special Cast	Paramount	6536 feet	May 13
Clancy's Kosher Wedding	G. Sidney-M. Gordon-S. Lynn-R. Lease-W. Armstrong	F. B. O.	5701 feet	Aug. 26
Cruise of the Helion, The	E. Murphy-D. Keith-T. Santschin	Rayart (S. R.)	6089 feet	Sept. 30
Drop Kick, The	R. Barthelmess - D. Revier-B. Kent	First National	6802 feet	Sept. 30
Finnegan's Ball	B. Mehaffey-Landis	First Division Pict	6200 feet
First Auto The	B. Oldfield-P. R. Miller-R. Simpson	Warner Bros	6767 feet	July 8
Flying U Ranch, The	Tyler-N. Lane	F. B. O.	4924 feet
Foreign Devils	Tim McCoy	M-G-M
Gay Retreat, The	G. Cameron-S. Cohen-T. McNamara	Fox	5524 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Gay Paree, The	Sherman Lord-McGregor-Blythe	Tiffany-Stahl	5233 feet	Sept. 23
Girl From Rio, The	Carmel Myers	Lumas	6990 feet
In a Moment of Temptation	C. Stevens-C. Keefe-K. Guard-G. Withers	F. B. O.	6000 feet	Nov. 11
Isle of Forgotten Women	Tearle-Sebastian	Columbia
Jaws of Steel	Rin-Tin-Tin-H. Ferguson-J. Robards	Warner Bros	5569 feet	Sept. 30
Joy Girl, The	O. Borden-J. McDonald-N. Hamilton-M. Alden	Fox	6162 feet	Sept. 23
Life of Riley, The	C. Murray-G. Sidney-S. Hardy-J. Marlowe	First National	6712 feet	Sept. 16
Lightning	J. Ralston-R. Fraser-M. Livingston	Tiffany	6049 feet	Sept. 30
Lone Eagle, The	R. Keene-B. Kent	Universal	6862 feet
Lovelorn, The	Sally O'Neil	M-G-M
Loves of Carmen	Del Rio-McLaglen-D. Alvarado	Fox	8538 feet	Oct. 7
Mojave Kid, The	B. Steele-L. Gilmore	F. B. O.	4912 feet	Aug. 12
Nest, The	P. Frederick-H. Herbert-R. Dwyer	Excellent Pict	7393 feet	Oct. 14
Nevada	G. Cooper-T. Todd	Paramount	6258 feet	Oct. 28
Old San Francisco	D. Costello-C. E. Mack-W. Oland	Warner Bros	7961 feet	July 8
One Round Hogan	M. Blue-J. J. Jeffries-L. Hyams	Warner Bros	6375 feet	Oct. 7
One Woman to Another	F. Vidor-Von Eltz	Paramount	4022 feet	Sept. 30
Out All Night	R. Denny-M. Nixon	Universal	6170 feet	Oct. 7
Out of the Past	R. Frazier-M. Harris	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5701 feet
Painted Ponies	H. Gibson-E. Claire	Universal	5415 feet	Aug. 5
Prince of the Plains	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)	4134 feet
Ragtime	J. Bowers-M. de la Motte	First Division (S. R.)	6700 feet	Sept. 9
Red Raiders	K. Maynard-A. Drew	First National	6280 feet
Road to Romance, The	R. Novarro-M. Day-R. D. D'Arcy	M-G-M	6544 feet
Rush Hour, The	M. Prevost-H. Ford	Pathe-De Mille
Sailor's Sweetheart, A	L. Fazenda-C. Cook	Warner Bros	5685 feet	Oct. 14
Sally in Our Alley	S. Mason-A. B. Francis-R. Arlen	Columbia Pictures	5892 feet
Slightly Used	M. McAvoy-C. Nagel-B. Agnew	Warner Bros	6412 feet	Sept. 30
Smile, Brother, Smile	J. Mulhall-D. Mackaill	First National	6548 feet	Sept. 9
Soda Water Cowboy, The	Wally Wales	Pathe-De Mille	4546 feet	Nov. 4
Stark Love	Special Cast	Paramount	6203 feet	Mar. 11
Swim, Girl, Swim	B. Daniels-G. Ederle	Paramount	6124 feet	Sept. 16
Tell It to Sweeney	Conklin-Bancroft-Brian-Iden	Paramount	6006 feet	Oct. 28
Their Hour		Tiffany
Three Miles Up	Al Wilson-E. Clair	Universal	4041 feet	June 10
Two Girls Wanted	J. Gaynor-G. Tryon	Fox	6293 feet	Oct. 7
We're All Gamblers	Meighan-M. Millner	Paramount	5935 feet

OCTOBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
American Beauty	B. Dove-L. Hughes-V. L. Corbin	First National	6 reels	Oct. 21
Back to Liberty	G. Walsh-D. Hall-E. Breese	Excellent Pict.
Ben Hur	Novarro-McAvoy-Bronson-F. X Bushman-C. Myers	M-G-M	12000 feet	Jan. 16
Beware of Married Men	Irene Rich	Warner Bros
Blondes By Choice	Claire Windsor	Lumas	6987 feet
Body and Soul	A. Pringle-L. Barrymore-N. Kerry	M-G-M	5902 feet	Nov. 25
Boy Rider, The	Buzz Barton	F. B. O.	4858 feet	Sept. 30
Breakfast at Sunrise	C. Talmadge-D. Alvarado	First National
Broadway Kid, The (tentative)	George Jessel	Warner Bros
Celebrated Woman, A	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Cheating Cheaters	B. Compson-K. Harlan	Universal	5623 feet
Chinese Parrot, The	M. Nixon-H Bosworth	Universal	7304 feet
College Widow, The	D. Costello-Collier, Jr.	Warner Bros	6616 feet	Oct. 28
Combat	G. Walsh-G. Hulette	Pathe-De Mille	5100 feet	Nov. 11
Comrades	G. James-A. Sheridan	First Division (S. R.)
Crystal Cup, The	D. Mackaill-J. Mulhall	First National	6386 feet	Nov. 25
Death Valley	C. Nye-R. Rae-R. Wells	First Division (S. R.)	5882 feet	Aug. 12
East Side, West Side	G. O'Brien-V. Valli-J. P. McDonald	Fox	6408 feet	Nov. 4
Fair Co-ed, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M	8154 feet	Nov. 4
Figures Don't Lie	E. Ralston-R. Arlen	Paramount	5280 feet
Forbidden Woman, The	J. Goudal-V. Varconi	Pathe-De Mille	7000 feet
Gambler's Game, The	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.
Gentleman of Paris, A	A. Menjou-S. O'Hara-A. Marchall	Paramount	5927 feet	Oct. 14
Gingham Girl, The	L. Wilson-G. K. Arthur	F. B. O.	6310 feet	July 29
Girl in the Pullman	Marie Prevost	Pathe-De Mille		Nov. 18
Grandma's Boy (re-issue)	Harold Lloyd	Pathe-De Mille	4750 feet
Gun-Hand Garrison	Tex Maynard	Raycraft (S. R.)	4879 feet
Highschool Hero, The	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	Fox	5498 feet	Nov. 11
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
In Old Kentucky	J. Murray-H. Costello	M-G-M
Jake the Plumber	J. DeVarska-S. Lynn	F. B. O.	5186 feet	Nov. 4
Jazz Singer, The (Vitaphone)	Al Jolson-W. Oland-McAvoy	Warner Bros	7423 feet	Oct. 21
Jesse James	Fred Thomson	Paramount	7423 feet	Oct. 28
Les Miserables	Special Cast	Universal	7713 feet
Light in the Window, A	Walthall-P. Avery-C. Keefe	Rayart (S. R.)	5960 feet	Nov. 11
Lingerie		Tiffany
Magic Flame, The	Colman-Banky	United Artists	8300 feet	Sept. 30
No Place to Go	M. Astor-L. Hughes	First National
Now We're in the Air	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount	5798 feet
Obligin' Buckaroo, The	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	4575 feet	Nov. 11
Once and Forever	P.R.Miller-J.Harron	Tiffany-Stahl	5639 feet
Pajamas	O. Borden-L. Gray	Fox
Pretty Clothes	J. Ralston-J. Walker-G. Astor	Sterling Pict. (S. R.)	5662 feet	Nov. 4
Publicity Madness	L. Moran-E. Lowe	Fox	5893 feet
Racing Romeo, The	"Red" Grange-J. Ralston	F. B. O.	5992 feet
Ranger of the North	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.
Ride 'Em High	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille	4542 feet	Nov. 11
Ridin' Luck	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)
Rough Riders, The (general release)	F. Hopper-N. Beery-Bancroft-M. Astor-Mack-Farrell	Paramount	7 reels	April 1
Sailor Izzy Murphy	G. Jessel-A. Ferris	Warner Bros	6020 feet	Oct. 28
Seventh Heaven	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell-D. Butler-G. Brockwell	Fox	8500 feet	June 10
Shanghai Bound	R. Dix-M. Brian	Paramount	5515 feet
Shanghaied	P. R. Miller-R. Ince-G. Astor	F. B. O.	5999 feet	Aug. 26
Shootin' Irons	J. Luden-S. Blane	Paramount	5179 feet
Silk Stockings	L. La. Plante-O. Harlan-J. Harron	Universal	7 reels	Aug. 26
Silver Valley	Tom Mix	Fox	5011 feet	Oct. 14
Spring Fever	Wm. Haines-J. Crawford-G. K. Arthur	M-G-M	6705 feet	Oct. 28
Straight Shooting	Ted Wells	Universal	4251 feet	Aug. 19
Topsy and Eva	Duncan Sisters-G. Gowland-M. Daw	United Artists	7456 feet	Aug. 19
Underworld	C. Brook-E. Brent-G. Bancroft	Paramount	7453 feet	Sept. 9
Very Confidential	Madge Bellamy	Fox
Way of All Flesh, The	E. Jannings-L. Dagover-B. Bennett-P. Haver-D. Keith	Paramount	8486 feet	July 8
Wheel of Destiny, The	F. Stanley-G. Hale	Rayart (S. R.)
Wine (re-issue)	Clara Bow	Universal	7 reels
Wise Wife, The	P. Haver-T. Moore	Pathe-De Mille	5610 feet
Wolf's Trail	Dynamite (Dog)	Universal	4167 feet
Woman on Trial, The	Negri-Cortez	Paramount	5960 feet
Women's Wares	Brent-Lytell-L. Kent	Tiffany-Stahl	5614 feet	Nov. 18
Wreck of the Hesperus, The	A. Hale-V. Bradford	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels

NOVEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Arizona Wildcat, The	T. Mix-D. Sebastian	Fox
Bandit's Son, The	B. Steele-A. Sheridan	F. B. O.	4789 feet
Becky	S. O'Neil-O. Moore-G. Olmstead	M-G-M	6433 feet
Bowery Cinderella, A	P. O'Malley-G. Hulette	Excellent Pict.	6900 feet	Nov. 25
Cheer Leader, The		Lumas
City Gone Wild, The	T. Meighan	Paramount
College	B. Keaton-A. Cornwall-G. Withers	United Artists	5362 feet	Sept. 23
Discord	G. Ekman-L. Dagover	Pathe-De Mille	8586 feet	Nov. 11
Dog of the Regiment, A	Rin-Tin-Tin	Warner Bros	5003 feet	Nov. 11
Dress Parade	W. Boyd-B. Love	Pathe-De Mille	6599 feet	Nov. 11
Flying Luck	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	6400 feet	Nov. 18
Galloping Fury	H. Gibson-S. Rand	Universal	5503 feet
Garden of Allah, The	A. Terry-I. Petrovich	M-G	8200 feet	Sept. 16
Girl From Chicago, The	C. Nagel-M. Loy	Warner Bros
Good-Time Charley	W. Oland-H. Costello	Warner Bros	6302 feet	Nov. 25
Gorilla, The	C. Murray-F. Kelsey-D. Revier-T. Marshall	First National
Grass Widows		Tiffany
Gun Gospel	K. Maynard	First National
Heroes in Blue	J. Bowers-S. Rand	Rayart (S. R.)
His Foreign Wife	W. McDonald-E. Murphy	Pathe-De Mille	4890 feet
Hoof Marks	Jack Donovan	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Hook and Ladder, No. 9	D. Ellis-E. Hearne-C. Keefe	F. B. O.	5240 feet
Judgment of the Hills	V. Valli-F. Darro	F. B. O.	6481 feet	Aug. 19
Ladies Must Dress	V. Valli-L. Gray	Fox
Last Waltz, The (Ufa film)		Paramount
Let 'Er Go Gallagher	Junior Coughlan	F. B. O.
Lure of the South Seas, The		First Division (S. R.)
Main Event, The	Vera Reynolds	Pathe-De Mille	6472 feet	Nov. 11
Mile-A-Minute Love	R. Denny-B. Kent	Universal
My Friend From India	F. Pangborn	Pathe-De Mille
Night Life	A. Day-J. Harron	Tiffany-Stahl
One Glorious Scrap	Fred Humes	Universal	4172 feet
On the Stroke of Twelve	E. Torrence-J. Marlowe-D. O'Shea	Rayart (S. R.)
On Your Toes	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal
Opening Night, The	C.Windsor-J.Bowers	Columbia
Open Range	L. Chandler-B. Bronson	Paramount
Polly of the Movies	Jason Robards	First Division (S. R.)
Quality Street	M. Davies-C. Nagel	M-G-M		Nov. 18
Reno Divorce, A	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros.	5492 feet	Nov. 4
Roarin' Broncs	Buffalo Bill, Jr.	Pathe-De Mille	5 reels
Rose of the Golden West	G. Roland-M. Astor	First National		Oct. 7
She's a Sheik	B. Daniels-R. Arlen W. Powell	Paramount
Skyhigh Saunders	Al Wilson	Universal	4393 feet
Small Bachelor, The	Beranger-O. Harlan-B. Kent-C. Geraghty	Universal	6218 feet
Spotlight, The	E. Ralston	Paramount
Stage Kisses	K. Harlan-H. Chadwick	Columbia
Tea for Three	L. Cody-A. Pringle-O. Moore-D.Sebastian	M-G-M	5273 feet	Nov. 11
Temptations of a Shopgirl	B. Compson-Garon-A. Kaiz	First Division (S. R.)
Thirteenth Hour, The	Bonaparte (Dog)-J. Gadsen-L. Barrymore	M-G-M
Thirteenth Juror The	F. X. Bushman-Nilsson	Universal

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Turkish Delight	R.Schildkraut-J.Faye	Pathe-De Mille	6 reels
Two Arabian Knights	W. Boyd-M. Astor-L. Wolheim-I. Keith	United Artists	8250 feet	Nov. 4
Uncle Tom's Cabin	Special Cast	Universal		Nov. 18
Very Confidential	M. Bellamy	Fox
Wanderer of the Rest, A	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)
Web of Fate	Lillian Rich	Peerless Pict. (S. R.)	5800 feet
Wild Beauty	Rex (Horse)-J. Marlowe	Universal	5192 feet
Wild Geese	B. Bennett-A. Stewart-D. Keith-J. Robards	Tiffany-Stahl
Wolf Fangs	Thunder (Dog)-C. Morton-C. Lincoln	Fox

DECEMBER

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Aflame in the Sky	S. Lynn-J. Luden	F. B. O.	6034 feet	Nov. 11
Almost Human	V. Reynolds	Pathe-De Mille
Blue Danube, The	L. Joy-R. LaRocque-J. Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille
Brass Knuckles	M. Blue-B. Bronson	Warner Bros
Bridal Night, The	Norma Shearer	M-G-M
Buttons	Coogan-Hanson-Olmstead	M-G-M
Desert Dust	Ted Wells	Universal	4349 feet
Desert Pirate, The	T. Tyler-D. Thompson	F. B. O.
Fangs of Destiny	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb	Universal	4295 feet
Five and Ten Cent Annie	Louise Fazenda	Warner Bros
Fruit of Divorce	P. Marmont-M. Busch	Lumas (S. R.)
Gay Defender, The	R. Dix-T. Todd	Paramount
Haunted Ship, The	D. Sebastian-T. Santschi	Tiffany-Stahl
Hero For a Night, A	Glenn Tryon	Universal	6 reels
Her Wild Oat	Colleen Moore	First National
He's My Man	Phyllis Haver	Pathe-De Mille
Home Made	Johnny Hines	First National
Honeymoon Hate	Florence Vidor	Paramount
Irresistible Lover, The	Norman Kerry	Universal	6958 feet	Sept. 16
London After Midnight	L. Chaney-C. Nagel-M. Day-Walthall	M-G-M
Louisiana	B. Dove-M. Astor-N. Beery	First National
Man and the Moment, The		First National
Man's Past, A	C. Veidt-I. Keith-G. Siegmann	Universal	6135 feet	Sept. 16
My Best Girl	M.Pickford-C.Rogers	United Artists
On to Reno	M. Prevost-C. Landis	Pathe-De Mille
Power	William Boyd	Pathe-De Mille
Rebecca O'Brien	May McAvoy	Warner Bros
Rip Van Winkle	Rudolph Schildkraut	Pathe-De Mille
Rush Hour, The	M. Prevost	Pathe-De Mille
Serenade	Adolphe Menjou	Paramount
Silver Slave, The	Irene Rich	Warner Bros
Slingshot Kid, The	"Buzz" Barton - J. Morgan	F. B. O	4886 feet
Sorrell and Son	H. B. Warner-Nilsson-A. Joyce-Wolheim	United Artists	8 reels	Nov. 25
South Sea Love	P. R. Miller-L. Shumway-A. Brooks	F. B. O.	6388 feet
Spoilers of the West	Tim McCoy	M-G-M
Street of Sin, The	Emil Jannings	Paramount
Streets of Shanghai	P. Starke-K. Harlan	Tiffany-Stahl
Swift Shadow, The	Ranger (Dog)	F. B. O.
Texas Steer, A	W. Rogers-L. Fazenda-A. Rork	First National	7419 feet
Valley of the Giants	M. Sills-D. Kenyon	First National
Wild Born	Tex Maynard	Rayart (S. R.)
You'll Never Get Rich		First Division (S. R.)

JANUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Alias the Deacon	J. Hersholt-J. Marlowe-R. Graves	Universal	6869 feet	Oct. 21
Beau Sabreur	E. Brent-G. Cooper-G. Bancroft-N. Beery	Paramount
Burning Up Broadway		Sterling Pict. (S. R.)
Circus, The	C. Chaplin-M. Kennedy	United Artists
Creole Love		First Division (S. R.)
Dead Man's Curve	Fairbanks, Jr.-S. Blane	F. B. O.	5511 feet
Divine Woman, The	Greta Garbo	M-G-M
Driftin' Sands	Bob Steele	F. B. O
Finders Keepers	Laura La Plante	Universal
French Dressing	B. Lyon-C. Colbert	First National
Gaucho, The	D. Fairbanks	United Artists
Honky Tonk	G. Banefert	Paramount
Love in a Cottage		First Division (S. R.)
Man Crazy	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Man, Woman and Sin	John Gilbert	M-G-M
Noose, The	R. Barthelmess-L. Basquette	First National
No Other Woman	D. Del Rio-D. Alvarado	Fox
Pioneer Scout, The	F. Thomson-N. Lane	Paramount
Private Life of Helen of Troy, The	M. Corda-L. Stone-M. O'Day	First National
Rawhide Kid, The	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Sadie Thompson	G. Swanson	United Artists
Sailors' Wives	Astor-Hughes	First National
Shepherd of the Hills, The	A. B. Francis-M. O'Day-J. Boles	First National
United States Smith		Lumas
Wagon Show, The	K. Maynard-E. Gregory	First National
West Point	William Haines	M-G-M
Wizard of the Saddle	B. Barton-D. Thompson	F. B. O.
Woman Against the World, A	G. Olmstead-H. Ford-G. Hale	Tiffany-Stahl

FEBRUARY

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Age of Sex, The		First Division (S. R.)
Algerian Nights		First Division (S. R.)
Bare Knees		Lumas
Coney Island	Lois Wilson	F. B. O.
Devil Dancer, The	G. Gray-C. Brook	United Artists
Dove, The	N. Talmadge-G. Roland-N. Beery	United Artists
Down Went McGinty	C. Murray-G. Sidney	First National
Four Flusher, The	G. Lewis-M. Nixon	Universal
Garden of Eden, The	C. Griffith-C. Ray-L. Sherman	United Artists
Harvester The	N. Kingston-O. Caldwell	F. B. O	7045 feet	Nov. 25
Her Summer Hero		F. B. O
Legionnaires in Paris	Al Cooke-Kit Guard	F. B. O.
Midnight Rose	L. de Putti-K. Harlan	Universal
Napoleon (French Film)	Special Cast	M-G-M
Over the Andes	D. Fairbanks-E. Southern-L. Valez	United Artists
Passion Island	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	7 reels
Shield of HonorThe	R., Lewis-D. Gulliver-N. Hamilton	Universal
Wall Flowers		F. B. O.

MARCH

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Brunettes Preferred		First Division (S. R.)
Buck Privates	de Putti-McGregor	Universal
Darling of the Gods, The	Special Cast	United Artists
Drums of Love	E. Taylor-D. Alvarado-M. Philbin	United Artists
Free Lips		First Division (S. R.)
Harold Teen		First National
Hell Ship Bronson	Mrs. Wallace Reid	Lumas
Man Higher Up, The		Lumas
Once There Was a Princess	Billie Dove	First National
Pair of Sixes, A	Johnny Hines	First National
Ramona	D. Del Rio-W. Baster	United Artists
Red Signals	W. McDonald-E. Novak-E. Williams	Sterling Pictures	5032 feet
Royal American, The	Ken Maynard	First National
Tempest	J. Barrymore-Sebastian Wolheim	United Artists

APRIL

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Buck Privates	L. De Putti	Universal
Surrender	M. Philbin-I. Moskine	Universal
Thanks For the Buggy Ride	L. La Plante -G. Tyron	Universal

Coming Attractions

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
$5,000 Reward	T. Mix-N. Joyce	Fox
Abie's Irish Rose	J. F. McDonald-J. Hershalt	Paramount
Ace High	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Across the Atlantic	M. Blue	Warner Bros.
Adventurer, The	T. McCoy-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Air Raiders, The	Al Wilson	F. B. O
Alex the Great		F. B. O.
Avenger, The	Bob Custer	F. B. O
Baby Mine	G.K. Arthur-K. Dane.	M-G-M
Bad Little Good Girl		Chadwick
Beggar of Love	P. Negri-K. Thomson-J. Hersholt	Paramount
Better Man, The		F. B. O.
Betty's a Lady	J. Ralston-C. Ray	Universal
Big City, The	L. Chaney	M-G-M
Big Game Hunt, The	W. Beery-R. Hatton	Paramount
Big Gun, The	George Lewis	Universal
Big Sneeze, The	W. Beery-F. Sterling-Z. Pitts	Paramount
Big Top, The		M-G-M
Black Ace, The	D. Colman-J. Loff	Pathe-De Mille
Blacktack	B. Jones-B. Bennett	Fox	4777 feet
Blonde for a Night, A	M. Prevost	Pathe-De Mille
Blood Will Tell	B. Jones-K. Perry	Fox
Boss of Rustlers Roost, The	D. Coleman-E. Gilbert	Pathe
Boy of the Streets ,A	J. Walker-B. Francisco-M. Bennett	Rayart (S. R.)
Branded Sombrero, The	B. Jones-L. Hyams	Fox Films
Breed of the Sunset		F. B. O.
Bride of the Night	C. Farrel-G. Nissen-M. Busch-M. Loy	Fox
Brides Will Be Brides	Laura La Plante	Universal
Bringing Up Father	J. F. McDonald	M-G-M
Broadway After Midnight	P. Bonner-C. Landis-G. Hughes-B. Tennant	Krelbar Pict. (S. R.)	6199 feet	Nov. 4
Burning Daylight	M. Sills	First National
Butter and Egg Man, The	Mulhall-Mackaill	First National
Call of the Heart	Dynamite (Dog)-E. Cobb-J. Alden	Universal	5261 feet
Cancelled Debt, The	Rex Lease	Sterling Pict
Casey Jones	R. Lewis-J. Robards-A. Sheridan	Rayart (S. R.)
Certain Young Man, A	Novarro-Adoree-W. Marshall-G. Astor	M-G-M
Chicago	P. Haver-V. Varconi.	Pathe-De Mille
Chicago After Midnight		F. B. O.
Chinatown Charlie	J. Hines	First National
City of Shadows, The	J. Luden-S. Lynn	F. B. O
City of Sin	M. Hoy	Warner Bros.
Cock-Eyed World, The	V. McLaglen-E. Lowe	Fox
Code of the Range	Jack Perrin	Rayart (S. R.)	4747 feet
Cohens and the Kellys in Paris, The	G. Sidney-J. F. McDonald-V. Gordon-K. Price	Universal
College Hero, The		Columbia
Come to My House	O. Borden-A. Moreno	Fox
Cossacks, The	J. Gilbert-R. Odorel	M-G-M

Feature	Star	Distributed by	Length	Reviewed
Count of Ten, The	C. Ray-J. Gleason	Universal
Crashing Through	J. Padjans-S. Rand	Pathe
Crimson Hour, The	L. de Putti-I. Moskine-N. de Brulier	Universal
Crowd, The	J. Murray-E. Boardman-D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Deer Drive, The	W. Baxter	Paramount
Dirty Work	Johnny Burke	Pathe-De Mille
Do It Again	M. Astor-L. Hughes	First National
Don Juan	J. Barrymore-E. Taylor-M. Astor	Warner Bros.	10018 feet	Aug. 31
Don't Marry	Lois Moran	Fox
Doomsday	F. Vidor-G. Cooper-Cobb	Paramount	4295 feet
Down Grade, The	Wm. Fairbanks-A. Calhoun	Universal
Down Our Way	V. Valli-F. Darro-O. Caldwell	Lumas
Empty Saddle, The	Fred Humes	F. B. O.
Enemy, The	L. Gish-R. Forbes	Universal
Eternal Silence, The	Bushman, Jr.-N. Hamilton-J. Marlowe	M-G-M
Fangs of Fury	Sandow (Dog)	Universal
Fangs of Justice	Silverstreak (Dog)-J. Walker-J. Marlowe	Pathe-De Mille
Flag Maker, The	C. Ray-B. Love	Bischoff Prod. (S.R.)	5000 feet
Flower of Spain, The	Coleman-Banky	G. K. Spoor-J. S. Blackton (producers)
Foreign Legion, The	N. Kerry-L. Stone-J. Marlowe	United Artists
Fortune Hunter, The	S. Chaplin-C. Horton-H. Costello	Universal
Four Devils, The		Warner Bros
Freckles		Fox
Gentlemen Prefer Blondes	L. Brooks-F. Sterling	F. B. O.
Get Set—Go	George O'Hara	Paramount
Girl Downstairs, The	L. Moran-G. O'Brien	F. B. O.
Glorious Betsy	D. Costello-C. Nagel	Fox
Godless Girl, The	Lena Basquette	Warner Bros
Good Morning, Judge		Pathe-De Mille
Grand Army Man, The	Alec. B. Francis	Universal
Grand Flapper The	H. Herbert-O. Tell-E. Foxe-M.Livingston	Fox
Grandma Bernie Learns Her Letiers	R. Walling-F. Reicher	Fox
Ham and Eggs	Fazenda-H. Conklin-T. Wilson	Warner Bros
Hangman's House	W. Farnum	Fox
Harp in Hock, A	Schildkraut-Coghlan-M.Robson-B.Love	Pathe-De Mille	5999 feet
His Country	R. Schildkraut-M. Dressler	Pathe-De Mille
His Night		M-G-M
Hold 'Em Yale	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Holy Terror, A	B. Jones-G. Hale	Fox
Horseman of the Plains	T. Mix-S. Blane	Fox
If I Were Single	May McAvoy	Warner Bros.
I'll Tell the World	Colleen Moore	First National
In Name Only	O. Moore-H. Costello-K. Perry	Warner Bros
Irish Destiny	D.O'Shea-P.O'Rorke	Dr. I. J. Eppel	7 reels	April 29
Jenny Lind		M-G-M
Jungle Rose	Dolores Del Rio	Fox
King of Kings, The	Special Cast	Pathe-De Mille	13500 feet	April 29
Ladies of Leisure		Tiffany
Ladies Must Love	Rod La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath		First National
Lady Cristilinda	J. Gaynor-C. Farrell	Fox
Lady Be Good	Mackaill-Mulhall	First National
Legion of the Condemned, The	G. Cooper	Paramount
Leopard Lody, The	J. Logan	Pathe-De Mille
Life's Crossroads	G. Hulette-M. Hamilton	Excellent Pict
Lilac Time	Colleen Moore	First National
Little Buckaroo, The		F. B. O.
Little Yellow House, The		F. B. O.
Love	G. Garbo-J. Gilbert-L. Barrymore- D. Sebastian	M-G-M
Love Me and the World Is Mine	Philbin-Kerry	Universal
Loves of Ricardo	George Beban	F. B. O.
Macushla (tentative)		Fox
Madamoiselle From Armentieres (English Film)	E. Brody-J. Stuart	M-G-M
Man Who Laughs, The	C. Veidt-M. Philbin	Universal
Meet the Prince	Glenn Tryon	Universal
Menace, The	J. Boles-D. Blossom	Pathe
Merry Wives of New York	P. Garon	First Division (S. R.)
Message to Garcia, A	Special Cast	M-G-M
Midnight Madness	J. Logan-C. Brook	Pathe-De Mille
Million Dollar ,Mystery, The	J. Kirkwood-L. Lee	Rayart (S. R.)	6022 feet
Mother Machree	B. Bennett-V. McLaglen-N. Hamilton-E. Clayton	Fox
Naughty Marietta	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Nineteenth Hole, The (tentative)	H. Langdon- G. McConnell	First National
Noah's Ark (road show)	Special Cast	Warner Bros.
Old Ironsides (road show)	Special Cast	Paramount	12 reels	Dec. 18
Once There Was a Princess	B. Dove	First National
Opening Night, The	C. Windsor-J. Bowers	Lumas (S. R.)
Ordeal, The	Garbo-Chaney	M-G-M
Outcast Souls	P. Bonner-C. Delaney	Sterling (S. R.)
Patent Leather Kid, The (road show)	R. Barthelmess-M. O'Day	First National	12 reels	Aug. 26
Patsy, The	Marion Davies	M-G-M
Peaks of Destiny, The (German film)		Paramount	6940 feet
Perfect Gentleman, A	Monty Banks	Pathe-De Mille	5626 feet
Phantom Buster, The	Buddy Roosevelt	Pathe-De Mille
Phantom of the Range, The		F. B. O.
Pigskin	D. Rollens-S. Carrol	Fox
Quality	Gardner James	Inspiration Pict.
Rachel	P. Negri-G. Cooper	Paramount
Race For Life, A		Warner Bros.
Red Hair	C. Bow-W. Austin	Paramount
Red Mark, The	G. von Seyfferlitz-N. Quartaro	Pathe-De Mille
Red Riders of Canada, The	P. R. Miller	F. B. O.
Renegade, The		F. B. O.
Ridin' Like Fury	Hoot Gibson	Universal
Romantic Rogue, The	Reed Howes	Rayart
Romeo and Juliet	N. Kerry-M. Philbin	Universal
Rose Marie	J. Crawford-J. Murray	M-G-M
Roulette	M. McAvoy	Warner Bros
Saddle and Spurs	"Buzz" Barton-L. Eason	F. B. O.
Say It With Sables	C. Windsor-R. Howes.	Columbia
Sheiks and Shebas	Junior Stars	Paramount
Silent Hero, The	Napoleon (Dog)- R. Fraser-E. Murphy	Rayart (S. R.)
Silk Legs	M. Bellamy	Fox
Show Boat		Universal
Side Show, The	Fields!Conklin!Brian.	Paramount
Silk Legs	M. Bellamy-J. Hall	Fox
Siren, The	D. Revier-T. Moore	Columbia
Snob, The	M. McAvoy-R. Frazer-A. B. Francis	Warner Bros.
Soft Living	M. Bellamy-J. Bowers	Fox
Song of Steel		Tiffany
Span of Life, The	Lon Chaney	M-G-M
Speed Boy, The	Dick Talmadge	Universal
Speedy	Harold Lloyd	Paramount
Speedy Smith	Billy Sullivan	Rayart (S. R.)	5005 feet
Squads Right		Tiffany
Stand and Deliver	R. La Rocque	Pathe-De Mille
Steamboat Bill, Jr.	Keaton-E. Torrence.	United Artists
Stronger Will The		Excellent Pict.
Student Prince, The (In Heidelberg)	R. Novarro-Shearer-J. Hersholt	M-G-M	10 reels	Oct. 7
Sunrise	Gaynor-G. O'Brien-Livingston	Fox	12 reels	Oct. 14
Survival of Slim, The	W. Wales-P. Montgomery	Pathe
Symphony, The	J. Hersholt-Nixon-G. Lewis	Universal
Tenderloin	D. Costello	Warner Bros.
Texas Ranger, The	Tim McCoy	M-G-M
Thunder Riders	Ted Wells	Universal
Tillie's Punctual Romance	C. Conklin	Paramount
Times Square		Tiffany
Trail of '98	K Dane-P. Starke-R. Forbes-Del Rio	M-G-M
Traveling Salesman, The	R. Dix-F. Sterling	Paramount
Under the Black Eagle	Flash (Dog)-M. Day-R. Forbes	M-G-M
Under the Tonto Rim	J. Luden	Paramount
Victory	George Bancroft	Paramount
Viennese Lovers	Philbin-Hersholt-R. Keane	Universal
Waiter from the Ritz, The	R. Griffith-A. Day	Paramount
War Birds		M-G-M
Warning, The	J. Holt-D. Revier	Columbia
Watch My Speed	R. Denny-B. Worth	Universal
We Americans		Universal
Wedding March, The (road show)	von Stroheim	Paramount
Western Suffragettes	H. Gibson-G. Hale	Universal
Wheels of Destiny, The	G. Hale-E. Hilliard	Rayart (S. R.)
When Danger Calls	W. Fairbanks-E. Sedgwick	Lumas (S. R.)	5000 feet
When the Law Rides	Tom Tyler	F. B. O.
Whip Woman, The	E. Taylor-A. Moreno	First National
White Eagle, The	Buck Jones	Fox
Who's Your Friend? (tentative)	R. Dix-W. Powell	Paramount
Wild West Show, The		Universal
Wind, The	L. Gish-L. Hanson	M-G-M
Windjammers of Gloucester The		F. B. O.
Wings (road show)	C. Bow-B. Rogers	Paramount	12 reels	Aug. 26
Wizard, The	L. Hyams-B. Norton-G. Katsonaros-von Seyffertitz	Fox Films
Woman Disputed, The	N. Talmadge	United Artists
Woman Wise		Fox
World's Illusion, The		M-G-M
Wyoming	T. McCoy-W. Fairbanks-D. Sebastian.	M-G-M
You Will Marry Me	Clara Bow	Paramount

Comedies and Short Subjects

EDUCATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Ain't Nature Grand	Eddie Quillan	Dec. 4	1 reel	Nov. 25
Angel Eyes	"Big Boy"	Dec. 25	2 reels
At Ease	Lloyd Hamilton	Sept. 4	2 reels	Sept. 3
Back Home	Curiosities		1 reel	Sept. 23
Batter Up	George Davis	Sept. 11	2 reels	Sept. 16
Brave Cowards	Dunham-Bradley	July 17	1 reel	Aug. 19
Builders of Bridges—When Twilight Comes	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Brunettes Prefer Gentlemen	Jerry Drew	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 28
Bubbles of Geography	Hodge-Podge	Aug. 14	1 reel	Aug. 19
Burning Timber — Rough Country	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Oct. 23	2 reels	Oct. 7
Capers of a Camera	Hodge-Podge	July 17	1 reel	Sept. 9
Careless Hubby	Dunham-Bradley	June 5	1 reel	July 1
Cry of Winter, The—Hot Place, The	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Sept. 18	1 reel	Sept. 2
Dead Easy	Bobby Vernon	July 17	2 reels	Aug. 12
Delving Into the Dictionary	Hodge-Podge	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Dog Days—The Sun and the Rain	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Dummies	Larry Semon		2 reels
Eats for Two	Dunham-Thompson	Oct. 9	1 reel	Oct. 14
Felix the Cat Hits the Deck	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Dec. 11	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Art for Heart's Sake	"Sullivan Cartoon"	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 6
Felix the Cat Behind the Front	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Dec. 25	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Daze and Knights	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 30	1 reel	Nov. 18

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Felix the Cat in Dough-Nut-ty	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 12	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Flim Flam Films	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 18	1 reel	Oct. 7
Felix the Cat in Jack From All Trades	Sullivan Cartoon	Aug. 7	1 reel	Sept. 9
Felix the Cat in 'Loco' Mo-tive	"Sullivan Cartoon"	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Felix the Cat in No Fuelin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 16	1 reel	Nov. 11
Felix the Cat in the Non-Stop Fright	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 16
Felix the Cat Switches Witches	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Oct. 2	1 reel	Oct. 21
Felix the Cat in the Travel-Hog	"Sullivan Carton"	July 24	1 reel	Sept. 2
Felix the Cat in Uncle Tom's Crabbin'	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 13	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Whys and Otherwise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Nov. 27	1 reel
Felix the Cat in Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"		1 reel	Sept. 23
Feline Frolics—The Tonquin Valley	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Fighting Orphans, The—Evening Mist	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Follies of Fashion	Curiosities	Sept. 25	1 reel
For Men Only	Curiosities	Oct. 30	1 reel	Oct. 21
Fox Tales	Hutton-Dunham	Sept. 25	2 reels	Sept. 23
Fully Equipped	Lloyd-Murdock	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Giddy Gobblers	Neal Burns	June 12	2 reels	June 24
Goose Flesh	Lloyd Hamilton	June 19	2 reels	July 1
Half-Pint Hero, A	Lupino Lane	Sept. 18	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hello Sailor	Lupino Lane	Dec. 25	2 reels
Here and There in Travel Land	Hodge-Podge	Oct. 16	1 reel
Her Husky Hero	Johnny Arthur	June 5	2 reels	June 17
He Tried to P ease	M. Colins-L. Hutton	Nov. 6	1 reel
High Spots	Al St. John	July 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Hints on Hunting—A Day By the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
His Better Half	Lloyd Hamilton	July 31	2 reels	Sept. 2
Hold Fast	Cliff Bowes	July 31	1 reel	Aug. 5
Holly-Nuts	Curiosities	Aug. 28	1 reel	Sept. 2
Injun Food—Moods of the Sea	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Dec. 25	1 reel
It's Me	Monte Collins	Dec. 18	1 reel
Jack From All Trades	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Aug. 7	1 reel
Kid Tricks	"Big Boy"	July 3	2 reels	July 29
Kilties	Dorothy Devore	Oct. 9	2 reels	Oct. 7
Little Rube, The	Dorothy Devore	Nov. 20	2 reels	Nov. 11
Live News	Johnny Arthur	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 16
Lovingly Yours	Curiosities	Dec. 4	1 reel
Lucky Dog	P. Dunham-L. Billetts	Sept. 11	1 reel	Sept. 23
Many Wings—Beside the Still Water	Bruce Outdoor Sketch	Nov. 20	1 reel	Nov. 4
Meet the Folks	Jimmie Adams	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Models in Mud	Hodge-Podge	Nov. 13	1 reel
Monty of the Mounted	Lupino Lane	July 24	2 reels	Aug. 12
Movie Hound, The	Phil Dunham	July 3	1 reel
New Wrinkles	Lloyd Hamilton	Oct. 30	2 reels	Oct. 21
Night Owls	Dunham-Bradley	June 19	1 reel	July 29
No Cheating	Al St John	June 26	2 reels	July 22
Nothing Flat	George Davis	Dec. 11	2 reels
Off Again	J. Lloyd-B. Boyd	Sept. 25	1 reel	Oct. 14
Oh, What a Man!	Larry Semon	Dec. 4	2 reels	Nov. 25
Papa's Boy	Lloyd Hamilton	Dec. 18	2 reels
Peculiar Pair of Pups, A—Nobody Home	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Pick a Pet	Curioisities	July 3	1 teel	July 22
Plumb Dumb	"Poodles" Hanneford	Aug. 1	2 reels	Sept. 9
Poor Fish—The Ebbing Tide	Bruce Outdoor Sketches	Aug. 21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Queens Wild	Beauchamp-Davis	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Red Hot Bullets	Eddie Quillan	Nov. 27	2 reels	Nov. 18
Rest Day	Monte Collins	Nov. 27	1 reel	Nov. 18
R'ver of Suds, The—Mid-Ocean Sunset, A	Bruce Scenic	July 10	1 reel	Aug. 12
Scared Silly	Johnny Arthur	Nov. 13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Seeing Stars	George Davis	Oct. 16	2 reels	Oct. 17
Shamrock Alley	"Big Boy"	Nov. 27	2 reels	Nov. 25
She's a Boy	"Big Boy"	Oct. 2	2 reles	Oct. 7
Shooting Wild	Jack Lloyd	Oct. 23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Some Scout	Lupino Lane	Nov. 6	2 reels	Oct. 21
Stunt Man, The	Larry Semon	Oct. 23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sure Cure	Beauchamp-Davis	July 10	2 reels	Aug. 5
Tales of a Traveler	Hodge-Podge	June 26	1 reel	July 29
Tenants of Marble Canyon, The—A Picture Paradise	Bruce Scenic	June 12	1 reel	June 24
Thoughts While Fishing—Silver Shadows	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Traveling at Home	Chriosities	July 31	1 reel	Sept. 9
Up In Arms	Dorothy Devore	Aug. 28	2 reels	Sept. 2
Whirl of Activity, A	Hodge-Podge	Dec. 11	1 reel
Wild Wallops	B. Dooley-O Hasbrouck	June 26	2 reels	July 1
Wild Wool—Night Clouds	Bruce Outdoor Sketch		1 reel
Wise Guise	"Sullivan Cartoon"	Sept. 4	1 reel

F B O

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Alice Cartoons (Released Twice a Month)			1 reel
Beauty Parlor, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 3	2 reels
Beloved Rogue, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 5	2 reels
Bo's Guest	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 19	2 reels
Boys Will Be Girls	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Campus Romeos	"Fat Men"	July 25	2 reels
Chin He Loved to Lift	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 14	2 reels
Fleshy Devils	Carr-Alexander-Ross	Nov. 14	2 reels	Oct. 7
Fresh Hair Fiends	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 21	2 reels
Helen of Troy, N. Y.	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 31	2 reels
How High Is Up? (Fat Men)	Carr-Alexander-Ross	June 27	2 reels
Kick in the Dark	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	July 3	2 reels
Krazy Kat Cartoons (released twice a month)			1 reel
Last Nose of Summer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 17	2 reels
Mickey's Bottle	Mickey Yule	Dec. 5	2 reels
Mickey's Circus	Mickey Yule	Sept. 4	2 reels
Mickey's Eleven	Mickey Yulo	Nov. 7	2 reels
Mickey's Pals	Mickey Yule	Oct. 3	2 reels	Oct. 7
New Faces for Old	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 12	2 reels
Nothing Doing	Charles Bowers	July 11	2 reels
Permanent Rave, The	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Aug. 10	2 reels
Pickled Romance	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Peter's Pan	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 28	2 reels	Nov. 25
She Troupes to Conquer	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Oct. 19	2 reels
Sock in Time, A	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	June 5	2 reels
Steamed Up	Charles Bowers	June 13	2 reels
Tanks of the Wabash	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Oct. 10	2 reels
Three Missing Links	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Dec. 12		Nov. 11
Toupay or Not To Pay	Eason-Hill-Cooke-Guard	Sept. 7	2 reels
Wanderers of the Waistline	Karr-Ross-Alexander	Sept. 11	2 reels

FOX FILMS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Argentina, The Rich	Variety	Oct. 2	1 reel	Nov. 4
Arkansas Traveler	Variety	Jan. 18	1 reel
Art Treasures of the Vatican	Variety	Dec. 25	1 reel
Capt. Kidd's Kittens	Animal Comedy	Oct. 23	2 reels	Nov. 4
Cupid and the Clock (O. Henry)	S. Phipps-N. Stuart	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Desert Blooms, The	Variety		1 reel
Exploring Norway	Variety	Aug. 7	1 reel
Fool and His Honey	Tyles Brooks	Sept. 25	2 reels	Nov. 4
Gentlemen Prefer Scotch	N. Stuart-S. Phipps	June 26	2 reels
Glory That Was Greece	Variety	July 24	1 reel
Her Blue Black Eyes	M. Casajuana-E. Clayton	Oct. 9	2 reels	Nov. 4
Her Silent Wow	"Helen and Warren"	July 3	2 reels
Hot House Hazel	T. Brooks-T. Hill		2 reels
Hot Potato, A (Van Bibber)	E. Foxe-K. Bates	June 19	2 reels	July 15
Kangaroo's Kimona, The	G. Carmeon, F. Bramley	Aug. 28	2 reels
Lights and Shadows in Sicily	Variety	Nov. 27	1 reel
Lords of the Back Fence	Variety	Jan. 22	1 reel
Love Is Blonde	D. Ellis-D. Rollens		2 reels
Midsummer Night's Steam, A	Eddie C ayton	June 5	2 reels
Moose Country, The	Variety	Nov. 13	1 reel
Mum's the Word			2 reels	Sept. 2
Northern Alaska Today	Variety	Oct. 16	1 reel
Over the Andes	Variety		1 reel
Psyche and the Pskyscraper	"O. Henry"		2 reels
Road to the Yukon	Variety	June 26	1 reel	June 24
Roamin' Gladiator	"Animal Comedy"	June 12	2 reels
Romatic Alhambira, The	Variety	Oct. 30	1 reel
Rumors for Rent	"Helen and Warren"	June 5	2 reels	June 24
Salmon Run, The	Variety	Aug. 21	1 reel	Oct. 14
Silk Legs		July 31	2 reels
Sky Frontiers	Variety	Sept. 4	1 reel
Solitude	Variety	Dec. 11	1 reel
Suite Homes	"O. Henry"	July 17	2 reels
Snow Rambles	Variety	July 10	1 reel	July 15
Twenty Legs Under the Sea	R. Walling	Sept. 24	2 reels	Oct. 7
Under Colorado Skies	Variety	Sept. 18	1 reel
Venders of the World	Variety	June 12	1 reel	June 17
Why B ondes Leave Home	R. Walling-M. Beebe	July 24	2 reels
Wolf in Cheap Clothing, A	"Animal Comedy"	July 10	2 reels

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Amazing Lovers	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
An African Adventure	Ufa Oddity	Aug. 27	1 reel
Assorted Babies	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 5	1 reel	Nov. 25
Atop the World	Ufa Oddity	April 7	1 reel
Call of the Cuckoo, The	Max Davidson	Oct. 15	2 reels
Chase, The	Ufa Oddity	Mar. 26	1 reel
Children of the Sun	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel
Dog Days	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 8	1 reel
Falcon, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel	Dec. 11
Flag, The (Technicolor)	E. Bennett-F. X. Bushman	Oct. 1	2 reels
Fight For Life, A	Ufa Oddity	Nov. 19	1 reel
Fishing With a Microscope	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Golden Fleeces	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Gritty Pups	Ufa Odd ty	Mar.	1 reel
Happy Omen, A	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Heavenly Bodies	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Hidden Death Traps	Ufa Oddity	Oct. 22	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jewels of Venus	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 10	1 reel	Dec. 11
Jungle Round-Up, A	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 14	1 reel	Oct. 9
Lighter That Failed, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 1	2 reels
Lion Hunt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 17	1 reel
Monarch of the Glen, The	Ufa Oddity	Feb. 25	1 reel
Napoleon and Josephine	(Technicolor)		2 reels
Nature's Wizardry	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Old Wallop, The	"Our Gang"	Oct. 22	2 reels
Palace of Honey, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pathfinders, The	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Parasol Abt, The	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 31	1 reel
Perfume and Nicotine	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Pets and Pests	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Primitive Housekeeping	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Sanctuary	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Second Hundred Years, The	Laurel-Hardy	Oct. 8	2 reels
Secrets of the Sea	Ufa Oddity	Jan. 28	1 reel
Sleeping Death	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Soaring Wings	Ufa Oddity	Sept. 24	1 reel
Sting of Stings, The	Charlie Chase	Sept. 3	2 reels
Sugar Daddies	All Star Cast	Sept. 10	2 reels
TallyHo	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Tokens of Manhood	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Way of All Pants, The	Charley Chase	Oct. 29	2 reels
What Every Iceman Knows	Max Davidson	Sept. 17	2 reels
Wicked Kasimir, The	Ufa Oddities		1 reel
Winged Death	Ufa Oddity	Dec. 3	1 reel
Wonders of the Blue Gulf of Mexico	Ufa Oddity		1 reel
Yale vs. Harvard	Our Gang	Sept. 24	2 reels

PARAMOUNT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Adoration	Novelty	Feb. 25	1 reel
Aero Nuts	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug. 13	1 reel
Behind the Counter	E. E. Horton	Mar. 3	2 reels
Crazy to Fly	Bobby Vernon	Sept. 17	2 reels
Dad's Choice	E. E. Horton	Jan. 7	2 reels
Dizzy Sights	Billy Dooley	Dec. 17	1 reel
Doctor Quack	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Easy Curves	Billy Dooley	Nov. 12	2 reels
Elegy, The	Novelty	Aug. 6	1 reel	Nov. 25
Fantasy	Novelty	Oct. 15	1 reel
Fighting Fanny	Featured Cast	Jan. 21	2 reels
Find the King	E. E. Horton	Nov. 15	2 reels
For Crimes Sake	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov. 19	1 reel
French Fried	Neal Burns	Sept. 3	2 reels
Frenzy	Novelty	Jan. 14	1 reel
Horse Shy	E. E. Horton	May 19	2 reels
Hot Heads	Jimmie Adams	Aug. 27	2 reels
Hot Papa	Jack Duffy	Oct. 1	2 reels

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Ko-Ko Chops Suey	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct.	29	1 reel
Ko-Ko Explores	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct.	15	1 reel	Nov. 11
Ko-Ko Hops Off	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept.	17	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kane	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug.	20	1 reel
Ko-Ko Kicks	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov.	26	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kink	Inkwell Cartoon	Jan.	21	1 reel
Ko-Ko's K ock	Inkwell Cartoon	Nov.	12	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Kozy Korber	Inkwe Cartoon	Jan.	21	1 ree
Ko-Ko Plays Pool	Inkwell Cartoon	Aug.	6	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kid	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec.	24	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Knight	Inkwell Cartoon	Sept	3	1 reel
Ko-Ko the Kop	Inkwell Cartoon	Oct.	1	1 reel
Ko-Ko's Quest	Inkwell Cartoon	Dec.	10	1 reel
Loco Motifs	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept.	24	1 reel
Mad Scrambles	Neal Burns	Nov.	26	2 ree s
Milk Made	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec.	3	1 reel
Moony Mariner, A	Billy Dooley	Sept.	24	2 reels
Nifty Nags	Featured Cast	Dec.	24	2 reels
No Publicity	E. E. Horton	Aug.	1	2 reels
Ocean Blues	Jimmie Adams	Nov.	19	2 reels
Oh Mummy	Jimmie Adams	Oct.	8	2 reels
Pie Curs, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Nov.	5	1 reel
Pig Styles	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Jan.	14	1 reel
Rail Rode	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept.	24	1 reel	Oct. 4
Row, Sailor, Row!	Billy Dooley	Aug.	20	2 reels
Scared Pink	Jack Duffy	Oct.	29	2 reels
School Daze	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Sept.	10	1 reel
Scrambled Weddings	E. E. Horton	J7ne	30	2 reels
Sealing Whacks	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug.	1	1 reel
Short Socks	Bobby Vernon	Aug.	13	2 reels
Short Tail, A	Novelty	Sept.	10	1 reel
Splash Yourself	Bobby Vernon	Dec.	3	2 reels
Stork Exchange, The	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec.	17	1 reel
Swiss Movements	Jimmie Adams	Dec.	31	2 reels
Tired Wheels	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct.	8	1 reel
Toddles	Novelty	Dec.	10	1 reel	Oct. 7
Topsey Turvey	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct.	22	1 reel
Uncle Tom's Caboose	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Oct.	22	1 reel
Web Feet	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Aug.	27	1 reel
Wedding Wows	Bobby Vernon	Oct.	22	2 reels
Wired and Fired	Krazy Kat Cartoon	Dec.	31	1 reel

PATHE-DE MILLE

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Alien Antics	Sportlight	Nov.	13	1 reel	Nov. 11
All Bull and a Yard Wide	"Aesop Fables"	Oct.	9	1 reel	Oct. 7
Ant Life As It Isn't	"Aesop Fables"	Aug.	7	1 reel
Baby Brother	"Our Gang"	June	26	2 reels	July 1
Big Reward, The	"Aesop Fables"	July	3	1 reel	July 1
Big Tent, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct.	23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Brave Heart, A	"Alsop Fables"	Oct.	30	1 reel
Bull Fighter, The		Nov.	27	2 reels
Bully, The	"Aesop Fables"	July	31	1 reel	July 29
Chicken Feed	"Our Gang"	Nov.	6	2 reels	Nov. 4
College Kiddo, The	Hurlock-Quillan	Aug.	7	2 reels	Aug. 5
Comrades in Work	Mabel Normand			2 reels
Crimson Flash, The (Serial—Landis-E. Gilbert)		June	19	10 episodes	June 17
Cups and Contenders	Sportlight	Nov.	27	1 reel	Nov. 25
Cured in the Excitement	Hurlock-Bevan	June	12	2 reels	June 24
Cutting a Melon	"Aesop Fables"	Sept.	11	1 reel	Sept. 2
Daddy Boy	Ben Turpin	Oct.	23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Died in the Wool	"Aesop Fables"	June	19	1 reel	June 17
Do Detectives Think?	Roach Stars	Nov.	20	2 reels	Nov. 18
Dog's Day, A	"Aesop Fables"	June	5	1 reel	June 3
Don't Tell Everything	Roach Stars	July	3	2 reels	July 1
Down to the Sea	Sportlight	Oct.	30	1 reel	Oct. 28
Eyes and Angles	Sportlight	July	10	1 reel	July 15
Fiddlesticks	Harry Langdon	Nov.	7	2 reels	Nov. 25
Flying Feet	Sportlight	June	12	1 reel	June 24
Flying Fishers	"Alsop Fables"	Nov.	27	1 reel
Fluttering Hearts	Charley Chase	June	19	2 reels	June 17
Football Officials	"Football Sense"			1 reel	Oct. 21
For Sale a Bungalow		Oct.	30	2 reels	Oct. 28
Fox Hunt, The	"Alsop Fables"	Nov.	20	1 reel
From Soup to Nuts	Rarebits	Oct.	23	1 reel	Oct. 21
Glorious Fourth, The	"Our Gang"	July	31	2 reels	July 29
Gold Digger of Weepah, A	Bevan-Bennett-Burke	Oct.	2	2 ree s	Sept. 30
Golf Nut, The	Bevan-Quillan-A. Bennett	Sept.	4	2 reels
Hard Cider	"Aesop Fables"	June	12	1 reel	June 17
Have a Drink	Rarebits	Nov.	20	1 reel
Hawk of the Hills (Serial)	Ray and Miller	Aug.	28	10 episodes	Sept. 2
Hole in One, A	"Aesop Fables"	Aug.	21	1 reel	Aug. 12
Hook, Line and Sinker	"Aseop Fables"	Aug.	28	1 reel	Sept. 23
Human Fly, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept.	25	1 reel	Sept. 30
In and Out Again	"Aesop Fables"	Sept.	18	1 reel
King Harold	L. Baird-T. Holmes	Nov.	13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Lateral Pass, The	Sportlight			1 reel	Oct. 14
Lindy's Cat	"AesopFables"	Oct.	16	1 reel
Love 'Em and Weep	M. Busch-Laurel-Finlayson	June	12	2 reels	June 24
Love Nest, The	"Aesop Fables"	July	17	1 reel	July 15
Love's Languid Lure	Ben Turpin	Aug.	29	2 reels	Sept. 2
Mark of the Frog, The (Serial)	M. Morris-D. Reed			10 episodes
Masked Menace, The (Serial)	L. Kent-J. Arthur	Nov.	6	10 episodes	Nov. 4
Now I'll Tell One	Chase-Laurel	Oct.	9	2 reels	Oct. 14
Olympic Games	"Our Gang"	Sept.	11	2 reels	Sept. 2
One Man Dog, A	"Aesop Fables"	June	26	1 reel	July 1
On the Hook	Sportlight	Aug.	21	1 reel	Sept. 2
Outwitting Time	Spotlight	Oct.	2	1 reel
Pioneer Instinct	Sportlight	June	26	1 reel
Pride of Pikeville, The	Ben Turpin	June	5	2 reels	June 3
Prowling Around France with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Sept.	18	1 reel
Red Hot Sands	"Aesop Fables"	Aug.	14	1 reel	Aug. 12
Riding High	"Aesop Fables"	July	10	1 reel
River of Doubt, The	"Aesop Fables"	Oct.	2	1 reel	Sept. 30
Roaming the Emerald Isle with Will Rogers	Travelesque	Aug	21	1 reel	Sept. 9
Sailors, Beware!	Roach Stars	Sept.	23	2 reels	Sept. 30
Saved By a Keyhole	"Alsop Fables"	Nov.	13	1 reel
Scents and Dog Sense	Sportlight	Aug.	7	1 reel
Second Honeymoon, The	T. Holmes-L. Baird	Oct.	16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Signs of Spring	"Alsop Fables"	Nov.	6	1 reel
Should Second Husbands Come First?	Max Davidson	Oct.	23	2 reels	Oct. 21
Small-Town Sheriff, The	"Aesop Fables"	Sept.	4	1 reel	Sept. 2
Smith's Bargain	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson			2 reels
Smith's Candy Shop	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Aug.	21	2 reels	Aug. 13
Smith's Cook	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Oct.	16	2 reels	Oct. 21
Smith's Cousins	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Nov.	13	2 reels	Nov. 11
Smith's Pony	Hiatt-McKee-Jackson	Sept.	18	2 reels
Soldier Man	Harry Langdon
Subway Sally	"Aesop Fables"	July	24	1 reel	July 22
Tackles and Touchdowns	Sportlight	Sept.	18	1 reel
Taking Punishment	Sportlight	July	24	1 reel
Their Second Honeymoon	Baird-Holmes	Oct.	16	2 reels
Up the Ladder	Sportlight	Oct.	6	1 reel	Oct. 21
Weaker Sex, The	Rarebits	Sept.	25	1 reel
What Women Did For Me	Charley Chase	Aug.	14	2 reels	Aug. 12
Why Girls Love Sailors	Roach Stars	July	17	2 reels	July 15
Winning Around Europe With Will Rogers	Travelesque			2 reels	Nov. 18
With Love and Hisses	Roach Stars	Aug.	28	2 reels	Sept. 16
With Will Rogers Through Switzerland & Bavaria	Travelesque	June	26	1 reel	July 1

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Animal Catchers	McDougall Kids	Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Bear Escape, A	Parker-Reavis	Capitol Prod.		2 reels	Aug. 1
Beauty and the Beach	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clark		1 reel
Big Pie Raid, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June	1 reels	June 10
Berth Mark	Tarbell-Finch-Shaw	Red Seal		2 reels
Bobbed Hair and Bandits	Sid Smith	Capitol Pord	Aug. 1	2 reel
Custard's Last Stand		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Derelects of the Sea	Novelty	Bray	June	30 1 reel
Deuce, The	McDougall Kids	Bray	June	1 2 reels
Dream of the Sea, A (Bino-color)		Film Dist. Corp		1 reel	May 27
Fresh and a Devil	Clyde-Malone-Irving	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
God Made This Day For Me (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.	Aug.	1 1 reel
Golf and How	Novelty	Castle	Mar.	26 1 reel
Good Scouts		Bray		2 reels
Great Guns	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Helpless Helper	Al Jay	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Henpecked in Morocco	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Heralds of the Spring	Nature Special	Bray	April	19 1 reel
Here's Another One	Novelty	Bray		1 reel	Oct. 7
Heroes of the Wild (Serial)	Jack Hoxie	N. Levine	Dec.	1 10 episodes
Iron Derby, The		Bray
Isle of Sunken Gold, The (Serial)	A. Stewart	Nat Levine	Sept.	1 10 episodes
Here Comes the Bride	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
His Off-Day	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
His Ticklish Predicament	Jack Cooper	Bray		2 reels	Oct. 21
Hit and Win		Bray	Aug.	20 2 reels
Iron Derby, The				2 reels	Oct. 21
It's a Great Life	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
It's All Wet		Bray	July	10 2 reels
Japanese Oddities	Novelty	Castle	Aug.	11 1 reel
Jungle Belles	"Lantz Cartoon"	Bray		1 reel	June 10
Ko-Ko Makes 'Em Laugh	"Fleischer Cartoon"	Red Seal		1 reel	July 23
Learn by Mail	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Let's Go	Nove.ty	Cast e	Aug.	27 1 reel
Lift Your Face		Bray	Aug.	10 2 reels
Little Feet	Novelty	Castle	June	14 1 reel
Lost in a Pullman		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 23
Lunches and Punches	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod.		2 reels	Sept. 1
Ma and the Auto (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel
Magic Hands	Novelty	Castle	July	16 1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Tiffany		1 reel	Sept. 9
Nothing to Live For	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Oh Boy Paris	Novelty	Castle	July	30 1 reel
Orphans, The	McDougall Kids	Bray		2 reels
Over There	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Pals	Novelty	Castle	May	7 1 reel
Perils of the Jungle (Serial)	E. Gilbert-F. Merril	Weiss Bros		10 episodes	Aug. 5
Sappy Days	Tommy Albert	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Scoop, The		Bray	July	20 2 reels
She Beast, The	Sid Smith	Capitol Prod.		2 reels	July 1
Silence of the Snows (Guest Jewel)		A. C. A.		1 reel
Sky Walkers	Novelty	Castle	May	21 1 reel
Sophomore, The	G.O'Neil-L.Graydon	Hi-Mark
Speed	Novelty	Castle	Apr.	9 1 reel
Spooky Money	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Stepping Along	Novelty	Castle	April	23 1 reel
Style Book	Sketchograf	Cranfield-Clarke		1 reel
Two Arabian Sights		Bray		2 reels	Sept. 16
Uncle Tom's Habit	Parker-Reavis	Capital Prod.		2 reels	Sept. 1
Water Sports	Novelty	Castle	July	2 1 reel
Water, Water Everywhere		Bray	June	20 2 reels
When Redskins Bit the Dust	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	July	1 1 reel
When We Were Kids	(Guest Jewel)	A. C. A.	June	1 1 reel
Who's Who	Al Joy	Cranfield-Clarke		2 reels
Yellow Dog, The (Guest Jewel)		Am. Cinema		1 reel	April 16
Yosemite	Novelty	Castle	June	18 1 reel

TIFFANY

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Bridal of Pennacook	Color Classic	Nov.	1	1 reel
Comrades	Color Classic	Nov.	15	1 reel
King of Sports	Color Classic	Sept	15	1 reel
Memories	Color Classic	Oct.	1	1 reel
Me and My Pal	Color Classic	Dec.	15	1 reel
North of Suez	Color Classic	Jan.	1	1 reel
Roaring 'Round the Carrib-bean	Color Classic	Oct.	15	1 reel
Romany Love	Color Classic	Dec.	1	1 reel
Scarface	Color Classic	Jan.	15	1 reel

UNIVERSAL

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Length	Reviewed
Ah Gay Vienna	Charles Puffy	July	25	1 reel	July 15
All For Uncle	C. King-C. Doherty	Oct.	19	2 reels	Oct. 7
All Wet	Oswald Cartoon	Oct.	31	1 reel
And How	"The Gumps"	Oct.	31	2 reels
Andy Knows His Onions	"The Gumps"	Dec.	11	2 reels
Banker's Daughter, The	Oswald Cartoon	Nov.	28	2 reels
Barrymore Tommy (Mus-tang)	Fred Gilman	June	18	2 reels	May 27
Battle Scarred Hero, A	"The Gumps"	Oct.	3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Battling Buckaroo, The (Western)	Bob Curwood	Nov.	12	2 reels
Blake of Scotland Yard (Serial)	Hayden Stevenson	Aug.	15	10 episodes
Blind Man's Bluff	Jack Perrin			2 reels	Oct. 28
Buster Come On	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Sept.	14	2 reels	Sept. 9
Buster's Frame-Up	Trimble, Turner and Dog	June	6	2 reels	May 20
Buster's Handicap	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Aug.	1	2 reels	July 15
Buster's Home Life	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Oct.	12	2 reels	Sept. 30
Buster's Initiation	Trimble, Turner and Dog	July	4	2 reels	June 24
Buster, What's Next?	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Nov.	16	2 reels	Oct. 28
Clearing the Trail (Western)	Newton House	Nov.	26	2 reels

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Length	Reviewed
Cows Is Cows (Mustang)	Corbett & Holmes	July 9	2 reels	June 24
Crimson Colors	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept. 12	2 reels	June 17
Dancing Fools	C. King-C. Doherty	Sept. 21	2 reels	Sept. 2
Danger Ahead (Western)	Jack Perrin	Sept. 24	2 reels	Sept. 2
Dangerous Double, A (Western)	Bob Curwood	Oct. 15	2 reels	Sept. 23
Daze of the West (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Sept. 3	2 reels
Dazzling Co-Eds	Lewis-Sullivan	Oct. 10	2 reels
Disordered Orderly, The	Sid Saylor-Jean Doree	Nov. 9	2 reels
Doctors Prefer Brunetts	Neely Edwards	June 20	1 reel	June 3
Do or Diet	Charles Puffy	June 13	1 reel	June 3
Empty Socks	Oswald Cartoon	Dec. 11	1 reel
Fighting Finish, A	George Lewis			Oct. 14
Fighting Texan, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Sept. 10	2 reels	Aug. 19
George's Many Loves	Sid Saylor	June 15	2 reels	May 27
George Steps Out	Sid Saylor	Sept. 28	2 reels
Great Guns	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 17	1 reel
Gun Justice (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 2	2 reels	June 10
Haunted Island, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty-Helen Foster		10 episodes
His Day of Days	Neely Edwards	Aug. 15	1 reel
Home Trail, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	June 4	2 reels	May 13
Honest and Truly	Charles Puffy	Aug. 29	2 reels
Horse Trader, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Aug. 20	2 reels
Hot Stuff			1 reel	Oct. 14
Jane's Relations	M. Marcel-E. McCarthy	July 17	2 reels	July 1
Jane's Sleuth	Dorety-Clair	June 22	2 reels	June 3
Keeping in Trim	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Sept. 7	2 reels	Aug. 19
King of Hearts (Northwest Series)	Jack Perrin	Dec. 17	2 reelsc
Law Rider, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Nov. 5	2 reels
Lone Ranger, The	Fred Gilman	Dec. 31	2 reels
Love Wallop, The	Arthur Lake	Nov. 7	1 reel
Man Tamer, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 27	2 reels
Mechanical Cow, The	Oswald Cartoon	Oct. 3	1 reel
Mild West, The	"The Gumps"	Dec. 26	1 reel
Model George	Sid Saylor	Dec. 28	2 reel
Monkey Shines	Ben Hall	Sept. 25	1 reels
My Mistake	Charles King	June 29	2 reels	June 10
Newlyweds Christmas Party, The	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Dec. 11	2 reels	Nov. 4
Newlyweds' Mistake, The	Snookums-Young-McPhail	Nov. 7	2 reels
Newlyweds' Surprise	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Oct. 3	2 reels	Sept. 30
Newlyweds' Troubles	Snookums-Bartlett-McPhail	Sept. 5	2 reels	Aug. 19
Ocean Bruises	"The Gumps"		2 reels	Oct. 28
Ocean Hop	Oswald Cartoon
Oh! Mabel	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Taxi!	Sid Saylor	Aug. 10	2 reels	July 22
On Deck	Sid Saylor-Jean Doree	Nov. 30	2 reels
Oh Mabel!	C. King-C. Doherty	Nov. 23	2 reels
Oh Teacher!	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 19	1 reel	Sept. 2
On Furlough	Sig Saylor	July 27	2 reels	July 15
On Special Duty (Western)	Fred Gilman	Oct. 8	2 reels	Sept. 30
Passing the Joneses	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Nov. 2	2 reels
Pawns and Queens (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	Aug. 6	2 reels	July 15
Penny Ante	Harry Mann	June 27	1 reel
Phantom Outlaw, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 16	2 reels	June 24
Picking on George	Sid Saylor	Oct. 26	2 reels	Oct. 14
Piperock Blaze, The (Tuttle Western)	Holmes & Corbett	June 11	2 reels	May 20
Plain Jane		Aug. 17	2 reels
Please Don't		Aug. 24	2 reels
Plumed Rider, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	July 30	2 reels	July 15
Racing Wizard, The	Newton House	Dec. 24	2 reels
Rattling Good Time, A	Ben Hall	Dec. 19	1 reel
Red Suspenders	Summerville & "Fanny"	June 6	1 reel	May 20
Red Warning (Western)	Newton House		2 reels	Oct. 1?
Rest Cure, The (Tuttle Western)	Corbett and Holmes	June 25	2 reels
Rickety Gin	Oswald Cartoon	Dec. 26	1 reel
Riding Whirlwind, The (Western)	Newton House	Oct. 1	2 reels	Sept. 23
Riding Wild	Bob Curwood
Roaring Gulch, The (Mustang)	Edmund Cobb	July 17	2 reels	July 1
Run Buster!	Trimble, Turner and Dog	Dec. 14	2 reels
Run for His Money, A	Arthur Lake	Aug. 21	1 reel
Running Wild	Lewis-Gulliver-Phillips	Dec. 5	2 reels	Nov. 18
Rushing Business	Sid Saylor	Aug. 31	2 reels	Aug. 12
Samson at Calford	Lewis-Gulliver	Nov. 7	2 reels	June 17
Saxophobia	Arthur Lake	Oct. 10	1 reel	Sept. 30
Scarlet Arrow, The (Serial—F. X. Bushman Jr.)			10 episodes
Scrambled Honeymoon, The	Ben Hall	Nov. 21	1 reel
Scrappin' Fool, The (Mustang)	Bob Curwood	Sept. 17	2 reels	Sept. 2
Shady Rest	"The Gumps"		2 reels
Showing Off	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Dec. 7	2 reels	Nov. 18
Silent Partner, The (Mustang-Edmund Cobb)		Mar. 19	2 reels	Feb. 26
Sleepy Time Pal, A	Neely Edwards	July 11	1 reel	June 24
Smiling Wolf, The (Western)	Fred Gilman	Dec. 1	2 reels
Snookum's Asleep	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	July 6	2 reels	June 24
Snookum's Clean Up	Snookums-Clair-Saylor	Aug. 3	2 reels	July 15
Society Breaks	Long-Adams-Laymon-McPhail	Oct. 5	2 reels	Sept. 30
Sodas and Shebas	Arthur Lake	Sept. 12	2 reels	Sept. 9
Son of America, A	George K. Arthur	Aug. 8	1 reel
South of Northern Lights (Western)	Jack Perrin	Oct. 22	2 reels	Oct. 7
Splashing Through	Lewis-Gulliver-Phillips	Dec. 19	2 reels
Square Shooter, The (Mustang)	Fred Gilman	Aug. 13	2 reels	July 22
Stop Snookums	Snookums-Clair-Dooley	June 1	2 reels	May 13
Surprised Honey	Neely Edwards	Aug. 1	1 reel	July 15
Swell Clothes	Arthur Lake	Dec. 5	1 reel	Nov. 18
Tale of a Shirt, The	Jimmy Aubrey	July 17	1 reel	July 1
That's No Excuse	Charles King	June 8	2 reels	May 20
There's a Will	C. King-C. Doherty	Dec. 21	2 reels
Too Much Sleep	"The Gumps"	Sept. 19	2 reels	Sept. 2
Total Loss, A	"The Gumps"	Nov. 28	2 reels
Trail of the Tiger, The (Serial)	Jack Daugherty	Nov. 7	2 reels	Aug. 5
Trolley Troubles	Oswald Cartoon	Sept. 5	1 reel	Aug. 19
Under the Bed	Charles Puffy	July 4	1 reel	June 24
Valiant Rider, The (Western)	Bob Curwood		2 reels
Vanishing Rider, The (Serial)	Wm. Desmond		10 episodes
What An Excuse	Charles King	July 13	2 reels	June 2?
When Greek Meets Greek	"The Gumps"	Oct. 17	2 reels	Oct. 7
Whispering Smith Rides (Serial)	Wallace MacDonald	June 6	10 episodes
Winning Five, The	Lewis-Gulliver	Sept. 26	2 reels	Sept. 16
Winning Punch, The	George Lewis	Nov. 21	2 reels

"Quality Street" — Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Embassy Theatre, New York City

World: "Tender, fragrant, mellowing love story. Miss Davies gifted in many ways, but in no department does she seem to exceed her natural tendency to be versatile. . . . Film combines so much of photographic and atmospheric loveliness that it deserves success, and in all probability will have it."

Mirror: "Marion Davies surpassed every good performance she has ever given. Distinguished first-night audience awoke from its traditional lethargy of first-nighters to applaud. Miss Davies reveals unexpected versatility, which enables her to do perfectly two different characters almost simultaneously. She is star, not by arbitrary decision, but by histrionic superiority. Franklin responsible for startlingly effective camera work."

American: "Never has picture presentation been greeted and welcomed with enthusiasm that marked opening of 'Quality Street.' Beggars description or review. Finest production of its versatile star's splendid career. Better than 'Little Old New York,' and that picture, you will agree, was indeed worthy of a place in film archives."

News: "One of the sweetest stories ever told and delightfully quaint one—will be loved by moviegoers. Miss Davies splendid comedienne, and she's lovely to gaze on. . . . Barrie, in realistic nineteenth century old-fashioned English setting, beautifully reproduced, wonderfully photographed, admirably directed."

Journal: "Marion Davies, more enchantingly lovely than ever, delighted distinguished audience. Her best picture. Marion absolutely adorable in quaint costumes of period, gives exquisitely appealing performance. Her acting has such rare beauty and charm that 'Quality Street' takes its place among really great productions of the screen."

Evening World: "Marion Davies, hitherto seen in series of screen roles, chief pretension of which was that they must amuse, plumbed unexpected wells last night at intimate little Embassy Theatre, and brought up a startlingly realistic bag of emotion to make 'Quality Street' poignant living thing. By so doing she took one colossal leap from leading ranks of comediennes to front rank of screen's dramatic stars. Direction of Franklin an excellent job and if a cameraman named Hendrik Sartov has not been showered with praise something is wrong."

Telegraph: "In all its departments, picture reproduces in laudable degree Barrie mood. Director Franklin has caught author's idea of 'make-believe.' Marion Davies portrays pathetic Miss Phoebe in a manner which gives cards and spades to various Duses of cinema. A deal of humor and a deal of wistful pathos. Every artist in picture merits much abused term—artist."

Graphic: "A delightful bit of cinema work. Marion Davies beautiful. Sets charming and Franklin has retained throughout entire picture the Barrie spirit."

Times: "Marion Davies gives most conscientious performance of her career. . . . It is production with no little charm. Nagel is excellent and Director Franklin to be congratulated."

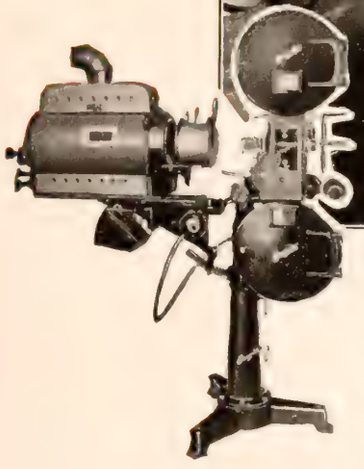
Herald-Tribune: "Miss Davies exquisitely lovely as belle of Quality Street who loved too well and sighed but vainly. Her playing of youthful Phoebe a beautiful thing. And we think Sidney Franklin's direction perfect. Has seized and held right mood throughout picture. It is gay, sweet, young."

Sun: "One of most charming photoplays on record."

"The Main Event"—Pathe Roxy Theatre, New York City

American: "Howard has managed to invest its action and atmosphere with certain novelty and originality which spectator is quick to sense. . . . Fight sequence, incidentally, one of finest we've yet seen filmed. . . . Everything about picture so nicely worked out that one never thinks about its being directed, and perhaps that's the best tribute of all."

Sun: "Another credit mark goes to score of Pathe-DeMille contingent. Especially interesting are fighting sequences. Howard has elicited genuine performances from players. Vera Reynolds . . . becomes as human and appealing as can be, and Armstrong . . . and Delaney "as the rival pugs are real to nth degree. A love scene played by Miss Reynolds and Delaney—during which the latter drops off to sleep on her shoulder—is heartwarming in its romantic appeal and is one of best hits of year."



Evening World: "Probably one of best things that Leatrice Joy has done. Miss Joy excellent as Broadway character. At all times she is convincing, but her best work is done when she comes to a realization of her mockery and finds herself haunted by it. Varconi quite as convincing as star and two make a great team."

Journal: "Leatrice Joy gives splendid performance and some good work is done by Varconi, Alice Lake and Elsie Bartlett, who makes her screen debut in this film. Miss Weber shows unusual ability.'

ROY PRESS
PRINTERS

SIMPLEX PROJECTORS FOR BETTER PROJECTION

An installation of 3 Simplex Projectors in the Valencia Theatre, Baltimore, Md.

Performance---

The Background of Profit

Experience has taught that good equipment and good profits go together. The cost of poor projection equipment is written plainly in the records of theatres that go out of business every year. And the value of good equipment is as clearly shown by the increasing prosperity of theatres, large and small, that make good projection a foremost business policy.

To have good projection does not necessarily mean that you must install a lot of new equipment. Only when Projectors are so badly worn that they fail to function properly or so out-of-date that they can not give results comparable with modern machines, is it necessary to replace them completely.

But it is necessary that you replace all worn parts of your projectors if you would bring the quality of your projection up to present day standards.

Why not give your equipment a thorough inspection now. Or if you wish, we will have our expert engineers inspect your equipment and advise you what new parts or adjustments are needed to assure perfect performance. This service is offered in the interest of better projection and entails no obligation. It is yours for the asking.

SIMPLEX DIVISION

INTERNATIONAL PROJECTOR CORPORATION

90 Gold St., New York

Robert Morton UNIT ORGAN New Style '39

Read What — Fred G. Wilson, — Editor of Reeland Review and Prominent New York Exhibitor thinks of this —

TELEPHONE BRYANT 2525

SUITE 503
729 SEVENTH AVENUE
NEW YORK

Robert Morton Organ Co.,
1560 Broadway,
New York City.

August 4 1927.

Gentlemen:-

When we installed your ROBERT MORTON ORGAN, STYLE 39, with an 88 note DOUBLE TRACKER ROLL DEVICE, in our Rose Theatre, we did so with a good deal of speculation as to whether a small organ would answer our purpose and give the required results.

We wish to commend you upon this type organ. You have answered a long felt want for the smaller type theatre. The organ has the quality of tone, fast action, orchestral, theatrical and symphonic characters which can only be found in the larger type organs.

We are contemplating two additional theatres of similar size, and are pleased to inform you that we will place the same type organ in both theatres.

After operating the organ for over eight months, we wish to add that you have solved the problem of the smaller type theatre in this ROBERT MORTON ORGAN, STYLE 39.

Very truly yours,

182 WEST 102ND STREET CORPORATION

Fred G. Wilson
President.

— Wonderful Instrument!

"The New Style 39" — permits the theatre of AVERAGE SEATING CAPACITY — to offer its patrons a distinctive outstanding music feature.

Genuine Deagan Percussions Used

Robert Morton Organ Co.
Send me without obligation full details of your New Selling Plan

Name .....
Theatre .....
Seating Capacity .....
City ..... State .....

cut out and mail Today!

KURT W. NEUMANN

Robert Morton Organ Co.

New York 1560 Broadway | Chicago 624 So. Michigan | Los Angeles 1914 So. Vermont | San Francisco 168 Golden Gate

December 9, 1927

Motion Picture News

FACTS

about "The Student Prince in Old Heidelberg"

1 ERNST LUBITSCH—The genius who gave the world "Passion," "Lady Windermere's Fan" and other fine pictures has directed a masterpiece for all time.

2 RAMON NOVARRO — The star who is thrilling all America today in "Ben Hur" gives a performance that will win him more followers than ever.

3 NORMA SHEARER—The most romantic role in the career of this wholesome beauty who is truly today's idol.

4 THE STUDENT PRINCE—If there is a legitimate theatre in your town "The Student Prince" has played there.

5 OLD HEIDELBERG—A name that breathes romance. The locale of the world-famed love story. Actually shown in a feature for the first time.

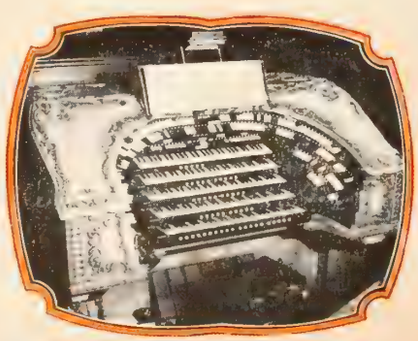
6 BROADWAY TRIUMPH—In its third month at the Astor Theatre, N.Y., at $2.00 admission, it is the outstanding road-show picture of the day.

METRO-GOLDW AYER

Vol. XXXVI No. 23

PRICE 20 CENTS

Los Angeles



OLYMPIA
THEATRE
Miami, Florida

WURLITZER
in Florida

Whether it be in Florida, California, New York or New Mexico, the Wurlitzer Organ is installed in every motion picture theatre where enterprising managers seek the finest equipment and entertainment. Everywhere in motion picture circles you will hear unanimous acclaim of Wurlitzer organ supremacy, because no other organ is so beautifully toned and so responsive to the slightest touch. You, too, may reluctantly but eventually be convinced of the superiority of the Wurlitzer Organ, even though it require the replacement of your present instrument.

Beautifully illustrated Theatre Organ catalog will be mailed promptly upon request.

Wurlitzer Organs are built in many styles and sizes to fit your particular requirements.

WURLITZER ORGANS

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

New York
Cleveland
Philadelphia
St. Louis
Chicago
Pittsburgh
FACTORY, N. TONAWANDA, N. Y.
Buffalo
San Francisco
Cincinnati
Detroit
Kansas City
Los Angeles

$1000 CASH!

for best theatre advertising campaigns on exhibitors, theatre managers and theatre advertising and publicity men! . . . . . .

24 SHEET

¶How would you sell—advertising, publicity and exploitation—HAROLD LLOYD in "SPEEDY" to your public? The picture deserves the best campaign ever put behind a big special. Harold Lloyd and Paramount want to start you thinking about it at once. We will pay good cash money for suggested campaigns. Read the synopsis, look at the 24-sheet, play with the title. Prepare a comprehensive, practical campaign. ¶Send it BEFORE DECEMBER 26TH to "SPEEDY", Harold Lloyd Corporation, 1501 Broadway, New York City.

Synopsis of

HAROLD LLOYD in "SPEEDY"

Speedy, a super-active boy of the New York streets, is so called because of the speed with which he gets and loses jobs.

His warmest friends are Pop Dillon, owner and driver of the last horse car line in New York, and Pop's pretty granddaughter, Jane.

Speedy's weakness is baseball. After a gag-filled holiday with Jane at Coney Island, he gets a job as taxi driver. In an exciting trip thru N. Y. traffic with Babe Ruth (in person) as passenger, he lands Babe at Yankee Stadium just in time for World's Series game. Only to learn that the villain of the story, knowing Pop Dillon must drive his car once a day over the line to hold his franchise, has abducted the car and horse.

After wild adventures Speedy locates car and horse and drives it madly thru N. Y., returning it just in time to make the run. Pop gets $100,000 from the electric trolley people for his franchise and Speedy gets Jane.

PRIZES FOR SHOWMEN!

Best Campaign . . . $200

2nd Best 150

3rd Best 100

Next 11 Best . $50 each

Start working at once on

LLOYD'S LATEST AND LAUGHINGEST!

In case of tie, duplicate prizes will be awarded tying contestants.

big star—1928 style

FIGURES DON'T LIE: Esther Ralston — October 7. This Esther Ralston girl has certainly hit the popular fancy with her last three or four pictures, especially "Ten Modern Commandments" and this one. "Figures Don't Lie" is a nice piece of entertainment for anybody's screen. This belongs in the best theatre, for the reason it possesses what the people pay to see — entertainment. I played it before it was reviewed, but had I known in advance that it was the picture it is, would have played it on my feature nights. It's good, take my word. Six reels. — P. E. Morris, Regent theatre, Indianola, Miss. — General patronage.—Exhibitors Herald, Nov. 19th.

¶ "I've been doing Esther Ralston and my pocketbook a great injustice," said an exhibitor. "I've watched Paramount building this girl ever since 'The American Venus.' I played her starring pictures, 'Fashions for Women' and 'Ten Modern Commandments.' They did good business. But what amazed me were the numbers of people who spoke to me about Esther Ralston after the show. ¶ 'We like her,' they said. 'She's beautiful and she can act. She's as good as the best of them. When is her next picture coming?' It started me thinking Was I overlooking a big bet? I decided to find out. ¶ I booked Esther Ralston in 'Figures Don't Lie,' saw it was great and got behind it with twice my usual advertising. Result: $3,200 receipts with 'Ten Modern Commandments'; $5,100 and S.R.O. with 'Figures Don't Lie.' As good as the biggest stars and specials do for me. I'm convinced. ¶ Esther Ralston has won a place among the top-notchers. Fine pictures have put her there. She's the type that clicks with audiences today. I've got her latest, 'THE SPOTLIGHT,' coming. It's her best to date. I'll shoot the works on it. And I'll clean up. ¶ I wonder how many exhibitors are still neglecting the gold mine they have in Esther Ralston."

THE INSIDE STORY ON CHARLEY CHASE

his long-term contract is important!

NOTE THE QUALITY OF M-G-M SHORTS

HAL ROACH COMEDIES
(the cream of wit)
10 OUR GANG
10 CHARLEY CHASE
10 MAX DAVIDSON
10 HAL ROACH ALL-STAR

M-G-M NEWS
(Twice weekly. It's Great!)

M-G-M ODDITIES
(UFA's amazing 1-reel gems)

M-G-M GREAT EVENTS
(technicolor dramas. "The Flag" is the first. Have you seen it?)

NATURALLY IT WAS TO BE expected that Charley Chase's established box-office name would suggest him as the new star to be taken into the feature comedy market.

AGAINST KEENEST COMPETITION

Charley Chase is retained for the Short Subject field. A victory for Hal Roach and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

FOX
YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

OLIVE BORDEN

THE Fox policy that demands youth at the head of its casts sets a high standard for the youthful stars to meet. Olive Borden is a brilliant example of how these requirements are filled. For youth, beauty and personality—all are hers. Is it any wonder that the fans bombard her with letters and that her followers have multiplied with each new release since her appearance last year in "Fig Leaves"? This season showed her as "The Joy Girl" and in "Pajamas." You'll get her next in "Come to My House"—the story of a very modern Miss who flaunted convention.

No. 7 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

FOX

YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

EDMUND LOWE

THE spirit that demands youth in Fox pictures is reflected in the vigor and freshness with which every role is cast. It mattered not that Edmund Lowe had gained fame as a young star of the "matinee idol" type. Fox authorities saw in him an ideal Sergeant Quirt —and as the hard-boiled top-sergeant in "What Price Glory" he was cast—and triumphed! Now Edmund Lowe's new personality has won him fresh laurels, and you, the Exhibitor, benefit from his increased popularity in his latest pictures, "Publicity Madness" and "The Wizard," a high-tension mystery drama.

No. 8 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

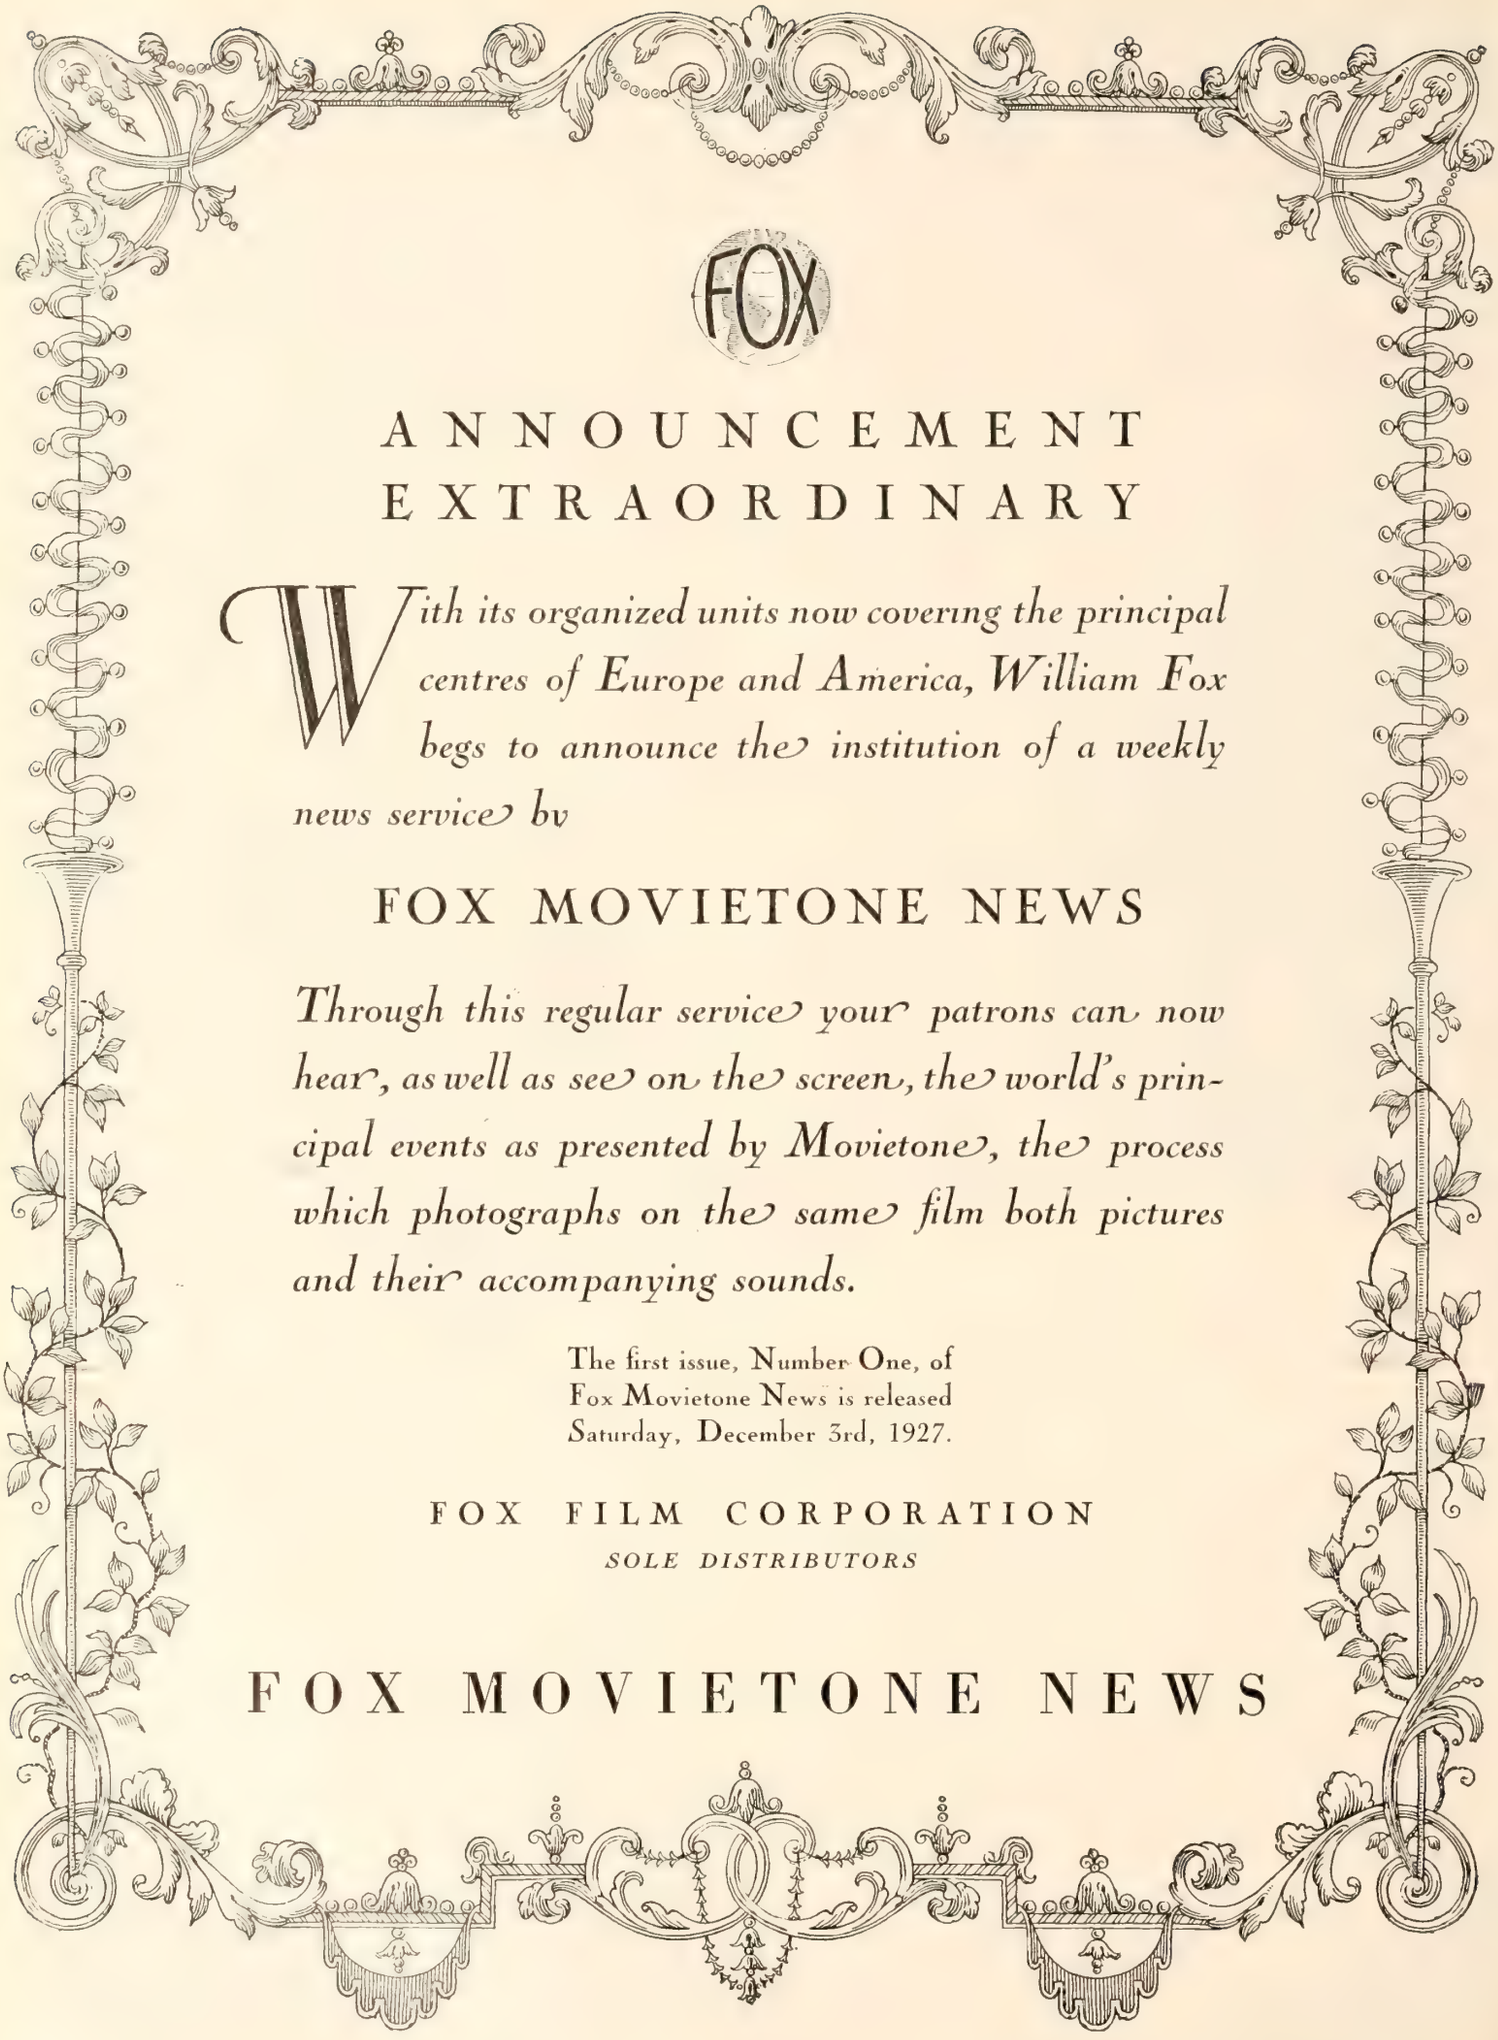
Most Sensational Role of Year

PHYLLIS HAVER

AS "ROXIE HART" IN

"CHICAGO"



PHYLLIS HAVER
as the Jazz Queen
Slayer "Roxie Hart"

FOLLOWING a series of sensational successes which have established her as one of the biggest finds of recent years, Phyllis Haver is destined to score one of the greatest individual triumphs in screen history as "Roxie Hart" in the dynamic DeMille Studio Production "Chicago", Directed by Frank Urson, featuring in the cast Victor Varconi, Virginia Bradford, Robert Edeson, Julia Faye, May Robson and T. Roy Barnes. Adapted by Lenore J. Coffee from the play by Maurine Watkins, produced on the stage by Sam H. Harris.

Pathé Exchange, Inc.

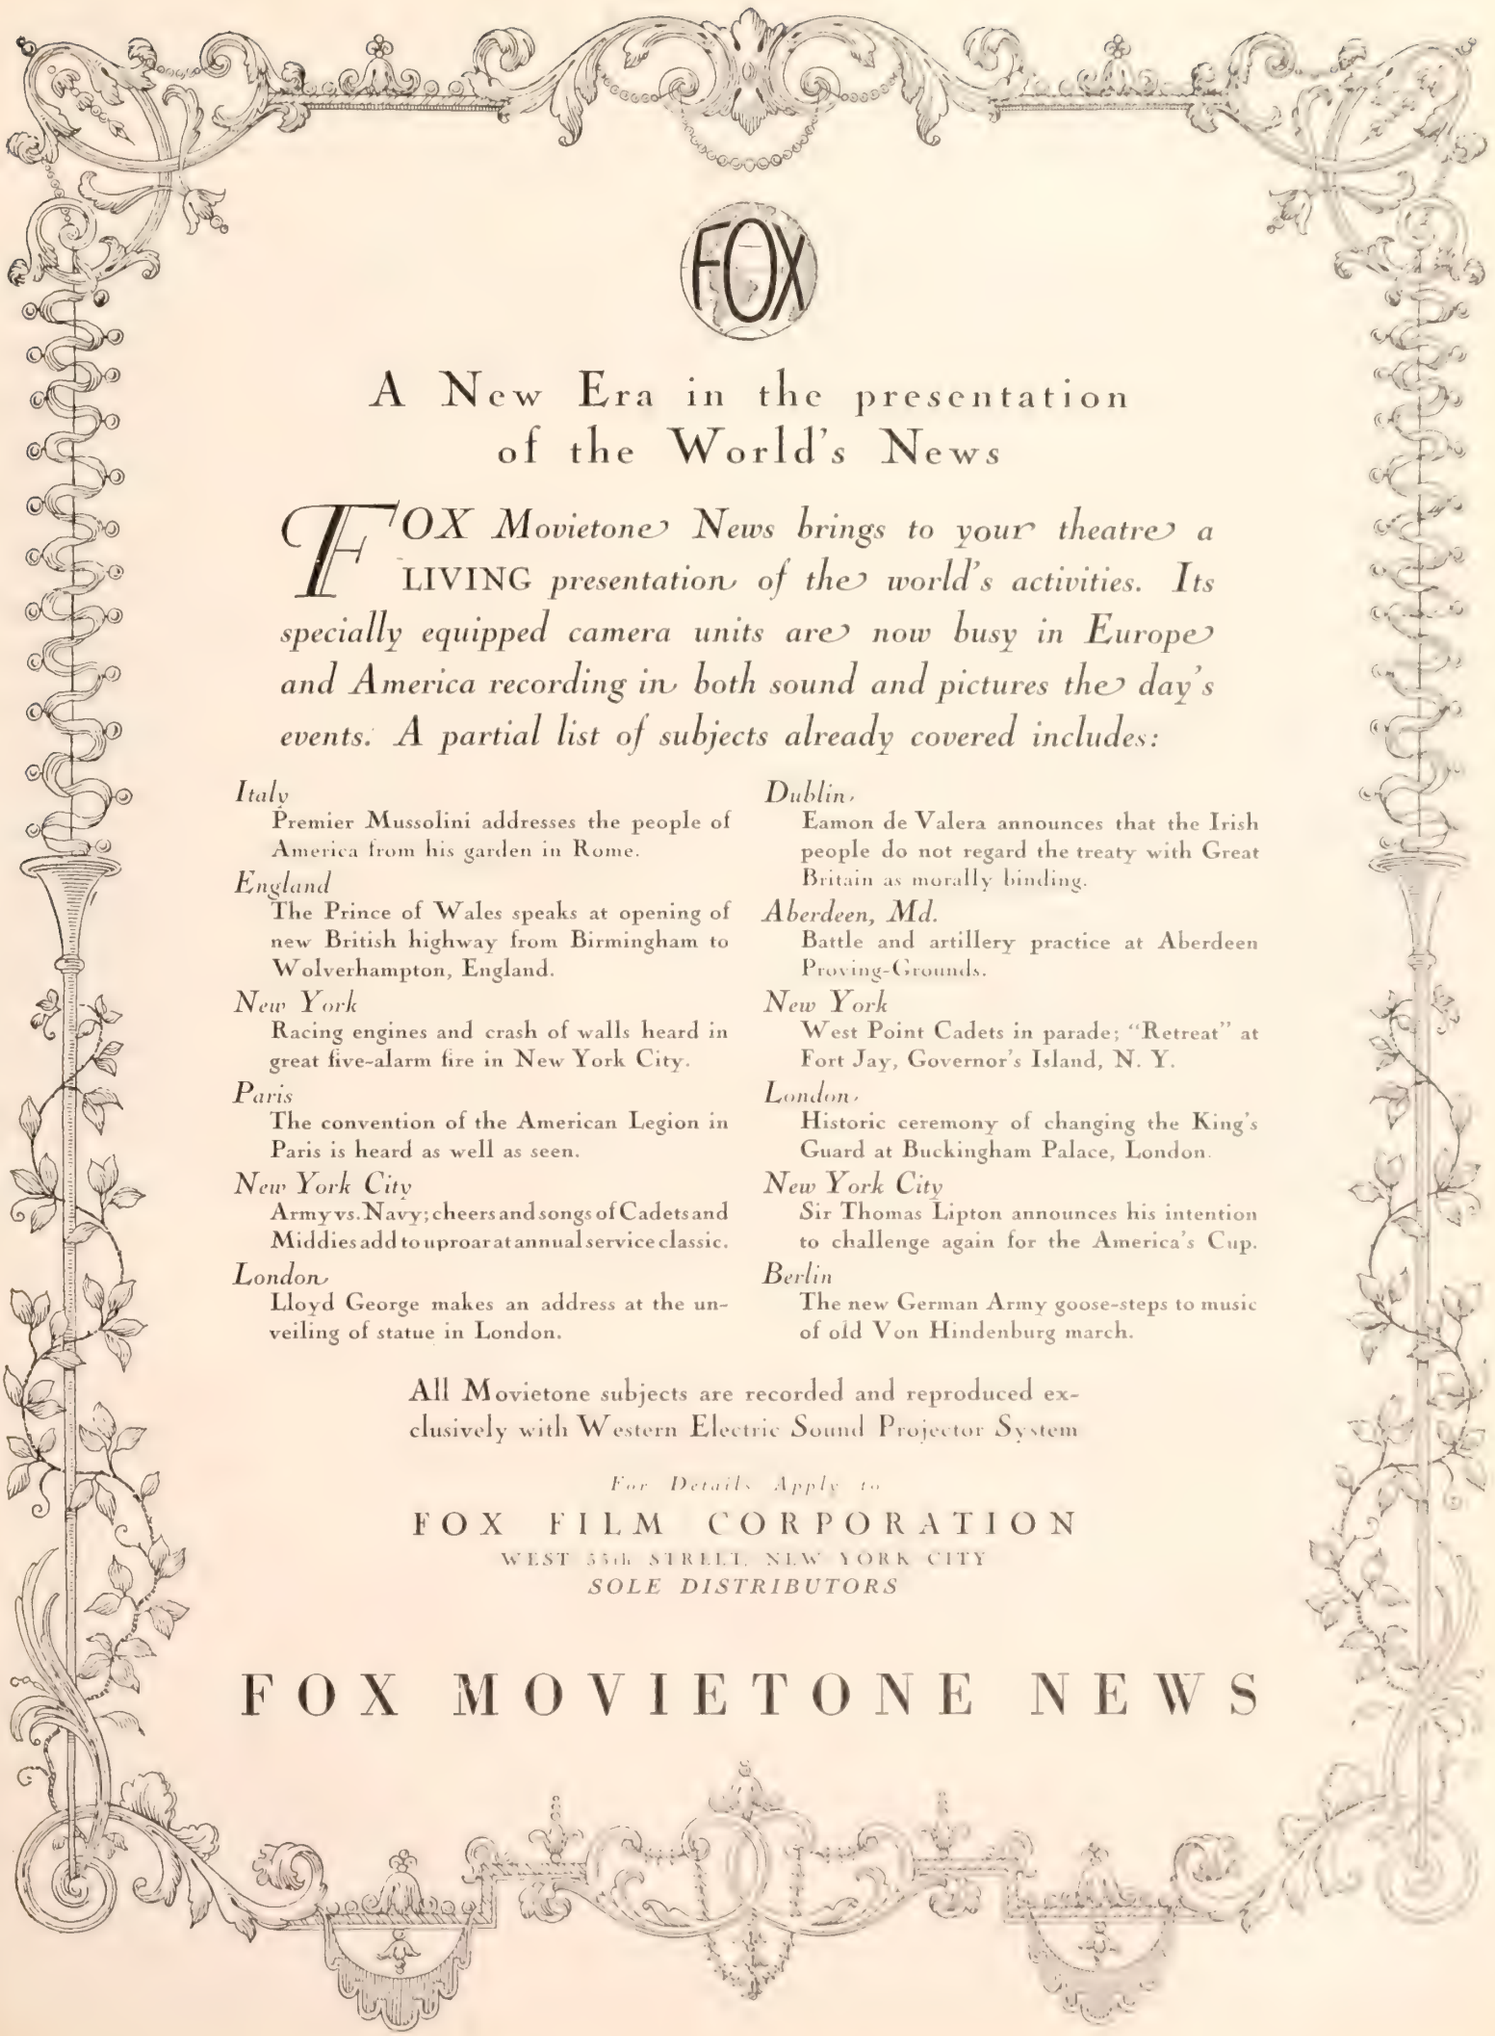
DE MILLE STUDIO PICTURES – PATHE NEWS – PATHE WESTERNS – PATHESERIALS – PATHECOMEDIES

Producers International Corp., 130 West 46th St., New York. WILLIAM M. VOGEL, General Manager, Foreign Distributors of De Mille and Metropolitan Studio Productions, Member of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., WILL H. HAYS, President.

FOX

ANNOUNCEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

With its organized units now covering the principal centres of Europe and America, William Fox begs to announce the institution of a weekly news service by



FOX MOVIETONE NEWS

Through this regular service your patrons can now hear, as well as see on the screen, the world's principal events as presented by Movietone, the process which photographs on the same film both pictures and their accompanying sounds.

The first issue, Number One, of Fox Movietone News is released
Saturday, December 3rd, 1927.

FOX FILM CORPORATION
SOLE DISTRIBUTORS

FOX MOVIETONE NEWS

FOX

A New Era in the presentation of the World's News

FOX Movietone News brings to your theatre a LIVING presentation of the world's activities. Its specially equipped camera units are now busy in Europe and America recording in both sound and pictures the day's events. A partial list of subjects already covered includes:

Italy
Premier Mussolini addresses the people of America from his garden in Rome.

England
The Prince of Wales speaks at opening of new British highway from Birmingham to Wolverhampton, England.

New York
Racing engines and crash of walls heard in great five-alarm fire in New York City.

Paris
The convention of the American Legion in Paris is heard as well as seen.

New York City
Army vs. Navy; cheers and songs of Cadets and Middies add to uproar at annual service classic.

London
Lloyd George makes an address at the unveiling of statue in London.

Dublin
Eamon de Valera announces that the Irish people do not regard the treaty with Great Britain as morally binding.

Aberdeen, Md.
Battle and artillery practice at Aberdeen Proving-Grounds.

New York
West Point Cadets in parade; "Retreat" at Fort Jay, Governor's Island, N. Y.

London
Historic ceremony of changing the King's Guard at Buckingham Palace, London.

New York City
Sir Thomas Lipton announces his intention to challenge again for the America's Cup.

Berlin
The new German Army goose-steps to music of old Von Hindenburg march.

All Movietone subjects are recorded and reproduced exclusively with Western Electric Sound Projector System

For Details Apply to

FOX FILM CORPORATION
WEST 55th STREET, NEW YORK CITY
SOLE DISTRIBUTORS

FOX MOVIETONE NEWS

Another Big Pathe - DeMille Feature Hits Broadway

Pathe presents

"THE WRECK OF THE HESPERUS"

With VIRGINIA BRADFORD
FRANK MARION, ALAN HALE and SAM DE GRASSE

Suggested by
HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW'S FAMOUS POEM
By Harry Carr and John Farrow
Directed by ELMER CLIFTON
Produced by DeMILLE PICTURES CORPORATION

Pathé

FOX

YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

LOIS MORAN

EVER since her memorable performance as the young patrician in "Stella Dallas" one of the most acclaimed and most sought-after of the younger players, Lois Moran has been signed to an exclusive Fox contract in accordance with the Fox policy of securing for your theatre the best the screen affords as exemplified in lovely youth! Lois Moran's great popularity with the public will become an asset at your box-office in her new Fox Pictures. Following "Publicity Madness" she will be seen in "Sharpshooters," with George O'Brien, directed by J. G. Blystone.

No. 9 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

FOX
YOUTH BEAUTY PERSONALITY

EARLE FOXE

FOX recognizes that youth forms a large portion of the screen's audience and so encourages youth to push to the front in the screen's leading delineations. Here is a young player whom ever-growing popularity and genuine talent have lifted from the ranks of a comedy star to fill leading roles in important dramatic productions. Earle Foxe has won thousands of friends among the patrons of Fox pictures and they will be delighted with his acting in "Ladies Must Dress," in which he plays opposite Virginia Valli.

No. 10 OF A SERIES

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

Another Columbia Triumph on Broadway!

"Excellent acting. Consistently entertaining and holds interest. A good audience picture."

Regina Cannon in N. Y. Americans

Columbia Pictures

presents

JACK HOLT

in

"THE TIGRESS"

with

DOROTHY REVIER

A George B. Seitz Production

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO KNOW ?

About the Production
About the Player
About the Director
About the Writer

YOU CAN FIND OUT —
AND WITH LITTLE EFFORT

By Consulting

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

BOOKING GUIDE and STUDIO DIRECTORY

A Record of Pictures & People

Whether You Are Buying or Selling

The "Dope" on Pictures and People is Most Necessary

You Get It In a Volume Arranged the Way You Want It

IT IS IN THE MAILS

SEND IN YOUR ORDER NOW IF YOU HAVE NOT ALREADY DONE SO

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

729 Seventh Avenue, New York City

MAKING FOX PICTURES FOR YOUR THEATRES: THE WORLD'S GREATEST ARRAY OF DIRECTORS

IT takes Brains to direct Youth and Beauty! It takes experience, judgment and skill to blend on the screen the sure-fire elements of entertainment and box-office success. And so Fox has enlisted the services of—not a few, or even a dozen—but of two-score Directors who have earned enviable records in making pictures of the best class—pictures that please the public and appeal to the patronage of the highest class houses. (Fox is not interested in the mediocre.) These men are required to make good, and they are given the chance to do so —Youth, Beauty and Personality in their casts; stories from the best sources; the highest grade technical and editorial help; and the encouragement to do their best! Fox Pictures do not just happen: they are planned, and planned right, for your theatre!

WHO PLAYS with FOX PROFITS with FOX

FRANK BORZAGE

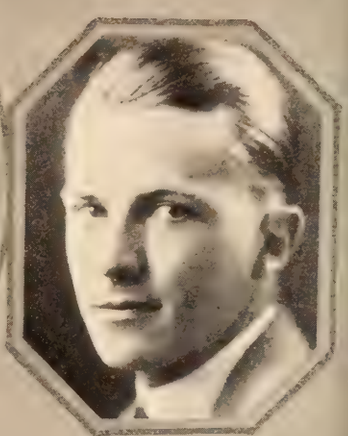
RAOUL WALSH

FRED W. MURNAU

HOWARD HAWKS

JOHN FORD

ALLAN DWAN



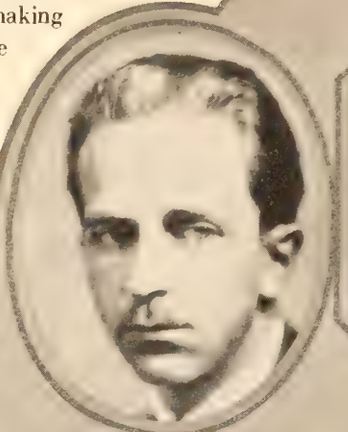
ALFRED E. GREEN

LUDWIG BERGER

J. G. BLYSTONE

ALBERT RAY

FOX DIRECTORS



These are some of the men responsible for the fact that today "Fox is making the best pictures." So says the Trade—and the Trade is right!

JAMES TINLING

ARTHUR ROSSON

RICHARD ROSSON

VICTOR HEERMAN

FRANK O'CONNOR

LEW SEILER

DAVID BUTLER

BEN STOLOFF

IRVING CUMMINGS

GREAT things have happened since August 15TH*.....

Tunney has licked Dempsey—

New Ford Completed—

The Yanks have won the World Series—

A Woman has flown across the Atlantic—

Yale has beaten Harvard—

The Mechanical Man has been invented—

The French have won the Davis Cup—

The Premier of Roumania has died—

8,740,000 children have been born—

* Date of "Patent Leather Kid" New York opening

First National Pictures

-and still-

THE PATENT LEATHER KID goes ON-and ON-

ON BROADWAY - At the Globe!

An ALFRED SANTELL production
Directed by ALFRED SANTELL

MORE PEOPLE - have paid -

FIRST NATIONAL'S FIRST on BROADWAY

THE LEA THAN TURE

First National Pictures

15 WEEKS in SEVEN WEEKS

FIVE WEEKS

MORE MONEY - to see

PATENT THER KID

ANY OTHER PIC- ON THE STREET!

An ALFRED SANTELL Production
Directed by ALFRED SANTELL

NEW YORK at $2.20 TOP in CHICAGO AT THE WOODS $1.65 TOP

in DETROIT AT THE MILES

Judge

FIRST NATIONAL'S FINEST!

COLLEEN MOORE
in "NED WILD OAT"

The big pay-off of Colleen's career. Has every element that has made her the pet of the picture public in a dozen great successes. Marshall Neilan's direction.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE
in "BREAKFAST AT SUNRISE"

Just remember that the Mainstreet, Kansas City reported she "had 'em standing all over street Sunday and kept them coming during the week"—and you'll know what to expect from Connie's fastest and funniest.

"THE GORILLA"
with Charlie Murray and Fred Kelsey
An ALFRED SANTELL Production
Directed by ALFRED SANTELL

"Opened Madison Theatre to most enthusiastic audience of the season...A knockout," wires George Trendle of Detroit. "Opened Saturday and Sunday to tremendous business...S R O only," reports Wm. Epstein of the Aztec, San Antonio. Presented by Asher, Small and Rogers.

"A TEXAS STEER"
with WILL ROGERS—LOUISE FAZENDA

and 5 other star names in the cast. Famous American comedy with a made-to-order role for the world's greatest humorist. Backed by $800,000 free advertising. And RICHARD WALLACE has put "McFadden's Flats" quality in the direction.

"THE PRIVATE LIFE OF HELEN OF TROY"
with Maria Corda—Lewis Stone—Ricardo Cortez

Road-show opening of this million-dollar comedy spectacle at the Globe, New York, December 9th, for indefinite run. Fame of best-selling novel of the decade precedes it.

"THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS"
by HAROLD BELL WRIGHT

That NAME—Harold Bell Wright—would bring 'em, even if this great special from his best-selling novel didn't have Molly O'Day of "Patent Leather Kid" fame and a half-dozen other favorites in the cast.

A George Fitzmaurice Production
starring BILLIE DOVE
in "THE LOVE MART"

You're losing money every day you put off signing a Billie Dove picture. How that little girl has stolen America's heart! Now you get her first Special, with enough romance and color of the glorious South to start another Florida land boom.

A George Fitzmaurice Production
"ROSE OF THE GOLDEN WEST"
with Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland

Leading key cities... Delivering biggest gross houses have had in months...This glorious romance of Spain and California is covering First National with glory.

by

First National Pictures

RICHARD A. ROWLAND presents

RICHARD BARTHELMESS

in

the PATENT LEATHER KID

by RUPERT HUGHES

An ALFRED SANTELL Production Directed by ALFRED SANTELL

Production management AL. ROCKETT Titles by GERALD C. DUFFY Scenario by WINIFRED DUNN

The Pictures the Industry is BANKING on for 1928

Motion Picture News

Volume XXXVI NEW YORK CITY, DECEMBER 9, 1927 No. 23

Unscrupulous Building

And How It Leads to Ruinous Theatre Competiton

By William A. Johnston

OUR editorial, "Overfeeding the Public," seems to have aroused considerable comment. If the letters we are receiving are any criterion, the subject is one of burning interest everywhere.

We select, for quotation, a letter from Albert B. Lourie, of the Franklin Park Theatre, Dorchester, Mass., because it brings out an exceedingly important point.

Mr. Lourie wants to know why the exhibitor should be blamed for overfeeding the public with entertainment.

* * * *

"Why not comment on the part that the producer and the distributor should have played, but didn't?" he asks, and continues.

"The exhibitor, I readily admit, is partly to blame, but inasmuch as self-preservation is the first law of Nature, and as they had to think of preserving their investments (without the aid of the rest of the industry) I claim that they are not to be condemned, as they are being."

Mr. Lourie thinks our editorial should have been titled "Unscrupulous Building." So we place that title on this editorial, and continue with Mr. Lourie's letter:

"The exhibitor, in most sections of the country, has this problem to contend with today. Either real estate factions realize that if they build a theatre where the territory is already overseated they will either be able to lease or sell out to the people already established, or, if unsuccessful, they will be able to sell to a big chain organization, or a national company that both produces and exhibits its own pictures;

"Or else some national organization decides that a new theatre ought to go well in this or that city, and without thinking of the man who is working hard to produce profits, but merely of their own greed, put up an enormous proposition, with high expenses, with the result that very often they lose money, and come near ruining their opposition (the little fellow).

"Then what happens? The new theatre begins to put on big vaudeville attractions, big musical comedy and opera stars and other unusual novelties, with the hopes of stimulating business. The little fellow, to offset this 'plague,' puts in his gift nites, amateur and professional vod-vil nites, with the result that both increase their business without making any profits.

* * * *

"You might argue that the producer was justified in building in certain territories, inasmuch as they were not receiving a sufficient revenue from the theatres already established. I agree with you, and maintain that in instances where the exhibitor was doing business, and was cornering the distributor, and where if another theatre or two were constructed, they would all do business, the producer and distributor were justified to build. But in that instance only.

"There is no reason for unscrupulous building, however, and wherever there is unscrupulous building, the exhibitor is absolutely justified in increasing his overhead to preserve his investment."

With all of which we are in hearty agreement. As a matter of fact, it is chiefly the producer or distributor-affiliated theatres which are leading in overfeeding the public. The key city show-windows have been too largely turned into vaudeville theatres.

(Continued on Next Page)

Editorial By William A. Johnston

As George Kleine pointed out in his article last week, they are not picture shows, except by historical association.

But the point Mr. Lourie makes is unquestionably at the root of a good deal of the trouble in our industrial structure today.

It all goes back to the same thing, which we have hitherto stressed in regard to production, namely, that pictures are forced on the public in programs arbitrarily determined, instead of being pulled by the public through real demand.

Another way of saying that supply regulates instead of demand. That is the basic fault in production.

And the same evil is evident in the theatre field. Instead of the building of theatres being determined by public demand, it is too often decided by strategic moves, in which the public interest gets far too little consideration.

Again, an artificial supply is created, where real demand does not exist.

Of course, the building of "bootleg" theatres has no justification whatever.

One result, as Mr. Lourie so well says, is that super-shows, name acts, jugglers, singers, musical revues and what not, are put on, all with a view to boosting grosses in competition with other theatres.

Naturally, if the big house sets the pace, the other big houses, and even the smaller ones, follow.

Mr. Lourie makes a point in his letter which a lot of theatre owners from the high spots of Broadway all the way to the Pacific Coast ought to put down in indelible ink and paste in their hats.

It is this: "they increase their business without making any profits."

Let's consider Times Square, New York.

The Paramount Theatre has added an annual gross to the picture houses of the district of over three and a half million dollars The Roxy has added some six million dollars more, making nearly ten millions in all.

Yet the grosses of the other houses have not noticeably declined. One has even gone way up.

Wonderful—at first glance! Fine!

But what about the cost of the big show, put on in the effort to keep up?

The gross is great but what about the net?

It is not, as Mr. Lourie says, merely Times Square that is running wild. Elsewhere, the same mad rush is on—after the gross and regardless of the net.

And, of course, a halt has got to come.

In groceries, shoes, clothing—any retail line—it is easy enough to make the till jingle if you give away two or three dollars' worth of stuff for fifty cents.

But not only are you losing money in the effort to make a record; you are also exhausting the purchasing power of your community.

Most important of all is the effect on the whole industry:

The motion picture is in danger of being minimized in public esteem. It is being made to play second fiddle. An unhealthy situation—and one that cannot be remedied too quickly.

December 9, 1927 Motion Picture News Vol. XXXVI, No. 3

Published weekly by Motion Picture News, Inc. Founded in September, 1913. Publication Office, 729 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y.; Editorial and General Offices, 729 Seventh Ave., New York City; Branch Offices 845 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Room 616 Security Bldg., Hollywood, California. William A. Johnston, president; E. Kendall Gillett, vice-president; William A. Johnston, editor; J. S. Dickerson, associate editor; Oscar Cooper, managing editor; Fred J. Beecroft, advertising manager; L. H. Mason, Chicago representative; William McCormack, Los Angeles representative. Subscription price, $2.00 per year, postpaid in United States, Mexico, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands and some other countries. Canada, $3.00; Foreign, $6.00. Copyright, 1927, by Motion Picture News, Inc., in United States and Great Britain. Title registered in the United States Patent Office and foreign countries. Western Union cable address is "Picknews," New York. Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office, New York, N. Y., April 22, 1926, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Inside Slants on the Industry

PICTURES AND PEOPLE

The Mirrors of Filmdom

ANNOUNCEMENT by Fox that Movietone News will go into regular release December 3, marks a new era in the history of the motion picture industry. We believe—and we have so stated editorially several times—that the "sound picture" will be one of the big and determining factors in the future of this business.

We have heard several of the Movietone News numbers as they were given at the Roxy, observed the tremendous impression they made on audiences, and, in every instance, have come away enthusiastic.

Recently we printed a special dispatch from Edwin Schallert telling the sensation created by Movietone at the Tower Theatre, Los Angeles. It literally lined up crowds waiting to get into the house, and pulled record breaking business.

Without any blare of trumpets, the Fox forces have been working for several months to give exhibitors the perfected process. The experiments have now been completed, and Movietone News goes out to the theatres. There is no question whatever about its success.

The recording of sounds that accompany news events is a great step forward. It is a history-making achievement; and it gives this whole industry a decided push forward.

There are still other important developments in the offing. For example, Fox is announcing that "Blossom Time," famous musical comedy, will be filmed with Movietone accompaniment and effects. The possibilities are at once apparent. The interplay of sound and silence in the motion picture means newer and greater entertainment.

Fox is contributing in a big way to the real progress of the industry.

* * *

THIS is a personality business. Let's not forget that. Personality in pictures—personality in showmanship—personality in advertising. We are reminded of this just now because of the attractive personality copy on Fox stars prepared by Vivian Moses as inserts in the trade papers. They carry the message of "Youth—Personality—Beauty" to the theatres; and a very important message that is.

The public thinks of pictures in terms of personalities. In stressing the personality angle to exhibitors, the Fox inserts are decidedly right.

* * *

THE foreign situation comes in for a lot of attention this week. Just at the moment when the German Government, through a change in the quota, tightens the import restrictions, UFA, the leading German concern, announces that it will have its own theatres and distribution in America.

UFA's intention of expanding here has been known to us for a long time, unofficially. We printed an article on the proposed exchange system last August. An important point in the story as we got it was that the UFA exchanges might also be used for the distribution of pictures of other nations, notably Great Britain. Whether this will come to pass remains to be seen, but there have been several signs of a film entente cordiale between Germany and England.

* * *

NOW that Britain is to have a quota, too, production in England is booming. Purse-strings are being unloosed, and the newspapers talk of millions that will be made available for picture-making. In London, it is termed "the gold rush."

Already offers are being cabled by British companies to Hollywood for stars and directors. We predict that a good many studio folk from America, particularly those of British birth, will eventually be seen in pictures made by the revived British industry.

Just how far this will go, nobody can foresee at the moment. But the situation will be very interesting to watch.

* * *

GRETA GARBO and John Gilbert are starred in the week's premiere—the opening of "Love" at the Embassy theatre. This is the screen version of Tolstoi's "Anna Karenina," directed by Edmund Goulding for M-G-M. The picture is heavily freighted with close-ups, and has some other defects, but the great popularity of the two stars will undoubtedly make its mark at the box-office.

It seems to us by no means the picture that "Flesh and the Devil" was, but it does show again that Gilbert and Garbo are a splendid team.

* * *

THE ways of Hollywood are sometimes beyond all understanding. Listen to this true story:

Once upon a time there was an accredited agent of one of the largest manufacturers in America. He went to Hollywood in an effort to give away $400,000 worth of billboard space to picture people in a tie-up with the product he was exploiting.

He was not trying to sell $400,000 worth of billboard space; he only wanted to give it away.

Now the film industry is known far and wide for its exploitation acumen. The agent was aware of that; and he confidently expected to be welcomed with open arms. Why not, when he was giving something away?

So he went around to some of the big studios. There he was confronted with the usual red tape—and conferences. Everybody seemed to be in conference. Finally, he broke the ice in a studio or two. After considerable debating and argument with executives, he convinced one or two that it wouldn't be such a bad idea to let the faces of some of their stars appear on $400,000 worth of billboards throughout the country. They eventually condescended—and it cost them nothing.

But in one of the very biggest studios he met no success. Perhaps the executive couldn't quite grasp the point; maybe he was too busy in conferences to consider the little matter of $400,000 worth of free billboard space.

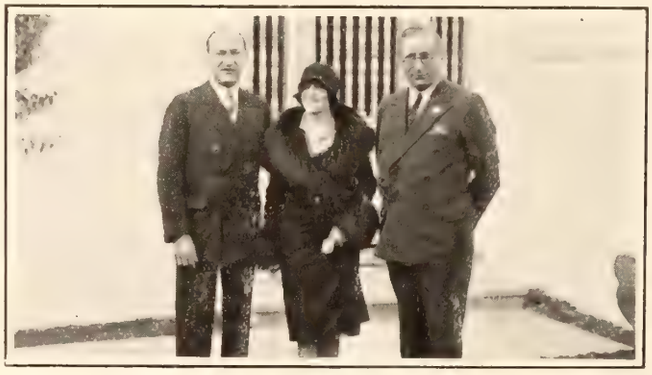
The agent could get no action. In despair he asked one of his friends if he wouldn't ask the executive to see the light. This the friend did; but the executive would only agree as a personal favor to the friend.

This same friend, who had no financial interest in the proposition whatever, suggested to another producer that it would be a fine thing to avail himself of the billboard space for one of his big stars. The producer said: "All right, if you say so." He was an intelligent producer who saw the point at once.

But the funny part of it all is that two press agents are now battling among themselves for the credit of this producer's billboard tie-up.

They had nothing to do with it, except to follow the orders given them by the producer on the suggestion of his friend.

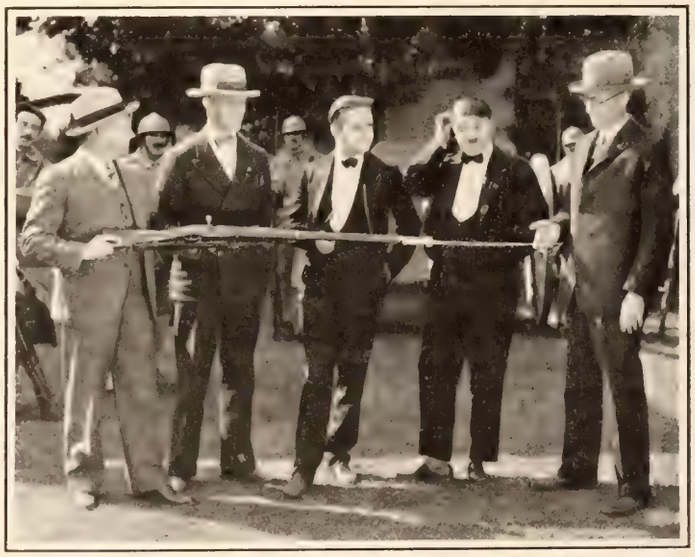
Milton Simon, who is president of Raleigh Pictures which will make eight "society" films during the 1928-29 season for the States Rights market



When the original Mr. and Mrs. Cohen of "Abie's Irish Rose" fame arrived in Hollywood, Bernard Gorcey, the husband, received a caressing welcome from Thelma Todd. Ida Kramer evidently feels slighted because 'Poppa' seems to enjoy the attention he is getting. The two of them are going to work in Paramount's picturization of the Ann Nichols play. The roles of Mr. and Mrs. Cohen have been played by Mr. Gorcey and Miss Kramer no less than 2,327 times

Dan Clark, who has been cameraman for Tom Mix for seven years, has just finished shooting Mix' fiftieth picture. You have to be good to film the active Tom

Patsy Ruth Miller's alluring countenance is the reason for Glenn Tryon's gambols in the Universal feature comedy, "A Hero For a Night." She and Glenn are now working in "Hot Heels" for Universal



Louis B. Mayer, vice-president and general manager in charge of production at the M-G-M Culver City film plant, greets Nicholas Schenck, M-G-M president, and his wife, on the occasion of Schenck's yearly visit to the West Coast

Mary Nolan, new United Artists player, could easily be mistaken for Vilma Banky when she wears a big hat. She contributed a bit in the United Artists release, "Sorrell and Son"

Richard Barthelmess plays host to two talented visitors in the persons of Jascha Heifetz, the famous violinist, and his accompanist, Isador Achron. They dropped in while he was making "The Noose" for First National

Al Cooke and Kit Guard are serious for a moment as they look over a deadly toy. The Hollywood Post No. 43 of the American Legion lent assistance to Director Arvid Gilstrom during the filming of F B O's "Legionaires in Paris"

Pictures and People–Continued

A STARTLING example of stupidity on the part of a studio executive came to our attention recently. It seems that a prominent writer was engaged by this executive to do adaptations. The writer hung around for several weeks without anything to do and finally went to the executive and said: "How about giving me a story to work on?"

So the executive, who had apparently forgotten that he had hired the writer, gave the latter a story and went into a lot of detail about how he wanted it adapted.

The writer got busy with his typewriter and worked for two weeks. Then, one day, he discovered that the very story which he had been given to adapt had already been picturized, and the picture was at that moment playing in a Los Angeles theatre.

To make it worse, the picture was produced by the same company for which the high-priced executive was working. It would seem that what this executive ought to do is to take a course in memory training.

* * *

"THE STORY OF THE FILMS," being the lectures delivered at Harvard by leaders of the industry, and edited by Joseph P. Kennedy, has been published by the A. W. Shaw Company, and is an exceedingly interesting volume. The lecturers in addition to Mr. Kennedy, who sponsored this course for the students of the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard, were: Will H. Hays, Adolph Zukor, Dr. A. H. Giannini, Jesse L. Lasky, Cecil B. De Mille, E. W. Hammons, Milton Sills, S. R. Kent, R. H. Cochrane, Sam Katz, the late Marcus Loew, William Fox and Harry M. Warner.

The book is well worth the attention of everybody in the industry. It will also, no doubt, interest many outside the picture world.

* * *

THERE are many interesting and vital things in this volume. For instance, S. R. Kent, in his lecture on Distribution, said this on the theatre situation, in reply to a question from a Harvard student:

"Our business at the present time is just getting over a period of fierce competition. It is still very competitive but it is competitive on a little higher basis than it was a few years ago. During this period of keen competition everybody went in for theatres. I think the pendulum in time will swing back, because a nation-wide exhibiting organization will succeed only in proportion to its individual man-power per theatre.

"Selling motion pictures to a community is not like selling shoes. Personality means so much in the man who operates a theatre in a little town. A man who is not popular can kill a theatre over-night, while a man who has a personality, who is at the front door of his theatre and merchandises in a high class way, can make himself part of the community and a sort of local institution.

"Chain operation will rise or fall according to the quality of the man power in the individual theatre. If an organization can handle a group of theatres as well as an individual operator handles one theatre, the operation of a great number of theatres will be successful. Otherwise it will fail. In my opinion, the pendulum will swing back to a point where in the big cities we shall have the show cases, and the rest of the theatres will revert back to individuals."

* * *

MECHANICAL sound reproducers are supplanting back stage "effects" manipulated by special crews in road show presentations of motion pictures. This new field for sound devices of the phonograph type is one in which loud speaker systems of the disc type have progressed from the experimental stage into practical use, and two current road show presentations are now employing such phonograph equipment. These are the "King of Kings" showing at the Gaiety theatre in New York and "Wings" playing the Erlanger theatre in Chicago.

For some time a phonograph has been in use at the Gaiety theatre in New York. A special record, reproducing a vocal rendition by a mixed chorus, is used during portions of the latter half of "The King of Kings." This interpolated choral music formerly was sung by a large chorus, whose members, though required for only about ten minutes during each performance, had to be engaged by the week and drew pay computed on that basis.

The system installed at the Gaiety is the Symphonium, developed and manufactured by the B. B. L. Speaker company. The installation cost of this system is said to be comparatively low. The company sells the equipment outright. It uses a disc record operated by an electrically driven turntable with electrical pick-up and amplification. According to report the operating cost of the Symphonium at the Gaiety is $50 weekly for the services of an operator. The chorus which this device has supplanted was on the theatre's payroll for about $400.

* * *

NO publicity has been given this device during the experimental stage, and no announcements have as yet been made by those interested in the company manufacturing and distributing the Symphonium. Several other installations have been made in other theatres in the east. These are mainly houses with a combination vaudeville and motion picture policy.

In view of this and the fact that Pat Casey, prominent vaudeville man, is reported to be one of the principal backers of the Symphonium, belief is expressed that this device is being developed with the particular aim of making it especially adapted to theatres presenting vaudeville and pictures.

During the past year it has several times been reported that the K-A officials, controlling factors in the company sponsoring "The King of Kings," have been interested in the so-called sound pictures and regarded them as an important attraction of the motion picture presentation of the future.

Another important synchronizing system known to be ready for the general market is the kenographone, developed by engineers of the General Electric Company. This system is now having its public tryout in connection with "Wings" at the Erlanger theatre in Chicago. The kenographone is a sound-photography system, similar to Movietone and Phonofilm in that the sound vibrations are photographically recorded on the edge of the film.

In addition to this, the back stage effects for "Wings" are supplied by disc phonographic records, which were made during the filming of the picture in Texas by an engineer associated with the General Electric laboratories.

* * *

A PRIVATE demonstration of the General Electric's synchronization device for Thomas A. Edison for his critical opinion showed close-ups of the inventor and reproduced an interview which he broadcast over the radio on October 21, and which was recorded for the film over long distance telephone to the General Electric plant at Schenectady.

Though no official confirmation thus far has been forthcoming from General Electric or Paramount officials, the indications are that Paramount will be one of the principals if not the principal in bringing the kenographone devices before the public in connection with productions made for that company.

Washington Theatre Enterprises Plans Two New Houses

CASPAR FISCHER, operating head of the Washington Theatre Enterprises, Inc., at present building two large theatres in Seattle, was recently in Portland and announced that his firm would soon erect two houses to cost in the neighborhood of $2,500,000.

One house is to be a first-run theatre, with a seating capacity of 3,000, while the other will be a 1,500 seater, and to be located on the East side of the city. Sites for the proposed theatres have already been purchased, with construction plans expected soon. Fischer also stated that his firm would soon open their magnificent Mayflower Theatre, Seattle, around the early part of February, while their new Astoria, Ore., house, would throw its doors open the middle of March.

Gerald C. Field, architect for the theatre company, accompanied Fischer, and is understood to be working on plans for the theatres. At the present time, the local theatre situation seems to be sewed up by West Coast Theatres, Inc., who operate seven theatres, and will manage the new Publix house, when it is opened in February.

Washington Theatres Enterprises are said to have unlimited financial backing, being backed by Creigh Nelson, son of a Seattle department store owner, while Ivan Hyland, wealthy Seattle attorney, is president of the concern.

Reformers Wait Congress

Ready to Swing Bludgeon on Pet Measures That Would Hamstring Film Industry

THE stage again is being set for a drive upon the moving picture. On December 5 Congress will meet, and it is indicated almost immediately will feel the pressure of the reformers for the enactment of legislation which would hamstring the film industry.

The proceedings of last session, with its bitterness undiminished, will be repeated, for this year the advocates of reform legislation feel that they have an added weapon in the orders issued last July by the Federal Trade Commission in the Paramount case.

The one good feature of the coming session, from the standpoint of the film industry, will be the enactment of revenue legislation, probably increasing the admission tax exemption to $1 or better, and providing tax reduction for corporations and other changes which may benefit individuals in the industry.

The bad features will be made, but it is not anticipated that anything in the shape of reform legislation will go through before adjournment, both because of the controversial nature of the measures and the major part which politics will play, the session being followed immediately by the 1928 presidential campaign.

The reformers, however, will lose no time in getting their bills before Congress. Reintroduction of the measure providing closed Sundays for the District of Columbia—the cause of heated arguments and an actual fist fight last session—and the censorship bill, is assured. Introduction of resolutions calling for an investigation of the Attorney General, and a similar inquiry with respect to the Federal Trade Commission, based on the activity, or inactivity, of those bodies in acting against the motion picture industry, is very probable. It is also possible that the reformers may have other legislation in view, although as yet they have given no indications that they will fight for anything except blue law and censorship.

Turning to other and less unpleasant subjects, there may be some legislation of another character, namely, reintroduction of the copyright legislation which was passed by the House last session, and bills to repeal the law prohibiting the interstate transportation of prize-fight films.

Sunday Movies' Battle Looms in Ash Grove, Mo.

In response to a recent crusade launched by the Rev. T. C. Pennell, pastor of the Ash Grove Baptist Church, favoring the enforcement of an ancient blue law against Sunday entertainments, the 100 Per Cent Enforcement League of Ash Grove has decided that if the town movie house is to be closed on a Sunday everything else must be closed tight not only in Ash Grove but in the entire Greene county as well.

Representatives of the league visited Springfield on Sunday, November 27, to gather evidence in support of their "Sunday movies or nothing" campaign.

Perry, Iowa, Election Favors Sunday Shows

The Sunday shows won out at Perry, Ia., last week where a special election was held at the expense of Youngclass and Latta, who have the two theatres there. Feeling ran quite high and agitation was strong among the ministers of the town against the return of the Sunday shows, but the result of the ballot gave the vote decidedly to the raising of the Blue Laws at Perry.

New Motion Picture Firms Receive N. Y. Charters

The following companies received charters from the department of state at Albany during the past week and incorporated for the purpose of engaging in the motion picture business or the motion picture theatre management in New York state: Bela Blau, Inc., $30,900, Elsie Klein, Elvira Molassi, Reuben Bressler, New York City; 409 Fifth Avenue, Inc., $15,000, Joseph Horowitz, Julius Genell, Herman Pekelner, New York City; Kodak Panama, Ltd., $50,000, Charles F. Ames, Arthur H. Paul, Domingo E. Delgado, Rochester; Headline Pictures Corporation, $7,500, David Sacks, Saul Hyams, Jacob Poses, New York City; Montmartre Productions, Inc., capitalization not stated, Milton W. Deutsch, Frederick G. Wassmuth, Theresa F. Brown, New York City; Phototone Talking Corporation, $100,000, Jacob Siegel, Mary G. Siegel, Anna Stoll, New York City; Stage Furnishings, Inc., $25,000, Bertram Harrison, Nicholas Yellenti, Minoa J. Nichols, New York City.

Dover, Ohio, Will Try to Settle Sunday Question

The Sunday Blue Laws have reached an acute state in Dover, O., where George Chrest of the Ohio theatre is demanding the right to stay open on Sunday along with gasoline stations, drug stores, news stands and the like. Mayor P. J. Groh of Dover invited twenty-five citizens, representing both sides of the question, to meet at the City Hall in an effort to settle the question amicably. Twenty-one warrants are out charging Sunday Blue Law violations. They include owners of gasoline stands, news stands, and cigar stores. Exhibitor Chrest demands that if other commodities can be sold on Sunday he has the right to sell entertainment on Sunday. It is understood that the fight in Dover will affect all of Tuscarawas county.

Zabin Joins United Artists Advertising-Publicity

James Barton Zabin, who for the past two years has been with the Paramount advertising department, has joined the advertising and publicity department of United Artists. He will take care of exhibitors' service, press sheets and so forth. Zabin originally worked in the Paramount exchange when he first joined the Zukor organization. For a year he assisted Glendon Allvine on "The Ten Commandments" and other road shows, and for another year aided Lem Stewart on Paramount chain theatre advertising.

He is secretary of the A. M. P. A.

Hammons En Route to Educational Coast Studio

E. W. Hammons, president of Educational, left New York November 28th on his regular mid-winter visit to the Educational studios in Hollywood. His visit will be in the nature of a flying trip, and he does not plan to be gone more than about two weeks.

Coast Shutdown Rumor Scouted; No Drastic Action Planned

Most Executives Leaving Shortly for New York; Reports of Classification of Pictures and Profit Sharing for Stars Discounted

By EDWIN SCHALLERT

Editor of The Los Angeles Times Preview and Special Correspondent of Motion Picture News

LOS ANGELES, December 1, (By Wire). — Despite all rumors to the contrary, it can be safely stated that no decisive or sweeping action will be taken toward picture economies during the visit to the Coast of film executives, nor will any definite policy applying to all companies be outlined for the future. This fact has emerged very clearly in the past few days, with plans being made for the early departure of most of the leading figures of the industry.

Adolph Zukor is expected to leave Tuesday. S. R. Kent will remain for perhaps a week longer. Richard A. Rowland and Clifford Hawley are contemplating returning to the East early next week. Elmer Pearson and John Flinn will follow shortly, while Nicholas Schenck is to outstay everybody, remaining about three weeks longer.

Short of a complete shutdown of studios, hardly anything revolutionary could be foreseen for the immediate future, and the idea of a shutdown is scouted in the best informed circles. There have been all manner of reports going out of the film colony regarding what has taken place at so-called "secret meetings," but the majority of these have little foundation except that they are possibly a reflection of certain matters that have been discussed when officials have gotten together informally.

However, there may be some developments, following the return of officials to New York, worth watching for. If any definite policy is determined on it will crystallize there, as a result of investigations made by the producers individually on the Coast. Even this is considered a very vague prospect.

Outside of the unlikely closing down of studios, various other intentions have been reported. One rumor tells that different organizations will be classified according to character of product and will each cover separate fields somewhat after the fashion of major and minor baseball leagues, but there is virtually no substantiation for this. Another report has it that a profit sharing system will be invoked for the payment of the present list of high priced stars. Another that the number of pictures made will be materially reduced.

Speaking for the last named consideration, Fred W. Beetson, newly-elected executive vice-president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association, stated that any action with this in view would logically come from New York, and expressed doubt as to such a plan being definitely in contemplation at present.

He declared that the profit sharing scheme was one that he had not heard of, and that it had not been taken up officially at any producers' meeting. Mr. Beetson mentioned also the interesting fact that, at the regular meeting held last Tuesday of the producing executives of the Coast, none of the Eastern officials had been present.

"The questions of economy in motion pictures cannot, I feel, be solved by any general action of drastic character," Mr. Beetson declared. "Whereas a profit sharing plan might work out satisfactorily in the case of one high priced player or director it would prove totally unsatisfactory with another.

"The problems that arise must be dealt with individually as they appear, and in general by each company separately. The rules are definite on the business side of motion pictures, but they are indefinite on the artistic side. There must be leeway in the realm of production, and a regulation that would be good for one organization might fail with another. Nor can you apply the identical rules to every picture that is made, or to every star who is under contract.

"On this side of pictures there is an inevitable necessity for freedom, though this can naturally go hand-in-hand with improvements of a sane and intelligent sort. I very much doubt, however, that such improvements could be included in any sweeping project of change."

Executives whom I have talked to are all pretty thoroughly in sympathy with this viewpoint. It expresses the general sentiment about what can be accomplished in Hollywood. The studio mood is definitely in favor of intelligent economy, and there is every assurance that this will be developed not by one organization alone, necessarily, but by the entire group, insofar as this is possible, together.

Schenck Hits "Presentations"

United Artists Head Declares 5000 Seat Houses Detriment to Picture Business—Sees Producer Jeopardized

CALLING 5,000-seat theatres "absolute detriments to the picture business," and stating that "any showman who offers as the main feature of his bill anything but a feature picture is striking at the vitals of our industry," Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists, forwarded his 1928 film forecast to the Film Daily Year Book. Mr. Schenck said, in part:

"The feature picture is responsible for provision of the necessary money to build palatial theatres. The public, which owns, through stock subscriptions, most—in fact, all—of these theatres, bought the stock on the strength of the theatre being a picture theatre. In my opinion faith has not been kept with the public, as they turn these theatres into vaudeville houses.

"Just as soon as the balance sheet of these theatres is in red—and they have to stop paying dividends—the stockholders will voice their sentiments."

Mr. Schenck, whose United Artists Theatre Circuit has a sharing interest with Publix Theatres in the Rivoli and Rialto, New York (both 2,000-seat theatres), gave it as his opinion that the smaller theatre is the hope of the motion picture producer.

"The theatre that makes it possible for a producer to produce real pictures—the kind of pictures that keep up the interest of the public in pictures—is the small theatre, operated at small expense, and where a picture can run for more than one week. It is absolutely essential for the producer to receive the highest possible returns in rentals from theatres for his picture, to enable him to remain in business, and if, through an ill-advised policy, the exhibitor squanders a lot of money in the management of his theatre the producer suffers more than anyone else."

As a film producer himself, Mr. Schenck

(Continued on following page)

Fight, Sex Picture Suits Filed Against Kansas State Censorship Board

THE Kansas State Censorship Board has been plunged into a legal battle. Suits have been filed in the district court of Wyandotte County (Kansas City, Kans.), to compel the board to review and approve the Dempsey-Tunney fight pictures and to give cause why a sex picture was rejected. In the heat of the argument a Topeka, Kans., church gave a public showing of the uncensored sex picture in the church and used a projection machine belonging to the state of Kansas in doing it.

The suit concerning the fight film sought to force the board to reverse its rejection of the film, following the recent ruling of the United States Supreme Court. Walter E. Quigley of Minneapolis, Minn., who holds distribution rights in Kansas, delivered the film to the board for review this week. The board rejected it. The suit filed in behalf of the sex picture demands that the board show cause why the picture should not be shown in Kansas. The picture is "The Naked Truth."

Governor Paulen of Kansas, William A. Smith, attorney general, officials of the censorship board and officials of the state board of health held numerous conferences last week concerning the showing of the sex picture in a Topeka, Kans., church Sunday. Following the conferences, nothing has been done about it, and it is not likely that anything will be done, it was said.

U. A. Circuit Statement

First Annual Earnings for Theatres Are Certified at $261,785 Net Figure

UNITED ARTISTS THEATRES CIRCUIT, INC., in its first annual report, shows a net profit of $261,785, after provision for depreciation, amortization of deferred charges, interest and taxes. It covers the development period of fifteen months from incorporation to August 31, 1927, the end of the first fiscal year.

The circuit opened its first theatre in October, 1926, and, before the end of the first fiscal year, it embraced twelve houses located in New York, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Hollywood and Seattle. Five new houses to be opened this winter in Chicago, Detroit, Columbus, Los Angeles and Portland, Oregon, appear on the first balance sheet, giving a net investment of the seventeen houses as $3,572,134.

The balance sheets, certified by Haskins & Sells, show cash and call loans on August 31, 1927 of $805,738, and total current assets of $1,318,602, against current liabilities of $300,059.

It is reported that since the current year started, on September 1, earnings have been running at the rate of $200,000 a year on the two New York houses of the company alone. These theatres are the Rialto and the Rivoli-United Artists.

The consolidated balance sheet shows the following:

Assets: Land and building, less depreciation, $2,515,878; stocks of affiliated companies, $2,651,780; deposits pursuant to leases, $866,351; cash and call loans, $805,739; accrued income receivable, $162,210; accounts receivable, $12,910; short term investments, $337,743; deferred charges, $138,017; total, $7,490,628.

Liabilities: 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock (par $100), $4,000,000; common stock and surplus (represented by 500,- shares no par value), $728,694; accounts payable and accrued items, $76,726; preferred dividends payable, $140,000; deferred purchase payments, $83,333; real estate mortgage and deferred purchase payments, $2,461,875; total, $7,490,628.

Buster Keaton Signs M-G-M Contract

BUSTER KEATON, comedian, has renewed his contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Several stories are now being considered for this comedian's first picture upon his return to the company. His feature comedies include "The Navigator," "Go West," "Battling Butler" and "The General."

Schenck Criticizes 5,000 Seat Theatres

(Continued from preceding page)

denounced the high-costing vaudeville entertainments featured by exhibitors owning 5,000-seat house in strong terms.

"They spend so much for the vaudeville and this diversified entertainment that they cannot afford to pay the producer for his picture. At the same time it has been proven that the weeks when they have mediocre pictures they cannot break even, and the only profitable weeks they have are those when they have a great picture. In carefully analyzing the effect of this policy on picture producing, you can readily see that in a theatre of 5,000 seating capacity, where they take in as much as $75,000 and $80,000 a week, playing to about 150,000 people, they spend about $65,000 for overhead and vaudeville entertainment, leaving but $10,000 for the picture. And if they do pay $10,000 they don't make any profit.

"At the same time they exhaust 150,000 people, most of whom would go to see the same picture if it played in a 2,000-seat theatre without any vaudeville embellishment, and the picture, under those circumstances, in three or four weeks, would receive a flat rental of about $25,000."

Trenton, Ontario, Canadian Motion Picture Center

The city of Trenton, Ontario, following the formation of The Canadian International Films, Ltd., and its subsidiary, British Empire Films, is now established as the motion picture center of Canada. The companies were formed and organized by W. F. Clarke, of Cranfield and Clarke, New York, now of Toronto, who secured the support of the Provincial Government of Ontario and the co-operation of the leading Canadian financiers. The Ontario Government recently leased its fully equipped laboratory for a period of five years to the companies, which have begun production of a film.

Edward Pardee Johnston, of Toronto, has assisted Mr. Clarke in completing the organization. The provisional board of directors includes Henry S. Gooderham, E. P. Johnston, W. F. Clarke, G. F. McFarland and Captain Bruce Bairnsfather. The latter, who created the character of "Old Bill," is making the company's first film, "Carry On, Sergeant," the story of which he wrote himself.

ABA Film Corp. Enters Export and Import Field

The A B A Film Corporation is one of the latest export and import companies organized under the laws of the State of New York. Its capitalization is $20,000 and the officers of the company are Alexander P. Axelrud, president; Michael Bachman, treasurer and secretary, and Timothy G. Arenson, vice-president. The company will export and import features and short subjects, its territory extending through the United States, China, Germany, France, Australia, India, South America. Its interests are interlocked with those of the American Manchurian Corporation with branches in China, Manchurian and Mongolian centers.

Mr. Axelrud on a recent trip to Europe obtained exclusive rights for the United States to distribute a series of "stunt" pictures starring Carlo Aldini.

Plan Home Showings for Amateur Movie Reels

One of the first news reel weeklies catering to amateur movie enthusiasts is the Detroit News, which announced Tuesday, November 22, the reduction in size of its news reels. Heretofore, the News Pictorial which is issued by that firm has been an exclusive theatrical feature, portraying local and state events in 150 theatres throughout the state of Michigan, also showing at local houses. Now, however, the reels are reduced in width to care for 16 millimeter projectors, and will be available to amateurs at a nominal rental fee. The films are being booked through the Metropolitan Motion Picture Company, producers of the pictorial where a circulating library has been installed.

T. O. C. C. Warns Against Trust

Halt Monopoly or Entire Industry Will Crumble, is Keynote of Lengthy New York Statement

THE Theatre Owners Chamber of Commerce of New York, which includes in its membership about 600 theatres in New York, issued a statement during the week warning against the trustification of the motion picture industry and pleading for an open market as the only means of averting complete disaster. In warning against the trustification the statement declares:

"The best that can be accomplished by ignoring this warning is that those who are defying the right will succeed in erecting for themselves a gigantic structure which, because of the false foundation upon which it is based, will come tumbling down upon them and accomplish their ruin."

In the statement are pointed out the evils of monopoly and the remedies through which the industry might be preserved. Among the evils are included producer-distributor theatre ownership, except as a means of exploitating pictures or where territory is closed to them; discrimination against theatres owned by individuals; block booking, blind booking and the sale of pictures before completion.

Included in the remedies are, first of all, the establishment of an open market and the elimination of all of the aforementioned evils, with every producer having free and fair access to the screen of every theatre.

The warning, outlined at great length in the statement, can be summed up in this one sentence, it declares.

"The motion picture industry threatens in a short time—perhaps not more than a year—to fall into the complete and absolute control of a small and closely connected group."

And then continuing, it says:

"Unless some radical action is taken instantly to halt the activities of several producing units with exhibition affiliations, the situation will become so involved through the creation of contracts, working arrangements and actual mergers, that it may become impossible to apply remedies the immediate employment of which, might still have some effect."

The evils of the alleged monopolists are enumerated definitely as follows:

A.—Ownership, total or partial, of theatres, by producers or affiliated corporations.

B.—Reciprocal working agreements between one producer controlling a group of theatres, and another producer controlling a group of theatres, including the operation of theatres affiliated with one producer by the exhibiting affiliation of the supposedly competing producer.

C.—Discrimination against theatres operated by individuals or groups not affiliated with producers or distributors.

D. Block booking and blind booking.

E. Control of future policies of unaffiliated theatres by means of long term contracts or so-called franchises.

And here are the proposed remedies:

Establish an open market in the motion picture industry.

This can be accomplished by the following means:

1. Abolish ownership or control of theatres by producers and distributors of motion pictures, except theatres conducted for the purpose of publicizing productions, or where the producer is barred from fair and proportionate representation of his product in a given territory.

2. Abolish the practice of block booking. The alleged concession of the so-called "Distributors' Statement of Principles" is a mere trick. (As was predicted in the discussions at the trade conference, the spokesman for the motion picture producers and distributors has issued a misleading interpretation of the alleged advantages of this "Distributors' Statement of Principles.")

3. Abolish the practice of selling pictures before completion, (giving the industry a reasonable length of time to adjust itself to the new condition adopted).

4. Abolish all favoritism in the distribution of films among exhibitors. Cease discrimination in favor of theatres affiliated with producers or distributors to the prejudice of theatres operated independently.

5. Let every producer have free and fair access to the screen of every theatre, and let every theatre have a free and fair opportunity to compete for the product of every producer.

The remedy proposed, namely, the open market, must be applied with complete sincerity; no mere pretence will accomplish the desired result. No compromise or subterfuge should be permitted.

Denver Sees Theatrical War in Price Slashings

SINCE the opening of the new Publix Denver theatre there has been a near slash in admission prices in some of the first run houses, in fact a competitive war looms in Denver's theatrical world in the struggle for patronage. Three houses have reduced their admission prices and the managers of the other houses promise bigger and better performances.

Last Saturday the Victory and Rialto, Curtis Street Publix theatres reduced the admission price below the normal fifty cent top which prevails along movie row. Monday the Orpheum cut its admission prices and added a feature picture to the regular vaudeville programme.

First Movietone Issue Ready

Fox Sound Device Will Become Weekly Feature Covering News Events of the World

ISSUE No. 1 of Fox Movietone News will be released to exhibitors December 3, and thereafter will become a weekly feature, covering news events of the world with movietone accompaniment, according to announcement by Fox. For the first time patrons of the theatres will be able not only to see the current news of the day in pictures, but also to hear the sound incidental to the pictures.

The editorial staff has been completed for the handling of Movietone News, and a world-wide organization is being augmented as rapidly as possible. Edward Percy Howard, newspaper editor and motion picture executive, is the editor of the talking news service, with Hal Stone, news editor; William O. Hurst, assignment editor, and Thomas H. Chalmers, director. Milton Schwartz is in charge of sales.

The Movietone News department is now functioning at top speed, and the camera staff is being increased daily. A fleet of high powered automobile trucks, each equipped with movietone apparatus, is being used for the gathering of news subjects to make up the weekly news reel. Not only are these trucks covering the big events of the day in America, but Continental Europe, too, will supply its share of material for the weekly issue of the reel.

Already a number of individual news subjects have been presented at a limited number of theatres, but no attempt has previously been made to comprise them into a news feature.

Among the first subjects made in Europe was one of Premier Mussolini addressing the people of America from the garden of his home in Rome. This subject has been shown at the Times Square Theatre in New York for some time in connection with the showing of the Fox picture "Sunrise."

Another subject introduces Lloyd George delivering an address at the unveiling of a statue in London. The Berlin correspondent recently made an unusual reel showing the crack German military band playing at the Fall maneuvers in the Capital.

One of the latest, and what is said to be a most spectacular Movietone picture is that of the Army-Navy football game played in New York last week. It shows the parading bands, trained cheering squads, and other vocal and instrumental accidents coincident to this annual classic.

Various other subjects too numerous to mention have been completed and are ready for showing. With the reproduction of all sound in connection with the moving pictures of a new event an audience will be all but brought to the scene of the occurrence.

Woodhull Urges "Back to Picture" Movement for Exhibitors

A "BACK to the picture" movement is strongly advocated by R. F. Woodhull, President of the M.T.P.O.A., who declares that exhibitors would be benefited materially if the large de luxe presentation houses would cease to style themselves picture houses, and if the exhibitors themselves would cease modelling their programs after these large palaces.

Woodhull says these picture cathedrals and palaces are, in reality, not picture houses, as it is common knowledge that only from 20 to 25 per cent of their shows are devoted to films. Exhibitors pattern after these houses and the result is prohibitive overhead caused by presentations.

"We have had enough of the glorification of vaudeville has-beens in the name of presentations and at high salaries," declares Woodhull in urging exhibitors back to pictures.

Grombacher Heads Unit

Is Again Elected to Presidency by Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Washington

RAY A. GROMBACHER, owner and general manager of the Liberty, Granada and Egyptian Theatres in Spokane, Wash., last week was elected 1928 president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Washington, at the annual convention of that body held in Seattle. Grombacher, who was president of the state body three years ago, and was a delegate last month to the Federal Trade Conference in New York City, succeeds Manager Robert W. Bender, of the Columbia Theatre, Seattle, in the chief executive's capacity.

Other officers elected at the gathering include Al Rosenberg, DeLuxe Theatres, Inc., of Seattle, first vice-president; Leroy V. Johnson, Jensen-von Herberg circuit of Seattle, second vice-president, and James M. Hone re-elected executive secretary. The Board of Trustees will include Al Rosenberg, Ed Dolan, of the Dolan circuit, Hoquiam; Frank Graham, Granada Theatre, Auburn; Robert W. Bender, Joe Bradt, of the Gala Theatre, Seattle; Ray Grombacher, Walter McNeish, of Tacoma; Fred Mercy, of Walla Walla; F. W. Graham, of Shelton; Herschel Stuart, general manager of West Coast Theatres in the Pacific Northwest, and Will Starkey, of Spokane.

The convention was not as large in numbers as the 1926 gathering, but was the most enthusiastic in the history of the group. Addresses were made by Mayor Bertha Landes, of Seattle; the Rev. Cleveland Kleihauer, and Charles R. Mayberry, Washington State Director of Licenses. Non-theatrical competition and ways and means of increasing the state organization were the principal matters of discussion, and a large committee was appointed to care for a continuous membership drive during the coming year. A deficit of 615.31 for the last year was reported by the treasurer.

The convention was brought to a close by the annual midnight Pot Pourri performance at the Fifth Avenue Theatre in Seattle, where acts from every legitimate theatre and place of entertainment banded together in an impromptu program that delighted more than 1,500 patrons, who paid $1.10 each for tickets. The net receipts from this affair will be used to take care of the 1927 deficit and start the organization off with a clear slate for the 1928 season.

Chicago Opera Will Be Heard in Seattle

THE Chicago Civic Opera Company will appear at the new Fifth Avenue Theatre of West Coast in Seattle when it visits the city on March 19th, for four days. A number of standard productions will be given in the motion picture theatre, a hitherto unknown event in the theatrical world, it is believed.

The Chicago Opera's trip to Seattle will be realized through a fund of $25,000 guaranteed by music lovers. As the Seattle Civic Auditorium will not be finished in time to house the Opera West Coast officials have made arrangments for the company to appear at the Fifth Avenue.

"Hell's Angels" New United Artists Caddo Release

United Artists will release another production made by Caddo Productions, producers of "Two Arabian Knights," which will feature Ben Lyon, James Hall, Louis Wolheim and Greta Nissen, and which will bear the title of "Hell's Angels." Howard Hughes is sponsoring the new comedy, which was placed into production this week at the Metropolitan studio in Hollywood, under the direction of Luther Reed. The story was adapted by Harry Behn from an original of the Royal Flying Corps.

Others in the cast include Thelma Todd, Lucien Prival, John Darrow and Evelyn Walsh Hall. Whitman Bennet is serving as production manager. After conferring with Anthony H. G. Fokker, builder of airplanes, Mr. Hughes purchased 18 Fokker D-type models at an announced cost of more than $200,000. The exploits of the famous flying circus of the German ace, Baron von Richtofen, will be part of the film. Mr. Fokker will serve in an advisory capacity during the filming of the picture. Twelve French airships and 10 British Sopwith planes were also purchased by Mr. Hughes.

Hanover and Carlisle, Pa., Will Have New Theatres

Marked activity in new theatre construction is noted in several important cities of Pennsylvania. Announcement is made that the contract for the construction of the new $200,000 State Theatre, which is to be built in Hanover by the Nathan Appell Enterprises, of York, in association with local capitalists, has been awarded to O. H. Hostetter of Hanover, and work on the building will begin at once. It will occupy the site of the former Wirt homestead on Frederick street, near Center Square, which already has been razed. The mansion, which figured prominently in the battle of Hanover, during the Civil War, had stood for almost 80 years.

David Cooper, owner of the Orpheum theatre, Carlisle, announced on November 15 that he plans the erection, starting early next spring, of a large modern picture theatre on the sites of several business buildings he recently bought for $60,000 on West High Street, Carlisle. The buildings are now occupied by the Cumberland Valley Telephone Company's offices, the Reber & Peffer Millinery store, and the De Luxe Bakery.

The theatre building will extend 240 feet back to Church alley, and will seat 1,500

Variety Co. Buys Interest in U-B Enterprises

The Variety Amusement Company of Cleveland, Ohio, has purchased Dr. B. I. Brody's interest in the U-B Theatrical Enterprises, the deal reported to have involved about $300,000. Variety acquires seven theatres in operation by this transaction, the Detroit, Homestead, Hilliard Square, Broadway, Cedar-Lee, Imperial and Kinsman, and the lease and interest in one soon to be opened, the Moreland.

Variety owns the Shaw-Hayden, Union Square, Lucier, Wind-a-Meer and Variety houses in Cleveland as well as other theatres in Akron, Canton, Mansfield and Lorain, The Variety in Cleveland only opened its doors for the first time last Thursday, thereby adding 3,000 seats to the city's seating capacity.

As a result of the merger, the chain will be known as the Universal-Variety circuit. It is the largest circuit of theatres that Cleveland has and is operated by Jacob and Isaac Silverman, Meyer Fine, Abe Kramer and Sam H. Stecher.

Church Uses Films to Carry Spiritual Message

Motion pictures will constitute the Sunday evening service of the First Reformed Church in Schenectady, N. Y., from now on and throughout the winter. A similar service last year was found so satisfactory, from an attendance standpoint, that Rev. C. J. Potter, pastor of the church, decided to again employ pictures, supplemented by a 30-minute organ recital and a brief talk. According to Rev. Mr. Potter, the attendance at the Sunday evening service last winter took an immediate jump when pictures were screened. The first picture to be shown this coming week will be "As No Man Has Loved." Only pictures will be shown that carry a strong moral or religious lesson.

Drastic Change in German Quota

American Trade in Germany Would Be Seriously Curtailed by New Regulations, Limiting Number of Pictures Imported; Effective in January

By HEINRICH FRAENKEL

Berlin Correspondent, Motion Picture News

BERLIN, November 28 (By Cable).—The German quota system has been entirely changed. Beginning in January, 1928, and extending to June, 1929, foreign imports of film into Germany will be limited to 260 pictures. Individual allowances to companies will be figured according to 1926-27 business. This decision drastically affects the American industry.

The new regulations were detailed in a cable received by the Motion Picture Section of the Department of Comerce as follows:

"Between January 1, 1928 and June 30, 1929, 260 permits for the importation of foreign films will be issued. Of these, 170 will be supplied to local distributors on application, the remaining 90 to be held by the Federal Film Commissioner and issued by him at his discretion as special conditions may require. Of the 170 permits previously mentioned, 85 will be issued during the calendar year 1928 and 85 during the first six months of 1929, but this smaller proportionate number for 1928 will be partially offset by the fact that contingent licenses for foreign films will still be issued up to March 31, 1928, against German films now being produced or contemplated, providing notice of the fact is given the government, and actual production is started before the end of December."

According to the cablegram, the import permits under the new system will be prorated among the German distributors on the basis of the number of German compensation films handled by them in 1926 and 1927. There is said to be no restriction on the importation of newsreels, advertising films or comedies of 500 metres or less, but educational or cultural films are still on a contingent basis of two German films to one foreign film.

Conferences with German officials on the new regulations will be held in Berlin by Edward G. Lowry, European representative of the Hays organization, and George Canty, representing the Department of Commerce. Emil E. Shauer, of Famous Players, and Arthur Loew, of M-G-M, are also in Europe. The American industry will await developments from Berlin.

Grand Canyon Unit Reported Safe

ACCORDING to an Associated Press report of November 20th, the 13 men of the Pathe-Bray expedition have safely reached Camp Pearson, in the Painted Desert of Arizona, after having braved for 20 days the dangerous rapids of the Colorado River. They left Green River, Utah, on November 10th, and had not been heard from since, their radio equipment having been smashed in Cataract Canyon.

Loss of the radio prevented their sending the daily message for which they had arranged with the United States Signal Corps Station to relay to Fort Douglas, Salt Lake City.

The party was first sighted above Lee's Ferry by Indian runners from a point 1,000 feet above the river. Soon afterward the boats were beached at Lee's Ferry and the party brought to camp.

UFA Plans Entry into U.S. Field

Will Have Own Broadway Theatre Within Year; Program for Production Expands to Meet Needs

AS forecast in a story printed over three months ago by MOTION PICTURE NEWS, UFA, leading German film concern, will open its own exchange in this country.

This was learned by the NEWS at the time Dr. Rudolph Becker, UFA foreign sales manager, and Ludwig Klitzsch, UFA executive, were in New York last August. The story was published in the August 12th issue of the NEWS.

Frederick Wynne-Jones, American representative of the company, in announcing this week that UFA would have a theater of its own on Broadway within a year, stated that the expansion program would include distribution of UFA films direct from their studios to the American public. Operation of theatres in other cities is also planned.

"Before the company undertakes extensive distribution and exhibition, however, we must have increased product," said Mr. Wynne-Jones, in his announcement this week. "Therefore, our immediate efforts are being concentrated on production. As evidence of this UFA has engaged Erich Pommer, who will produce four special films for us, and the Russian director, Bloch.

"The studio in Berlin is being organized for capacity production in the coming year, and I am advised by the heads of our company in Berlin that our distribution and exhibition facilities will be enlarged to accommodate this increased production."

Continuing further, Mr. Wynne-Jones said that UFA was under contract to deliver ten films a year to the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures Corporation. There will probably be an excess of twenty or thirty productions over that number to be handled by the UFA organization in this country. As pointed out in the original story in MOTION PICTURE NEWS in the issue of August 12, it is likely that UFA is going seriously into the motion picture distribution and exhibition business in America, and that the company will not only handle its own product, but that of other foreign concerns.

The story said that while UFA exchanges would be established primarily for the handling of UFA product there was the possibility that a number of outstanding British productions would also be handled here, in line with the tendency in Europe toward German - French - British commercial allances. With the scarcity of UFA product to be distributed through American exchanges, it now seems more likely than ever before that feature pictures of other foreign companies will be handled here by UFA.

UFA's expansion plan is in line with the reorganization policy announced a year or so ago when reorganization of the company was effected under the leadership of Ludwig Klitzsch, publisher of the Berliner Lokal Anzieger.

At one time UFA was the foremost producing company of Europe, but it fell into financial difficulties and its production schedule dropped almost to nothing. It was then that Klitzsch undertook the rehabilitation program, and developments have been rapid during the past few months.

Fox Will Produce "Blossom Time" With Movietone

WINFIELD R. SHEEHAN, vice-president and general manager of Fox, has announced the purchase of screen rights to the operetta, "Blossom Time," a popular stage attraction of the past several seasons. It will be made with Movietone accompaniment. Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell will probably be co-starred in the picture, which will be produced under the direction of Frank Borzage.

Arrangements for the screening of "Blossom Time" were made with Lee Shubert, who presented the operetta. No less than twenty-one road shows have toured the country with this production during the past six years. It is probable that "Blossom Time" will be ready for distribution some time during the coming year. Elaborate preparations will be made for the picture version.

Flooded Area Improving

Film Embargo Lifted on All But Half Dozen Larger Theatres in Afflicted District

CONDITIONS resulting in a strict embargo on films, following the New England floods, are rapidly improving. The past week has seen the greatest advance since the embargo was put into effect.

Not more than half a dozen of the important theatres of the state are now affected by embargo conditions. This permits of film being sent to points so near the affected places that the balance of the journey is accomplished with little difficulty by the exhibitors.

The Milton Theatre, which was completely wiped out, is to continue through lease of another hall in the town. In the spring Mrs. Bevan, owner, will start the construction of a new playhouse there.

Morrisville and Waterbury, Vt., are still under martial law. Theatres in both these towns are closed awaiting permission from the Army to reopen. It is understood that as soon as power connections have been reestablished in these towns, the theatres will be allowed to operate.

More than a hundred members of the Massachusetts State police and something in excess of five hundred laborers have been added to the population of the town of Becket in western Massachusetts temporarily. The State Police have secured a hall and are operating motion picture shows whenever the weather is such as to prevent work on the highways and railroads.

The two theatres at Barre, Vt., and the theatres at Rutland, Vt., all on the William P. Gray Circuit, resumed operations this week. Last week the theatre at Montpelier on the Gray Circuit also resumed. These were the only Gray houses closed on account of the flood so that their chain is again in full operation. Repairs are under way on all these theatres but they have been sufficiently repaired to permit performances.

Goldstein Brothers are aiding flood sufferers of western Massachusetts in a manner which has won high commendation. In the vicinity of Springfield and Chicopee more than a thousand families were rendered homeless by the flood.

Goldstein Brothers secured the use of the State Armories at Springfield and Chicopee for the mornings and afternoons on days when no sessions of school are held.

Keith Corp. Net Profits Total $761,832

THE B. F. Keith Corporation and subsidiary companies realized a net profit of $761,832, after depreciation, interest, amortization and Federal taxes, for the six months' period ending June 30th, last, reports the Wall Street Journal. This is equivalent to $1.90 per share on the 400,000 shares of non-par stock. The total compares with the $853,110 netted during the first half of 1926, equivalent to $2.13 per share.

Wall Street Compliments Paramount Program

Paramount's recently announced financial program, whereby its preferred stock will be retired and its bank loans refunded through the issuance of new common stock and through the sale last Tuesday of $16,000,000 worth of 6 per cent bonds, is a popular program, states The Wall Street Journal, which reports much favorable comment from the Street.

Followers of the stock market say that the Paramount common by this plan has been placed in the best position it has ever been in Paramount's history, anticipating appreciable higher prices for the issue in the near future, the Journal further states. In the first nine months Paramount earned substantially over the $8 regular annual cash dividends on the junior shares, and the 1927 final outcome will indicate earnings appreciably exceeding the $10 which it distributes every year.

Roxy Showing "Wild Geese" Beginning Dec. 3

Tiffany-Stahl's picturization of the Martha Ostenso novel, "Wild Geese," will enjoy its first world premiere at the Roxy Theatre in New York starting Saturday, December 3rd. The production was to have opened at the Roxy on December 10th, one week later.

Minneapolis Will Have New Finkelstein-Ruben House

Finkelstein and Ruben have revealed their intention to construct a new theatre in Minneapolis, at 2739 West 43rd Street in the neighborhood of Uptown Avenue. This is suburban district which has no theatre at present. It is said that the house will seat about 1,000 and will cost $150,000. The lot was purchased from the Philpott-Bailey Company, a retail coal concern, and has a frontage of 72 feet and a depth of 150 feet. The coal company retained a 28 foot strip on which to build a modern office building.

This theatre is the third step in the Finkelstein and Ruben building campaign, as the company has previously announced plans to erect a theatre at Lake Street and Stevens Avenue and reconstruct the Calhoun Terrace, at Lake Street and Hennepin Avenue.

Phoenixville, Pa., Will Have 1,500-Seat Theatre

A new motion picture theatre with a seating capacity of 1,500 will shortly go up in Phoenixville, Pa., by terms of a deal just negotiated by Joseph A. Waxman, Philadelphia broker, and brother of A. P. Waxman of Warner Bros.

A syndicate of Philadelphia business men have purchased the Phoenix Hotel, corner of Bridge and Main Street, owned by Michael F. Hackett, and will spend about $300,000 on a new building in which a theatre will occupy a lot frontage of 223 feet. It is thought that it will be finished in time for a Spring opening.

A Correction

In the December 2nd issue of the News, a new Claire Windsor vehicle for Columbia Pictures was mentioned as "Fashions for Women." The correct title of this Columbia release is "Fashion Madness."

Exemption Increase Bill Awaits Okay

THE proposed increase in the exemption from admission tax from 75 cents to $1 will go into effect thirty days after the revenue bill is given the approval of the president, under the plans of the House committee on ways and means, which is now finishing the bill in anticipation of its introduction next week in the House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

The plan of making rate changes in the miscellaneous taxes effective 30 days after the bill is signed has been the rule for several years. The 30 days' margin gives the Treasury Department an opportunity to amend its regulations so as to cover the new tax, and, the tax being collectible monthly, it is not necessary to delay changes until the end of a year, or make them retroactive, as in the case of income tax changes.

The reduction in the corporation tax, now scheduled to be cut to 11½ per cent, would be effective on income of 1927, on which taxes will be paid next year.

Explosion Damages Detroit Theatre

DAMAGE estimated at $2,500 resulted from a bomb explosion in the Lansing Theatre, 3323 Gratiot Avenue, Detroit, last week. Sabotage threats against a number of landowners here are believed by police to have some connection with the dynamiting. One theatre, under construction, has been guarded heavily for some days because of threats to blow it up. Patrolmen have also been assigned to watch other buildings. Aside from this clue, the officers are completely baffled by the blast, which wrecked the entire front of the theatre. Earl H. Thurman, owner, and B. G. Wheeler, the manager, told the police that they were completely at a loss to understand the bombing. They said they employed only union operators, had received no threats and knew of no personal enemies. He said that a stench bomb was thrown into the foyer two weeks ago by a group of young men, and declared that he was unable to understand what prompted the act.

Four New Writers Sign F B O Contracts

Four new writers have been added to the writing staff of F B O. Beatrice Burton, author of many syndicated serial stories, whose "The Little Yellow House" will be converted from its novel form into an F B O picture in the near future, is now writing at the Hollywood F B O studio. William Francis Dugan, playwright and author of "The Virgin Man," will probably be assigned a Western story for Bob Steele as his first writing assignment.

Dorothy Herzog and James A. Creelman are the other two additions to the F B O staff of writers. Miss Herzog, who is motion picture editor of the New York Daily Mirror and the Los Angeles Herald, will write adaptations and originals and will James A. Creelman, ex-newspaper man, is join the F B O writing staff in January. working on a railroad story for next year's program.

Ralph Graves Signs for "So This Is Love" Role

Ralph Graves returned to the Columbia studio on the coast this week to play the leading masculine role in the Columbia production, "So This Is Love."

During the last few months Graves has been alternating between directorial and acting duties. He made his megaphone bow with Columbia's "Rich Men's Sons" and was prominent either as director of chief player in "The Kid Sister" or "The Swell Head."

Tiffany-Stahl Starts "Tragedy of Youth"

With William Collier, Jr., and Patsy Ruth Miller playing the leading roles, the Tiffany-Stahl production, "The Tragedy of Youth," is now in the course of filming at the Tiffany-Stahl studio in Hollywood. King Baggott is now wielding the megaphone.

Cooperation U. S. Trade Commission Keynote

Powers Are Restricted on Divestiture of Business Property; Aim Only to Help

By CLARENCE L. LINZ

Washington Correspondent, Motion Picture News

WASHINGTON, November 29.—Cooperation with business is the new keynote of the Federal Trade Commission's policy, it is pointed out in the annual report of that body to Congress, just made public. New conceptions of the part the Commission occupies in the commercial life of the nation have come into practice recently, it is declared, and in the fiscal year ended June 30 last they resulted in far-reaching development.

"The newer policies have principally to do with the idea of self-regulation in business and industry," the report states, "and it has been possible to progress in these directions without overstepping the bounds of the Commission's powers as laid down by law. 'Helping business to help itself' wherever and whenever it can be done consistently without prejudice to the best interests of the public as a whole is the principle of this new policy."

The three features of the Commission's new policy are the calling of trade practice conferences for wholesale elimination of trade abuses, the holding of informal hearings before complaints are issued, and the settlement of minor cases by stipulation. The trade-practice-conference method of dealing with general practices to which the commission is opposed was adopted last October for the motion picture industry.

During the year, the report comments, the Commission learned through court decisions that its authority to order business concerns to divest themselves of physical properties is very restricted. This fact was developed in Supreme Court decisions in the Eastman Kodak Company case and two other proceedings concluded during the year.

These decisions, the report admits, "seem to very definitely decide that the Commission is without authority under any circumstance to direct a divestiture of physical properties. The fact that the Commission issues its complaint either under section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act or under section 7 of the Clayton Act before the actual transfer of properties is made, confers upon the Commission no jurisdiction or gives it no authority to direct a disposition of physical properties that it does not have under the statute. There is nothing in either statute which would indicate that the Commission has the authority in one instance and not in the other."

Equity Is Still Active

Frank Gillmore, Secretary of Organization, Declares Film Branch Will Flourish

DESPITE reports to the contrary from the West Coast, the film branch of Actors Equity is very active, according to Frank Gillmore, executive secretary, who makes his headquarters in New York. Not only is it active now, but it will continue to be so for many years to come, according to the Gillmore statement.

These comments were brought forth when the word reached New York that the Hollywood branch was about through following the meeting there of last Monday. At the present time nothing is being done at New York headquarters regarding the Hollywood situation, but definite steps will be taken as soon as a full report of the recent meeting is available.

As a result of the meeting last week, there were many of the opinion in Hollywood that the interest in Equity had dwindled to a point where the movement could have no effect with the producers, and it would just naturally pass out of existence so far as the film industry is concerned.

That there is a wide breach between the Equity members was evidenced at the meeting when some of those showing their loyalty to the parent body were howled down on the floor. It was reported as a highly factional meeting with little chance of the factions getting together.

The announcement was made at the meeting that producers were ignoring Equity entirely in negotiation of a uniform contract. Conrad Nagel, chairman of the film branch of Equity, says that enthusiasm for the organization, which was at such a high pitch when a general wage cut threatened last Summer, has waned almost to nothing, and that there now seems little hope for an Equity shop at the studios.

Flaherty South Sea Bound to Film M-G-M Picture

Robert Flaherty, accompanied by a company of 30, left the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio November 30th for Papete aboard the S.S. Tahiti. He will spend five months in the South Seas filming "Robert Flaherty's Southern Skies." He is taking with him no currency with which to pay his extras. Instead of coins he will use nearly a shipload of trade goods to pay off the natives he will use as extras on the scenes. The natives will receive perfumes, shaving creams and the like in exchange for a week or so of working before the cameras. W. S. Van Dyke is included in the group which sailed.

Fox Has Big Films Under Way for 1928-9

Studios Busy on Production of Many Pictures Expected to Be Outstanding

AFTER the release of such outstanding pictures as "What Price Glory," "7th Heaven," "Loves of Carmen" and "East Side, West Side," in the current season, it is interesting to speculate on what Fox Films will have to offer in the season of 1928-29, beginning next August.

Heading the list, of course, is "Sunrise," the first American production of F. W. Murnau, which is in its premiere run at the Times Square Theatre, in New York City, and which has just opened in Los Angeles.

Murnau is back in Hollywood preparing to film his second American picture, "The Four Devils," based on the story by Herman Bang. Murnau has traveled with Ringling Brothers Circus, and has inspected numerous acrobatic acts to get the right atmosphere. Production probably will start early in December. That means "The Four Devils" should be available for special showings next season.

For the past four months John Ford, director of "The Iron Horse," has been engaged in filming a story which grew out of I. A. Wylie's "Grandmother Bernle Learns Her Letters." The story centers about Grandmother Bernle, who has four sons in the war. If one may judge from the still photographs, the war from the German angle plays an important part in the background of the story. Margaret Mann has the title role; James Hall, Francis X. Bushman, Jr., George Meeker and Charles Morton appear as the sons; Albert Gran and August Tollaire in character parts, and Earle Foxe as Colonel Von Stomm. June Collyer, a New York society girl, plays the part of the American girl.

This promises to be one of the most important pictures of next season. It appears to be one of the "big" American productions that will be shown in legitimate theatres of the larger cities as "What Price Glory" and "7th Heaven" were. The actual filming of "Grandmother Bernle" has been completed, and it is now being titled and edited.

Another picture that promises well is "Lady Cristilinda," a story of Italian circus life, now being filmed by Frank Borzage with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in the leading roles. These three were responsible for "7th Heaven," and it is expected that this new picture will be a worthy successor. Philip Klein wrote the adaptation from Monckton Hoffe's story.

Ludwig Berger has just arrived on the Fox lot to begin filming "Don't Marry," a film comedy based on Bela Zene's story. Although this will be Berger's first American production, he already is well known in the United States because of the artistic and box-office success of his rhythmic "Waltz Dream."

At present Berger is seeking the actress who can portray his modern heroine with sufficient subtlety and humor to be convincing. Berger hopes to get to work in December.

Dolores Del Rio figures as the star of "The Red Dancer of Moscow," to be directed by Raoul Walsh from a story by H. L. Gates. It was under Walsh's direction that Miss Del Rio created Charmaine in "What Price Glory" and the title role in "Loves of Carmen." Charles Farrell will play opposite her.

Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson are writing "The Cock-eyed World" as a sequel to their "What Price Glory," carrying the rivalry of Captain Flagg and Sergeant Quirt into civil life after the war. Victor McLaglen and Edmund Love will play their former roles.

While he was in Europe last summer, Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager of Fox Films, arranged with Henry Bernstein, brilliant author of the play, "The Thief," to write two originals directly for the screen, which will be made into pictures for next season. He also contracted with Carl Mayer, who wrote the scenarios for "Sunrise" and "The Four Devils," to continue writing for Fox Films.

In addition to purchasing "The Dollar Princess" and "Don't Marry" in Hungary, Mr. Sheehan bought the picture rights to the novel, "The Richest Man in the World," by Franz Herozeg, and also arranged to produce a picture with the aid and support of the Hungarian Government. Part of it will be made in Hungary and the remainder in Hollywood. Another picture will be made with the collaboration of the Spanish Government.

With "Grandmother Bernle" completed, John Ford is planning his next big production, "Hangman's House," based on the novel by Donn Byrne. He has not completed the casting, but he already has selected William Farnum and Jane Collyer for two of the leading roles.

Numerous additions have been made to the reservoir of dramatic material on which Fox Films will draw for 1928-29 production.

Among the purchases announced recently are "Mother Knows Best," the story of Edna Ferber, which has been entrusted to Frank Borzage; "Dressed to Kill," a screen original by Howard Estabrook and William Conselman, laid in the New York underworld, to be directed by Irving Cummings; "Speakeasy," a Broadway play by Edward Knoblock and George M. Rosener; "Broadway Sally," an original by Howard McKent Barnes; "The One-Woman Idea," a story by Alan Williams, published in Young's Magazine, and "Mr. Romeo," by Wallace A. Manheimer, Edward Barton and Harry Wagstaff Gribble.

Among the latest purchases of screen material to reach the theatres of the country next year is that of the celebrated operetta "Blossom Time," which probably will be made partly in Movietone.

Book Day and Date on Fox Pictures

DAY and date bookings on the two Fox Films specials, "What Price Glory" and "7th Heaven," have been numerous, according to reports from the branch offices of Fox Films.

Beginning December 4th more than 30 Cleveland houses will show "What Price Glory" simultaneously for a week or more. Chicago, beginning January 3rd, will have 40 theatres showing the picture, having booked day and date engagements. A total of 25 Detroit theatres will show "7th Heaven" beginning Christmas Day, while on January 8th about 30 Cleveland houses will play the film for one week or more.

Pathe and Harvard Sign Contract

Will Cooperate in Production of Educational Series

Pathe has entered into a five-year contract with Harvard University by which the University will definitely enter the visual educational field through the medium of motion pictures. The series will be prepared with Pathe and Harvard cooperating on different scientific subjects and to be known as the Pathe Science series. The contract was signed by President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard, and Elmer Pearson, first Vice-President of Pathe.

Although the pictures are primarily for University, college and school uses, it is also said they will be appropriate for the theatre, the church, the club and other social organizations. They will be distributed through Pathe branch offices. The first of the series will be ready for distribution by January 30th, 1928.

Only one branch of science, Anthropology, the study of mankind, is specifically mentioned in the contract, but the division of geology has also decided to participate in the work. Dr. Kittery F. Mather of the Division of Geology, and Dr. Ernest A. Hooton of the Division of Anthropology, are heading a committee that will supervise the preparation of the pictures.

According to the terms of the agreement the Division of Anthropology will select, edit and title reels suitable for instruction and educational purposes, as well as advise in collecting new anthropological material and in producing new films on anthropological subjects. Pathe will provide one or more cameramen to accompany expeditions under the direction or auspices of the Division of Anthropology into the field.

Pathe Science Series will be made from film selected by the Harvard committee from Pathe's vast film library. This includes over two million feet of pictures taken during the past fifteen years.

One set of the series will be made for use in the universities and colleges. These will be of a highly technical nature and the supervision of the heads of departments will assure scientific accuracy. The second set will be for use in grade and high schools. They will be edited so that they can be used in school courses in geography.

North Carolina Theatre Owners Meet Dec. 12,

THE Theatre Owners Association of North Carolina will hold its 16th annual convention at the Charlotte Hotel, Charlotte, on December 12 and 13, 1927.

Charlie Picquet, president of the association, believes that his organization is in possibly the best shape it has ever been in, as the present regime has increased the association from 54 paid memberships to more than 180 paid memberships. With the help of N. L. Royster, secretary and treasurer, President Picquet hopes to make the 200 grade before the December meeting. Two subjects which will be topics of discussion at the convention will be "The Legality of Arbitration" and "Clauses of the New Contract."

R. F. Woodhull, Julian Bryalsky and P. S. Harrison will address the gathering.

Paramount Releasing 10 Shorts in December

Five two-reel comedies and five one-reel cartoons will be released by Paramount during December.

On the 3rd "Splash Yourself," a Bobby Vernon comedy produced by Christie, will be released along with "Milk Made," a Krazy Kat cartoon. On the 10th, "Toddles," a two-reel novelty, and "Koko's Quest," an Out-of-the-Inkwell cartoon, will be offered. "Dizzy Sights," a Paramount comedy starring Billy Dooley, will be on hand for exhibitors on December 17th. Also on the 17th will be released "The Stock Exchange," another of the Krazy Kat cartoons.

Jack Duffy is featured in the Christie comedy, scheduled for the 24th and titled "Nifty Nags." The cartoon set for the same date is "Koko the Kid," one of the Out-of-the-Inkwell cartoons produced by Max Fleischer. The last number for the month, listed for the 31st, are "Swiss Movements," a Christie comedy with Jimmie Adams, and "Grid Ironed," a Krazy Kat subject.

"King of Kings" Opens in Budapest and Prague

"The King of Kings," Cecil B. De Mille's special production, recently had gala premieres at the Royal Apollo Theatre in Budapest and at the Lucerna Theatre in Prague, Czecho-Slovakia. The Hungarian diplomatic corps and government officials were present at the Budapest showing, the theatre was decorated in keeping with the picture's mood and what is said to be the largest electric sign ever seen in Hungary was used to advertise the production.

In Prague, the picture was shown with a special presentation, receiving endorsement of the Czechoslovakian minister and the Archbishop Kordac.

"Silk Legs," a Fox Films December 18th Release

"Silk Legs," Madge Bellamy's current feature comedy which Arthur Rosson directed for Fox Films, will be released nationally on December 18th. James Hall is the star's leading man.

Wesco Deal With Saxe Seems Certain

Coast Circuit Gains Strong Foothold in Middle West; Will Curtail Small Town Activities

RUMORS are flying thick and fast regarding the expansion activities of the very active Wesco chain. That a deal has been closed with the Saxe Enterprises as a forerunner to more important expansion in the middle west, is one of them, and that they will curtail the activities in the smaller towns, is another. No definite announcement is yet forthcoming regarding any of them.

Some rumors have it that the papers in the Saxe deal have already been signed, sealed and delivered and that it becomes effective January 1st. According to word from Milwaukee stockholders of the Miller Theatre, a vaudeville house in the Saxe chain, were called to a special meeting last week to discuss the possible sale of the Saxe Theatres to Wesco.

Oscar Brachman of the Saxe Amusement Enterprises said that meetings of stockholders of other theatres would be called in the near future to take up the same matter. The Saxe string includes forty-five theatres throughout Wisconsin and rumors have been abroad several months linking the names of Saxe and Wesco and Saxe and F & R in a possible sale or merger. At the present time it seems assured that the Saxe-Wesco deal, if not already concluded, is near consummation.

Taking over the Saxe houses would give Wesco a splendid foothold in the middle west, as their holdings in that territory heretofore have been confined to five houses of the Frank Amusement Company chain in Iowa. This is looked upon only as a forerunner to the eastern trend of expansion of the Wesco circuit, which will hook up other chains and augment its holdings extensively in the near future.

While Wesco is expanding into the larger cities of the middle west and further eastward, it would seem that the intention is to forsake some of the smaller towns. Indicative of this trend comes the word from Salem, Oregon, that announcement has been made that the three George B. Guthrie theatres in that city, recently taken over by Wesco, are to revert to Guthrie.

In the light of these pending deals in the middle west competition continues to grow more keen. Up to a few years ago Saxe was practically without competition in the key city of Milwaukee and then Universal and Fischer's stepped in to complicate matters for that chain. Now Saxe steps into the Fischer first run stronghold with the opening of Saxe's Madison at Madison.

Fischer's Paramount Theatres, in retaliation, are carrying their activities into Saxe strongholds. They have opened the chain's first theatre at Oshkosh, Wisconsin. Universal is also invading Oshkosh with a new house. Fischer's also are planning the building of or acquisition of additional houses in the principal cities of the state, including Milwaukee.

West Coast Managers Start Drive

BASED only on increased gross and decreased overhead, a drive has been started by Harold B. Franklin, president of West Coast Theatres, Inc., who has named the contest the "Way Better Than Last Year" Drive, in which all managers of Wesco are to compete. Before the inauguration of the drive a committee was named by Mr. Franklin to take active charge of the campaign. Committee members are J. H. Goldberg, W. H. Lollier, Jack Mansfield, Jeff Lazazrus and Lou Edelman. Mr. Mansfield is chairman.

The theatre circuit has been divided into four divisions: the Los Angeles, the San Francisco, the Seattle and Portland, and the Iowa. Each of these divisions will compete for the highest division standing, while the theatres in each division will go after the individual standing. Division theatres finishing first, second or third will be awarded prizes after the three months of the drive are up.

Eight Shorts from M-G-M During December

Five comedies and two nature novelties are offered by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as its short subjects intended for release during December.

The first release for the month is "Winged Death," one of the Ufa oddities, on the 3rd. On the same date, "Putting Pants on Phillip," a Hal Roach comedy featuring Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, will be released. A Max Davidson comedy, "Fighting Father," will come on December 10th. "The Lion Hunt," another of the Ufa oddities, is to be issued on December 17th, the same release date for "Dog Heaven," a new "Our Gang" number which Roach produced.

Charley Chase's new comedy, "Never the Dames Shall Meet," also produced by Roach, has been set for the 24th. "The Parasol Ant," the last of the Ufa nature reels for December, and "The Battle of the Century," another Laurel Hardy co-starring vehicle, are scheduled for December 31st.

"Two Arabian Knights" Title Cannot Be Changed

Under the terms of a contract between Donald McGibney, author of the original story, and John W. Considine, Jr., who produced it, the title of "Two Arabian Knights," which originally adorned the story when it appeared in the McClure's Magazine, cannot be changed to "Two Hot Knights."

Mr. Considine was not able to obtain permission from the author of the story to make the change of itle. He expressed an opinion that the original title was as good as any other.

M-G-M Studios Active

Production Schedule at Peak With Nine Companies Engaged in Making Features

THE Metro Goldwyn-Mayer studios, at Culver City, are in the midst of one of the most active production periods in the history of the organization, with nine companies engaged in making features. Other stories have been completed and are in the cutting room, while still others are being prepared for production in the near future.

"The Trail of '98" is now in the cutting room. It features Ralph Forbes, Dolores Del Rio and Harry Carey. King Vidor's "The Crowd" features Eleanor Boardman and James Murray. Ramon Novarro is busy with a new starring vehicle.

"Under the Black Eagle," featuring Flash, the dog-star, is among the new pictures under way. Monta Bell has just completed "Man, Woman and Sin," starring John Gilbert. The exterior scenes for "West Point," with Joan Crawford and William Haines, were shot at the U. S. Military Academy. James Murray and Helene Costello will be seen in "Old Kentucky."

In the comedy field M-G-M has "Baby Mine," co-starring Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, while Col. Tim McCoy is completing the Western, "The Law of the Range." Greta Garbo has just completed work in "The Divine Woman."

One of the most lavish productions now in work is "Rose-Marie," in which Joan Crawford and James Murray are featured. John Gilbert is working in "The Cossacks," and Norma Shearer in an untitled comedy-drama. William Haines has just started "The Smart Set," and Lon Chaney is busy with "The Big City."

Marion Davies has completed the stellar role in "The Patsey." Three stories now in preparation for early production are "Circus Rookies," which will co-star Karl Dane and George K. Arthur; "Southern Skies" and the Peter B. Kyne story, "Tide of the Empire."

Paramount Product Due

Six Features Now in Work, Eight Due to Start and Nine in Cutting Rooms

OUT at the Paramount studios they have six pictures in work, nine in the cutting rooms and eight ready to get under way. The latter will all be started within the coming month.

The six pictures now being made are: "The Last Command," starring Emil Jannings; "Under the Tonto Rim," with Richard Arlen and Mary Brian; "The Traveling Salesman," starring Richard Dix; "Doomsday," starring Florence Vidor; a new Esther Ralston starring vehicle, and "Abie's Irish Rose."

The pictures order into production in the immediate future by B. P. Schulberg are: "Red Hair," starring Clara Bow; a new Bebe Daniels farce comedy; "The Beauty Doctor," starring Adolphe Menjou; "Quick Lunch," starring W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin; "The Patriot," starring Emil Jannings; a Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton comedy special; "The Nightstick," a George Bancroft starring vehicle, and another Esther Ralston starring vehicle.

The nine pictures being cut and edited for release are: Eric Von Stroheim's "The Wedding March"; a Wallace Beery-Raymond Hatton comedy; "Beau Sabreur," a companion picture to "Beau Geste"; "Two Flaming Youths," starring W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin; "The Gay Defender," starring Richard Dix; "Serenade," starring Adolphe Menjou; "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes"; "The Secret Hour," starring Pola Negri, and "The Legion of the Condemned," companion picture to "Wings."

F B O Offering Three Specials in February

F B O will offer three of its special productions during the month of February, set aside in honor of the second anniversary of its president's, Joseph P. Kennedy, entrance into the film business.

The thre picture are "Coney Island," "Chicago After Midnight" and "Legionaires in Paris." Already under way on these three pictures are publicity, advertising and exploitation drives. Plans are in progress for a tie-up with Chamber of Commerce officials which will give "Coney Island" plenty of publicity. A tie-up with the Bradley Knitting Mills has also been effected whereby members of the cast will be featured in advertisements wearing the Bradley suits. It is planned to have the world premiere of "Chicago After Midnight" at some theatre in Chicago at midnight.

"King of Kings" Will Show in Legitimate Theatres

Cecil B. De Mille's Pathe road show, "The King of Kings," will be shown on Christmas and New Year's, in leading legitimate theatres in four metropolitan cities.

A touring unit of the picture will play Christmas week in the National Theatre, Washington, D. C., and will then open New Year's day at the Nixon in Pittsburgh for a run of two weeks. Another unit will play a return date at the New Detroit Opera House in Detroit for both Christmas and New Year's week. The company now touring the Middle West will be in St. Louis at the American Theatre during Christmas week and will then open at the Strand in Dayton, Ohio, on New Year's day. A Western company now at the Columbia Theatre in San Francisco will play the holiday week in Oakland, California.

First National Studio Is Busily Engaged

A spirit of activity prevails over the Burbank studio of First National where three units are about to be launched into work on new pictures, to join five other units now engaged on the various lots.

Soon to be started and wth the idea of making it the star's finest vehicle to date is "Lilac Time," to be directed by George Fitzmaurice with Colleen Moore starred. In this same stage of production awaiting the call of "camera!" is the Johnny Hines unit which has arrived from New York to begin filming interior scenes on "Chinatown Charlie."

Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes have finished "Sailors' Wives." "The Noose" is nearing the cutting room as is also "The Whip Woman," which Joseph C. Boyle directed under the supervision of Allan Dwan. Charlie Murray and George Sidney are still at work on a new comedy about two barbers which Mervyn LeRoy is directing. Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall are engaged upon "Ladies' Night," Harry Langdon will soon complete "The Chaser," and Ken Maynard will shortly begin a new Western.

Lloyd May Make Two Comedies Yearly

If his present production plans are carried out, Harold Lloyd will produce two comedies for Paramount next year. The comedian's current vehicle, "Speedy," is proceeding on scheduled time, and it is expected to be finished shortly after the first of the new year. Practically all of the remaining sequences will be shot out of doors.

The staff of Lloyd scenarists are now working on a story to follow "Speedy." An idea for the picture has already been outlined by Lloyd; it is one which he has had in view for several years.

Following the completion of "Speedy," Lloyd will go to New York for a few weeks and will help select furnishings for his new home in Benedict Canyon.

Columbia Signs Hobart Bosworth for Role

Hobart Bosworth, who played an important role in Columbia's "The Blood Ship," will appear in another of that company's pictures, as he has just signed a new contract calling for a featured role in another story of the sea.

McDonald Cast for "Four Devils" Role

J. FARRELL MacDONALD, Fox Films character actor, is F. W. Murnau's first selection for the cast of "The Four Devils," his next production. MacDonlad will play the role of an old clown. The director is still seeking blonde and brunette girls and contrasting male types for the picture, which will have a circus background. Technicians under the direction of Murnau have begun construction on sets, sketches and models of which were prepared in Germany by Walter Roehrig and Robert Herlth. Actual production gets under way in the early part of December.

"Helen of Troy" Opens for Run at Globe

"THE Private Life of Helen of Troy," First National's special production, will have its world New York premiere at the Globe Theatre, where it will open an extended run at $2.20 top on Friday evening, December 9th.

An intensive advertising and exploitation will precede the premiere of the picture, which will introduce First National's foreign star, Maria Corda, in her first American picture. Her husband, Alexander Korda, directed her. The Erskine novel has been serialized by about 200 dailies throughout the country.

F B O Lists Nine Films for January Release

Five features and four short subjects are planned by F B O as its releases for January.

The first of the year will see the release of "Driftin' Sands," starring Bob Steele. On January 2d, "Mickey's Parade," a Mickey McGuire two-reeler, will be issued. On the 9th "Panting Papas," a Fat Men comedy, will be distributed, and on the 13th "Coney Island," an F B O special production with Lois Wilson featured, will be shown.

"Deadman's Curve," starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., will be released on January 15th. On the 22d, "Wizard of the Saddle," starring Buzz Barton, will be distributed. The 30th will see the release of "Little Mickey Grogan," which features Frankie Darro. Two one-reel Newslaffs by Bill Nolan will come on the 8th and 22d respectively.

Six December Releases By Paramount

Six feature length productions are listed by Paramount for December release. Counting the 10 short subjects which the company has scheduled for the month there will be 16 releases in all from Paramount.

The first of the December features, to be released on the 3rd, is "Honeymoon Hate," a Florence Vidor starring vehicle that Luther Reed directed. The second, "The Gay Defender," starring Richard Dix, and the third, "Get Your Man," featuring Clara Bow, will both be issued on the 10th. The Bow vehicle was directed by Dorothy Arzner and the Dix picture by Gregory LaCava.

W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin are co-starred in "Two Flaming Youths," which will be issued on December 17th; John Waters directed the new comedy team. "The Secret Hour," starring Pola Negri and directed by Rowland V. Lee, will be released on December 24th. "Serenade," in which Adolphe Menjou was directed by Harry D'Arrast, will be the last release for the month, going to exhibitors on December 31st.

M-G-M Program of Shorts Nearly Finished

TWO-THIRDS of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's short subject schedule for 1927-28 is now complete. With the elapse of but one-quarter of the present season, the finished shorts include five of Hal Roach's Charley Chase two-reelers, four of the Roach "Our Gang" comedies, four of the Roach comedies co-starring Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, four of the Roach comedies presenting Max Davidson, two of the Great Events Technicolor productions and the entire 25 of the series of Ufa Oddities.

"Smith" Comedy Heads Pathe Shorts for Dec. 11

"Smith's Modiste Shop," the latest of the Mack Sennett comedies featuring Raymond McGee, Ruth Hiatt and Mary Ann Jackson, is the principal offering of the Pathe group of short subjects scheduled for the week of December 11th. "Ladies' Day," a Grantland Rice Sportlight, a new chapter of the serial "The Masked Menace," an Aesop film fable cartoon, Pathe Review, No. 50, Topics of the Day, No. 50, and issues Nos. 102 and 103 of the Pathe newsreel are the other releases for the week.

Alf Goulding directed "Smith's Modiste Shop" under the supervision of J. A. Waldron. The serial reaches its sixth chapter in "Checkmate." "Rats in His Garret" is the title of the new Aesop cartoon by Paul Terry. Three subjects to be found in the current Pathe Review are: "Silver Spinners," "Flower Lakes of Florida" and "Nautical Novelties."

Stern Bros. Comedies Will Be Shown Along Broadway

December will see the presentation in first run houses on New York's Broadway of several Stern Bros. comedies, released by Universal. In addition, it is said, another comedy is likely to be added to the list.

The Capitol has booked "The Newlyweds' Christmas Party," a holiday comedy, for the week beginning December 10th. This same release is also booked by the Loew circuit for showings in and around New York, starting with Loew's State and New York theatres. The Loew Metropolitan in Brooklyn will exhibit it about the same date.

The Roxy will present "The Newlyweds' Imagination" during Christmas week, beginning the 26th. The Colony will show a comedy of the "Mike and Ike" series. "No Blondes Allowed," another of the Mike and Ike comedies, which was recently shown at the Colony, will be shown at the Cameo during the week of December 10th.

"A Texas Steer" General Release Date December 4

The general release date of "A Texas Steer," the Sam E. Rork production of the Charles H. Hoyt play for First National, is December 4th. Will Rogers impersonates the role in which Tim Murphy originally starred on the stage.

The picture has been booked into the Madison Theatre, Detroit, the Empress, Oklahoma City, the Pantheon, Toledo, the Post, Battle Creek, Michigan, the Mark Strand, Albany, and the Aztec, San Antonio, Texas.

Constance Talmadge Now a United Artist

CONSTANCE TALMADGE has followed her sister, Norma, into United Artists, Joseph M. Schenck, producer of Miss Talmadge's pictures, this week having announced her signing a contract whereby she will make two pictures a year for his organization.

"East of the Setting Sun," George Barr McCutcheon's novel, will be Miss Talmadge's initial vehicle for release through United Artists. The film will be produced at the United Artists studio, where Miss Talmadge has made her last two vehicles. No director or leading man has been signed.

Columbia Loans Griffith to De Mille

The services of E. H. Griffith, director, have been secured through the courtesy of Columbia Pictures by the Cecil B. De Mille Corporation to direct a production, "Hold 'Em, Yale." He directed the two recent Columbia releases, "Alias the Lone Wolf" and "The Opening Night." Several weeks ago De Mille contracted for Walter Lang, another Columbia director. After directing a picture his contract was extended to enable him to direct a second production. The services of other Columbia directors have been contracted for in the past by other companies, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have secured George Hill and Paramount Frank Strayer.

Agnes Ayres Heads Cast of M-G-M Color Subject

Agnes Ayres, feature star, has been engaged by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the role of Josephine in the Technicolor subject, "Napoleon and Josephine." The story was prepared by Leon Abrams and actual production will be under the supervision of Samuel Bischoff. The director will be Roy Neill and he will be aided by Andre Chotin as art director.

"The Love Mart" Will Have Joint Premiere

"The Love Mart," the Billie Dove vehicle which First National filmed under the working title of "Louisiana," will have a double premiere. It will open on December 3rd at the San Francisco Granada Theatre and at Loew's State Theatre in Los Angeles.

Cutting and titling of the picture has just been completed.

Equity Theatres Obtains Three Philly Houses

THE Equity Theatres Corporation, a merger of several independent theatre operating companies in the Philadelphia territory, has taken over the Wishart, Lindley and Ontario theatres in Philadelphia, all of which have been under the management of Jack Ridgeway. The acquisition of these three houses gives Equity control over more than 30 theatres in the Philadelphia district.

Exhibitors Service Bureau

Showmanship

Briefs

WITH a series of city-wide contests being staged in Oakland, Calif., and the Rivoli Theatre, Cleveland, Ohio, arranging to run a series of six campaigns on six successive weeks, the splendid Juvenile Comedies-Harmonica Playing Contest tie-up is taking on added importance. G. C. Blumenthal, Northern California exchange manager, worked out plans for the city-wide campaign in Oakland in conjunction with Mark Keller, of the East Bay Theatres, of the Golden State Theatre Circuit. The announced plan is to conduct the contest over a period of four weeks in all Oakland houses of this circuit.

SNOOKUMS is being featured in a four-cornered tie-up. The big four in this exploitation are the Dennison Manufacturing Company, the Woolworth Stores, Ivory Soap and Universal. The subject of the tie-up is Ivory Soap carving. Dennison has prepared special packages of patterns for soap carving, which consist of designs and instructions. The package, sold exclusively by Woolworth for ten cents, shows Snookums carving Ivory Soap in the Dennison way.

CURRENT shots from International Newsreel are to be used as the attraction getters in a Deltah Pearl campaign starting January 1st. 5,000 retail jewelry stores are to be furnished by the company with polychrome and gold frames for window displays. Beginning the first of the year, the company will publish a special weekly to be used in these frames. The weekly will be illustrated with shots of the current International Newsreel.

MANAGER ROY SLENTZ found it profitable to feature the victrola scene in "Becky" to advertise that film at the Rialto Theatre, Colorado Springs, Colo. A tie-up with one of the local music stores resulted in their window showing a duplicate of the victrola scene in miniature. Cut-outs from the 11 x 14's were placed on the record, and then the record was caused to turn slowly by an electric motor, giving on-lookers an opportunity to see the entire display of cut-outs.

A PUBLICITY stunt staged in San Antonio in connection with "The Gorilla," won first page space in the feature section of the San Antonio Light. A man dressed in a gorilla costume went to the municipal zoo in Brackenridge park to see the effect the synthetic gorilla would have on animals. A lioness was the only one that showed fight, and a picture of the gorilla in front of the lion cage was made, showing the lioness bristling on her side of the bars.

MANAGER HUGH J. SMART used a ballyhoo that putted in some extra business on "Spring Fever" at the Strand Theatre, Montgomery, Ala. This man was dressed in a golf outfit with a sign on his back giving name of star, title of picture, name of theatre and play dates. As he walked down the main streets of the business section, he putted a ball that was 14 inches in diameter; the ball also carrying the title of picture, theatre and play dates.

Paramount Theatre Celebrating First Anniversary

THE Paramount Theatre is celebrating its first anniversary this week with a gigantic Birthday Party. The theatre opened one year ago the 19th of November with one of the most brilliant openings ever seen on Broadway. Since that time over five million people have passed through the marble portals and enjoyed the entertainment provided in the great shadow palace.

The attendance at the Paramount Theatre has averaged about 100,000 weekly, while on various occasions thousands have been turned away without seats.

The business record of the house is held by Pola Negri in "Hotel Imperial," but this was during the Christmas Holidays, and is not considered a fair test for the production. Second on the list of pictures holding the Paramount House record is "Underworld," which came within $34.00 of breaking the Negri record. As "Underworld" played during the dull part of the picture season, with no holidays, this is considered the record business of the house.

Other pictures holding records at the Paramount are Reginald Denny in "The Cheerful Fraud" (played Christmas week) and Clara Bow in "It."

The Paramount's policy has always been for a gay and snappy show on the stage between picture features. Originators of the band on the stage policy, this feature has become one of the big attractions at the Paramount every week.

During the past year, the Jesse Crawfords, playing from twin consoles on the gigantic Wurlitzer organ, which is equipped with 10,000 pipes, have established a large following among New York theatregoers. Their battle of Jazz and Opera is one of the big features of the Anniversary celebration.

The Birthday Party production, centered around the Paramount Stage Band, was produced by John Murray Anderson, and features talent of the musical comedy stge and opera. The production is called "The First Annual Publix Review," and it will tour the entire circuit of Publix Theatres. This is the first annual production which it is planned to send on tour every year celebrating the Paramount anniversary.

Above is reproduced one of the ads used by the Paramount theatre in the New York dailies to exploit the First Anniversary Jubilee program

Tags on 200 Cats Exploit "Cat and Canary"

An army of 200 cats acted as ballyhoo for the showing of "The Cat and the Canary" at the Hippodrome Theatre in Waco, Texas. This novel stunt was put on by Manager J. P. Harrison, who advertised that he would pay 10 cents apiece for 200 full-grown cats if delivered to the Hippodrome from 4 P. M. to 9 P. M. on Saturday. He added that no harm would be done the cats.

Knowing the nature of cats was to go home once let loose, each cat was tagged and set at liberty Saturday midnight; the copy on the tag read, "Help Me Out Please—I am just a poor cat that was sold to the Hippodrome Theatre for 10c, and was put in the spooky house in The Cat and the Canary, but it is too spooky for even a cat, so I escaped. . . . now I am trying to find my way back home. If you are easily frightened take a tip from me and stay away from the Hippodrome during the showing of The Cat and the Canary."

This stunt created plenty of comment, and was put over at a very nominal cost.

"Angel of Broadway" Gives Food to Poor Families

A tie-up which brought Thanksgiving cheer into the homes of forty poor families in Cleveland was sponsored by the News of that city working with Keith's 105th Street Theatre. A girl representing the "Angel of Broadway," the current attraction at the house, delivered baskets of food to a list supplied by the Salvation Army.

The theatre and the News jointly donated $100 for the purchase of foodstuffs. The "Angel" went shopping with the money and stores cooperated in the effort by giving extra values. The shopping tour as well as the distribution of the baskets was covered in articles and photos published daily by the News.

Stock Theatre Shows Serial Featuring Guest Star

A highly original idea in showmanship is being exhibited by Manager Leventhal, of the Rialto Theatre in Hoboken, New Jersey, who, having engaged J. Anthony Hughes as a guest star of his stock company, then booked this popular juvenile's latest serial, "The Crimson Flash," to play a chapter a week during a ten-week engagement.

Sticks to Straight Publicity in Exploiting "Satin Woman"

STRAIGHT publicity, without recourse to any form of stunts or tie-ups of a ballyhoo nature, is being used successfully as exploitation for the combined personal stage and picture appearance of Mrs. Wallace Reid, now nearing the end of the first part of her tour in connection with "The Satin Woman."

The campaigns thus far executed have been notable for the absence of any sort of sensationalism, even commercial tie-ups being avoided. The publicity for the tour is being handled by Lon Young, advertising and publicity director for Gotham Productions, releasing the film.

In nearly every city along her route, Mrs. Reid has been received by the leading social and civic clubs of the towns, and has appeared as honor guest and speaker at luncheons and gatherings of women's clubs, Chambers of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs.

The city of Washington, D. C., may be offered as a representative "sample" campaign for Mrs. Reid and "The Satin Woman." Cooperating with Mrs. Harriett Hawley Locher and Mr. Nelson Bell, of the Stanley-Crandall theatre, Lon Young arranged the following for the engagement at the Earle Theatre:

Mrs. Reid met at station by prominent officials, club women and photographed for news weekly. Reception at White House with Mrs. Coolidge. Guest speaker at Soroptimistic Club, reception and tea at Theatre Guild. Guest of National League of American Pen Women. Several other similar social affairs under the auspices of Mrs. Wm. Wolff Smith including luncheon guest at Arts Club. Special morning performance with receipts for benefit of Wallace Reid Memorial Fund to raise $150,000 motion picture bay for Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York City, same to be held under auspices of many figures of national prominence, and with many talented artists donating their services. This performance to be held in the Earle Theatre.

The campaigns so far have proved highly successful, and are said to have given positive evidence that the absence of the "ballyhoo" type of exploitation has strengthened the publicity value of this form of motion picture advertising.

Annual Scholastic Week Show Presented in Indianapolis

THE Circle Theatre, Indianapolis, held its second annual scholastic week this year in conjunction with the showing of the college football picture, "The Drop Kick."

Scholastic week is worked with the high schools of Indianapolis. Of the six high schools, four and a boys' preparatory school were selected this year. The theatre devoted one night to each school.

The week before the showing of "The Drop Kick," Manager Allan S. Glenn sent a camerman around with the exploitation man to get motion pictures of the football team of each school. These pictures were shown at the Circle on the night devoted to the particular school.

In addition to showing that school's football team, the front of the theatre was decorated in the school's colors. Special slides were made with the school songs. The school cheer leaders were on the stage. The school band was another feature.

Mr. Glenn invited the high school football teams, the coaches, the principals and members of the faculty on the athletic board to be present as guests of the Circle. They were seated in the boxes, and during the cheering spotlights were turned on them.

Other exploitation features of scholastic week were advertisements in the school papers, tie-ups with sports good stores, special house trailers on the screen, all a week in advance; a series of ten special stories on the sports pages of the local newspapers and specials in the motion picture departments.

On Monday night of the showing the Shortridge High School, whose night it was, celebrated the victory of its football team in winning the city championship. As the celebration was held in Monument Circle, directly in front of the theatre, the house was already decorated with Shortridge colors and the lobby filled with Shortridge billing, giving "The Drop Kick" the "breaks" to start the week with a big night.

Vote "Best Girl" in Class of Tampa Highschool

Jack L. Hobby created interest at one of the Tampa High Schools in "My Best Girl" playing at the Tampa Theatre, Tampa, Fla.

Each class in this particular High School was told about the picture at the Tampa together with an announcement that the "best girl" of each class would be given a ticket to see the picture.

Consequently, each class stayed after hours to cast their ballot to determine the winner of the tickets.

Student Matinee for "Ben Hur" at Alliance Theatre

The Manager of the Morrison Theatre, Alliance, Ill., ran a short, but effective campaign to put over "Ben Hur," when that film played at his theatre.

The superintendent of schools announced personally in every class room from the seventh grade to the high school senior class that a special student matinee would be held at the theatre on Wednesday, after the regular matinee performance, at which all students would be admitted for twenty-five cents.

Two Stanley-Crandall Houses May Change Policy

"Switching" of the motion picture activities of the Metropolitan and the vaudeville of the Earl theatre in Washington, D. C., is under-hood to be planned, to be put into effect some time next month. Both houses are links of the local Stanley-Crandall chain.

The Earle Theatre is one of the largest and most handsomely equipped in Washington and is located on Thirteenth street, in close vicinity to the new Fox. The Metropolitan is on F street at Tenth.

Some time ago, the Metropolitan tried out the plan of carrying stage attractions in connection with pictures, but found that the house was too small. The much larger Earle would be far more suitable for this purpose, while the stage of the Metropolitan could be remodeled without difficulty and the house would then be ideal for the presentation of the more intimate vaudeville.

Football Reels Proved Big Draw at Boston Houses

Crowds that attend football games out in the open apparently thirst to see the contests again on the screens. Showings of football films the very evening after a game is completed are credited with drawing a liberal percentage of those who patronized Boston theatres during the season just closed. This condition has prevailed throughout the football season and Boston managers are pretty certain to contract for an abundance of football film in their news reels next fall.

Practically all of the theatres showing the football reels Saturday and Sunday have given leading positions in their advertising to the football reels with the feature films occupying second place.

Photo above shows the "shadow sign" used by Manager Charles Amos of the Florida theatre, Jacksonville, to exploit "Underworld," and described in an article in this department in the October 28th issue. The hand was projected by a spotlight onto a building opposite the theatre. The hand, a small metal cutout, placed close to the light. The shadow image was approximately forty feet in height.

:: "The Check-Up" ::

"The Check-Up" is a presentation in the briefest and most convenient form of reports received from exhibitors in every part of the country on current features, which makes it possible for the exhibitor to see what the picture has done for other theatre managers.

The first column following the name of the feature represents the number of managers that have reported the picture as "Poor." The second column gives the number who consider it "Fair"; the third, the number who consider it "Good"; and the fourth column, those who consider it "Big."

The fifth column is a percentage figure giving the average rating on that feature, obtained by the following method: A report of "Poor" is rated at 20%; one of "Fair," 40%; "Good," 70%; and "Big," 100%. The percentage ratings of all of these reports on one picture are then added together, and divided by the number of reports, giving the average percentage—a figure which represents the consensus of opinion on that picture. In this way exceptional cases, reports which might be misleading taken alone and such individual differences of opinion are averaged up and eliminated.

No picture is included in the list which has not received at least ten reports.

Title of Picture	Reporting "Poor"	Reporting "Fair"	Reporting "Good"	Reporting "Big"	Percentage Value	Length
COLUMBIA PICTURES
Alias the Lone Wolf	—	3	19	—	66	5,831 Ft.
Blood Ship, The	—	—	19	7	78	6,843 Ft.
Romantic Age, The	—	2	7	1	67	5,267 Ft.
Wreck, The	—	2	8	—	64	5,631 Ft.
F B O
Arizona Nights	—	1	6	4	78	6,382 Ft.
Border Whirlwind, The	—	1	8	2	73	4,862 Ft.
California or Bust	—	2	8	—	64	4,659 Ft.
Don Mike	—	2	16	3	71	5,723 Ft.
Flaming Fury	—	5	5	—	55	4,464 Ft.
Gingham Girl, The	—	3	7	1	65	6,310 Ft.
Her Father Said No	3	5	12	—	55	6,908 Ft.
Magic Garden, The	—	6	18	3	67	6,807 Ft.
Moon of Israel	—	1	11	2	72	6,680 Ft.
Mother	—	4	17	1	66	6,934 Ft.
Moulders of Men	2	7	14	—	57	6,442 Ft.
Red Hot Hoofs	—	3	8	—	62	4,681 Ft.
Regular Scout, A	2	—	15	5	72	5,601 Ft.
Rose of the Tenements	5	2	8	—	49	6,678 Ft.
Silver Comes Thru	—	—	9	2	75	5,476 Ft.
Tarzan and the Golden Lion	1	5	16	2	64	5,807 Ft.
FIRST NATIONAL
Affair of the Follies, An	—	6	27	4	68	6,433 Ft.
All Aboard	2	7	10	—	52	6,300 Ft.
American Beauty	—	1	14	—	68	6,333 Ft.
Babe Comes Home	1	4	12	1	62	5,761 Ft.
Blonde Saint, The	1	5	16	1	62	6,800 Ft.
Breakfast at Sunrise	—	3	10	2	68	5,100 Ft.
Broadway Nights	—	5	11	1	63	6,765 Ft.
Camille	—	—	28	14	80	9,692 Ft.
Convoy	—	4	17	1	66	7,724 Ft.
Crystal Cup, The	—	2	10	—	65	6,386 Ft.
Dance Magic	1	4	6	—	55	6,588 Ft.
Drop Kick, The	—	—	15	2	74	6,082 Ft.
Easy Pickings	2	5	12	—	57	5,400 Ft.
For the Love of Mike	—	7	15	1	62	6,588 Ft.
Framed	—	3	16	2	66	5,282 Ft.
Hard-Boiled Haggerty	—	3	25	—	67	7,443 Ft.
High Hat	4	3	7	—	49	6,190 Ft.
Just Another Blonde	1	3	18	—	64	5,603 Ft.
Ladies at Play	—	6	16	2	65	6,119 Ft.
Lady in Ermine	3	10	19	—	56	6,400 Ft.
Life of Riley, The	—	3	20	2	69	6,720 Ft.
Lonesome Ladies	—	4	9	—	61	5,718 Ft.
Long Pants	1	3	17	—	63	5,550 Ft.
Lost at the Front	—	3	13	2	68	5,255 Ft.
Lunatic at Large, The	4	2	10	—	54	5,521 Ft.
Masked Woman, The	3	2	9	—	55	5,434 Ft.
McFadden's Flats	1	5	35	15	74	7,846 Ft.
Naughty But Nice	—	1	17	4	74	6,520 Ft.
Notorious Lady, The	1	5	9	2	62	6,040 Ft.
Orchids and Ermine	—	15	21	8	66	6,734 Ft.
Overland Stage, The	1	3	17	5	70	6,392 Ft.
Perfect Sap, The	1	5	17	—	61	5,982 Ft.
Poor Nut, The	—	5	9	2	66	6,897 Ft.
Prince of Headwaiters, The	—	5	14	—	62	6,400 Ft.
Rose of the Golden West	—	3	6	2	67	6,447 Ft.
Sea Tiger, The	1	3	24	3	68	5,606 Ft.
See You in Jail	4	5	11	2	59	5,800 Ft.
Smile, Broher, Smile	—	3	15	2	69	6,548 Ft.
Somewhere in Sonora	—	2	6	2	70	5,718 Ft.
Stolen Bride, The	—	1	21	2	71	7,179 Ft.
Sunset Derby, The	—	2	8	—	64	5,000 Ft.
Tender Hour, The	—	7	15	3	65	7,400 Ft.
Three Hours	1	13	19	—	57	5,774 Ft.
Three's a Crowd	—	5	9	1	62	5,668 Ft.
Venus of Venice	1	12	14	2	58	6,324 Ft.
White Black Sheep, The	2	6	18	3	63	6,798 Ft.
White Pants Willie	2	4	7	1	56	6,409 Ft.
FOX
Ankles Preferred	1	7	18	2	63	5,498 Ft.
Auctioneer, The	—	6	14	3	66	5,686 Ft.
Bertha the Sewing Machine Girl	1	1	10	1	66	5,242 Ft.
Broncho Buster, The	—	3	15	3	70	5,435 Ft.
Canyon of Light	—	8	19	7	69	5,399 Ft.
Circus Ace, The	—	3	16	1	67	4,810 Ft.
Cradle Snatchers	—	3	15	2	69	6,281 Ft.
Desert Valley	—	1	12	1	70	4,731 Ft.
East Side, West Side	—	1	10	3	74	6,408 Ft.
Gay Retreat, The	—	—	9	2	75	5,524 Ft.
Going Crooked	2	1	7	—	57	5,345 Ft.
Hills of Peril	—	1	11	—	68	4,943 Ft.
Is Zat So?	—	2	13	1	68	6,950 Ft.
Joy Girl, The	—	4	16	—	62	6,162 Ft.
Last Trail, The	1	6	16	4	66	5,190 Ft.
Love Makes 'Em Wild	1	5	10	—	58	5,508 Ft.
Loves of Carmen	—	2	20	4	72	8,538 Ft.
Monkey Talks, The	1	5	12	—	59	5,500 Ft.
Music Master, The	1	3	17	6	71	7,754 Ft.
One Increasing Purpose	2	4	7	1	56	7,677 Ft.
Outlaws of Red River	—	3	17	3	70	5,327 Ft.
Paid to Love	—	2	12	—	66	6,888 Ft.
Secret Studio, The	2	1	11	—	61	5,870 Ft.
Seventh Heaven	—	1	19	15	82	8,500 Ft.
Stage Madness	2	3	5	—	51	5,620 Ft.
Summer Bachelors	—	3	13	4	72	6,782 Ft.
Tumbling River	—	2	8	—	64	4,675 Ft.
Upstream	2	1	7	2	64	5,510 Ft.
War Horse, The	—	2	9	—	65	4,976 Ft.
What Price Glory	—	—	44	32	83	11,109 Ft.
Whispering Sage	—	2	10	2	70	4,783 Ft.
METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER
Adam and Evil	—	3	12	—	64	6,667 Ft.
After Midnight	—	6	29	3	68	6,312 Ft.
Altars of Desire	2	11	34	—	58	6,037 Ft.
Annie Laurie	—	5	15	4	69	8,730 Ft.
Ben Hur	—	2	17	15	81	12,000 Ft.
Big Parade, The	—	1	23	22	84	12,550 Ft.
Body and Soul	—	2	10	1	68	5,902 Ft.
Bugle Call, The	—	1	7	2	73	5,821 Ft.
Callahans and the Murphys, The	—	1	23	7	76	5,875 Ft.
Captain Salvation	—	7	27	1	65	7,395 Ft.
Demi-Bride, The	—	6	27	8	71	6,886 Ft

Title of Picture	Reporting "Poor"	Reporting "Fair"	Reporting "Good"	Reporting "Big"	Percentage Value	Length
Fair Co-Ed, The	—	—	14	4	77	8,154 Ft.
Faust	5	7	19	3	62	8,110 Ft.
Fire Brigade	1	7	32	13	72	8,716 Ft.
Flesh and the Devil, The	—	5	37	18	77	8,759 Ft.
Frisco Sally Levy	—	5	17	2	63	6,900 Ft.
Garden of Allah, The	—	2	7	2	70	8,200 Ft.
Heaven on Earth	—	5	18		63	6,301 Ft.
Johnny Get Your Hair Cut	—	7	24	7	70	6,781 Ft.
Little Journey, The	1	7	17	—	60	6,088 Ft.
Lovers?	1	5	20	3	66	5,291 Ft.
Love's Blindness	3	7	11	3	59	6,023 Ft.
Mr. Wu	—	3	43	9	73	7,603 Ft.
Mockery	2	5	24	2	64	5,957 Ft.
On Ze Boulevard	—	6	6	—	55	5,671 Ft.
Red Mill, The	5	7	29	4	62	6,337 Ft.
Road to Romance, The	—	2	19	2	70	6,544 Ft.
Rookies	—	5	29	15	77	6,640 Ft.
Scarlet Letter, The	—	7	24	8	71	8,229 Ft.
Show, The	1	6	24	5	68	6,308 Ft.
Slide, Kelly, Slide	—	5	40	23	78	7,865 Ft.
Spring Fever	—	3	16	1	67	6,507 Ft.
Taxi Dancer, The	—	13	15	1	58	6,289 Ft.
Tell it to the Marines	—	1	35	28	83	8,800 Ft.
Tillie the Toiler	1	7	24	7	68	6,160 Ft.
Twelve Miles Out	—	4	27	7	73	7,899 Ft.
Understanding Heart, The	—	8	21	2	64	6,657 Ft.
Unknown, The	—	3	18	8	75	5,517 Ft.
Valencia	5	6	23	2	60	5,580 Ft.
Valley of Hell, The	2	4	7	1	56	4,070 Ft.
Winners of the Wilderness	—	2	14	2	70	6,343 Ft.
Women Love Diamonds	1	8	7	—	52	6,365 Ft.
PARAMOUNT
Afraid to Love	3	8	15	2	58	6,169 Ft.
Arizona Bound	1	4	8	—	57	4,912 Ft.
Barbed Wire	—	1	20	3	73	6,951 Ft.
Beau Geste	2	4	20	11	73	9,879 Ft.
Blind Alleys	1	7	15	2	62	5,597 Ft.
Blonde or Brunette	1	4	22	1	65	5,872 Ft.
Cabaret	—	7	23	5	68	6,947 Ft.
Canadian, The	3	9	20	—	57	7,753 Ft.
Casey at the Bat	3	15	42	8	65	6,040 Ft.
Chang	—	4	21	9	74	6 536 Ft.
Children of Divorce	1	6	29	10	72	6,662 Ft.
Drums of the Desert	—	5	16	3	68	5,907 Ft.
Evening Clothes	2	8	22	1	61	6,287 Ft.
Fashions for Women	5	8	17	3	58	6,296 Ft.
Figures Don't Lie	—	1	7	2	73	5,280 Ft.
Firemen, Save My Child	—	3	24	6	73	5,399 Ft.
Gentleman of Paris, A	—	3	14	2	68	5,927 Ft.
Hotel Imperial	2	9	19	1	59	7,091 Ft.
Hula	—	—	24	10	79	5,862 Ft.
It	—	—	27	27	85	6,452 Ft.
Kid Brother, The	—	3	44	10	69	7,654 Ft.
Kiss in the Taxi, A	3	11	23	3	60	6,439 Ft.
Knockout Reilly	—	4	35	7	72	7,080 Ft.
Let it Rain	1	10	22	7	67	6,052 Ft.
London	3	5	9	—	52	5,584 Ft.
Love 'Em and Leave 'Em	2	9	12	1	56	6,075 Ft.
Love's Greatest Mistake	—	12	16	—	57	6,007 Ft.
Madame Pompadour	1	4	16	—	62	7,180 Ft.
Man of the Forest	—	4	29	5	71	5,187 Ft.
Man Power	—	3	25	5	72	5,617 Ft.
Metropolis	2	4	15	6	69	8,039 Ft.
Mysterious Rider, The	—	5	22	2	67	5,957 Ft.
Nevada	—	1	17	2	72	6,258 Ft.
New York	1	4	22	—	64	6,877 Ft.
Now We're in the Air	—	1	8	3	75	5,798 Ft.
Old Ironsides	1	4	11	2	64	10,089 Ft.
Paradise for Two	—	4	25	—	66	6,187 Ft.
Potters, The	—	4	24	1	67	6,680 Ft.
Ritzy	—	6	22	—	64	5,306 Ft.
Rolled Stockings	—	2	15	1	69	6,249 Ft.
Rough House Rosie	—	1	24	8	76	5,952 Ft.
Rough Riders, The	2	3	31	2	67	12,071 Ft.
Running Wild	2	3	17	2	65	6,368 Ft.
Senorita	—	4	19	6	72	6,634 Ft.
Service for Ladies	—	6	15	6	70	6,170 Ft.
Shanghai Bound	—	1	22	5	74	5,515 Ft.
Soft Cushions	—	3	12	1	66	6,838 Ft.
Sorrows of Satan, The	5	10	15	3	56	8,691 Ft.
Special Delivery	2	6	21	2	63	5,524 Ft.
Stark Love	2	1	7		57	6,203 Ft.
Stranded in Paris	—	2	28	2	70	6,106 Ft.
Swim, Girl, Swim	—	1	26	3	72	6,124 Ft.

Title of Picture	Reporting "Poor"	Reporting "Fair"	Reporting "Good"	Reporting "Big"	Percentage Value	Length
Telephone Girl, The	2	6	23	1	62	5,455 Ft.
Tell it to Sweeney	—	2	10	—	65	6,006 Ft.
Ten Modern Commandments	—	3	16	3	70	6,497 Ft.
Too Many Crooks	3	6	9	—	52	5,399 Ft.
Underworld	—	3	13	7	75	7,643 Ft.
Way of All Flesh, The	—	1	23	14	80	[illegible] Ft.
We're All Gamblers	—	9	18	1	61	5,935 Ft.
Whirlwind of Youth, The	1	7	14	2	62	5,866 Ft.
Woman on Trial, The	—	4	7	1	63	5,960 Ft.
World at Her Feet, The	2	8	10	—	53	5,691 Ft.
PATHE-DEMILLE
Angel of Broadway, The	1	3	6	1	60	6,555 Ft.
Country Doctor, The	—	—	12	2	74	7,500 Ft.
Cruise of the Jasper B.	1	2	5	2	65	5,870 Ft.
Fighting Eagle, The	—		13	1	72	8,002 Ft.
Fighting Love	1	—	14	1	68	7,017 Ft.
Getting Gertie's Garter	—	4	13	2	67	6,859 Ft.
His First Flame	—	4	6	—	58	4,660 Ft.
Jim the Conqueror	—	3	10	1	66	5,324 Ft.
Man Bait	—	2	10	1	68	5,947 Ft.
Night Bride, The	—	2	9	1	68	5,736 Ft.
Nobody's Widow	1	2	8	—	60	6,421 Ft.
Rubber Tires	2	3	8	—	55	6,303 Ft.
Vanity		3	9	—	63	5,923 Ft.
White Gold	1	7	8	—	54	6,108 Ft.
Yankee Clipper, The	—	2	22	3	71	7,920 Ft.
TIFFANY-STAHL
College Days	—	1	8	2	73	7,300 Ft.
UNITED ARTISTS
Beloved Rogue, The	1	2	24	10	75	9,380 Ft.
College	—	1	8	1	60	5,362 Ft.
General, The	4	8	14	1	55	7,440 Ft.
Love of Sunya, The	1	9	24	6	67	7,311 Ft.
Magic Flame, The	—	—	28	5	74	8,300 Ft.
My Best Girl	—	—	7	4	81	8,700 Ft.
Night of Love, The	—	5	32	12	74	7,600 Ft.
Resurrection	—	3	34	13	76	9,523 Ft.
Topsy and Eva	—	7	5	1	56	7,350 Ft.
Two Arabian Knights	—	—	13	7	81	8,250 Ft.
Winning of Barbara Worth	—	5	25	11	74	8,560 Ft.
UNIVERSAL
Back to God's Country	1	4	11	—	59	5,751 Ft.
Beware of Widows	1	4	9	—	58	5,670 Ft.
Butterflies in the Rain	1	11	14	1	57	7,319 Ft.
Cat and the Canary, The	—	2	20	10	78	7,790 Ft.
Cheerful Fraud, The	3	5	15	3	62	6,968 Ft.
Chinese Parrot, The	—	3	6	1	64	7,304 Ft.
Denver Dude, The	—	4	13	3	69	5,292 Ft.
Down the Stretch	—	5	13	—	62	6,910 Ft.
Fast and Furious	—	—	10	3	77	5,684 Ft.
Fourth Commandment, The	1	5	20	1	64	6,863 Ft.
Held by the Law	2	4	20	—	62	6,929 Ft.
Her Big Night	—	3	14	3	70	7,603 Ft.
Hey, Hey, Cowboy	—	2	11		65	5,378 Ft.
Lazy Lightning	4	2	4	—	44	4,572 Ft.
Love Thrill, The	—	6	11		60	6,038 Ft.
Michael Strogoff	—	5	20	6	71	9,315 Ft.
Mystery Club, The	1	7	4	1	52	6,969 Ft.
Out All Night	1	1	7	1	65	6,170 Ft.
Painting the Town	—	—	13	1	72	6,045 Ft.
Perch of the Devil	—	10	5		50	6,807 Ft.
Prisoners of the Storm	1	6	15	2	63	6,102 Ft.
Sensation Seekers, The	—	3	12	1	66	7,015 Ft.
Taxi, Taxi	1	4	13	1	63	7,173 Ft.
Whole Town's Talking, The	—	7	16	—	61	6,662 Ft.
WARNER BROS.
Better 'Ole	—	4	20	13	77	9,481 Ft.
Bitter Apples	—	2	10	1	68	5,463 Ft.
Black Diamond Express	—	3	9	—	63	5,803 Ft.
Brute, The	1	4	10	1	61	6,091 Ft.
Bush Leaguer, The	—	1	12	—	68	6,281 Ft.
Climbers, The	—	6	5	—	54	6,621 Ft.
Dearie		2	10	—	65	5,897 Ft.
Don Juan	—	2	23	10	77	10,018 Ft.
Don't Tell the Wife	—	3	8	—	62	6,972 Ft.
Heart of Maryland		3	21	—	66	5,808 Ft.
Hills of Kentucky	—	2	20	1	69	6,264 Ft.
Million Bid, A	—	3	13		64	6,310 Ft.
Missing Link, The	—	1	13	3	74	6,435 Ft.
Old San Francisco	—	1	13	3	74	7,961 Ft.
Tracked by the Police	—	2	14	—	66	5,823 Ft.
When a Man Loves	—	1	21	3	72	10,049 Ft.
White Flannels	—	4	7	1	63	6,820 Ft.
Wolf's Clothing	3	4	5	2	55	7,068 Ft.

Key City Reports

New York City

BROADWAY was included with what could almost be termed nation-wide reports of good business in motion picture theatres during Thanksgiving week. Of course, the holiday crowds did much to give business a boost but along with the holiday, some strong attractions also did their share toward bringing up the grosses.

As predicted, Ruth Elder failed to make the grade for a second week at the Capitol but this house turned a fair week with the lady-flyer, an accompanying bill and the feature picture "In Old Kentucky" (M-G-M). At the Rivoli, U. A.'s "Sorrell and Son" concluded another week of excellent business and this picture bids fair to equal "Underworld's record at this theatre and will stay there for some time.

The Roxy evidently pleased its patrons with "Good Time Charley" (W. B.) for this house jumped back to its regular pace again after a slight slump with the previous week's show. The week end on "The Wizard" (Fox) showed up extremely well. The Paramount had another good week with "She's a Sheik" (Par.) and the regular presentation that this house gives. The Paramount show seems to have found a response from a certain New York City crowd—an average crowd, it seems, for the house is doing consistently good business. At the Strand, "The Gorilla" drew good for the week. Mystery pictures seem the vogue at present. Mary Pickford's "My Best Girl" (U. A.) finished a satisfactory three weeks' engagement at the Rialto and was succeeded by "The Rough Riders" (Par.). Much favorable comment is heard concerning "Douglas Fairbanks as the Gaucho" (U. A.), and the first week's trade was excellent. The Colony also did well for the week's run of "The 13th Juror" (U) at popular prices. "Quality Street" finished at the Embassy to make room for the new Gilbert-Garbo feature "Love" which opened Tuesday night. Comment on the latter is varied.

In the smaller and higher priced houses "The King of Kings" (Pathe-De Mille) continues to be the old timer but they are advertising "last weeks" and it will probably go out about the first of the year and be followed by "Chicago" (Pathe-De Mille). The strongest of the big fellows at present seems to be "Wings," at the Criterion, where they still pay $2.00 to stand up throughout the show.

"The Patent Leather Kid" (F. N.) will stay at the Globe until Dec. 6 when "The Private Life of Helen of Troy" arrives to take its place. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is still at the Central and "The Student Prince" continues at the Astor. There is no trouble about getting seats for "Sunrise" at the Times Square. Warner Bros. theatre continues to do very good with "The Jazz Singer."

Los Angeles

"TAKE A CHANCE" week proved conclusively that there are a lot of gamblers, young and old, in Los Angeles. A line waited the opening of the doors and people continued to pour in at every performance during the past week at the Metropolitan. The picture, "The City Gone Wild," with Tom Meighan, the name of which was withheld in all advertising, was greatly enjoyed. The management reports that the box office receipts were almost on par with those of the week when Al Jolson was the headliner.

Because of the popularity of "Les Miserables" at the Criterion, the succeeding picture was postponed to enable crowds to see the film. There have been several groups and classes of students to view the picture.

"The Gaucho" is well on its way in the Chinese Theatre and is very pleasing to patrons, who in turn recommend the picture to others. "The Gorilla" is doing everything but frightening the crowds away from the Million Dollar. The play had a successful run here and the picture is duplicating the record.

Nora Bayes, singer and comedienne, was the main attraction at Loew's State last week. The picture, "Figures Don't Lie," only drew secondary interest.

It seemed that all the young folks and those who feel young attended the Boulevard last week, where "The College Widow" is showing. The university students turned out in large numbers to honor Jess Hibbs, the popular football hero on the campus, who is in the cast.

The last week of the showing of "The Loves of Carmen," as usual, brought the box office receipts up higher than the preceding weeks. "Discord" played at the Broadway Palace and newspaper criticisms helped to attract the interest of theatregoers.

Boston

WITH the wind-up of the football season bringing record breaking crowds into Boston and taxing the hotel capacity of the city and with the college holidays thrown in from mid-week over the week end, Boston theatres went well "over the top" in receipts. It proved one of the biggest weeks in theatrical history.

Boston will apparently never tire of "What Price Glory." It first played as a road show for weeks and weeks, then came back to the first run houses as the feature, was re-shown later and is still being shown. The Bowdoin Square is showing it again and has been playing to its biggest houses of the year. It was part of the triple feature bill with "The Naked Truth" and "War and Women" as companion features and a five act vaudeville bill, together with comedy and news reels. The Bowdoin Square runs the longest bill of any theatre in New England and is getting away with it, short show advocates to the contrary notwithstanding.

Coupled with its showing of football news reel films in abundance, the Metropolitan Theatre had a timely feature film in "The College Widow." Had the Metropolitan been able to have doubled its seating capacity over the week end, it would have filled every seat.

Loew's State Theatre also presented a big hit with the football throngs in "The Fair Co-ed" and recorded record breaking grosses for this season. The capacity of the house was taxed at every performance. The Howard, one of the oldest burlesque houses, which has been using film features more or less experimentally, is fast becoming a real picture theatre. "Frisco Sally Levy" and "Gold From Weepah" were the companion pictures last week, playing to the largest houses in years at this theatre. "Becky" at Loew's Orpheum proved a decidedly big drawing card for the week, while "Ben Hur" for their Sunday show grossed the heaviest of any Sunday show in Boston in months. "Poor Nut," another campus film, taxed the seating capacity of the Washington Street Olympia throughout the week. Waldron's Casino had as its double features "The Fourth Commandment" and "No Man's Law," playing to far above average houses. "Shanghaied" at the Scollay Square Olympia, and the same feature together with "The Desired Woman" on the Fenway's double bill were big attractions.

"The Main Event" at the Keith-Albee, Boston, went across with a bang. It would not be surprising if this theatre increased its picture section of the program in the coming year, so successful has that part of the bill proven.

Boston's only road show, "The Lost Battalion," is showing at Tremont Temple. It is playing to $1.00 top and to large audiences. In spite of the location of the house and the fact that it has been dark to picture patrons for many months, it is rapidly regaining its place again.

Chicago

THANKSGIVING holiday worked to the advantage of Chicago theatres, the majority of which did better business than for some time past. The gala program at Chicago, including "The Dress Parade" on the screen, Spitalny's orchestral production "Plymouth Rock" and Fuffano's stage orchestra played to satisfactory business. "Underworld" continued to draw heavily at the Rosevelt, but "Ben Hur" did not fare so well at McVickers. "She's a Sheik" on the screen and Mark Fisher leading Paul Ash's gang on the stage, accounted for fair business at the Oriental. "Seventh Heaven" had its third big week at the Monroe, and "Wings" roadshowing at the Erlanger again played to good business. "The Silver Slave" and Vitaphone drew normal crowds to the Orpheum.

The Uptown offered northsiders "The Magic Flame" on the screen and Frankie Masters and his orchestra and played to normal business. "Wild Geese" was the screen attraction at both the Granada and Marbro, and at the former Charles Kaley headed an elaborate stage bill, while Benny Meroff wielded the baton at the Marbro. Business in both houses was good.

The Tivoli had Paul Whiteman and his orchestra and "Spring Fever" on the screen, Paul, as usual, drawing big. At the Capitol "The Rough Riders" and Vitaphone and the usual big stage show proved strong drawing cards. At the Avalon "The College Widow" and Buddy Fisher's stage band played to normal attendance.

St. Louis

LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER JOHN PHILLIP SOUSA, the March King, and his band of 65 pieces, paraded right through the box office records at Loew's State Theatre the week ending November 25.

He gave the St. Louis theatregoers something to forget the jazz diet on which they have been feeding for many, many months. And the change was certainly welcome.

The screen attraction was "Body and Soul," with Aileen Pringle and Lionel Barrymore. Naturally, it was secondary to the famous band leader.

At the Ambassador, a fair week's business was taken in. The screen feature was "The College Widow," and the local critics didn't warm up to it much. The St. Louis Theatre offered "Dress Parade" and some Orpheum circuit vaudeville acts. The added shows on Thanksgiving Day made it a very good week for this house. The Missouri Theatre did an average week's business. The bill included "The Life of Riley," another of those Shamrock and garlic spasms, and a very good stage show.

Business in the neighborhood houses of St. Louis continues to be far below the normal attendance for this season of the year. In fact, the exhibitors are complaining more the past several weeks than for a very long time.

In Southern Illinois business is improving but is still below normal.

Cleveland

LAST week was a record one at local play houses for this season. Every exhibitor in the city gave thanks for Thanksgiving Day, for it boosted business sky high for the entire week-end.

"My Best Girl" brought out all the Mary Pickford fans, resulting in capacity business all week at the Stillman. The picture will play another week. "Dress Parade" literally packed Keith's Palace theatre. Extra folding chairs were placed around to take care of the overflow. An attendant stood in the lobby of the theatre most days announcing that standing room only was available. "The College Widow" made the Allen look like olden times. Crowds were in the auditorium, in the foyer, and in line before the box office all the time. The State did better than average business with "The Desired Woman" as the featured attraction. Keith's East 105th Street did holiday business all week with "The Angel of Broadway," a picture of unusual entertainment value. "The Wise Wife," an old story with a novel slant, did better than average at Reade's Hippodrome. "What Price Glory" did a whale of a business at the Park theatre. This was its first-run neighborhood engagement, following a downtown first run of only one week. "Chang," also playing a first-run neighborhood engagement, did well at the Circle. The Little Theatre of the Movies had the best week of its career with "Salome." Legitimate competition was keen. 'Fred and Dorothy Stone played to S. R. O. audiences every day at the Ohio. William Hodge in "Straight Thru the Door" had a good week at the Hanna. The Colonial and Alhambra offered stock performances of "Rain" and "Kongo' to good houses. So theatre operators in Cleveland gave thanks with all sincerity last week.

Seattle

SHOW business picked up to a pleasing extent last week, and two of the leading houses showed exceptionally large gross receipts that were quite pleasing to local executives. Probably the greatest success of the week was the "world premiere" of "My Best Girl" at the United Artists Theatre. Manager Perutz put across a fine advance campaign and publicity campaign on the film, with the result that it broke house records at the U. A. house with a gross of about $15,500 for the first week, perhaps more. The picture went into a second week still playing to big houses. Above normal.

Second in the receipts came the Fifth Avenue Theatre, hitting at least the $16,000 mark and possibly closer to $18,000. The attraction was a personal appearance of Mae Murray in her Merry Widow waltz act that has just closed several long runs in California houses. The film attraction was 'American Beauty.' Miss Murray drew tremendous crowds for the opening three days, but then business fell off to a very great extent. This may have been due to the fact that the shows were operated on a real "grind" basis, with a feature, a news reel, an orchestra number, a Fanchon-Marco Revue that was spoiled by being shortened, and six daily appearances of Miss Murray. Business above normal.

Bob Bender, at the Columbia Theatre, did more than average business with "Swim, Girl, Swim," in spite of the heavy competition that he had. The picture pleased the audiences, and with a good campaign and a well balanced supporting program, Mr. Bender's house had very few empty seats at any time during the week's run. Business above normal.

"Alias the Lone Wolf" at the Blue Mouse Theatre did a fine business all week. Bert Lytell is extremely popular here, and this picture, in conjunction with four very popular Vitaphone acts, kept the theatre box office hitting at a high clip. Business above normal.

"Lightning" at the Liberty Theatre was not much of a drawing card. Attendance at this house is still off, and the present picture did not seem to have much audience appeal. Business was considerably below normal.

At the Pantages Theatre, "Moon of Israel" was widely heralded and played to good houses, in spite of the fact that it was backed up by a mediocre vaudeville program. Business about average. The New Orpheum, with a poor vaudeville bill and "The Wreck of the Hesperus" on the screen, fell below its usual average, although the gross receipts were considerably better than the opposition vaudeville house.

Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE theatres enjoyed unusually good business the past week, and the additional Thanksgiving matinee brought the totals in practically all the theatres well above what was expected. Weather throughout the entire week was exceedingly mild, slightly foggy, with very little rain.

The Garden retained "Two Arabian Knights," which played the week previous, for an additional few days, changing to "My Best Girl" on Thursday. "Two Arabian Knights" continued to bring in the same good business that it did last week and "My Best Girl" started very promisingly and the Garden is looking forward to a big week. "Seventh Heaven" was a popular attraction at the Wisconsin and kept the house well filled and at some evening performances packed the lobby as well. Patrons at the Alhambra this week walked into the theatre under a canopy of silk hose to see "Silk Stockings," the week's feature. The picture drew well. "The Garden of Allah" was a fairly strong attraction at the Merrill and played to fair houses. Johnny Hines drew a good crowd to see "Home Made" at the Strand. A strong act on the Orpheum bill this week was "The Girl in the Pullman" and was greatly appreciated by patrons.

Neighborhood theatres, too, declared this week to be more lively than the several previous weeks. "Road to Romance" at the Milwaukee was enjoyed by large numbers of north side Milwaukeeans. Crowds milled about the entrance of the recently opened Garfield, the latest addition to the Saxe string, in an endeavor to get in to view the splendor of the new theatre and to see this week's offering, "American Beauty." This picture was also featured at the Oriental, together with a ballet from one of the local dancing schools, a combination which brought in good business. "The Life of Riley" won good patronage at the Uptown.

Minneapolis

PANTAGES did a tremendously big business last week with Mary Pickford in "My Best Girl." Saturday and Sunday's business was the largest money business ever done by the house in those two days. The picture has been held over for a second week as a result of its great popularity. The Minneapolis Tribune, which conducted the Best Girl voting contest in the northwest, had previously given this picture some splendid publicity, and backed it up with some good advance notices and a good review.

Billie Dove in "The American Beauty" proved a popular attraction at the State and this was supplemented by Lewis and Dody and 35 entertainers in a big stage attraction. "The Cat and the Canary" had a second good week at the Garrick, where it proved itself one of the very best of the mystery pictures.

"A Man's Past," with Conrad Veidt, did a fair business at the Strand, while Johnny Hines in "Home Made" kept the Lyric attendance mark up to standard. Marie Prevost in "The Girl in the Pullman" was at the Hennepin-Orpheum, and since Lew Cody was headlining the bill in person, the program pleased the movie fans tremendously. Monty Banks in "The Perfect Gentleman" was at the Seventh Street. "Chang," which showed previously at the Garrick, came into the Grand for a good week's showing. The neighborhood houses, as usual, enjoyed first class business as a whole with such pictures as "Chang," "Moulders of Men" and "Way of All Flesh" showing at the Rialto, Lyndale and Loring. "What Price Glory" kept the crowds coming at the Lagoon.

Ottawa

HEAD and shoulders above all other screen attractions in Ottawa, Ontario, during the week of November 21 was "The Garden of Allah," which was presented at the Regent Theatre before great crowds. It is a substantial piece with a story that holds interest and actual scenery gives fine atmosphere.

"The Wise Wife," starring Phyllis Haver, was liked at B. F. Keith's Theatre by good crowds. This light comedy proved a welcome change from drama and action pictures. Most everybody voted it a good show.

There was excellent patronage at the Centre Theatre for the mystery picture, "The Chinese Parrot," and it gave passing satisfaction.

Ottawa had its third run of "Beau Geste" during the week, this time at regular prices at the Imperial Theatre. It received a poor start because of lack of advance advertising, but patronage jumped when the people found out that it was there. Many saw it a second time.

"Heroes of the Night" at the Columbia Theatre rated poorly as a picture, but the customers gave it applause. The same feature was shown at the Laurier Theatre in Hull, Quebec, and drew good crowds.

The neighborhood patrons at the Rex Theatre found plenty of excitement in "The Runaway Express," while "See You in Jail" was fairly amusing at the Fern Theatre, this being its second Ottawa run.

Kansas City

WITHOUT a single exception the week's attendance at all first run houses of Kansas City this week was better than last week, although it is doubtful if the lineup of pictures was any stronger as a whole.

"Spring Fever" at the Midland packed them and proved without doubt that the public—the Kansas City public, at least—likes a golf picture, even if it is freezing temperature outdoors. A return at popular prices of "The Big Parade" found a liberal patronage at the Newman, while "Tea for Three" at the Royal, with Lew Cody, also played to good crowds all week.

At the Pantages "Seventh Heaven" did better than average business, while "The Forbidden Woman" at the Mainstreet did about average business. "April Fool" at the Capitol, which also marked the opening week of a new stage policy at that theatre, played to large crowds.

Baltimore

IF the tremendous business done by "Seventh Heaven," co-starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, at the New Theatre in Baltimore, during the week beginning Monday, November 21, is a criterion for that to be done in the rest of the world, the picture should make huge profits for the William Fox organization before it is finished. It is a pity that the picture could not have been shown on a picture theatre

During the latter half of the week, practically all houses here did a good business due to the holiday. The Rivoli, which has been on the down grade for business, played to good houses throughout the week with "Dress Parade," featuring William Boyd and Bessie Love with Jimmie Carr and his orchestra on the same bill.

Excellent business was done at Keith's Hippodrome all the week with "The Gingham Girl," in which George K. Arthur was the prime attraction with the wisecracking titles. Ned Wayburn's revue was offered on the same bill.

Those houses at which business was considered good for the week included Loew's Century with "The Road to Romance," starring Ramon Novarro, with Antonio and Nina DeMarco on the same bill; at Whitehurst's Garden "The Arizona Wildcat," starring Tom Mix, and five acts of family vaudeville on the same bill; at the Stanley, "Now We're in the Air," featuring Beery and Hatton, with Arnold Johnson and his band on the program; at Warner's Metropolitan, "College," featuring Dolores Costello, and Vitaphone attractions, and at Loew's Valencia "Two Arabian Knights," with Louis Wolheim, Mary Astor and William Boyd in its second week.

Des Moines

AT the Des Moines "The Drop Kick" made quite a hit. Business was probably augmented by the high interest in football at this season, the Drake-Notre Dame game here and the Thanksgiving holiday crowds. The star is popular as a rule. At the Capitol "Joy Bells," the Publix stage show, attracted business as well as the feature film "She's a Sheik." The theatre did a nice week's business. At the Strand the first half of the week Esther Ralston's picture, "Spotlight," was very well liked and the box office made a good report, while for the last half "The Isle of Forgotten Women" did a good business. Reports from over the state show that exhibitors were well pleased with the Thanksgiving week shows and warm, pleasant weather helped generally in a good run of theatre business.

Albany, Schenectady and Troy

ALTHOUGH the Mark Strand, in Albany, ran to consistently good business during the past week with "Now We're in the Air," coupled with two Vitaphone presentations, the week's attendance might be characterized as being just about normal, running ahead, however, of "Firemen, Save My Child," shown at this theatre a short time ago. There was a marked falling off on Thanksgiving Day and evening at all theatres, due to a very severe rainstorm, so the entire week, taken as a whole, did not measure up to expectations.

A rather odd thing occurred at the Mark Ritz, in Albany, in connection with the run of "Man, Woman and Sin." Unmercifully panned by the newspaper critics of Albany, the picture started off well on Monday and built up throughout the week, and was the only one that drew more than a capacity audience on Thanksgiving Night. At the Clinton Square, "Very Confidential" proved its drawing power, but it was coupled with a finely balanced bill, including a travelogue and a comedy in which there were more than the usual half dozen laughs or snickers. Jackie Coogan in "The Bugle Call" did not contribute any great degree to the business done at Proctor's Grand. The neighborhood houses in Albany reported normal business. At the Leland "The Gorilla" opened to about $100 more business than "The Loves of Carmen" on the same day the previous week. "The Gorilla" held up well throughout the week, although in the opinion of many it could not be classed as a superspecial.

At the State in Schenectady "The Garden of Allah" ran to only fair business for the week, being apparently too heavy a production for the ordinary theatregoer. The Strand did very well for four days with "The College Widow" and the remaining three days proved equally as good with "The Sunset Derby."

"The Gorilla" went over only fair during the week at the Troy theatre, while the Lincoln played to ordinary business with "One Round Hogan," and "She's a Sheik" attracted good business at Proctor's.

Central Penn

STARTING with a crowded house the first day, "Underworld" was the most talked of photoplay in Harrisburg throughout last week. It showed at the Victoria and did far more than average good business.

Loew's Regent had a strong attraction also in "In Old Kentucky," and the box office receipts were gratifying. The Edna White Musical Quartet, on the stage, was an added attraction.

At the Colonial the Tom Mix play, "Tumbling River," attracted the usual big audiences that Tom Mix productions almost invariably draw in Harrisburg. "Figures Don't Lie," featuring Esther Ralson, was the film attraction at the State the last half of the week, and proved popular.

"Foreign Devils" held forth successfully at the Broad Street. The Russell, on Friday—which was railroaders' pay day in Harrisburg, a big railroading center—offered a double bill consisting of Buck Jones in "Whispering Sage" and Johnnie Walker in "The Clown." "Lady of the Harem," starring Ernest Torrence and Greta Nissen, was on the bill at the Grand, while the Capitol's offering was "Prince of Tempters."

Despite the fact that there was a city championship high school football game which atracted 10,000 persons to the Island Park gridiron on Thanksgiving afternoon, the theatres fared very well on the holiday.

Tampa

THE first half of this week rolled along with just average business in all of Tampa's theatres, but Thanksgiving, as mild and warm as a day in June, brought out record breaking crowds. All houses had long waiting lines and the added business of the holiday put the week over to better than average for all.

"The Gorilla" was featured at the Tampa for the first half and it went over nicely. "Dress Parade" held the feature spot for the last half and was well liked. The Victory, under their new "enlarged policy" of five acts of vaudeville and pictures for the last three days of each week, is doing record business. The feature picture was "Back to God's Country." The first four days with "The Harvester" featured brought only fair returns. The vaudeville is used only the last three days of each week. "The Spotlight" opened the week for the Strand and it drew nicely, with "Silk Stockings" keeping them coming and the final two days holding up well with "No Place to Go."

The three changes used by the Franklin were "Up Stream," "Judgment of the Hills" and "Galloping Thunder." They all showed up about average, with the exception of the big holiday.

Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE encountered one of the first real snow storms of the year this week, which quickly cleared away and left the remainder of the week fair and bright. Theatre business has been very good throughout.

Wonderfully large crowds continue to attend the performances at the Capitol Theatre. This week's bill consisted of the feature picture "She's a Sheik," starring Bebe Daniels, and the Fanchon and Marco's "Idea," "Dolls" featuring Boyce Combe, Andrieff Trio and Mary Jane and Dolores. This act was very well received as was the picture program. The Paramount Empress Theatre enjoyed a good week during their showing of Buster Keaton in "College" with "The Elgin Four" presenting a musical act on the stage.

The exclusive picture policy which has been recently inaugurated by the management of the Victory Theatre here is proving to be successful in that crowded houses have been the rule since this change, it is stated. The picture shown the past week to capacity houses was "Very Confidential," with Madge Bellamy. George Walsh in "The Kickoff" was favorably received at the American, this being football season, and good houses were had. "The Dress Parade," starring Wm. Boyd, was one of the special pictures of the year to be offered at the Gem Theatre and splendid business was experienced. Wm. Haines in "Spring Fever," a comedy-drama, was enjoyed by capacity houses at the Pantages during the week. This picture was offered in addition to the regular vaudeville program here.

San Francisco

THE past week in Northern California, in the motion picture theatres, was one of average business, generally speaking, although "Dress Parade," together with the 30th Infantry Presidio Band, in which there were 50, crowded that theatre afternoons and evenings. The picture was shown on "Armistice Night" and the week following. "Now We're in the Air" proved popular at the St. Francis Theatre. "The Black Diamond Express" drew very well at the Imperial Theatre and the picture "She's a Sheik" at the Loew's Warfield attracted many. The presentation act at this house also was very popular.

"The Garden of Allah" at the California Theatre was fair, but the receipts were not as good as the management contemplated. "Not for Publication" proved popular at the Golden Gate Theatre, as did the high class vaudeville acts. The Union Square Theatre did very well with "Is That Nice?", five acts vaudeville and a two-reel Co-op comedy. The Cameo Theatre did well in showing "The Flying U Ranch."

Oklahoma City

"MAN CRAZY" at the Empress all last week was a big hit judging from the crowds this theatre enjoyed during its seven day run.

In "Now We're in the Air," another comedy team, Beery and Hatton, do not seem to be keeping up their popularity. It made fair business at the box-office, though Thanksgiving was good for all the theatre cash boxes.

"The Harvester" kept the screen at the Liberty all week and to good business. Besides the many, many devotees of the novel, there are still a great many others who, though not caring for Mrs. Porter's style, enjoyed the picturization of the book.

"Dress Parade," which had a special midnight preview here two days before its showing, played to regular business for the first half of the week at the Capitol. "The Spot Light" finished the week to good business, including the holiday crowd.

Birmingham

"RESURRECTION" played the Strand to good business last week. "The 13th Hour" (M-G-M) with Loew vaudeville, had very good business at the Temple. "The Gay Retreat" (Fox) with the Fall Jubilee Show of Keith vaudeville, had an excellent week at the Ritz. "Madame Pompadour" with five Pantages acts, had only fair business at Pantages. "Home Made" had fair business at Trianon. "The 13th Juror," first half, and "Fangs of Justice," with Silverstreak, the dog, last half, also had fair business at Galax. "Broadway" had the business of the week at the Jefferson, but reports indicate only fair attendance at the Empire on "Shepherd of the Hills."

Opinions on Pictures

The 13th Juror

Mystery Melodrama with Sustained Interest

(Reviewed by Thomas C. Kennedy)

THOUGH equipped with an atmospheric background that gives dramatic strength if not conviction, "The 13th Juror" bears some of the earmarks of its origin as a stage play. Its characters and situations never quite rise above their breeding in fiction, but both are consistently effective in creating illusions of realism, and, in consequence, this melodrama, directed by Edward Laemmle, holds the interest of its spectators. It sums up as thoroughly satisfactory screen entertainment in the melodramatic vein—not only better than the average of its type, but superior to the general run of screen features.

A cast composed of seasoned screen players work faithfully in the desired mood of the play, and give added power to the melodramatic recital of this yarn about a clever criminal lawyer who goes into court to defend a friend charged with murdering a man whom the lawyer himself killed accidentally. Here is a situation of good dramatic substance and it is handled capably here. Francis X. Bushman is the lawyer, Anna Q. Nilsson the wife and Walter Pidgeon is the husband in this triangle of mixed friendship and love. They make good use of their opportunities.

The climax, which finds the lawyer in the position of seeing his friend, innocent, under sentence of death while he is unable to prove that he killed the politician because his servants—former crooks whom he has defended in court—hid the evidence, is an especially interesting piece of theatrics.

Drawing Power: A good title and a good cast for billing purposes should bring them in if properly exploited. Exploitation Angles: Bill as tense melodrama played by excellent cast.

THEME: Melodrama with a mystery element. Innocent man is accused of murder, and lawyer, who did the killing, is his friend and is secretly in love with the wife of the accused. When court defense fails, the lawyer confesses, eventually proving the killing was an accident.

Distributed by Universal. Released, November 13, 1927. Length, 5,598 feet. The Cast: Francis X. Bushman, Anna Q.Nilsson, Walter Pidgeon, George Siegmann, Martha Mattox, Fred Kelsey.

Drums of the Desert

More of Zane Grey in Celluloid

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE Indians' struggle against the injustice of the white men is again presented in a Zane Grey picture, but this time it lacks the power and nobility of "The Vanishing American," having been handled melodramatically, but not lacking a quota of action and thrills. But it is an ordinary Western, even though it is equipped with good comedy, a capable cast and real desert atmosphere and red men. The story sags in spite of all these qualities, and this because it employs an old hum-drum Western plot. Again the tale is told of a strong, silent man who brought justice into the desert. A gang of rascals are bent on stealing the Indians' land but, as is infallibly the case with all Westerns, the villains are foiled.

Warner Baxter plays the leading male role, and is seen opposite the German actress, Marietta Millner, who gives an appropriate performance, at times spirited, and at times passive. "The Great Gatsby" does not make his role convincing, and such parts are not for him. Much more likable is the comedy of Ford Sterling and Heinie Conklin—they "click" along at a fine gait.

One must not overlook the fine natural backgrounds. The film was shot in the neighborhood of the Navajo reservation in Arizona, and both the wild beauty of the place and its picturesque inhabitants contribute to make this particular attribute of the production enjoyable.

Drawing Power: For general houses. Exploitation Angles: Make use of the Indian tom-tom drum, which figures in the picture. Other Western and Indian habiliments can also be pressed into service.

THEME: Drama of the desert wherein unscrupulous white men endeavor to rob the Indians of their land which contains oil. A white man, friend of the Indians, frustrates their plans and all ends happily for him and a girl, whose father, a mineralogist, had wandered into the desert.

Distributed by Paramount. Released, June, 1927. Length, 5,907 feet. The Cast: Warner Baxter, Marietta Millner, Ford Sterling, Heinie Conklin, Wallace MacDonald, George Irving, Bernard Siegel, Guy Oliver. Director, James Waters.

The Silver Slave

Stereotyped But Tense Drama

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

THERE is revealed here a story that has often been told on the stage and screen, but just as often its tense situations have held the interest of audiences. It is of a pattern that was cut long ago and one knows the story almost as soon as the various characters have been flashed on the screen.

Irene Rich is the star, and it is a typical Rich vehicle. She is not better, worse nor different than she has been in a dozen pictures in the past. She is the martyred mother who married for wealth instead of love, and who has brought her daughter up in the lap of luxury even to the point of expending the last dollar of her deceased husband's fortune on the wilful and spoiled young Miss.

There is the wealthy villain whose wiles are extremely pleasing to the girl; there is the poor, but honest youth who really loves her, and there is the original lover of the mother, who returns from China after several years with the extensive fortune that was lacking when he first offered his love. His arrival is timed just when the mother, through a heavy flirtation with the villain, is endeavoring to prove to the daughter that said villain is not on the level with her. Mother and villain are embracing as her suitor and daughter enter the room. The villain realizes the mother's trick and is man enough to reveal it, but not until daughter has slapped mother's face and threatened to leave forever. There, of course, follows the usual untangling of the mess and the happy conclusion.

Audrey Ferris is the somewhat charming daughter of Miss Rich and she is nicely cast as the pampered and unsophisticated debutante. John Miljan is just as villainous as ever, and Holmes Herbert fits in nicely in the hero role. The story, being of the stock type, is rather an easy directorial task, and the photography is exceptionally good.

Drawing Power: Should do as well as any of the other of the Irene Rich starring vehicles. Exploitation Angles: The popularity of Miss Rich.

THEME: Drama of mother who married for money and brought her daughter up in the lap of luxury. Their fortune dwindles and the daughter is saved from the wiles of the wealthy villain when the mother sacrifices herself to make love to him, but her sacrifice is revealed and there is a happy ending.

Distributed by Warner Bros. Released, November 19, 1927. Length, 6,124 feet. The Cast: Irene Rich, Audrey Ferris, Holmes Herbert, John Miljan, Carrol Nye. Director, Howard Brotherton Author, Howard Smith.

The Red Raiders

Maynard Has a Good Vehicle

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

ONE of the better grade Westerns, Ken Maynard's latest contains plenty of riding, fighting with a slight smattering of the love interest. The vehicle is resplendent as an opportunity for the star to execute his famous tricks atop Tarzan, the horse. Albert Rogell has directed with an eye for continual action, the tale unfolding with cohesion and building concretely up to the climax where the big punch is unleashed. It's a film well stocked with action, and that's what the fans want.

As a lieutenant in the days of Indian warfare, Maynard has to outwit treacherous Indians anxious to wipe out the settlers around the fort where he is stationed. The red skins are misinformed by one of their braves as to the whites' movements, so they take to the war path. This is the highlight of the piece, and Maynard rides to the various ranches warning the settlers to move at once to the shelter of the fort. All manner of vehicles are used in this flight to safety, which has been pictured graphically by the director. The scenes that follow—the defense of the fort and Maynard's riding to get the absent troops are well presented, too. Because of Maynard's bravery in this crisis the feeling of jealousy that troubled his commander disappears; the latter even leaves the field clear to Maynard to woo Ann Drew, the pretty young Miss of the fort.

A little comedy bit, that deserves mention, is that by Harry Shutan, as a Jewish tenderfoot soldier. Chief Yowlache, the Indian actor, also gives a convincing portrayal.

Drawing Power: Good Star should draw them. Exploitation Angles: Use wooden Indians and civil war uniforms to attract attention. Feature the star and his horse.

THEME: Young lieutenant saves settlers surrounding garrison from the tomahawks of the Indians. He wins the girl, for whose hand both he and his commander have been striving.

Distributed by First National. Produced by Charles R. Rogers. Released, September, 1927. Length, 6,280 feet. The Cast: Ken Maynard, Ann Drew, Paul Hurst, J. P. McGowan, Chief Yowlache, Harry Shuton, Tom Day, Hal Salter. Director, Albert Rogell.

Finnegan's Ball

The Play Makes a Slapstick Comedy

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE adventures of Finnegan and his friend, Flannigan, portrayed innumerable times in days gone by, are now to be found in a film, its by-play of fistic and verbal arguments looking a trifle antiquated after all these years. The humor is of the ancient music hall variety, and the antics indulged in by the inseparable twain of Finnegan and Flannigan is of the knock-him-down-and-drag-him-out type.

It is left for Charles McHugh and Mack Swain to carry on the rough and ready comedy, while a romance unfolds between their respective children, Blanch Mehaffey and Cullen Landis, with a touch of pathos in the former's scenes. Aggie Herring has the part of the mother of Miss Mehaffey and James P. Hogan directed. So you can readily see that the making of the picture was entrusted to Irish players and an Irish director. As the picture is of the slapstick variety there may be some who will not like it, but, on the whole, "Finnegan's Ball" does not pretend to be anything else but a picturization of a play which was hurly-burly in its original state; certainly it is not perfect, and boasts far too many fights between the two principals.

"Finnegan's Ball" is just an average sort of comedy.

Drawing Power: Fair. Not for first-class houses, but for the program type. Exploitation Angles: Ballyhoo the old play and the cast of the picture. Use shamrocks, Irish bagpipes and other regalia associated with Erin.

THEME: Comedy of Irishman and his family, who come to America from Ireland. He experiences lots of difficulty in getting along harmoniously with another Irish friend who had preceded him to America, and who employed him. He is told that he is the heir to a large fortune and mansion, and believes this for a time, and snubs his friend. When he finds out that the fortune is not his, he is taken into partnership by the other Irishman and their children wed.

Distributed by First Division Distributors, Inc. Released, October, 1927. Length, 7 reels. The Cast: Charles McHugh, Mack Swain, Aggie Herring, Blanche Mehaffey, Cullen Landis, Westcott H. Clarke, Kewpie Morgan, Danny Finnegan. Director, James P. Hogan.

The College Hero

Another Collegiate Football Romance

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

SOME day some screen writer will contribute a foot ball story in which the winning touchdown is not made in the last minute of play. Maybe the great climax will be a stonewall defense on the one-yard line, such as characterized the Army-Navy game. It would surely be just as dramatic and would show a bit more versatility on the part of the author. But in the first of these screen football stories the winning touchdown was made with but a minute or less of the game remaining, and so that is the pattern on which all future stories must invariably be moulded.

It is so in "The College Hero." Only this hero dashes to the field from his bed, where the day previously he had been confined with two broken ribs, and he brings with him his fellow star and room mate, who is so stupified with liquor that he doesn't know what it is all about. This all happens after the second half is under way and the rival team is six points in the lead. Between them these two execute the inevitable winning forward pass as the timer's gun is held aloft to crack out the last play.

Aside from the stereotyped climax of the story it is very fair entertainment, though of the usual collegiate variety. There is a freshness about the college atmosphere that has its appeal, as there is in the pranks that mark the progress of the picture. The romance is somewhat marred by the muckerism of Jim, who seems too nice a boy to resort to the tactics he does in his effort to win Vivian from his boy friend. Bobby Agnew is the college hero and Rex Lease is his rival. Pauline Garon is the attractive prize for which these rivals strive, and Ben Turpin does a splendid piece of work as the perpetual student at Carver College. The football shots are well staged and executed and the college spirit is well maintained throughout.

Drawing Power: The title and popularity of the sport should prove a good magnet. Exploitation Angles: Everything of a collegiate nature.

THEME: Two collegiate foot ball players are rivals for fair co-ed. The day before big game Jim deliberately trips Bob on field and latter suffers two broken ribs. Jim relents, gets drunk and comes back to confess. They rush to the field as game nears end and execute successful forward pass to win the contest.

Distributed by Columbia Pictures. Released, Oct. 9, 1927. Length, 5,628 feet. Cast: Bobby Agnew, Pauline Garon, Ben Turpin, Rex Lease, Churchill Ross, Joan Standing, Charley Paddock. Director, Walter Lang, supervised by Harry Cohn. Story by Henry Symonds, continuity by Dorothy Howell.

Shanghai Bound

Dix' Chinese Adventures—Fair Enough

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

PICTURES are picking up for Richard Dix. This isn't to say that he is getting the material worthy of his talents, but the present number indicates that he is getting on the right track. The title of the new opus gives its flavor of adventure away. Any story that has Shanghai in its title is certain to be crammed with action. At least the film folks are in for their money's worth here even if it releases nothing new in theme or treatment.

The star portrays a captain of a Chinese river boat. The owner takes shore leave—and so does his daughter and a friend or two. When the sight-seeing party becomes involved in an argument with the rebels they escape and take refuge on the boat. To avoid further conflict and rebellion the skipper pilots the boat up Shanghai way. There is a bid for suspense when the party aboard ship discover they have to make the best of it since the crew deserted during the warfare ashore. Which is where the love interest manifests itself. The owner's daughter eventually learns that the courageous skipper is an officer of the United States Navy. That makes him eligible, doesn't it?

Dix does what is required of him, though the action looks forced and his trouping suffers as a result. Summed up there isn't enough spontaneity in his work. But that is the fault of the script. Mary Brian is just fair as the heroine.

Drawing Power: The star has his following. And the title spells action. Suitable for average houses. Exploitation Angles: Play up star and story as releasing much adventure.

THEME: Melodrama of skipper of river boat who rescues party and saves them from rebels.

Distributed by Paramount. Released, November, 1927. Length, 5515 feet. The Cast: Richard Dix, Mary Brian, Charles Byer, George Irving, Jocelyn Lee, Tom Maguire, Frank Chew, Arthur Hoyt, Jetsu Komai. Directed by Luther Reed.

She's a Sheik

Entertaining and Fairly Novel

(Reviewed by Laurence Reid)

WITH a clicking title and a star whose films are more uniformly successful than most of her contemporaries this picture shapes up as likely entertainment. Bebe Daniels reverses the usual situation. Instead of the male being the aggressor the female of the species bobs up to carry on the love stakes. As a result the story suggests a slice of novelty which takes it away from the beaten path.

The key to the idea is through a farcical treatment—with Bebe making short shrift of the sheiks and bandits who cross her moods. In a fencing bout she rips the garments off William Powell. And when it comes to pledging herself to the Orientals among whom she had lived all of her life (the girl is of Spanish extraction and will accept no admirer who doesn't belong to the Christian faith) she gives them all the air. She picks her man, but has to have him kidnapped to save him from a blonde. Then her job is to tame him—which is accomplished when the youth is imprisoned in a cage formerly occupied by her pet leopard.

The piece skips along at a good pace, sending forth its chuckles and never becoming over-serious in its play of adventure and romance. There is a theatric climax which presents a realistic fight between the Arabians and the French soldiers. In all a worth-your-while number, adequately staged—and acted with first rate abandon by Miss Daniels and William Powell.

Drawing Power: Popularity of star and title will attract them. For any type of house. Exploitation Angles: Tease the title. Play up the female sheik who practices the same aggressive tactics as the male of the species.

THEME: Comedy-drama of Christian girl raised among Arabs, but who refuses to wed anyone but a man of her faith. Kidnaps and conquers him.

Distributed by Paramount. Released, November, 1927. Length, six reels. The Cast: Bebe Daniels, Richard Arlen, William Powell, Josephine Dunn, James Bradbury, Jr., Billy Franey, Paul McAllister, Al Fremont. Directed by Clarence Badger.

"The Way of All Fish"

(Bray—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE moral to be drawn from this story of husbandly infelicities seems to be "avoid flirtatious blondes, at least, while a camera is recording the little intimacies." In this comedy from the Bray Studios, Jack Cooper, who thinks he has plenty of the appeal that Adonis, Romeo, Don Juan and other noteworthy young men are reputed to have had, portrays the erring hubby, whose very temporary association with the blonde acts as a boomerang because his wife later beholds his oglings and amorous glances thrown upon a screen at home for the entertainment of friends.

This is the high spot of the piece which Craig Hutchinson directed; a fair amount of laughs has been injected. In these movie-within-a-movie scenes Cooper is subjected to numerous difficulties, not the least of which is the big bruiser who resents his attentions to the flirt. Again, upon returning home, he explains his battered countenance and bedraggled appearance to his wife by inventing a fiction, later refuted by the films mischievously taken by his small daughter and exhibited to the consternation of his household and guests.

Nita Cavalier plays the part of the blonde. The name of the wife is not credited, nor is that of the small daughter. Okay for the unsophisticated, rural type of audiences.

"Lovingly Yours"

(Educational—One Reel)

NEWS to one in the big city from Hicksville in the form of excerpts from a letter with explanatory shots is the idea incorporated into this "Curiosities—the Movie Sideshow" release produced by Walter Futter and titled by Beth Brown. Little details that would occur in a small town are mentioned and visualized. It makes a fairly interesting bit of entertainment.

Scenes of bobtailed cats—the unique of catdom—are shown. They have two extra claws apiece and are real curiosities not often met with. A human mermaid within a glass tank with a seal, an oil well fire at night, raccoons, rabbits, a jay-walker crossing a lake with pontoon shoes, boys catching fish with their bare hands and shots of dredgers at work on a river—these all receive mention in the titles and are presented to you.—RAYMOND GANLY.

"The Lion Hunt"

(M-G-M—One Reel)

A PRODUCTION from the UFA organization is this reel showing some big game hunting in Central Africa. The camera men found some advantageous setups for their machines, and, as a result, there are some corking views of lions as they are in their wild state—which is something quite different from that of captive life in a zoo or a circus cage. The reel, edited by Edward T. Bowes, offers some pictures of the Masai tribe of savages who inhabit the section of Central Africa which served as the hunting ground for the UFA cameramen. —THOMAS C. KENNEDY.

"Buffalo Bill's Last Fight"

(M-G-M—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by T. C. Kennedy)

THE use of Technicolor makes this a pictorial subject of considerable interest. It deals with an incident in the career of Buffalo Bill as an Indian scout, thus holding some historical interest, and its dramatic appeal is brought to a high pitch by a climax showing a hand-to-hand fight between a band of Sioux and U. S. Cavalry.

The picture opens with scenes of Cody at the Indian reservation in Wyoming, where he forms a band to go East with him and appear in his show. During his absence from the West, the Custer massacre occurs, and he returns to give his aid as scout to General Merritt. Engaging in a fight with Yellow Hand, the one responsible for the uprising of the Sioux, Cody vanquishes the brave, whose followers then attack Merritt's troops. The subject is one to employ this color process most effectively, and makes a novelty which should prove a novelty highlight on many a program.

"Putting Pants on Phillip"

(M-G-M—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by T. C. Kennedy)

THIS picture is much better than its title would indicate. Working greatly to the advantages of the film, and to the enjoyment of those who like laughs in their comedies, are Stan Laurel, a capital comedian, and Oliver Hardy, who knows many of the most effective tricks of screen fun-making. Clyde Bruckman directed the piece. If he built up the story as well, he deserves much credit for inventing some sure-fire gags. Along with that, he—if responsible he is—must take some criticism for playing too strongly on the incident of measuring Phillip for a pair of pants in the tailor shop. This is topped off with a bit of acting by Laurel which must be rated as excellent work from the acting standpoint. But it is comedy that seems just a bit too sophisticated for the average two reeler. The acting is an immensely clever burlesque, in restrained fashion, of those scenes done by the ingenues who make their mistakes in the interests of screen and stage and story book plot. Phillip's flair for attracting crowds, because of his kilties and his admiration for the ladies, is the best bet of the gags devised for this film. The story is about a Scot who comes to visit with his uncle in America. The uncle has his hands full trying to be inconspicuous in a town where men in kilts are a surperlative novelty. The uncle can always locate Phillip by looking for a crowd—for he is certain to be in the center of it, trying the explain to a cop just why he persists in following some particularly comely young ladies. It is a diverting picture despite a rough spot here and there on its rather slick surface.

"Heebee Jeebees"

(M-G-M—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by T. C. Kennedy)

THE personnel of Hal Roach's Gang has undergone several changes since first this now very popular troupe made its appearance. There remains, however, "Farina" from the early days, and as well the guiding genius of Robert McGowan. This contribution from the Gang was not directed by McGowan. Anthony Mack is credited with the work. It offers a series of incidents built around the visit of a hypnotist who casts his spell over the town cop, and the members of Our Gang. To each one he assigns some animal characteristic, so we have the youngsters behaving like dogs, cats, monkeys, donkeys, etc. They revert to their animal types at odd moments during their presence at an afternoon tea at the home of a society leader. The fruit of these comedy devices is counted in small numbers as laughs go these days, but an effective moment crops up here and there and, with the popularity which the gang enjoys as a basis, this picture may prove amusing fare for the majority.

"Winged Death"

(M-G-M—One Reel)

(Reviewed by T. C. Kennedy)

THIS highly entertaining reel shows the training methods used in schooling falcons in hunting. The entire process revealing how these remarkable birds are taught to perform as aids to the hunter is covered in a series of interesting shots devoted to a sport which has come down to us through the ages. It is an art requiring skill and patience, and makes a good subject for treatment in a short reel of the novelty type.

"Mickey's Battle"

(FBO—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE fourth comedy of the Mickey McGuire series Larry Darmour is producing for FBO does not show Mickey in a very favorable light. This young warrior, the terror of the kids around Toonerville, almost met his Waterloo at the hands of a weak youngster, who, although he wore glasses and a molly-coddle look, knew more about boxing than McGuire did. He was guilty of the terrible deed of knocking Mickey's hat off and kicking him to boot. After this open declaration of war, McGuire realized that he would have to tame this fellow and tame him proper. But he did not face the task with any great assurance.

After knocking McGuire's hat off, the new boy tells everyone that he will just as easily knock McGuire's head off. Naturally a large crowd gathers to witness this unprecedented event. Mickey has the fighting spirit—plenty of it—but his opponent knows something about boxing so the fight resolves itself into a flop—on McGuire's part. It is Tomboy Taylor who shoves (or sticks) McGuire along the road to success, for every time he is knocked down she sticks him with a hatpin so that he bobs up again. Finally, the other kid wearies of knocking him down and McGuire, growing fresher, scores a knockout.

Mickey Yule is the tough little Mickey. He and his clique of kids have an enjoyable time. Perhaps some of their efforts to amuse go for naught, but they get over quite a few laughs.

"Young Hollywood"

(Pathe—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

HERE is a vehicle that serves to bring a number of the offspring of prominent stars to the screen, and it should be a very popular one. They are a likely looking aggregation, these youngsters, and they have a story that fits them to a nicety. The majority of them would readily be recognized as the children of their starred parent. One could not mistake Erich Von Stroheim, Jr., in the role of the director, nor could there be any doubt whose son young Billy Reid was. Others who figure prominently in the proceedings are Newton Hall, Barbara Denny, Mary Joe Desmond, Tim Holt, George Bosworth, Eileen O'Malley, Nancy McKee and Mike McCoy.

Young Von Stroheim is a wealthy youngster recently arrived in Hollywood, who decides to give a party for the children of prominent motion picture people. The guests arrive and young Von decides they can best amuse themselves by making a motion picture, each, as far as possible, emulating the parent star. It all works out splendidly. There are a number of lively episodes, but they finally decide the work is too strenuous and that they will leave picture acting to their parents. It is an attraction that should win approval in any house.

"Creations Parisienne"

(Educational—One Reel)

ONE would need be more a critic on gowns and wraps than of pictures to accurately criticize this one. In it Hope Hampton displays all of the latest Parisienne creations. We assume they must be all of the latest, for there are a large number of them, and they are all very beautiful. There are gowns and wraps for all occasions, and they are done in color to completely reveal their effectiveness. It is a picture that should have a tremendous appeal to feminine audiences, and the average male will not be averse to seeing [illegible] for the few minutes necessary to display the complete wardrobe. He will get considerable satisfaction out of her loveliness and a powerful kick with the realization that he did not have to supply the gowns and wraps.—CHESTER J. SMITH.

"Fat and the Canary"

(Bray—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THE fat boy of the McDougall Alley Kids is the central figure of his gang's latest adventure. The canary has nothing whatever to do in the unravelling of the plot, except to twitter in rivalry to the moans of Fatty's saxophone. The latter instrument is the bane of the plump one's life, as it keeps him from playing with the rest of the bunch, except when he can steal away.

That was what Fatty did when his playmates invited him to skate with them to the park. All by themselves, with no representative of authority to tell them nay, they sport and frolic among themselves. Although Fatty has to return to his saxophone lessons when his mother discovers his absence, he has the house to himself when his parent leaves him to go and meet his father. The boy conceives the idea of inviting the gang into the house, even though they are covered with mud and are dripping water. His parents' wardrobe is invaded to supply clothes for the wet youngsters, and there is general chaos inside the house with the boys and girls enjoying themselves immensely. The parents, scandalized and shocked, make their appearance, chase the boys onto the streets to recover their clothes. After they have done so the kids resort to barrels, and, as the picture fades out, you can see them disappearing in the distance with cops in pursuit.

The gang does a lot of cutting up and contributes much action. They were again directed by Wilcox and Wolcott.

"Run Buster"

(Universal—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

A MERRY tangle of kids, is this Buster Brown comedy, in which Buster finds himself with all sorts of rivals with Mary Jane. It all starts off in harmless enough fashion and with some good comedy, with Buster and Fatty stealing pies and otherwise annoying the cook. Mary Jane, peeved at not being a participant, tries to make her boy friends jealous by inviting in the boys of the neighborhood. She secretes them in different parts of the house, unknown to the others, and a general melee ensues when the situation is revealed. Buster, of course, emerges triumphantly with some assistance from Tige. This is a fairly well arranged story with some humorous situations and gags. It should prove attractive to all of the youngsters and a good many of the grown ups.

"Ladies' Day"

(Pathe—One Reel)

THIS Grantland Rice Sportlight shows the difference between a ladies' day of twenty years ago, when the event was celebrated with whist and euchre, and the ladies' day of today, when the female of the species is just as strenuous as the male. The girls are shown in hockey matches, on the golf course, the tennis courts and in high and fancy diving stunts. Various champions in the different lines are seen in action with styles just as effective as those of the men. The film is nicely arranged, and should be a good filler for any program.—CHESTER J. SMITH.

"Papa's Boy"

(Educational—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

LLOYD HAMILTON is an idiotic butterfly chaser in this story conceived and directed by Norman Taurog. Of a feminine turn too, he spends much of his time with a net endeavoring to enmesh the elusive butterfly as it lands on various parts of the anatomies of old maids and others. There are some humorous incidents in the picture, which, however, endeavors to be too humorous throughout the two reels. There is much of repetition and entirely too much of the butterfly chasing.

Hamilton is the son of a he-man father, whose ambition is to make a man of him, so he engages a tough trainer to harden him up, but the task is a hopeless one. The trainer tries various means, but cannot break the butterfly chasing habit. In his efforts to do so he is the victim of all sorts of mishaps, which are calculated to add to the comedy. Even a skunk is inserted into the proceedings, as the comedian invites a couple distressed in the woods to spend the night in his tent. Hamilton uses all sorts of gag stuff, some of which is fairly good. There are a few laughs in the picture.

"The King of Hearts"

(Universal—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

JACK PERRIN is featured in this North West Mounted police featurette, which tells its story directly and in an interesting manner. It is somewhat illogical, but the proceedings are enlivened by some splendid riding, a good fight and a hair-raising plunge over a cliff.

Perrin is Dick O'Malley, a mountie, who comes upon a Gypsy camp in the woods in time to prevent further cruelties to Marie, a Gypsy girl who is being forced to marry one of the tribe. Dick is apprised by a rancher that the Gypsies have stolen one of his horses. He overtakes them again, is worsted in a fight and thrown over a cliff. When he comes to again he tracks them to a shack in the woods and after a terrific struggle he holds them at bay until the relief arrives that has been sent by the rancher. It is a case of love at first sight with Dick and the Gypsy girl and the story ends with them in each other's embrace.

"Andy Knows His Onions"

(Universal—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

JOE MURPHY as Andy Gump is an expert on onions in this altogether ridiculous comedy of the Gump series. It is just a succession of slapstick and knockout stuff such as characterizes all of these stories. Andy goes to Spain on this onion mission and he learns he can get control of the market only through the heart of a wealthy senorita who has cornered all the Spanish onions, and who craves love more than anything else.

Andy is making good progress until the heavy lover of the onion queen puts in an appearance. Subsequently the arrival of Min further complicates matters. It looks like a fairly desperate situation all around until Min, attempting to caress Andy with a chair, swings it on the dome of the heavy lover by mistake and renders him null and void, as Andy makes a successful getaway, assured of the bumper onion crop.

"It's Me"

(Educational-Cameo—One Reel)

MONTY COLLINS, Lucille Hutton, Phil Dunham and Robert Graves have the leading roles in this knockout comedy that sets an exceedingly fast pace and is not without its humorous incidents. It is of the usual uproarious type that finds couples badly mixed up as to staterooms aboard ship, with the resultant complications. Monty Collins, to pacify his wife, persuades the boss to let him have his vacation at once. They depart on the first steamer. Snugly settled in bed in the stateroom, she craves a drink of water. He returns to the wrong stateroom, as does the hubby of the occupant there. Eventually occupants of other staterooms become mixed in the general melee. There is great confusion all around until the arrival by row boat of a messenger from the office telling Monty it's all a mistake and that he cannot have his vacation at that time.—CHESTER J. SMITH.

"Never the Dames Shall Meet"

(M-G-M—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by T. C. Kennedy)

CHARLIE CHASE scores again! This time with a two-reeler consistent with the style which he has developed over a long period of excellent work as a star comedian. In "Never the Dames Shall Meet," Charley is a husband who goes to the pier to meet his wife's sister, whom he has never seen, and escort her to his home, where she is to visit. Told to look for a woman wearing a white fur neck-piece, he picks a very attractive girl thus arrayed. There are some very embarrassing moments for Charley when he finds that the young woman he has brought home is not the sister-in-law, but the winner of a beauty contest arriving in Los Angeles to make a career in the pictures. She has been shown to the guest room, and is taking a shower when the discovery is made, and so it's up to Charley to get her out of the house. This feat he accomplishes most ingeniously, by smuggling her out in a clothes hamper. Chase has the support of Edna Marian in the role of the wife, and Viola Richard and Anita Garvin as the other Dames. It is a decidedly hilarious comedy, suitable for the most carefully planned program, and strikes a note of cleverness and freshness which is all too seldom encountered in the short subject world. James Parrett directed the piece.

"Love 'Em and Leave 'Em"

(M-G-M—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Raymond Ganly)

THIS latest fun vehicle for the combined talents of Max Davidson and Oliver Hardy makes an auspicious start, but soon suffers a quick let-down of comedy, pie flinging and the like forming the basis on which the last half of the comedy relies. It is sheer slapstick, this latter half, but the comedians throw pies with such accuracy and vim that it is sure to arouse more than a few chuckles.

In the beginning, Hardy and Davidson are two prospectors who strike it rich. They sell out their claim for a fat roll of bills and hike to the big city to enjoy the bright lights' environment. Their rough and ready ways in a high class hotel, their attempts to "land" a few girls, and their gesture of defiance at society when they bombard their fellow guests in the hotel with eatables—these are old stand-bys for eliciting laughs. As a comedian, Hardy seems to feel more at home in this comedy than Davidson. They receive support from Martha Sleeper and others of Hal Roach's collection of feminine players.

"Smith's Modiste Shop"

(Sennett-Pathe—Two Reels)

(Reviewed by Chester J. Smith)

THIS is one of the Smith Family comedy series, featuring Baby Mary Ann Jackson, Ruth Hiatt and Raymond McKee. For the most part it is just a series of comedy gags with little continuity to the story. Little Mary Ann, a precocious and uncontrollable youngster, aided by a slingshot, is responsible for the early comedy. She is unerring in her aim and repeatedly hits her daddy in the same spot on the cheek with a gooseberry, thereby starting a family row, for he thinks the wife is the responsible party. Mary Ann is just as good a sharpshooter when the mayor and his wife arrive for a visit.

The Smiths are having a tough struggle with their finances and the Mrs. decides to open a modiste shop, with the assistance of the mayor's wife. There is a bit of comedy action in the shop and then the scene shifts to the dedication of a church organ. A violent rainstorm inundates the entire surroundings, including the organ and the audience, leaving the picture all wet at the finish.

News Reel Resume

Views of the Saratoga's maiden voyage; the blasting of the bridge at Conowingo, Md., over the Susquehanna River; the Army-Navy and the Southern California Notre Dame football games; and the revolt of the prisoners at Folsom prison were the highlights in this week's collection of newsreel releases.

The contents were as follows:

Paramount News, No. 35: France's new organization of war veterans; Capt. Giles, who was forced back on Pacific flight; Greek nation observing "Salvation Day"; a day aboard a submarine of the U. S. Navy; figures in the coal strike in Colorado; fashions of the early nineties; the 10-year-old violinist, who made his debut recently at Carnegie Hall; the airplane carrier, the Saratoga; Capt. Plueschow, explorer, sailing for South American expedition.

No. 36: Scenes at Folsom prison, where outbreak was checked; Japanese ship wrecked in gale; Parisian crossing the English Channel on his new water bike; Virginia's floating theatre, the James Adams, which sunk; the Army-Navy game; principals in the "companionate" marriage performed in Kansas; the Navy repairing its ship towers damaged in storms.

Pathe News, No. 97: The Saratoga steaming to drydock; Frenchman rides his bike over English Channel; Pacific whalers and their catch; Chilean girls in athletic meet; Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig fishing; the Soviets' celebration of their tenth anniversary, with scenes of the revolt of 1917; fallen giant trees on their way to the mill.

No. 98: Winter races start at Tiajuana track; bridge over the Susquehanna blown up; Pacific storm wrecks Japanese ship and men are saved by breeches-buoy; Maine University co-eds get enjoyment from the snow drifts; British sailors fight for Navy grid title; girls' fire brigade in practice drill; puppies at play; Egyptians keeping religious feast day; Marseilles harbor spanned by aerial ferry; the late Cardinal Benzano; the Folsom prison riot.

Kinograms, No. 5347: The Army-Navy football game; the Saratoga on its maiden voyage; Stanford University students celebrate premature victory over University of California; Paris' statue of King Louis IX moved to new location; an 11-year-old Hindu, who is a musical prodigy; Chicago's perfect baby contest; the Malolo, Pacific ship, off for Honolulu on her maiden trip.

No. 5348: The attempted jail break at Folsom, Cal.; old French couple wed at ages of 76 and 72; President Coolidge buys his Christmas seals; Germans test new gliders in Rhoen mountains; achieves a one-man, 22-piece orchestra after seven years of work; bridge over Susquehanna demolished by explosion; Gov. H. F. Byrd, of Virginia, and Gov. A. W. McLean, of North Carolina, open new South Hill roadway.

International News, Vol. 9, No. 96: French messengers in annual bike race; new Saratoga is conveyed to navy yard by tugs; Chicago high school boys learn the art of cooking; labor leaders calling on the President; Capt. Giles, British pilot, who was unsuccessful in Pacific hop; basket-ball game between Philadelphians and Celtics; girls give ballet dance on lofty skyline; Chinese artillery in action in China war.

No. 97: Buddhists in picturesque river pageant; tanks mow down Washington houses for city improvement purposes; Coast Guard saves lives of wrecked Japanese seamen; Cobham, English ace, starts on his flight to circumnavigate Africa; shots of Folsom prison and the soldiers surrounding it; old bridge over Susquehanna River is destroyed.

M-G-M News, Vol. 1, No. 30: Armored motorcycles replace cavalry in French army; India's renowned poet, Rabindroth Tagora; W. L. MacKenzie, Canadian prime minister, visits Washington, D. C.; silver foxes ready for the Christmas market; feeding flying seagulls new sport on Catalina ferry lines; the American hot dog invades Paris; the Saratoga on her maiden voyage; Morocco's new sultan, the youthful Sidi Mulai Namada.

Fox News, Vol. 9, No. 18: The Saratoga makes her first voyage; American ambassador to Mexico, and his wife, visit Mexican ruins; the strange sulphur volcano on White Island, one of the South Sea group; Hungary's war shrine unveiled; Chinese flappers with bobbed heads seek U. S. education; Chicago theatre keeps children off the streets.

No. 19: Tanks used to wreck houses in Washington town; Irvin Cobb, Rex Beach and other authors on a quail hunt in Oklahoma; the army of unemployed from Wales walking to London; Austria celebrates its ninth year as a republic; crew of sinking Japanese ship saved by breeches-buoy; crowd of 200,000 attracted by race in Melbourne, Australia.

THE MOVING PICTURE THEATRE MANAGERS INSTITUTE, INC.

Announces its courses in THEATRE MANAGEMENT

Courses in Advertising Exploitation

Service
Theatre Technics
Management

Intensive training by staff of expert instructors in modern theatre business combined with the art of showmanship. Big opportunities in the theatre field for trained men. Winter session begins January 16th, 1928. Applications for enrollment now.

Catalog sent on request

MOVING PICTURE THEATRE MANAGERS INSTITUTE, INC.

135 West 44th Street New York City

Studio Briefs

Arnold Kent and Leslie Fenton will appear in Paramount's "Honky Tonk."

Babe London will play the "strong woman" in "Tillie's Punctured Romance," the Paramount-Christie production.

The new Paramount ranch opened November 21st for production activities. Virtually all exterior scenes for Paramount films will be made at this location, near Calabasas.

"White Silence" will be Lew Seiler's next picture for Fox Films. Becky Gardner is doing the screen adaptation. The picture will be made under Phillip Klein's supervision.

Tom O'Brien will have the role of a tough bouncer in the Gotham production, "The Fruit of Divorce."

A cavalry charge, in which participated 835 uniformed and mounted men and in which more than 20,000 rounds of blank ammunition is said to have been used up, was filmed last week in California by D. W. Griffith for "Drums of Love," his new United Artists picture.

Lupino Lane, Educational stellar comedian, is portraying a wild and wooly cowboy in his new starring comedy on which he began working last week.

Clarence Brown will direct Greta Garbo in "Heat" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Bardley Barker is now directing a new Tiffany Color Classic short feature entitled "Rose of Killarney." Jack Halliday and Muriel Kingston are in the cast.

"Riders of the Dark," an original by W. S. Van Dyke, will be Tim McCoy's next starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The title of "Algerian Nights," a Chaddick Production, to be released by First Division Distributors, Inc., on March 1st, has been changed to "Arkansas."

Gene Morgan has completed his first movie role in a new Max Davidson comedy made at the Hal Roach studio for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Robert McGowan has finished his new Hal Roach "Our Gang" two-reeler, "Spook-Spoofing," for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer program.

John Steppling has joined the supporting cast of Norma Shearer's new starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Gotham's "United States Smith" will be placed in production later in the season instead of following "The Fruit of Divorce."

Winter Hall has been cast for a role in Paramount's "Abie's Irish Rose."

Lieutenant Howard Blanchard, a former member of Colonel William Bishop's British flying unit, has been made technical director of United Artists, 'Hell's Bell's."

Archie Mayo is directing "The City of Sin" for Warner Bros., in which Leila Hyams, Matthew Betz, Richard Tucker, Sojin and Anna May Wong will have parts.

Eddie Gribbon has been signed to appear in Tiffany-Stahl's "Streets of Shanghai."

Howard Green has written an original scenario which will be Charlie Murray's new vehicle to go into work at Burbank before the Christmas holidays.

Janet Gaynor is now entering the fifth week of production in "Lady Cristilinda," now being produced by Fox Films.

Richard Johnston will shortly assume the position of Paramount Company business manager. His first assignment will be with the "Red Hair" unit.

Frank Hagney and Wade Boteler have been added to the cast of the Tiffany-Stahl production, "A Woman Against the World."

Harriet Mathews has been signed by Stern Bros. to play the role of Julie in the comedy series for Universal, "Keeping Up With the Joneses."

Madge Bellamy has finished the leading role in "Silk Legs" for Fox Films.

Bebe Daniels will next make "Feel My Pulse" for Paramount. Gregory La Cava will direct her, with Richard Arlen and William Powell in featured roles. Charles Sellen appears in support.

Director Alan Crosland has completed work on "Glorious Betsy" for Warner Bros.

Richard Wallace has been assigned the direction of a new feature co-starring Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall.

Richard Dix has recovered from the attack of influenza which forced him to stop work a week ago, and has returned to work on "The Traveling Salesman," his new Paramount picture.

F. W. Murnau is comfortably settled in his bungalow at the Fox Films studio on the Coast, where he is making preparations for "The Four Devils."

Marshall Neilan has been signed by First National to direct "Do It Again."

Stepin Fetchit and Carolynne Snowden have signed long-term contracts with Tiffany-Stahl.

Lucille Hutton plays the chief feminine role in "It's Me," a new Educational comedy.

There will be 10 leading women in "A Girl in Every Port," which has been started by Fox Films. They will be Louise Brooks, Myrna Loy, Maria Casajuana, Natalie Kingston, Eileen Sedgewick, Gertrude Short, Sally Rand, Dorothy Mathews, Elena Juardo and Gladys Brockwell.

Betty Boyd, a new leading lady, is playing in "Papa's Boy," a new Educational comedy.

Director Lambert Hillyer is filming 'Fleetwing" for Fox Films in the desert near Yuma, Ariz. Barry Norton and Dorothy Janis have the leads.

Lloyd Hamilton is playing the part of a soda fountain waiter in a new starring production now in work at the Educational studio.

George Bancroft this week started his first starring vehicle for Paramount, as yet untitled. Evelyn Brent, George Kuwa, Arnold Kent, Leslie Fenton and Fred Kohler have been cast.

John Ackroyd, British comedian, and John George, hunchbacked Abyssinian, appear in First National's "The Whip Woman."

Lorraine Rivero is again "Big Boy's" "leading lady" in a new Educational comedy, "Shamrock Alley."

Jola Mendez will take the leading feminine role in "Chicago After Midnight," a Ralph Ince production for F B O.

Edward Laemmle, Universal director, will direct "Fallen Angels," the Arthur Somers Roche Red Book story for which Charles Logue has made the adaptation.

Tom Terris will direct "Beyond London's Lights," an adaptation of a J. J. Bail novel, for F B O.

Production is to start at once on Paramount's picturization of the English novel, "Doomsday."

Lynn Shores, for the last eight years directorial assistant, will make his megaphone bow when he begins "Skinner's Big Idea," an adaptation of Henry Irving Dodge's story, at the F B O studio.

George Melford, director, has cast Marceline Day, Donald Keith and Robert Emmett O'Connor for roles in "The Freedom of the Press," a Universal Film.

Matt Taylor will write the adaptation of "Skinner's Big Idea" for F B O.

"Jazz Mad" is the new title chosen by Universal for one of its new productions previously called "The Symphony."

Dudley Murphy is the selection of F B O to direct "Alex the Great," the screen version of the H. C. Witwer book, which goes into work on December 5th.

CLASSIFIED AD SECTION

RATES: 10 cents a word for each insertion, in advance except Employment Wanted, on which rate is 5 cents

Situation Wanted

RELIABLE PROJECTIONIST, 38 years old, eleven years' experience, Massachusetts state license, independent, desires position. Would consider janitor work in small house combined with operating. Salary reasonable. At present employed. Box 245, Motion Picture News, New York.

MANAGER, 15 years experience, motion pictures, vaudeville. Go anywhere. A-1 references. Box 240, Motion Picture News, New York City.

THEATRE MANAGER at liberty January 1st. Thoroughly experienced pictures, vaudeville and road shows. Publicity expert. Vocalist, community builder. If your theatre is a "dead one," let me bring it to life. Best references. Address Box 363, Marion, Ohio.

ORGANISTS and SINGERS, thoroughly trained and experienced in theatre work. Men and women now ready for good positions. Union or nonunion. Write salary, and other data. Address, Chicago Musical College, 64 E. Van Buren, Chicago.

MANAGER at liberty. Metropolitan experience; vaudeville and pictures. 20 years' experience; record first class. Will leave New York. Box 900, Motion Picture News.

Wanted

WANTED—Used Posters, Photos, Slides, Banners, and Accessories of all kinds. Must be in good condition. Will allow liberal credit. Theatre Poster Supply Company and Sign Exchange, 327 E. Sixth Street, Cincinnati, O.

SALESMEN wanted throughout country. This possesses future for producers. New, fast seller. Saves time, money and labor. Large commissions; prompt pay. Box 235, Motion Picture News, New York City.

WANTED used projectors. Power's 5 or 5A, or portables, as are. C. E. Metzler, P. O. Box 94, Leaf River, Illinois.

For Sale

1,000 wood chairs for park or open air auditorium. Perfect condition. $1.35 each. 2,000 rebuilt leather upholstered theatre chairs like new, priced low for quick sale. 5-100 ampere Kliegl spotlights rebuilt, perfect condition. $75.00 each. Amusement Supply Co., Inc., 729 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

FOR SALE: 3,000 upholstered opera chairs; price $2.50 each. 1200 veneer chairs; price $1.50 each. Good serviceable condition. Can be seen on request. Box 425, Motion Picture News, New York City.

FOR SALE: Used posters, photos, slides, banners and all other kinds of accessories on any subject — features, comedies, serials, save 60 per cent. Write for price list. Theatre Poster Supply Co. & Sign Exchange, 327 East Sixth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

FOR SALE: Reproduco organ; good condition, with 53 rolls of good music. Bargain. Address, 2208 East 58th St., Kansas City, Mo.

Newspaper exploitation for Mary Pickford in "My Best Girl" makes the Pickford name the big selling feature. Above are reproduced a group of displays representative of the style of advertising the picture has received for first run presentations. The ads illustrated were used by the Texas theatre, San Antonio; Orpheum, Lincoln, Nebr.; Loew's, Canton, Ohio; Penn theatre, Pittsburgh, and Rialto theatre, New York City.

Regional News from Correspondents

Seattle

LOCAL theatre managers are resting up this week after their hard work last week in preparing the business and entertainment programs for the many delegates from every part of the Northwest to last week's annual convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners' of Washington organization. Retiring president Bob Bender of the Columbia Theatre, James Q. Clemmer, managing director of the Fifth Avenue Theatre; Carl Reiter of the Orpheum, Bill McCurdy of the President, and J. Lloyd Dearth of Pantages all spent a good many hours planning for the events, not to mention the scores of other exhibitors, exchange men, and Secretary James M. Hone.

Frank Pratt, well known in this territory through his recent connections in the Northwest with the Universal theatres chain and other houses, has left for Denver, Colorado, where he will assume the assistant managership of the American Theatre. He will work with Marshall Taylor, managing director, and former head of the Columbia Theatre in Portland.

Announcement was made this week by Hershel Stuart, general manager of West Coast Theatres, Inc., in Washington and Oregon, that Edgar Hart has recently been appointed managing director of the Hollywood Theatre, one of the Wesco group in Portland. He succeeds Al Cushman, who has been made publicity director of the Broadway Theatre. Mr. Hart was formerly a theatre operator in Portsmouth, N. H., and has also had experience in August, Maine.

Clarence McKain, traveling auditor for Columbia Pictures, was expected to arrive this week at the local exchange for a brief visit. He has been with Manager Jack Tillman in Portland several days, and is en route from California to the East. Last time in this territory Mr. McKain was a New York representative for First National.

The Rialto and Colonial Theatres, West Coast houses in Tacoma, were closed recently because of differences with the employees' unions and poor business, but indications at present are that the houses will be reopened within a short time, as the Broadway Theatre cannot accommodate all the bookings that have been contracted for. Union differences are now being arbitrated.

Mae Murray, screen luminary and former stage dancer, arrived in Seattle last week and was scheduled for a week's engagement at Manager James Q. Clemmer's Fifth Avenue Theatre in conjunction with her road dance act and the current Fanchon-Marco Revue.

Reports circulated in Seattle last week to the effect that Orpheum vaudeville programs and motion picture attractions would soon be presented at the Auditorium Theatre in Spokane were branded as false and ungrounded by Carl Reiter, manager of the local Orpheum and Northwest representative for the Keith-Albee-Orpheum interests. Orpheum has no plans for Spokane showings for some time to come, Mr. Reiter reports.

Another trade denial came from John Danz, operating a string of downtown second run houses. This was in reply to the report that Mr. Danz would soon take over the Liberty Theatre from West Coast Theatres. There is no truth to the reports, according to Mr. Danz's statements.

A. J. Kennedy, exploiteer with Manager Jack Bower's local First National exchange, left last week for San Francisco, where he will publicize First National films in the Northwest California territory for the next several weeks.

M. W. Mattecheck, operator of the Lark Theatre at McMinville, Oregon, was a visitor in this city over the last weekend. He came up from his home town primarily for a local football game, but spent a short time on Film Row with several of the magnates and friends.

Rolla Duncan, it is understood on Film Row, is soon to locate in Olympia and, with an Olympia banker, operate a new 1,000 seat picture house that will be constructed in the main business district. Mr. Duncan is an experienced theatre man from Lewiston, Montana, who is well known by the trade in this territory.

Something new in the way of theatre operation is in vogue now in Victoria, British Columbia, at the Coliseum Theatre. It is a "triple-feature" bill, and the theatre management warns the audience to be seated by 7 o'clock each evening if they want to see the entire run of the three feature length attractions. Local exhibitors are commenting that "fillum" must be cheap across the international border line!

Five house records in a period of less than six months is the record established by Withold Stefan Perutz, new manager of the United Artists Theatre in this city. Since his arrival here and the opening of the house less than six months ago under the present U. A. policy, Mr. Perutz has established new gross and capacity records.

G. C. Fasken, theatre operator who now has a new house under construction at 13 South Mission Street in Wenatchee, Washington, spent a short time on Film Row last week. The theatre will be named the Mission Street, according to Mr. Fasken, and will open within a short time.

Vic Gauntlett, publicity and advertising director for John Hamrick's Blue Mouse circuit, has been one of America's busiest men during recent weeks, having taken over the actual management of the local Blue Mouse Theatre, as far as policy goes, during Mr. Hamrick's visit to New York City. All this in conjunction with his regular ad duties!

C. A. Swanson of the Star Amusement Company, Everett; Waldo Ives of the Empire Theatre, Anacortes; Will Starkey of the Starkey Circuit of Spokane; and L. A. Drinkwine of the Palace Theatre, Tacoma, were among the out-of-town visitors on Film Row last week.

Cleveland

MAX SHENKER, one of the veterans in the show business, has sold his three theatres in Lorain to Victor Wolcott, of Cleveland. The theatres affected are the Pearl, Park and Standard. Shenker will take it easy for a while. He says he may buy another house. Wolcott also owns the Princess and Standard theatres of this city.

Fred Scheuerman, office manager of the Warner Brothers' exchange, is very happy these days. No, he has not won a sales contest. Neither has his salary been boosted. But he is the proud father of a son, Frederick Scheuerman, Jr., and that's why he thinks this is the best Thanksgiving that has ever been staged since the first one back in 1620.

All the romance in the country is not confined to Hollywood. A little of it strayed into the Film Exchange Bldg.—with the result that last week Clarence J. Ward, of the Fox sales force, was married to Marion Bachman, of the Educational cashier department.

Another romance of interest in local film circles concerns Alice Wise, of the Fox organization, who, in marrying Emeric P. Gordon, will divorce herself from the industry.

The Opera House at New Philadelphia and the Madison at Mansfield have recently adopted combination policies. Keith vaudeville is being shown at these houses in addition to feature photoplays. The Opera House and Madison belong to the chain of theatres operated by Skirboll Brothers, of Cleveland; I. Lipson of Cincinnati and Harris of Pittsburgh.

George Fleischman's new State theatre, Toledo, opened November 29th. It has 2,000 seats. Fleisch-Atlas theatres of Toledo.

The Alhambra theatre, Canton, man also has the World and the belonging to the Universal-Variety circuit, has changed its policy from first runs to second runs. Three changes a week will be offered under this policy. Eral Hudson is house manager.

Sam T. Reed is the new lessee and manager of the Cozy theatre, Lorain. It is understood that Miss Lazara Zigiob, who formerly had the house, did not renew her lease. She still owns and operates the Dreamland, Elvira and Paris.

John Palfi has sold his Strand theatre at Ravenna to H. Rosenthal, who also has the Ohio theatre in that city. Palfi continues to operate the Opera House and Princess theatres in Kent, and the Wallace theatre, Wooster.

Sam Gerson, former independent exchange owner, who is now connected with the Universal exchange in Indianapolis, spent Thanksgiving day in Cleveland.

Ernest H. Hunt is now one of the feature attractions at Loew's Park theatre. Organist Hunt built up a large clientele during his several years at the State theatre, with his original organ presentation numbers. When the State put in Vitaphone, Hunt was transferred. He opened the Granada for the local Loew organization, staying there for four weeks.

Louis Mumaw has been made treasurer at Loew's Park theatre. Mumaw was formerly at the Allen.

Amateur nights are very successful in Cleveland. Several years ago the State theatre tried it out, with the result that the poorest night of the week rivalled Saturday and Sunday. So, gradually, the policy was adopted at other local Loew houses. Last season amateur nights were offered every week at the State, Doan and Liberty. This week the Circle theatre was added to the group. Friday night will be amateur night henceforth at the Circle. Bob Pank puts on the shows, and introduces the acts.

Artfilm Studios, Inc., pioneers in industrial film advertising, has moved from its old location at 1222 Ontario Ave., to its new home on Euclid Ave., and East 66th St. The new quarters are much larger than the old ones, allowing space for new equipment which is rapidly being installed to facilitate better service.

The Metropolitan Vaudeville Agency has been opened at 321 Erie Bldg., by Ely "Rags" Fuller.

Atlanta

WHILE in Atlanta last Tuesday, signing contracts for new pictures for his Patio Theatre, in St. Petersburg, Fla., Anthony Shimko announced that his new theatre, which is to be built at Tampa, Fla., will be opened early in May. No name has been chosen for the new house as yet. It will seat 1,000, and will be a suburban house.

The Dixie Theatre, Bowdon, Ga., under ownership and management of L. G. Hobgood, who is assisted in the operation by D. S. Mayo, opened its doors to the public last Friday evening, offering a splendid program of pictures.

It is announced that Mr. Hobgood will establish another theatre at Villa Rica, Ga., which is to be opened January 1.

P. C. Parrish, formerly purchasing agent of National Theatre Supply Company, with headquarters in Atlanta, but who is now manager of the company's branch in New Orleans, is reported as convalescing rapidly, following an operation which he underwent recently.

Oscar S. Oldknow, vice-president of National Theatre Supply Company, with headquarters in Atlanta, who has been on a visit to company branches in the Southeast, is expected back in Atlanta early next week.

A. L. Duncan, who has been representative for Pathe's special features, has been appointed sales manager under W. W. Anderson, Atlanta branch manager.

Pathe this week re-divided its territory, diminishing the size of their "block" by increasing them in number from five to six. Morris Mitchell, formerly in charge of short subjects, has been assigned to the sixth block.

Recent visitors to Atlanta included: F. L. Griffin, Strand theatre, Carrollton, Pa.; A. Shimko, Patio theatre, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Houston Thompson, manager of the Palace theatre, Cedartown, Ga.; Joe Wheeler, Capitol theatre Montgomery, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Curry, Colonial theatre, Milledgeville, Ga.; Mrs. M. K. Ware, Princess theatre, Thomson, Ga.; Robert Nowell, Idle Hour theatre, Monroe, Ga.; Joe Demaio, traveling auditor for United Artists; M. P. Wise, Strand theatre, Winder, Ga.; A. H. McCarty, Palace theatre, Barnesville, Ga.; J. A. McCarty, Forsyth theatre, Forsyth, Ga.; C. W. Maxey, Royal theatre, Summersville, Ga.; N. V. Darley, Rivoli theatre, Ybor City, Fla.; Mrs. Violet Edwards, Colonial theatre, Commerce, Ga.; L. H. Forsyth, of the Rialto theatre, Union Springs, Ala.; Mrs. I. H. Deitz, of the Star theatre, Covington, and R. P. Higginbotham, of the Majestic theatre, Leeds, Fla., and the Forsyth, Pell City, Ala.

W. G. Minder, southern division manager of Tiffany, left for Florida Wednesday, where he will spend several days.

J. W. Mangham, Jr., manager of Bromberg Attractions, made a short trip to Birmingham during the week.

E. F. Ingram, of Ingram's Theatre, Ashland, Ala., visited Birmingham the past week and attended the Howard-Birmingham Southern football game at the new Legion stadium.

Birmingham is to have a motion picture studio of its own in the near future, according to plans announced by Edward T. Peter, president of the Alabama Motion Picture Company, whose company has purchased 300 acres adjacent to the Magic City.

Final installations of equipment are being made in the new Avon Theatre and an early announcement will be made as to policy. It is one of the most beautiful suburban houses in the South.

Kansas City

NEW possibilities have resulted from the remodeling of the Isis theatre, one of the largest suburban houses in Kansas City. The stage now is sufficient to accommodate large stage progress, which probably eventually will be the policy of the house. The box office has been moved from inside the lobby to a prominent position on the street line. Seats, chandeliers, hangings and carpets all are new. The theatre has been redecorated in Italian style. The predominating colors are gold, burnt orange and bronze.

Two operators were overcome by fumes and a loss of $150 resulted when a film at the Eris theatre, El Dorado, Kas., caught fire and exploded last week. Joe Allard is manager of the theatre.

Among the changes in theatres in the Kansas City territory this week were: Strand theatre, suburban house of Kansas City, leased by J. C. Rader to E. E. Weber, formerly of the Broadmoor theatre; Peoples theatre, Wentzville, Mo., to be opened soon by W. T. Zimmerman, the policy being two shows weekly; G. W. Hartman, former owner of the Capitol theatre, North Kansas City, Mo., has purchased the Lake theatre, Omaha, Neb.; Andress theatre, Great Bend, Kas., purchased from Charles Andress by W. H. Weber, owner

The Capitol theatre, first run motion picture and vaudeville theatre of Kansas City, changed its stage policy on Thanksgiving Day to musical stock. Previous success of other musical stock shows led the Capitol management to make the change, following a more or less mediocre attendance under the vaudeville policy. of the Echo and Lakin theatres, Great Bend, Mr. Weber's future plans being to discontinue the Lakin; Hollister theatre, Forsyth, Mo., owned by Dick Hulland, is being remodeled, the stage being enlarged.

Among the out-of-town exhibitors in the Kansas City territory this week were: Rush Wilhoit, Springfield, Mo.; Frank Weary, Farris theatre, Richmond, Mo.; G. L. Hooper, Topeka, Kas.; Walter Wallace, Orpheum, Leavenworth, Kas.

Miss Ruth Doyle temporarily has succeeded Miss A. L. Menaugh, secretary of the Kansas City Film Board of Trade, who will visit in Omaha and Chicago.

Harry Hays, former booker at the Kansas City Paramount branch, but who now is in the same capacity in St. Louis, returned to Kansas City to undergo an operation and on the same day he was taken to the hospital. His father also was taken to the hospital; his father dying.

Russell Borg, Educational branch manager; "Red" Jones, Tiffany branch manager; M. C. Sinift of Warner Bros., and Will Warner, First National were among those hustling in the territory this week.

Hayden Duke, in charge of physical distribution for Pathe-DeMille, and James R. Grainger, general sales manager for Fox, were Kansas City visitors.

Fred Brodeur, former manager of the Kansas City Wurlitzer branch who died the other day, temporarily has been succeeded by Harry Metzel of the Wurlitzer company.

C. A. Allen, feature manager for the Pathe-DeMille branch, was a St. Louis visitor.

New England

MERCHANTS THEATRE, Quincy, formerly known as Music Hall, has been sold by C. Atkinson to D. J. Murphy. Murphy also operates the Bayside at Allerton, Mass., one of the summer theatres.

Nate Yeamans had a representative gathering of dignitaries on hand at the formal opening of his new Empire Theatre in Fall River on Monday night. Practically all of the city officials of that city together with many state officials and representatives from the film interests in New England were on hand.

Among the week's flood benefit shows were those at the Ramsdell Brothers' theatres at Beverly, the Larcom and Ware; the Lexington Theatre at Lexington, Mass.; and several others. Many shows are being listed for flood benefits. The Metropolitan, Boston, is planning a big midnight show, the date to be announced.

H. F. Campbell, district manager of the Fox Exchange, Boston, has been honored by being the fourth manager to have his portrait hung in the Fox Hall of Fame.

Charles Beane of Franklin, N. H. was in Film Row, Boston, over the week end. He has the distinction of coming the longest distance to Boston since the flood.

William Scully, Sam Rosie, Sam Webber, Ed Jaycocks and Charles Stern, all from the New Haven exchanges, were in Boston over the week end to witness the Harvard-Yale classic. They motored up with their car covered with Yale banners and when they returned to their car after the game, found that enthusiasts from the Connecticut had taken every banner.

Fred Lovett is the new manager of the Circle Theatre at Pawtucket, R. I.

The new Mutual Theatre at Saco, Me., opens next week. Edward J. Bolan will manage the theatre.

The Park Theatre at Taunton, which replaces the old Park Theatre which was destroyed by fire some months ago, had its formal opening last week.

South West

J. C. IFLAND has opened a new theatre in Avant, Oklahoma, named The Gem. The Gem Theatre, formerly run in Avant, was under a different management.

L. S. Creason has purchased the Liberty Theatre at Sasakwa, Okla., from S. Woods.

Jess Patten, who has been operator at the Orpheum Theatre at Tulsa, has purchased the Majestic Theatre at Billings, Okla., from J. L. Lowe. Mr. Lowe, we understand, is in ill health.

A. J. Bedford has purchased the Palace Theatre at Ft. Towson, Okla., from C. A. Hopson.

M. B. Tritch, salesman for Universal, had Mr. and Mrs. Moran and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin at his home for Thanksgiving dinner. Bill Moran is branch manager of the Universal office here, and Sam Benjamin of the F B O office here.

E. S. Olsmith, who was branch manager of the P. D. C. exchange here when it started, and who has been in charge of the Pathe exchange since the merger, has been transferred to Kansas City, where he will be in charge of the exchange there. Mr. Allen of Kansas City will succeed Olsmith here. The change takes effect November 28th.

Mr. Olsmith is one of the oldest-in-service men on film row. Eight years ago he was selling film in this territory.

The Dent Theatres, Inc., at Temple, Texas, missed getting the film "The Desired Woman" in time for showing, and in order to keep the show going, an airship was chartered at Dallas, and the film brought by air to Temple in ample time.

W. B. Mayes and M. T. Paehue have leased the Whitney Opera House at Whitney, Texas.

Five thousand pounds of carpet was sent by express from New York to Beaumont, Texas, to prevent delay in the opening of the Jefferson Theatre at Beaumont.

P. D. Turner has opened his Liberty Theatre at Carrollton, Texas.

The new Eden Theatre at Eden, Texas, has reopened to replace the one destroyed by fire early in the summer.

J. A. Cuff will open a new vaudeville and movie house at Denison, Texas, soon.

J. O. Roberts has leased the Alamo Theatre at Granger, Texas.

The Palace Theatre at Memphis, Texas, is being remodeled and new equipment added.

B. C. Howell and Son will erect a new $75,000 theatre at Coleman, Texas, soon.

Work on a new theatre to be built by Manager Walker at Grand Prairie, Texas, will start soon.

A new $3,000 organ will be installed in the Queen Theatre at Winters, Texas, in near future.

A jury found J. J. Hegman, manager of the Crescent and Star Theatres at Austin, Texas, not guilty of showing at Austin, on Sunday, recently.

Florida

THE Rialto, Tampa, which has been playing a stock musical show for the past two years, has been sold and the company will disband with the closing performance this week. The house will be redecorated and then will house a permanent dramatic stock company, it is reported.

The opening of the new "enlarged policy" of the Victory, Tampa, was inaugurated Thursday this week, and the opening was a wow. Under the new policy the first four days of the week will be given over to road shows and superfeatures, with the last three a continuous show from 1 to 11 P. M. of pictures and vaudeville. Five acts of Keith vaudeville will give three shows daily at 3, 7 and 9.30 P. M. the pictures filling in the rest of the time. Manager Peck advertised the new policy like a circus and it clicked. No seats are reserved and the prices standard at 25 and 50c for the matinee and 25 and 60c at night shows.

Manager John B. Carroll, of the Tampa, in conjunction with the Exchange Club and the Yellow Cab company, brought Thanksgiving joy to twenty-two teachers and pupils of the Florida Girls Free Training school.

The next out-door attraction is the Rodeo, which will be staged at the Tampa Bay grounds all next week, Nov. 28th to Dec. 3rd.

E. J. Walton, former owner of the Rivoli in Ybor City, and who moved to Atlanta after selling out, has returned to Tampa and bought a spring water business. Mr. Walton was a great favorite with the show-folks and they are all glad to see him back, even though he has deserted the game.

H. Pittman, of Clearwater, was a visitor at the Jacksonville Paramount offices this week.

Ira P. Stone, assistant manager of the Jacksonville Universal Exchange, is ill at St. Luke's hospital.

J. Pickett, of Chicago, an experienced theatre man, has recently come to the Empress theatre, Jacksonville, to assist W. A. Krause, who is not only manager of the Rialto and Empress theatres but also has charge of the theatre accessories department for E. J. Sparks Enterprises.

Manager C. P. Lester, of the Universal exchange, spent Wednesday in Jasper.

Motion picture theatres felt a slump in business this week, due to the State Fair. The fair this year is one of the best ever held here and has been heavily exploited.

Amateur boxing contests are being continued at the Temple theatre on Friday nights. They have enjoyed good patronage.

Florida is receiving much publicity through the efforts of Publix Theatres Corporation to advertise the State.

The Rialto Theatre, Jacksonville, has reopened after being closed one week for renovation. The admission price was raised from 10 to 15 cents.

Des Moines

O. H. GARLAND, one of the stars of the Pathe sales staff, has been under the weather for the last week with a very severe cold. He has been confined to his bed. Mr. Garland covers the southern part of the state for Pathe.

Mr. Reingold, manager of the Fox Films office, was in Omaha last week to confer witth Jimmy Grainger, general sales manager.

The theatre at Lynnville changed hands last week when B. A. Mitchell, who has had this house for some time, sold the theatre to E. S. Wood. The theatre is known as the Isis.

Harry Wood, cashier of the office of Fox Films in Des Moines, recently became the proud daddy of a bouncing boy. The little fellow has been named Richard Allen.

Don Charno, who came from Denver to act as master of ceremonies for the stage show at the Capitol, Des Moines, came only for a two weeks' appearance as he is scheduled to be at another theatre next week. During this week there will be no master of ceremonies at the Capitol and on the week following a new man will come to the stage here. Jimmy Ellard, who was master of ceremonies at the Capitol for six months and made a big hit with Des Moines audiences, has been transferred to Omaha. There has been no loss of attendance with the change of band leaders.

The A. H. Blank-Publix house at Waterloo, which is now nearing completion, will be ready for opening on the first of the year, is the announcement. The theatre is to be called the Riviera. Decision has not been reached as to who will have the management of this house. Lionel Wasson, who has been doing publicity for the Waterloo house for several weeks, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the place; while Herb Grove, popular manager of the Des Moines Theatre in Des Moines, is also being strongly considered, it is said.

M. R. Henry, who is the new exhibitor at Exira, was in Des Moines last week booking pictures. Mr. Henry bought the theatre from Mr. Lacey, who has a house at Anita, Iowa.

Mr. Scharet, auditor from the home office of Universal, has been at the Des Moines exchange this week. The auditor from Fox headquarters, Mr. Wilson, has been calling on the Fox Films office.

Elmer Tilton, manager of the First National office, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents at New Rochelle, Ill.

Bowling activities took a slight slump following the Thanksgiving festivities.

George McKean, home office representative of Fox, called upon Manager Reingold of the Des Moines offices on Thursday and Friday.

Denver

FRANK L. PRATT, recently manager of the Blue Mouse theatre in Tacoma, Washington, has been appointed assistant manager to E. Marshall Taylor, of the America theatre, Denver. The new assistant manager entered upon his new duties last week. The America theatre is Universal's first run theatre of Denver.

Don Charno, the popular orchestra leader and personality man of the Rialto theatre for the past year has been transferred to the Capitol theatre of Des Moines, Iowa.

South East

STANLEY HAND, of Washington, D. C., arived in Charlotte last Tuesday to take over the duties of branch manager for Pathe, succeeding E. L. McShane. Mr. McShane assumes the duties of sales manager and W. F. Lenehan as special feature representative. The sales force includes R. C. Price, R. S. Mitchell and Chase White.

E. H. Coleman, of Birmingham, Ala., will on Monday, November 28th, succeed Roy Williford as manager of the Strand Theatre, Charlotte. Mr. Williford is building a theatre at Union, S. C., which is soon to open.

The Strand, for the past several months, has been playing tab shows and second run features. Mr. Coleman announces that he expects to play Westerns only.

L. D. Miller, owner Rex Theatre, Rutherfordton, N. C., was in Charlotte recently.

George Stevenson, assistant general manager of Stevenson's Theatres, Inc., is spending a few days in Rock Hill, S. C., preparing for the opening of the new Stevenson theatre there.

J. W. Griffith, owner Pastime Theatre, Lumberton, N. C., shot a big buck deer last week.

Jerry Simpson, owner Ideal and Lyric theatres, Gastonia, N. C., visited Film Row last Tuesday.

Jack Marcus is building a new colored house in Florence, S. C.

Walter Griffith, general manager Horlacher Delivery Service, is spending a few days in New York.

J. I. Sims, owner Reliance and Blue Bird theatres in Orangeburg, S. C., is remodeling and redecorating the Reliance and adding new equipment.

W. T. Gray, owner Loray Theatre, Gastonia, N. C., announces that the new theatre he is building in Gastonia will soon be completed.

C. D. Buckner, manager Playhouse Theatre, Statesville, N. C., was in Charlotte during the week.

Ed. Pearce, manager National and Broadway theatres, Mt. Airy, N. C., was in Charlotte recently.

Donald M. Eaves, of the Eaves Circuit in North and South Carolina, announces that he is opening his Dreamland theatre, Union, S. C., to full time. He has only been running this house one day a week.

Otto Hartso, owner North Newton Theatre, Newton, N. C.; W. H. Smith, owner Carolina Theatre, Grover, N. C., and E. L. Hearn, owner Alameda theatre, Albemarle, N. C., were recent visitors to Charlotte.

Francis White, owner Capitol theatre, Asheboro, N. C., visited Charlotte recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Long, of the Temple Theatre, Earlington, Ky., were recent guests of friends in Evansville, Ind.

The Capitol Theatre, Nashville, Tenn., recently celebrated its eighth anniversary.

The infantile paralysis ban has been lifted at Lexington, Ky.

George Oldham, manager Rivoli Theatre, Winchester, Tenn., was a recent guest of R. D. Page, manager Princess Theatre, Cleveland, Tenn.

The Dreamland Theatre, Camden, Tenn., has been closed.

James Fisher, manager Lyric Theatre, Versailles, Ky., has returned from a visit to Cincinnati.

Captain C. Blake, of the Savoy Theatre, Louisville, who has been abroad for several months, has returned.

The new theatre at St. Matthews, Ky., the Evelyn, will open December 3.

Jack Burke, traveling auditor of Educational, was in Louisville last week.

O. S. Barrett, sales manager for Educational, was in Memphis last week, conferring with Howard Kingsmore, manager Loew's Enterprises, in the interest of Educational product.

Louisville exhibitors have reason to be entirely satisfied with the result of the recent mayoralty election, as a result of which W. B. Harrison was chosen mayor. Mr. Harrison already has taken great interest in theatricals.

Lee Bing, manager Big Feature Rights Corporation, Indianapolis, Ind., spent Thanksgiving with Lee Goldberg, manager of the Louisville office.

W. E. Callaway, Southern sales manager for First National, spent several days at the company's Louisville exchange last week.

The Monroe Theatre, at Tellico Plains, Tenn., has been reported closed.

Miss Douglas Robertson, of the Princess Theatre, Flemingsburg, Ky., visited Louisville last week.

The Pastime Theatre, Chinnville, Ky., formerly the Raceland, has been taken over by T. H. Wylie.

Lee Goldberg, of Big Feature Rights Corporation, and Maurice White, of the Louisville First National exchange, spent Monday in Cincinnati, attending the meeting of the Cincinnati Film Board of Trade.

According to plans of the Goldberg Amusement Enterprises, Dickson, Tenn., promoters of a string of motion picture houses, including the Gaiety Theatre, the town is soon to resemble a Hollywood. This company, with headquarters in Clarksville, plans to produce a motion picture within the limits of Dickson.

Baltimore

ON Monday, at the Rivoli, the officers and men from Camp Holabird and Fort Howard were entertained by Frank Price, Jr., manager.

The entertainment policy at Loew's Century here was changed by Jules Bernstein, general manager, beginning with Monday, November 28, when the Century Syncopators, an orchestra arranged by Paul Specht, was introduced under the direction of Wesley Eddy. A strong supporting bill was also included.

Several changes have occurred in the Loew organization here. H. A. Maloney, former Century manager, has gone to Loew's Midland, the new 4,000-seat house opened in Kansas City. He has been succeeded by A. H. Beuhrig, formerly manager at the Valencia. The new manager of the Valencia is Rollin Stonebrook, formerly assistant manager of Loew's State, New York City.

Charles Grimes and Fred Steele have been appointed managers of the Empire and New Theatre, respectively, of Washington, D. C. Leroy Breitbarth, formerly manager of both playhouse, has resigned. These theatres are now controlled by the Stanley-Crandall Company of Washington.

The seating capacity of the Pimlico Theatre, here, operated by Louis Garman, has been increased from 900 to 1,350. The house has been improved and altered and redecorated in the Spanish style. New stage sets and new Haywood-Wakefield chairs have been installed.

Christmas community parties for children residing near theatres in Washington, D. C., operated by the Stanley-Crandall Company, are being planned by the public service department of that and the Stanley Company under the personal supervision of Harriet Hawley Locher, director.

The New Theatre, Clarendon, Va., operated by J. C. Boss, has been opened to the public.

Loew's Theatre, Richmond, Va., will be ready for the public opening about January 1, according to the present plans.

Valley Airport, at Waynesboro, Va., has been opened by C. C. Loth, a theatre man of that city who financed and built it alone. There are four-way landings on a 40-acre field with gas and oil stations. Mr. Loth owns an Eagle Rock three-place biplane.

The first of a series of motion picture entertainments was given by the Homewood Fireside Club at the Friends' Meeting House, North Charles street here, Sunday evening November 27, when one part of Uncle Tom's Cabin was shown. No admission was charged. Members of the club are young people of the Quaker church. No music was given with the film.

Marjorie Loft, cashier of Loew's Valencia here, has resigned and has been succeeded by Ethel Wells, formerly phone girl in the Loew offices here.

A new theatre is planned to be built by a company in Frankford, Del., by a company now running a chain of movie houses.

After springing a leak while being taken to Norfolk, Va., from Philadelphia, the James Adams Floating Theatre, was sunk in about 16 feet of water off Thimble Shoals about a mile and a half. S. D. Loveland, of Philadelphia, owns the craft. Two men on the boat were taken aboard the tug. For several years the boat has been spending the winter south and the summer north.

The Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company has bought the Hanark Theatre property, Newark, Del., from Louis Handloff. The theatre building is being razed and a store will be built in its place. Only one movie theatre, the Opera House, is now being operated there.

Options on a piece of property opposite the New Theatre, Easton, Md., have been taken by the Jake Goldberg Theatrical Enterprises from William Reddie and Henry P. Turner. That company plans to build a theatre there. This company also has plans under way to build theatres in Cambridge and Salisbury, Md.

Now having thoroughly recovered from a recent attack of grip George A. Crouch, treasurer of the Stanley-Crandall Company, Washington, D. C., has returned to his office.

The Capitol Theatre, Cumberland, Md., recently remodelled and reseated, is now showing first-run pictures at reduced prices.

EMPIRE FILM VAULTS, INC.
723 Seventh Ave., N. Y. Bryant 5437-5736-2180
STORAGE OF MOTION PICTURE FILMS

Albany

THE Van Curler theatre in Schenectady, N. Y., was quite badly damaged by fire of mysterious origin one day last week. When the firemen arrived, they found two distinct blazes in the theatre, one near the Vitaphone and the other in the vicinity of the organ. The blaze was checked by the sprinkler system and by chemicals.

Jack Byrne, a Metro-Goldwyn salesman in Albany, is now a full fledged Elk, having been initiated last week at Schroon Lake. The work was put on by the Ticonderoga lodge and the affair was held in the Community House, which is owned and operated by Father Blais, a priest in Schroon Lake, who is having much success in running motion picture theatres and who is now planning an active basketball season.

W. A. Clark, of New York city, has been engaged as the organist at Harry Hellman's new Paramount theatre in Albany.

C. E. Taylor opened the Gateway theatre in Antwerp this week. The building has been entirely renovated and additional seats placed.

Arthur Richardson, of Schroon Lake, has closed his theatre for the winter. James Ruane, of North Adams, was forced to close his theatre one night on account of the recent flood and for three days pumps were busy in drawing water out of the engine room.

Vic Bendell, well known in local film circles, left last week for Florida, where he will be stationed this winter as a southern representative for the Kauffman Mat Service.

William Smalley, of Cooperstown, was expected in Albany last week, but word was received that he was ill at his home and would not be able to make the trip. Mr. Smalley has been having considerable dental work done of late, but on his last trip to Albany he said that he was feeling better than in several months.

James Rose, of Troy, who is now booking for Warner Brothers in Albany, stated this week that the condition of his mother was somewhat improved. Mrs. Rose has been seriously ill for the past several weeks at her home in Troy.

The Hudson theatre, which was the first motion picture house in Watervliet, and was opened a number of years ago by Frank Barhydt, is now being converted into a garage.

Exhibitors in Utica were somewhat upset last week when the Mayor approved an ordinance which assures the city of five months' daylight saving running from the first Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September. The proposition was recently carried in a referendum, although stubbornly fought by the exhibitors.

Emanuel Rosen has found that there is little matinee business in the section in which his Palace theatre is located in Troy, and has decided to abandon matinees except on Saturday.

Abe Cohen, manager of the Strand and Rialto theatre in Massena, is installing two of the most modern type of projection booths in his houses.

The Capitol at Ilion observed its second anniversary last week and in addition to the picture program it featured a well known orchestra from the Lake Placid Club.

W. W. Mace of Prattsville has rented his theatre to W. D. Hunt, of Unadilla. The theatre in Phoenicia, run by Keene and Lord, will close shortly for the winter. Julius Byck, of Tannersville, is spending the winter in New York City.

Peter Gorden, of Keeseville, is as proud as the proverbial peacock these days, having bagged his deer during a ten days' hunt in the Adirondacks. Every film salesman who has struck Keeseville during the last week or so, has heard all about the hunt.

Al Barton, who is associated with Lew Fischer in the theatre at Ticonderoga, is spending three weeks at Asheville, N. C. Mrs. Barton accompanied her husband on the southern trip, which was made by automobile.

Basil Brady and. Ed Hayes, of the Pathe forces, were in Gloversville last week.

Arthur Fontana, of Livingston Manor, has closed his theatre for the winter. In other years Mr. Fontana has kept the house open one or two nights a week.

Morris Silverman, of Schenectady, was recently called to New York city by the serious illness of one of his relatives.

The Glove in Gloversville gave a benefit concert last Sunday for the poverty stricken families of eastern Europe. The theatre was well filled.

A three day fashion show and pageant was held last week at the Bardavon in Poughkeepsie wtih R. C. Snow, of New York City as the director.

Many families in Troy enjoyed turkey on Thanksgiving Day, with Jake Rosenthal, owner of the Rose theatre, as the donor. Mr. Rosenthal gave away turkeys for several nights previous to Thanksgiving.

Lew Freiberg, formerly connected with the Albany Fox exchange, is back in town as the local representative of Morris Fitzer and his talking trailers.

Joseph Saperstein, manager of Harmanus-Bleecker Hall in Albany, has arranged for straight week runs, an entirely new policy at this house, and one which will also be followed at the Griswold in Troy.

Moe Silver, successor of Walter Hayes in the Stanley Corporation, was in town during the week, visiting the Stanley houses in Albany and Troy.

Mrs. A. deWolf Veiller, wife of the manager of the Mark Ritz in Albany, is spending ten days at Palm Beach as the guest of relatives.

Owing to a downpour of rain, business at practically all motion picture theatres in this section slumped badly on Thanksgiving afternoon and evening.

George Cohen, a Newburgh theatre owner, has acquired Linden Hall in Middletown, of Thomas Watts, and will remodel the house, after which it will be reopened and known as the Linden Theatre.

George Ferguson, who is connected with the Pathe exchange in Buffalo, was in Albany a few days ago for a conference.

John J. Curry and F. X. Shay, exhibitors of Schenectady, were in New York City recently for the purpose of visiting several of the newer theatres along Broadway.

The Orpheum in Kingston reopened on Wednesday under the direction of Seeley and Miller. The house will operate six days a week with two changes, the program being a combination of vaudeville and pictures. The theatre has been remodeled along Spanish lines and is one of the most beautiful houses in this part of the state.

Harry Lazarus, owner of the Broadway in Kingston, is busy these days in rehearsing the part he will take in a home talent show that will be given in December.

Central Penn

THE management of the Capitol Theatre, Shenandoah, devoted the week of November 21 to a celebration of the completion of its second year of operation. Manager Max Abrams arranged a special program for anniversary week.

The Victoria Theatre, Shamokin, in the hard coal mining belt, sent its own cameraman to the Anthracite Cooperative Conference held in Mount Carmel.

Manager Robert Steele has just installed two new projection machines in the Strand theatre, Carlisle. They are equipped with Peerless reflector arcs.

Between twenty-five and thirty bushels of potatoes were taken in at the box office of Loew's Regent theatre, Harrisburgh, on the morning of Thanksgiving Day, when a children's matinee was given, the price of admittance being two potatoes. About 3,000 children attended the affair which was given under the auspices of the Harrisburg Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with Edward J. Melniker, manager of the theatre. The potatoes were later distributed among the various orphanages of Harrisburg.

For the purpose of making many improvements, announcement was made that the York Opera House, of York, would be closed from December 5 to 26. The theatre is one of the large chain owned and operated by The Nathan Appel Enterprises, in York and vicinity. The entire interior will be redecorated and modern improvements added.

Ed. R. Moore is manager of the theatre which, after Christmas, will be reopened under a new policy as a bi-time house of the Keith-Albee vaudeville circuit.

Interests sponsoring the proposed theatre at Central avenue and First streets, on the South Side, Oil City, announce that the Latonia Theatre Corporation has decided positively to erect the structure. Bids were asked for the removal of the buildings on the Roess property, on the site of the proposed photoplay house, which is now occupied by a dwelling, store room and other structures. It is expected the contract for the removal of these structures will be awarded during December.

C. Floyd Hopkins, district superintendent of the Wilmer & Vincent Theatres of Harrisburg and Reading, was a member of the committee that arranged a farewell supper for Wilbur F. Maxwell, who retired after seven years' service as director of the Harrisburg charities organization. The dinner was in the Penn Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, November 29.

Mrs. Florence Ackley Ley, former director of the Community Service Bureau, maintained in Harrisburg by the Wilmer & Vincent Theatre Company, was in New York City late in November selecting costumes for the Harrisburg Civic Opera Association's production of "Sweethearts."

Alvin Hostler, manager of the Strand theatre, Altoona, in connection with the Santa Claus celebration of the Altoona Booster Association, the week of November 21, arranged for Santa to appear at thte Strand on Friday and Saturday. Santa greeted the kids twice daily, accompanied by his orchestra from the North Pole. Christmas presents were given to the children attending the Saturday matinee.

Manager Alvin Hostler, of the Strand, Altoona, advertises that his theatre is the only one in that city which shows two news reels—Paramount and International.

Chicago

ALFRED ALEXANDER, father of Manager Roy Alexander of Universal, passed away at his home, and hundreds of friends of Roy's are sympathizing with him in his loss. Mr. Alfred Alexander was an old and respected citizen of Chicago, and his death was a shock to the community. He had been ill but was considered on the high way to recovery and passed away suddenly, immediately after partaking dinner with his family.

W. A. Renegar has opened his new theatre, the Jewel, at Eureka. The house is small but well equipped and will be welcomed by the citizens of this town.

District Sales Manager Wallace of United Artists, spent last week in New York City, attending a conference of managers and this week is visiting the Omaha exchange, which is in his territory.

Clinton Vidor, who for some time past has been connected with FBO as a salesman covering Peoria territory, has resigned.

Fred Barlow, who has been handling the publicity on U. A. product, has been assigned to Canadian territory and left for his new post this week.

Manager Herbert Washburn and the entire FBO sales staff are working country territory this week. The only exception is Len Ullrich, who is looking after the city business during their absence.

Jack Sampson has resigned as president of the Chicago Film Board of Trade after serving three years in that capacity, and the members are planning a testimonial dinner to Mr. Sampson, to show their appreciation of the splendid work he did during his occupancy of the office. Mr. Sampson's resignation was made necessary by his retirement from the exchange end of the business.

Eddie Lindeman of New York, who is well known in Chicago, through his former associations with United Artists, and as special representative for Harold Lloyd, was visiting this city for several days on personal business.

Paul Busch has resigned as manager of Tiffany Exchange and expects to announce a new connection within a few days. Divisional Manager McLaughlin is handling the local exchange pending the appointment of another manager.

February is to be Kennedy Month in honor of the FBO official's second anniversary of his connection with the industry, and the local exchange is getting set for a big drive in his honor.

Frank Schaefer of the Crystal Theatre, accompanied by his wife, is scheduled to leave for New York City on Sunday. They are planning to spend about ten days in the east.

Louis St. Pierre, general manager for Great States Theatres, Inc., in Rockford, has been confined to his home for ten days as a result of a breakdown caused by overwork getting the big Rockford Theatre opened. Mr. St. Pierre is improving and is expected back at his office in a few days. In the meantime, Clyde Winans of the Madison Theatre, Peoria, is assisting Manager G. T. Contois in charge of the Rockford house.

Nine members of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sales staff, including all the city salesmen except Messrs. Ishmael and Schwartz, are visiting Illinois and Indiana Theatres outside of Chicago. This is the first time in eight years that Oscar Florine has oiled up his automobile for a country sales trip and it is a long time since Eddie Bricketto, who is heading for Southern Illinois, has left Chicago.

"The Jazz Singer" opened at the Garrick Theatre on Tuesday, for an extended run, Sam Morris and Abe Warner being in attendance, coming from New York especially for its Chicago premier. Lou Berger and Max Slott are in charge of "The Jazz Singer" during its Chicago run.

All Great States theatre managers were pleased to receive Thanksgiving day greetings from Jules J. Rubens, who cabled his best wishes for the day from Naples, Italy.

Hazel Brown, recently affiliated with the Balaban & Katz organization in Chicago, is now connected with Filmack Company, Chicago, trailer producers. Miss Brown plans to divert her time keeping in contact with the theatres of the territory.

Joe Koppel last week celebrated his fifth anniversary as manager of the Village Theatre, Wilmette. The pleasing part of the celebration was the flowers and congratulatory messages which he received from citizens of the village, with whom Mr. Koppel has fostered pleasant relations. The Village Theatre is changing its policy from three to four shows a week and reducing the evening price for children to ten cents.

James Gillick, who has been associated with Pathe exchange for many years, for the past five as branch manager, has resigned. He hs not as yet announced his future plans.

Salt Lake City

DISTRICT MANAGER SETH D. PERKINS of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation has been in this city for several weeks and is leaving the latter part of this week for Denver.

J. Woody, from the Hal Roach studios, is in the Salt Lake Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exchange for a short time, after which it is reported he will make Denver.

Louis Marcus of the Louis Marcus Enterprises left here a few days ago to spend a couple of weeks on the Pacific Coast at San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Western Coast Editor Raleigh B. Nichol of Pathe News, has been arranging for a staff of local camera men for Pathe News during his visit of a few days.

Pathe District Manager R. S. Ballantyne left the local exchange last week after having held a three day conference with Manager Al O'Keefe of the local branch.

It is reported here that the Paramount Empress Theatre, under the management of Carl A. Porter, will exclude stage attractions commencing next week and will have a straight picture program.

A special stage offering, however, will be presented at the Paramount Empress, December 7th, known as the Annual Junior Aid Show, which will be put on under the direction of Oliver Alberti, band leader at the Capitol.

Marion Mack, well known film star, made a personal appearance at the Capitol Theatre of this city this week during her stop over here enroute to New York.

During the opening of the street lighting system in the vicinity of tthe Capitol Theatre here last week, Louis Marcus, head of the Louis Marcus Enterprises, George E. Carpenter, Secretary of these enterprises and also manager of the Capitol, and Alberti, orchestra leader, were filmed in a motion picture which was taken of the ceremonies during which time the street was ablaze with Keieg lights. The pictures are being shown at the Capitol, Paramount Empress and Victory theatres.

Manager H. H. Milstein of the Universal office here, returned this week for the Thanksgiving holidays after a trip into Idaho.

Traveling Auditor W. K. Lendon left Salt Lake Universal exchange last week for Los Angeles, after having been here for some time checking over the local accounts.

Associated First National's Western Sales Manager F. W. Hatch, spent a few days at the office in this city during his regular tour of inspection, it is reported.

The Associated First National sales representatives, Vete Stewart and Claude Hawkes were in for Thanksgiving from their territories.

Manager Clyde H. Messinger just came in from a sales trip in the state of Idaho, where he has been in the interest of his Educational productions.

Local Branch Manager Chas. Walker returned home last week to his duties at the Fox office here after having made a tour of the Idaho branch.

A conference is being held at the Fox exchange in this city due to the arrival this week of J. R. Granger, general sales manager. Special Representative Ben F. Rosenberg is also in the Salt Lake office at this time, it is reported.

H. H. Stern, manager here for United Artists, is returning within the next few days from the Montana territory.

Wm. McFarlane, owner of the Manti Theatre at Manti, Utah, arrived in this city several days ago for the purpose of arranging bookings for his house, as did T. M. Chesler of the Princess Theatre at Bingham, Utah.

George Allen of the theatres at Boise and Nampa, Idaho, conferred with exchange managers here last week regarding the new productions.

John Rugar of Park City, Utah, and the Peery Brothers of Ogden, Utah, were among well known exhibitors visiting the local exchange row this week.

Manager E. E. Harris of the Columbia Exchange in this city is sending in the contracts from an extended trip into Idaho. Salesman Fred Young is covering the Southern part of Utah.

Wedding bells have been ringing along film row this week for Rose Bluck, booker at the FBO exchange.

Manager Fred Lind of the FBO office in Salt Lake, is now traveling throughout the Southern part of the state of Utah. Salesmen Milton Cohn and A. W. Baron are making their respective territories [illegible]

[illegible] the Tiffany Pictures Corporation [illegible] Lake branch.

UNIFORMS FOR HOUSE ATTACHES COSTUMES FOR STAGE PRESENTATIONS BROOKS 1437 B'way N. Y. City

San Francisco

ONE of the outstanding motion picture theatres under construction at this time is the new Endert Theatre, Crescent City. This house will incorporate all of the very latest and most modern equipment and furnishings which the present-day market affords. B. E. Enders, has placed an order for a complete installation, including a Kilgen organ, chairs, stage and booth equipment and all supplies incidental to the operating of a first class motion picture house.

Mrs. Alice Bates of Portola, California, was a recent visitor to San Francisco.

Joe Rucker, Manager of Paramount News Department, has gone to China. He expects to pick up some interesting things for the Paramount News during the four Greenwald of Los Angeles is assuming the duties of Rucker dur- or five months he will be there. A. ing his absence.

Miss Eleanor Twohig, 19, a San Francisco beauty contest winner in 1926, was married November 16th to Edward Husong, house manager at the Granada Theatre.

The ceremony was performed in the Justice Court at Redwood City in the presence of a small group of friends and relatives. Miss Twohig is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Twohig, 1454 Leavenworth Street. She has been cashier at the California Theatre for the last year. Husong is 24. Following a short honeymoon automobile trip to Yosemite Valley, they will make their home here.

Wayland Taylor, one of Paramount's popular young men, has returned from one of his trips in the territory, where he has been roadshowing.

John Ragland, General Sales Manager for Columbia Pictures, is visiting in the local exchange this week.

L. N. Walton, a former exhibitor of Portland, Oregon, is working out of the Universal Office as salesman in the North and South Coast territory. Walton is an old timer in the film business, his first position dating back to Mutual Film days.

L. O. Lukan, First National's District Manager, was here for a few days.

Jimmie Woods, owner of the Red Bluff Theatre, was a recent visitor on Film Row.

Tocchini, manager and owner of tthe Royal Theatre, Sebastopol, was an out of town visitor last week.

Messrs. Pierson and McInnie are the owners of the new theatre at Minden, Nevada, which opened November 19th.

Canada

THE Columbia theatre, New Westminster, B. C., the first of the atmospheric theatres in Canada, following the Spanish garden style in interior decoration, is under the management of J. Millman, well-known in Western theatre circles for some time past. The appointment is announced by H. M. Thomas of Vancouver, Western supervisor of theatres for Famous Players Canadian Corp.

Stanley Greig, operator at the Strand Theatre, Hamilton, Ontario, holds the record, according to Alderman H. E. Wilton, manager of the Strand. In more than a year, Mr. Greig has not once showed a blank screen nor had a film break during a performance, even though programmes are changed three times weekly. He inspects every foot of film before it is screened, regardless of its age or origin.

Victor McLaglen, the "Captain Flagg" of "What Price Glory," has been discovered, following the presentation of the picture at the Metropolitan Theatre, Winnipeg, of which Walter Davis is manager.

McLaglen was recognized by a number of Winnipeg people as a former police officer of Winnipeg and it was found that he had joined the local force on June 10, 1907. His brother, Fred, was also a Winnipeg policeman. Both were prominent in boxing and wrestling. During the war, Victor went to England where he served with the Imperial Army. Fred went to New York City from Winnipeg, where he engaged in a number of boxing bouts before the war.

Godfrey Corriveau has been appointed manager of the Windsor Theatre, a suburban house of Vancouver, B. C., by Famous Players. Mr. Corriveau was the second man to become identified with the automobile business in Vancouver, this being in 1907. In 1911, he built the Grandview Theatre, which he operated for a number of years, later going to the Globe, Columbia and Kitsilano Theatres.

Ed. Gilmore, manager of the Capitol at Windsor, Ontario, marched the whole 450 members of the Essex Scottish Regiment into the theatre for the opening performance of a British picture.

Harry Parkinson, late of Loew's Theatre, Toronto, has been appointed conductor of the orchestra of the Capitol Theatre, Kingston, Ontario, by Manager Ernest Smithies. The Capitol orchestra has been increased in size and otherwise improved, music now being a strong feature at the house.

Minneapolis

A NEW one-story brick building now under construction at Eleventh street and First Avenue north, Minneapolis, will be occupier after the first of the month by Universal and First National. The quarters of the two companies are exactly alike with five film vaults. projection and screening rooms and all other exchange features.

The Theatre Owners' film exchange in Minneapolis is to have the addition of at least two salesmen according to announcement of General Manager Steffes. Edgar Burke has already joined the forces and next week will see the advent of the second man, H. W. Helmbold and Sam Goldflam are already members of the sales force, which is getting ready for a campaign for new business.

Recent visitors in Minneapolis included Barney Benfield of Morris, Minn., Joe Schindele of Granite Falls, Minn., C. T. Schnee of Litchfield, Minn., S. A. Sirley, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer district maanger from Chicago; Julius Edelstein of Hibbing, Minn.; A. S. Abrose, special representative from the United Artists home office and Tom Foster, owner of the Star theatre at Stanley, Wis.

Al Anderson has been promoted by Paramount Famous Lasky corporation from head booker at the Minneapolis branch to salesman working out of Sioux Falls.

There will be a new theatre at Bowbells, N. D., as soon as extensive repairs have been completed on a store building there. The new house is to be used for stage plays and dances while the Royal theatre will be used only for motion pictures.

M. Westberg of the firm of Hanson and Westberg, owner of the Liberty theatre at Adams, N. D., was a recent visitor in the Twin Cities.

Detroit

CARL SHALIT has been appointed Detroit manager for Tiffany-Stahl productions after spending several months on the sales force and officiating in the capacity of assistant branch manager. It has also been announced that Ralph Peckham will cover the state territory.

Two Detroiters, Walter B. Collins and S. D. Chapman, were elected for a third time to First National's K. O. Club. Eleven men qualified for membership this season, two being tied for tenth place. Salesmen elected to the club for the second and third time are given $1,000 each of extra insurance by F. N.

Another 2,500 seat house opened Nov. 23 with a picture and vaudeville presentation policy. The latest is called Great Lakes.

Beginning next week, presentation programs from the Hollywood will be broadcast over WWJ, the Detroit News, according to an announcement issued by Ben and Lou Cohen who opened the house a short time ago with a stage show and second run film policy.

Pictures and burlesque will be featured in the Avenue hereafter although the house has been running for many years with straight burlesque. Entire booth equipment was installed by the McArthur Equipment Company, a local firm.

New York & New Jersey

A GOOD meal, plenty of dancing and a well-put-on-show seem to be the consensus of opinion regarding the affair given last Saturday evening at the Hotel Commodore by the Motion Picture Salesmen, Inc., a local organization devoted to furthering the cause of the boys who sell this industry's product.

At least a thousand people were in attendance and it is said that the behavior of everyone was of the kind that even Mr. Volstead would have approved. Another most interesting feature of the entertainment was that no flowery speeches or useless patter was indulged in; this sort of stuff does not go with these boys. They hold these affairs to add a fund to their treasury department and to eat and be merry and on this occasion it is reported that $7,500 additional ducats were laid away to swell a fund that is used for many charitable purposes. Messrs. Solomon and Trauner, as well as all others connected with the arrangements of these affairs, are to be congratulated for the efficient way they are handled.

Once again a small chain of theatres in the Park Slope section of Brooklyn has changed hands. These are the Eden, Garfield, Avon and 16th Street theatres, at one time the property of Pear Bros., then going to Jennell and Peckelner and now under control of George Gerhauser and Son. This chain is in the same nighborhood from which the new Loew project will draw when completed.

Samuel Lawrence has succeeded Arthur Brillant as manager of Universals recently opened atmospheric theatre at New Utrecht Aveneu and 43d Street, Brooklyn.

Charles Finesilver is at present looking after the management of the Alhambra theatre, Knickerbocker Avenue and Halsey Street, Brooklyn, in the absence of Eddie Canter who is at present slowly recovering from a recent illness in the Lebanon hospital. Mr. Finesilver was connected with the Leo Brecher theatres for a period of seven years and is an experienced showman.

Eddie Canter, while still seriously ill, is now said to be on the road to good health and his many acquaintances will be happy to see him out again.

According to Moe Seider, publicity manager for the Babylon and Bayshore theatres down on Long Island, the folks out in these towns like their amusement flavored with fishing and hunting. In the Summer when the "blues and weaks" are running they, like the Alaskans, all fish; now that the duck hunting season is open, every mother's son who can tote a gun is sitting out in a blind waiting a chance to pour a load of shot into a speeding mallard or broadbill.

In addition to supervising several other theatres of a circuit, George Lambert is managing the Beverley theatre, 110 Church Avenue, Brooklyn. The Windsor, Culver, etc., are in this theatre chain.

Calderone's new Westbury theatre is enjoying a brisk trade, according to report.

Genial Moe Rosenthal, who operates the theatre known as Moe's Scenic at 500 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, paid the curb a shopping visit this week.

J. Siegle is the new manager of Loew's Canal Street theatre.

The Lyceum theatre, 55th street and 3d Avenue, recently closed by Jos. Steinkritz, will be reopened by Frank Koren. Mr. Koren is a well known and pioneer exhibitor around New York City, having at one time the old Atlantic Gardens.

Harry Decker has been recently appointed manager of Brooklyn territory for the local Warner Brothers exchange.

Franklin Backer is expected to open his new 1,600 seat motion picture theatre at Palisades Park, N. J., the early part of next week. Dec. 6, is the tentative date of the premiere. A picture program coupled with Vitaphone presentations will be the house policy. Mr. Backer formerly managed the Grant Lee theatre for E. Thornton Kelley.

Wearing his new title as debonairly as does his namesake, Prince Carol, "Eddie" Carroll, recently appointed assistant to Manager Wolf of the Pathe-New Jersey sales division, may now be seen sitting in his office on the 5th floor of 1600 Broadway. It is located in almost the same spot from which Mr. Carroll used to purvey the erstwhile Associated wares.

High class flash acts, stage jazz bands, masters of ceremonies, etc., are invading theatres other than those situated in the big cities in these days of stiff competition among picture houses.

Beginning Saturday, Dec. 3, an eight piece stage orchestra and three other acts will augment the presentation policy of Sam Perry's Englewood theatre, Englewood, N. J. Earl Williams, formerly with Charles Nelson at the Branford theatre, Newark, will act as master of ceremonies.

The opening games of the motion picture basketball league will be held at the Savage School of Physical Training, 308 West 59th Street, on Thursday, December 1 at 7 P. M., when Fox will play United Artists, Pathe tackles Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and Paramount meet Consolidated Films. Following the games there will be a get together dance in which the rooters and players of the various film companies will participate. Music will be furnished by the Paramount Orchestra.

Last season, the Pathe quintet won the movie basketball trophy by capturing 8 straight games, but with Paramount entered in the league this year, while the other movie teams have been strengthened, there is sure to be a nip-and-tuck race.

Al Star, of Fox Films, who conducted the movie basketball tournament last year, has again been appointed chairman of the motion picture basketball league.

In preparation for a series of matches with other motion picture bowling teams, the Fox Athletic Club is conducting an inter-departmental tournament, of which the in the fight for the lead. This week the Laboratory bowlers won 4 out first four teams are closely bunched of 6 games and took first position, displacing the Auditors. The present standing of the teams is as follows: Laboratory, won 10 and lost 2; Auditing 9-3; Traffic 8-4; General Sales 7-5; Fox News 3-9; Publicity 0-12.

Bowling chairman Moe Krane has arranged a series of games to total 45 for each group, the tournament being held at Dwyer's Academy.

The Westchester theatre, under Savage management in the Bronx, is reported as having definitely closed its doors.

Milwaukee

THE safe of the Majestic theatre at Lake Geneva was stolen early this week, according to Dan Kelliher, manager, looted of its contents, the receipts of several performances at the Majestic, and dropped near Springfield where Mr. Kelliher later recovered it.

The new Zenith theatre, a 1400 seat house, was opened to the public on Wednesday night. Eddie Maertz is the owner of the new house.

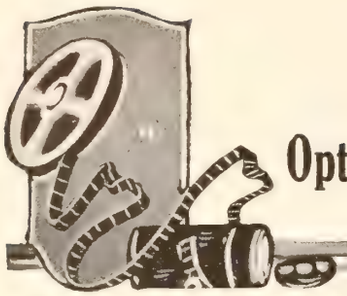
The Allen theatre at Jefferson was opened on the 25th for its first performance since the theatre was remodeled. The old theatre was completely remodeled after it was purchased by a local circuit, the Universal Theatre Co., and is now three stories high, each of which is used by the theatre. The house seats 497. Bill Copeland is managing the Allen.

Fire broke out in the projection room of the Badger theatre at Reedsburg on Saturday night. According to O. V. Kelly, manager, the fire was quickly extinguished, but not before it caused considerable loss in the booth, and patrons very quietly walked out of the house.

Sam Miller of the Fischer Theatre Circuit was in the city early in the week making final preparations for the opening of the new Fischer theatre in Oshkosh.

Frank Walter's new theatre at Wausau was formally opened on the 24th. Many Milwaukee film folks went up for the celebration. The Grand theatre was razed several months ago and the new theatre erected on the site. The new theatre is one of the most attractive theatres in the northwest.

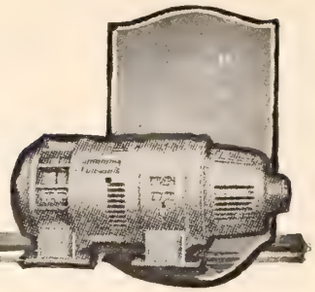
Harry Krass has been added to the Tiffany sales force. Mr. Krass was previously associated with Universal in Minneapolis.



The Film Board of Trade sent a delegation of four men to Minneapolis to confer with the Minneapolis Board. The party was comprised of Sam Shurman, manager of M-G-M branch, F. J. McCarthy, manager of First National exchange, Charles Trampe, manager of Mid-West exchange, and Ben Koenig, secretary of the Film Board. John Ludwig of the Ludwig exchange accompanied the members of the Film Board to Minneapolis.

Milwaukee was well represented at the opening of the new Fischer theatre at Oshkosh on the night of the 23rd. Among those who went up were Sam Abrams, manager of F B O branch; Lyman L. Ballard, United Artists representative; F. G. Sliter, manager of Fox exchange; Charles Trampe, manager of Mid-West; Eph Rosen, manager of Tiffany; George Levine of Universal exchange; Fred Meyers, manager of the Alhambra theatre; Roy Langford of National Theatre Supply; N. Blumberg, manager of Milwaukee Theatre Circuit; M. R. Kraker, Paramount representative; Ed. Weisman, manager of Education; Johnny Strain, booker for Saxe circuit. Joe Shore, director of the Parkway theatre orchestra of Madison, flew to Oshkosh in one of the new Madison air line planes, accompanied by several officials of the company. Jack Yeo, manager of the Odeon and Davison theatres at Beaver Dam, was also present at the opening celebration.

The bowling league is still going strong, the Scenics leading the league, with the Features second, Serials third, Comedies and News Reels tied for fourth and Cartoons trailing last. Steve Bauer holds honors for high individual score for three games, with a total of 615 to his credit. Winnie de Lorenzo rolled 232 which gives him high single honors.



Dates Tiffany sales of the Park and Auditorium theatres at Waukesha called on several of the exchanges on Tuesday.

S. W. Hatch, First National western sales manager, arrived at the Milwaukee branch on Tuesday from Minneapolis.

Projection

Optics, Electricity, Practical Ideas & Advice

Inquiries and Comments

Stereoscopic Lenses

IN the past five or six years a veritable parade of "stereoscopic" devices have been brought to the attention of exhibitors with the expectation that they would be seized upon as offering the ultimate in the projection of motion pictures.

The devices for which stereoscopic properties have at one time or another been claimed, have included practically every element which goes to make up a motion picture projection optical system—even certain light sources have been credited with it.

Aside from those devices which really are capable of producing true stereoscopic effects—and which, by the way, involve binocular vision—we have the more stable and prosaic elements which were first introduced into the optical system to do one specific thing. Specifically, these fundamental elements are comprised of the light source; the condensing system; the projection lens; and the screen.

All of these elements have, at one time or another, been attributed with possessing stereoscopic possibilities. First, we had the "stereoscopic" screen. Indeed, everything under the sun has been claimed for some screens except the one thing for which a screen is really used, and that is the faithful registration of the projected image.

Functions of the Screen

Perfect registration in combination with distributing characteristics which favor the seating area are the two functions of any motion picture screen and, if the screen manufacturer can successfully combine these two in his screen, he has done all that can be expected of him.

It seems as though certain screen manufacturers cannot rest until they have endowed their product with "stereoscopic" properties. No screen by itself can produce a stereoscopic picture—it simply cannot be done. If a screen has good registration, and if the film picture itself shows proper perspective, then the projected image will have an appearance of depth, to a certain extent. The screen, however, cannot put something into the image which, in the first place, was never in the film picture.

"Sterescopic" Light Sources

Next, we have the "stereoscopic" light source. This may be either of the arc type or the incandescent lamp, no partiality being shown either since the claims at various times have been applied to both.

We have been told that both of these sources have some mysterious property which magically changes an otherwise flat, dull, and uninteresting picture into one with depth, sparkle and brilliance. All this merely by the use of light alone, nothing else being required. We have even been told, in all seriousness, that it is quite possible for some light sources to give a sharply defined picture while yet others can only produce a blurred image. This is truly remarkable, and shows wide latitude in the characteristics of the humble light source.

In the lack of definite proof of these claims, however, we are forced to believe that light source cannot produce stereoscopic effects on the screen—nor, for that matter, can it affect the definition of the projected image.

The "Stereoscopic" Projector

More recently, we have been introduced to the "stereoscopic" projector. Just what this "stereoscopic" projector is, or what it looks like, we have been unable to learn, because extended inquiries on our part have produced nothing but hazy, very hazy, descriptions from persons purporting to know all about it.

Two of the "stereoscopic" projectors were to be used in the Roxy Theatre, and provisions were made for them in the projection room. For some reason they were never delivered and, as far as we can learn, "Roxy" is still waiting for them. In this respect he is really fortunate—much more fortunate than he was in his selection of the "stereoscopic" screen, which was delivered and installed and then removed. "Roxy" has not yet forgotten that sad experience.

The phantom "stereoscopic" projector, without wasting time in trying to describe its appearance or operation, is, or rather was, supposed to produce true stereoscopic pictures with the assistance of no agency other than the projector itself. It was announced about eighteen months ago and to date not a single one has even been tried out in a theatre. Need more be said?

The "Stereoscopic" Projection Lens

And now, wonder of wonders, we have the "stereoscopic" projection lens of "F-2.4" fame. The announcement of this lens completes the cycle and forms the last link in the chain of "stereoscopic" elements in the motion picture projection system—each of which, in itself, possesses the remarkable property of producing stereoscopic pictures. There is now no single element left for which this claim can be made, unless it be a new form of aperture plate, which, in some mysterious manner, like the "stereoscopic" light source, can be made to show stereoscopic pictures.

This new projection lens, in all fairness, deserves a certain amount of credit, because it was the first all-correct half-size lens to appear on the market at a time when such a lens was sorely needed in conjunction with the reflector arc. Because it was the first lens of this kind to be marketed it has enjoyed a marked degree of popularity, and has become more or less established in the better theatres of the country. It is a far cry, however, from an all-corrected lens to a "stereoscopic" lens, and we fail to see why the correction of a lens over its entire surface should influence its so-called "stereoscopic" properties.

It is the primary function of any projection lens to faithfully image the film picture placed before it. The second function of the lens is to transmit as high a percentage of light as possible. A highly corrected lens, having a high transmission factor, is a good lens, and, if the speed of the lens is sufficient to meet the normal demands of the operating conditions, nothing more can reasonably be expected of it.

Furthermore, no lens, no matter how good it may be, can possibly introduce "depth of focus" into a picture if the "makings" for such "depth of forms" are not already in the film picture.

A lens can only reproduce what it sees, nothing more; and if it does a good job in that respect it is doing enough.

Stereoscopic pictures cannot be produced by any single element; certainly not by a screen, light source, projector, or projection lens.

As for the matter of one lens projecting a brighter picture than another, if both are of the same speed and are highly corrected, the difference in illumination upon the screen will be so slight as to be imperceptible to the naked eye.

Let us leave this matter of stereoscopic pictures to those devices especially constructed for that work, a number of which, already, have been given extended trials in theatres with none of them being used permanently.

Be satisfied if every element in the projector optic system does the work required of it in an effective and efficient manner.

Temple Theatre Opens in Louisville, Ky.

The Temple Theatre, in Louisville, Ky., opened November 23. The house, which has a seating capacity of 1,200, plans to run feature pictures, with stage presentations and occasional road-show attractions.

Frank Holland, a theatre executive of many years' experience, is managing director of the house. James E. Dunne, president of the Temple Theatre Corporation, is the one who first proposed a modern amusement structure on the site of the old Hopkins Ttheatre.

Matches Movietone Film With Newsreel

When the Movietone portions of the newsreel at the Roxy Theatre appear before the audience the image on the screen is normal in size, but this is due only to the ingenuity of Arthur Smith, chief projectionist.

The Movietone film uses a small strip of space on one side to record the photographed impression of the sound. This, naturally, has the effect of making the image thrown on the screen narrower than that of the ordinary film.

In order to run the Movietone portions along with the regular soundless portions, Mr. Smith has devised an aperture, or mask, cutting down the top and bottom of the film so that the film itself is exactly the same shape as the standard film. An extra lens then enlarges the image to fill the screen on the stage.

Harry Hellman Opens New Albany Theatre

Under conditions that left little to be desired, the Paramount Theatre, a 1,000-seat semi-residential house, owned and operated by Harry Hellman, a veteran exhibitor, was opened in Albany, Nov. 4. The Paramount represents an investment of about $150,000, and is most modern in every respect.

Mr. Hellman's house has a seating capacity of about 1,000 persons and is without a balcony. It is located in a neighborhood from which Mr. Hellman expects to be able to draw sufficient to make the house a paying venture.

Mr. Hellman is no novice in the business. He opened his first theatre on Longwood Avenue, in the Bronx, in 1908. This was a 299-seat house, and was run by Mr. Hellman for three years. Later on he operated The Fairlyland in Albany, which had a seating capacity of 299. He also conducted the Orpheum, which was remodeled from an old church. For the past eight years he has been the owner of the Royal, a 650-seat house, which has always been a paying venture.

The lighting effects are of regulation type, both overhead and on the sidewalls, and were selected by Mrs. Hellman herself. The seats were purchased from the Heywood-Wakefield Company, of New York, and are of a color design that fits in with the house. The ventilating system was designed by Mr. Hellman.

The screen is of the Dalite gold fibre type and was furnished by the National Theatre Supply Company, which also furnished the stage drapes and other of the equipment. The organ was manufactured by the Kilgen Company. The theatre will be managed by Mr. Hellman's son, Neil.

Considerable attention has been paid to the projection and the rooms given over to this are most modern and very well equipped. There are two motiograph de luxe machined and two Peerless automatic arc control lamps, manufactured by the J. E. McAuley Company, of Chicago. The motors were furnished by Robbins and Myers, of Springfield, Ohio. The transverter is a product of the Hertner Electric Company, of Cleveland. The dimmer is a product of the Cutler-Hammer Manufacturing Company, of Milwaukee, while the Syncrovertor was made by the Liberty Electric Corporation of Stamford, Conn.

Publix' Alabama Opening Set for Dec. 26

Announcement is made that the official opening of Publix' new $1,500,000 theatre, the Alabama, will take place December 26. Workmen are putting the finishing touches on Birmingham's newest amusement palace, and all preparations are being made for a monster demonstration opening week. Local merchants have agreed to decorate their stores for the occasion, and Manager Sidney Dannenberg has plastered the town with snipes, banners and cards, in addition to mailing several thousand personal letters to patrons.

This Emblem Means Hotel Headquarters in Hollywood

Each year the Hollywood Plaza Hotel provides headquarters for the film executives and artists of the world.

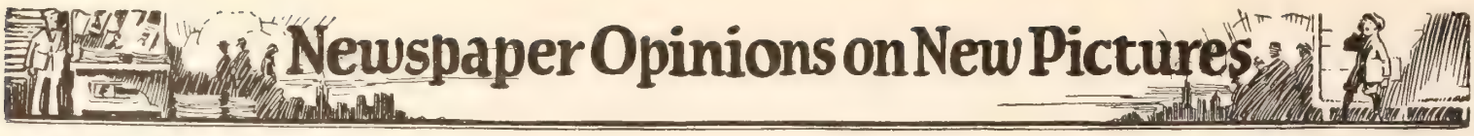
It is because of good food, good service and good everything that this host of guests stop here.

Conveniently located, attractive in surroundings — homelike — these are other features that appeal.

THE HOLLYWOOD PLAZA HOTEL

Vine and Hollywood Blvd.
Hollywood, Calif.

RADIO-MAT PATENTED
RADIO-MAT SLIDE CO. INC.
TALK from your screen
WITH your quickly
TYPEWRITTEN MESSAGES.
WHITE, AMBER or GREEN.
Accept no substitute.
NEW YORK
IS THE STATIONERY OF THE SCREEN



STOCK PROGRAMS
PROGRAM COVERS
For
Moving Picture Houses
Joseph Hoover & Sons Company
Market and 49th Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Standard
VAUDEVILLE
for
Motion Picture Presentation
THE FALLY MARKUS AGENCY
Astor Theatre Building
N. W. Cor. 45th St. & Broadway
Lackawanna 7876

Buyers Guide Out This Month
12 Pages in Color

Pass the Public into your THEATRE
WITH Precision -- Ease and Smartness!
GOLD SEAL TICKET REGISTER PRODUCTS
Standard Box Office Protection
15TH YEAR OF FAITHFUL SERVICE
AUTOMATIC TICKET REGISTER CORPORATION
723 SEVENTH AVE
NEW YORK CITY
GOLD SEAL
Patents Controlled Exclusively

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN CO. 345 W. 39TH ST. NEW YORK

"The Gorilla"—First National, Ambassador Theatre, St. Louis

Times: "If you like mystery pictures you will enjoy 'The Gorilla.' Worth going to for laughs alone. Murray at his best as terribly dumb detective. Kelsey just as funny as his partner . . . excellent in effects and 'spooky' situations. Saturday's audience did scream; in fact, we saw several of 'stronger sex' grip edges of their seats and chew their finger nails as they watched 'The Gorilla' stalk from door to door. Marshall does some excellent acting."

Post Dispatch: "Was tremendous success on spoken stage and there is no reason why it should not prove same on screen. Picture at its best in lighter moments. Really a comedy and as such is entertaining . . . Chills and thrills. Murray and Kelsey, couple of exceptionally dumb comedy detectives."

Globe Democrat: "Thrills and thrills, laughs and swiftly moving story. For those who like mystery plays, 'The Gorilla' comes up to all expectations."

Star: "Certainly is creepy sort, the new picture. All devices for creating spookish atmosphere are used with effect. Acting is good."

"Ragtime"—First Division Distributors, Inc., Chicago.

Tribune: "Has us all for its friend, 'cause it was acted so well and with such whole-souled zest. Everybody in piece appeared to be in such tiptop shape and having such a whale of a good time, and so dead set in making you all join hands and enjoy ttheir party with them. One piece of clever work blazed out from among other shining bits. It was that of Robert Ellis, who, as a chap called 'Slick,' gave one of most finished impersonations I have ever seen. Humdinger of a comedy."

"Rose of the Golden West"—First National, Washington Street Olympia Theatre, Boston

Transcript: "A well made and entertaining specimen of costume filming. Filled with intrigue, mystery, hard riding, straight shooting and desperate and thrilling deeds. Makes most of Miss Astor's delicately chiselled and mobile features, gives full opportunity for Roland to display his powers. Exploits to utmost, with carefully contrived photography, colorful atmosphere of period, inherent romance of background and hot-blooded, generous-hearted nature of characters. Displays artful hand of Fitzmaurice at his best."

Advertiser: "Film has many appealing points. Miss Astor never looked lovelier. Hers are charms that perfectly suit romance of old Golden West. Roland happily cast . . . expert directing always to be found in Fitzmaurice's pictures."

Herald: "A pulse-stirring romance. Fitzmaurice offers theatregoing public love story in gorgeous setting. Roland proves to be one of few facile actors of screen. Fitzmaurice has succeeded in bringing to screen all flashing life, color and hot-blooded romance of old California. His scenes are treat to eye."

Post: "Lovely Mary Astor and screen's new lover, Roland, quite at home in many romantic moments. Miss Astor has particular flair for wearing beautiful Spanish shawls and head dresses. For thrills we have Seyffertitz, always villain, and Love, less villainous than usual . . . Superb scenic effects."

Traveler: "Mary Astor looks divine in Spanish costumes. Roland rapidly coming to fore as one of cinema's most acceptable leading men. Love is excellent. Offers considerable diversion."

"The Crystal Cup"—First National, Boston

American: "A daring drama, unusual in theme and treatment, skillfully directed and acted. Affords Dorothy Mackaill best screen role, in which she acquits herself creditably."

Advertiser: "Unusual and intensely dramatic. The time-honored triangle drama with some novel twists. Her role shows best points in Miss Mackaill's equipment . . . very fine cast all around."

Herald: "A daring drama, skillfully acted,—gives Dorothy Mackaill greatest screen role. Mulhall proves versatile actor playing drama with same ability which has won him success in many comedy roles."

Globe: "Affords Dorothy Mackaill role in which she acquits herself more than creditably . . . Efficient cast."

Traveler: "If you are seeking unusual plot, by all means see this film. Miss Mackaill manages to look startlingly mannish."

"Body and Soul"—M-G-M, Capitol Theatre, New York City

Telegram: "Excellent melodrama . . . Splendid performances by three featured players. Barrymore gives best performance of recent years as hopeless drunk who nevertheless retails fundamental decency of soul, and Miss Pringle is ideal as rather bewildered and quite unmoral Swiss chambermaid."

Evening World: "Gripping and highly engrossing. . . . One of best things this member of Barrymore family has done. Miss Pringle not far behind him, and Kerry is excellent."

Graphic: "One of screen's finest actors in splendid, dramatic characterization. Lionel Barrymore takes one of most difficult assignments character man could have, and makes of this camera personality a vivid, striking being."

American: "Different movie and worth-while. Miss Pringle and Barrymore give much sincere and consistent characterizations that it is a joy to watch them perform and difficult to tell to whom first acting honors belong."

Telegram: "Red-blooded drama. . . . Picture lavishly produced and there is goodly quantity of realism in role which gives shots of mountains. . . . Barrymore has been given role which gives him ample chance to sink his teeth deep into drama. His work as insane medico is of herculean histrionic strength."

News: "We cannot lavish too much praise on Barrymore. Marvelous character actor. . . . Photography — silhouette shots especially—beautiful and extremely effective."

Journal: "Entertainingly dramatic yarn, story tâking place in Swiss Alps. Barrymore does excellent work. Handles characterization that might have been too melodramatic with convincing ease.'

"Wings"—Paramount, Erlanger Theatre, Chicago

American: "I don't think it's called in trade a $2 picture. I think it's worth five times that. One of greatest pictures ever made. Its love theme is easily on a par with that of 'The Big Parade' and actual scenes of conflicts that it shows absolutely the most unusual thus far. Rises above puny efforts."

Tribune: 'Brilliant, poignant and honest work, close copy of tragic, flaming tapestry woven in skies 'over there.' 'Wings,' the picture, is the war as the birdmen knew it."

Herald Examiner: "As a spectacle 'Wings' is well worth anybody's time. Air scenes different from anything that has yet been filmed and thrilling enough to lift most hardshelled ticketholder out of seat."

Journal of Commerce: "Is magnificent picture, more beautiful because it is true. Fairly sweeps you off your balance, and captures a tear or a tightening of the throat."

"The College Widow"—Warner Brothers, Mark Strand Theatre, New York City

Morning Telegraph: "Simply grand."

American: "Football game is thrilling and picture itself will please. Dolores Costello makes a fascinating little flirt."

Times: "Originality, good humor and competent acting. Excellent football scenes. Miss Costello charming."

Herald-Tribune: "Adroitly played and directed. If you are tired of college pictures, try this one. It is different. Miss Costello does some really fine acting."

Journal: "Football scenes well handled and plot is amusing."

"Douglas Fairbanks as The Gaucho" — United Artists, Grauman's Chinese Theatre, Los Angeles

Record: "Against towering background of Andes, Fairbanks brought another swash-buckling hero to screen, — 'The Gaucho' — superman of escapes, acrobatic feats, and cunning in war. More than in any previous picture of this star the love interest is featured. Most significant thing Fairbanks has done, and he has to his credit a long list of successes, from standpoint of box office as well as that of screen achievement."

Examiner: "From standpoint of art and picturesque interest will stand comparison with any film ever produced."

Daily News: "In true Fairbanks style 'The Gaucho' stormed the city and single-handedly captured it."

Evening Express: "New Fairbanks picture reveals producer-star in a new mood. Doug has struck a more serious and melodramatic keynote, and fashioned a narrative with a theme of lofty gravity. Typically atmospheric Grauman prologue offered with new Fairbanks' picture was entitled 'Argentine Nights.'"

"The Main Event"—Pathe-DeMille, Roxy Theatre, New York City

Zit's: "Makes interesting motion picture fare. Vera Reynolds presented in part quite typical of her capabilities. Fight photographed better than Dempsey-Tunney fight and is thriller from start to finish. Armstrong, who played dumb heel walker in legitimate stage production 'Is Zat So?' does very well in his first screen appearance. Schildkraut responsible for excellent performance."

Sun: Very human story of cabaret girl who is caught in toils of truckman whom she has met at Salvation Army meeting while gathering material for a Salvation Army act in night club. . . . Leatrice Joy is all that she should be as girl of night clubs."

Morning Telegraph: "Lois Weber directed for most part with fine skill. Certainly Leatrice Joy has never been seen to better advantage than in role of Babe Scott. Varconi likewise seems to have profited by feminine touch, for he, too, gives good account of himself."

